F.R. Expected to Sign History's Biggest Income Tax Bill Today

Higher Excise Levies on Many Items Will Become Effective on Nov. 1, Unprecedented Income Tax Starts Jan. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress sent its biggest tax bill in history to the White House yesterday and President Roosevelt said he would sign it today to make higher excise levies on a long list of items effective Nov. 1. Unprecedented individual income taxes will be levied on this year's incomes and payments will start Jan. 1 with payroll deductions for the "victory tax."

530 Axis Subs Sunk, Damaged Since Start Of War, British Say

Two New 35,000-Ton Battleships Join Allied Fleet on High Seas

LONDON, Wednesday (AP)—Announcing that approximately 530 axis submarines had been sunk since the beginning of the war, the British admiralty also disclosed today that two new 35,000-ton battleships, the Anson and the Howe, are now at sea with the British fleet and the Anson already has been in action with her high-angle guns against German aircraft in the arctic convoy route to Russia.

It is this route that the great German battleship Tirpitz occasionally threatens by venturing from her Norwegian berth, and it was understood that the commanders of both the Anson and Howe are engaged in friendly rivalry to see which first can engage this pride of the German navy.

The disclosure that Britain has thus finally restored her fleet to its original pre-war strength of 15 battleships and battle cruisers with completion of the five great battleships of the King George V class, came at a time when it is vital for the allies to maintain their convoys and control the sea if they are to open a second front.

Items Deductible Before Victory Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxpayers who have business expenses and individuals who receive compensation for injury or sickness will be able to deduct those items from income before figuring out their 5 per cent victory levy.

The victory levy, a new impost placed on top of the regular income tax, will go into effect Jan. 1 on incomes over $824 a year. Periodic collections will be withheld from the pay checks of wage and salary earners.

Plan Will Put Men 35 to 40 Into Industry

F.R. Also Forecasts Drastic Luxury Goods Cut to Aid Manpower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that a number of soldiers 35 to 40 years old would probably be furloughed to take jobs in munitions factories and that production of luxury goods might be cut more drastically to help solve vital manpower problems.

Recent Welles' Talk Prompts Group's Action

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The Chilean cabinet resigned last night to give President Juan Antonio Rios freedom from action in replacing Foreign Minister Ernesto Barros Jarpa, advocate of continuing relations with the axis.

Reinforced Russians Repulse Two German Drives in Stalingrad

Captive Nazis Admit Losses for Last Few Days at 70 Percent

MOSCOW, Wednesday (AP)—The Russians announced today that their Stalingrad garrison had repulsed two furious German attacks supported by 70 tanks inside the city yesterday, and quoted nazi captives as saying their divisions had lost 70 per cent of their effectives in the last few days.

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Frederick Stock, who brought the music of the masters to tens of thousands during the half century he spent as a musician and maestro, died yesterday.

West Africa in News

Coincident with the news that Vichy France, under nazi pressure, has sent most of France's modern warships to Dakar, chief French West Africa port, is the official announcement that an American convoy had landed troops at Monrovia, Liberia. In Liberia is an American-owned 10,000,000-tree rubber grove. Meanwhile, Paris and Madrid newspapers, taking their cue from Berlin and Rome, continue to insist a United Nations attack on Dakar was imminent.

HERE ARE LATEST PICTURES FROM GUADALCANAL

protested to Washington against Welles' statement but Barros Jarpa issued a declaration last week that he had no intention of resigning.

The central committee of the socialist party, which had three members in the retiring cabinet, instructed these ministers yesterday to take a stand for a break with Germany, Italy and Japan.

Allied Ground Units Advance in New Guinea

Gen. MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Wednesday (AP)—Allied bombers were believed to have inflicted extensive damage in another blow at the Japanese base at Buin in the northern Solomons, it was announced today, while Australian troops forced back the Japanese three miles in the New Guinea land fight between Templeton's crossing and Kokoda.

Recent Welles' Talk Prompts Group's Action

The cabinet resignation was a result of the recent statement of Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles that two South American countries, presumably Chile and Argentina, were being used by axis agents as bases.

Reprisals, Nazis Warn

LONDON, (AP)—The German radio broadcast a threat last night that the nazi government would take "extreme and drastic" reprisal measures if the British followed the official Russian suggestion that Rudolf Hess be put on trial immediately.

It Happened Between the Hours of Noon and 1:30 P. M.

Congress Leaders Compare Notes— By ROBERT HUMPHREYS (Distributed By King Features Syndicate) WASHINGTON, — Between noon and 1:30 p. m., Tuesday, Oct. 13, three men were shot in Pittsburg, the navy launched two new destroyers, the government limited car owners to five tires, and the Japs suffered a setback in New Guinea, but an event far more basic to the American way of life occurred within those 90 minutes that has not been recorded. To evaluate just what happened, the clock first has to be turned back a few hours. On the morning of that day, Senate Republican Leader McNary approached Senate Democratic Leader Barkley, pointed out that on the previous evening President Roosevelt had said that draft of 18 and 19-year-old youths would be necessary, and asked if this would come before the election. Barkley answered "No."

