Enemy Planes Blasted Into Sea

Yanks Pour Bombs on Rommel's Supply Line

(This eye-witness account of a mass raid by United States heavy bombers on an important mission against an axis sea transport center was written in a four-motor Consolidated "Liberator" by Edward Kennedy, veteran chief of The Associated Press correspondents covering the war on the Mediterranean front.)

By EDWARD KENNEDY WITH THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE OVER GREECE (Delayed) — (AP) — Mass formations of giant American bombers are attacking ships in Navarino bay, one of the enemy's main bases for supplying Rommel's army in Africa.

It is a daylight raid and one of the biggest and most spectacular so far made in this theater of war.

We unloose a terrific shower of heavy bombs upon our target. The enemy replies with a storm of anti-aircraft shells which burst about us.

Pursuit planes attack us and our gunners meet them with concentrated fire which sends four of them crashing down into the sea in smoke and flames.

(An official account of this air smash last Saturday, the second in 48 hours by heavy bombers of the United States middle east air forces command, said that two large supply ships were hit squarely and exploded and that five axis fighters which attacked the American formation, four—three Messerschmitt 109's and a Macchi 202—were sent blazing into the sea from the B-24's guns.

The Greek port of Pylos is on Navarino bay.)

(It is at the mouth of the Ionian sea, on the west coast of the Peloponnese in southern Greece, about 130 airline miles southwest of Athens.)

We get some scars but all our planes are safe and all our men are alive as we set off for home, leaving death and destruction behind us in Navarino bay this sunny Saturday afternoon.

4-Motored B-24's We are in four motored Consolidated B-24's of the heavy bombardment group which forms an important part of Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's air force in the middle east.

Once we are all off the ground we get into formation and soon are winging over the sea to our goal.

packages of death which we have been carrying leave the plane. I see black bursts of ack-ack shells. I am just thinking how glad I am they are not near when a jolt almost knocks me off my feet, then another succeeds in doing so. I see two bursts as shells explode just beneath us.

Our pilot swerves and dives to get out of the ack-ack fire. The mountain peaks in the distance dance all around us and I am not sure whether I am standing on my head or my feet.

Somewhat, we are in a closely knit formation again, so close we can almost reach out and touch our companion planes.

They come at us—enemy pursuit planes. There are at least four of them. One charges in while the other cautiously hangs outside. He comes at us, the final plane.

Our tail gunner is ready for him. He puts up a fire which beats him off. The glass above Norman's head cracks as a bullet, presumably, glances off it. That was the only scar we got.

But on leaving us, the attacking planes goes for "The Witch," which is just ahead of us to the left. Then other enemy fighters come in. One is an Italian Macchi, the other is a German Messerschmitt and they are after "The Witch."

At this second I cannot see the attacking planes, but I can see "The Witch's" side being drilled with holes—twenty-seven holes as later proved by count.

We all fire at the attackers. Big bullets, half an inch thick, are flying all around. The output of 15 guns from our planes is concentrated on them.

"The Witch" is taking the brunt of the attack. A big window on its side is open. There stands the gunner, exposed from the waist up, firing at the bullet-crashes into "The Witch's" side and goes right through the gunner's knee. He does not flinch. He sticks to his gun and keeps firing. Two other men in "The Witch" are slightly wounded.

95 Per Cent of French Yearning for U.S. Snub of Vichy Rule, Former Envoy Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Edge, former ambassador to France, asserted yesterday that withdrawal by the United States of recognition of the Vichy French "puppet" government would solidify 95 per cent of the French people behind the united nations.

Edge, emphasizing in an interview that he was speaking as a private citizen, said it was unfortunate that the government seems to feel it necessary to continue recognition of the Vichy regime.

Very Discouraging With interest in this country centered in the fighting French, he said, "It must be very discouraging to see their overlords recognized by this country."

"There may be many things that warrant continued recognition that I know nothing about," he said, but added that only a small percentage of the French people was in sympathy with the Vichy government.

Workers Equal to Serfs "The action of Premier Laval in practically conscripting workmen as serfs, with a machine gun at their heads, certainly never will lead to a free or rejuvenated France," he said.

Edge said he "assumed" one of the main reasons for continuing recognition was a hope the French navy could be kept from nazi hands. He said there was a "strong suspicion" that units of the navy were "not far from being in German hands even now."

The detention of Edouard Herriot in France last week "particularly shocked" Edge. "He was the most outspoken pro-American, in words and deeds," he said.

Baby Betty Bopped All 650 Lbs. of Her Is Objecting

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The fat lady sued the sword swallower of Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey's circus yesterday to add another round to a sideshow feud. The fat lady, red-haired Baby Betty, asked $3,000 for bruises she claimed she suffered from a bopping on the head with a pop bottle by the sword swallower, Patricia Smith, in a dressing tent.

Earlier in the day, Miss Patricia was fined $20 in the city court for the bopping, but she called it the "biggest bargain I ever got in my life."

Six of her fellow circus performers came to testify for her. Miss Hanka Kelter, long-haired Venus, testified Baby Betty (circus posters listed her weight at 650 pounds) had threatened to cut off her seven-foot locks some night. Doty Velez, Hawaiian dancer who admitted Raleigh, N. C., was her home, was ready to exhibit a shapely leg to show where the Great Shackles (escape artist (See BABY BETTY, page 6)

Miners Break Off With CIO

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The United Mine Workers of America late yesterday voted almost unanimously to withdraw from the Congress of Industrial Organizations to complete a two-year, steadily widening breach.

John L. Lewis, UMW chief and former CIO president, virtually told the miners in a 56-minute speech to decide between him and the CIO.

Although most speakers, previous to Lewis, asked delegates to vote against the split, only a scattering of men stood after the majority had shouted their approval of Lewis' stand.

