Reds Clear Caucasus Of Nazis; Yanks Cross Volturmo; Raid Danzig

Soviets Drive Within 62 Miles Of Border of Latvia in North

LONDON, Sunday (AP)—Charging Soviet divisions have wiped the Germans from the Caucasus, killing 20,000 troops and capturing 3,000 prisoners, Moscow announced today, while in the north the Red army dashed to within 62 miles of the Latvian border.

The beaches of the former Nazi Kuban bridgehead were covered with sprawling German dead and great stocks of abandoned material, the Russians said, and Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin hinted triumphantly that the Crimea, Russia's "Florida," a few miles across the Kerch strait, soon would be invaded.

The Russians killed thousands more Germans and captured or destroyed more German guns and supplies in the great battle to extend their three bridgeheads across the Dnieper river where Soviet spearheads were declared to have gained additional ground north and south of Kiev and near Kremenchug.

Yanks Bomb Gydnia, Danzig In Long Flight

Stockholm Report Says Three Fortresses Landed in Sweden

LONDON (AP)—A mighty American force of British-based heavy bombers made a record distance flight into eastern Germany and Poland yesterday for smashing attacks on the fugitive German fleet's base at Gydnia, the submarine yards at Danzig, and a large Focke-Wulf components factory at Anklam in Pomerania.

A Stockholm communique, issued last night before official details of the raid were announced, said three American Flying Fortresses had made a forced landing in neutral Sweden after raiding northeastern Germany. All crew members were reported safe. Two German fighter planes also were forced down in Sweden, Stockholm said.

An undisclosed number of enemy fighter planes were shot down in the flight which involved a round trip of approximately 1,800 miles. To reach the former Free City of Danzig the bombers had to strike over the world's most heavily defended territory. A returning pilot said he ran into "the damndest fighter opposition" he had encountered in 10 missions.

Explosives dropped by the U. S. bombers fell approximately 450 miles from the active front line in Russia, offering direct support to the Soviet army on the eastern front.

Danzig is approximately 800 miles from London and the former Polish port of Gydnia is 12 miles northwest of Danzig. Anklam is 90 miles north of Berlin. The attack refuted the Germans' claim that their inner industrial empire is safe from aerial attacks.

Results Likely From Senators' War Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The off-the-record report of the war the senate received this week from five of its members has started the ball rolling on what may be far-reaching changes in this nation's dealings with its allies and the peoples of reconquered lands.

The effect of their serialized version of a 40,000 mile trip to the world's battlefields seems likely to be translated into these early results:

1. Strengthened opposition to any declaration of foreign policy that makes specific commitments in advance of a statement of post war intentions by Britain and Russia.

Fifth Army Patrols Cross Volturmo River, Clash With Germans

Reports Indicate Allied Crossings 'On Broad Front'

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGERIERS (AP)—American Fifth Army patrols have smashed across the Volturno river, where the Nazis have chosen to fight the first round in the battle for Rome, and clashed in hit-and-run engagements with German troops, reinforced by an entire new division, headquarters announced yesterday.

(The Cairo radio said in a broadcast recorded in London late Saturday that allied forces had crossed the Volturno "on a broad front." The Germans were retreating to positions along the Garigliano river, some 15 to 20 miles north of the Volturno and 80 to 85 miles from Rome, the broadcast added.)

Caserta Falls Caserta, strategic rail and highway center 16 miles north of Naples, fell to the Fifth Army as the last enemy resistance on the south side of the Volturno and Calore rivers was wiped out and front dispatches said the allies now were in control of the Volturno's south bank along a front at least 30 miles in length.

The Fifth Army patrols crossed the rain swollen stream under the cover of darkness, took a number of snatches at the enemy and encountered considerable fire, some of it from artillery.

Task of Patrols Their task is to probe German positions along the north bank of the river and feel out the enemy's fighting mettle there.

Reliam Morin, Associated Press correspondent with the Fifth Army, said in a dispatch from the front that allied troops had reached the Volturno "along its whole length from the mountains to the sea"—a distance of approximately 30 airline miles.

A communique from allied headquarters said the American Fifth Army in the west and the British Eighth Army in the east both advanced two to three miles in spite of heavy rains which caused floods in some areas.

Ordering an extended salute of 20 artillery salvos by Moscow guns to mark this milestone in Russian success, Stalin hinted in these words that the Crimea, just a few miles across the Kerch strait from the now-reclaimed Taman peninsula, would soon feel the weight of Russian assault.

"Thus has been finally liquidated the German Kuban stronghold which protected the Crimea for them and preserved for them the possibility of further attack against the Kuban," he said.

In addition to standing opposite the Crimea from the east, the Russians already are threatening the peninsula from the north by their middle Dnieper bridgeheads and by fighting along the Sevastopol-Melitopol-Zaporozhe railway.

The Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, gave these additional details of the battle:

German dead—20,000. German prisoners—3,000. Captured material (incomplete data)—7,073 railway cars, 83 locomotives, 540 heavy mortars, 52 tanks, 337 guns, 229 machine guns, 184 stores of military supplies.

The Germans, who announced earlier that they had evacuated the peninsula, said all troops and supplies had been safely withdrawn at night under the cover of artificial fog and claimed they had killed 335,000 Russians in the fighting. Axis withdrawals were ordered Sept. 19, Berlin said.

Crosstown Rivals Show Class In 25-0 Win; Hawks Improved

By DOLORES RIELLY Sports Editor, The Daily Iowan

Iowa's grid kids, the fighting Hawks, found their neighbors, the pre-flight Seahawks, too much for them yesterday, but the 25 to 0 score which the cadets rolled up against them was not indicative of the game the Iowans played.

Although faulty pass-defense and too many fumbles put Iowa behind the eight-ball, the Hawkeyes' offensive play against the pre-flighters showed big improvement over last week's tilt with the Badgers.

The Seahawks claimed three of their touchdowns in the first half and added the fourth in the final stanza of the game.

Outstanding in the Iowa offense was Jim Hudson who led his teammates in yardage gains throughout the game and, after intercepting a navy pass early in the second half sent a long aerial to Henry Terrell to advance his team 18 yards. On the defensive side, Roger Stephens, 170-pound freshman, cost the pre-flighters a total of 21 yards in two fell swoops and prevented two possible touchdowns in two other instances.