When the house met at noon last Tuesday, Rayburn and McCormack compared notes on the draft question. Each discovered that the other had talked to several members who were willing to face this issue before the elections. Within the space of a few minutes they came to a decision. They would sound out members of the military affairs committee, to see if they would support a bold stroke to place congress squarely on its own feet. Committee Chairman May was summoned and told that there was no reason to wait for a direct request on congress from President Roosevelt to lower the draft age—congress should take the initiative and take it before election day, not after it. Would he agree to start hearings the next morning, Wednesday, report the bill two days later for house passage Saturday? By 1:15 all key members of the committee had been queried, with only a few dissenting to the plan. May moved over on the side of Rayburn and McCormack. Speaker Rayburn personally hunted down House Republican Leader Joseph Martin Jr., and told him the strategy. Martin agreed. Rayburn directed a secretary to summon the press. Fifteen minutes later the nation had the news that congress had decided to do its own pitching on the draft issue. THE ICE HAD TO BE BROKEN FIRST— Many members of congress felt that the President had thrown them a "curve" when he included his teen-age draft statement in his fireside chat. Truth is that this draft question had been one of the most ticklish subjects in Washington for months. Until Mr. Roosevelt broke the ice with his broadcast to the nation, there had been a parade of callers to the White House arguing furiously both pro and con. As far back as last March General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, had urged the draft of 18 and 19-year-old boys. By June he was demanding it. At the same time, Secretary of War Stimson was taking every opportunity at his press conferences to make statements supporting such a step. On the other hand, members of congress, both democrats and republicans, were wary of the issue, and they were a path to the White House demanding that the President not request such legislation until the elections had been decided. As late as the Thursday preceding Mr. Roosevelt's broadcast on Monday, the president had heard a prominent congressional leader insist that the subject be left dormant for at least another month. As a matter of fact, Mr. Roosevelt's decision to tell the nation that draft of 18 and 19-year-old boys would be necessary, came as a complete surprise to congress, and without consultation with members of that body. CONGRESSMEN DIDN'T EXPECT PRESIDENT'S MOVE— The feeling among congressmen that the president had thrown them a "curve" arose out of the fact that since early September the White House had blocked a letter from Secretary of War Stimson endorsing the Gurney-Wadsworth 18-19 draft bill. This measure was introduced by two republicans—Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota in the upper branch and Rep. James W. Wadsworth of New York in the lower house—more than a month before Mr. Roosevelt spoke. In each case the military affairs committees of the senate and house immediately wrote the war department asking for an opinion. Stimson prepared a reply at once and it was a complete endorsement of the two companion bills. However, for the past four years it has been an ironclad rule that a department head must "clear" recommendations on legislation with the budget bureau, which is another way of saying the White House. Why Stimson's letter was held up is still not definitely known to members of congress but their best guess is that Mr. Roosevelt wanted to complete his secret 8,900-mile inspection tour of the nation and obtain his own sample of sentiment on the draft question before directly raising the issue.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

Shooting Sequence Along Broadway— (One of a series by Robbin Coons on his cross-country tour.) By ROBBIN COONS NEW YORK — Montage sequence Manhattan: Close-up shot of hurrying feet, millions of 'em. Big feet, little feet, dainty feet, grotesque feet. New shoes, old shoes, scuffed shoes, shoes down at the heel and worn at the toe. Pavement-pounding. What a beating those sidewalks of New York do take, and how they hand it back! What a market for foot-powders, corn cures, shoe shines! What a colossal, mass deluge!

Traveling crane shot, down 42nd street, 1 a. m.: Hot dog and fruit juice stands doing a fair trade with the stay-up-laters. Pedestrians not so hurried now, not so many. Office buildings dark. Manhattan is winding the clock, putting out the cat. We pan to a close-up of a prostrate man on the sidewalk, a fallen warrior of the drinking bouts. His torso and his legs form an irregular, ironic "V-for-Victory." He is out cold. Pedestrians step around the body without a second glance. Dialogue: "Just a drunk. He'll come to or be taken in after a while." Manhattan routine. Just a drunk. Take a note, Miss Montmorency: Remind me never to have a stroke, a heart attack, or a case of the bleeps on the sidewalks of New York. Please schedule these events for some small town where there's at least some curiosity about sidewalk slumber. Gainers in the curb included Glen Alden coal, Creole Petroleum, Gulf Oil and Humble Oil. American Cyanamid and American Gas and Electric lost ground. Transactions were 106,505 shares against 96,100 Monday. NEW YORK (AP)—A sweeping liquidating movement enveloped a large number of reorganization railroad bonds yesterday, causing declines of small fractions to 3 points and in some cases more. Selling developed in the group shortly after the Dow, Jones & Co. news service printed a story from its Washington bureau saying a move to check speculation in securities of railroads undergoing reorganization was gaining ground in Washington and might find expression in action by congress next year.

With Staging By Youth Theater— By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—The other night I sat in the Longacre theater and saw the opening performance of "Let Freedom Sing," a topical revue staged by the Youth Theater. I laughed until the tears leaked. Several women around me were close to hysteria at times. Next day I read in the papers that it all had been a mistake, the show wasn't funny, the material was lame, and this, and that and the other thing was all wrong. Usually I can shrug off such differences of opinion. The critics are right most of the time, and they see more shows than I do, which gives them a better background. In this case, unfortunately, their fairly unanimous verdict leaked to the seams. They seemed determined not to like the show but their reasons differed to the point of ridiculousness. One or two thought that the show's comics, youthful Bert Gould and Phil Leeds, were bad. One or two thought Gould and Leeds were good. One planned a skit on Pan-American relations and another thought it good. One thought the scenery was professional and another thought it poor.

I wouldn't be making a case for "Let Freedom Sing" except for these inconsistencies, particularly the criticisms of the scenery. There's a war on, but apparently this particular critic overlooked the fact. For the last ten months the Broadway stage has been talking vaguely of doing without this and that material for its settings, and I for one was beginning to wonder when this ersatz business was going to start. A couple of the new musicals were as lavish as ever, and one was more so. Then along comes "Let Freedom Sing," for the first time using plain backdrops and cheap but well-designed sets, which combined with selective lighting provided all the atmosphere necessary. I was inclined to cheer its effectiveness, ingenuity and economy, but I see by the papers that it was bad.

