U.S. Aircraft Carrier Sunk

ONE MISS ALREADY—TWO MORE TRIES COMING UP

Swan dives and swamis, plus a background of interested spectators and an alert official, go to show that football games can have their amusing moments. Here Jim Youel, Hawkeye right halfback, has just eluded Otto Hurrle (41—about to fall) and sets his sights on far distant lands. The two men who seem to be intent on spoiling Jimmy's plans are Vince Snyder (38) and Henry Stram (50). Youel got away from Snyder all right, but Stram nailed him after a short gain. Iowa man with back to camera is unidentifiable. Dr. Eddie Anderson's men went on to spoil Purdue's plans for a .500 conference average by coming out on the long end of a 13 to 7 score. Chuck Uknes and Tommy Farmer each went over for an Iowa marker.

A HAWKEYE TD IN SECOND PERIOD

Chuck Uknes, who highlighted yesterday's victory over Purdue, is shown above as he scored the Hawkeyes' first touchdown in the second period. Two Boilermakers ruffians, Bob Bachmann (78) and Fred Smerke (behind Uknes) grabbed the blond fullback two yards before he reached the double stripe, but his power carried both tacklers over with him.

Vessel Twice Attacked Oct. 26 By Bombers, Torpedo Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A United States aircraft carrier, as yet unidentified, has been lost in the south Pacific as a result of a bombing attack, the Navy announced last night. The carrier was attacked October 26 near the Santa Cruz island and about 260 miles north east of Guadalcanal. It was the same engagement in which the U. S. S. Porter, a destroyer, was lost. The carrier was presumably one of these four vessels, the Saratoga, a 33,000-ton converted cruiser, the Hornet, 19,900 tons, the Ranger, 14,500 tons, and the Enterprise, 19,900 tons. Those four carriers, with three others, comprise the carrier group of the United States fleet as listed in Jane's naval register. The others were the Lexington, lost in the Coral sea May 8, the Yorktown, sent to the bottom in the Battle of Midway June 7, and the Wasp, lost September 15 in the Solomon islands engagement.

Recapitulation Shows 45 Jap Vessels Sunk, Injured in Solomons

The Navy said that the first attack on the carrier reported last yesterday came in the forenoon, causing heavy damage below. She was taken in tow in an attempt to salvage her. But the enemy came back and this time a second attack caused further damage below the waterline and she began to list. Personnel were removed, the navy said. She sank a short time later. The Navy said there were few casualties and that the next of kin of those lost would be notified immediately upon receipt of information. The loss was reported in navy communique No. 175, (about 175): "South Pacific: (all dates are east longitude) "1. The U. S. aircraft carrier announced in Navy department communique No. 169 as severely damaged subsequently sank. She was twice attacked by enemy bombers and torpedo planes on October 26th near the Santa Cruz islands in the south Pacific. "The first attack, which occurred during the forenoon, caused heavy damage and the carrier was taken in tow in an attempt to salvage her. During the afternoon, a second attack caused further damage below the waterline and she began to list. Personnel were removed at this time and the carrier later sank. "2. Reports to date indicate that there were few casualties. The next of kin of those lost will be notified by telegram immediately upon receipt of information. "3. This carrier and the U. S. destroyer Porter were the only U. S. vessels lost in the above engagement. The carrier was part of a Pacific fleet task force which exchanged air attacks with a strong enemy force on October 26. At that time the navy reported the sinking of the Porter and damage to one carrier.

MacArthur's Air Arm Concentrates Strength Against Enemy Navy

MELBOURNE, Australia, (AP)—The crucial phase when the Japanese made their most formidable effort to regain Guadalcanal in the Solomons and then withdrew was one of the greatest activity on the part of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's small but hard-hitting air force of American and Australians. Playing a strong supporting, long-range role to the marines and troops in the Solomons, the MacArthur air arm carried the war to the enemy's ship's and bases no fewer than 23 of the 31 days or nights of the period ended Oct. 30 and an analysis of the communique showed they had accomplished the following results: Japanese Warships Sunk of believed sunk—5 Damaged or believed damaged—9 Believed hit—3 Possibly hit—2 Total—19 Japanese Transports and Supply Ships Believed destroyed—4 Set afire or damaged—12 Believed hit or damaged—10 Total—26 Grand total—45 The breakdown of the officially reported results achieved against the Japanese fleet by the southwest Pacific command over the Solomons area during the month showed the following score: Aircraft carriers—One probably damaged. Airplane tenders—One large tender believed destroyed, one small tender heavily damaged. Battleships—One battleship or heavy cruiser hit. Cruisers—One probably sunk, one seriously damaged, four hit, three believed hit, one bombed with unobserved results. Destroyers—Two probably sunk; two possibly hit. Unclassified warship—One hit. Transport and supply vessels—Three set afire and believed destroyed, one believed sunk, seven hit and damaged, five set afire and ultimate fate unknown, ten believed hit and damaged.

Allied Bombers Sink Jap Cruiser, Cripple Another in Solomons

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA: Sunday (AP)—One Japanese cruiser was destroyed and another severely damaged in the third straight attack by Allied bombers on shipping in the harbor at Buin in the northern Solomons, the high command announced today. 18 Tons of Explosives Coming in on the target area, some 300 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, just before dawn today as they did in yesterday's previous large scale bombardment, the heavy bombers dropped 18 tons of explosives. A direct hit blew up a cruiser, the sixth Jap warship sunk or believed sunk by MacArthur's bombers in a month of operations. A light cruiser was damaged severely and a direct hit was scored on a merchant vessel. Near misses were believed to have damaged other ships. Damage Big Warship Only the day before, three waves of bombers damaged a big warship, believed to be either a cruiser or a battleship, probably damaged an aircraft carrier, also another cruiser, destroyer and set ablaze an unidentified vessel in the Buin-Faisi area. Today's pre-dawn attack was made at low altitude. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire and searchlight opposition, all Allied planes returned safely to their bases. May Promote Rommel BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel may be slated to become Hitler's personal military adviser, the Neue Zurich Zeitung said yesterday.

Hawkeyes Fight Past Purdue, 13 to 7

Uknes, Farmer Score Tallies In First, Fourth

By MAXIE ROSENBLUM Daily Iowan Sports Editor A University of Iowa football team that wouldn't recognize anything but victory put on a fourth quarter drive that carried it from its own six yard marker over the goal line and on to a 13 to 7 triumph over Purdue's Boilermakers before 12,000 spectators here yesterday afternoon. Opening scoring honors went to the Hawkeyes in the second quarter on a 23-yard march. A minute later Purdue tied it up on a play that never should have been. There the score remained until midway in the closing period when the sustained attack of the Old Gold gave it its second win in three conference tries.

Special praise must go to Chuck Uknes, blond sophomore fullback, for his hard, alert running and all-around heads-up game. Another factor in stopping many a promising Boilermaker gain was Bill Barbour, sophomore who played a bang-up game at right end.

Make Up for Mistakes The team made mistakes, but more than made up for them by halting Purdue plays when it counted, and by showing that its offensive power could produce results when the going got tough.

Both outfits uncorked promising pushes in the opening quarter. The Hawks won the toss and elected to defend the south goal. Ted Curran grabbed the kickoff on the five, and the 23-yard runback gave promise of fireworks to come.

Jim Ferguson, another sophomore who started in Uknes' fullback slot, carried the main share of the opening drive on his shoulders. In two plays Ferguson and Curran had brought the ball up to the 39 and a first down.

Two more plays, with Ferguson carrying the mail on both, produced a second straight first down on the midfield stripe. The drive bogged down at this point, however, after Curran had picked up one yard through the line to bring the ball into Purdue territory.

