Seahawks Conquer Camp Grant Eleven, 28-13; Iowa Hawkeyes Dropped by Minnesota, 33-14

Local Pre-Flighters Win Eighth Straight; Soldier Rally Futile

Warriors Put Up Stiff Battle Against Favored Navy Team

By DOLORES RIELLY

Sports Editor, The Daily Iowan
The Navy Pre-Flight Seahawks took a stiff workout here yesterday afternoon as they collected their eighth straight win in defeating an air-minded club of powerful Warriors from Camp Grant, 28 to 13.

The pre-flighters were off to a flying start in the first quarter as they claimed one touchdown in the beginning minutes and another just before the period ended. The navy men made it 21 to 0 in the second quarter, but the Grant outfit came to life right after halftime and Bill Burghardt's dautless passing efforts took his teammates deep into enemy territory and, with another pass, enabled Jim Devar to take the ball over for a score in the first minutes of the fourth quarter. The Warriors lost no time in regaining the ball after the kickoff and it was Burghardt and Wewar who advanced it into scoring position again so that Bill Huber went over the goal line for the army's second touchdown within the first six and a half minutes of the last quarter.

With five minutes left in the game, the Seahawks came to the aid of their narrowing margin with another touchdown as Art Gupe went 28 yards on a quarterback sneak.

It was a battle all the way between the Seahawks' ground tactics and the Warriors' aerial offense. The final statistics showed the pre-flighters with 277 net yards by rushing against their opponents' 25 yards and Camp Grant with a total net yardage gain of 196 via forwards over the Seahawks' 86 yards by passing.

The Camp Granters might have claimed their points sooner and in a larger quantity in the second half if it hadn't been for the rugged and persistent efforts of Nick Kerasiotis, right guard, who succeeded in stopping at least five of Burghardt's carrying attempts and aided in smothering some of his passing threats.

In spite of an opposing line that was greatly inferior to them as far as weight and age were concerned, the soldiers found the Seahawks too much for them in that department and before the game was over the navy men had held them for a total loss of 57 yards by rushing.

It was on a lateral from Frank Maznicki that Jimmy Smith, formerly of Illinois, went 22 yards for the Seahawks' initial touchdown in the opening minutes of the game. Maznicki made the conversion with a placekick.

The Camp Grant men got possession only twice after that, both for short periods, and just before the quarter ended the Seahawks started a swift, steady advance from an army kickoff. Duke Curran, former Hawkeye, received the ball on the 35-yard line, and on the next play fleet-footed Dick Todd carried it 20 yards. Curran took the ball for a small gain, to be followed by one of the effective Todd-to-Timmons passes which proved good for a touchdown in the final second of the period. Bernard McGarry kicked the conversion.

In the second quarter, Vince Bonaris started his mates on the scoring trail once more as he intercepted an army pass from Bill Reed and went to the six-yard line. (See SEAHAWKS, page 6)

THANKSGIVING VACATION
No classes will be held Thanksgiving day, Nov. 25, the first holiday of the 1943-44 academic year, officials have announced.
Christmas and New Year's vacations begin Dec. 22 and continue until Jan. 3, 1944, the briefest such recess in many years.

Halsey the Calm

WASHINGTON (CP)—When navy men get together, here is one of the many stories they tell—and they swear it is true—to illustrate the calm courage of Admiral William S. Halsey, commander of American forces in the Pacific.

The incident reportedly happened while Halsey was in command of a task force at sea. During a fierce battle with the Japanese, Halsey was seen by one of his officers reading a book on the bridge of his aircraft carrier, apparently unconcerned about shells and bombs.

After the engagement, the curious officer asked Halsey in the wardroom if he really was reading a book and Halsey is said to have replied:

"Don't we have capable officers?"
"Yes, sir."
"Didn't we plan the battle to the last detail?"
"Yes, sir."
"Everything was going according to plan, wasn't it?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well, if anything had gone wrong I would have put the book down."

Warns Labor

WILLIAM H. DAVIS, chairman of the war labor board and also chairman of the five-man WLB committee investigating the cost of living structure, has bluntly warned organized labor that it would be chasing "a will of the wisp" in pressing for general wage raises over and above the "Little Steel" formula. Davis said he was "widely misunderstood" in an earlier statement to Vice-President Henry A. Wallace that one segment of society—labor—was bearing the load in the fight against inflation. ## Yanks Extend Solomons Grip

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Sunday (AP)—The American beachheads at Empress Augusta bay on the west-central coast of Bougainville in the northern Solomons has been extended in all directions. General MacArthur's headquarters reported today that the Japanese have left 300 dead in fighting there.

The beachhead, where the marines landed on Nov. 1, is on the last big Solomons island barring the eastern approaches to Rabaul. The Americans previously had held a rectangular position with the bay on the south, mountains on the north, the Piva river on the east and the Laruma river on the west. Prior to the village's occupation it had been 50 percent wiped out by divebombing tactics.

Headquarters reported today the second roundtrip flight of more than 2,000 miles within less than a week by Liberators for a night attack on Soerabaja, former Dutch naval base now held by the Japanese of Java. Twenty-two tons were dropped, duplicating the earlier raid.

Red Williams Scores Four Times to Pace Gopher Juggernaut

Old Gold Fails in Bid To Salvage Victory In Final Big 10 Tilt

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Wayne (Red) Williams put on a one-man football show here yesterday, scoring four touchdowns and passing for a fifth in 34 minutes as Minnesota trounced Iowa, 33 to 14, for its first Big Ten win of the season.

The redhead scored twice in the first period, in the second he shot an 18-yard pass to Charles Avery for a six pointer; and a few minutes later broke through tackle for a 60-yard touchdown sprint.

After the intermission, Williams took a lateral to circle right end for nine yards and his fourth touchdown.

Meantime, the Hawkeyes were impotent on the ground, but connected often enough through the air to set up two touchdowns. The first touchdown came in the first period shortly after Roger Stephens shot a 54-yard pass to sub end Dan Sheehan, putting the ball on the Minnesota 7. Four plays later Stephens sneaked over center for the counter.

In the third period, Stephens got on the receiving end of a forward from Howard Larson, and ran 14 yards to score.

The Gophers had a wide edge, chalking up 16 first downs to only nine for Iowa.

Iowan's Bravery— Saves Fortress

A UNITED STATES BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND (AP)—A 23-year-old pilot who was flying on his second combat mission brought back his stricken Fortress, the "Lucille Ball," on one engine after the Gelsenkirchen raid Nov. 5 and risked his life to keep the plane from crashing on the city of Ipswich after other members of the crew had bailed out.

The pilot is Lieut. Donald Gaylord of Waterloo, Iowa, a graduate of Iowa State university.

Limping home from the big raid, the Fortress had its horizontal stabilizer shot off and its nose smashed by a propeller that flew off a shattered engine. Finally it was down to one working engine when it reached the British coast. Gaylord ordered the crew to bail out, pointed the ship toward the sea, set the automatic pilot and was just preparing to jump out himself when the damaged controls put the plane in a steep dive.

Makes Crash Landing
Gaylord scrambled back to the pilot's cabin, pulled the plane level 200 feet above the buildings of Ipswich, and succeeded in making a crash landing in a field outside the city.

Other members of the crew included Sergt. Clarence A. Rowlinson, Le Grand, Iowa. Gaylord's wife, Verona, lives in Waterloo, and his parents in Richmond, Calif. All members of the crew returned to their base safely.

THIS MAP graphically illustrates how allied long range bombers have destroyed the myth of the impregnability of Hitler's "Festung Europa" (Fortress Europe). Berlin, heart of "Festung Europa," is a vulnerable target for the winged destroyers which can attack it from three directions.

FOR ALLIED FORCES fighting a ruthless enemy through mud, mountains and rivers in northern Italy there's more truth than poetry in the familiar quotation, "all roads lead to Rome." Above is a map of the Eternal City which hopes for an early deliverance from Nazi tyranny when the allies enter her gates. Utmost precautions have been taken to spare the historic and sacred sites of Rome during the bombing raids on the city's military objectives. Set apart in its own area, the Vatican city lies across the River Tiber. Ancient Rome, with its crumbling ruins, lies to the south.

Lie Detector Test Shows DeMarigny Told Truth

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—A private criminologist said yesterday a lie detector test showed Alfred de Marigny was telling the truth when he denied that he killed Sir Harry Oakes.

