Nazi Legions Inch Ahead

Gain in North, Repulsed Below City as Stalin Pleads 'Hold Firm'

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Friday (AP)—A German seige army of 300,000 men advanced slightly in the northwestern outskirts of imperilled Stalingrad yesterday, but was forced out of another locality south of the city, the red high command announced today on the 39th day of siege.

In a situation frankly described as Stalingrad's most decisive moment the red army garrison fought on in response to Joseph Stalin's telephoned command: "Hold firm! Put down any panic!"

The German gain in the northwestern industrial suburbs, the second reported in 24 hours, resulted on the sixth assault of the day, a midnight communique said:

"Only after the sixth attack did the Germans succeed in advancing a little," the communique said. "In the course of this fighting the enemy suffered heavy losses. On one sector alone our troops wiped out 900 Hitlerites."

The Russian success south of Stalingrad resulted in the ousting of German troops from a populated place in a battle in which 300 nazis were killed and six guns, ten machine-guns, 15 trucks and three ammunition dumps were captured, the communique said. Three enemy infantry companies were lost in German attempts to retake the point, it added.

Dispatches late yesterday also reported the recapture by the red army of three Rumanian-held settlements in the same sector.

The Soviet relief offensive northwest of Stalingrad on the German flank was still going on, but the Russians did not mention any new ground gains. Five German tanks, two artillery and three mortar batteries however were reported silenced by red artillerymen.

German tanks and automatic riflemen also failed in an attempt to raid Soviet rear positions, the communique said. Six more nazi tanks and 300 automatic riflemen were reported to have been destroyed in that venture.

The Russians said their Caucasian armies fighting at Mozdok and southeast of Novorossisk on the Black sea coast still were holding. Three German tanks, seven armored cars and 20 trucks with troops and ammunition were destroyed and 200 nazis killed on two sectors of the Mozdok front, while another 500 of the enemy were reported wiped out below Novorossisk.

On the northwestern front above Moscow, the communique said another 700 Germans were killed in unsuccessful assaults on red army positions.

The stalwart Russian stand at Stalingrad gratified all Russians, but sources here made no attempt to minimize the gravity of the Volga river city's position.

Official dispatches said the Germans were advancing painfully in the streets of the city, here a few dozen yards, there 200 yards. All around them there was havoc and ruin wrought by 600 to 1,000 German planes each day. Schools, hospitals, the public library, the university and the palace of physical culture were piles of rubble, hundreds of civilians had lost their lives.

(The German high command claimed that attacking nazis "have driven several wedges further into the northern part of the city," and said strong Soviet relief attacks from the north of Stalingrad were repulsed by counter-attack, with destruction of 98 Soviet tanks, mostly of British and American manufacture.

Bund Leader Charged With Aiding Enemy

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Otto A. Willumeit, German-American Bund leader, was named yesterday in a denaturalization complaint charging him with sending military secrets to Germany and Japan.

The complaint, prepared by J. Albert Wolf, United States district attorney, alleged Willumeit obtained his American citizenship by fraud because he did not renounce "allegiance and fidelity to the German Reich."

From Kiska in the Aleutian Islands to the Solomons and from China to New Guinea, United States army, navy and marine planes are pounding away at the scattered tentacles of the Japanese forces strung through the Pacific and the Orient. Falling bombs on the Central Press map above show how American pilots on several fronts have struck at Jap bases, supply depots, air fields and harbors. In the Aleutians, Royal Canadian Air Force planes joined Americans for the attack on Kiska.

U.S. Producing 3 Ships a Day!

WASHINGTON (AP)—The maritime commission announced yesterday that American shipyards had reached their promised goal of three ships a day by delivering 93 new cargo vessels with a deadweight tonnage of 1,009,800 in September.

Rear Admiral Howard L. Vickery, vice chairman of the commission, said the achievement was proof that shipyards could not only reach the president's goal of 3,000,000 deadweight tons in 1942 "but will have ample capacity to turn out the 16,000,000 tons set as the 1943 construction goal on the basis of available steel."

War Reserve Board To Explain Program

Maj. Lee A. Pollack
Will Direct Meetings
Here October 19-22

Reserve plans of the army ground force, army air corps reserve, navy V-7, V-5, and the marine corps reserve will be explained on the campus Oct. 19 to 22 by a five-man board composed of specialists from each group.

The board will be under the command of Maj. Lee A. Pollack of the United States infantry. A meeting for junior and senior students will be held in Macbride auditorium at 8 a. m. Monday, Oct. 19, and will last for about an hour and a half.

Freshmen and sophomores will meet in Macbride auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Oct. 19.

The following Tuesday and Wednesday will be reserved for student interviews at rooms to be assigned later. Students may sign up for interview appointments in the office of student affairs in Old Capitol several days before the officer board arrives.

Dormitory and fraternity groups interested in having one of these groups as dinner speakers can make arrangements at the office of student affairs.

ODT Freezes Railway Passenger Schedules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government yesterday froze railway passenger schedules, effective Oct. 4, and called a halt on all special trains to sports events.

Director Joseph B. Eastman of the office of defense transportation restricted all passenger trains to the schedule existing Sept. 26.

Allies Hammer Important Jap Supply Route

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEAD-QUARTERS, Australia, Friday, (AP)—Without meeting any Japanese oppositions, hardened Australian soldiers made progress today through the mountains and jungles of New Guinea toward Menari, 46 miles north of Port Moresby, while allied heavy bombers destroyed a large section of the important Wiropi bridge on the Japanese supply line, General MacArthur announced today.

The Japanese were being harried from the jungle and from the air by the allied offensive in the Owen Stanley mountains. The advancing Australians have advanced more than ten miles over tortuous terrain since they dislodged the Japanese from their advance point only 32 miles from Port Moresby.

"Ground forces continued to progress north of Nauro toward Menari," General MacArthur's communique said today.

The communique gave no indication of the exact distances the Australians have advanced although it was considerably less than the previous day.

42 Miles From Moresby
Nauro is 42 miles north of Port Moresby and Menari is four miles north of Nauro.

Allied heavy bombers and fighters, the communique said, "executed a series of coordinated attacks on the Wiropi bridge, which had been partially repaired during the night, making direct hits.

"A large section of the span was destroyed by high explosives; fires were started by incendiary strafing."

Finds Production at 95 Per Cent Efficiency on Nationwide Tour

President Dissatisfied At Delay in Enacting Anti-Inflation Policy

Says 1933 Congress
Passed Legislation
In Couple of Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt yesterday criticized the delay in congress in enacting his anti-inflation program, but reserved an opinion on the senate compromise bill until he had conferred with congressional leaders last night.

Compares Situation

In criticizing the delay on his anti-inflation program, the president compared today's congress with that in 1933 when, he said, it was the normal thing for congress to pass needed legislation in a purely domestic economic crisis in 24 hours or in a couple of days.

He contrasted this with today's situation where he said the very existence of the nation was threatened from the outside and it was important to have speed.

Meanwhile, the row in congress over farm price ceilings in the anti-inflation bill appeared to be nearing a peaceful ending as house farm bloc leaders disclosed they would support a compromise approved by the senate.

Final Approval Today

As plans were drawn by administration leaders, congress will give final approval to the measure today and send it on to the White House. It will arrive there one day after the deadline established by President Roosevelt for its enactment, but it was generally believed Mr. Roosevelt would overlook the circumstance.

The senate passed its compromise version of the bill last night. The next stage is a senate-house conference to bring the differing provisions of the measure, as passed by the two branches, into conformity. The conferees arranged to meet informally in advance of their actual appointment and hoped to get their work done swiftly.

Their problem was vastly simplified by the agreement of the house farm bloc leadership to the senate compromise. In passing the bill, the house wrote into it a provision that parity farm price levels should be increased by the inclusion of labor costs.

Public's War Spirit Far Ahead Of National Capital's, F.R. Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, completing yesterday a secret inspection tour of war activities from border to border and coast to coast, expressed the firm conviction that production was going along extremely well and that the national capital was lagging far behind the rest of the country in war spirit.

At a special press conference, he said he had found war plants operating at 94 to 95 per cent of efficiency, with both labor and management, travelling with all possible speed toward the goal of maximum output.

In declaring that war spirit was not as high in Washington as elsewhere, he cited three reasons:

1. Many members of congress, seeking to justify their service to the war effort, are delving into questions which should be left to military experts. This was no new thing, he said. It has been going on since the American revolution.

