SCOURGE OF JAPS IS WOUNDED

Pfc. Orin Sutton, of Charlevoix, Mich., credited with personally killing between 30 and 40 Japanese, is pictured here, somewhere in New Guinea, as he had a Jap machine gun bullet removed from his leg after action in the Buna-Gona area. Pfc. Allie Poole of Petersburg, Mich., is dressing the wound. Sutton, known to his buddies as the "Michigan Wild Man," was back in action 24 hours later.

5 Chicago Gunmen, Believed 'Toughy' Gang, Seize $20,000

Take Armored Truck Near Gates of War Factory, Speed Off

CHICAGO (AP)—Five gunmen believed to be members of the "Terrible Toughy" gang—seized an armored truck amid a volley of rifle shots at the gates of a huge war plant late yesterday, and sped off with the captured vehicle and the $20,000 it contained.

Lieut. Thomas Kelly of the state's attorney's police and Captain Wilbur Kennedy of the state police force expressed the belief that the wild west style robbery was carried out by the Toughy mob.

The leader, Roger Touhy, and his ace machine gunner, Basil The Owl Banghart, and five other long-term convicts shot their way out of the Stateville penitentiary exactly ten weeks ago.

A truck guard was wounded in the arm.

"It looks as though the Toughy mob has come out of hiding to get a stake," Lieut. Kelly commented. Scene of the spectacular holdup was a parking lot just outside the main gate of the Buick plant at Mannheim road and North avenue in a sparsely settled west suburban district that had been the hideout of the Toughy toughs during the booting wars.

Heavily armed Sergeant Dan Barrett of the state police gave this account of the foray:

The bandits—masked and heavily armed—pulled up to the armored truck in two automobiles. Three of them pointed rifles at the truck windows and fired. The glass, designed to resist revolver bullets, was shattered.

One of the truck guards, A. Gariffo, was wounded in the arm. The gunners thrust the barrels of their high powered weapons through the window apertures and ordered Gariffo and the other guard, John Fasula, to throw down their pistols, walked into an adjacent meadow and lie down. The guards complied.

The commandeered truck, convoyed by the desperadoes' two cars, rolled away.

Captain Kennedy reported the truck was found later abandoned in Franklin Park, several miles from the point where it was seized.

The vehicle was owned by the North Town Currency Exchange. It had been sent to the plant to cash paychecks of employes.

Midwestern Fuel Oil Regulations Relaxed

Users Will Be Able To Get Additional Supply During Week

CHICAGO (AP)—The regional director of the office of price administration last night relaxed fuel oil rationing regulations in the midwest to permit users affected by severe winter conditions to obtain additional supplies during the coming week.

John C. Weigel, administrator for the region, announced the Washington office had agreed to advance the effective date of fuel oil coupon no. 3 from Jan. 5 to Dec. 23.

Thus, he explained, these coupons which ordinarily could not be cashed until the first week of January would be good for withdrawal of additional supplies next Wednesday. The exact gallonage value of coupon no. 3 is yet to be determined, he said.

Fuel oil users are now withdrawing supplies on coupon no. 2, which was to have supplied them with sufficient fuel from Dec. 3 to Jan. 5.

The region affected by the relaxation comprises Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska.

Lamb Under Price Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of price administration last night placed wholesale and packer sales of lamb and mutton throughout the country under specific maximum prices.

Iowa Farmers in 1942 Produce Greatest Tonnage of Foods in History of the State

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa farmers in 1942 produced the greatest tonnage of foods and feed in the history of the state or any comparable area.

The record-breaking production was termed by Leslie M. Carl, agricultural statistician, as a "smashing blow to our enemies" in this first year of war.

Carl, making his final report of the year, announced yesterday the production of grain, hay and forage during 1942 totalled 29,327,000 tons, a 23 percent increase over 1941, and exceeded production in any preceding year by a wide margin.

Led by the unparalleled yield of 61.5 bushels of corn per acre, the production of the eight principal grain crops totalled 20,627,000 tons. This was an increase, Carl said, of 21 per cent over the previous high of 16,992,000 tons in 1932 and 3 1/2 times greater than Iowa's smallest crop of recent years, in 1934.

Carl said that the outstanding record has been established largely as the result of four factors. He listed them as:

1. The excellent condition of Iowa soil due to conservation practices encouraged by the AAA during the last eight years.

2. Use of hybrid seed corn on 99 percent of the corn acreage and the introduction of improved higher yield varieties of oats and other small grains.

372 Students to Graduate Services Will Be Held Today In Main Lounge of Iowa Union

In the fourth university graduation ceremony held in 1942, 372 students will receive degrees and certificates. Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, will speak on "Candidates for the Degree, World-Citizen, Please Rise," and President Virgil M. Hancher will confer the degrees and certificates. The ceremony will begin at 10 a. m. in the main lounge of Iowa Union and will be broadcast by station WSCI.

Rabbi Morris Kertzer of the school of religion will act as chaplain.

As part of the convocation week end events, a banquet honoring the graduates was held in the main lounge of Iowa Union at 6 o'clock last night. President Hancher was the main speaker, and Prof. Bruce E. Mahan of the extension division was master of ceremonies.

The largest mid-year convocation ever held in the university, this morning's affair will bring the number of graduation awards made during 1942 to well over the 2,000 mark. The degrees given today will include 39 in dentistry, 23 in law, 26 in engineering and 21 in pharmacy.

Degree winners who are now serving with the nation's armed forces will receive their awards in absentia.

Candidates for the degrees and certificates, representing 80 Iowa counties, 26 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, China and India, are:

Agricultural Expert Declares U.S. Faces Shortage in 1943 of Fats, Vegetable Oils

WASHINGTON (AP)—Latest surveys on this year's production indicate, an agriculture department official said yesterday, that the United States faces a shortage in 1943 of between 800,000,000 and 1,000,000,000 pounds of fats and vegetable oils for food and industrial purposes.

This shortage would be equivalent to between seven and nine percent of present requirements, which have been curtailed to some extent by government orders restricting industrial use.

