Drafting Men 25, Younger Speeded Up

Selective Service Issues New Orders To Draft Boards

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective service last night intensified its drive for able-bodied young men in a series of sharp new instructions to draft boards, while government agencies agreed on a plan to save a few "indispensable" youths for vital war industry.

Aimed directly at faster induction of men 25 and younger for combat service, the orders from Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, will leave registrants 26 and over untouched until the younger men have been cleaned up.

Hershey's action came quickly after Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission announced that a supreme new committee headed by himself would "ration" deferments among the chosen key industries, and gave other agencies just three days to submit figures on the number of men proposed by them for deferment.

The Hershey orders provided "interim" machinery to prevent the drafting of essential young men until McNutt's machinery is functioning, and in addition told the local boards:

1. To pay no heed to the expiration date of present deferments of men under 26, but to proceed with the review of their deferments and reclassify them as 1-A or otherwise as rapidly as the review is carried out.

2. To let men 26 and older stay in their present classifications until the boards have gone through the lists of all men under 26 in class 3-A as well as those deferred in industry and agriculture.

3. To order up for pre-induction physical examination all men under 26 who hold occupational deferments and who have not been physically examined within the last 90 days.

4. To use their discretion in re-classifying as 2-A or 2-B (occupational deferments) those men under 26 who are found unfit for military service or fit only for limited military service, if such registrants are contributing to "war production or war supporting activities."

Under the new action, a draft board may make such a worker 2-A or 2-B which will make him subject to WMC regulations restricting job transfers.

Senate Strips TVA Of Financial Autonomy In Angry Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a hot-tempered session in which senators angrily denounced Vice-President Wallace's use of the phrase "parliamentary trickery," the senate voted yesterday to strip the administration's Tennessee valley authority of its financial autonomy and make it come to congress for funds.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), author of the restrictive legislation, denounced the vice-president's remarks as "damnable" at one point and at another Senator Clark (D-Mo) charged the vice-president with "brazenly" disregarding the senate's parliamentary rules.

The senate voted 39 to 26 to incorporate in the $8,577,933,978 independent offices appropriations bill an amendment denying TVA, public power agency, the right to use its power and fertilizer receipts to finance its operations.

Under the proposal, upon which the house has yet to act, TVA's receipts would have to be paid into the general fund of the treasury, and its spending would be limited strictly to such money as congress appropriated.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky) contended that the agency would be "crippled" if unable to use its receipts to meet operating emergencies "like any other utility."

RAF Planes Bomb Berlin During Night

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—Aircraft of the RAF bomber command were over Germany in strength during the night, with Berlin as the main objective, an authoritative British source announced today hard on the heels of the American daylight attacks which Friday pounded Frankfurt and Schweinfurt and the French airfields of Nancy and St. Dizier as the air war against German Europe raged without pause.

The German radio declared the night raid on Berlin was on a large scale.

The Germans, who had offered little opposition to the daylight attacks, responded last night with an attack upon London for the fourth consecutive night. The Germans appeared flying in several waves, dropping high explosives and incendiaries, which piled up damages and casualties.

Last night's attack on Bombweary Berlin was presumably made by the RAF. The German radio said bombs blanketed the entire city.

About 250 American bombers and approximately the same number of fighters, including RAF Mustangs, took part in each of the two daylight missions—a total of 1,000 planes—significantly demonstrating the allies' growing command of the air. The raids were made at a cost of three bombers and five fighters although two of the targets, Frankfurt and Schweinfurt, are vital industrial centers heavily defended in the past.

The escort destroyed two Nazi aircraft on the ground and shot down a third as it was taking off.

The Americans could not shoot any great numbers out of the air because, as a headquarters communique observed last night, "few German interceptors challenged either the fighters or the bombers."

Loss of Imphal would threaten allied control of all Assam, as well as all river, rail and air communications supporting united nations operations in China and Burma. Officials here were confident, however, that allied forces available in the threatened area were superior to the Japanese both on the ground and in the air.

A third force of unestimated size was believed gathering in the dense jungle to strike from north-east of Imphal.

Lowell Mellett Quits $10,000 a Year Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lowell Mellett, grey-haired veteran behind the new deal scenes, quit his $10,000-a-year job as administrative assistant to President Roosevelt yesterday to become a newspaper columnist for the Washington Star.

Liquor Prices Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The public will pay from 1 to 4 cents more beginning April 1 for liquor for the drink, the office of price administration said yesterday in authorizing bars, hotels and restaurants to add the increased federal excise tax to present maximum prices.

Churchill Inspects U. S. Air-Borne Base

LONDON, (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill on his first inspection of an all-American force in Britain watched hundreds of paratroopers in a mass leap at a U. S. air-borne base Thursday, clambered about a glider, discovered the air-borne troops "the most modern expression of war."

