250 Bombers Strike Rabaul In Solomons

20 Enemy Fighters Shot Down; Seven Probably Destroyed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Saturday (AP)—More than 250 bombers and fighters, the largest raiding force ever assembled from new allied bases in the Solomons islands, struck Rabaul's Vunakanau and Toba airdromes Wednesday in the heaviest raid on that key New Britain Japanese stronghold in months, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Of the 50 enemy fighters that rose to intercept the three lightning-like strikes, 20 were shot down and seven more probably destroyed. We lost two planes. Ninety-eight tons of explosives were dumped on the two airfields and adjacent dispersal areas. Many direct hits were scored on gun positions, runways and buildings.

Bulletin
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor (AP)—Coronado bombers of fleet air wing two struck Wake island for the second straight day while warships of the Pacific fleet and army planes continued their relentless pounding of Japanese-held Marshall islands, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced yesterday.

Heavy divebombers and fighters of the Seventh American army air force dropped more than a hundred tons of explosives on unnamed atolls in the Marshalls Thursday without drawing any fighter opposition.

The announcement did not say whether any planes were lost by anti-aircraft fire.

Likewise, there was no mention of damage inflicted at Wake, nor whether air opposition had been encountered there. The announcement merely said "we suffered no loss" at Wake.

It was the 13th time Wake had been attacked since the Japanese captured it from a heroic little band of American marines more than two years ago.

The new aerial blow against Rabaul raised to more than 110 the number of enemy planes probably destroyed over the New Britain base during February.

Approximately 1,200 enemy dead have been counted on the trails leading northward to the Sairo from the tip of the Huon peninsula, New Guinea, MacArthur said. The juncture of American and Australian forces southeast of Sairo was announced yesterday.

Four hundred died of wounds, 400 of disease and 400 of starvation since Jan. 21, showing the "utter collapse which at the end overwhelmed the trapped enemy forces."

Rome Struggle 'Very Tense'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president's description of the surging and bitter struggle for the Rome beachhead today as very tense capped a series of less official indications that the allied position there is serious.

However, authorities here gave no indication that they consider the beachhead struggle hopeless. They look for better weather to assist the allied cause although such hopes were dashed temporarily today by news that allied warplanes in the area had been grounded by a blinding rain storm.

During Thursday forenoon the weather was clear, and allied planes over the embattled area were twice as numerous as the previous day. Moreover they met negligible enemy aerial opposition.

But the Anglo-American forces are clearly on the defensive, and there is no disposition in Washington to minimize the chance that a hard blow by the Nazis through the defense line could with luck and power cut the beachhead into segments and might even succeed in eliminating it.

Mr. Roosevelt at his press conference called attention to the fact that the allies still control the air and the sea in Italy.

Willkie Asserts Need For 'Non-Malicious' Leader, National Unity

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—"We need a new leader; a leader with malice toward none," Wendell L. Willkie asserted in a speech prepared for delivery and broadcast (CBS) at a Lincoln day mass meeting Friday night.

Confident that he again will receive the Republican nomination for president—he made that prediction at a railroad station appearance at Baker, Ore., Wednesday night—Willkie in his speech urged the Republican party against making blunders which he said the Democratic party made in 1864.

Destroys Itself
At that time, he asserted, the Democratic party "all but destroyed itself purely by allowing itself to become a catch-all for groups of discord and discontent. The result was something that the American people could not stomach."

Need New Leader
"We need a new leader. A leader who does not hold in his mind bitter or triumphant memories of past conflicts. A leader who does not think of a nation as made up of groups of people who can be played against each other to insure his continuing power. A leader who recognizes that all groups are an essential part of America. A leader with malice toward none."

"For as Lincoln so well knew, malice is the very essence of disunity. And make no mistake about it, we cannot survive as a nation divided against itself."
"Disunity has been the Nazi game, and even if we beat Hitler we can still lose the war if we lay ourselves open, by disunity at home, to conquest by the Nazi spirit."

Ohio Governor Asks For Two-Term Limit

WASHINGTON (AP)—John W. Bricker, hitting at Democratic talk of a fourth term for President Roosevelt, called yesterday for constitutional amendment limiting White House tenure to a maximum of eight years.

Closing out a three-day national capital visit, aimed frankly at friends at advancing his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, the Ohio governor addressed some 400 newsmen and guests at a National Press club luncheon. Then, declining to go "off the record," he submitted to question as to his views on government and politics.

24 Persons Die in Transport Plane Crash; Victims Still in Mississippi After 15 Hours

MEMPHIS (AP)—A giant American airlines plane crashed into the choppy Mississippi river midnight Thursday, carrying 24 persons to their deaths in the worst blow to civilian aviation since 1940.

Fifteen hours after the tragedy, the job of lifting the big transport—probably still holding the bodies of its victims—was just getting underway in the 22-foot channel. Parts of the fuselage and a wing, along with smaller pieces, were recovered with grappling hooks, but the major work awaited heavy salvage equipment being provided by U. S. army engineers.

Twelve of the 21 passengers were members of the armed service—one of them a WAC. In addition, three crew members lost their lives.

Yank Planes Hit Frankfurt

Swarming Fighters Down 32 Enemies; Lose Five Bombers

LONDON (AP)—The greatest number of American fighter sorties ever made from British bases was flown yesterday in support of another mighty Flying Fortress smash at Frankfurt and other targets in western Germany and renewed attacks by Liberators and Marauders on the coast of northern France.