Jimmy Smith, former Illini captain, starred for the Seahawks with spectacular yardage gains and all-around powerful offensive work, but Frank Maznicki, named the nation's leading scorer last week, found stiff opposition from his civilian neighbors yesterday afternoon and was ball-carrier for only one of the navy's touchdowns.

"Dark horse" among the navy stars was John Williams, who has seen little action so far this season because of a dislocated elbow, injured early in the opening game against the Illini. Alternating with Smith at the quarterback position, Williams came through with one touchdown in the final quarter and was responsible for a gain of 40 yards.

The Seahawks' first touchdown play began after an Iowa pass early in the first quarter was taken by Bus Mertes, pre-flight game captain and former Hawkeye grizzer. After two first downs and a long gain, a 16-yard pass from Dick Kieppe to Jim Dusenbury sent the pre-flighters on their way. Maznicki's attempted conversion was no good.

In the second quarter, the cadet neighbors scored twice, once on a 15-yard aerial from Smith to Maznicki, and again on Maznicki's pass to Leonard Heinz. On the second touchdown, Maznicki was responsible for an extra point and the score at halftime stood at 19 to 0 for the Seahawks.

Coach Slip Madigan's players held the cadets from chalking up any more points for the entire third quarter, but the navy scored again in the last phase of the game. A navy threat came in the first minutes of the fourth as Williams took a long run into the end zone but was called back because of a holding penalty incurred by his mates. However, an intercepted pass and a long gain brought the Seahawks' ball to the 5-yard marker and Williams came back again, this time with a quarter-back sneak to put over the last score of the game.

Bud Flanders, who starred in baseball for Iowa, was also playing against his alma mater yesterday. Although he saw no grid action for Iowa during his college days, he has earned a regular berth on this season's Seahawks varsity crew. Two other Iowa athletes to see action on other fields of strife are Sam Vacanti and John Staak, Hawkeye football players, who yesterday played in the Purdue-Camp Grant game. The victorious Boiler-makers came through with long gains yesterday on the strength of Vacanti's passes.

Yesterday's Seahawk-Iowa game was the worst defeat ever suffered by a Madigan team in some 17 years.

U.S. State Department Submits Evidence of Pre-War Policies

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The state department, whose critics have accused it of lacking policy, submitted a mass of papers last night to show it was on its toes in the years before the war, and tried hard to head it off.

Its evidence is in the form of 274 official speeches, messages and memoranda—about half the documents have never been published before and there are still many more in the secret files—which provide a background for the White book, "Peace and War, United States Foreign Policy, 1931-41." This book was published in January.

These selected documents set forth that the department was forewarned, from the beginning, of the inherent dangers of political systems rising in Germany, Japan and Italy, and that this government sought to promote peace and world order and to meet the world-wide dangers resulting from axis aggression.

The White book has since sold about 100,000 copies in this country, and some 30,000 copies in the official British edition—the first American document so treated by the British government. It has been privately printed in German in Switzerland, and private printings in Portuguese and Chinese are under way.

Besides showing the development of axis aggression around the world despite American pleas and proposals of peaceful settlements, the documents also depict as the department phases it, "the slow march of the United States from an attitude of illusory aloofness toward world-wide forces endangering America to a position in the forefront of the united nations that are making common cause against an attempt at world conquest unparalleled in boldness of conception and in brutality of operation."

However the full story of "the fateful decade" cannot become known for about fifteen years, as it is customary procedure to wait that long to publish state department papers in full. The 274 documents represent only a fraction of the thousands of diplomatic papers sifted to provide the evidence for the book's thesis.

As a demonstration of departmental alertness, there is cited a statement made by Secretary of State Hull on Nov. 2, 1933, to the German ambassador, Hans Luther, that "a general war during the next two to ten years seemed more probable than peace."

Hull made this statement after word from American emissaries in Japan and Germany as to what was brewing in those countries

Meanwhile in June George E. Messersmith, consul general at Berlin, had reported:

"I think the department must be exceedingly careful in its dealings with Germany as long as the present government is in power as it has no spokesman who can really be depended upon, and those who hold the highest positions are capable of actions which really outlaw them from ordinary intercourse.

"I think we must recognize that while the Germany of today wants peace, it is by no means a peaceful country or one looking forward to a long period of peace. The present German government and its adherents desire peace ardently for the present because they need peace to carry through the changes in Germany which they want to bring about. What they want to do, however, definitely is to make Germany the most capable instrument of war that there has ever existed."

Meanwhile, as early as May 17, 1933, Secretary Hull had proposed to the senate foreign relations committee legislation which would authorize American cooperation in an arms embargo against aggressor nations the record shows.

Editorially Speaking...

By Jim Zabel

After the Game Was Over—

Out of yesterday's game came one unanimous comment... "The 18-year-olds had plenty of spirit and they played good football... but they got too many tough breaks."

A couple of screaming suggestions from the stands... "Cover them passes!"... and tell someone not to give the boys butter on Saturday noons anymore.

There was more feeling in the stands between the army and navy... but in the legalized mayhem on the field the navy boys got the worst of it... as far as injuries go, that is.

Busiest man at the game was the ambulance driver... even a girl cheerleader bit the turf after a particularly difficult gaelendasprung... or whatever it is that girl cheerleaders do in their gesticulative moments...

Madigan deserves a big slap on the back, too... along with our condolences... I remember when news of his appointment was announced it was greeted with under-cover grumbling in some quarters...

"Professional coach... subsidized, money football" were a few of the phrases some of the academics on the campus dragged out of the closet... So what?... every good football team in the country is subsidized.

Everyone I have talked to lately has the greatest respect for Madigan... "he's a good coach... and a sincere guy... that's what counts..." And he's one of the most popular coaches with the team that Iowa has ever had...

Much more so than Anderson, from what I can gather... and there's a good chance that he'll stay head coach after the war... so rumor has it... just give him some material.

The Hawks and Seahawks are equal as far as Iowa lettermen go... each has two oopies... but from the standpoint of experience it was the Bears against Tipton high...

Everyone knew in advance about this inequality... it wasn't so bad as the advance publicity plubs sent out by Wisconsin... They played up the fact that the teams—Iowa and Wisconsin—were evenly matched in every respect...

The halftime show was one of the best I have seen for a long time... especially when it is contrasted with those of about eight or ten years ago.

I remember when I was a kid and came up for the games I thought the Salvation Army was holding a benefit during the half... all the bandmembers needed were tin cups...

