Tokyo Radio Declares Japan Prepares to Evacuate Cities

Broadcast Gloomily Predicts New Aerial Blows Against Homeland in Coming Months, Emphasizes Defense Measures

LONDON (AP)—Japan is getting ready to evacuate Tokyo and other important cities "in view of the decisive phase upon which the war will enter during the coming months," the Tokyo radio said yesterday.

Gloomily forecasting new aerial blows against the Japanese homeland, the broadcast said Premier Hideki Tojo announced that the Japanese government had decided to prepare "for the moving of government departments, industrial establishments and the civilian population" from Japan's major cities "in the interest of improving their defense."

Special emphasis was laid on anti-aircraft defenses particularly the "air protection in industrial areas."

Tojo warned the Japanese people that a "time of emergency" was at hand and declared that far-reaching measures were required to strengthen the empire's home front "in view of the serious war situation."

Stinging Japanese defeats in the Aleutians, the Solomon Islands and New Guinea, coupled with a serious depletion of Japan's air power and shipping, were believed to have prompted the series of drastic measures.

Aside from the evacuation of Japanese cities, the program approved by the Tojo cabinet in an all-day session Tuesday called for:

1. Total mobilization of the civilian population.
2. Abolishment of age limits to make all persons liable for national service. Mobilization of students will no longer be deferred and the "employment of woman labor will be extended."
3. Strengthening of government control over all industry.
4. "Strict self-sufficiency of Japan and Manchukuo as regards food must under all circumstances be assured." (This apparently was a reference to Japan's shortage of shipping.)
5. Centralization of traffic on land and water.
6. "The nation's entire strength must be concentrated on the armaments industry, especially on the strengthening of the Japanese air force."
7. "Plans for a thorough-going consolidation of defenses of the Japanese motherland must be drawn up without delay." (This seemed to indicate fears of an actual invasion of Japan itself.)
8. Cancellation of all holidays.
9. Simplification of all government machinery and industry and cancellation of all administrative activity "deemed unnecessary for the conduct of the war."

The Germans launched 12 counter-attacks in their desperate attempt to hold Demidov, said the Moscow midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, but they could not hold out against the Soviet attack and one Nazi division was routed.

8,000 Nazis Killed
More than 8,000 Germans fell in the fight, 300 prisoners were taken and large quantities of war material were seized by the Russians, it was declared.

In another area of this sector one German battalion was completely wiped out and another regiment routed, leaving 25 field guns and other material behind.

Other Soviet spearheads were last reported 18 miles from Smolensk, once Adolf Hitler's headquarters in the east, where the Germans appeared to be fighting as desperately as anywhere in Russia.

864 Villages Retaken
In general advances of up to 12 and 15 miles in some sectors, the Russians won back 864 hamlets and villages, moved in to within five miles of the middle Dnieper river at one point and peeled German projectile layers from Dnepropetrovsk, Zaporzhe and Gomel.

Far to the south, the Nazis backed up to the Kerch strait in their last foothold in the Caucasus, already doomed by other Soviet gains. The communique announced the capture of Anapa, one of the last few evacuation ports to the Crimea.

Crash of Bomber Into Aircraft Plant Kills 3 Passengers

OMAHA (AP)—A B-25 medium bomber crashed through the roof of the Martin-Nebraska aircraft plant yesterday, killing three of the four aboard the plane and critically injuring the fourth man.

Elmer Murphy, Omaha, a civilian air forces inspector, and James J. Leach, 41, Omaha, an armorer at the Martin plant, were killed. The name of the pilot was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Thomas P. Zinkevich, Omaha, another armorer at the plant, was critically injured.

ATTENTION STUDENT SUBSCRIBERS

War-time conditions have placed drastic restrictions on all forms of delivery. To meet these circumstances and to render better service to its student subscribers, The Daily Iowan has established daily distributing centers at the entrance to the Business Office in University Hall, at the north (Journalism) entrance to East Hall and at Iowa Union.

Residential unit delivery by carrier will be continued as in the past to dormitories and to other student housing groups representing organizations with 25 or more students in residence.

At the three designated distribution centers, each morning of publication, The Daily Iowan will be available to all other students (those not included in groups defined in the preceding paragraph) upon the presentation of their University identification cards. This service will be continued until further notice.

The plan herein described does not apply to subscribers other than students.

Effective Friday, September 24, 1943
Hours: 8 to 10 A.M.
Sunday distribution at Iowa Union only: 8 A.M. to 1 P.M.

U. S. Troops Land Near Finschhafen

Japanese Garrison On Arundel Island Completely Destroyed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Thursday (AP)—Two new blows have been smashed at the Japanese in the accelerated Pacific offensive—a seaborne landing in force, under fleet and air protection, of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's troops north of Finschhafen, New Guinea, and the complete destruction of the enemy garrison on Arundel Island in the Solomons.

The Finschhafen stroke, delivered Wednesday only six days after the fall of Lae 60 miles to the southwest, was aimed at capture of a base which would give the allies complete control of the Huon gulf—a potential springboard against nearby New Britain.

The destruction of the garrison at Arundel, which is adjacent to American-held New Georgia, puts forces of Adm. William F. Halsey within artillery range of the large Japanese garrison at Vila across the Blackett strait on Kolombangara.

The landing above Finschhafen occurred at dawn Wednesday six miles north of that base in the vicinity of peacetime mission headquarters and just below the Song river.

There were no details on this action except that the landings were opposed by the enemy.

"Our ground forces have destroyed all remaining enemy forces on the north shores and on nearby Saga Karasa island," the communique reported on the Arundel action.

Complete control of the Huon gulf sector of New Guinea, roughly a triangle bounded by the Salamaua air base, captured Sept. 12, the Lae air base, captured Sept. 16 and Finschhafen, once the enemy supply depot for the other two points, would pose a grave menace against New Britain with its enemy stronghold of Rabaul.

This landing beyond Finschhafen followed quickly the seizure by air-borne Australians of the enemy base at Kaiapit north and west of both Finschhafen and Lae.

Headquarters today disclosed that a patrol of the troops which captured Kaiapit had killed 120 Japanese.

The allied air arm struck heavily north of the new operations scene around Madang, making 48 bombing and strafing passes. Nine Japanese planes were downed at Hupoi.

Survivors of Sinking Land at San Francisco
WASHINGTON (AP)—Survivors of a medium-sized United States merchant vessel damaged by an enemy torpedo early in May in the southwest Pacific, have arrived at San Francisco, the navy reported yesterday.

There were no casualties. After the submarine attack, the vessel was towed to an allied southwest Pacific port.

Castelrosso First
The first to be occupied was Castelrosso at the far eastern tip of the Dodecanese chain. The occupation of Samos, Cos and Lero, which Mussolini once called "the Malta of the Aegean," followed.

The Italians appear to be co-operating well on Lero.

Congressmen Oppose Boost In Income, Withholding Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional opposition developed swiftly yesterday to the idea of an $8,000,000,000 boost in income taxes—to be accompanied by a rise to 30 percent in the withholding levy on taxable portions of wages and salaries.

By such a plan, 13 percent additional tax would be levied at the first bracket surtax level—on taxable income between $2,000 and $4,000. The 13 percent would be refunded after the war.