"I think this convention in honor to itself and in honor to its officers should adopt this report (committee on officers' report which recommended withdrawal)," Lewis declared, ending the debate.

"If you do not adopt this report, then you do not want a man like me as your president. You want a man with more rabbit in him than I've got," he added.

Japs Vacate Two Islands In Western Aleutian Area

1,200 Enemy Troops Slain At Stalingrad

Russians Gain North Of City, Hold Other Battle-Scarred Points

MOSCOW, Thursday (AP)—The red army continued its drive against the German left flank northwest of Stalingrad yesterday and held all positions inside the battle-scarred city against the huge mass of men and tanks the Germans have thrown into the battle, the soviet midnight communique said today.

Earlier reports said Marshal Timoshenko's relief offensive northwest of Stalingrad had ripped into a line of hundreds of nazi "tank forts" and overrun a stronghold, wiping out 1,200 Rumanian troops.

Improve Positions The communique's reference to this action said simply that "northwest of Stalingrad our troops have been conducting operations for the improvement of their positions."

Inside the rubble-strewn city, the battle raged on fiercely, but the soviet communique indicated the red army had not withdrawn at any point.

"All attacks of enemy tanks and infantry have been repelled with heavy losses," it said. "Our troops are holding their positions."

During this fighting, it was stated officially, the Russians killed about 500 Germans and destroyed 19 tanks.

Bridges Across Don (In London the British news agency Reuters quoted an Italian radio report as saying Russian forces attacking the German flank above Stalingrad had thrown pontoon bridges across the Don and sent troops to the west bank of that stream)

In the Mozdok area, in the Caucasus, the Russians retired to new positions at one point after a fierce engagement. At another point, the communique said, 12 German tanks managed to penetrate to the rear of a soviet detachment, but 11 of the tanks were put out of action and about a company of German troops were wiped out.

Tokyo Fears Potency Of Flying Fortresses

Frenchmen Warned To Vacate Strategic Nazi Factory Areas

LONDON (AP)—The British radio yesterday carried an American warning to the French people to vacate areas producing for Germany or be bombed, while the potency of the Flying Fortresses was hailed in an exemplary way in the house of Commons and with forthright fear in Tokyo.

Long-Range Fortresses The Tokyo fears as heard by British listeners in India were expressed by a Japanese naval spokesman who told his people by radio that the United States is building long-range Flying Fortresses which could spring on Japan from the Aleutians and Midway Island.

He said these great planes would have a range of 10,000 miles, that America was assembling weapons in "astronomical quantity."

Originated in America Of the American warning to France, the BBC's French service explained that it had originated in the United States shortwave stations broadcasting as "America calling Europe" and that it had been recorded in London and re-broadcast twice in French and twice in German.

In Washington, Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles said that factories working for Germany were legitimate targets for American bombers and that the warning was in line with United States government's wish to spare innocent Frenchmen.

Post-War Hitler Trial Hinted as President Tells Plan Dealing With Axis 'Ringleaders'

WASHINGTON, (AP) — A post-war trial of Adolf Hitler for high crimes against humanity was apparently foreshadowed yesterday when President Roosevelt said the terms of united nations victory would call for punishment of "ringleaders" responsible for "organized murder" and other "atrocities."

Without mentioning Hitler by name, the president disclosed that the united nations were already moving to set up a commission to gather evidence for use at post-war trials.

Drawing a sharp line between axis leaders and the people under them, Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement:

"It is not the intention of this government or of the governments associated with it to resort to mass reprisals. It is our intention that just and sure punishment shall be meted out to the ringleaders responsible for the organized murder of thousands of innocent persons and the commission of atrocities which have violated every tenet of the Christian faith."

Later, Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, was asked by reporters whether Hitler was one of those who would be placed on trial. He said he would leave the answer to the excellent judgment

Approve 40 Per Cent Tax on Corporation Incomes Over $50,000

Large Senate Majority Okays Measure After Rejecting Higher Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—By an overwhelming vote, the senate yesterday approved a 40 per cent tax on corporation incomes above $50,000, after rejecting, 75 to 9, a proposal by Senator LaFollette (P-Wis.) to increase that rate to 50 per cent.

Then, in a day of rapid action, it voted to reduce the credit for dependent children and others from $400 to $300 and turned to a discussion of the problem of taxing income from state and municipal securities historically exempt from federal assessments.

Follow Committee Both votes on corporation rates found the senate following the advice of its finance committee and disregarding the recommendations of the treasury. The latter had recommended a rate of 55 per cent on corporation incomes over $50,000. By comparison, the house approved a rate of 45 per cent.

The rates cited consisted of a normal tax of 24 per cent (unchanged from the present law) plus surtaxes, but not including a 90 per cent tax on excess profits.

10 Per Cent Surtax In detail, the committee proposed and the senate yesterday approved, a surtax rate of 10 per cent on corporate net incomes of not more than $25,000 and 16 per cent on net incomes in excess of $50,000. A "notch" provision would be established providing for gradual transition from the 10 to 16 per cent rate for corporations with incomes between $25,000 and $50,000.

As did the house before it, the senate voted to make these rates effective in totality, instead of by brackets. This would cause a corporation with more than $50,000 net returns to pay the 16 per cent surtax on all of its earnings, instead of paying only 10 per cent on the first $25,000 of those earnings.

No 'Undue Sacrifice' LaFollette's proposal was ten per cent on the first $25,000, and 26 per cent on all over that amount. He contended that such rates would increase the treasury's revenues by $219,000,000 without "undue sacrifice."

"The people of this country face the greatest tax crisis in the history of the world," he said, in presenting his program.

Murray, Green Named In Six Appointments To Stabilization Board

Byrnes Asks Treasury To Regulate Salaries In Higher Brackets

WASHINGTON, (AP)—James F. Byrnes, director of economic stabilization, announced yesterday the appointment of six public members of the new economic stabilization board and at the same time said he had asked the treasury to make recommendations for regulations designed to hold down salaries in the high brackets.

