Hawkeyes Blast Northwestern, 45-39

Iowans Have Tough Time

Danner Top Man For Victors With 15, Ives Makes 14

By DICK YOAKAM
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

The Iowa Hawkeyes, slowly and deliberately and at times shoddily blasted out a 45-39 victory over a tenacious Wildcat team from Evanston last night before a near capacity crowd of 8,000.

It was a game filled with thrills of the kind you get when you come near to falling off a cliff for Iowa fans as they fought laboriously to down the wily Evanstonians.

Not Iowa's Best Game

But after it was all over you couldn't help but feel that Iowa had not played its best game although there were instances of individual skill seldom surpassed on the hardwood.

Iowa City's own Dave Danner was the gentleman of the evening with 6 field goals and 3 free throws for a total of 15 points to place him in the second ranking position for the Big Ten conference.

Ives Runner-up

Dick Ives followed Danner closely with 14 points to assure him of the first place league berth.

The game started out in a manner that was to be characteristic throughout the match. Both teams used feeling out techniques for the majority of the first-half time.

Towards the close of the first frame the Wildcats started to operate and close off the period by tying the Hawkeyes 23-23 as the gun sounded.

Northwestern Passes Hawks

Northwestern, awakened by the rest period came on fast at the opening of the second half to put Iowa behind 33 to 27 with about ten minutes to go.

The Iowa lads awoke at this point and passed the Wildcats as Dave Danner finally found his free throw eye and pumped two charity tosses through the hoop.

From then on it was a matter of stalling for the cage kids and the game ended with Iowa going away on the scoreboard.

Spencer Shows Well

Individual praise should go to Jack Spencer who again led the Iowans with a cool, deliberate air and showed a great deal more ball handling ability than in former games.

'Slip' Madigan Leaves Today For Chicago

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Football Coach Edward P. "Slip" Madigan of the University of Iowa expressed belief yesterday the gridiron sport would level off to fairly even competition in the Big Ten conference next fall.

Madigan, who will leave this weekend to attend a conference meeting in Chicago, March 9, 10 and 11 and will proceed from there to open spring practice in Iowa City, said he thought the Big Ten teams would be closer to being evenly matched than was the case last year.

"The schools which have the benefit of navy trainees undoubtedly will be a bit stronger than those fielding all civilian teams such as Iowa, Ohio State and Indiana," Madigan said. "However, Purdue lost practically all of its powerful squad of last season and other navy schools have been hard hit by the departure of experienced players.

"Iowa's squad will be composed of practically all freshmen again although I believe there will be three holdovers, Bill Barbour, end; Harry Frey, tackle, and Bobby Liddy, guard. These boys are enrolled in medical school."

He predicted there would be keen interest in football, at least in the Big Ten, this season. He said there was a possibility of a schedule revision at the conference meeting in order to provide additional games with service teams.

Madigan, who was head coach at St. Mary's college for 21 years, was guest of honor at a going away party given by alumni and friends of the school.

Wolverines To Meet Illini

Runner-Up Track Team to Tangle Main Rivals

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan's track team, runner-up in National A.A.U. competition last week, will tangle today at Champaign with Illinois, its main rival for 1944 Big Ten honors, in a triangular meet that includes Notre Dame as the third entry.

Both the Illini and Wolverines have far more power than any other midwestern track team. Illinois drubbed Ohio State and then last week against Purdue and Notre Dame scored as many points as did the two opponents together. Michigan's record shows a 93-1 win over Western Michigan and a 66-38 triumph over the Irish as well as second place to the New York A. C. in the A.A.U. meet at New York.

Added interest is attached to this week's meet because its summaries should provide a clear indication of what may be expected in the Big Ten indoor championships at Chicago March 11 when Michigan will be seeking its second straight conference crown and its ninth in 11 seasons. Illinois is the only other threat for the team title.

Illinois has three standout performers in Bob Kelley, conference outdoor 440 and 880 champion; Claude "Buddy" Young, sensational freshman sprinter, hurdler and broad jumper, and hurdler Bob Hinkle, also a freshman. Wendell Phillips, Dave Nichols and half a dozen other sure point winners give the Illini excellent overall strength.