Some tax sources heard that the suggestion had been submitted to President Roosevelt by the treasury, as part of the tentative administration proposals for a new

5th Army Drives Slowly Into Mountains Guarding Naples

U.S. Commandos Join French in Mop-Up On Corsica; British Take Potenza, Now Control All South Italy

By NOLAN NORGAARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA (AP)—The American Fifth Army in Italy drove slowly last night into the last mountain barrier before blazing Naples as U. S. "commando" troops joined the French in mopping up the island of Corsica and the British won Potenza and control of all south Italy below an arc from Salerno to Bari.

The Germans were evacuating Corsica after leaving 1,000 dead on the battlefield and several hundred prisoners. A French communique said enemy survivors of their original 12,000 men were being compressed into the northeast corner of the French island in retreat from the Levie and Bonifacio-Porto Vechio region in south Corsica.

The German escape route and its terminal ports of Bastia on Corsica and Leghorn on Italy were bombed heavily by American Liberators recently transferred to this theater from Britain.

"An American commando unit (probably Rangers) is fighting by the side of patriots and regular French troops," Gen. Henri Giraud's command said. "The Germans left more than 1,000 dead on the battlefield. Several hundreds of prisoners fell into our hands."

Sardinia, the big Italian island seven miles south of Corsica, apparently was under control of American and friendly Italian troops. (German broadcasts repeated that Sardinia had been evacuated.)

American and British troops of the Fifth Army captured Campagna, San Ciripano and Montecorvino-Rovella—all strategic points on the widening Salerno front 20 airline miles below Naples. The allied communique said, "The Fifth Army continues to regroup and move forward."

A funeral pall of smoke shrouded the great metropolis of Naples. Allied troops 12 miles across the bay on the Sorrento peninsula could see large fires burning in and near the city of 925,000. The Germans appeared to be burning, destroying and looting anything that would be valuable to the oncoming allies. The enemy had established strong defense lines on the southern and eastern approaches to Naples, which were under constant pressure.

The British Eighth Army captured Potenza, which an allied spokesman likened to "a man's heart so far as that part of Italy is concerned—it is the center of everything."

Many German motor convoys had been fleeing northward from Potenza in recent days. Its fall meant that all lower Italy was dominated by the allies.

A small British patrol had boldly stowed away on an Italian train and reached the outskirts of Potenza three or four days before it fell. The British hid in the hills and furnished information of German activity which "was instrumental in our capture of the town," a headquarters spokesman said.

The big day of Sept. 15, 1940, when of an attacking force of 400 German planes 185 were shot down with a loss of only 25 British planes and 11 pilots, was considered especially significant.

The Germans counted on dive-bombing, but the evasive tactics which saved the Stukas in Spain didn't work in Britain. The rigid five-week invasion schedule forced the Germans to stop bombing the coast just when it was having some effect. They went after the airfields and again left them just when they were making some in-roads to go after London.

Heed Marshall Request--Baruch

Allies Open--European Backdoor

By STEPHEN BARBER

WITH BRITISH OCCUPATION FORCES IN THE DODECANESE (AP)—The liberation of the Dodecanese and sister islands in the Aegean from German rule and opening of the backdoor to Hitler's European fortress has begun.

An allied force arrived unobtrusively during the night on Lero. Castelrosso and Cos and the Greek island of Samos also were occupied.

These islands are the Germans' outer defense line in southeastern Europe.

'Race Against Boche'
"Our mission is partly to assist the Italians in the Dodecanese to carry out the armistice obligations by defending them (the islands) against German attack and partly for strategic reasons," said the senior British officer commanding this spearhead party, Brigadier Francis Gerald Russel Britton.

"It is a race between us and the Boche."

Already advanced elements in command and commandos have seized key points in several islands.

The first to be occupied was Castelrosso at the far eastern tip of the Dodecanese chain. The occupation of Samos, Cos and Lero, which Mussolini once called "the Malta of the Aegean," followed.

The Italians appear to be co-operating well on Lero.

As I write sitting on a pile of concrete anchors—testimony surely of Italy's steel shortage—Italian heavy trucks and trailers are being loaded with British gear.

WASHINGTON (AP)—White-haired Bernard M. Baruch advised a roomful of congressmen yesterday to give General George C. Marshall what he wants to win the war—including the draft of married men if they are needed—or else "throw him out."

Manifesting the highest respect for the chief of staff, whom he has known for 25 years, Baruch laid down this simple formula: "The man in charge of the job should be given our unqualified support."

"No cheese paring. No trading down. Give him what he needs," the big-framed financier, who was chairman of the war industries board a quarter of a century ago was invited by the senate military committee to give the final testimony on the bill by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) to defer Pearl Harbor fathers from induction for the rest of 1943.

Even before Baruch testified, there was a movement on among some members of the committee to quietly shelve the bill. A decision is expected to be deferred until next week.

Now an unofficial adviser of President Roosevelt, Baruch recently completed a sweeping investigation of the national manpower situation with special attention to west coast shortages.

Drawing on the facts brought out by that inquiry, he told the lawmakers that to attain "quick and certain victory" two steps must be taken:

"1. Improve our efficiency, which we can do in all fields of endeavor."
"2. Take from the civilians as much as is necessary but leave them at least their needs — not their fancied wants. All must be treated alike. There must be equality of sacrifice."

Those recommendations he laid down in a brief, formal statement. Then the questioning started, and got around to the problem of whether to draft fathers to give the army the 7,700,000 men the general staff said should be in uniform by the end of this year.

"General Hershey (selective service director) testified that he couldn't give General Marshall the men he wanted without taking pre-Pearl Harbor fathers," Chairman Reynolds (D-NC), said. "What is your opinion on that?"

"If General Marshall says he wants them, I'd give them to him," Baruch snapped out.

Without professing to possess any inside information, Baruch said it was apparent that a great offensive is in the making.

"General Marshall knows what he's doing," he said. "He wants to hit the enemy and hit them hard. You can't fool around with those Germans. They're war lords."

"I'd go to any extent General Marshall wants to go."

Legion Raps Fish Misuse Of U.S. Frank

OMAHA (AP)—The 25th annual American Legion convention adopted a resolution late yesterday charging that Republican Representative Hamilton Fish of New York "with certain other isolationist members of congress" permitted use of the congressional frank by George Sylvester Viereck and the America First committee in disseminating propaganda "inimical to the United States."

Naming of Fish in the resolution drew strong objection from Ellidor Libonati, Chicago attorney and Illinois Republican leader, who urged the convention to adopt a resolution not mentioning Fish.

The resolution charged that "it has been proved by documentary evidence" that on April 14 of this year a franked envelope of Fish was mailed from San Diego, Calif., to persons on the mailing list of C. Leon De Aryan.

The envelope, added the resolution, contained a reprint of remarks by Fish on proposed amendments to the alien and sedition act of the United States.

England, RAF Mark Third Anniversary Of Battle of Britain

Germans Definitely Planned Air Assault To Precede Invasion

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—The Germans definitely planned the first aerial assault on London three years ago this month to set off the invasion of Britain.

The RAF, which had the major task of breaking up the attack, was out-numbered more than four-to-one by the German air force's 3,450 planes.

Now, as England is marking the third anniversary of the epochal battle of Britain, it is possible for the first time to divulge some behind-the-scenes facts of the struggle which could only be chronicled broadly at the time.

The sources of this information cannot be specified, but the data is authentic.