These members, appointed by President Roosevelt, were named to the advisory board: Labor representatives: William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Philip Murray, president of the CIO.

Agriculture: James G. Patton, president, farmers cooperative union; and Edward O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation. Management: Eric A. Johnston, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States; and Ralph E. Flanders, president, Jones and Lamson machine company, Springfield, Vt.

The regulations for which Byrnes has asked the treasury to make its recommendations will be designed to carry out a presidential order that no salaries be authorized above $25,000, after payment of taxes and provisions payments of life insurance policies and fixed obligations.

Byrnes took his oath of office late yesterday from a White House official. It was disclosed that his salary would be $13,000, which will give him as much a cabinet member, or the chairman of the war production board. It represents a 25 per cent cut, however, from the $20,000 Byrnes had been drawing as a supreme court justice.

Byrnes said he thought the new appointments to the economic stabilization board were "splendid." These six men will serve along with the secretaries of the treasury, agriculture, commerce and labor, the chairman of the federal reserve board of governors, the budget director, the price administrator and the war-labor board chairman.

Find No Trace Of Nipponese On Attu, Agattu

Yanks Pound Kiska, Only Remaining Jap Base Menacing U.S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (AP) — Japan's hold on America's western Aleutian islands appeared last night to be weakening rapidly.

The navy announced there was no trace of the enemy on either Attu, the westernmost island and first seized by the Japs, or on nearby Agattu, where the enemy also had placed small forces.

The Japs were still in possession of Kiska island, their most important base of operations in the area, but so far as was known that was the only island they held, and it was under repeated and heavy attack by air.

This information was given out in a navy communique which cautiously refrained from claiming that the enemy actually had withdrawn from Attu and Agattu.

From the announced fact that considerable aerial reconnaissance had failed to produce any sign of occupancy "for several weeks," it seemed clear, however, that a withdrawal had been effected.

Moreover, American bombers have now destroyed most of the buildings on Attu. Regarding Kiska, the communique said that "attacks by our aircraft continue" and reported specifically that on Monday army liberator bombers, with fighter escort, dropped many demolition and incendiary bombs on the camp area, and scored hits on the seaplane hangar.

Six enemy seaplane fighters which rose to the counter-attack were shot down at that time. The Japs also put up light anti-aircraft opposition but all the American aircraft returned to their base.

The communique did not mention the situation in the South Pacific where at last reports, yesterday, the Japanese were reinforcing their troops on Guadalcanal island in the Solomons in preparation for a renewed attempt to capture the American defense positions and airfield.

The base from which the American aircraft made their latest attack on the Japs in the Aleutians undoubtedly is the newly developed operations center in the Andreanof islands, which at one point lie only 125 nautical miles from Kiska. Its occupation by army troops and air forces was announced by the navy only last Saturday, although it had been effected several weeks earlier. This westward advance, putting American forces more than 250 miles northwest of their original base at Dutch Harbor, and within easy bombing range of Kiska, has made the Japanese position on Kiska highly precarious if not actually untenable.

Mountains, Not Japs, Slow Allied Advance Across New Guinea

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Thursday, (AP)—The allied ground offensive through the Owen Stanley mountains on New Guinea has been slowed by the difficulties of the terrain, a communique said today.

Only the frighteningly rugged territory and the supply problems it presented brought the allies to their near halt, the communique made clear.

Scarcely any enemy resistance was encountered in the ten-day march up the southern side of mountains from Ioribaiwa, 32 miles inland from Port Moresby, and the gains "have been accomplished with practically no loss to our troops."

IN CABLE WEDDING CEREMONY

Mentally, if not legally, Erna Berube of Los Angeles is a brand-new bride with a husband 6,000 miles away. Erna is shown holding a cablegram from Sgt. Stanley Cook (inset), stationed in England. The cable read: "I take you, Erna Berube, to be my lawful wedded wife from this day forward. Answer. (Signed) Stanley Cook." "We planned to wed before Stanley left but sudden orders prevented it," Erna says. Validity of the odd "cable marriage" was doubted by authorities.

New Economic Control Set-Up

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Program Represents Plan As President Wanted It—

WASHINGTON — The president's new economic control set-up is largely the handiwork of his three close economic advisors, Henderson (prices), Lubin (White House economist), and Davis (war labor chairman). In the initial stages of its formation, both Nelson (the productionist and McNutt (the man-powrer) played some part with the other three, but they were left out at the end.

The program represents what the president intended to do in the first place, before asking congress for the farm price legislation. The formula was adopted weeks ago, and, as announced at the White House, October 3, is substantially the same as forecast in this column published August 26, even as to the names of the members of the board, excepting Director Byrnes, Morgenthau and Jesse Jones.

The initial announcements merely constituted a legal assumption of blanket authority to do just about anything—with no specific indications as to what the program will do to either existing wages or prices. The obviously puzzled agriculture department fended off inquiries as to what the executive order will do to farm prices, by saying that further directions would have to be received from over-all economic controller Byrnes, or the White House.

Absence of comment from farm bloc senators betrayed their puzzlement at Mr. Roosevelt's leaving out any mention of farm labor costs, while including consideration of farm subsidies. This they took as a further indication that the president intended to go ahead as he had originally planned, and Farm Bloc Senator Bankhead granted a mild disapproval.

Frankly, they did not know what it meant. One administration senator guessed the inclusion of subsidies, and the exclusion of farm labor, would leave parity just about where it is.

Average congressional guess was that farm prices would advance at least 5 per cent or 10 per cent in a year, but this was admittedly both blind and conservative.

On the wage side, the field ahead was just as wide open for Justice Byrnes and the war labor board. The order could mean a lot or it could mean little.