Incomplete Passes Two heaves from Tommy Farmer, the first intended for Bill Parker and the other for Barbour, were incomplete, and Jimmy Youel was forced to kick.

When the Boilermakers took over on their own 30, the fans were in store to witness another march that finally stalled deep in Iowa territory.

John Andrelich, Bob Bachmann and Henry Stram took turns at toting the ball, and aided by a five yard Hawk penalty for off-side, brought their mates to the Iowa 33. Here a line buck and an incomplete pass left the Boilermakers still on the 33.

On third down Bachmann cut through tackle for seven, but Ferguson (See EARLY DRIVES, page 6)

Uknes, Yelton—Heroes of the Locker Room Hawks Excited About First Home Grid Victory Over Boilermakers Since 1923

By WALT BYERS Daily Iowan Staff Writer After fighting against fumbles, backbreaking 15-yard penalties and the 23-year-old tradition of Purdue victories, the Iowa Hawkeyes turned on the fury in the last quarter against Purdue, to keep their wandering eye on the championship flag of the western conference—the result: One of the most jubilant locker room scenes of the year. It's true that the Hawkeyes have played better ball games this year, but something about that last quarter drive permeated a feeling of confidence throughout the room.

"I feared for awhile that they were having a letdown after the grand game they played against Indiana last weekend," reflected Dr. Eddie Anderson, "but the outcome was pleasant."

In regard to Purdue, the good doctor was mum, but commented that "a team can get to believing something like that (referring to the 23 years of victorious treks to Iowa stadium by Purdue elevens) and they can be awfully hard to beat."

Friendly Revenge All smiles and still having a great time was big Bob Yelton who started his first game as a Hawkeye. This was the one that the native Hoosier really wanted, for he was determined to meet Purdue Fullback Bob Bachmann in a friendly, bone-crushing tackle. Bachmann, who was on the field all the way for Purdue, was a three-year teammate of Yelton when they started at La Porte (Ind.) high school.

"We often talked about getting together sometime, and today we got together for the full time. I played 60 minutes and so did he."

Praise from both end of Iowa stadium was heard for Yelton. From the Iowa dressing room (via Dr. Anderson): "Yelton played a good ball game; he's really coming along." From the Purdue dressing room (via Coach Elmer Durnham): "In the line it was Yelton; he was tough all the way." Also from the north end of the stadium came commendations for the play of Chuck Uknes.

Uknes Tops "Uknes was the best man in the Iowa backfield," lauded grey-haired, pleasant Burnham. "He's a great runner." A ready second came from linebacking center Alex Leugo, who had to tackle the sophomore fullback a couple of times.

After hearing what Wisconsin did to Ohio State, Coach Burnham shook his head with the comment, "I didn't think they were that good." And with a warning, "You'll have a lot of scoring power on your hands next weekend," he went about checking on Boilermaker bruises.

Tall Texan Fred Smerke had a good laugh over the freak touchdown he scored in the second half. "I was just hanging around watching the fun, when the ball hit me right in the chest. There wasn't anything else to do but run for a touchdown," joked the Purdue end. Smerke—according to teammate Otto Hurrle—has scored all of Purdue's three touchdowns on similar long passes.

In checking back on the Iowa dressing room Anderson was praising the play of Uknes and Bill Barbour. Also from competitor Bill Burkett came praise for Barbour. "He played a fine game," praised Burkett, in regard to the subbing job the big (See LOCKER ROOM, page 6)

Nazis Hammer Coastal Britain

50 German Bombers Conduct Biggest Raid Since Battle of 1940

LONDON (AP)—Fifty German bombers smashed with bombs and machine-guns at southeastern England yesterday in the biggest Nazi attack since the 1940 battle of Britain, concentrating their assault on shopper-crowded streets at Canterbury where Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a visitor only Friday. Roaring in at dusk, the raiders dropped bombs in haphazard fashion and machine-gunned a working class area and then a shopping street.

"They chose a time when the streets would be full of shoppers," said the air ministry, which also announced that nine of the planes participating in this attack and other raids in East Anglia yesterday were shot down.

Deeply Concerned Informed of the Canterbury raid, Mrs. Roosevelt expressed deep concern and inquired whether several places she visited had been hit.

During the activity an air raid alarm was sounded in the London area last night.

Operating with their old-time efficiency despite the long lull in large-scale battles over Britain, RAF fighters shot down six of the attackers with a loss of two of their own planes, while ground artillery accounted for the other three.

Shoot Up Train Meanwhile, American pursuit pilots shot up a freight train near Berk-Sur-Mer, France. They said steam was spouting from cannon holes in the boiler of the engine when they left.

Factories and industrial objectives in northwest Germany and Belgium were raided during the morning and afternoon, the air ministry announced. Seven planes were lost, three of them bombers. Many hits were observed.

Other RAF bombers and fighters blasted industrial objectives and railways in northern France.

Russians Seize Initiative Inside Stalingrad, 'Slowly But Surely Push Back Nazi Lines'

Germans Make New Gains in Offensive Drive in Caucasus

MOSCOW, Sunday (AP)—The Germans made new gains yesterday in their offensive across the Nalchik plains at the foot of the Caucasus mountains, the Soviet midnight communique said today, but the Red army seized the initiative inside Stalingrad and won new successes northwest of the Volga city and on the Black sea front.

The main battleground, however, appeared to be shifting to the Nalchik plateau, deep in the Caucasus, where the Germans were trying desperately to reach the approaches to the Georgian military highway leading across the Caucasus mountains.

BULLETIN

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts) (AP)—Russian reinforcements have crossed the Volga river south of Stalingrad and fighting has been resumed in that sector, competent military quarters last night.

had fought "battles to improve their positions" after beating off a number of German attacks.

(A Moscow broadcast said "the Russians in Stalingrad have gone over to the attack" and they have already dislodged the enemy at one point," the London radio reported in a broadcast yesterday by CBS. Northwest of Stalingrad, the broadcast said, the Russians are "slowly but surely pushing the Germans back." The Rome radio broadcast that the Russians have launched a new mass counter-attack in the last 24 hours against the Germans at Stalingrad.)

The midnight communique said that a battalion of German infantry had been wiped out in Stalingrad and that ten tanks and five blockhouses had been destroyed. Northwest of Stalingrad the Russians were said to have strengthened their positions and occupied a German blockhouse after killing two platoons of infantry.

On the Black sea front, northeast of Tuapse, the Russians "gained some ground," the communique said, adding that at one point Soviet units had crossed a stream "and hurled the Germans out of their positions."

English Consolidate New Egyptian Gains

CAIRO (AP)—The British eighth army methodically whittled down German strength yesterday in the western Egyptian desert, consolidated its newly won positions and repulsed counter-attacks while maintaining air supremacy with the help of American planes.

(The German radio said the British resumed the attack early Saturday, wheeling up reinforcements especially of artillery and tanks. The assertion by DNB came only 12 hours after the Nazis had claimed the offensive had collapsed.)

Still there was no major tank battle and the German counter-attacks were made only with infantry and light armor.

The Australians repulsed four waves of Axis infantry Friday, attacking new lines which enveloped hundreds of square yards of territory wrested from the enemy Thursday night.

Roosevelt's Promise Already Carried Out—

'Major Decisions of Strategy' Accomplished

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON Whatever other blows may be contemplated under the Allied "major decisions of strategy" which President Roosevelt mentioned in his Oct. 12 broadcast, they are an accomplished fact in the Pacific and Mediterranean theaters as October ends.

CITIZENS' DEFENSE CORPS

Tomorrow, 8 p. m.—The last in the series of make-up classes in the 10-hour first aid course will be held in the southwest room of the Community building.

All persons who have not been visited by their air raid wardens should call 7955 and report that fact.

