Yanks Bomb Vital Targets In France

RAF Planes Attack Bulgarian Railroad Center in Plovdiv

LONDON (AP)—Between 750 and 1,000 American Flying Fortresses and Liberators made a surprise sunset assault on German military targets in northwestern France last night, striking late on a day which had begun early with an RAF bomber raid from Italy on the important Bulgarian railway center of Plovdiv.

The supertime attackers, accompanied by between 500 and 750 Thunderbolt, Lightning and Mustang fighters, dumped approximately 2,500 tons of explosives on their objectives. In addition Mustang fighter-bombers blasted Nazi targets deep in northeastern France.

Nine United States heavy bombers were lost, but all the fighter-bombers and fighters returned safely. The escort planes shot down four Nazi planes in the air and destroyed others on the ground.

Bomber crews reported no German fighter opposition although anti-aircraft fire ranging from slight to very intense was encountered, an airforce communique stated.

Allied planes by last night had made approximately 8,000 sorties against Nazi targets in the past 54 hours, unloading more than 11,000 tons of bombs. It was the third successive day that the U. S. airforce had sent out an armada of approximately 2,000 planes. The assault undoubtedly was a surprise for the enemy, being one of the latest ever made by the Eighth airforce and certainly the heaviest evening bombardment ever directed at occupied France. It was estimated that some of the bombs were plummeted to their targets as late as 7:30 p. m.

Britain's double summer time, now in effect, gives the British bases light in the sky until after 9 p. m. during the spring and summer months.

The great attacking force roared off to their targets for more than three hours as it flew over the southeast coast. Some squadrons still were returning to bases at 8 p. m.

Channel weather was perfect for precision bombing after the grand assault Tuesday and Wednesday in which more than 9,000 tons of bombs were dropped on Nazi targets in 30 hours. There had been a pause in the American heavy operations until this evening.

Signed Statements, Testimony to Ration Investigators Vary

DES MOINES (AP)—A variation between the testimony of government witnesses and their alleged signed statements made to gasoline ration investigators came out yesterday at the J. F. Lineberger hearing before District Judge Loy Ladd.

Presiding as a special commissioner, Judge Ladd was hearing the evidence of the office of price administration in its gasoline ration violation charges against Lineberger, as the Service Oil Co. The OPA alleged that the 10 filling stations operated by Lineberger's company have engaged in black market operations in the sale of gasoline.

Victor C. Johnson, when called by Donald D. Holdoegel, Des Moines district OPA enforcement attorney, told of buying gasoline and stove gas at the Lineberger station operated by Cecil Gourley.

He said Gourley, on Feb. 26, put five gallons of gasoline in his car and took only a 3-gallon ration coupon, and also purchased five gallons of stove gas which was put in a can and later used in a truck.

Editors to Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Editors of America's larger daily newspapers will talk over wartime problems with government officials in off-the-record discussions today and tomorrow.

Members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, gathering for the two-day meeting, looked forward with particular interest to expected background talks on the war from Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Adm. Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the navy.

Americans Destroy 6 Japanese Planes In Caroline Attack

Yank Aircraft Lost Over New Britain In Airdrome Attack

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Friday (AP)—American Liberator heavy bombers from south and southwest Pacific bases, paying daily visits to Japanese airfields in the western and central Caroline islands, destroyed six enemy planes and probably three more, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

The planes were destroyed in Tuesday and Wednesday raids on Woleai island, in the western Carolines. Three were knocked out of the air and three smashed on the ground. The three probables also were hit on the ground.

Another flight of Liberators hit Woleai Thursday, but details of this raid have not been received.

Strike Satawan
Other Liberators struck at Satawan island in the Nomon islands, 150 miles southeast of the big Japanese base at Truk, Tuesday for the third consecutive day of raids there. The attackers smashed the airfield and dispersal areas with 34 tons of explosives.

(These raids coordinated with attacks by American bombers from central Pacific bases on Truk and Ponape island, in the eastern part of the Carolines, Wednesday and Thursday. The raids were announced by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.)

Six American planes failed to return from aerial assaults along an arc from Dutch Timor, in the Dutch East Indies, east to the Carolines.

Three were lost over Rabaul, New Britain, in a 100-ton bombing smash Tuesday at airdromes, supply dumps and other installations. This was the 16th consecutive day of attacks on this base.