Thirty-five enemy planes were destroyed during the day's big operations by the Americans and all but three of them were victims of the swarm of escorting fighters. Five U. S. bombers and 15 fighters, one of them British, were lost.

Over 700 Fighters
In describing the record work-out by Thunderbolts, Lightnings and Mustangs the army did not specify the number of fighters in the air, but it must have exceeded the 700 which accompanied a record force of 800 bombers on the Jan. 29 attack on Frankfurt, important manufacturing and communications center of southwest Germany.

The increasing numerical strength of American escort planes has been particularly noticeable in the number of kills credited to fighters on their last few missions.

On Thursday's 450-mile strike at Brunswick they destroyed 55 Nazi interceptors, a record bag for a single day, and in the last six major operations have accounted for 130 of the 177 enemy aircraft destroyed.

'Unprecedented Scale'
A Berlin broadcast last night referring to the Brunswick attack said "American fighter escort was on an unprecedented scale."

The U. S. daylight raiders, making their second attack in four days on the southwestern German metropolis, encountered relatively weak fighter opposition, but heavy flak, a communique announced.

The announcement pointed out that it was the 11th operation in 14 days by the strategic airforce. Following up Thursday's 450-mile strike at Brunswick, the assault gave new evidence of the punch built up by the Eighth U. S. airforce here.

Three of the German planes knocked down were the victims of gunners in the Fortresses and 32 fell to the swarm of American Thunderbolts, Lightnings and Mustangs which furnished an escort.

Supporting Spitfires
In addition Royal Canadian and other allied Spitfires flew supporting sweeps and two enemy planes were shot down by Norwegian pilots.

Military objectives in northern France also were attacked during the day by American Liberators and Marauders and by RAF and allied Mosquitos with fighters on various types providing an escort.

The allied announcement of 20 planes lost in the day's operations was in contrast to a claim by the German-controlled Rome radio that 136 British and American aircraft had been downed during the Frankfurt raid.

The Welsh parliamentary party had sponsored a movement to confer on her the title of Princess of Wales.

Savage, All-Out Battle Rages On Beachhead South of Rome

Russians Capture Rail Center of Shepetovka

Other Red Troops Force Trapped Nazis Into 'Ring of Death'

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—The Red army yesterday captured the Ukrainian railway center of Shepetovka, a distributing point for German reserves during the last two years, Moscow announced today, while far to the east other Russian troops forced trapped Nazi units back into a 20 square mile "ring of death" and killed 2,600 of their dwindling forces.

Large quantities of war material and many prisoners were taken in the capture of Shepetovka where the Germans, aided by fresh reserves, an assault force of 120 tanks and armored trains, struggled vainly to hold the town.

Near Vital Line
Not only is Shepetovka on the mainline from Berdichev to Warsaw, but from it two other lines lead into Rumania and Hungary. It's less than 60 miles north of the last German supply railroad to the Dnieper bend—the Odessa-Lwow line.

Both the Moscow midnight bulletin and a Russian war correspondent's account, recorded by the Soviet monitor, gave details of the capture announced earlier by Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin in a special order of the day.

Large Nazi Base
These accounts said Shepetovka was a large German supply base and important stronghold in the Nazi defense system. Armored trains shuttled in and out to cover approaches from the north and west. The Russians first took the Germans in the rear and from the west while other units attacked head-on the strongest fortifications in the east. Artillery and mortars ground down the opposition, German counter-attacks were beaten and the town was regained.

Stalin, addressing Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin, commander of the first Ukrainian front, praised the troops and ordered a Moscow victory salute of 12 salvos from 124 guns in celebration.

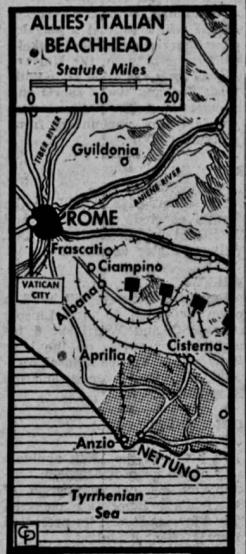

Pose New Threat
Shepetovka is 25 miles east of the pre-war Polish border and 115 miles north of the Rumanian frontier. The advance posed a new threat to Rumania and may also be part of a general widening of the Russian salient into old Poland, now extending about 90 miles across the frontier on an 80-mile front between Dombrovitsa and Lutsk.

Two hundred miles to the east the Russians not only captured ten more towns but squeezed into a smaller corridor the remnants of what was once ten Nazi divisions estimated at more than 100,000 men.

A Soviet aerial blockade over the area brought down 25 more German planes endeavoring to take supplies to the trapped divisions.

Senate Bans Food Subsidies

Bill Goes to House; Expect Approval, Presidential Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shouting down a compromise food stamp plan and counter-proposals to relax wage controls, the senate approved by a vote of 43 to 28 Friday a flat ban against government payment of subsidies to hold down consumer food prices.

The measure now goes to the house which is expected to approve senate amendments and send the bill along to the White House where a presidential veto almost certainly awaits it. The real test on continuation of subsidies will come then on the question of overriding Mr. Roosevelt's veto.