As a matter of fact, it probably means that the war labor board is going to continue to follow its policy of applying the little steel wage formula, under which wage advances will be allowed on the basis of increased cost of living since January 1, 1941. Most administration people expect this.

A vast new vista of wage controls seem to be opened by the president's assumption of authority to let the board rule against wage increases, even outside the union field, and by the president's limitation of salaries to $25,000 net, after taxes.

But this vista moved forward or backward, like a stereopticon slide, depending upon what official eyes you attempted to see it through.

The wage provision of the executive order, for instance, directed adjustments to correct "maladjustments," "inequalities," "substandards," "gross inequities," or "to aid in the effective prosecution of the war."

They might as well have put in "or for any other purpose." Under this, wage could be generally raised to any height.

The $25,000 restriction also contained so many loopholes that it looked like a swiss cheese in which the holes were larger than the substance. Certainly it will allow salaries up to $75,000 or more before taxes, and perhaps even larger salaries in a great many instances.

Also, the order implied that the income tax returns can be used to enforce this and other wage provisions. The question here also is whether the extreme resort of opening tax returns to the war labor board is to be pursued or not.

But do not get the idea from these microscopic observations that the program is considered to be unwarranted or unwelcome. The choice of Supreme Court Justice Byrnes, with an acutely political mind, to answer all the above and other questions, appears to be accepted everywhere with satisfaction.

Mr. Byrnes has never been at the forefront of the reform element of the new deal in its many talked-up programs to revise governmental systems. His legislative career in the senate was devoted to acting as an efficient go-between with this group and the southern farm bloc democrats.

His administration of the nation's economies will probably assume the same character. No doubt he was selected for that purpose.

His board will be probably only a paper affair. He generally runs most shows in which he is involved.

Mr. Roosevelt had to use his unparalleled persuasive powers to get Byrnes from the bench for the job. It may now be told the president wanted Byrnes to handle the war production board before Nelson took over, but was unable to get him to leave the bench for that post.

What we have here then, is a good man with unlimited power and only general directions as to what to do to keep wages and prices in check. What we will get is solely up to him.

Question Needs Action—

There is confusion in the United States in the distribution of manpower. Experienced farmers leave their farms for enlistment or high factory wages. Factory workers go to other factories. Draft boards take skilled workers.

The War Manpower Commission has been established with Paul McNutt as head, but he does not have the power to make it run effectively. Soon something will have to be done.

In England the Ministry of Labor under Ernest Bevin disposes of all manpower—for both military service and industry. No British industry can exist today without the Labor Ministry's blessing. It has transferred worker to plants hundreds of miles away, put them to work at new jobs. No worker can leave a war job, and no employer can fire a man, without the Ministry's permission. Britain has registered all men and women, classified them by skills and experience, decided where and how they shall work.

The mature, relatively conservative British trade-union system provided a favorable backdrop for such drastic decisions. Moreover, the British law is democratic in intention: it treats all citizens alike. Workers moved under the plan get travel expenses and an allowance for living away from home; those who think they have been treated unjustly can take grievances to joint management-labor committees which constitute a jury of their peers. But in the name of war, Britons live under a totalitarian labor system.

It has been estimated that the U. S. must have about 63,000,000 men and women in the armed forces, war industry and essential civilian jobs by the end of 1943. It will be a big problem to place them at the proper posts.

No Shortage of Forests—

Reports that the available lumber supply will be six billion board feet short of requirements has sent WPB searching for wood substitutes such as brick, tile, and gypsum. Lend-lease needs and the construction plans of the army and navy have created such a lumber deficiency that in the future barracks may be of brick and gypsum board may serve as walls for temporary war worker homes.

This does not mean that we are faced with an actual shortage of lumber. There are approximately 630,000,000 acres of forestland in the United States today, and nearly 430,000,000 of these acres are in commercial forests. The total amount of saw-timber upon the 430,000,000 acres is about 1,763,651,000,000 board feet. This amount will be sufficient to provide three new houses for every family in America, in addition to some 40,000,000 houses which they already have.

Saw-timber, however, represents only about one-fourth of the total volume of standing timber. The total amount of all standing timber has been estimated to be about 5,190,750,000,000 board feet. Much of this total of all standing timber some day will be suitable for use as saw-timber. Other large quantities, however, will be harvested for industrial uses.

There is an annual deficit of approximately 1,963,000,000 cubic feet. Even if this rate remained unchanged, the timber in the commercial forests would continue to supply the needs of the American people for several generations.

The dominant purpose of the forest products industries is to increase the rate of annual new wood growth until it balances or more than balances the total "out-go" so that there will be no deficit. It has been estimated that growth and out-go would have approached a balance during this decade had this not been delayed by the unusual requirements of the war.

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

Spending Money Flow Becomes a Niagara—

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Broadway is having a new gold rush, with Saturday night crowds comparable to those of New Year Eve's. Summer business in the night clubs and theaters was far above the average, but with the advent of fall the flow of spending money has become a Niagara.

Hit plays are selling seats weeks and months in advance, and night clubs are getting hard to crack without reservations. A lot of the money is being spent by week-enders from Washington, while some of it arrives in New York circuitously via executive offices of defense plants scattered throughout the country. Service men having that "one last spree" also are figuring heavily in the amusement trade's jackpot.

A bit ironically, the places which are benefitting most are having a tough time raking in the money, because of enlistments. Good waiters are at a premium, and the wages of busboys and bellhops aren't big enough to hold those who have a chance at war industry jobs. Female hotel help also is being affected. Many of New York's chambermaids and waitresses are wives and daughters of Pennsylvania miners, adding to the family income. But now with the mines working at full speed, the husbands are making good money, so the wives and daughters go back home.