As for Messrs. Gould and Leeds, I hope to see them again soon. With the crying demand for good comedians, I can't imagine why they haven't been turned loose sooner on a laugh-hungry public. Gould left the cast of the Roy Bolger show, "By Jupiter," to join "Let Freedom Sing," but his talents were wasted in the former show, and Leeds hasn't been on Broadway since the last offering of the Youth Theatre, "O'V We Sing," a year or so ago. Gould is fairly tall and stocky, and Leeds on the wispy and waxy side, but they both dish up zany, preposterous, belly-laugh humor that's good for you and doesn't have to be analyzed in a test tube.

Dr. and Mrs. Kirkwood, guests included Kimbrough, Dr. and Mrs. Dr. and Mrs. Ingalls Brown, N. Y. Mrs. Will rose court, attended the Women of the Friday.

Where We Should Tread—

We've preached the policy of hating the axis ideas and not the axis peoples since the beginning of the war because we feel that only through such a distinction in our emotions can we win the war and yet reserve the sense of good reasoning which will be necessary if we are to dictate a just and lasting peace. We've realized the difficulty of trying to adopt such thinking and feeling, when we have no true basis for understanding and studying the peoples living under the axis rule. The idea of this distinction can be readily accepted—the practice is much more difficult.

Mrs. Rudolph Hess, wife of the Nazi strong man of 'before 1941' days, has given us a bit of a point for our thinking. The plea Mrs. Hess has made to the British government, the desire she expressed to be with her husband in the English prison or concentration camp, is much the same type of plea as would be made by any American woman in a similar position.

The ideas of nazism and the techniques of government under the Third Reich are not new to Mrs. Hess. She watched her husband rise from the ranks to become the second man of the Nazi party. She witnessed the ruthless arm of the Fuehrer as he subjugated the peoples of most of Europe. She knew of the mass executions and the terrible slaughter of men, Germans and their enemies alike, on the battlefronts. Mrs. Hess is as truly a Nazi as was her husband. But, Mrs. Rudolph Hess did not ask the British for any favors for the Nazi party; she asked for a favor to herself, a woman. She was not thinking of the high ideals of the Nazi party. They ceased to have meaning. She wanted to be with her husband. That was all.

The axis countries are full of Mrs. Hesses, people who are good at heart and want only to do the best thing. Their lot is not to make the laws, but to follow them. Should we hate people with the same instincts, emotions and desires as we ourselves have?

When this war is over we will again have the opportunity of setting up a peace treaty. We want it to be "just and lasting" peace we've prayed for. We'll have worked hard for the right to dictate the peace. Are we, then going to toss aside all of our efforts just to satisfy a few petty hates or to fulfill the desire for revenge, or are we going to stamp out the doctrines of the axis and build a plan upon which the whole world can prosper?

'Finest That Money Can Buy'—

All those parents who have sons in the navy should be thankful that Gene Tunney, now a lieutenant-commander, is in charge of physical training for our sailors. He is giving them the finest course in body building that money can buy.

Tunney's idea of physical culture embraces a number of departures from established theory. The old arm-waving has been abandoned. The men are given all-around development rather than the muscular bumps of a professional strong man. Light weights are used instead of heavy dumbbells. The men are conditioned by walking, running, swimming and all kinds of sports.

More than 3,000 coaching specialists assist the navy's physical director. The old theory had been that athletic specialists should be college men alone, but Tunney preferred to call on the old-time professionals. They mingle better with the boys.

Along with their sports and calisthenics, Tunney tells the young tar that physical fitness depends on clean living. "Keep away from lewd women," he says. "Don't drink. Don't smoke. Don't overeat. Be at all times self-respecting."

That is good old-fashioned counsel for the boys, and it comes from a man they know is as rugged as the best of them. Those who heed it will not have wasted their years in the navy. They will come home trained for citizenship as well as for fighting.

Something Is Inconsistent—

A woman columnist who enjoys quite a vogue among several million newspaper readers argues that a nation that can spend one hundred billion dollars for war in 1943 "will be able to invest one hundred billion dollars in instruments of reconstruction in 1945." By the same token, it seems the lady would say that if she had cash and credit of $2,000 and blew it all in one shot on a vacation trip around the world, this would prove that she had another $2,000 to put into productive effort when she got back. The Haywire school of economics is still doing business at the same old stand.

Before November 1!—

There are many ways to spend Christmas, much better than in a fox hole or a dugout in one of the far corners of the world. Nothing will mean so much to that soldier as a box from home; a box to give him just a bit of Christmas cheer, in a very unChristmasy atmosphere. Remember—if you want that boy, husband, or sweetheart of yours to get his Christmas present in time for Christmas, it must be in the mails before Nov. 1. Better do it today.

Washington in Wartime By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — If there is anything wrong with civilian morale in this country (and I don't believe there really is) it could be given a terrific boost by sending every one of our 100,000,000 or so "teen-age-and-up persons" to see "This Is the Army."

"This Is the Army" is, of course, the World War II edition of Irving Berlin's "Yip, Yip Yaphank." Except for one nostalgic number in which Berlin himself and a dozen oldtimers appear, there is nothing of the World War I revue in it. The cast and production staff of more than 300 men are all soldiers, and all privates and non-commissioned officers at that. They are not amateurs and there is nothing amateurish about the show which now is on a coast-to-coast tour.

Berlin did the music and lyrics but there civilian participation in the revue ends. The direction, and it's a beautiful piece of pacing, timing and handling of large choruses, is in the hands of Staff Sgt. Ezra Stone—the same Sergeant Stone who until a few weeks ago was the Henry Aldrich of radio fame.