Pilots Return
Pilots returning to their Solomon bases from the Rabaul assault reported meeting the most intense anti-aircraft fire ever encountered over that base.

Allied attack planes and fighters swept the northern New Guinea coast from Wadke island southeast to the Madang area, Wednesday, setting fire to a small enemy freighter and damaging another, and destroying a small tanker and five loaded barges. Ten gun positions were silenced.

Army, Navy Heads—

Demand Labor Draft Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Warning came out the house military committee recommended that 4-F's who refuse to take essential war jobs be drafted for non-combat duty in the army and navy.

The committee plan was aimed directly at some 3,623,000 men now classified 4-F—unfit for regular military duty. Men of this group who spurn essential jobs would be inducted forthwith for what Committee Chairman May (D-Ky) called, "menial tasks" around army camps and hospitals. In effect, he explained, they would "be the army's and navy's domestics."

The army, navy and shipping heads issued their statement after conferences and discussions with Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff; Adm. Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States fleet; legislators and representatives of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers and the Association of American Railroads.

They sketched a foreboding picture of the nation's manpower situation and declared:

Bombers Blast Jap Airfields In Sumatra

Destroy 22 Planes At Sabang, Lhonga; 1 Yank Aircraft Lost

KANDY, Ceylon (AP)—Allied bombers and fighters taking off from powerfully-escorted carriers somewhere in the Indian ocean blasted Japanese airfields, shipping and other installations at Sabang and Lhonga in northern Sumatra early Wednesday, destroying at least 22 enemy planes on the ground, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's southeast Asia headquarters announced yesterday.

A strong force of battleships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines prowled about the allied carriers while their planes carried out the second attack on the Dutch East Indies since they fell to the Japanese in March, 1942. Allied naval planes took a similar crack at Sabang in December of '42.

Bombs Cause Fires
Heavy bombs weighing up to 1,000 pounds were showered on the two bases, leaving many fierce fires burning. Two Japanese merchant ships of 4,000-5,000 tons received direct hits in Sabang harbor and two destroyer escort vessels were set afire by strafing. The enemy appeared to have been taken completely by surprise, Mountbatten's communique said, replying to the attack only with anti-aircraft fire.

The allied task force under British Admiral Sir James Somerville suffered no damage, and only one allied plane fell into the sea. Its pilot was saved by a submarine which surfaced under fire from Japanese shore batteries. Allied fighters shot down three enemy torpedo bombers which attempted to approach the carrier force after the raid.

Sabang Harbor Vital
Sabang is on a little island just off the northern tip of Sumatra, about 1,000 miles from Mountbatten's Ceylon headquarters. Lhonga is a few miles away on the Sumatra mainland. Sabang has an important harbor which the Japanese have been employing for naval operations in the Indian ocean. Wednesday's allied smash was regarded here as at least a forerunner of landing operations bound to come sooner or later in the Dutch East Indies.

Big Navy Flying Boat Reported Lost at Sea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loss of a big navy flying boat at sea in the Caribbean area was announced by the navy yesterday which reported 16 of its crew and passengers were missing.

The Catalina flying boat crashed at sea April 6 "while on a routine flight" the navy said.

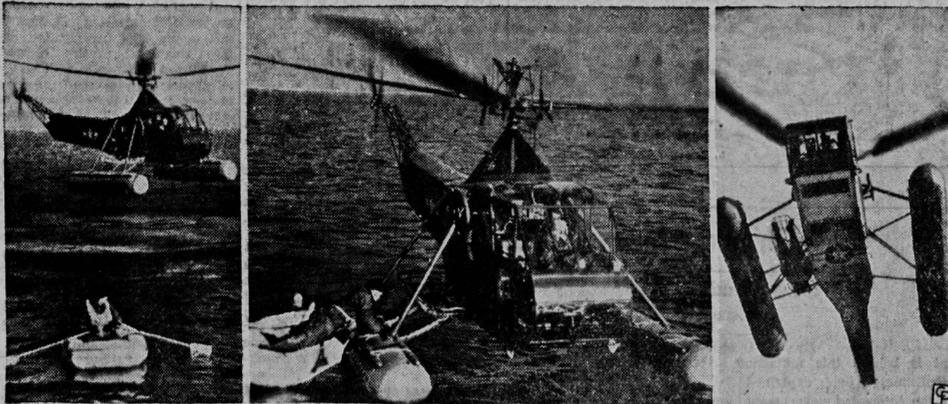

Fourteen survivors and the body of one member of the crew were picked up by a merchant vessel the following day.

