UNITED STATES FLAG PLANTED ON NORTH AFRICAN SOIL

unable to keep pace with the Anglo-American offensive that took French Morocco and Algeria in 76 hours—and moved into Tunisia in 76 more. An attack and quick counter-attack near Bizerte was the first clash of arms. Berlin announced yesterday the axis evacuation of Bengasi in Libya. With the fall of that stronghold, the axis grip on the south shore of the Mediterranean, that once reached from Tunisia to within 80 miles of Alexandria, a cross-flight span of nearly 1,200 miles, has been shriveled to a meagre 600-mile long coastal corridor.

French Assault Nazi Dugouts Near Tunis

Turin Enveloped in Fiery Blanket By RAF's Heaviest Italian Raid

LONDON (AP)—A fiery raid on Turin, the RAF's heaviest so far in its growing offensive against Italy, spread such a blanket of fire over the northern arsenal city Friday night that the raiders had difficulty finding clear spaces for targets, the British disclosed yesterday.

This assault was comparable in size to an "average" raid on Germany, usually carried out by between 200 and 300 planes, well-informed sources believed.

After giving Turin, the home of Italy's Fiat, Caproni bomber and other war works, only two nights of respite from their devastating two-ton bombs, a heavy RAF group returned in good weather and indicative of the punishment loosed on the city, one bomber group alone dropped 54 two-ton bombs and 110,000 pounds of incendiaries in just less than an hour. This was an average of one two-ton bomb a minute and one 30-pound incendiary a second.

So thorough was the job, the air ministry said, that the RAF bombers ran out of target space and planes arriving in the later waves had difficulty picking spots to drop their bombs amid the explosions and fire already started.

The captain of one four-engine Halifax which reached Turin about midway in the attack said he had to make four "dummy runs" before his bombardier could pick out clear spots at which to aim.

Three of the bombers were missing, a communique said, but the number sent out in the long mission was not disclosed.

German fighters were aloft all the way from the French coast deep into southern France, the air ministry said, but in spite of weather made-to-order for interception—thick clouds below the bombers and a bright moon above them—the Nazis had "little success."

The exact results of the assault could not be told, said a communique, because "dense smoke from many fires" clouded the fliers' observation. The Rome communique, however, said "incendiary bombs in great quantities" fell in the center of Turin, caused fires and damage, killed 29 persons and wounded 120.

British observers said such mass raids were proving an economical way to strike at the foundations of Italy's war strength and that in one month they had severely shaken civilian morale in northern Italy.

Allies Capture A Cross-Roads In Same Area

Allied Headquarters Hints That Fighting Grows in Intensity

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Sunday—A French assault on German dugouts in the hastily erected Nazi defense are around Tunis and Bizerte, with the result still undetermined, and the capture by allied advance units of an important cross-roads in the Tunisia area were reported early today from north Africa, where powerful allied forces are moving rapidly to smash the beleaguered axis Tunisian troops.

Reports from allied force headquarters indicated that the fighting is hourly growing in intensity with the Germans and Italians bracing themselves for the imminent fight against the main body of British, American and French troops.

Axis Backed to the Sea
A steady stream of men and materiel was moving eastward as far west as Casablanca against the Germans and Italians, cut off from all retreat except by sea or air.

The allied main forces were progressing methodically for the kill, despite intense air attacks and violent air battles.

Reports from the allied headquarters indicated that the British, American and French spearheads had seized the cross-roads and driven the Germans back. The gain in this struggle included a bridge.

Then the Germans dug in and the reports said the French immediately and violently assailed their positions.

Germans Tighten Defense Arc
The Germans defense arc around Bizerte, with its three main airfields, and Tunis, with its important military airbase, was believed to run somewhere east of Tabarca, on the north coast, to Hammamet, southeast of Tunis. At the nearest points the allied advance forces have been reported within 30 miles of both Bizerte and Tunis.

It was reported that the Germans have patrols constantly on the watch behind their contracting lines, apparently on guard against a French uprising in that sector.

Pro-allied French forces were said to be in control of Gabes, on the eastern Tunis coast, thus effectively blocking any connection between the Tunisian axis armies and Marshal Rommel's harried soldiers in Libya.

Allies "Maintaining" Contact
A brief communique issued by the allied headquarters said that advance units in Tunisia "are maintaining contact with the enemy," but gave no details of the fighting.

That the Nazis' hope of establishing a rear door of retreat for Marshal Erwin Rommel in Libya already had gone glimmering was seen in a broadcast by the Berlin radio, quoting allied sources in Spanish Morocco, that allied columns of Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's British first army had reached the area of Hammamet, southeast of Tunis on the Mediterranean.

Occupation of Hammamet by the investing forces would complete the encirclement of the Nazis on the landward side of the tip of Tunisia and leave them no alternative but to fight it out in the fast-contracting arc they had chosen to defend. The German radio also reported that a fighting French-American column was moving up from the south of Tunisia, aiming to strike the coast at Sousse, below Hammamet.

Thrown back and badly mauled when they sent out three columns to impede the advancing British and Americans two days ago, the Nazis had dug in on a line estimated to be about 30 miles both from Tunis and Bizerte, while their air force struck desperately at the allies columns of men, armor and supplies pushing eastward from the Algerian border.

Japs Lash Back at Buna

British Spitfire Pilot Wins Amazing Battle

Downs Junkers-86 At 9-Mile Altitude Over Mediterranean

LONDON, Sunday (AP)—An amazing air battle nine miles above the Mediterranean which ended with a 40-year-old British test pilot in a special Spitfire shooting down a German high-altitude Junkers-86, was reported today by the air ministry news service.

The pilot was Flying Officer Reynolds, of Kenya colony, who went aloft from an Egyptian airbase after vapor trails of the high-flying enemy craft had been sighted. He climbed to 40,000 feet, then to 50,000 feet in a dizzy chase.

The temperature in the cockpit fell to 67 below zero and all the plane's instruments were coated with ice. Reynolds, faint, nauseated, almost blind from weakness and pain, struggled on. He suddenly sighted the German a hundred yards away.

Reynolds tried to fire his guns but his hands were stiff with cold, his arms paralyzed, and the German turned quickly out to sea.

The Britisher, who had been flying an hour above 45,000 feet, steered his plane by manipulating his weight and followed the Junkers far out over the Mediterranean.

Finally, Reynolds managed to thaw his frozen hands enough to open combat. The German's starboard engine burst into flames and (See BRITISHER, page 5)

Dedicate 1,600 Mile Alaska-Canada Road

WHITEHORSE, Y. T. (AP)—The Alaska-Canada highway—for the war's duration a 1,600 mile weapon against Japan and for the peace to come a commercial artery into hitherto remote northern areas—reached its dedicatory stage yesterday.

The road construction, begun last March, was completed weeks ahead of schedule. Of the 1,600 miles, 1,200 are in Canada.