Small hotels felt the influx of spending visitors soonest, of course, but now the class hotels are filling up and getting more of that lucrative private-party business. One of the largest one-man parties recently was given by Col. Charles F. H. Johnson, president of Botany Mills, who had as his guests at the Billmore the 300 members of the cast of "This Is The Army," as many more wives and sweethearts of the players, and General Hugh Drum and Irving Berlin and their wives for good measure. The medium-built, gray-blond colonel is an old army man and one of New York's most generous entertainers.

One of the curious things about Berlin's ballad, "I Left My Heart at the Stage Door Canteen," is that said heart was entrusted to a girl named Eileen—but to the best of anyone's knowledge, no girl named Eileen ever was a hostess at the American Theater Wing's unusual night club for service men. Now that a motion picture to be called "Stage Door Canteen" is in the works, a hunt for an Eileen is under way. She doesn't have to be named Eileen, nor is it necessary that she ever was in the Canteen—or New York or Hollywood, for that matter.

1943 Major League Ball Clubs To Include Only 3 Road Trips

Travel Difficulties Reason for Change, Harridge Announces

Loops to Save 20,000 Miles by Eliminating Usual Fourth Circuit

BY DAVE HOFF
CHICAGO, (AP)—Looking ahead to the transportation headaches baseball is bound to run into next year, American League President Will Harridge revealed yesterday that the 1943 schedules will be shifted to include only three road trips, instead of four, for all clubs.

The smiling head of the junior circuit disclosed the contemplated change in an interview during which he pointed out that the 1942 season "was better than we expected" from an attendance point of view, and that the '43 campaign "looks good."

To Ease Transportation
"To ease the transportation problem," he explained, "there will be only three major swings across country just as there were a few years ago. When the western clubs go east, and vice versa, they'll stay longer and observe longer periods at home and in other cities. Each league will save 20,000 miles by eliminating the fourth road trip."

He has talked the plan over with national league President Ford Frick, who said in New York that the details "will be ironed out" at future meetings and the whole thing settled by early winter.

Trouble This Season
Baseball tangled with the travel problem for most of the last half of the 1942 campaign and found it a tough one. Instead of the usual special cars of drawing rooms, the players had to take their chances with the upper and lower, and clubs considered themselves lucky to get those. For a while, it looked as if the sixth and seventh games of the recent world series—if they had been necessary—would have had to remain in Yankee stadium instead of being shifted back to St. Louis, so difficult was the situation.

Looking back on the recent campaign, Harridge said that with a break in the weather here and there, the attendance would have measured up to the big 1941 season. Even though crowds were about eight per cent off last year, however, it was not a general decrease. Some clubs drew better and others actually made more money because some of their highest-paid stars were in the armed forces.

In the only intramural touch football game of the day, Alpha Kappa Kappa turned back the offensive of the six from Alpha Chi Sigma to chalk up a 28 to 7 victory. Jack Moyers starred for the winners, figuring in 16 points.

Warren Randall dashed through the Alpha Chi Sigma line for the first touchdown. Moyers' conversion was good. Moyers' pass to Don (Hezzy) Hesselshwerdt accounted for six more marks to out-

Yankee Downfall Three Major Factors Halted Bombers

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK (AP)—The Yankees probably would be the first to admit that the main thing that happened to them in the lamented world series was the St. Louis Cardinals.

But beyond that, the old cracker barrel figures to get quite a banging around this winter as Gus Fan's aunts and uncles try to figure out just what it was that changed the alleged greatest club in baseball into something more like the Tenth Avenue Alley Cats.

Second-Guessing
Second-guessing the series from this range is something like locking yourself in a safe and challenging Joe Louis, but there appear to have been three major factors that added up to the large eight ball Joe McCarthy and his guys got behind.

DiMaggio Stopped
You don't have to look much farther than Moore when you're tabbing the series hero, because Moore stopped Joe DiMaggio, when DiMag had to be stopped.

American league clubs tell you the outfits which have been toughest for the Yanks since Joltin Joe has been around are those with good rapid center fielders. DiMaggio primarily is a solid sender to left center, definitely not a pull hitter. So if a club sports a fly chaser who can romp around the stadium's spacious pastures, then Joe can be kept from larrupping those long extra-basers. And, when DiMaggio is stopped, the Yankee power attack is just about stopped. And that's not talking a thing away from Charley Keller.

Beazley Gets Big Welcome
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Happy Johnny Beazley, the No. 1 hero of the world series, came home to his native Nashville today, served as the state's chief executive for a few minutes and then was commissioned an honorary colonel on Governor Prentice Cooper's staff.

The bashful, 23-year-old youngster, who pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to two world series victories over the New York Yankees, visited the capitol shortly after his arrival this morning.

Governor Cooper and other state officials greeted Beazley warmly. Curious, back-slapping crowds followed him, shaking his hand and asking for his autograph.

Cooper turned over his gubernatorial chair to the grinning youngster.

Seahawks Polish Up For Michigan Game

Iowa Seahawks, still looking tired and worn after their tough game with Minnesota, did a general job of polishing up yesterday in preparation for Saturday's Michigan contest.

The Pre-fighters took a general dummy scrimmage and worked hard on methods of stopping Wolverine plays. Lt. Col. Bernie Bierman had his backs improve ball handling and the linemen check their blocking assignments.

Bus Bertes was still limping and in Langhurst, Fred Gage and George Paskvan are not over the bruising up they received last weekend.

Hawkeye Gridders Scrimmage Against Third Team Eleven

Iowa's varsity keyed up its ground attack yesterday by scrimmaging against a third team and for the first time in several days passing was absent from the practice menu.

Bob Lauterbach, injured center, was in uniform yesterday for the first time in nearly three weeks, but his knee hasn't healed sufficiently for him to don a game uniform against Camp Grant. He'll probably be set for the Illinois game.