The navy reported that a wide search failed to reveal any trace of 16 missing persons who were aboard the plane.

The next of kin of all casualties have been notified.

COAST GUARD EXPERIMENTS WITH HELICOPTER AS MERCY PLANE

FAMED for its life-saving record in stormy seas, the U. S. coast guard was taken to the air and pioneered with the helicopter as a rescue vehicle. Photos above show the plane in action. At left, a coast guard pilot hovers over a "distressed" life raft in a simulated mercy mission.

Sailor Tells Of Rescuing Stassen at Sea

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A Wisconsin sailor in letters home has described the rescue at sea of an officer he identified as Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and Republican presidential possibility.

At south St. Paul, Mrs. Stassen said she had heard nothing directly from her husband about such a rescue but that she had "heard from other sources something about it."

In Washington the navy said it had no confirmation of the report. William Bornett, a sound man on a subchaser, wrote:

"Just a few weeks ago we were patrolling in front of an island when somebody saw a small boat aboard and one of them was Stassen."

Stassen, who resigned as governor of Minnesota to enter the navy, has been serving as a flag officer in Adm. William D. Halsey's south Pacific fleet.

His political career received a boost in the recent Wisconsin primaries, which gave him four delegates to the Republican national convention in the same vote which smashed the hopes of Wendell L. Willkie.

Battle on Dover

LONDON, Friday (AP)—The midnight sky over the Straits of Dover was lit by high explosive and star shells last night and early today as British and German coastal guns traded fire.

The action was initiated by the British, who began blasting at German shipping at 11:06 p. m. The Germans replied, and the explosion of one shell rocked the Dover area.

American Air Blitz Of Caroline Islands Enters Fifth Week

Yanks Drop 46 Tons Of Bombs on Truk Tuesday, Wednesday

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor (AP)—Opening the fifth week of daily bombing of the Caroline islands, army and navy Liberators poured 46 tons of explosives on the key Truk islands Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced yesterday.

A navy search plane hit a medium cargo vessel in the Truk lagoon and Seventh army air force Liberators following up with a heavier raid started large fires on Dublon island and raked the air strip and barracks on nearby Moen island.

Wake island, Japanese occupied American possession, was raided for the first time since April 6. A lone Liberator bombed the island's runways.

Other planes bombed Ponape, eastern Caroline guardian of Truk, and dropped 40 tons of explosives on the Japanese in the Marshall islands, which have been raided daily since Feb. 27.

The army Liberators, making the 25th U. S. attack on Truk, concentrated on the major islands of Moen and Dublon in the center of the lagoon.

Explosions were observed in Dublon town, igniting large fires. Three enemy planes took to the air but made no attempt to intercept. Nimitz described anti-aircraft fire as feeble.

Marine dive bombers and Corsairs, army Mitchells and navy Venturas and Hellcats gave the Marshalls their daily blasting.

Sedition Trial of 30 Reaches Jury Picking After Legal Sparring

WASHINGTON (AP)—After being embroiled for four days in legal sparring and other technicalities, the trial of 30 persons on seditious conspiracy charges reached the jury picking stage yesterday.

Mrs. Minnie Kreuter Adamson, a Washington housewife and one of 16 women on the panel of 78 prospective jurors brought into the small courtroom, was rejected after telling the court she would be prejudiced if any of the defendants were shown to have been members of the German-American Bund. She has one son in the navy, another about to go, a third, 1-A.

The 30 are charged with conspiring to cause insubordination within the armed forces.

Judge Eicher used the word "insurrection" instead of "insubordination" in explaining the charge to the prospective jurors and brought prompt objections from counsel.

The judge withdrew the word and said he intended to follow the statute, which reads "insubordination" but Edward James Smythe, one of the 30 defendants, jumped up and said:

"You have already convicted us in the eyes of this jury by that statement you just made."

Urge U. S. to Seek— Dominion Of Bases

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional committee recommended yesterday that the United States seek permanent ownership of a bustling ring of western hemisphere defense bases leased from Britain in a war-time swap for 50 destroyers.

A $130,000,000 American investment has converted the bases into towers of armament which should become permanent bastions to defend this hemisphere from attack, the committee said.

Chairman Herbert (D-La.) of the navy subcommittee suggested something be worked out, perhaps in exchange for Britain's lend-lease obligations, to give the United States full title to the bases which now are held on a 99-year lease.