The invasion—for which 2,500 barges were massed at ports across the English channel and in the North sea during the attack on London—was to have been the climax of a five-week program culminating in mid-September.

The planned preliminary steps were to have been the knocking out of the RAF and then the bombing of London to shatter the will and ability to resist the invasion.

If the invasion had been launched in June, 1940, right after the collapse of France, it might have succeeded.

The Germans counted on dive-bombing, but the evasive tactics which saved the Stukas in Spain didn't work in Britain. The rigid five-week invasion schedule forced the Germans to stop bombing the coast just when it was having some effect. They went after the airfields and again left them just when they were making some in-roads to go after London.

News Behind the News

An Expose of How Things Are Done in Washington By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—An expose of how things are done in Washington, intimate in its frankness, was received by a business man in his mail one morning, paper-clipped to the back of a letter from the office of Milo Perkins, the ex-genius who functioned as a guiding star for Vice-President Wallace before the elimination of the Wallace control over the Bureau of Economic Warfare.

It alone might have furnished the reason for the transfer of that bureau had it been paper-clipped to any letter received at the White House from that direction.

Primarily, it tells how the liberals (meaning everyone who agrees with the author about what should be done) should build a fire under Mr. Roosevelt to sweat him over their way—or the way of the author. Or, as the memo stated, "to counter the sewer gas that now annoys his olfactory tract," and caused him to abandon liberalism—meaning the author.

"The definite atmosphere of conservatism has been in large measure created and it is the only air Mr. Roosevelt is breathing and the only tune he hears," the Perkins memo declared concerning its top Washington boss. "Not only to offset but overcome the propaganda on the other side so that the president, the country, and congress will have before them strong statements in the press, radio, and the magazines setting forth the liberal viewpoint, should we not again adopt this technique," (having a new Charley Michelson prepare statements and speeches for members of the house and senate and officials in a campaign pitch.)

"I understand Lyndon Johnson, Texas representative, will be the new head of the Congressional Campaign committee. He would be a useful man to work through. He might be induced to arrange for the Democratic national committee to send a good man to the south to focus opposition to the farm bureau in the south and make it vocal."

The few remaining liberal "spots" in some departments, it listed as "justice, agriculture, board of economic warfare, civilian supply, interior and manpower."

"If we could do this in some manner, the aroma of liberalism might again reach the nostrils of FDR and he perhaps would be better prepared to resist the pressure of the Jones', the national manufacturers association, the O'Neals, and the rest."

The technique suggested by the memo is, of course, eustomy here, but it is not often that anyone comes right out and says so. At least, no one has mistakenly included such a memo in a letter to a Republican business man.

Post-War Conflict Cooling Off—The recent inner attitude of the state department toward senators has led to the supposition that the hot issues in conflict on post-war may be worked out on a more friendly basis.

Assistant State Secretary Francis Sayre, it now develops, flew out to see Senator Vandenberg in Michigan about the United Nations food convention agreements to which he was opposed as a member of a sub-committee.

Earlier, State Secretary Hull had displayed a somewhat combative attitude on the same subject before the foreign relations committee. Certainly he did not fly half-way across the country to see any member of the opposition.

This change of tactics is substantiated somewhat by other similar little incidents, and may mean the state department finally realizes it must deal with the senate in the war settlement. If it does, the fight now brewing may be avoided.

How Japs Left Kiska—The mystery of the escape of the Japs from Kiska is explained by congressmen returning from Alaska as a rather neat trick. The Japs left one anti-aircraft battery strategically placed to keep up a fire at American bombers after the army had announced hourly bombardments would be made by us.

While this was being done, the Japs apparently slipped into a transport, loaded 3,800 soldiers, and disappeared in a fog. The ship's motors were not recorded in our detector devices.

Union Tomatoes—

Most Americans will probably agree that it is "pretty small potatoes"—or rather tomatoes—when soldiers volunteering to work in a New Jersey canning factory, to save the tomato crop from rotting, have union dues taken from their pay. Technically, perhaps, a case can be made for it, but practically and humanly the procedure has a bad smell.

There is a good old scriptural saying that "the life is more than meat, and the body more than raiment." It might be said just as truly, without any intention of scorning labor union principles, that work is more than technical rules. Especially when, as in this case, the purpose was not to prejudice unionism, but to save foodstuff for a hungry world.

There are bound to be some collisions of practice and principle in any set of rules. The best rule—and this one also is from the Scriptures—holds that "the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life." In a time of industrial controversy and added sensitiveness, it is well for both employers and employees to remember this.

2, 5, 10 Years Ago—

From The Iowan Files

Sept. 23, 1941...

On this morning two years ago President Roosevelt recommended that merchant ships be armed, and Iowa Citizens wondered about the course of the U. S. ship of state as war presented itself as a possibility.

The Iowan editorial of that morning was skeptical of the intentions of the America First committee in saying, "It is unfortunate that when times become critical, democratic nations are faced with what seems almost to be a repudiation of that which they are most proud in the struggle to save themselves. Always those who seek to preach doctrines of discontent, to incite riot on an otherwise peaceful people, stand upon their constitutional right of freedom of speech when accosted by action to hush them up."

Washington in Wartime— State Department on Spot

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Credit for successfully steering us through world affairs or blame for ineptitude will come to the department of state, not on the basis of what has happened to date but what happens from now on.

The state department building, flanking the White House on the west, is a relic of the last century. It's a gray, towering rococo fire-trap. It's the oldest-fashioned government building in Washington and the department it houses was the same way when we were plunged into war.

None of our government structure, our army, navy or state department was totally prepared for global war.

When President Roosevelt started looking around for men and agencies on which to place the responsibilities of our relationship with foreign nations in this struggle, he bypassed the state department almost completely. The board of economic warfare, many phases of lend-lease, the office of coordinator of inter-American affairs, foreign relief and rehabilitation, part of the reconstruction finance corporation, foreign propa-

Hollywood Sights and Sounds: Bert Lahr is a Living Demonstration That Neither Vaudeville nor Burlesque is Dead. By ROBBIN COONS. HOLLYWOOD—Bert Lahr, the former Broadway pumpkimer and dealer in comedy, is out here now as a living demonstration that neither vaudeville nor burlesque is dead. And in demonstrations of the sort, he is among the funnier.

"Vaudeville and burlesque didn't croak at all—not for a minute," he says. "They just quit the road and parked in Hollywood. Why, there are times out here when it's like the old Palace on a Monday afternoon. You run into acts you've traveled with—or borrowed money from."

Lahr is cutting vaudeville and burlesque pranks now in "Meet the People," film version of Hollywood's home-produced stage hit of a couple of seasons back.

He offers proof: "I'm singing a song called 'Heave, Ho, Let the Winds Blow'—and it comes out like an Aleutian williwaw. It's as burlesque as anything we ever did at the old Princess in Cincinnati."

"And far be it from me to call Lucille Ball a burlesque queen—but when she steps out in an ostrich feather costume to do her stuff she tops all of them I ever saw. And that ain't horse-feathers!"

Beginning at 16 in a vaudeville sketch called "Joe Woods and his Crazy Kids," Bert has been in show business 32 years. He was the boy soprano at Morris high school, New York, before that. He toured in vaudeville before "broadening out" to burlesque and played the wheel for six years. The Broadway show "Hold Everything" in 1927 made him a star.

