Reds Sink 5 German, Romanian Troop Ships

Soviets Blast At Axis Fleet

Nazis Say Russians Open Big Offensive On Romanian Front

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—Blasting an axis fleet presumably attempting to evacuate large numbers of the besieged forces at Sevastopol, the Russians have sunk five German and Romanian transports and damaged two others in the past 24 hours, Moscow announced tonight.

The Soviet daily communique reported once again "there were no essential changes at the front" during the day, but official German and Romanian announcements said the Red army had broken the land lull by opening a large-scale offensive yesterday on the Romanian front, scoring local breakthroughs which were sealed off.

A supplement to the Soviet communique referred to continued activity southeast of Stanislawow in old Poland, where skirmishing has been reported the past few days. It said about a company of Germans was wiped out and some important heights were captured by Russian tankmen.

In another sector, unidentified, 800 Germans were reported killed and 300 wounded and 20 tanks or self-propelled guns smashed in one of the bloodiest small engagements since the Sevastopol lull set in.

In addition to the action off Sevastopol, the Russians announced that in the Barents sea in the Arctic, Soviet aircraft had encountered "a large group of German transports sailing under convoy of warships, cutters and fighters" and that despite bad visibility the Russian airmen sank four of the transports totaling 20,000 tons. The Russians did not say which way this convoy was moving.

Although the Russians reported no ground changes, the intensity of the sparring for each small position all along the front was indicated by the Moscow communique's statement that 32 German tanks were destroyed or disabled on all fronts Tuesday, and 79 enemy airplanes shot out of the air.

Most military writers expect the main Russian campaign to thrust across the rolling plains of Poland through Lwow, Brest-Litovsk and Warsaw into Germany. An equally probable drive is expected south into Romania to deny the Germans the oil of Ploesti and other Romanian fields which supply a third of the German needs. Yet a third offensive may be pushed deeper into the Baltic states, where the Red army already is in northern Estonia around Narva and at the frontier of southern Estonia at Pskov.

Stimson Repudiates Remark by Patton

WASHINGTON (AP)—The war department yesterday pointedly disowned Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's remark that Americans, British and Russians are destined "to rule the world."

Reacting swiftly to the statement, which caused a fresh flurry of criticism of the general in congress, Secretary Stimson issued a memorandum stating:

"General Patton was expressing his own personal views. He was not speaking for the war department."

Patton, already in the bad graces of many congressmen because of the soldier-slapping incident in which he figured during the conquest of Sicily, made the remark Tuesday at the opening of a service club in England and aroused anew the ire of legislators.

Baruch Gives Million To Physical Medicine

NEW YORK (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch yesterday gave $1,100,000 to extend physical medicine.

Simultaneously the Baruch committee on physical medicine, headed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford university, recommended a nationwide, scientific boost of this art, particularly for returning soldiers.

The committee defined physical medicine as use of light, heat, water, cold, electricity, massage, manipulation, exercise, spas, climatology and hydrology; the latter specializing in baths, sprays, and the like.

River Routs Residents— Flood Takes 6 Lives

By The Associated Press

Inland seas of floodwater, fed by a month of almost continuous rain in the Midwest, rolled down the Mississippi river and its western tributaries last night, menacing cities, routing lowland residents and ruining badly needed crops.

Seven thousand federal troops, militiamen and Italian prisoners of war labored to save levees along the Mississippi, Missouri and Illinois rivers.

The flood death toll in the St. Louis area climbed to six yesterday when four of 12 employees of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad were drowned as they attempted to ferry across a flooded area which had isolated the railway's roundhouse. Eight of the men swam to safety after their flatboat capsized.

Monday, two members of the U. S. Coast Guard station were killed when their towboat was crushed by a heavy barge as the men were preparing their craft for flood relief work on the Mississippi.

The Missouri river, at flood stage for weeks, was at its highest last night in central Missouri. It was two miles wide near Jefferson City and threatened to cut off the capital city from communication to the north.

The weather bureau in Washington said last night that the continued rainfall, excessive moisture in the soil and floods have through seasonal farm work as much as three weeks behind normal in many sections. It added that this delay may have serious consequences in view of the scarcity of farm labor.

Order Commits Military Unfit To Vital Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective service embarked yesterday on an extensive campaign to persuade men unfit for military service or more than 37 years old to take jobs "making a contribution" to the war.

The inducement is occupational deferment. The draft boards are receiving the first set in a series of regulations carrying out a new policy on military-unacceptable men, announced a month ago by Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey.

The new rules make it mandatory to place men into occupationally-deferred classes, if they are making a war contribution, instead of placing them in:

4-F as physically, mentally or morally unfit;

1-A-L as fit for limited service only; or some class showing the man's age is 38 to 45 years, such as 1-A (H).

Men already in 4-F or 1-A-L are entitled to occupational deferments if they apply for them and if they are "making a contribution."

The new rules also affect class 1-C, which includes men in the armed forces and men discharged for physical or mental disability. When a man is discharged he will be given an occupational deferment if he gets into an essential job.

Court Martial Asked For Negligent Officers

Pronounce 3 Guilty Of Inspection Failure At Airplane Factory

CINCINNATI (AP)—More than 3,000 pages of testimony, scores of exhibits, and hours of argument ended yesterday with one sentence spoken three times: "To be dismissed from the service."

