Battle Rages Over Tunisia

Soviets Destroy 50 Big German Transport Planes Near Volga

6,000 More Nazis Slain as Russian Troops Gain In Drive to Close Trap Around Enemy at Stalingrad

MOSCOW, Wednesday (AP)—Russian airmen have destroyed 50 big German transport planes trying to supply Nazi troops fighting against Red army encirclement in the Stalingrad area and the Soviet armies continue to advance in that sector and on the central front west of Moscow, it was announced early today. The regular noon communique yesterday and the midnight bulletin disclosed that approximately 6,000 more Germans had fallen on the snow-covered battlefields in an increasingly stubborn effort to hold up the Red army. Twenty of the big tri-motored Junkers planes were shot down and 30 were destroyed on the ground on Monday alone as the Germans attempted "to bring up supplies and war materials" in the area west of Stalingrad between the Volga and Don rivers, the midnight bulletin said. Soviet reports on air activities generally are a day late.

Lower Trade Barriers Between U.S., Canada For Post-War Period

Two Countries Agree On Method to Settle Economic Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Canada and the United States disclosed last night that they had reached an agreement looking toward a postwar world in which trade barriers would be lowered and the production, exchange and consumption of goods greatly enlarged for the "satisfaction of human needs." The agreement, embodied in an exchange of notes made public last night by the state department, sets forth the principles which will guide the governments of the two countries in approaching the problem of economic settlements after the war.

In language similar to that employed in the lend-lease agreements between the United States and Britain, China, Russia and other countries, the two governments formally agreed that postwar settlements must be of a sort to promote mutually advantageous economic relations between them as well as the betterment of world-wide economic relations.

Indicating the objectives of such post war settlements the exchange of notes incorporates the aims set forth in article VI of the lend-lease agreement—that is:

"To provide appropriate national and international measures to expand production, employment and the exchange and consumption of goods, which are the material foundations of the liberty and welfare of all peoples; to eliminate all forms of discriminatory treatment in international commerce; to reduce tariffs and other trade barriers; and, generally, to attain the economic objectives of the Atlantic charter."

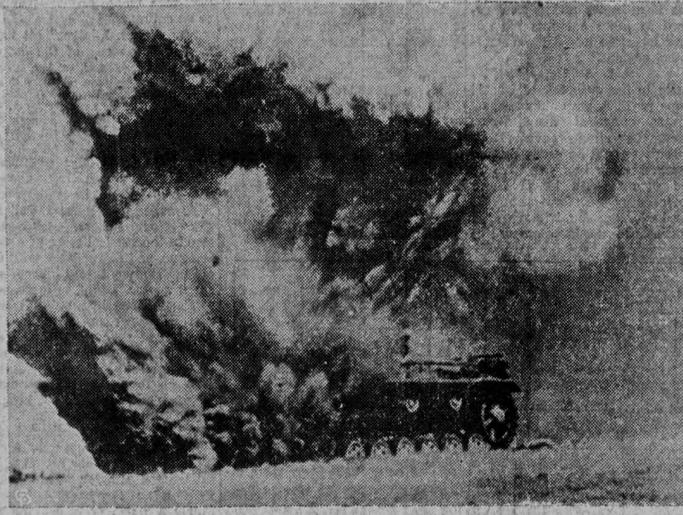

With these aims in mind, a state department announcement explained, the governments of the United States and Canada will soon begin conversations, between themselves and with representatives of other united nations "with a view to establishing now the foundations upon which we may create after the war a system of enlarged production, exchange, and consumption of goods for the satisfaction of human needs in our country, in Canada, and in all other countries which are willing to join in this great effort."

Japs Trapped at Buna Send for Destroyers

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Wednesday (AP)—Americans and Australians slowly drew tighter their ring of men and steel around the entrapped Japs at Buna in northeast New Guinea and the enemy, aware of the growing peril, is sending four destroyers in an apparent reinforcement attempt, the high command said today.

Having divided the Jap forces at Buna and Gona, "our ground forces are slowly contracting their grip on the enemy," the communique stated.

ROMMEL'S PANZER FORCES LOSE ANOTHER TANK

A volcano of dust, sand, metal and smoke erupts in this unusual photo as a British shell scores a direct hit on an axis heavy tank somewhere on the Libyan desert. As the British Eighth army continues its westward push, the axis armored forces have been cut down to the zero point.

West, Still Screaming And Kicking, Joins East in Gas Ration

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three little words—"fill 'er up"—disappeared from the national language yesterday as the west, still kicking and screaming, joined the east in gasoline rationing.

They'll probably be replaced by "gimme four" since four gallons likely will be the average purchase of the average motorist who'll reluctantly part with his ration coupons.

Unlike the east, which was forced into gas rationing months ago by a shortage, the oil producing west started off with car tanks full, not to mention a jug and a few beer bottles filled and tucked away in the garage—just for an emergency.

For instance there was the motorist at Dallas, Tex., who rolled up to a filling station and said "fill 'er up—E-A-S-Y." The pump hand stopped on three pennies worth.

At Winfield, Kan., one station manager, along about midnight sighed and pointed to a cigarette paper with some tobacco sprinkled on it lying on a table. "I laid it there at noon and haven't had time to roll it yet," he explained. "How many, sir?"

Gasoline Launch Set Afire by Explosion

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—A gasoline launch ferrying approximately 40 navy yard workers across the harbor to Port Orchard was set afire by an explosion late yesterday, but operators of the boat said all aboard were rescued.

AIR CADET GETS CHINESE AWARD

Not many aviation cadets possess a military decoration but Aviation Cadet William L. Birch, 25, of Laguna Beach, Cal., has two! Cadet Birch is shown, right, accepting the Chinese government's Celestial Order of the Clouds from Col. Michael F. Davis, commanding officer of the San Antonio, Tex., Cadet Center, where Birch attends pre-flight school. Birch has already received the United States Distinguished Flying Cross. He was a bombardier-sergeant on Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's Tokyo flight.

Bag Destroyer, 4 Other Craft In Far Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—The virtually unsung heroes of America's Pacific fleet, the submariners who often stalk their quarry in Japan's closely guarded home waters, have sunk five more Nipponese ships, including a destroyer, and damaged two others, one of which probably sank.

This bag of seven vessels raised to 148 the number of enemy ships announced as sunk or damaged by American undersea action in the Pacific since the war started. Naval officials said this total represented one of the greatest contributions made in the steady campaign of American forces to reduce Japan's ability to maintain her far-flung supply lines in the western Pacific and the China sea.