2. A minority of the press and radio, which appears not to be really familiar with the country, was thinking in local terms and disseminating sententious news. While most stories are all right, he said, some do harm because they aren't based on facts, and the greatest offenders are some commentators and columnists. (Asked to give specific examples, the president declined.)

3. Certain administration officials, who might well button up their lips. Some of these men, who do not have access to full information or possibly are publicity seekers make picturesque speeches, he said. Sometimes they act under the impression that insufficient emphasis is being given to their particular fields.

Dismissing his trip, which had been kept secret until the White House lifted the censorship veil yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt remarked that there had been no suppression of news. The three representatives of major news services—AP, UP and INS—who accompanied him were given complete freedom, he said.

He read all the stories they had written, he said, but deleted nothing. Asked whether he had added anything, he said he thought he had added several touches.

The president had traveled 8,754 miles in two weeks, through half the states and a sliver of Mexico. Dodging big cities wherever possible, he dropped in on eleven private war plants, and on eight army, seven navy and two marine stations.

Sees Everything
He saw soldiers, sailors and marines being toughened for battle, "wounded ships and wounded men" from battles already fought, and death-dealing war machines for land, air and sea forces rolling off assembly lines in growing volume. He observed how management and labor were trying to win the battle of production.

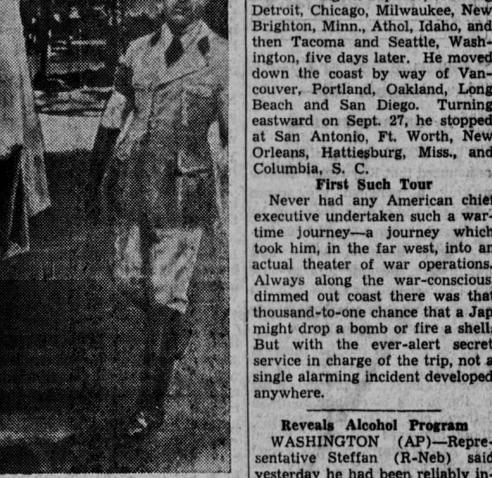

And he was so pleased with the trip around the edge of the nation that he expressed a hope he would be able to make one or two similar trips next spring through the center of the country and into the southeast. Among the things that impressed the chief executive most deeply was the increased and increasing employment of women in all kinds of plants, including navy yards. He was certain that a howl would have been heard around the world had he tried to give women jobs in the yards a year ago.

To get those ideas, Mr. Roosevelt left Washington Sept. 17, touching Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, New Brighton, Minn., Athol, Idaho, and then Tacoma and Seattle, Washington, five days later. He moved down the coast by way of Vancouver, Portland, Oakland, Long Beach and San Diego. Turning eastward on Sept. 27, he stopped at San Antonio, Ft. Worth, New Orleans, Hattiesburg, Miss., and Columbia, S. C.

First Such Tour
Never had any American chief executive undertaken such a wartime journey—a journey which took him, in the far west, into an actual theater of war operations. Always along the war-conscious, dimmed out coast there was that thousand-to-one chance that a Jap might drop a bomb or fire a shell. But with the ever-alert secret service in charge of the trip, not a single alarming incident developed anywhere.

Reveals Alcohol Program
WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Steffan (R-Neb) said yesterday he had been reliably informed that the government soon would approve manufacture of 100,000,000 gallons of grain alcohol from surplus farm products.

Hitler's Plea: 'PLEASE Don't Throw In Your Scrap'

Leon Henderson's Oil Rationing Policy Vague

Fuel Oil Cut Hints He May Be Gambling With Public Health
 WASHINGTON — War Producer Donald Nelson thought a 25 per cent fuel oil cut for winter would be enough. So did oil coordinator Ickes, who certainly should know.

But Mr. Leon Henderson's OPA decided to deepen the cut to 33 1/3 per cent, thereby netting a lot of oil authorities, and creating some suspicion that he may be gambling with public health.

This is one of those things that no one in official position wants to talk about. Everyone outside, too, wants to cooperate to whatever extent is necessary.

But it must be related, in truth to the facts, that the oil people here again suspect Mr. Henderson is suffering from a chronic rationing phobia.

If Ickes and Nelson thought 25 per cent was enough, there is no reason to suspect Mr. Henderson has superior judgment or additional facts. Indeed, his announcement specified none. It offered no justification, except the unbacked one that OPA did not believe 25 per cent would be enough.

No health authority in the government is going to come out and say that waves of influenza and pneumonia may be promoted by such a drastic cut, because no one wants to anticipate uncertain results.

But the best possible medical authority says the ideal indoor temperature is 68 to 70 degrees. Henderson has fixed 65 degrees which the U.S. public health service here says is a proper temperature to maintain maximum efficiency in factories, where people are moving about.

The only official evidence on the subject is some testimony by Mayor LaGuardia, before the house banking committee last year, contending that reduction of temperatures would have a serious effect on health.

This much may be surely said: For an apt example, automobiles bearing the country, and particularly the women-folk, will have to go into long underwear. This nation has been accustomed to a winter indoor temperature of around 70 to 72 degrees, and dressed accordingly.

European nations, particularly Britain and France, get along at lower temperatures, but they do so by using heavier clothing, and moving about more indoors. Active children will no doubt suffer less than the aged and infirm. Office workers will have to adopt the practice of getting up and moving around frequently.

If these simple rules are adopted gladly by the people, and they have psychologically a spirit of cooperation and a sense of confidence in the results, the effect will certainly be less serious than otherwise.

As a matter of fact, if the usual Washington course is followed, Mr. Henderson's shivering forecast probably will be moderated in administration. They always talk big and harsh here at the start, but somehow their programs always work out to be less terrifying than promised.

"A" cards in the east are cluttering up the roads daily on their four gallons a week. Bootleg gas is available everywhere—in New York at five cents a gallon additional, and in Washington at ten cents a gallon extra.

Steps Went Against Baruch Report—The first two steps taken by the government toward national gas rationing were diametrically opposed to the recommendations of the Baruch report, which inspired the confidence of the country.

First, Czar Jeffers was not a rubber man as recommended.

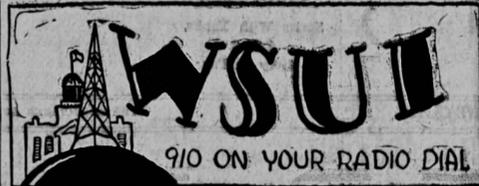

Second, his initial official step disregarded the Baruch recommendation for national rationing on the basis of need, in accordance with the program of the office of defense transportation.

Censorship Airing Is in the Offing

The press is pledged to suppress publication of the president's movements in wartime. Mr. Roosevelt may go to Hyde Park, on a week end cruise meet Churchill on the high seas, or even make a trip around the country inspecting war plants and nothing may be published about it until official White House authorization is received.

The theory of this censorship is that the president is commander-in-chief of the army and navy and his movements, therefore, become military secrets, even if they are actually political, restful or otherwise purely non-military.

It must be reported that news-men here have become impatient at the extent to which this cloak has been stretched recently. An airing is in the offing.

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

EVENING MUSICAL—
 "Where the Rainbow Ends," a new Iowa song written for the Phoenix fund by Mrs. Miriam Righter, will be sung for the first time by Joan Joehnk, A4 of Iowa City, at 7:45 tonight over WSUI.

FAITH OF DEMOCRACY

Prof. Austin Warren of the English department will discuss "Some Doubts and a Faith" at 7:15 tonight. His talk is one of a series sponsored by the school of letters.

TREASURY STAR PARADE

The beginning of a three-month school at war campaign will be observed by the presentation of "Education for Life," starring Henry Hull and a chorus of school children, in a special repeat performance at 11:15 this morning.

Nazis Changing Tactics

By radio, through the press and in numerous speeches the nazis have been hastily publicizing within Europe during the last few days their contention that the suffering now being endured due to the prolonged war is justified. They admit that their time schedule has gone awry, but that the sacrifices being made are well worth the ultimate goal, for the "European question" is at last being solved.

For some reason or other, the German press agents have started a new campaign to sell their neighbors the idea of a "new Europe", no longer do they profess the "new order." Europe receives added consideration in nazi propaganda, and the speaker's voice softens when he tells them of the plans Germany has made for the future. The new internationalist has adopted a new fatherly attitude to the woes of a continent that has become too nationalistic.

