The famous Lafayette Escadrille of World War I has been reborn. This time with Frenchmen as personnel. In French north Africa, French Spahis lined up on their white horses, top photo, to form a guard of honor as the U. S. presented 13 P-40 Curtiss Warhawks to the squadron somewhere in French north Africa. Lieut. D. B. Rathman, Williane, Cal. Yank Planes Raid Germany Allies Forestall Peace Offer

Conference Smashes Expected Proposals

LONDON (AP) — The 1943 world strategy conference of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill at Casablanca has forestalled a new German peace offensive, observers said yesterday, and informed quarters said the immediate result is likely to be the announcement of an over-all command for the impending battle of Tunisia.

An unofficial American source reported that full agreement was reached at Casablanca on a commander to take charge of British forces driving from the east and British, American and French armies in Tunisia.

An RAF commentator added that early announcement also was expected on plans to coordinate the efforts of allied air forces in Libya, Malta and Tunisia, all of which are hammering at the same targets.

While parts of the British press obviously had expected disclosure of more concrete results toward establishment of a united nations war council for all theaters and a French unity, buoyant members of parliament expressed confidence that developments of the utmost importance soon would become evident.

Political observers said indications that Adolf Hitler would offer a compromise peace as part of his 1943 plans had been multiplying for a month. Unconfirmed but persistent reports said his proposals were to be made through non-belligerent Spain and would contain an offer to withdraw from western Europe while retaining territories occupied in Poland, Russia and the Balkans.

Thus the Casablanca declaration that the united nations would be satisfied with nothing short of the unconditional surrender of Germany, Italy and Japan was viewed as having smashed this peace offensive before it could even get started.

It was expected also that the conference's clear statement that the united nations have completed their strategy for a series of smashing blows would spread a new wave of hope among the enslaved peoples of Europe.

Representatives of the allied governments said new outbreaks of sabotage and general resistance to the Germans were almost certain.

The biggest cloud over the conference was the failure to reconcile the two main elements of French resistance in a more striking fashion.

It was understood on good authority that Gen. Charles DeGaulle, leader of the Fighting French, will continue to direct the armed forces under his command. Circles close to him said he was disappointed with the lack of results of his meeting with Gen. Henri Giraud, leader of the north and west African French.

Parliament still was without a direct report of the meeting from Prime Minister Churchill who was absent from the house of commons session again yesterday.

The members praised President Roosevelt's courage in making the journey and many suggested that he visit Britain.

Stalin Receives Message From F.R., Churchill

MOSCOW (AP)—Admiral William H. Standley, U. S. ambassador, and W. Lacy Baggallay, British charge d'affaires, called at the Kremlin yesterday and handed Premier Stalin a joint note from President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

At the same time the Soviet radio was informing the people of the details of the Casablanca conference. Previously only the official communique from Casablanca had been read over the radio.

Admiral Standley refused to discuss what was in the note or even say if he knew what it contained, but it was learned it related to military plans.

Their conference with Stalin lasted half an hour. Questioned afterward as to whether the Soviet leader seemed pleased with the note, the ambassador said: "He's a placid man. He doesn't get excited easily."

But he said Stalin seemed overjoyed at the news from Stalingrad and about the success of the Red army over the encircled Germans.

Asked if Stalin seemed more pleased over this news than over the note, the ambassador laughed guardedly and replied: "Well, it is hard to say about him. He doesn't get very excited, you know."

Plan to Establish Women's Auxiliary Reserve for Marines

Flynn Denies Peggy's Charges

at the wheel of his vessel, which encountered rough weather.

On the Saturday night when Miss Satterlee charges him with entering her room and making love to her, Flynn went almost immediately to his own quarters on returning to the boat, he said, retiring at once and staying abed until 9 or 10 a. m. the next day.

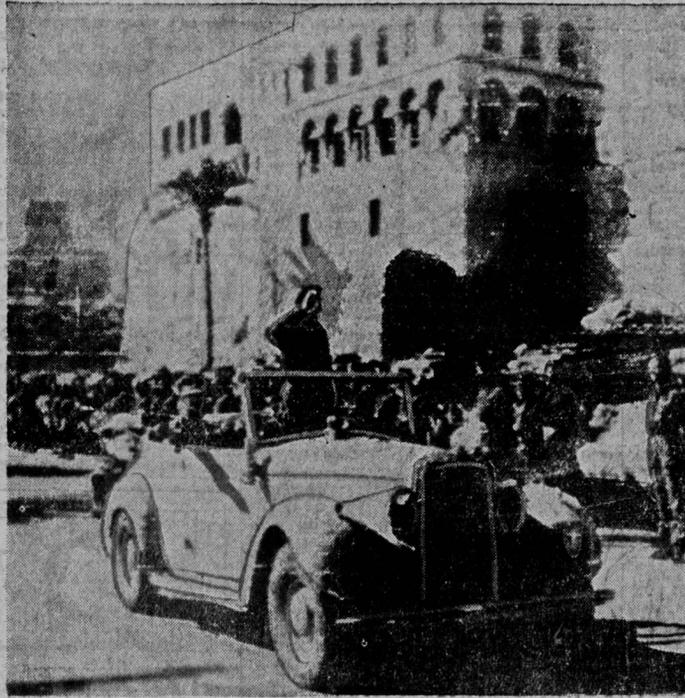

Direct Question "Did you have any act of sexual intercourse with her?" Defense Attorney Jerry Giesler asked him. "I did not," Flynn replied emphatically.

He denied all conversations Miss Satterlee said she had with him. Flynn declared he did not spend more than five minutes away from the helm of his vessel as he returned to the mainland with his guests, Miss Satterlee, Buster Wiles, his friend, and several others. The others, he testified, spent their time variously in the cockpit, on deck, or below.

He also denied he asked Miss Satterlee to go down below and look at the moon through a port-hole, as she testified he did, and that to his knowledge she did not get on a bunk and look at the moon from below deck.

"Did you at any time on the way back from Catalina have an act of sexual relations with Miss Satterlee?" Giesler asked. "No, I didn't," replied Flynn.

CONQUEROR RIDES TRIUMPHANTLY THROUGH ITALIAN STREETS

Benito Mussolini, erstwhile ruler of an empire, used to fancy himself as a conquering hero riding in well-staged parades with plenty of pomp and ceremony, but now someone else is doing a much better job in that particular role. Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, chief of Britain's Eighth army, is doing pretty well himself as a conquering hero and in streets that once were Italian, at that. The general is pictured above standing in a motor car as he enters Tripoli.

