Fifth University Concert to Be Given Tonight

Composition By Beethoven To Be Played

Prof. Philip G. Clapp of the music department will direct the University Symphony orchestra in the fifth concert of the season tonight at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

The program will be composed of music by Edward MacDowell and Ludwig von Beethoven. The "Second Orchestral Suite" (MacDowell) which describes American Indian life, will be the first number on tonight's concert.

A theme from the Iowa tribe of Indians will be featured in "Love Song." The suite will also include "Legend," "In War Time," "Dirge" and "Village Festival." Indian music is suggested in the melodies, but no native instruments or crude harmonies are used in the orchestration.

Tonight's concert will mark the first public performance of "Symphony No. 7, opus 92" (Beethoven) under the direction of Professor Clapp. The work is based upon Irish folk dance tunes, and it is known as the liveliest and most brilliant of the composer's nine symphonies.

"One knows not what grim tragedies and romances were enacted in the shadow of a fading past," Lawrence Gilman, music critic and commentator, once remarked upon hearing the "Indian Suite." MacDowell was the first American composer to achieve wide recognition in Europe in his creation of an American type of music. The suite which will be played tonight was rarely performed after its first years, but symphony orchestras have been playing it more frequently during the past few years, according to Professor Clapp.

The University Symphony and Chamber orchestras rehearse and study all of the Beethoven symphonies nearly every year, Director Clapp reports. A public presentation of the "Seventh Symphony" under Professor Clapp's direction has never been given, however.

Free tickets for tonight's concert may be obtained at the main desk in Iowa Union.

Addition to Chemistry Building Considered In SUI Post-War Plan

Post-war plans are being laid for chemistry work at the university, according to an annual report to alumni made by Prof. George Glocker, head of the chemistry department. Professor Glocker announced that consideration is being given to an additional west wing of the chemistry building.

"Firms request chemists and chemical engineers of all descriptions," he reported in discussing the employment situation. "Anyone wishing to get a job now or to change jobs should have a fine chance, for the demand is unprecedented," Professor Glocker said. Much of the teaching in chemistry during the past year has been with the army specialized training program. More than 500 men have taken instruction in the department.

Hawkeyes Work to Evade Shooting Slump As Game Average Drops to Forty-Four

Wildcats No Easy Mark Having Retained Several Star Players

No confident gloating over the definite fact that Northwestern will have only two regulars from the starting team which won six of its first seven games is being indulged in by the University of Iowa basketball players.

They are too busy preparing their own attack, which fizzled against Notre Dame, and improving basket eyes which brought an average of only 44 points in the past four games, as compared with the normal average of 54. Iowa must win Friday and Saturday to share the title.

Expects Smart Shifts

"Northwestern is very dangerous, despite personnel losses which took four players who ranked from second to fifth in scoring. Coach Lomborg is smart at shifting his players and some of those lesser-known men may fill in surprisingly well," Coach "Pops" Harrison commented.

Iowans have been unsteady in shooting in the past four games, three of which were lost. The boys have had plenty of shots, including numerous close-in ones, but many were hurried and the ball simply would not settle into the basket.

Both Teams Tall

A starting lineup averaging only about one inch per man less than Iowa's, 6-1 to 6-2, will make the Wildcats tough on rebounds. Both forwards are 6-2, and the center is 6-4. Coach Harrison has great respect for the shooting of Ben Schadler, guard whose one-handed attempts from the side are hard to stop.

Charles Galier, Hawkeye business manager, said Tuesday that all of the reserved seats for both games have been sold. He stressed the fact, however, that thousands of unreserved seats are available, with general admission tickets purchasable in advance or at the door. Fieldhouse doors will open at 6:30 p. m.

SECTIONAL GAMES TODAY

All games will be played at City high school gymnasium. Admission: adults 40 cents, children 30.

Games to be played Wednesday:

Twilight Tear Gains Attention But Sprint Won by Mettlesome

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Twilight Tear, one of Warren Wright's highly regarded filly candidates for the Kentucky derby, caught the eye of handicappers yesterday at Hialeah park although she finished third in the leap year handicap.

Mrs. B. Di Giorgia's Mettlesome won the six furlong dash by a length over the Woolford farm's Adulator. Twilight Tear was half a length behind Adulator. It was her first 1944 start and the three-year-old filly was not expected to win against the field of older sprinters after a layoff since November.

Mettlesome, a six-year-old gelding was timed at 1:12 1/5, and paid $9.50, $3.20 and $2.70.

The debut of the Wright interest because fillies are figuring strongly this year in Kentucky derby calculations, and trainer Ben Jones has two of the best in Twilight Tear and Miss Keeneland.