Iowa's second team took an offensive drill against the freshmen.

Bluehawks' Varsity Wallops Scrubs, 19-3

The varsity beat the reserves, 19-3, yesterday as Coach Paul Brechler sent U-high through a regular game scrimmage to polish up its offense and defense for the Monticello game tomorrow night.

Jim Rasley, student team manager, is now a member of the team. Rasley Tuesday answered Coach Brechler's call for place kickers, and booted 14 out of 15 tries. In yesterday's practice scrimmage he kicked one extra point for the first team and split the uprights with a 20 yard field goal for the reserves.

From the results of the scrimmage it looks as if the Bluehawks will throw some aerial fireworks at the Panthers tomorrow. Jack Shay was hitting his receivers constantly, two of the touchdowns being on his passes. Bill Helm

Horse Racing Does Part in War Relief

NEW YORK (AP)—Horse racing has raised $1,875,400.60 for war relief funds, within striking distance of its self-assessed $2,000,000, the turf committee of America announced today.

Among the leading contributions not previously announced by the committee, headed by Herbert Bayard Swope of New York, is $155,867.80 from Washington Park.

Caught the first one in the end zone, and DeWayne Ailey ran the second over. Shay was in rare form and was driving like a demon, once breaking loose for a 40 yard touchdown gallop. Jim Williams made some good gains for the reserves.

Chuck Kent and Helm took over first team backfield duties, but the remainder of the lineup remained the same.

19 Hawkeyes Report For Basketball Drills

A squad of 19 basketball players headed by Co-Capt. Tom Chapman and Letterwinner Jim O'Brien this week has reported to Coach Lawrence (Pop) Harrison to start three-day-a-week practice sessions. Harrison was named this summer to replace Lieut. Rollie Williams, who now is stationed at the Pre-Flight school here.

Coach Harrison will have three major "I" lettermen to work with when Co-Capt. Ben Trickey returns from the football wars. South Dakota State will open the 19 game schedule Dec. 10.

2 Wolverine Sops May Face Seahawk

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Sophomore backs have been successful against Michigan's opponents this year that Coach Fritz Crisler may give two ones their chance against the Iowa Seahawks Saturday.

They are fullback Don Law of Detroit and halfback Frank Wardley of Joliet, Ill., both of whom have been working all week with veteran quarterback George Ceithaml and halfback Don Robinson.

Tom Kuzma, the Wolverine star back, probably will sit out his third straight game.

since the days of the Spanish civil war. For the first time, I feel sorry for Henry. But no need to. He is splattered with Frost's blood, but he is not hit. He puts a tourniquet on Frost's leg. The other two wounded sergeants help and only when the job is finished do they reveal that they are injured (although not dangerously) too. We are flying close together and every gun we can train on the attackers is in action. Blood has been drawn on our side and all our sergeant gunners are angry, swearing as they shoot. One of the attacking planes goes down in smoke, the pilot descending to the sea by parachute. The other goes down in flames. The pilot bails out but his parachute does not open. The pair which attacked a formation such as this are death or glory boys and they got the former. We now sweep across the southern stretch of Greece and out to sea. All our bombs have fallen in the harbor. None has fallen on the soil of Greece; we do not want to kill Greeks. The navigator of "The Witch" is Second Lieutenant Peter L. Vlahakes of Newark, N. J., who is getting his first glimpse of the land of his ancestors and we are bombing only 50 miles from the town his father left 30 years ago to go to America.

A Special Day For me, this is a special day. A year and a half ago I was bombed from the Olympus line to Thermopylae, then to Piraeus, bombed again at sea, dive-bombed in Suda bay and machine-gunned as I slept under olive trees in Crete. I finally arrived in Egypt with a brave but defeated army so "bomb happy" I could hardly write the story.

I felt then we would return to Greece one day. But I never thought it would be like this—to be taken there by our own American planes, to be with Americans like these and to be on the giving instead of the taking end of a bombing. What a contrast from those dark days.

I never realized then what was in store for me—to look on Greece again and for every bomb that fell near me to see a much bigger one fall on the maulers who despoiled this country and are today starving its people.

2 Gopher Regulars Benched by Injuries

Refresher Courses Will Begin For Army Air Corps Reservists

Students Start Work This Week at Local Municipal Airport

Sixteen army air corps reservists will begin work this week in refresher and cross-country flying courses at the Iowa City municipal airport, according to an announcement made yesterday by Paul B. Shaw, civilian pilot training contractor and manager of the field.

All of the flyers are experienced pilots with at least 105 hours of actual flying and the majority are ineligible for combat duty because they are over the 27 year age limit.

The refresher course offers them training in aerial acrobatics, precision flying and procedure in flight instruction. After graduation here, they will go to Kelly field, Tex., for advanced training and, finally, into positions as army flight instructors.

The cross-country course offers 50 hours of day and night cross-country flying under airline procedure. Upon completion of this course the flyers will go to Kelly field or to one of two air transport commands' advanced training fields where they will receive work in twin engine and Link instrument, or blind, flying. Eventually they will take positions with the ferry command as freight or troop transport pilots.

Those already enrolled in the refresher course include: Ore Morehouse, Mendota, Ill.; Melvin Nichols, Clinton; Robert Lindner, Keokuk; Maurice Carlson, Rockford, Ill.; Ray Herkes, DeWitt; Pyl Ratcliffe, Moline; Harmon Bruns, Moline; William Bryan, Galesburg, Ill.; Henry Schaub, Moline, and Fay Strucker, Plymouth, Ill. There will be more students in this group before the end of the week.

Cross-Country Pilots
Pilots in the cross-country group include: Mansfield Witt, Shell Rock; Paul Towne, Mt. Auburn; Richard Eberly, Sterling, Ill.; Aldeen Paulson and Web Tallman, Iowa City, and Preston Doerfler, Cedar Rapids.