An article by Dr. Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, started the new German attack. Goebbels considers the conquest of Europe as a "historical rebirth" of the long neglected continent, and he enthuses that the new reorganization will be patterned after the empire of Charlemagne or the Holy Roman Empire, though streamlined along the ultra-modern, ultra-German lines.

The plan is less idyllic than is presented by the fraternally-minded nazis. To them the unity of Europe means the adaptation of the economic life of a whole continent to the needs of "the Grossraumwirtschaft" of Germany. In their conception the continent would be Germany's colonial empire, supplying a highly industrialized Germany with food and raw materials much as has Britain's overseas empire supplied her in the ways of her manufacturing supremacy. The "Grossraum" under German exploitation would embrace Africa and the Near East and apparently as much else as could be approached.

If the "colonizing" of France can be taken as an example of the new Charlemagne regime, there is good reason for Europe's indifference to Goebbels' rasping, hysterical voice. The enslaved people of Europe, however, have had their ears deafened by the blatant voice of the world's greatest liar, and from reports the present Goebbel-planned campaign has been the biggest flop of his highly successful career.

Meanwhile American broadcasts have labeled the new "European order" the "new robber order" and have attributed the program to the difficulty Germany has had in acquiring war labor for her factories and in moving machinery and men from the heavily bombed Rhineland to Silesia, Austria, Rumania, Bulgaria and the Baltic.

And so faced with rapidly mounting problems and disappointments for which there are no longer military victories to keep the conquered people silent, Herr Hitler once more presents Dr. Joseph Goebbels, who is scheduled to hold the audience's attention until something better can be presented.

It's Grim Business

The American public is being shown numerous photographs of the damage British and American bombers have recently done to German cities and German-occupied cities. It's a grim business. Along with these pictures of blasted munition centers, shipyards and arms factories are shown belated views of what nazis have been doing to England.

The majority, however, are views of demolition and destruction delivered via united nations air mail. And when such pictures are seen, it is natural that a feeling of elation should be aroused. Yet we should be cautioned into remembering that Britain took hard pounding from the nazis, and they bounced back from the worst that Reich Marshal Hermann Goering's Luftwaffe could offer. It is true that with every blow east of the channel, victory is moving closer. Yet, Herr Hitler's war-producing machine is far flung.

The ex-painter, with his amazing facility for precise future planning, started decentralizing as early as 1939. Our part in breaking it up from the air has been small; our part in relieving pressure from the heroically defended Stalingrad has been small. When we look down on a ruined German factory (a photograph gives us that convenience), we are entitled to no complacency.

It is only a sample. The burden is still with us, for just because we have succeeded in mobilizing a respectable army, and have had our Flying Fortresses wing over Germany, it is no time to relax our effort. The burden is with every war worker, every foreman, every citizen of the United States to deliver our full line of war-making and war-ending goods as soon as possible.

Your Help Needed

Did you know that old metal is required to mix with new metal to make guns? Perhaps you didn't realize it but it is true enough. New metal alone would not make guns good enough to beat the Japs, but some old metal, which has been allowed to season, must be added to make the gun true. Round up the old scrap metal that the government needs so desperately. Do your part for victory by putting all of the scrap metal you have on your curbing so THE DAILY IOWAN can pick it up next Sunday morning.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The capital of the United States of America is never more provincial than when some one IT "never heard of" bounces into a big job. There has been no better example recently than William Martin Jeffers, the newly appointed rubber administrator.

The night his appointment was announced, at least 10,000 ga-ga capitalites asked "who's-he" questions. The laugh was on the questioners. Big, blimpish "Bill" Jeffers has been making footprints in Washington ever since the war effort started. He's a railroad man, certainly—but not just another one. He belongs to the Henry J. Kaiser "It-it's-impossible-do-it-now" school.

He didn't even have a chance to finish high school. He started sweeping out in the little North Platte, Neb., station of the Union Pacific when he was only 14 years old. That's where the UP starts its uphill pull to the Great Divide. That's where young Bill Jeffers started as call boy, messenger, stove stoker, and janitor in 1890.

The UP has gone a long ways from there. So has Jeffers. Not only is he president of the road, (he once said "I'd rather be president of the Union Pacific than president of the United States") but the onetime uneducated youth now holds honorary degrees from four colleges.

Probably the only thing he's prouder of is his union card. In railroad circles, he has an enviable reputation. In World War I, the government kept him on as UP general manager through federal control of the rail carriers. He's a pioneer in streamlining the passenger trains and Dieselizing the freights.

Called to Washington, recently, he arrived at 5 p. m. He had no knowledge of why he was here when he got off the plane. An hour later, as rubber administrator, he was talking to the news-men. His first words were: "I don't know a thing about rubber, but I will do whatever is necessary to carry out this assignment."

 Iowa City, Iowa
 Greetings:

I suppose that though most of us are attending a different kind of school this year the one we have left is still the best one and uppermost in our minds. These eastern papers are no better than the east itself and they have the idea that nothing between the Mississippi and California is important. Consequently, all I know is that we are still in the win column but that is about all.

I am enclosing $2 which should be enough to get The Daily Iowan to myself and also to Syd Story for the remainder of the football season. Syd is now in the Army Air Forces. His address is Basic Flying School, Pecos, Texas. Until recently he has been instructing and ferrying in California.

Please say hello to our friends on the campus. Sincerely,

Editor
 The Daily Iowan
 Iowa City, Iowa
 Gentlemen:

I am enclosing $1.00 for which please send me the Sunday issues of The Daily Iowan through the football season, as per the offer in the recent University News Bulletin. Since I learned of this offer a little late, I could not remit in time to assure getting the issues already out. Might I ask that they be forwarded to me?

In this vicinity I have already learned that the football that interests me chiefly gets very little attention in the papers on Sunday. The Iowa-Nebraska game rated about ten lines in the Sunday Baltimore Sun, and one line, giving the result in the New York Times. While I know that your coverage of the games is most complete, remember us that are in places where we cannot get radio broadcasts and please leave nothing out. For though we may be at a distance, the desire to know all the dope has decreased none.

Cordially yours,

In Shrinking Vines

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — It takes all kinds of people. It takes Maria Montez, and Victor Mature, and Maxie Baer and Lupe Velez. And it takes Henry Fonda, and Don Ameche, and Fred MacMurray.

Lupe and Maria—they're the pair. Hoydens, you know. Shrinking violets. Maria makes entrances. Maria laughs and talks, and makes jokes. Maria kids her press-agents, "Any headlines today? NO?" Only she isn't kidding. Lupe jumps around, Lupe sulks, Lupe laughs and yells. Lupe throws things. Lupe is ze hot tamale, but hot, ze gay child of nature, si!

Victor, there's the one. Victor is the shy little boy who makes a career of boosting Mature and being insufferably Victor. Only he is so frank about it, he makes such a thing of being "the Genius," he is so aware and joyous about every inch of white paper covered with black ink spelling "Mature" — he's so insufferable he turns out to be likeable, after all. Ameche. "How are you?" he says. "Glad to see you." Pleasant and polite. Yes, he's fine. Yes, the picture looks good. No, he doesn't know anything. No, it isn't true that he's taking a mid-western vacation. No, he doesn't know how that one started. Yes. No. Pleasant, polite and friendly.

Message-Bearer Kyser; Irrepressible Rep

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Every time it is announced that Kay Kyser intends making a personal appearance with his band at an army camp, he receives between 500 and 1,000 letters from mothers, wives, and sweethearts, begging him to look up their sons, husbands and fiancés, so that they can shake hands and say hello personally.

Kyser goes all out for pleasing the folks back home, just as he does the camps. He prepares a list of the names given him in these letters, and after the program, these men are brought forward and Kay shakes hands with each of them and relays the messages sent them by their ever lovin' women folk.

Doris Dudley, blonde actress daughter of a New York drama critic, has a theatrical reputation as being altogether irrepressible. Isa Claire summed Doris up by saying, "She'll be a legend before her time." However, Doris has puzzled the critics by alternately giving magnificent performances and others not so magnificent. Currently, she is appearing in a film to be called "City Without Men," and when she went to Hollywood her employers said they hoped she would forget her screwball-ism. Doris agreed to be a good girl.