Named 'Iowan' Editor

Jim Zabel, 33 of Aurora, Ill., has been elected editor of The Daily Iowan to succeed Robert Noble who was recently called into service. Zabel was formerly managing editor. Other staff changes include: Jeanne Starr Park, 33 of Iowa City, managing editor; Gene Goodwin, 33 of Council Bluffs, night editor; Bill Miller, 31 of Baltimore, Md., city editor; Rosemary Randall, 33 of Waterloo, campus editor, and Don Slye, 33 of Des Moines, sports editor. The appointments were made and approved by the Student Board of Publications.

Country Club Attitude Denounced for Naval Students in Colleges

NEW YORK (AP)—College life won't be any country club for military students, a navy official said yesterday.

"The country club attitude on the campus is out for the duration, at least as far as the navy's concerned," Dr. Joseph W. Barker, special assistant to the secretary of the navy, asserted. "However, we do not intend to regiment the institutions which we use in this program."

Dr. Barker, describing the educational programs launched in colleges to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, said:

"The navy will give the greatest leeway for maintaining traditions of the colleges—but at the same time these young men are actually soldiers and sailors and they must proceed in their courses at the maximum rate."

Allies Seize Tunisian Positions, Crack Rommel's Retreat Lines

Possibility of Ultimate Offensive to Ostracize Axis Forces Reported

LONDON (AP)—Amid gathering signs that a final offensive to drive the axis out of north Africa may be near, allied north African command disclosed yesterday the capture of several central Tunisian positions with which the enemy had sought to form a line to protect the flank of Marshal Rommel's retreat into Tunisia from Libya.

Rommel backtracking Rommel, whose forces were strung out widely with some behind the Mareth line about 60 miles into Tunisia, was backtracking fast in the effort to join with General Von Arnim's axis army in Tunisia, but an assertion of axis radio that his advanced elements already had made the rendezvous were not confirmed in any allied quarter.

The British command in Cairo announced that contact had been made with Rommel's rearguards as early as Tuesday somewhere west of Zauia, which itself is 30 miles beyond fallen Tripoli—the first contact reported in three days.

In Tunisia, the allied communique announced that a number of positions in the Ouseltia valley and in the mountains to the east had been regained—by the attacks of American troops who went to the

Reds Get More Food Aid Than Other Allies

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard asserted yesterday that food shipments to Russia were larger in December than the combined food shipments that month to the United Kingdom and other British destinations—for the first time since the lend-lease program began.

The secretary made this report to a war council of the National-American Wholesale Grocers association, declaring that up to now for reasons of military secrecy it had not been possible to give any detailed account of what disposition was made of last year's food production.

First American Unit to Pound Nazi Homeland

Flyers Meet Little Resistance in Raid On Industrial Area

AT A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND (AP) — In the war's first lightning stroke following the allied strategy conference in north Africa, large flights of U. S. Fortress and Liberator bombers made the first all-American raids on Germany proper yesterday.

They struck successfully at the submarine base of Wilhelmshaven and at the industrial area of Emden, with a loss of only three planes in all.

Yank flyers, most of whom returned unscathed, piled out of bombers and expressed surprise at the little resistance encountered.

Anti-aircraft fire, encountered only when they were near the targets, was described by the flyers as light and inaccurate.

"It was a picnic," they exclaimed. "We caught them completely unaware."

The commander of one group of Flying Fortresses, Colonel Curtis LeMay, Columbus, Ohio, said: "It went pretty well except that it was rather dull compared with some we've had. Given a bit of better weather we'll give 'em a show next time that will really mean something. As it was, we managed to get a large number of bombs on the target and near the vicinity."

The main hindrance the crews encountered was extreme cold at high altitude over Germany, running to an estimated 35 below zero. One waist gunner froze his face so badly that his lips were bleeding.

British Bombers Raid Copenhagen

LONDON (AP) — RAF mosquito bombers attacked the Nazi-occupied shipyards of Copenhagen, Denmark, yesterday afternoon, and air ministry communique announced last night. Mustang planes also attacked locomotives in Brittany and northern France, and Hudson bombers attacked enemy shipping off the Dutch coast.

"Mosquitoes of the bomber command attacked the shipyards at Copenhagen this afternoon. Bombs were dropped from a low level and many bursts were seen in the yards. One Mosquito is missing."

"Mustangs of the army cooperation command and Spitfires and Typhoons of the fighter command continued their attack on railway targets today. Many locomotives were damaged in Brittany and northern France.

"In the early hours this morning Hudsons of the coastal command, one of which is missing, attacked enemy shipping off the Dutch coast. A Hudson of the coastal command destroyed an enemy float plane this morning."

CITIZENS' DEFENSE CORPS

7:40 p. m.—A special preview of "The United States News Review No. 1," "Work of the Rescue Unit" and other government pictures will be shown in Macbride auditorium. These will be of particular value to citizens' defense corps workers who are urged to attend.

Tomorrow, 7:30—The civil air patrol and the CAP cadets will attend a meeting at room 106, law building.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 7:30—Gas defense classes will be held.

Russian Troops Capture 3,350 More Germans at Stalingrad

Red Army Offensive Now Only 60 Miles From Rostov in West

LONDON (AP) — Russian troops have captured 3,350 more German survivors of the 220,000-man Nazi army trapped at Stalingrad, leaving fewer than 8,650 doomed troops on the Volga, while in the continuing offensive to the west another Red army salient has been driven to a point 60 miles from Rostov, and 80 miles from Kursk, two big Nazi bases, Moscow said last night in a regular communique recorded here by the Soviet radio monitor.

Two thousand Nazi troops "laid down their arms, including one whole regiment," at Stalingrad, and another 1,350 also surrendered, the midnight bulletin said. This was near the central part of Stalingrad.

The other remaining enemy pocket north of Stalingrad was being annihilated, it added.

The Russians had announced Tuesday that only 12,000 trapped Germans remained to be exterminated after a general Red army attack began Jan. 10 when the remnants of the 22 Nazi divisions refused to surrender. Since then more than 40,000 have been killed and 31,354 captured.

Sweeping westward from recaptured Voronezh on the upper Don river the communique said the Russians had occupied Gorsehecheye, 80 miles east and slightly south of Kursk, big German base on the Moscow-Kharkov railway. This town is about 50 miles southwest of Voronezh.

As evidence of the continuing rout on the Voronezh front the communique said that 5,000 axis troops, including a colonel, two majors and a captain, surrendered "after a short battle" in the Voronovka-Shelyakino sector which is 45 miles east of Soviet vanguards who already have taken Volokonovka on the Moscow-Yel's-Kupiansk railway.

The Russians already had reported the capture of more than 40,000 axis troops on this front, most of them Hungarians, Italians, and Rumanians.