As passed by the senate, the bill would ban payment of consumer subsidies after June 30. Through such payments, the government has "rolled back" butter prices five cents a pound and cut prices of some meats three or four cents a pound.

Other commodities under consumer subsidies, directly or indirectly, include coffee, flour and milk. Currently, they are costing about $1,000,000,000 a year.

The house approved a subsidy ban last November by a vote of 278 to 117—more than the two-thirds vote required to override a veto. If Mr. Roosevelt rejects the bill, the question of overriding will be up to the house first.

Propose $500,000,000
The compromise "stamp plan" was sponsored by Senators Aiken (R-Vt) and La Follette (Prog-Wis) and argument over it consumed most of Friday's session. They proposed $500,000,000 a year expenditure on a program whereby families with low incomes would be given stamps good for food purchases—in effect subsidizing them but not persons of larger income.

Before the final vote, the senate also beat down, 53 to 17, an amendment by Senator Clark (D-Mo) which would have banned subsidies of all kinds, including "support floor prices" on corn, cotton, sugar beets and other farm commodities.

30-Year-Old Ship Afloat Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. battleship Oklahoma, capsized in the Japanese sneak bombing raid on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, is afloat again, the navy reported last night.

The 30-year-old battleship, blasted by Japanese bombs early in the Sunday morning attacks, has been righted, the navy announced, "after an interval in dry-dock during which repairs to her hull were made."

The navy report did not disclose where the latest 29,000 ton "addition" to the fleet now is operating but only stated that she "is once more afloat."

'American U-Boats Sink Twelve More Jap Vessels'—Knox

Bill Goes to House; Expect Approval, Presidential Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—Destruction of 12 more Japanese vessels by American submarines was announced yesterday by Secretary of the Navy Knox.

"This is a pretty good bag of enemy ships sunk by our submarines," Knox said in distributing a navy communique at a news conference.

584 Ships Sunk
The sinking brings to 584 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged by submarines since the war started. Included in the "pretty good bag" were three transports, two large tankers, six freighters and a large auxiliary ship. All were sent to the bottom in Pacific and far east waters.

The sinkings cut still farther into the Japanese supply lines which have been trying to keep materials moving to enemy garrisons in the Pacific.

Die of Starvation
Knox reported that in many instances Japanese garrisons left on scattered islands are "dying of starvation." He specifically referred to islands in the Marshall group in the mid-Pacific where American occupation of Kwajalein has cut off several other enemy bases in the group, and to Bougainville, saying that "little food grows on those islands and they have to supply them."

F. D. R. Announces Domestic Oil Supply Insufficient for Military, Future Demands

WASHINGTON (AP)—The comprehensive statement on United States plans and negotiations for foreign oil development would be forthcoming within a few days.

Stettinius said the discussions would center on near eastern areas where the British and Americans among the allies have a primary interest.

Interior Secretary Ickes announced the pipeline plans a week ago, saying the cost of the 1,250-mile project would be $130,000,000 to $165,000,000. He said it was designed to provide a standing reserve of a billion barrels of oil for use by the army and navy on "very favorable terms."

Senator Moore (R., Okla.) contended that the secretary had no authority for the Arabian project.

Fifth Army Renews Attack In Rain, Sleet

Allied Troops Meet Fierce Hand-to-Hand Combat; Heavy Losses

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers (AP)—Attacking during a wild storm that swept the battlefield with deluges of rain, Fifth army troops fighting on the Anzio beachhead were reported last night to have advanced slightly in fierce hand-to-hand battles with the Germans in the Carroceto area.

A dispatch from Norman Clark, representing the combined British press, said the allies, who had been reported hard-pressed by numerically superior German forces, "returned to the attack yesterday morning" and advanced in the Carroceto area during the day.

When the attack began, allied artillery laid down a heavy barrage during a gale that reached hurricane force, uprooting trees and accompanied by rain turning the country side into fields of mud.

Clark said the Germans were offering bitter resistance "defying calls of surrender and are only being ousted by the grenade and bayonet."

Further south in the Cassino battle area a dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Lynn Heinenzler said American doughboys fighting in rain, hail and sleet were inching their way up the hills overlooking Cassino "in a gallant effort to bring a quick end to the bloody house-to-house fighting in the shambles of Cassino below, and to break through to highway 6, the road to Rome in an effort to relieve the hard-pressed Anzio beachhead troops."

In the town itself American troops were reported to have moved forward slightly. Losses on both sides in the bitter fighting were reported heavy.

The limited allied shift to the initiative, as reported by the British correspondent, followed reports of heavy German attacks in which the enemy had claimed the allies were ousted from the Carroceto (Aprilia) area.

The Germans were taking advantage of the blinding rain and wind storms which grounded allied aerial support to hammer the exposed beachhead at different points. Large numbers of tanks were reported being employed by the enemy as mobile artillery.

The weather, upon which much depends in the effort of weary American and British troops to hold the beachhead, turned squarely in the enemy's favor at noon Thursday after a clear morning during which virtually every allied combat plane in the Mediterranean theater blasted German troop concentrations and military traffic just behind the fighting line.

Convention Set For July 19

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic national convention will open in Chicago Wednesday, July 19.

This date, three and a half weeks after the Republican convention beginning June 26 in the same city, was announced yesterday by Democratic National Chairman Robert K. Hannegan, who said:

"The date for the convening of the Democratic national convention at Chicago is set for July 19, 1944. That will be on a Wednesday and it is expected that the proceedings will be completed that week."

