Rommel African Drive Slackens As Yanks Consolidate Positions

Allied Front Being Moved Back To Stronger Mountain Defenses

By DANIEL DE LUCE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA (AP)—American armored forces stabilized their new line on the Tunisian mountains near the Algerian frontier yesterday while the violent drive by Marshal Erwin Rommel that had carried him more than 60 miles slackened off to mere skirmishing.

The announced withdrawal of French troops from Pichon, about 40 miles north of the Faid pass area where Rommel began his thrust on Sunday, indicated that the central section of the allied front was being moved back to stronger defensive positions on the west side of the Ousselet valley. This would deprive Rommel of opportunity for a quick thrust northwest behind the allied forward units.

The new line runs along mountains as high as 4,000 feet which flank the pass leading from Feriana to Tebessa, the latter in Algeria. The allied communique reported no action of consequence during the day. The French high command, speaking of an action well to the north of the Feriana area, announced that French Moroccan troops southwest of Pont Du Fahs had taken 45 axis prisoners in a local attack and that in another and unspecified northern Tunisian sector British and French troops had "inflicted serious losses on the enemy and captured prisoners and arms."

Additional information from the front indicated that earlier estimates of American equipment losses in the heavy fighting now ended might be reduced as

Governmental Chaos Exists in Puerto Rico

Investigation Shows Overlapping Agencies Aggravating Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared yesterday that a 10-day investigation of conditions in Puerto Rico by a senate sub-committee disclosed "confusion, overlapping and duplication" of governmental agencies both federal and insular.

He said in a statement that this condition, the people's poverty, and the "aggravation of food conditions and unemployment through the reduction in shipping" were the things that impressed the investigating senators.

First member of the group to return to Washington, Taft expressed hope the committee could agree on steps to afford immediate relief, "such as an increase and regularization of shipping."

Describing over-population as the "basic difficulty," the Ohioan said the people of Puerto Rico "are adopting a number of socialistic measures, some of which are necessary, but others threaten to aggravate their troubles rather than to assist them."

The submarine menace has disappeared "at least temporarily" from the Puerto Rican route, Taft found.

STARVING JAPS MADE PRISONERS IN SOLOMONS

TWO EMACIATED, WEAKENED Jap prisoners are assisted toward a United States ship by a husky marine in the northern Solomons. The enemy soldiers were so sick from lack of food that they had difficulty in walking alone. Meanwhile, allied headquarters in Australia announced the damaging of four Japanese merchant ships in an air raid on Buin, on Bougainville island.

Reds Wipe Out Nazis in Kursk, Kharkov Area

Take Enemy Garrison At Oboyan to Drive On Toward Dnieper

LONDON (AP)—The Red army has cleared the last German soldier from the Kursk-Kharkov railroad and highway with the seizure of Oboyan, and has pushed on 25 miles due west of Kharkov in its continuing sweep toward the Dnieper river, a special Moscow communique recorded by the Soviet monitor said.

Oboyan, 35 miles south of Kursk, was surrounded and its Nazi garrison either wiped out or taken prisoner. Thus "the Kursk-Kharkov railway and highroad have been completely cleared of the enemy," the communique said.

Clean Out Spring Boards
Lubotin, 25 miles west of Kharkov, and Merefa, 15 miles southwest of Kharkov, also fell to the Russians as they cleaned out an entire north-south series of springboards to facilitate their push toward the Dnieper river, considered the next best German defensive line in southern Russia.

Oboyan had been by-passed by Russian units driving to the west. One Soviet column already had captured Lvov, 40 miles west of Kursk, and 50 miles northwest of Oboyan. Another Red army group had taken Graivoron, 60 miles southwest of Oboyan.

Spur Rail Line
A spur railway connects the highroad town of Oboyan with the Kursk-Kharkov main line 18 miles to the east.

The capture of Lubotin put the Russian army only 55 miles from Poltava, another German base on the Loozovaya-Kiev railway across the Ukraine. Lubotin also is a junction for the line running to the northwest.

The numerous Soviet columns operating west of Kursk and Kharkov now are in a position to spread out to the northwest and southwest over a vast network of Ukrainian railways leading to the Dnieper which flows southwestward across most of the Ukraine.

Midwest OPA Plans Civil, Criminal Action Against Black Market

Will File Injunction Suits Against Illegal Purveyors of Meat

CHICAGO (AP)—Criminal and civil action against black market operators was planned by OPA officials yesterday in an effort to halt illegal traffic in meat in the Midwest.

Alex Elson, regional attorney for the office of price administration, announced 100 injunction suits would be filed by the end of next week, and predicted that extrajudicial country slaughtering would be brought under control soon.

John Hastings, enforcement attorney of the agency, reported investigations were under way with a view toward bringing criminal charges against violators. He added that violations of price regulations could entail one year in prison and a $5,000 fine, and that violations of restrictions on slaughtering could involve a two year prison term and a $10,000 fine.

"They disclosed their plans at a press conference after the American Meat Institute, an association of packers, stated "a considerable number of meat packers shortly will be forced out of business" as a result of the operations of city racketeers and unrestrained rural butchers.

Elson told reporters he had "nothing to say today" concerning rumors that the Capone syndicate, bootlegging peers of prohibition days, had entered the meatlegging field.

Bomber Crash Victims Rise to Twenty-Nine

Renewed Fires Occur In Factory Wreckage Asphyxiating Fireman

SEATTLE (AP)—A new fire broke out in the smoldering ruins of the Frye packinghouse yesterday, claimed another life and brought to 29 the list of dead and missing resulting from the crash of a four-motored army bomber into the plant.

The big Boeing bomber, on a test flight, flew for 20 miles with a motor ablaze before it crashed into the building near its home field, where Pilot Edmund T. Allen, Boeing's director of flight and aerodynamics, was trying to bring it down.

The plane began to disintegrate over the city, dropping parts of one motor and a wing over a section of Seattle. One wing was in flames when it crashed during the noon hour Thursday.

The bomber's 11 civilian occupants were killed. Seventeen packing company employees were listed as dead or missing. Twenty people were injured, two critically, when the flaming bomber turned the plant into an inferno.

Ten bodies were recovered but rescue squads said it might be days before all were found and identified.