Attempts to Back Nips Into Sea Halted by Fierce Counter Drive

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA (AP)—The heaviest fighting of the New Guinea campaign raged yesterday in the Buna-Gona areas where the Japanese, pinned against the coast, lashed back at the advancing allies with light artillery, mortars and machineguns.

A communique announcing the allied attempt to shove the trapped Japanese into the sea gave no details of the battle which began Friday except to say that "enemy air forces have entered the engagement."

Bad weather on the lower side of the Owen Stanley mountains was said to have prevented General MacArthur's airmen from giving the formidable aerial support which has been such a factor in the allied counter-drive across the huge island.

U. S. and Australian ground troops thus bore the entire brunt of the attack of low-flying Japanese Zeros that thus far had not shown much activity.

The fighting is in a triangle, the base formed by a six-mile coastal stretch between Buna and Gona, and the apex extending eight miles inland to Soputa.

While the Australians at Gona and the Americans at Buna were engaged in close-quarter fighting with the enemy on the outskirts of those hamlets, combined units were attempting to smash the only inland point still held by the enemy at Soputa.

A headquarters spokesman meanwhile said that aerial reconnaissance had disclosed that a Japanese destroyer and one transport were beached and burning at Buna in the upper Solomons, the results of previous bomber attacks delivered by General MacArthur's airmen in support of the Guadalcanal naval battle that ended in a smashing victory for the U. S. fleet.

Some observers had believed the Japanese in the Buna-Gona sector might surrender because of the apparent disaster facing them, but the bitterness of the enemy's resistance has dispelled that.

Coffee Joins Sugar As Restricted Food

Rationing Officials Now Examine Status Of Butter and Meat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coffee took its place with sugar last night on the list of foods restricted by the war while rationing officials studied the status of meat and butter.

As coffee sales were halted for one week preliminary to the start of cup-a-day rationing, a spokesman for the office of price administration said that butter and meat supplies were in "pretty bad shape" although butter was not scarce enough yet to warrant immediate rationing. Meat is to be rationed about Jan. 15 when the new "universal books" are expected.

Meanwhile officials proceeded with plans to ration gasoline throughout the country Dec. 1 as a tire conservation measure despite fresh clamor in congress against the program. A house committee questioned William M. Jeffers, rubber administrator, during the day.

For easterners, tonight brought a zero hour in the garage as well as the kitchen. The value of the basic "A" gasoline ration coupon was cut from four gallons to three in 16 east coast states—a squeeze that took most of the "family driving" out of the gasoline tank. After tonight, too, motorists were required to write their license numbers on the backs of the gasoline coupons to prevent abuses.

Pierre Laval Wants to Fight Against Allies

Says Allied Victory Would Force French Under Reds and Jews

NEW YORK (AP)—Pierre Laval announced his hope last night of recruiting a French army to fight the allies and warned his countrymen that an allied victory would force them "to submit to the domination of communists and Jews."

In a broadcast speech adhering closely to axis propaganda tenets, the Vichy dictator said his government would not object to formation of "a volunteer legion" to defend France, a clear indication of Laval's attempt to steer his countrymen into an axis military alliance.

"This volunteer legion," he said, "will arise and carry a new answer to the injury done France and her empire."

He pointed out that he had warned Admiral William D. Leahy, former U. S. ambassador to France, that France would resist any attack on her territory, and added:

"Those who were our allies or those who pretended to be our friends are saying that they will return our territories to us in the future.

"There are some of you who believe it. But history recalls to us the egoism of those in the past who took Canada and the Indies, those magnificent possessions of old France.

"I do not believe in Anglo-Saxon generosity. I carry today a plan for the defense of France's interests."

Nazi Tide Stopped On Caucasian Front

Germans Consistently Hurlled Back by Force Of Soviet Onslaught

MOSCOW, Sunday (AP)—German assaults intended to better the Nazi position in the Caucasus after the smashing Russian victory before Ordzhonikidze have been consistently hurled back by Russian units and at least two companies and a battalion of the enemy have been annihilated or dispersed, the Russians reported early today.

The Soviet midnight communique announced that in the Mzdok area (in the same general sector where the Germans were beaten) one Soviet unit in one day repelled three enemy attacks, "annihilating some two companies of enemy infantry."

On that cold Caucasian front, the communique added, "Soviet artillery and mortar fire dispersed and partly annihilated about a battalion of German infantry."

Fighting continued in the sector southeast of Nalchik, where the Germans apparently took their worst beating in the action before Ordzhonikidze.

One Red guard unit "wiped out more than 700 enemy officers and men" in that area, the communique said, and two enemy tanks were disabled and four burned out. "Six German trucks were destroyed as well as six heavy machine guns."

"Northeast of Tuapse on one sector our troops pressed the bitterest cold and heaviest snow have not yet arrived many divisions thus far have received no winter outfits.

Winter clothes which were issued to one German division were said to consist of wicker wrappings for the feet, with artificial rubber soles, padded cotton jackets and cotton caps. The padded caps were given only to sentries, Red Star said, other troops being provided only with brown woolen cloths to wrap around their heads.

The German winter uniforms are described as lined with white cloth so they can be turned inside out for camouflage in the snow.

Shivering German prisoners are quoted as saying emphatically that they are not warm in the Wehrmacht's winter uniforms.

U.S. Troops Punch West on Guadalcanal Into Jap-Held Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—American troops have punched their way westward on Guadalcanal into territory formerly held by the Japanese, the navy said yesterday—a development which gave force to Secretary Knox's recent statement that our hold on the island "is now very secure."

A communique said the American line had been advanced to a point five miles west of Henderson field and a mile beyond the Matanku river, formerly the western boundary of the American position. This statement of successes to the west followed one Friday which told of effective action to the eastward of the airfield, in which about half of a Japanese landing force of 1,500 were killed.

The advance to the westward occurred on Nov. 18 Guadalcanal time. It was undertaken and carried out although "enemy patrols were active."

Dramatic Rescue of Rickenbacker Related

From the Pacific Comes the Story of the Search And Rescue of America's Beloved Ace

By WALTER B. CLAUSEN
PEARL HARBOR (AP)—The dramatic story of the rescue of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and six surviving companions after three weeks at sea was unfolded yesterday in information reaching United States fleet headquarters from an advanced base in the south Pacific.

Lieut. William F. Eadie, piloting a naval plane with radioman Lester Soute, were the heroes of the rescue.

It was 9:30 o'clock the night of Nov. 11, just 22 days after Rickenbacker's big army plane went down, that Eadie sighted Capt. William T. Cherry, pilot of the famous American ace's plane, alone on a raft 25 miles from the advanced base.

Eadie flew Cherry back to the island base and then proceeded the next day to search for the other survivors. Cherry reported that the missing seven men were on two rafts.

Throughout the day, Eadie searched in widening circles from the vicinity of where he had picked up Cherry the preceding night, and by dropping flares he finally discovered Rickenbacker, Col. Hans C. Adamson of Washington, D. C., and Private John F. Bartek, Freehold, N. J., who were on the rubber life raft.