Leonarde Keeler, former head of Northwestern university's crime laboratory, disclosed that the device, not recognized in British courts and therefore unavailable for use in de Marigny's defense, was tried on de Marigny Friday night in a private demonstration. De Marigny, acquitted by a Bahamas supreme court jury Thursday night of a charge that he murdered his wealthy father-in-law, was led gradually up to the climax question.

Finally Keeler asked, "Did you order Westbourne (the oceanfront Oakes estate where Sir Harry was slain) the night of July 7?"

"No," de Marigny replied firmly.
"Did you kill Sir Harry Oakes?"
"No."
"Were you in the room when someone else killed Sir Harry Oakes?"
"No."

U.S. Bombers Batter Bremen, Destroy Port, Communications

LONDON (AP)—American Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers, protected by Thunderbolt and Lightning fighters, fought through swarms of German fighters, thick clouds and 50-below-zero temperature yesterday to batter the vital port and communications center of Bremen.

Railway yards, canals, highways, bridges and the Germans' best port since the destruction of Hamburg were blasted by the American heavy bombers which also took a toll of 33 Nazi interceptors. The accompanying Thunderbolts and Lightnings accounted for 10 more enemy aircraft for a total of 43.

In swamping the heavily-defended port—using a new technique of bombing through the clouds, Berlin said—15 of the big bombers and nine American fighters were reported missing. In addition to the American heavy bomber attack, RAF fighters were also out yesterday, continuing their usual daily blasting of enemy communications along the invasion coastline.

Soviets Engulf Rail Junction Of Zhitomir, Speed Toward Polish Line 60 Miles Away

LONDON, Sunday (AP)—The Red army virtually split the Germans' Ukraine forces yesterday by capturing the rail junction of Zhitomir and sped on today toward the old Polish border 60 miles beyond.

Soviet forces smashed into the city on the Leningrad-Odessa line from the east, west and south and it was conquered after a violent night struggle.

Other units, Moscow said, were converging on Korosten, a second vital junction on the same line to the north. One group took Chernyakhov, on the railway 13 miles above Zhitomir and 33 miles south of Korosten.

A third force that drove into Malin was 27 miles east of Korosten. Occupation of this town would force the Germans to re-route all their north-south traffic through the Pripet marshes of pre-war Poland.

More than 100 towns fell in yesterday's drive that bled the Germans with "enormous losses in manpower and equipment," said the Moscow midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Another important Russian attack northeast of the Zhitomir-Korosten area was plunging ahead through the marshes toward Rechitsa, now but 15 miles away, to outflank Gomel in White Russia.

12 Strongpoints Taken

Twelve heavily fortified German strongpoints were taken and about 2,000 Germans were declared wiped out in the bloody fighting. Large numbers of prisoners were taken and tanks, guns and stores destroyed or captured by the Russians.

The fall of Zhitomir also gained another important milestone on one of the few east-west automobile roads in Russia from Kiev to southern Poland. Its capture was announced by Marshal Joseph Stalin exactly a week after he had triumphantly hailed the fall of Berlin, 85 miles eastward.

Stalin's special order of the day described Zhitomir, a town of 95,000 persons, as "a most important junction of communications and a powerful stronghold of German defenses."

Have Gained 7,000 Miles
Just a year ago the Germans were smashing triumphantly on Stalingrad and threatening the Volga. Since then the Russians have driven approximately 7,000 air-line miles to Zhitomir and stand about the same distance short of Berlin.

The Odessa-Leningrad railroad actually was out Oct. 2 with the Russian capture of Nevel far to the north, but the capitulation of Zhitomir today is of far more importance to the Germans as it means they will be forced to use a round-about system of single gauged trucks almost 100 miles west. The fall of Nevel had meant only minor rerouting for the Germans through Polotsk a few miles to the southwest.

The Red army systematically was widening its bridgehead on the Kerch peninsula, reports said, and, aided by strengthened forces which the Red navy was moving across the strait by night and under the cover of fog, was closing in on the city of Kerch.

The newspaper Izvestia said that around a settlement near a Kerch the Red army had slaughtered 1,500 Nazis and that Soviet war planes in increasing numbers were attacking the Germans in the Kerch hills, hunting out batteries and silencing them.

The struggle during the past week has demonstrated conclusively that the Germans still cherish the hope of staving off a real attack on Rome for months, thereby nullifying any prospects the allies have of using Italy as a jumping off point for further assaults against Axis-held Europe in the spring.

The Germans have 11 divisions (perhaps 165,000 men) on the line now.

British Serve Notice of Readiness to Seize Control in Lebanon to Protect Middle East

LONDON (AP)—The British government made it clear yesterday that it was ready to seize control quickly in Lebanon if necessary to protect the strategic middle East following reports of clashes between the French and Lebanese nationalists. British troops already are on the spot if needed.

While the French-controlled Beirut radio announced the situation in Syria and Lebanon was quiet and charged that reports of disturbances were "enemy propaganda," the British showed they definitely did not share this view. Although British officials declined to say whether Britain might employ armed forces in the crisis, news correspondents were told they could not exaggerate the importance the government attaches to maintaining order in the near East. Particularly, it was emphasized, disorders cannot be permitted in this vital area, for which British troops are responsible. The British are understood to have made this plain to Gen. Charles De Gaulle's French committee of national liberation in their protest over the arrest of Lebanese leaders this week by the French.

An Associated Press dispatch from Algiers said Gen. Georges Catroux, commissioner of state of the French committee, would leave by plane today for Beirut.

Editorially Speaking...

By Jim Zabel

A Few Comments—

A few verbal and written comments from Iowa readers.

"You say in your column on 'The Indian Question' that India is justified in demanding independence and that 'some suitable plan can be worked out if the British are willing.'"

"I agree wholeheartedly that India should be freed from British domination, and I think nearly every other American believes the same... but how do we know that the Indians are even capable of self-government?"

"I think that country might very well find itself in a chaotic mess, or under a dictatorship if independence were granted her... both of which would be far worse than the unified governmental control India has gotten under British rule."

The simplest answer I can give to your query is that India could not possibly be any worse off than she is today... the people are starving, dying by the thousands... they have come to hate their British masters with a bitterness that could scarcely be equalled even in the nations under Hitler's heel.

The whole country is in a state of frustration and unrest... and as for your worry over a dictatorship springing up there, what is British rule in India today but the most extreme form of dictatorship? Hitler could well have followed the British system for setting up his own system of domination, for about the only difference between the two that I can see is a pigmentary one... Hitler is dominating whites and the British are dominating colored people.

The main doubt in your mind, that of whether India is capable of self-government, seems to be an almost universal one... most Americans look at India as a land of political chaos, too immature in her thinking to govern herself.

And that is just exactly what the British want us to believe... their propaganda about the Indian situation is (and always has been) directed toward furthering this belief.

But the actual facts of the situation throw a much different light on the matter... The British have deliberately broken India into as many minor political segments as possible, and have favored these minority groups (thus causing conflict and endless squabbling among them) so as to give support to their own contention that India is not yet prepared for self-rule.

Henry Brailsford, in his recent book 'Subject India', points out the 'scrupulous concern for minorities which has been a constant feature of British policy and which has been used to justify every delay in granting India self-government.'

The Cripps mission failed because the British were unwilling to give the Indian leaders complete political power to mobilize their country for war... History has shown that self-government can be workable and acceptable only when all outside pressure is removed.

I feel certain that, under a policy of self-determination, the Indian people would select a capable leader... minority groups, which the British have propagandized into tremendous obstacles, would diminish to the proper size they should be in any democratic nation.

"You also say you don't think the British will give India her independence unless we intervene... but that Americans are not interested in what happens to India's starving millions."

"I can't see how you can make a statement like that when everyone knows that this war has made us more internationally minded than ever before... I think most Americans would like to see the principles of the Atlantic charter applied 'round the world."

"We certainly would like to give India more than empty 'sympathy'; as you pointed out that is about all we will be able to give... but it is up to our leaders to do something concrete about it."

You are correct when you say this war has made us more internationally minded

News Behind the News

The Negro Majorities Are Changing Over
By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—Most interesting and perhaps most significant change in the last election did not show itself until the detailed final returns came in.

The Democrats not only failed to get their usual strong labor majorities, but their cities Negro majorities as well.

Symptoms of a change-over in the country at large were clearly suggested in the scattered sample voting of these two class groups to which the national administration has appealed so conspicuously with special leadership.