The twenty-ninth victim was a fireman, asphyxiated by the second outbreak of fire.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Lynne Overman, 55, veteran stage actor and movie comedian, died yesterday from the effects of a heart ailment.

Housewives Have Last Chance to Stock Up On Canned Fruits, Vegetables Before Ration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housewives, confronted by a twin freeze, have their last chance today to stock up on canned fruits and vegetables in advance of rationing. Officials said yesterday that stocking up is approved so long as it stays within reasonable family needs.

A government "freeze" will take these canned goods off the grocery shelves for one week after midnight tonight in preparation for the start of point rationing March 1.

At the same time a freeze of nature was reported by the agriculture department yesterday to have damaged severely the Florida winter crops of fresh vegetables counted upon heavily to supplement the rationed canned supplies.

Officials said the situation was not serious enough, however, to interfere with the canned goods rationing, and they proceeded with the program. The point values of the rationed articles will be announced Sunday and published in the public will register for the new ration books starting Monday.

Tonight's sales suspension will affect all canned and frozen fruits and vegetables, dried fruits, canned baby foods and canned soups.

In the following eight days, people are expected to live on their accumulated stocks of these foods plus the unrationed foods which will remain on sale, including fresh fruits and vegetables, cereals, bread, milk and meat. Meat is to be rationed later but for the present may be sold without restriction.

Florida Cold Spell
The cold spell in Florida was reported to have virtually wiped out the crop of snap beans and to have caused varying degrees of damage to celery, cabbage, lettuce, lima beans, peas, tomatoes, eggplant, early potatoes, berries and citrus fruits except grapefruit.

Coupled with the fact that rationing of canned goods is expected to shift considerable consumer demand to fresh fruits and vegetables, the Florida damage is expected by agriculture department experts to cause an increase in prices. In this connection, OPA announced that it will place price ceilings over fresh vegetables sometime during the next two or three months.

The "price lists" of point values which will be assigned each type of can under the forthcoming canned goods rationing are being kept secret until sales stop. Preliminary public knowledge of these values would enable hoarders to stock up on the foods which will cost the most points.

48 Points Per Month
Everyone, regardless of age or occupation, will have 48 points to "spend" during the month of March. Every retail store will be required to collect coupons of certain denominations for every purchase of canned goods.

The ration coupons bearing these point values will be distributed in a nation-wide registration beginning Monday. One adult of each family will be able to get the ration books, known as War Ration Book Number 4, from a nearby schoolhouse or other public place by exhibiting the Number 1 ration books already held by his family. The Number 1 books now are being used for sugar, coffee and shoes.

Many newspapers are printing copies of a "consumer declaration" which will serve as the application blank for the new ration books. Householders are urged by OPA to clip these from their papers or obtain copies from ration board and to fill them out Sunday in preparation for the registration.

House Shelves Plan Cutting AAA Control Of Wheat and Corn

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to remove some of the restrictions of the AAA crop control law pertaining to wheat, corn and peanuts was shunted aside temporarily by the house yesterday after an attempt to kill it in favor of a new farm program had lost by a vote, 109 to 109.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard had recommended the measure so that his 1943 food production program—which he said is designed to encourage greater feeding of wheat to livestock and greater production of corn for feed and peanuts for vegetable oil—would be in conformity with the law.

Bi-partisan efforts to suspend for the war's duration the entire AAA program were ruled out of order before the Wickard-sponsored measure was put aside after two days' debate until Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Wickard asked congress to sell an additional 100,000,000 bushels of government-owned wheat for livestock feed at prices competitive with corn and other feeds.

Roosevelt Agrees That Soldiers Should Help Bring In Harvest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt was reported yesterday to have agreed that soldiers should help harvest crops in regions where there is a shortage of farm labor.

Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) of the house agricultural committee said Mr. Roosevelt endorsed this idea in principle in a discussion with him at the White House, but suggested there was no need for legislation since the matter could be handled by executive order.

Mr. Roosevelt himself had indicated at his press conference earlier that he was backing the army firmly in its controversy with some congressional elements over the question of limiting the size of the armed forces, and suggested that

F.D.R. Pledges Utmost Speed In Making China Great Base Of Operations Against Japan

WASHINGTON (AP)—With Madame Chiang Kai-Shek by his side, President Roosevelt solemnly declared yesterday that everyone in Washington is pledged to the utmost speed in making China a great base of operations against the Japanese.

As to when this might be accomplished, Mr. Roosevelt said as quickly as the Lord will let us, and the smiling, quick-witted little first lady of China appended the observation that the Lord helps those who help themselves.

Those remarks were the high spot of what was in some respects possibly the most remarkable press conference ever held at the White House—a joint reception of newspaper reporters by the president, Mrs. Roosevelt and their distinguished guest, the wife of the Chinese generalissimo.

It took on the atmosphere of what the Methodist denomination, which had a hand in Madame Chiang's Christian education, calls a "love feast." Everybody was complimenting everybody else, and the mood was one of comradeship in faith and works.

There was great seriousness in Mr. Roosevelt's voice when he stressed that tremendous difficulties of transportation lay in the way of fulfilling the pledges of aid of all kinds to China. In the present stage, everything must move by air, he said, and it is not possible to go by way of Russia, only by the southwest.

There was just this passing reference to Russia, and nothing to indicate whether it had any significance beyond a factual statement of a geographical situation.

The compliments began when the 200 members of the press were ushered into the president's oval office to find him, Mrs. Roosevelt and Madame Chiang seated behind his desk.

Mr. Roosevelt, introducing the reporters to Madame Chiang, remarked that it was about his 1,000th press conference in 10 years and he thought it was a very good sign that he and the press rather liked each other.

Madame Chiang's visit, he said, would be of very great help to America because this country and China not only were close to each other in thought and objective, but had the same ideals.

"China, in the last . . . less than half a century . . . has become one of the great democracies of the world and we must remember always that her civilization is thousands of years older than ours. And that is why I feel that we in this country have a great deal more to learn about China than China has to learn about us."

Madame Chiang replied with praise for the way the press kept the secret of the president's Casablanca trip, until it was officially announced, and an expression of hope that the Chinese press could lead its country to complete social and political democracy.