Japan's Sea Losses At Least 372 Sunk

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The smashing victory of a United States battlefleet over the Japanese in the Solomons last week, when 28 Jap ships were sunk, sent the total of Nipponese sea losses soaring to at least 372 since Pearl Harbor, records showed.

New York Governor Named Administrator Of Aid to U.S. Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt yesterday placed Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York in charge of distributing American food, clothing and medicine to the people of lands occupied by troops of the united nations.

Indicating that the president wishes an early start made on this task, the White House announced that Lehman will resign his gubernatorial post about Dec. 3. His term would normally expire on Jan. 1.

Occupational Survey of Senior, Graduate Women to Be Conducted Here This Week

An educational and occupational survey of all senior women in commerce and liberal arts and all graduate women students will be conducted this week to ascertain what work these women are qualified to do, it was disclosed yesterday by members of the faculty committee for women's work in the war.

Stemming from current demands for women in all types of positions, many of which ordinarily would use men, the plan has been evolved by the committee to provide an authoritative source of information on what university women of senior and graduate standing are prepared to do.

Women will fill out blank listing courses they have taken and other information next Friday and Saturday in room 110, Schaeffer hall. Times of registration are 8 a. m. through the noon hour until 5:30 p. m. Friday and 8 a. m.

to noon, Saturday. It is expected that every senior and graduate woman on the campus will avail herself of the opportunity to aid in the survey at these times.

Members of the University Women's association will aid in registering the students.

When the survey is complete, it will offer a record of the kinds of work all senior and graduate women students are equipped to do. The file of information will be kept in the educational placement office where the proper facilities are available.

Coming as it does in national "Women at War" week, the educational and occupational survey will provide a very real opportunity for college women to help in the war effort by listing their qualifications and capabilities. One hundred percent registration is the aim of the women's work in war committee.

Perhaps They're Too Familiar—

Why don't we like the English? Why do we speak of them as greedy, brutal, and arrogant and why do we criticize their conduct in India and Ireland?

It is human to look more sharply on the failings of a husband than of a casual stranger. If you knew less about us, you Americans, you could not so easily read the books we write about ourselves and the speeches we make each other.

The truth is that you know too much about us, and not enough. You read our boasts and do not see our tears. You read everything about us that can be headlined in newspapers, that is disasters, quarrels, the antics of politicians, financiers, arms makers, that is, nothing about us, us common English, that is, nothing about England.

We Americans, for a long time did not like the English. We didn't like their speech (most particularly their accent) or maybe it was their customs, but now that they are once again our allies in a great war there should be a greater understanding and friendship between our peoples.

A Congress Out of Order—

Hitler has destroyed all forms of democratic government in Germany by merely not allowing the people any voice in what goes on. The United States senate is doing almost the same thing by tolerating a filibuster in the senate.

The responsibility for the action does not rest completely with a small group of "poll-tax" senators or with either party, as a democrat from Florida is forcing the fight against the tax bill. The responsibility rests with the whole senate chamber who would allow the upper house of our democratic government to resemble a carnival sideshow.

On days the senators refuse to come, on others they stage a sit-down strike, again another day they spend the day calling roll to see if there is a quorum present. They have kept it up all the way and say they can until the end of the year. If the senate permits anything approaching that, it will have sacrificed the respect of the nation. Time was when they could stage a filibuster and merely be an object of coarse jest and transient disgust.

Public Opinion Polices—

The announcement that pleasure driving over the week end and particularly the institutional Sunday afternoon excursion will be frowned on by Rubber Administrator Jeffers is primarily a psychological approach to the solution of the problem confronting him.

Since the aim of "gas" rationing is to conserve tires, really it doesn't matter greatly whether the driving is done on Sunday or whether the four gallons allowed under the "A" cards is expended in day-by-day rambling about town.

In the interest of tire conservation the government seeks to discourage all unnecessary driving. There will be little Sunday pleasure driving if the owner of a car finds it necessary to stand in overcrowded street cars or buses during the week.

Those who have anticipated the strain which will be placed upon common carriers when gas rationing goes into effect, are not expecting that many city dwellers will put up with the inconveniences of that form of transportation to indulge in a family outing.

In the east most of the highways and turnpikes which were congested with pleasure riders over the weekend before rationing of tires became effective are now almost deserted.

While the bluff Mr. Jeffers lacks the police powers to enforce his "gasless Sundays", the force of public opinion will effectively police the nation for the hardships imposed upon many by the gasoline rationing will find the public quite generally frowning on the Sunday "joy riders".

Not Quite a Gestapo—

The housewives of America have been called upon by the OPA to assist in the enforcement of price ceilings, particularly as they apply to foodstuffs.

The women are asked to band together and to act as vigilantes, reporting to the proper authorities instances of over charging.

This is in effect an extension of the Consumers League to every town and village in the country.

Obviously the efficacy of this project would depend in great degree upon the ability of those entrusted with the responsibilities implied by this commission.

An efficient setup in each community would overcome not a little of the suspicion and confusion which now attaches to a visit to the grocer or butcher.

The filing of charges against a score or more food handlers in Sioux City raises the question as to how widespread has been disregard of ceilings and to what degree adulteration of goods has been resorted to in order to increase profits while ostensibly observing the ceiling.

Offering meat of a lower grade, with the explanation that the best cuts are going to the army, is one way of violating the price ceiling.

While the grocer and the butcher may resent the idea that the customer may be a vigilante of the OPA, a local organization of housewives who investigated complaints with tact and a proper sense of responsibility would protect the retailer who is scrupulously seeking to respect the ceilings from much of the complaint and suspicion under which he labors today.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—There has been a lot of talk and much kidding, through cartoons and stories, about crowded conditions in Washington.

There is the one about the fellow who spent several nights practicing sleeping in the crook of a tree because he had to go to Washington on business. One of the biggest unintentional laugh lines ever written was that in a play which turned up at the National theater. The wife said to her husband: "I will run down to Washington a couple of days ahead and find us a house to live in." At the National, it caused guffaws that stopped the show dead night after night.

In the last few days, some figures have been issued which give all the stories authenticity. John A. Nolan Jr., a director of the National Capital park and planning commission, announced that the Washington metropolitan area now has approximately 1,260,000 persons, compared with 908,000 when the official census was taken April 1, 1940. That's a growth of more than 33 1/3 per cent in two and a half years, a staggering expansion with which no city of any size could cope without herculean effort—the kind of effort in which the District of Columbia's unwieldy "city government" is woefully lacking.

Nolan's breakdown of these figures is more enlightening. In the District itself, the population is now 850,000, compared with 663,000 in the last census. The Maryland suburbs now have 225,000, compared with 163,000; and the Virginia suburbs 185,000, compared to 108,000.

In other words, more than half of Washington's growth has been within the comparatively narrow confines of the District. And by next July, according to the civil service commission, the government will have hired 39,000 additional workers in the District.

