Laval Brings Terms From Munich Meet

Unconfirmed Reports Reveal Requirements Of Distasteful Treaty

LONDON (AP)—Adolf Hitler's terms for immediate peace with Vichy, restoring to France all her 1939 continental territory except Alsace and Lorraine, were carried to Vichy by arch-collaborationist Pierre Laval from his Munich meeting with the fuhrer, it was reported last night in reliable continental circles with close Vichy connections.

The report was not confirmed. The reported provisions, especially those involving the loss to the French of the two provinces, would prove decidedly distasteful and unacceptable to the whole French nation.

The cardinal terms of the proposed peace as reported by these informed sources, which, of course, could not be further identified, were:

- 1. France would regain all her continental area except the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine. 2. Alsace and Lorraine would become autonomous. (They have been incorporated into the Reich) 3. France would keep her empire (virtually all of which now is controlled or allied with the United Nations) 4. The French fleet would cooperate with the Germans to regain the empire. 5. Italy would renounce territorial claims on France.

The Italians in the past have yelled loudly for "Nice, Tunisia and Corsica," but an Italian spokesman in Rome yesterday said Italy's share in the occupation was not intended in the interests of territory. Most reliable Vichy circles reported that Laval, who has consistently favored the Germans, had nevertheless rejected a military alliance with Germany.

Reds Inflict Heavy Losses on Invaders in Stalingrad Area

MOSCOW, Friday (AP)—Fighting the sub-zero cold, the Germans and Russians traded narrow strips of Stalingrad's battle-ripped earth yesterday while the Reds in the Caucasus successfully counter-attacked near Nalchik and held firm at Tuapse, the Soviet midnight communique reported.

The Russians said the Germans brought up reserves and attacked at several places in the Stalingrad area, at one point penetrating defense lines in a wedge 100 to 200 yards deep but at enormous cost. In a northern sector of the city the communique declared, Soviet counter-attacks shoved the invaders back 400 yards and cost the Germans 200 dead while the Germans were driven from several houses.

Initiated on this Central Press war map are the main areas of activity in the all-out struggle between allied and axis forces for control of the Mediterranean area, now become the war's most important battleground. A—Gibraltar—Britain's great fortress at the Mediterranean's eastern gateway, a rallying point for united nations' forces. B—Heretofore unoccupied France now invaded by German troops. C—Corsica, strategic French Mediterranean island—ordered seized by Hitler. D—Tunisia, French colony separating Algeria, now in allied hands, and Italian Libya, invaded by the British eighth army—has been invaded by German air-borne troops in a desperate attempt to block the allied forces in their north African eastward drive.

Senators Urge 48-Hour Week

Defense Committee Recommends Changes In Manpower System

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate defense investigating committee urged yesterday the appointment of a single administrator to direct both industrial and civilian manpower mobilization and recommended a 48-hour week in industry.

To avert any inflationary trend from resulting overtime payments, the committee proposed that all overtime in excess of the 1942 average be paid in bonds redeemable after the war or useable for taxes.

In war industries, where the government buys the output, the committee suggested that all overtime be paid for at time and a half, as at present. In civilian industries, where price ceilings are a factor, it was suggested that overtime beyond the present average command no premium above the regular basic wage.

It criticized the handling of the manpower problem to date, particularly what it considered the failure of the administration and of the manpower commission to formulate a comprehensive, overall policy. Recommendations included:

- Elimination of army and navy recruiting and acceptance of volunteers only when local draft boards and manpower committees approve. Draft deferments for essential war workers. A campaign to make employer hiring policies conform with governmental manpower policy, with a threat of compulsory control if this does not work.

U.S. Subs Sink 7 Jap Supply Ships, Damage One Destroyer

WASHINGTON (AP)—American submarines have sunk seven more Japanese ships in the western Pacific, the navy announced yesterday, and damaged and probably sunk a Japanese destroyer.

These latest blows at the enemy's extended supply lines included the destruction of three large ships, a transport, tanker and cargo vessel; two medium sized ships, one a cargo carrier and the other an auxiliary; and one small cargo ship and a patrol vessel.

All the communique said of the destroyer was that it was "damaged and believed sunk."

Prof. Kenneth Spence Discusses Scientific Theory in Psychology at Baconian Lecture

Gives Psychological Conception of Events In Everyday Living

"The psychologist's conception of psychological events differs greatly from our everyday knowledge of them," Prof. Kenneth W. Spence, head of the psychology department, said in a Baconian lecture last night as he discussed "Scientific Theory in Psychology."

