4 United Nations Issue Joint Aims

U.S., Britain, Russia, China Agree on Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—America, Britain, Russia and China told the world yesterday they are jointly determined to crush their enemies into unconditional surrender and then, as peacetime partners, work together for "international peace and security."

In solemn words, the historic Moscow conference—the first of its kind—thus set the tone for the greatest allied effort in history: insistence on full victory, a lasting organization of peace-loving nations, and cold vengeance for those of the enemy who have bloodied their hands with barbarism.

The account of what was decided by the governments, represented in conference by Secretary of State Hull of the United States, Foreign Minister Eden of Britain and Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia, and joined in by Ambassador Foo Ting-Sheung of China was announced simultaneously in their capitals.

On present and future matters, these decisions stood out:

1. There shall be unity of action and consultations between powers with a common enemy (Russia is not at war with Japan and there was no intimation she should be) until the day of unconditional surrender.

2. There shall be established as soon as possible "a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, and open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security."

3. There shall be cooperation by all hands "to bring about a practicable general agreement with respect to the regulation of armaments in the postwar period."

4. There shall be swift and sure justice for those Germans guilty of atrocities in occupied lands. America, Britain and Russia joined in this; Japanese of this type have already been promised punishment by President Roosevelt. The German slaughterers of helpless people will be tried in their victims' homelands and if necessary will be pursued "to the uttermost ends of the earth" for delivery to their accusers.

The Moscow agreements generally were hailed in congress as taking a long step toward collective action for world peace, but there was difference of opinion in the senate as to how they affected the pending postwar declaration.

Senator Pepper (D., Fla.), who wants commitments by the United States to a specific plan for crushing future aggression, suggested that the Connally resolution be redrafted on terms of the Moscow statement.

Senator Connally (D., Tex.) objected, saying that his resolution for "establishment and maintenance of international authority" against aggression and to preserve peace was right in line with what the meeting advocated.

No details came from Moscow on plans for dealing with Germany and establishing the new international organization for peace but the nations provided means for working together, and did specify that a non-Fascist Italy must be established, and that Austria, "first free country to fall a victim to Hitlerite aggression" shall be liberated.

With the diplomatic bigwigs in Moscow were military men from the conferring nations and it was stated that the Oct. 19-Oct. 30 conference was marked by "frank and exhaustive discussions of the measures to be taken to shorten the war against Germany and her satellites in Europe. Also:

"Advantage was taken of the presence of military advisers representing the respective chiefs of staff in order to discuss definite military operations with regard to which decisions had been taken and which are already being prepared in order to create a basis for the closest military cooperation in the future between the three countries."

The three, of course, are the United States, Russia and Britain. This account of military talk was the closest approach to anything regarding a second front, a matter on which Russia has been vociferous in the past; it could suggest that the time and place for such a front have been set.

Yanks Bypass Jap Troops

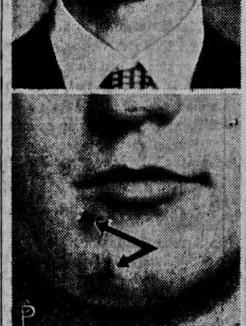

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Tuesday (AP)—American ground forces captured Empress Augusta bay in a bold invasion of west-central Bougainville island at dawn Monday, 260 miles away from Japan's big key base of Rabaul, and General MacArthur challenged the Japanese navy to come out and fight.

Cognizant that this big move threatened to unhinge the entire Japanese position in the southwest Pacific and that the enemy must consider strong counter measures, General MacArthur said: "If the Jap fleet comes out, I will welcome it. I will throw everything we have against it."

This invasion of Bougainville, translating into air, naval and amphibious action strategy planned by General MacArthur, Admiral Halsey and other high officials, moved the allies 200 miles from the scene of their recent victories in the central Solomons.

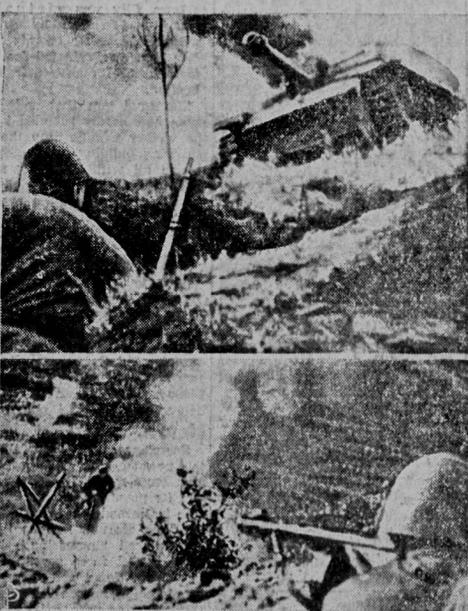

The attacking force, which achieved its initial landings with such surprise that little opposition was encountered, thus bypassed Japanese positions on southern Bougainville and placed all enemy forces there in peril if they chose to remain.

The Japanese positions on the Shortland islands, 15 miles south of Bougainville and on newly invaded Treasury and Choiseul islands also were bypassed.

SOVIET VICTORIES AT FRONT

HERE ARE TWO EPISODES along the Russian front which show why the Soviet offensive continues in full force. Reds Cut Perekop Isthmus, Trapping Germans in Crimea

LONDON (AP)—The Red army trapped tens of thousands of Germans in the Crimea yesterday by cutting the Kerikop isthmus, and Moscow announced early yesterday that one fleeing enemy group above the peninsula had been surrounded, losing 2,000 killed and 6,000 captured in a continuing battle of annihilation.

Nearly 5,000 Germans also were killed and scores of tanks, guns and trucks were captured or destroyed in fresh Russian gains inside the Dnieper river bend, Moscow said, as the Red army reached the lower Dnieper river 15 miles above the Kakhovka crossing in its pursuit of demoralized German troops, thousands of whom have perished on the Bogaisk steppe.

Capture Perekop In sealing off the Crimea the Russians stormed and captured Perekop, on the isthmus of that name, and smashed five miles beyond across the narrow land bridge toward the Crimea.

The Germans faced one of their greatest disasters since Stalingrad, where Field Marshal Gen. Friedrich von Paulus' sixth army of 350,000 was lost. The Nazi Crimean forces are believed to number less than that, since some have been evacuated, Berlin says, and the Russians themselves were declared to have had only 200,000 in the area when they lost it during the 1941-42 fighting.

Advance 5 Miles Gen. Feodor Tolbukhin's victorious Fourth Ukraine army drove five miles ahead into both narrow corridors linking the Crimea with the mainland, on the northwest at Perekop, and on the northeast at Novolalekseyevka, said the Moscow broadcast bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Other units racing westward above the Crimea converged on the Kakhovka and Nikopol crossings of the lower Dnieper river in an effort to cross that stream and join two other Russian armies inside the Dnieper bend, where fresh Red army gains also were made.

Spilling into Perekop at the top of a 15-mile-long isthmus the Russians captured that town, went on to crack the old Turkish wall fortifications, and took Armyvanski Bazar, five miles to the south.

Retreat Cut Off "Thus the ways of retreat by land for the enemy forces in the Crimea have been cut by our troops," the bulletin said. This rapid investment of the Crimea was one of Russia's greatest accomplishments of the war, and put the Red army in a re-

Allies Capture Italian Towns In Bitter Fight

German Resistance Stiffens as Americans, British Near New Line

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers (AP)—The allied Fifth and Eighth armies, laboring forward in mud and rain, have captured 21 more Italian towns and villages, including Teano, in grim fighting at the approaches to the German's massive new trans-peninsula defense barrier.

