

Vacation Bible School Will Begin Tomorrow At Coralville School

A daily vacation Bible school will begin tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in the Coralville school-house, the Rev. Rudolph Messerli has announced. Classes will be held each morning, Monday through Friday, for the next two weeks.

The daily schedule will include graded Bible study and lesson material, a Bible memory period, music appreciation period, handwork and supervised recreation. Each day's work will be opened with a short worship service. A picnic for the pupils and their parents will be held Saturday, June 12. Closing exercises will be Sunday, June 13, when a program will be held in the church.

Breakfast, Shower To Honor Bride-Elect

A breakfast, honoring the approaching marriage of Margaret Toomey, daughter of D. C. Toomey, 312 S. Linn street, to E. J. Wilkinson, son of Mrs. Margaret Wilkinson, 620 S. Dodge street, will be given this morning at 10 o'clock by Mrs. Emmett Wilkinson and Mary Wilkinson. The party will be held in Miss Wilkinson's home, 620 S. Dodge street.

A personal shower will be given the bride-elect. Flowers and table decorations will emphasize a blue and yellow theme. Guests at the courtesy will include Mrs. Paul Toomey, Blanch McGurk, Edna Kenney, Gladys Manning, Helen Zeller, Margaret Patterson, Mrs. Bernice Larkin, Mrs. Margaret Wilkinson, Mrs. Paul Wilkinson and Monica Hennessey.

THREE ANSWERS TO YOUR DREAM OF A SUMMER HAT

SUMMER HATS are bobbing up again and here are three lovely prizes from a collection at Saks Fifth avenue in New York. The green parrots on the chaireuse lace straw model, upper left, may not talk, but the hat itself speaks eloquently of flattery. Triple fashion threat is the black lace hat with triangular shape brim at lower left. Crownless, with a black velvet ribbon, it is ideal for dining and dancing under summer stars. Natural lace straw to go with everything is the basis for the giant beret shown on the right. It takes on a glamorous air by the addition of a ruffled black grosgrain ribbon around the brim and crown. There's plenty of femininity in these models.

We were willing and able to take TOUGH JOBS thousands of Duralumin forgings and castings for all types of aircraft purposes.

For the Navy we are making vital parts of searchlights that the Navy uses to spot its targets. We are making the gyroscopic compasses that steer the ships of the Navy and Merchant Marine. We make pontoons for lighterage and for the raising of ships that have been sunk. We make both pusher and puller types of tugs which are used all over the world from Iceland to Guadalcanal, on the rivers of South America, India and Russia. We make thousands of marine engines for many purposes—some of them for command boats and things of that nature.

When we saw the war coming we knew that it would be a mechanical war and that no concern the size of the Chrysler Corporation would remain out of the picture.

We felt that institutions like ours should hold themselves free and in readiness to take tough jobs—those things that require intense cooperation on the part of scientists, metallurgists, engineers; the volume jobs that require intimate knowledge of the tooling and mechanical processes necessary to make duplicate equipment in large volume.

Today finds us employing over eight thousand subcontractors. Fifty-eight cents of every dollar we receive for our war effort is passed on to somebody else who supplies us services, materials or parts. We are not only prime contractors ourselves, but we are also subcontractors for a number of other companies, ranging from such concerns as General Electric and Westinghouse, employing great numbers of people, to small and remote outfits of a few hundred men.

Many people ask "What about your post-war plans?" Our only plan is the present urgent one to win the war and win it quick. For every moment that we can shorten this war we feel that, as a people, we are lucky, and, as a Nation, fortunate.

Of course we think that after the war people will be driving automobiles and eating bananas, washing their clothes, wearing shoes, and that the styles of ladies' hats will change. We feel that business is an economic thing and that it tends to follow cycles. We think that if we keep our minds on the fact that we are sailing a boat on an economic sea, and that if we sail it according to the charts and the weather, and to the conditions we find, that this Nation can go into its post-war effort with the same enthusiasm and the same desire to do a service to our 135 million people that is now being exhibited in this all-out war effort.

Canners Must Use Stamps 15, 16 First

Application Necessary For Extra 15 Pounds Of Sugar, Board Says

No applications for canning sugar will be considered by the ration board until stamps 15 and 16 of ration book one have been used. R. J. Phelps, chairman of the Johnson county ration board, said yesterday.