The ships announced sunk in yesterday's communique were a destroyer of unidentified class and size, a nine thousand-ton tanker and three cargo ships of 8,000, 6,300 and 2,000 tons respectively. In addition a 12,000 ton cargo ship was damaged and believed sunk and a 6,000 ton cargo ship was damaged. The total tonnage sunk or damaged was 43,300.

The communique dealt chiefly with the terse reports of the undersea operations but also mentioned the fighting on Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, disclosing that both American artillery and fighter planes were supporting army and marine ground patrols in their campaign to clean up Japanese outposts in the vicinity of our positions on the island.

Prior to issuance of the communique Secretary Knox told a press conference that United States submarines in the Pacific were "doing a swell job." He had been asked for comment on stories from Honolulu regarding the exploits of a submarine commanded by Lieut. Commander Thomas B. Klakring, 37, of Annapolis.

His submarine was credited with sinking of enemy ships totalling 70,000 tons. He worked close in to the shores of Japan before loosing his deadly torpedoes and on one occasion his officers and men were so near shore they could watch pony races. They operated under the very muzzles of enemy shore batteries.

To date American submarines have sunk 98 Japanese ships of all types as announced in communiqués here, probably sunk 22 and damaged 28 for a total bag of 148 vessels.

Tony Martin Let Out Of United States Navy

Former Radio Singer Receives Honorable Discharge From Duty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tony Martin, former radio singer and more recently a chief specialist in the navy, has been discharged for "unfitness," the 12th naval district said yesterday. He was ordered to report to his draft board. The order was effective Sunday noon.

To Report for Draft The navy said Martin, a principal witness in the recent court-martial of Lieut. Comdr. Maurice N. Aroff here, was notified of the action while on Treasure Island, and that he told naval officials he would report to his draft board in Beverly Hills immediately.

He was quoted as saying he did not "want to walk around in civilian clothes." The navy said the order was "not a dishonorable discharge and does not carry any degradation." Those who saw Martin leave the post said he was in tears.

In Charge of Shows Naval officials said Martin, who had been in charge of staging shows at the Treasure Island base in San Francisco bay, twice applied for sea duty.

Lieut. Comdr. Aroff, whom a navy spokesman in Washington recently said had been discharged from the service, was charged with accepting a $950 automobile from Martin as a gift for "facilitating" Martin's enlistment.

There is no record of any charges ever having been placed against witnesses in the Aroff case, however.

F.R. May Recommend Limiting Investment, Inheritance Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt said yesterday he was curious to know what congress would do about limiting incomes from investments and inheritances, now that salaries have been restricted by executive action to a gross of $87,200.

Earlier an informed source said the president would ask congress next month to limit investment income to the same figure by taxation. Speaking at a press conference, the president declined to confirm this directly.

He did, however, point out that he made a similar recommendation last year. In addition he said that the country was vigorously criticizing the uneven situation of a ceiling on salaries but none on investment incomes.

Axis Rushing Reinforcements As Air Control Fight Mounts

Boston Bans Dancing At 1,161 Night Clubs As Result of Blaze

City, State Probers Say Club a 'Tinderbox,' Drapes Like 'Gauze'

BOSTON (AP)—A ban was clamped last night on all amusement and dancing in 1,161 Boston night clubs, hotels and restaurants as an aftermath of the Coconut Grove fire disaster, while separate city and state probes produced testimony that the night club was a "tinderbox construction" and that flames had raced like lightning through draperies that "looked like gauze."

While scores of funerals of fire victims were held throughout New England, there were these developments.

1. The death toll of the Saturday night blaze was revised downward by the Boston committee on public safety from 474 to 460, but unofficial complications indicated the final cost in human life would approach 500.

2. Governor Leverett Saltonstall told members of the Boston licensing commission to "act first and let someone question your authority later."

3. Assistant District Attorney Frederick T. Doyle opened a separate inquiry into the fire, under the direction of the state's attorney general, and announced that all testimony would be private.

4. Doyle accepted a letter from a prominent Bostonian, written in January, 1939, to a Coconut Grove employe, saying: "There are several things you ought to give particular attention to. Your exits are very bad. You have a tinderbox construction."

5. A Boston fire department inquest heard for the first time a statement that a sailor had unscrewed an electric light bulb in the basement Melody Lounge of the club, where the fire started, so that he could "mug his girl."

6. Stanley Tomaszewski, 16-year-old bar boy, who lighted a match to replace the bulb and thus started the conflagration, was held under custody in a Boston hotel.

Military Authorities, WPB Settle Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt said yesterday that differences between the war production board and the military authorities over what he called fringe differences of opinion had been settled and without any interference with the war production program.

Asked at a press conference whether he had prepared a directive defining the WPB's power over production scheduling, the president replied in the negative.

'Victory Rally' in Accord With OWI Request to Observe Dec. 7

Cooperating with the Office of War Information, the university will hold a mass rally commemorating United States' entrance in the war, Monday, Dec. 7. The assembly already had been planned when the university committee on military affairs received word from the OWI asking that some recognition of Pearl Harbor be made.

Scheduled for 8 p. m. in Macbride auditorium, the "Victory Rally" will have President Virgil M. Hancher and Prof. T. Hew Roberts as main speakers, and will present war music played by the university band.

The OWI suggested a program dealing with what has been done in one year and what still must be done in terms of work, sacrifice and fight; rededicating our lives to maintaining a concept of living which is more than individual life; honoring those who have already given their lives in this war, and giving thanks for our surviving the attacks of ruthless enemies.

Professor Roberts will interpret the war as it stands the night of Dec. 7, exactly one year after this country's entrance. He will also consider postwar problems, and the problem of maintaining an effective peace.

Report Yanks Already at Coast; Darlan Takes Reins in Africa

LONDON (AP)—An air struggle of an intensity unequalled since the battle of Britain was reported raging over Tunisia last night as Germans and Italians rushed in reinforcements by sea and air in a frantic bid to keep their footholds on the coastal rim and British, Americans and French drove spearheads forward to slice them into at least three pockets.

The Morocco radio said last night that one of these spearheads, composed of Americans and French, already had driven to the east coast between Gabes and Sfax, cutting out one pocket.

In the north the Morocco broadcast added, the allies have driven through enemy minefields and overrun the resistance of German heavy tanks in the drive to divide the Germans in Tunis and Bizerte.