In one of the scenes of this film Miss Dudley was to be kissed by Michael Duane, but instead of waiting for Duane she seized the young man and did the embracing herself. The director was angered. "Why do you do that when it is he who is supposed to kiss you?" shouted Sid Salkow.

Miss Dudley lowered her long lashes until they rested lightly on her cheeks. "Can I help it if I'm affectionate?"

On the derk and slushy days that come down on Manhattan, such as today, with the wind whipping and the rain stinging, most people duck their heads and face it scowlingly. Occasionally, however, you run into a real sunny disposition who is actually enjoying the bad weather. Reason: these are hay fever victims. The pollen has been washed away. Temporarily, the sneezes are out of order.

Another point, more and more you see people carrying boxes of cleansing tissues under their arms in lieu of handkerchiefs. Hay fever victims find them a boon. They are not what others think. You see them on the avenue or on buses with their boxes of cleansing tissues under their arms any time.

1942 Dad's Day Week End to Be Celebrated October 16 to 18

Iowa-Illinois Game To Be Main Feature

Play, Dance, Exhibits Included on Program Sponsored by AFI

Beginning with a mass meeting east of Old Capitol, a play in the university theater and a dance in the main lounge of Iowa Union, the 1942 Dad's day program Oct. 16-18 will offer a variety of events to dads and mothers visiting the campus that week end.

Moving pictures, a military demonstration, and exhibits of athletics and acrobatics are scheduled Saturday, preceding the program's main event, the Iowa-Illinois football game. The traditional Dad's day dinner will be held in the main lounge of Iowa Union after the game.

Committee Chairmen

Dad's day committee chairmen have been set up with one faculty and one member of A.F.I., senior men's honorary society, heading each committee. Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Parents of more than 5,000 SUI students have received the following letter from President Virgil M. Hancher inviting them to attend Dad's day week end.

Dear Sir: Dad's day this year will fall on Oct. 17, the day of the Iowa-Illinois football game. A.F.I., the senior men's honorary society, is making arrangements for Dad's day and will send you an invitation to be here on that day. I hope you will be present.

Although the 17th is officially designated Dad's day, you probably have guessed that many mothers will also be here that day. This year more than ever we want the dads and mothers of our students to visit them as often as possible.

In addition to the football game, there will be the Dad's day dinner on Saturday night and other events of interest which you will wish to attend with your son or daughter. We should like you to have time enough to become better acquainted with the university and its faculty and students. Plan to spend this week end, from Friday to Sunday, in Iowa City. There will be a warm welcome for you here.

Sincerely yours,
VIRGIL M. HANCHER

school of fine arts and William J. Brown, M4 of Cedar Rapids and president of A.F.I., are general supervisors of the entire program and chairmen of the invitation committee. Invitations from President Virgil M. Hancher and A.F.I. have been sent to the parents of more than 5,000 students.

Prof. A. C. Baird of the speech department and John Whinery, A4 of Iowa City, head the dinner program committee. Chairmen of the game intermission committee are Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division and alumni service, and G. Travis Westly, M4 of Manly.

Mass Meeting

Plans for the mass meeting are being directed by Donald R. Mallett of the office of student affairs and William C. Stuart, L4 of Charleston. Eric C. Wilson, editor of university news service, and Jack Talbot, J4 of Cedar Rapids, will handle publicity.

Theodore M. Rehder, manager of university dining services, and Sam K. Lane, C4 of Davenport, head the dinner committee. Registration and housing of the dads will be supervised by Richard Breunier, C4 of Waterloo.

Musical Recordings, Discussions Featured By Campus Course

Campus course reading room will be open every Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5, beginning next Sunday.

Informal group discussions will be held, musical recordings played, and round-table forums will be conducted under the auspices of the political science department.

All persons interested in these meetings are welcome to attend. The campus course reading room is located on the third floor of Schaeffer hall.

University Dames Plan Dinner Dance to Fete New Members of Club

An initiation dinner dance honoring new members of the University of Iowa Dames club will be an event of Thursday, it was announced today.

Rushes were entertained by the organization at a dessert-bridge in the river room of Iowa Union Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Stanley Harris, Mrs. Joseph Kehoe, and Mrs. Kenneth Kingsbury served as hostesses.

Bridge prizes were awarded to Mrs. David Blaha, Mrs. R. W. Cray, Mrs. Robert Ballantyne and Mrs. Elmer Combs.

CASUAL CLASSIC

For dressy occasions this fall and winter you'll want a soft brimmed sailor like this one of lustrous black velvet, to wear with your fur coat. Your "best beau" will approve of this not-too-extreme model, becoming to tall and short alike. It is draped with gossamer veiling brought under the chin and tied high at the side. Replace the veiling with ornamental hat pins for variety or wear it without any trimming to accent a bright wool or crepe frock. Note the softening effect of the fluted brim—casual, but classic.

The Party Line ...

—This Week End at Iowa

Buffet supper ...

... will be held at the Delta Delta Delta sorority house followed by an informal dance tomorrow from 5 to 8 p. m. This affair in honor of the pledge class is under the chairmanship of Dorothy Mullenburg, A3 of Rolla, Mo. Lieut. and Mrs. C. P. Erdman will be guests of honor.

Mrs. Fay McCoy ...

... Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority's new housemother, will be honored at a tea Sunday from 3 until 5 p. m. The guest list includes President and Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher, Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, Helen Elizabeth Focht and Helen Reich.

Lois Krupp, A3 of Tacoma, Wash., and Terry Ann Tester, A2 of Iowa City, have charge of the arrangements.

Navy uniforms ...

... will add a military note to the tea dance to be given at Pi Beta Phi sorority house Sunday from 3 to 5 p. m., when that group will entertain navy cadets of the second battalion. This event is the first in a series of entertainments to be held for the pre-flight school.

Good Samaritans Hold State Convention Here

A state convention of members of the Good Samaritan Encampment was held last evening in Odd Fellows' hall. Dinner was served at 6:30 p. m., after which there was a business meeting.

The grand lodge officers in charge of the convention were Mrs. Vance Orr of Iowa City, grand chief matriarch; Mrs. Grace Bell of Toledo, grand warden; Mrs. Fred Hall of Iowa Falls, high priestess; Mrs. Clarence Messer of Cedar Falls, grand scribe, and Mrs. Teresa Totts of Waterloo, treasurer.

Also attending the convention were past matriarchs of the organization and delegates from other chapters throughout the state.

A. Alspach to Direct I.C. Woman's Chorus

Addison Alspach of the university music department will be the new director of the Iowa City Woman's club chorus according to Mrs. Grace O. Waterman, chairman. The chorus will hold its first meeting of the year Monday at 1:15 p. m. in the clubrooms of the Community building.

Rev. C. D. Mannhardt Appointed Chaplain

The Rev. Charles D. Mannhardt has been appointed chaplain of Mercy hospital and University hospitals, Bishop Henry P. Rohman announced yesterday, and Rev. Carl F. Clems has been made pastor of St. Mary's church at Solon with St. Peter and Paul's church as his mission.

Everyone Expected to Join—

Search YOUR House

—In City-Wide Scrap Hunt

On your feet—you good-deed-up sponges and capes, and those steel lamps that are passed on from generation to generation to be finally hidden in storerooms with waste baskets and antiquated end tables. A raid on junk drawers should bring light rubber bands, useless curlers, erasers, metal lipstick casings and such space fillers.

As a sure-fire recipe for salvage we suggest canvassing your district for all scrap possibilities. Your neighbors will appreciate your efforts to help them ransack their attics and cellars in an effort to bring scrap articles to light. An epidemic of salvage-itis can be spread through your contagious enthusiasm.

Scratch a Bit

Fraternity and sorority houses are full of odd nooks and crannies that have been collecting contributions for many long years. A little scratching beneath the surface should reveal several items that can be thrown into the production flame.

You fraternity men should be good for old ash trays, worn out erasers and discarded furniture that contains vital steel. Among that debris in the cellar you can find iron scraps, forgotten hammers, nails, pails and shovels that would become any scrap pile.

No-way Stretches

To the sorority houses we suggest a clean-up campaign on old raincoats, girdles, tired-out make-up sponges and capes, and those steel lamps that are passed on from generation to generation to be finally hidden in storerooms with waste baskets and antiquated end tables. A raid on junk drawers should bring light rubber bands, useless curlers, erasers, metal lipstick casings and such space fillers.

