RAF Loses 73 Big Planes In Berlin Raid

Fierce Nazi Defense Hands British Force Heaviest Loss of Series

LONDON (AP)—RAF bombers nearly 1,000 strong, beating through the fiercest defense the Germans yet have thrown about their capital, laced Berlin with fires and ruin for more than 2,800 tons of explosives Friday night, and punched lightly at other Nazi cities at a cost of 73 big planes.

It was the heaviest loss ever sustained over Berlin—presumably most of the bombers fell in airway battles to or over the city—but the assault lifted to some 35,000 tons the weight of bombs hurled on the hub city of Germany since last Nov. 18.

Friday night's bombweight on Berlin equaled the record mark poured down on it by the RAF Feb. 15.

The RAF bomber command sent out more than 1,000 planes in the night parade with some hitting at the Baltic sea port of Kiel and other objectives. The Germans said Leipzig—a favorite diversionary target of previous Berlin raids—and Weimar also were hit and that 112 planes were downed.

U. S. medium bombers covered by Thunderbolt fighters slashed at the rail city of Hirsch in northern France yesterday, continuing the air offensive against rail targets, Hirsch, near the Belgian border, is a junction of lines leading to several French port cities.

The Marauders smashed through a withering barrage of flak and swarms of German fighters. Three Marauders are missing from the mission as a result of what the flyers described as the most intense fighter opposition they had met in several weeks.

Four German planes were shot down by the Thunderbolt pilots while several others were downed by the Marauder gunners who said the Nazis came down at them out of the sun at a steep angle.

An indication that new operations against Germany were under way last night came from the German radio which broadcast that "several nuisance planes are over northwest Germany and are heading toward central Germany."

The Berlin lull climaxed one of the most terrific 60-hour bombing periods of the war leaving four of Germany's great war centers burning last night.

In addition to the capital they are the naval base of Kiel, the aircraft manufacturing and rail city of Frankfurt and the ball-bearing factory center of Schweinfurt.

CIO Centers Fire On High Salaries Of Steel Executives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Steel Workers, (CIO), seeking to supplant the "little steel" wage formula and gain a 17 cents an hour pay increase, yesterday centered their fire on salaries of steel executives, which they said had risen as high as 134.8 percent above pre-war earnings.

D. J. McDonald, secretary-treasurer of the steelworkers, told a war labor board panel, the average steel company top flight executive receives $133,043 a year.

Quoting figures of the securities and exchange commission, he said 19 steel firms representing 86.6 percent of the industry paid out $10,571,263 in 1942 to all officers and directors. The union contended this was an average increase of 36.2 percent over the $7,760,550 average annual amount paid in the 1936-1939 period.

Indiana Rail Wreck Injures 5, Derails Cars

CHICAGO (AP)—Five persons were injured when 11 cars of the Pennsylvania railroad's 13-car "Spirit of St. Louis" passenger train were derailed late yesterday 20 miles west of Richmond, Ind., the railroad announced.

The train, all pulled, was en route from St. Louis to New York. A spokesman at the railroad's Chicago office said three cooks employed by the railroad and two passengers suffered "minor injuries" and that the other passengers had been taken to Richmond in a pullman and baggage car where another train would be made up to complete the eastern trip.

IOWA CITY WOMEN SWORN INTO AIR-WAC

Crater Hurls More Lava After Lull

NAPLES (AP)—Roofs collapsing under the weight of dust and ashes coughed up by Mt. Vesuvius have killed 21 persons, allied military government officials announced yesterday, bringing the total number of deaths in the current eruption to 26.

The crater began hurling off greater smoke and ashes this afternoon, after a 12-hour lull, and Professor Imbro, director of the royal Italian observatory of Vesuvius, told A. M. G. officials that he could "only say that Mt. Vesuvius is still abnormal."

The lava flows had all but ceased, but Imbro declined to speculate when danger from the present eruption would end. The eruption had caused damage unofficially estimated at from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Reports to A. M. G. officials told of 12 persons killed in Nocera province of Salerno, and nine at Pagan, in the same province. Two children had been killed when an underground cistern, overheated by lava, exploded. Three other persons were killed by falling brimstone at Terzigno, reports to Naples Provincial A. M. G. Commissioner, Lieut. Col. James L. Kincaid said.

Barkley Evades 4th Term Issue

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, in a somewhat cryptic statement, declared last night that "it is unnecessary to emphasize the need for continuity of leadership in the war and in the peace that is to follow."

The veteran Democrat did not elaborate, giving no specific indication whether he would support Mr. Roosevelt if the president should run for a fourth term.

Barkley, whose recent break and reconciliation with President Roosevelt after veto of congress' tax bill was a political sensation of the year, spoke at a Jefferson dinner sponsored by West Virginia Democrats.

Barkley noted there had been occasional differences of opinion between executive and legislative branches on domestic issues, but "on the whole, the president has received the cordial support of congress."

16 Men Die in Mine Blast in West Virginia Trying to Extinguish Underground Fire

SHINNSTON, W. Va. (AP)—An underground fire generating clouds of poisonous and explosive gases barred the way last night to the bodies of 16 men who died in a shattering early morning mine blast while they were vainly trying to stop the blaze.

Fighting the flames which broke out in the No. 4 mine of the Katherine Coal company, the 16 were caught by a terrific explosion that tore up a surface area of half an acre.

All hope was abandoned for the men. Mine officials said it might be today or tomorrow before crews

Draft Speed-Up Means No Slack in Induction Of U. S. Older Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speeded-up draft machinery pushed men 25 and under closer to army service last night, but it meant no lessening of the induction pace for eligibles beyond that age.

Local boards were directed to review younger men first, but draft officials said men over 25 who have any sort of occupational deferments will move right along on the selective service assembly line when that deferment expires.

Some of them undoubtedly will be given new deferments, especially those in agriculture where irreplaceable men are protected by law. But all will be considered anew when their present deferments expire.

Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt yesterday gave government agencies until March 20 to assemble information on the deferment needs of the industries under their jurisdiction to set in motion the call-up of young workers. The requests will be considered by representatives of the war production board, army, navy, selective service, office of defense transportation and other claimant agencies for manpower.

McNutt told the agencies the new program intends to send to the armed forces "all the able-bodied men in this age group (22 through 25) and to limit deferments only to those who are irreplaceable."

"I have confidence that the resourcefulness and ingenuity of American industry will measure up to this new challenge," War Production Board Chairman Donald Nelson said meanwhile in a letter to Rep. Fulbright (D-Ark).

A number of highly essential industries having a high proportion of men in the 18-26 class will be particularly hard hit, Nelson added, including radio, radar, high octane gas and rubber production units.

$15,000 Radium Sulphate Capsule Missing

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—An inch-long capsule of radium sulphate, valued at $15,000 and capable of causing fatal burns to a person carrying it, is missing from the Bison casting company vault, Police Lieut. Paul G. Marohn announced last night.

The pear-shaped capsule is used to detect flaws in metal, Marohn said, and within 25 minutes could cause flesh burns which, though they might not become evident for three or four days, would be fatal.

If this arrangement is successful, announcement of the substitution will be made tomorrow, Professor Harper said.

Barkeeps Can't Cut Size of Drinks—OPA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The OPA decided last night that bartenders can't cut the size of a drink of liquor to absorb the new liquor tax increase, unless they reduce the price of the drink proportionately.