Apparently, the radio continued, the British First army has now come up "against the nucleus of enemy resistance." Lieut.-Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has thrown everything in his aerial armory, from Flying Fortresses, to twin-tailed fighters, in a virtually non-stop assault on Bizerte, Tunis, Sfax and Gabes, the four key coastal points held by the axis, in the last 24 hours, said dispatches from allied headquarters in north Africa where a spokesman described the battle as at a critical stage.

Wes Gallagher, Associated Press correspondent at allied headquarters, who witnessed air battles over Greece and reported the first great clashes between the German air force and American Flying Fortresses flying from Britain, said the struggle now taking place in north Africa was unequalled in intensity since the assault on England in 1940-41.

Round-the-clock allied assaults were reported in some dispatches to have made axis air bases at Bizerte virtually untenable, with Hitler forced to withdraw some of his planes to operating bases in Sicily.

But the Germans were trying desperately to halt the devastating series of raids, and American airmen flying twin-motored P-38 Lightnings (Lockheed fighters) encountered Germany's fastest high-altitude fighters, Focke-Wulf 190's and Messerschmitt 109's for the first time over north Africa.

Hitler was bringing in air reserves from western Europe and the Russian front to stem the tide. One German pilot shot down had been flying over Stalingrad less than two weeks ago.

The Germans and Italians also were rushing in reinforcements by sea and air for the 20,000 combat troops and thousands of communications and air force men who, authoritative quarters estimated, were already in Tunisia, and were busy trying to consolidate bridgeheads on the east coast at Sfax and Gabes.

The British First army, with American armored forces now making up about a fourth of its strength, exerted heavy pressure beyond Djedeida, 12 miles west of Tunis, where a wedge was being driven between Tunis and Bizerte, and at Mateur, 28 miles south of Bizerte, in a direct attack on the naval base.

Darlan Takes Over Authority as Chief Of State in Africa

Acts on Assumption Petain Is Prisoner Of Germans in Vichy

LONDON (AP)—Admiral Jean Darlan, acting with the assertion that Marshal Petain is a prisoner of the Germans at Vichy, has taken over authority as chief of state in French Africa, it was announced last night from Morocco.

The Morocco radio said Darlan, who is cooperating with the allies, had set up an imperial council to advise him. This was announced after Darlan had conferred with Auguste Nogues and Pierre Boisson, governors general in Morocco and French West Africa, which embraces Dakar.

Army of 300,000 The London Daily Mail said the purpose of these French north African conferences was to centralize plans for the immediate creation of a French army of 300,000 men to fight with the allies.

"A special staff appointed by Admiral Darlan will negotiate with American officers for the supply of munitions, food and equipment under the lease-lend agreement," the newspaper said.

"Darlan also asked Washington's aid in securing General De Gaulle's cooperation which he feels is urgently needed."

Enhance Political Power Fighting French quarters in London, who still regard Darlan as a traitor to France because of his Vichy record, said they assumed that Darlan's assumption of his new powers was in an effort to strengthen his political position.

Presumably, it was his intention to set up a full-fledged French government in north and West Africa.

Complaints Over the Kaiser Deal

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Practically Every Shipbuilding Agency Has Protested to F.D.R.

WASHINGTON — Practically every important government agency having anything to do with the vital shipbuilding end of the war has privately protested to Mr. Roosevelt against the action of his own national labor relations board, (not war labor board) in the Kaiser shipbuilding case.

Complaining government authorities include none less than WPB's Donald Nelson, presidential advisor Isadore Lubin, the navy department, Admiral Land and his assistants at the maritime commission. They did not see how another government bureau could do this to the war effort.

If there was one employer and one group of unionists in this war of production who have stood out above all others, it is Kaiser and his workers in three west coast shipyards.

If there are any 40,000 workers in the country whose continuous and undistracted attention to their jobs is needed above all the others in a war where the front lines in Africa, Guadalcanal and New Guinea must be supplied daily across vast seas, it is Kaiser's 40,000 men.

But here comes the national labor relations board actually promoting a labor dispute in those yards. It accepted and ordered hearings on a complaint made by the CIO.

The yards are 100 percent union, all organized under AFL, with a closed shop. Not only that, but they are producing efficiently, with such record-breaking performances as the building and complete equipping of a ship in eight days.

The only question involved is whether the CIO should be allowed to muscle in on the AFL's war business there.

The CIO side of the story is that Kaiser had to drop about 700 welders, who were CIO men, because they would not join the AFL, and that the remnants of an old independent union of welders, who went on strike out there a year or so ago, is anti-AFL but must work under AFL, all of which is no doubt true.

The AFL says the welding and CIO group amounts to no more than two percent of the total number of workers.

But if the percentage was 20, 40 or 80 percent, there could be no more unpatriotic viciousness than in starting a labor dispute that would agitate these successful workers at this time in violation of the labor stabilization agreement for shipyards.

No doubt this is the type of union organizer Admiral Land had in mind in New York when he over-enthusiastically said he would like to shoot some. Shooting is the usual penalty for treasonous acts. But in this case Admiral Land would be required by the facts to shoot the national labor relations board also, with a water pistol at least.

Of the great new independent shipbuilders in this war, first to disappear by government action was Higgins in New Orleans. He was 100 percent AFL and the country sang his praises.

By government direction, (shortage of metal, they said) he was put out of the shipbuilding business, and now he has an airplane contract.

Mr. Kaiser's troubles with the government seem to be following a similarly peculiar line.

Some people scoff at Kaiser's records of ships launched in record-breaking time. It is true the parts are all pre-fabricated and only assembled, but the assembly system he has devised could be continuous if pre-fabrication work could keep pace with him. At least, no one has a better record.

If anything was needed to finally extinguish the national labor relations board, which has been dead anyway since the war started, this should do it.

The Question of Ickes' New Cabinet Appointment

Messrs. Bill Green and Phil Murray were called into the White House like a couple of walking military secrets to get the news interior secretary Harold Ickes was to be the new labor secretary. They went in the back door.

Mr. Roosevelt did not ask them about his choice. He told them. The idea, therefore, was the president's own, which is all right in a technical way as the cabinet is his personal business, although his selections must be confirmed by the senate.

If Mr. Green had his fingers tightly crossed when he went out, he did not exhibit them. While Ickes has seemed to lean toward in his political activities, the AFL had no trouble with him when he handled the public works administration, dealing largely with AFL unions.

And, after all, the appointment of any male adult would mean that the labor department of this government would cease to be a women's and children's bureau, and assume the importance of a labor ministry, even if it did not handle manpower and draft.