A court martial trying the biggest case growing out of the nation's four-year war production effort found three AAF officers guilty of neglect of their duty to stamp out what the government described as malpractices in inspection of airplane engines and parts at the $155,000,000 Lockheed, Ohio, plant of the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

The three were found innocent, however, of more serious charges of conspiracy and perjury. The sentence ordered for each man was dismissal, effective after their cases go through automatic reviews by Maj. Gen. James L. Collins, chief of the Fifth service command, the judge advocate general's department in Washington, and possibly the secretary of war and the President.

The three were Lieut. Col. Frank C. Greulich, 53, relieved as chief inspection officer for the AAF materiel command after a Truman committee investigation into the complaints about inspection; Maj. Walter A. Ryan, 46, former district inspection officer in charge of 14 states and Canada, and Maj. William Bruckmann, 50, Cincinnati brewer who was the AAF's resident officer in the plant.

Americans Kill 1 Jap In Capturing Aitape In Push Northward

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Thursday (AP)—Powerful United States Sixth army forces seized two Hollandia airdromes Tuesday and were closing in on a third key airfield, prime objective of the campaign launched less than four days before.

One hundred and fifty miles to the southeast, other American troops pushed northward from the Tadij airdrome to occupy Aitape village after a short skirmish in which just one Japanese was killed.

Two hundred and eighty miles farther south, an Australian force occupied the enemy supply base of Madang—with its airdrome—on Tuesday after overcoming an enemy rearguard and then pushed northward from the coastal town from which the bulk of the enemy force was believed to have withdrawn a month ago.

In just three and a half days of rapid, skillful maneuvering, American troops in the Hollandia area fought swamps, jungles, muddy mountain trails and mosquitoes—but few, very few, of the 14,000 Japanese estimated to have been in the area when the great offensive drama opened at dawn Saturday.

Heavy bombers reached 400 miles westward along the New Guinea coast from Hollandia to knock out 20 Japanese planes on the ground at Kamiri airdrome near Geelvink bay. Three interceptors were shot down in a 30-minute battle.

Naming of Delegates By 3 States Brings GOP Total to 624

By The Associated Press

Pennsylvania Republicans in nearly complete returns Wednesday from Tuesday's presidential primary gave Gov. Thomas E. Dewey at least 16 times as many write-in votes as his nearest contender in a field of seven and installed him a heavy favorite for the state's 70 unpledged delegates.

Advocates of a fourth term for President Roosevelt saw cause for satisfaction in late returns from the Massachusetts primary. The forces of former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, fourth term opponent, elected pledged delegates with only two convention votes out of the state's 34, plus an indefinite few unpledged but known Ely supporters.

The 35 Republican delegates elected Tuesday in Massachusetts also are unpledged, but three are known to favor Gov. Leverett Saltonstall for the presidential nomination.

Colorado Republicans did the only delegate-picking Wednesday. They named 15 which under state party rules must go instructed. The delegation is described by party leaders, however, as strongly pro-Dewey.

The addition of Colorado's 15 brought the total GOP delegates selected to date to 624 out of a convention total of 1,059. The Democrats have named 430 of their 1,176.

32 Military Police Arrive in 3 Trucks; Crowd Cheers, Boos

CHICAGO (AP)—The government, with the aid of a detachment of troops, took possession last night of the Chicago units of Montgomery Ward and company after Sewell Avery, chief executive officer of the huge merchandising firm, had rebuffed previous efforts to enforce a presidential order for seizure of the facilities.

Avery capitulated after holding out for almost seven hours against a directive from President Roosevelt authorizing the commerce department to seize the Chicago mail order plant on grounds that the management had refused to comply with White House instructions to extend an expired contract with a CIO union.

The dramatic controversy, in progress since noon, reached a climax shortly before 7 p. m., when 32 military policemen equipped with weapons arrived at the firm's headquarters in three trucks. There were some boos and some cheers from a crowd of 1,500 employees and others assembled in the street.

First Lieut. Ludwig Pinchur and three soldiers went to Avery's office while the other troopers were deployed outside the structure.

Nazi Destroyer Sunk In English Channel

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—A Canadian and British naval force on a pre-invasion patrol in the English channel sank a German destroyer and routed two or three others Wednesday, while British carrier-borne planes about the same time damaged five ships in a German convoy off Bodo in northern Norway, 60 miles above the Arctic circle, the admiralty announces.

Nazi Raiders Score Many Casualties On English Coast

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—German air raiders swept over England three times between dusk last night and dawn this morning and on one of their stabs dropped a bomb directly on an air raid shelter in a south coast city, causing many casualties. All three attacks were directed along the coastal area, following the enemy's pattern of the last month in striking at allied invasion concentrations rather than harrying the capital. The last heavy bombing of London was March 25.

Allied Attacks Break Lull On Beachhead

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples (AP)—Allied troops have broken the lull on the Anzio beachhead, improved their positions and have taken prisoners in several limited attacks launched after a combined artillery and propaganda barrage, allied headquarters announced yesterday.

The allies lashed out to strengthen their lines as American fliers reported heavy movements of enemy motor transport on the highways near Rome and as official reports told of enemy replacements from the Russian front reaching the beachhead.

The gains were scored in the past three days, headquarters announced, a mile and a half north-east of Carano, where the Germans launched their latest big offensive against the beachhead forces. The allies first directed a propaganda talk at the German lines through amplifiers, and 50 prisoners were taken.

Pilots of American light bombers attacking roads in the Rome area reported the enemy troop concentrations around Rome, the second time in two weeks such enemy moves have been noted. The significance remained unexplained, but it was clear the allies were taking no chances on being caught unprepared.

