City Council Passes New Curfew Ruling

Former Proposal Scrapped In Favor of Present Measure

Iowa City's long-debated curfew ordinance became official as a special meeting of the city council last night. Further provisions of the old proposal were rejected andting set at 9 p.m. instead of 11 p.m. as recommended in the old proposal and the third reading was passed.

The newly adopted ordinance differs little from the original proposal, except in three respects. The hour of daily termination of the curfew is defined; 9 a.m., as standard central time and 11 p.m., as central standard time. A technical discrepancy in the old proposal is cleared up with the provision that all existing curfew rules shall be revoked. Added into the ordinance is a statement that no child shall be placed in confinement except as part of the latter provision prohibiting the removal of any child from the curfew area from one hour before to one hour after the commencement of the curfew period.

It was decided that school children and children of the same household who are under 16 years of age and are residing at the same address in the city shall not be regarded as a separate household and shall not be considered for curfew purposes.

The ordinance was introduced by C. B. Hare, city clerk, at the request of the city council, and was passed by a vote of 6 to 1. The ordinance is effective immediately.

Yanks Capture Axis Stronghold In Sicily in Hand-to-Hand Fight

By DAWL D. LUCI

ALMERO HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFIRCA (AP)—Hard fighting among the Allies continued yesterday as the American spearhead, twice as large now as the original assault, went in against the Randazzo's enclased enemy, and one of the pilots was killed.

The German high command has a legitimate reason for the demand that the United Nations cannot go on in the fight.

Interpreting the War News

One of 'Big Three' Will Be Missing From War Council

By KIRK L. JACKSON

One member of the United na tion's "Big Three"--President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Chamberlain of England, and Premier Stalin of Russia--will be missing from the meeting of the war council in Washington to day.

Pleading illness, Premier Chamberlain will be represented by Sir Alexander Cadogan, his foreign minister, and Prime Minister Stalin by Foreign Minsiter Zhdanov.

But the Yanks are threatened with a possibly greater disaster than the absence of either of the other two.

The4 President is suffering from acute bronchitis, and the danger of a serious attack is so obvious that the administration is afraid of putting his health at f further risk.

WASHINGTON--This was announced today by a American Embassy official.

"Mr. Roosevelt has been under the advice of his doctors in Washington since the morning of yesterday, and though he has been able to hold informal conferences with his Cabinet, he has not been able to take any official action.

"He has been under medical observation, and although he is feeling better, he is not well enough to be able to travel to the meeting in Washington.

"It is feared that his condition will prevent him from attending the war council,
which is scheduled to meet
this afternoon.

"If this is true, the meeting of the war council will be attended by only two of the three leaders.

"The United States will represent its interests, in addition to the President,
by Secretary of State
E. Stettinius, Jr.

"The British will be represented by Sir Add Cadogan, the French by Foreign Minister Jean
Briand, and the Russians by General V. A. Mikoyan.

"The meeting of the war council will be held in the old State Department building in Washington, and will begin at 10 a.m. The session will be closed to the press.

"The President's condition will be kept under close observation, and the administration is not yet able to say whether or not he will be able to attend the meeting
in Washington.

The desire of Iowa City residents to contribute in every way possible toward the serious and well-being of students in the area which has made their home is reflected in the following message by Mayor William J. Teeters:

"If you decide to take your regular or professional work at the university of your choice that you have selected one of the leading universities in the world, and a diploma from Iowa will be a distinct asset in whatever career you decide to follow.

"In making your decision you are also interested in the kind of place in which you will spend three or four years of your college career. The city of Iowa City has some 15,000 inhabitants exclusive of students population. It is a city of beautiful homes, business firms and on the rolling land of the Iowa river, the city is made up of intelligent and progressive people interested in you.

"Let me assure you that your city is here, where safety is provided, security, drainage, and all public utilities are in good condition. Your college career will be bounded by the membership of the college of pharmacy, and at your graduation there will be a large number of students who have been to the university of your choice, and to the university of progress and for the past four or five years of your college career. The city of Iowa City has some 15,000 inhabitants exclusive of students population. It is a city of beautiful homes, business firms and on the rolling land of the Iowa river, the city is made up of intelligent and progressive people interested in you."

A GREETING TO IOWA'S PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

"Choose Iowa, the prepared mind." These words of Protest were quoted by the Abraham Lincoln in addressing the graduate students of the university in June, 1936. They deserve repetition today. In times of war and turmoil there seems to be a need for solid minds in the civilian world of science and industry.

The army special training program and the army college program, under the direction of the United States Army Training Board, provide an opportunity for young men to prepare for service in the armed forces. The program is designed to provide a firm foundation in mathematics and science for those who wish to enter the service.

Co-op Growth Phenomenal

University Sponsored, Several Such Groups, Operating Successfully

It's an answer to Democracy—the cooperative way of living. "Some time ago, the president of the University of Iowa, Robert Aspen, who after the last war established the first cooperative dormitory at the university of Iowa, has been successful in making it possible to make the cooperative plan and to make it successful. It is now a cooperative way of living, and the deans' cooperative, Robert Rienow, who after the last war established the first cooperative dormitory, has been successful in making it possible to make the cooperative plan and to make it successful.

The growth of these campus cooperatives, owned and operated by students, for the past half, has been natural. From Robert Aspen's dormitory, the cooperative movement has spread throughout the world, and the deans' cooperative, Robert Rienow, has been successful in making it possible to make the cooperative plan and to make it successful. It is now a cooperative way of living.

The co-op differs from other housing plans in the manner in which the function of each house arises, with each house must be run on a democratic way. Each house has a council composed of the proctors, and the entire group, as proctor, is responsible for the running of the house. Each council has a part of the democratic way of living, each member elected from each dormitory.

Because of the limited budget which, while in the dormitories operated, the students do their own work, planning, buying, window washing and all the work of the house. Each person has a specific job that takes about one hour a day.

Many students carefully selected from each dormitory, the deans' cooperative, to be proctors, is responsible for the running of the house. Each student has been elected from each dormitory, and the entire group, as proctor, is responsible for the running of the house. Each council has a part of the democratic way of living, each member elected.

A cooperative is, "simple living and high thinking," and it is expected that the cooperative movement will continue to be successful.

Year Schedule of Y Tentatively Outlined; Monthly Programs

Planning an open cooperation, the program for this year the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. has been successful in making it possible to make the cooperative plan and to make it successful. It is now a cooperative way of living, and the deans' cooperative, Robert Rienow, has been successful in making it possible to make the cooperative plan and to make it successful.

A new feature of the discussion series, which are regularly in the Wisconsin home, is that the "Y" will continue to be successful.

In that category are participations in the United Christian council to help plan a religion orientation program which will introduce students to Iowa City churches of all denominations, and the maintenance of the freshmen central, forums of which are chosen by the regular "Y" council.

Although designed primarily to acquaint new students with the Y. W. C. A. programs, the group of the university and community service, Donald B. Van Dessel, president of Y. M. C. A. of Iowa City, has been successful in making it possible to make the cooperative plan and to make it successful. It is now a cooperative way of living.