Nevertheless, you will have to give any political observer here large odds if you want to bet that Ickes, within six months, has not called everyone in both the AFL and CIO every word in the dictionary and a few more he made up.

Either that, or he will give labor such a thoroughly political administration as to deprive the government of any pretense of judicial attitude on the subject—or both.

Plan for Local Restaurants

More than 10 percent of Iowa City's restaurants, cafes and tea rooms have altered their operation schedules to provide for closing one full day a week because of the shortage of help. Others are closing during the slack hours—usually from 2 to 4:30 and in the evenings.

Of the 19 establishments in downtown Iowa City, only nine are of first-class standing with adequate facilities to serve 40 or more persons at a time. With several of these closing at once, other smaller restaurants and cafes are crowded to capacity with taverns and beer parlors taking the overflow.

Although it has not been tried in Iowa, a plan has been put into operation in southern Illinois whereby the eating establishments close on different days, so there is always enough open to serve the public needs.

Perhaps if the proprietors of the local restaurants, cafes and tea rooms would join together to form some organized system of alternating closing days the present rush hour stampede could be avoided.

It could easily be worked out so that one-third of the restaurants close every third day with the number including a proportional amount of large and small establishments. On weekends when the town is packed with navy cadets, all of them could be open—running full schedule if necessary.

Under such a program, there would be no exceptionally slack periods, full utilization of help could be reached and business would generally improve. If desirable, regular, full-time waitresses and cashiers could alternate with the schedule, working a three-way shift in three different establishments. Minor details of operation could be worked out among the various proprietors whose businesses operated on corresponding schedules. More general problems would be brought before a board of directors composed of three representatives, one from each of the three shifts.

The plan offers consolation both to the hungry customers and the work-wearied restaurateur. For the proprietor it solves the problems of help, unnecessary running expenses and poor business. For the customer it means a hearty meal prepared and served quickly and efficiently—and no more hurried lunch hours!

Glamorizing the Potato

For those of you who realize the seriousness of the pending food shortages, there's a new Greek dish that glamorizes the lowly potato—still a plentiful food product. It's been called "mnsaka" and has lots of potatoes, a batch of other things and plenty of imagination.

The Britishers, long since tired of the usual potato chips, French fries, boiled or mashed varieties gratefully appreciate the efforts of the team of Greek connoisseurs, and regularly place it on their menus.

Chief attraction: It requires only the most plentiful of foods—cheese, bread crumbs, tomatoes, parsley, pepper, nutmeg, margarine, milk, dried eggs and a bit of flour. No meat!

'Yank' for Civilian Consumption

"The Yank" official Army newspaper, has run into trouble. It is having financial difficulties, and it now offers itself for general civilian consumption. Formerly, it was restricted to service men.

"The Yank" is well worth the money invested. Its humor is as choice as any of that in the "New Yorker," although a bit more on the rugged side. By buying "The Yank" you aid to the enjoyment of the service men, and increase your own amusement a hundred fold.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—A wartime shortage of important drugs, which a year ago loomed as an alarming handicap in the treatment of disease, has been eased considerably by increased production of medicinal plants in this country.

A quickly-expanded acreage of plants which provide such essential drugs as belladonna, digitalis and henbane has relieved a critical supply problem. Helpful also have been synthetics, among these being synthetic camphor and atabrine, a limited substitute for quinine.

Still pressing, however, is our need for quinine, which was imported largely from the Netherlands East Indies and is now required in large amounts for our armed forces in tropical and semi-tropical regions.

Prior to the outbreak of war in Europe in 1939, we obtained most of our botanical drugs from abroad, including even those plants that could be grown in this country. Mainly this was because these plants could be produced more cheaply with low-cost hand labor in foreign countries.

Considering the large amount of drugs consumed in this country, the acreage required to provide ample supplies of those medicinal plants which can be grown in the U. S. A. is astonishingly small. Take digitalis, which is indispensable as a heart medicine. Only 75 acres in a favorable location is required to furnish the quantity of the drug usually imported annually.

Meanwhile, Uncle Sam is conserving stocks of quinine, which is particularly valuable in the treatment of malaria. The army and the navy have priority on quinine. The drug can be obtained by civilians only on prescription for use in malaria.

Steps are being taken to develop a quinine industry in the Andes region of South America, where the trees are native. Another important medicinal plant which is being considered for production in Latin-America is nux vomica, which gives us strychnine.

We are still getting adequate supplies of strychnine, however, from India by way of Africa. Unlike coffee and bananas, a small cargo of precious drugs goes a long way in meeting American demands.

HOLLYWOOD NIGHTS SOUNDS

Walter Pidgeon Can Play Walter Pidgeon

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Walter Pidgeon is an excellent actor but he can play Walter Pidgeon too. You saw a very good performance of Walter Pidgeon in "Mrs. Miniver."

Miniver was an English business man, a family man, a gentleman, a man's man, down to earth and good-humored. Pidgeon is all of these, only he's an American business man whose business happens to be acting.

Since "Mrs. Miniver" his name is considered one of the hottest, to use trade jargon, on the screen. Fans want Pidgeon pictures. They will get him again soon in "White Cargo," and so many films have been mentioned for him that he himself does not know what's next. Most likely: "Madame Curie," again with Greer Garson.

This would not be Hollywood if Pidgeon, now successful, had not once flopped here. He was a star in the musical craze of a decade ago, and disappeared with the craze. He went to Chicago and spent a year "trying to learn how to sing—I thought it only fair as I was supposed to be a singing star." But then he saw the old hand writing. He saw romantic singers who could still sing but who no longer looked romantic. He went to New York and became a straight actor.

When Hollywood beckoned him back from stage successes there, he could afford to say no. Universal wanted him for "Show Boat" with Irene Dunne and offered $1,000 a week, or $8,000 for the picture. They raised it to $1,500, and Walter still said "Don't be ridiculous." Pressed for his own price, he said $50,000. They faint.

Quickly the word spread that Pidgeon was "a $50,000 man and refusing less." He got more offers, at his price, than he could handle. What nobody ever knew was that he would not have played "Show Boat" for any fee. He didn't want to sing.

He was selling bonds in Boston when Fred Astaire heard him sing at a party, suggested he try show business. The ex-bond salesman recently toured Canada, helping to put over the third Canadian Victory Loan. It was over-subscribed by $225,000,000. This was his first visit to his home town, St. John, New Brunswick, in 21 years.