"Under no circumstances should the advantages enjoyed by the United States through the acquisition of these facilities be relinquished," the report said.

"It would be a mistake for the United States to ever abandon the bases. We feel that steps should be immediately taken by our government to have the bases changed to in perpetuity."

The sub-committee headed by Hebert was sent on a personal inspection tour of the bases by the full naval affairs committee of the house. Yesterday's report resulted from that trip.

On Way to Prison

BALSAM LAKE, Wis. (AP)—Belligerent little Tommy Gannon, who once consorted with the Dillinger gangsters, was on his way to the Wisconsin state prison last night to spend the next 15 to 40 years with "the good people of Waupun."

Gannon, 49, convicted of bank robbery, was sentenced to serve that many years by Circuit Judge Carl H. Daley yesterday a few hours after he had shouted to the jury to "hurry up and get it over with, because the sooner I get out of Polk county and get down among the good people of Waupun, the better I will like it." The prison is at Waupun.

U. S. Agriculture Faces Critical Period; 4 Weeks' Planting Determines Food Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wartime agriculture is heading into a critical four weeks' planting period which will determine to a large extent how well civilians will eat in the year ahead and the amount of food the United States will be able to furnish its allies.

War food administration officials, while recognizing that farmers are beset with many production problems such as shortages of manpower and machinery, express confidence on the outlook. That confidence has its practical expression in more liberal civilian ration allowances of vital foods. The nation came through the winter with larger reserves of processed foods than was expected last fall.

Official confidence is based largely upon reports that farmers intend to plant 15 million more

Dewey's Support Increases to 209

Will Require 530 Convention Votes For Nomination

By D. HAROLD OLIVER Associated Press Staff Writer

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's convention support for the Republican presidential nomination was increased yesterday to 209 delegates, 175 more than his nearest opponent, when Michigan Republicans in state convention praised their native son and put 41 more delegates into his claimed column.

It will require 530 convention votes to nominate a candidate.

The state convention did not bind the delegates, but commended the New Yorker to them as the "overwhelming favorite" of the state's voters as party standard bearer.

Evident Now
Shortly before, Gov. Dwight Griswold, of Nebraska, told reporters in Lincoln "it is evident now" that Dewey can have the nomination on any ballot his forces choose. He said the Dewey command "may allow a ballot or two for favorite sons, but Dewey could go in on the first, second or third ballot, whichever they choose."

Griswold has been prominently mentioned for the GOP vice-presidential candidacy. But many party leaders, chiefly from the west, took leave from the Chicago convention arrangements committee sessions yesterday with forecasts that Gov. Earl Warren, whom they selected as convention keynoter, would most likely be a running mate with Dewey.

Wants Re-election

Warren told his press conference in Sacramento "I have very intention of staying here in California the remainder of my term as governor (which expires in January, 1947) and, as most persons in public office do, probably will want to be re-elected." He added that his position of not being a candidate for either place on the national ticket had not changed since his selection as keynoter.

Dewey's delegate recapitulation now shows 29 delegates pledged outright to him from Arkansas, Missouri, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Planes Blast Troop Trains

New German Thrusts Around Stanislawow Repulsed by Soviets

LONDON (AP)—The long-quiet Baltic front flamed into action yesterday, the Russians announcing they had beaten off attacks by large German forces, northwest of Narva in Estonia and had launched heavy air raids against German troop trains concentrated at the Latvian railway junctions of Rezekne and Gulbene.

In the southeast corner of old Poland renewed German tank and infantry thrusts south and east of Stanislawow were repulsed, a Soviet communique said last night, while Soviet planes attacking four convoys trying to escape from besieged Sevastopol in the Crimea sank four large transports and a destroyer and damaged others.

The communique was silent on the land fighting for Sevastopol but dwelt on the havoc wrought at sea as the Germans and Romanians struggled to flee from that death trap.

On the Baltic front no major developments have been reported by Moscow since early in March. Yesterday the Soviet communique said the Germans assaulted with big tanks and infantry Soviet positions on the west side of the Narva river, only to be beaten back, leaving more than 2,000 dead on the field.

The German communique, also reporting action near Narva, said Nazi troops had penetrated bitterly-defended Russian positions in the marshy river-bank area and destroyed more than 100 Russian strong-points and 30 Russian guns.