"Soon," he told the parachute troops who gathered around him on his surprise visit, unannounced until yesterday for security reasons, "you will have the opportunity of testifying to your belief in all those great phrases embodied in the American constitution."

American Subs Sink 11 Jap Ships

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC (AP)—In the Pacific all news Thursday was bad for Tokyo. The navy announced American submarines had sunk 11 more Japanese ships—two tankers, three transports, five freighters, and a converted mine-layer.

A navy search plane bombed the Ant islands, the sixth target in the Caroline islands to be attacked. The Ant islands atoll is near much-bombed Ponape, eastern outpost of Truk. Fires were started on one of four enemy islands raided in the Marshalls.

President Roosevelt promised "America will fulfill its pledge" of independence to the Philippines and noted that "the return of freedom draws closer with each island victory."

Tokyo radio asserted "fierce attacks are being continued" by Japanese troops on Bougainville in the northern Solomons. But Associated Press war correspondent Spencer Davis reported from Guadalcanal the wind had been knocked "out of the enemy's last gasp offensive."

FDR Asks Peoples Of Balkans To Hide Intended Nazi Victims

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, saying hundreds of thousands of Jews face death as a result of Hitler's grasp of the Balkans, called on the peoples of those countries and the Germans themselves yesterday to hide intended victims from the Nazi executioners.

The chief executive also asked in a statement that "the free peoples of Europe and Asia temporarily open their frontiers to all victims of oppression."

"We shall find havens of refuge for them, and we shall find the means for their maintenance and support until the tyrant is driven from their homelands and they may return," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a voice heavy with the cold which kept him in his living quarters earlier this week, read the statement to his press-radio conference. He said the American inter-departmental committee on refugees has had considerable success in actually getting people out of Nazi-dominated areas.

He indicated that he considered the first paragraph of his statement to be a summary of American foreign policy, commenting after he read it that it should answer people who have been going around asking bellhops whether this country has a foreign policy. The paragraph reads:

"The united nations are fighting to make a world in which tyranny and aggression cannot exist; a world based upon freedom, equality and justice; a world in which all persons regardless of race, color or creed may live in peace, honor and dignity."

Lonergan Sits Calmly During Recording Of Sordid Story

NEW YORK (AP)—The defense began a grim fight yesterday at the murder trial of stolid Wayne Lonergan to block admission of his purported confession that he battered and choked to death his wife, Patricia, heiress to $6,000,000, last Oct. 24.

Defense Counsel Edward V. Broderick called two prosecuting attorneys to the witness stand in an attempt to prove that the statement was obtained by subjecting the 26-year-old Royal Canadian air-craftman to long hours of questioning without sleep.

Lonergan again sat calmly at the counsel table as the attorneys battled over the point that may decide his fate.

The tall defendant appeared equally unmoved as his alibi was read into the record—a sordid story that he was having unnatural relations with an American soldier in a friend's apartment about the time his wife was slain in her own apartment.

CIO Steel Workers Demand 17-Cent Hourly Wage Increase Regardless of Wage Ceilings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO united steel workers set out yesterday to blaze a new trail in labor economics with demands for a 17-cent hourly wage increase regardless of government wage ceilings, a guaranteed post-war 40-hour week or annual wage, a joint fund for steel workers returning from the armed services and nearly a dozen other concessions.

Philip Murray, president of the steel workers, spearheaded his union's case before a war labor board panel.

He denounced the little steel wage formula for what he termed "obvious, practical unworkability," contended corporations and the farmers have been guaranteed minimum incomes, and shot bars at "the fat boys" of the steel industry for their "audacity" in trying to keep the steel workers wage case from the war labor board.

U. S. Tells Hungary To Fight 'Nazi Ship'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States yesterday called on Hungary to fight rather than submit tamely to the "Nazi ship" and implied that if she does she will get better treatment at the peace table.

Secretary of State Hull issued a statement calling for "firm resistance" against German forces occupying the axis satellite nation. The statement was obviously designed to stir a wave of sabotage and guerrilla fighting and thus hamper Hitler's desperate attempt to strengthen his military position in southeastern Europe.

Russian Troops Break Through To Dniester River, Killing 2,000 Germans in Four-Day Offensive

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples (AP)—The Germans have thrown powerful new artillery and aerial support into their defense of Cassino, their ground troops are resisting as desperately as ever in the ruins of the mountain-locked stronghold, and it becomes plain that last week's terrific air assaults did little to help allied forces break through into the Roman valleys.

Enemy artillery fire from north of the town has mounted steadily in recent days, and between 40 and 50 Nazi planes swept low Thursday to shoot up allied traffic on highway 6 behind the lines.