Richter's taken the band a long way since then... but I think he still clings to a few too many of those "Onward Christian Soldier" traditions... a few swing numbers like the navy band put on would liven things up...

I was surprised. I thought the navy band might rub salt in the wound by giving us a lower case "i"... but they put on a swell show.

That navy swing yell is something else Iowa might well copy... it's got more pep than a hundred of our locomotives put together.

I got a kick out of the way they'd always managed to drown our cheerleaders out at the right psychological moment... the navy cheerleaders even extracted a yell from the

News Behind the News

Economy Needed to Prevent Military Waste By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—Demand for economy in lieu of increased taxes furnishes an excellent talking point, but has underlying effects. The need for economy is real. Not even a minor portion of the waste in war expenditures is probably suspected...

All that the congressmen have been able to do so far is to peck away at special examples to which their attention is drawn, and try to force corrections.

Outstanding economy leader has been Senator Byrd, of Virginia, who has done much good in this way. He is now trying to cut the federal employe roster, but, in the face of the great resistance of bureaucracy, success even to the modest extent of 300,000 persons is unlikely.

The appropriation bills will not come up until January. Then every bureaucrat will swear to the best possible political or military reasons for increasing his own particular bureau. Congressional economists then will be accused of interfering with the military effort...

Congress can cut some, no doubt, but a wholesale slashing program on a basis commensurate with the proposed tax increases is hardly possible.

The government simply does not want to economize. Unless an overwhelming popular demand for economy is organized to spur all the congressional leaders, or by the administration itself, economies must be limited to what a few earnest leaders like Byrd can chisel out of a reluctant government.

Congressional Talk—

Anonymous congressional talk (published) demanding Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's resignation, did not represent a formidable movement.

It was not loud enough to be heard by more than one newsman.

Mr. Morgenthau is unpopular with the legislators, but in a mild way. The senate finance committee especially is personally antagonistic. Yet he is regarded as such a close family friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, that most congressmen would as soon demand the president's resignation.

Sub-surface evidence also indicates the treasury tax program was not a personal Morgenthau opus.

Economic stabilizer Vinson earlier had called for some authority in tax matters, and apparently got it. He joined the treasury experts in White House tax conferences with Mr. Roosevelt before presentation of the scheme. Most congressmen fervently suspect Mr. Roosevelt had as much of a hand in it as anyone else.

Quiet Replacement—

Quiet replacement of Georgia's representative Cox by California's Lea as head of the radio investigation was engineered by speaker Rayburn. Several times previously, Mr. Rayburn has declined to ask for Mr. Cox's resignation, although privately requested by liberal groups.

The course of the inquiry, however, made Cox's position untenable. The embarrassment of FCC charges concerning his receipt of a check from a radio station, enabled the culprits he was pursuing to ruin the force of the whole inquiry. The matter has assumed some of the characteristics of a personal comedy.

New chairman, Mr. Lea, will not be bound by ideological prejudices and has courage. No one is protesting the change.

Father Draft—

Senate defeat of the Wheeler draft fathers exclusion bill was due to circumstances foreseen. Neither house dare stand firmly against the military leaders on a point of military necessity.

On no important phase of the war effort has congress ever overridden the plans of army and navy directors. Farthest congress has gone in that way was in the farmer draft directive last session, but this involved the vital matter of food.

knothole kids on our side of the field.

Iowa cheerleaders lack the virility of former years... (probably because most of them are girls)... there are several flaccid wrists in the group...

And someone ought to tell the boy-soprano who announced the yells to work on a deep bass for the next game... either that, or write Errol Flynn.

2, 5, 10 Years Ago— From The Iowan Files

Oct. 10, 1941... The headline read, "Germans Move to Encircle Moscow" as Nazi troops advanced all along the 310 mile breakthrough in the Russian defenses and the real threat to the Soviet capital began.

"I feel that the Nazi regime is approaching a critical point internally, internationally, and as a military power," Hans von Hentig, visiting professor of sociology, said. Professor von Hentig was dismissed from his position at the University of Bonn, where he was a professor of law and criminology, because he was considered "politically unreliable."

"I believe that between November of this year and November of next year, there will be a gradual decline in Nazi power and an ever increasing influence of the only organized power left in Germany, the army."

A six year teaching schedule was suggested for college students by Prof. Virgil Mallory in an address before the Sixteenth Annual Conference of Mathematics Teachers being held here this week. Professor Mallory believed, "Opportunities must be given the better student in order that he may use his talent."

Oct. 10, 1938... For the first time the undergraduate members of the junior class were to choose a popularity king and queen, to be presented at the forthcoming Pica Ball.

Plans for the choice were announced by John Evans, A3 of North English, editor of the 1940 Hawkeye, which was sponsoring the contest.

This morning's editorial was entitled "It's a Dangerous Thing."

"A little economics is a dangerous thing. It caused a country practitioner in California to envision an economic utopia for all Americans over 60; it caused at one time 5,000,000 people to subscribe to the scheme with financial support."

"Now from California again the Thirty-Dollars-Every-Thursdays plan is springing up again. It can't be done."

Mike Enich, sophomore who figured prominently in the pre-season dope to be one of the best backs to come up from the freshman string this year, was moved to the center position as Coach Tubbs attempted to strengthen his team for the coming Chicago game.

Frank Blaz, admittedly the spark plug of the team, was to be examined to determine whether or not he would be able to make the Chicago trip.

Oct. 10, 1933... Prof. E. C. Mabie announced that the University theater would produce five modern comedies and one British play of the seventeenth century for the 1933 community series.

The plays were: "Both Your Houses," a story of political intrigue in Washington; "The Late Christopher Beam," an adaptation

A Criticism of Contemporary Literature, And a Guide to Good Reading

THE MOTHERS. By Vardis Fisher. New York: Vanguard Press. 336pp. $2.50.

Reviewed By JARVIS A. THURSTON

Vardis Fisher has temporarily abandoned his "Darkness and the Deep" tetralogy to write another historical novel, this time the story of the Donner party snowbound in the Sierras in 1846—eighty men, women, and children living on boiled ox hides, and finally reduced to the necessity of eating one another. The story of the Donner party is a story of human courage and human degradation as has seldom been found in the history of the United States. It is as dramatic a story as I know. What has Fisher done with it?