Hundreds of Danes Arrested in Sweden As Nazis Attempt to Control Sabotage

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Hundreds of Danes have been arrested in Copenhagen and German armored cars are patrolling the capital's streets amid sporadic bursts of gunfire, Danish underground sources reported last night from that German-occupied and newly-isolated country. These reports, impossible to check for accuracy, said widespread sabotage against the Germans was in progress despite Nazi threats of summary executions.

Telegraph and postal communications between Denmark and Sweden remained broken for the second day and only Germans were allowed to use the ferries. Even Swedish diplomats were forbidden to travel between the two countries.

The German effort to wipe out the underground patriot organization began Monday with hun-

Japs Die in Doves In Burma Struggle

Air-Borne 'Chindits' Aid Ground Forces In Repelling Nippons

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon (AP)—Waves of Japanese jungle troops are throwing themselves desperately against allied road blocks in central Burma and are "perishing in droves" as they try to break the stranglehold clamped on their communications by thousands of airborne "Chindits" an allied spokesman announced yesterday.

Preceded by heavy artillery and mortar fire and supported by light tanks, the yelling, yowling Japanese are charging into the allied wire and through mine fields at numerous points on a broken 100-mile front and are being mowed down by British, American and Indian troops, he said.

There was no indication that the enemy, moved by desperate necessity to try to crush the allied "box" between his two big bases at Mandalay and Myitkyina, had broken any of the allied blocks on railroad, highway and river transportation.

Col. Philip Cochran's commando air forces hold control of the air over the scattered fighting arenas and are giving active support to the embattled allied ground troops, whom they transported by gliders and planes to the original landing points behind the enemy lines, the spokesman said.

British and Indian forces 150 miles to the west continued to throw back Japanese invasion troops on the approaches to Imphal and Kohima, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's main advance bases in eastern India.

Yanks Suffer Slight Losses

Dropped 1,500 Tons Of Bombs In Strike At German Interior

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—Heavy bombers of the RAF carried the allied air offensive against German Europe into its 13th consecutive day today, striking with massive force by moonlight at the German armaments city of Essen and elsewhere in a methodical follow-up to a 1,000-plane American daylight raid on Brunswick and other targets.

The Americans lost not a single bomber, but six fighters failed to return from the widespread and diversified daylight operations. Details of the RAF night attack were not available, but it was stated authoritatively that the big bombers were out "in great strength."

The major American daylight raid did not encounter any fighter opposition. Between 250 and 500 Fortresses and Liberators made the 900-mile roundtrip to Brunswick, dumping 1,500 tons of bombs. A communique said the escort of from 500 to 750 Mustangs, Lightnings and Thunderbolts made no contact with German interceptors.

RAF Spitfires, equipped with long range gasoline tanks, made their first penetration of Germany this afternoon, hitting parked gliders. They returned without loss. Extremely cloudy weather over Germany was a factor in the absence of defense today, but the overcast did not prevent the bombers from finding their targets and scientifically covering them with explosives.

Brunswick, 10 miles west of Berlin, has been one of the costliest targets on the American list—60 bombers were lost on a daylight attack on Brunswick and other central German targets Jan. 11 when 152 Nazi fighters were destroyed.

Thus today's "bargain" mission indicated to some extent how the allies have won air superiority over Europe. In the past 12 days more than 34,000 individual offensive flights have been flown and more than 50,000 tons of bombs strewn over Hitler's occupied Europe.

The main mission today against Brunswick was believed to be only the second time the U. S. army air force in Europe has been able to penetrate Germany on a major daylight operation without loss.

The German radio broadcast accounts of a "fierce air battle" over northwest Germany. Only one American bomber formation, however, reported even seeing enemy aircraft. They did not attack.

Senate Group Okays New Lend-Lease Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee voted unanimously yesterday to extend the $22,500,000,000 lend-lease program another year, after a 60-minute session in which it was described as a vital factor in pre-invasion strategy.

Asserting he will seek to call up the house-approved lend-lease extension bill in the senate next week, Chairman Connally (D-Tex) said the committee accepted the program as an established war policy.

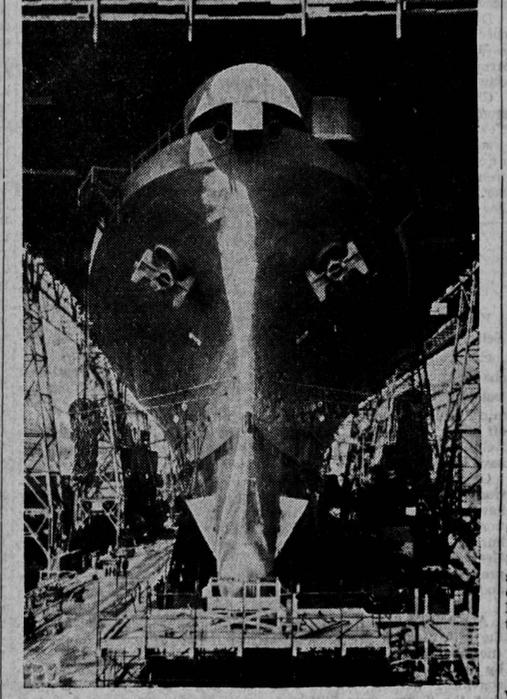

Leo T. Crowley, foreign economic administrator, testified at the closed hearing that lend-lease and reverse lend-lease "have played vital roles" in the recent air offensives over Europe which are "wearing down the power of the Nazi air force to fight back when the great land offensives begin."

The house passed the bill, extending lend-lease a year from June 30 and allowing a three-year period for the liquidation of its affairs, 334 to 21 only last Wednesday.