Sgt. Milton Rosenstock, who was on his way to fame as a symphonic orchestra director when the draft caught up with him, leads the big orchestra. The costuming, dances and scenery were all done by the soldiers and the cast is full of names that were beginning to be heard on Broadway and in Hollywood, names like Philip Truax, Joe Cook Jr., Earl Oxford, Julie Oshtins and many others.

Not since this war started has anything come to Washington in the way of entertainment like "This Is the Army." Playing to standing room only nights and three matinees a week, it has made the old National Theater rafters ring with the kind of applause it has never heard before. From Mrs. Roosevelt, Secretary of War Stimson, Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall, down to the clerks and secretaries, Washington audiences have poured out of the National with a new lift because, "This Is the Army," as well as being grand entertainment, is a heart-thumping spectacle, with plenty of patriotic undertones.

From observations here, however, it seems to me that the boys who are making "This Is the Army" possible and dumping about $40,000 a week into the coffers of the Army Emergency Relief aren't getting the respect they deserve from either civilians or the Army. These boys are not on leave. They are on duty just as much as their buddies back in camp.

They not only play ten shows a week—road work that would break the back of some veteran trouper—but they drill three hours a day, are assigned to details to clean up the theater, help move in and out, and do many other menial chores that are no more fun than KP duty.

All they get out of it is their regular Army pay and $3.07 a day for board and room—a sum that shrinks pretty rapidly in the face of hotel rents and a soldier's appetite.

Stock Market Shows General Advance As '42 Tax Worries End

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market yesterday celebrated the extinguishment of worries over 1942 taxes with a new forward thrust which was good for gains of fractions to more than a point for the general run of industrials. A final advance of .5 of a point in The Associated Press 60-stock average duplicated the Oct. 13 peak of 40.1, highest level reached by the composite since last November. The turnover was 667,330 shares compared with 401,090 yesterday. Gainers in the curb included Glen Alden coal, Creole Petroleum, Gulf Oil and Humble Oil. American Cyanamid and American Gas and Electric lost ground. Transactions were 106,505 shares against 96,100 Monday. NEW YORK (AP)—A sweeping liquidating movement enveloped a large number of reorganization railroad bonds yesterday, causing declines of small fractions to 3 points and in some cases more. Selling developed in the group shortly after the Dow, Jones & Co. news service printed a story from its Washington bureau saying a move to check speculation in securities of railroads undergoing reorganization was gaining ground in Washington and might find expression in action by congress next year.

Choral Concert Tonight Opens '42-43 Season

4 Soloists, 115 Voice Chorus Will Feature Folk, Religious Songs

The University chorus will be heard tonight at 8 o'clock in Iowa Union in its first concert of the 1942-43 season, under the direction of Prof. Herald I. Stark.

Included on the program will be varied religious and folk songs by the 115-voice chorus with four soloists, and a group of songs by a special 85-voice women's chorus. Works by Handel, Schubert, Brahms, Gretchaninof and others will be featured on the program.

Soloists Featured
Singing the tenor and soprano solos for Gustav Holst's "Psalm LXXXVI" will be Richard Koupal of Lincoln, Neb., and Helen Latch, A4 of Renwick. Koupal was formerly a student at the University of Nebraska and Miss Latch is a major in music at the university here.

Lois Biebesheimer of Iowa City, a former student in the music department of the university, will sing the "Credo" by A. Gretchaninof. From the Russian Liturgy, the sacred song is sung as a chant by the contralto soloist, with the chorus humming an accompaniment.

The old Scotch folk song, "Ranlin' Rovin' Robin," will be sung by William Redburn, baritone. The composition was arranged by A. T. Davison.

Folk Songs
One of the better-known compositions of the evening is the group of three folk songs for women's chorus arranged by Johannes Brahms. These songs are taken from a group of folk songs among those set by Brahms for the women's chorus which he organized and conducted at Hamburg during the spring and summer of the years 1859-1861.

Also included on the program is the religious composition "Descend in Hortum Meum" by Anton Fevin, considered by some authorities to be one of the most beautiful pieces of the early 16th century.

Organize State Forensic Plan

Iowa High Schools, Colleges to Discuss World Government

Under the direction of Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department, the high school forensic program has been organized for the coming year.

The university, designated by the United States office of education as a "key center" to promote civilian morale through schools and colleges of this area, is cooperating with Iowa high schools through the Iowa High School Forensic league.

World Government
Topic for this year's discussion-debate programs is that after the conclusion of the present war the several nations should establish world government. The committee on debate materials of the National University Extension association assumes that during the first part of the school year the pupils will discuss the general problem and that after December the exact debate topic will be worded for the state finals.

The league program outlines activities in debates and discussion, extempore speaking, original oratory, interpretative reading and radio speaking.

Among the services which the university renders to Iowa high schools through the league are bibliographies on debating and extempore speaking topics, information on wartime issues, bulletins and debate handbooks, faculty speakers and student debaters and discussion leaders, certificates of merit to pupils who perform acceptably in this "speaking for victory" program, radio speaking over WSUI, distribution of radio programs to the schools and transcriptions of speeches and films from the extension division of the university and the office of education at Washington.

Special Services

For the most part these services will be free to members of the league or will be furnished at nominal cost. Other services will from time to time be announced to the school through special bulletins issued under the auspices of the league.

Although any Iowa school, to avail itself of the services of the university center of information, need not become a member of the league, group participation under league sponsorship is nevertheless invited, Professor Baird announces.

To date 40 Iowa high schools have joined the league and sent in memberships. The deadline for admission is Dec. 1.

Stress Pass Defense For Bill Hillenbrand; Burkett Rests Knee

Wisconsin so far has made good on its promise to Coach Harry Stuhldreher. At training table last week the Badgers honored their mentor on his birthday with a war bond and a pledge of more victories. The card depicting the triumphs contained pictures of worn out and rebuilt tires with these words: "Tain't so new, but it's the best we can do. The tire ain't real, but this we swear—the good wish is happy birthday and here's a spare—many, many more VICTORIES."