Against this power Michigan can stack such performers as Bob Ufer, conference indoor quarter-mile and national A.A.U. 600-yard champion and record holder; Ross and Bob Hume, outstanding Big Ten milers; sprinters Bob Nussbaumer and Bruce Blanchard; hurdlers Elmer Swanson and Nussbaumer, and pole vaulter Bob Segula plus as much or more general balance as that shown by Illinois.

The 440-yard duel between Ufer and Kelley may easily prove the top event on Saturday's card. Ufer has lost only one race this winter, that the Millrose 600. If the Hume twins are entered in the 880 against Kelley, this too will provide brilliant competition. They may, however, double in the two mile instead of the half.

Illinois has defeated Michigan in track only once in the last 13 meets, going from 1929 until last season's narrow 62-60 outdoor triumph without a win over the Wolverines. Notre Dame has not outscored a Michigan track team since 1916.

Hawkeye Highlights

Some half dozen athletes will represent the University of Iowa in the Big Ten championship indoor track meet at Chicago March 11. Since there are not enough candidates for a dual meet schedule, the Hawkeyes will enter the big meet without having had any actual competition. Rex Whitworth, the medical student from Bramhall, England, has been making good practice marks in the hurdles, high and broad jumps.

Baseball Squad Developing
A baseball squad with possibilities is being developed by Coach "Waddy" Davis at the University of Iowa, although players with Big Ten experience are missing. Hawkeyes open their 10-game league schedule against Chicago April 7 and 8 but may have several contests with non-league teams prior to that date.

Seahawk Track Team To Meet Wisconsin At Madison Today

The Seahawk varsity track team, first in the history of the Pre-Flight school, at Iowa City, will open its season Saturday with a dual meet with the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Lieut. (jg.) Frank Porter, coach, was encouraged in his hopes of dumping the Badgers with the arrival in a new battalion of T. W. Judge, of Mansfield, Pa., a distance runner who has been clocked at less than 4:15 for the mile.

Also added to the Seahawk roster this week was Morice Winter, of South Gate, Calif., a pole vaulter who has cleared 13 feet, 10 inches. Winter was a forward on the basketball team which closed its season Monday.

Another cadet counted on heavily for points in the dashes is L. W. Alkon, of Detroit, who holds the cadet record of :06.6 for the 60-yard dash. This was made in tennis shoes, and Alkon hopes to slice 2 or 3 tenths off that time in competition.

R. H. Blaney, also of Detroit, has turned in times of 1:58 for the half mile and 51 seconds in the 400-yard run.

Other cadets in competition will be B. W. Miller, Los Angeles; T. K. Boylen, Portland, Ore.; M. F. Cartiser, Webster Groves, Mo.; and B. M. Hume, LaGrange, Ill.

Purdue, Indiana Renew Old Rivalry for 71st Time Tonight

Teams Meet During Indiana State High School Tournament

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—For the 71st time since 1900, basketball teams from Indiana and Purdue universities are this week preparing to meet on the hardwood—and even in the midst of the state high school net tourney, many Hoosier court fans will find their 71st renewal of the Purdue-Indiana rivalry something to see. The tip-off will come at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, March 4, in the Indiana fieldhouse.

The traditional Boiler-maker-Hoosier mixup at the end of the Big Ten season lacks one ingredient this year of shaping into the usual red-hot game it is, for their is no Big Ten championship reward at stake. Northwestern put the Boiler-makers out of the 1944 title contention last Saturday, and the Hoosiers have been unable to climb very far out of the Conference cellar all season.

But all the other ingredients are there—and the Hoosiers are spoiling for a chance to avenge January's 62-43 defeat at West Lafayette. Harry Good, Indiana's new team coach, is putting his team through its paces at a fast clip this week with an eye toward knockout of Coach Ward Lambert's service boys, and if that happens Indiana fans will consider the season a success.

Army-Navy Teams Favorites
NEW YORK (AP)—Track teams from the army and navy academies are the top heavy favorites in the IC-4A indoor track and field meet at Madison Square garden today.

Twenty-four colleges from up and down the Atlantic seacoast are entered in the 23rd annual indoor varsity festival which this year is headed by a special race of a mile in which Gil Dodds of Boston, will be after his fifth straight victory of the winter.