As a sure-fire recipe for salvage we suggest canvassing your district for all scrap possibilities. Your neighbors will appreciate your efforts to help them ransack their attics and cellars in an effort to bring scrap articles to light. An epidemic of salvage-itis can be spread through your contagious enthusiasm.

No So Vacant Lots

In and around Iowa City there is a large supply of scrap metal lying unnoticed. Vacant lots are full of discarded pipes and broken fences, rusty nails and other articles. Make that your personal responsibility.

The Daily Iowan will collect all scrap piles on Sunday. You are asked to put your scrap on the parkings before 8 a. m. and trucks will pick it up.

An all out effort on your part, and you will be welding the axe that will strike the axis.

Among Iowa City People

Returning from Baltimore with her daughter, Mrs. Robert B. Gibson, 1029 E. Court, was Mrs. Robert Tait, who will spend several weeks visiting in Iowa City.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Rehder of Lincoln, are week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Rehder, 1181 Hotz.

Mrs. George Rettler and sons, Jerome and Dallas, of Harper spent Thursday in the home of Frank Machovec, 618 N. Gilbert. While in Iowa City, they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Olin Hauth, 1824 Muscatine.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Higbee, 320 Ronalds, are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Higbee Jr. and their two children from Decatur, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howe, 205 Highland drive, will leave Sunday for Lacon, Ill., where they will

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harmon, 121 Fairchild, are spending the week end with Mrs. Jason Eddy in Audubon.

Mrs. H. A. Stiekney of Central City returned yesterday to her home following a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. G. L. Van Deusen, 802 Seventh avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Unrath, 923 E. Market, entertained yesterday evening at a 6 o'clock dinner at their home. The guest of honor was Mrs. John Dongren of Omaha, Neb. Other guests were Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Will Hayek and Mrs. Etta Hanlon.

Radio Training Class To Hold Organization Meeting of Applicants

Organization meeting for the engineering, science and management war training course in radio, soon to be initiated at WSUI, will be held Friday, Oct. 9 at 7 p. m. Everyone interested is urged to be present.

The course will last 16 weeks, with an optional 16 weeks in addition. Classes will be taught Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights for three hours.

Enrollment in this ESMWT course will be limited and there will be no charge for this training. The applicant will be expected to pay only for such textbooks as may be required.

Trained radio technicians are needed in both the armed services and in industry. Any high school graduate having not less than two years of mathematics and one year of physics, of the equivalent, and who has attained the age of 17 years, is eligible to take the course. An applicant does not have to become a student at a college or university.

Triangle Club Plans To Open Fall Season With Picnic Tuesday

A picnic supper in the Iowa Union clubrooms Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. will be the first event on Triangle club's social calendar this fall.

Mrs. Carl Menzer is general chairman of the supper event. Serving with her as table hostesses will be Mrs. W. R. Ingram, Mrs. W. T. Swenson, Mrs. John M. Russ, Mrs. Eric C. Wilson, Mrs. Thomas Farrell Jr., Mrs. H. H. McCarty, Mrs. Vern Price and Mrs. Harry K. Newburn.

George Haskell To Broadcast

George Haskell, public relations director for the OPA in Des Moines and former SUI professor, will be the speaker on the League of Women Voters' program over station WSUI at 9 o'clock tomorrow, Mrs. Harold McCarty, radio chairman, announces.

In connection with Professor Haskell's talk, the boy scouts of Iowa City and league members will distribute "broad-sides" or circulars this afternoon explaining the work of the OPA.

The broadsides were published by the National League of Women Voters in line with the league's policy of keeping the citizens informed of issues facing the government in war time.

SUI Student Forum To Broadcast Today

Leaders for the university student forum over WSUI at 4 o'clock this afternoon are Robert Clausen, Howard Thompson and William Arnold.

The subject to be discussed is "Should the liberal arts colleges concentrate on or offer completely professional and technical subjects for the duration of the war?"

Maxine Dierking, Paul Downing, Robert Hoyt, Jane Shipton, Barbara Brice and Ronald Christensen will also participate in the forum.

Navy Band to Play For Dance Tomorrow

Scribblers' club's weekly dancing party for cadets will again feature the music of the navy band, which will play for dancing from 6 to 9 p. m. tomorrow. The main ballroom at the Community building will be the scene of the event.

New Officers Elected By Historical Society

New officers have been elected for the coming year by the State Historical Society of Iowa. Marvin H. Dey of Iowa City was reelected president; and W. J. Parizek of Iowa City was elected treasurer.

The following persons were elected to membership in the society: Edward L. Anderson, Bayard; Sarah Miller, Postville; Lucile Powell, Cedar Rapids; Charles L. Rodine, Cedar Rapids, and Blair C. Wood, Waterloo.

Treasury Broadcast To Open Bond Drive

A nation-wide drive for the sale of $5,000,000 in war bonds and stamps on National Newspaper Boy day tomorrow will begin with a special "Treasury Star Parade" broadcast to be aired over station WSUI at 12:45 this noon.

National Newspaper Boy day is the final day in national newspaper week.

This special broadcast with Edwin C. Hill, news commentator, will dramatize the part played by newspaper carriers in raising war funds. Carriers have sold more than $50,000,000 in bonds and stamps since the war began.

St. Louis Evens Score With Yankees, 4 to 3

Cardinals Clinch Win In Last Half of Eighth

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, ST. LOUIS (AP)—Showing the same speed and grit which won them the National league championship, the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday tamed the New York Yankees, 4 to 3, before 34,255 fans in another breath-taking chapter of the 1942 world series and left for New York last night all even with the American league powerhouse.

The Redbirds simply ran their way to victory with probably the most dazzling show of sprinting the present Yankees ever had seen and their will to win more than offset New York's slugging which was climaxed with a tremendous two-run homer by Charley (King Kong) Keller to momentarily tie the score in the eighth inning.

Held to only six hits by big Ernie Bonham while the Yankees pummeled Johnny Beazley, the Cards' 23-year-old rookie sensation for 10, St. Louis scored twice in the first inning, again in the seventh and finally won the game with another thrilling tally in the last half of the eighth.

Speed figured in every one of the Cardinal runs, but never more so than with the score tied and the pressure on in the eighth.

Jim Brown and Terry Moore were easy outs but Enos Slaughter slammed a scorching liner to the deepest corner of right field and slid headlong into second base for a double. Roy Cullenbine, who had been somewhat confused by the Redbirds' earlier foot-racing, made a good throw, but little Phil Rizzuto let the ball slip a few yards away from him and while he still was trying to locate it Slaughter jumped to his feet and dashed safely to third.

Stan Musial Singles

Before the smoke had cleared Stan Musial, the rookie outfielder who had a chance to be a hero Wednesday and failed, smashed a ground single directly over second base to bring home the deciding run.

Much of the responsibility for the Yankees' defeat could be charged to the fact that Bonham, the great control artist who walked only 23 men during his entire American league season, gave a base on balls to the first batter he faced.

Apparently feeling the tension that bears heavily on all players in a world series, Bonham threw three balls to Brown before he got a strike across at the start of the game and Brown ultimately was passed.

It was a costly mistake because Moore laid down a sacrifice bunt on the first pitch and when the big Yankee ace threw to second trying to head off the run, Brown beat the throw and both runners were safe.

Bonham patiently worked on the next two hitters and got them out, but Walker Cooper sliced a double over second baseman Joe Gordon's head and the ball skidded tantalizingly all the way to the wall in right center, both runners racing home.

Bonham Settles Down

Bonham, winner of 21 games against five losses, settled down and allowed only two hits for the first six innings—the other being a single by Johnny Hopp in the fourth. This play gave the fans some fun because Hopp rounded first on his hit and Cullenbine sought to trap him with a throw to Buddy Hassett. But as soon as Hopp saw where the ball was going, he set sail for second. Hassett fumbled the throw, when it arrived, and no play ever was made on Hopp.

The fleetest of the Redbirds didn't get any farther in that inning, but he caused trouble in the seventh when he shot another liner to right for what might have been the same sort of play.

Hopp again rounded first and the crowd taunted Cullenbine, a former outfielder for the St. Louis Browns, to throw to first but this time he kept the ball ahead of the runner. It didn't make any difference, as it turned out, because George (Whitey) Kurovski followed with a triple.

