House Group Hears Debate About FCC

Committee Probes Suppression Charge Of Magazine Writer

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A house committee investigating the Federal Communications commission heard conflicting versions yesterday of why a magazine article critical of the FCC and its radio licensing policies was never published. Gretta Palmer, writer for Reader's Digest, declared it failed of publication after FCC Chairman James L. Fly protested and referred to libel. Fly, however, told the special investigating committee he doubted that the article ever was intended for the Readers Digest, saying he believed it was destined for the committee's record. He wrote the editors that he was "shocked" to learn that the writer "has been assigned the task of 'doing a job' on me."

Miss Palmer denied the article was prepared for the committee record and asserted that her idea was to learn whether "freedom of speech and of the press" were involved in FCC treatment of broadcast licensees. She said she wanted to know whether Fly is "really the Frank Sinatra of the inner circle of the New Deal." On the latter point she said she was interested because she said Fly apparently won arguments "on military questions" with Secretary of War Stimson and the late Secretary of the Navy Knox. Miss Palmer said the article "was first suggested to me by Wendell Willkie" and he sent her to William Paley, head of Columbia Broadcasting system for information. Informed in New York of that statement, Willkie disputed it, saying the writer called on him and he told her he knew nothing about the workings of the commission but Paley did. When her rough draft article was read into the record, Fly declared it was "the usual collection of unreliable hearsay." Fly's letter to the magazine said it was based on committee testimony entirely one-sided against the FCC and added: "I think you will readily appreciate the fallacious legal foundation for your promotion of such libels."

Japanese May Trap Chinese at Loyang

CHUNGKING (AP)—Japanese forces have swept roughly 65 miles to the southwest of embattled Loyang in what appeared yesterday to be a gigantic trap for Chinese forces clinging stubbornly to that Honan province city despite furious infantry assaults. The Chinese claimed a major success on the southern Honan front, asserting counter-attacking Chinese had re-occupied the entire 22-mile stretch of the north-south Peiping-Hankow railway between Kioshan and Mingkiang. If true this would give the Chinese a grip on some 50 miles of the railway, which the Japanese hoped to use as a submarine-proof route to move supplies to her battlefronts. The Chinese capture of Suiping and Chumattien, further north on the railroad, had been announced previously. The push southwest of Loyang might, if continued, develop into a pincer movement against Tung-kwan in Shensi province to the west. The upper jaw could close in along the Lunghai railway running west from Loyang.

Ministry Students Will Be Deferred

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Selective service last night authorized the deferment of students preparing for the ministry regardless of whether they are attending theological or divinity schools. The revised regulation stipulates, however, that students in other institutions must be under the direction of the specialized schools and "pursuing a specific full time course on an accelerated basis."

Invaders at Aitape Contact Jap Forces

MacArthur Reports Patrol Fighting Still May Be in Progress

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Thursday, (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today that invasion forces which have been at Aitape, New Guinea, since April 22 now are engaged with a Japanese force in that sector. Aitape is 150 miles southeast of Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, which was invaded simultaneously in April.

Headquarters said yesterday that the Aitape invaders had contacted a Japanese force 34 miles to the southeast last Saturday night and that the patrol fighting still may be in progress. Wakde, the next New Guinea step beyond Hollandia on the way to the Philippines underwent its fourth straight day of stiff aerial blasting Tuesday and the continuing series of raids on the Schoutens, 250 miles northwest of Hollandia, were carried into their 13th straight day.

Abandoned Hospital Headquarters also disclosed that on Bougainville island in the northern Solomons 250 dead Japanese were found abandoned in a hospital in the Empress Augusta bay area.

The abandoned hospital was discovered at Torokina northeast of the American perimeter at Empress Augusta, on Bougainville's west central coast. Japanese garrisons on Bougainville, although occupying the bulk of the island, are cut off from a reliable supply route to Rabaul by allied forces on the Green islands to the north.

Paul V. McNutt Returns To Job After Rest

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Paul V. McNutt emerged yesterday from a two-weeks' rest at a French Lick spa to return to his job as war manpower commissioner with the assertion that President Roosevelt could be elected to a fourth term but added, "It's foolish to make predictions how close it will be." McNutt said in a press conference here, in reply to a question whether a team-mate has been selected for President Roosevelt if the latter should run again: "I've given little or no time to political matters."

Paris Radio Commentator Says German West Wall Mapped by Allies for Invasion

LONDON, (AP)—The German west wall has been mapped for invasion, gun-by-gun and mile-by-mile, and has been found to be a buried fortress sunk in concrete and screened by minefields and barbed wire, it was disclosed last night. The secret map, made up of jigsaw-fitting allied reconnaissance photographs, provides Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his command with details of the potential battlefields where, the Paris radio commentator Paquis suggested yesterday, the decision probably will be reached this summer. Paquis said General Eisenhower had massed 50 divisions and 80,000 parachute troops in southern England, that invasion craft filled the harbors and asserted "all evidence points to the fact the invasion will be launched sooner than some people may expect."