As an intimation of Soviet preparations for a renewed offensive in the Baltic states, the Russian communique said long-range Red air force planes bombed Rezekne and Gulbene, 190 and 160 miles south of Narva, where German troop trains were concentrated, and set five large fires at a shale fuel plant at Kiwili, Estonia. Rezekne is on the railway leading to Daugavpils (Dvinsk), and Gulbene on the line to Riga, capital of Latvia.

With so many irons in the fire on such extended fronts, the Russians can strike where circumstances best suit them, and apparently are bent on doing so even before Sevastopol finally falls.

Both German and Russian communiques told of heavy fighting in the Stanislawow region of southeast Poland, but Russian dispatches were inclined to treat the German offensive there as localized in character, despite its bitterness.

Doctor Predicts New Use for Penicillin

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. Chester S. Keefer of Boston, civilian allocator of penicillin, predicted yesterday that this new drug will be extremely useful for syphilis.

This is the first authoritative announcement about the possibilities for syphilis, a disease for which there never has been an effective remedy other than arsenic.

"There are good grounds for saying," Dr. Keefer reported to the American Philosophical society, "that penicillin will be a good agent and an extremely useful treatment in syphilis. The early results of experiments on syphilis are extremely promising."

The experiments were started in the military forces, where the disease is one of the serious medical handicaps.

Roemig Testimony

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Testimony from five rebuttal witnesses for the prosecution and the beginning of attorneys' arguments to the jury occupied yesterday afternoon in federal court here, with the case of Louis Roemig Jr., charged with sabotage, scheduled to go to the jury some time this morning.

What's Behind Fantastic Draft Foolishness

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—In these days when women are getting so much credit for doing men's jobs, the forest service would like it known that 16 percent of its lookout personnel last year and maybe anything up to 40 percent this year will be women.

addition to manning a lookout (without help), she runs a string of six packhorses (if you are that interested, go to the library, and try to figure out how you would throw a diamond hitch on just one pack horse and get on the trail before sun-up); cooks for fire crews; and on occasion has single-handedly subdued fires that once out of hand might have levelled thousands of acres.

'Spendable' Earnings

Official statistics, compiled for the first time, show an increase for average industrial workers of "spendable" earnings after allowing for payroll deductions for income and social security taxes and for war bond purchases, and after taking account of greater costs of living.

The new computations, which have been made by N. Arnold Tolles, chief of the working conditions and industrial relations branch of the bureau of labor statistics, have special significance in connection with the effort to obtain an upward revision of the Little Steel formula. In effect, they show that war conditions have not forced a lowering of living standards for average factory workers, who account for almost 14 million out of a little more than 41 million in non-agricultural civilian employment. The official statistics on earnings heretofore have taken no notice of payroll deductions.

Comparisons in the comprehensive study by Mr. Tolles extend from January, 1941, the base month of the Little Steel formula, to October, 1943. The average of gross weekly earnings for all factory workers increased by 68.4 percent during that period. After allowing for payroll deductions for taxes and bond purchases, the increase was 44.8 percent for a worker supporting a wife and two children and 24.2 percent for a worker without dependents. Costs of living increased in the same period by 23.4 percent. Bond purchase deductions were made by Mr. Tolles at a rate of 5 percent in July, 1942, 7 1/2 percent in October, 1942, and 10 percent in January, 1943, and thereafter. The average factory worker with a wife and two children was able in October, 1943, to maintain the same standard of living as in January, 1941, pay taxes and buy bonds and have a margin of $5.65 per week in increased "spendable" earnings. The worker without dependents was only 22 cents per week ahead.

Average gross weekly earnings of steel workers, who are seeking an increase in wages in hearings before the war labor board, increased by 57.4 percent from January, 1941, to October, 1943. According to Mr. Tolles, the average steel worker with a wife and two children had a net gain of $2.64 per week in "spendable earnings" in October, 1943, after paying taxes and buying bonds and after allowing for increased costs of living. News Behind the News

Now the Ladies Go To Blazes

By PAUL MALLON

What is behind this fantastic draft foolishness is being explained by all the interested government bureaus in their own conflicting ways.

You can get nearly any story you want, that is, except the right one.

Bureaucratic muddling is the commonest explanation in congress, but even this falls short of accounting fully for the depths of public confusion in which men are called, quit their jobs, are sent back, called again under orders from Washington. You would have to devote yourself seriously to muddling for a long while to get that bad.