The trainer delayed for a day the scheduled opening appearance of Wright's top three-year-old colt, Pensive, which has been training well lately after spreading a hoof last fall. The Kentucky derby drive was scratched from the River Drive purse and will go for the first time this year today in a six furlong heat for three-year-olds.

Jones won yesterday's race anyway, with the three-year-old Bull Weed, an improving sprinter and the odds-on favorite at $2.90 for $2. Bull Weed was ridden by jockey Ted Atkinson who had a triple for the day.

Armstrong KO's Byrd In 4th Round

DES MOINES (AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong stepped off another pace along the comeback trail last night when he knocked out Jackie Byrd, Blytheville, Ark., welterweight, in 1 minute, 18 seconds of the fourth round. Armstrong weighed in at 142, Byrd at 148.

The fighting Negro, who once held three crowns simultaneously, took the offensive all the way and administered the knockout punch with a sharp right to the jaw a short time after he had sent Byrd down for the count of seven.

It was Armstrong's fifth successive knockout and his 18th since he came out of voluntary retirement 31 bouts ago in quest of a shot at the NBA lightweight title now held by Sammy Angott.

In the semi-windup, Jackie Graves, 126, Austin, Minn., knocked out Cecil Bradley, 126, Jefferson, Iowa, in the fourth round.

Equipoise was better than even money only 11 times during his 51 starts on the turf. He won 29 races and $338,610.

Mettlesome, a six-year-old gelding was timed at 1:12 1/5, and paid $9.50, $3.20 and $2.70.

The debut of the Wright interest because fillies are figuring strongly this year in Kentucky derby calculations, and trainer Ben Jones has two of the best in Twilight Tear and Miss Keeneland.

The trainer delayed for a day the scheduled opening appearance of Wright's top three-year-old colt, Pensive, which has been training well lately after spreading a hoof last fall. The Kentucky derby drive was scratched from the River Drive purse and will go for the first time this year today in a six furlong heat for three-year-olds.

Jones won yesterday's race anyway, with the three-year-old Bull Weed, an improving sprinter and the odds-on favorite at $2.90 for $2. Bull Weed was ridden by jockey Ted Atkinson who had a triple for the day.

Kalona Wins In First Round Of State Meet

Hershberger Leads Winners in 21 to 14 Victory Over Oxford

In the first game played in the state inter-high school basketball tournament last night at City high, the Kalona cagers, after trailing by a score of 7-6 at the half, came to life in the second half to whip the Oxford quintet by a score of 21-14.

Leading scorer for the evening was center Kenny Hershberger of Kalona who swished five field goals and two free throws through the hoop for 12 points. The tallest man on the floor, Hershberger was able to get the ball off the backboard over the heads of the shorter Oxford players.

Diminutive Leonard Grummer, while only tossing in two field goals for four points, sparked the play of the Oxford quintet, who, once Kalona started rolling, were definitely out-classed.

The entire first half of the game was very slow, with neither team getting any clear shots at the basket except from out on the floor. Kalona missed basket after basket as nearly every shot thrown towards the hoop missed its mark.

Especially disastrous for the Kalona team was the first quarter which saw the smaller Oxford five leading by a score of 7-3 as the buzzed sounded ending the quarter. Although they took many more shots at the basket and had the ball in their possession a majority of the time, the Kalona shots didn't ring true. Capitalizing on their few chances, the Oxford squad rang up seven points.

Only three points were scored in the entire second quarter, all of them being put in by Hershberger. Both teams came back stronger in the third frame, with Kalona coming up strong to lead 16-13 as the quarter closed. From this point on it was Kalona all the way as they continued to increase their lead while Oxford was blanked in the fourth quarter except for one point tossed in by Dunn on a free throw. With Kalona steadily improving, the score read 21-14 as the game ended.

Hornsby Will Manage Mexican Ball Team

Rajah's Signing Gives Circuit Biggest Boost In 20 Years in U. S.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Rogers Hornsby's signing as the 1944 manager of Vera Cruz in the Mexican baseball league gave the circuit the biggest publicity boost of its 20 years in the United States, just as the loop was enjoying its greatest popularity at home.

Prior to the rajah's signing, the moguls had limited the number of foreigners on a team to five instead of six because of the tremendous interest among the home-talent athletes and an all-Mexican staff of umpires was hired for the first time.

On the whole, the season which opens March 16 has rosy prospects. Parks have been enlarged, lineups bolstered and franchises moved to within easy traveling distance of U. S. fans.