Sports Trail...

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—It doesn't seem likely that stockholders of major league baseball clubs will be going around lighting pump-cigars with $10 bills and shoveling loose change into trash cans as a result of the profit they will make this year, despite the common idea the clubs might eliminate a big overhead by paying peon wages to replacements for expensive stars.

There undoubtedly will be a substantial saving for most clubs in their player payrolls, as it just isn't within reason that young sprouts coming up will draw down the same salaries as those of the established players they are replacing.

But that's only a part of the picture, and as an outsider not having access to the books you would guess that in the case of the average club any profits through saving will be offset by other factors, and that if the club owners had their choice they'd rather pay the big salaries and have other conditions normal.

On the credit side from the clubs' standpoint you might list the salary savings, the possible saving of money on spring training, as many clubs claimed they lost money on the trips to balmy climes, and the saving resulting from the three-trip-a-year schedule resumed last year.

On the debit side is the decrease in attendance, which probably will be only partially offset in some instances by the increase in night games; the higher price of food, an item of no small consequence in the upkeep of 25 or so husky young men; an increase in the tax on railroad tickets, and a possible increased cost of equipment.

There are certain fixed overheads and incomes not affected by present conditions, such as front office salaries, park upkeep, although even this might go up with wages as high as they are, and the remuneration from the concession contracts.

Naturally the salary savings of the different clubs vary greatly. The payroll of a team like the Yankees, for instance, would make those of the Athletics or Philadelphia look like a petty cash report. But the Yankees, with gold-plated agents such as Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller, Red Ruffing and others are an exception which cannot be ruled representative.

But all in all, we think that on an average the added expenses will at least offset any saving. And if attendance goes into a tail-spin due to a decline in the quality of play and absence of regular fans because of an engagement with Uncle Sam, the books will be splashed with red ink.

However, we must have overlooked some substantial item of the credit side, because different syndicates seem to be falling over each other trying to buy the Dodgers. Maybe they think the whole borough goes along with the franchise.

Advertising Worker, Journalist to Speak in Old Capitol Today

Speaking at the Career Clinic this morning will be Amy Nash, personnel director of Dancer-Fitzgerald and Sample advertising agency in Chicago, and Martha Berry, president of the Iowa Women's Press association.

Miss Nash will speak at 10 o'clock in the house chamber of Old Capitol on "It Pays to Advertise," and "So You Want to Be a Newspaper Woman" will be the topic of Miss Berry's talk at 11 o'clock in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Miss Nash, a graduate of Ohio university, has been employed in the advertising agency for 10 years doing all types of work during that time. Her address will be of particular interest to those interested in advertising, whether doing art work, writing or work for the radio.

Miss Berry first became interested in journalism in her high school days. She has worked on the Alamosa, Colo., Daily Courier as city editor as well as on her father's paper, the Indianapolis Record-Tribune.

Frances Maloy, A4 of Kansas City, Mo., will introduce Miss Nash, and introducing Miss Berry will be Shirley McKim, J4 of Burlington.

The Career Clinic is a series of vocational conferences sponsored by the vocational board of the University Women's association. Talks have been given by representatives of various fields each Saturday for the past four weeks.

Prof. Charles Keyes Lectures on Hopewell

"Notwithstanding the fact that the Hopewell culture was the first to become known in America and Europe, it remains as much of a puzzle in 1944 as it was in the 19th century," said Prof. Charles R. Keyes of Cornell college in a lecture on "The Hopewell," given last night in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. This was the fifth in a series of six illustrated lectures on archaeology presented on Friday evenings.

The few evidences of the Hopewell culture found in this country are located along the Gulf stream and in several midwestern states, notably Ohio. The few remains found in Iowa are along the Mississippi river. The Hopewell is known mostly from mounds rather than from village sites.

The status of the Hopewell hinges upon two main opinions, first, that it is a phase of the Woodland culture, and second, that it is entitled to rank as a basic culture or pattern. New data tends to confirm the latter view.