Then there is a loud official whisper dealing with the grand assault on Europe and reserves in the Pacific and Atlantic area. Frankly, it does not explain anything and, therefore, is not worth repeating even if it could pass the censor, and it would not.

Those most intimate with the inner situation absolute Draft Director Hershey of major responsibility for the orders he has been issuing and attribute the mess to a struggle between Manpowerer Paul McNutt and the armed services.

Mr. McNutt, apparently, now is the man who is making the manpower decisions, or thinks he is. Mr. Roosevelt had the problem in his own lap for some months, but is supposed now to have passed control back to McNutt.

Now McNutt is personally opposed to the proposed industrial draft act (the national service bill), although Mr. Roosevelt presumably still wants it and the army and navy are now building up toward another campaign to justify its passage by congress.

McNutt takes the position that such a draft of labor—opposed by labor, management and most of the politicians as well—is not needed, or at least no need has been shown for it. The draft policies of the army and navy frequently appear to be adopted, with a thought of not discouraging need for it.

The plain evidence indicates clearly McNutt is right. The Cleveland economist, Col. Leonard Ayres, who set up the war department economic bureau at the outset of the war, says in his current Cleveland Trust company bulletin: "This latest manpower crisis is largely verbal, and almost surely less serious than it is claimed to be."

He says the peak of our war production probably was passed last October, and industrial manpower requirements have declined since then. He is such an impartial recognized authority that his evidence seems almost to close the argument.

Thus, it seems likely that the existing situation will continue to drift on its present level, inducing men under 26 for battle quotas, and men older if the changing quotas cannot be filled otherwise—but with no labor draft of any kind.

QUESTION: BY WHAT METHODS DO YOU THINK CHURCHES CAN ATTRACT STUDENT PARTICIPATION IN CHURCH ACTIVITIES?

Phyllis Peterson, A4 of Williamsburg: "If the work were more divided among the young people so each had something to do rather than a few doing all the work, it would be more successful."

Marilyn Fronm, A3 of Mason City: "Students should have some interest in participation in church activities or they probably won't be attracted no matter what methods are used. What is needed most is probably a great deal more publicity for the excellent programs which each church offers."

Libby Shanley, A1 of Kirkwood, Mo.: "Youth clubs where younger persons learn to know each other. They should also have social and discussion groups and build up interest among young people in general so they can take part in church later on."

Ellen Garms, A2 of Lakewood, Ohio: "I think, for one thing, that the scriptures should be taught to fit the life of today; taught to apply to the life of the times in order to comply with our lives."

Larry Sifford, A2 of Sioux City: "One thing to promote student attendance in Iowa City churches is to cut the length of church services—perhaps have a student-length service."

William Stuhler, A1 of Monticello: "Education of the people, students included, to the realization of the value of church attendance would do more to increase church membership than anything else."

Margaret Browning, A2 of Iowa City: "I think that the people who even go to church are already attending. You can't force interest."

Barbara Jayne Blake, A3 of Western Springs, Ill.: "I think that by making religion more practical and applicable to everyday life we can succeed. Our religious teachings today are out-dated and are inconsistent with the modern world."

Phyllis Nissen Chenault, A3 of Chicago: "Sermons should apply to things in their daily life. The young people today don't want to be lectured, but want to understand the situation and see its logical relationships."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Roy William Neill is just as happy that he isn't where he was 23 years ago, standing inside the crater of Mt. Vesuvius making a movie.

Neill, a pleasant, quiet fellow, looks a little pained as he thinks of it. It wasn't as bad as the London blitz, of course, which he also underwent. And it didn't touch the San Francisco earthquake of 1906, which was one of his boyhood experiences. But the crater of Vesuvius, even when it is inactive, shakes like the "bumps" on a Conga line.

"And I," laments Neill, "am allergic to motion." Neill, who still directs pictures and produces them too, went inside Vesuvius only because Sicily's Mt. Etna, erupting violently in 1921, had saved a picture he had gone to Italy to make. Etna, like the chorine who rushes in at the last minute to double for the star and save the show in our backstage movies, erupted just in time to substitute for an elusive octopus and let Neill get on with his stymied movie.

He had taken a camera crew and actors to Sicily to make Victor Hugo's "Toilers of the Sea." He had to find an octopus, because in the novel an undersea monster wrecks the havoc.