In Harlem, the Republicans actually won a plurality in the twenty first assembly district (all Negro) where the count showed Hanley, Republican, 5,942, Haskell, Democrat, 5,752, Haskell, American Labor party, 1,760. In lower west Harlem (nineteenth district), which is also Negro, the Democratic poll was only 700 votes more than the Republicans, out of 8,500 cast.

Some attribute this almost even split in Harlem to the fact that a Negro Republican candidate was running to be a city court justice (he won).

But the same symptoms were evident also in Philadelphia where there is no counterpart of the Tammany Democratic machine which has run Harlem. There, the Republicans won the Negro thirtieth ward by 1,500 (during the New Deal, it had been Democratic by 1,500), the seventh ward by 2,500 (usually Democratic by 3,000), also the forty fourth, twentieth, twenty second, and forty seventh wards—and this was against Bill Bullitt, the President's friend, for whom Mrs. Roosevelt appeared on the platform.

In the Brooklyn twentieth and twenty first and Queens' second, the same thing happened.

In Kentucky, the Republican leaders claim, without being able to substantiate it by figures, that 90 percent of the Negro vote went Republican.

In Detroit's supposedly non-partisan election, the official United Automobile workers-Negro groups' candidate was defeated by a candidate who had the backing of Republicans.

This change-over in the Negro vote was suggested in advance by some Negro educators and leaders and some Negro newspapers taking the position, at a religious convention and otherwise, that further support of the administration was not warranted.

Labor leaders, on the other hand, just could not hold their people Democratic. With CIO support, the AFL official, who ran for governor unsuccessfully in New Jersey, was able to pull the full labor vote only in Camden county (shipyards, CIO).

Elsewhere in union strongholds through the thickly industrialized sections of the state, Republican Walter Edge got the majorities (excepting only Boss Hague's district). Thus the change-over showed even in the case of a candidate who had CIO, AFL, the national administration and the Jersey City machine.

Such detailed evidence, on top of the already noticed decline in power of the American Labor party in New York, the San Francisco mayoralty result, Detroit and Kentucky, obviously confirm a national labor split-vote.

In Kentucky, of course, John Lewis' mine workers voted Republican, although Mr. Roosevelt handed the mines back to Mr. Leakes the day before election, as Lewis wanted.

If the administration cannot hold labor and Negro group votes, there is no other large class group vote in the country which it can be said to control.

Sen. Johnson—Anti-New Dealer—

Colorado's Senator Johnson, who suggested Chief of Staff General Marshall for the nomination, is an anti-New Dealer. He pulled through for re-election last fall unopposed, after fighting bureaucracy, calling for economy and questioning the foreign policy.

He has many administration friends (Bernard Baruch is one), but his suggestion seems more of an effort to emphasize his position publicly than to start a campaign for Marshall who has given no signs of candidacy, and is not likely to be one.

than ever before... but in a very superficial way, I think.

The average American, basically, is not really interested enough to do something about any national or international problem unless it happens to interfere with his own personal life.

The low amount of voting in primaries and regular elections (both local and state elections) proves just how concerned most of the people of this country (exclusive of politicians and minority group leaders) are with problems other than their own.

You are also correct when you say it is up to our leaders to do something about it... but even our leaders can't do anything about the Indian problem unless the people are really concerned with what happens to that country.

And sympathy is not enough.

From The Iowan Files

Nov. 14, 1941...

Forty to 43,000 fans were expected to turn out for Dad's Day and the game between Iowa and Minnesota on Hawkeye turf that afternoon.

Dads and students alike were thinking back to that tremendous 1939 season when the Hawks had trampled Minnesota in their home camp. Iowa was definitely on the upswing and it was Minnesota's fate to stem the Iowa tide. Somehow Iowa fans didn't think that could be done.

10,000 rabid Hawkeye supporters took over the town following the mass meeting at 7:30 on Old Capitol steps the night before, tying up traffic, invading Currier Hall and crashed the theater houses as spirit welled over.

The "Old Timers" band was a feature of the pep rally. Former members of the University band took up instruments and helped drum up spirit for the hoped up day of Minnesota the following day.

The University of Minnesota's 90 piece band was to be brought to Iowa City along with the Gopher team and were to put on part of the half-time entertainment that afternoon.

Nov. 14, 1938...

Iowa's football jury, 12 good men and true, met in the Senate chamber of Old Capitol to weigh the evidence for and against the coaching regime of Ira Irl Tubbs. After five hours of deliberation the committee came out with this decision—"We have investigated thoroughly the athletic situation. We are not prepared to make any announcement now but we shall do so within 10 days."

Conjecture at a late hour that evening had it that Coach Tubbs was out and that a "big name" coach had been discussed. Names most prominently mentioned were Jack Sutherland of Pitt, Eddie Anderson of Holy Cross, Buck Shaw of Santa Clara, and Charlie Bachman of Michigan State.

Clarence Miles of the United States Chamber of Commerce was to speak here at the final luncheon-meeting of the Iowa Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries, to be held in the Jefferson hotel.

Nov. 14, 1933...

Premier Mussolini predicted the fall of the Italian chamber of deputies in what he called "the funeral oration of capitalism and liberal institutions."

Speaking before the powerful National Council of Corporations he also advanced a program by which other nations could acquire cooperative states.

The British government announced it intended to build larger warships, within the limit of the 1930 naval treaty, to meet the construction programs of the United States and Japan.

Prof. Paul Trosky appeared before the Tuesday Morning Music club and ran the gamut of old and modern composers in a fashion seldom seen in Iowa City. "The Piano and its Music" was the title of his informal lecture.

THE BIG ROCK CANDY MOUNTAIN. By Wallace Stegner. New York: Duell, Sloan & Pearce. 515pp. $3.

Reviewed by ELIZABETH DE SCHWEINITZ

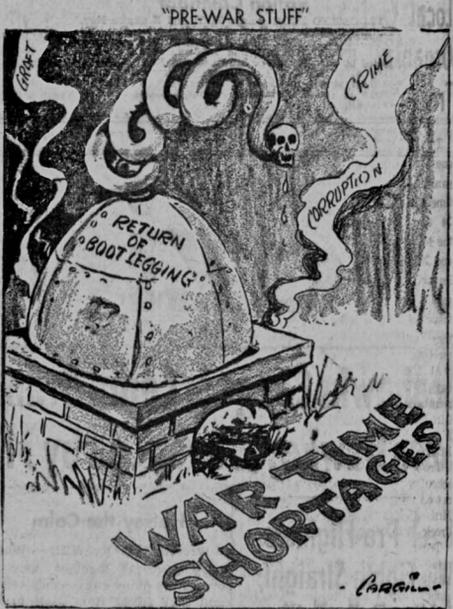

Wallace Stegner's literary career has been developed with care and precision. He has made the most of his opportunities and abilities to put himself in a sound and popular position. His academic career was rounded off with a master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from the State University of Iowa. His teaching experience at Augustana College, the state universities of Iowa, Utah, and Wisconsin, supplemented by the attention his published works had won for him made him eligible for the Briggs Copeland instructorship in English composition at Harvard university. Popularity through publication came after winning the Little, Brown novelette contest with "Remembering Laughter," a story reminiscent of Edith Wharton's "Ethan Frome." After this initial success came other novelettes: "Poter House," "On a Darkling Plain," and "Fire and Ice." Next followed a history, "Mormon Country," and short stories printed in "Red Book," "Mademoiselle," "Story" and "Harper's."

Regardless of its popularity among readers and publishers all of this work was tenuous, conscientious art with little of the true novelist's sweep. The only work that approached the proportions of a novel was the "Mormon Country," but even here Stegner's imagination was hobbled by his adherence to historical fact. Nevertheless, none of this work was wasted in the development of Stegner as a literary artist. It gave him an opportunity to test his style and his material many times before trying them in a more comprehensive study of human beings.

His use of the story of the flu epidemic of 1918 is a notable example of such testing. In "On a Darkling Plain" he uses the flu scene; then he published it as a short story. Finally in "The Big Rock Candy Mountain" he developed the episode to the point of making it the background of the climax in Bo Mason's career. This, his latest work, is Stegner's most important achievement. In this novel he has retained all the technical advantages of his careful training and added to it the inspiration of his own family experience. His father wandered from Iowa to North Dakota to Washington to Saskatchewan to Utah to Nevada and California, just as Bo Mason does in "The Big Rock Candy Mountain."