Picking the Winner When It's Almost Over—

Turkey, after several years of urging from Allies, finally stopped chrome shipments to the Germans. This is a slightly belated gesture. For now, with the Germans virtually beaten to their knees, it is no longer very important. The Turks are like the man who refused a beggar a nickel for a cup of coffee, but volunteered to give him the money when the beggar had become a millionaire. We cannot help smiling a bit wryly at these sudden obeisances, and while Turkey is not and never was the enemy of the united nations, it can have no particular claim on their friendship.

Too Many People Talk Too Much—

We have been cautioned time and time again . . . The office of war information has even produced a movie to attempt to impress upon us the dangers of careless speech . . . Posters everywhere remind us to think before we heedlessly pass on information of military significance . . . But still far too many people talk too much about the movements and activities of friends and relatives in the armed forces. The man on the interurban who passed around the latest V-mail letter from his son in Italy could unknowingly be endangering his own son's life. Of course he was proud of his son, but how ironic if a man's pride were to stand in the way of his son's safety.

On and Off Campus— Opinion—

Do you think neutral countries should be allowed to continue subversive, prejudiced activities?
Mary Alice Kemble, A2 of Des Moines: "No. It's the first step for the entrance of such nations into the war, and the influence of such tactics on financiers and industrialists toward personal manipulation in transactions would fill a book."
Harold Webster, clerk, Lenoah & Clegg hardware: "If it is within our power to stop it, we should. It is a definite detriment to our war effort."
Richard T. Corcoran, A4 of Book Rapids: "Certainly not. International law allows neutrals to have envoys from all countries. However, if these non-belligerent countries are allowing vital war information to be obtained, they should be forced to discontinue these activities that hazard thousands of American servicemen."
Rail M. Reading, A4 of Jefferson: "No. Our major objective is to win the war. From our point of view anything which impedes efficient progress toward that objective should be removed, through diplomatic channels if possible."
Joseph C. Gerber, clerk, Racine's: "No I don't. I believe that any country which takes the side of a belligerent nation is in the wrong and should no longer be classified as a neutral."
Maynard Miller, manager, Firestone store: "I don't believe that an average citizen should make a decision on a question like this. There are so many little things in international diplomacy and foreign relations that we do not understand that it would be wrong for us to make any criticism."
Henry F. Willenbrock, formerly

War News Censorship Needs Clarification

NEW YORK, (AP)—Linwood I. Noyes, president of the American Newspaper Publishers association, declared yesterday that "censorship of war news needed clarification and said that it must not be used for political purposes nor to conceal inefficiency or cover up blunders."
"Criticism of censorship is chiefly concerned with the official war news—news from the fighting fronts, which is filtered through direct military control," he said in opening the general sessions of the 58th annual convention of the ANPA at the Waldorf Astoria hotel.
"Here there appears to be need for getting back to the fundamental principle that there is only one reason for censorship and that is security. There must be no censorship for any reason."
Noyes, publisher of the Ironwood, Michigan, Globe, said no democracy could function without the free newspaper and free speech.
"He said it was imperative that 'democracy be not pushed aside under the guise of war necessity by those who would, deliberately or unintentionally, misinterpret the importance of free democratic processes.'"
Discussing the government's anti-trust suit against The Associated Press, he said that the lower court had "attempted to rule in a manner, which, if its decision is allowed to stand, will directly alter the constitutional rights of free men and be a first major step in taking away the freedoms of the first amendment."
mayor of Iowa City: "No. If countries like Argentina continue to side with belligerent nations, they should be given a warning and then classified as a belligerent themselves."

OPA Moves to Stop Bogus Gas Coupons; To Use Special Paper

WASHINGTON (AP)—By autumn it'll be just as hard to pass counterfeit gasoline ration coupons as it is to circulate bogus currency, the office of price administration says. By then all coupons will bear serial numbers and will be printed on special paper. Illegal paper shows up under an ultra-violet ray lamp.

Not enough: Release of more penicillin for civilians is stymied. Present output, beyond military needs is so small that the war production board insists its allocation to most needy civilian cases must be assured by strict commercial distribution agreements.

V-garden worry: Whether frozen fruits and vegetables stay point-free after May 1 depend upon whether taking them off the rationed list has caused Victory gardeners to relax. War food officials fear this may be happening.

Washington words: When a congressman pats another on the back these days and says "Congratulations" it doesn't mean there's been a blessed event; it just means that his primary election filing deadline has passed with no opposition entered against him.

V-P alternate: Southern Democrats who advocate somebody besides Henry Wallace as the party's vice-presidential nominee still name Speaker Sam Rayburn as their first choice but agree that an "acceptable" substitute would be Senator Harry Truman (D, Mo.), about whom there has been speculation recently as a Roosevelt running mate.

Japan's hand: The Japanese army is attacking from north and south to capture the entire north-south railway line in China between Peiping and Canton, thus hoping to push back the potential allied bomber base several hundred miles westward from the China coast. The Japanese hope to make this line, running through the central China city of Hankow, their great wall of China in the battles to come. A second line of defense will be the new course of the Yellow river, which the Japanese report they have diverted to the northeast across the swampy lowlands of Hopei province toward Tientsin. This means they will fight hard for the east China bulge, even harder as they fall back to their main bases in north China, Manchuria and the home islands.

Slow snap-back: When American women get elastic garters, girdles and the like depends upon how soon manufacturers learn to make them out of buna, the raw synthetic rubber left them since the army took the supply of neoprene. The buna route to garment elastic is new, experimental and difficult.