He had left when his first wife died in childbirth. Their daughter, Edna (nickname "Pidge") now lives with him and the second Mrs. Pidgeon, the former Ruth Walker, in Beverly Hills.

His bond tour sent him traveling a month. When Pidgeon travels, unless it's on later-type trains, he sleeps little. He can't fit his six-foot-three into the average six-foot berth.

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

Genius Is Doing Well With 'Conrad'

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — The "Last Roundup"

Dave Wolper, whose career was sketched here about three weeks ago, has added a new chapter. He bought out his partner, James Shear, and now is sole owner of the Hurricane supper club. With the emphasis on shortage of male screen stars, RKO is serving up "The Navy Comes Through" in which Jane Wyatt is the only woman cast. I don't get it. . . . Genius Inc. is doing well with its meller-drammer, "Conrad You Dastard," whose $1.10 admission includes beer, peanuts, and the right to hiss the villain. . . . Guy M. Bagar, purchasing agent for a lubricating company, says that his new song, "Say, Have You Found Heaven?" was inspired by the rhythm of a planing machine. Elmo Russ, a composer who has a wartime job in the plant, heard snatches of the unwritten melody whistled by various workers. Russ and Bagar got together, worked out the music in full, added lyrics, and there they were with a love ballad which soldiers particularly seem to like.

Speaking of music, outside an apartment house near my home I heard two somewhat elderly gents tooting on cornets. They were alternating "Somebody Else Is Taking My Place" with "Maybe." Paid to serenade some damsel, I'll wager a farthing. . . . Forty-second street between Fifth and Sixth avenues has several aims seekers who play small pianos and wheezy organs. Sounds good if you don't get too close. . . . Hal Saunders, whose band has opened at the Glass Hat, has a harpist, Jane Thomas. . . . I still would like to know how magician Paul Duke does his act—not how he materializes lit cigars and cigars, but how he keeps them lit in his pockets—if that's the way he does it. Very confusing. . . . Personal nomination for the night club entertainer dishing up the greatest variety of good stuff: Willie Shore. . . . Arthur A. Schmidt, MGM eastern publicity manager, is a new lieutenant commander in the navy. Don't say: "What, another?" Art is a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy. . . . Billie Rogers, the congenial brunette from Missoula who plays trumpet for Woody Herman, is only the forerunner of girl musicians who will be in name bands before the shooting stops. . . . And I hope the upcoming girl vocalists turn out to be as pretty as brownette Carolyn Grey, Woody's vocalist from San Francisco.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

"Share the meat—so all may eat" is the American way of relieving the national meat under-supply. Uncle Sam is calling upon Mr. and Mrs. Consumer to limit their meat eating to 2 1/2 pounds a week for each person.

America has meat. We can supply the army, the navy and our allies, and still eat meat ourselves, but only if we share. The government recommends that the sharing allowance each week be figured as 3/4 pound of meat for children under 6 years, 1 1/2 pounds for children from 6 to 12 years and 2 1/2 pounds for adults.

No Pork, No Veal And No Beef

This voluntary rationing restriction only the red muscle meats, including the usual cuts of beef, veal, lamb, mutton, pork and the canned meats and sausage made from these cuts.

There is on hand an ample supply of unrestricted poultry and variety meats, which offer a combination of nutritive value and thrift to please your budget. Among these meats are liver, heart, kidneys, sweetbreads, tongue, souse, as well as brains, tripe, pork feet, scrapple, ox joints, shanks, hocks and knuckles. A great variety of new and exciting meat dishes are suggested by such a list.

Following the nine golden rules on how to make the most of meat will enroll you as an active member in the "Share the Meat" corps. Join in by first planning your meat meals ahead of time. You can enjoy six to seven nutritious and satisfying meat meals a week with a little clever planning.

Cooking meat properly will improve food values that challenge any competition from a meat substitute. When you eat meat, eat it all; plate-leavings are punatronic.

Be thrifty with meat leftovers, and stretch that meat flavour to the limit by combining it with other good foods. A little stuffing will make one pound look like a genuine two.

Convert Kitchen Into Laboratory Don't be afraid to pioneer with something new in a meat dish. Reputations have been built on hot

Iowa City high took its first defeat of the season here last night as a fast Muscatine outfit outplayed a cold Little Hawk quintet to end up on the long end of a 40 to 27 score. Capt. Walt Kochneff led the Muskie attack with a total of 17 points, and Dave Danner, Hawklet captain, again ran off with the Red and White scoring honors by sinking six field goals and a free throw for 13 points.

Both Kochneff and Danner held second team end positions on this year's all-state football eleven, and were by far the outstanding men on the floor. Throughout the evening, the two boys were having a scoring duel, but the lanky Muscatine center managed to drop in two more buckets than Danner to outscore him by four points.

City high couldn't seem to move to set up many plays, so a good many Little Hawk field goals were accounted for by long set shots or one-handed heaves at the basket. The Red and Whites didn't have their basket eyes, however, and although they tried a good many shots, only a small percentage dropped in.

Keith Foster did a good job for the Muskies at his forward post both defensively and offensively. He accounted for eight points, but still couldn't touch the veteran brand of ball that Kochneff displayed.

Kochneff started the game with a quick set but Danner hurriedly counted two buckets and Bucky Walter added another when the Muskies called for a time out. At this point, it looked like the Hawklets would run away with the team that was beaten by Davenport last week.

After the time out, the Purple defense tightened and the Little Hawks never did get through it again for close-in baskets. Kochneff added three baskets and Gallaher added another to give Muscatine a lead they never relinquished.

At the end of the first quarter they led 11-0 and held a half-time lead of 18-14. The same pace continued throughout the third period, but in the fourth, the Muskies took advantage of the Red and White over-anxiousness and ran up 12 points.

It couldn't be said definitely that the best team won, although they were by far the best on the floor last night. City high was as cold as the weather except for the first half while Muscatine gathered heat as the game progressed. From the beginning Kochneff and Foster controlled most of the rebounds, although they had no particular height advantage over Danner, Sangster, Walter and Mellicker. Always it was a purple shirt that came down with the ball after the Hawklets fired the long shots that the Muscatine defense necessitated.

Iowa City seemed glued to the floor all the second half. Although they had plenty of chances to break away from their men, the Hawklets seemed content to wait for an opening and in the meantime, fire from way out.

Late in the game the Red and Whites started to chase their foes all over the court and for a time they had them rattled, but they couldn't keep the pace and it was this that caused the Muscatine spurge at the end of the game.