The committee also announced selection of Paul A. Porter, 39-year-old Kentuckian, to succeed the veteran Charles Michelson as publicity director. Michelson, one of the best-known figures in politics, will continue with the committee as a high-salaried adviser.

So We're Ignorant, Huh?

Once upon a time there was a Canadian gentleman named Austin F. Cross. He lived in a city called Ottawa, which, as all good little Canadian boys and girls know, is the capital of Canada.

One day Austin F. Cross decided to take a trip. He thought and thought about where he should go on his trip. Finally he decided, "I shall go to the United States of America, which is the country directly to the south of my own country of Canada. There I will observe the quaint customs of the natives and listen to their queer speech, and thus I will be able to tell my friends in Canada all about life in that far-off land."

So Austin set out for the United States. He discovered that, like his own land, it was divided into a number of provinces which inhabitants called states. He finally came to the state called Iowa and he began to observe. Among the people he observed was one called a Rotarian. Austin was familiar with this particular type of person, because there are many like him in Canada. This Rotarian was a member of a club called (logically enough) the Rotary club. Austin went with him to a meeting of the club.

After a good lunch and a good cigar, Austin began asking questions.

"What is the capital of Canada?" he said to the gentleman on his right. This gentleman was taken aback by Austin's blunt question, but he thought for a moment and finally answered, "Ottawa."

Austin was well pleased with this answer. He discovered that other Rotarians also knew the correct answer. His heart throbbled with pleasure at the intelligence of the quaint foreigners called Iowans.

After the Rotary meeting, when the Rotarians had returned to their desks, Austin went up and down the street, stopping people and saying, "What is the capital of Canada?" and "Tell me about Canada's role in the war!" and "Who is the Canadian prime minister?"

Many of these people were in a hurry, because they were farmers and war workers and housewives, busy with their own special part in the war. Some of them were not very polite to Austin. They did not want to answer questions about Canada. They wanted to get on with their work. So they shook Austin off with a "Don't bother me, bud," and a "What's your trouble, mister?"

Poor Austin was very sad. He could not understand why Rotarians should know all the answers while the persons he met in the street were so stupid. He still does not understand.

So Austin left the province of Iowa and the United States of America. He went back to Canada, and he wrote an article for a newspaper. He called it a geography lesson, and in it he mourned the fact that Iowans live at the bottom of a well. He told his readers the Iowa geography books almost neglect Canada, that Iowa educators are dumb as doughnuts about their neighbors to the north. He concluded:

"Petrol and not the pedagogue has been the geography teacher."

News Behind the News

Mr. Wallace's News Was No Surprise To Most People

I have heard of neighborhood prattlers—not in my neighborhood, however—spreading drivels against bond buying on the ground that there will be inflation.

Maybe there will be a limited amount of price inflation, or, at least, continuation of the inflation we have experienced in this war. Everyone knows that. But these bonds are being bought not only by 60,000,000 people, but by every large corporation and investor in the country.

The wise financial brains fully realize the possibilities of inflation. But they also know that a bond is the same as money, will always have the same value as money. They know the whole financial structure of the country is now wrapped up in those bonds.

As long as there is an ounce of authority in government or big influence in large financial quarters, or from the biggest bloc in all history, those 60,000,000 bond buyers, a destructive inflation of these investments is impossible.

These investors know what the neighborhood prattlers cannot even understand.

WASHINGTON—Mr. Wallace, the V. P., divulged no secret when he said he thought Mr. Roosevelt intended running for the fourth term.

In truth, the president has been trotting a trial heat here the past few weeks. By his actions, Mr. Roosevelt has let all his associates know his intentions.

His conduct of the Democratic national committee meeting particularly informed all his party associates in and out of congress in unmistakable terms that he expects to head their ticket again. The re-action has been mixed.

To a considerable extent, his forwardness has lessened criticism of him and his policies by wayward Democratic congressmen. The southern bloc has been pushed into the position of accepting the inevitable or openly breaking. Only one so far, Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith, of South Carolina, has struck openly to his critical guns.

Some still talk of running Senator Byrd as the opposition candidate in the South. Organizations working for his candidacy exist in several southern states.

But the great majority seems prepared to swallow silently the Roosevelt pill, and organize a real fight on the vice presidency. They are determined to prevent the nomination of Wallace or any other North New Dealing man.

They have not, however, settled upon a man of their own. While Speaker Rayburn is most frequently mentioned in public, many would prefer a more outspoken southern opposition man like Byrd.

Who, Mr. Roosevelt wants, no one knows. Mr. Wallace obviously is waiting nervously for an invitation. Some high Democratic gossip however, suggests the president might even choose a Republican running mate (Wallike) in order to strengthen his candidacy.

Final choice, no doubt, will be made on the basis of what man will contribute most to the ticket politically.

Thus the trial heat has somewhat watered down the president's opposition within the party, but all the old coals still burn underneath. It has had little effect.

house should not throw stones at a kettle. Or words to that effect.