Bad Weather Grounds Allies For 4th Day

LONDON (AP)—Bad weather and the massing of allied bombers for renewed blows spared Europe its usual avalanche of bombs for the fourth straight day yesterday after fleet Mosquito bombers made their 15th call of the year on Berlin Tuesday night, unloaded blockbusters and returned without loss. American Mustang fighters shot down seven enemy aircraft, losing two, during a sweep over Denmark yesterday in the only report on daylight aerial activity.

Rain and low banks of heavy clouds rolling in from the continent may also have kept Nazi raiders grounded, for they failed to show up after two nights of attacks along Britain's south coast in which they claimed to have drubbed the ports of Bristol and Portsmouth. Aerial combat continued on a moderate scale over most sectors of the land front. The war bulletin said 29 enemy planes were destroyed Tuesday.

The Russian communique said there were "no important changes on the front" during the day, but a Berlin broadcast declared "at least two Soviet infantry divisions in the area of Grigoripol on the lower Dnestr have been cut off from rear communications by German offensive operations and face annihilation." (A Finnish radio broadcast reported by the federal communications commission said Russian dive-bombers escorted by fighters had raided Hamina, 20 miles northeast of Kotkas on the Gulf of Finland shortly before noon Wednesday and that eight bombers and three fighters were destroyed.)

Soviets Bomb Nazis In Russia, Poland

Moscow Communique Reports Heavy Raids On Railway Centers

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—Russian long-range bombers heavily damaged Nazi transportation centers in White Russia and Old Poland again Tuesday night, the Soviet communique reported early today as the German high command warned that "new and large-scale battles are to be expected" soon to break the lull on the eastern front.

Rail facilities and Nazi military trains at Minsk, Baronowicz and Chelm were bombed Tuesday night, said the communique broadcast from Moscow. Three of the raiders failed to return from the flaming junctions.

Aerial combat continued on a moderate scale over most sectors of the land front. The war bulletin said 29 enemy planes were destroyed Tuesday.

House Broadens G. I. Veterans Bill

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The house tentatively broadened the education provisions of the "G. I." veterans benefits bill yesterday by providing that any person who was not over the age of 24 years when he entered service shall be entitled to the free education afforded by the measure.

It struck out the requirement that any veteran, to be eligible for government-financed education, must prove that his war service interfered with his schooling. As amended, subject to a roll-call vote probably today, only veterans over 24 at the time they entered service will be required to prove that their schooling was interrupted.

Destroyer Named For Secretary Knox

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The name of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox will be carried into battle by a United States destroyer, Acting Secretary James V. Forrestal announced yesterday. The name of the late secretary, who died two weeks ago, has been assigned to a 2,250-ton destroyer now under construction at the Bath Iron works at Bath, Me.

52,000 Workers Idle—Foremen to End Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Labor disputes in various parts of the nation left 28,000 men and women idle yesterday while leaders of a foremen's union decided to end strikes that have kept approximately 52,000 war workers away from their jobs in the Detroit area. The national executive board of the Foreman's Association of America, independent organization that had sought recognition as a bargaining agent for supervisory employees in Detroit, directed officers of the six striking chapters to call meetings of their members "for the purpose of an immediate return to work."

British Chiefs Issue Joint Post-War Plan

LONDON, (AP)—Prime ministers of the British commonwealth of nations called yesterday for a post-war world organization—possibly similar to the League of Nations—but armed this time with power "to prevent aggression and violence."

"It is our aim," said a joint statement which followed by one day the end of two weeks of formal conferences, "that when the storms and passions of war have passed away all countries now overrun by the enemy shall be free to decide for themselves their future form of democratic government."

The form of the "world organization" was not disclosed, but it is understood the British government laid before the premiers a tentative plan embodying many principles of the old League of Nations which met their approval. Now, presumably, this plan will be presented to some future conference of the United States, Great Britain and Russia.

Signatories were Prime Minister Churchill, W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada, John Curtin of Australia, Peter Fraser of New Zealand and Jan Christian Smuts of the Union of South Africa.

South Carolina Names Uninstructed Demo Convention Delegates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS South Carolina Democrats beat back an attempt by avowed anti-fourth termers to take control of their state convention yesterday but apparently decided to have a look at the national party platform and candidates before going much further.

The anti-fourth term candidate for state chairman was defeated but the gathering named an uninstructed delegation to cast 18 votes in the national convention starting in Chicago July 19, and took the unprecedented action of calling state Democrats into session again Aug. 2, two weeks after the national convention, to consider Chicago actions.

In Arkansas, the Democratic state committee chose another uninstructed delegation with 20 votes. Vermont Republicans selected nine GOP delegates and adhered to tradition by leaving them free as to presidential choice, although much sentiment for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was reported.

Senate Authorizes Agricultural Bill

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate passed a $524,806,718 agriculture department appropriation bill yesterday after first knocking out a house amendment barring any political or lobbying activity by department employees. Senators Danaher (R-Conn) and Wherry (R-Neb) led a Republican fight to retain the amendment and to broaden it to include thousands of farmers on agricultural adjustment agency committees.