This army CPT plan is part of the three-year program being conducted by municipal airport officials as an aid to the training of service pilots. The other two groups now receiving training are the University of Iowa V-1 and V-5 students in the extra-curricular course and the navy V-5 flyers in the full-time navy combat training course.

BABY BETTY—

and Baby Betty's husband) had bruised her in the dressing room fracas.

As she bent over to unfasten her stocking, Municipal Judge Edmund B. Smith's "that's not necessary" stopped her and the spectators in the crowded courtroom settled back in their seats.

The snake charmer, Ada May Moore, testified that "even the boss hired another fat woman on account of Baby Betty being such a trouble maker."

Baby Betty complained she had been a victim of the old "Hey, Rubie" trick of the circus. A relative newcomer of a year ago, she insisted other performers had ganged up on her.

Circus officials discharged both Mr. and Mrs. Charles Horrell (the Great Shackles and Baby Betty) as an aftermath to the row.

Iowa State Stresses Defense in Workout For Marquette Game

AMES, Ia. (AP)—Coach Ray Donels ordered a long defensive drill yesterday as he prepared his Cyclone eleven for its first home game Saturday against Marquette.

The workout included a passing session for pitchers Royal Lohry, Howard Tippee and Ron Norman, with the backs also getting special attention on aerial defense.

Linemen stopped reserves using Hilltipper plays, and the same forward wall that started at Nebraska last week appeared likely to start Saturday. This group included Donels' three sophomore stars, Guards Louis Bosnyak and Dean Thomas and Center Burt Shoen.

3 Tigers Lost
COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Coach Don Faurot was resigned last night to the almost certain absence of three regulars, Maurice Wade and Vernon Bowen, half-backs, and Bernard Pepper, tackle, as the University of Missouri football squad completed preparations for Saturday's game with Wisconsin at Madison.

One hundred and forty eight dollars and thirty cents for real estate mortgages, $203 for chattel mortgages, $108 for deeds, $68.40 for releases and $82.20 for miscellaneous items. A total of $609.90 was submitted to the county treasurer's office.

Condon Sets Oct. 24 Registration Deadline For Coming Election

Rules for registration for the coming November elections were issued yesterday by City Clerk William L. Condon. The registration deadline is Oct. 24.

Anyone who is already registered and has moved since that registration, should go to the city clerk's office in the city hall and sign a change of address card.

Persons who have never voted before in Iowa City, that is, those who have moved here, who have just become of age to vote, or women who have changed their name by marriage or divorce, will have to register.

In order to be eligible to vote, individuals must have been residents of the state for six months, and of the county 60 days prior to Nov. 3, the day of election. Those who can meet these requirements may register.

Eugene Field Society Honors Former Iowan

A former Iowa City resident, Sister Mary Ellen O'Hanlon, has been awarded honorary membership in the Eugene Field society, national association of authors and journalists, in recognition of her recently published book, "Fundamentals of Plant Life."

Sister O'Hanlon is chairman of the biology department at Rosary college. She received her elementary and secondary education in Iowa and taught in the public school of Iowa and Colorado before entering the Community of Dominican Sisters at Sinsinawa, Wis.

Her sister, Mrs. Isabelle Williams, lives at 108 W. Burlington.

Announcement was made Tuesday night of the marriage of Miriam Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie F. Smith, 424 S. Clark, to Vern G. Hefte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Hefte of Britt. The wedding took place Oct. 6, 1940.

The couple revealed their marriage at a reception and dance at the Mayflower Inn. The announcement was concealed in tiny envelopes in a three tier cake.

Mrs. Hefte is a senior commerce student at the University of Iowa. Mr. Hefte was graduated from the university.

Lone Tree Contributes 100 Tons Scrap Metal

One hundred tons of scrap metal was donated to the Johnson county salvage drive yesterday by the community of Lone Tree.

This total, combined with 20 tons collected by the junior chamber of commerce drive and through other donations, boosted the Johnson county total to 359 tons since Sept. 28 when the intensified newspaper salvage campaign began.

Poundage per capita in this latest drive is about 22 in Johnson county at present; the quota set by the state salvage committee for the three-week campaign is 50 pounds per person.

Dale Welt, co-chairman of the Johnson county committee, announced last night that headquarters have been set up in the chamber of commerce rooms at the Jefferson hotel for registration of persons who desire to help out in the collections.

All-Beethoven Program Featured in Opening Of 1942-1943 University Symphony Season

An all-Beethoven program marked the 1942-43 season debut of the 85-piece university symphony orchestra under the direction of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp.

Concerts featuring the music of one composer are comparative rarities with the possible exceptions of Beethoven and Wagner. Both composers have written enough music of contrasting styles to provide and sustain interest throughout an entire program.

Professor Clapp included some of the good, better and best music of Beethoven last night in a concert that proved both interesting and stimulating.

The opening work was the brief and lively "Leonore Overture No. 1," one of the four Beethoven wrote for his only opera, the ill-fated "Fidelio." While this overture lacks the stirring grandeur of the "Leonore No. 3," it is well-written enough to warrant more performances than it receives.

15 Players Lost
The reading of the orchestra was a bit on the ragged side but nonetheless spirited. The loss of 15 players, while it may sound serious, has greatly enhanced the tone of the orchestra. Gone is the blasting tone that at times used to mar many splendid performances. The brass was better integrated last night than it has been for some time.

Prof. Addison Alspach took command of the orchestra in the "Triple Concerto in C." The soloists were Prof. Arnold Small, violin, Prof. Hans Koebel, cello, and Professor Clapp, piano. This is certainly one of Beethoven's minor works and well deserves its obscurity. Much of the thematic material is trite and there is a marked tendency toward redundancy. The playing of the soloists was, on the whole, good. Prof. Alspach led a well-paced accompaniment.