"In 1939," he says, "I was cast as the Cowardly Lion in 'The Wizard of Oz.' And if you think that wearing a lion's hide over my underwear wasn't burlesque, you should have had to do my scratching."

Since then, counting out 8 weeks for "DuBarry Was a Lady" on the stage, Lahr has become a movie fixture. At least— "I've got a little house with grass around it up in Coldwater Canyon," he says. "I sleep nights instead of days and I haven't had ham and eggs at 4 o'clock in the morning since I left New York. My son, Johnny, is two years old—and he knows me when I walk into the house. How's that, huh?"

The girl who looks like Luce Velez in the harem sequences of "Ali Baba" is Alma Pappas. The wife of Harry Woolman, movie stunt man, Alma has doubled for Lupe and not long ago played Lupe's twin sister in "Redhead from Manhattan."

Katrina Paxinou, the Greek character star of "For Whom the Bell Tolls," vehemently rejected a role in Ginger Rogers' "Tender Comrade" but now is playing it over when they changed her role from a German housekeeper to a Greek one!

Theater Opens Season Nov. 1

'Alice in Wonderland' Heads List of Year's Comedy Presentations

The university theater program, for its 23rd season offers a variety of comedy. The program will open the week preceding Homecoming, Nov. 1-6, with Eva LeGallienne's dramatization of "Alice in Wonderland," under the direction of Prof. Vance M. Morton. This play is adapted from Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking Glass."

"Alice in Wonderland" will be followed by two productions under the direction of B. Iden Payne of the Stratford-on-Avon players. One is the ever-popular Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." The other play is still to be chosen, but is likely to be selected from Beaumont and Fletcher or John Dryden.

The fourth offering will be a modern comedy on the order of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," while the fifth play of the season will be the very popular comedy in the Chinese manner entitled "The Yellow Jacket," by George C. Hazelton and Benrimo.

Professor E. C. Mabie has made clear that the announcements of plays to be presented toward the end of the season are, of course, subject to emergencies created by the war. However, it is understood that choices have been made in such a way as to make it possible to carry the season at a high standard if a small number of men are available.

The talent among the university women is very good, he said, and their contribution will be a great factor in strengthening the season. The director of the theater emphasizes again the invitation which has been extended to all persons within convenient travel distance of Iowa City who wish to take part in the work. There is opportunity for persons of widely different interest, talents and abilities in connection with these theater projects.

Tickets for the plays to be presented by the university theater will be on sale in the form of season tickets which will admit the buyer to five plays for three dollars. They may be obtained in room 8-A, Schaeffer hall, or may be reserved by phoning 587.

Among Iowa City People

Mrs. Lester Odell and daughter, Judy, 231 Lexington street, returned home Monday from Blaney Park, Mich., where Mrs. Odell visited in her home. Her mother, Mrs. Harold Earle, accompanied the Odells to Iowa City. She left for home yesterday.

Guest of honor at a meeting today of the Manville club will be a former member, Mrs. Lora M. Roup of Indiana, Pa., who is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Randall, 235 Lexington street. Mrs. Roup arrived here yesterday.

Leaving Saturday are Winifred A. Asprey, 227 1/2 E. Washington street, and Luella and Helen Pollock, 212 W. Park drive, who will spend the weekend in Gladbrook, visiting Carolyn Reimers.

Marjorie Bales of East Moline, Ill., will spend this weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Bales, 430 S. Dodge street. Miss Bales is employed with the American Machine and Metals company in East Moline.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tanswell and son, Billy, of Chicago, left yesterday after spending several days visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Carter, 231 E. Park road.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Powell of Moline, Ill., recently visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Powell, 806 Bowery street.

Mrs. Percy Bordwell, 111 E. Bloomington street, has been spending the last two weeks in Piedmont, Calif., where she was called by the illness of her cousin. She is expected to arrive home Sunday.

In honor of her 17th birthday, Priscilla Mabie, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Edward C. Mabie, entertained 20 high school friends at a tea from 4:30 to 6 p. m. Tuesday in her home at 624 S. Summit street. Assisting her were her mother and Mrs. Ralph Parsons.

Mrs. Charles Hart of Fayette left yesterday after spending a few days visiting Mrs. E. C. Richards, 905 E. Burlington street, and Mrs. Charles Zilver, 824 E. Burlington street.

Mrs. C. H. Jackson, 916 Roosevelt street will return home today after a week's vacation spent with her sister, Mrs. F. E. Davidson, in Davenport, and friends in Chicago.

IN THE KITCHEN—WITH MRS. ERIC WILSON

MRS. ERIC WILSON prepares her favorite main course dish, a Carrot Ring, in the red and white kitchen of her home at 231 Golfview avenue. Behind her at one end of the kitchen, is an attractive breakfast nook with an archway entrance. A white flower pot filled with ivy hangs on the wall, and the curtains are white with red, yellow and blue dots. The inlaid linoleum on the floor has red, cream and blue squares. Cupboards above and below her sink offer handy storage space, and with her gas range and electric boards nearby, Mrs. Wilson prepares her delicious dinners in jiffy time.

Because the members of her family are great dessert lovers, Mrs. Eric Wilson's favorite recipes are delicious, easy-to-fix concoctions which save on precious sugar. One of her specialties is Honey Apple Betty, a particular favorite of the Wilsons because Mrs. Wilson's nickname is Betty.

Concerning the dessert, she says, "It's wonderful because the honey place of sugar, and 'Honey Apple Betty' is as tasty as ever even after two or three days in the ice-box."

Honey Apple Betty
(Serves 4 to 6)
5 slices day-old bread
1/3 cup shortening, melted
4 firm tart apples
3/4 cup honey
2 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup water
1 tsp. cinnamon

Cut bread into cubes. Mix with melted shortening. Peel apples and slice thin. Mix honey, lemon juice, and water. Arrange alternate layers of bread cubes and sliced apples in baking dish lightly sprinkled with shortening, sprinkling each layer with cinnamon. Top with bread cubes. Add honey mixture.

Cover and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 40 minutes. Uncover and brown. Serve with cream.

'Old Fashioned Ginger Cookies' really hit the spot at our house, and this recipe is our favorite because the cookies keep their crispness so well," Mrs. Wilson said, referring to the following recipe, another which demands no precious sugar.

Old Fashioned Ginger Cookies
(3 dozen 3-inch cookies)

3 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
2 tsp. ginger
1 egg
1/2 cup shortening, melted
1 cup molasses

Sift flour, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt and spices; sift again. Beat egg well; add melted shortening (slightly cooled). Add molasses; mix well. Add gradually to flour mixture and stir until all flour is dampened. Chill soft dough about 1/2 hour.

Roll dough about 1/4 inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with round cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven, (350 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Remove from baking sheet; cool on racks.

Easy to make and delicious to eat is this ice cream recipe which wins the approval of the Wilsons. Mrs. Wilson is particularly enthusiastic about this recipe which is made with whipped cream, obtained by using the top of milk which has been kept cold for several days.

Vanilla Ice Cream

17 marshmallows
1 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup cream or top milk

Melt marshmallows in top of double boiler with milk. When cool add vanilla. Whip cream taken from top of milk that has been kept in refrigerator 2 or 3 days. Stir marshmallow mixture into whipped cream and freeze until hard. Remove and whip again and return to refrigerator until hard.