This hit infuriated Manager Joe McCarthy and his Yankees because it was a liner so close to the left field foul line that when the ball bounced out of Keller's glove it landed a few inches in foul territory. But Umpire George Magerkurth ruled it a fair ball, apparently judging that it was fair when Keller charged into it on a dead run.

Cards' Lead Boosted

This boosted the Cardinals' lead to 3 to 0 and at the time it seemed all that Beazley would need. The young righthander had been hit intermittently, the Yankees getting runners on base in every one of the first five innings, but he worked himself out of these jams with the help of some fancy field by his teammates, who performed the series' first double play in the fifth after Bonham had walked and Rizzuto singled with none out.

However, Beazley set down the Yanks in order in the sixth and seventh and got the first two men out in the eighth before the Bombers blasted.

Cullenbine hit a grounder which Brown managed to knock down but could not throw and it was

Hawkeye Grid Team Sent Through Light Workout Yesterday

Coach Frank Carideo Impersonates Smith, Great Lakes Halfback

Iowa's Hawkeyes continued drilling both offensively and defensively yesterday as they went through the closing stages of their preparation for the game here tomorrow with Great Lakes, the first since 1918.

As had been the case in all the drills this week, Dr. Eddie Anderson gave the Hawks a light workout after they had loosened up with their usual dummy blocking and tackling session. Most of the remainder of the practice was taken up with Backfield Coach Frank Carideo impersonating the Bluejackets' Bruce Smith behind a team of freshman gridgers. Purpose of this drill was to familiarize the Old Cold varsity with the plays it is likely to run up against when it meets Great Lakes tomorrow.

Indications are that tomorrow's game will develop, for Iowa, at least, into a passing game from the word go. Reason No. 1 for this supposition is that aerials, catapulted from the unerring arm of Tom Farmer, have proved to be the Hawks' most successful offensive so far; reason No. 2 is that the Bluejacket line averages about 215 pounds per man, and Iowa's lighter forward wall may have a good deal of trouble opening any sizeable holes for Hawk backs to sneak through.

Besides, Great Lakes' pass defense against Michigan last week was sloppy, the Wolverines completing 10 of 24 for 155 yards and the winning touchdown. This condition, however, is expected to be remedied by Coach Tony Hinkle, and the Iowa may find it difficult to victimize the game-wise Bluejacket backs.

Iowa, on the other hand, will be looking for a lot of passes from the sailors, despite the fact that the latter have the makings of a devastating running attack. Against Michigan last week Smith and company threw a total of 27, completing nine for 117 yards.

From Great Lakes, meanwhile, come word that every member of the Bluejacket starters has had direct contact with the best T's in the game—Stanford and the Chicago Bears. In addition, two squad members—Halfback Pete Kmetovic and Guard Ken Robesky—were key men in Stanford's model T the last two years.

The effectiveness of Tom Farmer's passing from the T has impressed the sailors even more than the Hawkeyes' running, and in this week's drills the sailors have worked continuously on pass defense. Lieutenant Hinkle and his aides had the first backfield unit of Rudy Mucha, Smith Kmetovic and Bob Sweiger defending against passes from the second unit of Leonard Reeler, Hugh McCullough, Chuck Carey and John Popov, then reversed the procedure.

Although two backfield changes were necessary because of the loss of Fullback Steve Belichick and Quarterback Herman Schneidman, both of whom were injured in the Michigan game, the line remains intact.

Probable starters in the forward wall include Carl Mulleneaux and Fred Preston, ends; Jim Daniell and Jim Barber, tackles; Bill Radovich and Gust Zarnas, guards, and Bob Nelson, center.

Of the starting linemen, Daniell faced the Bear T in the all-star game and the remainder have battled it in the National league Smith, Kmetovic and Sweiger also played against the Bears in the all-star game and Mucha in the National league.

The Great Lakes will entrain today for Cedar Rapids, where the Bluejackets will run through an afternoon workout on the Coe college field before moving on to Iowa City tomorrow.

Schneidman, only former Hawkeye on the Great Lakes roster, has been kept on the sidelines all week after he broke his nose in the Michigan contest and his appearance against Iowa still is doubtful.

Little Hawks to Meet McKinley Of Cedar Rapids Here Tonight

Joe Casey, Hawklet Game Captain

City high will meet one of the toughest teams on its schedule when it tangles with McKinley of Cedar Rapids tonight at 8 o'clock here on Shrader field. Although the Red and Whites haven't lost a football game to McKinley in the last seven years, the invaders will bring with them tonight one of the strongest outfits in the conference.

Odds give the Little Hawks a slight edge over the Golden Bears, but with one or two breaks the Cedar Rapids boys could nose out Iowa City. Neither team has been scored on in its first two games, making tonight's contest as hard to predict as the weather.

Iowa City has a better scoring average with 21 to 0 and 28 to 0 wins. McKinley's victories were taken with 21 to 0 and 14 to 0 scores. Joe Casey, game captain tonight, has led the Iowa City scoring column with five touchdowns for 30 of City high's 49 points.

Warren Pugh, the McKinley flash, ran wild against Franklin last week for both of his team's tallies.

Taking these facts into consideration, it looks as though it might be a battle of Casey vs. Pugh tonight. Neither school has a one-man team, though, for the Golden Bears have a couple of backs—Fred Bissell and George Miller—whose hard driving gives Pugh a lot of support. Besides being a good punter, Bissell, a 185 pounder, handles the McKinley passing assignments from his left half post.

Bob Roth, Wayne Hopp and Bill Sangster complete the Hawklet backfield and undoubtedly will cause Coach Clarence Paulson of McKinley many a headache before the evening is over. Sangster and Roth make a clicking passing combination and Hopp is the "rabbit" runner who specializes in end sweeps.

McKinley paid a high price for its victory last week with two injuries of first string men. Bill Davenport, regular quarterback, suffered a broken rib and Nick Thomas, regular tackle, received a broken finger. Thomas, however, is expected to start tonight.

On the other side of the fence, Coach Herb Cormack has a few injury worries of his own. It is a question whether Ruben Snider will start because of a bad knee. Casey and Hopp have been taking it easy this week to rest up some bruises, but will no doubt get the nod as starters.

McKinley's line play may decide the outcome of tonight's scrap. The Golden Bears are said to have a heavy, green forward wall, and it is here that Franklin's Thunderbolts made most of their yardage until the chips were down. It was not until Franklin reached the Golden Bear 1-yard line, after a 60-yard march, that the McKinley guards and tackles showed their stuff by holding the Thunderbolts scoreless.

If the Little Hawks run into a similar situation, they will have to take to the air. The Red and White passing attack is still to be tested, but if it works as well under actual game conditions as it does in practice, the Cormackmen will have Cedar Rapids behind the well-known eight ball.

Lynn Waldorf, Wildcats Aren't Afraid Of Tailback Jackie Field, Longhorn Mates

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP)—Note to Austin, Tex.: Thanks for various warnings to Lynn Waldorf's Northwestern Wildcats about Jackie Field, the Texas tailback, and his longhorn mates who play here Saturday.

Actually these attempts to terrorize the rugged Wildcats with big talk from Texas are missing their mark. No team this season will cause more concern among the Northwestern coaching staff and players than the Iowa Seahawk eleven did last Saturday.

Waldorf and his aids were happy that Northwestern was beaten only 20 to 12 by the Seahawks. After all, the Wildcats were impressive defensively and showed they had plenty of drive in fullback Ed

White Sox Take 2nd In Row From Cubs In Chicago Series

Lon Warneke Loses As Smith, Haynes Pitch for Winners

CHICAGO (AP)—The White Sox made it two in a row in the Chicago city series here yesterday when they whipped the Cubs at Wrigley field, 9 to 5, before a small gathering of 3,320.

Lon Warneke was driven to cover with a four-run barrage in the eighth inning after the White Sox had moved up to a 5-5 tie in the previous round. Eddie Smith started for the American leaguers but was knocked out in three innings by the Cubs took a 5-3 lead. Joe Haynes then took over for the White Sox and hurled shutout ball the rest of the way.

Don Kolloway led the 11-hit White Sox attack with a homer and three singles to tally four runs and drive home two more.