The major products listed as fats and vegetable oils are lard, butter, oleomargarine, cooking compounds, cottonseed oil, soy bean oil, peanut oil, olive oil, tallow, linseed oil, coconut and babassu oil.

Fats and vegetable oils are very important nutritional elements. They are sources of energy and contribute flavors and a satisfying quality to the diet not obtained from any other foods.

Soaps, paints, varnishes, plastics, and drying oils are among some of the industrial uses.

The official, who asked that he not be quoted, said that apparently action would have to be taken to limit consumption of some of the fats and oils, or shipping needed for war purposes would have to be used to bring in supplies from South America.

Before the war, the United States imported a substantial portion of its vegetable oils from the Orient. These sources were cut off after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

To meet the deficit, the government encouraged farmers to increase the production of soy beans, peanuts and flaxseed.

Gas Supplies for Non-Commercial Vehicles Temporarily Shut Off in 17 Eastern States

Action Preliminary To New Curtailment Program for East

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government shut off gasoline supplies to all non-commercial vehicles in the eastern ration area except for meager emergency allotments yesterday preliminary to a new curtailment program to be instituted probably Monday.

Motorists holding "A," "B" and "C" rationing permits were permitted to buy only one coupon's worth of gasoline starting at noon to complete emergency trips.

The hurriedly issued order left largely to the discretion of filling station operators the decision as to what emergency sales might be made, leading to considerable confusion and to protests that war workers might be unable to reach their jobs.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson later issued instructions, however, that fuel be supplied to "workers in war plants where their transportation to and from work depends on their getting gasoline" and to physicians, mail carriers and others dependent on automobiles for essential occupations.

Henderson said that "a thoroughly integrated plan is being worked out" to replace the blanket suspension "and we hope to be able to announce it by Sunday and put it into effect Monday morning."

To Eliminate Inequities

While the new plan can be expected to eliminate some of the inequities arising from the drastic shutting off of supplies for non-commercial vehicles, there was no indication that it would mean a resumption of deliveries on the old rationing basis.

Petroleum Administrator Ickes announced that only 365,000 barrels of gasoline daily would be available for distribution in the 17 eastern states during the rest of December and 331,000 barrels daily in January, compared with the recent consumption under rationing of 450,000 barrels a day. It is on Ickes' figures that the new plan is being drafted.

Meanwhile Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board announced his approval of a construction program to provide (See GAS RATION, page 5)

U.S. Subs Bag 7 Jap Vessels

Sinking of Enemy Cargo Ships Raises The Total to 155

WASHINGTON (AP)—American submarines, relentlessly blasting away at Japan's maritime strength, have sent seven more enemy ships to the bottom of the Pacific, the navy announced yesterday.

A communique listed the latest prey of the undersea raiders as a large tanker, a large cargo ship, a medium-sized tanker, two medium-sized cargo vessels, one medium-sized transport and a trawler.

155 Total

These vessels raised to 155 the number of enemy ships of all types which have been successfully attacked by United States submarines. The total consists of 105 vessels sunk, 22 probably sunk and 28 damaged.

Giving submarines a large share of the credit, Knox said that American forces in the Pacific had cut Japan's shipping facilities fairly close to the point where they could no longer deliver adequate supplies and reinforcements to their numerous island bases.

Long Step to Victory

This was described by the secretary as a long step to victory, since bases poorly maintained will fall more easily to American invaders when large-scale offensive operations are undertaken against Japan.

The navy communique said: "Pacific and far east: 'I. U. S. submarines have reported the following results of operations against the enemy in the waters of these areas:

(A) One large tanker sunk.
(B) One large cargo ship sunk.
(C) One medium sized tanker sunk.

(D) Two medium sized cargo ships sunk.
(E) One medium sized transport sunk.
(F) One trawler sunk."

U.S. 'Forts' Hit Enemy Cruiser At Bizerte, French Units Gain

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE
Associated Press War Editor

The right wing of the allied offensive in north Africa was pushing on last night on the road to Tripoli, driving Field Marshal Rommel's Libyan army ahead of it and still soundly thrashing his columns, while widespread patrol activity, perhaps heralding an outbreak of general fighting, was resumed in Tunisia to the west.

The French announced that their ground forces had captured a position about 35 miles southwest of the city of Tunis, while allied planes appeared to be triumphantly riding the skies over Tunisia. Flying Fortresses in a new attack on the principal axis port and naval base of Bizerte squarely hit and set aflame an enemy warship believed to have been a cruiser.

The Fortresses, with a single loss to themselves, shot down at least three of 15 defending axis planes and damaged no less than six others.

In Libya, as well, allied air power was the key to allied successes.

The British command in Cairo spoke of "the remains" of the axis rearguard as continuing their flight—a flight which it was indicated in other quarters had gone more than 100 miles beyond Rommel's starting point at El Agheila—but announced that it was not yet known just how heavily the axis had suffered in the trap previously created by British troops in cutting the axis line of retreat.

Perhaps because of this reticence, some British observers suggested that it seemed probable that some of the German forces previously caught behind the British barrier had beaten through and been able to resume their withdrawal to the west.

Whatever the facts in this connection—and some press dispatches to London had estimated that 10,000 Germans and possibly half of Rommel's tanks had originally been cut off—it was plain that he still was in grave difficulties.

This was due in particular to the apparent complete mastery of the Libyan skies by allied planes, which the British command stated officially had "entirely prevented enemy air forces from interfering with the advancing Eighth army."

Berlin itself, although claiming that Rommel was retiring in good order, observed that he was under "continuous attacks into the flank."

In Tunisia, said a U. S. war department communique, allied patrols had been active along the whole front, and a spokesman at allied headquarters in north Africa stated in supplement that British and American patrols had established contact with the enemy at various points in central Tunisia, including the Medjez-El-Bah sector, which is 35 miles southwest of Tunis.

The communique told of new air attacks on the axis-held ports of Bizerte and Tunis, where many fires were left blazing. In operations of Thursday, it was added, five enemy planes were shot down without allied loss.