Tall, slim, heavy-shouldered, Bo Mason, "with hair parted in the middle" and "hide like shoe leather," wanted, first, freedom from whippings; then he wanted space for breathing; but in the end all he wanted was a chance to make big money. In the trail of this lusty dynamo came two little boys and a handsome red-haired Swedish woman. With their desire for security and a decent living these three fought the father's ideal, but they could never convince him that "The Big Rock Candy Mountain" was only a heat wave making mistily clear what modern composers in a fashion seldom seen in Iowa City. "The Piano and its Music" was the title of his informal lecture. Stegner tells a complete and dramatic story as he puts it in the mouths of those best equipped to tell it. He might have come upon the living tale sooner if, instead of shifting from one view to another in the beginning, he had done this, he might have prevented it from being an "untidy" book, as Howard Mumford Jones calls it in the Saturday Review of Literature. But Howard Mumford Jones also calls it "vast" and "living" book, a "revelation of life in the contemporary west, a revelation without illusion and without bitterness and therefore credible and sweet." And he enlarges even more on this opinion (See REVIEW, page 7)

Rene Clair, a Serious Frenchman, Was Playing With a Ghost
By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Under a big scene, Dick, who is the hero, had gaslight chandelier, in a crowded beer garden, Rene Clair was playing with a ghost.
And that's good news. When Rene Clair, who is a slight, serious Frenchman, tangles directorially with a ghost the result is pretty sure to be light and fantastic and not too serious.
Mr. Clair, after building quite a reputation in France, went to England in 1935, engaged Robert Donat as a spectre, and turned out a supernatural comedy that still delights, "The Ghost Goes West." His first Hollywood movie was Marlene Dietrich's "Flame of New Orleans," an inconsequential trifle with no ghosts, but he got back in the groove with "I Married a Witch."
Mr. Clair's gaslight was real, and so was the beer that flowed—in the midst of a general shortage of it—into the mugs on the tables of Eden Gardens, where Prof. Jack Oakie, magician and clairvoyant, was preparing to do tricks and prophesy, aided by a brunette vision named Linda Darnell.
The beer was real, I gathered, because of an advertisement tie-up with a brewery. The tie-up had just been untied by the Hays office, but the beer was still there—two kinds, "Near" for the extras, and "farther" for Dick Powell and other principals in the party

Local Girl Scouts Organize 3 New Troops Recently

Two new Girl Scout troops and one Brownie troop have been organized. Meeting for the first time Thursday was Brownie troop 24 of Longfellow school under the leadership of Mrs. John Strub and Mrs. Floyd Brown. The girls learned the Brownie promise and read a Brownie story. They also made plans for the turkey favors they will make at their next meeting.

At their first session Wednesday in St. Patrick's social room, members of troop 10 discussed the Girl Scout organization and what it meant. Troop leaders are Gladys Briggs and Alice Crimmings.

Troop 25 of St. Mary's high school will hold an organizational meeting tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. James C. Burns and Pat Crook will direct this troop.

Troop 8 of Henry Sabin school made plans for their investiture service and learned to referee games at a Thursday meeting. Troop 5 of Horace Mann school prepared Christmas seals for mailing Thursday.

Under the direction of their troop leader, Doris Lynn, Brownies in troop 18 of Henry Sabin school did first aid work when they gathered Friday.

Troop 11 divided into two patrols at a meeting Friday in the Edwin Knoedel home, 824 E. Jefferson street. Rita Claire Kaefring is leader of the Wild Rose patrol and Gertrude Ann Shrader is leader of the Blue Bird patrol.

The girls also made plans for decorating their troop rooms. Helen Lekin was appointed troop librarian.

Scouts in troop 12 of Junior high school worked at the Girl Scout office Friday putting Christmas seals in envelopes for mailing. Girls in troop 14 worked on second class badges at their meeting Friday.

University Will Be Host at Conference on War Problems

Thirteen Universities, Colleges To Be Represented at Meeting

Thirteen universities and colleges will be represented in the intercollegiate conference on war problems to be held here Tuesday and Wednesday, when they will participate in debates, group discussions, extemporaneous and individual speaking contests on current war issues.

Partaking in the conference are the University of South Dakota, the University of Nebraska, the University of Indiana, Northwestern university, Iowa State college, Augustana, Coe, Wheaton, Cornell, Knox, Central and Wartburg colleges and Muscatine junior college.

The purpose of this conference, according to Prof. A. Craig Baird and Gordon Hostettler, who have arranged the conference, is to provide information, leadership and training service for college students who are engaged in "Speaking for Victory" programs.

The first round of group discussion on "What foreign policy shall the United States adopt in the post-war world?" will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Some of the questions analyzed in this first round will be the goals which the United States seeks in the post-war world, the factors which will allegedly lead to the necessity for international post-war policy of the United States. The entire group will then seek to formulate a resolution embodying the conclusions of the conference.

Debates will begin Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the question, "Resolved: That the United States should cooperate in establishing and maintaining an international police force upon the defeat of the axis," and will continue through the final debates Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

The "Speaking for Victory" contest will be held Wednesday morning at 10:30 in the house chamber of Old Capitol, when a speaker from each school will present a speech on any topic pertinent to the war other than post-war world government.

At the forensic luncheon to be held Wednesday noon, one representative from each school will present a five minute after-dinner speech on "What shall be the position and function of the liberal arts college in the post-war world?"

The extemporaneous speaking contest will be held at 4:30, Wednesday afternoon in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Approximately 100 students are expected to participate in the conference and the following people will represent the University of Iowa:

Edna Herbst, A2 of Newton; Louise Hilfman, A2 of Bettendorf; Eleanor Keagy, A4 of Ottumwa; Jack Russell, A3 of Perry; Jean Collier, A1 of Freeport, Ill.; Rosemary Howe, A3 of Darlington, Wis.; Owen Peterson, A2 of Parker, S. D.; Carol Raymond, A1 of Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

Sally Birdsall, A1 of Waterloo; Velma Martin, A2 of Laurens; Tom Wuriu, A3 of Iowa City; Don Eroyod, A3 of Arkansas City, Kan.; Helen Marlas, A2 of Iowa City; Ann Mottelson, A1 of La-Grange, Ill.; Dorothy Kottemann, A1 of Burlington.

Rene Cappon, A3 of New York; Dorothea Gray, A4 of Pratt, Kan.; Jean Hardie, A3 of Freeport, Ill.; Eloise Davis, A4 of Birmingham, Ala.; Mary Jane Neville, A3 of Emmetsburg; Virginia Jackson, A3 of Marion; Ruth Reininga, A4 of River Forest, Ill., and Harold Burkhalter, P1 of Galesburg, Ill.

Y. W. C. A. to Meet

A skit will be presented at a freshman Y. W. C. A. meeting to be held from 4 until 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the club-rooms of Iowa Union.

Hero Is Puzzled

WITH THREE PIECES of shrapnel in his leg and a medical discharge from the navy, Robert B. Robinson of Seattle, Wash., shown above with his wife, is wondering what it is all about. Robinson was taken into custody for failure to report to his draft board for induction into the armed services. No wonder this vet of World War II was surprised!

SUI Graduate's Book On World Settlement Emphasizes Freedom

Irving Brant, son of Mrs. David Brant, 212 Myrtle street, has written a book, "Road to Peace and Freedom," which is being published by the Bobbs-Merrill company.

The book describes Brant's plan for world settlement based on the new realities of warfare, emphasizing the cooperation of world powers and a call for the universal advance of democracy.

Brant, who graduated from the university in 1909, served as managing editor of the Iowa City Republican from 1909 to 1914. He was editor of the Clinton Herald and associate editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune from 1915 to 1918. He also served as editor of the St. Louis Star editorial page, and was an editorial writer for the Chicago Sun.

Brant conducted an investigation of public housing in Europe and the Soviet union in 1939 which was under the auspices of the national public housing conference, of which he was vice-president. He has also written "Storm Over the Constitution," and "James Madison: The Virginia Revolutionist."

CAMPUS CASUALS FOR CHILLY DAYS

SITTING PRETTY on a cold November day is Ginny Alms, A4 of Decorah, as she watches Ruth Shambaugh, A4 of Clarinda, try her hand at creating an artificial heat wave. Ginny is relaxing in a slick pair of brown wool slacks, man tailored, with a fly front. She combines it with a brown and gold argyle sweater and a white dickey. Notice her white buckskin bunny shoes—the latest in playfoot wear this season. Ruth has an iron in the fire when she wears her blue carpenter's overalls with a bright red flannel lumber-jack shirt, for an outfit like this assures any girl of a successful fashion rating this season. The combination is decidedly a campus classic for casual wear on chilly days.