Senate Approves James V. Forrestal

Ratifies Nomination For Navy Secretary Without Formal Vote

WASHINGTON, (AP)—James V. Forrestal was confirmed as secretary of the navy yesterday to carry on the sea war which, in his own words, has been so successful that Japan's outer Pacific defenses have been beaten down to the level of "a line of defense in name only."

The senate acted shortly after the former undersecretary, at his first news conference since his nomination to succeed the late Frank Knox, said that tribute to the fighting forces at sea. Following the course of the naval committee which approved the appointment unanimously Monday without questioning the 52-year-old former New York financier on his qualifications, the senate ratified his nomination without even taking a formal vote.

As evidence of the accuracy of his description of the Japanese position, Forrestal cited to reporters that American sea forces have penetrated 1,500 miles within the enemy defense perimeter (See FORRESTAL, page 5)

Marine Commandant Foresees Heavy Blows In Pacific Campaign

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Heavy new blows against the Japanese—possibly very soon—to hurl them back from stolen territory were forecast last night by Lieut. Gen. Alexander A. Vandergrift, commandant of the marines.

"We now stand on the threshold of bigger and more difficult landings than we have ever yet attempted," Vandergrift said in a radio talk on the marines' weekly program on the Mutual system. "Operations against Europe will in no way impair the pace, or the nature, of events to come in the Pacific."

Government Presents Opening Statement In Sedition Trial of 27 Men, Two Women

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Punctuated by such shouted interruptions from the defendants as "That's a damn lie," the government's opening statement was given to the jury yesterday in the trial of 27 men and two women accused of sedition.

Chief Prosecutor O. John Rogge told the jury, selected after more than four weeks of legal battling in United States district court, that he would present evidence to show the defendants conspired with officials of the German government and leaders of the Nazi party in Germany to cause insubordination in the American armed forces. Evidence also will be presented, he said, to show the defendants wanted to substitute a Nazi or Fascist form of government in the United States.

Compromise Likely In Swedish Exports

STOCKHOLM, (AP)—A decision on allied efforts to halt Sweden's ball-bearing exports to Germany may be reached within the next 36 hours, it was indicated yesterday, with a compromise agreement appearing likely.

An informed observer took the view that a "middle way" would be found for Sweden which possibly would provide that she cease exporting to Germany all types of ball bearings used in planes and other military equipment, but continue shipments of other types to keep within the framework of Stockholm-Berlin contracts.

DNB Reports Evacuation

Confirmation of Move From Allied Sources Not Available at Once

LONDON, Thursday, (AP)—The Nazi fortress of Cassino, which for five months has stalemated the allied march on Rome, finally has fallen to victorious allied troops, the Berlin radio acknowledged today. A broadcast by the DNB news agency said that Nazi troops had withdrawn from the Rocky mountain bastion "without interference" by British and American forces and declared that all heavy equipment had been evacuated successfully.

Confirmation of the reported withdrawal was not immediately available from allied sources, but there seemed no reason to doubt that Cassino actually had fallen. Dispatches from allied correspondents in Italy last night had said the Germans in Cassino were being evacuated from the north by British, Dominion and Polish troops after British artillery had delivered one of the most concentrated bombardments of the war on the ruined town.

The allies had been stalled before Cassino since January. March 15 they reduced it to ruins by a gigantic aerial bombardment, and New Zealand and other troops broke into the town. But the Germans never were completely dislodged and it was conceded that the March campaign against it was a failure.

Now, after the British shelling and outflanking movement, the German official news agency announced this morning in a broadcast: "The defenders of Cassino have evacuated their positions according to plan in order to retreat towards shorter lines in connection with movements south of the sector."

The town, 85 miles from Rome by road, was the key fortress of the German winter line in Italy. Tough Nazi parachute troopers had clung to its shattered walls and deep caverns for weeks. Loss of that strong point might have serious implications for the Germans, it was intimated, for Heinzelinger wrote that "the German defense line in the valley, leading up to the Hitler line, is manned by a variety of troops from various units rushed in hurriedly to meet the new allied assault."

The Hitler line itself is the next objective of the allies in the Liri valley leading towards Rome itself.

Allies Roll Back Nips In Northern Burma

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon, (AP)—Allied forces rolled the Japanese back both east and west of the big enemy base of Myitkya in northern Burma yesterday and a headquarters spokesman declared with optimism last night that the Japanese on the eve of the monsoon period now have been thrown on the defensive generally throughout the Indo-Burma theater.

Allied war planes took the offensive on a strategic scale over a widespread area in support of the ground troops. "With Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese attacking from the east and General Stilwell's Chinese from the north and west, the Japanese in northern Burma now are in a tough spot and prospects for re-occupation of northern Burma now seem brighter than ever," Associated Press Correspondent Thoburn Wiant wrote.

'Wonder Drug' Now Available in Limited Quantity for Civilians

Local Hospitals Now Allotted Penicillin

By JANET ALLEN
Daily Iowan Feature Editor

Penicillin, drug discovery of World War II, has at last been made available in limited quantity for civilian use, and University hospital has been assigned the largest allocation of the drug in the state.

Despite this fact, the supply of the precious drug is so limited that it is only being used in the most serious cases.