Teano, important road junction 10 miles northeast of the enemy's towering Mt. Massico stronghold, fell to Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American Fifth army after a one-mile uphill fight against elements of the crack Hermann Goering division, a headquarters communique announced yesterday.

Spectacular Thrust In another spectacular thrust, American troops advanced five miles through downpours and up dizzy mountain slopes to take Val-la-griccola, perched on a 2,000-foot hill four miles north of Raviscanina. In the two advances Clark's men also enveloped the villages of Anfilicia, Otello, Mananello and Neviero.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British Eighth army was pinned down by heavy rain and stiff Nazi resistance along the Trigno river near the Adriatic end of the battle line, but in the mountainous interior his forces smashed through 15 towns and villages to within nine miles of the big communications junction of Isernia, central pivot of the German line.

Bitter Resistance In slugging through bitter resistance to win high ground on both sides of the broad Foglia-Isernia-Rome highway, Montgomery's warriors engulfed Cantalupo and Macchiagodena, both nine miles southeast of Isernia; Frosolone, Cerastio, Collocarrisi, Grottole, San Matteo, Mazzone, Ferrigno, Campodice, Gronelari, Campitello, Le Finciere, De Salvia and San Gregorio.

The capture of Teano gave the Fifth army possession of a valuable network of roads for the impending drive to pierce the formidable Massico ridge line at the southwestern extremity of the front.

Interpreting War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press War Analyst Heavy blows at German morale rained upon Nazidom yesterday with publication of the four-power Moscow covenant of war and peace and the accompanying declarations.

The sweeping scope of the main document, pledging China as well as Britain, Soviet Russia and the United States to fight on against "those axis powers with which they respectively are at war until such powers have laid down their arms on the basis of unconditional surrender" is breath-taking.

It could leave even Japan, not specifically mentioned, in no doubt as to where Russia ultimately will stand in the global battle to end everywhere the "meance of aggression."

It goes without saying that the Moscow declarations as to Germany will be followed soon by similar American-British-Chinese pronouncement of a similar nature, dooming Japanese military and political personnel responsible for war atrocities as the Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin pledge dooms other axis war criminals, steps to that end had been taken in Washington, London and Chungking before the Moscow deliberations began.

But it is upon the Nazi front, military as well as at home in the Reich, that the blow conceived and executed in Moscow to match the ever widening cycle of Nazi military disasters, must fall most heavily.

And it is a fair assumption that in addition to the tons of bombs that allied planes carry to blast at Nazi war industry and behind the fighting front, they are already loading with copies of Moscow commitments to sow them broadcast over the Reich and its armies in the field.

Italian King Faces Problem of Abdicating Telltale Scratches

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ITALY (AP)—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio told aged King Vittorio Emanuele yesterday that he could not form a representative government while the king remained in power. Thus Badoglio handed the king his toughest problem in the 48 years of his reign—whether to abdicate or allow Italy to tear herself apart by political strife.

Roosevelt Issues Order When Miners Fail to Resume Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, confronted with another general coal strike, last night seized the mines a second time and authorized Secretary Ickes to conclude bargaining contracts with the miners, subject to the war labor board.

Rejecting the course of waiting another day or more for the United Mine Workers leadership to act, the president announced his order two hours and 15 minutes after the union's policy committee adjourned for the day without reaching a decision on sending the miners back to work.

Virtually all production had ceased as the president called on all miners to be at their post tomorrow morning. "Coal must be mined," the chief executive declared. "The enemy does not wait."

Ickes immediately signed an order seizing all coal mines producing 50 tons or more daily where a work stoppage has taken place or is threatened.

The presidents of the various coal companies affected by Ickes' order were designated as operating managers. They were instructed to fly the American flag at the mine property and post notices of government possession of the mines.

The seizure put into effect the criminal penalties of the war labor disputes act. These may be imposed upon anyone found in violation of the act.

The president's order differed from the seizures of last May in that Ickes may work out agreements with the miners. Although the War Labor Board will have the last word on any such agreements, this provision may pave the way to the contract which the miners have been demanding.

This arrangement offers the miners the advantage of negotiating with one man on a nationwide basis instead of with different groups of operators who do not agree among themselves.

In a statement issued at the same time as the executive order taking possession of the mines the president declared "As president of the United States and as commander-in-chief of the armed forces," he went on, "I call upon every miner to return without a day's delay to the mines."

The president authorized Ickes to appeal to Secretary of War Stimson for any action "he may deem necessary or desirable to provide protection" to returning miners.

"The secretary of the interior shall make employment available and provide protection to all employees resuming work at the mines and to all persons seeking employment so far as they may be needed."

Shortly before the president acted, the United Mine Workers leaders put off until tomorrow a decision on the question whether to send the miners back to work voluntarily.

The shutdown was nearly 100 percent complete as UMW's policy committee pu the strike problem in the hands of a subcommittee with instructions to report tomorrow.

President Roosevelt said last week he would take no "decisive action" until after the UMW policy committee meeting, but declared, "I... shall not hesitate to take whatever steps may be necessary to see that the coal is mined."

WASHINGTON (AP)—A penny increase in the three-cent postal rate on out-of-town letters was approved yesterday by the house ways and means committee as if virtually completed action on a new tax bill providing $2,183,000,000 of additional revenue—80 percent short of the $10,500,000,000 requested by the administration.

The committee, which previously jumped the local letter rate from two to three cents; also put the air mail rate at eight cents instead of 10 cents as approved earlier. The present rate is six cents.

LAE AFTER ALLIED ARTILLERY AND AIR BLASTING

ALLIED REPAIR and supply vehicles move in and out of the shell holes along the waterfront at Lae, New Guinea, shortly after the allies had driven the Japs from the strategic base. Note the wrecked barge on the shore and the water-filled bomb craters; compare the size of these holes with the trucks about them. They give a clear picture of the heavy land and air attacks on the base before its capture.

Editorially Speaking... By Jim Zabel. Includes a small portrait of Jim Zabel.

The Finer Arts—

As it comes repeatedly to all men, art selection time was ushered into my office yesterday morning with a mimeographed bang...

"Art" is probably the world's most flexible noun... nearly everything from Shakespeare to Saroyan, from Mozart to Minsky has been tagged with it at one time or another...

The "art" that I am referring to is that kind which in New York and Hollywood is pronounced "art" and which over the rest of the country goes by the name of "radio programs" and "movies"...

Each year about this time, newspaper editors (and nearly everyone else who can make 20 "X's" and sign his name) are asked to select the "best" in this particular branch of "art"...

First of all the 2 dollar question: "What do you think were the 10 best movies of 1943?"...

Answer: I can remember only 2 that were "best"... "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "For Whom the Bell Tolls"...

For those who bring up "Constant Nymph" and the like, let them remember "Black Street" and "Mayepling" (French film), both of which were produced back in the days when movies really were art...

The same goes for such contemporary laugh hits as "Edge of Darkness" and "Mission to Moscow"...

Even the most liberal cinematic can't, certainly... the only really good war picture I have seen in the past year has either been gov-issued documentary films...

The truth of the matter is that the quality of our recent movies has sunk to a miserable level...

Now the 4 dollar question: "Who would you name as the outstanding actresses of 1943?"...

Answer: Again I can name only two because I think there are only two real actresses in Hollywood today...

There are several young stars like Theresa Wright and Joan Leslie who fall into a kind of middle category...

It is doubtful that any of them will ever touch Ingrid Bergman... being foreign-trained, she has more ability than most of our home-grown products...

As one hardened N. Y. newsman put it recently, "Lunching with her is like sitting down to an hour or so of conversation with a charming and highly intelligent orchid..."

One safe bet: that her "You won't love me now" line in the "Bell" does more to promote virtue among American youth than all the Big Sister movements thrown together...