Iowa's Ignorance and Isolation

—Reprinted From the Ottawa Evening Citizen

The people of Iowa have the souls of isolationists, and I don't know as I blame them. They could hardly be otherwise. The war has made them conscious of places like Guadalcanal and Cassino, but such headline names still seem terribly far from the banks of the Missouri. If you live at the bottom of a well, and know nothing different, you think it is wonderful that every day for an hour or so, on clear days, you can see the sun. That there is an upper world, where you could watch the sun for as much as 16 hours a day in summer, you never realize. Indeed, you would hardly believe it if told. Iowans to far too great a degree, live at the bottom of a well.

This of course they do not know and would indignantly deny. I made all kinds of tests, and barring a couple of intelligent Rotarians, who had been to Canada, everybody I asked flunked on everything. Even your so-called well-informed Iowan wore his dunce cap deservedly. I asked everybody I could what they knew about Canada's war job. The Ancient Mariner who stoppeth one of three had nothing on me. Nobody knew anything about our war effort. Vaguely they felt we were doing a good job, but just what that job was, they didn't seem to know.

The Iowa papers carried very little Canadian news, if any. According to some of them, the last story we had was when the Dionnes were born. Days went by without my sighting a single Canadian item, in most of the Iowa press. As to our fighting alongside the Americans in Italy—that was news to them. They were ignorant of Britain's war effort, and

QUESTION: HOW GREAT DO YOU THINK ARE THE POSSIBILITIES THAT AMELIA EARHART IS BEING HELD CAPTIVE BY THE JAPANESE ON THE MARSHALL ISLANDS?

John Miller of Charleston, W. Va., pre-meteorologist: "I don't think there is the slightest possibility because it has been so long since she was reported lost that if it were true, she would have been found by now."

Jim Anderson, A2 of Seymour: "I do not think Miss Earhart is in the Marshall Islands. If she had landed or had been shot down over the islands, she would have been discovered by Americans on the islands."

Rosaneil Reynolds Schenk of the speech department: "After having seen the convincing movie 'Flight for Freedom,' I can't help but be influenced by its assertion that Miss Earhart was lost near some lone island in the Pacific. That she disappeared under similar conditions to the heroine in that plot seems highly probable to me."

Fred Ailman of Vienna, Austria, language student in A. S. T. P.: "I do not think anybody has as yet found traces since 1937. Unless the report has a firm basis of truth, it is thoughtless to print it. In wartime people react to reports so emotionally that things of this sort often obliterate the more important things. The fact that many American soldiers have been killed is much more important than something which will arouse emotions unduly."

Mary Jane Hensleigh, A2 of Iowa City: "If the Japanese realized Miss Earhart had obtained information valuable to our government and against their plans for war, I'm sure they wouldn't have stopped at anything to keep their plans from reaching the United States government."

James Bright, A1 of Iowa City: "I do not believe she is on the Marshall Islands. In all probability she was shot down or captured by the Japanese. I think we should add that to the list of the Japanese atrocities."

Ann Trave, A4 of Kansas City, Mo.: "I think it is absolutely improbable. I think if she had lived we would have heard by now."

Betty Silverburg, C3 of Storm Lake: "I think there is a very slight possibility. What makes me think there is this slight possibility is the movie production, 'Flight for Freedom.' However, the length of time has been so extensive that she would have had ample opportunity to be rescued."

Ned Billick, A2 of Iowa City: "It is very possible she saw the military operations the Japanese were carrying on in these islands, but it is very doubtful that she is there alive."

Bill Anderson, A2 of West Branch: "I believe that if Miss Earhart had seen the operations going on from the air, she would not have landed there, unless she had had some trouble with her airplane. There is only a remote possibility that she is held captive there."

Nick Carter, salesman: "I think it is possible she has been captured. I have always thought so. In the search that was made for her, no traces were found. Perhaps that was because she was being hidden."

woefully, occasionally willfully, underestimated them.

First I made my geography test. I asked them what the capital of Canada was. If I got an answer at all, it was Quebec, or Montreal. No one ever answered "Ottawa." At Rotary, where the I. Q. was higher—ever so much higher—quite a few knew Ottawa was head city. But barring Rotary, I think I am right in recalling that Ottawa to them was like Albuquerque to us. They had heard of the place, but didn't know what it was. I tried the corn-fed Iowans on the prime minister. Again, outside Rotary, no one had ever heard of Mackenzie King.

Of Canada they all speak well, but vaguely. It must be heaven up there, one said. Why, I asked, thinking of my coal bins. "Oh all that shooting and fishing; I am aiming to go up there some day."

That was said with variations by a dozen people in Iowa. Thus, for far too many people, Canada is a glorified deer preserve, a gorgeous duck blind. Of our culture, our cities, our universities, our manufactures, our everything and anything, they know nothing, care less.

I went to the Iowa text books, seeking out the superintendent of education's office seven floors up in the palatial Sioux City court building. After some digging, I learned that their geographies offered about six or seven inches of print on Canada, lumped in with the British Empire. Newfoundland did almost as well as we did. What the Iowa geography said about Canada was hard to find, generalized, dull.

I talked to two people in this educational office, about this topic, and one of them walked away, apparently loath to discuss matters. I don't think he was any too proud of the good neighbor policy as evinced by six inches of type. The other person, when pressed by me, guessed that the capital of Canada was Quebec, and I was afraid to pursue the quiz any further.

So you see, even the educationists were dumb as doughnuts about Canada. Then if those who teach the Iowa minds about Canada are as ignorant as they come, what can you expect from the children. The answer is nothing.