Under a distribution plan of the office of civilian penicillin distribution, an office of the war production board, the hospital here has been designated a "depot," one of 22 such stations in Iowa.

Mercy hospital here has also been designated a depot.

Distribute Drug
These hospitals will serve as local depots for the distribution of the drug, as well as using it as a source of supply for their own needs.

This is the first release of penicillin for civilian use in quantity, although previously small amounts of the drug were made available to a few isolated civilian cases.

First shipment of the drug, in the form of ampules containing 100,000 Oxford units, arrived at the hospital May 6.

The WPB's method of distribution, it is believed, is the best method of making penicillin available to the greatest number of patients.

Monthly Allotments
The allocations made to hospitals are on a monthly basis, and may be reduced or increased depending on the demands made on the manufacturers of the drug by military forces, which still have priority on penicillin.

"The supply allocated to University hospital is being used only in cases where penicillin has previously proven effective," said Prof. Louis P. Zopf, professor of pharmacy in charge of drug service.

All cases in which penicillin is being used in University hospital are referred to a hospital committee which decides the allocation of the rare drug.

For Serious Cases
Professor Zopf added, "We know that the supply we have on hand will not be adequate for elaborate research uses, and must be used only in the most serious cases."

Regarding the future of penicillin, Prof. Zopf stated, "It is too new a drug for us to even predict its possibilities for post-war uses. Up to the present time, the supply has been limited to such an extent that doctors did not feel free to use this material except in those cases where doctors were certain they would get results."

Although penicillin is not a cure-all, it marks a definite stride forward in the field of therapeutic drugs.

Military Uses
Military forces have been using the drug as a bacterio-static agent in the treatment of various infections.

Penicillin was discovered by Prof. Alexander Fleming, professor of bacteriology at the University of London, in 1929.

Professor Fleming, in a series of experiments, demonstrated that the contaminating mould could be grown in broth. He discovered that the broth culture contained a potent anti-bacterial substance which was effective against a variety of organisms.

Hence penicillin is obtained from a common mould, penicillium notatum.

Discovered in 1929
Although the drug was first discovered in 1929, its effectiveness as a germ killer was not realized until the war, when demands for a better antiseptic brought penicillin into use.

The War Production Board plan of distribution of penicillin is an interim procedure, and will continue only until ample supplies are available.

Other Iowa hospitals assigned the drug under this plan of distribution are located in Cedar Rapids, Davenport, Des Moines, Dubuque, Estherville, Fort Dodge, Mason City, Waterloo, Sioux City, Burlington and Council Bluffs.

New Citizen, Mrs. Genia Meieran, Finds Ability to Vote Highest of New Privileges

"I am an American citizen," she asserted, and her speech, though soft and slow, is precise and correct.

"Education is one of the greatest differences in America," said Mrs. Meieran. "The children don't take their work nearly as seriously as the European children, and it seems to be more of an amusement. Yet everything turns out all right."

"America is far ahead in musical education," she continued. "There are so many opportunities for the children." Mrs. Meieran attends every concert presented in Iowa City, and while she considers music her chief interest, she was also enthusiastic about the appeal of American history and literature.

"America also offers more mechanical advantages," explained Mrs. Meieran. "I never had a washing machine or refrigerator until I came here."

But even with these conveniences she declares her home at 4 E. Prentiss street provides her with full-time occupation as a housewife. Her husband is employed at the Hawkeye grocery store and will receive his naturalization papers in three months.

"I am very happy to be a citizen, and I am especially proud of this," she added, displaying a new war bond. "I buy one every month."

Fruit Crop Prospects Good; Spray Methods Will Insure Harvest

County Extension Director Emmett C. Gardner says prospects are favorable for a fair fruit crop this year, providing growers spray their trees to control diseases and insects which prey on them. The wet weather this spring has been ideal for apple scab and brown rot on plums, he pointed out.

An excellent bloom on most apples, pears, plums and cherries has been reported in some parts of southeastern Iowa. A good peach bloom gives prospects for a peach crop for the first time since 1940.

When 80 or 90 percent of the petals have fallen from fruit trees it's time to apply calyx spray. The calyx spray can be applied to all orchard trees, except peach trees, at the same time; and the spray can be used on gooseberry and currant bushes. The lime sulphur in the spray mixture helps to control fruit tree diseases; the lead arsenate works on chewing insects, and the hydrated lime protects the fruit or foliage from injury by the other two ingredients in the spray mixture.

For a 50-gallon spray tank, mix four quarts of liquid lime sulphur (or 4 pounds of the dry form) with one and one-half pounds of lead arsenate, two pounds of hydrated lime and 50 gallons of water.

A smaller amount of spray can be mixed by growers having a small orchard. For three gallons of spray, use one cup of liquid lime sulphur (or ten tablespoonsful of the dry form) plus four tablespoonsful of lead arsenate and six tablespoonsful of hydrated lime in three gallons of water.

J. Edgar Hoover Writes Law Review Article on Aliens

Hitherto unpublished facts on the subject of enemy alien control in the United States are set forth by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, in an article written especially for the Iowa Law Review, publication of the university college of law.

