Quotes and Comments—

A few verbal and written comments from Iowan readers...

Several weeks ago I saw some pictures in the Des Moines Register that shocked me...

These so-called 'toys' consisted of model tanks and planes, machine-guns, mechanical soldiers, artillery—in other words, all of them tied up with the war...

It seems ironic to me that in a nation which is fighting to end war, the children are allowed to have for their playthings the very tools of war...

Don't you think this will make a deep impression on their young minds? Don't you think the backyard battles today against mythical Nazis and Japs may twist the minds of our children and make them perpetually warlike, instead of peace loving?...

You have brought up an interesting point... a highly controversial one, worthy of discussion...

Although a few child psychologists might disagree with me, I think the effect of 'war' toys on the minds of this nation's children has been greatly exaggerated...

If I remember correctly, during the last war essentially the same thing took place... and it even carried over into peacetime... children got guns and tanks for Christmas, worshipped war heroes for awhile, carried on battles against the 'enemy'...

Yet this did not contort their minds or make them want war... I think, man for man, the average American who grew up during the last war was perhaps the most peace loving being in the world in 1938 and '39... public opinion polls of those years showed that we all hated war, were afraid of it, and wanted our leaders to do everything possible to keep America out of the impending conflict...

The reason for this is fairly simple, I believe... the kids who are fighting mythical Japs and Nazis with imitation machine guns today are not doing so because of deep-seated hatred or because they like bloodshed... they are doing it for exercise and excitement, much as the kids of high school age play football for the same reasons...

War heroes have a way of fading out after the war ends... football heroes take their place during peace... the names of a few of our more fabulous war heroes—like Rickenbacker and York—remain vaguely in our minds, but they are shoved down by the Red Granges and Nile Kinnicks of peaceful years...

No, I wouldn't worry too much about our children becoming 'warlike'... the football will replace the model tank just as soon as the war ends, I think...

Who wouldn't rather listen to the Seahawk-Notre Dame game than the wildest war news, anyway?...

I liked your column dealing with the problems of rehabilitating our soldiers after the war... it will certainly be a tremendous job... I agree with you that the average American soldier isn't thinking enough about post-war problems, if he thinks about them at all... but what can we do about it?...

A lot of modifications in the training programs will be needed before the latter difficulty can be cleared up even half-way... Numerous correspondents have mentioned in their reports how much more the English and Australian soldiers know about world affairs than the U.S. doughboy... the reason lies in the kind of training they get...

English soldiers spend several hours every other day discussing world affairs and post-war problems with experts on the subject... they become well informed and interested in every sense of the word...

The American doughboy to my knowledge, does not get this kind of training... a few documentary films and pamphlets, perhaps, but nothing really substantial...

An that is where American service training programs have obviously fallen down... we might do well to copy the English and Australian plan...

News Behind the News

Hitler May Try Gas Invasion of England By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—Hitler said the United States was too far away but he could lay his hands on someone near and make them suffer for united nations deeds against him...

This threat lent superficial credence to a suspicion that has become world-wide, that der fuhrer is preparing a last gasp, do-or-die invasion of Britain, based on the use of gas...

Everyone here hopes Hitler tries it, the sooner the better. It would bring an abrupt termination of the war. The threat of gas does not have the horrors for military men that have been transmitted to the general public by the adventure magazines...

For any invasion of England, Hitler must have an air force capable of meeting and beating what we have there. He cannot muster such a force, so he cannot successfully invade, with or without gas...

He has a new long range rocket gun which is supposed to be able to shoot a gas shell as well as an explosive. This is probably the real basis of his threat. With it he can do a little damage, especially to civilians, but accomplish no military objective whatever...

Just remember this in any talk about gas! The way it can be most effectively used is by spray or bomb from airplanes. We have both the planes and the gas to make such use extremely practicable if anyone opens up the subject...

Truth of the European situation is that we are facing a difficult military problem in penetrating Hitler's continental fortress, as we are on the wrong side of the Alps in Italy. If Hitler invades he will make the battle for us on our own ground...

Hitler continues to move some reinforcements up to the battlefield in Italy and had 11 divisions (165,000 men) there a few days back, although the bulk of his Italian army is still north of Florence where it cannot be cut off by amphibious encirclement...

The secret of Rabaul's strength is that it has two Jap airfields, and three more nearby. Nevertheless it became insecure for Jap ships a few days back and thereby lost its usefulness as the center of Jap south Pacific strength...

Students of the Iowa City high school, under the direction of Lola Hughes, dramatic instructor, will present a special program tonight at 9 o'clock. The program, THE FLAG OF THE U. S. A., is to enlighten the listening audience on the proper use and display of the flag and its history...

A Reasonable Request—

Much thought is being given to the problem of providing reemployment for men returning from military service. So far as possible, old jobs are being kept available. But this does not apply to one group in the service whose jobs were the result of years of training and individual effort...

When a doctor goes to war his job cannot be preserved for him. His patients must go elsewhere. When he returns, he must find new patients, a slow, tedious task that will not be made any easier by the fact that tens of thousands of other doctors released from the armed forces will be doing the same thing...

Wonderland, I am not a DA, and neither do I have a slighted roommate... Lewis Carroll is not my great grandfather, but that does not blind me to his virtues...

You were lucky in this latter respect... I can remember times when Frivol has put me under the Arrid ad...

Mrs. Edwin F. Lee to Speak On 'Information First' Today

Malay's Significance To Be Discussed at 4 In Senate Chamber

Mrs. Edwin F. Lee will speak in the senate chamber of Old Capitol this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the subject "Malaya's Mounting Significance." Mrs. Lee's lecture, sponsored by Information First, will be given this afternoon instead of Thursday afternoon, the regularly scheduled day for the weekly "Information First" lectures, in order to carry out the university's observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mrs. Lee is the wife of the resident Methodist bishop of the Singapore-Manila area. The territory covered by Bishop and Mrs. Lee includes the Dutch East Indies, the Philippine Islands, Malaya, and New Guinea, a geographical territory division which is known collectively as Malaysia.