Bluehawks to Seek 3rd Victory Tonight Against West Liberty

University high's Bluehawks travel to West Liberty tonight to open their Eastern Iowa conference schedule with hope of making the Comets their third straight victim. Game time is slated for 7:45 p.m.

This game should test the Bluehawks' real strength, and if they win it, they may go on to one of their best seasons in the history of the school. However, West Liberty has always been in the conference race and will be tough to beat on their home field. The Comets have won two and lost one, but that was to the fast Anamosa outfit.

Asst. Coach Merlin Westwick announced that the only change in the starting lineup would be Cal Stimmel for Bill Helm at quarter. Others in the backfield include Don Wagner and Max Seaton at halfbacks, and Jack Shay at fullback.

The line will be the same that has started the previous games. DeWayne Alley and Bill Cobb will be at the ends; Capt. Bud Halversen and Clark Louis, tackles; Earl Carson and Gene Rummels, guards, and Jack Reed, center.

Notre Dame's Eleven Hindered by Injuries

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Three assistant coaches over the practice session of the Notre Dame football team yesterday as Head Coach Frank Leahy was confined with a light touch of influenza—only one of several Notre Dame grid casualties.

Leahy said Left Half Bob Dove, who injured his leg Tuesday, would be a doubtful starter against Creighton Tech here tomorrow. Creighton Miller, right half, will play but Leahy said he expected his performance to be below par after Miller re-sprained an ankle in yesterday's workout.

Owen (Dippy) Evans expects to be out of action for another week, making his inactivity because of a knee injury run to four straight weeks.

Cyclones Will Change Starters for Huskers

AMES (AP)—Coach Ray Donels sent his Iowa State Cyclone gridgers through their final drill for Nebraska yesterday and then announced that four new faces will be in his starting lineup at Lincoln tomorrow.

The Cyclone mentor said that Mel Shanda, big junior end, would start instead of either George Harville or Bill Jahn at the left wing post.

The center of the Iowa State forward wall has been taken over by a sophomore trio—Guards Louis Bosnyak and Dean Thomas and Center Burt Shoem. They move into berths held by Junior Guards Jim Benek and Don Siebold and converted Halfback Roe Williams, who started at center against Denver in the opener.

Cats Take It Easy

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP)—Coach Lynn Waldorf put the Northwestern squad through light signal drills yesterday in preparation for the Texas game tomorrow.

scored as a single. Joe DiMaggio, who made three hits Wednesday, came through with a sharp line single to right to bring Cullenbine home.

Then Keller connected with Beazley's next pitch with all the force of an electric shock and the ball sailed high and far over the right field pavilion to knot the score.

Beazley fanned Joe Gordon to end the inning, but had another narrow escape in the ninth.

Dickey Leads Off

Bill Dickey led off with a single and Tuck Stainback was sent in to run for him. Buddy Hassett crashed another single into right and Slaughter made the most magnificent throw of the series, sending a strike to Kurovski in time to catch Stainback sliding into third.

Manager Billy Southworth held a hasty conference on the mound, but decided to let the freshman work out his own fate and he did it magnificently—making pinch-hitter Red Ruffing fly out and Rizzuto grounded out on easy chances.

Prof. Ralph Barnes Talks to Rotarians

Discusses Increasing Problem of Manpower In War Industries

Too many workers in war industries have not fully realized that the United States is at war, Prof. Ralph Barnes of the college of engineering told members of the Rotary club at their weekly luncheon meeting in Hotel Jefferson yesterday. His topic was "Some Personal Observations of the Manpower Problem in War Industry."

Professor Barnes recommended training of the workers by their employers in their particular line of work and in the bare facts of the war effort. "They do not understand what is at stake," he said.

Concerning women war workers, Professor Barnes prophesied that they will eventually be earning the same wages as men, and that they will be doing their jobs as well.

"We can expect many technological improvements to come out of this industrial upsurge," he stated.

In conclusion, Professor Barnes emphasized again the fact that the biggest single contribution managers of factories can make to the winning of the war is by telling their workers what is expected of them and how to do it.

Kelley Cleaning Unit Expanding to Handle Government Contract

The Kelley Cleaning company, 124 S. Gilbert, is moving part of its activities into a portion of the adjoining garage building now occupied by Hogan Bros. in order to have sufficient space for work on its government war contract on 8,000 steamers for target practice and markers.

About one-fourth of the contract has been completed, E. L. Kelley, head of the firm, said yesterday. Twelve additional persons have been employed since the work started six weeks ago. Space on the second floor of the old cannery on Sheridan avenue was being used for this government work before the garage was secured. Kelley company received the war department's "E" for excellence banner last month.

Monument Contest Closes Tomorrow

Entrants in the annual Homecoming corn monument contest have only one more day to turn in their designs before the deadline tomorrow.

A $5 prize is being offered for the winning design. The monument will be erected at Iowa and Clinton.

All designs should be brought or mailed to the office of the dean of the college of engineering.

Scouts Collect 1,500 Phonograph Records; Half of Quota Filled

Over 1,500 old phonograph records were collected in the boy scout residential campaign, Lawton Petrick, chairman of the American Legion's record drive, said yesterday.

More than 50 per cent of the Johnson county quota of 10,000 records still remains to be filled, Petrick said. The record drives in most of the other towns in the state are having about the same amount of success, he believes.

Last Wednesday night, almost 5,000 records from Iowa City were packed and shipped to Chicago, where all of the records from this section of the country are being stored in the warehouses of "Records for Our Fighting Men Inc."

Petrick is still asking for old records, regardless of their condition. One record from each person in Iowa City would soon pass the quota, he believes. The collection center for the drive is Spencer's Harmony hall.

24 Drivers Violate Parking Regulation

Twenty-four Iowa Citizens were warned yesterday morning about parking their cars overnight on the city streets, police reported last night.

City regulations prohibit parking of cars on the streets between 2 and 6 a. m., but all 24 cases were dismissed as they were first offenses.

Burdette F. Godfrey of Des Moines and Harold A. Clearman of route 2, Iowa City, were both fined $5 for speeding yesterday by Police Judge Edward Lucas.

Lloyd Woddingham of Mason City was fined $8 for speeding and for driving without a chauffeur's license. The charge of driving without a license was dismissed.

FENCE TO BE DISMANTLED FOR SCRAP DRIVE

The iron fence, three and a half feet high, which extends around the corner of the lot adjoining the home of Prof. and Mrs. Chester W. Clark, 933 Highwood, will be dismantled and donated Sunday to The Daily Iowan scrap metal campaign. The fence was installed a year ago at a cost of $300. Although not officially members of The Daily Iowan salvage crew, the six young ladies pictured above are doing their best to raze the ironwork. They are (from left to right) Eloise Martin, A3 of Melrose; Betty Comfort, A3 of Des Moines; Mary Helen Seenuth, A1 of Milwaukee, Wis.; Betty Weaver, A1 of Tulsa, Okla.; Barbara Jayne, A2 of LeGrange, Ill., and Naomi Brown, A2 of Duluth, Minn. Members of The Daily Iowan staff will conduct a house-to-house canvass of Iowa City starting Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. It is urged that all persons place their scrap metal contributions on their parkings before this time and a truck crew will pick them up. THIS FENCE IS ONE MAN'S CONTRIBUTION. WHAT'S YOURS?

Uncle Sam Needs Six Million Tons of Scrap; I.C. People Can Aid by Backing 'Iowan' Drive

By CHUCK JENSEN

Whether we realize it or not, we are facing a crisis in our war production program. The situation is serious. Unless we immediately salvage at least 6,000,000 tons of scrap iron and steel, in addition to the great quantities of rubber and other materials, we are not going to meet our production quotas, and our boys and our allies are not going to get the materials they need—in time.

In every state and in most communities, a good start in the salvage program has been made, and by now the framework of a salvage organization throughout the entire nation is in full swing.

From all over the country we read accounts of various persons giving treasured heirlooms and valued personal articles to the scrap metal salvage. These are the truly patriotic Americans. We must all do our share and more in this greatest undertaking in our country's history.

The bureau of industrial conservation of the war production board has designated those items which are needed in this all-out salvage drive.

According to the board, old

Donates 1909 Auto

A 1909 make automobile was turned in to the local scrap metal drive by Mrs. Roger Hora, 821 S. Lucas.