Any corps member who has not had his fingerprints recorded at the Iowa City police station should do so as soon as possible.

A county-wide blackout will be held on the night of Nov. 19 from 9:30 p. m. to 10 o'clock.

Japanese attack and to divert Japanese air power from China and Burma.

The British offensive in Egypt seemed to be another fulfillment of the president's forecast of diversion efforts. It has been in progress substantially only a week ashore.

In the Mediterranean, by naval and air action, it has taken heavy toll of Axis supply shipping over a longer period, particularly of tankers. That gives reasonable ground for assuming that shortage of fuel to power his tank legions is gravely worrying the Axis commander, General Rommel.

Within the last few days Allied bombers have knocked off a number of enemy tankers in the Mediterranean. The type of fires and explosions resulting from bomb hits indicated they were gasoline laden.

Even more significant of possible tank and plane fuel shortage on the Axis front which could prove a decisive factor when the British offensive reaches its crisis is the site of these recent tanker sinkings. They were caught hugging the Libyan coast and headed for Tobruk, despite the clear and sustained Allied control of the air in that as well as the forward area in Egypt.

To what extent the Egyptian second front is already compelling Hitler to scale down his air strength in Russia is as yet only conjecturable. There have been frequent Russian reports lately, however, that lack of adequate reserves is beginning to show itself in Nazi operations in Russia, possibly due to the redoubled efforts to fill Rommel's requirements in Africa before it is too late.

Damage Big Warship Only the day before, three waves of bombers damaged a big warship, believed to be either a cruiser or a battleship, probably damaged an aircraft carrier, also another cruiser, destroyer and set ablaze an unidentified vessel in the Buin-Faisi area.

Today's pre-dawn attack was made at low altitude. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire and searchlight opposition, all Allied planes returned safely to their bases.

May Promote Rommel BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel may be slated to become Hitler's personal military adviser, the Neue Zurich Zeitung said yesterday.

Does Democracy Deserve to Live?

The Citizens of the United States Will Give Us the Answer by Abolishing "Voters' Indifference" In the National Election Next Tuesday

(Democracy and the democratic way of life are on the balance. Their life or their death is in our hands. The people of this nation will voice their thoughts on Tuesday and the outcome of their vote will determine, to a great extent, whether our democracy deserves to live. There should be no voters' indifference existing in the nation in times such as the present. The right to vote ceases to be a privilege and now becomes a duty. The following article is designed to aid you in selecting your candidates for governmental offices. We reprint it from the Ladies Home Journal, through the permission of the Curtis Publishing Company, in the hope that it will aid you to do an intelligent job of voting.—THE EDITOR

OUR NEXT CONGRESS HAS A RENDEZVOUS WITH DESTINY. No more important group of legislators will ever have met in history. Near anarchy will exist over the world by the time the last shot in this war is fired. To bring order out of that chaos will be "the hardest governmental task that ever faced the human race." How well fitted will members of this next congress be to take the central role, as they have to, in this staggering task?

THE ANSWER DEPENDS UPON WHOM WE ELECT TO CONGRESS IN THIS FIRST WEEK OF NOVEMBER. THE RESPONSIBILITY IS OURS, IT IS YOURS.

The highest standards that can be set up for a public servant are none too high for measuring the qualifications of every candidate. The ideal man will be one who will ignore utterly how his decisions may affect his own future. This means, of course, ignoring also every consideration of party advantage. Plainly, the single supreme consideration should be: the good of the whole American people, and for the long future.

Are there any practical tests which voters can apply, to judge how well any candidate measures up to this high ideal? Certainly the most reliable tests will be what he has done, not what he may say. Where he has not before been in public office, his long record in the community must suffice. But if he is running for reelection, his past votes will show on the whole how good a national public servant he is.

Here are nine simple searching tests, among others that might be applied. Four of these will test a candidate for his ability to deal with our difficult postwar internal problems. They are tests principally of political courage—of resolution to stand firmly for measures that will advance the good of the whole people, even, if necessary, against pressure from his own constituents. The other five will reveal whether he possesses the necessary clear understanding of those complex relationships—both political and economic—which bind the destiny of Americans, as the war has abundantly proved, to that of every other people.

FIRST, has the candidate come home boasting about special federal money he has obtained for spending in your community or state? If so, remember that the few shekels he is offering you, to prove he is "looking after your interests," had to be multiplied a hundred times over in the "pork-barrel appropriations" he was compelled to vote for, in order to dangle this siver of bacon before you. This means increased taxes upon you, direct and hidden. No man who has been small-minded enough to engage in a scramble for pork during the past few years deserves a place in the exceptional congress the nation now needs.

SECOND, has he voted consistently for every measure advocated by one or more of the pressure groups—such as the farm bloc, labor bloc, the big-business bloc, and others? If so, plainly his bias for that group reveals a most disturbing indifference to what may be the good of the whole American people, for the long future.

THIRD, has he voted always and strictly as a party member? If so, again he would seem to lack the independence of mind and the political courage that many postwar problems will demand.

FOURTH, has he been markedly inclined to free-and-easy governmental spending? If so, remember that our greatest postwar danger will lie in the inflation that can result from our enormously increased money supply, the prime cause of which will be our enormous postwar federal debt. All economists agree about the close connection between these two things. The most skillful management of federal finances will be more indispensable after the war than ever. Any man with a record of free-and-easy spending will be particularly dangerous in this situation.

FIFTH (beginning the international tests), did he vote for or against the fortification of Guam? If against, it indicates a dangerous lack of understanding of our then precarious situation in the Pacific, and of the enormous dependence of our American way of life upon Far Eastern products, of which rubber and tin are only the most dramatic examples.

SIXTH, did he vote for or against the repeal of the Neutrality Act? If against, it is fair indication of almost inexhaustible poor judgment. For if that act had not been repealed, and we had thus been kept from helping Great Britain, Russia and China to the limit, Hitler and the Japs would surely have won the war eventually, and we would have been left alone to fight the whole world, if we wished to remain a democracy.

SEVENTH, did he vote for or against the Lend-Lease Bill in March, 1941? If against, the same poor judgment is evident—and for the same reason. Great Britain, Russia and China would have been defeated singly, and we would have been left alone to fight the vastly strengthened Axis.

EIGHTH, did he vote for or against an extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act? If against, his vote reveals a disturbing lack of understanding in any legislator of the complete interdependence of all foreign commerce, and the absolute need of fair trade relations over the world if humanity is ever to see an orderly and peaceful world.

NINTH, did he vote for or against the extension of the draft period in August, 1941? If against, he evidenced a complete absence of the caution to be expected in any responsible legislator. For had that bill not been passed, our army's preparations for war would have been in chaos when we were attacked only a few months later by the Japanese.

IT MAY BE ARGUED, ON BEHALF OF MEN WHO TOOK THE WRONG SIDE ON QUESTIONS SUCH AS THESE, THAT ANYBODY CAN BE MISTAKEN AND THAT THEY SHOULD NOT BE PUNISHED FOR BAD JUDGMENT. "PUNISHMENT" IS NOT THE POINT. THE POINT IS MERELY COMMONSENSE INSURANCE. MEN WITH AN OBVIOUSLY POOR RECORD IN SUCH MATTERS ARE LIKELY TO BE OBSTRUCTIVE AND HARMFUL TO THE PEOPLE. WHEN EQUALLY CRUCIAL PROBLEMS COME BEFORE THEM IN THE FUTURE.

The case is like that of a surgeon who may, carelessly, have nearly killed you in an operation. He can be sorry for it afterward. He may even convince you that he had the best intentions in the world. But would you entrust him with the job, if once again you needed an operation?

