Showdown Near in Tunisia

Minnesota Overwhelms Old Gold Eleven, 27-7

Gopher Forward Wall Stifles Hawkeyes' Offensive Attempts

By MAXIE ROSENBLUM

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Minneapolis, Minn. (Special to The Daily Iowan)

A Minnesota football team that harked back to its form of Bernie Bierman's hey-day completely crushed Iowa's Hawkeyes, 27-7, here yesterday before 33,000 fans.

From the opening kick-off it was all Minnesota. The hard-charging forward wall play after play opened gaping holes in the Iowa line to let the Gopher backfield men come crashing through for costly gains.

Except for a few explosive minutes at the close of the third quarter the Old Gold attack was completely stifled. Neither Chuck Uknes nor Ted Curran could shake themselves loose for anything resembling a sizeable gain. Tommy Farmer, rushed on every passing play, had trouble hitting his receivers.

Two 15-yard Minnesota penalties deep in Iowa territory prevented the count from mounting any higher. In the opening period the Gopher attack carried down to the Hawkeye 20. A holding penalty on Minnesota set the ball back on the 35, from where the Gopher attack carried back to the 20, but no farther. Early in the second quarter another Minnesota drive carried to the Iowa 14, from where the second holding penalty ended this threat.

Only once did the Iowa line stiffen and show what it could do. With time running out in the second quarter the Gophers again began marching with a first down coming on the Hawk 11. One play sent it down to the two-yard marker. Three more rushes at the line advanced the ball just inches of a first down, when Iowa took over. A quarterback sneak by Farmer used up the remaining minutes and the half ended scoreless.

It was not Bill Garnaas, Bill Daley, or Herman Frickey who proved to be the Gopher spark-plugs of the day. He was an under-heralded sophomore by the name of Wayne "Red" Williams, a 173-pound half-back who refused to be stopped.

He kept his legs driving like pistons, carrying Iowa tacklers back with him every time he toted the ball. He had adequate backfield help from Joe Lauterbach, a junior who had been plagued by minor illnesses all season. When Williams didn't handle the ball, Lauterbach picked up the yardage.

The Iowa attack on the ground was so absolutely at the mercy of the Minnesota linemen that the Hawkeyes did not net a single yard by rushing. The rushes gained 39 yards and lost exactly the same amount. Minnesota picked up 289 yards on the ground. Although completely outplaying the Hawks in the first half, the Gophers failed to tally, slowed by the penalties. They didn't take long to get rolling in the second half however.

Jim Youel started the second half by kicking to Bob Sandberg, who brought it back to the Minnesota 34. Here Williams and Dick Lockmeyers took turns carrying the ball, and before five minutes were up, it was resting on the Hawkeye 10. Frickey plunged it to the four after two passes were knocked down. On fourth down Williams carried it over, and Garnaas converted. Seven minutes later Minnesota had another touchdown. Starting on its own 27, successive rips through the line brought it over the double stripe. (See HAWKS, page 4)

OPA Acts to Curb Gas Coupon Racket

WASHINGTON (AP)—Office of price administration inspectors throughout the eastern gasoline rationing area moved yesterday on what a spokesman described as "widespread black market" racketeering in "S" card ration coupons.

Rickenbacker Found Alive on Life Raft In Southern Pacific

One of Six Airmen With Ace Succumbs To Rigors of Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, the man who always come back, has done it again—rescued by a big navy Catalina flying boat after three perilous weeks adrift in a tiny rubber raft on the broad expanse of the south Pacific.

The navy announced the rescue yesterday, adding that all seven of the airmen who, with Rickenbacker, were forced down by an empty gas tank Oct. 21, had now been accounted for. But one, Sergt. Alexander Kaczmarczyk, died on the raft and was buried at sea.

Companions With the celebrated World War flying ace on the raft were Col. Hans C. Adamson and Pvt. John F. Bartek. It was they who watched Kaczmarczyk succumb to exposure and hardship. It was they who buried him.

Three more of the Rickenbacker party—Lieut. James C. Whitaker, Lieut. John J. De Angelis and Staff Sergt. James Reynolds, were found on a small island in the south Pacific.

The rescue at sea of Capt. William Cherry, the pilot of Rickenbacker's plane, was announced Friday. Thus, the recall of the group was complete.

Many Close Calls Rickenbacker, 52 years old, with another of his many close brushes with death safely behind him, was reported in good condition, as was Adamson. Bartek's condition was serious but he was expected to recover.

The condition of the men found on the island was not reported immediately. A naval medical officer was flown to their speck of land at once and all will be returned to a specific naval base.

Rickenbacker, an adviser to Secretary of War Stimson, was en route to the south Pacific war zone from Hawaii to make a survey of air force activities there. On Oct. 21 he reported by radio that the plane had scarcely enough gasoline left for an hour's flying.

Barbara Bennett Missing BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Police Sergt. P. R. Smith said last night that Film Actor Addison (Tex) Randall has reported his wife, former screen actress Barbara Bennett, missing since Friday night.

The eight included Senators Doxey (D., Miss.), Maybank (D., S. C.), O'Daniel (D., Tex.), McKellar (D., Tenn.), Russell (D., Ga.), Hill (D., Ala.) and Overton (D., La.), opponents of the poll tax bill, and Senator Bunker (D., Nev.).

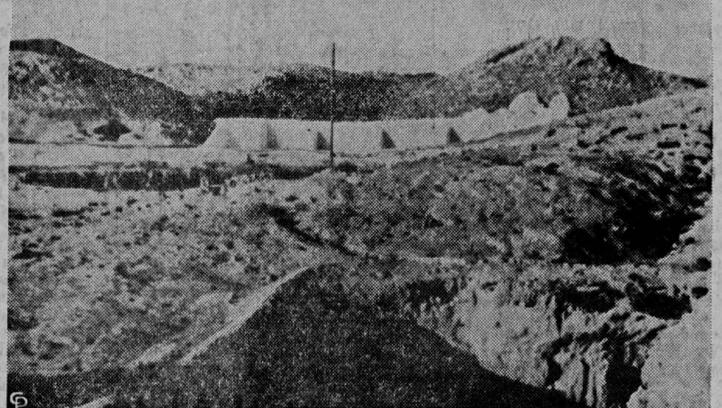

49th Senator It was more than two hours later that McKellar, placed under technical arrest at his apartment in a downtown hotel, walked into the chamber to make the 49th senator recorded present.