The president and Madame Chiang then answered questions with Mrs. Roosevelt following the exchanges closely, laughing with them at times, but saying nothing herself.

Post-War Opinions—

Dear Editor:

Lately there has been a great deal of discussion in The Daily Iowan concerning the planning for the post-war world. There should be no doubt in any one's mind as to whether or not there should be such planning.

However, the great problem is getting the American people interested in the post-war planning. The reluctance of our allies to discuss peace terms with us is not as serious as is the indifference of the American people toward the planning for a world after the war.

Ask the man on the street if he thinks we shall win this peace. He will probably look at you, answer vaguely that if we don't find out exactly what we want we can't demand our terms at a peace conference.

Is this all the confidence the American people have in the leaders which they have placed into office by their own choice? The American people should realize that it is they who are going to write the peace terms, and they should be willing to listen to, to offer and to discuss all possible plans so that they all can be weighed, measured and valued so that the best plan will be ready and polished when the time comes for its presentation.

We say we are fighting for freedom from fear and want, freedom of speech and freedom of religion. We are sending our sons, husbands and sweethearts to the fighting fronts. We say these freedoms are worth fighting for. If they are worth dying for surely they are worth living for, too.

Sincerely yours, Ruth Lerdal (A4)

Cars and Tires—

There are said to be now 27,000,000 automobiles in this country, and the army is reported as wanting 7,000,000 of them. It can get them easily enough by asking for them and providing turn-in places and paying a fair price.

Tires, however, are a bigger problem. The output of private factories is very limited and government factories have not yet reached the production stage. The army will soon need millions of tires, and there is talk of starting the first collection by "requisitioning" all the spare tires of passenger cars.

That would be pretty hard on the fellows who have been cherishing those tires ever since the war began, and trusting them to replace the ones now wearing out and keep the old car going.

Another temporary solution is to let the army take all automobiles over one to a family. That will be all right when it is obviously necessary. But there are many families of varied activities that really need two cars, or at least can make justifiable use of them.

News Behind the News

Rickenbacker Adversaries Hit The Man, Not the Words

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—When Eddie Rickenbacker came back from death and the miserable fox-holes to berate the lazy workers who were laying off too much in airplane factories, the liberals set upon him with vigor.

The liberal and labor press and magazines did not attempt to deny his accusations of sloth, but sought to tear him apart like Lindbergh. One typical editorial said: "Our hero has feet of clay."

They did not attempt to answer what he had to say, but merely sought to destroy him as a public figure.

Exactly what Rickenbacker said a few weeks ago is now being said by Philip Murray of the CIO and the A. F. of L. executive committee. The committee has strongly urged its workers against absenteeism and Murray's CIO has also taken leadership along that line.

From this, you must deduce that what matters nowadays is not what a man says, but who says it. Propaganda devices of various groups and blocs seem to shun facts and open debate. They care not about truth, only whether the speaker is prejudiced on their side.

Democracy is supposed to function only by open debate. The theory of it is that each man or group speaks the truth as he sees it, and that the right way is found from this debate.

Democracy can be nullified now and eventually destroyed if men and blocs use their highly developed modern publicity and propaganda devices ferociously, brutally and falsely, merely for the purpose of crushing opposition.

If any democratic leader for instance, says: "Any man who criticizes me is unpatriotic," and is able to enforce this opinion, Democracy is gone, no matter what shell of a name it clings to.

CIO Using Similar Tactics—

Simultaneously, the CIO and liberal mouthpieces seem to be adopting similar tactics to prevent any correction of abuses in labor ranks.

A well organized onslaught is now under way against the Hobbs' bill which proposes to make labor unions subject to racketeering laws, as other groups are.

But it is clear, labor is organizing to repel this corrective effort and all others—such as inspection of books of labor organizations—on the false propaganda basis that these moves to make unions healthy are diabolical efforts. This enables them to resist all corrections.

Far better would it be for union leaders to take hold of these corrective efforts themselves, as they finally have done in the case of Rickenbacker.

If the current congressional efforts to correct the unions are false, why don't the union leaders assume the responsibility which is primarily theirs, to clean their ranks of racketeers, to maintain discipline against shirkers, to keep their financial secretaries from stealing, by open inspection of their books?

Their current reactionary tactics threaten to destroy unions faster than any bill now pending in congress.

No one can destroy the unions except their leaders. The first step is to cease to appeal to reason, and to appeal only to prejudice.

Why McNutt Has Been Behind— At 5:30 p. m., a few hours before Economic Stabilizer Byrnes was to go on the air with his sensational 48-hour week solution, Manpowerist Paul McNutt was telephoning newsmen here trying to find out what Byrnes would say.

This explains why McNutt has been behind in issuing interpretations, but it explains more than that. The McNutt orders have been trimming the scope and strength of the program and may be expected to continue.

The truth is many a loyal government official (including new dealers outside the Byrnes organization), is convinced the solution will not solve either the manpower, inflation, wage, or production problems.

In the end, it is likely to be eased down quietly by interpretive orders to the point where it will lose its projected potency.

Beating the Submarine—

It seems only yesterday that a 24-inch pipeline from Texas to Illinois to move vitally needed oil on its way to the Atlantic coast was still a dream. But it has been built, every obstacle overcome and now oil is arriving at Norris City at the middle western terminus of "Big Inch," as the world's largest oil line is known to those who worked along it.

A rousing salute is due a vital job expeditiously performed. These underground tankers through Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois will never be sunk by submarines along the Atlantic coast.

Interpreting the War News—

Warmer Weather Spells Nazi Doom

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

New and grave portents of disaster for shaken and retreating Nazi armies in southern Russia can be read into German high command reports of unseasonably high temperatures hampering their withdrawal to the Dnieper line. Sacrifice of heavy equipment, munitions and stores through inability to move them over flooded streams, mud-clogged roads or sodden fields must result on an incalculable scale even if troops escape behind the river.

50 Degree Temperatures Normally spring thaws are due in the middle of March in the lower sectors of the Dnieper drainage basin below Kiev and Kharkov. Fifty-degree temperatures are reported now, however, starting the run-off of melting snow and ice prematurely.