Spanish pepper, Swedish sauce: Spain may be broadcasting herself into a jam with the allies, while Sweden's reported decision not to stop shipping vital war goods to Germany will meet a very firm American attitude, it's felt here. In Madrid, General Franco's Falangist radio goes right on suggesting that Russia is more dangerous than Germany, despite: 1) Secretary Hull's recent warning to neutrals that the time had come to stop aiding Hitler, and 2) his prompt labeling of "infamous" for a Spanish suggestion that Britain and America unite with Germany to fight Russia.

Buy War Bonds Today For Future Needs

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, April 19 (Delayed) (AP)—You can put it down in your little book that Sgt. Kelly did sling those 60 mm. mortar shells like grenades at the Germans at Altavilla, regardless of what the experts say.
And if you want to argue the matter, argue it with the 36th division yourself, I won't. Those Texans just love to convince somebody. I'm c-c-c-convinced.
Kelly, you may recall, is Tech. Sgt. Charles Edward Kelly, otherwise known as "Commando" Kelly, "Killer" Kelly and "Slaughter" Kelly. He hails from Pittsburgh, Penn., but some of the best Texans in the 36th division hail from places like Pittsburgh, Penn. He won the congressional medal of honor for killing something like 35 Germans back at Altavilla last September and that was only one of his many exploits.

Never Doubt a Kelly

Germans by tossing 60 mm. mortar shells out a window at them and then the argument started. Some experts said it couldn't be done. Others said "but not under those circumstances."
Still others said "oh, that's just another tall Texas tale."
Which was a mistake. By this time Kelly had departed for the states on rotation but the honor of the 36th division was at stake so today they staged a demonstration with a Texan named Lieut. Salvatore Uzze of Chicago, Ill., officiating at the TNT table.
Among those present were various ordnance experts, a couple of nervous newspapermen and Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker, the 36th division commander who knew all the time it could be done.
In order to keep from eliminating all the witnesses to the demonstration, Uzze removed the half pound of explosives from the shells but left the detonator charge in place. Even experts

News Behind the News Leaders of Annual Useless Histrionic Contest Having Difficulty Finding Time

WASHINGTON—The annual Democratic Floor Leader Barkley can appreciate the broader embarrassment of having one policy in the north, another in the south, as he is hard-pressed for his own re-election also. In fact, political talk is current that he may be appointed to a judgeship in order to save himself a Kentucky election ordeal. Furthermore, Senator Hill's primary in Alabama is also May 2.

As Barkley quaintly puts the matter, the Marcantonio-Pepper bill is not an "administration" bill, in the usual sense, at least not this year. He indicates that when he finds the propitious time, it will only be to "let the debate run on for a week or so."

Not from Barkley, but from equally credible sources, the word comes that they will try a cloture motion, and when it fails (as the polls already show it will fail), they will drop the poll tax issue again until next year when everyone can discuss the matter with greater abandon.

But what I cannot understand is this: nearly everyone seems to have 50 cents to $1 this year. Why cannot they pay the 50 cents to $1 tax in those few southern states, and help curb inflation? If they do not, they will have to pay it indirectly in taxes on what they buy or earn (as in all other states) because the state has to furnish the money for an election.

Either way, the people must pay the election bill. If you think it is an unfair tax because it makes everyone pay an equal amount, go ahead and repeal it on that sensible ground in a constitutional effective way.

However that would stop the fake fuss, and apparently too many politicians would rather have the fuss than the settlement. They just like to have it at the right time.
Quadrennial Lag
Perhaps that usual quadrennial lag before presidential election day explains the slowing up in our wartime mood. Perhaps as a nation we are too impatient to take a long fight for victory comfortably.

By Kenneth Dixon

He also explained that Sgt. Kelly, besides knowing his mortar shells, must have known what a chance he was taking banging the loaded one around. One of them might have hit a pebble and gone off in his hands in which case any Kelly award would of necessity have been posthumous.
Or just the propulsion charges would have gone off, which would have scorched the sergeant more than somewhat. However, he had burned out all his guns and the Germans were coming, and he probably decided it was six of one and half a dozen of another.
Anyhow the honor of Kelly and the 36th division has been saved (not that it ever needed saving) by the Texan from Chicago who convinced the experts here today that the Texan from Pittsburgh could have done it.
And any other doubting experts haven't got a leg left to stand on—for they weren't there at Altavilla, and Commando Kelly was

Aircraft Production In Germany Reduced To Less Than Fourth

WASHINGTON—As the critical invasion period in Western Europe approaches, allied military observers are straining every resource to obtain the latest data on two vital German problems—armed manpower and aircraft production.
Round-the-clock British and American air raids on Germany's key industries have whittled vital aircraft output from 1,300 to 300 planes per month.
The huge allied air armadas which now shuttle over the continent will suffer progressively fewer losses as the Luftwaffe power is depleted. But military sources point out that as long as the Nazi air force decides to make an all-out air battle, the allies must expect to suffer a correspondingly higher toll.

American and British losses on these gigantic assaults are much higher than the German loss. The reason is that allied heavy bombers are now carrying a 10 or 11-man crew, while Nazi planes seldom rate more than three men. Fighting defensive battles, the Germans are now restricting their air force to one-man fighters.
With Russia knocking at Hitler's back door in Romania, Germany is also faced with the dire prospect of insufficient manpower to resist a western thrust from Britain. If the intuitive Hitler decides to defend the vital Ploesti oil fields, in Romania—source of one-third of his oil—he will need an estimated 20 divisions. Where will they come from?