I have never liked Betty Grable ever since I saw her about six years ago when she was dancing and chewing gum on the Orpheum

News Behind the News Worst Economic Muddle Of the War

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—This coal strike muddle—foremost in the labor picture which has become the worst economic muddle of the war—is a pure and educational phenomenon of American Bureaucracy and labor tactics.

It started back when Mr. Ickes had control of the mines, much to the discomfort of the WLB. Ickes, at least, was getting production then, but boardmen tripped around to the White House threatening to resign unless its control was restored.

Well, it is restored, and look at the situation—around 50,000 miners out, some in Alabama for 19 days, and no satisfactory solution accomplished yet.

If Lewis accepts the WLB raise for the Illinois miners Monday through his executive council, he will have to re-open negotiations on the same basis with all other operators everywhere.

The devious ways of conflicting bureaucracy obviously have succeeded only so far in making a deficient matter practically impossible.

But not the least phenomenal aspect was presented when Mr. Lewis, the supposedly beloved and iron-willed dictator of the miners, pleaded ineffectively with his men to go back to work.

The railroad situation is no less involved, if momentarily less in the headlines.

In the end, the government may be forced to give in for 5 and 6 cents—in accordance with the apparent policy of negotiating for the best possible settlement in each case.

Worst of all, no one in the administration or outside seems to have an answer to the problem.

The condition must be accepted as an eye-opening example of the deficiencies of managed economy, the inefficiency of Bureaucracy, and the difficulties presented by a revolutionary union against a sympathetic government during a desperate World War.

If it does not make sense, it at least makes America the haven of confused economic and political currents it is today.

Child's Play—

The war food administration was given $500,000,000 for subsidies to cover the loss to producers occasioned by "rollback" in some retail food prices.

Once the "cost of living subsidy" is established, look out for it to be extended, billion by billion.

The farmer doesn't want the subsidy because he knows he will be at the mercy of the government to pay him such a handout, under one name or another, as it deems sufficient to keep him going.

The food subsidy is an indirect method of making the government boss of every farm in the United States.

The cost of production, which is based on the cost of labor, will always establish the price of a commodity.

Now the 4 dollar question: "Who would you name as the outstanding actresses of 1943?"

Answer: Again I can name only two because I think there are only two real actresses in Hollywood today.

There are several young stars like Theresa Wright and Joan Leslie who fall into a kind of middle category.

It is doubtful that any of them will ever touch Ingrid Bergman.

As one hardened N. Y. newsman put it recently, "Lunching with her is like sitting down to an hour or so of conversation with a charming and highly intelligent orchid..."

One safe bet: that her "You won't love me now" line in the "Bell" does more to promote virtue among American youth than all the Big Sister movements thrown together.

Nov. 2, 1941...

Pentup Iowa fury, stored up over a six weeks' drought while the Hawkeyes were unimpressive in five straight starts, was unleashed here before a Homecoming crowd of 28,000 and rose to slash down a highly favored Indiana team 13-7.

Staff writer Johnny Nichols pictured a one man riot multiplied by the whole Iowa football squad and their well-wishers as he wrote of the lockerroom activity after the game.

"There were more smiles per square inch than anywhere but a Gypsy Rose Lee burlesque show."

Iowa City was virtually turned upside down by victory wild Homecoming crowds who saw Iowa's rejuvenated football team hand Indiana their 13-7 beating.

The final gun that ended the game had hardly sounded before the victory whistle atop the engineering building commenced to inform all within hearing range that Iowa had won.

Fans flocked to Iowa avenue and Clinton street after the game to watch the burning of the corn monument.

Nov. 2, 1938... Secretary of State Cordell Hull told newsmen that the "world was at a cross-roads" but "it has not lost its power of choice between rule by armed force and rule by law."

He warned nations that if they placed "increasing reliance upon armed force as an instrument of national policy they will be marching toward the final catastrophe of a new world war, the horror and destructiveness of which will surpass human imagination."

Bernie Cummins and his orchestra, coming straight from Chicago's famed Bismark hotel, were to play for the annual Spinsters' Spree Nov. 11. It was to be a girl-take-boy affair with the highlight of the evening to be the selection of this year's most eligible bachelors.

Archibald MacLeish, winner of the Pulitzer prize for poetry and former editor of Fortune magazine, was to present a public lecture in Old Capitol Nov. 7.

He was to arrive in Iowa City Friday and students who wished could make appointments to have him give his opinion of their poetry or short stories through arrangements with the office of American prefaces.

Nov. 2, 1933... Roswell Johnson, A3 of Ottumwa, and Fred Morain, A3 of Jefferson, were selected to represent the University of Iowa in an international debate with the University of Cambridge of England Nov. 22. The topic for discussion was "Resolved: America should adopt the British form of radio broadcasting central and operation."

Hollywood Sights and Sounds Claudette Colbert Has Doffed Glamor for Maturity

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—There'll doubtless be a lot of piffle about Claudette Colbert's courage in undertaking the role of a middle-aged mother in "Since You Went Away," but we're skipping it. So, for that matter is Claudette Colbert.

Claudette's screen children are two radiant young women known as Jennifer Jones and Shirley Temple. Claudette's screen husband—the one who went away to war—is Neil Hamilton, who admits to a solid 44 years. The two factors date the Colbert-Hamilton wedding for the movie somewhere in the roaring twenties, so that Claudette's screen character is definitely on the mellowing, getting-along side. Nice, human, intriguing in an adult fashion, but scarcely the smart glamour type.

We caught Claudette in her dressing room, and got her slant on this courage business, which pops up every time a star takes on a characterization more mature than gay and giddy girlhood.

Claudette chuckled. She allowed that she was mighty proud of her two screen daughters. "Jennifer is a lovely girl, sure to be a star, and Shirley—she's a grand little actress, and sharp as a tack."

She recalled that a certain "Mrs. Miniver" hadn't done badly for Greer Garson. Mrs. Miniver had a son old enough for the Royal Air Force, and she also had romance, with Walter Pidgeon for a screen husband.

"I believe," said Claudette, "that there's room on the screen for adult romance. This character I'm playing here is very much alive and vital, and there's no feeling ever that her own life is finished. She and her husband are very much in love, and there are flash-backs, even though he has gone to war, showing their lives together before he left. I'm crazy about the part."

We pointed out that one of Claudette's finest pieces of work was in "Remember the Day," in which she played a spinster schoolmarm, definitely gray-haired.

She liked that one too, she said, and—"I remember how Paramount screamed its head off when I took it. They all thought it would ruin me."

And this was interesting: "I don't know why, but I'm still getting mail on a picture I made at least 10 years ago. 'Imitation of Life.' I played a mother in that one too, with a grown-up daughter. I work down at the canteen at Fort MacArthur, and it's surprising how often the boys—who must have been 12 or 13 at the time—recall that 'Imitation of Life'! There are three pictures of mine the fans tell me they remember. 'It Happened One Night,' of course, because it's been revived so much, and 'Imitation of Life' and 'Cleopatra'."

Nice combination, that—light comedy, mature drama, and unadmitted sex-appeal. It might explain why Claudette, recognized in all three fields, has no qualms about playing mamma to grown-up Jennifer and growing-up Shirley.

Qualifying Exams To Be Given Nov. 9 In Dentistry, Medicine

Information Pamphlets May Be Obtained Now At Student Affairs

All students interested in qualifying for the school of medicine or the school of dentistry through the military programs should take the qualifying test which will be given Nov. 9 at 9 a. m. in Macbride auditorium, Dean E. M. MacEwen of the college of medicine and Dean Alvin W. Bryan of the college of dentistry, announced yesterday.