The traits most characteristic of the Hopewell are earth-walled enclosures, primarily extended burials in conical mounds, cremation basins with remains of cremated bodies, the use of copper for tools and ornaments, the use of mica, a lavish use of fresh water pearls for ornamentation, large projectile points of flint and obsidian, plain or effigy pipes, and flat-based pottery.

Professor Keyes concluded his lecture with slides showing maps of various mound locations, and pictures of implements and burials of the Hopewell.

DEATHS

Funeral service for John Kerf, 70, 1123 E. Fairchild street, who died Thursday night, will be held in the Oathout funeral chapel at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon.

A former employe of the buildings and grounds department of the university, Mr. Kerf was born in Iowa City, where he spent most of his life.

His survivors include a brother, Joseph, with whom he resided, seven nieces and a nephew. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Service for Mrs. Will O'Brien, 48, 755 Oakland avenue, who died at her home Thursday, will be held in St. Mary's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, Edwin of Tiffin, Lieut. (j.g.) Eugene, who is stationed in the south Pacific, and John Howard, at home; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Miller of Iowa City and Kathleen and Ileen, at home; four sisters, Mrs. J. G. Beumer of Albuquerque, N. M., Mrs. William Thompson of Canton, Ohio, Mrs. C. W. Seibert of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mrs. Clair Humphries of Kinross; four brothers, John Cooney of Sigourney, Col. James P. Cooney of Atlantic City, N. J., William Cooney of Canton, Ohio, and three grandchildren.

The rosary will be recited at the home tomorrow night at 7:30. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. Service is under the direction of McGovern's funeral home.

D. I. Hoover, father of Mrs. Clyde Shellady of Iowa City, died in a San Diego, Calif., hospital Thursday, according to word received here.

A former insurance agent here, Mr. Hoover retired four years ago. David Deaton, 418 Fifth avenue, is a grandson.

Sister Mary Calasanz of Campbell Port, sister of Mrs. Margaret Duwa of Iowa City, died last Saturday.

Mary Waldschmidt before she entered the convent, her other survivors include three brothers, Vincent Waldschmidt of Badger, Mich., and Louis and Joseph Waldschmidt, both of Riverside, and two sisters, Sister Mary Movilla of Dubuque and Mrs. Zitta Duwa of Riverside.

dren," he said, "and on top of that they can have all my pay."

Sergeant Thompson was pale and tense as he made his announcement at U. S. army headquarters, where it was stressed that he had appeared voluntarily and without official connection. He handed out a written statement which had been typed for him but which he said was wholly his own.

Flanked by army officers, he answered a few questions, haltingly but determinedly. He hoped that he and the mother of the babies could disappear now from the limelight into which they had been thrust so prominently with the birth of the quadruplets.

"I hope Norah and I will be left alone now so that we can together work out our problems and destinies," his statement concluded, "and so that I may be able honestly to top out my problem with my wife."

The first thought of Norah Carpenter at Heanor in Derbyshire when she was told of the death of baby MacDonald yesterday was that Thompson should be informed immediately.

Sitting up in bed, her shoulders in a pink jacket, she told of having met the American soldier—she calls him "Red"—on Dec. 16, 1942—"the first day he was allowed out of camp after his arrival in England."

"At first he talked about his wife a good deal," she said. "We tried to break it up on account of her but we couldn't. We tried to quit going together. But we couldn't."

"In May, I think it was, he wrote her and asked for his freedom. She said no, because of her religion."

She thought a while, and then summed up her story. "I love Red," she said.

Sergeant Thompson came to London to consult with his army superiors after having paid a brief visit to Heanor Thursday night. He saw Norah and stayed with her parents until early yesterday morning.

NEWS—

Mr. Kennedy is erroneously designated by certain contrary political elements as an appeaser—and conversely also as an Anglophile. So also with Herbert Hoover and the international food distribution problem. Mr. Roosevelt hired the popular ex-Governor Lehman, who knows nothing of the subject, and discarded Mr. Hoover whose life was spent acquiring superior knowledge and experience in that particular line. Why? Because Hoover is politically unpopular.

Ex-Governor Cox, an ardent League of Nations Democrat, is likewise idling outside government service. There are hundreds of them throughout the country, men of great ability, good Democrats, good Republicans, experienced men. The above named are offered merely as examples.