Senator Bilbo (D., Miss.), who told reporters he thought he was good for 30 days to talk if it was necessary to speak that long to kill the bill, immediately took the floor with a defense of the promised lengthy debate.

Talks for 2 Hours Bilbo spoke for about two hours and then the senate quit for the day. Before it adjourned, Barkley called on senate employees to inform senators they were needed in Washington and to return from their homes.

Because the senate adjourned instead of recessing, the anti-poll tax measure reverted to its status of Friday, when Barkley originally moved to bring it up. Thus it was open to a new attack on a point of order such as that over-ruled yesterday when Senator LaFollette (Prog., Wis.), presiding held that it had been properly reported by the judiciary committee.

YANKS, AXIS MAY CLASH AT LITTLE MAGINOT LINE

A 300-mile-long "little Maginot Line" on the border between French Tunisia and Italian Libya may become the principal battleground in North Africa for American forces fighting the axis. Some of the powerful forts, built of concrete and steel and extending deep into the ground, are pictured above. The fortifications, called the Mareth Line, were constructed to prevent an Italian attack on French North Africa.

Illinois Jury Finds 6 Guilty of Aiding Saboteur; Second U.S. Treason Conviction in 148 Years

Judge Will Sentence Couples Later; Face Fine, Prison, Death

CHICAGO (AP)—Six relatives and friends of the executed Nazi saboteur Herbert Haupt were convicted last night by a federal court jury in Illinois' first treason trial. They face possible sentences ranging from five years imprisonment and $10,000 fines to death.

The jury deliberated two hours and 50 minutes in bringing in the second treason conviction in 148 years of American history. Found guilty of giving "aid and comfort" to the young saboteur, smuggled by submarine into the United States last June 17 on a mission to cripple war plants were:

Hans and Erna Haupt, parents of the saboteur; Walter and Lucille Froehling, young Haupt's aunt and uncle, and Otto and Kate Wergin, friends of the Haupt family.

The jury was polled at the defense request and each of the eight women and four men said "it was and is my verdict."

Next Friday, Nov. 20, Judge William J. Campbell said, the court will hear any further defense motions and also any arguments in mitigation in behalf of the defendants.

Throughout the reading of the verdict the defendants showed but little emotion. However, Mrs. Froehling virtually collapsed a little later. Judge Campbell said court was adjourned. The jurors were excused.

Deputy federal marshals assisted Mrs. Froehling from the courtroom.

Modoc Still Roams Indiana Lowlands

Elephant Exhausts Hunters in 3 Day, Night Search Effort

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Madcap Modoc, the two-ton circus elephant that has given this section of Indiana an unwelcome and unbillied circus for three days and nights, had not wearied last night of the call of the wild.

But that was not the case with the bedraggled Hoosier safari of peace officers, farmers and circus men who have been trying to return the animal to captivity since it broke away from keepers Wednesday night and ruined a scheduled indoor circus in the Wabash high school.

"I can get along without any more elephant hunting," sighed Sheriff Marvin Idle. "Anybody who wants to hunt an elephant can have it."

Modoc, valued by Terrell Jacobs, its owner, at $6,000, last was sighted taking a brief rest in a barn lot west of here. The hunters surrounded the place but too late—madcap Modoc had struck out for greener pastures.

Its peregrinations have resulted in a wide variety of property damage and injury to two persons, one of whom was hurt seriously. Kenneth Kindley, Mt. Etna farmer, got in its way Friday and received a fractured vertebra. The other victim—a Wabash woman—was bruised severely when Modoc lumbered into a drug store.

The latest maneuver designed to turn Modoc from the error of its ways was the use of two decoy elephants, the theory being that Modoc, a female, would forget about the whole business and rejoin its male mates.

All they did was trumpet mournfully up and down the Wabash river bottoms while Modoc answered with elephantine sneers from a safe distance.

The bedraggled and weary safari, which included police, farmers and circus men, even was joined yesterday by Gov. Henry F. Schricker as he was en route to a speaking engagement.

Fine Frances Farmer For Drunken Driving

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Film Actress Frances Farmer was fined $250 yesterday on a drunk driving charge. Arresting officers said Miss Farmer commented, "You bore me," when they stopped her Sept. 19.

Police Judge Marshall Hickson suspended a 100-day jail sentence, placed the actress on two years' probation, decreeing she shall drink no liquor during that time, and suspended her driver's license indefinitely. She paid half the fine, and arranged to pay the balance later.

U.S., British Forces Drive Forward for Clash as More Axis Troops Land in Africa

LONDON, Sunday (AP)—Powerful American and British forces struck toward Tunis by land, sea and air today for a showdown clash with German and Italian troops who continued to land in increasing numbers despite resistance of French forces reported led by Gen. Henry Giraud.

The exact position of the allied vanguard was not known, but some reports said U. S. and British ground forces already were pouring across the Tunisian border, only 80 miles from Tunis, and that parachute troops were preparing to land in the capital.

Authorized dispatches from Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters indicated that the main body was somewhere east of the Algerian town of Bone, 50 miles from the Tunisian frontier, and that it was advancing rapidly, with strong naval and air support.

These reports also said the Germans and Italians, trying desperately to establish themselves in Tunis and Bizerte before the allies arrived, were rushing reinforcements both by sea and air.

Fierce Fighting Aerial observation showed that French and German troops already were engaged in fierce fighting through the narrow, winding streets of the capital and struggling for possession of airports on its outskirts.

The Tunisian garrisons who have been fighting the Germans for four days are under the leadership of General Henri Giraud, the independent French news agency in London reported early today. The American task force moving on Tunisia was reported in a communique today to be "consolidating its positions."

Casablanca, chief city of Morocco. American troops entering co on the Atlantic coast, were reported to have received a friendly welcome. Ports and airfields in the western area were being operated by American forces, the communique said.

Heavy British bombers attacked the main Tunis airport for the third straight night, destroying ground installations and large quantities of gasoline and other supplies.

Even should axis forces in Tunisia succeed in consolidating their position and make a temporary stand against the big superbly equipped Anglo-American army moving against them from the west, it was highly doubtful that they ever would join army fleeing from disaster in Egypt.