Seeking to correct what they said was an erroneous impression, price administration officials pointed out there would be extreme difficulties in doling out fractional jiggers in order to reduce the amount of taxable liquor in a highball to the next lower nickel level.

Yank Planes Raid Wake 16th Time

Wake island was raided for the 16th time since a Japanese force overpowered a United States marine garrison there early in the war. Big American army Liberators were met by intense anti-aircraft fire as they bombarded barracks and oil storage tanks Thursday, Ponape, in the eastern Caroline islands, was raided Wednesday and Thursday by cannon-firing Mitchells from Marshall island airfields.

Nearby, the tiny Ant islands were attacked for the second time this week. The Nipponese were again bombed on four Marshall atolls they still hold.

A spokesman for Adm. William F. Halsey commented that "virtual eradication of Japanese air power in this area leaves the enemy open for an continuous, relentless air and sea offensive."

American Marauders, led by youthful Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill, and the Chinese 38th division encircled retreating Japanese and captured the village of Shaduzup in their drive toward Mogaung to sever rail connections south of Myitkyina. The Chinese-American force was "making slow but steady progress."

Burmese and Gurkha levies, advancing toward Myitkyina from the north, occupied Maithongkha. Japanese abandoned the village, leaving it in flames.

Stiff fighting was reported northeast, southeast and south of Imphal against three enemy columns trying to push toward that British base in India. The Japanese, relying on elephants to carry supplies through the jungles, lost five tanks in the first clash with British armored units.

Max Werner III, Unable to Appear Here Wednesday

Due to sudden illness Max Werner, noted military analyst who was to have presented a university lecture here Wednesday night, has been forced to cancel this engagement, according to announcement made last night by Prof. Earl E. Harper.

Professor Harper stated that he is now negotiating for a speaker who has just returned to this country on the exchange ship Gripsholm, to replace Werner.

If this arrangement is successful, announcement of the substitution will be made tomorrow, Professor Harper said.

Allied, Nazi Troops In Cassino Deadlock

New Zealanders Fail In Effort to Drive 'Chutists From Positions

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples (AP)—New Zealand troops attempting to drive westward through Cassino were pinned down in their southern section of the rubble town yesterday by highly-trained German parachute troops ordered to hold their positions at all costs.

The New Zealanders and the parachutists were fighting stubbornly and throwing tons of shells at one another, but without effecting much change in the general situation, allied headquarters announced.

The Germans, however, managed to move three more tanks into the lobby of the Continental hotel, and artillery also raged around the Hotel Des Rooses.

Nazis Have Advantages Artillery fire which shook the mountainous battle area also reached to positions in the rear as the allies sought to prevent the Germans from strengthening their hold on the Verdun-like Cassino sector. But the Germans, commanded by Lieut. Gen. Richard Heinrich to hold at all costs, were believed to have the advantage of ancient tunnels honeycombing Abbey hill through which they were reinforcing their front line defenders.

The first day's attack which followed the heavy bombing of Cassino March 15 left the Germans holding approximately one-quarter of the town—the quarter centered about the Continental hotel and the exit from the town on the road leading around Monastery hill. The relative positions of the two armies have varied only by a few buildings since then.

Clashes Between Patrols At the Anzio beachhead the Germans tried to penetrate allied defense positions with tanks and were believed to have lost two near Carroceto and five others west of Cisterna. The Germans kept up a rain of shells on the beachhead and there also were clashes between patrols.

Allied headquarters announced heavy bombers struck at the rail yards at Rimini and Ancona in the north Friday while mediums hit a number of places including Leghorn.

The Allied Liberators ran into at least 16 dog fights in the north and the Germans also flew at least 85 sorties over the beachhead. The operations cost the Germans at least 19 planes while 11 allied aircraft failed to return.

House Halts Senate Bill WASHINGTON (AP)—House members balked last night at a senate attempt to force senatorial confirmation for all federal jobholders making $4,500 a year or more.

The provision was written into an independent offices appropriation bill by the senate Friday, along with an amendment which would force the Tennessee valley authority to go to congress for its operating funds.

As Touch-and-Go Fight Continues—Japs Trapped in North Burma

NEW DELHI (AP)—Merill's Marauders in north Burma have captured Shaduzup and cut off the retreat of Japanese being pushed southward down the Mogaung valley, but touch-and-go fighting continues in the main Japanese offensive across the border toward Imphal, India, the southeast Asia command announced yesterday.

Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill's all-American Marauders, together with units of the Chinese 38th division, took Shaduzup, 45 miles northwest of Mogaung on the Myitkyina-Mandalay railway, by a swift "end run" maneuver which cut around the Japanese east flank.

Japs Trapped These forces expected to trap an undetermined number of Japanese being pressed down the Mogaung valley in artillery duels and hand-to-hand fighting by the main Chinese force from Jambu Bum, the dividing line between the Hukawng and Mogaung valleys.

Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's communique announced engagements in progress on both sides of the Tamu-Imphal road, with the

Self-Confessed Spies Get 5-20 Year Terms

Detroit Men, Women Sentenced for Violation Of Espionage Act

DETROIT (AP)—Three women and two men who confessed they conspired to violate the war time espionage act were sentenced in United States district court yesterday to prison terms ranging from five to 20 years.

Grace Buchanan-Diney, 34-year-old Canadian-born cosmopolitan described by the federal bureau of investigation as leader of a group that sought to furnish Nazi Germany with information concerning America's industrial war effort, was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment.

Others sentenced: Mrs. Theresa Behrens, 20 years; Mrs. Emma Elise Leonard, five years; her husband, Carl J. W. Leonard, and Walter J. Abt, 10 years each.

Mrs. Behrens, who engaged in a long argument with Judge Edward J. Moiney, fainted as he pronounced her sentence.

Yet to be sentenced is Mrs. Marianne von Moltke, wife of a suspended German language instructor at Wayne university (Detroit). According to the district attorney's office she has volunteered additional information and an investigation is still underway.

Of the two others indicted by the grand jury here last autumn, Dr. Frederick William Thomas, Detroit obstetrician, was convicted and was sentenced a fortnight ago to 16 years imprisonment. Charges against Bertrand Stuart Hoffman, former merchant seaman, were dismissed on the ground that he was mentally incompetent. He subsequently was declared sane by a probate court sanity commission and has been released from custody.

Chetniks Ready To Strike, Slav Major Says

LONDON (AP)—Maj. Lukatchevic, one of the commanders of the Yugoslav army, said in an interview yesterday that Gen. Draja Mihailovic has 30,000 troops armed and ready in the mountains of Serbia ready to strike at a signal from the allies to clear a path for invasion.

The statement coincided with announcement by the Yugoslav government in exile that Mihailovic's Chetniks recently had pressed an offensive to "the very gates" of Belgrade. "These troops have only limited ammunition and equipment," said the major who is in London to seek allied aid for Mihailovic. "That is why they haven't been fighting. We figure it is better to make one big offensive than waste our bullets in smaller actions. We are ready to clear any given area for an allied invasion landing on short notice."

Both Britain and the United States have been giving their main support in Yugoslavia to the men of Marshal Tito, Mihailovic's rival, on the ground they were doing most of the fighting against the Germans.