Troops Worm Forward

New Zealand troops wormed forward in the ruins at the southern edge of Cassino and an allied spokesman reported they made "some little progress." German parachute troops clung to wreckage of the Continental and Des Roses hotels and other buildings.

Allied chances of breaking through into the Liri valley appeared as remote as at any time since the start of the struggle over two months ago. The allies, though, have learned many lessons at Cassino which may prove of value in the forthcoming invasion of western Europe.

Air Attacks Ineffective

One is that air attacks, though effective against cities and industrial establishments in the rear, are of little value against fortifications manned by determined soldiers. Above all, it has shown that the walls of Hitler's Europe still are strong and intact and that the German army still is capable of a most desperate defense.

Allied heavy bombers attacked railroad targets at Padua, west of Venice, again Thursday night following a daylight raid by American medium Marauders in the Campo di Marte freight yards in the Florence area. Smoke rose to 9,000 feet over Florence and photographs showed great damage to warehouses and tracks there. No allied planes were lost during the day.

The 23,500 casualties inflicted on the enemy boosted to nearly 250,000 the German dead and captured in the Ukraine offensive, on the basis of Moscow announcements.

The communique announced that Soviet troops striking north-west of besieged Tarnopol had crossed the Sereth river and cut the railway to Lwow at a point only 60 miles from that big axis communications city in southern Poland.

That stroke snapped the principal German feeder route into Tarnopol, made the capture of Tarnopol an early possibility, and further opened the way for three-day drive on Lwow.

T. E. Dewey Charges Suppression of News

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey accused the national administration last night of fostering "a deliberate and dangerous policy" of suppressing news and said the people knew "far too little about our own foreign policies and practically nothing about our diplomatic commitments."

Dewey, mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate, criticized the administration's handling of news in an address opening the annual exhibition of the Press Photographers Association of New York.

After declaring that the American people were the best informed because of a free press, Dewey said there had been "increasing signs of late that our newspapers are being denied the right to print all the news."

Senate Approves 'GI Bill of Rights'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate passed unanimously last night a $3,500,000,000 "GI bill of rights" measure providing virtually every suggested aid to veterans of this war except adjusted compensation (bonus) payments.

The roll call vote was 49 to 0 for passage of the measure.

The measure, which now goes to the house, carries an estimated $3,000,000,000 authorization for construction of new hospital facilities. It provides for government-paid education of from one to four years (based on length of service) for servicemen and women, plus:

1. Unemployment compensation of $15-a-week for a maximum of 52 weeks out of a 24-month period.

2. Loans up to $1,000 for the purchase of farms, homes or businesses.

3. A veterans' job placement service.

4. Designation of the veterans administration to administer all of its provisions under a status as a war agency.

Approve Appropriation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate, approving the $8,557,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill, voted yesterday to withhold funds from any government agency in existence 12 months without direct congressional appropriations.

Federal Court Jury Hears Berry Letter In Chaplin Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joan Berry stared at the floor and finally the tears flowed down her pale cheeks yesterday as a federal court jury heard the girlish love letter she wrote to Charlie Chaplin in late 1942, saying in part:

"I know what I've done is past forgiving . . . thank you, Charles, for letting me know you . . . I'm going back to New York to get married . . ."

The fervent missive highlighted the fourth day of the comedian's trial on Mann act charges involving the young woman, along with a court ruling barring defense questioning of her about another man and a trip she purportedly said she made from Mexico.

Charlie shifted in his chair as his attorney, Jerry Giesler, read Joan's letter aloud. At its conclusion the red-haired young woman pleaded with the court for a recess and was led sobbing from the witness stand.

After the ruling barring Giesler's questions about the other man, Giesler announced he was through cross-examining Miss Berry.

U. S. Atty. Charles H. Carr, with a few questions about Miss Berry's visit to Chaplin's Beverly Hills home with a loaded pistol, brought her testimony on behalf of the prosecution to a close.

No Will Found For $148,000 Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson, reputed millionaire during his three terms as mayor of Chicago, left an estate estimated at $148,000, but no will has been found, James W. Ereen, the Thompson family lawyer, informed the probate court yesterday.

Thompson, 74, died last Sunday. His widow, Mrs. Mary Wyse Thompson, was appointed administrator.

Reds Capture 3,500 Nazis

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—Russia's first Ukraine army broke through to the Dniester river at the Balkan gateway city of Zaleschiki yesterday, killing 20,000 Germans and capturing 3,500 in a four-day offensive which put the Red army within five miles of the former Rumanian province of Bucovina and 60 miles from old Czechoslovakia, a Moscow communique announced last night.