Before the first world war, Bishop and Mrs. Lee served as church missionaries to Java and Malaysia, but returned to the United States at the outbreak of the war. Bishop Lee served as a chaplain in World War I.

In recent years they have travelled back and forth from Bishop Lee's episcopal area many times. They maintained a home in Singapore and one in Manila, and were in Singapore at the time of its evacuation. They evacuated their own home there upon four minutes notice, and were on the last ship to leave the port.

From Singapore the Lees took refuge in Australia until they were able to return to the United States.

Both Bishop and Mrs. Lee are from Iowa. She was graduated from Upper Iowa university, Fayette, in 1907, and last June was awarded an honorary Ph.D. degree from the same university because of her accomplishments since graduation.

Her lecture this afternoon will be followed by a period of questions and answers related to her topic: "Malaya's Mounting Significance."

Mrs. Lee will be introduced by Velma Martin, A2 of Laurens.

Negro Forum Directs Morning Chapel

The Negro forum, Negro student organization of the University of Iowa, is in charge of the programs broadcast over WSUI this week on Morning Chapel, the school of religion's daily devotional broadcast.

Yesterday Al McQuerry delivered the president's address, which was followed by a verse and prayer read by Anita Patterson. The program for the remainder of the week is as follows:

Tuesday—piano selection by Iva Mae Stewart, poem by Laurene Jones; Wednesday—Negro folklore poetry, read by Louise Smith, Negro spirituals by Laurene Jones. Friday—addresses by Beatrice Coppidge and Addie J. Scott; and Saturday—"Dark Symphony," monologue by Norma Hall.

Morning Chapel will not be broadcast Thursday morning because of WSUI's observance of Thanksgiving day.

IN THE KITCHEN—WITH MRS. IVER A. OPSTAD

MRS. IVER A. OPSTAD, 613 E. Bloomington street, is pictured above in her kitchen taking a sheet of cookies out of the oven of her attractive stove. Mrs. Opstad spends much of her time in her kitchen making cookies for servicemen's boxes. "I love to experiment on new cookie recipes, and they love to eat them," said Mrs. Opstad smilingly. Next to the stove is her icebox, very conveniently placed. One of the features in her kitchen is a French telephone which saves her many steps. "So often when the telephone rings my friends ask me if I weren't just tassing the phone when actually I am working in the kitchen and the phone is just handy," said Mrs. Opstad. Green and white are the main colors in the room with both the curtains and the linoleum done in these shades. Her red kitchen clock on the wall adds a dash of color to the scheme.

After your big Thanksgiving dinner no doubt many of you will be looking for recipes "easy" on the points. For that reason Mrs. Opstad suggests Barbecued Frankfurters which are delicious and low on points. The recipe called for catsup, but Mrs. Opstad uses tomato juice instead. Creamed potatoes are a good complement to this dish and can be put in the oven at the same time.

Barbecued Frankfurters
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tbs. fat
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. brown sugar
1 cup catsup or tomato juice
1/2 cup water
Dash of pepper
2 tbs. vinegar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 tbs. prepared mustard
1/2 cup chopped celery
12 frankfurters
Lightly brown onion in fat; add combined remaining ingredients except frankfurters, and simmer 30 minutes. Prick frankfurters with fork and arrange in baking dish. Pour sauce over them. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes.

Cranberry Salad Molds make a wonderful addition to this meal because the tartness contrasts with the richness of the meat," said Mrs. Opstad. Fruit dressing is especially desirable over this salad.

Cranberry Salad Molds
1 pkg. lemon jello
1 qt. cranberries
3 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup sugar
1 pkg. lemon jello
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup white grapes, diced
1/2 cup crushed and drained pineapple
Cook the berries, water and sugar together until the mixture is of a mushy consistency. About 5 minutes of rapid boiling is sufficient. Remove from fire, add jello, dissolve and let stand to cool. Add nuts, grapes and pineapple. Pour into molds and allow to set. Serve on lettuce with dressing.

To make this meal complete Mrs. Opstad suggests her One Crust Apple Pie for dessert. The pie could also be put in the oven with the meat and frankfurters. "This pie is like an ordinary apple pie except it has a custard over it that adds much flavor," said Mrs. Opstad. She inverts a pie plate over the apples in order to let them steam while in the oven.

One Crust Apple Pie
1 pie shell (uncooked)
Apples, slice thin, number depending upon size of pie shell
1/2 cup sugar
nutmeg
Prepare pie as you would for a two crust pie. Do not put on the top crust, however. Bake in hot oven until the crust is done. Reduce heat and put a cover over the apples so that they will be soft. Ten minutes before removing from oven, beat 2 or 3 eggs, add 1 tbs. cream for each egg and 1/4 cup sugar. Pour this mixture over the apples, return to oven until custard is set. May be served with or without whipping cream.

Very appropriate during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons are Candied Orange Peels. "I always make them this time of year and often I substitute grapefruit peel for variety," suggested Mrs. Opstad. She usually puts in a little green coloring with the grapefruit peels.

Candied Orange Peel
Peel of 2 large or 4 small oranges
1/2 cup water
1 cup sugar
Cut peel in strips. Put orange peel into enough water to cover and let come slowly to a boil. Drain and add cold water and repeat process. Repeat until peel has been heated in five waters. Cook sugar and water together for 5 minutes. Add peel and cook until syrup is absorbed. Stir carefully with fork toward the last, for it burns easily. Roll in granulated sugar. Spread to dry. Cookies are a favorite of Mrs. Opstad's and she says she finds herself always looking for new recipes. "Monkey Faces are lots of fun to make, and they are especially nice for mailing and for lunch boxes," concluded Mrs. Opstad. As the name implies, faces are made on the cookies with currants and raisins.

Monkey Faces
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar

Ideal I. C. Mother, Father to Be Picked

The ideal service father and mother of Iowa City will be presented on the stage at the opening night of the premiere showing of "Happy Land" Dec. 2 at the Englert theater.

Local winners will be awarded a $25 war bond and an opportunity to participate in a state contest. The winners of the state contest will be given an all-expense trip to any point in the United States where their son or daughter may be stationed, or a $500 war bond.