"So we got there," he recalls, "and there wasn't a suitable octopus to be had. There was one in the aquarium at Naples, but it wasn't the type. Not big enough. No octopus, no picture. We were about to call it off and shoot another story, when Etna let go.

"We were 20 miles away at the time, and first thing we did was rush our cameras up to get newsreel shots. After these were sent to America, we got to thinking about our movie, and the idea struck. Why not skip the octopus and let the volcano do the dirty work? We had some wonderful shots of Etna in eruption, and up at Naples was Vesuvius, inactive. We went up there and used Vesuvius to double for Etna in the close-ups. Holmes Herbert, who starred with Lucy Fox, and the rest of us went down in the crater, with government guides and their instruments to let us know how long it would be safe to stay."

As in other fields of endeavor, wartime conditions have slowed up publication of the 1945 Hawkeye and members of the staff express their regret that the yearbook will not be ready for delivery until after the close of the semester April 23.

Students who will not be attending the summer session may receive their Hawkeye through the mail by leaving their address and 35 cents in The Daily Iowan business office in East hall. This will cover postage, insurance and shipping costs.

Gallery Exhibit Shows History Of Art Works

Perhaps the most interesting exhibition presented by the art department since the exhibit brought here for the dedication of the art building, is now on view in the art department gallery. It is an educational exhibition sponsored by the Carnegie corporation of New York and prepared by the Cincinnati art museum.

To the visitor possibly most interesting is the electrically operated cabinets which the spectator manipulates himself and which dramatize and scientifically explain laws of color, light and composition.

Some of these are cabinets like peep-shows while others resemble miniature stage sets. Hundreds of charts, drawings, color reproductions of great paintings, and photographs of sculpture and architecture, all carefully annotated and arranged in sequence, explain the basic feature of a work of art and the varieties of artistic expression throughout history.

This commencement exhibition is open to the public beginning today. It may be viewed daily from 8 to 5 o'clock and Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Browns Win Third Straight

Take Detroit Tigers To Keep First Place In American League

DETROIT (AP)—The doughty St. Louis Browns remained perched atop the American league standings yesterday by hanging a third straight defeat on the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 5, for pitcher Sigmund Jakucki's first major league victory.

Vernon Stephens, whose homer and fly beat Detroit in the first two games of the series, pounded out a double and a single yesterday and drove in three runs in an 11-hit attack on three Detroit pitchers.

Forty-year-old Elton (Chief) Hogsett blanked the Browns on three hits in the last five and a third inning.

Jakucki, 31-year-old right-hander who received an army medical discharge, spaced nine hits, three by outfielder Jimmy Outlaw. Rudy York drove in two runs with a pair of singles.

Illini Champs Enter 1944 Drake Relays; Stress Speedy Events

DES MOINES (AP)—Illinois, winner of five university relay championships in the 1943 Drake relays, submitted its 1944 entry yesterday, but switched emphasis from long-distance races to shorter, speedier events.

Most of the athletes who swept the field at Drake a year ago have left Illinois and the school will not even defend its titles in three races won then. The shortest relay race the Illinois ran in 1943 was the mile, which will be the longest distance covered by this season's team.

Coach Leo Johnson's new speed squad will be headed by Claude (Buddy) Young, Negro freshman who in less than two months of college competition has won a series of track distinctions for Illinois, and is entered in the 100-yard dash, broad jump and on several relay teams.

The Illinois entry includes 17 men for competition in four relays and seven special events. Bob Kelley, Claude Young, Maroe Gonzales and Bob Hinkle, outstanding members of the mile team, are among the entries.

Tom Fullerton, a Big Ten place winner in the discus, and Bob Phelps, a Purdue relays place winner in the pole vault, also will be in the Illinois contingent, for the April 28-29 relays.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter collects in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of energy and getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Giants Take Victory 10-8 From Braves

NEW YORK (AP)—Mel Ott, Ernie Lombardi and Joe Medwick—the New York Giants' big three—each clouted a home run to pace the New Yorkers to a free hitting 10-8 victory over the Boston Braves yesterday and a clean sweep of their three-game series.

Scoring five runs in the first inning, the Giants kept right on hitting to give pitcher Cliff Melton an 8-2 lead going into the eighth inning, but the Braves shelled the tall lefthander from the mound in the ninth.

Navy to Meet Track Squads

A pre-Drake Relay test for the Seabawk track team will be the triangular meet this Saturday at the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight school here when the navy will play host to squads from the University of Minnesota and the University of Iowa.