This is world war, and more than that, it is world revolution within war. The people of the country really care far less whether a man is a good political appointment than whether he can help win for us. The best politics would be no politics.

The politicians still mouth their worn-out phrases about liberalism or conservatism, when the real question is whether we, as victors, will be able to survive. Furthermore we do not seem to be winning fast enough to warrant careless administration.

In a life and death world crisis like this, we cannot choose political directions or political appointees, whether leftists or rightists. The only direction in which the country must look is not to the right or left—but up, up to survival in this deteriorating and degenerating struggle.

A thorough change is called for—and is imminent.

Iowa A. S. T. P. Has No Word Of 'Expansion'

Army officials at the university have received no official word of the army's proposed plan to expand the specialized training reserve program for 17-year-old men in the pre-induction group.

A joint army-navy announcement yesterday refrained from estimating how many men would be sent to institutions of higher learning, but said that a "broad expansion" of this program was being contemplated.

Lieutenant Smith of the A. S. T. P. command at the University of Iowa said that definite word had been received here that the army had no intentions of discontinuing the specialized training reserve, although the majority of the 1,300 men in the Iowa university A. S. T. P. would probably be called into active duty to make up deficiencies in total army strength.

The current army reserve training program now includes only about 2,800. However, college officials have estimated that possibly 100,000 might be eligible.

The training of these 17-year-olds is limited to those who have completed high school but have not yet registered for selective service. The 75 men in the A. S. T. P. now in the university will advance into the regular A. S. T. P. when they reach the age of 18, and will continue their studies here in the fields of medicine, dentistry, engineering, foreign language, and acoustics and optics.

The new program that is being considered is designed to "replace some of the loss" which will result from withdrawals to active duty, of some 110,000 army specialized training men April 1, thereby reducing the total of this program from 145,000 to about 35,000 men.

Former Students— Serving the Nation —Former Iowa Citizens

Second Lieut. Paul F. Siglin of Cedar Falls, a former student at the University of Iowa, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant, it has been announced at an outlying base of the sixth air force in the Panama area. He is serving as first pilot in a Flying Fortress of a heavy bombardment squadron.

A member of the University of Iowa's basketball team, and an all-state player, he has been in the army two years and has logged 1200 hours in the air. In addition to his pilot's wings, he wears the western hemisphere defense ribbon and has been recommended for the air medal.

As a final test of his four weeks of paratrooper training, Pvt. James Connell, son of Mrs. Agnes Connell, 420 S. Van Buren street, made his fifth and qualifying jump recently, which was a night tactical leap identical to actual combat work in Sicily. He has now won the right to wear the wings and boots of the United States army volunteer paratrooper.

In a bid for the 155-pound boxing championship of the fifth army in Italy, Pfc. Guy Seydel, 820 Orchard street, recently qualified to represent his engineers unit, which he serves as a pastry cook.

An amateur fighter, he was once runner-up in the Golden Gloves tournament held in Iowa City, fought as a civilian at Des Moines and Cedar Rapids, and, as a soldier, at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, and Algiers.

If he wins the fifth army finals, he will compete against champions of all other United States and Allied naval and army components in North Africa for the Theatre of Operations championship.

His wife, Mrs. Blanche Seydel, and their daughter, Barbara Lou, live in Iowa City.

A 1934 graduate of the University of Iowa, Lieut. (j.g.) Wallace W. Huff, U.S.N.R., of Sioux City, is at the New Orleans naval armed guard center awaiting assignment as commander of the navy gun crew aboard an American merchant vessel. He is a member of

Congregationalists To Vote on Renewal

All members of the Congregational church or Congregational society are urged to attend the service tomorrow at 10:30 to vote upon the renewal of the 50-year term of incorporation which expires March 30th.

According to the code of Iowa, it is required that a majority of members of the Congregational society, that is, church members and those who make a financial contribution to the church, vote affirmatively, in order to obtain a renewal.

For the permanent record for the county and state court house, the name of each member voting will be recorded and published at the renewal service 50 years hence.

Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Phi fraternities. Before entering the navy in 1942 he practiced law in Sioux City and was in charge of the sub-recruiting station there. His wife, Marion, and two small sons reside in Sioux City.

Recently promoted to the rank of Staff Sergt. was Sergt. Glade H. Butterfield Jr., now somewhere in England with the army air corps. He was a student at the University of Iowa, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, prior to entering the service in November 1942. He is now technical supply chief at a Liberator bomber station in England.

Maj. Bryce A. Stearns, a graduate from the Iowa university college of medicine, is head of the anesthetist department at the Fitzsimmons General hospital in Denver, Col.

The bronze oak leaf cluster was recently awarded to Second Lieut. Roy D. Voorhees of Washington, who attended the University of Iowa in 1939 and 1940. He has already received the oak medal for meritorious service in flight against the enemy. He was awarded the bronze oak leaf cluster for five additional missions.

Capt. V. William (Bill) Norris, who was graduated from the University of Iowa college of dentistry, has been sent from Buckley field, Denver, Col., to Fitzsimmons General hospital, because of an injury to his knee. His wife, the former Isabella Striet, was graduated in nursing from the university.

Susa, near the Persian gulf, is considered to have the longest continuous existence of any city in history—from 4000 BC to 650 AD.

Cadets Donate $348

The cadet regiment of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school has given $348 to the World Student Service Fund drive, it was announced yesterday. The United Christian council is in charge of the drive, which is raising funds to send books to refugees and prisoners of war, and to help them continue their education.

"Billfold Belle"

BASED ON the assumption that each man's "Billfold Belle" is far more popular than the current pin-up girl, enlisted men at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Faragut, Id., took a vote and found that Miss Celia Doonan, 20, from Cedar Rapids, Ia., won title of "Billfold Belle." (International)

Report to the Nation:

When the 4th War Loan Ended— Our Fighting Men Kept Firing!

News that the 4th War Loan goal of $14,000,000,000 has been reached and passed will cheer American boys from Italy to the Marshalls. But they will hear the news not only over sputtering radios but over the din of battle.

For the war still goes on with ever mounting fury. And that means that our War Bond buying must go on unabated, too.

To the millions who bought extra War Bonds in this drive, all America gives thanks.

To the 5,000,000 and more volunteer workers who contributed their time and abilities to help make the drive a success, your Government and your fighting men give thanks.

To the thousands of patriotic newspapers, magazines, radio stations and networks, members of the motion picture industry, the outdoor industry, advertisers and agencies, retail stores, banks, post offices, credit unions, building and loan associations, labor unions, fraternal organizations and farm credit associations, the Nation gives thanks.

Once again Americans have proved their determination to "back the attack" to the full.

But the attack goes on

Look at Italy. When the 4th War Loan drive ended at midnight February 15, the drive on Rome was still going on. American boys were still crouching in water-filled foxholes—clinging with bitter and bloody tenacity to a beachhead the Germans were equally determined to take back.

Thus on the same midnight that witnessed the end of the 4th War Loan drive, the hands of the clock met like shears to snip the lives of scores of American boys engaged in the March on Rome. And the fight goes on.

Look at Japan. At the same hour that saw the end of the 4th War Loan, the "March of Death" that shocked all America to a realization of Jap brutality to American prisoners of war—that march was still going on.

To liberate those heroes of Bataan and Corregidor before it is "too late," other American boys stormed and took the Marshalls on the road to Tokyo.

But that March to Tokyo—still 2,000 miles away—that march goes on.

And we on the home front

—can we afford to stop now that the 4th War Loan is history, while our all-important job of supplying and financing this costliest war of all time still goes on? We have won a home front battle here, yes. But just as our boys continue even more vigorously once they have established a beachhead, so we must continue to build on the success we have already achieved.

The Bonds we bought last week and the week before are today's exploding bombs and shells, and spent bullets can never be used again. We must provide for tomorrow, too. The need for new guns, planes, ships and tanks goes on.

For the war still goes on with ever mounting fury. So while all of those on the home front who have bought Bonds and have worked hard to make the 4th War Loan drive a success have earned the Nation's thanks, none of us can afford to forget that our home front job, including Bond buying, also still goes on!

Henry Morgenthau Jr.