Although Notre Dame and Illinois have met only five times in their football series, the rivalry dates back to Oct. 8, 1898. The Illini have never beaten an Irish eleven. Notre Dame won four, the other ending in a tie.

One of the University of Pennsylvania's star backfield men this season is Bob Odell of Sioux City, brother of Yale's head coach, Howie. Bob received his first starting assignment last year against Columbia after going through the first five games as a substitute tailback. He made good on this assignment, however, and finished out the season with 155 minutes to his credit. He was instrumental in victories over the Lions, Army and Cornell, and scored three touchdowns. This year Coach George Munger has developed Odell into an expert open field runner, and along with Bert Stiff, Jackie Welsh and Bill Millen, will form the starting backfield against Columbia this Saturday. At Sioux City's East High Odell was a track and football star.

Ray (Sugar) Robinson and old man river are still rolling right along. Monday night Ray won his 37th consecutive bout, taking a 10-round decision over Izzy Janazzo. Robinson came close to a knockout in four different rounds, but couldn't quite slip the mickey finn over. The crafty Italian was so elated at going the distance he turned a cart-wheel in the ring after the tussle was over. Who's next?

The little brothers of Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman's Seahawks—the Beahawks—an outfit made up entirely of cadets, will play their only home game of the season here Saturday afternoon, meeting the Wisconsin B team. The Beahawks, tutored by Lieut. Ed Blikle, will be out to bring their season's average up to .500. Their two openers brought 6-0 defeats at the hands of Case Tech and Carleton college. Last Friday night one of the losses was made up by a 14-13 victory over Grinnell. A parade, the navy band and all the trimmings will go along with the contest, to be played in Iowa's stadium. This will replace the Seahawks-St. Mary's game originally carded here Saturday.

Minnesota Longs For Bernie Bierman Again For Michigan Game

MINNEAPOLIS, (AP)—Minnesota fans are wishing Bernie Bierman could come back to direct the Golden Gophers for one game this season—the Little Brown Jug clash with Michigan here Saturday.

For Minnesota, on the short end of the dope, could well use the Bierman mastery over the Wolverines, who, until his coming to Minnesota in 1932, had lost only four games to the Gophers, while winning 17.

Michigan won the 1932 game, 3 to 0, and the next year the teams played to a scoreless tie. In 1934, however, the Gophers started their victory streak, which now stands at eight straight. Although three of those eight games were close, Minnesota piled up 180 points to 25 for Michigan.

But Bernie is gone, on leave to the marines, and fans are wondering, Minnesota has lost two of its four games this season, one to Bierman's Iowa navy, and Michigan is coming up with what is said to be its best team in years, so this may be the year the Wolverines have hoped for so long. Incidentally, Bierman continued his personal victory string over Michigan this year when his navy team defeated the Wolverines.

Gopher followers have one ray of sunshine, however—Minnesota will be at full strength next Saturday for the first time since the opening of the season.

Purdue Scrimmages LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Group work on blocking and charging and a session of scrimmage comprised the practice schedule for the Purdue university football squad yesterday as it prepared for its homecoming game with Wisconsin Saturday.

SEEING LIFE UPSIDE DOWN

END OF A TOUGH GRIND

Physical Education Department Building Up Students for Active Military Service

By JACK SCHROEDER Daily Iowan Staff Writer Every evening about four o'clock the obstacle course gets a good going over by a conscientious young man who is conditioning himself in preparation for a possible appointment to West Point military academy.

Ben Fischer, El of Des Moines, is a hard working engineer who is taking the new conditioning program seriously. Every evening Fischer runs the distance of the course, and now, after having been over the difficult obstacles once each evening since school started, has no difficulty in making it in less than four minutes.

One of the reasons Fischer is taking the program so seriously is because his older brother, Bud, is now undergoing rigorous training at Annapolis, Md., and wishes he would have had more conditioning in college. Ben is taking advantage of every possible opportunity to ready himself for any eventuality. This is one example reported by the athletic department in its expanding program for physical development. But the department believes that there should be more men like Ben Fischer who work out daily for their own benefit.

There are more places for students to improve their condition than on the obstacle course. The gymnasium above the pool is available at all hours for use by students to improve their present condition. In this gymnasium Coach Albert Baumgartner spends long hours guiding students development work so that they can erase minor physical difficulties. He also has a class of selectees and a group of volunteers. The volunteers number 54 in all and Baumgartner expects that number to be doubled in the near future.

Coach Dave Armbruster, director of the new physical development program, is another man behind the scenes who gives valuable hours to help as many students as possible in any way he can. Armbruster reports that his end of the program is progressing as well as can be expected, but both coaches agree that there is much more to be accomplished.

Buckeyes Retain Top Rating in Nation-Wide Voting for Country's Ten Best Grid Outfits

Boston College, Irish, Santa Clara Move Up To Joint Select Circle

By JUDSON BAILEY NEW YORK (AP)—One of the strangest sights in this topsy-turvy football season is a set of seven college gridiron greats remaining on top in the associated press poll two weeks in succession.

It happened yesterday when 119 sports writers from coast to coast again acclaimed Ohio State the outstanding collegiate eleven in the land and also, supported the same half dozen's standouts who trailed the Buckeyes for top honors in the season's first balloting of a week ago.

Fifty-eight of the writers named the Buckeyes for first place and the others placed Ohio State high enough to give it enough to give it a total of 1,030 points. This was 57 points more than were polled by the University of Georgia's Bulldogs, who received 38 first place votes.