The Vichy radio revealed that Gen. Lattre De Tassigny, commander of the Montepellier military region on the southern French coast and former commander in Morocco, had led a short-lived revolt a few days prior to the German march into unoccupied France.

Abandoned Post Upon learning Nov. 8 that General Giraud had gone to north Africa to lead anti-axis colonial forces there, the radio said, General Tassigny equipped a small unit of his forces with two guns and abandoned his post with the idea of becoming chief of staff of French rebel forces.

"After spending some time moving about the country, the general learned of measures taken to insure order and surrendered to police," the broadcast said. It added that he would be tried by a court martial.

The British reported that General Auguste Nogues, erst-while personal delegate of Marshal Philippe Petain in Africa, had conferred with Admiral Jean Darlan at Algiers and had returned today to Rabat in Morocco to resume his military command.

Nogues in a radio address to France two nights ago announced that he was transferring his power to Admiral Darlan with the approval of Petain, France's 86-year-old chief of state. Darlan has collaborated actively with Anglo-American invasion forces, and is credited in some quarters with having ordered and inspired the present French resistance to the axis at Tunis and other points.

An Indian Subject Interprets His Country's Present Problem and Offers a Method of Settlement—

India Wants the United States to Help Her Attain Freedom

(BabooBhai Bhoota, the author of this article, is now a graduate student in the university and is working for his Ph.D. degree in civil engineering. Being an Indian subject, he presents us with a serious interpretation of the present crisis in India and reaches some conclusions as to how the problem should be settled.—The Editor.)

U. S. Intervention Urged In India—Now

The Indian problem was again brought before the public, even though for just a short while, by Wendell Willkie during his recent radio talk to the nation. When an impartial observer like Mr. Willkie brings out this question and desires something to be done towards the solution of the present Indian political deadlock, it is significant. It is much more so when it is realized that this is the impression he brought from the whole Orient—not merely from India, which unfortunately he did not visit.

The present wishy-washy attitude of the United States government and that of the public as well, is rather deplorable since for the most part it is based either on ignorance of the facts or on misinformation. Or perhaps it is based on the assumed political necessity that the United States government should not interfere with what some call a domestic problem of the British government.

But is it a domestic problem of the British alone? Whether we like it or not, what happens in India is going to affect the course of the battle of Asia considerably, and thus the outcome of the present titanic struggle. Right now there are United States officers and soldiers in India, and before long there will be many more. These soldiers are there to defend India since the united nations realize that if Germany and Japan meet in India—which on the whole may be their general plan—our chances for victory would be very much jeopardized, if not utterly impossible. In such circumstances a solution of the present impasse in India is as much a problem of the United States as of either India or England.

The importance of India, both militarily and psychologically, in this global war cannot be overemphasized. India is right now the sixth industrial nation in the world. Her supply of manpower is almost unlimited. The heroic Chinese resistance would crumble if India were lost. Furthermore there would be no more land bases from which to launch attacks on Burma and Malaya.

Even more important is the psychological effect that a solution of the Indian problem would have on all the people of Asia. India is the political barometer of all the Asiatic countries. They will judge, rightly or wrongly, the intentions of the united nations, and especially those of Great Britain and the United States, by their actions in India. To them action means everything; words nothing.

Due to the unfortunate, but nevertheless tragically true, statement by Mr. Churchill that the Atlantic Charter does not apply to India, the thing to do now to convince the whole of Asia that the charter applies to the whole world, as President Roosevelt said after Willkie's

BABOOBHAI BHOOTA

BabooBhai Bhoota, or "Bob" as he likes to be called, was born in Sihor India, about 200 miles from Bombay. He received his early education in this town and then attended the University of Bombay. Upon receiving his B. A. degree in 1938, he came to the United States and attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and then came to the University of Iowa in 1941. He is now working on his Ph. D. degree in civil engineering. Bob says that many of the popular American conceptions about India are almost unbelievably erroneous. "In the first place," he declares, "Indians are definitely anti-ax. They do not, as a group, hate the British people except in the fact that Britain is obstructing India's path toward her most desired goal—complete political and economic freedom."

talk, is to apply it to some Asiatic country. And that country happens to be India at the present moment.

The present crisis in India was precipitated by the decision of the British viceroy to imprison the Indian leaders about three months ago. Whether it was wise on his part to do this before Gandhi made his appeal to President Roosevelt, Chiang Kai-shek and Russia, will remain for history to decide.

Let us, however, forget the past for the moment. We can allocate the fault to any or both parties later. What is important is this: what is to be done now?

To India's right to independence no one has any objection or doubt. Even Great Britain has accepted, though with many objectionable reservations, the right of India to self government, but that is to come after the war is over. The Indian leaders, with justified suspicion born out of past broken promises, could not accept the recent Cripps proposal since the people were not getting any real power right now.

Let it be again emphasized that Indian leaders wanted some responsible man who commanded Indian public opinion, similar to our secretary of war, because he would be able to organize the masses. But they were and are willing to have the general military strategy decided by the united nations war council. They are also willing to have General Wavell as commander-in-chief of the Indian army, though they, of course, want the army to be in Indian hands after the war is won.

That Indian readiness to negotiate is unchanged is proved by Gandhi's expressed desire to meet the British viceroy before he was imprisoned and again by his recent appeal from prison. With honest and sincere desire on the part of both sides to come to terms, a solution of the Indian problem is still possible. However, mediation is utterly necessary since suspicion reigns supreme. And the United States government is in the best position to do this since Roosevelt is highly respected both in India and in Great Britain. Perhaps a man like our illustrious Iowan, Mr. Wallace, or Mr. Willkie, who has become internationally minded recently, would be the best person to do it.

The people of India are all for the victory of the united nations. They want to help all they can in the present fight for decency and democracy against the dark forces trying to engulf the world. But they have got to be satisfied that this is their fight as much as any of the other united nations. It is rather strange that Americans who value freedom and democracy so much should hurl the charge of blackmail against those who are also fighting for it. The present unfortunate monotony of silence on the part of the United States people and government has to be broken, and for the good of all, a solution must be found.

History is being made before our very eyes! The people of India are extending their friendly hands for cooperation as equal and honest partners. Please, for heaven's sake, give up this idea of "non-intervention" in India's independence problem. Let not posterity read that you failed in your duties or shirked your responsibilities in the hour of crisis!