"Although there is more or less general and universal recognition of the value of the kind of abstract knowledge that the physicist strives to attain, the psychologist continually has to defend his efforts to build up the same kind of abstract knowledge in his field," Professor Spence added.

"The scientific psychologist merely asks that he be given the same opportunity to develop a scientific knowledge of psychology that his colleagues in the physical and biological fields have. In developing this scientific knowledge," he explained, "the psychologist must record his observations in terms of symbols or words of his own sensory experiences."

Professor Spence described the problem of the psychologist as being twofold: the discovery of what the relevant determining variables are, and the determining of the functional relations holding between the response and the experimental variables.

"Dislike for such abstraction seems to run deep into the temperaments of some men," Professor Spence declared, "who would prefer the picture of human personality as portrayed by the novelists to the cold, colorless dimensions of the scientific psychologist."

Professor Spence then explained, with accompanying slides, some of the main attempts which psychologists have made to attain abstract knowledge about behavior phenomena.

"With the development of such knowledge of human behavior, the human engineer will finally be in the position that the physical engineer finds himself today," he concluded. "He, too, will be able to control and direct the psychological and possibly also the social processes."

Hoosier Safari Seeks 2-Ton Lady Elephant

WABASH, Ind. (AP)—Sloshing through ankle-deep mud in the Wabash river bottoms, a Hoosier Safari of state policemen and Wabash county citizens was trying last night to catch up with "Modoc," a wild-running, two-ton female elephant.

Modoc, at large since she escaped from her keepers here Wednesday night, was becoming quite an aquatic star. Every time her searchers, most of whom probably never hunted anything bigger than rabbits, drew close she would swim—or wade—across the river, and then much time would be lost while the big game hunters found a place to make a crossing and again picked up the trail.

Senators Reluctantly Rescind Amendment For Year's Training

5-Hour Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate approved the teen-age draft bill late yesterday and sent it to the White House. Signature of the measure by President Roosevelt will make an estimated 1,500,000 youths of 18 and 19 immediately liable for service in the armed forces.

The bill lowers the minimum induction age from 20 to 18 in response to General George C. Marshall's plea for "combat units of vigorous, aggressive soldiers."

Senators reluctantly receded from their demand that the teen-agers be trained at least a year in this country before being sent into combat overseas.

There were nearly five hours of debate, however, before the senate approved the bill on a voice vote. It had previously been revised by a joint senate-house conference committee and accepted by the house.

Much of the argument centered on a provision directing local draft boards to defer necessary farm workers as long as they remain on the farm and until satisfactory replacements can be trained.

Senator Pepper (D., Fla.) contended the provision would multiply manpower problems by a national agency that particular workers were best serving the war effort in their existing occupations.

Senator Gurney (R., S. D.), senate manager of the bill, denied Pepper's contention.

The manpower program has been muddled administratively and now congress is about to muddle it legislatively," Pepper asserted.

However, the farm provision was retained in the bill without change.

Senator after senator took the floor to advocate a mandatory one-year training clause and to explain he was agreeing to its elimination only because of the strongly expressed will of the house.

Senator Brooks (R., Ill.) said no senator wanted to "tie the hands of our military leaders."

"When we vote," he said, "we will say to the army 'It's your responsibility.' I shall vote for it, but I register here the expression that it is the will of the people of America that these young men be trained before they are dispatched to the far corners of the world."

Allies Hammer 4 Supply Ships Near Bin-Faisi

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Friday (AP)—Allied bombers have dealt a heavy blow at the Japanese base of Buin-Faisi in the north Solomons, the high command said today.

The raid was the second in as many days on a base where recently the allied bombers sank or damaged more than a score of ships, including an aircraft carrier.

Today's raid, made at dawn, caught Jap ships in the harbor loaded with troops and equipment. The bombers, supporting the defense of Guadalcanal in the Solomons base of Buin-Faisi, hit four of the loaded ships and losses inflicted were believed heavy.

The ships were of the cargo type, used for transports, and their total tonnage was estimated at 37,000. One ship appeared to be of 12,000 ton type, another, 10,000, a third 8,000 and the fourth 7,000.

Meanwhile, the land battle for control of northwestern New Guinea progressed in the allies' favor with the Japs cleared out of the Olivi-Gorari area. Some 50 miles southwest of the coastal base of Buna, the Japs were retreating toward Wairoi, having lost heavily in equipment and yielded some of their number as prisoners.