A main course dish which is extremely tempting yet easy to prepare is Mrs. Wilson's Carrot Ring. "I like it because it can be used in so many different ways," Mrs. Wilson said. "Though the recipe given here calls for a filling of carrots, I often used left-over meats or creamed dried beef which is delicious and inexpensive. Creamed hard boiled eggs or mushrooms are really just as nutritious and make good sauce too, while peas or soy beans also make a tasty dish."

Carrot Ring
1 cup mashed carrots
1 cup heavy cream or top milk
1 tsp. grated onion
1/2 cup sifted bread crumbs
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Place in seven-inch ring mold, then in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.), for 25 minutes.

BETTY BURNS ENGAGED

MRS. RUTH BURNS of Lake Charles, La., announces the engagement of her daughter, Betty, to James L. Dack, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dack of Terril. The bride-elect will receive her B.A. degree from the University of Iowa in December. Mr. Dack, who was graduated from the university here in 1940, is at present employed as administrator in the hospital at South Haven, Mich.

Experimental Theater Holds Unique Playwriting Contest

A part of the work of the experimental theater at the University of Iowa this year will be centered on two unique playwriting competitions, one national and the other local.

The object of the competition will be to secure plays with casts composed entirely or almost entirely of women. Not more than three men will be permitted in the cast of a long play, nor more than one in the cast of a short play.

The national competition will be under the auspices of the American Educational Theater association and a committee of which Prof. E. C. Mabie, director of University theater, is chairman. The committee will include prominent women of the theater and women who are teachers of dramatic art.

Local Competition
The local competition will be in two parts. Competitors in one section must be college students enrolled on one of the campuses of a college in Iowa. The other will be open to citizens of the state, and in the conduct of it Professor Mabie is requesting the cooperation of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs.

All of the playwriting competition will be in two sections. There will be one competition for long manuscripts and a second competition for one-act or short plays. All manuscripts must be legibly written or typewritten, marked clearly with the author's name and address and securely stapled or bound. Manuscripts must be accompanied by a self-addressed envelope for return with postage attached or with definite instructions for return by express, C. O. D.

All manuscripts must be mailed or delivered to the express company before midnight, Jan. 31, 1944.

The principal award for the prize-winning play will be production of the play by the experimental theater at the University of Iowa. This production will take place during the second semester of this college year or the summer session of 1944. A prize of $100 will be given to the author at the time of production.

Principal Prize
The principal prize for short plays will be a production in the experimental theater during the second semester of this college year or the summer session of 1944. In addition, three cash prizes will be offered as follows: $35, first prize; $25, second prize, and $15, third prize.

Judges for the competition will be leaders who are working in university, community and commercial theaters. If plays presented for consideration by the judges do not reach a satisfactory standard, the judges may decline to make awards.

Manuscripts and inquiries should be addressed to Professor Mabie, chairman of playwriting competitions, University theater, University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Pressure Cooker Clean and Wrap Well Before Storing

Now that it is getting close to the end of the canning season, the question arises on how should one store her pressure cooker.

The first step in storing a pressure cooker is to give it a thorough cleansing—the kettle itself, the edges of the kettle, the cover of the petcock, the pressure gauge, the safety valve and the rubber gasket should be thoroughly clean. Food and salt deposits left on the surface of the canner may pit aluminum, spoil the glaze of enameled surface, or rust tinned steel.

After you've washed and dried the canner, put a thin protecting coat of vaseline on the threads of the screw locks. Then fill the kettle with crumpled newspapers, wrap the cover carefully in paper—and put the cover upside down on top of the kettle. Never store your canner with the cover right side up. By giving your canner good care off the job, as well as on, you'll get good service out of it for many years.

Scouts Will Collect Waste Fats Saturday

The monthly salvage drive for waste fats, sponsored by the Iowa City Girl Scouts, will take place Saturday morning. Housewives who have waste fats, not called for by 11 o'clock Saturday morning are asked to call the Girl Scout office. Members of the follow-up committee will pick it up.

Any Girl Scouts who are willing to be on the follow-up committee are asked to leave their names with Dorothy Hutchens in the Girl Scout office. Additional credit will be given for this extra

Ruth Anne Dvorsky Marries James Daly

In a double ring ceremony in St. Patrick's church, Ruth Anne Dvorsky became the bride of James Daly, electrician's mate second class, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The Rt. Rev. P. J. O'Reilly officiated.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Mary Helen Dvorsky of Iowa City, Edward Hogan, also of Iowa City, served as best man. Mrs. William L. Condon was the organist.

The bride was attired in a navy blue poiret tulle dressmaker suit with a white jabot. Her accessories included a light blue hat with a navy blue veil. She wore a white orchid and carried a small white book.

Her maid of honor chose a wool dressmaker suit of cinnamon tones with brown accessories. Her bouquet was of yellow Johanna Hill roses. Baskets of gladioli decorated the altar.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception was held for immediate relatives and close friends of the bride and groom in the rose room of the Jefferson hotel. Mrs. George Dvorsky of Davenport and Mrs. Edward Kelly of Iowa City were hostesses at the reception.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Daly were graduated from St. Patrick's high school. Mr. Daly, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Daly, formerly of Iowa City, is stationed in New Foundland, to which he will return soon. Mrs. Daly will be at home at 409 Bowery street.

Issues Wedding Permit

Earl R. Stoner, 19, and Betty Faye June, 17, both of Iowa City, were granted a marriage license yesterday by R. Neilson Miller, clerk of district court.

Announce Probable Hawk Lineup for Saturday

Liddy, Barbour Co-Captains

Coach Says Players Now Learning Play Assignments Better

Bob Liddy, right guard, and Bill Barbour, right end, have been named co-captains of the 1943 Hawkeyes, it was announced yesterday. Coach Slip Madigan said that the major letter men would alternate in leading the team in the eight games. Which player will be field captain in the Great Lakes contest Saturday has not yet been indicated.

The probable starting lineup, as stated yesterday by Coach Madigan, will include Joe Howard and Dave Danner at ends; Harry Frey and Jim Cozad or Stan Mohrbacher as tackles; Tom Hand and Bob Liddy, guards; Bill Baughman, center; Bill Sangster, quarterback; Paul Glasener or John Stewart at left halfback; Dale Thompson or Roger Stephens at right half, and Jim Hudson or Bill Gallagher at fullback.

Reaching the semi-final stage in preparations for the season's opener, Coach Madigan said, "The boys are learning their assignments better and are running their plays more smoothly now. We will concentrate upon offense in today's and tomorrow's workouts."

The Hawk mentor stated that the Iowa team will have to depend upon speed to get them out of the tough spots Saturday against the Bluejackets. He said he wished the Hawkeyes could have had one game's experience behind them before encountering this weekend's foe.

It is hoped that Tom Hand, left guard, won't be called by the marines before Saturday. If he still is here, he will start against Great Lakes.

Two more pieces of misfortune have hit the Iowa squad. The Hawks will soon lose Daryl Annis, promising quarterback, who yesterday received his orders to report next Wednesday for training in the navy air corps. Also, Bill Crary, who would probably have started at left guard this weekend, is in the hospital due to a foot infection.

Coach Madigan is watching with interest the progress of the newcomer, Gene Freels, halfback, who reported for practice for the first time this week. Freels, a track entry for Iowa in the Big Ten meet this past spring, is a good thrower and is fast on his feet.