Persons may submit names of couples they think are qualified, to the Englert theater. Awards will be made on the basis of what the nominees' sons and daughters are doing in the army, navy, or marines, and what the parents are doing in the war effort at home.

More than 50 other Iowa towns and cities are presenting the world premiere of "Happy Land" simultaneously.

Local winners will be picked by a committee made up of Mayor Wilber J. Teeters, Prof. C. Woody Thompson, Rotary, Prof. Walter F. Loehwing, Kiwanis; Dr. Irving Boats, Lions; Mrs. W. J. White, American Legion auxiliary; Mrs. Edward Oldis, Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars; L. D. Wareham, chamber of commerce.

Issues Wedding Permit

Kenneth C. Kinsey, 20, of Riverside and Dorothy M. Nelson, 18, of Iowa City, were granted a marriage license yesterday by R. Nelson Miller, clerk of district court. Miller also issued a license Saturday afternoon to Lester Schmidt, 21, of Reeseville, Wis., and Dorothy Pennewell, 18, of Lowell, Wis.

Louise Axen Marries Donald L. Warner In Des Moines University Church of Christ

In a single ring ceremony in the chapel of the University Church of Christ in Des Moines, Louise Patricia Axen, daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Axen, 322 N. Van Buren street, became the bride of Donald L. Warner, chief storekeeper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Warner of Bondurant, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. L. C. Stanford officiated. Large palm leaves, baskets of white chrysanthemums and white tapers decorated the chapel and the altar. Special organ selections were played preceding and during the ceremony.

Bridal Party
Attending the couple were Florence Fillenworth of Iowa City, cousin of the bride, and Warner Romick of Des Moines, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Ushers were Harold Harley of Des Moines and Wallace Morrow of Warnen, Ohio.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, A. F. Fischer of Des Moines, chose a gown of white satin with long sleeves pointed over the wrists, a sweetheart neckline and a senior train. The fingertip veil was gathered to a coronet of white pearls. Her only jewelry was a gold locket of her mother's and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Miss Fillenworth was attired in a gown of blue net over blue taffeta. Her veil was of blue net tipped with pink roses and her corsage was also of pink roses.

Bride and Groom's Mothers
Mrs. Axen selected a dark blue sheer dress with black accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums and pink roses for the wedding. The bridegroom's mother chose a black suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony a dinner and reception for 20 members of the immediate families took place in the Fischer home. Succeeding the dinner the couple left for a week's wedding trip, after which they will be at home at 225 Chapman avenue, Coralville.

Mrs. Warner is a graduate of the college of commerce at the University of Iowa. Mr. Warner was graduated from Bondurant high school and the American Institute of Business in Des Moines. At present he is stationed with the Navy Pre-Flight school here.

A 10 percent reduction by consumers in the use of coal for heating, electricity and manufacturing gas would save a total of 24 million tons of coal, 75 million lamp bulbs and 1 1/2 million barrels of fuel oil a year.

Women of IOWA CITY

A Message from Your Governor

This call is addressed to every Iowan woman who can truly do more than she now is doing to speed the day of peace.

Some must hold the home together for the day when warring fathers will return. Some can serve best by working in war industries and agriculture.

Some have put on the uniform. Many more can. It is this last group we want to reach NOW.

I speak for the warring men of Iowa when I ask every Iowa woman, not already essentially engaged, to join the WAC and take over jobs that men are filling so that they may go on to work that women cannot do. LET'S GET IT OVER WITH—QUICK!

B. B. Nicholas
GOVERNOR OF IOWA

MORE WACS are needed at once for 155 types of Army jobs—such as dispatching planes, making maps, checking supplies, assisting in hospital laboratories. Every eligible Iowa woman is needed. You are needed—and without delay!

Are you an American citizen—over 20 and under 50 years of age? Are you without dependents, without children under 14? Then join the WAC at once!

Right now a new WAC company is being formed—of women from Iowa. Find out about joining this special group. Go to your nearest U.S. Army Recruiting Station. Or mail the coupon below. Do it today!

(If you are ineligible for the WAC because of age or family responsibilities, take over the job of an eligible woman and free her to join the WAC.)

Irish Still On Top, But Lose Caste

Sports Scribes No Longer Unanimous On 1st Place Choice

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, (AP) — Notre Dame defeated Iowa Pre-Flight Saturday in what Coach Frank Leahy called the greatest game of his coaching career, but the Irish lost caste with the football experts who voted in the weekly Associated Press poll to determine the country's ranking eleven.

Unanimous first-place choice two weeks ago and with only three of the voters ranking them below that glided spot last week, the Irish this week lost five first place tallies and were listed as far back as third by one sports writer.

Ninety-seven of the 102 tickets, however, agreed that the present Notre Dame team, chugging along with a winning streak of nine games this season, was the best. One voter marked his ballot for the Iowa Seahawks, two of them regarded Duke as the premier outfit and two others gave the distinction to Colorado college, unbeaten Rocky mountain king.

The Seahawks, second a week ago, retained that post despite their loss and even increased their voting aggregate. Notre Dame piled up 1,014 votes and the Seahawks 821 in the compilation which awards 10 points for each first place vote, nine for second, etc.

Purdue Loses Ground
Purdue, which struggled to a 7 to 0 verdict over Indiana, skidded from third to fourth and Michigan moved from fourth to third. As the midwest retained its stranglehold on the first half of the table. The two Big Ten clubs tied for their loop title this season.

Duke is fifth, with Navy and Army, opponents this Saturday in the annual service clash, following in that order. Next comes Northwestern, March Field and Del Monte Pre-Flight, the latter replacing Texas.