Aquatic Star

Modoc, at large since she escaped from her keepers here Wednesday night, was becoming quite an aquatic star. Every time her searchers, most of whom probably never hunted anything bigger than rabbits, drew close she would swim—or wade—across the river, and then much time would be lost while the big game hunters found a place to make a crossing and again picked up the trail.

Modoc and two other elephants became frightened and escaped as they were being led into the high school gymnasium. The other two were captured within a few minutes Wednesday night but Modoc ambled out of town after tearing up a residential heating system and damaging a drug store.

Plane Spotters

Late yesterday authorities were seeking to enlist overhead assistance. They were trying to get an airplane to help spot the animal and then they planned to put searching parties on both sides of the river.

Twin-Motored Bombers Pound Axis-Infiltrated Areas of Tunis

LONDON, Friday (AP)—A powerful allied striking force advancing at a 75-mile-a-day clip early today was nearing the frontier of Tunisia where reports said the Nazis had landed at least 2,000 men by air in an expanding effort to hold that strategic Mediterranean corner now under RAF assault from the opposite direction.

RAF twin-engined bombers based on Malta aided the allied land forces by heavily attacking the axis-infiltrated region of Tunis, capital of Tunisia, yesterday, and these blows were expected to increase in coordination with the U. S.-British advance from the west.

Above the Mediterranean, the axis divisions which have enveloped southern France placed the naval station of Toulon in a strange zone of quarantine, mysteriously failing to occupy that port or to lay hands on the battle fleet which so long has lain offshore.

Continuously fed from the sea and gathering momentum by land, the combined British-American assault armies had reached and occupied Bone, eastern Algeria, 60 miles from the Tunisian frontier, this morning, according to Vichy reports.

Troops were landed from British ships at Bone, this account said.

Darlan Urges French Fleet to Leave Toulon

Commanders Asked To Bring Warships To North Africa

LONDON (AP)—The voice of its longtime commander was added last night to the radio chorus urging the French fleet to steam away from Toulon where it is lying strangely orphaned—the last bit of unoccupied France.

From Algiers, where he is a prisoner of the Americans, Admiral Jean Darlan broadcast a "request" that the commanders at Toulon bring their ships to north Africa. The former collaborationist and one time commander of all Vichy French armed forces did not order the ships to sail but merely suggested that they join the allies or at least flee the German menace.

Naval authorities were convinced that the French warships still were in Toulon, ready for any eventuality, but sources on the continent with close connections in France persisted in the belief that at least some vessels had detached themselves from the fleet in the last several days to join the allies.

Last night the Vichy radio broadcast that the French fleet had suffered "severe losses," apparently referring to the action in the Atlantic off Casablanca, French Morocco. It said the new 35,000-ton battleship Jean Bart, engaged around Casablanca, was out of action.

Against a background of threats, promises and intrigue in overrun France, three German armored divisions slashed through the hitherto unoccupied zone to the Mediterranean coast.

But Hitler, trading lightly lest he frighten the French ships into flight, pulled up his forces at Marseille, 30 miles short of Toulon, and the German-controlled Vichy radio said this concession was ordered because the French navy chiefs had pledged themselves to resist "any aggression."

The force under the command of the 50-year-old Scot appeared, nevertheless, to be carrying out the largest combined operation since the historic American-British armada of 850 warships and merchant vessels began disembarking the allies in Africa Sunday morning.

Obviously it was many times greater in numbers than the airborne personnel the Germans have been able to ferry to the airfields around Tunis and Bizerte. Up to Wednesday night, these were believed to number no more than 1,000 men, with planes.