Few of us know the full record of our representatives in Washington—Today, if ever, we must rise above that vicious voters' indifference. The best quick means of getting the record of any candidate is from your local newspaper. Ask for it; and when you have studied it, be fair but be severe. If every one of us set up unsparring standards like these in a single election, overnight the nation would get the kind of wise and courageous congress it has long craved, and which it now needs more than in any other period of our history.

Man-Made Beauties Destroyed by Man—

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—James A. FitzPatrick, the travelogue man whose camera lately has been confined to American scenes, already has his editors combing his film vaults for pre-war scenery that isn't any more. He's planning a "Memories of the World" release, to present man-made beauties now destroyed by man.

Carl Brisson, Rosalind Russell's father-in-law, is in "The Fallen Sparrow." Strapping Carl, a Paramount romantic a few years back, says he's 45—son Fred was born when he was 16.

They "burned" an oil tanker for "Action in the North Atlantic," with Humphrey Bogart cast as the boy on the burning deck. "It's a contest between Lloyd Bacon and the firemen," said Bogart between scenes. "Bacon is trying to burn the stage down and the firemen won't let him. It's still a toss-up who wins.

MacDonald Carey ("Take a Letter, Darling," "Wake Island," has one more make-believe soldier roll before joining the marines. He'll do "Salute for Three" opposite Betty Jane Rhodes—a sort of follow-up to "The Fleets In."

John Carradine tells about the ham actor (himself) who wouldn't duck his head while swimming—because "total immersion keeps one out of public view too long."

The wartime movie formula—girls, girls, more girls—is being followed everywhere. The musicals are on the climb again.

Henry Rowland, up for a Russian-accented role in "Bombardier," was taken by the skeptical producer over to Gregory Ratoff, the dean of Russian accents, for a check-up. Ratoff and Rowland chatted a moment, then Ratoff nodded to the producer. "He's good. Take him away before he makes me self-conscious."

Jane Wyatt, of "The Navy Comes Through," has been a studious victory gardener, now is looking into the matter of a backyard herd of goats—"a breed that has no smell," she hurriedly explains.

They had a book-burning (Nazi variety) on the set of "The Edge of Darkness." The Nazis had conquered a Norwegian village and among other villainies they were burning the small treasures of the beloved school teacher. It was a successful fire—and if you poked around the embers after the scene, when they were doused with water, you got a chuckle out of the prop-room's choice of books for a Nazi: government reports and "Five Little Peppers and How They Grew!"

Eye-snapper: Lana Turner, on the "Nothing Ventured" set, wearing a transparent black dress with a flesh-colored slip.

THERE ARE SOME WHO'D BE GLAD FOR THE OPPORTUNITY

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—If a soldier in Iceland is short a razor blade, to scrape his frost-bitten chin; if the boys in the Egyptian desert go thirsty for want of a waterbag; if the soldiers on Guadalcanal run out of ammunition, the man who takes the rap is Lt. Gen. Brehon B. (for Burke) Somervell.

It has been said that this is a war of machines and supplies—and every important victory thus far seems to bear that out. If that is true, then there is no more important man in the Army than General Somervell.

There can be no second fronts until he is ready. There can be not even any minor offensives until he says, "It can be done."

The reorganization of the Army in May, 1942, attracted little attention. It's true there were stories about "streamlining," etc., but such things hardly make headlines. The story wasn't in the presidential order, anyway. The story was whether it would work. So far as the services of supply is concerned, it's beginning to appear that it has.

What the President did, so far as supply is concerned, was to top off a few heads and set up one. In that one stroke, a comparatively young lieutenant general, who less than two years before had been only a lieutenant colonel, became the overall chief of ordnance, the corps of engineers, the quartermaster, signal, medical and chaplain corps, and the chemical war service.

been clashes between Army supply forces and WPB chiefs, but it was never any struggle for power. Somervell has it.

A comparatively slim fellow, serious of face, and grayer than his 50 years warrant, General Somervell has been adding good marks to his Army record for more than 30 years.

Strangely, it probably can be attributed to a non-Army man and the New Deal that Somervell is where he is. Six or seven years ago, Harry Hopkins knew and admired Somervell. The story goes that it was through his suggestion that the Army engineer was given the brutal task of administering New York's WPA.

He had his battles and his shower of criticism. He was supposed to be particularly tough on left-wingers. He was probably the only man who invented an effective method of breaking sitdown strikes. When WPA workers staged a big one, Somervell issued an order to lock up the washrooms. That ended that.

Ruth Plass Weds Lieut. William Buckley in Candlelight Service at Home of Bride

In a 6 o'clock candlelight service last evening, Ruth Plass, daughter of Dr. Mrs. E. D. Plass, 477 Melrose avenue, became the bride of Lieut. William A. Buckley, son of Capt. and Mrs. W. C. Buckley, 1132 E. Washington street.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, with the Rev. Iliion T. Jones reading the double ring service. The marriage vows were repeated before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and white tapers, and nuptial music was played during the ceremony. Joan Joehnk sang "Because" preceding the service. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Attending the couple were Betty Plass and Robert Buckley, both of Iowa City.

The bride wore a white floor-length gown of brocaded satin, fashioned on princess lines, with long-of-mutton sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. With it she wore a single strand of pearls. Her tulle veil, forming a train, fell from a cap edged with orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia, tied with satin ribbon.

The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of yellow marquisette, princess style. Her bouquet was of tulle and roses, tied with yellow ribbon.

Live in Ft. Benning
Mrs. Plass wore a dress of midnight blue with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories and a similar corsage.

The couple left for Ft. Benning, Ga., where they will reside. Lieut. Buckley is stationed there. The bride's traveling costume was a two-piece blue wool suit trimmed with beaver. With it she wore black accessories.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Iowa City high school. Mrs. Buckley attended Stephen's college at Columbia, Mo., and Northwestern university in Evanston, Ill. Lieut. Buckley is a graduate of the University of Iowa.

Student Teachers Expect to Be Placed Immediately

The 114 student teachers in the University elementary and high schools aren't worrying about their post-graduation activities. They can expect to be placed immediately in high school systems averaging more than 170 pupils.

The college of education successfully placed all of its student teachers last year and has already found positions for some of the 21 seniors who will graduate in December.

Prof. L. A. Van Dyke, director of University high school, reports that teachers are especially needed now in the fields of mathematics, science, home economics, physical education and commerce. He also said that the college of education makes available to student teachers facilities to train them for teaching positions in any state of the union.

Student teaching at the State University of Iowa is carried on under the supervision of a regular staff member. As a part of their introductory education course students are given tests, and from one to three interviews in an effort for supervisors and students to become well acquainted.

Student teachers are given voice tests, remedial speech work and advice on personality traits, poise and dress.

Any desired combination of teaching subjects is available to students but selections usually come under certain groups: English and social studies, English and speech, mathematics and science and social studies.

Early Drives by Both Teams Stopped Short of Objectives

guson stopped Andretich for no gain on the next play with a vicious tackle.

Abruptly Halted
The second Iowa march of the afternoon was cut short abruptly when Sfram grabbed one of Farmer's passes on his own goal line and snaked his way up to the 28 before being hit.

A 15-yard clipping penalty from the point of the commission set Purdue back on its own five, from where Stram was forced to get off a hurried punt that sailed out on the Boilermaker 29.

Curran picked up five yards on the very first play, and then Uknes broke loose around left end all the way to the eight. Curran again took charge and carried to the four, from where Uknes was given the assignment of carrying it over.

Struggles On
And Uknes meant business. Two tacklers hit him on the two, but he kept right on going, dragging both men over the double stripe with him to send Iowa out in front, 6-0. Farmer's place-kick was good to hike the margin to seven points.