The 62-mile flanking smash below Tarnopol threatened to trap thousands of battered German troops to the east, part of the 50 German divisions of more than 500,000 men already threatened with encirclement in the Odessa area of southern Russia.

Other Soviet units cut the Lwow-Tarnopol railway north-west of Tarnopol, fought their way into Proskurov, 62 miles east of Tarnopol, severed another German escape railway from lower Russia into Bessarabia, and toppled the German Bug river stronghold of Voznesensk above Odessa, the Soviet command announced.

Whole enemy garrisons were wiped out in the new smash to the Dniester at captured Zaleschiki, said a midnight Russian bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor. German troops also abandoned great piles of equipment, it said.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's troops were declared to have overrun 400 towns and villages in reaching the river in the south-eastern corner of old Poland, and the thrust placed Soviet troops just 26 miles north of Czernowitz, big Rumanian rail junction controlling lines into Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and southern Rumania.

The 23,500 casualties inflicted on the enemy boosted to nearly 250,000 the German dead and captured in the Ukraine offensive, on the basis of Moscow announcements.

The communique announced that Soviet troops striking north-west of besieged Tarnopol had crossed the Sereth river and cut the railway to Lwow at a point only 60 miles from that big axis communications city in southern Poland.

The bride was attired in a three-piece blue suit accented with black accessories. The matron of honor wore an aqua suit with brown accessories. Both wore shoulder corsages of gardenias.

The couple was honored at a dinner in the home of the bride's parents for members of the bridal party and immediate relatives of the couple. After dinner the couple left on a short wedding trip to St. Louis.

The bride attended Brown's Commerce college in Iowa City and before her marriage was employed by the Iowa Engineering company in Cedar Rapids.

He arrived in Iowa City the latter part of February after serving 14 months overseas, three of which he served as radio-gunner on a bomber in combat duty. Sergeant Hudgens is now stationed at Keesler field, Miss., where he is taking cadet training in the army air corps. Mrs. Hudgens will join her husband soon.

Alfred Noyes— English Poet to Talk

"The Foundations of Belief" during the past 30 years. The late President Taft wrote an introduction to his "Avenue of the Allies," in which he called Noyes "one of the great poets of this generation" in his treatment of war and peace and his expression of the common hope of all men for a world free from wars. In the spring of 1941 he published a long poetic indictment of Hitlerism which appeared in the Red Book magazine and later was issued in book form. Noyes also wrote a poem, "Atlantic Charter," to commemorate Navy day, which revealed the meeting place of Roosevelt and Churchill during the summer of 1941. The poet had been vacationing on an island off the coast of Maine and from his home observed the ship maneuver to anchor. Noyes' lecture tomorrow night will discuss the answer to modern agnosticism with a view to reconstruction after the war. Free tickets are available at the main desk of Iowa Union.

Franklin, Waverly Win In Boy's Tourney

Thunderbolts Hit Hull, 36-28

Waverly-Harlan Mix It Up In 33-25 Brawl As Opener

Racing to a 1 to 11 first quarter lead, the Waverly Go Hawks maintained the pace to knock Harlan out of the state high school basketball tournament last night 33 to 25.

After missing many shots, the Harlan five started to hit late in the second quarter narrowing the count at 15 to 11 when the half time gun went off. With the three point margin, the Go Hawks clung on to the lead, holding the fighting Harlan team for the remainder of the game.

Harlan's flashy little forward Peterson accounted for 11 points with many of the shots going in from the back court from difficult spots. With the score 19, to 17 at the start of the last quarter, no one could predict the outcome as both squads were fighting bitterly for the chance to play in the finals tonight.

Waverly will play Franklin of Cedar Rapids tonight, for the championship, with Hull and Harlan battling it out for consolation honors.

Franklin of Cedar Rapids plastered Hull 36 to 28, before an excited opening tournament crowd in the Hawkeye fieldhouse last night. After a slow first quarter which ended 4 to 4, the Cedar Rapids lads turned on the steam, only to find the class B contenders with the same thought in mind, ending the first half 17 to 15.

Coming out in a new fashion, Cedar Rapids built up a nice lead, and maintained it for the remainder of the game. It was a game freely sprinkled with fouls, with two Franklin players going out on personals. Hull lacked much of the color displayed by Franklin, but turned in a fine ball game, with special credit going to tall Mr. Calsbeek, responsible for 16 points, making himself high point man so far in the tournament.

Hull was able to feed the ball to Calsbeek for the first half, but Franklin put up a tight defense at the start of the second half and seemed to stop the threat.

Franklin and Waverly should put up a more even battle tonight as both squads are class A schools with good ball clubs. Tonight's consolation game starts at 7:30 p. m. with the championship dual taking the floor at 8:45 p. m.