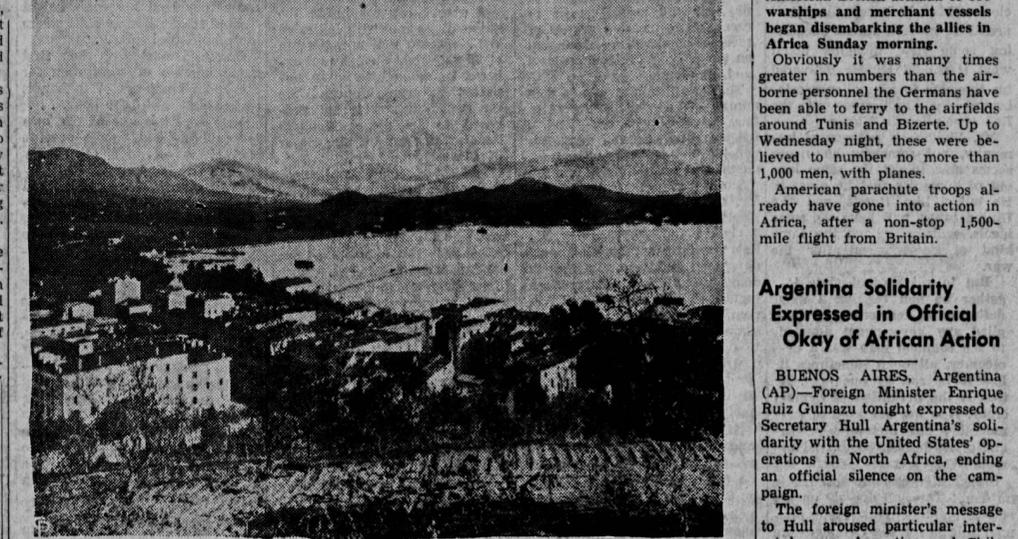

American parachute troops already have gone into action in Africa, after a non-stop 1,500-mile flight from Britain.

Argentina Solidarity Expressed in Official Okay of African Action

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu tonight expressed to Secretary Hull Argentina's solidarity with the United States' operations in North Africa, ending an official silence on the campaign.

The foreign minister's message to Hull aroused particular interest because Argentina and Chile are the only South American nations not having broken relations with the axis.

Beahawks Aim To Put Stinger On Wisconsin

Record Crowd to See First Wolverine-Irish Grid Tilt in 33 Years

Two motives will spur the Navy Beahawk team in its victory quest at Wisconsin this afternoon; first, they seek revenge for the defeat suffered at Badger hands in Iowa stadium Oct. 24, and, second, they are out to finish their first football season with a .500 average.

Four members of the squad will celebrate a private "homecoming" when they visit Wisconsin soil for their second tussle with the Badger "B" team in the sailors' final game of the season.

Tackle Fred Ellis will captain the Navy eleven as he leads them against his former team. Other ex-Badgers playing with the Beahawks are two ends, Glen Twitchell and Bob Steffes, and Guard Ed Riordan.

The Beahawk starting line-up includes Crampton and Tomich as ends, Whillians and Ellis as tackles, Adams and Cline as guards and Houge at center. The backfield will sport Ginrich at quarter, Warden and Golladay as halfbacks and Sontag at fullback.

Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, coach of the Seahawk eleven, announced that he plans to draft 15 or 20 men from the junior varsity team after today's game to reinforce the varsity squad.

One-Time Light-Heavy Champ Of World Dies in N.Y. Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, the colorful, fistic character and ring great who admitted he was the best light-heavyweight in modern boxing history, died yesterday. He was 64.

The clever, sharp-punching ring-general, who started as a lightweight, fought his way up to become undefeated world light-heavyweight champion and an unsuccessful claimant of the heavy-weight crown—although he never weighed more than 170 pounds—succumbed in Polyclinic hospital after an operation.

O'Brien whose real name was Joseph Francis Anthony Hagen, came here Nov. 3 from his home in Ventnor, N. J.

His long ring career was studded with highlights. As a youngster of 138 pounds, he whipped the great Dal Hawkins in 25 rounds in 1899. The same year, he fought a

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—There seems to be one all-important game for every football team in the Big Ten this season.

For Michigan, it's against Notre Dame here tomorrow. The teams will collide, after a lapse of 33 years, before an all-time record breaking crowd of 57,168—the fifth sellout since Notre Dame's stadium was built in 1930.

Want This One
The game is the one the rival coaches would like to win, above all others. Coach Fritz Crisler of the Wolverines and his assistants are teaching strategy that has been decided upon after careful observation of all previous Notre Dame games.

Frank Leahy of the Irish and his aides are setting up a defense for the Wolverines' attack and planning their own assault to strike wherever Michigan reveals weakness.

Crisler hopes to devise defensive moves that will bottle up Notre Dame's superb passer, Angelo Bertelli.

Dangerous Backfield
Leahy's principal worry is the Wolverines' backfield of Don Lund, Bob Stenberg, Don Boor and Robert Wiese. Their combined talent presents an ever-dangerous threat.

Lund and Wiese for Michigan and Notre Dame's Corwin Clatt and Jerry Cowing, all sophomores, probably will carry the burden upon the strength of the lines. Michigan's forward wall, rated one of the best in the midwest, probably will need to play the full 60 minutes because of the lack of reserves.