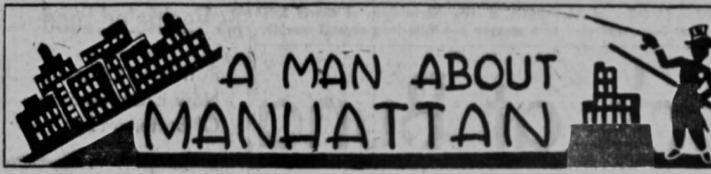

When it is considered that the total of government workers here now (in spite of "decentralization" that has resulted in moving about 30,000 to other cities) is something over 275,000, the percentage increase makes it apparent that crowded conditions haven't caused nearly as much grief as they are going to.

Finding this manpower has been and continues to be one of the government's biggest headaches. The minimum age limit, once so important in the civil service application blanks, has virtually disappeared and boys and girls of 16 are finding themselves called to report for duty at starting salaries ranging from $1,240 to $1,440 a year.

Government officials admit all this makes for impaired efficiency, but the opinion generally is: "The problem is to get the job done as fast as we can and personnel and manpower experts are just about agreed there is no other way."

"It has been unanimously voted that our 'Preservation of American Birds and Wild Flowers' money be used for the purchase of War Bonds."

A Personal Triumph For Flora Robson— By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—One of Broadway's soundest new stage hits, "The Damask Cheek," is pretty much a personal triumph for Flora Robson, the English actress. I can't think of anyone who could do the job she is doing as a spinster whose only love affair blossoms rather tardily in life. And rather tardily, Flora is getting the break she should have had long ago.

In a single ring ceremony, Aila Hiltunen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hiltunen of Greybull, Wyo., became the bride of Lieut. (j. g.) Stephen H. Nagyfy, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Nagyfy of Bridgeport, Conn., yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Trinity Episcopal church, Dean Rowland of the Trinity Episcopal church in Davenport read the service at an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Special organ music by Mrs. R. T. Tidrick included "Ave Maria Siella" (Grieg), "Ave Maria" (Schubert), "Traumerlei" (Schumann), and "Nocturne" (Mendelssohn). The bride wore a prairie-blue street length dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses and bouvardia.

Black trimmed with white, with black accessories was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Kenneth Cline. She had a corsage of gardenias and bouvardia. Best man was Dr. J. H. Stout Jr.

Immediately after the ceremony, guests were entertained at a reception in the home of Dr. Kate Daum, 1531 Center avenue.

The couple left last night for Memphis, Tenn., where Lieutenant Nagyfy is stationed with the navy medical corps. For traveling the bride selected a blue suit of English tweed. Her accessories were of black.

Mrs. Nagyfy was graduated from the University of Iowa school of nursing and has been employed as health nursing consultant for the state services for crippled children. A graduate of Yale medical college, Lieutenant Nagyfy served as resident physician on the University of Iowa hospital staff for three years before entering the medical corps.

FIRST PROJECT OF WAR ART WORKSHOP DISPLAYED

At the left, Prof. Alice Davis of the art department is examining the results of the first project completed by the recently established war art workshop in the art department here. The blackout posters, designed by Carolyn Pickett, A3 of Keokuk, were made by art students participating in the workshop activities. From right to left, respectively, the poster is shown in three stages of printing, the final product shown on the left, next to Miss Davis. The posters were printed in three colors. Following the completion of this project, the members of the workshop have begun work on other commissions recently received from the army and navy. This work is under the supervision of members of the faculty and is done chiefly by the students.

War Art Workshop Established to Make Posters, Visual Aids

A war art workshop has been established recently at the university for the purpose of producing war posters for the office of war information, local use, murals and sculpture for army camps and visual aids for army and navy instruction, it was announced yesterday by Prof. Lester D. Longman, head of the art department and director of the workshop.

Professors Philip Guston, Aiden Megraw, Charles Okerbloom, Alice Davis and Catherine Macartney, and Kenneth Loomis and Humbert Albrizio, all of the art department, are supervising the production by advanced students of murals, posters and visual aids commissioned by the army, navy, OWI, local civilian defense organizations and the university.

Academic credit is granted to participating students whenever genuine educational values would result from the work, but additional time is being devoted to the projects by both students and faculty as an extra-curricular undertaking useful to the war effort. The cost of materials for all projects is paid by those who commission them, but all services are contributed free by the art department.

The first project to be completed by the workshop was the blackout poster used throughout the county to announce the Johnson county blackout last week. This poster, designed by Carolyn Pickett, A3 of Keokuk, was made by students under the supervision of Professor Okerbloom and Professor Davis and was printed in three colors by the new silk screen process.

Two silk screen presses have been made by students and faculty in rooms of the art building taken over for the workshop. These presses make possible the printing of large numbers of posters from the original designs of students in as many colors as desired and with a more artistic effect than in ordinary color printing. The method can also be used in producing visual aids for army and navy instruction.

Arrangements have been made by Professor Longman for the workshop to make designs for posters which will be sent to the division of graphics in Washington, D. C. This agency now obtains all graphic material for all government departments and has recently requested the cooperation of fine artists in a campaign for better posters.

Professor Guston has already sent in a number of designs which have been favorably received, some of which may be used throughout the nation. Advanced students will have completed other poster designs by next week, some to be sent to the OWI and others to be used locally.

A committee of the faculty has been appointed by Dean Harry K. Newburn of the college of liberal arts to choose designs for war posters to be placed in university buildings. In these students will attempt to visualize graphically the issues of the war.

"The United States has been lagging behind the totalitarian powers and England in the extent and imaginative use of educational campaigns, and especially in the production of posters dramatizing the goals we fight for," Professor Longman stated. He added that the war art workshop will devote its efforts to the production of better posters as well as to the production of practical aids, graphs, charts, maps, etc., for use by the army and navy in instruction, and murals and sculpture to help build morale in army camps.

The workshop has already had a number of such commissions from the army and navy, and work on them has begun. Further announcements will be made shortly.

Members of this group will meet at the rectory, 212 S. Johnson street, at 7 o'clock.

All Methodist students are invited to a 6 o'clock dine-a-mite supper. The Rev. L. L. Dunnington will lead a discussion on "The Bible of a Progressive Revelation." Vespers will be held in the sanctuary.

Members of the First English Lutheran church will hold a fellowship hour and luncheon at 5:30. Devotional meeting will follow. Thor Swanson, C4 of Ogden, will lead the discussion, "The Crises We Meet."

Members of the Zion Lutheran church will meet at 5:45 for a luncheon and social hour. Devotional hour will follow at 6:30. Margaret Proehl, A2 of Iowa City, will lead in the discussion, "The Christian in Social Crises."

Alice L. Oshner Weds Sergt. Gene R. Hurst In California Service

Alice Louise Oshner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Oshner, 18 S. Governor street, became the bride of Technical Sergt. Gene Richard Hurst of Lemoore, Calif. Nov. 11 in Hanford, Calif.

The ceremony took place at 7:30 p. m. in the parlors of the Methodist church there, in the presence of a small group of friends. Sergt. and Mrs. John Monroe attended the couple.