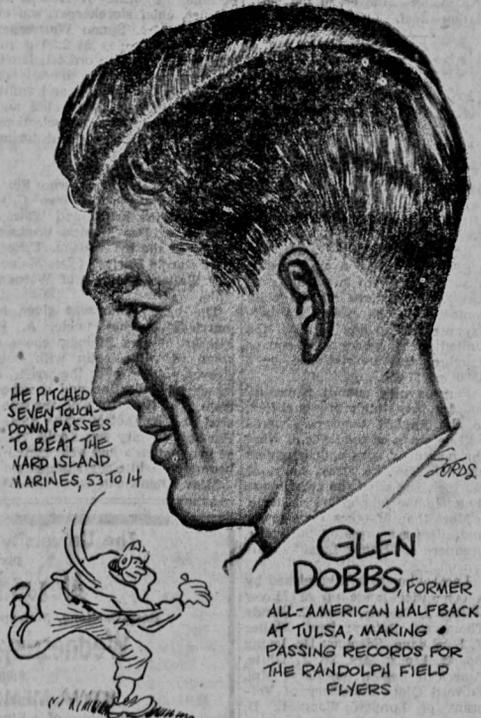

Of Notre Dame's nine victims, five are listed among the top ten teams while Georgia Tech, polished off by a 58 to 13 score on Oct. 2, is 14th. Great Lakes, final Notre Dame foe of the campaign, is the 21st team.

Dartmouth, beaten only by a single point in an early game with Pennsylvania, jumped from 20th place to 13th to create the greatest furore among the second grouping.

The leading teams, with 10 points for each first place vote, nine for second, etc., (first place votes in parentheses):

Top Ten	Points
Notre Dame (97)	1014
Iowa Pre-Flight (1)	821
Michigan	628
Purdue	548
Duke (2)	500
Navy	432
Army	410
Northwestern	197

Brizzolara, Layden Thrash Out Plans For National Grid League's Title Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Ralph Brizzolara, whose Chicago Bears hope to be host to the Washington Redskins in pro football's "world series" Dec. 19, was the only one of five invited club chieftains to confer with Commissioner Elmer Layden yesterday, but the two of them managed to thrash out plans for the National league's title game.

After a two and one-half hour conference they announced the ticket scale would be $4.40 for box seats, and $3.30 for reserved grandstand seats with 5,000 bleacher tickets at $1.65 to go on sale the day of the contest. The pass list will be suspended. The Bears will begin taking orders for reserved seats today.

Layden said he had contacted the heads of all teams still in the running for the eastern and western titles but that since the league offices actually are in charge of the championship affair, all matters were able to be worked out despite the absence of other club owners.

Brizzolara, acting boss of the Bears during the busy service of owner George Halas, emerged from the conference in a whimsical mood.

"You can say," he said, "that I came here under duress inasmuch as the Bears have not yet won the western championship and must beat or tie the Cardinals Sunday to do it." Then, with a rueful grin, he added:

"Moreover I came here slightly embarrassed after having our hides removed yesterday by the Washington Redskins." The Redskins scored a 21 to 7 upset over the Bears which prevented the Chicagoans from clinching the western title over Green Bay.

In event the Bears should be spilled by the Cards Sunday in their final game and the Packers tied, the Dec. 12 date is open for a western playoff, inasmuch as the Redskins have a belated league game that day with the New York Giants.

Onions will keep a long time without spoiling if dug when the tops are almost dry and then left in the sun for about an hour.

SPORTS TRAIL...

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The old professor was studying his ration book as his Monday morning class of football coaches entered the room. He seemed disappointed.

Old Professor—Hmm, I wanted to buy myself a nice steak but I seem to be just one point shy. Can anybody help me out?

Lieut. Don Faurot, Iowa Pre-Flight—Not me, professor. If I had a point I would have used it to get that tie I wanted, with Notre Dame. Anyway, Notre Dame has a great team and deserved to win. I'm sorry we couldn't get the tie after playing the Irish to a standstill. Frank Leahy has done a magnificent job and my hat is off to him.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame—The performance of our team, when it came from behind to defeat what I believe to be a great team, convinced me beyond doubt that it deserves to be ranked of championship caliber. When the going got tough, the boys got together than I believed them capable. I'm mighty proud to be the coach of such a fine group of American boys.

Old Professor—Take Mr. Leahy's temperature, someone, quick. He seems to be out of his head. I never heard him talk that way before. And his team still has a game to play yet.

Claude (Little Monk) Simons, Tulane—Speaking of temperature, boy, were we hot against L. S. U. Hotter'n a firecracker. In other words, just what I wanted for Christmas. Vanburen's poor condition undoubtedly hurt L. S. U.

Bernie Moore, Louisiana State—Yep, we've been invited to play in the Orange bowl. But we would have swapped all the bowl bids for a victory over Tulane. We missed Vanburen, and Tulane played a great game.

Old Professor—Mr. Lookabaugh, do you know what a passing fancy is?

Jim Lookabaugh, Oklahoma A & M—No sir, but I know what fancy passing is. Those 81 forward passes, 60 by Arkansas, had me dizzy but luckily the kiddies weren't as dizzy as I was. We felt it was the most spectacular game between the schools since the series opened in 1912.

John (Bud) Tomlin, Arkansas—Jim Lookabaugh has a rough team to be so young. Our spread formation passes clicked for 372 yards net but we couldn't punch it over. Penalties and officials' decisions cost us two touchdowns. We're looking toward Tulsa.

Old Professor—Mr. Young, finish this quotation: "To err is..."

Tom Young, North Carolina—Fatal, when you're playing against Duke, and we made a few. Our boys played well, but Duke had just too much, including reserves. Boy, was it a hot day!

Eddie Cameron, Duke—It was one of the hardest-fought games we've had and we had to work all the way to win. Milner, Gant, Luper and Baltisys played well, in fact, the entire squad did fine.

Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin—Speaking of fight, I have the greatest group of fighters I've ever seen. They've scored no victories in so long but you'd never know it by their play. Minnesota came back remarkably in the last three weeks and showed it against us.

Dr. Hauser, Minnesota—My boys used their heads Saturday, and they fought. There were many times when defeat could have stared us in the face if the boys hadn't remained calm and played smart football. Wisconsin showed a lot of fight and gave us all the battle we wanted.

Old Professor—Please quit chattering, Mr. Neely.