The qualifying test is the first step for entering either the army specialized training program or the navy V-12 program and will be given throughout the country Nov. 9.

General information pamphlets containing admission-identification forms may be obtained at the office of student affairs in Old Capitol. The form, properly filled out, will admit to the test students between the ages of 17 and 21, inclusive, who are recent high school graduates or who will graduate by March 1, 1944. Those wishing to take the test should inform the office of student affairs immediately in order that the necessary test supplies may be obtained.

Thirty-eight men have applied for admission to the test and 58 have indicated an interest in taking, according to information at the office of student affairs. The same examination, designed to test aptitude and general knowledge required for college training, will be taken by both the army and navy candidates.

The A. S. T. P. and the navy college program enable students to continue academic training at government expense, following induction into the armed forces. Successful completion of the prescribed courses may, following further officers' training, lead to a commission in the army or navy.

Major fields of study for the A. S. T. P. trainees include aeronautics; chemical, civil, electrical and marine engineering; dentistry; personnel psychology; foreign area and language study; veterinary medicine; surveying; internal combustion engines; communications and optics, and military and physical training.

The navy program is designed to provide officers for the navy, marines and coast guard. Courses are open for officer candidates in the medical, general engineering, civil engineering, construction, engineering specialist, aerology, supply, and chaplain corps or as deck officers.

The qualification test is two hours long as will be supervised by Paul Bloomers of the university examination and testing office.

'Home Goes to War' Will Be Broadcast

"Your Home Goes to War," a series of nutrition talks, will be broadcast over WSUI from 9:15 to 9:30 a. m. for four consecutive Tuesday mornings, beginning this morning.

The programs, sponsored by the civilian defense council, are being arranged by Prof. Sybil Woodruff, head of the home economics department. Professor Woodruff is chairman of nutrition in the citizen's service corps and is a member of the State Nutrition committee.

Professor Woodruff will present the first of the programs this morning, her subject being "The Nationwide Food Campaign—Food Fights for Freedom."

Other programs scheduled by Professor Woodruff are: Nov. 9, "Science and the Basic-Seven Food Groups," by Genevieve Stearns, research associate professor of pediatrics, college of medicine; Nov. 16, "Planning Meals Under the 7-Point Nutrition Rules," by Mae Giddings, associate professor of home economics; Nov. 23, "Roasting a Thanksgiving Turkey the Modern Way," by Mrs. Pearl Janssen, associate professor of home economics.

'Alice in Wonderland' To Open Tomorrow At University Theatre

The University theatre will open its 1943 season tomorrow night with the first performance of "Alice in Wonderland."

The play, adapted from Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" and "Through the Looking Glass," Vance M. Morton.

Margaret Rowland, A3 of Dayton, Ohio, plays the role of Alice. Her understudy is Ruth Anderson, A2 of Denver, Col.

Five performances of "Alice in Wonderland" will be given, including the matinee for Iowa City school children, which will begin at 4:15 Thursday afternoon.

Costumes are being supervised by Aline Fenton. Gary Gaiser is handling lighting effects.

The stage settings for the play present one of its unique features, since they are constructed so that changes in scenery may be made while the characters remain on stage, and without drawing the curtain.

Projected light forms the basis for the stage settings, and slides are used to give the unreal effect called for by the dream-sequence of the play.

Prof. Arnold S. Gillette of the art department designed the stage settings, and the slides were made by Prof. H. D. Sellman.

Students to Participate In Homecoming Rally Friday Night at 7:30

Every university student will have a part in opening the 1943 Homecoming activities at the first Homecoming event, the mass meeting, Friday night at 7:30.

A traditional event in the history of Iowa Homecomings, the meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 on the lawn east of Old Capitol. The University band and the Scottish highlanders will be present in full dress regalia.

The theme of the rally is based on the fact that this is the fourth wartime Homecoming in the history of the University of Iowa. The Homecomings of 1917, 1918 and 1942 were also curtailed by war emergencies.

Present on the platform as speakers at the mass meeting will be President Virgil M. Hancher, Mark Hyland, president of the "I" Men's club; Bill Barbour and Bob Liddy, co-captains of the Hawkeyes; and Coach Edward ("Slip") Madigan. Eric C. Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the "I" Men's club, will act as master of ceremonies.

The university cheer leaders will be on hand to lead the crowd of university students and townspeople in Homecoming yells.

Donald Mallett of the office of student affairs, a member of the general Homecoming committee, is in charge of plans for the mass meeting.

Next Year's Garden Needs Preparation

Victory gardeners should start this fall to prepare for next year's victory garden, according to Emmett C. Gardner, county extension director.

The gardens should be cleared of plant refuse and burned or plowed under this fall. However, before plowing or spading the garden, it should be covered with a four inch layer of fertilizer, the extension director advised. Fall plowing will distribute the labor needed and will permit planting earlier next spring.

Approximately 22,000,000 victory gardens were planted this year, approximately 2,000,000 more than was expected. The goal for 1944 is to be 24,000,000 gardens.

SORORITY WOMEN PLAN BADGE SALE STRATEGY

LOOKING OVER the wartime version of Homecoming badges are the captains of the four sororities which will compete in selling this year. Made strictly from non-priority materials, the tags will go on sale early tomorrow morning, with proceeds going to finance Homecoming activities. The captains of the teams and the sororities they represent are (left to right): Evelyn Mulinix, A2 of Clinton, Alpha Delta Pi; Martha Jane McCormick, A3 of Collinsville, Ill., Kappa Alpha Theta; Jerrine Russ, A4 of Rock Island, Ill., Alpha Xi Delta, and Gloria Huenger, A2 of Whiting, Ind., Chi Omega.

Story of Alfred Nobel To Be Read on WSUI

"Alfred Nobel, Dynamite King—Architect of Peace," a biography by Herta E. Pauli will be read on the WSUI Bookshelf program starting this morning at 10:30. It is the life story of the 19th century chemist who invented dynamite, and who established in his will the Nobel Prize for outstanding achievements in the arts and sciences and in the promotion of peace.

The book portrays the personality of Nobel, who, away from the explosives to which his life was dedicated, was a shy, neurotic, unhappy cynical intellectual. The dualism of his interests: invention of high explosives, and the establishment of world peace, amazed his contemporaries.

The author was born in Vienna, Austria, and was a student in the College and Dramatic Academy of Arts there. At one time she was an actress at the Reinhardt theater in Berlin, but upon returning last week after a month's stay on the west coast was Mrs. C. G. Mullinex, 22 N. Gilbert street. Mrs. Mullinex visited her son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. I. J. White of Paso Robles, Calif. Captain White is stationed at Camp Roberts. She also spent several days in Denver, Col., with Mae Hagenbuch, formerly of Iowa City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McClenahan of Belle Plaine visited last week in the homes of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McCarty, 1126 Pickard street, and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. E. F. McClenahan, 419 Magowan avenue.

Pic. Louis T. Marlas, a member of the language and area division of A. S. T. P., has returned to his station in Grinnell after spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Marlas, 752 Oakland, avenue. Private Marlas recently completed training at the University of Wisconsin in Madison in the meteorology division of the army air corps.

Girl Scouts Celebrate Birthday of Founder; Will Wear Uniforms

National Girl Scout week, commemorating the birthday of the founder of Girl Scouting, Juliette Lowe, is being celebrated this week. Local Girl Scouts will wear their uniforms each day and participate in the various activities which have been planned.

Members attended their particular churches Sunday in observance of Church day. Girls at St. Mary's and St. Patrick's churches attended mass at specified times and the Methodist scouts met in Fellowship hall at 10:15 a. m. before going to services in a body.