It is east of the north-south span of the Dnieper between Orsha in the north and Kiev in the south, and north of its southeastward trend below Kiev to find its way around the great Dnieper plateau to the Black sea that the main tributaries of the river lie. It is in that vast area, too, east of Dnieper bend and west of Kharkov to Kiev that the major portions of Nazi southern armies are attempting to extricate themselves from Russian traps.

'Hedge-Hog' System Northward, where the Russian encirclement drive to crack the Orel redoubt of the Nazi "hedge-hog" system in the center is making ominous progress, spring thaws are not normally due before late April. The Russians can count confidently on continuing aggressive action there under winter conditions that have proved so adaptable to their needs for another six weeks or so.

For that reason, new emphasis noted on the Soviet effort to take Orel and ominously threaten Bryansk and the whole Nazi supporting line in the center to Smolensk and Vitebsk is especially significant. Russian forces at Belev, due north of Orel, are reported on the move again, indicating that Russian strategy contemplates shifting the attack scene from the south to the center once the spring thaw sets in southward.

Tremendous as have been the Russian forces thrown into offensive action at Stalingrad, in the Caucasus, against the Don-Donets basin and northward around the Kursk-Orel hinge between the south and central fronts, there is

Washington Paused to Grieve Over

'Ned' Bruce: One of the Capital's Great Men

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — In the midst of war a large section of Washington has paused to grieve over the death of Edward Bruce.

"Ned" Bruce (no one ever called him anything else, in spite of the respect accorded his 63 years) was one of the capital's most loved characters. He was a fine painter, although he never took it up as more than a hobby after his 44th year. He had made a modest fortune newspapering and banking in the Philippines and China, and was for the last eight years chief of the fine arts section of the treasury department.

In that capacity, he had charge of all those projects of the civil works administration and federal works agency that put thousands of murals, paintings and sculptures in the nation's public buildings. It has been said that this program which he administered probably did more for art and artists in America than any single factor in modern times.

But it was not for that reason that Washington lamented his passing. Ned Bruce probably knew as many of Washington's famous as any one. There was hardly a week that he didn't carry on an informal note correspondence with the president and most of these notes would make rare bits of Rooseveltiana. Bruce explained them, when he mentioned them at all, as "Just a little whimsy the president and I are discussing."

There were few big artists in the country who failed to visit Bruce when they were in Washington. But he never let "big names" bother him. His informal dinners and other parties were a mixture of the great and unknowns and I have heard dozens of guests say they were the most delightful in Washington.

"Ned" Bruce hated stuffed shirts in art, politics and business. He delighted in taking the wind out of the sails of shamsters. He was never impressed by the purely colossal. He invariably referred to the National Art Gallery as "the Mellon mausoleum of art."

Stricken with paralysis several years ago and almost completely confined to his chair, Bruce never let up. He and Mrs. Bruce continued to give their little parties and he continued to keep his audiences rocking with salty tales of his years in the Orient or of the time he spent painting in southern France.

Bruce never gave up his work either until the last few months when another stroke forced him to go to Florida and a more kindly climate. One of his last great projects was a competition for the massive sculptures that flank the entrance to the new war department building and the big mural that adorns the lobby.

It was said that Ned Bruce never took a dime for his work from the government and that he spent thousands of his own furthering it, but that was something he never discussed.

Iowa 1943 War Act Returned to Senate

The state senate appropriations committee No. 1 returned to the senate for passage the "Iowa Emergency War Act of 1943" Wednesday, but recommended elimination of the entire section authorizing the governor to exercise broad powers in event of invasion.

No dissenting vote was cast by any of the 16 committee members, all of whom are Republicans except LeRoy S. Mercer (Dem., Iowa City).

The bill gives legal sanction to civilian defense powers, authorizes continuance of the 15-member state blackout law, legalizes county defense councils, authorizes cities and towns to adopt and enforce blackout ordinances and provides penalties for theft of property subject to rationing.

Among the powers under the bill which the governor is authorized to use if requested to do so by the president, secretary of war or secretary of navy and to which the committee expressed objections were as follows:

The regulation of traffic on any highway in the state; the suspension of any law interfering with the war effort; the use of property and resources of the state for the war effort; the leasing or lending of any state property to the United States.

The authorization of temporary transfer of any state employee or officer to the federal government, and the taking immediate possession of any real or personal property within the state and employ it for such time and in such manner as deemed best for national defense.

A student dinner will follow in Iowa Union. Reservations may be obtained by calling the school of religion by Monday noon.

Plan Religious Week Services

As a part of the observance of National Brotherhood week, three prominent leaders in religion will hold an informal discussion on interfaith problems Monday in the senate chamber of Old Capitol at 4:10.

The speakers will be: Prof. Sterling Brown of Drake university, minister of education for Christian church, Des Moines; Rabbi Monroe Stevens of the Tifereth Israel Temple, Des Moines; and Father John Alders, well-known Catholic leader, Des Moines.

The purpose of National Brotherhood week is to strengthen the common sentiments for American brotherhood.

President Roosevelt says of Brotherhood week, "We are fighting for the right of men to live together as members of one family rather than as masters and slaves. We are fighting that the spirit of brotherhood, which we prize in this country, may be practiced here and by free men everywhere." He also says, "I like the slogan 'Victory for Brotherhood.'"

Sponsors of the out-of-town speakers are members of the Interfaith fellowship, Student Christian club, Newman club and Hiller.

Hawkeyes Engage Purdue at Lafayette Tonight

Cagers Make Final Journey

Hawks Seek to Gain Win to Halt Losses in Conference Play

Probable Starting Lineups

Iowa	Purdue
Trickey	F
Vacanti or	F
Lundstedt	F
O'Brien	C
Nesmith	C
Lundstedt or	G
Humphrey	G

Broadcast: Station WSUI by Bob Pfeiffer at 7:25 p. m.

Iowa's Hawks are in Lafayette, Ind. today awaiting their battle tonight with Purdue's cagers in an attempt to get back on the victory path in Big Ten competition.

Coach "Pops" Harrison took all the available men possible—a squad of nine players—on the last road trip of the season. The team will journey to Chicago to play the Maroons Monday night before returning home.