Coach Fran Merten experimented with various combinations throughout the game and there was reason to believe that there will be a good reserve strength for the remaining season. Muscatine used no substitutions except in the last minute of play.

Curly Brack showed more fire and spark in his playing than the rest of the City high club put together. He was continually breaking up Muscatine passes and showed he will be a headache to any team this year.

Even though the City high play was ragged from the start, credit can't be taken from a few of the individual stars. Danner was outstanding both on offense and defense and Sangster and Walter played fine supporting roles.

Game That Didn't Materialize Would Have Made BC Better Than Georgia, Vice Versa

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe it's just as well that a bowl game between Boston College and Georgia didn't materialize after all. It really would have been too one-sided to be interesting. As nearly as we can figure out Georgia would have won 116 to 0 and Boston College would have won 61 to 0, making it the only game on record that didn't end in a tie that didn't have a loser.

Boston College lost to Holy Cross, 55-12. Holy Cross lost to Duquesne, 25-0. Duquesne lost to Mississippi State, 28-6. Mississippi State lost to Alabama, 21-6. Alabama lost to Georgia, 21-10. All of which makes Georgia 116 points better than B. C.

Boston College defeated Georgetown, 47-0. Georgetown defeated Auburn, 6-6. Auburn defeated Georgia, 27-13. Which makes Boston College 61 points better than Georgia.

And they call the experts dopes for not being able to pick 'em right.

Pre-Flight Wrestlers To Stage 'Carnival' Matches Friday Night

A carnival wrestling show, featuring three all-star championship matches and a "wrestle royal" between a dozen tough young Seahawk grapplers, will be staged by the Iowa Pre-Flight school in the Iowa fieldhouse Friday evening.

Previously planned as a card of eight final matches in the Pre-Flight school's second championship tourney, the number of meets has been whittled to three in order to leave time for a more entertaining and novel type of exhibition. The entire personnel of the station—officers, cadets and enlisted men—will be present.

Ensign Newt Loken, former Minnesota cheerleader and national all-around gym champ, will head a group of "wrestler cheerleaders" in directing Navy yells during the evening, and the entire Pre-Flight school band will play.

A demonstration of wrestling holds, blocks and counters will be presented by two cadets under the direction of Lieut. Dave Bartelma, head Seahawk wrestling coach and supervisor of the show. The three title matches on the program will be in the light, middle and heavyweight classes.

A complete list of the final matches, the winners of which will meet Cornell college at Mt. Vernon, Ia., Dec. 15, follows:

All-Star Game Set for Philly

Major League Meeting Fails to Hit Solution On Problem of Phils

CHICAGO (AP)—The major leagues set their 1943 all-star spectacle yesterday for Philadelphia's Shibe park on Wednesday, July 7, and wrestled with many other problems including night baseball and the operation of the Phils in the National League next year.

The all-star game will be played again for baseball's "ball and bat" fund for service men and will be the American league's home game. Whether a second contest in the manner of last year's clash with a team of service stars at Cleveland would be played was not yet known, the presidents of the two major leagues said.

All plans for a war time program for baseball were left for action at a joint meeting to be presided over by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, tomorrow.

The National league's afternoon session was devoted to a large extent to probing into the plight of the Phils although President Ford Frick said he doubted that a solution could be found during the meetings.

Frick said that he did hope the value of the franchise could be determined today and that the league had received expressions of interest from bidders. In this connection he said, "I'd like to make it clear that there never have been any hard feelings between Gerry Nugent (president of the club) and the rest of the league. Nugent is perfectly willing to get out if we can find a satisfactory solution."

Frick also disclosed that at the board of directors meeting Monday a plan was considered which definitely provided a place where "Bill Terry could fit into the picture" but said the discussion yesterday had closed this particular avenue.

This did not mean Terry, who resigned Monday as farm director of the New York Giants, might not turn up at Philadelphia, he said, but meant only that the particular proposition that the league had had in mind Monday was dead.

"As a matter of fact," he continued, "we are working along three specific lines now and I don't know which one of them we will decide to follow. Naturally we are putting the most drastic at the bottom. And we haven't reached the point where we are considering names. All we are doing now is trying to find the proper plan."

Because of the Phils' problem the National league did not elect a new slate of directors yesterday. Frick said it was considered advisable to let the present board, consisting of Horace Stoneham of the Giants, Robert Quinn of the Boston Braves, Philip Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs and William Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates, continue in office until the matter is settled.

The two leagues ran into disagreement again this year on the number of night games a club would be permitted to play and this issue was carried over to the joint meeting. The National league voted for a limit of seven games and the Cincinnati Reds announced that no matter how many might be authorized, they would not play more than seven.

The American league voted against a request by Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators that each club be permitted to play as many as it pleased, but agreed to back him in the joint meeting for 28 games for Washington and set a maximum of 14 for other clubs.

Last year Griffith asked 28 and Landis limited him to 21 as a compromise after the two leagues had agreed on 14 games for their other members. Griffith's request for special privilege was based on the contention that he had the only club in the city and that most workers in Washington had day-time hours.

Monson Wins Again DETROIT (AP)—Willie Monson of Jackson, Mich., gained his third successive victory yesterday and alone remained unbeaten in the world pocket billiards championship by easily defeating the defending champion, Irving Crane of Livonia, N. Y., 125 to 45 in 17 innings. The defeat, second in three starts, dropped Crane to fifth place in the six-man field.

Spotlight SPORTS

There'll be some interesting football played come New Year's day. Keep your eye on that Sugar bowl clash between Tennessee and Tulsa. The Vols will go into the game as favorites, but don't sell the Hurricanes short, they're mighty good.

Coach Harry Frick (pronounced Franka) had a great line moulded last spring, but defense industries and the armed forces played havoc with it. Now he has one just as good, with three sophomores proving their worth in it.

End Jim (Cotton) Shebasta and Tackles Nels Greene and Kip Lancaster are the youngsters, but their talents have been pretty well proved. The rest of the forward wall is composed of seniors.

Those Dobbs boys in the backfield, Glenn and Bob, smash through like pile drivers and are difficult to bring down. Cal Purdin and Dewey Erickson round out the backfield, which is fortified with plenty of experienced reserve material.

Of course, Tennessee has been playing in tough competition all year, dropping one game to Alabama, 8 to 0, but otherwise coming through with a clean slate. The southlanders will give Tulsa plenty of trouble, but the Hurricanes are capable of holding their own against most any competition.