During Homemaking day yesterday girls worked on requirements for homemaking badges. Today is Handicraft day and tomorrow has been designated as Thrift day, on which scouts will be encouraged to buy war bonds and stamps.

Hostess day has been scheduled for Thursday and Citizenship day for Friday, when girls will study means of better acquainting them selves with their community. Health day on Saturday will climax the week's program.

Warner is now stationed with the Navy Pre-Flight school here. The couple will reside in Iowa City.

Iowa's Hawks Prepare for Illini Invaders

By Associated Press Staff Writer
Looking anxiously toward Saturday's homecoming game with Illinois, the Iowa Hawkeyes yesterday began priming their offense, which will be functioning for the first time without Paul Glasener and Dale Thompson.

Glaser and Thompson, who alternated at left half and were the team's leading ground gainers, left the squad last week to join the navy. In the vacated position yesterday was Howard (Shorty) Larson who appears definitely set for the job.

An hour-long passing scrimmage which produced some of the most accurate tossing the Hawkeyes have had this fall occupied most of the day's session. Larson, Roger Stephens and Bill Sangster, quarterbacks, did most of the throwing.

Barring practice injuries, the Iowans should be in the finest physical condition of the year Saturday. They have had two weeks to recover from the battering of the Purdue game.

Cornhuskers Drill To Meet Cyclones

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nebraska's football squad got some solace yesterday out of the drubbing by Missouri, 54 to 20, in the lack of injury casualties and the prospect of carrying a lineup through the week's drills that is not likely to need revision against Kansas State.

The backfield foursome that gave the Cornhuskers their best offensive afternoon of the season continued drills yesterday. The only likely change would be insertion of Ted Kenfield for Morris Gatter at quarterback.

Badger Cage Hops Looking Up; 3 Vets Report for Practice

MADISON, Wis.—Coach Harold Foster's University of Wisconsin basketball squad was strengthened recently when three veterans, one of them a reserve forward on last year's Badger squad, reported for practice. The reserve forward to report is Dick Falls, who saw considerable action late last season. The others to report are Don Wait of Scotts Bluff, Neb., who was a member of the University of Wyoming's NCAA championship squad last year, and Leland O'Brien, center on the Marietta college team of a year ago. Both Wait and O'Brien are now enrolled in the naval radio training school at Wisconsin.

Loss of Grid Movies Upsets Buck Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Misfortune upset normal practice routine for Ohio State's Buckeyes yesterday as they prepared for Saturday's clash with the Pitt Panthers at Pittsburgh. Movie of last Saturday's 20-14 defeat by Indiana were lost in transit to Detroit for processing, so the team began experimenting with defensive formations for use against the Panthers instead of making its customary Monday study of films.

Schweitzer Says...

Okay, okay—so we missed the Seahawk-Ft. Riley game. However, the week's totals showed 25 games right, 4 wrong, and 2 ties, for an .862 figure.

The local game, touted as the Army-Navy service team championship contest, turned out radically in favor of the Seahawks, but neither team can be said to have put on a very stellar performance. A couple of individual starring plays put the Seahawks way out in front, and the Ft. Riley points were really a gift, but on the whole, both teams presented an example of rather ragged football. The Pre-Flight officers added the needed measure of victory.

The Ft. Riley aggregation looked awfully good in some spots, and awfully poor in others. On the one play where Bus Mertes streaked down the sidelines for a Seahawk tally in the first quarter, there was no Centaur player anywhere near him, in fact, virtually the entire team had been blocked out of the play. Special mention is due Bob Allen, Centaur tackle, who refused to be taken out of most of the plays, and played particularly heads-up football all afternoon. Allen was a former tackle on the Iowa team a few years back.

No Decision Here
Two of the days big games ended in ties. Most notable of these was the Army-Pennsylvania game, where the personal duel between Glenn Davis and Bob Odell failed to produce any definite decision. Army took the honors on the statistics, but after all, it is the final score that counts.

Tulsa met the strong aggregation from Northwestern U. of Texas, and almost found itself dropped from the undefeated ranks. Northwestern, one of the schools hardest hit by the Naval graduation exercises, surprisingly showed up with its full team, and matched the Tulsa boys step for step in pounding out a 6 to 6 tie.

Murder, He Says
In other games of the day, Notre Dame continued its crushing way, bidding goodbye of Angelo Bertelli after he had engineered a 33-6 slaughter of Navy. Michigan had very little trouble with Illinois, and Northwestern jumped into the top ten teams by virtue of its 42-6 trouncing of Minnesota Truly, the era has ended at Minneapolis. Southern California had another tough time with California, in their second meeting of the season, but managed to pound out a 13 to 0 victory, thereby maintaining its position as the only team in the United States that is undefeated.

Sports smatterings from here and there.

Iowa's not the only Big Ten school that's celebrating its Homecoming day this next Saturday... Wisconsin, too, brings its home season to a close with its Homecoming game—against Northwestern—this weekend. Furthermore, like Iowa, the Badgers have only two more games left to play after Saturday, on Nov. 13 and Nov. 20.

And, at the University of Michigan they say that not since Tom Harmon's senior year in 1940 has a Wolverine football player scored more than 48 points in one season, but halfback Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch in six games has scored 60 points and has three games left in which to improve the record.

Mr. Hirsch, with 10 touchdowns to his credit, has scored against all opponents except Notre Dame. In spite of all this, Hirsch is still far from the record Harmon set up in his peak year, for Tom rolled up 117 points in his final season after counting 102 as a junior and 18 his first year for a three-season total of 237.

Just before the Indiana-Ohio State game, a gentle "forewarning" was distributed about among sports-writers planning to cover the game for said sports writers to be prepared for some two-bit names. In other words, it was said that scribes would do well to get "in training" before the day came to take down a play-by-play account of the game, which would include some 13-letter and 14-letter names—including Dean Sensenbaur of Ohio State and Bob Hoernschmeyer of Indiana. Needless to say, we had a tough enough tussle with Mr. H-from-Indiana's monicker when he was a guest in the Iowa stadium, so we can truly sympathize with the poor guys that had two such names to cope with... Wonder how they came out.

ATHLETES IN SERVICE

AP Features

You may not be able to call them "Dolly" or "Pudge" at this stage of the game but just after the turn of the century, Navy football players had those respective nicknames for Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the U. S. fleet, and Admiral William F. Halsey Jr., head of the south Pacific fleet. "Dolly" says the 1901 Annapolis class book, "was an end." It warned opponents "not to fool with glycerine." The Japs have found that out. "Pudge" was a fullback and played in 1902-03. Among other Navy football stars winning ribbons and medals are Buzz Borries, 1934, Navy's last All-America back, an air force ace credited with six Jap planes; Slade Cutler, whose 1934 field goal beat Army, 3-0, serving on a submarine in the Pacific; and W. G. Chapple, 1930, a sub commander who has just returned from the south Pacific.

Major Clubs Hold Draft Confab

Giants Pick First; Take Prize Weintraub, Three Others

Hausmann, 2nd Best, Goes to Red Sox; Phils Choose Chanz

CHICAGO (AP)—Major league baseball men sat in a quiet draft session at Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis' office yesterday, those from eight clubs intoning "pass" each time their teams' names were called, and the remaining eight dipping into the grab bag for 15 players, five less than were taken last year.

The New York Giants, who finished a dismal last in the National league last season, stayed at the selection business until they had four players in the fold—their own ex-firstbaseman Phil Weintraub, two second basemen and a pitcher. The Giants had first pick because the Philadelphia A's, entitled to that position, were not represented.

Weintraub, who hit .334 and 16 home runs for Toledo of the American association last season, was considered one of the choicest items on the block and was taken by the Giants on their first turn.