Mrs. Hora declared that she would not sell the old automobile as a relic, but that it must absolutely be given to the scrap metal drive. The antiquated auto was towed to local salvage headquarters by a truck.

stoves, radiators, plumbing, tools, toys, beds, cooking utensils, rods, batteries, tire chains, furnace grates, pipes of all kinds and lighting fixtures will help make shells, guns, armored cars, submarines and all machines of warfare.

To be more specific, an old flat iron will produce two steel helmets or 30 hand grenades. Nine old flat irons equal one six-inch shell. An old wood or kitchen stove will give four ten-inch shells. A set of skid chains will produce twenty 37 m.m. anti-aircraft shells. Five bathtubs will produce a one-half ton truck.

An old lawn mower will give six three-inch shells. Sixty-one refrigerators will make one light tank. One old radiator will produce seventeen 30 calibre rifles.

A one-half ton truck can be made from 11 old washing machines.

Even an old kitchen sink can be turned into 25 three-inch shells. A medium sized tank can be made from 175 old kitchen sinks. Items such as ash cans, refuse cans, wash pails, old discs and plows all find their place on the usable scrap metal list.

Many of us are unaware of the fact that burned out light bulbs are valuable for the copper and brass which they contain. Close observation will show that there are many discarded old bulbs lying around our premises.

Washing machines, ironing machines, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and aluminum pots and pans are all valuable for their content of aluminum and zinc.

Local Scrap Drive Gets 53-Ton Boost In Past Two Days

Approximately 53 tons of scrap metal have been added to the two days, Atty. Jack White, co-chairman of the Johnson county scrap metal drive committee, announced yesterday.

We are also instructed to save collapsible toothpaste tubes and to trade them for new tubes. All old lead contained in batteries and pipe fittings is needed to make the implements of war.

National salvage headquarters advise us that razor blades and cancelled postage stamps are not needed in the salvage drive. It was believed prior to this announcement that certain properties of these articles could be used and reprocessed.

Iowa City and Johnson county have received their first challenge in this scrap metal salvage drive from the community of Oxford. This enthusiastic community has already collected a total of 90 tons of scrap metal since the opening of the drive last spring.

Oxford has "dared" any other community to gather more scrap metal per capita than theirs and has made a good start to uphold its end of the fight.

All of the obsolete license plates which were turned in at the beginning of the year have been collected by the local salvage committee's crew.

Dean Jones, local salvage committee chairman, yesterday announced that the local program is in full swing and that scrap metal from the outlying districts is rapidly being picked up.

Robert Noble, editor-in-chief of The Daily Iowan scrap metal drive, announced last night that staff members will begin promptly at 8 o'clock Sunday morning to canvass the entire residential area for the scrap.

Companies which have donated trucks for the pick-up are the Packman lumber company, Blecha transfer, Cline farm equipment company and Maher Brothers transfer.

Every Iowa City resident is urged to be requested to make a thorough search of his premise and place the scrap on his front parking by 8 o'clock.

Proceeds from the sale of the scrap collected will go to the University of Iowa's Phoenix fund the Johnson county USO.

All inquiries regarding the local salvage drive should be directed to the local salvage committee composed of Dean Jones, 4910; Jack White, 7998; Dale Welt, 4610, or The Daily Iowan, 4192. "Keep 'em firing with junk."

Bombardier Trainer Advises Candidates To Take Mathematics

"College students who will make the best bombardiers are those who study math and lots of it," according to Lieut. Col. William M. Garland, training director of Uncle Sam's newest bombardier university in San Angelo, Tex.

As far as bombing is concerned, this is a war of mathematicians," Colonel Garland says.

Algebra, geometry, trigonometry and physics are invaluable to a bombardier, he declares. Of major importance also is knowing how to read aerial photos, charts and maps.

Every bombardier studies maps and charts of his target and surrounding territory before starting a mission. Often landmarks must be memorized. Slide rules and mathematical computers are used constantly.

But for those who consider math a grind, Colonel Garland adds, "You don't have to like math to be a top-flight bombardier; you merely must know how to use figures."

Prof. Austin Warren To Speak on WSUI

Prof. Austin Warren of the English department will talk on "Some Doubts and a Faith" on the Faith of Democracy program over WSUI at 7:15 tonight.

Professor Warren, who will leave soon for the armed forces, will discuss some of the doubts that a thinker must have in such a world as this, and make apparent his faith. He will touch on pacifism, the verdict of history on war, the true meaning of the democratic faith, and the need for an international outlook.

The Faith of Democracy program is sponsored jointly by the philosophy department and the school of letters.

Professor Warren is the author of "The Elder Henry James," "Richard Crashaw," and editor of "Selected Works of Nathaniel Hawthorne."

Dr. H. R. Jenkinson Will Present Paper

Dr. H. R. Jenkinson of Iowa City will present a paper entitled "Defense and First Aid Protection in War Gases" at the next meeting of the Johnson county medical society which will be held Wednesday in the Hotel Jefferson.

Brrrrrrrr! Frosh Dives in River On 8 Buck Bet

Perry Jayne, A1 of Cedar Rapids, dropped 20 feet from the Iowa Union foot bridge late yesterday afternoon to win an $8 bet.

Jayne, who lives at the Commons, accepted the challenge of a companion who offered $5 to anyone willing to jump from the bridge. While Jayne deliberated more than 20 students gathered at the scene and the bet was raised to $8.

After more than 45 minutes of hesitation, he dove feet first into the water.

Jayne, who is nearly six feet tall, touched bottom. He did not swim to the bank but returned to the bridge by climbing up the steel supports.

A good swimmer, he has never been a member of a swimming team and yesterday marked his first public exhibition.

County Ration Board Issues Tire, Tube Certificates Report

The report on tire and tube certificates issued by the Johnson county ration board for the week ending Sept. 26, was released yesterday by Chairman R. J. Phelps.

Among the certificates issued were: passenger type tubes, 10; passenger type recaps, 25; passenger type obsolete tires, 1; truck type tires, 25; truck type tubes, 30; truck type recaps, 14; truck type obsolete tires, 2; tractor type tires, 2; tractor type tubes, 2; ambulance type tires, 8; ambulance type tubes, 8, and bus type tubes, 2.

Commerce Club Mixer Will Be Held Tuesday In Cafeteria of Union

The Commerce club mixer for all commerce and pre-commerce majors will be held Tuesday in Iowa Union cafeteria at 8 p. m.

John C. Fetzer, instructor in insurance, who has been chosen as adviser for the club, and the board of directors will be formally introduced by John Y. McCollister, president. The new commerce club membership plan will be outlined.

In Treynor, Ia., 1,000 "bombs"—small sacks containing a few ounces of sand—were used to dramatize the national scrap harvest program. The bombs trailed streamers with the message: Get in the scrap. The next plane might be a Jap.

Men in V-1, V-5 May Take SUI Flying Course

Vacancies in the elementary extra-curricular flying program offered by the University of Iowa in cooperation with the Iowa City municipal airport for students who are either V-5 or V-1 navy enlistees were announced yesterday by Elmer C. Lundquist, instructor of aeronautics.

The program will offer college students 72 hours in basic ground school work along with 35 hours of flight instruction and will be carried out over a three month period.

Classes, which will be held Mondays through Fridays from 5 to 6 p. m., will include 18 hours of civil air regulations, 24 hours of meteorology, 24 hours of navigation and 6 hours of general servicing of aircraft.

V-1 and V-5 enlistees who are interested should see Lundquist immediately.

Bourke Hickenlooper To Talk Here Tonight

Bourke B. Hickenlooper, republican candidate for the governorship of Iowa, will speak at a public meeting at 8:30 tonight in the Community building.

He will also attend a dinner at 7 o'clock tonight in the Hotel Jefferson. The dinner is being given in his honor by the republican central committee of Johnson county. Central committee members and their guests will attend the dinner.

This will be Hickenlooper's only campaign visit to Iowa City.

Former Journalism Staff Member Files Alaskan Land Claim

Lieut. Winston Allard, formerly an assistant instructor in the school of journalism here, has filed a claim of a 160-acre homestead along the Steese highway in Alaska.

Lieutenant Allard is now stationed in Fairbanks, Alaska, as the public relations officer and military censor at Ladd field.

The news of the filing was carried in an article which appeared in the August 28 issue of the Jensen's weekly, a Fairbanks newspaper.