In the last three days, it was shown, 14 enemy planes had been shot down.

In the Russian theater, information from Moscow during the day indicated that Soviet forces of the central army now stood within 40 miles of Smolensk, one of the strongest of German centers, and were endangering the vital German position of Rzhev, on which the entire present German line on the central front depends.

This Russian outline of the position, which was brought out in denial of recent German claims, was accompanied by Moscow's announcement of the recapture of a town on the Rzhev-Vyazma railway, and by reports of a slow continued Russian advance upon Kotelnikovski, 90 miles southwest of Stalingrad, which earlier had been the scene of the strongest German counter-attacks in some time.

The German communique itself established that the Nazis were fighting defensively nearly everywhere in Russia, although claiming a Nazi break-through between the Volga and the Don.

In the Pacific allied troops on New Guinea continued the bloody work of digging the Japanese out of their stubborn positions about Buna, which fell some days ago to allied arms, and Australian patrols were engaging the enemy about Salamaua, one of the first bases seized by the enemy on the island.

F.D.R. Sends Nazi Cross to Columnist

O'Donnell Declares Story Misunderstood At the White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt yesterday dispatched a German iron cross to John O'Donnell, Washington correspondent of the New York Daily News, and O'Donnell issued a statement saying he was "amazed and bewildered" by the president's action.

Apparently disapproving a column O'Donnell had written, Mr. Roosevelt picked up the iron cross from his desk after yesterday morning's press conference, and handed it to Radio Commentator Earl Godwin, who said Mr. Roosevelt told him to present it to O'Donnell.

"Obviously Facetious"

O'Donnell issued a statement last night saying that for the entertainment of readers he had quoted some "obviously facetious" and humorous letters from newspapermen in Australia and regretted that "they have been misinterpreted and misunderstood at the White House."

NORRIS, SENATE DEAN, GOES HOME

Senator George W. Norris, now 81, removes his nameplate from his office door in Washington, preparatory to returning to Nebraska, after having served in congress continuously since 1903. He became a senator in 1913. Norris was defeated in the last election.

Notice to Enlisted Reserves

The earliest date for the calling of any members of the enlisted reserve corps at the University of Iowa will be after the close of the second semester on April 24, 1943. This information was transmitted to President Virgil M. Hancher Friday afternoon by George F. Zook, president of the American Council on Education. The council headed by Mr. Zook has been designated by the joint army and navy board as the agency for the release to colleges and universities of the plan which was announced Thursday afternoon.

Reference to deferred calling of students in special fields remains as originally announced but the paragraph which referred to the early calling of "all other members" of the enlisted reserve corps has been amended to read as follows: "No orders will be given to report on a date prior to two weeks after the completion of the student's academic quarter, term or semester terminating after Dec. 31, 1942."

In its application to the University of Iowa schedule, this means no member of the enlisted reserve corps of this university will receive his orders until two weeks after the close of the second semester on April 24, 1943.

Backbone of the Army—

The backbone of the army is the Reserve Officers' Training Corps graduates who constitute one half of the officer personnel.

At the outbreak of the war there were 13,152 regular army officers and about 104,000 reserve officers, nearly all of whom were graduates of advanced R. O. T. C. units at colleges and universities.

The R. O. T. C. had its inception in the Morrill act of 1862 whereby the states were given land, the proceeds from which were to be used to support an educational institution offering courses in agriculture, mechanical arts, and military science.

The National defense act of 1920 created the R. O. T. C. as we know it today. In addition to the officers it trains it also has discharged about 60,000 students each year who have taken the first two years, or the basic course.

To the insight of those individuals who conceived the Reserve Officer training corps the people of the United States owe a debt, for it was through their conception that we were enabled to put a huge army into the field on short notice.

Here Again We Could Improve

If the 17,500,000 war workers in the United States put in as many hours at their jobs as do the British, it would be equivalent to adding 4,462,500 workers to the payrolls.

According to reports from the United States department of labor, the average worker in this country is at his job 44.6 hours a week, indicating a two-hour increase per week over the figure of last year.

If the difference between the American and British working weeks was utilized in our shipyards, it would be sufficient to add 20,092 Victory ships to a year's production.

Making It a Family Affair—

This war is turning into a family affair as far as the Eisenhowers are concerned.

Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary force in north Africa. Wednesday it was announced that Milton Eisenhower, General "Ike's" younger brother, assistant to Elmer Davis in the office of war information, is being sent to Africa to represent OWI.

Things should really be under control now, with the Eisenhowers bound to win the war for the sake of the family honor.

'Grand Old Man' Ends Term—

The longest and perhaps the most important legislative session in this nation's history ended Wednesday with the adjournment of the 77th congress, after two years of work of varying merit.

It did a lot of things which, seen in perspective, look stupid. It was the congress which voted itself pensions and then backtracked; it was the congress which filibustered the anti-poll tax bill to death.

On the other hand, it was the congress which solemnly and speedily declared war on Japan, Germany and Italy on the day after Pearl Harbor, with but one dissenting vote. It was the congress which took it on the chin for much administration fumbling and bungling in the prosecution of the war.

107 congressmen sat for the last time in their seats in the senate and house chambers Wednesday. On Jan. 6, when the 78th congress convenes, they will be absent. 107 new faces, chosen by the voters in the November elections, will take their places.

George Norris will be missing: Ham Fish will not. History will judge, not congress, but the voting public, on that score.

War Work for the Co-eds—

One way in which the Iowa university coed could help in the war effort is in the making of surgical dressings for the American Red Cross. Every student can spend a few hours each week doing something for the war effort and this branch desperately needs workers.

Ninety per cent of all hospital dressings and materials furnished by the Red Cross for injured men must be made by hand. If more workers do not volunteer their services for this work in Iowa City the quota will not be filled.