But the lead was short-lived. Less than a minute later, after Vince Snyder had returned Barbour's kickoff to the 36, Purdue capitalized on its one big opportunity. Ed Cyenas heaved a long pass downfield to Fred Smerke, Boilermaker game captain.

Tipped to Smerke
Three Iowa men were under that pass to either bat it down or intercept it. Neither of these two logical things occurred. Somehow six hands grabbing for the ball deflected it up in the air again and just enough ahead for Smerke to reach it.

He gathered it in and sprinted for the touchdown without a hand being laid on him. The pass and run combined were good for 64 yards. Stram's conversion was good and it was all locked up.

Few Threats in 3rd
The third quarter produced little in the way of threats or any sustained drives. A Purdue punt in the early minutes of the final period rolled out on the Iowa 6, from where the Hawkeyes took over, never to relinquish possession until they had forged ahead to stay there.

Uknes, spark of the earlier drives, again shook himself loose around left end, and didn't stop going until he had picked up 23 yards. Three more tries, with Youel and Uknes alternating, brought the ball into Purdue territory on the 47. Curran raced it to the 43, but a holding penalty set it back again in Iowa land on the 45.

Farmer set to work, and uncoiled a long pass intended for Barbour. The pass was incomplete, but the officials called Stram for interference on the 27.

Once more Uknes showed his stuff, and dodged his way down to the nine. A penalty set the Boilermakers back to the 4, from where Farmer, on two tries, bulled his way over. The conversion attempt was blocked, but it didn't matter, for the Iowa line tightened up and stymied any ideas Elmer Burnham's men had of pulling this one out of the fire.

Conference standings now leave Dr. Eddie Anderson's men in a four-way deadlock for third place with Minnesota, Michigan and Illinois. Next Saturday, Homecoming, will see present Big Ten leader Wisconsin here in what probably will be classed as the top game in the Midwest.

Hirsch, Schreiner, Harder Grab Glory In Day's Big Upset

Badgers Score in 2nd To Take, Hold Lead; Blocking Big Factor

By WILLIAM WEEKES
MADISON, Wis., (AP)—Underdog Wisconsin, arising to gridiron heights, blasted Ohio State's Buckeyes from football's number one ranking yesterday.

After 60 minutes of hair-raising football, the Badgers trotted off Camp Randall field to the cheers of most of the 45,000 bulging-eyed spectators with a 17 to 7 triumph. And the score just about tells the story. Wisconsin threatened three times and scored three times. The Buckeyes had one good scoring chance, and cashed it in.

The headline makers were big Marlin (Pat) Harder, fleet Elroy Hirsch and all-American end Dave Schreiner, but it was a brilliant team victory for Wisconsin. Ohio State's vaunted running attack, which had mauled out triumphs over Fort Knox, Southern California, Indiana, Purdue and Northwestern, piled up a lot of yardage, but when danger threatened Badger linemen and secondary defenders combined to take charge.

When the Badgers had the ball, fierce charging by the forwards and solid blocking down field gave the backs all the help they needed.

The triumph, which sent Wisconsin to the heights, was Wisconsin's sixth in seven games. After whipping Camp Grant, Wisconsin fought a 7 to 7 tie with Notre Dame, then conquered Marquette, Missouri, Great Lakes and Purdue, to come up to yesterday's all important test undefeated.

The biggest crowd in Camp Randall's history saw the two top teams of the Big Ten battle through a scoreless first period, then went crazy as Wisconsin took a lead it never relinquished early in the second.

The Buckeyes stopped Harder deal one, but the Badgers unfolded the most spectacular play of the game for their final score.

Hirsch started to his right, apparently headed on end run, but stopped suddenly and fired a pass diagonally to Schreiner. The big Badger end was all alone as he caught the ball and took one step over the goal line.

The Badgers trailed in first downs, 12 to 15, but outruled the famous Buckeye ground forces, 242 yards to 230. Ohio State completed seven of 15 passes for 66 yards, but Wisconsin came up with a sharp-shooting demonstration that completed five of seven.

Seahawks Score 26 Points in Fourth Quarter To Sweep Undermanned Hoosiers From Field

By HAROLD HARRISON
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Throttled for three quarters, the Iowa Pre-Flight naval school's football Seahawks found their vaunted power in the final period to score four touchdowns in eight minutes and sweep to a 26-6 victory over Indiana's hard-fighting but undermanned Hoosiers yesterday before a slim crowd of 8,000.

For almost three full periods the Hoosiers controlled the game—and then the bottom dropped out. A brilliant thrust by Billy Hillenbrand had given Indiana a 6-0 lead at the half, and underdog Hoosiers protected it well until the waning moments of the third quarter, which ended with the Seahawks on the Indiana two after a 50-yard drive.

Then came the fourth period and the deluge. Eddie Jankowski scored twice, Dick Fisher pushed across another and then Mal Kutner, on a weird, four-man lateral and forward passing play, crossed the goal line. Kutner's touchdown represented a 65-yard gain.

The result was strictly a case of too much manpower. The Hoosiers wore out trying to hold the powerful Seahawks and Coach Bernie Bierman kept a continuous stream of substitutes running in.

After a scoreless first quarter in which Hillenbrand, Indiana's ace, was kept well in check, the Hoosier star struck swiftly to produce Indiana's touchdown. Starting from his own 37 on a pass play, Billy was trapped and forced backwards until he was on his own 14. Then he began shoving the big sailors around with his straight arm and raced all the way to the Seahawk 49. On the second

Alsab Finishes Third In Westchester Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Burdened with 124 pounds and conceding chunks of weight to older stars, Mrs. Al Sabath's Alsab yesterday finished third in the $25,000 added Westchester handicap at Empire City and lost a chance to pass the retired Shut Out as the year's leading turf money winner.

Riverland, a four-year-old gelding picked up in Chicago by Harold A. Clark for $6,000 before developing his current form, took the $19,850 first money, while A. J. Sackett's Tola Rose staved off a mightily but late rush by Alsab to place.

Alsab earned only $2,500 for finishing third, making his 1942 total $227, 715, or $11,257 short of Shut Out's seasonal mark. The $700 bargain colt now has an all-time total of $338,315.

A crowd of 27,169, which installed Alsab favorite at $1.15 to $1, saw the colt and his rider, Carrol Bierman, make up almost 20 lengths in the mile and three-sixteenths run, yet lose a heart-breaker. He finished a head behind Tola Rose, which was half a length behind Riverland.

Fighting Irish Swamp Navy Eleven in Tough Battle on Muddy Field

CLEVELAND (AP)—Notre Dame's fighting Irish, beaten and tied in early-season contests, continued on the comeback trail to the football heights yesterday by defeating a stubborn Navy eleven 9 to 0 for their fourth straight conquest.

The Notre Dames struck for a touchdown in the first two minutes of the second period, sending their "pitching" quarterback, Angelo Bertelli, over from the one-yard line on a sneak play, after a 50-yard march. They clinched it with a 17-yard field goal from placekicker Tom Creevey.

Although a few more than 72,000 tickets had been sold for the classic, the actual crowd did not reach that figure. The best guess was that about 65,000 fans were in the huge lakefront stadium.

Michigan Rolls Over Illinois Miracle-Men To Win 28-14 Decision

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan swirled through highly-regarded Illinois for four touchdowns and administered to the Illini a drubbing every bit as decisive as the 28-14 score before a happy throng of 33,000 here yesterday.

Coach Fritz Crisler's Wolverines, surging back from a defeat by Minnesota a week ago, cracked the Illini defenses for touchdowns in every quarter in giving Coach Ray Eliot's resurgent eleven its first western conference beating of the season.

It was Michigan's second Big Ten victory, against one defeat, and the Wolverines struck hard through the air and on the land to win it.