Insofar as serious literature is concerned, I think it is advisable for the novelist to be wary of history unless he feels that he can, by fictionalizing history, recreate the experience emotionally, and that he has added little to the story that cannot be got, say, from George R. Stewart's "Ordeal by Hunger" or Bernard DeVoto's chapters in "A Year of Decision." Most of Fisher's characters are viewed from the outside and are rather flat, and too much of his dialogue is wooden. There is also too much of Fisherian burlesque with "wild choked bellows" and rollings in the snow with laughter. On the positive side, I think he has done a good technical job of handling so many characters and in underwriting the horror of the drama—this last is something a reader of Fisher's previous books would hardly have expected.

As the title of the book indicates, Fisher's thesis is that it was the mothers that made possible the eventual survival of forty-seven members of the party. "It was the mothers who aroused themselves to determined and vigorous life." "But there was no faltering in the mothers." "But he was a father and he did not understand the invincible spirit that moved a mother." "It was the parents, and especially the mothers, who never faltered, or allowed themselves to sink into the stupor of hopelessness." Like an incantation Fisher mutters this every few pages. Certainly the mothers were courageous, but so were the fathers; in fact, it was due to the superhuman courage of James Reed and Bill Eddy that any of them survived. In view of this fact, Fisher's insistence (too frequently by statement and not by implication) upon the courage of the mothers, to the exclusion of the fathers, seems somewhat pointless.

Viewed as serious literature, a view that I doubt Fisher himself would take, "The Mothers" is disappointing; compared with the general run of historical novels, due to the high drama of his materials, it seems superior. Certainly it is much better than Fisher's "City of Illusion" and not as good as his "Children of God."

Reviewed by AUSTIN WARREN

Mr. Shipley's one-volume encyclopedia was first announced as a dictionary of criticism, and the less glamorous title more accurately indicates its scope. Editorial system has provided for histories of criticism, nationally allocated, for brief accounts of magazines prominent in their critical activity and of individual critics; for a lexicon of critical and rhetorical terms, classical and modern, and for longer discussions of chief concepts in the history of aesthetics.

The quality of the articles is markedly, almost ludicrously, uneven. Some of them are hack-work and none too intelligent compilation. Others are independent, authoritative studies by scholars and critics of deserved eminence.

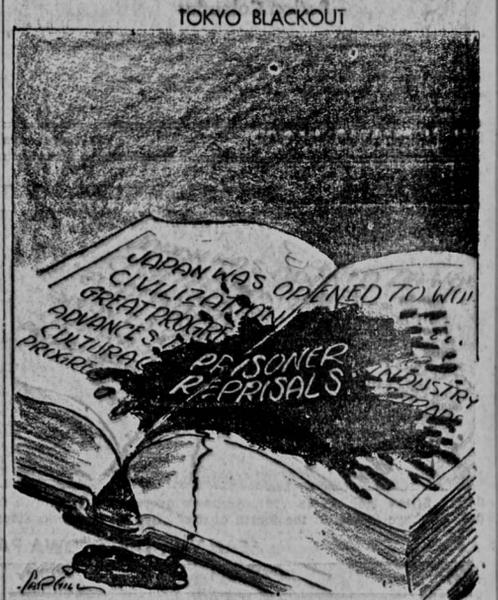

Since there is no ready way of discovering these contributions, the most useful review of the Dictionary will distinguish them. Of first importance, I think, are the articles on neo-classical criticism (by Ronald Crane), on recent American criticism (by Allen Tate), and the discussions of "Development" and "Period" by Iowa's one distinguished theorist, Rene Wellek. Attention should also be called to the admirable articles (especially those on "Classification, Literary and Form") by James C. La Driere, of the Catholic University, a neoscholastic exponent of learning and lucidity.

In spite of its unevenness, the Dictionary is a manual for which to be grateful. It should be revised and reissued, so priced as to be purchasable by graduate students, teachers, and other literary persons.

Mary Helen Taylor Weds John Anderson Saturday Afternoon in Presbyterian Church

Single Ring Ceremony Read by Rev. Jones in Candlelight Service

In a candlelight service, Mary Helen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Elmer Taylor, 443 Lexington avenue, became the bride of John Baker Anderson, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Anderson of Ottumwa, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Presbyterian church.

The single ring ceremony was read before an altar banked with green palms and arrangements of white chrysanthemums, surrounded by standing candelabra. Officiating was the Rev. Iliot T. Jones. The selections, "Oh, Perfect Love" (Browne), "Ave Maria" (Gounod), "Evening Hymn" (Marsh), and "Because" (D'Hardelot), were played preceding the processional.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Rogers L. Jenkinson, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Shirley Anderson of Ottumwa, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Robert Wells of Blytheville, Ark.; Mrs. Leo Fitzgibbons of St. Louis, and Martha Jane Kemble of Ottumwa.

Best Man Serving as best man was Richard Wormhoudt of Ottumwa. Ushers were Lieut. Robert Anderson of Camp Walters, Tex., cousin of the bridegroom; James Bastrom of Ottumwa and Theodore Cole of Thurman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white satin gown, fashioned on long torso lines with a senior train. The yolk and the long sleeves were edged in lace. Her veil, also of senior length, had a high pleated coronet trimmed with seed pearls and she wore as her only jewelry a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a spray of white orchids, gardenias and stephanotis.

The matron of honor's gown of light rose faille was styled similar to the bride's dress with a tight fitting torso and a sweetheart neckline. Her shoulder-length veil was of the same shade of rose and was held in place by ostrich plumes. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and bouvardia, arranged to form a basket effect.

Bridesmaids in Blue The bridesmaids' frocks were of light peacock blue faille, cut on the same pattern as that of the matron of honor. Their veils were fastened with feathers of peacock blue and small flowers. They also carried roses fashioned in basket shape.

The bride's mother chose an Eisenberg Lenox blue street-length dress trimmed with nailheads. For contrast she wore a fuchsia feather hat and gloves and a deep lavender orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a blue lame shirtwaist dress complemented by light orchid corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held in the ballroom of the Jefferson hotel.

Out of Town Guests Out of town guests included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. S. Bovenmyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowe Hinesy, Dr. and Mrs. Glen Blome, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Phillip, Mr. and Mrs. DeMonte Baker and son, Morton, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bastrom, Dr. Maude Taylor, Arthur Bartlett and Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Howell, all of Ottumwa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul Allen of Moline, Ill.; Lieut. Robert Anderson of Camp Walters, Tex.; Phyllis Hatton of Sioux City; Ens. and Mrs. M. T. Saffield of Rock Island, Ill.; Mrs. W. E. Saffield of Sigourney; Lieut. and Mrs. Leo Fitzgibbons of St. Louis; Mrs. Robert Wells of Blytheville, Ark., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osmundson of Hamden, Conn.