Jess Neely, Rice—Can't help it, professor. After Texas beat us 58 to 0 and I was asked for a statement, I wondered what they expected me to say after a game like that. After winning, I could talk all day. It was a game in

THE DAILY IOWAN SPORTS

Iowa Grid Results Conceal Real Picture Of Courage, Fight

Hawkeye Players Earned Admiration Despite Obstacles

Append a footnote to the won, lost, and tied results of Iowa's 1943 football season something to this effect "all-civilian squad of youngsters who carried on with war-time football under difficulties which caused hundreds of schools to give up the sport even before the season opened."

For the results of won one, lost six, and tied one and the bare scores of the games fall utterly to show the true picture of this campaign of courage, determination, and physical benefits by Hawkeye kids under the masterful coaching of "Slip" Madigan.

With no help from service trainees, the Hawkeyes played eight major games and in them won admiration of more Iowans than sometimes has been the case when victories were recorded in other years.

Among the feats were: beating Nebraska, 33-13, for the first Iowa win on Husker soil since 1918 and the biggest score run up by Iowa in the 32-game series; holding unbeaten and co-champion Purdue 7-7 for 48 minutes, before being worn down; tying Indiana, 7-7, and halting Bob Hoernschemeyer, U. S. No. 1 player in total offense.

Problems of shifting personnel harassed Coach Madigan all season, as service calls took players at intervals. Added to this was the fact that only three players, two Iowa letter men and one from Alabama, ever had played in an intercollegiate game prior to 1943.

Iowans produced a running attack which averaged 3.2 yards per trial, totalling 1,011 yards. On passing, the team gained 613 yards, completing 40 of 123, with 14 intercepted.

Bill Gallagher of Davenport, freshman fullback, led ground-gainers with 314 yards in 72 trials for a 4.2 average. Second honors went to Henry Terrell, Des Moines right halfback, with 213 in 64 for 4-yard average; and third was Jim Hudson, Pocahontas, 118 in 40 for 3.

Leading scorer was Roger Stephens of Waterloo, who specialized on the quarterback sneak. He made 24 points, three more than Bill Barbour's total of 21. Barbour, Mason City co-captain and right end, kicked 9 of 11 points after touchdown and booted two field goals, first scored by Iowa since 1938.

Stevens likewise led the forward passers, hitting 12 for 231 yards and Barbour was the best receiver for he caught 10 for 179 yards. Second in passing was Paul Glasener of Waterloo, who played in only five games, with 7 for 127; and the second-best receiver was Dave Danner of Iowa City, end, with 8 for 102 yards.

Some of the linemen did fine which you couldn't tell from one down to the next what would happen, but we were tickled to death to win it.

Leo (Dutch) Meyer, T. C. U.—The boys fought as hard as they could. Rice just beat us, that's all.

Old Professor—And that's all for the class today. I'm cutting the period short. There's no point in staying here, and if I don't get that point I don't get that steak, if you get the point. Good day, gentlemen.

Schweitzer Says...

Games to date R W T Pct.

Iowa saved herself from a complete shutout season Saturday by downing Nebraska, and thereby more than made up for the unhappy appearance of the other games. The Hawks would rather beat Nebraska than any other team except, of course, Minnesota, and so the victory was doubly appreciated in the home town.

The Seahawks made it hot for the Irish Saturday afternoon, but not quite hot enough, and so it looks as though Notre Dame has clinched the title of the nation's No. 1 football team. This will be the first time in years that the Irish have completed their suicide schedule undefeated, and this year's team represents probably the best the South Bend institution has produced since the days of the Four Horsemen.

As we predicted a couple of weeks ago, Louisiana State got the Orange Bowl bid. Her opponent has not yet been chosen, although it is our guess that Holy Cross has the inside track. L. S. U. dropped her third game in eight starts Saturday, losing to Tulane, 27-0. Earlier in the season, she lost to Georgia Tech 42-7. So it's easy to see that L. S. U. is a relatively weak team.

The Bowl Associations seem to be avoiding teams with service men, who can get off only 48 hours at a time, and that perhaps accounts for the picking of Louisiana's all-civilian team.

The ten top teams this week include four from the midwest, three from the east, and three from the south. Only one is a service team, although all of them are playing with the aid of some trainees stationed on their campuses. The top ten are:

1. Notre Dame
2. Duke
3. Iowa Pre-Flight
4. Michigan
5. Navy
6. Army
7. Northwestern
8. Texas
9. Dartmouth
10. Georgia Tech

jobs, despite lack of weight. Leader was Bill Baughman, center who played 478 out of a possible 480 minutes, and was a full-timer in seven games. Co-Captain Bob Liddy of Monticello was a full-timer at right guard in five games; and Harry Frey of Fairfield, the 176-pound left tackle, was three times a 60-minute man.

Coach Madigan, hired for one season when Dr. Eddie Anderson entered the army medical corps, developed players in remarkable fashion, despite handicaps. He won recognition for his defensive tactics which were widely copied by other midwest coaches.

Hawklets to Open Cage Season Friday

Meet Washington Here; Coach Merten Has Large Squad

City high's 1943-1944 basketball season will open this week, as the Little Hawk basketball team meets Washington here Friday night. With no regulars left from last year, Coach Francis Merten has had to build up an entire new team.

Reporting for varsity basketball this year were about 37 boys who have worked out nights after school for several weeks now. Yesterday, in practice the squad was cut to 22 players, which still leaves a large working squad.

At the present time the City high five consists of three letter men of last year, who, however, were subs on the team. George (Moose) Mellicker will start at center, while Don Truimpf and Bob Hein, both of whom excelled in football this fall, will be the first team guards in the game with Washington.

At the forward posts will be Wayne Lacinia, who played on the sophomore basketball team last year, and Don Lay, who because of a broken finger last year couldn't play basketball. Like Truimpf and Hein, Lay also played football, being one of the outstanding backs on the Hawklet eleven.

The Little Hawk players have met two outside teams in practice games so far this season, and in spite of their inexperience played good basketball.

Pre-Flighters Rest After Saturday's Tilt

The Seahawk reserves were put through a fulltime workout yesterday while members of the regular squad rested after their spectacular exhibition against Notre Dame Saturday.