Schaeffer A Captures Town League Title In Touch Football

Schaeffer A won the town league touch football championship from Spencer, 25-6, yesterday afternoon making them the sixth team to acquire a crown. The first all-university touch football winner will be determined next week by an elimination tournament.

The fraternity cross country run was won yesterday by Delta Upsilon with 26 points, followed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon with 34 and Sigma Phi Epsilon with 36. Bob Merriam of Sigma Alpha Epsilon led the 29 competitors in the time of 7:15.1.

Cooperative dormitories will run this afternoon at 4:30 on the university track.

33 Purdue Players Leave for Michigan

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Omitting Veteran Bob Hajzyk, whose shoulder injury will keep him at home, Coach Elmer Burnham yesterday listed 33 Purdue university football players who will leave here today for East Lansing and the sixth renewal of their series with Michigan State.

Hajzyk's absence will be offset by the return to play of Kenny Smith, left half, and Bruce Warren, left tackle, two veterans who missed the Iowa and Great Lakes games because of injuries.

GOPHERS FINISH PRACTICE

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's crippled football team wound up its practice for Iowa yesterday with the hope that its reserves and sophomores would be able to stop the Hawkeyes tomorrow.

KANSAS U. TEAM TRAVELS

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Coach Gwinn Henry selected only 26 Kansas university football players to travel to Ames today for tomorrow's Iowa State clash.

The effect of recent injuries is fading. Junius Penny, regular center, may find the game difficult, however; a broken finger is encased in a cast.

OTTO GRAHAM RETURNS

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—With Otto Graham back in shape, Northwestern will be in its best physical condition in three weeks when it meets Wisconsin tomorrow for its last Western conference game of the season, and one it must win to avert a shutout in Big Ten competition.

Hawks Minnesota Bound

Spotlight SPORTS
BY MAXIE ROSENBLUM

By BILL MILLER (Pinch-hitting for Maxie Rosenblum in Minneapolis)

Friday rolls around again and the experts begin polishing their crystal balls in preparation to airing their views on Saturday's grid tussles.

Your man Friday this week makes no pretense of being an expert and feels sure that the outcome of the games he is about to prognosticate will bear him out fully.

Plunging right into the mire, let's start with—
IOWA vs. MINNESOTA—A Hawkeye eleven, despite enthusiasm gained in the Homecoming victory over the Badgers, doesn't figure in expert opinion to top the Gophers. But we say Iowa's star in the Big Ten is rising and Minnesota's is diminishing.

Michigan vs. Notre Dame—The nation's eyes seem to be focused on this tilt at South Bend. Michigan, ranked sixth in the country and the fourth-ranked Fighting Irish should come up with a real thriller. Let's call it Notre Dame, by a hair.

Georgia Tech vs. Alabama—The Rambling Wrecks, classed second only to their state rivals, Georgia, can take this in stride. Make way for the Engineers and move over Georgia!

Kentucky vs. West Virginia—We look for Saturday's most startling upset here. Kentucky's team, despite its record, has ranked with the experts as a strong eleven but we think an underrated Mountaineers team will surprise the masterminds, West Virginia.

Rice vs. Texas A. & M.—A precedent that is rarely broken among sports editors is "never predict a tie." We won't venture so far out on the rotten limb to say this, but we'd like to. However, if we must, A. & M.

Illinois vs. Ohio State—These two squads and Iowa form the triple tie for the lead in the Western conference. Purely on the basis of offensive and defensive records, and to tell the truth, intuition—Ohio State.

Texas Christian vs. Texas—This game should prove to be the best this week in the Southwestern conference, if not the best of the year in that league. Maybe we can get away by saying—Texas.

Northwestern vs. Wisconsin—Wisconsin to win for three good reasons—Hirsch, Harder and Hoskins.

Taking the rest en masse—Yale over Princeton, Army over V. P. I., Boston College to smother Fordham, Cornell to top Dartmouth, Harvard over Brown, Holy Cross over Temple, Navy to trounce Columbia.

Penn to top Penn State, Iowa State over Kansas in a minor upset, Missouri over Oklahoma, Maryland to top Virginia, L. S. U. over Auburn, Tennessee over Mississippi, Duke to take North Carolina into camp, Tulane to nose out an erratic Georgia Pre-Flight squad.

Arkansas over S. M. U., Southern California over Oregon, Stanford to edge out Oregon State, North Carolina State to beat Georgetown, Pitt over Nebraska (yes, we said—Pitt over Nebraska) and Mississippi State over Duquesne.