The final game and the consolation match will be broadcast by WSUI with Dick Yoakam at the microphone.

Wood, Hines Lead Field At Durham Meet

DURHAM, S. C. (AP)—The veterans Craig Wood and Jimmy Hines trapped out four under par 67s over the short, muddy Hill-andale golf course yesterday to lead the field at the end of the first 18 hole round of the $5,000 Durham open tournament.

The 42-year-old Wood, last winner of the National open, put together nine hole scores of 32 and 35 and Hines, 38-year-old chipshot artist from Amsterdam, N. Y., went out in 35 and streaked home in 32.

Hard on the heels of the leaders came Byron Nelson, the pre-tournament favorite, with a 68 that included five birdies.

Skip Alexander, a Durham boy now in the army, was deadlocked at 71 with five other players, Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., recent winner of the North and South at Pinehurst, Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., winner of the Texas open last month, Frank Strazza of Greenwich, Conn., Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y., and Jimmy Johnston of Farmington, Mich.

Jug McSpaden, the leading winner of the winter swing, headed a list of six other players bracketed at 72, including Ed Furgol of Detroit, who bested the amateurs.

Gil Dodds Fails To Break Record

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gil Dodds, indoor king of the milers, failed in his attempt to crack Greg Rice's world's indoor two-mile record last night, finishing 14.3 seconds over the mark of 8 minutes 51 seconds established by Rice at the Knights of Columbus games here last year.

The meet saw one world's record fall before Dodds came to the track. Ed Conwell, New York university national dash champion, and Claude (Buddy) Young of Illinois, each ran the 45-yard dash one-tenth of a second faster than the mark of 4.8 seconds set last year by Herb Thompson of Jersey City, now in the east guard. Young sped the distance in a preliminary heat but was second to Conwell in the finals, when the New Yorker matched the new time.

National speed ice skater Ken Bartholomew, who won the national championship three times, the North American title twice and the Canadian crown on four occasions, is a private with the 64th Signal Battalion at Fort Dix, N. J.

The victors clash tonight for the right to represent the west against the eastern champions in Madison Square Garden March 28.

Pepperdine and Missouri will play for third place in tonight's opener.

A tall center, Nick Buzolich of Pepperdine, almost blighted Iowa State's hopes, but his 22 points weren't quite enough.

The widest margin in the see-saw battle was six points. The Cyclones erased a 15-19 half-time deficit, built a small lead and then battled valiantly to hold it.

Buzolich, 6 feet, 7 inches tall, evaded Gene Oulman and later Price Brookfield for close-in shots around the basket, making 14 points the first half.

Hawkeye Highlights

Tom Hughes, present No. 1 shortstop on the Iowa baseball squad, will be seeking his third major league. He won the award as a reserve football quarterback and basketball forward. Hughes says baseball really is his best sport: he was all-Nebraska American Legion player for two seasons, batted .529, and had a tryout with the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants last spring.

Only Champs Beat Whitworth. No one but national champions could beat Rex Whitworth, Iowa's British hurdle star, in the recent Chicago relays. The medical scholar was third in the 40, 50 and 60 yard hurdle races, defeating Swanson of Michigan, Big Ten champion, and Hinkle of Illinois, runner-up. Whitworth's conquerors were Bob Wright, former NCAA and national A. A. U. champion, and Ed Dugger, present national A. A. U. titlist.

15 Become Life Members In "I" Club. Life memberships in the University of Iowa alumni "I" club now are held by 15 men. Those who have become life members in 1944 are Dr. J. K. von Lackum and John Randall, Cedar Rapids; Sherman French, Hawarden; Judge Tedford Miles, Corydon, and Louis Iten, Clinton.

Hawks End Ball Card Early. Iowa ends its Big Ten baseball season of ten games April 29 while the final league games are not until June 10, so the Hawkeyes must wait six weeks before knowing their place in the standing. For instance, Indiana opens a week after Iowa closes, Purdue starts as Iowa finishes, and Michigan and Purdue end the season June 9 and 10. It's all because of wartime semester differences in the various universities.

Sets New Record. CLEVELAND (AP)—Ed Conwell, national indoor dash champion from New York university, set a new world's indoor record in winning the 45-yard dash in 4.7 seconds in the Knights of Columbus games at the arena last night.

Conwell clipped one-tenth of a second from the mark set here last year by Herb Thompson of Jersey City, now in the U. S. coast guard. Claude (Buddy) Young of the University of Illinois also was clocked in 4.7 seconds in coping the second heat of the semi-finals but finished second to Conwell in the finals. Thompson was third.