Joseph Eastman's letter to the heads of the National and American leagues and Kenesaw M. Landis commissioner of baseball, took a middle-of-the-road attitude about the future of baseball travel next year.

Eastman admitted that teams traveling have more right to do so than some of the people riding around right now, but that he couldn't promise them anything in the way of special favors. He even hinted that they might have to use coaches instead of the more comfortable Pullmans.

Eastman was firm in letting the majors know that they would have to plan their schedules so as to eliminate all waste in going between cities. That is, no more of the twists in a schedule that send an eastern team to Chicago for its first series in a western swing, then jump it back to Pittsburgh for the second appearance, then all the way out to St. Louis, and east again to Cincinnati.

It's even possible that the teams will make only three jaunts a year instead of the usual four east and west. The ODT director, at any rate, says some changes will have to be made, but is leaving it up to the leagues themselves to decide what should be done specifically.

The general tone, however, indicated that big league baseball next season would not be a war casualty because of transportation difficulties. This, too, is a hopeful note for college football being continued next year.

Certainly the collegians do not do as much traveling as the major league baseball clubs, and the season is infinitely shorter. The problem of the colleges for next year seems not to be how to get transportation for the football teams, but how to get enough players to make up the teams.

Big Ten Champion Again Heads Heap Of Nation's Teams

Ohio State Captures Number One Berth; Georgia Rates Second

NEW YORK (AP)—The Western conference champion, as usual, is on top of the nation's football heap. When Ohio State whipped the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight team 41-12 last Saturday while Holy Cross was wiping out Boston College, 55-12, the sports experts participating in The Associated Press ranking poll were sufficiently impressed to vote the Buckeyes into first place and drop B. C. to eighth.

In the final tabulation of the 1942 season, Ohio State is credited with 1,432 points, the highest total in the history of The Associated Press poll. They were picked for first place by 84 of the 156 voters and top second-place Georgia by 93 points. Georgia received 62 first-place votes while Wisconsin and undefeated Tulsa drew four apiece and William and Mary and Holy Cross one each.

Ohio State is the fourth Big Ten champion to receive the sports writers' accolade as national champion since 1936. Minnesota finished on top that year and again in 1940 and 1941. Pittsburgh in 1937, Texas Christian in 1938 and Texas A. and M. in 1939 broke up the mid-west monopoly.

Boston College's 43-point defeat cost the Eagles 593 points in the voting. Last week they were given first place with 1078 points while Ohio State had just advanced to third with 904.

The final 1942 rankings of the teams (first place votes in parentheses, points figured on 10-9-8-7 etc. basis):

Team	Points
Ohio State (84)	1432
Georgia (62)	1339
Wisconsin (4)	963
Tulsa (4)	936
Georgia Tech	706
Notre Dame	590
Tennessee	533
Boston College	485
Michigan	467
Alabama	234

The second ten: Texas, 137; Stanford, 72; University of California at Los Angeles, 54; William and Mary (1), 39; Santa Clara, 32; Auburn, 25; Washington State, 24; Mississippi State, 22; Minnesota, Holy Cross (1) and Penn State, 19 points each. Other votes were cast for Illinois, 18; Indiana, 12; Pennsylvania, 9; Hardin-Simmons, 5; Rice, 5; Navy, 4; Louisiana State, 3; Army, 3; Amherst, 2; IOWA, 2; North Carolina, 1; Fordham, 1; and Missouri, 1.

Throughout the season the Big Ten champions were rated somewhere in the first ten, starting at the top, dropping as far as tenth place following their mid-season defeat by Wisconsin, then climbing back as they whipped Pitt, Illinois, Michigan and the Iowa Seahawks in their last four games. Georgia also was among the leaders throughout the season.

Six of the first ten games have been selected to play in New Year's day bowl games. Georgia will oppose the Pacific Coast conference champion in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Tulsa and Tennessee will clash in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl; Georgia Tech will play Texas in the Dallas Cotton Bowl and Boston College and Alabama will meet in the Miami Orange Bowl. The three Big Ten teams and Notre Dame are barred from considering post-season games by their rules. Notre Dame still has a regularly-scheduled game with the Great Lakes naval training station Saturday.

Every major league manager was on the scene, even including Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox, who started overseas for the Red Cross and was ordered back. Cronin, in uniform, explained that he flew as far as Bermuda, but then was instructed to return because of a change in plans. He was not sure yesterday when, or if, he might be hustled away on a new journey.

Bill Burkett To Play With East All-Stars

Bill Burkett, senior right end from Independence, has accepted a bid to join the East team for its annual game against the West aggregation on New Year's day, it was learned yesterday.

Burkett came up as the regular end during his sophomore year in the 1940 gridiron campaign, and has been one of the mainstays at the wing post ever since. He is an excellent defensive player, and an expert pass catcher.

This season he piled up a total of 30 points to tie for the lead as high scorer of the Hawkeye squad. Burkett is 6 feet, three inches tall, and weighs in at 200 pounds.

He has had experience as a 60-minute man, and played full time in the victorious Notre Dame contest in 1940.

BASEBALL NOTES

By JUDSON BAILEY
CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball men swarmed like buzzing bees in the lobby of the Palmer house yesterday while the magnates of the major leagues were meeting upstairs, but out of all the talk there came not a single refreshing trade rumor.

Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics and Manager Jimmie Dykes of the Chicago White Sox went into a brief huddle presumably to take up the long-discussed deal of Bob Johnson and Dick Siebert for Joe Kuhel and Don Kolloway. However, nothing came of the conference.

Those injuries dictated a renewal of Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman's practice routine of three weeks, a reshuffling of squad personnel and a rush job of breaking in raw cadet replacements.

St. Mary's Ramblers Face Sharon Tonight

Old City High Gym To Be Site of Tilt As Locals Seek 4th

Two high scoring teams will clash tonight in old City high gym when St. Mary's entertains Sharon at 7:35. The Ramblers will be after their fourth straight victory.

Sharon has averaged better than 40 points in its games this year, and has four regulars back who last year helped Sharon win its sectional and district tournament before finally losing in the sub-state. Still, the Rambler coach, Francis Suplee, always follows the contention that the team that scores the most points can't be beat.

St. Mary's is getting its last break clicking and with a little more practice on passes will be hard to stop.

The starting lineup for the Ramblers will probably be Co-Captain George Semuth and Bill Sweeney and forwards, Keith Bright Smith and Don Brogla at the guards. However, Dave Ivie, Tom Stable and John Lench will see plenty of action.