Gene Curran Injured, May Not Be Able to Start Gopher Game

After a strenuous practice session yesterday with emphasis on offensive maneuvers, 28 victory-hungry University of Iowa Hawkeyes will leave this morning at 8:15 for their bi-annual cull on the Minnesota Gophers and will arrive in Minneapolis tonight at 8:00.

Gene Curran, regular left guard, who has been plagued by minor injuries all season, tore a ligament in his knee yesterday and team doctors expressed doubt as to whether or not he would be ready for the Gophers.

Roger Kane, 230-pound tackle, replaced Curran for the remainder of the practice session, but Coach Eddie Anderson indicated that Del Dickerhoof, senior guard, will start tomorrow.

The team will journey to Des Moines this morning, where they plan to spend the afternoon before travelling on to Minneapolis.

Dr. Anderson's boys will be trying to break a string of eight Gopher wins over Iowa teams at Minneapolis when they enter tomorrow's game, which will begin at 2:30. Last Iowa victory in Minneapolis was in 1921, 41-7.

With wins over Indiana, Purdue and Wisconsin and a loss to Illinois, Iowa is now sharing first place in the Big Ten with Ohio State and Illinois. The Gophers have downed Michigan and Northwestern and lost to Illinois and Indiana.

In addition to Dickerhoof, probable starters tomorrow will be Parker and Burkett, ends; Yelton and Staak, tackles; Pennington, guard; Farmer, quarterback; Duke Curran, left half; Youel, right half, and Hoerner, fullback.

The Hawkeyes can't drop another game and stay in the conference race, assuming that some of the other present contenders can keep from losing one. The race is so jumbled and so bristling with "ifs" that even the results

Pre-Flight Basketball Schedule Cancelled

The Iowa Pre-Flight school's varsity basketball schedule was cut off in the embryo stage yesterday when Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, director of the school's physical education program, announced that lack of adequate facilities had forced the cancellation of such a program.

As the daily routine, which is now in full force, is using all available floor space in the university fieldhouse, there will be no time or space to be used in training a varsity squad.

Col. Bierman announced, however, that basketball will still occupy a large part in the school's physical training program.

No games had been scheduled as yet although feelers have been sent out and several tentative dates set. All these plans will now be dropped.

Rotary Club Hears Post-War Discussion

Speakers Give Talks On International Law And World Unification

A round-table discussion on international law and the postwar world was conducted by two university professors and a local minister at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club in Hotel Jefferson yesterday.

Prof. J. Van der Zee of the political science department, Prof. H. W. Saunders of the sociology department and the Rev. Evans A. Worthley of the Unitarian church spoke briefly on various aspects of the subject.

War, Law Opposites

Professor Van der Zee, discussing the regime of law in international affairs, asserted that war is the opposite of law. When war breaks out, international law ceases to function properly and chaos results.

"The present war is expected to accomplish a system of international government which will keep the various nations from breaking international laws," he declared.

Professor Saunders agreed with Professor Van der Zee that some form of international government after the war is desirable. But in order for that government to succeed, he said it must be in harmony with the nature of the world economy.

People all over the world must be made to realize that a global economic system does exist, along with an obscure but undeniable world culture. A basic set of values and attitudes must be determined, according to Professor Saunders. After that is accomplished, international government can be set up and enforced.

Must Take Steps

The Rev. Mr. Worthley emphasized the fact that the people must take definite steps toward evolving the machinery for international government.

In a summary of the discussion, Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department stated that an international police force would be required to uphold international law in cases of boundary infringements and other matters of extreme importance.

Firemen Extinguish Blaze in Whetstone's

A fire starting among old boxes on the basement stairs of Whetstone's drug store at about 6 o'clock last night, resulted in only slight damage, it was reported. Firemen succeeded in quelling the small but persistent blaze in about half an hour.

The fire was discovered when a woman clerk in the store's post-office window glanced down the mail slot leading to the cellar and saw flames directly below.

Although the entire store was filled with smoke, none of the mail in the postoffice section was damaged.

The "T-Zone" where cigarettes are judged

The "T-ZONE"—Taste and Throat—is the proving ground for cigarettes. Only your taste and throat can decide which cigarette tastes best to you... and how it affects your throat. For your taste and throat are absolutely individual to you. Based on the experience of millions of smokers, we believe Camels will suit your "T-ZONE" to a "T." Prove it for yourself!