Cardinals Sign Mort Cooper; Browns Hold Outdoor Workout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. CAIRO, Ill.—The tension was off in the St. Louis Cardinals training camp yesterday with the signing of big Mort Cooper, who probably will be available to the club all year, and the players went through a long workout in preparation for tomorrow's exhibition game with former Redbird Brown's ferrying command team from Memphis.

Pitcher Cooper, who signed his contract for an undisclosed salary after asking $17,500, said at St. Louis he would leave for camp today. Shortstop Martin Marion also was enroute to camp from his South Carolina home.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo.—With a break in the weather the St. Louis Browns held their first outdoor workout yesterday since opening of training camp Monday. Steve Sundra, Weldon West, Nelson Potter and Sam Zoldak pitched to batters Vernon Stephens, Don Guttridge, Frank Manescu, Joe Schultz, Frank Demaree, Teddy Atkins and George McQuinn.

Veteran pitcher Al Hollingsworth missed practice because of a slight fever apparently caused by tonsillitis.

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—A veteran and two rookies will share the pitching for the Detroit Tigers in the exhibition season opener against the Chicago White Sox here today. Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Tiger mainstay last year, will be on the firing line with Henry Hresko, 17-year-old rookie, and Bill Kasepchuk, who is under contract with Buffalo of the International league.

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox plans to let the undermanned Detroit Tigers off easy in the first game of a two-game series at Evansville today by using two free agents pitchers—Charley Grauman, a 19-year-old of Minneapolis, and Al Wittmer, Omaha, Neb., who will not be 17 until May 1. Dykes will take 24 of his 34 players to Evansville.

THAT EXTRA LONG STRETCH DID IT!

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—Pitcher Johnny Gee, the 6-foot-9-inch southpaw, picked up by the Pittsburgh Pirates four years ago for $35,000 only to wreck his arm on the first day in spring camp, now appears ready to begin paying dividends.

Gee is one of eight hurlers, half of whom are 4-F's, training with the Bucs at the Muncie camp and has shown signs of recovering the form which made him a 20-game winner for Syracuse, N. Y., in 1939.

The following spring, in San Bernardino, Calif., Gee was welcomed into Pirate camp in the morning and lost the effectiveness of his arm by afternoon. Observers said the misery set in when he opened up by throwing curves.

"I guess I just threw too hard too soon, that's all," Gee recalled yesterday. "But now my arm feels fine. I only hope I can do the Bucs some good this year."

Manager Frankie Frisch thinks he can and will. Gee, who was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1937 after starring in basketball and baseball, was so pessimistic about achieving his ambition as a major league pitcher that he asked for voluntary retirement in 1940. But Commissioner Landis refused to grant it.

After Gee had reported to three minor league clubs and had refused to stay with two others, he finally was retired in 1942 and took a coaching job at the Adams, N. Y., high school.

It was during his work with the youngsters in basketball that his arm started coming back. Last spring he worked out with the Syracuse and Toronto clubs and upon their recommendation applied for reinstatement in baseball, which was granted.

Rejoining Pittsburgh, he won four and lost four last year, dropping his last three games by one-run margins.

Sports Trail . . .

By WHITNEY MARTIN. NEW YORK (AP)—We didn't see the 1924 world series but off-hand we would say it should have been just about the smartest ever played. Eight participants, including the rival pilots—Bucky Harris of the Senators and John McGraw of the Giants—either were or became major league managers.

The Giants, in addition to McGraw, had Billy Southworth, now skippering the St. Louis Cardinals; Frankie Frisch, now boss of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Bill Terry, who succeeded McGraw at the Giant helm.

In addition to the boy wonder, Harris, Washington had Roger Peckinpaugh, later to manage the Cleveland Indians, as well as serve a very brief term as pilot of the New York Yankees; Walter Johnson, also an Indian head, and Ossie Bluege, currently managing the Senators. And as something of a clincher for the Senators' claim to mental acrobatics, they had Muddy Ruel, now a lawyer and the only ex-major leaguer licensed to appear before the U. S. supreme court.

Now there have been other pennant winning teams with as many, or more, players who eventually became managers, but we don't believe any other world series boasted a total of eight for the two teams.

In fact, there was one team that probably rates as the all-time high in the number of past, present or future managers on its roster, and that team didn't win a pennant. That was Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics of 1928, who lost out to the Yankees in a bitter stretch drive. That club was a bunch of baseball quiz experts if there ever was one, fairly drooling with brains.

In addition to Mack, the roster showed Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Tris Speaker, Mickey Cochrane and Jimmy Dykes, all of whom were or became managers; Walter French, later coach at West Point, and Eddie Rommel, who became an American league umpire, and no cracks, please, about such a job requiring a seeing-eye dog rather than superior mentality.