This of course is not news to me. I do not think that Iowa is any worse than other midwestern states. But I do blame the state authorities for not overhauling their geographies, and getting more interested about Canada. It would not be unreasonable for Governor Hickenlooper to stop hoping he would be a Republican dark horse presidential candidate just long enough to see that what his geographies say about Canada. I think some people out there could stop talking about the good neighbor policy and start doing something about it. It would be a fine thing for them and us if they restated their geographies as far as Canada is concerned. True, we seem remote, and we are remote, from the central states. (See IGNORANCE, page 5)

CAREER STARTED IN HIGH SCHOOL

Informal Tea Launches Artists' Social Room

An informal tea was held Wednesday afternoon in the art building to officially open the art guild social room and to begin a drive for new art guild members.

The room, which is open to art students and soldiers interested in art, was originally the fresco-painting room. Using a mid-victorian and modernistic scheme, club members have arranged the room with furniture donated by the art department.

Several antiques now in use there include a desk of Civil war design and a lamp with a hand-carved walnut shade and amber stained glass, resembling an old street lamp.

A food bar has been built by the students, draperies made and the walls painted in a super-modernistic design. Future art guild meetings and social gatherings will be held here.

Red Cross Sees World

Six Iowa City Girls Do Personnel Work, Nursing in Far Ports

Now the girls have a slogan too. "Join the Red Cross and see the world." During the two months of July and August, 1943, six girls left Iowa City to begin Red Cross work and now their letters return home from all parts of the world.

Dorothy Ward, whose mother lives at 706 College street, arrived in India about the middle of January. Her work is running a club-mobile.

Jean Coffey, who lives at 125 River street, is with the 64th General hospital, Tunisia, North Africa. She is a social worker, engaged in the work of solving personal and family problems of wounded and sick soldiers.

The hospital in which she works is a large one, with the clinics located in Nissen type huts, the wards in tents containing 16 beds each. The permanent personnel also lives in tents, two or four to the tent. At Christmas, the Red Cross gave each patient and enlisted man a box containing cookies, candy and candied dates.

Miss Coffey helped distribute 1,700 of these boxes.

Frances Camp, of the university personnel service, is doing new personnel work in the Red Cross office in St. Louis.

Mary Newell, formerly connected with the Bookshop, has been doing welfare work in the camp hospital at Camp Robinson, Ark. She is now in Washington, D. C., preparatory to being sent overseas.

Helen Miller, 530 E. Washington street, arrived in Australia Christmas morning, and since then has been flown to New Guinea, where she is doing recreational work in a new hospital designed for the care of the slightly wounded and soldiers needing rest.

Frankie Sample, 649 S. Governor street, is on the recreational staff at the Asbury General hospital, McKinney, Tex. This is a large hospital taking care of the severely wounded men who are returned to this country as soon as they can be moved.

Sir Harold Alexander, center, wearing garrison cap, commander of Allied forces in Italy. His reply was, "Well, I knew I was coming, so I shaved for you fellows." He made a big hit. (International)

Wildcats Mark Sixth Big Ten Cage Victory

Northwestern Downs Illini Five 42-29
Breaking 7-6 Lead

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern won its sixth game in seven Big Ten starts last night by defeating Illinois, 42 to 29. The contest marked the final conference cage appearance of Northwestern's versatile Otto Graham, who scored eight points.

The Illini resorted to a slow break in the first half in an effort to stall the highly-gearred Northwestern offense and led after 10 minutes of play, 7 to 6. Then the Wildcats forged ahead and held a 16 to 11 margin at halftime.

Northwestern blazed away to open the second half and quickly ran up 10 more points while holding the Illini scoreless. With that 26 to 11 lead, the Wildcats stayed ahead easily to the finish.

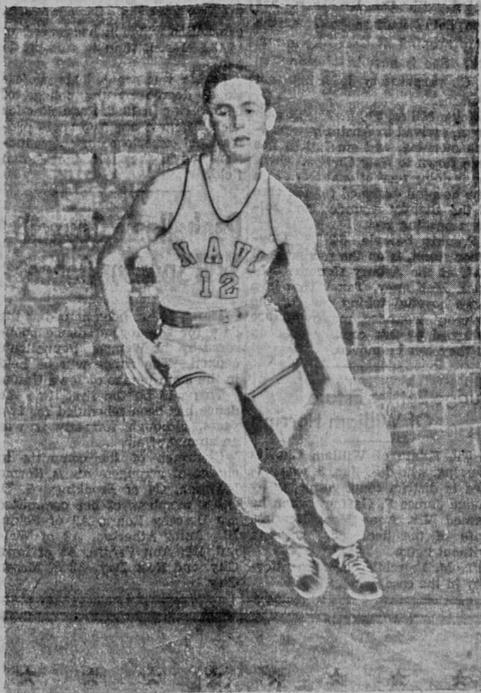

It was the fifth loss in seven starts for the defending championship Illinois quintet.

Iowa, Minnesota Swimmers Meet Today in Fieldhouse Pool

Iowa and Minnesota swimmers, beaten in two meets, will race today at 2:30 p. m. in the Hawkkeye fieldhouse pool as the unbeaten Gophers attempt to win their fourth straight dual meet.