Each of these stamps is good for five pounds of sugar at any time between now and October 31, and this allotment must be used before any more will be allowed for canning. If more is necessary, a written application may be sent to the ration board, containing the following information:

1. The number of quarts canned since March 1, 1943.
 2. The number of quarts yet to be canned this season.
 3. The number of pounds used or anticipated for use in making jams and jellies.
 4. Ration book one for each individual for whom application is made must be enclosed with the application.
- Not more than 15 pounds of sugar per individual, in addition to the first 10 pounds obtained on stamps 15 and 16, will be granted. The maximum allotment of canning sugar this year is 25 pounds per person.

They had everything — fine music ("Chopin," says Eddie, "was a dam' good tune writer"), familiar music, but most especially a complete lack of hide-bound tradition in staging.

In dickering over established operas, studios have had to answer many questions. "How many people would be on the stage? Who would conduct? How many times would the camera 'cut away' from the opera? Would you alter the stage directions in any way?"

In filming a "Tchaikowsky opera" the camera can take those liberties essential to keep the movie story going, remembering always that it is a movie theater and not an opera house it is trying to fill.

"And nobody," says Eddie aWrd, "can criticize the way we stage our 'Chopin opera' because we're the first to do it—there is no crusty precedent to be observed."

Look Fashionable and Forget the Storms

Designers Solve the Modern Woman's Problems For Smart, Practical Rain Apparel

By BETTY ROLSTON

Hardly a week passes in the spring and summer without some little shower or thunder storm coming forth to ruin our sunny days. Every woman is puzzled as to how to look fashionable and yet remain dry in a downpour. Modern designers have answered with all sorts of water-repellent and smart apparel.

Rain hats are top news this spring. Coming into its own is the "Johnny Jeep" hat which has been with us for several years. It's a convenient cap, worn on the back of the head with the brim up or down. The havelock, a take-off on the old Cape Cod fishing hat, has appeared this spring. It's made of rain-repellent cotton gabardine and comes in a multitude of vivid colors. Its snappy bill and tent-like covering in back ward off stray raindrops.

Make Your Overhead

One of the old stand-bys with which college women have kept the mist from their curls is the convenient headscarf. They've made some exciting and novel models too. All that is needed is a yard of the desired material. Fringe it around the edges, and you have a first-rate scarf. Anything from wool flannel to checked cotton goes.

Box coats made of water-repellent cotton gabardine have been adopted not only as a convenient summer raincoat, but also as an all-around spring casual. Some of these coats are so well-tailored that it is hard to distinguish them from the expensive woolen coats. Pastel colors are favored by the majority of college women.

The reversible stands double duty. On one side it's a raincoat made of the same cotton gabardine as the ordinary raincoat. Reversed, it's a sports coat of plain wool flannel or of the beloved Scottish plaid.

Trench Coat

The trench coat with its large skirt belted in at the waistline and huge pockets is another rainy-day favorite. This garment is made especially to flatter the tall slender girl.

To accompany your coat and hat, choose a matching or contrasting umbrella. Another "must" on rainy days is a pair of white or brown rubber boots which can be worn with either low or high heeled shoes by simply adjusting the ankle strap. If you're all out for sportswear, get a pair of those rubber boots that fit like regular shoes. All you need to wear under them is a pair of stockings.

If you're addicted to walking in the rain, choose a pair of knee-length slacks known as "clam-diggers" or a pair of blue jeans under your raincoat. They're comfortable to wear because they're comfortable.

Don't let the rain dampen your spirits or your hair this summer. Tugged out in clothes such as these, you'll forget there's a cloud in the sky.

Kentucky's official motto is, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall."

"To the Stars Through Difficulties" is the state motto of Kansas.

5,000 to Participate in Memorial Day Activities Tomorrow

Plan Parade, Programs For Observance

Navy Cadets, Military, Patriotic Organizations To Be in Procession

The commemoration of Memorial day for 1943 will officially begin in Iowa City tomorrow when the Women's Relief corps conducts the exercises honoring the soldier-dead at 8:30 a. m. at the Iowa avenue bridge.

Since this year's observance is believed to be more significant than any in the past, officials have announced that the program and parade will be one of the most elaborate ever held in this city, with approximately 5,000 persons participating.