The bride wore a white wool jersey street-length frock banded in green and brown wool, with accessories of chocolate brown. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Mrs. Hurst was graduated from Iowa City high school in 1939 and attended the University of Iowa for three years. Before her marriage she was employed in the business office of University hospital.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Hurst of Lone Tree, was graduated from Red Cloud high school in Red Cloud, Neb., in 1933, and entered the army early in 1940. He received his training at Denver, Col., and in Bakersfield, Calif.

Sergt. and Mrs. Hurst are now at home in Hanford, Calif., near Lemoore army flying school where the bridegroom is stationed.

Willis Cather and her work will be discussed by Mrs. F. B. Olsen at the Tuesday meeting of the Iowa City Woman's club literature department. The group will meet at 2:30 p. m. in the clubrooms of the Community building.

Lieut. Col. Bierman's Seahawks displayed their football might in Iowa stadium yesterday afternoon as they smothered the Nebraska Cornhuskers in a resounding 46-0 victory.

The navy eleven blazed the touchdown trail consistently to rack up seven counters against the bewildered Huskers who fought back gamely in the face of the murderous onslaught.

It was homecoming for the pre-flight base and the cadets and spectators made the most of the occasion: The colorful pageantry that accompanied the grid game simulated an Annapolis classic.

Cadets Parade

Eighteen hundred cadets marched onto the playing field and into the stands in colorful formation. The navy band displayed its musical talents by marching in various formations and playing some of the navy songs.

Coach Glen Presnell's gridders never realized their potentialities as their line was torn to shreds by the hard charging forwards of the Bierman eleven. The Cornhusker secondary was shaken by unrelenting blocks and tackles that often times seemed to be reminiscent of a Bierman team in the height of its glory at Minnesota.

The game was featured by outstanding individual performances of players from both elevens. Bobby Swisher raced 80 yards on a faked forward pass on the second play from scrimmage in the second half to push over a marker for the Seahawks.

Debus Punts 67 Yards

For the Huskers the outstanding play was a 67 yard quick kick from the toe of Howard Debus that went far in the end zone to set the Seahawks far back on their heels.

The Navy got off on the right foot as they immediately began to roll toward the Nebraska goal after winning the toss. Dick Fisher, former Ohio State star, pounded the line time and again with help from Forest Evashevski and Ed Jankowski to put across the first touchdown after but three minutes and 55 seconds of the first quarter had elapsed.

It took but nine plays from scrimmage for the navy squad to push over their first marker. George Svendsen, burly center and game captain, split the up-rights with a perfect kick to give the Seahawks a 7-0 advantage.

Evashevski Snags Pass

The second touchdown came on a succession of passes by Fisher. Evashevski grabbed the third in the end zone on a beautiful running catch to add the second marker.

The attempted conversion was blocked and the score stood at 13-0 for the Seahawks.

At this point Colonel Bierman sent in an entire new team composed mainly of cadets but Nebraska could not dent their line for any considerable gain.

Jim Langhurst toted the ball across for the third tally of the first half when he skirted left end and went over standing up. The conversion was good and the score stood at 20-0 at the half.

Seahawks Score Quickly

It took the Seahawks but six plays from scrimmage in the second half to push over two touchdowns, one by Swisher and the other by Ed Jankowski.

In the fourth quarter Langhurst and LeVoi added the final markers to give the Seahawks the lopsided score of 46-0.

Harold Hungerford was hurt on a fourth quarter play and was carried off the field. After the game he was taken to the university hospital where doctors reported a slight brain concussion. Hungerford will remain there for observation and it was reported that he will remain for a few days' rest.

Ladies' Outlook on Seahawk-Nebraska Tilt

'Adorable Hat' Quite the Style as Bob Swisher Goes on Touchdown Jaunt

By PEGGY KING and MARILYN MCGURDY

Dear Diary:

Am braving the blizzard weather today to take in the Seahawk-Nebraska football game. Under what inducement, I don't know, except an overwhelming desire to see those spermen-und-der-struction in action.

Have spent ten minutes pondering in my feminine ignorance which team was which until the man behind me pointed out the fact that only one team was on the field. Must have been the sweat-shirts that threw me off.

Who Kicked It?

Someone kicked off—not just sure who—and the ball landed in the stands on the 45 yard line. This game will be harder on the spectators than on the teams.

With binoculars I could probably see faces, numbers and other essentials. As it is, can only see broad, burly shoulders clad in heavenly shade of blue jersey which looks grand with gold—next season's style note!

First touchdown was made by the navy after one, no two, well a few minutes of play. (Can't rightly figure out which hand on the clock indicates it.)

Minnesota, or I mean Nebraska, goes steaming down the field until an intercepted pass gives the ball to the Navy. Glad to see the home team get it, but I hate to see the little fellows trying so hard and losing out.

His Name's Svendsen

The center—Svendsen, says the man behind me—looks like the lad who poses for the Charles Atlas ads—or perhaps the Caterpillar Tractor company.

The Navy made its second touchdown in nine minutes, says the man behind me.

Never can figure out why one man leaves the huddle first. Maybe he's heard all the stories before.

Looks like the second act. The Navy changed the entire crew—

Ohio State Crowned New Grid Champions Of Big 10 Conference

By JOHN COLBURN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State, a brilliant precision football machine, overpowered its bitter rival, Michigan, 21 to 7, to win an undisputed Western conference championship yesterday before 71,896 spectators.

It was the first time the Bucks have beaten Michigan since 1937 and it was the first win over a Michigan team coached by the wily Fritz Crisler.

The conference title was Ohio's second since 1939 and the first for its youthful coach, Paul Brown.

Ohio's three touchdowns came on passes. The passes that were handled with deadly accuracy despite a slippery ball. But the Bucks' winning margin of touchdowns came as its alert, hard-charging eleven capitalized on two breaks.

Michigan also set up its only score on passes although the touchdown was scored through the line.

The fact that both teams resorted to the aerial game attested to the power of Michigan's "seven oak posts," the linemen who played the entire 60 minutes with only one substitution, and Ohio's stellar line.

It was an Ohio lineman, Charles Csuri of Cleveland, who paved the way for the first score. He broke through in the second period to block a punt by Michigan's Tom Kuzma. Ohio got the ball on the Wolverine 35.

Little Les Horvath, 166 pounds of dynamite, hurled a 20-yard pass to speedy Paul Sarringhaus. Then the two halfbacks reversed the procedure. Horvath passed from the 12 to Sarringhaus over the goal line.

Ohio Leads at Half

Ohio led 7 to 0 at the half after stopping Michigan on the three-yard line following a 40-yard aerial attack. The half-time gun was all that kept Michigan from scoring.

After an exchange of punts in the third period, Ohio got the ball on its own 36. Three plays later Sarringhaus and lanky Bob Shaw, Ohio end, engineered a 58-yard touchdown pass play.

Michigan taking an out-of-bounds kickoff on their own 35, went to the Ohio 20 on two pass plays. One from Halfback Paul White to sub Halfback Bob Chapuis covered 30 yards and a Chapuis pass to End Elmer Madar was good for 15.