Jailer's Error Puts City Health Officer Behind Prison Bars

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A woman employee of the health department made a routine inspection of the city jail about noon.

The jailer went to lunch, forgetting to tell the relief man the woman was in the cells.

After completing her inspection she called to the relief man: "I'll come out now."

"That's what they all say," he remarked. She spent an extra hour behind the bars.

Committee Approves Ed Flynn Appointment

Iowa's Gillette Breaks Party Lines to Oppose Previous Endorsement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate Foreign Relations committee put a 13 to 10 stamp of approval yesterday on President Roosevelt's nomination of Edward J. Flynn to be minister to Australia, and sent it along to a doubtful fate in the senate.

Three Democrats — Senators George of Georgia, Van Nuys of Indiana and Gillette of Iowa—broke across party lines to oppose the 23-member committee's endorsement of the former Democratic national chairman.

The test found 12 Democrats and Senator LaFollette (Pro., Wis.) voting for Flynn, seven Republicans, and three Democrats against him. Senators Glass (D., Va.), who supported the nomination, and Johnson (R., Calif.), who opposed it, were absent and voted by proxy.

Chairman Connally (D., Tex.) told reporters he assumed the action of the committee would be approved by the senate next week, but opponents were claiming privately that the nomination might be rejected by a vote or two.

Republicans, led by Senator Bridges (R., N.H.) charged that on the basis of his past record, Flynn was unfit for the diplomatic post, which carries with it added authority as President Roosevelt's personal representative in the southwest Pacific area.

Taking the Stand in Superior Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Errol Flynn, unsmiling and serious, entered a firm, blanket denial in superior court yesterday that he was guilty of any misconduct with showgirl Peggy LaRue Satterlee, who accuses him of twice raping her.

Answering various points in Miss Satterlee's testimony, Flynn asserted that he did not enter her stateroom while his luxurious 73-foot yacht Sirocco was anchored in a placid bay off Catalina a year ago last August; that he did not seduce her on the return trip the following day, and that he made no overtures to her at any time.

Denies Charges He further denied that he had told anyone that "this girl attacked me last night," or that "she bite or kicked me." His time at Catalina was spent largely, he testified, in posing for fishing pictures for a magazine, and during the return trip he was almost constantly

Growing U-Boat Strength—

Despite persistent raids by American and RAF pilots on Nazi submarine production centers, the German undersea fleet continues to increase in strength.

It is estimated that the German sub fleet now numbers 400, enabling her to keep 100 or more at sea all the time.

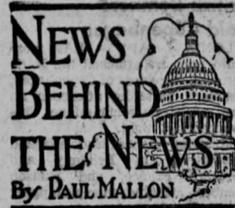

The people and fighting men in England are in dire need of foodstuffs as are the soldiers in north Africa.

It is extremely important to the allied effort that our merchant vessels reach their destination. The tide did not turn in the last war until Germany's U-boats were defeated.

United States navy men know the solution. If every allied cargo fleet is convoyed, the German sub can be beaten.

The navy claims that in order to step up production of escort ships and other material needed in the anti-sub campaign drastic cuts will have to be effected in Czar Bill Jeffers' synthetic rubber program.

Undercurrents in Flynn Case--

Republicans Fuming Over Situation

WASHINGTON—Senate Republicans are fuming at the impulsive leadership thrust upon them in the Flynn case by their New Hampshire senator Styles Bridges.

To him they attribute the prospect that the Bronx political boss will be confirmed as Australian ambassador.

Republican leader McNary and Michigan's Senator Vandenberg counseled Bridges against making the excessive charges with which he greeted the Flynn nomination.

Mr. Wallace's Plan Not Accepted—Vice-president Wallace's announcement that all Americans would be permitted to join the middle class after the war is nowhere here accepted as a post-war plan.

ground between high taxes and high prices. Others have suspected Mr. Wallace of planning a socialist state.

Spangler Administration Gets A Different Meaning—Choice of James P. Selvaige, New York business publicist, to the publicity directorship of the Republican national committee gives the new Spangler administration a different meaning.

It had been assumed that Mr. Spangler, the new chairman, would sit on the party lid during the war interim.

But Mr. Selvaige was not hired to help in lid-sitting. His experience has been in the organizational type of publicity, in his own New York firm and formerly in the national association of manufacturers.

He will organize a national publicity set up, presumably along the lines of his experience. He is a capable, former AP newsmen, who knows Washington as thoroughly as he knows business publicity.

Draft Cut Justified—The congressmen now publicly driving to cut the size of the American army would seem, off-hand, to be meddling in a military equipped to fight a war in the Mississippi valley."

The dispute is now in the hands of Jimmy Byrnes, new director of economic stabilization. The manner in which he settles the dispute may well be considered as a test of his foresight.

The cut in the rubber program means that civilian users will be the ones to suffer. Refusal to cut the rubber program may mean possible defeat of the allies and suffering for most of the peoples of the world.

Until the united nations knocks out or otherwise neutralize the German sub fleet, victory on land in this global war will be incalculably remote.

Don't Condemn the Student—

"Well, just why aren't you in uniform," is a question all too often placed before college men, most of whom don't deserve to be subjected to such unjust examination.

There are certain persons who are simply incapable of understanding the problem confronting young men in school. Many civilians have watched sons, brothers, husbands, and, in this day and age, even sisters and daughters leave home to enter military service, but that's no reason to look with contempt upon the fellows who are still in school.

Students, too, believe they are doing something worthwhile for the war effort. If they didn't think so, they wouldn't be on the campus.

President Hatcher several times has urged students to remain in school as long as they possibly can, pointing out that the armed forces need men with college education, men who will be better able to develop into leaders.

Some members of the various reserve branches have requested, prior to receiving their degrees, to be admitted for training, but they were surprised to find that all the training centers were filled to capacity and couldn't accommodate new men for some time.

There will always be the boastful gentleman with the wooden leg or the 25 kids who has nothing better to do than tell men of the younger generation, "If I were young like you and in good condition, I'd sure be over there pounding hell out of the Japs."

This type of person does not stop to think that peace after the war will be made, and maintained by the educated man; the man who spent time in the classroom trying to understand today's problems before going off to war himself.

Now, don't be mistaken. Nine-tenths of the able-bodied male students now in college would like to be in training camps or overseas right now. They don't lack guts, any more than a front line soldier does. But these students should be urged to study, to analyze, to understand the problems we will all face in a post war world. They should not be condemned for their actions. Remember, they will be gone soon enough.

WAKE UP, AMERICA! Will a Continuance of British Empire Aims Hinder A Lasting Peace? As debated by John T. Flynn and Capt. L. D. Gammans.