Mrs. Anderson is a graduate of Iowa City high school and the University of Iowa, where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Anderson, a graduate of Ottumwa high school, is attending the University of Iowa, where he is a freshman in the college of medicine. He is a member of Sigma Chi, social, and Nu Sigma Nu, medical fraternities.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home at 919 E. Burlington street.

Iowa Co-ed

Dear Mom,

How I wish you could see the darling date dresses being sported 'round campus this weekend! Everytime a smooth creation appears at a university party or tea dance, I simply swoon with envy. I've seen several I'd really like to have, only I probably couldn't, for that's one nice thing about the coeds on this campus—they're certainly original!

Take that adorable two-piece velveteen of American beauty red that belongs to AUDREY ROSS, A1 of Des Moines, (how I wish I could take it!) A drawstring 'round the neck is tied in a perky bow that's fringed on the ends. Smocking fronts the neckline to add even more to the gathered effect. Instead of the usual zipper placket, this velveteen has covered buttons up one side with smocking like that around the neck. The skirt is very plain and Audrey wears black accessories for contrast.

You should see the beautiful aqua crepe that MARGIE ALLEN, A1 of Ottumwa, is going to wear this afternoon! It's another two-piece frock with a v-neckline and long sleeves that button in a row up the cuff. What really distinguishes it, though, is the flower and scroll design of gold braid, interspersed with aqua sequins, which forms a panel down each side of the jacket and decorates the pockets. The skirt is very full and Margie combines black or brown accessories to complete the ensemble.

Hey-Dee for Purple ALBERTA JOSLYN, A3 of Clear Lake, makes every coed envious when she wears her dark purple rabbit hair wool with a matching hat. The dress is shirtwaist with a fly front and a cute little bow on each shoulder. The hat is an adorable pancake affair that cocks over one eye. It's shirred in front and is held on by a band around the back of her head, trimmed with a little bow, twin to those on her dress. Alberta created the hat herself!

Another coed with a yen toward lavender these days is JEANNE GITTENS, A1 of Sioux City. "Git" wears a deep shade in jersey, torso style. Purple grosgrain ribbon binds the round neck, split in the center according to latest fashions. The full gathered skirt is bound to the long torso top with the same ribbon. In her hair she wears a dainty lavender butterfly.

Really, Mom, I wish I could capture that sweet yet sophisticated air that ALICE JEAN IRISH, A3 of Forest City, has when she wears her black crepe dress designed on princess lines. The black lace trim over the pleated blue ruffling comes up high around the back of her neck and across each shoulder for an eye-catching effect. The three-quarter length sleeves have matching ruffling which frills almost to her wrists. At the v-neck "Irish" pins a plastic bluebird accented with crystal sets, and the skirt has twelve gores which flare becomingly at the hip line.

Mary Eleanor Pinnell MARY ELEANOR PINNELL, A3 of Ottumwa, has a wool jersey date dress you'd really love! The jacket is beige with tea-length sleeves of dark brown and dark brown buttons. It's fitted at the waist with an inset belt and a peplum. The four-gore skirt is dark brown too and flares at the bottom. Mary Eleanor wears a matching beret with a perky brown bow and brown purse and brown gloves with beige trim to complete the two-tone effect—it's terrific!

BARBARA BAKER, A4 of Decora, is captivatingly correct in her chocolate brown rabbit hair wool. It's shirtwaist style with those three-quarter length sleeves that everyone is mad about. The only trimming is on the belt—two gold glass bead links decorate each side of the buckle. "Barb" wears dark brown pumps with gold buckles to match the belt of the dress—and brown accessories.

How I wish I'd found that little black silk crepe dress with the matching apron before JACKIE GILES, A4 of Omaha, Neb., discovered it, for it's one of the most datable creations I've seen in ages. The v-neck line and tea-length sleeves are edged in black lace and the black lace apron, which ties at the waist, reaches demurely to the hem of her skirt. It's bound in black crepe and has two petite pockets that match the material of the dress. Jackie has added an original touch all her own. She pins a gardenia on the pocket and one in her hair. Minus the apron, the dress becomes a plain black crepe gathered slightly below the waistline. Makes a two-timing outfit that's attractive either way.

Bonnie in Black NANCY HOLE, A1 of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, is another girl who's bonnie in black. Nancy's is two-piece with a draped peplum effect to the jacket. Layers of white sequins go out from the tip of the v-neckline to form a small cape over her shoulders. Nancy tops it with a little black skull cap decorated with three white sequins forming a glittering triangle in front.

Navy is magnetic to Navy Cadets... at least if it's the navy blue silk worn by NANCY GENTLEMAN, A1 of Chicago. Color is added by a midriff of rose, yellow and turquoise blue stripes and a deep band of the same stripe around the hemline. The dress has short sleeves and a v-neckline, and when Nancy tops it with a navy blue taffeta "beau-catcher" hat, the stag line forms to the right!

There are ever so many more date dresses I could tell you about, Mom—frocks that are feminine and a wee bit flashy so as to catch and hold the eye of the serviceman on campus. Who says university women are strictly for sloppy sweaters and baggy slacks?

In a double ring ceremony, Marian Clappison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Clappison of Eagle Grove, became the bride of E. Bruce Meier, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Meier of Kansas City, Mo., yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Methodist church.

Dr. L. L. Dunnington read the service before an altar banked with palms and baskets of white gladioli. Carole Reed of Waterloo at the organ played a 15 minute prelude and accompanied Kathryn Hopkirk of Ft. Madison, who sang "Because" and "I Love Thee."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Bonnie Lou Clappison. Barney J. Davies of Kansas City served as best man.

Ushering were Gordon Clappison and Mark Meier of Iowa City.

Bride in White Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white slipper satin, styled with a long torso waist and a gathered bodice trimmed with seed pearls. The high marquisette yoke buttoned up the back and the long sleeves were pointed at the wrist. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion net was crowned by a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of orchids and gardenias.