Mihailovic's latest offensive carried to the coast of Montenegro about the time that the allies struck in Italy, the major said, but the Yugoslav army flank was attacked, he asserted, from the north by forces of Marshal Tito, (Josip Broz).

Lukatchevic minimized the achievements of Tito's forces, and claimed that the partisan leader had fewer than 10,000 soldiers. He contended that many towns which Tito claimed to have captured never existed. Some reports have estimated Tito's forces at 25,000 or more.

The $2,300,000,000 third wartime tax act begins dipping into the public's pocket today.

Effective last midnight, postal rates went up to bring an estimated additional $96,000,000 a year into the federal treasury. Biggest change is an advance from 2 to 3 cents in the charge for local letters. The 3-cent rate is continued for letters going out of town.

Next Saturday, taxes will go up on movie tickets, telephone bills, whisky and a score of other items. The levy on furs, cosmetics, jewelry and luggage will go from 10 to 20 percent of the retail price. That on electric light bulbs from 5 to 30 percent of the manufacturers' price.

The tax on charges for local telephone service will increase from 10 to 15 percent; on toll calls, from 20 to 25 percent.

On whisky, the tax increase amounts to 75 cents a quart of 100 proof. It will be about 60 cents for the average bottle of lower proof.

Montana Flood

GLENDIVE, Mont. (AP)—Flood waters from the ice-choked Yellowstone river spread over more than 8,000 acres in this northeastern Montana area yesterday, driving at least a dozen farm families from their homes.

Ice jams have formed along an eight-mile stretch of the river near Savage, about 30 miles east of here, G. A. Hicks, of the county board of commissioners reported.

Take Vital Proskurov

Reds Within Eight Miles Of Rumania

LONDON, Sunday (AP)—The Red army plunged to within eight miles of Rumania's eastern border yesterday and erected a 50-mile invasion bridgehead on the Dniester river just across from Czernowitz, Rumania's northern capital in Rucovina and key to the Balkans, Moscow announced today.

Hurling the Germans back toward the Carpathian mountains the Russians were only 18 miles from strategic Czernowitz, and 17 miles from Hitler's rail backbone—the Bucharest-Lwow railway running through that city. The loss of the line would split the German eastern front.

In a day of victories extending from old Poland to the Black sea the Russians also toppled the west Ukraine stronghold of Proskurov, killing thousands of Germans in bitter street fighting.

Other impressive successes scored by the Russians on a front extending from old Poland southeast to the Black sea included a 20-mile gain south of by-passed Tarnopol in Poland, the severing of the Byelsti-lasi railway in central Bessarabia as Soviet troops streamed southward toward the Danube, and the overrunning of a Nazi rail escape route in the Slobozeya sector 110 miles northwest of Odessa, the communique said.

Thousands of Germans were killed in the capture of Proskurov, 62 miles east of Tarnopol, and "enormous quantities" of guns, tanks, trucks and other equipment seized as the retreating Germans even abandoned their light equipment in their flight toward the Dniester—and possible entrapment.

The Russians now control almost 160 miles of the river. Soviet units fanning out along the Dniester between Mogilev Podolski and Kamenets Podolsk were attempting to bag the Germans falling back from Proskurov.

Seventy miles southeast of Czernowitz, Rumania's third largest city, other Soviet units attacking westward in Bessarabia on a 65-mile front captured Zagalkany, only eight miles from the Prut river, boundary of Rumania proper.

Post-War Plans

DES MOINES (AP)—The board of governors of the Iowa State Bar association yesterday appointed a committee headed by William F. Riley, Des Moines attorney, to make postwar plans for lawyers now in the armed services.

The committee was named at the annual spring meeting of the bar association held here yesterday. One of the postwar plans to be considered is a six weeks "refresher" course to bring returning veterans up to date on recent laws and court decisions.

A Criticism of Contemporary Literature, And a Guide to Good Reading

Edited by Jarvis A. Thurston

Melville's Religious Thought. An Essay in Interpretation. By William Braswell. Durham: Duke University Press, 1943, 154 pp. Reviewed by AUSTIN WARREN. Hawthorne, receiver of Melville's most intense effort at personal communication, encountered him in England five years after "Moby Dick"; wrote in his journal: Melville "will never rest until he gets hold of a definite belief. It is strange how he persists—and has persisted ever since I knew him, and probably long before—in wandering to-and-fro over these deserts of speculation... He can neither believe, nor be comfortable in his unbelief; and he is too honest and courageous not to try to do one or the other. If he were a religious man, he would be one of the most truly religious and reverential; he has a very high and noble nature, and better worth immortality than most of us."

mate Whence, and Whither, and Why of man—scarcely lends itself to systematic presentation, since Melville was not a systematic thinker and since his "thought" is chiefly mediated through novels rather than treatises. Even within a novel, there are oscillations; and the "thought" is, more generally, a series of endless shifting hypotheses. The dominant tendency is toward a Gnostic scheme which identifies the Old Testament Deity, the Creator of the world, with the spirit of evil, and makes Jesus the antithetical spirit of good, peace, and love. Ahab's enemy, the White Whale, is the diabolical, or at least irrational creator-god. Yet the ancient Gnostics professed a knowledge of how man can be saved; Melville knew no method of salvation and no savior-lord. He was left, in effect, with an allegiance to the Sermon on the Mount and a bitter confession of its inapplicability—with belief in the power of the evil God and the ineffectiveness of the good.

THE PRETTY young lady with the starry eyes is Chicago's Louise Fitch who plays Astra, an Assyrian slave girl, on NBC's day-by-day story of the Old Testament, "Light of the World." Currently the radio dramatization of "Light of the World" is telling the story of ruthless Athaliah, wicked daughter of Queen Jezebel.

Though in his last tale, "Billy Budd," his equivalent of Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale," Melville reached a mystic acceptance of the universe, he never won the intellectual peace, the "definite belief" he sought. Like Milton's fallen angels of a speculative turn, he "found no end, in wandering mazes lost." He read German philosophy. He visited the Holy Land, as though the scenes of gospel history might give forcible reality to doctrine, though he got no blessing; instead he wrote, "the landscape of Judea must have suggested to the Jewish prophets their ghostly theology," wondered whether the desolation of Palestine might not be the "result of the fatal embrace of the Deity." Like the older Hawthorne, he looked with some longing at Catholicism; in his Arnold, he marked a predictive passage asserting that "the prevailing form for the Christianity of the future will be the form of Catholicism; but a Catholicism purged, opening itself to the light and air..." in short, a Modernist Catholicism. Melville's "religious thought," that is, his speculation concerning First and Last Things, the ultimate...