Capt. L. D. Gammans, Member of Parliament from Hales, Member, Institute of Pacific Relations, Authority on Far Eastern Affairs.

MR. FLYNN OPENS: By British Empire aims I do not refer to the fight for safety of the 80 million people in Britain's self-governing commonwealths, but to the 400 million who live in political bondage in her Asiatic and African empire.

CAPT. GAMMANS OPENS: The conception of the British Empire as Imperialism has been out of date for at least 40 years, since Great Britain gave full self-government to the Boers within four years of defeating them.

MR. FLYNN REPLIES: The Congress party has never demanded India to be delivered to it. Britain has never promised "full" independence, only freedom full of impossible "ifs".

Interpreting The War News Attempt to Discount Roosevelt-Churchill Conference Is Silly. By KIRKE L. SIMPSON.

In the light of the stirring events in Russia in the past few weeks, German propaganda efforts to wave the Roosevelt-Churchill conference at Casablanca aside as a meaningless get-together staged with Hollywood trappings are worse than silly.

Blunt Warning: Wholly aside from the shock to axis nerves, Hitler's generals are confronted with a blunt and specific warning of events to come born of the Casablanca meeting.

Violinist to Perform At Tuesday Meeting Of Music Study Club

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Walters and Norma Kross will be guest artists at a meeting of the Music Study club Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Franklin Knower, 925 Kirkwood avenue.

Walters, violinist, received his bachelor and master degrees in music from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. He is director of instrumental music in the experimental schools at the University of Iowa.

Accompanied by Miss Kross, Walters will play Sonata No. 3, Op. 108 by Brahms and "Hexapoda" by Robert Russell Bennett. The latter includes "Five Studies in Jitteroptera." A violin-violoncello, "Passacaglia" by Halvorsen, will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Walters.

Mrs. Walters will also read some of her original poetry during the program.

The Music Study club is sponsoring a drive for records and sheet music to be sent to military training centers. Members are asked to bring their contributions to the meeting or to call Mrs. Howard Snyder, chairman of the committee on collections. Students, as well as townspeople, are asked to cooperate in this drive.

Radio Show Features Football Star, Coach

Lieut. (jg) Jim Tatum and Lieut. (jg) George Svendsen will discuss football's function in developing future combat fliers, on the Navy Time broadcast presented over WSUI this afternoon at 12:35 from the Navy Pre-Flight school.

Lieutenant Tatum, recently assigned to Iowa City after completing an indoctrination course at the Chapel Hill, N. C. Pre-Flight school, will also compare training procedures at that school with the program at the Iowa Pre-Flight school.

Lieutenant Tatum was football coach at the University of North Carolina last year. Lieutenant Svendsen, Minnesota and Seahawk football star, was named to the all-service grid team of 1942.

Marjorie Goss Takes Office as President Of Theta Rho Girls

Marjorie Goss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Goss, 1026 N. Summit street, was installed as president of the Old Gold Theta Rho girls' Monday night. The induction ceremony was held in Odd Fellows hall on the seventh anniversary of the founding of the organization.

Other new officers are Marjorie Novy, vice-president; Delight Mathes, recording secretary; Melda Douglass, financial secretary; Phyllis Nerad, treasurer; Emma Wright, marshal; Mary Jean Mackey, warden; Vivian Mahanna, conductor; Arlene Parker, chaplain; Mary Belanshi, right supporter to the president.

The installation was held under the direction of Mary Belanshi. She was assisted by Dorothy Miller, installing marshal, and Emma Wright, installing chaplain.

The bluebird's pin, which is worn by each president, was presented to Marjorie Goss by Dorothy Parker, retiring president. The pin is a gift to the chapter from Mrs. Jennie Webster of Frytown.

Rebekahs, Odd Fellows and parents of Old Gold Theta Rho girls were guests at a dinner given by the Carnation and Iowa City Rebekah lodges before the induction ceremony.

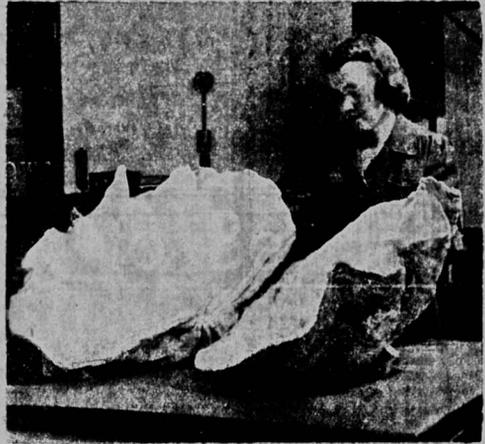

64 Medical Students To Receive Degrees At Ceremony Feb. 20

Degrees will be granted to 64 candidates from the college of medicine at a university convocation in Iowa Union Feb. 20, two months earlier than usual. Prof. F. G. Higbee, director of convocations, announced yesterday.

Acceleration in the program of the medical college has made it possible to confer the degrees at that early date.

The ceremony will be preceded by a dinner for the candidates at 6 p. m.

NO CEILING ON OYSTERS

Perhaps Patty Pittman of the museum department is contemplating making an oyster stew, as she looks at this huge specimen which is found in the south seas and off the coast of Australia. This animal lives in shallow water on the coral reefs, and when feeding, lies on the bottom with its shell open drawing in the small creatures in the sea water. If some unsuspecting sailor or diver happens to step on the oyster, the shell snaps shut and he finds himself a prisoner. This specimen weighs from 250 to 500 pounds, and is on exhibition in Mammal hall along with other marine specimens.

Former Student Killed in Action

Lieut. Donald M. Bush Stationed in Europe When Killed Jan. 21

Lieut. Donald M. Bush, 25, was killed in action on Jan. 21 in the service of the United States army air force somewhere in the European war theater, according to word received by Capt. and Mrs. H. I. Jennings, 418 S. Clark street, uncle and aunt of the youth, with whom he had made his home for a number of years.

He enlisted in the Royal Canadian air force in January, 1941, at Ottawa, Ontario. After being sent to England, he was in the R.A.F. fighter command serving as night fighter until late last September when he was commissioned in the United States army air corps as a pilot in the eighth air force fighter command.

Prior to his death, Lieutenant Bush had engaged in several air combats and on one occasion had the undercarriage of his plane shot away.

Lieutenant Bush was born in 1917 in Three Oaks, Mich. While living in Iowa City with Capt. and Mrs. Jennings, he attended Iowa City high school and the University of Iowa. He also attended Northwestern university.

Surviving are his father, Willard Bush, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Jennings of Three Oaks, Mich., and his aunt and uncle.