The Iowans will have to contend with a taller Purdue team than usual, headed by 6 foot 4 inch Capt. Al Menke and 6 foot 3 inch Ed Ehlers, who have scored 90 and 89 points respectively in conference play.

Three Hawks are certain of starting the game—Capt. Ben Trickey at forward, Jim O'Brien at center and Gene Nesmith at guard. The other two positions will either have Sam Vacanti at forward and Bob Lundstedt at guard, or Lundstedt at forward and Jim Humphrey at guard.

In the Chicago game the Hawkeyes will have a better chance. The Maroons have lost 37 successive conference basketball games and are likely to drop No. 38 tonight to Northwestern. Therefore the Hawks, now only one notch above the last place Maroons, will attempt to tack another defeat on Chicago Monday.

Iowa is wary of the Maroons, if for no other reason than that Chicago twice ended long losing streaks at the Hawkeyes' expense. On Feb. 19, 1938, the Maroons ended a 33-game string by beating Iowa and on Feb. 23, 1935, they whipped the Hawks after 14 straight setbacks. In the period between the 1935 and 1938 dates, Chicago had lost all its league contests.

Badger-Illini Tilt Headlines Big Ten Action

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois vs. Wisconsin is the feature game of today's Big Ten basketball card, not only because two of the league's best individual stars will be matching wits, but also because the championship may well hang on the outcome.

The Illini, undefeated in nine games, have contests with Northwestern and lowly Chicago after the Badger tilt, and while the Wildcats may prove tough in the Chicago stadium one week later, it's this game—against Wisconsin—that has Illinois' coach, Doug Mill talking to himself.

Andy Phillip, high-scoring member of the Illinois team, is only seven points away from equalling the modern 12-game scoring record of 184 points set in 1938 by Purdue's Jewell Young, and only 11 points below the all-time 12-game high of 188 points made in 1920 by Illinois' Chuck Carney when a fouled player could designate some better shot to take his free throws.

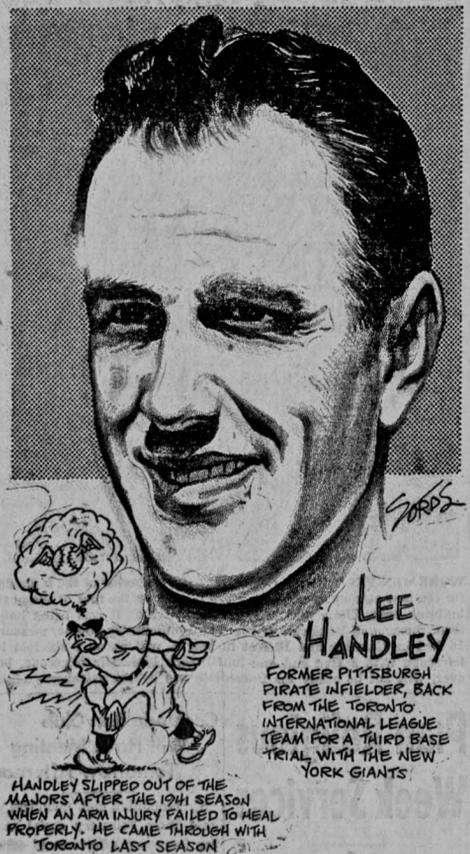

Phillip's 177 points in nine games gives him an average of 19.6 a game and if he keeps up this pace in three more contests he will just miss reaching the 15-game high of 242 points made by Wisconsin's Johnny Kotz last year in an extra long season.

Kotz, now in the senior year of a great college career, already has set a league all-time scoring high for three years of competition. Fifteen points in last Monday's Indiana game gave Kotz a three-season quota of 472 points, topping the former high of 465 made by Purdue's Young.

While all the emphasis this week-end is on the Illinois-Wisconsin clash, Indiana's Hoosiers will be meeting Minnesota in a pair at Bloomington. Indiana received its first defeat last Monday at the hands of Wisconsin and now its only hopes for a title lay in the chance the Illini will suffer a loss somewhere along the remaining trail.

Michigan is at Ohio State, Iowa at Purdue and Northwestern is at Chicago in other league games today.

Jumping into an early lead which they never relinquished, Immaculate Conception's powerful cagers downed St. Patrick's fighting quintet, 37-18, last night on the Irish court.

It was apparent from the start that the Cedar Rapids aggregation was too big and fast for the Shamrocks, although Coach Cliff Krita's five displayed some good basketball during parts of the contest.

Co-Captain Harry Wilcox led the rangy Greyhounds with nine markers, followed closely by Center Bob Russell with eight points. Co-Captain Billy played one of the best games of his career as he led the floor play and garnered eight points to bear the brunt of the attack for the Green and White.

The Cedar Rapids quintet assumed an early 8-4 lead at the end of the first quarter. Russell led the Greyhound attack during most of the first half, netting three baskets in a row.

One of the interesting notes of the contest was the slow scoring in the first quarter. It wasn't until near the end of the first period that either team scored a basket with Immaculate Conception getting the honor.

The scoring picked up during the second quarter with the Greyhounds surging into a 20-7 half-time margin. Superior height told the tale during this stanza as the rangy Greyhounds grabbed most of the rebounds tip-offs to score easily.

Billy Connell led his mates during most of the contest as he sank four baskets and played some outstanding ball from his back court position. The Irish were handicapped with the loss of big Jim Russell, and Phil McLaughlin was suffering from a gash over his eye.

* Jim Thorpe Could Do * Anything in Athletics * Says Eddie Brannick

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Brannick explored a drawer in his big desk at the New York Giant office and came up with an autographed picture of Jim Thorpe which he passed around for inspection.

Eddie had just mentioned that he couldn't imagine the big Indian having a bad heart, and looking at the picture of the one-man gang clad in his Carlisle football suit you couldn't imagine it either. He looked indestructible.

Pile Driver
"I remember the first time I saw him," Eddie said. "It was around 1911 and I went to a football game between Carlisle and Army, and saw this big fellow run down the field leaving a bunch of army men scattered in his wake. And they didn't get up very fast, either. The way he'd run he'd belt you with his knees or hips. Army was out to stop him that day. It didn't. He won the game single handed."

The subject of Thorpe's baseball career was brought up, and we wondered just how good a ball player he was.