The average coed has more time to devote to such work than the women who are now taking part in the project. These women are spending several hours each day making dressings after they have finished their regular job hours. So why not give up a few coke dates next semester and offer your services for something really worthwhile.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1942

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — There have been lots of moving days in Washington in the last couple of years, but January 3, 1943, will be the biggest mess of a moving day that Capitol Hill has seen in many a moon.

Into the new and old House office buildings on (or about) it will really take weeks to get the middle straightened out) that date will come 106 new members of the House of Representatives.

If the only problem were moving 106 Congressmen into offices vacated by 106 Congressmen, the problem would be pretty simple for Edward Brown, superintendent of the House office buildings.

But it's a good deal more complicated than that. For example, there are many holdover congressmen who are dissatisfied with their present offices. These congressmen have seniority. They have a priority on offices being vacated. They also have priorities (seniority) on each other. Consequently, every request has to be labeled according to the congressman's rights.

This congressman can't stand the bright afternoon sunlight. Another can't take it in the morning. A third wants to be closer to his two old cronies. A fourth wants to be in the "new" House office building. A fifth wants back in the "old" House office building because the ceilings are higher there and he doesn't feel so "cramped up."

That may give you some idea of the pains in the neck that are keeping Brown awake these nights. Before it is over he will probably have settled and resettled 200 new and holdover congressmen. Some of them are bound to be dissatisfied and won't be too keen on rehiring Brown. Is it any wonder that the hard-working and constantly harassed superintendent is nursing a biennial headache.

The business of getting a new congress settled into the working groove is much more of a task than the public (or even most of the congressmen) realizes.

Before any new member of congress can take his seat, South Trimble, clerk of the House, has to have his certification (which comes from the governor of the state in which he was elected) on hand and in proper form. Without this, no incoming member of the House, or, for that matter, any reelected member of the House, can take his seat in the new Congress.

Back of that are the statements of campaign expenditures which, by law, also have to be filed with the clerk. This includes not only a statement from the elected candidate but also reports from all his opponents. In the recent campaign, these statements numbered over 2,000.

When the 106 new members arrive, each has to be instructed into the various complications of getting settled on the congressional roles. There is the business of obtaining his signature for franking privileges and his biography for the Congressional Record; of instructing him about allowances, commutation, clerk hire, applications for committee assignments, how and when he (or she) will take the office, and 1,001 other details that all freshmen congressmen must be told about before they can get settled into their seats on House floor and start representing their constituents.

THE BOOK PARADE. Logo for the book parade section.

By JOHN SELBY. Among the year's best—There is no more pointless activity than the annual attempt of some reviewers to name the best books of the year. It is easier to list personal preferences. Of all the many novels I have read this year, I liked Le Grand Cannon's "Look to the Mountain" best. It is long, in a strict sense it is plotless, and it is real. Two men racing to see which could move a field faster proved more exciting to me than all of "For Whom the Bell Tolls," and if that statement damns me it's just too bad. There weren't many amusing books, which makes me all the more grateful for "See Here Private Hargrove." Marion Hargrove's book has sold nearly 300,000 copies without book club help, and it will go much farther. This is important, for Hargrove has jelled for all time the spirit of young America beginning a crusade for all America. For me, the first volume of Douglas Southall Freeman's "Lee's Lieutenants" was the year's best book in history—although Dr. Freeman calls it group biography. It would be impossible, I think, to find more intelligently presented material concerning the War Between the States, this year. Perhaps any year. I enjoyed Oliver Gramling's "Free Men Are Fighting" more than any other book about the war because of the shrewd way the running story is backgrounded, if there is such a word. He has set the big events into a mosaic of little events; the things we all were doing while the titans were fighting. It is a difficult method, successfully handled. "The Rat," by Robert Trumbull, seems to me head and shoulders above the stories of heroism

W. L. Peacock Interprets—War News of the World—For Associated Press.

Crete into secure bases from which his planes and submarines may harass allied shipping if he loses his foothold in Africa, time to erect all along the north Mediterranean defenses against invasion, time perhaps to prepare some counter stroke to offset the allied success in Africa. By denying him the time he would like to have, the allies ease the tasks ahead of them once victory is won in Africa. Sicily and the other islands whose effectiveness as axis bases must be destroyed to secure the Mediterranean will be less difficult to seize or neutralize by bombing if Hitler cannot win needed time to perfect their defenses. In the Pacific, the united nations have been on the defensive for more than a year. Lacking resources, particularly in shipping, to take the offensive everywhere, they have been forced to limit their efforts there to holding operations. For Japan, this has meant time to press ahead with assimilating the huge empire her troops have overrun; time to plan and organize for what further steps she must take to make that empire secure; time to turn some of her riches in stolen raw materials into war weapons. So far as Japan is concerned, the allies are racing against time to get into position to take the offensive before she has made herself so strong that her defeat may take years. With the allied advance in Africa, the time before the offensive can be launched is running out. One day the strength of the united nations will be flowing through the middle sea and across the Indian ocean, rolling the Japanese back to their islands. It is not too much to say that the fast moving British columns which slashed Rommel's retreating troops in two has saved the lives of thousands of united nations soldiers by incalculably hastening the day of victory.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS. Logo for the Hollywood section.

Bustles Bow to War—

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Profligate use of the bustle in movie period pieces is a new casualty in the material-saving campaign. Sketches for bustled costumes for Alice Faye and a chorus of 20 for a musical number of "Hello, Frisco, Hello"—period 1900—came back from the workroom with rear elevations blue-penciled.

M. Marks has only a small role in "Mission to Moscow" but he stands out on today's call sheet. It's a page full of distinguished names, great in the diplomatic world, plus a few distinguished for intrigues on behalf of the axis nations: ambassadors, generals, marshals, commissars, military attaches. And at the bottom: "Timid Man."