Official Cites Work Of Former Student

James S. Youtsler, who received his doctor of philosophy degree at the university last summer, made important summaries concerning labor legislation while fulfilling requirements for an advanced degree. His work is one of those cited by Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones as contributing to the war effort.

Youtsler believes that in the passage of labor legislation we have eliminated much of the conflict emerging out of the undemocratic industrial process during World War I. The national war labor board and the United States conciliation service have helped to meet many of the labor disputes, and bring about improvement on the labor front.

In his survey he states, "The urgency of postwar planning to avoid economic dislocation is generally recognized and is being undertaken by government agencies, congress, labor organizations, and private institutions. There appears to be a need for centralized planning under the jurisdiction of one federal agency in order to prevent duplication of effort."

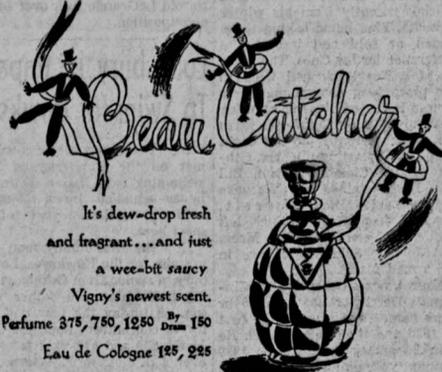

President Hancher To Deliver Address At Cornell Graduation

President Virgil M. Hancher will address Cornell graduates at the first mid-year commencement in the history of Cornell college, at Mt. Vernon Sunday afternoon.

The mid-year graduation was made necessary by the unusually large list of candidates.

An honorary degree will be conferred on President Hancher.

★ Another Coach Gives Proposal on Foul Rule in Basketball

NEW YORK (AP)—The fouls are here to stay, and a good many basketball addicts think the fouler should stay, too. Stay in the game, that is, instead of being hooked out of there after his fourth personal.

Recently we commented on the proposal of Coach Bill Chandler of Marquette, who advocates establishing a penalty box system for the court so that an offending player could be put in the clink temporarily after four personals, instead of being ousted permanently.

The idea seemed good, and we still think it is. We also like the idea of Ben Flora, coach of the Raceland, Ky., high school, who also has a plan to keep the players in the game without the contest developing into a four-alarm riot.

Mr. Flora's idea would call for a little bookkeeping, and a little keen discernment on the part of officials, who would be called upon to distinguish between an intentional foul and an unintentional misdeed.

Here is Mr. Flora's idea in brief: Classify the so-called personal fouls into two groups—flagrant and otherwise. The flagrant fouls would be those which definitely are deliberate or definitely interfere with an opponent's shot, such as holding while the opponent is in the act of shooting, pushing as the opponent goes in for a shot, and tripping when a player drives toward the basket.

This type of foul would cost two free throws, and four such fouls would put the offender out of the game from that point on. Mr. Flora considers such fouls as similar to dirty play or generally unsportsmanlike conduct in football, which would result in permanent ostracism in that sport.

For fouls other than flagrant, yet of a personal nature, such as body contact in a jump ball or rebound situation, accidentally hitting an opponent's arm in trying to get the ball or break up the dribble, or overguarding from the rear, Mr. Flora would give the player fouled one shot and allow his team to take out the ball at center court. In other words, it would be treated the same as a technical foul, and the player would not be disqualified no matter how many he committed.

Now Mr. Flora is no Johnny-come-lately to the cage sport. He's been seeing about 100 games a year for the last 10 years, and in a territory where none of the high school teams has too many players he has had the opportunity to observe the discouraging effects of the four-fouls-and-out rule.

Not only are the teams with the scanty rosters handicapped, he points out, but the games often are ruined from a spectator's standpoint by the elimination of the best players, and besides, a losing coach often has a ready-made alibi. Also, the referee becomes nobody's friend, with his best pals liable to turn against him.

Naturally the referee must continue to call fouls under Mr. Flora's idea, but the fouls wouldn't chuck a player out of the game unless he was a court commander who should be out of there anyway, as command tactics are fine in their place but their place isn't on a basketball floor.

The chief difficulty would seem to be the fine line in some instances between a flagrant foul and an unintentional foul, as it sometimes is difficult to read a player's mind and solve his intentions. Like the bean ball in baseball, you might have a hard time proving an act of malice.

However, there is little doubt in most instances as to when a foul is deliberate, and for that reason Mr. Flora's idea might be worth a trial.

We'll fix up this game of basketball yet.

Derringer Purchased by Cubs After 10 Years With Redlegs

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs announced yesterday the purchase of Paul Derringer, 36-year-old right hand pitcher, from the Cincinnati Reds for an undisclosed sum of cash.

Derringer, a major leaguer for 12 years, all of which were spent in the National League—10 with Cincinnati—has been on the Cub shopping list for the last two months and a deal almost was completed at the major league meetings here last month.

Manager Jimmy Wilson was known to have wanted the big right hander and expressed the belief Derringer, who broke into the majors in 1931 with the St. Louis Cardinals, would turn out high class work for at least another season.

Last season Derringer appeared in 29 games, winning 10 and losing 11. His all time major league record shows 190 victories and 174 defeats.

Derringer, after little more than two seasons with the Cardinals, was traded to Cincinnati May 7, 1933, in a player deal in which the Cards obtained Leo Durocher, now manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"We believe we have a chance to go places this season," said Gallagher, "and we needed another pitcher."

Shay Looks Good In Blues' Practice For Friday's Game

Having fully recovered from their sound trouncing by Anamosa, University high's Bluehaws worked hard on their offense yesterday in preparation for their tilt with West Branch here Friday.

The West Branch contest will be the Blue's most important conference tilt thus far this season. The opposing cagers have a good record and are capable of playing U-high's subs used both the zone and man-to-man defense against the first string, and the regulars had trouble hitting their stride but finally solved both defenses and consistently sank their shots.

Capt. Jack Shay looked better than ever yesterday in practice and is expected to hit his peak in the West Branch contest tomorrow night. Shay compiled a total of 19 points in the Anamosa defeat and was one of the outstanding players on the court.

West Branch has been defeated by City high's Hawkslets and St. Pat's rangy cagers in this town. The Blues are not going to let the visitors pull this game out of the fire here.

It can be expected that Alley will juggle his lineup during the course of the West Branch tilt. In the Anamosa contest, Smith and Shay were moved to the forward positions and looked very good in that capacity.

Sophomores Play Big Part in Track Plans

With their season's opener against the University of Wisconsin only ten days away, Coach George Bresnahan's Hawkeye track team is still very much of a question mark for the Big Ten indoor meet.