Jorge Pasquel, president of both the Vera Cruz club and of the league, said he "immediately accepted" Hornsby's salary terms, reported to be $10,000. It is the record salary in a loop where the players' pay averages $150 monthly and the team limit a month is $2,400.

Mexico City's Delta park, home lot of both the Vera Cruz nine and the Mexico City Reds has been enlarged to accommodate 16,000 spectators. At Nuevo Laredo, across the Rio Grande from Laredo, Tex., a large plant has been erected and the management is negotiating with Marty McManus, formerly with the Boston Red Sox, as leader.

Night games will be played at Nuevo Laredo and at Monterrey but not at Tampico, Puebla or here.

All U. S. players in the league last year were negroes while Cuba sent both white and negro athletes. Venezuela's sole contribution, Vidal Lopez, was one of Monterrey's standouts in his dual role of pitcher and outfielder.

The league's commissioner, Col. Octavio Rueda Magro, has proposed an annual international series between the league champions and the Pacific coast circuit.

"I believe we play about class AA ball," he commented.

Williamsburg Takes 1st Round in Class A; Beats Wellman, 53-24

Raider Center Bean Leads Victors; Kraft 8

Led by center L. Bean, the Williamsburg Raiders won the first round of the Class A sectional tournament last night at City high by rolling over Wellman, 53-24.

Roy Taylor, Wellman forward, started the scoring by dropping in a short one after a half minute of the game had elapsed. Bryson tied the game up immediately with two free shots, and Bean connected for his first field goal of the evening to put Williamsburg out in front 4-2. However, Ulin and Kraft came back for Wellman to take a 6-4 lead, but a basket by Bean and a free throw by Bryson gave the Raiders a 7-6 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second period found the Williamsburg five taking over for good as Bean, Kamprath and Yoder all connected to give them 12 more points while they were holding the Wildcats to a single field goal by Kraft, making the scoreboard read 19-8.

Bean was the leading scorer for the game as he dumped in 10 field goals, and 3 free throws to give him a total of 23 points. Kamprath and Bryson each connected for 10 points apiece for Williamsburg. High point man for the Wellman five was Bill Kraft who made 3 baskets and 2 free throws for 8 points.

Topping started out the second half for Wellman with a short set-up. Bryson and Yoder connected for a basket and free throw for Williamsburg, but Durian and Kraft came back for Wellman to bring the score up to 22-14 midway in the third quarter. The Raiders found the range of the basket and pulled away to a 35-16 third quarter score.

The last quarter the Williamsburg five worked the ball in for 18 points and held the Wildcats to a total of 8.

Sehr High Man For Winners With 11; Kroul Makes Ten

Making certain of a second bid for tournament honors, Sharon high school defeated a weak Solon team last night, 29 to 18. The Solon cagers were behind the entire game, as the Sharon lads had an 8 to 3 lead at the end of the first quarter, and ended the half with a 13 to 6 margin.

After a brief pep talk from their woman coach, Miss Sarah Frazier, the Sharon five came back for the second half stronger than ever, pouring the ball through the hoop in rapid succession for 6 more points.

The fast break set up by the Sharon kids, was too much for the game Solon five, as their defense was unable to cope with the long passes down the floor, and quick under-the-basket-shots, which the Sharon boys were able to work so effectively.

The Sharon team will face Kalona tonight at the City high court, for the second round of the boys opening high school basketball tournament.

Roosevelt High School Swimmers Shatter National Relay Mark

DES MOINES (AP)—For the third time in two weeks a national interscholastic high school swimming record (20-yard course) was broken in Iowa when the Roosevelt high school 400-yard freestyle relay team swam the distance in 3 minutes, 44.5 seconds during a dual meet yesterday.

The time was six-tenths of a second under the mark set in 1939 by a Hibbing, Minn., team. The Roosevelt team was composed of Larry Larimore, Bryce Bennett, Jim Dickerson and Bill Crispin.

Two weeks ago the Roosevelt team swam the 160-yard freestyle relay in 52.3 seconds to clip a tenth of a second from the national high school record which had stood since 1925.

Last Saturday 17-year-old Bob Anderson of Boone swam the 100-yard freestyle in 52.3 seconds, shaving a tenth of a second from the national high school mark he set a year ago.

Iowa now holds six of the ten national interscholastic high school standard course swimming records.

Newman Club To Produce Variety Show

First auditions for the variety show to be produced March 17 and 19 by the Newman club of the university in cooperation with St. Mary's school, will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the basement of St. Mary's school.