The Hawkeyes will leave at 3:37 p. m. tomorrow, and will arrive in Chicago at 8:30 p. m. They will headquarter at the Morrison hotel until Saturday morning. The party of about 40 players and athletic officials will arrive at the naval training station about 10:45 a. m.

They will have their final workout tomorrow afternoon before departing. It is the first time in four years that the Iowans have not started an east-bound trip by leaving on Friday morning.

Hawkeye Highlights

It takes world wars to revive the Iowa-Great Lakes football games. . . in World War I, Hawkeyes met Sailors, losing 23-14 in 1917 and 10-0 in 1918. . . Waddy Davis, now Iowa assistant coach, was a Hawk star halfback in the '17 game. . . and on Sept. 28, 1918, an inexperienced Iowa team fought the Sailors almost to a standstill before losing. . . last fall the Bluejackets packed too much power of ex-college and pro stars to beat Iowa, 25-0. . . all of the previous games were at Iowa City.

None of the Iowa starting backfield ever has appeared in a major game. . . Hawkeyes will have Freshmen Bill Sangster at quarterback, Paul Glasener at left half, Sophomore John Stewart at right half, and Freshman Jim Hudson or Bill Gallagher at fullback.

Only once before, in 1936, has Iowa had co-captains in football. . . seven seasons ago the co-leaders were Ted Osmalosi, center, and John Hild, halfback. . . Bill Barbour, right end, and Bob Liddy, right guard, 1943 co-captains, will alternate in leading the team in the eight games.

Paul Glasener, Iowa's current No. 1 left halfback, was nicknamed "Soap" because his initials are P. G. . . he has had the nickname for some years. . . Hawks hope that his slippery style of running will make the monicker doubly meaningful.

Recent new members of the alumni "I" club are athletes who joined the armed forces. . . they

Missouri's '43 Team Does Not Resemble Those of Past Years

Tiger Coaches Say Quality, Not Quantity, Affected by War

By NORB GARRETT
COLUMBIA, MO., (AP)—They are three deep at the University of Missouri again.

But any similarity between this year's football squad and the 1941 and 1942 championship clubs is purely coincidental.

Coaches Chauncey Simpson and Herb Bunker, taking over for Lt. Don Faurot of the Iowa Seahawks, have the numbers associated with Tiger football teams of recent years. It's the quality that has been affected by the war.

At that, the Big Six champions appear to be more fortunate than other members of the family and pre-season prognosticators say the Tigers are the ones to beat. How they'll fare against Minnesota, Ohio State and the Seahawks is something else.

Three Lettermen
Among the 50-odd candidates drilling for the Minnesota opener Saturday are three lettermen: Don (Bull) Reece, 240 pounds of full-back and captain of last year's club, is performing for the Tigers for the fourth year. His two experienced mates are Jack Morton and Bill Ebern, ends.

Most of the others are inexperienced, but they're big enough and the freshmen crop is up to Missouri standards. Drills haven't uncovered any Bob Steubers or Paul Christmans, but the backfield talent is adequate. Reece and Paul Collins, a 172-pound reserve, are on the starting quartet and a former Clemson college player with Notre Dame appears to be the "find."

He's Bill Dellastatious of Washington, D. C., and his passing and ball-carrying has earned him the left halfback spot held by Steuber last year.

Bob West, 160-pound freshman, is adept at passing and running and his work in the varsity's 26-0 victory over the frosh pleased Simpson. He may start against Minnesota, as Dellastatious is nursing a sore ankle.

Replacement for Reece
Another promising recruit is Leland Bussell, 172, halfback, and a capable replacement for Reece is 208-pound Bob Wimmers, Kansas City freshman.

Dick Lee Appointed Little Hawk Captain

Dick Lee, tackle, was appointed game captain yesterday for the Little Hawks' tilt with Clinton at Clinton tomorrow night.

The 200-pound tackle, a senior letterman, has shown outstanding performance as a linesman for the City high team.

Tomorrow night's game is the second of the season for the Little Hawks, who defeated Moline here last Friday night.

Combs is Marquette Captain
MILWAUKEE, (AP)—Big Bill Combs, voted the most valuable man on the 1941 Purdue football team, will be the leader of the team that tries to knock off his old mates here Saturday night.

Coach Tom Stidham of Marquette, has named Combs captain for the Purdue game. Combs, an end, played with the Philadelphia Eagles professional team last year and is eligible to compete with Marquette as a navy V-12 medical student.

Cardinals Are Good, But Now What About Those 1902 Pirates?

NEW YORK (AP)—They blame the war for the one-horse race in the National league this year, figuring that the St. Louis Cardinals could replace losses to the service better than their rivals because of their well-cultivated farms.

Which probably is true enough, and it gives the league a good alibi for the absence of its traditionally close race. We wonder a little, however, how the season of 1902 was explained to the fans, as at that time we were resting between wars and there weren't extenuating circumstances.

That 1902 season makes the current race seem like a photo finish, and although the 1943 Cards arrived at the pennant Sept. 18, you might ask what detained them after considering the fact that the Pittsburgh Pirates of 1902 clinched their pennant Sept. 1, and finished the season with a lead of 27½ games.

It was a season of only 140 games at that time, which makes the Pirates' feat the more remarkable. Since the 154-game schedule was adopted the Cards of 1931, who clinched the flag Sept. 16, hold the record for early clinching.

Oddly enough, when the Pirates won by 27½ games their winning percentage wasn't the highest in the history of the league. The highest was that of the Chicago Cubs of 1906, who won 116 games and lost 36 for a mark of .763.

That is, it is the highest mark since 1900. Back in 1880 Chicago had a .798 winning average, but the season was only 84 games. For some reason or other records are divided into two divisions, those before 1900 and those after, the assumption being that overnight from 1899 to 1900 the boys quit playing a sort of glorified three-old-cat and started playing baseball.

The 1902 season was a low-tide year for the New York Giants, the same as it is this year. The Giants, before this year, had finished in eighth place only three times, and the 1902 season was rock bottom. They won only 48 games while losing 88 for a .353 average, making their current mark of around .380 seem fairly respectable.

And if it will make manager Mel Ott feel any better it might be mentioned that the following year the Giants jumped to second place, although that does seem like promising a starving man a good meal a week from Wednesday. It does show, however, what can be done, and gives the discouraged Giant fans something to munch on. They can realize that their team has been down before, even farther than it is now, and has bounced right back.

Cooper Brothers Are Too Much for Bums To Handle as Cardinals Triumph, 4 to 3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cooper brothers proved too much for the Brooklyn Dodgers to handle yesterday as the St. Louis Cardinals squeezed out a 4 to 3 triumph that shaved Brooklyn's second place margin in the National league to half a game.

Mort Cooper acquired his 21st victory against eight defeats by holding the Dodgers to nine hits, while Walker Cooper drove in three runs with four hits, one of them a homer with one on in the fourth.

With Mort Cooper on the mound, the Redbirds presented their probable lineup for the opening game of the world series.

Coach Faurot Well Satisfied With Smith

By Associated Press Staff Writer

Lieut. Don Faurot yesterday appeared well satisfied with Cadet Jimmy Smith as a replacement for the injured Jack Williams, regular quarterback for the Iowa Seahawks who was hurt last Saturday.