With points figured on a 10-9-8-7, etc., basis, the ten leading teams were ranked this way (first place votes in parentheses): Ohio State (58) 1,030; Georgia (38) 973; Alabama (8) 822; Michigan (2) 606; Illinois (1) 516; Georgia Tech (1) 487; Wisconsin (2) 430; Notre Dame (3) 387; Santa Clara (2) 282; Boston College (4) 248.

The first seven schools in this list also were the first seven a week ago, although Alabama and Michigan traded ratings as the result of last Saturday's games. Both were victorious, but Alabama advanced to third place in the balloting with the help of an 8-0 triumph over Tennessee while Michigan traded ratings as the result of a 34-16.

In some respects the scuffle for the other three places in select society proved of even greater interest. Army and Texas Christian, both unbeaten, were squeezed out as Notre Dame beat Bernie Bier-

Bierman Prepares Seahawks for Indiana

'B' Team Given Tough Scrimmage Session For Wisconsin Clash

Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman sent his Seahawk charges through another scrimmage and signal calling drill yesterday and held a chalk talk last night stressing offense.

The Beahawk squad was given tough scrimmage assignments in preparation for its clash Saturday with the Wisconsin B team. The navy has planned an elaborate celebration for the occasion and it will be the first opportunity for Iowa football fans to see any of the navy teams in action.

Two Games Scheduled The clash between the Beahawks and the Wisconsin B team is the first in a pair of contests with the Badger school. As this is the first sight of any of the pre-flight school teams this year, it is expected to draw a large delegation from the student body.

A colorful program is being planned by the pre-flight base for the occasion. The 44-piece Pre-Flight school band will be present to play. The navy band has made a name for itself while playing at the Hawkeye pigskin festivals thus far this season.

Cadets to March An entire regiment of 1500 cadets will march into the stadium to attend the game. A colorful program is planned for the halftime entertainment.

The only break in the heavy work schedule for the Seahawks this week will be their open date this season for the navy outfit. After this week's open date Bierman has indicated a "freshening process" will be in order, preparatory to meeting Indiana at Bloomington Oct. 31. Nothing but hard work is in store for the Seahawks until that date.

Cross Country Team To Run Frosh Squad

The varsity cross country team will run the frosh squad in a three mile run Friday at 4:30 p.m. Capt. Robert Workman, who ran a fine race against Illinois last week, will lead the varsity.

Other team members are Dick Lord, Albert Slater, John Frankhauser, Earl Prince, Maurice Stark and Allan Cutler. Freshman members will include Capt. John Baxter, Charles Wagner, Elwood Paul, Frank Powers, Robert Mitchell, John Markham, Carleton Strand and David Maley.

Coach George Bresnahan announced the schedule of three freshman runs. On Friday, Oct. 30 will be the Cedar Rapids Alumni Trophy run, on Thursday, Nov. 5 the Hawkeye run and on Tuesday, Nov. 17 the Poultry run. Winners will get their name engraved on the caps. Albert Slater won all three races last year.

Alsab Faces Shut Out

NEW YORK (AP)—The paths of Alsab and Shut out, stand-out three-year olds of the year, cross again today in the $15,000 Gallant Fox handicap at Jamaica.

For Alsab, twice conqueror of mighty Whirlaway, the mile and five-eighths jaunt will furnish an opportunity to square accounts with the ace of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greenree stable. Shut out whipped Mrs. Albert Sabath's pride and joy in the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes but bowed to the son of the good goods in the Preakness.

ATO, Phi Kappa Psi, DU All Triumphant In Intramural Games

The Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Psi and Delta Upsilon touch football teams won their games yesterday to end the first round of intramural play undefeated in their respective sections. Alpha Tau Omega has registered itself in the win column five times, while the latter two had but to win four to remain unwhipped.

Carl Marxer started hostilities for Alpha Tau Omega by dashing around Delta Tau Delta's right end to score the initial touchdown. Jack Perriman's pass to Dale Spaan was good enough for the extra point. A pass interception and Dick Thorpe's 40-yard run

Delta Tau Delta's lone marker was chalked up after a short burst of power in the first half. Bob Kenworthy snagged a pass from George Witters and stopped only when he was safe in the end zone. The kick for extra point was blocked. Alpha Tau Omega went on to win, 53 to 6.

With the score reading 7 to 0 at the half, Phi Kappa Psi held Beta Theta Pi scoreless through the second half to win, 23 to 0. The most outstanding play of the game was a 42-yard pass from Walt (Rotary Motion) Byers to Jack Shepard, who found himself standing in the Beta's end zone. Steve O'Brien placekicked the tax. Ted Gibson acknowledged his presence by a touchdown in the first half and a conversion in the second.

Illini Practice Closed CHAMPAIGN, Ill., (AP)—Coach Ray Elliot spent 90 minutes behind closed gates yesterday drilling his undefeated Illinois squad on offense for the game here Saturday with Notre Dame.

Writers throughout the country must have thought pretty highly of the four pre-flight elevens. The two teams credited with triumphs over the flying footballers jumped into national prominence in the weekly Associated Press ratings. Notre Dame hopped from 22nd place to grab off eighth spot with three first-place votes, while the Boston College Eagles sneaked into tenth position by topping Jimmy Crowley's North Carolina Cloudbusters. The Eagles garnered four first-place ballots.

We sympathize with George Halas, who is leading his Chicago Bears to their third straight National Professional Football league championship. His Bears have slipped from a 1941 average of 36 points per game to their present average of 33 a game, and have only picked up an average of 312 yards per game by rushing. "I think we have a good team," comments George, "but sometimes we stink." Oh man!

Irish Begin Practice SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—After resting Monday, Notre Dame university's first two football teams took to the practice field yesterday to prepare for the tilt at Champaign Saturday with the University of Illinois.