Two thousand Iowa Naval Pre-flight cadets, led by the navy band, members of the Red Cross units, the civil air patrol, the Iowa state guard and civilian defense units are among those who will march in the parade.

One hundred seventy-five army trainees will not march as originally scheduled. Col. Luke D. Zech, head of the military department, received a telegram Friday from the commanding general of the seventh service command in Omaha, Neb., stating that the army will be observing Memorial day Sunday.

The intense curriculum of the pre-meteorologists, engineers and R. O. T. C. units will not permit their dismissal from class.

Led by Paul Angerer, marshal of the day, the parade will form at 8:30 a. m. on Clinton street, facing north, with the head of the parade on Jefferson street.

G. A. R. Service After the parade, Dr. J. A. Swisher will preside at the 10 o'clock service to be held at the G. A. R. lot in Oakland cemetery. The program at the lot will include the pledge of allegiance by Mrs. Walter Bradley of the Women's Relief corps; invocation by the Rev. Ralph M. Kreuzer, minister of the First English Lutheran church; service to the unknown dead, conducted by the Women's Relief corps; Pleyel's hymn, by the navy band; rifle salute by a firing squad from the Iowa state guard; taps by Robert Schueberger and LeRoy Vandenberg, and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Kreuzer.

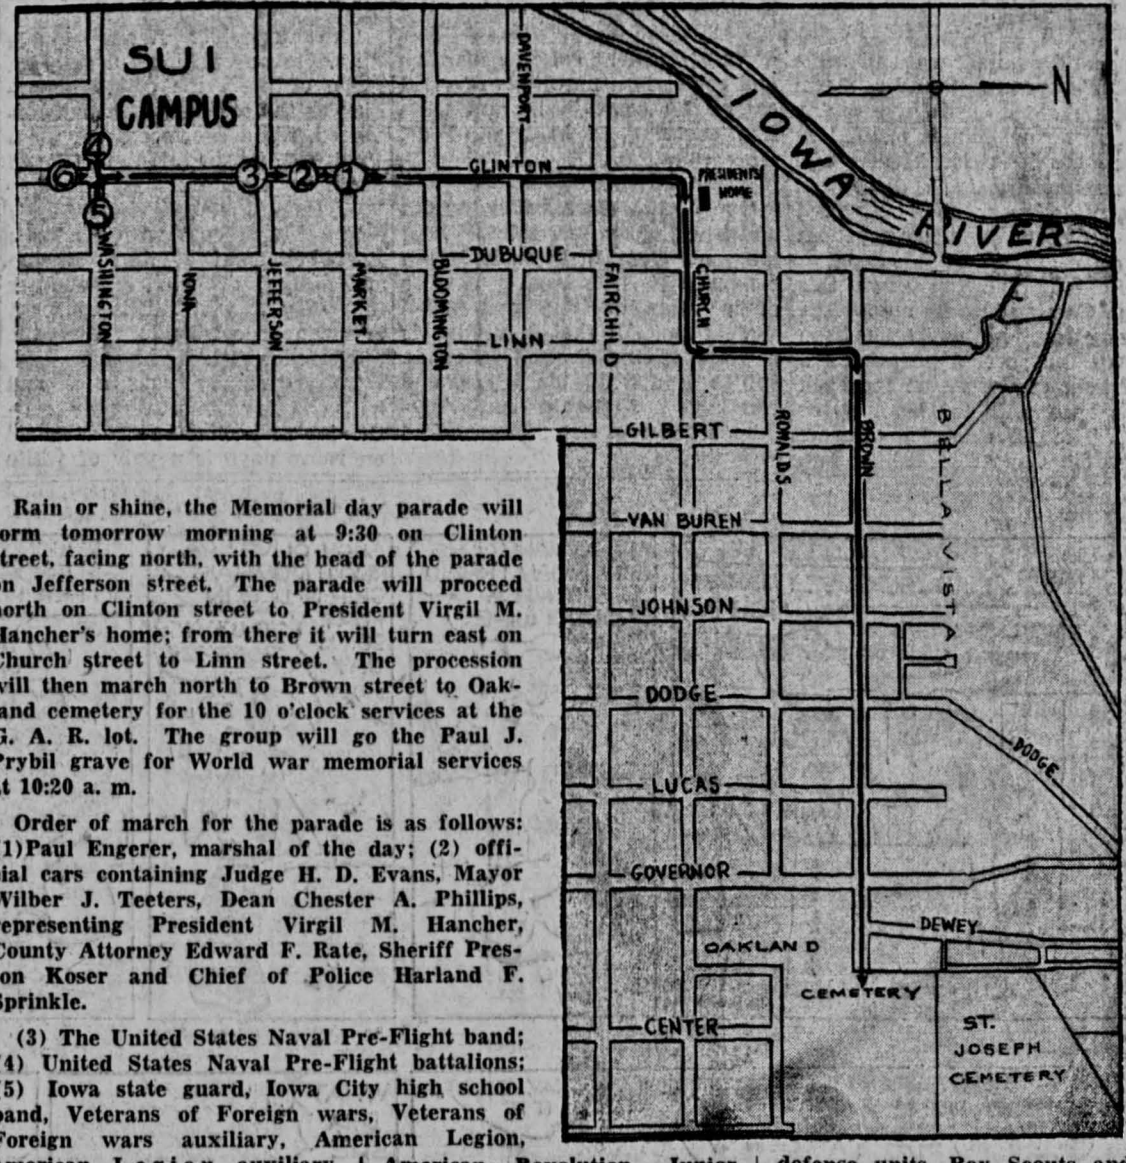

Services for the World war dead will begin at 10:20 a. m. at the Paul Prybil grave, located southeast of the G. A. R. lot, with Clem Shay, commander of Roy L. Chopek post no. 17 of the American Legion, presiding, assisted by the post sergeant-at-arms. Commander Shay will give the memorial tribute and William Hughes, the prayer; the firing squad from the Iowa state guard will give the rifle salute, and taps will be sounded.

Platform Program "When the Lights Go On Again" will be the subject of the address by the Rev. L. L. Dunnington, preacher of the Methodist church, at the 10:30 platform program at the cemetery. William R. Hart will preside. The program is as follows: "America" by the navy pre-flight band; invocation by Msgr. Carl H. Meinberg; reading of General Logan's order no. 11 by the Rev. Claude Smith; reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by B. E. Oathout; selected music by the Iowa Naval Pre-flight band; the address: "Star Spangled Banner" by the band, and the benediction by Msgr. Meinberg.