A.A.U.W. Plans Study Of New School Code

To Join Other Groups In Presenting Changes To State Legislature

The study of the new school code for Iowa, which will be presented to the 50th Iowa legislature assembly convening in January, will be stressed by the education group of A. A. U. W. for the months of November and December.

A. A. U. W. has been one of the participating organizations of the Iowa council for better education, urging the writing and adoption of this new code. Floyd Page, a member of the commission for revising the present code, will discuss the proposed changes at a joint luncheon meeting of the Iowa City branch and the Iowa City League of Women Voters Dec. 12 in Iowa Union.

The commission, appointed by the governor, was instructed to present to the next general assembly a plan of revising and rebuilding the structure of public education in Iowa. The present school code has not been rewritten since 1897.

Members of the committee are Jessie Parker, state superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. S. E. Lincoln, former president of the state P. T. A.; Joseph Anderson, former speaker of the Iowa house; J. Kendall Lynes, state senator of Plainfield, and Mr. Page, attorney from Denison.

The new code will establish a state fund from which any school district may draw to bring its program up to a high minimum state standard. This will in no way interfere with the even higher standards a community may wish to tax itself for. But it is expected to make available to every child in Iowa a complete education.

A.A.U.W. Study Clubs Will Meet to Discuss Economic Situations

Two study groups of A. A. U. W. will stress economic situations at their meetings the first part of the week.

Ruth Gallaher will also speak on the topic "Products of China." The public is invited to attend and participate in the open discussion that will follow the talks.

World Traveler To Speak Here

Foremost Gadabout Will Show Pictures Of Mexico, Alaska

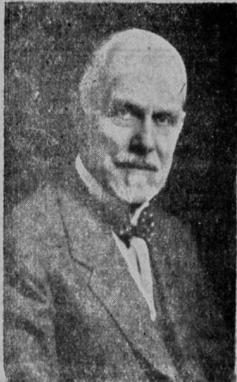

Burton Holmes, 73, who is in his 50th season of presenting lectures as America's foremost world traveler, will give two of his famous travelogues in Macbride auditorium at 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. Thursday.

"Alaska and the Yukon," his afternoon lecture, and "The Magic of Mexico," the evening topic, will both be accompanied by technicolor motion pictures taken by Holmes, who is bringing his own arc light equipment. The evening travelogue has been scheduled early in order to allow those attending the lecture to return home before the blackout.

Popularly called America's greatest gadabout, Holmes needs no introduction in most cities of this country. His travelogues are well established and enjoyed by millions of followers for their highly entertaining and delectably informative qualities.

For six months of every year he travels to new places, visiting strange lands and ports, re-treading ing well-known boulevards, speeding along the high roads, seeking unfamiliar corners and delightful byways so that he can bring to the stay-at-home the life and spirit of our own and foreign lands.

In the Burton Holmes film library are thousands of feet of motion pictures, and countless still pictures, unexcelled in color and beauty. Every year new pictures are added to the collection as new travelogues are produced, until now the library holds a pictorial record of the entire travel world—one of the most complete records in existence.

"Alaska and the Yukon," filmed just before the war, shows in color the fjord-like inside passage, rivalling the scenic splendor of Norway. Lively interludes in many Alaskan cities, mining operations in the Klondike, a voyage up the Yukon river, a flight over Mt. McKinley, Alaskan dog teams in action and the splendor of the midnight sun are all shown in this film.

"The Magic of Mexico—Old and New" includes besides scenes of fiestas, deep sea fishing and city life, the first filming of the mighty flight of 3,000,000 bats, which emerge at sundown and return at dawn after consuming 11 tons of night flying insects.

Holmes has just finished a 2,000-mile tour, filling 30 speaking dates in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Kansas and Missouri.

"MIGHTY ROCK" PLAYS BIG ROLE IN WAR EVENTS

This is a magnificent view of the great rock of Gibraltar where Britain's mighty fortifications hold the eastern gate of the Mediterranean sea. British naval forces from Gibraltar acted as sea guards for the United Nations forces invading eastern North Africa. A possible union of the French fleet with allied naval forces at Gibraltar has also been forecast.

'Gondoliers' Offers Brilliant, Breezy Entertainment

City High School Operetta to Have 2 Performances This Week

A lost king, difficult marriage situations, and a hopeless love affair twist into the usual Gilbert and Sullivan complications in their operetta, "The Gondoliers," which will be presented at Iowa City high school Thursday afternoon and Friday evening.

Less known than some of their other works, "The Gondoliers," offers the brilliant and breezy entertainment which fans of "the words and music team of all time" have come to look upon as invariable.

The first act opens on a scene in Venice where 24 flower girls are seen preparing a reception for two gallant gondoliers, Marco and Giuseppe (Harry Bannon and Carl Martin), who are seeking brides in the canal city.

To be impartial, the two gondoliers engage in what would appear to be a rather dangerous game of blind man's buff in which the girls they catch will be their brides. They capture the two girls they wanted in the first place, Tess and Gianetta (Doris Bennett and Maureen Farrell), and all is well for a time.

Just as the double ceremony is completed, the haughty but financially feeble Duke (Bob Kringle) appears with his faithful Duchess (Alba Bales). With them is their daughter Casilda (Frances Hinman) and their one man "Suite," Luiz (Ivar Opstad) who is in love with Casilda.

As the whole court ponders the terrible problem, the nurse (Mary Duros) confesses that the Grand Inquisitor had not kidnapped the king at all, but her own son, and

The Duke has come in search of the son of the King of Barataria who had been kidnapped by the Grand Inquisitor years before. The Duke's daughter had been married by proxy to this kidnapped son, and the Duke now plans to cash in by finding the boy and proclaiming his daughter queen.

The Grand Inquisitor enters and confesses that he gave the princeling to a gondolier who had a son the same age. The old gondolier has died, and there is now no way of telling the two boys apart.

Marco and Giuseppe are persuaded to leave their brides and go to Barataria to rule jointly until it is found which one of them is the true king.

Act 2 finds the two young gondoliers at home as the rulers of Barataria. They are polishing the crown and scepter, while their servants and ministers gamble and talk together, for the new monarchs believe in complete equality.