Peter Van Eyck had worked around the theater and written some songs in New York before coming to Hollywood with his wife a year and a half ago. The wife, Ruth Ford, had a movie contract, and Peter hoped to get a job of acting too. When he didn't, he went to work for a furniture company, driving a delivery truck. He has a movie role now—Tonder in "The Moon Is Down." Heard they were looking for an actor, went and asked for a test, and won hands down. But his truck-driving career, as a prelude to acting, wins him a special niche. In Hollywood most unemployed husbands of actresses are content to write themselves off vaguely as "writers" and let it go at that. . . . Twentieth Century has used 11,000 postage stamps answering inquiries about the filming of "The Song of Bernadette,"—many of them, of course, asking for the title role. The "unknown" who will play it may be Linda Darnell—or Anne Baxter, Jennifer Jones, Teresa Wright or Mary Anderson. The picture starts in February. . . . Mary Anderson, the little brunette from Broadway's "Guest in the House," has taken over the juke box business of Leonard M. Behrens, who is now an apprentice seaman in San Diego. She's bought two books on book-keeping, and she manages to make the rounds, switch records, and count the nickels. . . . Veronica Lake is hard to recognize off-screen because she wears her hair pushed back—on both sides. "You wouldn't want me to play-act all the time, would you?" she says. . . . Veronica commutes from her home in Seattle, where her husband is stationed militarily. Another commuter will be Alice Faye, who has leased a place on Catalina Island and expects to spend time there to be near her husband, Lt. (J. G.) Phil Harris of the Merchant Marine. . . . Don't tell it around, but Monty Woolley was a cheerleader at Yale—30 years ago. . . .

Reveal Engagement Of Helen Woodyard To Alfred J. Soucek

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Woodyard of Huntington, W. Va., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Alfred J. Soucek of Dayton, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Soucek, 515 Oakland avenue. The wedding will take place Dec. 27 in Huntington.

Miss Woodyard, who is now associate professor of business administration at Coker college in Huntsville, S. C., was graduated from Marshall college at Huntington, W. Va., where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta Pi sorority. She received her master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Soucek attended the University of Iowa and was graduated from the Chicago conservatory of music where he was a member of Phi Mu Alpha national music fraternity. He also attended Juillard school of music and Columbia university in New York City. He is employed as assistant engineer in radio at Wright Field in Dayton, Ohio.

Name 1st Team In SUI Debate

Elbert Dempsey, A3 of Independence, Mo., and Don Rivkin, A1 of Davenport, were named as the highest ranking team participating in the intersquad debate competitions held recently under the direction of Gordon Hostettler, graduate assistant in debate. They received a ranking of 4.5 out of a possible 5.

The team of Tom Wiuru, A2 of Iowa City, and Gordon Christensen, A2 of Iowa City, finished second with a ranking of 4.2.

Individual rankings for superior work in the series of debates were given to Rivkin, who had an average of 4.6; Dempsey with 4.5; Buddy Hart, A2 of Rapid City, S. D., 4.33; Jack Russell, A1 of Perry, 4.25; Lois Sernstrom, A3 of Sioux City, 4.2; Wiuri, 4.2; Christensen, 4.2; Stanley Pierson, A2 of Alcester, S. D., 4.1, and Buster Hart, A2 of Rapid City, S. D., 4.

The high ranking teams will represent Iowa in the next intersquad debate.

The debaters who participated in the intersquad competition are members of the "speakers for victory" squad. They debated the question that the nations of the world should form a postwar federal union.

Prof. A. Craig Baird is director of debate.

New Manager Slated For Hotel Jefferson

C.H. Hartnagle, general manager of the Warden hotel company interests which includes the Hotel Jefferson, will assume the management of the Jefferson sometime in the near future replacing E. C. Kuenzel, who has been the manager for the past five years.

Hartnagle's assistant, George Davis, took over at the Jefferson yesterday as acting manager.

Hartnagle had been in charge of the Chamberlain hotel in Des Moines before it was occupied by the WAACs.

George Sheets Serves As Club Toastmaster

George M. Sheets, 1711 Muscatine avenue, served as toastmaster at the annual banquet of the Last Man's club of the Battery B association in Davenport Thursday night.

Sheets is permanent historian of the organization which was formed 26 years ago by men serving in the Mexican border service artillery outfit. At the meeting, tribute was paid to the 38 deceased members of the group.

Mayor Ed Frick and the Davenport city council were guests.

Mrs. Sue B. Gordon, Department Founder, Widow, Buried Here

Mrs. Sue Benedict Gordon, 83-year-old widow of Henry E. Gordon, founder of the University of Iowa's speech department, was buried at the Oakland cemetery yesterday.

Mrs. Gordon died in Denver Monday.

Two surviving children, Arthur C. Gordon and Ethel Gordon, former university students, accompanied the body which was buried beside that of their father who died in 1909.

New Tank-Destroyer Believed to Be Aiding Allied African Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new tank-destroying weapon, capable of blasting an enemy tank with a single shot, may be helping to hammer Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps to pieces in a trap on the Libyan coast.

Not only could such a weapon destroy a tank, but it could presumably outrun—or at least equal in speed—any enemy tank and at the same time bring to bear great fire power.

Developed in closest secrecy by American ordnance experts, details of such a new weapon still are shrouded in mystery.

But it is known that many experiments were pointing toward the mounting of a big field piece on a speedy tank chassis, thus providing a fast-moving and highly maneuverable heavy weapon that could stay at the front in swift assaults or pursuits.

High School, College Girls Invited by Club

Iowa City's senior high school girls and college girls received a special invitation to attend the opening Christmas party of the Red Cross Hospitality club to be held in the Community building this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The navy band will supply music for one hour of the program which is being offered for the benefit of all servicemen stationed in or visiting Iowa City. During the other two hours music will be furnished by recordings.

Listed on the program besides dancing and refreshments are: A group of songs by Robert McCandless, carol singing led by Don Mallett and piano solos by Cadet Frederick Brodersen of St. Paul, Minn.

Checkers, chess, ping pong and many other games will be available to the servicemen.

Issues Wedding Permits

Two marriage licenses were issued yesterday by R. Neilson Miller, clerk of court, to Philip F. Paul of Canton, Ohio, and Rosita Evelyn RaDel of Waukon and Ernest Rowdell Harrington Jr. and Sylvan Seelig, both of Iowa City.