QUESTION: WILL OUR CLOSE POST-WAR ASSOCIATION WITH EUROPEAN NATIONS RESULT IN AN ELEVATION OF THEIR STANDARDS OF LIVING OR A LOWERING OF OURS? Rima Feldman, A2 of New York: "It will result in an elevation of their standards of living, not in a lowering of ours. This will come about through the application of methods used in the United States." Ann Mercer, A3 of Iowa City: "I don't think we will be closely enough associated with foreign powers to make any difference. Perhaps we will be able to raise the standards of some of the countries, but ours will definitely not be lowered." Donald B. Youel, G of Parsons, Kan.: "One result ought to be the raising of standards of international justice among the people who have been supporting Fascist and Nazi gangster groups." Emanuel Beller, A4 of New York: "I don't believe there will be a great raising or lowering of living standards on either continent except for close contact to Europe and Russia giving the United States a more liberal viewpoint politically—making us more broad-minded thinkers." Serg. Gerry Bouvier of New Bedford, Mass., stationed in A. S. T. P.: "If a lasting peace, which to me is synonymous with a fair living standard for all, is ever to be achieved, nationalism and its greatest sin, tariff barriers, must disappear. This will entail a temporary lowering of our abnormally high standard of living, but it will be a small price to pay for the eventual goal for which we are fighting." Ens. Ouida Luter, stationed in Cedar Falls with the WAVES: "I believe our contact with other countries will definitely raise their standard of living, because ours has always been higher, and it will make a definite impression on other countries." Pfc. William Hoffman of Minneapolis, Minn., stationed in A. S. T. P.: "To me, living standard involves almost entirely the old question of free trade and reciprocity policies. If this country adopts free trade policies, it will benefit the living standards here as well as in other countries."

Director Sings Blues in Color. HOLLYWOOD—Mitchell Leisen, the director who spent a great deal more last year than you or I did, a matter of $8,000,000 on three movies, had a great idea for his next one. "I want a picture," he told B. G. DeSylva, Paramount's production boss, "with a cast of two people, one set, and a wardrobe of one bathing suit between them, so they can't both be in the same scene." Leisen (though he didn't put it this way) was suffering from "color blues."

News Behind the News State Governors Sidestep F. D. R.'s 'Quaint Quest'

WASHINGTON—Mr. Roosevelt's quaint quest for soldier-vote advice among the state governors (mostly Republican outside the south) may have sounded off-hand like a big-hearted attempt to be more than fair about this thing. But it did not so appear to the governors. Frankly, in the true political atmosphere of the congressional cloakrooms, the move also was recognized as an effort to put the Republican governors on the soldier-vote spot, to make them shoulder responsibility for whatever vote the soldiers get, making Mr. Roosevelt appear to be the champion of the soldiers against state and congressional resistance.

Alfred Noyes Will Lecture Here Tonight at 8

Poet to Appear At Vespers

Scheduled to Discuss Foundations of Belief in Post-War World

Alfred Noyes, British poet and author, will speak tonight at 8 o'clock in Macbride auditorium under the auspices of the University vespers board on "The Foundations of Belief."

President Virgil M. Hancher will preside, Prof. Herald Stark of the music department is in charge of the music and the Most Rev. Carl H. Meinberg of St. Mary's Catholic church will give the invocation.

Music will be furnished by the university madrigal singers who will present "Christus Factus Est" (Anerio) and a string quartet who will play "Quartet in F Major, Op. 18, No. 1" (Beethoven).

Members of the quartet are Irene Gianedakis, A3 of Cedar Rapids, violin; Dorothea Becker, A3 of Sheridan, Wyo., violin Carl Forsberg, G of Dixon, Ill., viola, and Jane Spencer, A3 of Iowa City, cello.

Noyes, born and educated in England, is the author of many volumes of verse: "The Golden Hynde," "The Elf in Artist," "Sherwood," "The Enchanted Island," "Beyond the Desert" and "The Torch Bearer."

The author of one novel, "No Other Man," he has also written a critical appraisal of English literature, "The Pageant of Letters," a biography of Voltaire and a book based on his Isle of Wight garden, "Orchard's Bay."

After Nazi bombardments drove Noyes and his family from his home on the Isle of Wight, they lived in temporary exile in Canada. He toured the Dominion speaking for the National Council on Education and later came to the United States to lecture.

Noyes was taught at Princeton university in Princeton, N. J., and the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena. He was a visiting professor at the University of California at Berkeley from February to June, 1943.

He has supported the allied war efforts while emphasizing the need for a revival of Christian ethics and morals in national and international affairs. In the

Unit Citation Shared By Two Enlisted Men

Two enlisted men stationed at the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school received citations yesterday morning in a ceremony during the regular inspection of station personnel by Capt. E. D. Washburn, Jr.

Chief Officer's Mate Neil W. Mold, of St. Paul, Minn., and Pharmacists Mate First Class William D. Chadwick of Houston, Tex., shared in the unit citation given the 1st marine division, reinforced, for attack on strongly defended Japanese positions in the south Pacific.

Though the two men did not serve in the same company in the action for which they received the citation, they were both members of the medical personnel.

The installation ceremony will take place April 4, at which time Mrs. Walker will announce her committees.

spring of 1941, he completed a long poetic indictment of Hitler, "If Judgement Comes," a copy of which was flown to Churchill.

His recent poems written during the first two years of World War II have been published in a volume, "Shadows on the Down and Other Poems."

Tonight Noyes will discuss the answer to modern agnosticism with a view to reconstruction after the war. Free tickets are available at the main desk of Iowa Union.

Spring Forecast—

Suits and Toppers

—For Coed Wardrobes

DISCUSSING SUITABILITIES are Lois Krupp, A4 of Tacoma, Wash., and Jan McTavish, A2 of Estherville, who are shopping in the suit and coat department of Strubs. Lois has donned a smart three-piece of dark purple wool. The top coat is the new three-quarter length cut with three huge buttons down the front. She is wearing a pink sweater and a pink flower—popular color combination with lavender this spring. Jan is fitted in her new black and white check with the matching black chesterfield trimmed with white buttons. She wears a white blouse for contrast.

Spring has come—the calendar says so. Mademoiselle says so—Vogue says so... and even if the weather man doesn't agree, it's time to pick your spring pretties. First thought in wardrobes concerns a new suit and a new topper, and the Iowa coed has a lot of right 'n bright ideas.

Cagey for the career girl is the strictly man tailored suit chosen by GLORIA WEISER, J3 of Burlington. Of black wool with a gray pin-stripe, it's designed to soften the hearts of belligerent city editors. The jacket is a long, fitted, no pockets affair with only one black button for trim. The skirt is straight with one kick pleat. "Bud" will add black leather pumps and a black derby to go reporting in style this spring.

Truly tailored, yet flirting with femininity is the B. H. Wragge suit-dress and topper selected by FLO HOAK, A4 of Des Moines. The top half of the dress is in gray rabbits hair jersey, styled with short sleeves and a round neck fastened with a huge bow. Covered buttons decorate the front. The skirt, which is of gray lightweight wool, is narrow with tucks for trim below the waist band. Completing the outfit is a gray pin-stripe swagger coat—finger-tip length. Flo chooses black patent leather pumps and a large initialed envelope purse of black patent leather for her accessories.

Three-Piecer in White

Pretty as a spring song—BETTY WEAVER, A2 of Tulsa, Okla., in a three piece suit of oyster-white wool. The long jacket has three matching buttons down the front and is trimmed with an imitation pocket just below the left shoulder-seam and two flap pockets at the hip-line. The skirt is box pleated and the topper, which is full length, is designed identically with the suit-jacket. Betty has chosen a navy blue hat with a wide scalloped brim, blue leather pumps and a blue leather purse as one set of accessories for this outfit, which will look charming with anything and everything.

MARJORIE HOLBERT, A3 of Paris, France, has brought the Parisian flair for fashion to the Iowa campus. This spring she has chosen a belted coat of orchid wool with two pleats in back and raglan sleeves. It's the new three-quarter length and has covered buttons for trim. Under it Marge wears a plain black suit and her accessories consist of a black veiled hat, black pumps and a black purse... a new idea in color contrast.