The pre-flight school coach said Smith definitely will take over the signal-calling post for Saturday's contest with the Buckeyes of Ohio State. The rest of the lineup will remain intact, he said.

The navy team yesterday again reviewed mistakes committed last week and then got some pointers from Faurot on the Ohio State offense. More work in goal line offensive tactics also was dishied out.

Shaughnessy Says Irish Should Take Easy Win Over Pitt

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Coach Clark D. Shaughnessy of Pitt landed the first crying punch yesterday for Saturday's gridiron clash between the new T-conscious Panthers and the Irish, with the admission:

"If Notre Dame doesn't beat us by at least 30 points it ought to go back home ashamed of itself."

While Shaughnessy was moaning about the prospects of his first team here, workers were busy dusting and arranging the huge 69,000 seat Pitt stadium in anticipation of entertaining the biggest football crowd since the lush days of Jock Sutherland's regime.

Regardless of what Shaughnessy says, after watching him at work with his squad as the game nears, you gather the idea he is not proceeding with any defeatist complex.

"But they've simply got too much manpower for us," the Pitt coach explains. "They've got enough players of experience in college games to have the poise we'll probably lack in the beginning."

"We have but four letter men, Marty Rosepink, a converted end, at tackle; Francis Mattioli at guard, Louis Chelko at halfback and Ralph Hammond at center. Hammond was out of school last year, too."

"Most of our boys are just out of high school. Notre Dame has a strong nucleus left from last year, plus navy trainees."

"We'll come along and by November we'll have a good team, but I don't expect too much at the start."

"I will say we have the spirit and the fight."

Both teams will be using the T-formation, Coach Frank Leahy having adopted that system last year after a course of instruction in the intricate details—from none other than Shaughnessy.

U. S. Army Needs Mechanics in Alaska

Mechanics are the most sorely needed workers for construction on army engineer projects in Alaska, according to Harry R. Lee of the Seattle engineer district, who is interviewing men this week in the United States employment office in the Community building. Machinists, blacksmiths, laborers and other workers are still needed. Applicants must have certificates of availability, be between 18 and 55 years old and be able to prove their American citizenship. Employees will not be allowed to take their families into the Alaska area during the war. They must sign a one-year contract. Wages range from $1 per hour for unskilled labor to $1.50 for carpenters and up to $2 for other skilled trades. Time-and-one-half is paid for work time over eight hours a day or 40 hours a week. Wages begin at the time of hire.

American Heroes' Day Bond Rally Highlights Events for Third War Loan Campaign Tonight

Prof. W. F. Loehwing Will Act as M. C.; War Heroes to Attend

The American heroes' day war bond rally at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the bond premiere of "Watch on the Rhine" at 8:15 tonight will highlight events for the third war loan campaign today.

Prof. Walter F. Loehwing of the botany department will act as master of ceremonies during the rally which is to be held before the Johnson county honor roll at Clinton and College streets. Maj. Eddie Anderson, former football coach at Iowa, and Col. Andrew J. Boe, both from the Schick hospital in Clinton, will be present with three injured heroes to help with the sale of bonds.

Premiere Tickets Gone

All tickets for the bond premiere of "Watch on the Rhine," starring Bette Davis and Paul Lukas, have been sold. These tickets, in the form of war bonds varying from $25 to $1,000, netted $179,575 to the drive.

The picture is to be given for one performance only at the Englert theater through the courtesy of Harold B. Lyon, manager. Music for the American heroes' day war bond rally will be provided by the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight band under the direction of J. J. Courtney. The injured heroes who will speak at the rally are Corp. Ray Dowd, Max Mostowsky and Pvt. Ralph Luce.

Banks to Open

The banks of Iowa City will remain open an hour after their usual closing time to take orders for war bonds. No business other than that concerning the purchase of bonds will be dealt with by the banks at this time.

The rally is under the supervision of B. E. Vandecar and A. A. Aune, co-chairmen of the retail division of the bond drive.

WSUI to Broadcast Annual Round Table for Big Ten Football

Women are taking their place in the field of football, not literally on the football field as yet, but in the way of sports writers and commentators.

Tonight at 7:30 the annual Round Table for Big Ten Football will be broadcast over WSUI. For the first time in the history of the program women are participating.

The participants are all student sports writers in Iowa City. Members of the round table are: Dolores Rielly, sports editor of The Daily Iowan; Terry Tester, International News Service correspondent; John Sticknoth, The Associated Press correspondent for Iowa City; Louis Panos, night editor of The Daily Iowan and former United Press correspondent, and Dick Yoakam, sports editor for WSUI.

Every Thursday these students will predict football games for the coming week and discuss the happenings in the Big Ten football world of the preceding weeks.

Tonight's program will consist of discussion and predictions concerning the Hawkeye's game with Great Lakes Saturday.

'Yesterday's Children' Will Be Read Today On Bookshelf Program

"Yesterday's Children" is the new book to be read by Nadine Thornton over WSUI's Bookshelf program this morning at 10:30.

"Yesterday's Children," by Mrs. LaMar Warrick, is the story of wartime family life. It tells of a boy and his parents during his senior year in high school and his first six months of college.

The New York Times book review said, "It's a grand little book, and if it doesn't leave you with a simultaneous smile and a lump in your throat, you must be armored like an American tank."

Permission to read this book over WSUI has been granted by the publisher, Thomas Y. Crowell company.

Lester Stumpf Granted Divorce from Wife

Lester Stumpf of Iowa City was granted a divorce in district court yesterday from his wife, Alma Stumpf, also of Iowa City. Judge James P. Gaffney granted the divorce on default when the defendant failed to appear in court.

Marine Pvt. Frederick Boarts on Leave, But Anxious to Return to South Pacific

"Glad to be home, but anxious to be back," says marine corps Pvt. Frederick Boarts, son of Mrs. Myrtle Boarts, 1027 Ginter avenue, on leave from duty in the south Pacific.

Private Boarts manned a machine gun in action at Guadalcanal, and for the past few months has been a patient at the naval base hospital in Oakland, Calif. According to Private Boarts, his duties on Guadalcanal included keeping the enemy at bay and protecting other machine gunners during battle.

"The morale is high in the Solomon islands, and marines there simply outwitted the Japs," said Private Boarts. "I just want to get back and get another crack at them."

Likes New Zealand

The young man spent some time in New Zealand, where he said the people are extremely hospitable and "you couldn't ask for better treatment." New Zealand, he declared, resembles the western United States in that it is mountainous and has a great many scenic wonders.

"Although we got plenty of good food, I looked forward most to sinking my teeth into a T-bone steak when I returned to the States," he remarked.

He noticed that Iowa City is much more "war-conscious" than when he left for the service. War activities are carried out with greater enthusiasm and willingness. "However, all of us have far to go to bring victory," he commented.

Few Complaints

Servicemen on Guadalcanal are casual baseball game. They seem to be satisfied, and fewer complaints are heard there than here at home, according to the Iowa City veteran.

"I have gained a much broader outlook on life, especially in regard to other races, since I was sent overseas," said Private Boarts. "I believe almost all servicemen have gained valuable practical experience by serving overseas."

Before enlisting in the marines July 9, 1942, Private Boarts was an employee of the Western Union company. A former student of Iowa City high school, he received his basic training at the marine recruit depot at San Diego, Calif., before being sent overseas.