A 19-yard pass rifled by Tom Kuzma to Paul White gave Michigan a first quarter lead, Illinois was back on even terms briefly in the second quarter, and then the Wolverines marched 69 yards to another touchdown and a 14-7 lead at half time.

After that Michigan was out-of-sight, Illinois swelled down the field for a belated fourth quarter touchdown but even the Illinois players knew the verdict was sealed.

The real story of the victory probably rides with the Michigan line. Illinois was always an offensive threat, but Wolverine power up forward rolled the Illini back unceasingly. Seldom did the Illini have the ball in scoring position.

State Teachers Triumph
CEDAR FALLS (AP)—Trickery and power proved too much yesterday as Iowa Teachers raced through South Dakota university, 36 to 0, for their 17th consecutive North Central conference victory over a four-year span.

District Convocation of Baptists to Be Held In Iowa City Tomorrow Afternoon, Evening

A district convocation of Iowa Baptists, which will attract approximately 1,200 persons from the eastern and southeastern parts of the state will be held in Iowa City tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The objective of the convocation is "to help prepare Baptists for additional responsibilities as Christians in the present world situation."

Plans for the one day program, which have been under the supervision of the Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, pastor of the Iowa City Baptist church and chairman of the district convocation, call for a meeting in McBride hall at 2 o'clock, a dinner in Iowa Union at 6 o'clock and another meeting in McBride at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Assisting the Rev. Mr. Dierks will be Virgil Copeland, chairman of local arrangements; Mrs. C. E. Beck, chairman of the dinner committee; Mrs. C. J. Mullinex, chairman of the committee on registration, and Morris Hammond, chairman of the committee on ushering.

A team of four, led by Dr. Ralph A. Jensen, executive secretary of the Southern California Baptist convention, will direct activities during the day.

Other members of the team are the Rev. Julius Fischbach, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lansing, Mich.; Mrs. Joseph Anderson, administrative secretary of the Baptist Missionary Training school of Chicago, and the Rev. Marlin D. Farnum, missionary to Tokio since 1927.

A town hall meeting following the forum pattern used in recent Baptist conventions will feature the afternoon gathering from 2 to 5 o'clock in McBride hall. A panel group will present questions suggested by pastors and laymen in the area, and the audience will participate in the discussion.

The Rev. Mr. Farnum, candidate secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society, will address the meeting at 4:15. The Rev. Mr. Fischbach will lead a Bible period and meditation at 5 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Farnum will also speak at the morning service of the First Baptist church today, and during his stay in Iowa City he will interview persons interested in mission work.

The 6 o'clock dinner program in Iowa Union will be "unique" in that no speeches are planned. In the evening meeting at 8 o'clock in McBride hall, Mrs. Anderson, a visiting lay member, will speak on the subject, "As One Church Member to Another." An address by the Rev. Mr. Fischbach will conclude the convocation.

This week and next have been designated as "hike weeks" by the new Travel-a-Century club, which was introduced at the "Hale America" meeting sponsored by the Women's Recreation association last week.

The club is open to every woman on the campus. Two officers of the WAAC spoke at the recent organization meeting.

With recreation, health and fun in view, its objectives are for each woman to travel one hundred miles by some mode of transportation other than train, bus or car, by the end of the semester; for each women's housing unit to travel at least the distance across the nation and for the campus as a whole to reach and raid Tokyo before the end of the 1942-1943 term.

Credit for Travel-a-Century may be earned by hiking, bicycling, swimming, canoeing, horseback riding and skating.

Each woman will be issued a stamp book in which she will keep her individual achievement record. For every five miles traveled she will receive one stamp, and when she has a total of 20 stamps, she is a full-fledged member of the Travel-a-Century club.

Defense chairmen of each housing unit will keep individual records of each girl on a chart and will distribute stamps for their books. Every two weeks the progress of each house will be publicized, as well as the progress of the campus as a whole on its Tokyo journey.

A traveling trophy in the form of a statuette will be awarded to the leading housing unit at the end of each two-week period.

During each two-week period, a special activity will be designated whereby extra credit may be earned by participation in that particular mode of travel. The first two-week period has been set aside for hiking, and for every five miles hiked during this time, one bonus mile of credit may be earned.

Four miles of credit will be given for swimming 22 lengths of the women's pool in one hour. Credit in all other activities is based on actual miles.

Editors' Short Course Holds Final Session

Iowa newspaper men and women attending the wartime publishing short course and the fall general meeting of the Iowa Press Women's association, which ended yesterday on the Iowa campus, heard speeches on "Country Copy" and "Some Ideas That Work in Illinois" yesterday morning.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Wherry, columnist for Wallace's Farmer and the Cedar Rapids Gazette, told the group that one has to live the life in order to write farm news. She began writing in order to be able to afford extra help with heavy work on her farm, she said.

Visiting some two hundred of Illinois' seven hundred weekly newspapers in the past six months taught Herschel Blazer, publisher of the Aledo, Ill., Times-Record, more about the newspaper business than he had learned in five years. Some papers which are hindered by lack of equipment and small staffs are better than those turned out in well-equipped plants, he stated.

Blazer cited several ideas that have worked to increase advertising volume and subscriptions on his paper. Among these were the advertising of auction sales, the printing of an advertising calendar giving information and helpful hints to farmers, and a subscription campaign involving the raffling of a turkey.

Chances on the turkey were given with every dollar's worth of subscription sold, and the winner was then drawn.

The conference ended at noon yesterday, after a brunch for women delegates given by the I. P. W. in the river room of Iowa Union.

Farm Hand, 71, Suffers Compound Fracture In Highway Accident

Bill O'Connell, 71-year-old farm hand, was severely injured when struck by a car five miles north of Iowa City on highway 218 about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

O'Connell was crossing the highway when he was hit by a car driven by Gordon E. Boyer of Washington, Iowa. He had crossed the road and had turned back to close a gate when the car hit him.

Boyer is a member of the civilian air patrol and was headed towards Cedar Rapids at the time of the accident.

Highway Patrolman Charles Fels of Cedar Rapids was at the scene of the accident shortly after it happened and he summoned the Hohenschuh ambulance.

O'Connell was taken to University hospital, where he was treated for a compound fracture of the left leg, a fractured jaw bone and a dislocated collar bone. Hospital officials stated last night that they can give O'Connell only an even chance of surviving.

Concert to Feature Tone Poem by Professor Addison Alspach

Composer to Direct Own Piece 'Tomesha'

Symphony to Play Music by Sibelius, D'Indy Wednesday

"Tomesha", a tone poem composed by Prof. Addison Alspach of the music department, will be one of the numbers to be played on the second concert of the University Symphony orchestra in Iowa Union Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Also included on the program of music in the modern idiom will be d'Indy's "Symphony number 2, Opus 57, in B flat major" and the "Symphonic Fantasy, Pohjola's Daughter" by Sibelius. Prof. Alspach will direct the orchestra for his own composition, with Prof. Phillip G. Clapp, director of the organization, taking the baton for the remainder of the program.

First Performance

Wednesday's rendition of Prof. Alspach's "Tomesha" will be the first performance of the composition. Although it was completed in 1933, none of the harmonies have been changed, and the style is one which American audiences have become familiar with through the various works of modern composers.

Drawing from an old Indian legend for his source, Professor Alspach attempts to describe musically the origin of the desert region in California known as Death Valley. The strange, natural formations of the valley are used in representing themes for the number, the composer following the legends of the Indians concerning their supernatural causes.

D'Indy's Symphony

The "Symphony" Number 2, Opus 57, in B flat Major" is by a musician who studied composition with Franck in a group of young composers that included such distinguished names as Debussy, Chausson, Leke and Duparc. Works of d'Indy have been performed by the orchestra before, including the "Symphonic Variations, Istar", which was played during the 1941-42 concert season.