Coach Joseph Wright will probably start his Sharon lineup with Altmeir and Zahradnek at the forward posts, Sehr as center, and Capt. Roberts and Schaffer at the guard positions.

Seahawks Hit Tigers In Final Tilt Saturday

The Seahawk football team of the Navy Pre-Flight school will wind up its 1942 season Saturday in Kansas City, meeting Missouri, the Big Six champions. The Seahawks will be shooting for a season's record of eight wins and two losses after dropping their second game last week to Ohio State.

The game will make the second trip to Big Six territory, but will not be the same Seahawk team making this week's trip. Cadet graduation, transfer, injuries and illness have made over the traveling squad to the extent that less than half of the 36 men who faced Kansas will be available for the Missouri game.

Exactly half of those on the traveling squad for the Kansas game were at hand for the Seahawks game last week with Ohio State. At least two of that eighteen who went to Columbus will be left behind with injuries.

Foremost casualties in the Ohio State game were Tackle Charlie Schultz, who suffered a recurrence of an early-season shoulder injury, and Henry Schrenker, who started the Ohio game at guard in place of injured Fred Gage and who left with a badly wrenched knee. Dick Fisher, the Seahawks' offensive mainstay at left halfback, also incurred a knee injury but may be ready to go against Missouri.

Those injuries dictated a renewal of Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman's practice routine of three weeks, a reshuffling of squad personnel and a rush job of breaking in raw cadet replacements.

Natural Gas Refund Cards To Be Given

Cards verifying service will be received the latter part of this month by Iowa City natural gas users who are eligible for a refund for gas consumed during all or any part of the 20-month period from August, 1940, to March, 1942. Roscoe E. Taylor, general manager of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Co., announced yesterday.

The refund due natural gas users in Iowa City and in all areas using gas supplied by the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America comes from a court ruling that the pipeline had overcharged customers. One of these, the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Co., immediately indicated its intention to pass the refund on to its customers.

The cards will probably be distributed about December 20. The amount of the natural gas refund in Iowa City will amount to approximately $31,000.

Tappan Gregory, officer for the United States circuit court of appeals for the seventh circuit, will handle all details of the refund.

Drama Group of I.C. Woman's Club to Give Program Tomorrow

The Iowa City Woman's club chorus, under the direction of Prof. Addison Alspach of the university music department, will present "Sing Loud, Sing Low" (Anderson); "Coventry Carol" (Croo); "O Leave Your Sheep" from the French pageant "The Shearman and the Tailors," and "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" (Praetorius). The chorus will be accompanied by Elsie Sorenson, 44 of Marshalltown.

I.C. Youth Dies In Plane Crash

News of the accident was sent to the parents by the commander of the 331 fighter squadron of the army air corps. No details of the mishap were available.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith had visited with their son less than a week ago. Lieut. Smith had expected to go on active duty in the Pacific area soon.

Perkins Writes War Aid Text

Designed to Instruct Persons in Training As Auxiliary Police

The Iowa Industrial and defense commission has just published the first Iowa manual for auxiliary police, prepared by Prof. Rollin M. Perkins of the college of law, commander of the Johnson county citizens' defense corps.

In the manual Professor Perkins offers persons in training for auxiliary police work an introduction to the field of criminal law, an outline of police work in general, an idea and duties and responsibilities of the auxiliary police under the program of civilian defense and a brief explanation of certain problems of law enforcement, such as arrest, search and seizure.

He has outlined the organization, personnel, duties, schooling and training, group practice, types of insignia, restrictions for wear of insignia and firearms of the auxiliary police.

In the introduction, Professor Perkins explains the need for auxiliary police by stating that "armed forces engaged in combat cannot stop to aid injured civilians, segregate dangerous areas or regulate traffic; these grave problems must be solved by the police."

"The potential harm of an air raid is so great that the professional services for such an occasion will be utterly inadequate. Hence, a multitude of persons who are not equipped to render such professional services must be trained to do the best they can in an emergency."

Rear Admiral Will Examine Pre-Flight Unit

Rear Admiral Elliot Buckmaster, commanding officer of the Yorktown in the battle of Midway and now head of primary training command for naval aviation, will make a tour of inspection of the United States Naval Pre-Flight school here today.

Admiral Buckmaster was in command of the Yorktown on June 7 when she was sunk by a Japanese submarine after having understood a two day attack by combined units of the Jap fleet.

This inspection tour will be Admiral Buckmaster's first of the Pre-Flight school since he assumed command of administration under the Bureau of Aviation for the navy's four pre-flight schools and 20 reserve air bases.

The primary training command was formed in October with Admiral Buckmaster as its head for the control of the navy's primary pilot training system.

The admiral will be greeted at the base by Captain David C. Hanrahan, commanding officer of the pre-flight school, and other officers of the training center.

Rey has recently returned from the Pacific coast where his aggregation filmed "Sing Your Worries Away" for RKO. The orchestra is built around Rey's playing of the electric guitar, which produces sounds unlike that of any other instrument in the world.

With Rey are the four young ladies of song, the King Sisters. These four are known from coast to coast through their Victor recordings, appearances in movies, and on radio shows.

Besides the King Sisters, Rey features "Skeets" Herfurt, the singing, saxophone-playing comedian and Dick Morgan, who also sings and indulges in comedy antics, in addition to playing the guitar.

Seals Adorn Holiday Mail All Over Globe

Early Packages Show Tuberculosis Seals, Postmaster Affirms

"It's good to see tuberculosis Christmas Seals showing up on the early holiday mail," Postmaster Walter J. Barow said yesterday.

Many letters bearing Christmas Seals are addressed to service men in all parts of the world, he reported.

"The seals have been a Christian tradition in our country for as long as most men in our armed forces can remember. A letter or package decorated with seals must look to them like a real piece of American Christmas mail."

Barow made public the following statement from the postmaster general's office regarding the use of Christmas Seals on mail: The statement is:

"As has been customary each year during the Christmas holidays, the requirement that domestic mail, including that for all the possessions of the United States, bearing on the address side adhesive seals or stickers other than lawful postage stamps, shall be treated as unmailable, is suspended from December 1, 1942, to January 1, 1943. Postmasters shall, however, inform their patrons that such seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side of mail."

"The Christmas Seal sale, which supports the year-round work of the Johnson County Tuberculosis association, is of particular interest to postal workers," said Barow. "You know, a postmaster, Einar Holboell, started the Christmas Seal back in Denmark in 1904."