Variety acts and skits of all kinds are wanted for the show, and those desiring to take part in the auditions tomorrow night are asked to contact Joe Phelan, Newman club president, according to an announcement made last night at the regular meeting of the organization.

The variety show, which will include acts from university talent and from St. Mary's school, will be presented with the view of carrying on the tradition of an annual Newman club variety show. In previous years, the Newman club has presented Kampus Kapers, a production which drew record crowds at each showing.

This year's production, due to wartime difficulties in obtaining talent and technical workers, will be on a smaller scale than were productions of earlier years.

The first audition tomorrow night is expected to result in a general list of the type of talent which will be available. Later auditions will be held, at times which will be announced. Because of the short period of time allowed for rehearsals, talent applying for auditions must have their skits and acts fairly well worked out beforehand, so that rehearsals of the entire show can begin in a week.

Extension Agent Tells How to Band Trees For Canker Worms

A tip for tree lovers was given by Emmett C. Gardner, county extension agent, yesterday concerning the banding of trees for the prevention of canker worm destruction.

Cotton batting is a material which can be wrapped around the tree and taken off without leaving unsightly marks as other banding materials do.

A warning to band trees was issued several weeks ago because canker worms are now emerging from the soil, and tree banding should be immediate to prevent the worms from climbing the tree, according to Gardner.

But most important, they furnish the taxes through which this terrific war debt must be paid and financed. Taxes are levied on net earnings, not gross. Without profit, the treasury would not collect a cent in taxes. But from general wide-spread profits, the treasury can collect great sums from a lower rate of taxation.

The debt must be paid from the sweat of our brow. The dollars can only be paid by profits, profits for all, for the working man, for the manager, for the stockholder. Only when all are making money does money pour into the treasury of the United States.

You cannot pay the debt with ore in the ground, or with idle factories, or even with unprofitable employment of both work and capital.

Mr. Ickes does not know what wealth is. If he wanted to hand out good propaganda to give the country some assurances for the future, he would have said his administration proposes to create real national wealth in the country by maintaining profits for all. As it stands, his statement is really discouraging propaganda.

It shows he has a misconception of what is needed. It suggests he is carrying the debt so lightly in his own mind that he does not propose to do the things necessary to pay it off—as Mr. Roosevelt has promised.

Service Clubs Hear Colonel

Discusses Problems Of Manpower Raised By Selective Service

"It is better to have a million men and not need them than to need a million men and not have them," said Col. R. A. Lancaster, assistant state director of Iowa's selective service board, at a joint meeting of the Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary service clubs yesterday noon in Hotel Jefferson. The Kiwanians acted as host to the local selective service board.

The development of the man power problem since the passage of the selective service and training act in October, 1940, was discussed by the speaker as he told of the increase in man allocation which will be made in the next few months.

In his commendation of the local selective service board he recalled that in 1940 the three local members held their first meeting to begin the intricate problem of rationing man power.

Before the attack on Pearl Harbor, deferments were simple, he said. In training were men who could best be spared without disrupting economic and civic life. With the outbreak of the war came wholesale efforts to allocate national resources to win the war.

Services Have Priorities

Among the 6,400 local selective service boards in the nation a basic law prevails—the armed forces have priority on the man power of the nation.

Neither industry nor any other economic force can be in competition where men between 18 and 37 years old are concerned, whether the men are skilled in their profession or whether they constitute common labor bulk. The armed forces must receive loans from industry, and, unless the severing of the man seriously affects that enterprise, the sacrifice must be made, he pointed out.

"It is the obligation of every free man to lend himself to his nation to keep the integrity of the state," said the speaker.

He said that dependency once was a cause for deferments, but except in the most critical emergencies this cause is now removed. The seriousness of the present situation is obvious when it is announced that 200,000 men were not inducted by Jan. 1, forcing local boards to send notices to boys who had just become 18 years old.

Problems of physical qualifications often arise, according to Colonel Lancaster, when he said lowering standards is an impossible step. He said physical qualifications will not be raised or lowered but that persons should be considered in their views of men they assume to be physically fit but who are declared ineligible.

Allocation for Victory

Wars are won through offense, and until we invade and actually occupy we cannot consider our attempts successful or our man power sufficient, according to the speaker. He said that we must be prepared to meet losses, and, while ridding ourselves of loose tongues, we must rid ourselves of prejudices about man power allocation.

"We ask your assistance and indulgence as these persons are withdrawn from your community life," Colonel Lancaster concluded.