The maid of honor was attired in a dress of yellow brocade satin, fashioned with a torso waist, sweetheart neckline and three-ject of the Rev. Mr. Jones' talk will be, "Something to Hold on to."

Mrs. William Berg will be the assistant hostess and Mrs. Ralph Cozine will give the devotionals.

The two WAVES will be heard over WSUI Monday at 3:45 p. m. Before enlisting in the WAVES in June this year Mrs. HUGHES played leading parts in a number of serials and programs heard over the national network. Her greatest role was that of Kitty Keene. She quarter length sleeves. Her bouquet was of lavender gladioli. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clappison chose a tailored green silk gown accented with black accessories. Mrs. Meier was attired in a blue silk crepe ensemble with brown accessories. Both wore gardenia corsages.

Nuptial Reception The reception after the ceremony was held in the church parlors. Hostesses were Dorothy Klein of Eagle Grove, Loanna Schnoor of Perry, Marjorie Fewel of Des Moines and Sue Gray of Ft. Madison.

Out of town guests present at the ceremony included Marian Bonner of Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. John Bonner, Joan and Janet, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bonner, Mable Bonner and Fred Bonner, all of Jewell; Mr. and Mrs. G. The bride, a graduate of Eagle Grove high school, will receive her B.A. degree from the University of Iowa next spring. She is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism sorority. Mr. Meier was graduated from Central high school in Kansas City and the college of engineering here, where he was affiliated with Chi Epsilon and Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternities. Mrs. Hughes enlisted in the WAVES the same day her husband joined the army. "We tried to put our little cocker spaniel, "Snooper," in the marines but he was five inches too short," she said, explaining they didn't care to be too partial to the army and navy.

As a pre-war advertising man Mr. Hughes created several amusing pictures and poster ideas for his wife. As Kitty Keene, she once posed with Frank Buck sitting on an elephant.

Mrs. Hughes recently had a song, "My Star Spangled Heart," copyrighted and she hopes it will be possible for Kate Smith to introduce it over the air Christmas eve in her Christmas program to the boys overseas. It would be dedicated to Pvt. Bob Hughes, somewhere in England, in remembrance of his birthday and their fifth wedding anniversary.

In preparation for her radio career she attended St. Agatha in New York, Wellesly and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York. Mrs. Hughes will be recruiting WAVES for the duration and six months. After the war Mrs. Hughes plans to take up a new career. She's going to be a house wife and make the most of her good cooking abilities.

World Series to Resume Play Today

Lanier, Russo Will Pitch

McCarthy's Choice Of Hurler Surprise To Many Observers

By JUDSON BAILEY
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two southpaws, Max Lanier and Marius Russo, were named yesterday to the pitching assignments for the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees today when the world series is resumed at Sportsman's park.

Russo's selection by Manager Joe McCarthy surprised many of the observers who expect to be in the crowd of 34,000 at the fourth installment of baseball's annual classic and it surprised Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals, too.

McCarthy mentioned Russo as his likely choice after the teams completed their three-game stand in Yankee stadium, but in the two open days since that time there has been almost constant speculation over the possibility of his switching to Spud Chandler, who beat Lanier in the first game of the series.

Before the two teams worked out on the series scene yesterday Southworth said he doubted very much that the Yankees would pitch a lefthander. Essentially the Cardinals are a righthanded hitting ball club and Russo has been bothered for two years by a sore arm which reduced his record this season to five victories and ten defeats.

But after Russo was named, Southworth declared, "That's okay with us. We don't care whom they pitch." He said there would be no change whatever in the St. Louis batting order, which includes three lefthanded batters, Stan Musial, Harry Walker and Ray Sanders.

McCarthy, reticent as ever, gave no explanation of his reason for choosing Russo, but it appeared that Chandler needed another day of rest. He won 20 games and lost four during the regular season when he had five or six days between assignments. McCarthy probably felt that his ace, who had some difficulty trouncing the Cards in New York, might be beaten if hurried back for another appearance.

Holding Chandler until Monday's game means that he may make only two starts even if the series goes the full seven games.

There was no question about the Cards opening with Lanier today, but some doubts about his effectiveness came up when word got around that the stokey southpaw was suffering from a cold.

However, Lanier said he felt fine and was ready to go. He was present at the practice yesterday, but did not get into uniform.

In the first game of the series at New York, he pitched an able rebuttal to Chandler, allowing six hits and striking out seven batters in the seven innings he worked, but he lost the game through his own fielding error at first base and a wild pitch.

Both teams appeared confident, but the Cardinals obviously were under heavy pressure. They must win today to keep from falling almost hopelessly behind and to win they must get over the jittery defensive play which caused them to make eight errors in three games at New York and to lose two of them.

The St. Louis fans did not seem to have as much confidence as the St. Louis players, but interest in the series was at a peak at least as high as last year when the Cardinals won their first National league pennant since 1934 and the world series with the Yankees opened here.

Sportsman's park, which will hold only half the crowd that packed Yankee stadium for each of the three previous games this week, long has been sold out except for 6,800 unreserved seats and 3,000 standing room tickets which will be placed on sale when the gates open at 7 o'clock this morning.

The fifth game will be played Monday with Chandler due to draw Mort Cooper as his pitching opponent and if additional contests are necessary the sixth will be played Tuesday and the seventh Thursday.

Sensational Passing Aids Indiana Rout Of Nebraska, 54-13

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Brilliant long-range passing by Indiana's sensational sophomore, Bob (Punchy) Hoernschmeyer rang up six touchdowns for the Big Ten team yesterday in a 54-13 rout of Nebraska.

Hoernschmeyer tossed three of his touchdown passes in the first half to help Indiana to a 27-0 lead, then dropped scoring heats in the hands of teammates in each of the third and fourth periods.

His first marker was to Don Mangold for a 33-yard gain, his second to Ed Schienbein for 38 yards, his third to Frank Torak for five, the fourth to Torak for 20, the fifth to Pete Pihos for 23 and the last to Mangold for 37 yards.

Nebraska, too, was active in the air, getting two third period touchdowns on Ted Kenfield to Bill Miller passes, the first of which gobbled up 22 yards and the second of which netted 48 yards.

It seemed that whenever Indiana wanted a touchdown all Hoernschmeyer had to do was drop back, calmly survey his field as his teammates gave him the best of protection, then drop the ball square in the arms of the man he fired to.