Time was when the Iowa coed, Winnetka, Ill., went hunting last weekend, the squirrel got away but she bagged an "A" in fashion rating just the same. Jan wore a black and red flannel lumberjack shirt and boy's jeans. For practical purposes she donned black rubber knee-boots and a waterproof gabardine hunting hat, the kind with the popular new ear flaps which tie in a peak on top. No matter what they're hunting, Iowa coeds can take a tip from Jan if they want to look cute as well as capable.

Long lived and long loved is a brown deerskin jacket like the one JANIE HILLIER, A2 of Galesburg, Ill., wears these chilly days. The buttons-down the front are cut from deer's hoof, are highly polished and fasten with leather thongs. The matching buttons decorate the four huge pockets, two on each side, one below the other. The Indian angle is achieved by fringing on the pockets and cuffs. Janie wears western saddle pants of brown gabardine and brown jodhpur-boots.

Do you faithfully eat shredded Ralston for breakfast and Ry-Krisp to keep from gaining weight? If so, you'll recognize the check of the cotton shirt belonging to ANNE GILMAN, A1 of Ames, for it's copied from cereal box designs. The styling is exactly like a man's, with stiff collar, reverse buttoning and all. "Gumpy's" slacks are smart gray

Streamlined strategy was used by JOAN REMLEY, A2 of Webster City, when she selected her navy blue slacks suit with the white pinstripes. The jacket is strictly man-tailored, with deep lapels and three buttons. The slacks are like men's trousers, cuffs of course. Joan dons a white shirt to complete the combination and she's suited for classes on sub-zero days.

CATHERINE WALLERSTEIN, A4 of Richmond, Va., leads a free and easy life, at least when she's attired in her long shorts—or short slacks—of steel blue wool, with matching shirt. The trousers come just below the knees and turn up one to form a cuff. The waist band is fastened by a natural leather belt and Wally's shirt has long sleeves, very neat and tailored.

A color scoop in scarlet are the corduroy slacks and brunch coat of DOROTHY WESSELS, A2 of Des Moines. The coat has three-quarter length sleeves and is princess style, fitted at the waistline and trimmed with white pearl buttons. Dorothy wears a white dickey with the collar on the outside—looks lovely while being lazy round the dorm.

Lewis, Browne Will Debate

Tickets for Lecture May Be Obtained At Iowa Union Desk

Tickets for the Sinclair Lewis-Browne debate tomorrow night may be obtained at the main desk in Iowa Union. Any tickets which remain tomorrow morning will be distributed to the general public.

The debate, the second lecture in the university series, presents Sinclair Lewis, author and playwright, and Lewis Browne, radio commentator, lecturer, author and world traveler, in a discussion of the question "Is the Machine Age Wrecking Civilization?"

A former reporter of the New Haven Journal and Courier, the San Francisco Bulletin and The Associated Press, Lewis in 1930 won the Nobel prize in literature. He is widely known as the author of such novels as "Main Street," "Babbitt," "Dodsworth" and "The Man Who Knew Coolidge" and in addition has written "It Can't Happen Here," and "Angela Is Twenty-Two," a play written with Fay Wray and in which Lewis played the star role for a time on the road.

Lewis Browne, an English-born rabbi, organized and was president of Newark Labor college in 1925. He resigned his rabbinate two patch pockets are also centered with bone buttons. Marge combines this with her favorite brown wool slacks.

True to her nickname of "Tex" is MARJORIE BLAIR, A4 of Dubuque, when she sports her cowboy outfit consisting of denim culottes, a vest of the same material and brown and white western riding boots. Under the vest is a light blue shirt. An added bit of cleverness is her leather studded belt and matching bracelet.

Blue jeans and overalls are the 1943 campus favorites, but slacks are still a must in the collegian wardrobe. When the snow flies, the Iowa coed needs outfits that will take up where the thermostat leaves off.

Prof. C. B. Righter Plans Brass Ensemble For SUI Musicians

A brass ensemble is being organized by Prof. C. B. Righter, director of university bands, for students who are not sufficiently advanced in concert band work, and for brass players who wish to obtain further instruction. It was announced yesterday.

Members of the brass ensemble will be asked to play with the pep band at basketball games. Brass players who are interested in playing in the ensemble may contact Professor Righter in room 15, music studio building. Practices will be held Monday and Wednesday from 4:10 to 5 p.m.

"THE CONSULTANTS KNOW WHERE TO GO"

Dear—folks

Well, it's winter, I think, and I certainly have been cold—don't you think those new fur lined coats are darling, and they have mittens to match them too. I've had to cross the river a lot lately and—don't you think slacks are practical for girls to wear when the temperature is a little below what it couldn't possibly get to. My roomie has the most darling new fur—but I'm really not asking for one you understand but I have the smoothest cadet date—and say did I tell you about the night I ripped the ruffle from my blue taffeta.—Well dears, just a little note about the weather and—oh, yes, delinquents came out didn't they? It was nice of the university to let you know how I'm doing.—Remember me and the sudden chill.

Yours

The toast of any season and hit of the week is a big luscious Hamburger chuck full of the very best in meat and relish. No matter where you go or what the weather Hamburg Inn should be your food-for-fun stopping off place. After the game or after the show, HAMBURG INN is the place to go.

War-time is wearing time—but clothes sent to Davis can be real morale lifters. Your sweaters and skirts with that over worn look can be snapped back into fresh and bright cleanliness with the Davis process of cleaning. Your winter wardrobe will be spic and span and smiling if you send those war-time wear-outs to Davis where you're sure of 4 day service and real cleaning economy. DAVIS CLEANERS.

Beverly Babcock passed the five pounds of sweet stuff last week when she announced the chaining of her Tri Delt pin to Rod Leem-cull's Psi Omega pin. Congrats are in order!

Winter only increases your appetite for the nicest kind of taste treats. After every stepping-out occasion, or for meal time variety get a MAID-RITE. Hot and tasty and cooking any time of day you'll find MAID-RITE will really be your 'tween meal and mealtime pepper upper.

Bundy Allen and Dutch Schles-selman, ATOs, are a part of the foursome seen all around here and there on campus—the members of the distaff side are Sis Wage and Beverly McKinley, respectively, of the Alpha Chis.

If you're looking for a water softener, don't cool your heels too long, but come to LAREW and see what softeners are offered. This will fit your need to a tee and you will be delighted with it. Besides offering you water softeners, LAREW can give you excellent plumbing and furnace repair—remember LA-REW.

This week's Congrats and Best wishes go to Betty Bickle and her Captain Henthorne who is studying Chinese and knows all the old oriental wedding ring customs. Anyway Betty got the diamond which leads me to think Confucius wasn't so confused about his old proverb; "Absence make the heart strings tie mind in knots—" We're just ribbon you Bets.

Midge Labbett is thinking of purchasing a drag net after the two phone calls from two of the 20-on-a-nickle cadets she's been dating. After Midge's big fling the happy little Navy boy called up without disclosing his identity to ask about a lovely brunette on another floor of the Currier annex. Smile Midge—the lowdown foxy, underhanded—Say, stop me if you like the guy—

With guns, tanks and planes the Army protects itself and forges ahead—just as CIVILIANS with adequate and properly prepared Medicines, Drugs and Vitamin Products, keep well and carry on—get this protection at a professional pharmacy. DRUG SHOP, EDWARD S. ROSE, Pharmacist, will help you—

Question of the week—Isn't there some nice paratrooper who would take Jeanie Newland of Currier 3rd floor charm, out? She's going home to a date, is coming back to a date and has an A. S. T. P. for Sunday afternoon. My what they aren't making out of fly paper these days.

War Department Asks Unit To Invite Civic, Publicity Heads

Faculty Members, Guests to Make Tour Of School Wednesday

In an attempt to acquaint "key" press, radio and civic leaders with the actual progress of the army specialized program here at the University of Iowa, Col. Luke D. Zech, commandant of the units, has issued an invitation to about 100 Iowans to inspect the program. The review will take place Wednesday.

The entire open house has been set up at the request of the war department through the seventh service command, Iowa being one of the few institutions in this area selected for such a display.

Editors of Iowa daily papers, press associations, education journals, radio station heads and a miscellaneous group of civic club leaders, school superintendents and state officials are among those receiving invitations.