FLIER HOME FROM INDIA

HOME FROM two years with the army air force in India, Capt. W. Lowell Goddard is visiting his father, Dwight F. Goddard, left, of Akron. Captain Goddard, who attended the University of Iowa from 1936-1939, is now a P-40 fighter pilot and has completed 35 missions in the China, India and Burma war theaters. He has been awarded the air medal ribbon for meritorious action during a raid. "The Jap is a good flyer and pilot," he says, "but I will put any American army pilot against any two Japs any day." He flew home to visit his father, who works in the military products department of the Good-year Tire & Rubber Co., and is also working with the ground forces in ordnance. This is Captain Goddard's first leave since he entered the service.

Not for Sale
Red Cross Clothes
Issued Free

"Red Cross knitted comfort articles are not for sale," according to Mrs. L. E. Clark, chairman of the production corps of the Johnson county Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. Clark's statement was made in answer to questions regarding distribution of sweaters, socks and other wools produced by local Red Cross volunteers.

No article made by Red Cross production workers is ever sold, the chairman explained. Each sweater is tagged with a "Not To Be Sold" label, and in the rare cases where one has been reported purchased, the sale was made by the serviceman to whom it was issued free.

Distribute Where Needed

"Knitted sweaters and other wools are given to soldiers, sailors and marines who will definitely need them," said Mrs. Clark. "They are issued through the quartermaster as an item of supplemental equipment."

The Red Cross production head said that army and navy officials outline their needs for a season, then make requisitions to local Red Cross field directors, who obtain the necessary items to be given to the fighting men.

General distribution of the knitted articles is not made because the men in training may be sent to duty where the garment would be a liability instead of an asset, Mrs. Clark said.

Hospital comfort items, robes, slippers and afghans also were among the items produced by Red Cross volunteers for servicemen.

Letter of Appreciation

Mrs. Clark points to the following letter received from a serviceman as showing how Red Cross work is appreciated:

"To the women of the Red Cross of Johnson county chapter, Iowa City.

"I wish to take this opportunity in thanking each and every one who so unselfishly gave her time in such fine work. We received our allotment of sweaters this morning, and you should have seen those fellows waiting in line, eager to try them on. Believe me, they are serving as a genuine Christmas present, because we are stationed in a pretty cool place. "I am on guard duty at present and the sweater sure is warm. Again I say thank you, each and every one."

Meteorologists To Graduate March 11

150 Trainees to Get Certificates in Third Military Convocation

A graduation ceremony for the 150 army air corps pre-meteorology trainees has been scheduled by university and army air corps officials for March 11, Maj. Clyde W. Hubbard, commanding officer of the unit, announced yesterday.

This convocation, the third military graduation to be held at the university this year, will close the training period here for all pre-meteorology students. The men who will receive certificates March 11 have been studying since March, 1943.

They are classified as members of the "C" unit of pre-meteorology. The members of the "B" unit, which came here last April, were graduated in November.

Prof. F. G. Higbee, director of convocations, said that the ceremony will take place in Macbride hall at 10 a. m. and will be open to the public. Other details concerning the program are being arranged.

The "C" meteorologists recently took final examinations in the courses they have been studying and may expect to learn the results of the last of this week.

After the graduation exercises, the men will leave Iowa City for various army centers, where they will not continue their meteorology training, nor will the meteorology unit be replaced here, since army air corps needs have been met.

Some of the men will go into communications work or ground crew training. Members of the permanent party, after finishing the work connected with the unit here, will proceed to an army base for further service orders.

Major Hubbard also announced the transferring of the unit stationed in Iowa City to the eastern technical training command from the central command, which has been dissolved. From now until the unit leaves Iowa City, the army business will be carried on under the eastern command, with headquarters at St. Louis.

George Washington did it...

...and so did his ragged army when they laid aside their muskets and went back to their farms. There they raised the things they needed... sheep for wool and mutton, flax for cloth they wove at home, hogs for meat and "cracklins," cattle for leather and substantial roast beef, grain they ground themselves. Wood from the surrounding forests kept them warm in winter. That was making the most of what they had at hand. That was diversified farming.

Since that day, most farms do not have as many different crops. Instead, they grow and produce only those crops that fit naturally together.

In our business, diversification follows the same principle. We prepare products that are related. For example, we make salad oils because the same knowledge that enables us to make fine lard is used in processing oils. The same salesmen and delivery equipment may be used in the sale and handling of all of our products. Our by-products and our other products are all related, and naturally fit into our business. That is practical diversification.

So, over a period of years, there has never been a year when some departments of Swift & Company did not make money and some lose. For example, the less favorable earnings of our fresh meat departments during 1943 were offset by earnings in the non-meat departments.

The following films are for your use:

"Cows and Chickens, U. S. A."