Careful groundwork laid in the months before Dec. 7, 1941, made possible swift and decisive moves by the FBI at that time and since, assuring maximum protection for the United States in its fight against internal enemies.

Hoover reported the marked contrast in the handling of the situation by FBI immediately after Pearl Harbor and after the outbreak of World War I. In the first 24 hours of war in 1917, only 63 dangerous enemy aliens were arrested. In 1941, Hoover reports 1,771 such persons were taken in a corresponding time. He revealed that 14,807 enemy aliens had been taken into custody as of last Oct. 5. Of these, 5,705 were ordered interned, 4,265 placed on parole and 4,283 released after proving their loyalty to the United States.

"In looking back to Dec. 7, 1941, I feel that law enforcement's responsibilities in alien enemy control have been thoroughly handled, with a minimum of confusion and duplication of effort. Every possible precaution has been taken to prevent injury to reputations and businesses of those alien enemies loyal to the United States," Hoover wrote in the Iowa publication.

Vernon Kennedy Holds Washington to Four Hits Before 12, 100

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vernon Kennedy last night limited Washington to four blows as the Cleveland Indians walloped the Senators, 4 to 2, before 12,100 fans.

The Indians touched knuckleballer Roger Wolff for 10 hits, four of them coming during a three-run uprising in the eighth. Jeff Heath hit a double and two singles and Oris Hockett connected for a triple and a couple of singles.

Kennedy held the Senators to one blow in the first seven frames. It was his second win of the year against a pair of losses.

Philadelphia A's Lose To Detroit Tigers On Irv Hall's Error, 2-1

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, trying for a seventh straight win before a crowd of 28,535 last night, lost a 2 to 1 decision to the Detroit Tigers when Irv Hall booted Joe Hoover's roller with the bases filled and two out in the eighth.

Both Detroit runs came across on the error.

Bobo Newsom had allowed only one hit before the eighth, and he drove in the A's only run in the fifth when he doubled to right with Dick Siebert on third and two out.

Dizzy Trout went the route for the Tigers.

Browns Divide Doubleheader

Bosox Triumph in 1st 5 to 1; St. Louis Tops 2nd in Scramble, 12-8

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox seventh place club yesterday topped the second place St. Louis Browns, 5-1, behind four-hit pitching by Tex Hughson but in a wild scrambling second game of a doubleheader the Sox were defeated, 12-8.

In the opening game Hughson had a two-hit shutout going into the ninth, when St. Louis filled the bases and scored their only run.

Doerr clouted the St. Louis pitchers hitting for a cycle of a single, double, triple and home run in a merry-go-round nightcap that saw even infielder Eddie Lake take a turn as pitcher for Boston.

Braves Tilt Cards, 5 to 1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Manager Bob Coleman's Boston Braves opened up against three St. Louis pitchers for five extra base hits of a total of 11 and won the initial game of a three-game series with the Cardinals 5 to 1 yesterday.

After two singles and an error produced two runs in the second inning, the Braves tallied twice more in the seventh with the help of doubles by Chet Ross and Charlie Workman. Connie Ryan tripled in the eighth and scored on a double by Damon Phillips.

Cardinal Catcher Walker Cooper got his first home run of the season. The Redbirds were held to five hits by Charlie Barrett.

From the Side Lines

By Yoke

As long as we're getting hepped up about this field day that the Pre-Flighters are scheduling for this coming Saturday we might as well take a look at some of the stars, or near stars, that will be presiding for the navy.

Decided at the Penn re-view have first and foremost on the roster Cadet Steuber front and center; and the report shows that he will participate in the shot put, broad jump, discus throw, and 220's.

Along with the fact that he will also play center field for the baseball team, it looks like he has his day out for him. And this is supposed to be planned to give the cadets a little ease and variety for a change.

Next man back is Earl Engman, who got to Iowa City last week just in time to leave again, this time with the track team for the Missouri campus.

It seems that Earl had a year of participation at the University of Southern California and in his first try went over the high jump bar at 6 feet 5-8 inch. That isn't at all bad in these leagues.

Cadet John Grower should present a threat in the high and low hurdles. He hails from Mississippi state and won out in that affair last week.

And then along comes a boy who was blown big guns around his home locale of Philadelphia where they did everything but give him the key to the City of Brotherly Love. Bob Lockwood, who looks good in the sprints went to the University of Pennsylvania and before that was city champion in the broadjump and sprint events in prep school.

And there's word that he was on the national champion one-half mile relay team. This champion in the track and field divisions lays is somewhat clouded, but he's as good as they come around here anyway.

Couple that with what we've heard about the pre-flight team in comparison with the Notre Dame outfit and you have the makings of the best track meet in these parts for a long time.

It seems that the two teams have almost identical scores in other meets 93-39 and 92-39 over DePauw and Missouri, in that order with the visitors first.

And a navy release points out that both teams averaged about the same score in the Drake Relays, (not a very good one at that).

Humm, maybe it isn't going to be such a field day after all.

And we had word today that Dave (the Beaver) Danner, now a member of Uncle Sam's armed forces, is in the hospital at Buckley Field, Colo. That old football injury Dave received during his first two years at football for City high, has returned but they're doing all they can for him out there.