His last touchdown pass was the game's thriller, the ball landing in Mangold's arms, then bouncing into the air. Mangold, traveling at his fastest clip, gathered it back again to run 15 yards for his score.

The other Hoosier touchdown came on Jim Allerdice's one yard smash after "Punch" moved down close with a 14 yard dash, and Mangold's 13 yard run on a reverse. On the line Indiana's John Tavener, who kicked six extra points, and Pete Pihos stood head and shoulders over all that Nebraska could offer.

Cornell Beats Princeton PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Cornell's football team, recovering in surprising style from last week's walloping at the hands of Navy, showed itself to be a well coached if not a powerful team yesterday by trouncing Princeton, 30 to 0, in the 28th clash between these Ivy league rivals.

Purdue Takes Impressive Win Over Camp Grant Eleven, 19-0

Powerful Boilermakers Overshadow Soldiers For 4th Straight Win

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—One long march and two quick thrusts on breaks gave Purdue an impressive 19 to 0 football victory over Camp Grant yesterday in a game in which the powerful Boilermakers so completely overshadowed their opponents that the soldiers didn't even come close to scoring until just as the final gun fired.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the lend-lease Boilermakers and gave them a clean sweep of their tilts with service teams.

Purdue scored in each of the first three periods and was close in the final quarter, although second and third stringers were finishing out the tilt.

The Boilermakers looked for all the world like the Yankees as they pounced on a break to score the first touchdown in less than two minutes. Frank Bauman of Harvey, Ill., blocked a Camp Grant punt right after the kick-off and then recovered it on the Soldier 24. Purdue scored on the next play as Stan Dubicki of South Bend, Ind., took a pass off to the left from Sam Vacanti of Omaha, Neb., and galloped over after fading away beautifully from one Camp Grant tackler and outrunning another.

Purdue's second touchdown came the hard way. The Boilermakers drove 45 yards on Vacanti's passes and runs by Tony Butkovich and Lewis Rose of Hobart, Ind., with Butkovich finally going over from the two-yard line.

Boris Dimancheff of Indianapolis, a letter student from Butler university, set up the third marker. He intercepted a Camp Grant pass on the Soldiers' 25 and then went to the 12 on the next play. Purdue then crossed up the Warriors by sending Vacanti over on a quarterback sneak.

In the final period a quick succession of fumbles and intercepted passes gave Camp Grant the ball on its 19 and then it was a couple of former Purdue players—Bill Burghardt and John Andretich—who almost scored on the Boilermakers. Andretich intercepted a Purdue pass. Burghardt ran to the Purdue 35 and then passed to Bill Huber, formerly of Notre Dame, on the 12, just as the gun fired.

Irish Batter Michigan, 35-12

Highly Rated Wolverines Overpowered

By JERRY LISKA
ANN ARBOR (AP)—Roaring to the heights reached by any of Notre Dame's greatest teams, the fighting Irish yesterday battered Michigan's touted Wolverines, 35-12, for their worst defeat in six years before a record crowd of 86,000 at the vast Michigan stadium.

History was dramatically repeated as Creighton Miller streaked to two of five Irish touchdowns to match the performance of his father, the immortal Harry (Red) Miller, in Notre Dame's only other win over Michigan in 11 games. That was 34 years ago in 1909 when the fighting Irish last invaded Ann Arbor.

Frank Leahy's "T" formation, sparked by Angelo Bertelli, Miller and stabbing Jim Mello, slashed the Wolverines to ribbons with the Irish scoring in all but an error-shortened fourth period. The closing quarter went only seven minutes by agreement of the coaches after the time clock went awry in a 23-minute third quarter.

The Irish talked once in the opening period and twice each in the second and third quarters, with Bertelli converting after all five scores to extend his place-kicking record to 14 out of 15.

Michigan's first touchdown came in the second period, the handiwork of big Bill Daley, who was a gallant figure even in the Wolverine's rout. The second Michigan score came on the last play of the game, a 13-yard pass from Elroy Hirsch to Capt. Paul White. Tackle Mervin Pregulman, with a previous record of 12 conversions in 13 tries, missed both point attempts.

Bertelli, the Irish sling-shot, made good on five of eight passes, covering 70 yards for a touchdown and another 31 yards to set up another score.

After six minutes of play Irish thunder first rumbled from Notre Dame's 34. Miller popped through Michigan's right side, streaked into the clear and outmaneuvered the Wolverine secondary in a 66-yard touchdown run.

Michigan hung on by scoring at the outset of the second period. Daley intercepted Bertelli's pass on his 28, returned to midfield, then broke loose for 23, passed to Art Renner on the Irish four, and finally bulled across.

One minute later the Irish stabbed for another score. Freshman Freddie Earley sprinted 11 to Notre Dame's 35. Two plays lost to the Irish 30 and then Bertelli winged a long toss to Earley who was wide open on Michigan's 45 and he galloped easily to pay dirt.

After Miller lost a 58-yard touchdown run when a teammate was caught holding, the Irish charged again with Bertelli's passes and Mello's plunges carrying to the one. Mello smashed over from there.

In the third period Julius Rykovich lugged a punt 42 yards to Michigan's 31 and after cracks at the line by Mello and Miller, Bertelli slipped across from the two. The last Irish touchdown was on a 17-yard pass from Bertelli to Miller.

The lineups: Notre Dame: Limont, LE; White, LT; Gilley, LG; Coleman, C; Sogman, RG; Czabokski, RT; Yonaker, RE; Bertelli, QB; Miller, LH; Rykovich, RH; Mello, FB; Notre Dame: 7 14 14 0-35

Speedy Illini Upset Favored Wisconsin, 25-7, After Slow Start

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Illinois' speedy and surprising gridmen, whose pointmaking to date has been too little and too late, scored early and often to overpower and overrun a favored Wisconsin football team, 25 to 7, yesterday.

As a crowd of 17,000 looked on, the men of Coach Ray Eliot countered twice each in the second and third quarters after a slow opening period. Wisconsin's belated tally came in the final period.

The four Illinois touchdowns were accounted for by as many of the fighting Illini, one each going to Eddie Bray, Eddie McGovern, Chester Sajnaj, and Jack Kane a substitute for left tackle Podmajersky. Clarence Tohn, a replacement for Sajnaj, booted the only extra point.

Halfback Don Kindt, Wisconsin's ironman scored for the Badgers, and end Jake Eulberg converted from placement.