"Pretty good," Eddie said. "He played longer than you think. Look it up. It must have been seven or eight years. He had one big weakness. He couldn't hit a curve ball."

A listener corrected him by saying Jim couldn't hit a right-handed curve, but that he could belt a left-handed curve. It was agreed that Thorpe's weakness against right-handed curves largely was mental, as he had heard so much about them he just was convinced he couldn't hit them.

"Mr. McGraw was very fond of him," Eddie continued, "and Jim got along fine with the other players. They'd pester him to death, though. You know he could handle any three or four men, and when he got in friendly scuffles he was so rough that Mr. McGraw had to threaten to fine him for any horseplay. Mr. McGraw was afraid Jim would break somebody's arm or leg or something. He'd toss big men like Jeff Tesreau around like they were babies."

Could Do Anything
"You know, I don't think there ever was an athlete who was considered the best so unanimously. There never was any question about it. He could do anything, and he didn't have any particular style, either. He'd just do it by main strength and instinct."

"I was just a young fellow when Jim came to the Giants, and I was awed by his record as any young fellow would be. I started to call him Mr. Thorpe, and he said: 'Just call me Jim.' I remember how proud I was just walking down the street with him. I could imagine other kids saying: 'There goes Jim Thorpe; I wonder who that is with him?'" having a bum ticker. I never saw such strength in a man. And it's great to hear that he's out of that hospital in Detroit and is around again."

Cardinal Organization Loses 265 Players

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A total of 265 players from the Cardinal organization now are in military service, President Sam Brendon said yesterday, bearing out his statement that lack of manpower was the chief difficulty facing the world champions' fan system.

A conference of Cardinal officials Thursday disclosed that many others are in the 1A category or face reclassification in the immediate future. In addition, 15 players have volunteered and are awaiting call to active duty.

Seahawks Run Today in Collegiate Meet

Beetham, Mehl Head Track Team Against Other Iowa Schools

The Seahawk varsity track team, representing the Navy Pre-Flight school, will make its second appearance of the season today, entering the Iowa State collegiate meet at Drake university.

Entries will include the Seahawks, Drake, Iowa State, Iowa State Teachers, Grinnell and Cornell. The Seahawks placed third in a triangular meet with Wisconsin and Iowa two weeks ago, shortly after the organization of their team.

Lieut. George Otterness' cadet team will be strengthened for the meet by the temporary addition of Seaman Charlie Beetham and Ens. Walter Mehl, both of whom have declined invitations to run in Eastern meets this week. Beetham is ranked as one of the nation's foremost middle-distance stars and Mehl, recovering from a muscle injury that struck him down in the recent Millrose games, is a ranking miler.

Cadet star of the Seahawk squad is Clyde Hale, hurdler and broad jumper from Pana, Ill. Hale was found on the Seahawk varsity wrestling squad by Lieutenant Otterness and recruited for duty with the track team, where he has made impressive showings in his specialties. Another Seahawk star is Cadet Armin Baumann, who sailed 6 ft. 2 in. for a second place in the high jump in his team's first appearance.

Lieutenant Otterness, former assistant coach at the University of Minnesota, has expressed pleasure at his squad's progress. "They're all green," he has said, "and it's not easy working out in the early evening after what would generally be considered a pretty full day of exercise. But the boys have shown real progress this last 10 days and we might surprise even ourselves."

The inexperience of Otterness' team is shown by the fact that only one of his cadets has had as much as two years college experience.

Hawkeye Highlights

Jim O'Brien, center, leads Iowa basketball players with a shooting average of .250... he is followed by Ben Trickey with .231. Jim has hit 21 of 84 shots, Trickey has 40 of 183. Up to the Purdue game tonight, the Hawkeyes have a .226 average, based upon the averages of players taking at least 40 shots, reports WGN of Chicago.

It was made 19 years ago, yet the record for the 220-yard low hurdles around a curve, made by Charles R. Brookins of the University of Iowa, still stands as an American mark... the time is :23.8 and Brookins made it in the Big Ten meet at Chicago in 1924.

The nine-man squad is the smallest ever taken on a Big Ten basketball trip by the University of Iowa... it includes three men who never have played in a conference game: Don Thompson, guard; and Carroll Allen and Seymour Brodner, forwards.

Bob Becker of Clinton, senior in the backstroke, is the leading Iowa swimming scorer still in competition, now that Vito Lopin has finished for air corps service... Becker has 18 points in three meets... Capt. Clyde Kemnitz is second with 14... Lopin had 29.

Larry Cole Breaks Victory Run Record

Larry Cole, Delta Upsilon representative, established a new course record on the "pee wee obstacle run" last night, traveling the distance in :26.3 seconds.

The previous record was held by the pre-flight school with a time of 27 seconds. Other good times last night included 27 seconds run by Earl Prince, Buster Hart and John Hunter, and 28 seconds run by Buddy Hart.

Competition on the intramural victory course ends tonight at 9 o'clock.

University High Cagers Defeat Mt. Vernon Quintet 37 to 28

By JACK SCHROEDER

University high's cagers proved last night they could beat the same basketball club twice as they trounced Mt. Vernon 37-28 for their second victory over the same outfit in two weeks. Acting captain Jim Rasely led his teammates with 12 for the evening's high scoring honors.

The Bluehawks had more trouble with the host cagers this time than last week as Jack Coch, Mt. Vernon guard, kept his mates in the running with five baskets from far out. Coch was the only player to score consistently for the Mt. Vernon quintet as the Blues' airtight defense bottled up the rest of the lineup.

This victory gave the U-high five a record of six and one in Eastern Iowa conference standings. Next week they will meet West Branch to decide the winner of the loop crown. The win over Mt. Vernon puts the Blues in a much better position to cop the championship.

When the Bluehawks assumed the lead they never were headed as they demonstrated a good balance of scoring power. Behind Rasely followed Jack Shay with nine markers and Don Wagner with eight. Ed Smith hit for four counters and Bud Halvorsen got three.

Robinson Outpoints Wilson in Comeback

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson started up the comeback trail toward avenging the only defeat of his career by outpointing California Jackie Wilson last night in ten rounds of "block buster" belting in Madison Square Garden. Robinson scaled 142½; Wilson 142¼.