Persons who are scheduled to attend, according to army information yesterday include Clare Marshall, H. E. Boyd, E. C. Hoyt and Frank Nye, representing the Cedar Rapids Gazette and C. Y. Hancock and W. C. Eastland, of the Clinton Herald.

Public school superintendents attending include Arthur Deamer, M. S. Hallman, Fred Kluss, W. L. Paxson and Pierce A. Wilson from Cedar Rapids; W. A. Erbe and Paul T. Dixon of Washington; Frank W. Douma, Ottumwa, and R. J. Carroll, Oskaloosa.

In the organizations and radio stations division, attending are Mrs. Thomas H. Tracey, representing the American Legion auxiliary, and Mrs. Harlan Briggs, both of Manchester, State Sen. Leroy S. Mercer, Iowa City; Dr. Lee R. Woodward of Mason City, representative of the Iowa State Medical association.

J. J. Swamer of Iowa City, a member of the Iowa legislature, is scheduled to attend, as are Jack Sheeley of radio station WHO in Des Moines; Charles Logan and Lyle Flanagan from station KRNT-KSO in Des Moines; Dr. G. V. Grewell of Marshalltown, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Max W. Van Horn of Marshalltown.

Dwight McCormack is to represent the Associated Press from Des Moines and Gene S. McGuire and Paul R. Bumbarger will attend for the Iowa Daily Press Association.

First event of the inspection will be registration and meeting with Colonel Zech, followed by an interview with President Virgil M. Hancher and with the deans of the colleges involved in the army specialized training program.

Visitors will then witness a language and area drill under the direction of Professor Troyer S. Anderson, chairman of that phase of the A. S. T. P.

An exhibition of athletic and physical training, including mass calisthenics, tumbling, wrestling, boxing, swimming, basketball, football, cross country running and obstacle course, is next on the program, under the guidance of Prof. David A. Armbruster.

Inspection of barracks and lunch with cadets at Iowa Union will be followed by cadet entertainment and some of the men with interesting backgrounds will be available for personal interviews.

During the afternoon, the visitors will be conducted on detailed tours through the college of engineering, the kinematics laboratory, and the personnel psychology department.

Gaffney Postpones Della Jensen Final Until Feb. 7, 1944

The disposition of the case of Della Jensen, who pleaded guilty to leading a life of lewdness, was postponed in district court yesterday by Judge James P. Gaffney until Feb. 7, 1944.

She will return to the Iowa State Psychopathic hospital. After leaving the hospital she will be released under Mrs. Mabel R. Evans, Johnson county probation officer, who will prescribe conduct rules for her.

During the probation period Della Jensen is not to wear men's clothing, appear in any manner like a man nor associate with Bertha Kadera with whom she was living when County Attorney Edward F. Rate filed an information against her.

The court reserved the right to pronounce sentence before Feb. 7, 1944, if she violated the rules of conduct set up by Mrs. Evans. Attorney for the defendant was Edward L. O'Connor. Rate represented the state.

LAST WEEK IN IOWA CITY

SUNDAY—

Iowa City churches began participation today in the Christian Mission on World Order. The topic used in eight Iowa City churches today was "Moral Integrity and New World Order." The purpose of the mission is to demonstrate interest in a just and lasting peace and a determination to achieve it.

Girls of Alpha Xi Delta sorority won first prize in the Homecoming badge sale contest which closed yesterday, with total sales amounting to 5,017. A total of 14,004 badges were sold by the four sororities competing in the contest.

MONDAY—

J. S. Russell, farm editor of the Des Moines Register for the past 18 years, spoke tonight in the first program of the "Food Fights For Freedom" series. The first of this series of programs was devoted to discussion of food problems in the community, with a panel discussion following Russell's lecture.

Leah Parker, national Girl Scout executive, spoke tonight to the scouts of troop 1 at their meeting in the Girl Scout office.

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters tonight appointed a committee for the investigation of property acquired by the city. The committee consists of the following members: H. S. Ivie, C. S. Kringel and Elmer F. Lénthe.

It is estimated that 70 Iowa City organizations and clubs will provide delegates to form an organization which will meet monthly to report post-war planning in the community, as a result of plans established yesterday by city officials.

The eastbound Rock Island Rocket was delayed four and one-half hours this morning when the last car of another passenger train was derailed four miles west of Iowa City, blocking the track of the rocket. No one was hurt, and there was no damage to either train.

TUESDAY—

Eight candidates for the queen

Opinion On and Off Campus

QUESTION: WHAT DO YOU THINK WILL BE THE MOST SIGNIFICANT CHANGE IN OUR EVERY-DAY LIFE AFTER THE WAR?

Dorothy Bontrager, clerk: "I think we'll all be approaching the same levels in clothing, travel and food. Wartime rationing has begun this trend which I believe will continue."

Pvt. Richard Gale of Minneapolis, Minn., pre-meteorologist: "There aren't going to be any changes for five or six years. It will be a long time before we are all riding in airplanes."

Clare Donahoe, Al of Des Moines: "There'll be more airplane travel, especially between North and South America. We will continue our good neighbor policy with South America, realizing the importance of that continent."

Helen Mendenhall, G of Sterling, Kan.: "I think that colleges are going to be psychologically changed to fit the needs of returning servicemen. There will be, of course, many new inventions and modern conveniences."

Mary Helen Dvorsky, stenographer: "There will be more travel by plane and probably there will be television."

John Davis, Al of Villisca: "I think that there will be a highly mechanized period following the war. We will see modernistic design in buildings, automobiles and other things. The world should be a better place to live in because of these inventions and improvements."

Pfc. Michael P. Schmidt of Parkville, N. Y., student in area and language department of A.S.T.P.: "There will be no immediate change after the war. In time, however, there will be a return to normalcy when the application of the inventions brought about by the war will raise still further our rising standard of living. There may be a drop in those standards some time in the future, but it will not be as great as in the last depression."

"Technical advances will be more marked than cultural changes due to hatred and prejudices aroused by the war. These will interfere with a global viewpoint. The future will hold great promise when we realize the importance of that kind of viewpoint."

Mrs. Joseph Leonard, housewife of Lone Tree: "I imagine airplanes will be the important form of transportation. Cars will use less fuel."

NEWMAN QUEEN, ATTENDANTS, CHOSEN LAST NIGHT

Hawkeye Queen

Hawkeye queen candidates for the HAWKEYE COURT may now be submitted by the various men and women organizations on the campus. From the entries received, the judges will make a final selection, and those chosen will be publicized in the 1945 Hawkeye yearbook.

There is no limit to the number of nominees which may be submitted, provided that 25 student signatures accompany the signed statement of the nominee consenting to the entry. All applicants must furnish a studio head-and-shoulders portrait along with a full-length candid picture. All entries must be submitted to the Hawkeye office, room N-102 East hall, by noon, Dec. 5.

to be crowned at the Newman Nocturne in the Hotel Jefferson Saturday night, were announced tonight at the meeting of the Newman club. The dance will be the first Newman club semi-formal of the year.

W. T. Hageboeck was elected president of the Kiwanis club at a luncheon meeting today. He will assume office Jan. 1, succeeding Prof. Walter F. Loehwing of the botany department. Other officers elected at today's meeting include: Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger, vice-president; Edward S. Rose, treasurer, and T. Ray Baker, Julian Brody and W. R. Hart, directors.

Music by Dvorak, Wagner and Brahms was heard tonight in the second program of the current school year given at Iowa Union by the University Symphony orchestra. The orchestra was under the direction of Prof. P. G. Clapp, head of the music department. Hot meals will be served to junior high school children beginning soon after Thanksgiving. E. Y. Sangster, president of the school board, announced last night. The meals may be financed in part by government subsidy.

Prof. Troyer Anderson of the history department spoke this afternoon in the "Information First" series of lectures. His topic, "Moscow and After," dealt with the implications and possible outcomes of the recent Moscow conference. A two-minute period of silence was observed today in Iowa City in recognition of Armistice day. A bomb was fired from the roof of Hotel Jefferson at 11 o'clock to mark the beginning of the Armistice day ceremony.

High school seniors will be admitted free to the fall series of lectures sponsored by the Talk of the Hour club. Mrs. Mark W. Clarke, wife of Lieut. Gen. Clarke, will be the first speaker.