The No. 2 selection was Clem Hausmann, who won 14 games and lost 14 pitching for Kansas City which finished in a last place tie in the American association, and the Boston Red Sox called his name. Third choice was Charles Chanz, San Diego pitcher, taken by the Philadelphia Phils.

In order the St. Louis Browns claimed Henry Helf, Milwaukee catcher with a .261 batting average and nine home runs to his credit in 1942; the Boston Braves grabbed Chet Wiecezok, hard-hitting Columbus Red Bird outfielder who hit .328; Detroit took Eddie Mayo, Louisville third sacker who spent much of the 1943 season with the Philadelphia A's and hit only .219; the Chicago White Sox bid for Edwin Carnett, 321-hitting outfielder from Seattle, and the Brooklyn Dodgers drafted Gil English, Indianapolis third baseman who hit .322.

The eight other teams, including the world champion New York Yankees and their world series foes, the St. Louis Cardinals, did not participate. Subsequently the Giants took three more players—Hugh Luby, Oakland second baseman, George Hausman, New Orleans second sacker, and Ewall Pyle, Minneapolis pitcher who was with Washington part of the 1943 season.

The Phillies passed on the second round but the third time took Charles Letchas, Toronto second baseman. The Boston Braves called for pitcher Ira Hutchinson of Rochester, Detroit added Joe Oregno, St. Paul shortstop, and the White Sox claimed pitcher Al Epperly of San Francisco, who won 16 and lost five.

The emphasis was on infielders and pitchers. Five hurlers were chosen, one first baseman, three second basemen, two third basemen and one shortstop. Wiecezok and Carnett were the only outfielders drafted and Helf the lone catcher.

Seek Replacements
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Dr. George Hauser gave his Minnesota football aspirants a comparatively light workout yesterday as he sought replacements for Bill Gar-nass, quarterback who is being transferred by the navy, and Bob Graziere, injured in the game with Northwestern last Saturday. Hauser had Bill Peterson and Red Williams practicing their kicking.

SPORTS TRAIL...

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The old professor was bent by the passing of the years and broke by the passing of Penn. He had put his last bob on the army to lick the Quakers. He cackled self-consciously as he addressed his Monday morning class of football coaches.

Old professor—Just a slight error in judgment, gentlemen. I trust someone will stake me to a dime for a cuppa coffee after class. I'm not very happy this morning.

Lieut. Col. Earl Blak, Army—Neither an A professor. We played Penn's receivers on both their touchdown passes correctly, yet they scored. On the first, Carl Anderson, 5 foot 10, was trying to blanket Frank Quillen, 6 foot 4, and Quillen simply outreached him. It was the same on the last one with Odell out-grabbing four of our defenders.

George Munger, Penn—Right now I feel pretty lucky and very proud. I think Bob Odell proved himself one of the best backs in the country, and I would also like to go overboard on the play of Army's line.

Old professor—Speaking of overboard reminds me of navy. Is Capt. Welch here? He isn't? Well, maybe Mr. Leahy can fill in for him.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame—No sir, but for our part I can say the boys wanted to win that one as a going-away present for Bertelli. I'm very happy, but we're not over the hump yet. We're going to bump up against four of the country's toughest. Well, we can't lose more than four, anyway.

Old professor—Be careful, Mr. Leahy, you're optimism will run away with you. You must be looking for a turning point in your fortunes.

Babe Horrell, UCLA—We had our turning point Saturday, professor. It was that field goal we attempted from the 45-yard line with less than half a minute to play in the first half, and which was blocked and run back for the first Training Station touchdown. They had too much experience and too many reserves for us.

John Molenda, Naval Training Station—The Bruins proved to be much tougher than we expected. If they hadn't tried that field goal it might have been a different game.

Old professor—Why are you searching your pockets, Mr. Kerr? Something missing?

Andy Kerr, Colgate—Yes sir, we missed Mike Micka madly. Holy Cross was the better team, and the addition of Sullivan for the Crusaders made a big difference.

Ank Scanlan, Holy Cross—What a fourth period that was! There we were with four backs hurt, the last of our inexperienced subs carrying on, and only a five-point lead. Connor saved us when he tackled Mueleuser for that safety. Those Colgate guards were great.

Old professor—Quit rubbing your chin, Mr. Hauser.

Dr. George Hauser, Minnesota—That's where we took it, professor. I didn't think it would be quite so bad. I hope to thunder we're through looking at the super-collection of stars we've seen the last two weeks.

Lynn Waldorf, Northwestern—We played our best game of the year. Dud Kean scored once and Don Buffmire twice. Both are Grand Rapids, Minn., lads. Herb Hein scored and so did Herman Frickey. Both played for Minnesota last year. Minnesota didn't do so badly, at that.

Old professor—Very good, Mr. Waldorf. Minnesota certainly was in the ball game. James H. Stewart, SMU—That's more than we were against Texas.

Debate Loss Of Bertelli

Army, Irish Scouts Disagree on Lujack As His Replacement

NEW YORK (AP)—Advance forces of the Army and Notre Dame football teams, opponents Saturday in the Yankee stadium, met yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the New York grid writers—with the "game" ending in a tie.

Maj. Woodrow Wilson, chief of the Army scouts, declared the Irish line as it played against Navy in Cleveland Saturday was the peer of any college forward wall and the equal of many in the pro circuit.

He was of the opinion that the loss of Angelo Bertelli, 1-dotting forward passer for the South Bend eleven, was not great because of the ability shown by Johnny Lujack, his replacement. Lujack will take over the quarterback slot against the cadets, Bertelli moving to a marines' training camp following the conquest of navy.

Jack Lavelle, Notre Dame alumnus and scout for the Frank Leahy board of strategy at every Army contest this year, declared that the West Point tackles, Joseph Stanowicz and Frank Merritt, were the best in the land this year and that Casimir Myslinski carried on the tradition of great Cadet centers.

Walter Kennedy, head of the Notre Dame publicity staff, offered in rebuttal that Leahy, coach of the Irish, had said the loss of Bertelli was "comparable to cutting the heart out a man."

"Lujack isn't entirely inexperienced," Kennedy added. "But you will notice that he was a replacement for Creighton Miller at half-back more than he was for Bertelli at quarter." He described the 18-year-old youth as a "good passer, a good runner and a defensive standout."

He quoted Leahy in answer to the statement of Major Wilson that Notre Dame wasn't worried about Bertelli's leaving, "otherwise they would have taken Angelo out of the Navy game when Notre Dame got a two touchdown lead and discovered what the kid could do. Instead, Leahy kept Bertelli in there and let Lujack sit on the bench."

Quentin Reynolds, war correspondent and a star lineman at Brown university in the early 1920's brought an end to the controversy by asking "as a former tackle" if the T-formation, which both of Saturday's rivals use this season, could be run without holding by the offensive lineman.

Steve Owens, coach of the New York Giants of the National football league, agreed that it could especially if the referee countenanced the "cloth block."

Pre-Flight Gridders Have Light Workout

By Associated Press Staff Writer
Particularly well pleased with the Seahawks' pass defense last Saturday, Coach Don Faurot confined yesterday's drill to developing reserve strength for Iowa Pre-Flight's clash with Marquette Sunday.

The first and second teams were dismissed after hearing a scout's report, and Faurot sent the rest of the squad through a general review of fundamentals. The review was chiefly for the benefit of new men who joined the team last week.

ATTACK! ATTACK! ATTACK!
America's attacking on both the fighting front and the home front today!
We're giving the Axis a bitter taste of what's to come.
We're fighting the inflationary 6th column that blows prices sky high here at home, too.
And every one of us who saves at least 10% of his pay in War Bonds is an important soldier in the attack!
Join the attack yourself!