At present he has an estimated 30 to 50 divisions in reserve along the West Wall. This is his chief source, and his most pressing problem.

Political observers on Capitol Hill are predicting privately that the November election may see general pitted against general in a nip-and-tuck race for the presidency.
Their predictions, of course, are based on the possibility that President Roosevelt will not run for a fourth term, and that someone or other, New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey either will not be nominated or will refuse to accept the GOP candidacy.

Such conditions, while remote, would leave the field open for "draft MacArthur" Republican forces to nominate the Southwest Pacific commander and for the Democrats to counter with a military leader of their own.

Present chances of MacArthur are regarded as none too good, despite the tremendous popular appeal of the general, who would be a potential popular vote-getter.

In the Democratic picture, there is forecasting that Mr. Roosevelt, recuperating from general fatigue, may decide he cannot win and therefore will not run.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D.) of Montana, arch foreign policy foe of the president, has made this prediction, and at least two Republicans—Senators Arthur Capper of Kansas and Gerald Nye of North Dakota, have taken the same view.

Nye, speaking for himself and a handful of his followers, already has declared the Democrats may turn, in desperation, to a general to offset the Republican tide if the president decides to step down.
Chairman Sol Bloom (D.) of New York of the house foreign affairs committee popped up with the idea that there is nothing in the law to prevent appointment of a girl to West Point Military academy.

Methodist Bishop Urges Church Action

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The world's 8,000,000 Methodists "must rise up . . . and demand an international organization which will make another war impossible," Bishop Arthur Moore of Atlanta told 762 delegates at the church's quadrennial general conference last night.
Bishop Moore, delivering the prepared report of the council of 54 Methodist bishops, declared that the "moral judgment of civilized people is demanding an ordered, righteous and effective world organization," and warned against the disposition that comes after every war to "relax and swing back to isolationism and self-centered materialism."
No specific plans for a post-war organization were disclosed by the 56-year-old, heavy-set bishop, considered one of Methodism's finest orators, but he said that the first group may necessarily include only the victors, adding that the exclusion of the defeated nations must be only temporary.
In discussing the welfare of the nation, he said that "it is futile to think that all of the evil in the world has come as the result of the philosophy of a few bad men. We have had our part in the creation of the tragic world situation."
"The tremendous and lamentable state in our national and moral idealism, the fearful loss of reverence for law, the disintegration of the normal home life, the widespread disregard for that which was formerly held sacred and our materialistic interpretation of life have all contributed to the present chaos." All this, said the bishop, "has produced a philosophy of life in which there is too little room for God."
This report of the bishops, which sums up Methodist advancements and retreats in the four years since their last meeting and their plans and hopes for the future, disclosed that the church's membership had increased by 318,822.

Victory Campaign 'In Full Swing'

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst
Two aspects of the current war news from Europe stand out to indicate that the synchronized victory campaign planned at Teheran to smash Germany is now in full swing. They heavily underscore the opinion of Admiral Ernest J. King, American naval commander, that Germany's defeat "can happen" in 1944—and release Anglo-American power for a total attack on Japan.
King's statement, made to a New York audience, is a notable contribution from allied military spokesmen. The American naval commander is not given to over-optimistic utterances. He has full knowledge of the realities in all war theaters. That includes unquestionably the timing schedule drawn up at Teheran for bringing final pressure to bear on the foe in Europe from east, west and south simultaneously. He also knows the state of readiness attained on all three fronts since the Teheran conference.
Against that background can be set official axis reports that the short-lived lull on the Black sea front has ended with resumption of the Russian drive at the Galati gateway to the Balkans.
It is obvious, that the allied air battering of the Bucharest, Ploesti, Budapest and other Balkan centers is a coordinated operation. In effect, it represents the first phase of closely-linked Russian and allied military moves in the 1944 campaign although it is doubtful that the Balkan theater is rated as a critical front in either Russian or Anglo-American eyes.
At best, a Russian smash through the Galati gateway could knock Romania and Bulgaria out of the war and perhaps ultimately, jar loose the Nazi hold on the whole Balkan peninsula.

Repatriated Survivor of Jap Imprisonment To Discuss Enemy War Machine May 4

WMT to Broadcast Address of Former War Correspondent

Jap Prison Survivor

Robert Bellaire

A survivor of a Japanese prison camp, Robert Bellaire, will speak at the Paramount theater in Cedar Rapids Thursday, May 4 at 8 p. m. His talk, "Crush Japan Now," will be his story of six months as a captive of the Japanese.

Bellaire, a native of Iowa and a graduate of Columbia university, was the manager of the United Press bureau in Tokyo when the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor.

Jailed with American diplomats in the worst concentration camp in Japan, Bellaire defied the Japanese army officers who demanded that he broadcast Japanese propaganda to America. He was returned to the United States aboard the Gripsholm with other repatriated American nationals who had been held prisoners.

The speech will illustrate to Americans the importance of beating the Japanese war machine.

Arrangements have been made to broadcast the speech over radio station WMT.

Seniors Look At University, Like What They See

After a day of sight-seeing at Iowa at least part of them are sure they'll be back. The 16 seniors from Newhall high school now what the university has to offer—and they liked what they saw.

Clifford F. Rittenmeyer of the office of visual instruction conducted the tour for the students, celebrating their class day in Iowa City yesterday with their school superintendent, A. N. Rogers.

Rain couldn't dampen their spirits as they started with an inspection of the chemistry building, where the glass blower entertained them with a demonstration. At Iowa Union, Prof. Earl E. Harper, director, addressed the group, welcoming them to the university.