Hawkeyes After Third Win at Nebraska

Sports Trail
by WHITNEY MARTIN

* Rules Should Stay
* Bredon on Spot
* Nags Should Quit

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP) — It's just an idea:

That colleges boldly announcing their basketball teams are starting on annual cross-country barnstorming tours are just asking for further rigid restrictions on athletic travel.

That rules meetings in all sports should be called off for the duration so that when the boys get back they can resume playing the games just where they left off, without having to bone up on a new code.

That it's going to be tough for intercollegiate football to get back in some colleges that have dropped it, as educators who oppose it will point out that the schools have managed to struggle along and cram knowledge into knobby nogrins without benefit of the Saturday afternoon violence.

That there has been an unusual hush surrounding the sale of the Phils, indicating the National league may have to take the club over after all. (Maybe they should offer coupons with the purchase, or a set of dishes).

That if one man were named to speak for all branches of the government in its relations with sports it would clarify things considerably, and sports would know just what's what.

That the A. A. U. and U. S. L. T. A. are taking a lot for granted in announcing a business-as-usual program next year.

That Branch Rickey really put Sam Bredon on the spot in saying that the Cardinals had nothing to worry about the next five years. And he fenced himself in with a nice advance alibi in saying it would take five years to rebuild the Dodgers, a club that won only 104 games this year.

That, considering the difficulties of selection because of a daffy season, the bowl committees did a pretty good job of lining up their games. And for those who criticize a team because it was defeated, it might be pointed out the Phils beat the Cardinals once in awhile.

That colleges have been the least co-operative, both in contributing to war charities and in helping ease the transportation problem. The schools made no effort to discourage attendance at their football games when they knew that huge crowds meant many customers were coming from a distance.

That if the idea of splitting the major leagues into eastern and western divisions were carried through it might be funny to have a league series between two American leagues or two National league clubs.

That the clubs which made money last season have a chance to show their sportsmanship by voluntarily boosting the salaries of deserving players who, because of fear of public opinion, will be unwilling to come out in the open with demands for more money.

That although the race tracks contributed handsomely to charity, they didn't co-operate fully. Some of those nags should have been turned in for fat long ago.

That a fighter winning the title of "duration champion" will have a cheesy title at best. Limburger, that.

That right now the only thing that appears certain to last for the duration is the war.

Four Cage Quintets Risk Perfect Slate

NEW YORK (AP)—Four college quintets bring perfect records into Madison Square garden tonight for the second intercollegiate basketball doubleheader of the season with New York university clashing with Oklahoma and St. John's tangling with Syracuse.

N. Y. U. has the most imposing record of the four, racking up 267 points in five winning games. Oklahoma, an all-veteran outfit built around high-scoring Gerald Tucker, has won three straight; Syracuse has captured its only start against Western Reserve and St. John's has a mark of four in a row.

Henry Armstrong Takes Title For Best Comeback of the Year

By JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, the great little fighter who has won 13 bouts since coming out of retirement early last summer, yesterday was acclaimed as the year's outstanding comeback in sports.

Some of the nation's sports writers balloting in the annual poll of the Associated Press showed where their feelings lay by pointing out that the most glorious comeback of all was accomplished by Eddie Rickenbacker, but confined to sports the preference for Armstrong was overwhelming.

86 Experts Vote

Of the 86 sports experts who voted on this subject, 50 listed the one-time triple champion of boxing among their three choices for the foremost comeback. These votes were divided 22 firsts, 17 seconds and 11 third and on the basis of three, two and one point for each class, gave him a total of 111 points.

The feat of the St. Louis Cardinals in making two comebacks, first to snatch the National league pennant from the Brooklyn Dodgers and second to win the world series after losing the first game to the New York Yankees, was recognized as the second most important about-face. Sixteen scribes rated the Cardinals on top and a dozen others split their votes between second and third places to provide the Redbirds with a total of 66 points.

Otherwise the fancy of the sports writers was almost unbounded with no fewer than 51 teams and individuals rating some sort of mention.

French Gets Third

The spectacular pitching of Lefty French for the Dodgers was ranked third with 40 points, just above the achievement of another veteran, Ernie Lombardi of the Boston Braves, in battling his way back to the batting championship of the National league. He received 33 points.

Another baseball comeback, the rise of the St. Louis Browns, received 29 points. The Toronto Maple Leafs, who rallied to win the Stanley cup in hockey after losing the first three games to the Detroit Redwings, rated 23 points.

Numerous football teams received votes with Holy Cross leading with 18 points followed by Georgia with 17 and Yale with 14.

The voting:

Individual or team	Points
Henry Armstrong, boxing	111
St. Louis Cardinals, baseball	66
Larry French, baseball	40
Ernie Lombardi, baseball	33
St. Louis Browns, baseball	29
Toronto Maple Leafs, hockey	23
Holy Cross, football	18

Ohio State, football	5
Stanford, football	4
New York Giants, baseball	4
Three points—Utah, football; Kansas State, football; Cleveland Indians, baseball; Alsb., racing; Lou Novikoff, baseball; George

Jack Movold Rejoins Squad To Add Height

Hawkeye basketball players are in Lincoln, Neb., today awaiting their first road contest of the season when they will engage the University of Nebraska tonight.

The unbeaten Hawks, functioning with three seniors and two sophomores in the starting lineup, have defeated South Dakota State and Carleton in their two home games to date and are out after the Cornhuskers.

They will attempt to avenge the 41-34 defeat by the Huskers here last December, when the Hawkeyes lost after leading more than three-quarters of the contest, once by a 10-point margin.

In the Nebraska game, Coach Lawrence "Pops" Harrison will start Trickey and Chapman at forwards, O'Brien at center, and Thomsen and Nesmith at the guard posts. The squad has been strengthened by the addition of Jack Movold, 6-5 junior center from International Falls, Minn. Movold has registered for the second semester.