Hawkeyes, who tied the meteorologists and lost to Wisconsin, will have an uphill battle against Minnesota's team of navy V-12 trainees.

Although Iowa lacks the all-around strength of the Gophers, some fine individual races probably will develop. In the 60-yard free style, Bernie Walters, un-

Badgers Stop Indiana Team In First Game

Patterson, Selbo Top Wisconsin Scorers, Help in 62-43 Lead

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Wisconsin's fast-stepping Badgers, employing a ring-around-the-rosy offense and an air-tight defense, snared their sixth victory of the Big Ten basketball season last night by stopping Indiana's freshmen, 62 to 43.

Bud Foster's Badgers hastily overcame an early Indiana advantage gained by Claude Retherford's two quick field goals and ran off with the contest in the latter stages. Wisconsin commanded a 33-to-20 halftime lead.

Patterson and Selbo were the chief gunners for the winners, the former meshing 17 points mostly on hook shots and the latter counting 15.

Retherford kept the Hoosiers within striking distance throughout the first half before succumbing to the superior Badger power. He ended the contest with 14 points to pace the Indiana offensive while Peed followed with nine.

The teams will resume the series tonight.

Two Iowa Wrestlers Enter Big Ten Meet

Although the University of Iowa has no dual meet wrestling team for the first time since World War I, the Hawkeyes will be represented by two athletes in the Big Ten championship tournament in Evanston, Ill., Feb. 19.

Coach Mike Howard has named John Leo of Oelwein 121-pounder, 128 pounds, to compete in the conference meet. Both are freshmen.

He said that the young Iowans, although they have had no inter-collegiate competition, have been showing good form in workouts against the Iowa Seahawks and wrestlers of the ASTP unit.

Thinning Ranks Draft Takes Toll Of Golf Pros

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The draft is diminishing the ranks of touring golf professionals now playing their fifth tournament of the winter swing.

George Fazio, who came here for the Texas open, left Thursday night for a date with his Ambler, Pa., draft board.

After the open, Harold (Jug) McSpaden, top winner of the tour, goes to Philadelphia for his pre-induction examination.

Sam Byrd will go to Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday preparatory to entering the service.

Melvin (Chick) Harbert of the Lincoln, Neb., army air forces training command and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of the Greensboro, N. C., army air field were given leaves to play here. They will report back immediately.

Departures will leave Byron Nelson, Harry Cooper, Craig Wood, Willie Goggin, Les Kennedy, John Revolta, Tony Penna, Pete Cooper, Joe Kirkwood, W. A. Stackhouse, Bob Hamilton, and Ed Dudley for the remainder of the winter swing.

Franklin High Victor In Little Hawk Battle

Paced by Billy Shuttleworth, who dropped in a total of 21 points, the Franklin Thunderbolts pounded out a 38-34 victory over the City high Little Hawks last night in a battle that was nip-and-tuck all the way.

Trying vainly in the last few seconds of the game to tie the score up, the Hawklets came within two points of the Thunderbolts when Fletcher tossed in a bucket for Franklin as the buzzer sounded ending the game.

High man for the Little Hawks was Gene Matthes who swished in five field goals and two free throws for a total of 12 points.

Shuttleworth, Franklin's football star, threw in a total of 21 points including points made from 9 free throws and six field goals, to maintain the Franklin high rating in the Mississippi Valley conference. Franklin was in third place with Iowa City occupying a niche in sixth place from the top before last night's game.

The loss of this tussle extends a losing streak which has now continued for four games for the Little Hawks.

Tipton Tigers Lose to Blues

Last night U-high's Blues obtained revenge over Tipton when they beat the Tigers 61-32. Leading the attack were Steve Nusser, forward, and pivot man Jack Shay with 18 points each. Bob Cosgriff, Tipton center, led the Tigers with 11 points. Don Wagner, confined to bed with inflamed tonsils, was replaced for the night by Harold LeGrande, Bob Van der Zee acting as temporary captain.

In the first quarter, Shay led off with a fast start by piling up 7 out of a 13-4 advantage. He was supported by "Van," Nusser, and LeGrande with 2 points each. Pete Wehde and Captain Hamiel led the Tigers with a lone 2 points each.

Nusser led the second quarter attack by scoring 8 points, Shay 4, LeGrande 4, and Jim Williams a free throw. Cosgriff and Bud Paulsen scored 3 points each in the second quarter.

Shay led the third quarter with 7, Nusser 6, Gus Kennedy 4, LeGrande 2, and Van der Zee 2. For the opponents Cosgriff scored 8 points, Paulsen 4, and Paul Kautz 3.

In the last quarter U-high threw in the second string just after Nusser had made a field goal. During this quarter Bill Helm made 2 points, Bill Greene 2, and "Red" Morris 4. Carroll Yoder was the other substitute.

Great Lakes Drubs Ft. Custer Five

FT. CUSTER, Mich. (AP)—Great Lakes' high-geared basketball team won its 19th consecutive game last night, drubbing Ft. Custer's soldier five, 83 to 23, for a second time this season.

The soldiers, who held the first game count to 63-38, had an alibi to explain in part last night's runaway. Their ace scorer, Howard McCarty, slipped on the ice in chow line yesterday morning and bruised his leg so badly he couldn't play.