Two returning lettermen, Capt. Lee Farmer, conference sprint champion, and Ken Steinbeck, veteran pole vaulter, will provide the nucleus of the squad with eleven sophomores being counted on to round out the team.

The loss of distance runner Bob Workman, captain of this year's cross country team, and Irvin Wolf, middle distance runner and 1942 team co-captain, has considerably weakened the Hawks.

High Jump: Fiala and Flint. Broad Jump: Farmer, Fiala and Cline.

The Wisconsin meet will be the first of four affairs on the Hawkeyes' winter schedule. Following will be a dual meet with Minnesota Feb. 27 at Minneapolis, the Big Ten championships at Chicago March 5 and 6 and the Chicago relays at Chicago March 20.

Hawk Cagers Schedule Knox Quintet Feb. 6

Scheduling of a basketball game with Knox college of Galesburg, Ill., and cancellation of a home swimming meet with Michigan State and a wrestling dual with Chicago were announced by the athletic department yesterday.

The Hawkeyes will play Knox on the fieldhouse court Feb. 6, thereby giving them a fill-in game between intervals of Jan. 26 and Feb. 13 when there are no conference contests.

Michigan State will not be met in the swimming meet Feb. 20, because of travel difficulties, and Chicago's wrestling team will not appear in the fieldhouse Feb. 27 as originally scheduled.

Knox, the new cage foe, has not been played in basketball since 1927. A member of the Midwest conference, the team is reported to be strong enough to give the Iowans a good workout before the Hawks start the second half of the Big Ten schedule at Northwestern Feb. 13.

Western Conference Will Send Strong Track Squad to N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Western conference will be represented by one of the strongest groups ever sent to the Millrose games when the track and field indoor season opens Feb. 6 at Madison Square Garden.

Five colleges in that conference have entered 15 athletes with Ohio State, Big Ten indoor and outdoor champion, tops with six. Here's the lineup and events in which entered:

Ohio State—Russell Owen, Mel Sheppard 600 and mile relay; Bob Wright, 60-yard high hurdles; John Schmidt, pole vault, and Leroy Collins, Dallas Dupre and Otto Hoeflinger, mile relay.

Michigan—Dave Matthews, 800 and two-mile relay and John Roxborough and Ross Hume, two-mile relay.

Indiana—Earl Mitchell, Wana-maker Mile; Tom Judge, 800 and Fred Witt, two-mile run. Illinois—Dwight Edleman, high jump.

Minnesota—Jack Defield, pole vault. Notre Dame also has entered its mile relay team and Oliver Hunter in the two-mile and Michigan State has named James Milne for the high jump.

Florida Ships Horses To Other Tracks

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Funeral crepe was finally hung on Florida's deceased racing season yesterday with announcement that plans are being made to ship all horses from Hialeah and Tropical parks.

Monte W. E. L., vice-president of the Horsemen's Benevolent association, said an exhaustive canvass of conditions among horsemen had been made and "we will pool our findings and try to develop a plan whereby all horses will be shipped to northern points in time for the spring season."

To date, about 150 horses have been shipped, among them the world record money winner, Whirlaway.

Hutson Named Most Valuable in League

Receives Honor 2nd Time in Succession; Dudley Finishes Next

CHICAGO (AP)—Don Hutson, Green Bay's nimble fingered end, who holds more records than any other football player, gained another yesterday when he was named the National football league's most valuable player for the second consecutive year.

Announcement of the Joe P. Carr award, which no other player has received twice, was made by Commissioner Elmer Layden.

Hutson, a former University of Alabama griddy who made himself football's No. 1 pass receiver and the most feared man in the National league after his entry into pro football eight years ago, received six of the nine first place votes cast in the balloting.

Bill Dudley, Pittsburgh's prize rookie and the league's 1942 ground gaining champion, was second with two first and four second place votes. Sammy Baugh, Washington's ace passer and perennial punting champion, received one first and five second place votes. Balloting was on a basis of five points for first and two for second place.

The mark established in winning the Carr award a second time brought to 17 the number of records Hutson hung up last season alone.

Among his 1942 record accomplishments were catching 78 passes good for 1,211 yards and 17 touchdowns; scoring 138 points, and kicking 33 points after touchdown. He stretched to 25 the string of successive league games in which he has scored. In 91 games, including three championship play-offs, he has been held without a pass reception only twice.

During his National league career he has caught 336 passes, 72 for touchdowns, and has averaged 16.4 yards a catch.

Last season the combination of Cecil Isbell's passing and Hutson's receiving also brought Green Bay many team records.

Hutson, who will be 30 next Sunday, is slight of build compared with the run of National league linemen. But in addition to his offensive skill he is regarded as one of the league's surest tacklers and one of the best pass defense men.

In both 1941 and 1942, Hutson finished third in a poll conducted annually by The Associated Press to name the outstanding athlete of the year.

Wrestling, Swimming Meets Set for State

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The dates and sites for the state high school wrestling and swimming meets were announced yesterday by Lyle Quinn, executive secretary of the state high school athletic association.

The state championship wrestling tournament will be held at Clarion Feb. 26 and 27, and the swimming championship will be decided in the Iowa State college pool at Ames Feb. 27.

West Waterloo won the 1942 wrestling title and North Des Moines took the top honors in swimming.

There will be four district wrestling tournaments Feb. 19 and 20 to qualify the participants in the final meet. The sites: Osage, Fort Dodge, Thomas Jefferson (Council Bluffs) and Clinton.

St. Mary's cagers turned on the speed in the final quarter to score 17 points and win going away from their south side rivals in last night's big intra-city battle. The final count was St. Mary's 37, St. Patrick's 27.

With their star point man, George Seemuth, being held to a lone basket by sophomore guard Don Gatens of the Irish, the Marions centered their attack around Bill Sweeney, the six-foot veteran ending up with 15 points to lead both teams.

Billy Connell, co-captain and ace guard for the Irish, fouled out mid-way in the second period. Two teammates, brother Bob Connell and Earl Murphy, and three St. Mary's regulars, Keith Bright, Sweeney, and Don Brogia, followed him before the night's work was over.

Trailing 22-20 going into the final period, the Ramblers finally found the range and had little trouble in pulling away from the weakened Irish.

Sweeney opened the last quarter with a two-pointer to tie the count and a free throw by Bright sent the Marions ahead to stay. A rebound shot by Mel Smith, a one-hander by Seemuth and another rebound basket, this time by Sweeney, gave the home team a 29-22 lead before the Irish could score.

Two free throws by Smith, another gift toss by Bright and goals by sub-guard John Lenoch, sandwiched around a basket and three free throws for the Big Green team rounded out the scoring.

St. Mary's took 57 shots during the game, clicking on 13 of them as compared to the Irish's eight goals in 36 attempts.