The Badgers appeared to have the better of the encounter in the first period, but as the second period wore on, they relaxed and the Illini took control and never relinquished except for a brief period in the final quarter.

The victory was the first of the season for the Illini. The loss was Wisconsin's third in four starts.

Oklahoma Bows, 13-7

DALLAS (AP)—Texas beat Oklahoma 13-7 yesterday with a 63-yard pass play that climaxed a wild two minutes just before the second period ended. Bobby Coy Lee threw the ball, with Ralph Ellsworth taking it and sprinting 30 yards for the winning touchdown.

Last Year's Champs Defend Track Titles

U High Places Third in Class B Of Prep Meet

Three defending champions of last year successfully retained their titles yesterday morning in the 22nd state interscholastic one mile team races of the Iowa High School Athletic association. In class C, Mechanicsville repeated, in class B Sigourney again came out on top, and in class A East Des Moines retained its title.

Mechanicsville won decisively in the class C race having only ten points, while Center Junction, the second team, had 25, and Stanley, who placed third, had 33.

The class B race was very tight with the first three teams being separated by only one point. Sigourney, the winner, had 14. Marion was second with 15, and University High of Iowa City was third with 16.

East Des Moines was the winner in the class A race having a total of only 11 points, while their nearest rival, Clinton, had 15. Keokuk was third with 35.

John Oxley of Marion, in the class B race, made the best time, running the mile in 4:49. The winners in the other classes were Don Gemberling of Mechanicsville, clocked at 5:06 in the class C race, and Lee Hofacre of Clinton who was timed in 5:01.1 in the class A race.

Clair Yeggy of Lisbon and Clarence Guthrie of Center Junction placed second and third respectively in class C. In class B, Roy Gene Shaver of Sigourney was second and Bob Hartsock of University high was third. The class A race saw Vance Walters of East Des Moines second and William Cornish of Clinton third.

Iowa State Beats Kansas, 13 to 6

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—The Iowa State Cyclones struck twice with long aerials to beat the University of Kansas Jayhawkers, 13-6, yesterday in the first Big Six conference football game for both teams.

Early in the second period, the Cyclones gained possession of the ball on their own 37. George Tippee, 180-pound Iowa back, tossed a pass to end H. D. Crisler that was good for 37 yards and a touchdown. Meredith Warner placekicked the point.

The second Iowa touchdown was set up by a Kansas fumble on its own 25. The Cyclones were unable to gain and a penalty set them back another 15 yards.

Tippee, however, hurled another long pass, this one to George Gast, who trotted across for the second score.

The Kansans rallied in the final quarter. With the ball in midfield, big Bob Carson shot a short pass to Warren Reigle who lateralled to John Bergin. The play gained about 21 yards. Carson then made it a first down on the Iowans' 6-yard line. On the second play Lyn Williams, 100-pound quarterback, hit center for the Kansas score.

Tulane Wins, 33-0 HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Tulane's Green Wave poured through the cracks of a crumbling Rice Institute defense yesterday, scoring lopsided football victory of 33 to 0 in every period for an unexpected 10. About 12,000 fans witnessed the intersectional upset.

Buckeye Kids Bow to Sailors

Ohio State Team Adds to Reputation Despite 13-6 Defeat

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Ohio State's audacious youngsters earned the reputation as one of the country's finest civilian football teams yesterday losing to the vaunted Great Lakes Bluejackets by only 13-6 before a capacity crowd of 22,000 recruits at the naval training station's Ross field stadium.

The Sailors, chased all over the lot by the speedy Buckeyes during a scoreless first half, finally counted a touchdown in the third quarter as Steve Lach, formerly of Duke and the Chicago Cardinals, cruised 28 yards, and tallied again in the final period on a 45-yard gallop by Dewey Proctor, ex-Furman star.

But it remained for Coach Paul Brown's bunch of red-clad freshmen to bring the cheering recruits to their feet with a 97-yard run by Dean Sensenbaurer in the third quarter, probably the longest sprint of the season which failed to pay off for a touchdown.

With his dad watching from the stands, Sensenbaurer took a kickoff in his end zone and raced almost the length of the field, zig-zagging around Paul King Rogers two yards from scoring territory but finally being nabbed from behind on the three-yard stripe by Buist Warren. Sensenbaurer, after dancing around, would-be tacklers and retreating his steps to avoid Rogers, was so exhausted by the time Warren nailed him he had to be helped from the ground.

Great Lakes ponderous line, outweighing the Bucklings 16 pounds to the man, made a grand goal-line stand and turned back the disappointed youngsters.

Lach, trying to punt out of the hole against a strong wind, sent the ball only 24 yards as the third quarter ended. On the second play of the final period, Gene Slough, a third string back, passed to Jack Dugger in the end zone for Ohio State's only score. John Stungis, a sub quarterback, took a divot on his try for the extra point, leaving the Buckeyes trailing the Sailors, 7-6.

The Buckeyes failed to threaten thereafter despite the fine running of Ernie Parks, who led his team's attack most of the game, and Proctor eventually put the victory beyond recall with his 45-yard dash.

University of Life Begins Interdenominational Sunday Evening Program Tonight at 7

The University of Life will begin its interdenominational Sunday evening program series for high school students at the Methodist church tonight at 7 o'clock. The program will be led this year by the Rev. L. L. Dunnington and will meet each Sunday for the purpose of building Christian character in students of high school age.

The Rev. Mr. Dunnington announced that 125 reservations for the 25 cent supper have been made. The Congregational, Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches are cooperating efforts for this program, but anyone of high school age who is interested is welcome, the Rev. Mr. Dunnington said. Student participation and leadership are to be stressed in every phase of the evening session work and play.

The weekly Sunday evening program schedule will begin with a social hour from 7-7:30 with games and singing. Six major groups will be organized to take care of the social hour on successive evenings. Each group will keep a record of its own attendance and of new members added during the first few weeks. A point system, showing the standing of each group every Sunday night, will provide competition between the various groups. An achievement report will be posted on the bulletin board.

The Rev. Mr. Dunnington will lead a discussion group from 7:30 to 8:10 under the general title, "Did You Know That Was in the Bible?"

A vesper period from 8:10 to 8:30 will be arranged and taken charge of completely by the young people. Providing music, speakers, and ushers will be a part of these proceedings. The vespers are to be arranged by the Baptist church for the first three weeks, followed by the Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Methodists and Episcopalians in succeeding order.