Then Bob Wiese, Michigan's sophomore fullback, started his battering ram attack. Except for one five-yard advance by White, Wiese pounded to the one, from where he went over. Jim Brieske, a substitute place-kicking artist, added the extra point.

After Fullback Gene Fekete, from the nine, tried a field goal that was low, Michigan advanced to its 32 where White fumbled and Ohio recovered. Sarringhaus passed to Horvath on the next play and the fleet-footed halfback got the ball on the five and scampered across.

Michigan got back to the Ohio 24 with three minutes to play, but Sarringhaus intercepted a Kuzma pass to end the threat.

Alert Badger Eleven Smashes Minnesota, 20 to 6, Before 46,000

First Wisconsin Score Comes in 3 Minutes; Gopher Drive Checked

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—An alert, efficient Wisconsin football team that smashed 61 yards to score in the first three minutes, checked Minnesota's power drive the rest of the way yesterday to gain a 20 to 6 victory before 46,000 fans.

The Gophers fought back gamely but Wisconsin had the stuff to pull through and turn Gopher mistakes to its own advantage.

Wisconsin scored first on a line smash, added a touchdown late in the second quarter on a pass after recovering a Minnesota fumble on the Gopher 32, and counted with a line plunge at the start of the final period after taking the ball on downs on the Minnesota 19.

Minnesota, repulsed by alert Badger defensive play on five occasions, scored late in the game on a line plunge after getting position on a pass.

The victory gave Wisconsin second place in the Big Ten race and one of the best records of recent years with eight wins, one defeat, and a tie.

Wisconsin took the opening kickoff back to its 31 and promptly started a touchdown march. Elroy Hirsch, fleet sophomore halfback, passed to Dave Schreiner, the Badger all-America end, on the 50. Schreiner was forced out of bounds on the Gopher 40.

Pat Harder, plunging fullback, then took a lateral from Quarterback Ashley Anderson and raced around right end to the 16. He went around left end to the 12 on the next shot and on a third try went over tackle to the four. Another smash through the line by Harder gave the Badgers a touchdown. Harder kicked the point and Wisconsin led, 7 to 0.

The Gophers smashed back to the Wisconsin 28 on quick opening smashes by Vic Kulbicki and Bill Daley, but lost the ball on downs on the 21 early in the second period. Later in the quarter the Gophers went to the Badger 49, but again Wisconsin held and partially blocked a punt to get out of danger.

Late in the quarter Herman Frickey, Gopher safety man, fumbled a punt on his 32 and Fred Negus, Wisconsin center, recovered. Hirsch passed to Schreiner, who caught it on the 17 and raced for a touchdown. Harder converted.

A fumble by Hirsch on his own 41, recovered by Dick Wildung, Minnesota's captain, put the Badgers in the hole in the third period and play was mostly in their territory the rest of the quarter. The Gophers crashed to the Wisconsin 10 but lost the ball on downs, and moved to the seven later on a series of smashes by Daley and Frickey, but Frickey's fumble stopped the drive.

Bob Baumann got off a great punt to push Minnesota to its 11 in the final period. The Gophers tried four plays, and a fourth down gamble gave Wisconsin the ball on the invaders' 19.

Harder passed to Schreiner on the four yard line and then cracked center to the two. Anderson went over for a touchdown on a quarterback sneak, but Harder missed the try for an extra point and Wisconsin led, 20 to 0.

Late in the period Daley, Gopher halfback, broke loose for a 44 yard right end run to Wisconsin's 15. Daley passed to Bill Garnas on the one yard line and then hit tackle for a score. Garnas' try for the extra point by a placement failed.

Rumored Rose Bowl Invitation Picked From Georgia's Pocket

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—You may bow in silent meditation tonight for a gridiron empire that was Georgia lost yesterday to a brilliant and under-rated Auburn, 27-13, and the crash of America's No. 1 football team probably resounded all the way to Pasadena, Calif.

While 20,000 hysterical fans looked on—a goodly majority cheering for Auburn—the Tigers of mild Jack Meagher snatched a rumored Rose Bowl invitation, out of Georgia's hip pocket and kicked it all around Memorial stadium in a decisive 56-minute rout.

Georgia won the toss and scored the first touchdown within four minutes of the opening kickoff. Then Auburn took the initiative and hammered Georgia until the boys from Athens held "uncle." Six minutes and 13 plays were all it took for big Jim Reynolds and will-o'-the-wisp Monk Gafford to whip-saw Georgia for a 7-6 lead, and from there on Auburn devoted itself exclusively to knocking Georgia out of a national championship.

At half-time Auburn was leading 14-6.

At the third quarter it was still 14-6, and Georgia fighting for a break to turn the tide. Then Auburn punched over another touchdown, watched Georgia match it, and finally lashed out with the

The spectacular upset—the second in two weeks for the up-and-down Auburn—snapped Georgia's string of victories at 15 straight and knocked out what had promised to be a national championship game at Athens a week hence when Georgia meets Georgia Tech. While Georgia was going down to defeat, Tech turned back a fighting Florida team, 20 to 7, to remain unbeaten and untied, and apparently move up from second to first place in national gridiron rankings.

Glum Wally Butts, Georgia's coach, took the defeat philosophically. "I figured it had to happen sometime," he said, adding: "We missed quite a few passes. Auburn deserved to win."

Happy Jack Meagher bubbled over: "We were glad to win, and I know Georgia was awfully disappointed."

A hard-charging line—harder-charging, by far, than anything Georgia had seen all season—was the difference between the two teams. It throttled Georgia's running attack, and rushed its passers until all-American Frankie Sinkwich and Charlie Trippi thought the roof was falling in.

Irish Ground Attack Pulverizes Wildcats In 27 to 20 Triumph

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Ohio Graham's brilliant passing failed to match the effects of Notre Dame's pulverizing ground attack led by Sophomore Fullback Corwin Clatt yesterday and the Irish snatched a 27 to 20 victory from Northwestern before a crowd of 30,000.

The Irish had to fight from behind twice in the first half to match Northwestern touchdowns and stalemate the score 13 to 13 at intermission, but in the third period, Notre Dame pushed the two markers to hole the Wildcats so badly they could not emerge despite a 48-yard drive to score in the last period.

It was the 22nd game in the schools' bitter rivalry and left the Irish with 17 wins in the series. The Purple have lost eight out of nine starts this season, including yesterday.

All the game's touchdown output was hooked on the end of long drives. Northwestern marched 20 for the first score with Ed Hirsch ramming over the 2. Clatt capped a 60 yard Irish push with a five yard back before the opening quarter closed.

A 70 yard march by Northwestern in the second quarter blossomed into a score when Graham passed 17 yards to Dud Kean. The Irish came back 61 yards with Clatt wriggling over from the 1.