After his stellar season here it must be rather an ignominious thing for him to be in bed all of the time.

We wished you good luck Dave, when you left and we will just add some more to that and another, Good luck.

Walters Wins Own Game in 8th, 6-5

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bucky Walters, who frequently has won his own games by timely stickwork, delivered with a pinch-hit double in the eighth inning yesterday to give Cincinnati's Reds a 6-5 victory over Philadelphia in a see-saw game called a moment later on account of a heavy rain.

With the score tied 5-all in the eighth, Eddie Miller singled only to be forced by Chuck Aleno. Dain Clay ran for Aleno, Ray Mueller singled him to third, and Walters,

Pirates Lead Bums 8-5 as Game Is Called

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates led the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-5, last night when the opening game of their series was called in the sixth inning on account of rain.

With the score 4-1 in Pittsburgh's favor, Brooklyn rallied in the sixth with four runs. The game was halted after the Pirates went into the lead with four runs in the same inning.

Eighteen-year-old Calvin Coolidge McLish started for the Dodgers but was relieved by Hal Gregg in the sixth. The Pirates got to the two Dodger hurlers for 11 hits while the Brooklynites collected six off Preacher Roe, Pittsburgh rookie.

Pilot Hangs in Belly Of Plane by 1 Hand

A UNITED STATES BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, (AP)—Without a parachute Lieut. Edward M. Gibbens of Mountain Home, Idaho, hung precariously by one hand in the open belly of a bomber high over the channel for almost five minutes and then pulled himself back to safety without a scratch.

Gibbens' experience occurred as his bomber, named "Sweating It Out," was heading home from a recent raid.

The Liberator encountered a terrific anti-aircraft barrage over the target, a French airfield, and was shot up so badly that the bombs would not drop. The plane had 87 flak holes in the framework and all four engines were damaged. In addition the hydraulic system was knocked out, making the brakes useless, so that an attempt to land the bomber would mean almost a certain crash.

To save the plane and the lives of the crew, it was necessary to jettison the cargo of bombs and this perilous job fell to Gibbens, the bombardier.

While the pilot, Lieut. Robert T. Hall of Waynetown, Ind., struggled to keep the crippled plane aloft, Gibbens took a crash axe and squeezed his way into the narrow catwalk over the bomb bay to knock the bombs loose. He had to shed his parachute in order to make room to work.

The first bomb to break away from the twisted hooks burst the bomb bay doors wide open.

Then, bracing himself against the 100-mile an hour gale, Gibbens hacked the remaining bombs free, one by one.

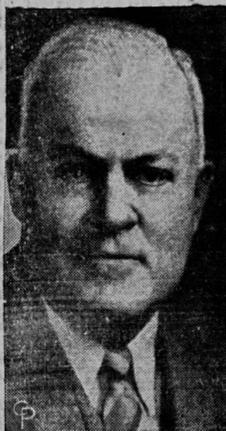

The catwalk was slippery from the dripping hydraulic fluid and as Gibbens chopped at the last bomb, his feet skidded down through the open bomb bay along with the bomb.

Gibbens grabbed the bomb rack with one hand, still holding the axe in the other. One slip of his fingers meant he would go hurtling thousands of feet to death in the icy channel.

Slowly and desperately he pulled himself back to the catwalk. He dragged himself to safety just as fellow crewmen came rushing to his aid.

Realizing suddenly that he had accomplished his feat with the use of but one hand, Gibbens' first words were a somewhat startled, "I didn't lose the axe."

Frank J. Lausche

Thomas J. Herbert

MAYOR FRANK J. LAUSCHE of Cleveland easily won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the Ohio primary. Just who of two Republicans would oppose Lausche in the November election had not yet been decided as Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati and Ohio Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert of Cleveland staged a nip-and-tuck race for the GOP nomination. Trailing behind Stewart and Thomas Herbert in the late tabulation of the state's vote was another Herbert, Ohio Lieutenant Governor Paul M. Herbert of Columbus. Significant to political observers was the large increase in the Ohio Republican primary vote over the primary two years ago. (International) extending from the north Pacific Kuriles through the mid-Pacific eastern Marshalls to the Bismarck archipelago.

The German radio sought to reassure the home front with such statements as these of War Reporter Schmalfluss from German headquarters in western Europe: "Anglo-Saxon preparations for invasion are watched in Marshal von Rundstedt's headquarters with quiet confidence in the success of German arms. The Marshal himself, who is a soldier tried in many battles, is aware that the clash between the masses of German troops and the enemy's forces is bound to bring hard fighting involving losses and sacrifices. The Marshal's confidence in Germany's ability to defeat the Anglo-Saxon attack is based on his exact knowledge of Germany's fighting efficiency and the strength of German forces concentrated behind the west wall."

He invited Maj. Gen. William H. Rupertus, commander of the first marine division which drove the Japanese from Cape Gloucester on New Britain island last December, to sit in with him.

Rupertus said that in the Cape Gloucester operation, American casualties totaled about 300 men killed and 1,000 wounded, while nearly 10,000 Japanese were either killed or wounded. He said 4,500 Japanese dead had been counted.