Making his first start since Jake LaMotta snapped his all-conquering streak of 139 straight triumphs as an amateur and pro in Detroit a couple of weeks ago, the skinny Harlem hammer turned loose the most explosive dynamite of his career. Yet, though he floored the California boxing expert in the fourth round and staggered him in the fourth two other times during the fight, Ray couldn't apply the crusher.

And, although he had Wilson in trouble on at least three occasions, he had to go all out to grab the decision against the edge Wilson piled up on the in-fighting and with occasional long hard hooks. At the finish, The Associated Press score card gave Robinson five rounds, Wilson four and called one even.

A crowd of 18,336 turned out to contribute to a gross gate of $47,683 for the show, from which the National Infantile Paralysis fund received a share of the proceeds, estimated at $4,500.

Hawk Malmen Beat Carleton In Dual, 23-3

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP)—University of Iowa wrestlers won seven matches out of eight to defeat Carleton, 23 to 3, last night. All Iowa wins came by decisions except in the 165 pound class in which Jack Shepard pinned Bob Coulter in 4:40.

City Primary To Be Monday

Parties Will Settle Two Major Questions At Separate Elections

When Democrats and Republicans go to the polls in Monday's primary municipal elections, they will cast ballots to decide only two major questions as to who will represent the respective parties in the general balloting next month. The only important race to be settled by G. O. P. supporters is the position of fourth ward alderman, for which A. C. Harman and Carl S. Kringel have filed petitions. Republican candidates for all other major municipal posts are unchallenged from within the party.

Three Democrats aspiring to the two alderman-at-large offices provide the sole contest to be waged in that party's primary voting. They are Sam Whiting Jr., Jule Casper and J. J. Zeithamel.

Also to be elected Monday are party delegates to city-wide conventions which will be held shortly before the municipal elections. The number of delegates from each precinct varies according to the number of party members in the precinct.

In addition, one committeewoman and one committeeman are to be elected from each precinct.

Now You Tell One

Here's a Soldier Going Might Envy

LONDON (AP)—Never have so many provosts been fooled so often by a single soldier as they have since Albert Thomas James of Osgoode Station, Ont., and Montreal, arrived in Britain.

Company Sergeant Major James, 44, a veteran of the Imperial army and an acting colonel at the end of his service in 1929, has so many decorations that almost every M. P. he encountered after his arrival here thought he was anything from a phony to a crank and acted accordingly.

He wears these decorations and campaign ribbons: D. S. O. and two bars, Great War, Victory with Mention, Territorial 1914 (Imperial), Indian Frontier, Mesopotamia and Persia, King Edward VII, King George V, King George VI, 21 years good conduct, Territorial Decoration for Officers, French Medaille Militaire and Belgian Croix de Guerre.

Greenswood Bush Source of Shellac

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—The greenswood bush, which grows on 24,500,000 acres of Arizona desert, is a potential source of shellac, in the opinion of Dr. Harold S. Colton, director of the Museum of Arizona.

The United States supplies of lac, basic ingredient of shellac, are threatened by the war, Dr. Colton pointed out.

Lac is secreted by tiny red insects with which greenswood bushes are infested. One of the areas of heaviest infestation is near the Japanese relocation center at Pecos, Ariz., which Dr. Colton suggested as a potential labor source.

Old U.S. Uniforms Clothe Nazi Prisoners

U. S. ARMY SALVAGE DEPOT IN NORTHERN IRELAND (AP)—Doughboys' discarded uniforms are being made into uniforms for German prisoners at this salvage depot, the first set up by the army outside the United States.

The depot's operations are saving the war department an estimated $5,000,000 a year, and are providing thousands of tons of wool, cotton, rubber and other materials for the allied war effort. The only item the depot doesn't keep to be remade into something else is zippers, which because of their wartime scarcity are sent back to the United States to be put back on new uniforms.

Married Couple Has Spinach Anniversary

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rationing priorities and other wartime restrictions can be overcome if one uses a little imagination.

Witness the library attendant asked by a young man to suggest an appropriate gift for friends married six years.

The librarian, thumbing a standard guide on appropriate anniversary gifts came up with the apparently hopeless "Sugar" and "Iron."

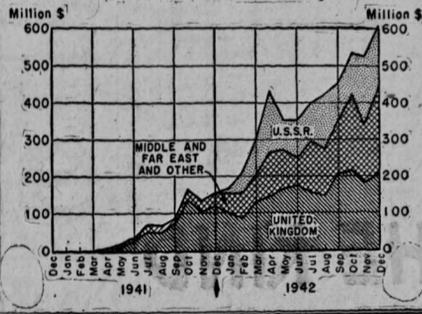

Sugar offered no solution but... "Spinach! That has plenty of iron in it."

So the young man sent them a case.

An instrument has been developed that enables blind persons to make precision inspection of certain machine products in war industries.

LEND-LEASE TOPS EIGHT BILLIONS

LEND-LEASE GOODS EXPORTED EACH MONTH BY COUNTRY OF DESTINATION

TOTAL AMOUNT of lend-lease aid given by the United States to Great Britain, Russia, China and other allies had totaled $8,253,000,000 at end of December, 1942. Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., has revealed. Above chart shows monthly increase in lend-lease aid to Great Britain, Russia and others. (International)

Some members of this group, the economic stabilization board headed by James F. Byrnes, hinted that protracted discussion of the 48-hour week had prevented them from going deeply into the farm problem.

President Roosevelt had mentioned some weeks ago his belief that young people of school age could make a substantial contribution to relief of the farm labor shortage. In again expressing it, he related a story a newspaperman told him at Casablanca of what Russian youngsters had done.

While Fulmer indicated the president's expression on use of soldiers for harvesting satisfied him that there is no need for legislation, it appeared doubtful that all senators were similarly satisfied.

Fulmer said he suggested to the president the possibility of sending a stipulated number of soldiers from nearby camps into labor shortage areas, with the understanding their services would be needed for only a short period of time.

"It would not interfere in any way with their training," he said, "and the president agreed that it would be very helpful. The soldiers used would be returned to their stations as soon as their work was finished. The farmers using them would pay into the treasury the prevailing pay of farm laborers doing similar work, and the soldiers would receive their regular pay."