After a visit through the art department, the girls received the thrill of the day when they saw the costume wardrobe at the University theater.

At noon the students witnessed the broadcast of "SUI's Rhythm Rumbles," and two of the visiting boys announced some of the numbers. After lunch Prof. C. Woody Thompson of the office of student affairs answered the students' question on university requirements and curricula.

They spent the rest of the afternoon in the museum, the field-house and University hospitals and finished an extensive inside view of the university.

Prof. Percy Bordwell Announces Proposed Law College Changes

Among the post-war plans at the University of Iowa are changes in the college of law curriculum and physical plant additions. Prof. Percy Bordwell, acting dean of the college, has announced.

Owing to the expected post-war increase in enrollment, a new law building is planned, to be constructed adjacent to the law commons on the west campus. The old building, constructed 35 years ago, will be too small for post-war needs.

Professor Bordwell stated that certain curricular changes in law are necessary. He expressed the belief that students must be taught more about the workings of government administrative agencies and some major portions of the practicing lawyer's work which have changed recently.

The accelerated program now in effect will be retained for some time after the war and the division of terms is designed to enable students to resume their law work at about the same point they had reached before entering service.

Reds Take Second From Cardinals, 1-0

McCormick's Homer In 13th Breaks Up Game; Walker Wins

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Frank McCormick's 13th inning homer broke up a scoreless two hour 26 minute ball game yesterday as Cincinnati's Reds won their second straight game from St. Louis, 1-0.

It was the tall first baseman's first circuit clout of the year and the first run the Reds have given Bucky Walters in 22 innings.

Both Walters and Alvin Jurisch, his rookie opposing moundsman, were in top form, with the latter showing a sort of "second wind" as he entered the 13th by striking out his sixth and seventh victims in succession Woody Williams and Gee Walker. Jurisch walked four and scattered eight hits, while Walters fanned three and passed two as he gave up seven safeties.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan opened its baseball season yesterday by stopping Iowa with southpaw pitching for a double-header victory, 7 to 0 and 20 to 2. Iowa thus slipped back to two victories and three defeats in the Western conference race.

Bliss Bowman blanked the Hawkeyes on three hits and fanned 14 in the opener while Michigan peppered Dick Ives, Big Ten basketball scoring champion, for eight hits and all seven runs. Lefty Dennis Manko yielded one run on five hits in the nightcap and then turned the job over to right-hander Al Willers in the ninth.

Meanwhile Michigan piled up a nine-run lead on Jack Spencer and chased him in an 11-run rally in the eighth.

Amazing Browns Still Lead League With 7th

St. Louis Americans Spill Cleveland, 5-2; Steve Sundra Pitches

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—With a four-run uprising in the sixth inning, the amazing St. Louis Browns beat the Cleveland Indians 5 to 2 yesterday to remain the only undefeated team in either major league.

Their string of seven consecutive victories at the opening of the season ties the American league record set by the New York Yankees in 1933. The National league record is nine.

The Browns were out 10 to 6 but the Indians had nine men left on base to the Browns' three.

The victory was the second to Steve Sundra.

From The Sidelines . . .

by Yoke

No, we're not going to say anything about the weather, we're through. Through, see, there is nothing to do about it.

If we really wanted to toss the cliches around, of course we could always quote that oft-quoted Will Rogers statement, "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it." We could do that but we won't.

Boy, the harriers from the pre-flight school are really going all-out for the Drake relays. This may, of course, be just the time they will go to town, but we have found too often that when they get up against some real opposition they fluff out pretty badly.

There is no doubt that such men as Bob Stuber, the Missouri great, and Len Alkon, formerly of Michigan and a man who burned up the track in the Big Ten meets in recent years, will show well but then that is to be expected.

It's interesting to contemplate just why the pre-flight master minds have pulled most of their name people, to substitute them for people we don't know or who haven't been given much play in recent weeks. (For full dope on the meet see other story on this page.)

It seems that Al Zupke, who has been getting a lot of bally-hoo for his javelin work during the past season, is being scratched for "Harry the Unknown." The same is true of Dick Wakefield, whom we were led to believe was quite the kid on the cinder track. He isn't going to run Saturday although the intimation was that he had been replaced by someone better.

Now this is serious. After you've taken a lot of men and trained them hard for several weeks for a job in the relays, it seems sort of queer to toss them all out for a whole new batch.

And the word is that these boys have just arrived at the base and that they're better than the men originally scheduled for the events. In fact, they're so new and shiny that the PRO doesn't know their home towns, let alone their first names.

So you dopsters, in our opinion, don't lay too much money on the Seahawks, or their chances. It's a bit like running a horse that you've never worked out before.

A telephone conversation with Charlie Galihier revealed that he recently received a letter from Rollie Williams, now a lieutenant in the navy stationed at a Hawaii base.

He is well, and happy like his job very much. He is, incidentally, the athletic director of a naval air station there and told of how they were building a new athletic field 700 by 600 feet which was to incorporate a football field and several baseball diamonds.

He tells also that there are a good many Big Ten people out there including Rut Walters of the Northwestern track department. I guess they're having a good time for he spoke of arranging a tennis exhibition in which

Culver Offers $3,600 Award To Boy Scouts

Iowa City boys 15 years of age and under are eligible for the $3,600 Culver Military academy scholarship to be awarded a Boy Scout selected from candidates from six states, according to Owen B. Thiel, scout executive here.