Their only unhappiness is the absence of their brides, and when the two girls suddenly appear, the whole court dances. This is going on when the Grand Inquisitor comes in and announces that one of the kings is married to Casilda who also enters with the Duke, Duchess and Luiz.

The accident occurred while the youth was visiting in Rochester, Iowa.

that she had raised the king in secrecy. The king then suddenly turns out to be Luiz, who finds himself already married to Casilda. The two gondoliers go off with their brides, and the ending is, of course, happy.

Roof Fires Saturday Cause Little Damage

Two Iowa City roof fires, neither causing much damage, were reported yesterday by Fire Chief J. J. Clark.

The other call came at 12 noon when an overheated stove pipe caused a roof fire at the home of Vern Noel, 1852 Friendship avenue. Damage was slight also.

Michigan Hands Notre Dame 32-20 Defeat

Wolverines Get Three Scores In Last Half

Capacity Crowd Sees Irish Winning Streak Cut at Five Straight

By DAVE HOFF

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Michigan's great Western conference team romped over Notre Dame in the third period yesterday to drub the fighting Irish, 32 to 20, in their first meeting since 1909, and a capacity throng of 57,500 howled their approval that the game was worth waiting for.

After a whiz-bang first half, in which each team scored two touchdowns and Notre Dame held a 14 to 13 edge by virtue of Angelo Bertelli's two conversion points, the Wolverines turned loose all their power for three quick touchdowns. That stunned the Irish, and although they pulled out one more touchdown in the final period, they couldn't catch up.

Michigan, in ending Notre Dame's five game winning streak, sent its array of crushing backs into constant action and they amassed 319 yards by rushing. Tom Kuzma, Bob Wiese, Paul White and Don Robinson gained almost at will as Michigan's rugged line broke down the opposition, and the Wolverines had occasion to punt only twice.

The Irish made good use of their rushing offense in holding even with Michigan for a half, with Bertelli throwing only three forward passes in Notre Dame's first two touchdown parades.

When the Wolverines had skyrocketed the score to 32 to 14 at the end of the third period, Notre Dame came sailing back on Bertelli's throws to score once.

After Notre Dame struck swiftly for a 7 to 0 lead in the middle of the first period, collecting the points on Bertelli's seven-yard pass to Bob Dove, Michigan went straight from the ensuing kickoff to romp 53 yards and tie the score on quarterback George Cithmal's sneak from the one-yard line. Reserve center Jim Brieske added the point by placement, his 13th in a row.

Notre Dame came bounding back but Bob Livingstone fumbled a lateral from Bertelli and Elmer Madar grabbed the ball for Michigan on the Irish 36 as the first period ended. Wiese went 25 yards in two plays and Madar made 10 on an end around. Michigan lost ground in line bucks and Brieske faked a field goal try. Robinson running wide for a touchdown from the four.

Dove blocked Brieske's conversion try, ending his string. After a Bertelli punt Kuzma dropped the ball and Murphy gained it for Notre Dame on the 13. Corwin Clatt pounded to the three in two tries and Creighton Miller went across for the touchdown. Bertelli's placement gave the Irish a 14 to 13 lead.

Undaunted, the Wolverines ground out 62 yards to the Notre Dame two but the Irish managed to hold out that time.

But in the third period the Wolverines struck three times with stunning regularity. They came up from the kickoff to parade 59 yards for a touchdown. Three minutes and 45 seconds later, after recovering Notre Dame's fumble on the kickoff they went 25 yards for the second touchdown.

Cornell Pulls Upset, Beats Carleton, 26-6

MOUNT VERNON (AP)—Cornell's unpredictable football warriors unleashed a power-packed offensive yesterday against Carleton's favored eleven and trounced the Minnesota team, 26 to 6.

The purple eleven opened its scoring in the first three minutes of the contest on a two-yard plunge by Jim Larson. Larson tallied again in the final period on a 42-yard sideline sprint after he intercepted a Carleton pass. Cornell counted in the final period when Lefter raced off tackle and into the clear for a 62-yard touchdown jaunt.

Cyclones Score First Conference Victory As Darling Sparks 20-13 Upset of Kansas

AMES (AP)—Iowa State's Cyclones, a scrappy band of opportunists, shocked favored Kansas, 20 to 13, yesterday for their first Big Six conference football victory at home since they whipped the Jayhawks early in the 1940 season. Kansas shot into a 13 to 6 lead with two quick touchdowns in the second period as Ray Evans, the Jayhawk ace, hit a hot pace. Iowa State bounced back for the tying touchdown on three plays at the start of the third quarter and raced into the lead on a 37-yard drive midway in the final session.

Washington Conquers Drake Bulldogs, 14-7 Tevis Leads Bears

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Amid much mishandling of the ball, the Bears of Washington university subdued the surprisingly stubborn Drake university Bulldogs, 14 to 7, yesterday in a Missouri valley conference scrap. Lee Tevis, Washington ace, led the Bears' offense, which managed to get under way early in the second period and erase an early one-touchdown Drake advantage. Washington led, 14 to 7, at halftime.

Pittsburgh Strikes Through Air To Conquer Cornhuskers, 6-0

Bill Dutton's 42-Yard Pass to Mike Sotack Is Deciding Factor

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitt's docile Panthers struck through the air for a quick first period touchdown and then fought off two desperate Nebraska bids in the second half yesterday to gain a 6-0 victory over the Cornhuskers before only 7,000 fans.

Bill Dutton, the Panthers' ace halfback from Weston, W. Va., fired a 42-yard pass to End Mike Sotack, of Hazelton, Pa., in the first seven minutes of play for the touchdown that proved the deciding margin. The ball was deflected by a Cornhusker back with Sotack gathering it in on the three and stepping across. Walt West's try for the extra point was blocked.

Roy Long, a rifle-armed back from Blair, Neb., then took charge of things and it looked as though he might turn the tide for the Cornhuskers. He fired three passes to spark a 36-yard advance to the Panther's 5 in the third period, only to see the march fall by inches of a first down.

Again, moments later, he connected on two more passes, one of them to Henry Reichel, a sub

The Cyclones, with Paul Darling carrying the brunt of the running attack which was mixed with deadly effect with the Iowa State passing game, drove 65 yards for their first touchdown immediately after the opening kickoff.