A triple attraction is the white flannel skirt, jacket and slacks combination belonging to BONNIE JOHNSON, A4 of Cedar Rapids. The jacket which is long and rather loosely fitted, features the new collarless neckline. Three buttons down the front, a patch pocket on each side, and a small breastpocket provide style. The skirt has only two kick-pleats but each pleat is stitched on either side, thus creating the effect of being pleated all around—puts one over on the O.P.A. The slacks are man-tailored and Bonnie finds this three-way outfit wearable with any accessories for any occasion.

Spring Tonic

A spring tonic itself is the watermelon red suit of RITA STEICHEN, A3 of Dwight, Ill. Cut with a long jacket, it's outstanding because of the red saddle stitching which edges the lapels and the kick pleats of the skirt. A white hand-crocheted Dutch cap and white gloves add smart contrast.

The blonde in the golden top coat is ALICE JEAN IRISH, A3 of Forest City, who has selected it as a delightful wear-with-all for spring. It's box cut, with darker brown-gold buttons and a flap pocket on each side. Borrowing accessory suggestions from the color enthusiasts of Vogue, "Irish" will wear with it a kelly green pill-box hat with matching purse and flowers.

A salute to fashion—that covert-grey gabardine suit worn by EILEEN RILEY, C4 of Burlington. Styled with lines that are simple but chic, it also has a long jacket with a stitched breast pocket on each side of the hipline... fastens down the front with three bone-grey buttons. A white frilly blouse with a lacy bow at the neckline creates a touch of femininity, and she completes her costume with a navy blue topcoat and a navy blue veiled Dutch hat with a "bunch of bows 'n flowers" behind each side.

Blue-Gray and Rose

Another stunning three-piece is that of RUTH REININGA, A4 of River Forest, Ill. It's a yummy shade of blue-gray with a rose pin stripe, consisting of a fitted jacket, a box skirt and matching tailored slacks. The jacket is trimmed with blue-gray buttons and two inset pockets. Ruth will don a rose blouse to match the stripe, and dark blue shoes, hat and gloves as accessories for the suit combination.

On and on into spring, the Iowa coed is going to be sporting more and more clever suits and toppers. Special attractions are the collarless jackets, round necklines, and

Go-Hawks Whip C.R. Franklin Team, 30-21

IOWA CITY (AP)—The Go-Hawks—a fighting bunch of kids from Waverly—won Iowa's inter-scholastic basketball championship last night.

Masters all the way, Waverly's youngsters whipped Franklin, a battling Cedar Rapids team, 30 to 21 in an exciting title joust before 6,500 fans in the University of Iowa fieldhouse.

The Go-Hawks, off to a customary fast start, sped to a 7 to 2 lead in the first quarter as they held the Thunderbolts to a pair of lonesome free throws.

Then the 'Bolts, whose tenacity had brought them surprise winners through rugged sectional, district and sub-state play, struck back.

Bill Shuttleworth, the hustling little fellow, stole the ball from Dick Morton in mid-court and dribbled in for Franklin's first field goal. That thrust revived Shuttleworth's mates and they fought to an 8 to 10 count midway in the second period.

But that, unfortunately for Franklin, was as close as the challengers got to those rampaging Go-Hawks.

Waverly, fighting to make a complete success of its third appearance in a championship tour-ament, shook off the Thunderbolts' threat and shot into a 16 to 9 half time lead.

Michigan Take Purdue Relays With 49 Points

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Michigan's mighty Wolverines, steamrolling the field for points in all but one event for a total of 49, climaxed the indoor track season last night by sweeping to victory in the university division of the second annual Purdue relays.

The Wolverines unseated Notre Dame, last year's winner, decisively, the Irish getting only 17 1/3 points for fifth place. Purdue edged Illinois for second place, 23 to 22 1/2.

Miami of Oxford, Ohio, successfully defended its team title in the college section after a close battle all the way with Western Michigan's Broncos.

Miami collected 30 points to 28 for Western Michigan.

Heading a parade of outstanding individual talent was Claude (Buddy) Young, Illinois freshman sprinter, who raced to victory in the 60-yard dash in a new relays record time of 6.2 seconds, after tying the American indoor mark of 6.9 seconds in the 60-yard low hurdles. The latter also was a new meet standard.

Young rounded out an all-victorious evening by pacing the Illinois quartet to victory in the sprint medley relay.

Michigan bagged relay triumphs in the two-mile, distance medley and one-mile events. The Wolverines failed to count only in the 60-yard dash.

Miami's college division win was fashioned around firsts in the distance and sprint medley relays in that division.

Michigan's Big Ten champion two-mile relay combination opened the night events with a hard-fought triumph over a surprising Purdue quartet, despite a fall by lead-off man Willis Glas on the final lap of the initial leg. Dick Barnard, second runner for the Wolverines, made up a 50-foot deficit and turned the baton over to Ross Hume with five feet to spare. Bob Ufer, world indoor quarter mile record holder, finished the job for Michigan. The time was 7:51.2.

The final standings in the two divisions of the second annual Purdue relays are:

University division—Michigan 49, Purdue 28, Illinois 22 1/2, Iowa Pre-Flight 18 5/6, Notre Dame 17 1/3, Northwestern 6, Marquette 5, Indiana 4, Minnesota 3.

College division—Miami 30, Western Michigan 28, Oberlin 13 1/3, Lawrence 8, Indiana State 2.

Dartmouth Team Wins Eastern A. A. U. Title

Big Ten Kings Lose 60-53, Aud Brindley Collects 28 Points

NEW YORK (AP)—Aud Brindley went on a 28-point scoring spree last night to give Dartmouth's Eastern league champions the National Collegiate A. A. eastern sectional basketball title with a 60 to 53 triumph over Ohio State's Big Ten court kings at Madison Square Garden.

In qualifying to meet the western winner for the N.C.A.A. title in the Garden next Tuesday, Dartmouth held command the entire route except briefly at the start and midway in the final period. When the Buckeyes moved ahead 44-43 the Indians from New Hampshire brought the crowd of 15,457 to its feet with a drive that carried them to their 17th consecutive triumph and their 20th victory in 21 starts this season.

Brindley sent Dartmouth away flying by sinking his first three shots and before the teams left the floor at the half with the eastern five leading, 28-22, the lanky center had poured in 16 points. He added five more field goals and two free throws in the second half although on the bench the first four minutes. Brindley's 13 field goals gave him a new N.C.A.A. record, topping by one the mark set by Hull, of Ohio State, in 1939 and matched by Milo Komenich of Wyoming last year.

After trailing for most of the first half, Ohio State closed within three points several times before they finally got on top with nine and one-half minutes remaining. Then Harry Leggat and Brinley went to work again to leave the mid-westerners in the lurch.

Arnold Risen, Ohio State's six-foot eight-inch center, scored only six points in the first half but struck for 15 in the last period to lead the Buckeyes with 21. Don Grate, all-Big Ten forward, was held in check with seven.

Temple whipped Catholic university, 55-35, for third place.

Score at half: Dartmouth 28, Ohio State 22.

Free throws missed: Dartmouth—Leggat 2, Brindley, McGuire 2, Ohio State—Dugger 3, Risen, Grate.

Officials: Paul Menton and Dudley de Groot.