"Religion When Peace Comes" was the subject of Prof. M. Willard Lampe's lecture tonight, given as the sixth in the series of Baconian lectures. The north-south runway of the municipal airport has been completed by cadets from the engineer battalions of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school and is now open for air traffic, according to Fred Gartzke, city engineer.

All university students, faculty members and servicemen stationed on campus were invited to the first in a series of open houses sponsored by the Women's Recre-

'Old Notre Dame Still Reigns Over All'

Roars Over Wildcats, 25-6

Further Establishes Rank With Great Irish Teams of Past

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Old Notre Dame still reigns over all. The "Fighting Irish" undefeated and untied, roared to a 25-6 victory over Northwestern yesterday, not only to retain their place as the nation's No. 1 football eleven, but to further establish rank with the greatest Notre Dame team in history.

The Irish must now conquer the undefeated and untied Seahawk a week hence and Great Lakes in the final of the season to become the first Notre Dame team since the days of Knute Rockne to go through a season unbeaten and untied.

A record-smashing crowd of 49,124, largest ever to fill Dyche stadium, watched the South Bend supermen register their eighth straight triumph. However, Northwestern held Notre Dame to the lowest number of points of any team this season.

Notre Dame, held to a 6-0 margin at the half, gained momentum in the remaining two periods, with its great running halfback, Creighton Miller, and 18-year-old Johnny Lujack in command of the T formation, setting off the dynamite.

The Irish scored first in the remaining two minutes of the second period, reserve Bob Kelly smashing over from the two to carry an 84-yard parade which featured Miller's running and Lujack's 22-yard pass to his towering battery mate, John Yonaker, right end.

Miller who accounted for 151 yards of his team's total of 302 by rushing, again led a drive at the start of the third period which carried 50 yards and ended when he drilled over from the one.

Before the final period concluded, Ziggy Czarobski recovered Scriba's fumble on the Wildcat 34 to give the Irish a running start for their third touchdown at the outset of the final period. Lujack speared to Yonaker for 18 yards and Julie Rykovich churned into the end zone to score on the next play.

Lujack's attempted place-kick was blocked, but with quick thinking he scooped up the ball and ran it across to give the Irish their only after-touchdown point of the game.

After the ensuing kick-off, the Irish capitalized on another fumble, Otto Graham pouncing a bad pass from center, Paul Limont fell on the ball in the Northwestern 29 and seven plays later Lujack spotted a five-yard pass to Kelly at the corner of the field for the final marker.

Northwestern finally counted on a freak play late in the quarter and thus prevented Notre Dame from running up one of the most-lopsided triumphs in the series which began in 1889. Jack Harker, a sub Wildcat end, intercepted a shovel pass by Frank Danczewicz, quarterback replacement for Lujack, and sprinted 36 yards into the end zone for a touchdown.

Northwestern's only other touchdown threat came in the first period when it reached the Notre Dame 16 on a 58-yard march only to have Joe Scriba, hero of the drive to fumble the ball away.

Lujack attempted 10 passes, completed 5 to 64 yards. Three of them were intercepted, Graham stealing a pair to end Notre Dame's scoring gestures. Graham, getting only nine yards in 10 tries with the ball, added a mere 22 by air on three completions out of nine.

Notre Dame completely dominated the statistics, picking up 20 first downs to six—18 of them by rushing—and 302 yards by rushing to 66.

Bucks Defeat Illini, 29-26, in Drama-Filled Final Seconds of Fast-Moving Game

Offside Calls Men Back After Last Gun; Stung Boots Goal

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State defeated Illinois 29 to 26 yesterday before 36,331 fans—and despite a day filled with long runs, steady marches and scintillating performances, all the drama was packed in the last two seconds when the Bucks captured the verdict long after everyone thought the game was over.

The whole weird yarn is wrapped up in the thrill-packed 12 minutes after what appeared to be the final gun sounded.

With the score deadlocked at 26-26, Ohio State had blasted its way from its own 41 to the Illinois 15, only to lose the ball on a fumble. Two plays later the Bucks regained the ball the same way on the 21. Two seconds remained to play, and Ohio tried a pass which sailed into the end zone as the final shot sounded.

The teams raced for the dressing rooms, and the fans filed from the stadium, meantime P. C. Goebel of Michigan, the head-linesman, was gesticulating wildly that Illinois had been offside. The teams were ordered back for one more play—but the fans continued to leave, not knowing what was going on.

Twelve minutes after the final shot, the teams lined up and John Stungis, 17-year-old Bucks substitute quarterback, calmly booted a field goal from about 25 yards out—and the three points broke Illinois' heart and Ohio State's Big Ten losing streak at the same time.

The Illini, calling on "scat" backs Eddie Bray and Eddie McGovern, last year's national scoring leader, played the Bucks to a standstill, McGovern getting two touchdowns and he and Bray setting up two others for quarterback Don Greenwood.

How the break-away runners performed is shown by the plays needed to score. The first drive went 68 yards in two plays, McGovern scoring from 37 yards out. The second went 34 yards in two plays, Bray going 32 and then turning the scoring chance over to McGovern. The third, a 65-yard jaunt, consumed three plays, McGovern's 45-yard run setting it up for Greenwood to score. The last one went 58 yards in two plays, Bray getting 57 and Greenwood the last one.

In the meantime Ohio State plowed 48, 61, 88 and 80 yards for its markers. Ernie Parks, the big Negro sprint champion—another 17-year-old freshman—got three of the touchdowns and Dean Sensenbaur the other.

Navy vs. Columbia
By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—Through the courtesy of a friendly mathematics professor we are able to report that Navy crushed Columbia, 61 to 0, yesterday in what was advertised as a football game.

The outcome apparently confirmed the suspicions of Capt. John E. Wheelchell, Navy coach, who left the team in charge of Lieut. Comdr. E. E. Miller and travelled on to West Point, N. Y., for a personal survey of Army, the Middies' opponent on Nov. 27.

In that way the game became unique in that neither head coach was present, Lou Little convalescing at his home after a recent hospital siege with balky sinuses.

Michigan Powerhouse Roms to 27-0 Win Over Wisconsin

Takes 5th Straight Big 10 Victory; Hirsch Scores Extra Point

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan's Wolverines, pulling their punches against a school largely responsible for their success this topsy-turvy season, romped to a 27-0 victory over Wisconsin's Badgers before 15,000 fans yesterday.

It was Michigan's fifth straight Western conference victory and placed the Wolverines in a first place tie with Purdue's Boilermakers.

Although ten former Badger players saw action, all but one of Michigan's four touchdowns were scored by home-grown Wolverines.

In handing the hapless Badgers their eighth setback in nine starts, Michigan tallied in every period except the third.

Fullback Bob Wiese, successor to the powerful Bill Daley, scored Michigan's first touchdown midway in the opening period on a short buck to cap a 39-yard drive. The remaining three quarters were handled mainly by second and third stringers.

In the second period, speedy Bob Nussbaumer dashed 19 yards for a Michigan score and a few minutes later his understudy, George Wikel, smashed a yard for a touchdown after a 52-yard Wolverine drive.

The Wolverines counted a fourth touchdown in the last stanza as Nussbaumer lobbed a 34-yard scoring pass to halfback Earl Maves, the only former Badger to tally.

Guard Rex Wells kicked two extra points and missed one. Halfback Elroy Hirsch, ex-Wisconsin star who was benched yesterday by an arm injury, dashed in to convert after Michigan's final score.

Wisconsin's farthest advance was to Michigan's 28-yard line just before the game ended. The Wolverines rushed to 294 yards and 14 first downs, while Wisconsin netted only 67 yards on the ground and five first downs.

Michigan scoring: touchdowns—Wiese, Nussbaumer, Wikel (for Nussbaumer), Maves (for Dreyer). Points after touchdown—Wells 2, Hirsch (for Nussbaumer), place kicks.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The injured Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch was so determined to score against his old Wisconsin mates yesterday that he rushed in while Coach Fritz Crisler wasn't looking and place-kicked the extra point after Michigan's fourth touchdown. "Who's that anyway?" called Crisler to line coach Clarence Munn. "By gosh, it's Hirsch. How did he get in there?"

"He just ran out there," replied Munn.

Hirsch booted one right down the middle for the extra point. Then he trotted out again, injured shoulder and all.

"I just had to score against Wisconsin," he explained to his coaches, who were having a hard time suppressing a grin.

Stefanita Outgames Alsab in Handicap
BALTIMORE (AP)—George D. Widener's filly, Stefanita, outgamed Alsab in the stretch yesterday to win the 21st running of the Ryan and O'Hara Memorial handicap.