With the exception of Dick Todd, who fractured his jaw, no one else was seriously injured in Saturday's game. However, Frank Maznicki, star right halfback, will also be among those absent from the playing list this next weekend when the Seahawks conclude their season against Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Otto Graham Selected Most Valuable Player By Illini Gridders

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP)—Otto Graham, who has concluded three years of conference football competition at Northwestern with an all-time Western conference passing record, yesterday was selected by his teammates as the most valuable player on the 1943 Wildcat eleven.

In a total of 25 games, Graham completed 157 passes in 321 attempts for 2,162 yards. This year in eight games he completed 32 out of 63 for 491 yards and four touchdowns. He also carried the ball 87 times and gained 355 net yards, averaging 38 yards on punts and placedkicked seven extra points in nine tries.

Phi Rho Sigma Tops Football Intramurals

With one week left in the tough football intramurals, Phi Rho Sigma, medical fraternity, is leading by a wide margin. The tournament, which ends Saturday, was organized and planned under the direction of Athletic Director E. G. (Dad) Schroeder early in October.

Director Schroeder said the men have shown an active interest in the tourney and have themselves taken care of all details, including the selection of officials and playing field. He stated that he is very pleased to see them show such cooperation and real interest in the project.

Ohio State's Airport Named for Don Scott

Honoring Ohio State University's one hundredth former student to give his life in World War II, the board of trustees this week named the university's new 400-acre air field Don Scott Airport.

The young U. S. Army Air Force captain who died in a crash while piloting a bomber over England on October 1 attended Ohio State for nearly four years prior to his enlistment in 1941. At the university he won high honors as athlete, student, and leader in activities.

One week after Captain Scott's death, a son, Don, was born to Mrs. Scott in Columbus.

Pictured above are Captain Scott, Mrs. Scott and baby Don, and Scott Airport as it will look when completed. Two of the buildings are now in use, and bids have been asked on several others. The U. S. Navy uses the field in training air cadets.

The airport, together with new curricula in the School of Aviation, is directed toward making Ohio State the No. 1 U. S. college training center for post-war aviation, according to President Howard L. Bevis.

Dedication of the airport, seven miles north of the campus, will occur next spring, with high officials of government and aviation industry participating.

Noted Singer Gives Concert Dec. 1 in Union

Alexander Kipnis, noted Russian-American basso, will present a concert Dec. 1 in the Iowa Union at 8 p. m. Tickets will be available Monday for university students presenting their identification cards, and for the general public who wish to buy reserved seats.

Kipnis, who made his debut in the Metropolitan opera in 1940, was born in southern Russia. He attended the conservatory of music in Warsaw and was graduated with high honors as a conductor. Realizing that his prime interest lay in singing rather than in conducting, he journeyed to Berlin, where he took intensive vocal training until the outbreak of the World War I. Because he had been living in Germany, he could not return to his native land, but his fame spread throughout central Europe and he was in demand for concerts in Italy, France, Belgium and the Scandinavian countries.

Kipnis first came to America as star of a Wagnerian Festival company, and was immediately engaged by the Chicago Civic Opera company, where he sang the principal bass roles for nine seasons. Although he has traveled widely since, this noted basso considers America his homeland and married the talented daughter of a Chicago music professor.

Included in the selections Kipnis will present in his concert here will be the "Catalogue Aria" from "Don Giovanni" by Mozart; "Aria" from "Simone Boccanegra" by Verdi; and "The Pilgrim" by Tchaikovsky. Among the lighter numbers will be "Little Jack Horner" (with apologies to Handel) by Diack; "Old Clothes and Fine Clothes" by Shaw and a group of selections by Brahms.

From 69 associations in 1938, the cooperatives of China now number 1,590 with 22,680 members, with 10 times that number directly benefited.

Lyman C. Burdick, 47, manager of the Iowa City branch of the Hutchinson Ice Cream company for 22 years, died in Mercy hospital shortly after 6:15 last night following a heart attack.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Burdick was a member of the American Legion as well as the Rotary club, Elks lodge, Masonic lodge, Order of Eastern Star, White Shrine and the Methodist church.

Surviving him are two daughters, Margaret, a student in the university, and Barbara, in grade school; one son, Edwin, in high school, and his father, Edwin A. Burdick. His wife died five years ago.

The funeral services have been tentatively planned for Wednesday afternoon. The remains are in the Beckman funeral home.

Third University Lecture of Series at 8 P. M.

Carl Hambro Speaks Tonight

'How to Win Peace' To Be Lecture Topic Of Norway Leader

Carl J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament and of the League of Nations assembly, will discuss "How to Win the Peace" tonight at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union as the third in the series of university lectures.

Tickets remaining undistributed are now available to the general public at the main desk in the Union.

Dr. Hambro, statesman, journalist and leader in world affairs, is the youngest man ever to be elected president of the Norwegian parliament.

He has just written a book published under the same title as his lecture here, pointing out the fatal failures of the League of Nations and explaining how a dependable peace can be won and held for the future.

Dr. Hambro has only recently returned from a flight to England, where he conferred with government officials on current and future policies and plans. He has declared in the past that "no peace at all is possible until the totalitarian aggressors are completely defeated."

"There must be an armistice or a preliminary peace dictated and signed by those men who are responsible for the aggression," he said.

"Most important is that the terms of the peace be thoroughly understood, especially in Germany and Japan. There must be no such feeling 10 years after the peace as the Versailles treaty provoked."

Dr. Hambro has even more firmly stated, "Aggressor peoples must know that their day is done and that the civilized world will never permit such national outlawry again."

A strong advocate of the rights of all nations, he became president of the League of Nations in 1939 and at the same time chairman of the supervisory committee, in which position he is to continue for the duration of the war.

Dr. Hambro has the reputation of being the most hard-working as well as the most versatile man in public life in Norway—and of being his country's ablest speaker. He was editor-in-chief of the leading conservative newspaper, president of The Associated Press of Norway and is a member of the Nobel prize committee.

Author of more than 20 books, since coming to the United States he has written, in addition to the recent "How to Win the Peace," "I Saw It Happen in Norway," the story of the German invasion.