The symphonic fantasy, "Pohjola's daughter", is a modern number composed by Sibelius. Concerning an old folk legend, the piece portrays a battle of magic and cunning between King Pohjola's daughter, from the homeland of dark songs, and "old and wary" Wainamoinen.

Other compositions by Professor Alspach have been performed previously by the orchestra. Symphony enthusiasts will remember his "Three Short Pieces for Orchestra" which he directed in 1941. Several dissonant choral settings, some serious sacred songs, six short piano pieces and a string quartet have also been performed.

Tickets for the concert will be available at the desk of Iowa Union today.

Traditional Dolphin Follies Began as 'Review' in 1920

Celebration Grew Out of Attempt to Stir Up Interest in Swimming

"If we see our Dolphin show starting to slip, we'll cut it out entirely," was the statement made recently by Bob Becker, national and local president of Dolphin national honorary swimming fraternity, in regard to the annual Dolphin Follies, which will be presented for the 23rd time Nov. 5, 6, and 7 in the university fieldhouse pool.

The story behind the Dolphin Follies of 1943 is one that goes back to 1916, Coach Dave A. Armbruster's first year on the Iowa campus. Upon arriving here he realized the necessity of creating interest and enthusiasm on the part of the students to organize a swimming team.

Organized in 1920

The first step in this direction was the mobilization of a Life Savings corps, which was followed the next year by an organization called Eels. Shortly after this, in the 1920's, the nucleus of the present fraternity was formed when the University of Iowa and University of Illinois organized a national group known as the Dolphins, taking the advancement of aquatic sports as its purpose. There are now approximately 20 chapters located throughout the nation. The Iowa chapter is the national headquarters of the group.

The club met the problem of creating a further outside interest in swimming by presenting what was then known as a "Review" each year. The first of these shows was overwhelmingly successful and since then the Dolphin show has gained national significance. The show was a pioneer in this type of entertainment, one to which the public had to be educated, according to Coach Armbruster.

Each year, following their presentation of the Dolphin Follies, the Iowa swimmers receive a number of invitations to display their show, or at least some of its best acts in other places. Several years ago, officials of the Canadian-Cleveland centennial celebration asked the Dolphins here to exhibit all or part of their show at Cleveland. However, because the members of the Iowa swimming group are amateurs, it has been impossible for them to accept such invitations.

The monetary receipts from the early "Review" were used to aid financial interests of competitive swimming so greatly that in 1920 swimming was taken over by the University of Iowa athletic authorities and declared an intercollegiate sport. At the present time, the Dolphin club uses its funds to send swimmers to the national swimming meet and the national aquatic forum, in addition to donating money to the annual trips taken by the school band. Whenever possible the funds are used to aid swimmers, whether they are

6,270 Disks Collected By American Legion In I.C. Record Drive

The record drive in Iowa City has ended with the shipment of some fifteen hundred records to the collection center in Chicago, Lawton J. Petrick, chairman of the Legion drive announced yesterday. The final shipment brought the total of records collected and sent out of Iowa City to 6,270.

Petrick expressed himself as generally satisfied with the results of the drive, which is to provide new recordings and electrical equipment for service men.

Petrick revealed that shortly after the first shipment of records was made to the "Records for Our Fighting Men, Inc." warehouses in Chicago, a letter was received from the officials there which praised the Iowa City post for its work.

Anderson Addresses Iowa Press Women

History Professor Talks on New Duty Of Press to People

"The major duty of the press today is to educate the American people to the changes in their lives which must take place, so that they will undertake these changes constructively and through the channels of democratic government," Prof. Troyer S. Anderson of the history department declared in a speech on "Public Opinion and the War," delivered at a brunch for Iowa press women in the river room of Iowa Union yesterday.

The affair was attended by women delegates to the Iowa Newspaper conference held on the university campus Friday and Saturday, and by S. U. I. women journalism students. Jean Olson, president of the Iowa Press Women's association, presided. Mrs. Willis Vandenburg, regional vice-president of the National Federation of Press Women, introduced the speaker.

"We are living in the most extraordinary age of technological and scientific progress," Professor Anderson said. "It is the responsibility of the press to help people adjust themselves to the rapidly-changing patterns of contemporary life."

In some ways the newspapers are doing a good job of aiding this adjustment, particularly by publicizing scientific changes, Professor Anderson said. But on the other hand, the press encourages sentimentality by romanticizing the past. This reduces the capacity of people to adjust themselves and is a dangerous tendency, he believes.

"The present war is the result of the failure of America to adjust herself to the realities of the international situation," the speaker asserted. To prevent a recurrence of this failure, the people of the United States must be made to realize that internationalism is the order of the day. The American press can do more than any other single institution to accomplish this.

Gertrude Fuchler of Milwaukee, Wis., first vice-president of the National Federation of Press Women, also spoke briefly. She asked for a continued effort to preserve the American home, which she described as fundamental to the American way of life. At the general business session yesterday morning, the I. P. W. A. endorsed the following statewide conservation and education programs:

1. The state conservation salvage program, directed by Mrs. Frederick Weitz of Des Moines.
2. The second annual Drake university institute of Pan-American relations.

A 1936 Ford belonging to Norman E. Bunn which had been stolen has been recovered by Iowa City police officers George Brown and Fred Lewis. The officers found the car Friday afternoon on S. Dodge street.

Two young boys from Muscatine, aged 14 and 16, were apprehended later in the afternoon and are now being held for investigation.

A 1940 Ford stolen from Thompson brothers at Lucas and College streets was recovered by police officers yesterday on College and Governor streets.

The boys were reported to have stolen a car in Muscatine and having driven to Iowa City in a stolen car, were evidently planning on returning to Muscatine in the Thompson Ford, police said.

5th Civilian Defense Class Will Be Held

Krishnalal Shridharani to Talk At Methodist Church Today

'Storm Over India' Will Be Discussed By Famous Indian

By BOB HULLIHAN

Dr. Krishnalal Shridharani, native of India and internationally famous interpreter of Indian social and political problems, will speak this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Methodist church.

Dr. Shridharani is appearing as the guest of the recently-formed Iowa City chapter of the "India League of America." His subject will be "Storm Over India." Born in 1911 in the small village of Unrula, Krishnalal was sent to a nationalist boarding school by his mother, who had come under the influence of the Ghandi movement, and had determined to contribute a son to the cause of India's freedom.

After seven years in the school, Shridharani entered Ghandi's own university at Ahmedabad. During his two years as a student in this school, he often came under the direct teaching of Ghandi, and was completely won to the philosophy and plans of India's "Holy Unexplainable."

In 1930, when the first great civil disobedience revolt began under pressure of the hated British Salt Law, Ahmedabad university became the key point of the movement. Here the great Indian leaders gathered about Ghandi, among them Jawaharlal Nehru.

Shridharani, as one of the students closest to Ghandi, was chosen among 60 who were to accompany the Mahatma in the now famous "March to the Sea." Shridharani was sent as a speaker into villages and farms along the line of march, enlisting followers and aid for the movement.

Ghandi's arrival at the sea was the signal for the nation-wide strike to begin. It was also the signal for the arrest of his entire band by the British.

When they faced the British judge, Shridharani and the students demanded the maximum sentence, saying that if it wasn't given, they would only have to be arrested again on the same charge. They were all sentenced to four months in prison.

It was behind prison walls that Shridharani's real fame began, for during the four months he wrote

Will Speak Today

DR. K. SHRIDHARANI

"The Banyan Tree," a play which became famous before his release, and which has since become required reading for Indian school children.

An accidental contact with the criminal or common prisoners in the jail later inspired the book, "I Shall Kill the Human in You." Based on stories of cruel treatment told by these men, the book was immediately proscribed by the British, and a wide under-ground circulation was insured.