Mrs. Albert Sabath's four year old son of Good Goods blazed up the stretch on the outside to come up from fifth position, but he could not quit overtake the speedy Widener filly, and lost a head decision.

Calumet Farm's Son of Peace was third, two lengths behind Alsab, and Lieut. Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt's Zanzibar was fourth in the field of nine.

Bill Dellastatious scampered 20 yards on the first play and Don (Bull) Reece, gathered 15 more to Oklahoma's 25. Five plays later Reece crashed through for a touchdown, but Jack Morton missed the kick.

The Sooners' initial touchdown came in the second quarter when Derald Lebow scored.

JIMMY SMITH, Seahawk quarterback, is forced out of bounds by tackler John Andretich and two Camp Grant teammates, after circling the Warriors' end of the line for a gain of 25 yards early in the third quarter of yesterday's game. The Seahawks won the army-navy conflict 28-13.

line. Although the Warriors held them for two yards on the next play, Todd's passing arm did the trick again and it was Virgil Wagner on the receiving end for the third goal. The extra point was made by John Brennan with a placekick.

The soldiers took their turn at scoring as the third period opened with Camp Grant's ball on their foe's 15-yard line and Burkhardt's 10-yard pass plus two small gains by Dewar and Corwin Clati spelled the touchdown. Dewar's attempt at kicking the conversion was no good.

A little more than five minutes later the Camp Grant giants were at it again, paced by Burkhardt and Dewar with some long ground gains—Burkhardt with a 12-yard gain and Dewar with a 40-yard gallop. A pass by Burkhardt was intercepted by Phil Huber on the three-yard line who stepped across the goal line. The conversion kick was good and the score's margin was getting smaller.

Two-thirds of the final quarter had gone by when the pre-flighters chalked up their fourth marker. Wagner's pass to Todd was good for 23 yards and a 28-yard run by Art Guepe was worth six more points for the Seahawks. Brennan's placekick made it one more and the score, as it read at the end of the game, was 28 to 13. The game ended with the Camp Grant players making desperate last minute pass into the end zone only to be intercepted by Guepe.

Next week takes the Seahawks to South Bend and the Fighting Irish.

March Field Takes U. S. C.

Swamps Trojans, 35-0 With Great Aerial Attack

LOS ANGELES (AP)—March Field's Fourth air force swamped Southern California yesterday, 35 to 0, with a spectacular aerial attack generated by Jacobs, former University of Oklahoma backfield star.

The defeat was the second straight for the injury-riddled Trojans, who won their first six games without being scored on and then dropped a 10 to 7 decision to the San Diego Naval Training station.

The bottom fell out of the Trojan defense in the second quarter as the fliers pushed over four touchdowns in short order. The first was easy, coming from the one-yard line on a plunge by St. Rosato, once of Villanova on the second play. The other three were registered on perfectly timed spot passes by Jacobs, who also has played with the Cleveland Rams.

Jacobs' first pitch was to Owen Thuerk, ex-Detroit Lions, for 42 yards; the next for 25 to Shelly Adams of Georgetown, Ky., and the other for 42 to Ohio State's Jumping Joe Williams. Each time the receiver was behind the Trojan defenders with a clear path to the goal.

The Great Lakes Bluejackets registered their eighth football victory yesterday in ten starts, beating Indiana's underdogs 21 to 7, and they came within 20 seconds of handing the Hoosiers their first shutout since 1939.

After the Sailors punched over two touchdowns in the second quarter, the principal interest of the 7,500 fans from then on was whether Great Lakes could perform the feat of holding the Hoosiers scoreless—a job that hasn't been done since Fordham turned the trick some 35 games ago.

It looked like the Sailors had done the trick until Bob Hoernschmeyer began tossing his aerial bombs late in the period. A pass to Pete Pihos and "Hunchy's" own run moved Indiana to the Great Lakes 20, and the big clock showed just 20 seconds to go as freshman Bob heaved a pass into Pihos' arms in the end zone for Indiana's only score.

Emil Sitko of Ft. Wayne, Ind., scored Great Lakes' first touchdown. From the Indiana 35 Ray Jones whipped a pass toward Sitko and the young Indiana boy took it on a dead run, gathering it in to race on to pay territory.

Big Ken Roskie got the other two Bluejacket touchdowns. The first came only a few minutes after Sitko's score when a blocked kick gave Great Lakes the ball on the Hoosier three. Roskie dove over the center of the line for the score.

Bluejackets Take 8th Win by Defeating Indiana, 21 to 7

Safety Aids Army To Win, 16 to 7

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—A seldom-seen safety gave Army a 16 to 7 victory over a stubborn Sampson naval training eleven yesterday.

The cadets tied the score at 7-7 in the third period on an eight-yard forward pass and then got the winning points on the safety early in the last quarter.

Midway of the third quarter Al McCorkle fell on Maceyko's fumble on the Sampson 26. John Minor and Maxon bulled their way to the 14. A short pass put it on the eight, then Anderson tossed to Tom Lombardo on the goal line for the tying touchdown.

In the second quarter on a second down Stupper tossed a 29-yard aerial to Joe Davis who caught the ball on the ten and crossed standing up for the Blue Jackets.

After the Army scored its safety, Sampson took to the air and Bob Woods intercepted a toss to race 73 yards for the assuring touchdown.

Eddie Rickenbacker Marks Anniversary Of Pacific Rescue

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Rickenbacker, marking the anniversary of his rescue in the south Pacific last Nov. 14, after 21 days on a life raft, called upon the American people today to shun complacency and bend all efforts toward knocking Hitler out of the war in 1944.

America owes that, he said in an exclusive statement to the Associated Press, to its "fighting men, whose deeds in my opinion make possible a total victory over the cruel and heartless enemy in Europe during the year 1944."

Rickenbacker recalled his rescue with thankfulness, and added: "Since then I have had the rare privilege and honor to visit all the fighting fronts throughout the world, including Russia, which has crystallized one basic thought in my mind—that America has produced a generation of fighting men unequalled in our history, who are scattered throughout the four corners of the world."

Thousands and thousands of those on the home front are beginning to relax their efforts and sit back with a profound complacency that the war is almost over.

"This complacency should be dispelled immediately, as in my opinion, the allies still have the real fight ahead of them before the war is ended in Europe—to say nothing of what confronts them in the war against the Japs."

Teetotaler Lady Astor's Hubby Gets Shock

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)—Teetotaling Lady Astor encountered an inebriated American soldier recently and "dragged" him into her drawing room and left him in an armchair, she recounted in a speech to the Plymouth Guildhall Working League appealing for hospitality to overseas visitors.

Later, when Lord Astor entered the room he found the soldier awake and looking around.

"Where am I," the soldier murmured. "Can I get a drink in this hotel?"

Japs May Attack Pearl Harbor Again

HONOLULU (AP)—The commanding general of army forces in Hawaii believes that another Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is likely within the next four months.

Vital installations, army and navy hangars and supply dumps on Oahu island would be the primary targets. If incendiaries were used some might be dropped on Honolulu's waterfront.

These are the considered opinions of military experts including Lieut. Gen. Robert C. Richardson Jr., commanding army forces in Hawaii and in the central Pacific area, and other military authorities.

General Richardson expressed

A small item of equipment for our soldiers, an essential item however, is a pistol belt. It only costs 88 cents, but multiply that by the millions of men under arms. Your War Bond purchases help pay for these items of equipment.

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chinese troops aided by American "sky dragons" have forced the Japanese on the central Yangtze front to retreat in several sectors, the Chinese high command announced yesterday.

The Japanese suffered severe casualties and many towns were recaptured, the communique added.

Fighting raged on a front which zigzags from Tungting lake in China's "rice bowl" to the rugged mountains south of the Yangtze port of Ichang.

Your safety today . . . Your Victory in the near future . . . Your Security when the Peace comes depends largely on your purchase of War Bonds and other Government Securities NOW. Our fighting forces need equipment, the best we can give them. "They give their lives—you lend your money."

by saying that Stegner's book is "an extraordinary study in American folkways. The language, the psychology, the customs of his characters are essential and characteristic, largely because, knowing them, he takes them for granted and does not dissect and analyze."

Wallace Stegner has done well with his career as a writer. He has taken true measure of his abilities and focused them on definite ends. With the writing of "The Big Rock Candy Mountain" he has reached his artistic maturity.