Paul Armstrong, former Indiana star, led the sailors with 17 points. After the first half, which ended 44-10, Great Lakes turned the contest over to the reserves. It was Great Lakes' 26th victory in 28 games and Custer's 13th loss in 21.

Iowa Receives First Jolt Of Season; Title Hopes Skid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes staged a brilliant last-half drive here last night to drub the University of Iowa 63 to 49, thus giving the Hawkkeys their first setback of the season either in or out of Big Ten competition.

Iowa had a 32-29 lead at the half.

The Ohio State victory gave a new lease on life to the Big Ten title hopes of one-beaten Purdue and Northwestern and the Buckeyes themselves, who have lost two games.

Last night's game, played before 2,925 fans, was a battle of scoring spurts. After playing on even terms with the Bucks for the first few minutes, Iowa built up a 23 to 10 lead at one time. Ohio State came right back, however, to go ahead at 26 to 24 and then again at 29 to 28 before Dave Danner shot Iowa into a 32 to 29 half-time lead.

It took Ohio State three minutes of the last half to regain the lead at 37 to 36 and after that the Buckeyes never were headed and were pulling away fast at the finish.

Ohio State also took top honors in the scoring contest conducted by Danner and Dick Ives, the Hawkkeye hotshots, and the Buckeyes' Don Grate. Grate dropped in nine fielders and four free throws for 22 points to nose out Danner by two.

Five SUI Athletes Now in Armed Forces Admitted to I Club

Five University of Iowa athletes who left the campus to enter the armed forces have been admitted to the alumni "I" club under the rule which provides membership for such men.

From the 1943 football squad, the new members are Jim Cozad, Waterloo, coast guard; Charles Burkett, Independence, army; Jim Hudson, Pocatamos, army air; and Joe Howard, Des Moines, marines.

A cross country runner who entered the service after his freshman season of competition is Bob Bentz of Chariton, army. The club now has 837 members, more than 250 of whom are in the armed forces.

Louisiana Race Looks Like 2-Horse Derby

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Sixteen thoroughbreds were entered in today's $15,000-added Louisiana derby at the fair grounds here, but the classic looks like a race between Babonet stable's Gay Bit and William Helis' Olympia Zenith.

Gay Bit, winner of five races this winter, was humbled in his only losing race by Olympia Zenith, then known as Valdina Zenith, and the rail birds are conceding the Helis hopeful a chance to repeat.

The condition of the track, however, will make considerable difference. Gay Bit can run on any track while Olympia Zenith has shown his liking for a fast strip.

Speculators are not overlooking the chances of two other speedsters, Mrs. T. J. Carroll's Weyanoke, one of the two fillies entered in the mile and one-eighth class. Gay Bit and Weyanoke will carry 120 pounds each, three more than Olympia Zenith.

Archaeologist Cites Varied Civilizations

"The archaeology east of the Rockies does not show too uniform a culture in the long period of time following the glaciers, about 10,000 years, due to the vastness of the uncharted half-continent," said Prof. Charles B. Keyes of Cornell college in an illustrated lecture presented last night in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

A great many differing cultures flourished in that period, some of which are not yet completely known. In these cultures, the spear-thrower still exists, but the bow and arrow are beginning to make their appearance. The development of agriculture began in this period and possibly some pottery-making, although there are few evidences of this, according to Professor Keyes.

A curious culture known as the bluff-dwellers was found in the Ozark region, but study on this group has been rather limited.

The Tennessee Valley authority has done a great deal of work on specimens found in the Tennessee valley and several volumes on archaeology have resulted from their findings.

Professor Keyes concluded his lecture with illustrations of Indian sites in the lake regions of the central portion of New York and New England.

Band Lacks Man-Power

4 Women Members To Appear in Solos In Concert Wednesday

Man-power shortages are not confined to the armed services and industry, according to Prof. C. B. Righter, director of university bands. The University Concert band has had the problem of finding replacements for almost one-fourth of its members since its organization this year. Many of the men were called to military service at the end of the first semester.

Most of the new band members are women, although a few men students have been found to fill the gaps in the band, according to Director Righter. Women students now make up one-half of the band membership.

Four of the band's women members will appear as soloists on Wednesday evening's concert at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union. Joyce Horton, A2 of Osceola, will play Bennett's "La Rougette," a piano solo in the modern idiom and a trumpet trio composed of Mary Jane McCrea, A1 of Clinton; Joan Chance, A3 of Redfield, and Dorothea Jane Becker, A3 of Sheridan, Wyo., will present Ernest Williams' "Orion."

The program for the Wednesday night concert will include popular, modern and light classics. Admission to the concert is free and tickets may be obtained in advance at the main desk in Iowa Union, Whetstone's drug store or room 15, music studio building.

So Proudly We Hail...

We hail our flag . . . the Stars and Stripes . . . as it flies high with the flags of the United Nations . . . in world battles. We will see to it that our flag . . . and those of our allies will go on waving high over every battle to come until final victory. We will see to it that the post-war world maintains the freedom, democracy, progress and union which our flag . . . and these flags symbolize!

We hail our own special flag for the particular brand of democracy for which it stands and which we insist upon. It is a democracy built upon the sound principles and flexibility to progress of George Washington . . . on the emphasis on union and the belief in human freedom of Abraham Lincoln. We hail these two great presidents who gave so much to our nation. We firmly resolve to cherish inviolate their great gift.