Forrestal reported that little enemy surface interference and practically no air opposition is being encountered in constant aerial attack against enemy positions in the Caroline and Marshall groups.

"We have ample proof of the enemy's weakened position in the mandate area," he commented. But, he continued, there is evidence also that the enemy is attempting to strengthen his positions in the Carolines where Truk and Ponape both are located.

"There are indications," he said, "that new air fields are being hastily constructed by the Japanese in an attempt to stem the tide of United States sea power rolling to the westward."

Now 52 years old, Forrestal was a seaman second class in World War I. In this one he has been in charge of a construction program which has produced the world's mightiest fleet, yet he has found time to get in dungarees and see how that fleet goes about wrecking enemy strongholds in the Pacific.

Forrestal is the fourth man to hold the naval portfolio in the Roosevelt administration. His predecessors, in addition to Knox, were Claude Swanson, who died in office, and Charles Edison, who resigned to run for governor of New Jersey.

Emergency Treatment For Poisoned Trees

SHRUB OAK, N. Y. (AP)—Emergency treatment was given two large maples and an elm yesterday with the hope of saving them from what police said was deliberate poisoning.

Frank Dietrick, owner of a roadhouse of the eastern parkway of this Westchester county hamlet, and Elmer Losee, a Peckskill botling works chauffeur, were free in $200 bail pending further action on a charge of malicious mischief arising from the injection of quantities of saltpeter in holes bored in the trees, located on state-owned land.

State police said Dietrick hired Losee for $10 to make the saltpeter injections so that the tree roots would wither, halting the growth of leaves which obscured the inn from motorists passing on the parkway.

Friday yellowing leaves of one maple indicated it was dying, and an investigation began. Tree surgeons widened the bored holes and poured in water to weaken the saltpeter solution but held out little hope for recovery.

$62,500 In Bonds Sold for Pool

Bonds totaling $62,500 for the municipal swimming pool were sold to a Des Moines firm and four associates at an interest rate of one percent plus a premium of $456 at an auction yesterday afternoon in the council chambers of the city hall.

The Carleton D. Beh company purchased the bonds jointly with White Phillips Inc. of Davenport, Iowa Des Moines National Bank and Trust company of Des Moines, Faine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis company of Chicago and Wheelock, Cummins and company of Des Moines.

Six bidders participated in the auction, among them the two Iowa City banks and Samuel T. Morrison and company, also of Iowa City. Two sealed bids were presented, one of which was by Baum, Bernheimer and company of Kansas City, Mo., offering the second lowest bid of seven-eighths of one percent interest rate and a premium of $86.50.

The bidding, which lasted an hour, proved extremely profitable to the city, according to Mayor Wilber J. Teeters. "It was gratifying to receive such a low interest rate. With the $456 premium the rate actually amounts to less than seven-eighths of one percent," he said.

Construction of the pool will begin as soon as possible, Mayor Teeters said. Exact location of the pool has not been decided although it will be in the city park. A Cedar Rapids architect will meet with the council, park board and people living near the park to discuss advantageous locations. Sufficient materials have been released from priority lists to permit building the pool this summer.

After blueprints have been drawn up, construction companies will offer bids for building the pool.

Issuance of swimming pool bonds was approved at a special city election Sept. 4, 1941, but wartime restrictions hampered further action.

The bonds are to be dated June 1, 1944, and are payable as follows: $7,500, Nov. 1, 1945; $8,000, Nov. 1, 1946 to 1951, and $7,000, Nov. 1, 1952.

Administrator Appointed

James H. Schmidt of Iowa City was appointed yesterday administrator of the estate of Joseph Gilroy of Iowa City who died May 14. Bond was set at $1,000. W. J. Jackson was the attorney.

CHILDREN OF ALLEGED MICHIGAN "SIMON LEGREE"

PICTURED HERE are seven of the 12 children of Frank Buckley of Mount Clemens, Mich., whom complaining neighbors told police was a "Simon Legree" in his cruelty to his family. Neighbors said Buckley had once hitched four of his children to a plow, that a daughter had died of meningitis, unattended by a doctor, and that Mrs. Buckley had given birth to a child without medical aid. City High Presents— King Arthur's Court

By IRIS WILKEN
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Mixing of the sixth century off their roles in a pleasing manner with the twentieth century provided the comedy for the matinee performance of "A Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court" (Fuller) presented by the senior class at City high school yesterday. An evening performance will be given at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium tonight.

Gaining confidence after the first few lines, the cast soon had their audience lost in the story. The true American style of Hank Bennett, played by Don Lay, contrasted with the mystic atmosphere created for Merlin by Howard Riley, and the humor of Clarence, played by Dean Crawford, kept variety on the stage at all times.

Particularly noticeable throughout the play was the consistency of character. Marybell Miles as the affected Queen Gwinevere, Eleanor Browning as the petite and clever Elaine, Mary Alice Wareham portraying the crafty Queen Morgan Le Fay and Don Winslow as King Arthur carried

As he adds roller skates, typewriters and switchboard to the superstition-guided sixth century lives, the ordinary cove and saxophone suddenly are humor in themselves. A bit of romance, underhandedness and on-the-spot inventiveness finds him a hero in the third act with the harsh reality of the present finally releasing him from one complication only to be taken over by another.