Miller Elected Mat Captain

Russell Miller was elected by squad members yesterday to captain the Iowa wrestlers this year according to Coach Mike Howard.

Miller, a senior, will handle the 128-pound class from where he was rated third in the Big Ten conference last year.

North Des Moines high school had claim on Miller in his prep days where he was a three letter winner in the 95-pound bracket. He jumped to the 128-pound class, however, his first year as an Iowa grappler.

Coach Howard has a relatively green squad this year, but is rapidly molding it into shape for the Hawks' first meet with Wisconsin here Saturday, Feb. 13.

The final lineup is still a bit doubtful, but above the 121-pounders the posts are quite definite.

Following is a list of the various classes and the most likely contenders: 121, Bernard Conrad, Maurice Fowler or Bill Leaming; 128, Russell Miller (captain); 136, Herb Williams; 145, Dick McKinstry; 155, Dick Ingle; 165, Jack Shepard; 175, Kenneth Clancy, and heavyweight, Harris Stageberg.

Commonwealth, is a ladder on which many races climb toward complete self-government. Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, have long since attained complete independence, as will India and Burma, as soon as they resolve their internal difficulties. Ceylon and Rhodesia have nearly reached the top.

While this conception of world relationship has many shortcomings it has passed the acid test—it has worked! Canada came into this war of her free accord, as did the other Dominions. For one whole year the British Empire stood on the breach alone if any justification is required for its existence, that is the answer! A larger world order may follow this war. The United States may accept obligations for world security. The British Commonwealth may be merged into something bigger. But, until that happens I am not prepared to break up the Empire, which with all its imperfections has brought peace, security, liberty and increasing government to men of many races and colors.

MR. FLYNN CHALLENGES: Does Capt. Gammans really believe that domination of India's 300 millions today is "out-dated" by granting freedom to South Africa's 10 million 40 years ago? If Britain in India is not imperialism, what is it? What is jailing

Gandhi and Nehru, machine-gunning Indian protesters in the streets with approving cheers in the House of Lords? Is that democracy? Capt. Gammans denies this is imperialism. Then England has no imperialism to cure. We can expect nothing. But America is not going to underwrite an empire peace. True, England fought alone. What has that to do with this question?
CAPT. GAMMANS REPLIES: You cannot confer self-government on any one as a present. Certain conditions of education, political experience, etc., must first exist. This talk about "holding subject peoples" is nonsense. Mr. Flynn would be in a stronger position to lecture Great Britain if he could say when the colored citizens of the United States are likely to enjoy full social, political and economic rights.

As to suggestions America might be fighting this war to help England hold what she has, America did not come into the war to save the British Empire, but because she was attacked at Pearl Harbor.

INTERPRETING—

blanca dealt in military generalities—with one notable exception. And that exception—the specific statement that the "prime object" of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill was to draw the weight of the war off Russia "by engaging the enemy as heavily as possible at the best selected points"—must be the major concern of Hitler and his generals.

For it is obvious that whatever else may be included in the master battle plan drawn up at Casablanca, additional help for Russia stands high on the allied war agenda. The diversion effect of the double-headed allied campaign in north Africa on axis capacity to halt or wear out the Red armies has been tremendous. Ways and means to increase that pressure and further sap Nazi reserves in planes and men available to bolster Hitler's tottering

Russian front could not have failed to bulk large in the Casablanca discussions.
Nor can it be doubted that speed in implementing plans with new aggressive action is essential. Day by day, almost hour by hour the chances of Russian success in closing the Rostov trap on the foe or even reaching the great bend of the Dnieper southwest of Kharkov in a vaster encirclement drive are brightening.

Whatever new allied commitments were relayed from Casablanca to Stalin must have dealt with the timing, direction and power of swift new moves to draw off additional enemy elements in the east. The Casablanca disclosure that the Russian leader had been kept fully advised lends new meaning to his own all but synchronized order to his army to push ahead and throw the foe off Russian soil.

Whether by chance or design, the first American bombing of naval targets in Germany itself from bases across the channel came within less than 24 hours of the Casablanca announcement. It is at least a token evidence of intensified allied air attack to come from the west as well as from Africa. With American as well as British bombers now roaming German skies, Hitler must find increased strength to deal with that growing peril. Nowhere can he find it except in further withdrawals from Russia or from Africa and the Mediterranean. The cumulative effect of two-front war is beginning to catch up with him.

Bond Officials To Meet Here

1943 Pledge Campaign To Be Planned Feb. 4 At District Meeting

War bond chairmen from 19 Iowa counties will attend a district meeting in Iowa City Feb. 4, to plan the 1943 pledge campaign. The state war bond administrator, V. L. Clark of Des Moines and the deputy administrator, Roger F. Warin, will be in charge of the meeting. They will be assisted by Frank D. Williams of Iowa City, Robert L. Roach of Muscatine and J. S. Stong of Keosauqua, regional administrators.

County chairmen attending the meeting will receive information on the 1943 campaign, along with literature and suggestions concerning the war bond program in their counties this year. The meeting will begin with a luncheon at noon and continue through the afternoon. County war bond quotas for 1943 will be presented. A new organization plan whereby war bond minute-men and -women will take part in the pledge sign-up will be explained.

Counties to be represented at the meeting include Tama, Poweshiek, Iowa, Johnson, Cedar, Clinton, Scott, Muscatine, Louisa, Washington, Keokuk, Mahaska, Des Moines, Henry, Lee, Jefferson, Van Buren, Davis and Wapello.

Bluejacket's Club To Sponsor Ball

Pre-Flight School's Personnel to Dance For Paralysis Fund

The Bluejacket's club, sponsored by the ships company of the Iowa Pre-Flight school, will be host to the officers, enlisted men and civil service personnel of the base at a "President's Birthday Ball" Saturday night.

Admission to the ball will be $2 per couple including the enlisted men who are donating the facilities of their club and their services in arranging the affair. Profits will be donated to the infantile paralysis fund.

Music will be furnished by the Seahawk dance band. This party is a part of the "March of Dimes" campaign going on in Iowa City at the present time. Under the direction of H. S. Ivie, manager of the local J. C. Penney store, the drive has enlisted the services of all nationally-owned stores in the city where contribution blanks may be obtained.

Iowa City High School To Present Vaudeville Program Wednesday

The annual vaudeville show of Iowa City high school, which has been dubbed "Victory Varieties," will be staged Wednesday at 8 p. m. under the direction of the City High Paint and Patches club.

A brief farce put on by girls, a phantasy, a burlesque, a piano recital, popular songs presented by large groups, trios and solos will all be included in the program. The football boys will also participate. Lavish costuming and elaborate stage settings will be provided.