The Decoration day parade's order of march, announced by Edward L. O'Connor, chairman for the parade, is as follows: Marshal of the Day, Comrade Paul Angerer, leading; official cars containing Judge H. D. Evans; Mayor Wilber J. Teeters; Dean Chester A. Phillips, representing Pres. Virgil M. Hancher; County Attorney Edward F. Rate; Sheriff Preston Koser, and Chief of Police Harlan Sprinkle.

The Iowa Navy Pre-flight band, led by Chief J. J. Courtney; the United States Naval Pre-flight cadet battalions, under the command of Capt. D. C. Hanrahan; Iowa State Guard, commanded by Capt. Earl J. Gifford; the Iowa City high school band, led by Comrade William Gower, overseas veteran of World War I, post no. 2581 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, commanded by Charles F. Smith. Ladies auxiliary of post no. 2581, under the command of Mrs. Emma Oldis, president; Roy L. Chopek post no. 17 of the American Legion, under the command of Comrade Clem J. Shay, overseas veteran of World War I; ladies auxiliary, under the command of Mrs. William Edwards, president; Spanish-American War Veterans, under the command of Bert Oathout; ladies auxiliary of the Spanish-American War Veterans, under the command of Mrs. Joseph Bartosky, president; Women's Relief corps, led by Mrs.

ROUTE OF MARCH FOR MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

Rain or shine, the Memorial day parade will form tomorrow morning at 9:30 on Clinton street, facing north, with the head of the parade on Clinton street to President Virgil M. Hancher's home; from there it will turn east on Church street to Linn street. The procession will then march north to Brown street to Oakland cemetery for the 10 o'clock services at the G. A. R. lot. The group will go the Paul J. Prybil grave for World war memorial services at 10:20 a. m.

Order of march for the parade is as follows: (1) Paul Angerer, marshal of the day; (2) official cars containing Judge H. D. Evans, Mayor Wilber J. Teeters, Dean Chester A. Phillips, representing President Virgil M. Hancher, County Attorney Edward F. Rate, Sheriff Preston Koser and Chief of Police Harlan F. Sprinkle.