Former Students—Serving the Nation

Mrs. Robert R. Kennedy, 1711 Muscatine avenue, has received word that her husband, a pharmacist's mate second class, has been transferred to the naval base at Norfolk, Va.

"Management of the quartermaster office softball team has enabled me to see London and Edinburgh, Scotland," wrote Sgt. Kenneth Sleichter in a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Sleichter, 831 Dearborn street. Sgt. Sleichter, of the army medical corps, has been stationed in England for the past eight months.

Dodge Street Viaduct Repairs to Be Finished In Next Few Days

Repairs on the South Dodge street viaduct, which crosses the Rock Island tracks, should be finished within a few days, according to the city engineer's office. New floor planks are being installed.

The Kirkwood bus is detouring straight out Bowers to Summit street, south on Summit to Kirkwood west on Kirkwood to Dodge, north on Dodge to Walnut and back on the same route. The bus is missing only two stops, those on either side of the bridge.

Harold Aliff Named Salvage Drive Head

Harold Aliff was named chairman of the coming salvage drive at a meeting of the junior chamber of commerce Tuesday night. The remainder of the committee will be appointed by Aliff.

A tin can drive is expected to take place next week, according to Jack White of the salvage committee. The plan at present is to conduct a house to house canvass through the aid of city and county trucks.

The junior chamber of commerce, which has full charge of the salvage drives, received an announcement recently that after Sept. 30 the collection of silk and nylon stockings will be discontinued.

Karl Hambro to Speak Here November 23

Karl Hambro, former prime minister of Norway and an outstanding leader in the League of Nations, is to present an address here Nov. 23, according to an announcement made yesterday by Prof. Earl E. Harper, chairman of the senate board on university lectures. This will be in addition to the regularly scheduled all-university lecture series, which has already been announced.

Hambro lectured at the university during the summer session two years ago, but this is the first time that he has ever appeared at Iowa as a lecturer in the regular series.

High School Students To Broadcast Show

University high school students will present the first in a series of weekly programs at 5 o'clock this afternoon over WSUI.

The series will feature the dramatization of classical works of literature adapted for children and presented by children, according to Prof. Karl F. Robinson, head of the speech department at the high school. Pupils from the sixth and seventh grades will cooperate in the production of these programs.

The first program will be a dramatization of Browning's poem, "Pippa Passes." Students participating in the broadcast this week include Peggy Miller, Karl Harshbarger, Dick Lierle, Pat Worstell, Lester Rohret, Bob Ballantyne, Thomas Brown, Hugh Anderson, Letitia Dawson and Kenneth Longman.

Others in the group who will be cast in subsequent productions are Elma Holm, Jeanien Smith, Charlene Thatcher, Betty Barnes, Connie Hamilton, Marlys Sheldon, Donna Pohler, Janet Richardson, Elaine Carlstrom, George Kern, Julia Ellen Askew and Joan Gunderson.

The programs are under the direction of Peggy Clifford, and the scripts are written by Jerry Gross.

Newman Club Hears New Student Chaplain At Tuesday Meeting

Father Bonaventure Schwinn, new chaplain for Catholic students, addressed Newman club at the Tuesday night meeting of the group in room 107, Macbride hall. Also on the program was a short talk by Father Mark Merwick of Burlington, who is temporarily assisting Father Schwinn.

Father Schwinn suggested that a system be worked out whereby members would take part in open forums on timely questions and topics at subsequent meetings. In his brief address, Father Merwick stressed the need of wise leadership in the world today if we are to gain and hold peace.

The first issue of the "Newman" bi-weekly publication edited by Ann Popovich, A3 of Oakville, Conn., will appear next Sunday.

The club will have a weiner roast at City park next Sunday at 3 p.m. Mary Margaret Meis, social chairman is in charge of arrangements.

45 Members Attend Tau Gamma Meeting

Forty-five members of Tau Gamma, town women's organization sponsored by U. W. A., were present at their initial meeting to discuss the schedule of activities for the year. The meeting was held Monday evening in Iowa Union.

President Barbara Meade, A4 of Mason City, introduced the cabinet members and explained the duties of each. Members are: Rita Meade, C4 of Mason City, program chairman; Betty Kinkead, A2 of Chariton, membership chairman; June Turner, A3 of New York City, social chairman, and Ann Popovich, A3 of Oakville, Conn., publicity chairman.

The president led a discussion dealing with the aims of Tau Gamma. The unaffiliated town women were told the advantages of belonging to an organized group such as Tau Gamma.

Monday at 7:45 p.m. the group will meet in the river room of the Union.

Mrs. Sadie Ayers Asks Divorce Here

Mrs. Sadie Ayers of Iowa City petitioned in district court yesterday for a divorce from her husband, H. W. Ayers. They were married in 1925 and have one child. Ayers has been in the state penitentiary since 1933.

Mrs. Ayers asks the custody of her child, the costs of the action and household furniture and furnishings. Edward L. O'Connor is her lawyer.

Forged Sought Here Killed in Cleveland

Harry Swartzendruber, who was sought by Johnson county officials for forgery at Racine's, Kadera's cafe and Ford Hopkins drug store, was killed in Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 16, according to word received in the office of Preston Koser, sheriff of Johnson county.

Sheriff Koser had been searching for Swartzendruber since July when he had passed several worthless checks made out to himself.

'Local Money' Given To SUI Museum

Prof. Homer R. Dill, director of the University museum, has received a contribution of two specimens of "local money" from Axel B. Olson of Denver, Col.

One, a five-dollar bill, is of particular interest, as it was issued by the treasurer of Iowa City in 1858. The other is a one-dollar bill printed in 1814 by the Charleston Exporting company of Charleston, N. C. This money had no official government backing, but was issued by these concerns as a matter of convenience when there was not much money available.

These bills have been placed on exhibition at the museum.

County Ration Board Needs Volunteer Help

Volunteers are needed at the Johnson county ration board. W. F. Geiger, of the local ration board, answered the phone in a rush yesterday only to say, "No news, all we need is some help down here."

The long waiting line on the second floor of the Iowa State Bank and Trust building verifies his statement. Sugar stamps are needed for canning the summer's harvest. "B" books are being distributed. There are volumes of notations to be filed.

One young lady waiting in line at the ration board the other day looked particularly impatient. It seems she needed new tires for her truck in which she carried nature study supplies for her Chicago high school classes. "I was supposed to be in school two days ago, but they are so busy here I'm still waiting in line."

Anyone who could work a few hours a day and help out in any way will be welcomed by the ration board.

BELL SYSTEM

Symbol of Service

... in peace and war

This emblem is familiar throughout the nation as the symbol of a well-trained team, integrated for service in peace or war—The Bell Telephone System.

- American Telephone & Telegraph Co. coordinates all Bell System activities.
- Twenty-one Associated Companies provide telephone service in their own territories.
- The Long Lines Department of A. T. & T. handles long distance and overseas calls.
- Bell Telephone Laboratories carries on scientific research and development.
- Western Electric Co. is the manufacturing, purchasing and distributing unit.

The benefits of the nation-wide service provided by these companies are never so clear as in time of war.

Just a Reminder:

- Empty dust bag every time cleaner is used.
- Adjust brushes to correct position and keep free from hair and threads.
- Check belt regularly and replace when it becomes slack.
- Don't attempt to repair the motor yourself—call your appliance dealer.