Oddly enough, the Yankees in the past two decades when they were making a necklace of championships, didn't turn out many managers, a situation indicating it doesn't take much brains to be a ball player, or that the Yankees were so well paid that when they finished their active playing careers they could afford to drop out of the game.

It's admitted that slamming a ball over a fence or making a circus catch isn't necessarily the result of great mental power or leadership, and that some of our smartest baseball men were more or less ham and egg players. Joe McCarthy never even made the majors, and Bill Kechnie bobbed up and down between the majors and minors over a long period.

AMERICA—

changes? After the war, the U. S. will have to export capital to Latin America if she is to maintain full employment in the U. S. Should the Latin Americans oppose the entry of American capital, for nationalistic reasons or for lack of export markets—what then?

MR. ALFARO OPENS: The Good Neighbor Policy has been the greatest success in the history of Inter American relations. These relations have not always been happy. There have been wars, acts of force, imposition, pressure, tutelage, imperialism—resented by the weaker nations south of the Rio Grande. When hatred was allayed, there remained two deep-rooted sentiments—fear and distrust. Fear the "Colossus of the North" should violate the integrity of neighbor nations, in accordance with the sinister doctrine of "Manifest Destiny." Distrust, characterized by the belief all actions of the U. S. were aimed at the ultimate purpose of controlling their internal and external affairs. The old U. S. Inter-American policy was inspired by those doctrines and practices which we know by the names of the big stick, dollar diplomacy, constitutionalism, paternalism, hegemony, intervention, military occupation. Reversal of these practices constitutes the Good Neighbor Policy. Franklin Roosevelt gave it its felicitous name. His dealings have been consistently based on the doctrine of legal equality; the respect of all sister nations, large and small, weak and strong. He, Cordell Hull and Sumner Welles, have destroyed fear and distrust and achieved the unprecedented spirit of solidarity with which the new world is facing the gravest crisis of human history.

DR. WEIL CHALLENGES: The "southern economic bloc" now in formation under Argentina's leadership, as exemplified by Chile, Paraguay and Bolivia's recognition of the Farrell regime in Argentina, hardly constitutes evidence of an "unprecedented spirit of solidarity." Nor do the custom unions Argentina was able to conclude with Chile, Paraguay and even Brazil, show that "fear and distrust" of the U. S. have been "destroyed." Spending millions in Latin America, though expedient for the war effort, has done little to dissipate the countries' anxiety as to their post-war prospects. The "mice" need reassurance regarding the "lions' future attitude.

solidarity brought about by the Good Neighbor Policy is unprecedented because never before have the peoples and governments of the continent acted so harmoniously. A comparison of the situation during the First World War with the existing conditions is sufficient evidence. The regional economic agreements do not disprove large implications of political agreements behind the all-American front. Disturbing conditions in one or two countries out of twenty-one do not mean failure of the policy. In human endeavors success can only be measured by the attainment of essential aims, by preponderance of good achieved over evil combated. Hence the Good Neighbor Policy evidently has not failed.