A recovered Iowa State fumble put Kansas on the Cyclone 29 and a few plays later Evans passed to Ed Linquist, who ran 25 yards for a touchdown. Lewis Musick's placekick was wide. Only 20 seconds later Evans snatched an Iowa State pass and speeded 53 yards straight down the field for another touchdown. This time Musick converted and Kansas led, 13 to 6.

Iowa State got its scoring opportunity in third period when George Harville recovered Linquist's fumble on the Jayhawk 20-yard line. Royal Lohry ripped off 11 yards in two plays and Darling finished the spurt with his 9-yard comeback over Kansas right tackle.

The Cyclones set up their final touchdown expedition on Bill Barger's recovery of a fumble punt on the Jayhawk 37, and the victory hungry Iowa State squad struck hard for the winning counter. A 10-yard pass, Norman to Harville, carrying the Cyclones to the five, featured the drive, climaxed by Lohry's punch from the two.

halfback of Lincoln, Neb., to spearhead another march of 30 yards to the Pitt 5. But this time the bid collapsed as Fullback Kirwin Eisenhart of Culbertson, Neb., fumbled on the first play and the Panthers recovered.

The Cornhuskers were never able to get going in the first half, as booming kicks by Dutton kept them up in their own territory. The farthest penetrations they made were to their own 44 twice.

Pitt seriously threatened to get a second touchdown in the first period, a 37-yard pass by Dutton to Halfback Lou Chelko carrying to the Nebraska 7. But Nebraska stiffened and took over on its 9.

Nebraska, losing its fifth game this season, had a statistical edge, getting 15 first downs to Pitt's 5 and 136 yards rushing to 78. Dutton, one of the nation's leaders in total offense, accounted for most of Pitt's yardage. He had 101 yards passing and 35 rushing for a 136 total.

HAWKS—

and Garnaas' placekick hiked the score to 14-0.

Here Iowa came to life. With electrifying suddenness, Farmer faded back from the 35, where Vic Kulbitski had sent the ball out of bounds on the kickoff, and uncocked a long pass down the right sidelines to Bill Burkett on the run.

The Independence senior gathered it in on the Minnesota 28 and sprinted down the field for the score without a hand touching him. Farmer's conversion was good, and the Old Gold was in the ball game again.

The situation looked even rosier a minute later when Williams attempted a pass from his own 20 and Chuck Uknes raced over from his fullback position to intercept it on the 28. Farmer limbered up his passing arm but couldn't seem to connect, and two plays later Williams made a further pest of himself by grabbing a toss on the seven and racing all the way back to the Iowa 49 before he was brought down.

Strange as it may seem, a Minnesota fumble set up its third touchdown in the fourth period. Carrying on with the same type of play it displayed all afternoon, another drive brought the ball to the Iowa two. Kulbitski fumbled here, however, and Uknes fell on it for Iowa.

Instead of kicking, Iowa elected to try some plays from behind its own goal, with the result that Curran barely managed to elude a tackler in the end zone and brought it back to the line of scrimmage on the two. On second down Farmer tried a pass. He was hurried and it fell into the arms of Kulbitski on the eight, and he romped over unmolested. Garnaas' third conversion attempt was again good, and the count stood at 21 to 7.

On the kickoff Curran carried it to the 29. Once more Farmer tried passing. He was trapped back on the 23 the first time, but he hit Ben Trickey on the 36 on second down. A third straight attempt proved fatal. Five Gophers charged him, and he was trapped on the 25. Somehow tackle Jim Lushine managed to grab the ball out of the melee and raced over for the final Gopher score of the day. The attempt for extra point failed, but at this stage it didn't matter.

With only a few minutes remaining Iowa couldn't do much. Farmer hit with two passes to Curran and Trickey for a first down, but the next four failed, and Minnesota took over on its own 49, and used up the remaining time on rushing plays.

All in all, Farmer completed four of 14 attempts for a gain of 104 yards. Three completed Gopher passes in nine tries accounted for only 31 yards. But the ground attack was more than enough to make up the difference. Jim Youel maintained his punting average, kicking nine times for an average of 41 yards a boot. Minnesota kicks traveled for an average of 35.7 yards.

The Hawkeyes returned to Iowa City immediately after the game, taking the 5:30 Rocket from here to Cedar Rapids, and arrived home shortly after midnight. Next Saturday will be an open date for Dr. Eddie Anderson's charges. Two weeks hence Michigan will provide the opposition at Ann Arbor.

Southern California Whips Oregon, 40-0

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Oregon, conqueror last week of mighty U. C. L. A., was a soft touch for Southern California yesterday and the Trojans scored an impressive 40 to 0 victory to move into second place in the Pacific coast football standings.

A crowd of 40,000 watched the Oregonians, slow of foot and badly outcharged in the line, go reeling under a rapier-like aerial and ground attack started by the elusive Mickey McCardle and finished by a group of second and third stringers.

Wildcats Lose To Wisconsin

Led by Otto Graham, Northwestern Displays Best Game of Year

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Trailing 19 to 14 in the last 18 seconds of the game, Wisconsin kept its Big Ten championship hopes alive with a dramatic thrust to score a touchdown which defeated Northwestern 20 to 19, yesterday before 35,000 fuming spectators.

Wisconsin, beaten only by Iowa in one of its strongest title bids in 30 years, was experiencing a terrific scare until Len Seelinger, a substitute halfback, in the game for only three minutes, fired the winning touchdown pass.

Pass Good Seelinger, with the clock ticking off the final precious seconds, fired a pass while standing on the 6 yard stripe. The ball sailed into the outstretched arms of Mark Hoskins standing in the end zone. As Hoskins grabbed the ball, he fell to the ground less than a yard inside the field, but he finally held on to come up with the all-important slim margin.

Wisconsin held a 14 to 7 lead at the half, scoring in the opening five minutes when Graham's punt was partially blocked on Northwestern's 37. In eight plays the Badger's 3-H boys, Hirsch, Harder and Hoskins, had driven to the 2. Hirsch attempted to blast over but was hit so hard the ball bounded out of his hands, but Harder was nearby to recover it for the touchdown.

At the outset of the second quarter, Wisconsin marched 83 yards in 13 plays for a second marker. The drive was climaxed by Hirsch's seven yard screen touchdown pass to Harder. Midway in the second period, Graham escorted the Wildcats 59 yards over the goal on nine plays. With the ball on the one, Graham pitched to End Bob Motl in the end zone.