Dean Charles W. Gilkey of the chapel of the University of Chicago spoke to professional and student religious leaders of the University of Iowa after a luncheon held in Hotel Jefferson yesterday.

He spoke to the group of his experiences as leader in the Christian Mission on World Order, which has sent representatives to the main cities of the nation during the month of November to describe the work of the organization.

Dean Gilkey's outstanding impression is that the country at large is considerably ahead of Congress in its desire for some kind of organized political world unity.

Remarkable Leadership—

'The Play's the Thing'—Prof. E. C. Mabie

—23rd Year Here

By DOROTHY KLEIN

"The play's the thing," to Prof. Edward C. Mabie, as he rolls up his shirt sleeves, runs his hands through his hair and directs a rehearsal.

"Now, people, this thing has got to snap!" shouts the director of the University theater and head of the speech department.

Passers-by who linger in the door of the auditorium to watch a play being shaped under his skillful hands see a deep-voiced, powerful man who radiates energy and vitality.

Born in Wisconsin, Professor Mabie received both his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Dartmouth. Following his graduation he taught speech at his alma mater. He was director of dramatics at Illinois Wesleyan and the University of Kentucky.

In 1920 he came to the University of Iowa, and in the following 23 years built the dramatic arts department into the coordinated program it is today.

When he came here, dramatic expression was confined to senior class plays and various literary societies, without any co-ordinated program, but Professor Mabie created a "producing plant" into which the early groups united for superior guidance in classes of dramatic production.

From these units the combined classes in acting evolved, and it was soon possible to present a much higher type of work. Not long after the formation of this specialized producing group, Professor Mabie began to hunt for original scripts—plays of the region which might chronicle the life and passions of its people.

Today this theater—physical and creative—attests to the sincerity of this man's vision and leadership. The department of speech now offers courses covering every phase of dramatic art. Over 45 original plays have already been produced.

Probably the greatest honor ever accorded Professor Mabie was the gift of $32,500 to the University theater by the Rockefeller foundation.

President Walter Jessup accepted this gift for the university, saying, "This splendid gift is only further evidence of the significant work which has been done at Iowa under the remarkable leadership of Professor Mabie, and means that the university has an opportunity to maintain its leadership in the arts of the theater."

Last March, a Theater for Victory council was organized in Washington, and Professor Mabie was appointed national chairman. This council is a mobilization of all the community and educational theaters of the country for war service.

PULLING THE CURTAIN on opening night is Prof. E. C. Mabie, director of the University theater and head of the speech department. Professor Mabie is completing his 23rd year with the University.

Former Students— Serving the Nation

—Former Iowa Citizens

A graduate of the college of dentistry in 1929, Capt. Philip A. Hahn, a staff officer at the Brooks field dental clinic, Brooks field, Tex., was recently promoted from the rank of lieutenant. His wife resides in Burlington, where Captain Hahn practiced prior to his enlistment.

William C. Stewart of Chariton was recently appointed a naval aviation cadet and has been transferred to the naval air training center at Pensacola, Fla., where he will receive intermediate flight training. A graduate of the university, he received his B.A. degree in 1941 and his J.D. degree in December, 1942.

Pvt. Dale Vorbrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vorbrich, 1907 E. Court street, is in a rest camp in New Zealand where he has been recovering from malaria since last March. With a fleet marine force he has been in the south Pacific area a year.

His brother-in-law, Corp. Ivan H. Goddard, is with a finance dispensing unit in Ireland. Both are former students of the University.

Aviation Cadet Ted Parks, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Parks, 115 N. Clinton street, is now receiving primary flight training at Thunderbird field II, Paradise Valley, Phoenix, Ariz. Cadet Parks, a former student of the university, entered the air corps last February and received his basic training at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. Before his transfer to Phoenix, he was stationed with pre-flight students at Santa Ana, Calif.

Capt. Richard Boyles, who was with the intelligence division of the army air forces in the Aleutians for 13 months, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed X. Boyles, 229 Melrose court, last week. A graduate of the college of law in 1931, Captain Boyles was a counsel for the Federal Land bank in Omaha before he enlisted in the air corps. His wife accompanied him here and will go with him to his new station.

Jeanne E. Howorth, Rosalind R. Fisher and Ruth Heggen, former students of the University of Iowa, will leave soon from England to serve as Red Cross field workers in war areas.

Miss Howorth, of Atlantic, a staff assistant, was an employee of WSUI after her graduation from the university in 1940. Miss Fisher received her B.A. degree from the University of Iowa in 1933 and her M.A. degree from Miami university in 1939. Prior to working as assistant program director with the Red Cross, she taught at various high schools and at Miami university in Oxford, Ohio, and Austin junior college in Austin, Minn.

Also a staff assistant, Miss Heggen was graduated from the university in 1939. She was employed by radio station KWNO at Winona, Minn., and by various advertising agencies.

Lawrence J. Greenwald, former university student and Iowa City resident, has recently been promoted to the rank of captain, at Hill field, Ogden, Utah, where he is commanding officer of an air base squadron.

Captain Greenwald received his M.A. degree at the university in 1933, and was later principal of both Roosevelt and Longfellow schools prior to his army service.

Raymond C. Flake, Lone Tree, is serving with the navy seabees as a painter, first class, in construction work in Europe. He enlisted in the construction battalion of the navy in March, 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pelzer, 836 S. Dodge street, have received word that their son, John, has been promoted from the rank of lieutenant to that of captain.

Captain Pelzer, stationed at the army air base in Waco, Tex., in the army dental corps, is a 1936 graduate of the college of dentistry.

Employment Plan Information Available

Copies of the Iowa City area employment stabilization plan are available at the local United States employment office in the Community building or at the chamber of commerce office in the Hotel Jefferson.

Outlines of the plan, which was announced several weeks ago, have been mailed to employers of the larger firms in Iowa City. Anyone else wishing to obtain this information may contact the employment bureau or the chamber of commerce by telephone or mail.