Group work on blocking and charging and a session of scrimmage comprised the practice schedule for the Purdue university football squad yesterday as it prepared for its homecoming game with Wisconsin Saturday.

Leaf Burning Must Be Handled By Individuals, Says Fire Chief

City Pickup Cancelled To Conserve Trucks For National Defense

The city council, at a special meeting Monday, decided that the city would have to drastically curtail the movement of its trucks and thus make it virtually impossible to make the annual cleanup of leaves.

The decision was put to the public in the form of a statement issued by Fire Chief J. J. Clark yesterday which reads as follows: "Due to the war effort and conservation of equipment and materials the city of Iowa City has been asked to conserve particularly on tires, gasoline, oil and equipment.

"One service of the city can be taken care of by the public and help greatly in this matter, and we ask the public cooperation.

"In the past, city trucks have picked up leaf piles, grass and shrubbery each spring and fall. These materials can be burned on property, along the curb of the concrete or brick paved streets, in gutters and alleys or on a small piece of that victory garden now harvested or at the back of the lot. A space three feet square is all that is required. Do not burn on black-top or asphalt paved streets! If you have no place, a neighbor does, and he will cooperate.

"First: Rake the grass or leaves when dry and burn while dry, spread out along the parking. Do Not Pile.

"Second: Start with a small amount and add as the raking progresses. In this way a small fire is all that is required and when the yard has been cleaned the last bushel of leaves or grass is all that is left to be burned. Put it on and the job is finished.

"Third: Brush can also be burned by cutting it up in two foot lengths and adding to leaf or grass fire. It takes a little time but it is well worth the effort to know another step has been taken in conservation! The branches can also be cut and piled for use in the fireplace on a chilly evening. A step toward conservation of fuel!

"Fourth and at all times: Be careful! Keep fires away from buildings. Watch small children and keep them away from the fire. Remember it does not take a large fire, keep it small. A small fire can easily be controlled. If it is windy, wait for a calmer day! Do not burn leaves after 7:30 p.m.

"Help in Our National Conservation Effort!

"Authorized by City Council of Iowa City.

"J. J. Clark, Fire Chief"

Eve Curie to Make SUI 1st Stop on Tour

Radium Discoverers' Daughter to Lecture On Trip to Far East

Eve Curie's lecture in Macbride auditorium at 8 p. m. Monday will be one of her first since her return in April by plane from her trip across Africa, up into Russia and on to the far east. It is her fourth consecutive lecture tour of this country, where she has made her home since January, 1941. Mrs. Curie was born in Paris, Dec. 6, 1894. She was graduated from the Scieine college as a bachelor of science, and later as a bachelor of philosophy, in both cases with honors. In 1921, at the age of 16 years, she accompanied her mother, Mme. Curie, in the latter's grand tour of the United States.

In the course of this trip, Mme. Curie and her two daughters visited the principal cities of the country and received triumphal receptions. At the White House, in the course of an impressive ceremony, Mme. Curie was presented with a gram of radium, a present to the illustrious scientist from the women of America.

Actively interested in music, Eve Curie devoted several years to the study of piano. She became a virtuoso and gave her first concert in 1925 in Paris. Since then she has given several concerts in Paris, in the French provinces and in Belgium. Later, under a pseudonym, she acted for several years as the musical critic of a weekly journal and wrote articles on the cinema and the theater.

Speaks Three Languages Besides French and Polish, Mme. Curie speaks admirable English. In 1932, she translated and adapted for the French theater the American play, "Spread Eagle," by George S. Brooks and Walter B. Lister. It was produced in Paris under the title "145 Wall Street" and had a long run.

Mlle. Curie lived with her mother, during the latter's life, in the apartment on l'ile St-Louis, which Mme. Curie occupied with her two daughters from 1911 to the time of her last illness. During her childhood, Eve Curie was brought up by governesses, generally Polish.

After the marriage of her older sister, Irene (Irene Joliot-Curie, who has since received in collaboration with her husband, Frederic Joliot, the Nobel prize in physics), Mlle. Curie remained alone with her mother and played the role of hostess in the house of the great scientist, who was far too occupied with her scientific work to bother herself with the details of everyday life.

Certificates for Farm Trucks to Be Issued Here This Weekend

Assistance to farm truckers in making application for certificates of "war necessity" will be given from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the basement of the Community building, Ray Smalley, chairman of the county farm transportation committee, announced yesterday.

No farm-owned truck will be permitted to operate without a certificate after Nov. 15, a recent order from the office of defense transportation stated. Smalley advised all farmers who wish to operate trucks after the middle of November to apply for certificates this week.

The ODT will specify limitations on mileage and gas consumption and will require truck operators to keep a weekly record of operations. The office also has the power to require persons to operate vehicles for certain purposes and on certain routes.

Truck owners may be required to lease or rent their trucks if the need arises. No motor fuel, parts or tires can be purchased for farm vehicles after Nov. 15, without first presenting a certificate of "war necessity."

Iowa Citizens Do Their Part As—

American Red Cross Continues

—Its Services in U.S. War Effort

Since its beginning almost 60 years ago, the American Red Cross has met every emergency by its first aid service, disaster relief, motor corps, nursing, canteen and similar services.

Today it is rapidly expanding its program through voluntary contributions and services. In 3,742 chapters throughout the United States the Red Cross is now carrying on its war relief and special services to the armed forces and needy civilians.

During the past months the Red Cross has organized a greatly expanded first aid training program in which all workers and officials in civilian defense, industry and government, as well as the general public, have been urged to take part.

First Aid

Volunteers receive a basic training in first aid, which not only helps make the community safety conscious and helps prevent accidents, but also prepares volunteers to give aid to the injured wherever necessary—in homes, on the highways, in industrial accidents or bombed areas.