Powerful Great Lakes Navy Eleven Shuts Out Stubborn Illinois Team, 6-0, Before 10,856

Bob Sweiger Scores For Sailors in Third On Plunge From One

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Great Lakes scored its fifth straight shutout victory yesterday, downing Illinois, 6 to 0, before a crowd of 10,856. It was the first time this year the Illini have failed to cross their opponents' goal line.

The Sailors made their lone touchdown in the third period when Bob Sweiger, former Minnesota fullback, plunged over from the one-yard line after his former Gopher teammate, Halfback Bruce Smith, had set up the play with a brilliant 41 yard sprint through the Illini secondary.

The rest of the time the powerful Sailors romped frequently through the Illinois line, compiling 269 yards by rushing. But when the pressure was too great the Illini doggedly stopped Great Lakes, which managed to produce only nine first downs from its yardage quota.

Smith and Sweiger carried the brunt of the Great Lakes offensive, gaining 103 and 69 yards rushing, respectively, but had help from John Popov, former Cincinnati player, Steve Belchick, from Western Reserve, and Ed Hefferman of St. Mary's.

Great Lakes missed a scoring chance in the first period when Bruce Smith fumbled on the Illini three-yard line. The Sailors threatened three times in the second period, only to lose the ball once on a fumble, again on an intercepted pass and a third time on downs after going to the Illini eight.

Illinois' best drive netted 50 yards to the Sailors' 17 just after Great Lakes scored in the third period. But Jimmy Smith's pass was intercepted by Popov on the goal line.

The defeat was the fourth in nine games for the Illini, who ended their home season with this contest.

Doublar Wins Handicap

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—Mrs. Ilyou Christopher's Doublar won the Prince George's autumn handicap yesterday, scoring by half a length over Mrs. E. D. Jacob's Plaudit to earn a purse of $4,350.

Indiana Beats Purdue, 20-0, Before 20,000

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Indiana university's powerful backfield turned out to be just that yesterday and for the first time the Hoosiers won the old oaken bucket three years in a row, by defeating Purdue, 20 to 0, before a chilled crowd of 20,000 fans.

As a matter of fact, it was a dull game as far as Indiana-Purdue games are concerned. The crimson-shirted Hoosiers never let the game get out of control from the time Hugh (Knocky) McKinnis punched over for the first touchdown in the second period.

Only once were they threatened and that was in the third period when southpaw Tony Berto helped pitch the Boiler-makers to the Indiana 16. A missed signal which cost 16 yards and a bad pass ended the threat, however.

The final quarter was all Indiana's. Lou Saban ran 20 yards off right tackle for the second Hoosier touchdown and then McKinnis drove over from the one-yard line for the other marker.

It was Indiana's sixth victory in nine games this fall and gave Purdue a season record of eight losses against only a triumph over Northwestern.

Indiana still has a game, against Fort Knox, next Saturday.

Surprising Fordham Spills Missouri, 20-12, In Tilt at New York

NEW YORK (AP)—George Cheverko, who spent most of the day on the bench because of his indigestion, played against Boston College last week, brought Fordham a touchdown in the final 38 seconds yesterday to tie the contest with Missouri in a re-play of the January 1 Sugar bowl meeting. The final score was 20 to 12.

With Fordham ahead, 13 to 12, through the play of his freshman replacement, Al Litwa, Cheverko dropped back for a fourth down punt as most of the 11,000 spectators headed for the exits.

The ball bounced from his fingers and by the time Cheverko had retrieved it and gotten his bearings he was hemmed in on his own nine. But he straightened out, shot through virtually the entire Missouri team on the 25 and tip-toed down the sidelines.

By the time he reached the Missouri 45 he was greeted by a reception committee from the Tiger secondary but lateralled to Tom Potter, substitute guard, who pounded the rest of the way home.

Lafayette Ties Lehigh

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Lafayette and Lehigh, staging the 76th game in the nation's longest unbroken gridiron series, battled to a 7-7 tie here yesterday before 18,000 fans. It was the third deadlock in the long rivalry and the first stalemate since 1889.

Only a stout defense by Lehigh prevented a Lafayette triumph as the Leopards reached the one-yard stripe in the closing moments of play.

As Reynolds glided for home, he saw over one shoulder the whole Aegean sea with the island of Crete "like a pebble in a puddle" below him. On his right he looked beyond Bengasi into the Gulf of Sirte. On the left was the entire length of Palestine to the Lebanon mountains. In the distance was the Egyptian coast, and Reynolds could see over the whole Nile delta to beyond Cairo.

The length of the Suez canal from the Mediterranean to the Red sea was open to his glance.

Reynolds has been awarded the distinguished flying cross for his exploit.

to the advance base to effect their rescue.

Meanwhile, it became known that the eighth man in the flight party, Sgt. Alexander Kaczmarczyk of Torrington, Conn. had died on the raft with Rickenbacker's group, and had been buried at sea.

Rickenbacker is in fine spirits on the south Pacific island after his three weeks at sea in a rubber boat and will be able to travel in a week, a joint army and navy release said.

Captain Cherry, whose home is Abilene, Tex., and Lieutenants Whitaker and De Angeli also are improving.

The condition of Colonel Adamson was reported satisfactory but his progress was described as slow due to complications. His condition, however, is not critical and he will be able to travel in about a month.

Staff Sergeant Reynolds is recovering rapidly and his condition is satisfactory. Private Bartek is still a bed patient but he is quickly gaining strength.

Seal Packets To Be Mailed Out Tomorrow

All County Residents, Students and Faculty Will Be Recipients

Christmas seals will be mailed tomorrow to all residents of Johnson county and University of Iowa students and faculty members for the opening of the nation's 36th annual tuberculosis Christmas seal campaign.

Officers of the Johnson County Tuberculosis and Public Health association expressed confidence that the county quota of $4,659.85 would be reached or exceeded this year as in past years.

"In war time, America cannot afford passively to sacrifice 60,000 lives each year to tuberculosis. Our community must do its part," Harold M. Schuppert, director of the 1942 county campaign, declared in a statement last night.

In a letter, accompanying each mailing, the Christmas seal sale committee asks the recipients to buy the package of seals. The enclosed seals are not a command to buy the given amount but an opportunity to take active part in the tuberculosis control program by allowing the individual to purchase as many as he wishes, the county sale chairman explained.

If all are not purchased, recipients are asked to return those which are not retained. Each packet contains a tax return envelope addressed to the treasurer of the county association, W. J. Parizek. All persons receiving these letters are urged to return them to the proper authorities at their own earliest possible convenience.

The 1942 Christmas tuberculosis seal is designed by Dale Nicholls, one of the country's most famous young artists, and shows a red barn and a white farmhouse in the background of a snowy country scene.

Boy scouts yesterday distributed Christmas seal posters and window displays to be placed in Iowa City business houses, Owen B. Thiel, local scout executive, announced. Members of Lincoln school troop 9 who assisted in the distribution were Bob Ransley, Bob Crum, Billy Teeters, Allan Wendler, Dick Larew and Jim Green. Roy Johnson is scoutmaster.