The local meet, which will begin at 3:15 p. m. on the Hawkeyes' outdoor track, will be featured by the appearance of several Seabawk stars who are expected to figure prominently in the Drake Relays a week later. Cadets Tom Judge of Indiana U. Sedley Stuart of Portland, Ore., will run the sprint medley, and two mile relay, while Price Brookfield, all-American cage start at West Texas U., will compete in the high jump, and the Dick Wakefield, major league baseball star, will run in the 100 yard dash and the sprint relay.

Other cadets to be featured are Al Strophe, of Wallace, Idaho, and formerly of the University of Washington, in the high jump; Dick Blayne, of Detroit, and the University of Miami, in the 880; Jim Quinn, of Cincinnati U., sprints; Al Zupek, of Lawrence college, javelin and discus; Bob Daugherty, of Oregon State, shot put.

Track fans attending the meet Saturday also will have the opportunity of seeing Jack De Field, sensational pole vaulter from Minnesota. De Field vaulted 14' 5 1/2" to win the national intercollegiate championship in 1941. He was also Big Ten champion in that year. De Field placed second to Ens. Cornelius Warmerdam in the Chicago Relays with a vault of 14' 3 1/2". He also won the pole vault event in the Purdue Relays.

Giants Take Victory 10-8 From Braves

NEW YORK (AP)—Mel Ott, Ernie Lombardi and Joe Medwick—the New York Giants' big three—each clouted a home run to pace the New Yorkers to a free hitting 10-8 victory over the Boston Braves yesterday and a clean sweep of their three-game series.

Scoring five runs in the first inning, the Giants kept right on hitting to give pitcher Cliff Melton an 8-2 lead going into the eighth inning, but the Braves shelled the tall lefthander from the mound in the ninth.

A HERO WAS TALKING to a reporter. "I wish I knew where the hell the president gets those long, jaunty holders." The hero, Lieut. Charles W. Spencer, was talking about cigar holders. He can hold a cigar with his fingerless hands only long enough for a couple of puffs, he explained to the newsman, interviewing him at the Valley Forge General hospital at Phoenixville, Pa., where he is undergoing plastic surgery which will replace his ears, nose and missing fingers lost last November when a shell ripped through his Flying Fortress over Bremen. Spencer has his wish, for he received 38 long cigar holders in the mail. Spencer is shown with his wife, who comes to the hospital each day. When she kissed him the first time on his return from the war, his plastic nose fell off. Undaunted, she said, "I married a man—not a face." (International)

Republican Women Publish Resolutions

Resolutions of the Johnson county Republican women, to be submitted to the national platform committee, have been announced. They will be sent to persons holding important positions in the government and in national, state and local Republican organizations, including Harrison J. Spangler, national Republican chairman, Senator George E. Wilson and Representative Thomas E. Martin.

Included among the resolutions, the local organization asks that we win the war and peace and place the country above partisan politics; establish an all-party congressional committee to act with the state department and president in announcing a clear foreign policy soon; that the United States enter an international organization with a court and enforcement powers; that the allies and neutrals and later all nations have free commerce by air, land and sea.

That no one group, whether farmer, labor, capital or professional, be entitled to supremacy at the expense of consumers; that every American soldier be entitled to vote and to be educated or employed after the war; that women and youth, especially soldiers and clergy, be chosen by a non-partisan group to join the peace council; that there be rapid curtailment of post-war bureaucracy; that candidates be allowed to express their views openly, and that there be economy and publicity of all campaign funds.

The resolutions committee is comprised of Mrs. Carl Seashore, Mrs. Lloyd A. Howell, Hazel Swim and Mrs. C. S. Williams. Ex-officio members is Mrs. H. J. Mayer, president of the Johnson county Republican Women's club.

AUTO MEN PLAN POST-WAR WORK

PROPOSALS to "farm out" declining war contracts and increase the output of repair parts were advanced as a pre-reconversion pattern for the auto industry at a conference in Washington between auto manufacturers and WPB officials. WPB Chief Donald Nelson told the manufacturers that the return to production of automobiles depends entirely on military events. The industry agreed that all of its members should resume production of passenger cars at the same time. Among the industrialists present were, left to right, Henry Ford II, recently named to the position of vice president of the Ford Motor company; C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, and Powell Crowley Jr., president of Crosley Motors. (International)