Book by N. C. Meir Ready for Distribution

Professor's Work, 'Military Psychology' First of Its Kind

"Military Psychology," first book of its kind in the English language, written by Prof. Norman C. Meier of the psychology department, is now ready for distribution. The 395-page volume, which sets forth in non-technical language some of the common ground on which military affairs and psychology meet, is being published by Harper and Brothers.

Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear states in the foreword of the book: "I suggest that this book be studied and employed by statesmen, educators, other leaders, and our good citizens in order that they may perfect their understanding of the causes and conditions of war and their personal and collective obligation during a time of international conflict."

Among the chapters are those on group conflict, psychological aspects of warfare, psychological preparation for combat, adaptation of skills to military needs, leadership and coordination, and adjustment to combat and stress.

Also Professor Meier has given suggestions for handling interviews, requirements for miscellaneous services, and a rating scale for candidates for officer training schools.

'America Tomorrow' To Be Heard Tonight; First of Radio Series

The first in a series of eight weekly radio forums entitled "America Tomorrow," presented under the guidance of the United States chamber of commerce, will be heard over the Blue network from 9:30 to 10 o'clock tonight.

The question "Should government war controls be continued after the war?" will be discussed during the first program by Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States chamber of commerce; William Green, president of the American federation of labor; Albert Goss, master of the national grange, and the Hon. Harry Truman, United States senator from Missouri.

The purpose of these forums, which were instigated by Eric Johnston, is to discover a basis of agreement on vital postwar questions confronting the United States.

Tri Delt Trio Sings At Founders' Dinner

A Founder's Day dinner was held Sunday evening in the chapel house by alumni, pledges and actives of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

"The Tri Delt Trio" composed of Lois Grissell, A4 of Cedar Rapids; Terry Noe, A3 of Dayton, Ohio, and Janice Tatum, A3 of Nora Springs, presented several numbers. Audrey Ross, A1 of Des Moines, entertained with piano selections.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Pelzer, 836 S. Dodge street, have received word that their son, John, has been promoted from the rank of lieutenant to that of captain.

Captain Pelzer, stationed at the army air base in Waco, Tex., in the army dental corps, is a 1936 graduate of the college of dentistry.

City Council Hears Suggestion For I. C. Youth Dry Night Club

A proposal for a "dry night club" for high school students on weekend nights at the recreation center was presented last night to the city council by J. E. Frame, director of the recreation center.

"The problem that exists among teen-age students for weekend entertainment might be met in setting up an exclusive club for these youngsters at the center," Frame said.

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters submitted the proposal to the entire council for special attention at their next meeting, Dec. 12.

Director Frame called attention to the publicity given recently to the dry night club in Ft. Madison and to various other clubs which have met with success.

"The program would be set up with adult supervisors chosen probably from the parents of the participants at the center. "Juke" box music on regular Friday and Saturday club nights and an orchestra once a month is the possible music plan under consideration. To prevent a need for youngsters staying out later than the hours provided at the center, refreshments will be served during the evening.

Most of the student participants would be above the curfew age of 16 years and the hour of closing might be set up to 11 p. m.

Frame emphasized that communities already sponsoring such programs have the sanction of the parents and school advisers and results have been favorable.

Further details concerning hours, Sunday activities and specific program will be handled by the council.

Mayor Teeters announced that the Red Cross has requested the council to find new rooms for their activities, as they are dissatisfied with the rooms in the Johnson county bank building.

Clema Hatterman Weds Robert Comstock In Single Ring Evening Ceremony Oct. 30

At 8 p. m. Oct. 30 in the chapel of St. Paul's Lutheran church here, Clema Hatterman, daughter of Mrs. Ann Hatterman of Portsmouth, became the bride of Robert Comstock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Comstock of Logan. The Rev. L. C. Wuerffel officiated at the single ring ceremony.

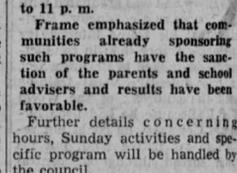

Attending the couple were Sally Reiniger of Des Moines and Mary Wyatt of Uniontown, Pa.

The bride was attired in a pastel yellow street-length wool dress styled with a high neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a corsage of red rosebuds, and her only jewelry was a necklace given to her by the bridegroom.

Mrs. Comstock was graduated from Logan high school, and she attended the University of Iowa for two years. At the present time she is employed in Strub's department store.

Mr. Comstock, also a graduate of Logan high school, is a junior in the college of engineering at the University of Iowa.

The couple is residing at 419 E. Washington street.

Opinion On and Off Campus

QUESTION: WHO DO YOU THINK WILL BE THE REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES FOR PRESIDENT IN 1944?

John Alexander, E1 of North English: "Wendell Willkie for the Republicans. It's almost a foregone conclusion that Roosevelt will be drafted by the Democrats. Many conservative Republicans won't want Willkie, but he is the only man who stands a chance against Roosevelt."

Doris Waze, A3 of Cedar Rapids: "I don't think Roosevelt will run for a fourth term. I don't know whom the Democrats will put up. It might be Hull, Dewey or Willkie will probably be up for the Republicans."

Leah Anderson, A1 of Crawfordville: "Thomas Dewey or Bricker for the Republicans. President Roosevelt for the Democrats."

Frank Fryauf, manager of luggage shop: "The Democrats will probably try to get Roosevelt back if he'll accept. I don't know who the Republicans will choose."

Mary Jean Herman, A2 of South Bend, Ind.: "Roosevelt for the Democrats, definitely; Willkie, probably, for the Republicans."

Robert MacDonald, E1 of Jefferson: "Willkie and Roosevelt."

Pvt. Elbert Corbin, of Moab, Utah, basic engineer in A. S. T. P.: "Dewey and Roosevelt. I don't think Willkie can possibly make it."

Marilyn Forbes, A2 of Mason City: "Hanford MacNider for the Republicans; Roosevelt for the Democrats."

Doris Marie Scott, A3 of Sterling, Ill.: "Dewey will be the Republican candidate. I think Roosevelt will run again if we are still at war."

Mrs. Lyle Eckhardt, housewife: "Roosevelt for the Democrats; Dewey for the Republicans."