Northwestern tallied in the third after getting the ball on the Wisconsin 32. Graham and Hirsch led the way with the latter jamming over. The Wildcats soared ahead 19 to 14 in the first three minutes of the final period as Graham pitched to Motl for the touchdown. Then the Badgers came back furiously for their game-busting score in the final game.

Indiana Breaks Scoring Mark, Overpowers Kansas State, 54-0

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Billy and the Evansville express sidestepped his way through the Wildcat tacklers for the score. Kansas State made only one serious scoring threat, that just before the game ended.

The Wildcats passed their way steadily down the field and were on the Indiana 20 when the final gun cracked.

Indiana scored the first two times it got its hands on the ball. Jimmy Dewar returned the opening kickoff 50 yards to the Kansas State 48 and the Hoosiers never stopped rolling. Hugh McKinnis going over from the three. After the next kickoff Kansas State punted and Dewar ran it from his 25 to the Wildcat 43 to start the second drive which ended with Dewar plunging over.

Buckeyes Top Illini, Take Big Ten Lead

Led by Otto Graham, Northwestern Displays Best Game of Year

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio State, attacking with devastating fury, trounced its old rival, Illinois 44 to 20 yesterday to take over undisputed first place in the Western conference football race before 68,656 chilly fans.

The loss eliminated Illinois, with one of its strongest teams since the boom gridiron days of the '20's, from the title chase. Iowa, which had been in a three-way tie for the lead with Ohio and the Illini, was toppled by Minnesota, 27 to 7.

From the time little Leslie Horvath, Ohio halfback, sprinted 36 yards for a touchdown, in

Spartans Top Purdue, 19-6

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State's Spartans exploded for three second-half touchdowns to rout a hapless Purdue team, 19-6, before 7,500 fans here yesterday.

After a listless, scoreless first half, the Spartans came to life with two touchdowns in the third period by galloping Dick Kieppe, 175-pound halfback, who romped 38 yards for one score and bucked a yard for the other.

State took a 19-0 lead in the final period on a 30-yard pass from Sophomore Elbert Stark to End Bob McNeill. With five minutes left, the Boilermakers clicked for their lone touchdown with Fullback Bill Buffington smashing across from the one-foot line to cap an 83-yard march.

Purdue's stellar Kenny Smock, making his first appearance in three games, was unable to match the individual brilliance of State's Kieppe and Fullback Morgan Gingrass, and the Boilermakers failed to penetrate beyond State's 34 for more than three quarters. Kieppe skipped to an even 100 yards by rushing, while Gingrass rolled up 74 to account for State's total net scrimmage gain of 174 yards. Purdue drove to only 51 yards from scrimmage, but finished with a first down of eight to seven, due mainly to five pass completions good for 88 yards.

Georgia Tech Tops Alabama In 7-0 Contest

Led by Otto Graham, Northwestern Displays Best Game of Year

ATLANTA (AP)—A pixilated freshman halfback left over from Friday the 13th—slender 150-pound Clint Castleberry—put on a two-minute hex on Alabama's great football team yesterday, and Georgia Tech won a 7-0 decision before 34,000 fans to remain one of the nation's unbeaten, untied football powers.

Castleberry, dumped into the game midway of the first period, ran back an Alabama punt 27 yards to his own 39 to start the winning touchdown drive. When linebacker was smothered, he skittered around left end for 21 yards to Alabama's 40.

Then Pat McHugh whipped a pass to Castleberry for another first down on 'Bama's 9. From there it was straight football. Castleberry reeled off tackle for three and Ralph Plaster flung himself twice over center to score in a head-long plunge. Rabbit Jordan, substitute end, place-kicked the extra point.

The victory sustained Tech's ranking as the nation's No. 2 team, and paved the way for a possible national championship game when Tech meets unbeaten, untied Georgia Nov. 28.

Navy Runners Edge Iowa State Harriers

AMES (AP)—Iowa Pre-Flight runners edged out Iowa State harriers as Grinnell trailed far behind in a triangular cross country meet between halves of the Iowa State-Kansas football game yesterday. Final score was Iowa Pre-Flight 24, Iowa State 31, Grinnell 77.

Illinois scored in the waning minutes against the Buck second and third stringers on a 13-yard pass from Don Griffin to sub end Bob Gibbs.

Powerful American, Jap Ships 'Slug It Out' In Aftermath of U.S. Attack on Guadalcanal

Navy Reports Both Sides 'Suffer Loss' In Solomons Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Powerful groups of American and Japanese warships were slugging it out in the vicinity of the Solomon Islands yesterday in an aftermath of a heavy American naval bombardment of enemy positions on Guadalcanal.

Both sides have "suffered losses," a navy communique said, but it added that no details would be reported while the battle continues because of the value of such information to the foe.

The communique described the battle as "a series of naval engagements." This was authoritatively interpreted to mean that the ships of both sides were widely deployed in the Solomons area so that the battle consists of a number of individual actions between groups of ships, rather than a single mass fight.

It seemed probable that aircraft were participating fully, both as weapons of attack and as the eyes of the opposing fleets, although the communique made no mention of them.

First word of the fresh outburst of sea warfare in and around the battle-scarred islands—where the airfield on Guadalcanal is the prize which Japan seeks and the United States is determined to hold—came today from Tokyo.

Huge Jap Claims

The Japanese broadcast that they had lost two destroyers and more than ten aircraft and had a battleship damaged. They claimed—wholly without confirmation from other sources—that allied losses had been six cruisers and one destroyer sunk, 19 planes shot down, two cruisers and three destroyers heavily damaged and three transports set afire.

Tokyo in the past has always minimized Japanese losses and greatly exaggerated the damage to our forces. The navy declined to comment on the Japanese claims.

Except for sporadic bombardment of our positions by light Jap naval forces and attacks by American planes on Jap surface ships, there had been no naval action of consequence in the Solomons area since Oct. 26 when the Japanese pulled their warships away following the battle of the Stewart Islands, which lie on the eastern flank of the southeastern Solomons.