Colorful costumes create a regal atmosphere associated with the Round Table legend. The play itself is adapted from the story of the same title by Mark Twain.

As a whole the production is a credit both to the high school actors and their director. Other members of the cast included Barbara Horrabin, Bill Wagner, Philip Houston, Jack Johnston and Bill Chalmers.

Special Floor Show To Highlight Carnival Dances This Weekend

A special floor show will highlight the dances being held Friday and Saturday evenings as part of the annual Red and White carnival, announced Pearl West, chairman, today.

The dances will be held in the gym and the song and dance show is scheduled for 9:30 during intermission.

Appearing on the program will be the Kriel family group presenting tap, ballet, toe and stunt dances; the Hi-Swing band from City high school; the madrigal singers directed by Ansel Martin and the string group under the direction of Helen Shideler.

Clark Caldwell, chairman of the movie program, also announced today that a complete show will be presented each night in the Junior high school auditorium. Comedy, Canadian films and wild west shows will be included.

Game stands will be set up by Thursday, according to Vern Miller, superintendent of grounds. Wiring and lighting is being installed for the rides and concessions, and the official opening of the grounds is set for 5 p. m. Friday.

Advanced ticket sales indicate a capacity crowd, reported Fred V. Johnson, chairman of the ticket sales committee.

The carnival this year is the 10th such event to be sponsored by the music auxiliary.

21 Women Finish Course In Drafting

Twenty-one university women successfully completed an intensive course in electrical drafting last Saturday, according to Professor F. G. Higbee, head of the department and director of the work.

This, the only such class at the university, was composed of girls ranging in age from 18 to 33. The training period lasted for 13 weeks with a schedule of eight hours daily for six days per week.

The girls will begin work as junior electrical draftsmen May 22 at Wright field in Dayton on jobs that pay $1,620 per year, with overtime.

Professor Higbee stated: "This was one of the most satisfactory groups I ever taught. The girls were enthusiastic and hard-working throughout their 634 hours. It was an experience to teach persons who were so eager to learn quickly and do things correctly."

"Six or seven of the women showed unusual talent and are capable of going a long way in the profession. The general level of the group was considerably above average."

A letter praising the girls was written by Lieut. Col. R. M. Hartnett of the United States signal corps, administrative executive officer at Wright field:

"A check of the blueprints proved very gratifying and we feel you have done an excellent job in training these women to such a degree of proficiency in a relatively short period of time."

Returning Servicemen To Need Adjustment

Prof. C. R. Strother Stresses Public Duties In Lions Club Speech

"Discharged servicemen are returning to the state of Iowa at the rate of three a day," reported Prof. C. R. Strother, of the speech and psychology department, at a Lions club luncheon yesterday.

The problem of rehabilitating these men, medically, psychologically and vocationally, will be a tremendous task, continued Professor Strother. During the First World War the job was undertaken haphazardly, and results were not the best. This time, however, the program is much more vital because of the greater number of men and longer length of service. A large number of disfigured men will return, saved from death by advances in medical science. People must be educated to make these men feel they are welcome and not outcasts of society.

The university will have three possible relationships to the rehabilitation program, Professor Strother said. First, a provision of professional guidance service, already set up, will be enlarged to give the men direct help in establishing themselves in a trade.

Second, training facilities will be considered, especially sub-professional training, because ex-servicemen are not generally interested in formal education as it existed in pre-war days. Classes must be revolutionized to give the men practical information in the most interesting manner.

Men not long out of the front lines are hardly able to sit through a lecture without becoming restless and uninterested.

Third, there will be a clinical relationship to determine medical needs of the men, and to aid them in hearing and speech defects.

Professor Strother credited the veterans administration with playing a big role in aiding returning veterans. They will help men qualified for college to the extent of paying tuition, supply costs, and a direct allowance of $80 a month. Field men are assigned to certain districts to advise these men in any way possible.

This assistance will be given for the duration of the course in which the veteran is enrolled. For example, a man wishing a degree in liberal arts will receive aid for four years, providing his work is up to the standard of the institution.

Much work is yet to be done, concluded Professor Strother, to aid the men already home, and to plan for the rehabilitation of the great number yet to come.

Presidents of SUI, Iowa State College, See Enrollment Boost

DES MOINES (AP)—A post-war enrollment boost 25 percent above the 1940-41 peak was predicted yesterday by the presidents of the University of Iowa and Iowa State college, here attending the post-war rehabilitation commission meeting.

"A conservative estimate," Dr. Charles E. Friley, president of Iowa State, said, "indicates that we are going to have a 25 percent increase for the first two or three years over our previous peak enrollment."

President Virgil M. Hancher of the university agreed with this prediction.

Dr. Friley said that enrollment is "likely to level off to a figure 10 to 15 percent above the pre-war period." Following World War I, he said, higher education showed a permanent increase of 20 percent.

The university's top for regularly enrolled students was 7,185, set in 1940-41. The Iowa State record was 6,594 in 1940.