Pvt. Mike McCormick, ex-Cincinnati Red outfielder, now stationed at McClellan field, Calif., proved his batting eye is still good by earning a sharpshooter's award the first time he competed on the post's rifle range. Mac scored 173 out of a possible 200 points.

St. Louis Cardinals Slowed By Stiffness in Baseball Workouts

Baseball Teams Lose Regulars to Army, Train for Exhibitions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS CAIRO, Ill.—Muscular stiffness slowed the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday as they limbered up for today's scheduled exhibition game with the Fourth ferrying command, Memphis, Tenn.

Manager Billy Southworth's lineup approximating his 1943 winning combination will have Emil Verban at Lou Klein's second base position, Johnny Hopp in right field with Stan Musial moving to center.

Martin Marion, expected to be called soon for limited army service, immediately began working out at shortstop with Ora Burnett, his likely successor.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo.—Outfielder Al Zarilla notified the St. Louis Browns yesterday he was leaving Los Angeles immediately for training camp while from San Antonio came word pitcher Bob Muncief passed his pre-induction examination.

Manager Luke Sewell, with only 16 players of the Browns' roster of 34 in camp, plans to use catcher Joe Schultz in left field and pitcher Virgil Brown in right field in today's exhibition game with Toledo of the American association. Frank Demaree, the only outfielder in camp, may not be able to start in center field because he pulled a back muscle in hitting practice.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Ed Kileman, righthanded pitcher who won 23 games for Baltimore last season, virtually is certain to draw a starting assignment early in the Cleveland Indians' 1944 schedule.

Vernon Kennedy and Joe Hevington apparently are rounding into condition but two other veterans, Al Smith and Mel Harder, who recently underwent a tonsilectomy, probably will not be called for

Gil Dodds Nurses Sprained Ankle—But He Feels Okay

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gil Dodds, whose fleet legs have made track history, swathed a swollen left ankle in hot towels yesterday at the home of his father, the Rev. J. G. Dodds, in Little Smithville, Ohio, down in Wayne county.

"I feel okay today—except for a sprained ankle."

Thus, the Boston divinity student, spoke casually of possibly the finest under-pinning in the track world.

Only Friday night he failed in an avowed attempt to better the world's indoor two-mile record of 8 minutes 51 seconds established by Greg Rice.

Dodds easily won the two-mile at the annual Knights of Columbus track meet here but missed Rice's mark by 14.3 seconds. The bespectacled runner offered no excuses, remarking only: "I just got tired, that's all."

But yesterday he concluded he sprained the ankle in stepping from the wooden track on a turn early in the race.

"I didn't realize I sprained the ankle," he said in a telephone interview, "until I reached my father's home. It didn't tighten up until after the meet. I knew definitely it was sprained when I got up today."

"I can hardly walk, but it's not too bad. The ankle is swollen and I'm keeping hot towels on it."

The distance ace, who twice bettered the world's mile record in the last two weekends, said he has no contests immediately in sight.

Sports Trail . . .

By WHITNEY MARTIN NEW YORK (AP)—Hodge-podge:

Here's why the New York Yankees may do well to finish before Christmas in the American league race: if their players in the service all were in one outfit the team would be made up of Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller, Tommy Henrich in the outfield, with Twink Selkirk in reserve; Bill Johnson, Phil Rizzuto, Joe Gordon and Buddy Hassett or Johnny Strum in the infield; Bill Dickey and Ken Silvestri behind the bat, and Red Ruffing, Marius Russo and Spurgeon Chandler as the nucleus for a pitching staff. That team would be a Yankee Doodle Dandy. And speaking of Chandler, how did the Yanks stage that potato race at camp without a spud? Oh, well, let it go.

Five hundred tons of balata are to be released, and may be used for golf ball covers. The catch is that there still isn't anything to cover except the old ball the golfers should send in for retreading. It's just a case of a hen laying egg shells with nothing in them. The golf ball shortage really is as serious as announced, and unless the players cooperate by giving up their battered ones they may be playing with walnuts before the summer is over.

Manager Mel Ott is planning to use Ace Adams as a starting pitcher on his Giants this year, leaving the rest of the mound staff without visible means of support. Adams appeared in 70 games last year for a new record.

Luke Hamlin, back under the big top with the Athletics, reports he has a new pitch which is "slower than slow." He used to have one in Brooklyn that not only stood still, but went backward—right into the bleachers. He was famed for that gopher ball more than the fact he won 20 games for the Dodgers in 1939. Something like 27 home runs were hit off him, and Larry MacPhail used that fact as a bludgeon in beating down Luke's salary demands. He was offered only a $500 raise for 1940, and says that is the only serious wage dispute he ever had. He argued that, as long as he won 20 games, the 27 home runs were in the "so what?" category. His new pitch this year has been dubbed the soft potato, after Luke's nickname of "Hot Potato." As long as it isn't mashed it will be all right.

Musicians Plan Palm Sunday Lenten Music

A 115-voice chorus accompanied by the University Symphony orchestra will present the Palm Sunday vesper program April 2 at 4 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union. Prof. Herald Stark will direct the musical group in the performance of "The Seven Last Words of Christ" (Dubois), a Lenten cantata, and the first public presentation of "Missa Brevis" (Kemble Stout), a short mass.

Gladys Noteboom, A4 of Orange City, soprano; Thomas Muir, instructor in the music department, tenor, and Edward Maule, D2 of Keota, baritone, will be the soloists in the cantata. "The Seven Last Words of Christ" was presented for the first time in Iowa City last year, and is being repeated by popular request, said Director Stark. The 115-voice choir will be composed of the combined Iowa City church choirs and the University chorus.

Kemble Stout, who composed "Missa Brevis," is a graduate of the university and is teaching in University high school.

Free tickets for the Palm Sunday vesper program will be available Wednesday at the main desk of Iowa Union.

Girl Scout Troops Meet, Plan Projects For Spring Activities

The spring weather in Iowa City last week prompted many Girl Scout troops to plan hikes, bird study and various other projects of interest.

Monday afternoon, troop 19 of Lincoln school met in the home of the leader, Mrs. Charles Winter, 704 Felkner street, then visited the tropical room of the University botany green house.

Brownies in troop 17 of Longfellow school started their bird study program Monday when they read articles from the "Bird Book of America."

Troop 1 which meets in the Girl Scout office every Monday, practiced the historical skit of scouting in Iowa City which will be presented April 13.

Brownie troop 20 was given other material to learn for the rally to be given April 13. The Tuesday meeting included games and singing.

All the girls in troop 2 of Longfellow school are second class scouts. Tuesday at their session they completed work on their first aid badges.

Also working on their second class badges are the girls in troop 4 of Horace Mann school. They made plans for an investiture service Tuesday.

Members of St. Mary's troop 23 met Wednesday to work on their scrap book and brought story books for the library they have started. Several weeks ago they drew pictures of table settings, which they colored at their last meeting.

Troop 21 of Horace Mann school continued work on the lapel pins they are making out of cork when they met Wednesday.

Troop 8 of Henry Sabin school decided to divide into three patrols Thursday and hike. They met at the school and began a bird study plan.

Longfellow Brownies in troop 24 planned to make Easter gifts for their mothers at their session Thursday.

Meeting Friday, girls in troop 5 of Horace Mann passed tests for their nature, music and dancing badges.