"Eroica" Holds Interest
Concluding the concert was the ever glorious "Symphony No. 3 in E flat," better known as the "Eroica." It is not hard to imagine the furor that this symphony created at its first hearing. It marked a milestone in orchestral literature and today, almost 140 years after its composition, it is still a heroic symphony in every sense of the word. I have heard Professor Clapp's interpretation of the "Eroica" before, and if one takes exception to the playing of the repeat in the first movement and the unusually slow tempo of the scherzo, there is much to admire. The reading had breadth and vigor and Professor Clapp succeeded in keeping the audience's interest alive in the funeral march, which is no mean accomplishment.

By way of encore, the "Prometheus Overture" was played. A brief and tuneful composition, it was well played.

Traveling Art Salon To Be Shown Here

The Collegiate Digest Traveling salon, consisting of 34 photographic prints by college students and faculty members of campuses throughout the nation, will be on display in the lobby of Iowa Union today through Sunday.

Humorous studies, dramatic compositions, landscapes, action pictures and portrait studies, many of them college life scenes, are included in the exhibit.

Selected from prints submitted in the annual Collegiate Digest salon competition last spring, the prints are being sent by the Associated Collegiate press on a tour of the nation's campuses.

Death of Nationalism Proclaimed Essential To Permanent Peace

"Nationalism is anachronistic in the present-day world," Prof. Clyde W. Hart of the sociology department said last night in a lecture on "The Social Setting of the Present World Disorder." Professor Hart's discussion was the concluding one of the introductory speeches in "The World Today" series.

"We live in a world community; we think and act in terms of an isolated, provincial localism," the speaker stated. "We must develop a psychological and sociological unity on a world basis rather than on a national or local basis."

Basing his point of view not on events but on underlying factors and forces, Professor Hart explained Germany's place in the present world situation as the outgrowth of the sentiments, attitudes and expectations of the German people. Hitler is the product of a social tendency in Germany, he said, which resulted from the efforts of the Germans to realize their aims by using the means at their control. Hitler happened to be this means.

Like Hitler, the Versailles treaty cannot be blamed for Germany's present attitude. "The treaty was important for psychological, not economic, reasons," Professor Hart said. "Of the future, the speaker said: 'If we are going to meet and solve the pressing problems we are facing, we must realize the out-datedness of nationalism. The actual requirements for a world order of any satisfactory sort must be faced. For the well-being of the whole, we have the right to intervene in the domestic affairs of the several states. We cannot carry the ideal of self-determination of peoples to the extent of anarchy or of more fascism.'"

Even if we do succeed in substantially modifying our isolationist, national tendencies, according to Professor Hart we still will have to face a conflict between our dreams of a new world order and those having to do with caste, class and social prestige.

This conflict may, however, be carried along evolutionary instead of revolutionary lines, he feels.

$6,541.50 Contributed To Community Chest

20 University Units Return 100% Quotas As Proceeds Mount

A figure of $6,541.50, representing the latest total count of community chest contributions, was released by Vern W. Bales, chairman of the Iowa City drive, yesterday on the second day of the campaign.

Twenty university departments had returned 100 per cent quotas to the chest headquarters yesterday afternoon, bringing the university close to the half-way mark in solicitation work, Bales said.

Many of the university departments include more than one service or employee group, he said. The figure released yesterday, which pushes the drive almost half the distance to its $13,975.53 quota, does not include any contributions from the large residential division of the campaign, Bales claimed.

Solicitations in this unit of the drive began a short time ago, and no returns have yet been made to headquarters. The public schools and some of the larger university sections are still completing quotas, he said.

Bales asserted that he was satisfied with the progress the drive has made, and encouraged by the cooperation it has received from all sides. The 100 per cent theme of the campaign has met with whole hearted response, he feels. "The drive will end Wednesday."

Small Blaze in Sofa Put Out by Firemen
Firement were called to 323 N. Lucas, the home of Mrs. Mae Walker, at 8:35 yesterday morning to extinguish a blaze. A studio couch had caught fire when one of the roomers in the house was looking with the aid of matches for some coins which had dropped behind the couch.

OCD Regulates Coal Deliveries

Wide curtailments of coal deliveries were ordered yesterday following issuance of regulations from the office of defense transportation.

Atty. Ken Dunlop of the local office of civilian defense announced that Iowa City fuel companies were ordered to reduce mileage per ton in delivering coal by at least 25 per cent in order to conserve tires and equipment.

Deliveries of less than one ton will not be made, and orders of one ton can be delivered only upon receipt of a minimum of four days notice. Trucks must leave the yards filled to capacity in order to conform with the regulations.

County Attains 9-Month Quota Of Bond Sales

Johnson county has now reached its nine months' quota of war bond sales, Frank D. Williams, Johnson county war bond chairman, announced yesterday. Purchases for September amounted to $28,273.25 and exceeded by $53,272.25 the set quota of $186,000 for the month.

The "Victory Premier" showing of "Wake Island" and the "Buy a Bond" dance featuring Gray Gordon and his orchestra made September one of the largest months in view of bond sales this year. The two events accounted for $143,450 of the total sales.

Williams said that Johnson county had contributed generally during the first nine months of the 1942 war bond campaign and added that he hoped residents would continue to buy war bonds during October, November and December so that Johnson county will exceed its $2,225,000 quota for the year.

How YOU can help her speed vital war calls

WHEN you're about to telephone, remember that the wires—especially Long Distance circuits—are busier than ever before, with war calls. We can't build new equipment to carry the load because the materials we need are going into ships and planes and shells.

Here's how you can help to keep the lines open for war calls. Unless your message is really urgent, please don't use Long Distance service. But if you must, please make your calls as short as you can.

Thanks!—we know you'll be glad to help!