Study Group to Meet

Mrs. R. M. Featherstone will read a paper on the "Baby's Way of Sleeping" when child study group II of A. A. U. meets Tuesday at 7:45 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Chesley Posey, 1040 Newton road. A general discussion will follow the talk.

University Club Plans Partner-Bridge Party

Women of University club will have a partner-bridge at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, in their Iowa Union clubrooms. Members are asked to arrange for their own partners. The committee in charge includes Gertrude Smith, Mrs. H. J. Dane, and Mrs. Jacob Cornog.

"The Consultants Know Where to Go"
PAT WHITEFORD DOLORES RIELLY MARGE HORN ALICE VAN GORDEN

The first glimpse of the holiday season comes with next Thursday... yes, it's Thanksgiving... one of our bigger and better holidays... having lots of guests that day? For one of the best suggestions we know... it's Thanksgiving dinner at the HUDDLE... besides having all the choice of holiday delicacies... turkey and all the trimmings... you'll find that eating at the HUDDLE will be an extra pleasure when you taste the delicious food... oh, yes, and the HUDDLE is a pleasant place to eat... so it is time you put away your Thanksgiving worries and come to the HUDDLE and have a dinner that will match any that Mother used to serve... yes, it's the HUDDLE for Thanksgiving...

My momma done tol' me that a fur coat is no longer a luxury but a college must for every girl's wardrobe. Monday and Tuesday at ANN STACH'S you can buy a fur coat for the winters to come... at convenient terms. Muakrat, caracul, skunk and caracul all bearing the label of the Great Northern Fur company will be for sale at ANN STACH'S. Do you have an old fur coat? Bring it to ANN STACH'S for a liberal trade-in allowance... the shop will be open until 9 both evenings.

Block that winter wind with a SUN VALLEY... yes, we mean WARD'S flannel shirts... be it a light weight flannel... or a medium weight... or a heavy... you'll find the Scottish plaids of blues and reds and greens are just what you need to wear with your flannel shirts and plaided slacks... You'll find them just the thing for classroom wear... for winter sports... for fun parties... yes, and for just general wear... that they are just what you have been looking for and need... come to WARD'S and select your plaid flannel shirts.

Oh, and by the way, John Atkinson, Delta Chi (the hard-to-get), hung his pin on Marian Ryan, Westlawn, 'other day... What'd we tell you about those two last week?

Lotta Mae Jamison, Alpha Xi, and Ted Lewis, Sigma Chi, have made their pins secure via the chaining method.

"For food and health and happy days..." will be the song of Thanksgiving in the hearts of all this week... Especially when family tables are set with fresh and delicious foods from LAGO-MARCINO GRUPE CO... In planning Thanksgiving dinners, the nutritional factor must not be omitted at any cost and so, for a well-balanced, tasty and old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner, remember that LAGO-MARCINO GRUPE CO. has furnished your dealer with just what you will need.

There's a rumor about campus that Lynn Jefferson and Ruth Moyle are engaged... maybe it's just a rumor... and maybe not.

Come one! Come all! Meet your friends at the CENTRAL TAP. It's everyone's hangout. You'll always have a good time at Don's. What atmosphere! What freshness! What refreshments (coke, etc. etc.) !!! Be one of the many singing the familiar ditty—"Let's go down to the CENTRAL TAP and then come home and study."

Laundry! Do you send yours home or are you one of the wise students who saves himself and his Mom a lot of time, bother and money by the NEW PROCESS method? It's the profitable thing to do... Dial 4177... NEW PROCESS LAUNDRY—your clothes will come back bright as new!

KEEP THOSE CHAPS AWAY—the cold and wind cause a lot of discomfort leaving the face and hands chapped and rough—start now and prevent it all with Almond Lotion or Green Lotion both for hands and face and priced low at DRUG-SHOP EDWARD S. ROSE—Pharmacist.

The Crossed Wires department of Campus Consultants evidently stuck its neck out a little too far last Sunday when it came through with a sad, sad (but unintentional) error which romantically involved the wrong Pre-Flight school sailor with the wrong girl friend and was promptly and effectively stepped on by our contemporary, "The Spindrift"... Incidentally, we don't know Chuck M., but if he can take it, so can we...

Cold weather will soon be to stay... And you'll be too busy this winter to be spending all your spare moments shoveling coal... Keep your home comfortable and save time and money by installing a Fire-Tender... See it at LAREW CO.

And Le Nore Neumann, Theta, and Don McIntyre are steadyin' it these days.

"The time has come," the walrus said, "to think of many things..." What could be better to reflect on than a pair of strictly feminine shoes for date-donning to be found at MUELLER'S... Now is the time to fit your feet and your fancy at MUELLER'S with suede, kid or gabardine in the smart fall colors... at prices below five dollars. Heels for every height, but whatever your height you'll rate an A+ on your next date if your shoes are from MUELLER'S.

Surprise of the week at the Alpha Chi house... Doris Alita received that pin belonging to Larry Barrett, Delta Sig.

Accessories for your formal will add just the sparkle you seek for the gay party season that is getting into full swing... TOWNER'S have brilliant clips... formal hair ornaments... and bracelets that add just the touch... to hold that glittering memory... yes, select your formal jewelry accessories at TOWNER'S...

Spent your afternoons and Saturday mornings at the PLATON BOWLING ALLEY. It's a wonderful pastime and will give you vim, vigor and vitality "oomph" you crave. Join the fun and the crowd at the PLATON BOWLING ALLEY.

Strut up to the MAD HATTER'S TEA ROOM for those special luncheons and dinners. It has the right atmosphere, and delicious food. MAD HATTER'S is on the tip of everyone's tongue when someone asks, "Where shall we eat?"

Sure, walking's good for you... But it just "ain't the thing to do" when you're taking your best gal to one of these big Iowa U parties and you must make a good impression... That's right, take a YELLOW CAB... In fair weather or fine you'll find one at your service and ready to go anywhere in Iowa City... and here's a telephone number that's very easy to remember... 3131, YELLOW CAB... a favorite with students and townspeople alike... Next time you want a taxi, just ask for a YELLOW CAB.

Congratulation to Peg King, Kappa, and Chuck Jones, SAE of last year and now a Pre-Flight cadet... They are engaged as of last weekend.

Sweet and Swing... slated for extra-curricular fun... are the streamlined recordings available to one and all at SEAR'S recent department... and those pieces that you have been humming... hearing and juking playing all week... and you've been waiting to be your own... you'll find them all at SEAR'S... from the motion picture "Orchestra Wives" comes two Glen Miller recordings... AT LAST... AND... SERENADE IN BLUE... all vocals by Ray Eberly... And for the solution to a Christmas gift problem give records to your friends... you'll find they make wonderful lasting gifts... make your gift selection at SEAR'S RECORD DEPARTMENT...

Spent your afternoons and Saturday mornings at the PLATON BOWLING ALLEY. It's a wonderful pastime and will give you vim, vigor and vitality "oomph" you crave. Join the fun and the crowd at the PLATON BOWLING ALLEY.