Half of troop 12 of Junior high school is taking a Red Cross course. Troop 12 meets every Friday and recently had a pot-luck supper at the home of Wilma LaRue.

Troop 11 of St. Mary's couldn't resist the spring weather Friday and took a two mile hike, eating lunch during the trip.

Scouts in troop 14 learned to make "floating candles" Friday. They melted old candles in warm water, poured them in moulds of various shapes and put wicks in them. These candles will float in water and are used to make attractive centerpieces.

U.S.O. REFRESHMENTS

Flossie Memler, Iowa City resident who heads the speech and dramatic department in the Quincy, Ill., senior high school, has sent word to the Iowa City U.S.O. that her dramatics class is presenting a fund of $25 to be used for refreshments at the U. S. O. here.

Miss Memler's dramatic class presented a number of one-act plays, from which they collected money which was to be given to some worthwhile organization to be determined by a class vote. Miss Memler's interest in the U.S.O. here caused her students to send the money to the Iowa City organization as a fund set up to provide refreshments.

REVIEW—

Jesus. At times, even his faith in the existence of a Supreme Evil disappeared. Those times were his dreamiest: like Hardy, he needed to have a God exist in order that he might have a metaphysical object at which to hurl his invectives.

Melville's speculative activity (i. e., his "religious thought") was responsible both for his "Moby Dick," a metaphysical-symbolical novel if there ever was one, for his interesting, curious failures, "Mardi" and "Pierre," and for his subsequent comparative silence and literary failure. He was a story-teller who turned into an amateur philosopher of religion, becoming for a moment, at the equilibrium between narrative and dialectic, the writer of a great novel.

As a case in the "morals of the intellect," Melville's is worth prolonged scrutiny. His final state is one of aecidia (sloth, hopelessness, futility), irresolution (failure to take a stance), the paralyzed will of the man who has too long postponed decision. With his humility at not knowing is mixed great intellectual pride at having pierced the pasteboard masks which fool the world's children. He voyages through strange seas alone, refusing to find in harbors and charted land as well as the boundless and torrential ocean the emblems of truth.

Braswell, a doctor from the University of Chicago, now with the navy (the appropriate division of our "armed forces" for a Melvillian), has attempted neither a judgment of Melville's thought nor any consideration of how his speculations affect his imaginative work. In the most closely reasoned chapter, he translates the allegories of "Mardi" and "Pierre"—plausibly, so far as I am competent to judge; but he has nothing to say of allegory as a mode of literature or of the difference in allegorical kind between the two novels exposed. Within its limits, however, the book is intelligent and sound,—an aid to the study of a classical American author, the documentation of a touching case history.

Music Students Plan Recitals

Two recitals by music department students will be given tomorrow in north music hall. Twelve students will appear in the afternoon recital, which will be held at 4:10. The program will include: "Sonata Op. 2, No. 2" (Beethoven) by Mary Elizabeth Bell, A2 of Colfax, piano; "Che Faro Senza Euridice" (Gluck) by Margie Allen, A1 of Ottumwa, mezzo-soprano.

"My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" (Haydn) by Dorothy Lowery, A3 of Ft. Dodge, soprano; "Sonata (K. 475)" (Mozart) by Miriam Vieth, A2 of Oakland, piano; "Der Tod und das Madchen" (Schubert) by Mary Roost, A3 of Sioux City, mezzo-soprano; "I Wonder This Summer Morning" (Franz) and "Hark! Hark! The Lark" (Schubert) by Jean Fowler, A1 of Miami, Fla., soprano.

"Quartet in F Major, Op. 18, No. 1" (Beethoven) by Irene Gianedakis, A3 of Cedar Rapids, violin; Dorothea Becker, A3 of Sheridan, Wyo., violin; Carl Forsberg, G of Dixon, Ill., viola, and Jane Spencer, A3 of Iowa City, cello, and "Sonatina, Op. 100" (Dvorak) by Nadine Pearson, A1 of Waukeg, violin, and Marion Pantel, A1 of Muscatine, piano.

Jean McFadden, A3 of Oskaloosa, pianist, and Donald Ercoy, A4 of Arkansas City, Kan., tenor, with Marion Pantel, A1 of Muscatine as accompanist, will appear in a recital at 7:30.

The program will be "Concerto in A major (K.V. 488)" (Mozart) by Miss McFadden; "Where'er You Walk," "Comfort Ye My People" and "Ev'ry Valley" (Handel), "Das Fischermaedchen" (Schubert), "Du Bist wie eine Blume" (Schumann), "Zueignung" (Strauss) by Mr. Ercoy; "Sonata, Op. 53" (Beethoven) by Miss McFadden and "O Mistress Mine" (Addison), "Come Away, Death" (O'Brien) and "Clorinda" (Morgan) by Mr. Ercoy.

Stars and Stripes Wave Over Campus Regardless of War

War has affected even the seeming serenity of the "broad stripes and bright stars" atop Old Capitol, according to J. P. Phipps, Old Capitol custodian.

Inferior dyes and cloth of poor weatherability call for a new four by six foot flag every two months.

The program, sponsored by the Iowa Mountaineers, is open to the public, but there will be an admission fee to non-members.

Prof. Alburey Castell of the philosophy department at the University of Minnesota, will address the Humanist society tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. on "The Humanities in the Modern World," a lecture which will be open to the public.

Professor Castell's lecture takes its title from one of his courses at the University of Minnesota

'Four Corners' Film To Be Shown Here By Museum Director

Iowa Mountaineers
Will Present Movie,
Lecturer Wednesday

Alfred M. Bailey, director of the Colorado museum of natural history in Denver, will present an illustrated lecture Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the chemistry auditorium when he will show color films on "Four Corners—the Land of the Navajos."

Bailey, a graduate of the university and Iowa City high school, is a noted naturalist and color photographer. He was a member of the biological survey bureau expedition to the Hawaiian islands and for two years was Alaskan representative for that bureau.

A leader of the Colorado museum of natural history expedition to the Arctic, Alaska and Siberia, he was also a naturalist on the Field museum expedition to Abyssinia and the Egyptian Sudan. He has photographed and collected specimens in every state in the Union, in Canada, Mexico and the Bahamas.

"The Four Corners" is the meeting place of Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Utah. Included in the film are views of the Arches national monument, the Goose-necks of San Juan, Mesa Verde national park, the famous Ship Rock, the Four Corners and the picturesque Monument valley.

CHINESE MISSIONARY INTERVIEWED

YESTERDAY was the first anniversary of Dr. Myrtle Hinkhouse's capture by the Japanese which preceded her six months' internment in a prison camp. Dr. Hinkhouse, who was interviewed by Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, over WSUI yesterday, succeeded in returning to America on the Gripsholm last December. As a medical missionary in China since 1915, Dr. Hinkhouse served on the staff of the Hodge Memorial hospital in Paoingfu.

which is designed to show broadly the role which the humanities have played in western civilization since the 18th century.

The course analyzes the achievement of the modern world in philosophy, the fine arts, literature, and historical and social criticism.

According to Professor Castell, general courses in the humanities which cut across departmental and national boundaries serve to show the general development of culture more adequately than any other kind.

A pioneer in organizing work of this kind, he considers it likely that in the post-war period such courses of study will be more common throughout the country.

Funeral services for Lieut. Robert J. Coen, 24, who was killed in a plane crash over Reno, Nev. Wednesday, will be held in St. Patrick's church. Complete arrangements have not yet been made.