At a meeting of the executive committee last night, plans were made to select a candidate from the Iowa River Valley group before May 15. The scholarship, a memorial fund to the wife of the founder of Culver Military academy, will be given to a boy with the following qualifications: first class scout, enrolled not past the first half of the tenth grade in school, no less than five feet, one inch in height and scholastically in the upper one third of his class.

Thirty-eight Iowa City men and boys cleaned up the Boy Scout camp west of town recently, according to a report presented at last night's meeting. They cut up ten trees for lumber to be used in construction at the camp. A basement and showers have been blue-printed and will be added to the main cabin before this summer.

Swimming classes with an enrollment of 117 boys were continued this week with three classes meeting at 7, 8 and 8:45 p. m. last night. John Berg and Harold Burkhalter, students in the university and Red Cross examiners are assisting with the instruction. Bill Knowing, senior Red Cross life guard and Irving Schaefer, Sea Scout Skipper are also assisting.

The Rev. Fred W. Putnam is scout master of an Explorer troop recently organized and sponsored by Trinity Episcopal church. Jim Wiegand is directing a membership campaign which has enrolled 14 boys over 15 years of age.

In addition to the Explorer troop being organized here two troops, one each in Solon and Coralville, have been organized by the extension committee of the Iowa City executive committee.

An all day meeting of Senior scouting officers will be held here Friday with representatives of the Iowa River Valley council attending from Dubuque, Clinton, Davenport, Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Waterloo. George Chronic, senior scouting executive from New York, N. Y.; Harold W. Lewman, regional scout executive, and Sam Waymer, deputy regional executive of Kansas City, will confer with the representatives on the promotion of the young men program. Most recent developments on this phase of scout work is the national organization of Air Scouts and Explorers, in addition to Sea Scouts. Both groups have been added to the list of Iowa City troops.

Prof. Kirk H. Porter Enumerates Issues Of Soldier War Vote

Three major issues have arisen from the soldier vote controversy, said Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the political science department, in an address to Lion's club members yesterday.

Delegation of soldier ballot provisions to state governments has fanned the flame concerning the Negro vote in the southern states; it has raised the question of future presidential leadership in legislation, and it has emphasized the limitations of the constitution.

The president-congress battle on soldier vote has far-reaching tentacles, Professor Porter pointed out. In the first place it emphasizes the states' right to provide for election machinery.

"The southern states have attempted to disfranchise the Negroes for many years. Time after time state laws have been passed which would keep Negroes from the polls, and each time the Supreme court has declared these laws unconstitutional. However, in spite of court action, discrimination against Negro voters will continue," he said.

"Since the days of Woodrow Wilson's executive leadership in congress, the second issue has been increasing. Now congress is getting hot under the collar," he continued. Senator Barkley's defiance of Roosevelt on the soldier vote question has had undeniable influence in congress, he added.

Professor Porter described the third issue as "constitutional limitations." Restrictions embodied in the constitution caused the failure of the federal plan of soldier voting, he asserted. "But many Americans want the president and congress to pass whatever laws are needed in spite of such restrictions. We are going to meet problems such as the soldier ballot after the war," he said. "I hope our enthusiasm to deal with these problems will not lead us to tear down the foundations of our government."

Baptist Missionary To Address Women's Church Association

Winifred Acock, Baptist missionary from Japan, will relate her experience at the annual meeting of the Women's association of the Mid-Eastern Iowa Baptist church here Thursday morning. The meeting will begin at 9:45 p. m. and continue until 4 p. m. A luncheon will be served.

Addresses by Miss Acock at 11:30 a. m. and 2:55 p. m. will be highlights of the day's program, according to Mrs. C. G. Mullinex, local vice-president and program chairman.

Miss Acock returned from Japan several months ago on the Swedish liner, Gripsholm. An associate of hers, Dr. Asling, a Japanese missionary for almost 40 years, returned on the same liner. He has said that Miss Acock was one of the few persons not placed in a concentration camp.

Juvenile Delinquency In Iowa City Drops, Chief White Reports

Juvenile delinquency in Iowa City during the last year involved 56 boys and girls, 12 less than in 1942, reports O. A. White, chief of police.

Of this number 39 offenders were boys and 17 were girls. Thirty-one of the cases were brought on the charge of theft, 17 were incorrigibles, 8 were charged with the destruction of property and 8 with truancy. Runaways and sex offenses totaled four each, and there were two charges each of fighting, window peeping, car theft and intoxication. One forgery case was presented.

Twenty of the delinquents were sent to institutions, 10 cases were given further study, 13 were placed on probation and one joined the navy.

In comparison with the 3,172 children enrolled in the public schools, the percentage of juvenile delinquency is at a new low, White stated. Iowa City has been able to show a decrease while most cities are reporting increases in juvenile crimes. An important factor in this situation is the increased number of recreational facilities being offered here, he said. "The police department operates on the theory that busy boys and girls don't cause trouble," White declared.

Supporting this statement is the annual attendance report released by J. Edgar Frame, director of the recreation center. Of the 50,981 persons participating in the various activities during the last year, 11,699 were young boys and girls. "Our goal," said Frame, "is to supply those activities in which the young people are interested. If they're satisfied, they will be so busy they won't have time to think about lawlessness."

Attendance at teen-age dances held last year reached 7,255. Junior league basketball appealed to 938. Handball, dancing instruction, gymnasium, rifle range, ballet and tap dancing instruction, swimming, and softball leagues were also included in the available activities.

Last year was the first time dancing classes, the handball court, workout room and swimming class were offered. The larger the recreation program, the wider will be the circle of persons taking part in it, Frame concluded.