With the Ghandi university closed, Shridharani entered the university of the late Sir Rabin-drannath Tagore, considered to be one of the world's great contemporary poets.

While attending this institution, Shridharani contributed a play, "As Light From Light," to an Indian literary magazine. When the magazine appeared it was confiscated by the British.

Graduating from the university in 1932 with honors in English, Shridharani became a delegate and newspaper representative to the Indian National Congress.

In 1934 he realized a life ambition when he sailed for New York. He has been in this country ever since, serving as an unofficial ambassador of good will and understanding between East and West.

Resuming his studies in this country, Shridharani earned an M.A. degree at New York university, and a Ph.D. degree at Columbia university.

Shridharani's first contact with the American educational system was naturally full of surprises. He was first impressed with the beauty of the American campus as compared with the barren surroundings of the British schools in India. He believes the American college campus is the most beautiful in the world.

The freedom of the American co-ed and the students' apparent equality with the professor in the class room was something Shridharani had never experienced before. The drop quiz was another thing Shridharani had never known, and the first one was a definite shock.

On the question of examinations, Shridharani is in favor of the American system as compared with the system employed by the British in India.

The purpose of the examination in the American school is to find out how much a student knows, but in India the examination is aimed at finding out how much the student does not know. The possibilities for failure are unlimited.

Indian professors have developed a professional and competitive pride in this matter of examinations. The more student failures in a class, the more highly the professor is regarded. As the students enter an examination room, they are thoroughly searched, and the whole thing settles down to a rather deadly duel with the student always on the short end.

Following an examination day, the newspapers are filled with notices of student suicides, according to Shridharani.

To discover the vitals of America, Shridharani while still in his student days took a jalopy trip that lasted through a summer and took him to almost every state in the union.

Dr. Shridharani's book, "My India, My America," is the witty record of these early American adventures, as well as the story of his life in India.

But the book is more than an autobiography, it is a pattern of keen contrasts drawn between American and Indian custom and philosophy. "My India, My America" is used here at the university in the "Oriental Politics" course, taught by Dr. Sudhindra Bose, a friend of Shridharani's.

An example of Shridharani's American viewpoint can be found in his discussion of the western custom of kissing. This is not done in India, he says, where mouth

2,000 TONS OF SCRAP

A grand total of 2,000 tons of scrap metal was collected in Johnson county during the month of October, the salvage committee announced yesterday.

This total is more than six times the amount collected in September and makes the county eligible for the honorary pennant offered by the war production board for counties accumulating over 100 pounds per capita.

Red Cross Campaign To Open Tomorrow

One hundred percent enlistment of all Johnson county schools will be the goal of the Junior Red Cross campaign which gets underway tomorrow and continues until Nov. 15, Prof. Walter L. Daykin, head of the Johnson county Red Cross, declared yesterday.

The drive, headed by F. J. Snider, county superintendent of schools, will be conducted in every school in the county. Each elementary grade may join for 50 cents, and high school units of 100 students each can enroll in the Junior Red Cross for $1.

Last year, Professor Daykin said, all the schools in the county signed up in the drive. Junior Red Cross members in the county now number 5,794.

It is estimated that 14,000,000 American school children will be enrolled in the current campaign.

Assisting Professor Daykin and Snider in the Red Cross enrollment drive will be Mrs. A. P. Megrew.

Work of the Junior Red Cross members is varied, according to Professor Daykin. Their main task is to aid in relieving suffering.

In the past the members have made garments for refugee children, collected books for soldiers, gathered thousands of tons of rubber, metal and paper and assisted in sugar registration. Johnson county junior members have made more than 70 articles for men in the armed services. During the past fiscal year the following Red Cross certificates were issued to workers: first aid, 260, 678; life saving and water safety, 37,137; Red Cross home nursing, 44,071, and nutrition, 1,500.

Woman Field Director To Be Main Speaker At Red Cross Dinner

Mrs. Ruth Mann of Ft. Des Moines, the only woman field director for the Red Cross in the United States, will give the main address at the dinner meeting of the Red Cross staff assistants corps in the Jefferson hotel at 6:15 tomorrow night.

Her topic will be "Services of the Red Cross to the Armed Forces." While in Iowa City, she will also meet with the executive committee of the Johnson county Red Cross chapter.

Other speakers at the dinner will be Chaplain A. C. McKelvey of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school, who will speak on recreation in camp life; Ellen C. Ruthman, a member of the WAAC and former director of nutrition of the Hamilton county Red Cross chapter in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mary Zackovitch, Red Cross recreation worker for the WAAC.

Persons interested in hearing these four speakers may make reservations by calling the Red Cross office, 6933, before tomorrow noon.

The Record Speaks

VERN W. NALL

This advertisement is sponsored and paid for by Iowa City business men who do not like the unfair tactics of a small group of Tom Martin backers who claim to be responsible for several Martin advertisements published in this paper during the last ten days. That sort of campaigning may appeal to some people, but IT CERTAINLY DOES NOT MEET WITH OUR APPROVAL.

Martin's managers may think such advertising serves to keep the eyes of the public off their OWN CANDIDATE'S DEPLORABLE VOTING RECORD ON VITAL DEFENSE MEASURES. As a matter of fact it actually serves as an added reason why the PEOPLE OF THIS DISTRICT SHOULD ELECT VERN NALL.

Here are some of the things Martin backers have published and our answers to them:

WE KNOW VERN NALL

- We know that Vern Nall was raised on a farm; that he has made good in business.
- We know that Vern Nall has pledged himself to support agriculture because he is broad minded enough to realize that unless the farmer prospers, the city man can not. We all learned that in 1932.
- We know that Vern Nall has been a leader in civic affairs in his community, that he went to Washington to help get the improvements for the third runway at the Iowa City airport.
- We know that Vern Nall pledged himself to support every effort to bring the war to a successful end.
- We know that Vern Nall is an able, energetic business man.
- We know it is TIME TO GET RID OF POLITICIANS.

WE KNOW VERN NALL

WE RESPECT HIM WE LIKE HIM WE WILL VOTE FOR HIM

This advertisement is sponsored and paid for by business men who believe in keeping the RECORD STRAIGHT. We can prove all statements we have made about Martin.

- They falsely accused Vern Nall of receiving financial aid from Washington, D. C. This untrue statement has served as a boomerang. Why? Their own candidate, Tom Martin, has sent out to the voters of this district, from Washington, D. C., during the last ten days, an estimated 30,000 letters and pamphlets to further his campaign. They were mailed and delivered under the Congressmen's FREE MAIL PRIVILEGE—POSTAGE FREE. THE GOVERNMENT PAID THE BILL. Now, just who got the AID from Washington? Martin got $900.00 worth of FREE POSTAGE. They say there are more coming. This is why free mail for Congressmen costs American taxpayers $750,000 a year.
- They advertise that the speeches which he mailed out—postage free—were made from the floor of the House on behalf of preparedness. Read them. The first five lines will tell you that those speeches were not made in Congress. They were made over the radio or in Iowa. They were then copied into the Congressional Record, at Mr. Martin's request, SO THAT HE COULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE FREE MAILING IN ORDER TO SAVE CAMPAIGN EXPENSE.
- They stated in their advertisement that Tom Martin was not wealthy and could not spend a lot of money for advertising. He has been drawing public money ever since we can remember, and during the past four years he has received $40,000.00 in salaries from the United States Government in addition to mileage and free postage. He should have saved plenty.
- They tell you he has supported every SOUND DEFENSE MEASURE, but THEY DO NOT NAME ONE HE VOTED FOR. The Congressional Records show that he voted against fifteen out of sixteen measures.