Lieutenant Coen, who formerly lived at 217 Grand avenue, is a son of Mrs. Mary E. Coen. His sister, Mrs. Berton Brown, lives at 317 S. Johnson.

A graduate of St. Patrick's high school, he received his degree in the college of commerce of the University of Iowa in 1940, and attended the college of law until he left for services in 1941 with the 34th division of the national guard.

He later was transferred to the army airforce, and received his wings at the San Angelo, Tex. army air base.

At the time of his death he was stationed at March field, Calif., and was participating in routine flight maneuvers over Reno. He was a bombardier and navigator.

He was married Sept. 18, 1943 to Pauline Decker of Washington D. C., also a former student of the University of Iowa.

Lieutenant Coen is survived by his wife, his mother and sister, and a brother, Ens. William J. Coen, U. S. N., who is expected to return home for the funeral.

Dies-Winchell Feud Takes To Air Over WOC

Station WOC, Davenport, heard at 1420 kilocycles, announced today that it will carry the Blue Network broadcast Sunday, March 26th, from 8 to 8:30 P.M., CWT, of the controversy between columnist Walter Winchell and Rep. Martin Dies, chairman of the House Special Committee to Investigate un-American activities.

Dies has charged the commentator with "deliberately and knowingly spreading falsehoods over the airways," to which Winchell replied "Dies is the kind of man who does not like any kind of criticism."

Rep. Dies has accepted the offer of the Andrew Jergens company, sponsors of Winchell, to reply to the latter in a quarter-hour immediately following Winchell's regular weekly spot. The address by Rep. Dies is the result of a statement by him to the Blue Network that unless the net took "appropriate action" with reference to Mr. Winchell, "the Congress and the majority of American people will be forced to conclude that you approve and condone" the broadcast of "false statements."

Mark Woods, Blue Network president, had previously been served with a subpoena by the Dies Committee, to produce "forthwith" all scripts and recordings of the Winchell broadcasts for the last two years.

Since the weekly Winchell broadcasts reach many millions of listeners, and since interest has been heightened by the disclosure of accusations by both parties concerned, the Sunday night half-hour is expected to approximate an all-time high in listenership. Winchell at 8 P.M. and Dies at 8:15, immediately following, will be heard over WOC, Davenport, 1420 kilocycles.

"THE CONSULTANTS KNOW WHERE TO GO"

The last week of March—time for shoppin' for that Easter outfit and time for that accelerated final month of study. Dancetime will be poppin' up again soon and we've so much to do that we've scarcely enough time to lay the proverbial egg—oh well maybe the Dies committee wouldn't want to make it colorful, so here's to spring—baseball and other forms of pitching.

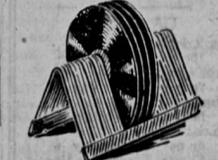

"Purse'onally—
We've voted the new straw and plastic spring bags at TOWNER'S the hit accessories for this year's Easter parade. Remember the new 20 percent tax on purses takes effect April 1 so now is the time to go purse-picking. This is one time when you'll be glad to be caught holding the bag when you see those large sized straws and the plastics in red, green, beige and white—cool and washable. Clever clasp closing draw strings and zippers. Also some lovely fabrics of felt and some miniature sizes for little people. Better buy that bag today and save at TOWNER'S.

For that touch of after shave refreshment, BREMERS suggest you try Mem. Truly a man's fragrance, Mem offers cologne for $2, soap in scents of pine and sandal wood at $1.50; and powder at $1.50. Or you can buy Mem in sets at $4 and $5. After trying Mem, you, too, will be one of the thousands who put their stamp of approval on it.

Another five pounds made the rounds in the Kappa house last week when Dorris Hays chained her pin to that of Bob Hotchkiss, "Hotch," former Phi Psi here. Doris' trip to her uniform in Texas was a real one—Terse "Hotch" just said, "Guess those ought to be chained," and Dorris "Can't say no."

GOOD MORNING — Did you take your Vitamin—so many folk are taking one Multiple Vitamin Capsule each morning at breakfast—as your doctor and go to DRUG SHOP—let EDWARD S. ROSE serve you — remember DRUG SHOP is Vitamin Headquarters.

This is strictly off the record but SEARS has the best record selection. Not only do they have Okeh, Decca, Victor, and Columbia recordings in the latest tunes, but they have the popular 10 and 12 inch albums too. What could express the sentimental spirit more than music? A new record or album from SEARS will afford many hours of pleasant listening for these stay-at-home evenings.

That gleam in Doris Scott's eye certainly matches the gleam of that Pi K A pin. Ardor and admiration come from Bob Sharp. Congrats Scotty.

"ICE CREAM TODAY"
Spring is the time for daffodils and OLD MILL ice cream. Yessir! the best in flavor and ice cream revelry with a malt or sundae, package or double delicious cone, OLD MILL ice cream is the treat of any spring.

We're wondering if the friendship between Mill Taylor, A.D.Pi. and Kenny Heck, Psi Omega, is platonic. Or is there a more serious interest involved?

In spring young hearts turn to thoughts of love. Fellows, you can't go wrong on the gift for her at HAUSER'S JEWELRY STORE to make your romance secure. Pretty bracelets, lovely pins, heart compacts, and beautiful rings—whatever it is, HAUSER'S have the gift that will be cherished by any girl.

Another Phi Delt pin found its way over another Tri Delt heart when Mary Eleanor Pinnell and Herb Groves, lieutenant in the army, chained theirs last week. We hear that chain makes it strong and for keeps.

Now which do you prefer? We've a real selection in sox with English rib at 49c and those color knock-out argyles at 50 cents. Mesh sox too are popular for spring in turn down or straight cuffs at 35 cents—We've a range of all the colors in the brightest and happiest color selection, at H. and H. HOSIERY SHOP.

While we're playing pin up with chains to boot we can't forget the Gamma Phi Ruth Knight who hooked her high school honey, Bob Lindquist.

Three strikes and you're never out in this game. Duck down with the gang and treat yourself to a game and soon duck pins and scoring talk will be your regular sports habit. We'll not pin you down but you'll feel like settin' em up once you become a regular fan at DUCK PIN ALLEYS—20 S. Dubuque.

Who is the handsome cadet that makes Beverly Blot, A.D. Pi, lose sleep nights? Could it be Kenny Hedges?

PRETTY FOR PROMENADING
—you'll be the sweetest girlie in the Easter parade if you're sure to be among the first Easter suit snappers. Be sure you choose the right kind of suit or dress whether it be tailored or with a touch of spring flower grill. Airy blouses to go with our tailored checked, plain or plaid suits.

Ideal for Easter and for you at THREE SISTERS.

Suzy Posner, SDT shout "Hi-Yo" for that Al Silver, number one on her hit parade—quite a steady twosome.

Also the house talk centers round Harriet Roth who starts out one weekend for Indianapolis and ended up in New York, Stork Club and all. This weekend she's off to Ann Arbor. Wish I knew a train conductor. Get's tiresome posin' as a navyman's wife. Am I kiddin'?

We hear the Delta Sigs have a new uncontrollable interest in an Iowa City visitor, Daisy—Aw, don't worry fellers, Daisies don't tell.

We laughed when they said the river bank was muddy and too soft for hikin'—now will someone help me look for my shoes?