"In effect," he explained, "the soldiers would be assigned temporarily to farm work as a part of the war effort."

Red Cross to Hold Silver Tea Sunday

To Celebrate Opening Of New Workrooms For Bandage Rolling

Visitors at the Red Cross silver tea tomorrow afternoon celebrating the opening of the new Red Cross surgical dressing unit at 630 E. Washington street will be taken on a personally conducted tour of the house by volunteer workers from the present unit in the city hall.

The tea will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock, and everyone interested in Red Cross work is invited to attend. Members of Kappa Gamma sorority are in charge and representatives from other sororities and organized houses have been invited to assist.

The sun porch of the house, donated to the Red Cross by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been chosen for the inspection room where dressings will be inspected, tied into bundles and made ready for shipment. An adjoining room contains long tables where volunteers will sit while making the dressings.

The reception room of the VFW home has become the room where beginners will register and take their first instructions in making surgical dressings.

An upstairs room may be used by club women who wish to hold meetings prior to working on surgical dressings, Francis J. Boyle, representing the VFW, announced.

The new unit will not be open evenings, but otherwise it will operate on the same schedule as the city hall center. The unit at the city hall will continue as usual, but no work can be done in the evenings there until a new shipment of supplies arrives. Red Cross officials announced yesterday. As soon as the shipment arrives, workers will be notified.

Secret Weapon Yank Doughboys Have Plenty of 'Guts'

NEW YORK—When American soldiers move into battle, says Franz Polgar, they are equipped with one weapon superior to that of their enemies—courage.

Polgar, a psychologist, has been touring army camps entertaining soldiers with hypnosis and "mind reading." By hypnotizing soldiers to believe they are actually engaged in battle, he says, it is possible to determine how they will react in real combat. During and after World War I, a lieutenant in the Hungarian army, he tested many nationalities. He hypnotized groups of soldiers, threw a piece of wood at them and told them it was a hand grenade. He says the Europeans so tested ran feverishly for cover, while Americans picked up the "grenade" and threw it back at him.

If German machine gunners are under bombardment and their gun breaks down, he declares, they'll immediately leave the gun and scurry for shelter. He says he found that Americans will try to repair the gun in spite of the bombs. Furthermore: Tell Germans they are going into battle against hopeless odds and they are likely to crack, says Polgar. Americans won't like it, but they'll fight to the limit anyhow, he believes. Americans have intelligent courage, whereas most Europeans have only blind discipline. Blind courage is not enough any more to win battles," he says.

Mild-mannered, soft-eyed, Polgar studied psychology at the University of Budapest, he relates, and served on clinic staffs as a specialist in nervous disorders. He also helped police obtain confessions from hypnotized suspects. As a lecturer in America his most spectacular trick is to let the sponsors of his civilian programs hide his check. If he can't find it, they can keep the fee.

"I've always been paid so far," he says.

Double Four Plans To Meet Thursday

History Circle to Meet

"Apple in the Attic" by Mildred Jordan will be reviewed Monday by Mrs. David C. Shipley at a meeting of the Athens History circle. The group will meet at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. H. J. Thornton, 4 Woolf court.

INTERPRETING—

every reason to believe that Stalin's major reserve concentration is in the Moscow theater. That is the natural locale for it because of direct multiple rail and road connections between the Moscow front and any part of the fighting front from the Baltic to the Sea of Azov. It is also the sector from which more crushing blows could be dealt the invader than have yet been delivered in the south.

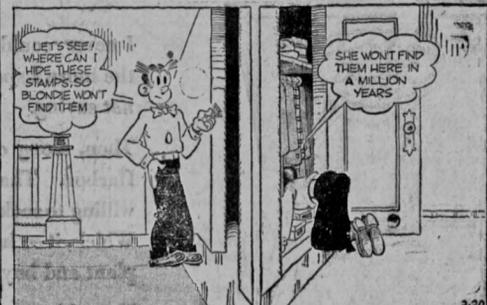

Once Orel goes down, there is small chance that Bryansk long can remain in enemy hands. The usefulness of Bryansk and of Ros-lavl and Smolensk farther to the northwest for either attack or defensive purposes is already badly impaired by events in the south.

I'M THE KIND OF A GUY THAT NEEDS A KICK IN THE PANTS"

I never could save money. The more I made, the more I spent. Always some good excuse for not saving.

Then, along came that Jap sneak play at Pearl Harbor. That made me mad . . . and plenty willing to sock back at them the best way I could. Which, it so happened, was by working in a war plant and buying War Bonds.

Next thing, our Shop announced they were putting in the Payroll Savings Plan for War Bonds, and I started buying Bonds on a regular month-to-month plan instead of on a hit-or-miss basis.

And now, doggone if it hasn't turned out that between the Japs and the Payroll Plan, I've had just the kick in the pants I needed to start me saving real dough for the first time in my life.

It's a wonderful feeling (aside and apart from knowing I'm helping pay for a war we've got to win, or else). You see, I'm putting in $37.50 every month. And that means, 10 years from now, I'm going to have me a nifty little income of $50 a month coming in. Four dollars back for every three I'm putting in today!

And, believe me, brother, nothing's going to keep me from getting that full four bucks back for every three. All I have to do is just keep tucking those bonds away, month in, month out . . . letting them earn interest on what I'm lending Uncle Sam today.

I said it's a wonderful feeling to know that at last I'm saving up money . . . adding to it regularly every month. But it's going to be even more wonderful when those bonds come due 10 years from now. 'Cause then a certain dream of mine is coming true.

My particular dream happens to be a little cabin on a lake upstate. Good fishing up there, and a swell place for week ends and vacations. Well, I'm going to own that cabin, and have the time to use it!

Maybe your idea of what you'll do with your War Bond money is different.

Maybe you'll use it to help send the kids through college . . . to help build a home of your own . . . or just to take a long, carefree trip somewhere with the Missus.

But whatever it is, remember this. The War Bonds you're buying today can make it come true. Just do what I'm doing. Buy your Bonds on a regular month-to-month basis and then . . .

Keep tucking 'em away . . . tucking 'em away . . . tucking 'em away . . .