Sersland-Cutting
Elsie Sersland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Sersland of Decorah, became the bride of Lieut. John S. Cutting, also of Decorah, Oct. 12 in the Trinity Lutheran church at Macomb, Ill. The Rev. Merle William Boyer officiated.

Mrs. Cutting was graduated from the Pitzer School of Beauty Culture in Waterloo. She has been employed by the Van Pelt Beauty shop in Decorah.

Lieutenant Cutting also was graduated from the Decorah high school. He received his B.A. degree from the University of Iowa and was graduated from the college in Decorah prior to entering the service.

The couple will make their home in Macomb while Lieutenant Cutting is stationed at Camp Ellis.

Foster-Payton
Marcella Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred White of Adel, and E. Loren Payton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Payton of Minburn, were married Oct. 17 at the Grace Methodist church in Des Moines. The Reverend Briggs read the single ring ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of the Panora high school. The bridegroom, a graduate of Minburn high school, attended the University of Iowa.

The couple will make their home in Des Moines, where the bridegroom is employed.

Chapman-Drayer
Janet Marie Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Chapman of Silvis, Ill., and Lieut. Donald H. Drayer of Paton, were married at Silvis, Oct. 10. The Rev. C. E. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Drayer is a graduate of East Moline, Ill., high school and attended the University of Illinois at Champaign where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority. She is employed at the International Harvester company in East Moline.

Lieutenant Drayer was graduated from the Gowrie high school and the University of Iowa. He received his commission in September at Ft. Benning, Ga., and has been stationed at Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

Rites for J. A. Boarts Will Be Held Today

The funeral service for J. A. Boarts, 73, former Iowa City contractor and builder, who died at his home in Big Bear Lake, Calif., Oct. 25, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 in the Hohenschuh mortuary.

A resident of Big Bear Lake for the last eight years, Mr. Boarts was born in Iowa City, Nov. 27, 1870, and lived here until the death of his wife, Maude Alice Boarts, in 1935.

Surviving Mr. Boarts are three sons, Roy, Los Angeles; Ralph, Big Bear Lake, and Paul, Sierra Madra, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. J. C. Cernak, Pasadena; Mrs. Lon Cooper and Nina Boarts, Big Bear Lake; Mrs. Clifford Bright, Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. Merion Schleppey, Los Angeles; nine grandchildren, and two sisters, Minnie and Edith Boarts, 116 Ferson avenue, Iowa City.

The Rev. L. L. Dunnington will conduct the service, and burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Esther Dahleiden Granted Divorce

Mrs. Esther E. Dahleiden of Iowa City was granted a divorce in district court yesterday from her husband, Frederick J. Dahleiden, also of Iowa City. Judge James P. Gaffney granted the divorce decree which was asked on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Jack C. White was attorney for Mrs. Dahleiden.

Health Conditions Good Here, But Venereal Cases Increase

Health conditions and sanitation are good in Iowa City, according to official health reports made to the city council, which acted in the capacity of health board last night.

Dr. Paul A. Reed, city health officer, stated in his report that "as a whole, the health of the community has been good in the past six months." The contagious diseases were of minor types but syphilis and gonorrhea are present more obviously than before this six months period. Seven or eight cases of these diseases were discovered and disease contacts were traced by the state health officer stationed in Ottumwa. Treatment is administered by University hospital. Of these cases, all but two were referred to the state department for tracing the source of infection.

School Sanitation

After the report of Dr. Reed, it was suggested by Alderman Hiram Ivie that the health officers report school sanitation once a year by means of contact with schools and the city nurse.

William Ruppert, milk inspector, reported that all the milk in Iowa City is pasteurized. There have been a few complaints, however, concerning the fact that there is no wholesale delivery on Sunday. Several milk dealers find it impossible to store enough milk Saturday to satisfy their Sunday needs.

In his report on restaurants, Inspector Charles J. Schindler said he received several complaints from city residents regarding offensive odors from domestic animals kept within the city limits. An ordinance was read to the effect that all persons keeping domestic animals within the city must have a permit, which is effective for one year and may be obtained by the city health officer. It is a violation of the law to keep chickens, cows and pigs within the city limits without a written permit. The council moved that the problems of permits to persons raising domestic animals be submitted to the ordinance committee for study.

Obvious Menaces

Schindler reported that laxity in washing glasses in restaurants, and keeping pastries covered are the two most obvious restaurant menaces. He has asked that all pastries be covered, and all dishes be washed with warm water, soap compounds and chlorine.

The meeting last night was the second held this year; the other was held in April.

A chapter from the local board statutes was read, admonishing that health ordinances be enforced and giving the duties of the board. The duties in part were:

1. To obey the laws of the state department.
2. To furnish reports concerning health, public facilities, public

Robert Saas Rites To Be Held Sunday

The funeral service for Robert Saas, 71, 416 E. Fairchild street, who died in his home Sunday morning, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Zion Lutheran church.

He was born in Germany, Sept. 20, 1872, and came to America with his parents when he was two years old.

Married to Bertha Nita of Sharon in 1900, they made their home near Sharon until they moved to Iowa City in December of 1942.

A member of the Zion Lutheran church, he is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. William Zeitamel, Iowa City, and Mrs. Ed Parsons, Tipton; one son, Lorenz, Tipton; two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Jones, Paulina, and Reka Saas, Norfolk, Va.; one brother, William, Iowa City, and eight grandchildren.

The remains will be taken to the Saas home this afternoon, and the Rev. A. C. Proehl will conduct the service tomorrow. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Housewives Now Use Green Ration Stamps From New Book

Yesterday the housewife began using green stamps from the new war ration book four to buy rationed canned fruits and vegetables.

The final series of blue stamps in book two will be used, as well, through November 20. The "A", "B" and "C" series or green stamps, in book four will be valid to buy rationed processed foods from November 1 through November 20. These green stamps will be used in exactly the same manner as the familiar blue stamps in book two, which have been used to buy processed foods since the inception of rationing last March 1, said R. J. Phelps of the local ration board.

Stamp number 29 in war ration book four is now good for five pounds of sugar. This new stamp is found on the last page of book four and is marked "sugar." It is good through January 14, 1944.

Glamor Takes Time

"The Present Status of the General Practitioner in the Diagnosis of Tuberculosis" will be discussed by Dr. C. I. Giese, medical director of the Woodmen sanatorium, Colorado Springs, Col., tomorrow night in Jefferson hotel.

The dinner meeting, which starts at 6 o'clock, will also feature a discussion period conducted by Dr. D. R. Webb of Coralville, Dr. A. L. Sals, secretary, announced yesterday.

"Church Challenges Youth" Sermon Of the Week

—Rev. F. W. Putnam

With the story of David and Goliath the Rev. Frederick W. Putnam introduced his sermon subject, "The Church's Challenge to Its Youth," Sunday at the Trinity Episcopal church. This story, like so many that are repeated frequently is taken for granted, when in reality it has a number of significances, the Rev. Mr. Putnam pointed out.

In the Bible story, David came to King Saul to ask to fight the giant, Goliath. The people first laughed and scoffed. Then Saul expressed confidence in this young man and finally the giant was killed.

All Laughed At

"We've all had the experience of being laughed at. Every man or woman who has something of promise to do is frequently a victim of sneers. New Yorkers were amused when Fulton had visions of a steamboat; slaves and freedmen laughed when Lincoln suggested emancipation; Christ on the cross was considered a radical and people jeered him and told him to save himself and come down. Even the scribes commented, 'He saved others, himself he cannot save.' However Christ was victorious in astounding the scribes on resurrection day, Lincoln did free the slaves, Fulton's 'folly' became a great step in transportation progress and David killed Goliath."