"Say it, Sing it, and Swing it" will be the theme of the show featuring Jack Whitell as master of ceremonies. Bill Hubbard and Dean Crawford are taking care of the staging and lighting, respectively, and Cary Jones is general chairman. Assistants to the chairman are Mona Albrecht, Katherine Baker, Frances Hinman, June Johnston, Melfie Scales, Mary Louise Strohmeyer, Betty Thomas and Mary Alice Wareham.

Navy Experts Demonstrate Hand-to-Hand Combat

—On Daily Iowan Reporter

By RENE CAPPON

Explaining the fine art of hand-to-hand combat, two experts in this field, Lieut. Wes Brown and Lieut. Dave Busey of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school, demonstrated by word and deed how to get your man, before a Lions club gathering at Reich's pine room yesterday noon.

Lieutenant Brown, speaking of the value of hand-to-hand combat training, said: "We try to put the cadets into the worst possible condition they might get into under actual battle and then we tell them how to get out of it."

This preparing for every conceivable situation, he declared, was the more important as the Japanese were using this type of fighting extensively. Two hundred different combinations and grips designed to eliminate the enemy are known, though not all of them are taught to the cadets.

Lieutenant Busey then began the demonstrations. Advancing to the rear of the room, where this reporter sat meekly in a remote corner, he ominously suggested that "a newspaper man should get first-hand knowledge."

Since there was no avenue of escape, I was demonstrated upon.

Showing how, by a simple grip, one may take control of a man, Lieutenant Busey twisted my arm ingeniously in certain directions taking hold of my elbow until he had power over two of my joints. Resistance would have been impossible; pressure against my wrist convinced me of that.

Lieutenant Busey then brought a mean-looking club and described the best way of using it, which is not so much by swinging and hitting, but by stabbing and jabbing. Told to attack him with the club, I made a few feeble attempts which inevitably resulted in my ending up in a hopeless position absolutely under his power.

Proceeding to the knife, Lieutenant Busey pointed with one of those menacing instruments at various parts of my body, declaring that "he has many vulnerable parts," a fact of which I became increasingly aware during the demonstration.

For practice, however, a rubber knife is used. Welding it, I was told to make several kinds of thrusts, first from below against the lieutenant's stomach. Immediately I found my arm somewhere about his shoulder and the knife on the floor. By pressure against the joints, every hope of resistance was lost.

I had even less success with a thrust straight ahead in the general direction of his stomach. Lieutenant Busey showed how he could disarm me by swinging he halfway across his shoulder.

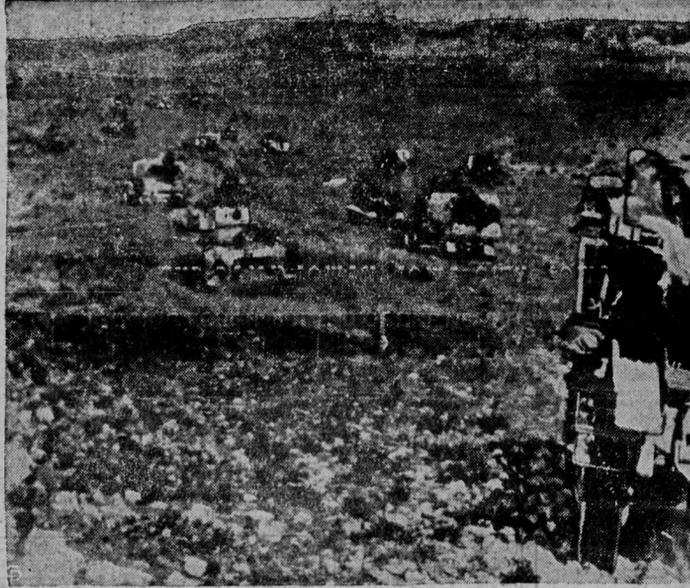

Lieutenant Brown showed disarming methods against a man with a rifle, pistol and bare hands. In the first two cases, the procedure consisted almost entirely of some quick turn out of the direction of fire, taking hold of the opponent's arm, and subsequent wrenching and twisting until the "enemy"—in this case Lieutenant Busey—could do nothing but give up.

Strangling attempts, too, were destined to failure. Lieutenant Brown convinced his audience. A member was told to try it, and doing so, Lieutenant Brown rendered the attempt impossible by pressing against the elbows from below while the Lion club member was holding on to his neck.

Another Lion member volunteered to let Lieutenant Brown put his hands at what seemed merely the neck below the jaw bones. After about 10 seconds, the Lion, gently assisted by Lieutenant Busey, sank to the floor. Soon, however, he was up again.

Concluding the exhibition, Lieutenant Brown asserted that the purpose of this type of combat was to eliminate, kill the opponent. Kicking, edgewise blows with the hand, in short everything is permitted; the idea in training the cadets is to break them of a "sportsmanlike" attitude, which, in war is useless and dangerous.

GOING ROUGH, BUT END OF LINE NEAR FOR BRITISH

The terrain was rough and hilly as the Eighth Army approached Tripoli, but the British armored units, above, kept pushing right along on the heels of Field Marshall Rommel's fleeing Afrika Korps. Rommel is now trying to make contact with axis forces in Tunisia but reports that he has done so are unconfirmed in allied headquarters.

Girl Scouts to Join Collection Campaign For Used Silk, Nylon Hosiery Here Saturday

Aiming toward a large shipment of silk and nylon to the reclaiming center at Green Island, N. Y., local salvage leaders have enlisted the aid of girl scouts in a hose collection campaign covering all of Iowa City and Coralville.

The scouts will call at the homes of citizens' service block leaders Saturday to pick up the salvaged hose, which are to be turned over to local stores and to the salvage committee for packing and shipment.

Maps of the city were mailed yesterday to girl scout leaders, showing the exact territory to be covered by each troop. All girl scouts will meet at their own troop's school Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to receive the names and addresses of block leaders in their district.

University sororities and women's dormitories are asked by Mrs. Vern Bales, hose salvage chairman, to bring stockings collected in their housing units to downtown stores by Saturday.

Rural school teachers are asking their students to bring hose salvaged from their homes to school. The teachers will bring the stockings into town when they attend a teachers' meeting here Saturday.

Block leaders who cannot be home Saturday morning are to leave collected hose on the front porch. Names of block leaders whom girl scouts were unable to reach will be reported to the scout office and they will be contacted later.

Any block leader who is missed by the girl scouts should call the girl scout office, 9239, Saturday afternoon, and salvage committee members will collect their hose.

If Saturday's weather is inclement, the pickup will be postponed until next Saturday, Mrs. Bales said.