The present outburst of activity began Thursday, Solomons time, when United States cruisers and destroyers bombarded enemy positions on Guadalcanal northwest of the airfield from dawn until mid-afternoon. Japan's first reaction was to attack the United States ships with 23 torpedo bombers, escorted by eight zero fighters.

Down 21 Planes

The aerial onslaught was intercepted by 28 Grumman Wildcat fighters—presumably from the Guadalcanal airfield since there was no mention of carriers in the vicinity—and 16 enemy bombers and five zeros were shot down. Another nine planes were destroyed by ship anti-aircraft fire so that one Jap aircraft out of 31 which came over escaped.

The heavy cruiser San Francisco and destroyer Buchannon were damaged in this action.

On Thursday night the engagements between American and Japanese surface forces began, the Japanese apparently having decided to send in warships to do what their planes had been unable to accomplish—inflict heavy damage on the American flotilla.

Beyond this immediate objective is the aim of each side to make the Solomon campaign so costly to the other that the fate of the airfield on Guadalcanal will be largely determined by fighting at sea.

A steady flow of supplies to the American forces now holding the airfield obviously depends on the ability of the United States Pacific fleet to keep open the supply lines from American bases to the south. Similarly, continued operations by enemy ground forces on the island depend on the ability of their supporting naval units to keep supplies and reinforcements moving in to them.

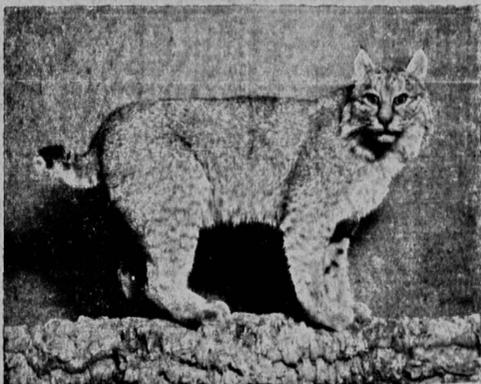

Advance Nearer Jap-Held Buna

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sunday (AP)—Australians who fought across the Owen Stanley mountains and Americans flown to the battle scene in aerial transports are closing in on the Jap-held coastal base of Buna, in northeast New Guinea, the high command reported today.

The rapid advance, made possible by the recent encirclement and complete destruction of more than 500 Japs at Oivi and Corari, represented the allies' first bid for a major foothold on the north coast—a step toward running the Japs out of all New Guinea.

On the aerial war front, MacArthur's bombers struck in the Solomons at an enemy convoy off New Georgia island, presumably moving on American-held Guadalcanal to the southeast. A heavily loaded transport of

INTRODUCING MR. WILDCAT

The wildcat represents another branch of the lynx family. Its ears, unlike the Canada lynx, are only slightly tufted, and its brownish fur is spotted. The wildcat has a wide distribution in the southern parts of this country. This animal is shy and furtive in its behavior, but does not resent the inroads of civilization as the lynx does. This animal is mounted and on display at the university museum.

SUI Officials Submit Budget; Ask Increases

The University of Iowa is asking the state for $3,711,500 for the next year and $4,155,000 for the following year to maintain its budget.

The state board of education has requested $7,970,000 a year to operate Iowa's five universities and colleges during the next two years.

President Virgil M. Hancher and Charles E. Friley of Iowa State college, in statements submitted with the budgets, said that certain portions of the increases will be used to raise the salaries of university and college employees in the lower-salaried brackets.

President Hancher said there are 400 employees at the University hospital receiving less than $1,000 annually and 200 receiving less than $2,000 annually.

The 1941 legislature refused funds requested for salary increases. President Hancher requested that the $300,000 voted by the last legislature for the first wing of a new library, the building of which was stopped by the war, be held for a postwar building program.

The university asked an increase of $326,000 for its general support, salary and maintenance fund, and a $250,000 increase in the general hospital fund.

12,000 tons was set ablaze by bombers which dropped their lethal loads from low altitude despite anti-aircraft fire. (This news of the Jap convoy came while reports from Washington told of navy battles in progress in the Solomon island areas.)

The aerial blow at the transport followed the successful bombing of four troop-laden ships in the harbor at Buna in the north Solomons two days ago and the setting ablaze yesterday of another troop transport in that harbor.

In the New Guinea land fighting, the communique made it apparent that the annihilation of the Japs at Oivi, where they had held out stubbornly for a week, broke the back of the enemy defenses. Today, General MacArthur announced that an Australian column had driven the Japs eastward from Ilwon and Wairopi—scene of the oft-bombed Wairopi bridge—and had seized the main Kumusi river crossing. This is in an area some 30 miles from Buna.

Ahead of the Japs, ready to trap them, an American force closed in.

Under steady bombardment from the air, the Japs suffered heavy casualties and even abandoning their wounded in their frantic flight.

The allied advance on Buna is the climax of a drive across the tortuous jungle from Port Moresby on the southeast New Guinea coast.

Re-Education Occupational Therapy Patients Treated

In six airy, glass-partitioned, cheery rooms, patients in the occupational therapy division of University hospital are undergoing rehabilitation through handicraft projects and, at the same time, are receiving other mental and physical treatment.

Under the direction of Alberta Montgomery since 1934, the therapy division is treating patients by giving them re-education, stimulation and by bringing them back to the world of realities.

Crafts As a Tool Patients of both sexes, ranging in age from 8 to 80 years, are receiving occupational treatment, Miss Montgomery emphasized that patients are not commanded to begin hand work at once, but are encouraged to watch others and then initiate their own projects. "In this way patients forget about themselves and concentrate on by-products," Miss Montgomery said. "Crafts are one kind of a tool used as activity for mental and physical exercise. We turned to crafts because they are universally usable and almost every patient will do normal creative work." After only two or three days in the working atmosphere, the most uninterested patients begin to notice and take part in the making of such articles as rugs, towels, leather purses and belts, key cases, wicker work, book ends, or perhaps in watering the flowers that are placed in the work rooms.

Miss Montgomery said that occupational therapy is not a cure-all, but that it is the direct opposite of the old fashioned "feed them, clothe them, lock them up and let them vegetate" method. This same method is used in treating many other types of diseases, including heart trouble, infantile paralysis and tuberculosis.

The communique said that the British had captured a large number of Japanese soldiers and equipment. The British also reported that they had destroyed several Japanese ships and aircraft.