"Today there are many Davids." They may be considered happy, normal American youths but they are in reality giant killers. They can conquer in spite of difficulties because they have learned the technique of living. Youth today is full of determination and courage and the world is turning toward them and their delight in seeing beauty in each new day. It has been said that the young people of today are the church of tomorrow. The church recognizes them as citizens not as potentialities," the rector said.

Faith in David

Saul had faith in David and said, "Go and the Lord be with you." Saul did David the honor of believing in him.

The Rev. Mr. Putnam believes that the trust Saul had was there because David was a youth faced with terrifying odds, just as the youth of today.

Stuffed Pets Shown Today at Junior High

Bright red elephants, giraffes with necks long enough for nursery peeking, gingham dogs and calico cats are only a few of the stuffed animal species that will be featured today in the junior high school gift and garment exhibit, to be presented by the pupils of Mrs. Anna F. Gilchrist's 8B sewing classes in their unit on "Child Care."

Each home economist chose a neighborhood child and made either a garment or a stuffed animal for that youngster. The gifts will be given to the children when the exhibit is completed.

The articles will be displayed in the junior high school showcase. An exhibit of all the work will be held today and tomorrow at 4 p. m., to which all parents and interested persons are invited.

More than 50 articles will be in the display including bibs, baby dresses, oil cloth animals and block puzzles.

Mrs. Mildred Hotopp Petitions for Divorce

Mrs. Mildred Hotopp petitioned district court yesterday for a divorce from her husband, Stanley Hotopp, on the basis of desertion. They were married in Marshalltown Aug. 1, 1937.

The petition states that Hotopp has been absent from their home since about Sept. 1, 1940. Mrs. Hotopp asks that she be granted a divorce, the costs of the action and further relief as may be equitable. Counsel for the plaintiff is the Swisher and Swisher law firm.

problems of such magnitude. They face it unafraid, unworried and full of courage to wrestle the difficulties," the congregation was told.

"Is the church going to let them down? Don't muffle words of encouragement. Our future lies in them, why not our faith? Christianity is an easy religion, but it is hard to believe and hard to practice because so few remember to climb the ladder to God rather than trying to bring God down to their level. The church challenges youth to be different, to behold and set apart. It doesn't guarantee comfort, or happiness, but it does guarantee eternity and the joy of seeing God. Youth will meet the challenge!"

Halloween Quiet This Year Reports Police

Outside of a few traces of soap, the removal of a few gates and stop signs and the ringing of doorbells for "tricks or treats", Halloween was rather quiet this year, according to Police Chief Ollie White, who said the police department had only 19 Halloween calls last weekend.

Red Cross to Open New Room This Week

A room to be used as a teaching center for home nursing will be opened this week in the county court house by the Johnson county Red Cross home nursing committee. The room will be set up to resemble a bedroom in a home as closely as possible.

The committee needs contributions such as bedspreads, sheets, screens and other furnishings for the room.

Ten places are still open in the afternoon class in home nursing held every Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the courthouse. Any women in Johnson county may enroll in the course by calling Mrs. E. D. Plass.

Prof. Robert Sears To Speak to Scouts, Leaders Tomorrow

The first of a series of training meetings for cub and scout leaders will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in Henry Sabin school, according to Owen B. Thiel, Boy Scout executive.

The program, which will feature Prof. Robert Sears as speaker, will be under the direction of Prof. Kurt Lewin, chairman of the leadership committee.

A sound movie outlining the organization and program of scouting will be shown, and leaders will be given the opportunity to suggest subjects for future meetings.

Assisting Professor Lewin with the instruction will be Edward Downey, Gordon Kent, Dr. Charles A. Winter, Clarence A. Conklin, Frank Fryauf and Howard Benders.

Slot Machines Contain $150

A total of $150 in nickels and dimes was found in six slot machines confiscated in the police raid on the Paul-Helen building Sept. 27, when the devices were opened by officials Saturday morning.

A seventh machine, valued at $1,750, obtained in the raid was left unopened after a writ of certiorari was served on the district court by the state supreme court. The writ, forbidding the opening of the machine by district court officials, came as the result of an action begun in the supreme court by Lewis Olson of Minneapolis challenging the validity of Judge James P. Gaffney's order to open and destroy this particular machine.

Olson, who claims to be the owner of the machine, asserts that the device is under contract and is not completely paid for. The authority of the lower court's order to open the machine will be tested in the supreme court.

The $150 from the six machines opened was turned over to the county treasurer and will become a part of the public school fund as the law provides. The iron from the machines was given to the scrap drive.

Methodist Church Members to Burn Mortgage At Victory Dinner Tonight in Parlors

Dr. L. L. Dunnington Officiates at Ceremony At 6:15 Tonight

The members of the Methodist church will celebrate a real victory tonight when they burn the church mortgage and clear the $35,000 debt incurred in remodeling their church building. Repairs were completed June 7, 1942.

A victory dinner in honor of the occasion will be served in the church for all members at 6:15 tonight. Dr. Edwin E. Voigt, pastor of the church in 1941 when the financial drive began, will address his former congregation tonight. Dr. L. L. Dunnington, present minister of the church, will officiate at the ceremony of burning the mortgage. Community singing will be led by Donald R. Mallett.

At the centennial celebration of the founding of the Iowa City Methodist church in 1941 it was decided to make remodeling the major project.

Individual Gifts

The sum, raised in two years came first from specific individual gifts. The two largest contributions were from Merritt C. Speidel and the late Lee Nagle. The remaining debt was $6,000 when Dr. Dunnington took over the pulpit the week after the remodeled building was dedicated in 1941. Various offerings throughout the year have resulted in cancelling this remaining deficit.

A special Easter offering netted $2,300 and penny meal banks brought in $1,250. The remainder of the debt was paid by taking portions of each Sunday offering. Students of the University of Iowa packed the church each Sunday and are partially responsible for raising the funds.

Of the money used for remodeling, $6,000 was spent for the organ. This work was superintended by Dr. Earl E. Harper, chairman of the music committee. The organ was new except for 12 ranks of pipes utilized from the former organ. The wooden pipes, sound and seasoned, were returned and revoiced with metal pipes fitted with modern tuning slides.

Center Aisle

The major improvement was the cutting of a center aisle for the convenience of the congregation and for the emphasis of the chancel. The new chancel, gothic in style, divides the organ, placing it in chambers on either side. The console of the organ was placed in the southeast corner of the chancel, slightly recessed. The pulpit was placed to the left of the congregation as it faces the chancel, the lecturn to the right. The choir loft accommodates 40 singers, 20 on either side. The communion table and cross were placed at the center of the chancel.

In the rear of the chancel the wall behind the altar rises to the great circular window. From this wall oak paneling extends along the side and rear walls.

Committees

Committees in charge were as follows: building, Alva B. Oathout, chairman, T. G. Caywood, Roy Ewers, Verne R. Miller, A. M. McLeod, Lee Nagle; finance, A. B. Sidwell, chairman, W. H. Cobb, H. J. Dane, Dan C. Dutcher, Roy Ewers, George Nagle, H. L. Rietz, H. J. Rummels, M. C. Speidel, J. E. Stronks, W. J. Teeters, Irving Weber; music, H. R. Jenkinson, Mrs. L. G. Lawyer, Mrs. Earle Smith, Mrs. Grace B. Weber; program, J. A. Swisher, chairman, Mrs. Homer V. Cherrington, Earl E. Harper, Mrs. Frank Kinney, Alva Oathout and Mrs. Grace Weber.