In Iowa City four first aid classes are now in progress. They are taught by Dr. Isom A. Rankin, Prof. Miriam Taylor, Prof. Gladys Scott and C. E. Schrafel. An advanced first aid class is being taught by Mrs. W. E. Starr.

A volunteer nurse's aide corps of 100,000 women is being enrolled and trained by the Red Cross as a vitally important unit in the defense program. These volunteers, after an intensive 80 hours' training, will serve as assistants to graduate nurses in hospitals, clinics or wherever they are needed.

In Johnson county, 32 women and girls have already been trained as nurse's aides and another class of about 20 is starting next week under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Maris. Lois B. Cordeur, director of the school of nursing, is in charge of the nurse's aide service. Mrs. N. B. Alcock is the local secretary.

Another highly important volunteer service conducted through Red Cross chapters is the training of 500,000 men, women, boys and girls in the principles of home nursing. Five classes in home nursing taught by Mrs. Gladys B. Clappison and Mrs. Bernice Ebel, Mrs. E. W. Paulus and Mrs. Carol Williams, Mrs. Genevieve Wendlandt, Elise Laughlin and Bea Wilson, are in progress in Iowa City.

Two more are being taught in Johnson county. Mrs. Wanda Trapasso teaches a class in Solon every week, and Mrs. Mary Reynolds is in charge of another in Oxford.

The home service department of the Red Cross chapter offers volunteers interested in social service work an opportunity to play a valuable part in maintaining civilian morale. It is an obligation of the American Red Cross under its congressional charter to act as the connecting link between men in armed forces and their families.

Any man in the army or navy or anyone who has a son, a brother or a husband in the armed forces can call on the home service department of the chapter for help in case of sickness or trouble.

During September, 49 active service cases were acted upon by the local chapter and 14 ex-service cases. For inquiry and information in verification of illness and death for men in camps, 22 telegrams were sent during September. Mrs. Lorna Mathes, executive secretary, drove 36 miles to investigate cases.

Another important service is carried out in the nutrition and canteen service. Nineteen members from Iowa City get up at 3 a. m. to serve breakfast to men leaving for induction into the armed forces.

Fifteen members of the local canteen corps are taking first aid courses. Mrs. E. T. Peterson is president of the local group, Mrs. E. W. Mercer is vice-president and Elizabeth Hunter is secretary-treasurer. Members of this corps take special courses in nutrition and mass feeding. Dr. Kate Daum is in charge of the nutrition course.

The Red Cross motor corps collects relief garments, transports supplies and Red Cross chapter workers, moves patients to hospitals and transports public health nurses on their daily rounds. Mrs. Dean Lierle is chairman of the Iowa City Motor corps.

Perhaps one of the humblest divisions of the Red Cross which contributes more hours of service than any other but which receives little credit for its work is the production corps. Surgical dressings, knitted articles for soldiers and sailors and sewing for relief are among its activities.

The local workers making surgical dressings have a quota of 89,000 to fill within two months.

and the rooms are open five days a week for volunteer workers. Mrs. Arthur V. O'Brien is chairman of this group.

Several sewing groups meet in Iowa City for an all-day session every week to make such articles needed for disaster relief as operating gowns, all kinds of clothing and knitted gloves and sweaters. The number of women who work independently knitting and sewing for the Red Cross is also large. Mrs. L. E. Clark is in charge of this division of Red Cross service.

Under the direction of Mrs. I. B. Righter, utility kits for every man who leaves for service with the armed forces are provided. These kits contain items useful to the service man such as toothbrushes and toothpaste, stationery, needles, pins and thread.

Other Red Cross services are the blood donor service, hospital and recreation corps, and one of the most unusual is the braille corps made up of trained women, who teach classes in braille and duplicate pages of braille for the blind.

Dr. Walter Daykin is chairman of the Johnson county chapter of the Red Cross. Other members of the executive council are V. W. Bales, vice-chairman; Mrs. William Spear, secretary; Mrs. Lorna Mathes, executive secretary, and Milo Novy, treasurer.

Because of the generosity of the American people, who contribute over $20,000,000 more than was originally asked for during the organization's first war fund drive in World War II, it will be unnecessary for the Red Cross to appeal for more funds before next March, Mrs. Lorna Mathes has announced, and the Red Cross will not conduct its regular roll of this fall.

Fund Totals $2,800

Phoenix fund receipts totaling over $2,800,000 more than was originally asked for during the organization's first war fund drive in World War II, it will be unnecessary for the Red Cross to appeal for more funds before next March, Mrs. Lorna Mathes has announced, and the Red Cross will not conduct its regular roll of this fall.

Navy Wives Club to Meet

The Navy Wives bridge club of 16 members will meet today at 1:30 p. m. in the Anchor room of the Hotel Jefferson for luncheon and bridge. Mrs. Larry Mullins and Mrs. George Otterness are in charge of the arrangements.

That Extra Something! ...You can spot it every time. IT TAKES something extra...a plus...to make a reputation that everybody respects. Coca-Cola got its reputation for quality, because it has always been made the quality way out of quality ingredients. Coca-Cola is an original creation with a very special something to offer, found in no other drink...a finished art in its making...a blend of wholesome flavors that creates for Coca-Cola a taste all its own. That's why Coca-Cola has the taste that charms...and never cloy. There are many things for thirst but only one stands out for refreshment...ice-cold Coca-Cola. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself. Wartime limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember: Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time. No matter how short the supply, the quality of Coca-Cola carries on. What drink do you find at the Post Exchange? Ice-cold Coca-Cola, of course...to offer pure, wholesome, taste-good refreshment. The best is always the better buy!