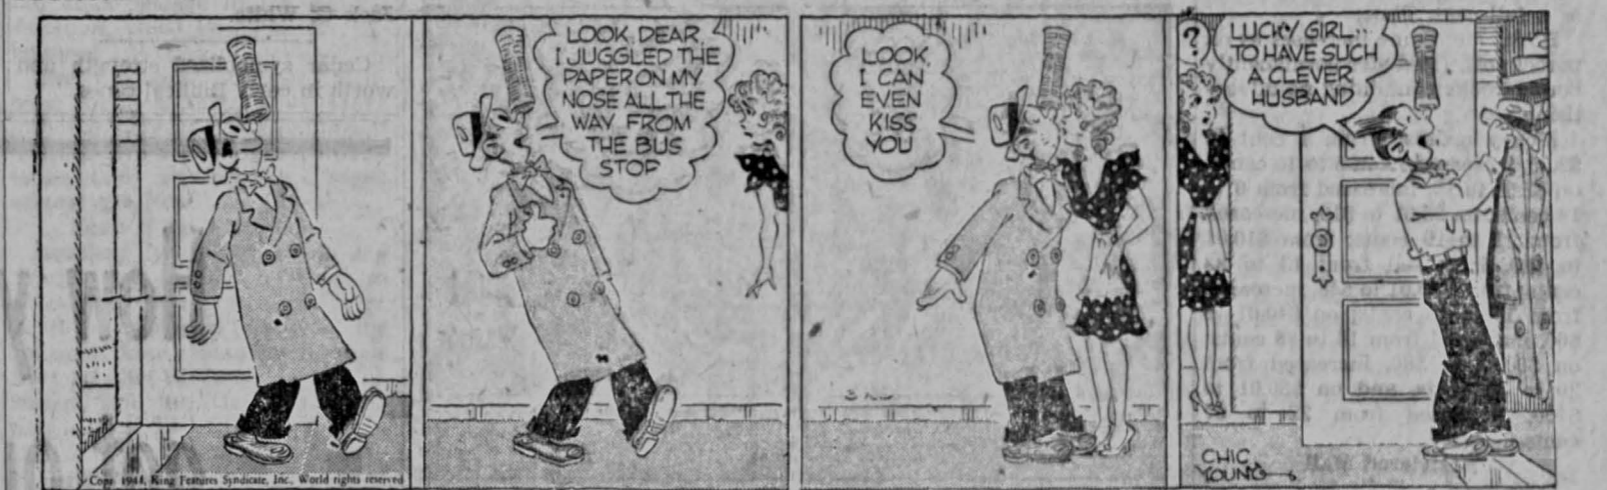

During World War I, chemical warfare accounted for about one-third of the American casualties.

Leading War Analyst Noted for Making Advance Predictions

Max Werner to Talk In Lounge of Union Wednesday Evening

Max Werner, who will speak in the main lounge of Iowa Union Wednesday at 8 p. m., has distinguished himself by predicting major war events six months or more in advance of their happening.

Author and commentator, he is credited with being the world's leading military scholar and analyst, and has been consulted by military figures on matters of strategy.

Werner has predicted the current Russian victories while many underestimated the Russian power. This foresight has been due to his wide spread investigation and knowledge of the military world and not to guess work.

Werner was born in Russia and graduated from the University of Kharkov. While an instructor there and later in Germany, he spent much time studying industrial monopolies and military affairs.

Werner wrote political articles in Germany for continental magazines and newspapers until his anti-Nazi opinions forced him to flee to Paris.

Now active in post-war planning, he continues to prophesy, and his columns appear regularly in newspapers throughout the country.

Among the books Werner has written are "The Military Strength of the Powers," "The Great Of-

'Top Working' Method Used for Modernizing Home Grown Trees

To produce good fruit on a tree producing inferior fruit or to grow more than one variety of fruit on a single tree—in short, to modernize an old fruit tree on the home grounds—Victory gardeners are practicing a system of grafting known as "top working."

The simplest method of "top working" is cleft grafting, which is most successful where the branches of the trees are more than one inch in diameter. The grafting should be done in the spring when the first growth starts, and only a few branches should be grafted each year.

In cleft grafting, the first operations to saw off squarely part of a branch, leaving a good-sized stub or "stock." The stock is then split in the center with a hammer and jack-knife or chisel to a depth of one and a half inches. Pry the split apart with a chisel or screw-driver and insert the new branches or "scions."

After the scions are put in the split stock, remove the chisel being careful not to disturb the contact of the scions with the vital cambium layer of the stock. Although the stock will usually grip and hold the scions in place, it is advisable to bind the graft with tape or soft twine.

The final step in cleft grafting is to paint the entire graft, from top to well below the split in the stock, with grafting wax to guard against air, water, insects or disease spores.

If both scions grow and leaf, remove the weaker of the two the following year. Water sprouts or "suckers" which grow below the scions should also be cut off.

America's oldest cow is the Holstein.

How yours truly got out of the "ower class"

I USED TO BE the kind of a guy who was always on the owing end of the deal.

I owed on the wedding ring, I owed on the house and the car and the furniture.

If I was even with the grocer, I owed the gas man. If I was even with the gas man, I owed the grocer. Golly, I got tired of it.

But, it's all different now!

After Pearl Harbor, I started buying War Bonds on the Payroll Saving Plan. Every pay day, I lent 10% of my pay to Uncle Sam. Knew he needed it to win the war... and this Payroll Plan was the simple, easy way to do my part.

What's more, it's automatic. Keeps me buying Bonds regularly, instead of forgetting and frittering away the money.

Well, sir, I soon found out I could afford putting this money in Bonds. I'm making better money these days, and there's a darn sight fewer things for me and the missus to spend that money on. So, I'm actually coming out even, Bonds and all.

And the other night, fingering over those nice crisp War Bonds, I said to the missus: "For once," I said, "we got somebody owing us money. Uncle Sam! He's promising to pay us back $4.00 for every $3.00 we put in these Bonds. And, just between you and me and the lamp post, there's no surer promise in the world."

"My," said the missus, "why don't we try to buy more of those Bonds out of your pay? I could do some paring down. Let's see if we can't make it 15% instead of 10%."

We did it, by golly! AND SO CAN YOU!

Let's all KEEP BACKING THE ATTACK!