Eleven players were named to make the trip. The included Co-Captains Tom Chapman and Ben Trickey, Bob Lundstedt, forwards; Jim O'Brien, Jack Movold, and Dick Kelling, centers; Theron Thomsen, Gene Nesmith, Jim Humphrey, Sam Vacanti, and Hillary Cole, guards.

Coach Harrison said that the squad would take a week's vacation, returning Dec. 27 to prepare for the Ripon game here Jan. 2 and the Big Ten opening series with Minnesota Jan. 9 and 11 at Iowa City.

Four Bears Slated For Starting Lineup

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Four of the still mighty Chicago Bears, who lost the National league football championship to the Washington Redskins in an astounding upset, are slated to start against the Redskins in the professional bowl football game here Dec. 27.

The four are among the eight of the Bear players picked on the league all-star aggregation that will oppose the champions at Shibe Park with all the proceeds to be given to the merchant marine.

Named in a starting lineup by Coach Hank Anderson are George Wilson, end; Lee Artoe, tackle; Danny Fortmann, guard; and Clyde Turner, center.

The other seven starters are Tommy Thompson, of the Philadelphia Eagles; Bill Dudley, of Pittsburgh; Merlyn Condit, of Brooklyn; and Harry Hopp of Detroit, in the backfield; and Perry Schwartz, Brooklyn end; Chester Adams, Cleveland tackle; and Milt Simington, Pittsburgh guard.

"As a replacement for Thompson," Anderson said, "I will have Sid Luckman (of the Bears) who is especially keen to try his passing again against the Redskins. Gary Famiglietti, of the Bears, and Dick Riffe, of Pittsburgh, are available at fullback. Marshall Goldberg of the Chicago Cardinals has a broken thumb and did not want to report until the day after Christmas. That's too late to fit into our plans."

Lew Riggs Learning Mechanic's Work

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Pvt. Lew Riggs, who gave up a third base assignment with the Brooklyn Dodgers to join the army air forces, has his heart set on becoming an airplane mechanic.

Now assigned to the base headquarters squadron of the flexible gunnery school near here, Riggs said he intends to go back to the big circuit "unless something crops up, and in times like these one is never sure of what tomorrow will bring."

East Squad Leaves

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—After checking out equipment the East football squad of 22 players left last night by train for the annual East-West Shrine game New Year's day at San Francisco.

Because Bill Fox, Colgate quarterback, was scheduled to report to a marine officers training school Sunday and could not join the group, Co-Coaches George Hauser of Minnesota and Andy Kerr of Colgate called in Les Horvath, senior halfback on Ohio State's Big Ten championship eleven.

Daily Iowan Sports Reporter

Iowa City high bagged its first conference foe last night as the Little Hawks stormed over the McKinley Golden Bears at Cedar Rapids to the tune of 41 to 21 in a decidedly one-sided battle. The Mertenmen worked like a clock last night to take advantage of every opportunity and play a tight game themselves.

Capt. Dave Danner, the usual high scorer, again headed the column, but Dale Sleichter was close by and played his best game so far this season. Danner collected 13 points and Sleichter 10.

Being closely watched and taking a little time to set his basket eye, Danner didn't score until the second period, but then piled up seven markers.

Earlier in the season Sleichter, Curly Brack and Ned Smith were all taking turns at a first string forward post and it was a tossup as to which one of the three would get the nod as a starter. Sleichter, however, has been steadily improving in each contest and if last night's tilt is an indication, it will take quite a threat to shove him out of much action.

With Danner and Sleichter consistently breaking up McKinley plays, a lot of good defensive work was carried on by the boys in the backcourt—Bill Sangster, Bucky Walter and Bob Roth.

Iowa City got the jump on Cedar Rapids at the start and refused to relinquish a fat lead which McKinley didn't once threaten. Sleichter dropped in two field goals to start out the game's scoring, and Walter closely followed with two more.

Another one by Roth gave the Red and Whites a 10-point advantage over the Golden Bears. McKinley managed to sneak in three charity tosses before the end of the first quarter when the score stood 12 to 3 for the Hawkslets.

Unable to penetrate the City high defense, the Bears tried to go over it by shooting from far out. They connected with three in the second frame to match the three goals garnered by the City highers.

Half-time score still found the Little Hawks in the lead, 20 to 10. The third and fourth quarters were where the Hawkslets turned on the heat and McKinley found it impossible to stop the Iowa City machine.

Johnnie Chehak carried the brunt of the McKinley attack which was weakened by the absence of George Bissel.

Coach Herb McCormack's sophomores cracked the Mississippi Valley conference victory list by handing the Bear's sophs a 28 to 21 defeat. Bob Lee led his mates by dropping in nine points.

Service Men To See Sugar Bowl Contest

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — It appeared yesterday that there will be a "free gate" at the Sugar Bowl for an anticipated 10,000 service men.

The Young Men's Business club here already has snapped up 3,000 of the bargain tickets for soldiers which will be distributed free to the service men. Yesterday the idea coming from Tulsa for business men to buy up more of them and give them to soldiers if they will root for Tulsa was accepted enthusiastically here. Tulsa meets Tennessee in the annual Sugar Bowl game New Year's day.

"Of all the ideas which have come to life since Mr. Eastman started regulating railroad and other traffic, the one which hit a chap named Sam Avey of Tulsa seems to be the best of all," Bill Keeffe, sports editor of the Times-Picayune said last night.

Instead of moping over the disappointment of not being able to come here for the Sugar Bowl game between Tulsa and Tennessee, Avey and a group of red-blooded Tulsans are getting up a pool with which to buy tickets for service men who either are stationed here or are here on furlough.

The service men's tickets cost $1.10 and will be the only discount from regular rates.

The Tulsa team is due here this morning. The Tulsans will take a look at the Sugar Bowl, eat a French Quarter luncheon, and move on to Bay St. Louis to open their training camp. Tennessee comes in over the weekend to Edgewater Park, which is nearby.

Place Kicker Costa Will Play Big Part In Rose Bowl Game

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—It's silly, but the university of Georgia is lugging a complete football uniform, including shoulder guards and pads, clear to Pasadena, Calif.—purely as props.

The uniform belongs to Georgia's place-kick specialist, Leo Costa, and the only reason he does it dutifully before every game is that the rules say he must be completely protected. He hasn't played a second since the opening game his sophomore year—he saw four minutes service at center against Olethorpe—but he has scored in every game Georgia has played in the last three years.

In all, he has scored 102 points going matriculating as a freshman at Georgia in 1939, all of them place-kicks for extra points after touchdowns, booted while playing time officially is suspended.

Georgia scored 54 touchdowns this year in its successful bid for a Rose bowl invitation—and Leo-the-Lion converted extra points 43 times. Two of the 11 booties went wide of the uprights, and nine were blocked. At that, he ranked seventh among southeastern conference scorers.

By JACK SCHROEDER
University high's Bluehawks turned on the steam last night to soundly trounce a hard fighting Tipton quintet 54-30.

Playing before the home fans for the first time this season, Louis Alley's men badly outplayed the visiting five during the first half. Don Wagner, who led the scoring with 16 points and Capt. Jack Shay, who garnered 10 markers all during the first half, led the Blues' attack during the first half of the tilt.

Shay started things off from his center position by tossing in a bucket from close in. This was followed by baskets by Wagner and Jim Rasley. Tipton could not get through the air tight defense of the Bluehawks and their passing attack was badly bottled up by the driving forwards of U-high.

It was not until Cosgriff dropped in a basket from the pivot post that Tipton figured in the scoring in the first quarter. The lanky Tipton center led his team with 13 points, most of which were garnered in the second half. As the first quarter ended the Blues held a 15-8 advantage.

Going into the second quarter it was the Bluehawks again led by Shay, Wagner and Rasley. The visiting quintet still could not find the range and the half ended with the score standing at 32-10 in favor of the Blues. During this quarter it was apparent that the U-high defense was vastly superior to the Tipton attack.

At the outset of the second half the rejuvenated Tipton cagers began to find the range and it appeared that they would break through the airtight Bluehawk defense until the locals took the initiative and widened the margin of the score. Cosgriff of the losers began to find the range during this period and he kept the locals in plenty of trouble.

The third quarter was marked by sensational shots from far out by the Tipton quintet due to the fact that they couldn't penetrate the Blues' defense. Jack Shay left the game on personals and was ably replaced by Harold LeGrande who immediately dumped in a basket.

During the fourth quarter the visitors outscored the Bluehawks as Coach Alley substituted freely. The deficit was too large to match and the final score read 54-30.

The game was marked by numerous fouls as 18 were called against the Tipton quintet and 12 against the Blues.

Capt. Kautz played an outstanding floor game for the losers and was responsible for most of the scoring chances for the visitors.

735 Students In Intramurals

Intramural sports have kept a busy pace this semester with 735 university men taking part. Glenn Devine, director of the intramural program, announced that the 735 men have competed a total of 2,476 times.

The sports program has included touch football, golf, cross country and swimming. Devine stated that next semester will include many more sports, and that a meeting of all athletic managers will be held the first week of next semester to plan for the program.

Following are the champions of the various sports this semester:

Seahawk Wrestlers Plan Mat Schedule

The Seahawk varsity wrestling team, after dropping its first match of the season to a veteran Cornell college aggregation, will have two weeks of practice before continuing its schedule against Wheaton college in Illinois. Annually regarded as one of the best small college wrestling schools at the midwest, Wheaton will be host to the pre-flight grapple January 2.

At least four other teams will meet the Seahawks during January and February of the coming year. A pair of meets is being arranged with the Davenport J. M. C. A. sometime in January. Minnesota's powerful squad visits the Iowa City base January 28 for the headline match of the season. A return meet at Mt. Vernon against Cornell is slated for February 24, and one or two other meets are being considered.

In bowing to Cornell, 24-6, at Mt. Vernon Tuesday evening, the Seahawks showed the inexperience that has been the chief worry of their coaches since practice drills began. Before the meet with Wheaton, Cadet Kenward Killam, 165-pounder who won one of the two Navy match victories, against Cornell, will be lost to the squad through graduation to flight training.

Star Practices With Michigan
ANN ARBOR, Mich. — When Coach Ray Fisher of Michigan's baseball team invited some of the moundsmen out to begin winter drills in the field house he stated that among the men reporting was his all-time star pupil, Dick Wadfield of the Detroit Tigers.

Let's Show Adolf Where He Made HIS BIGGEST MISTAKE!

Maybe you didn't know it, Adolf, but you led with your chin when you and your sneak-thief pals, started swinging at Uncle Sam.

You see, Adolf, this is a war of production. Behind our boys in the armed forces is another army, 50 million strong . . . and I mean strong. We call them Soldiers of Production.

And when it comes to turning out tanks, guns, and planes, Adolf, they just can't be beat. Why, America invented mass production—didn't you know? That's why, already, we're passing our goals. And you know what those goals call for—185,000 planes, 120,000 tanks, and 55,000 antiaircraft guns in 1942 and 1943. You laughed at those figures—said American workers couldn't do it. Well, we're doing it, Adolf—we're doing it!

And that's not all. We're not only building planes and tanks and ships to smash you once and for all—we're paying for them, too—10% of our pay every pay day.

No one makes us do this, Adolf. We're doing it because we know that everything worth living for is at stake here. And we're doing it so that we'll have a nest-egg for the future. Because Uncle Sam is going to hand us back (in 10 years) $25 for every $18.75 we invest in War Bonds now. That's the voluntary American way—but you wouldn't know about that.

And—get this, Adolf—it isn't just a few of us who are buying Bonds to swamp you with guns and planes and torpedoes. It's millions of us, asking our employers to set aside 10% or more of our pay for War Bonds every pay day.

Yes, the American worker is doing his part. You kind of forgot us, Adolf, and whether you know it or not, sooner or later you'll agree that was your biggest mistake.
