Allies Battle Savagely For Italian Stronghold

Yanks, British Edge Forward

German Radio Reports Street Fighting Rages In City of Velletri

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples (AP)—American and British troops drove into Rome's outer defenses with increased fury yesterday and smashed through to a point west of Velletri, a key fortress in the Nazis' powerful new mountain line before the Eternal city.

The German radio said "dramatic street fighting" was raging in Velletri itself as Nazi shock troops fought American doughboys for possession of the stronghold, loss of which would seriously disrupt the enemy's plans to make a lengthy stand in the Alban hills.

Repulse Counter-Attacks

Allied troops who advanced through deadly fire and repulsed savage counter-attacks west of Velletri were reported to have reached a point within six miles of the Pope's summer home at Castel Gandolfo and within approximately 16 miles of Rome.

British forces driving up from the south, on the coastal flank of the 25-mile battle line before the Italian capital, were edging forward through thick mine fields south of Pescara Nuova, which is 14 miles due south of the edge of Rome.

Desperate Resistance

Nazi forces entrusted with the immediate job of stemming the Fifth army's assault until the bulk of Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's 10th army could be withdrawn from the broken Hitler line, continued to offer desperate resistance all the way from Valmontone to the sea.

An allied communique said "It is now clear the enemy intends to hold this line at all costs."

Edward Kennedy of The Associated Press wrote from the fighting front at 6:30 last night that the Germans were "delaying the allies as long as possible and making them pay dearly for every inch gained in Italy."

Yanks Batter Kuriles In Widespread Attack

UNITED STATES FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor (AP)—Army and navy planes made their most widespread attack of the war last Monday on Japan's Kurile islands, striking less than 1,000 miles from Tokyo in battering enemy positions on four islands.

The raids, announced yesterday by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, carried the aerial offensive for the second time in 10 days to Shimushu island, 460 miles northeast of Japan's northern mainland island of Hokkaido.

Another army liberator struck simultaneously at Matsuwa, 75 miles north of Shimushu. No opposition was encountered in either raid.

Navy Ventura search planes meanwhile attacked Paramushiro and Shumushu islands, at the far northern end of the island chain. Pilots reported moderate anti-aircraft fire. Large fires were started on Shumushu.

This was the first time that four islands in the Kuriles were reported raided on the same day.

Senate Holds Up Patton's Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Confirming promotions for 13 high-ranking army officers, the senate in effect concurred yesterday in the action of its military affairs committee in holding up advancement of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., to the permanent rank of major general.

Patton had been on the list of nominations sent to the senate eight months ago by President Roosevelt, but the military committee shelved his nomination indefinitely. Some committee members said a major consideration was his cuffing of a soldier in a Sicilian hospital last year.

CHINA'S FIRST LADY VISITS AIRMEN

WEARING AN OVERSEAS CAP, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek accompanies her distinguished spouse, China's generalissimo, on a visit to the Chinese-American composite wing of the Chinese Air force. This wing was formed in November, 1943. The Chinese of the unit are members of the Chinese Air force and the Americans, who are selected from the United States 14th Air force, are on loan to the composite wing. The plan is for the Americans to be withdrawn gradually from the organization, leaving it eventually all-Chinese.

Irish Minister Retains Seat In Parliament

DUBLIN (AP)—Prime Minister Eamon De Valera and at least six of his cabinet members retained their seats in the Dail (parliament) in Tuesday's general election and early returns last night indicated he was well on the way to his goal of a Dail majority for his Fianna Fail party.

At 11 p. m. the standing of the parties was: Fianna Fail, 42; Fine Gael (opposition) 11; Independents, five; Farmers, three; National Labor, two; Labor, one.

This represented a gain of three seats for the Fianna Fail—one each from Labor, the Farmers and the Independents.

The Brooklyn-born prime minister, who called the election last month after defeat of a government-sponsored transport bill headed the County Clare poll with 14,200 votes, 761 less than he received last year. Eire's neutrality did not figure in the campaign.

Senate Votes to Raise Debt Limit, Lower Federal Cabaret Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill raising the national debt limit from $210,000,000 to $260,000,000,000 was passed without dissent by the senate yesterday, along with an amendment reducing the federal cabaret tax from 30 to 20 percent and exempting men and women of the armed forces from paying it.

U. S. Officials Believe—

Allies See 'Eye to Eye'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The four leading allied powers were believed by informed officials here last night to see eye to eye already on many points of post-war world organization, including the assurance of an adequate voice to small nations.

This is a major factor behind the apparent feeling of confidence in high quarters that the forthcoming Washington conversations among the United States, Britain, Russia and China can make progress toward an effective world organization to secure peace.

The Big Four meeting probably will be held in the late summer or early fall. Such differing views as do come up may be focused initially on the question of how to draw upon and apply the force of the United States, China, Russia and Britain and of other participating nations for suppressing future threats to world order.

Ship Runs Aground Near San Francisco

Patrols, Destroyers Rescue Over 1,000 Men From Transport

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than 1,000 navy men were rescued from a stricken transport and surrounding waters yesterday after the SS Henry Bergh crashed aground in rain and heavy fog on the Farallon islands 30 miles west of the Golden Gate.

The 12th naval district said there were no reports of casualties.

The 10-500-ton Liberty ship was in-bound from Pacific war theaters when it ran aground just before dawn, the navy said last night. The ship was badly holed and was breaking into pieces rapidly.

Hundreds of men took to the water in life jackets and rafts; others made the rocky shore of the small island visible from the Golden Gate bridge on a clear day. Most of those in life jackets were picked up within an hour. Destroyers and patrol boats under the western sea frontier were busy picking up rafts all day.

By late afternoon, most of the "more than 1,000" aboard were at the navy's receiving station on Treasure Island in San Francisco bay.

Distress signals from the Bergh first were heard at 5 a. m. (Pacific War Time), and shore-based craft were dispatched to the scene immediately. The skipper and a skeleton crew remained aboard the ship.

Survivors said the abandon-ship order was obeyed in orderly fashion.

U. S. Officials Believe—

Allies See 'Eye to Eye'

The British in the past have indicated a greater willingness to delegate final authority to an international agency than has the United States government. The American plan for an international agency provides a consultative formula under which final decision on the use of any country's forces would be up to that country's own government.

This plan will be submitted to Big Four representatives as a draft of an organization capable of growing with experience and meeting any international crises so long as the great nations backing it stick together.

These nations, however, need the full cooperation of small countries, in the opinion of Secretary Hull and President Roosevelt, and they believe this view is generally acceptable to the other great powers. (See ALLIES, page 5)

Nazis Fiercely Attack Russians in Romania

Moscow Announces Enemy Losses Heavy In Air, Tank Battles,

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—Large German forces continued to attack fiercely Russian lines north of Iasi in Romania yesterday but were repulsed without advancing "even one step" and left "thousands of dead" on the battlefield, Moscow announced early today.

Counter-Attacks Rage

The enemy's losses were enormous in the series of attacks and counter-attacks which raged throughout the day, the Russians said in the broadcast supplement to their nightly communique.

Giving an indication of the intensity of the furious air and tank battles which started Tuesday after a six-week lull on the main eastern front, Moscow reported knocking out 122 German tanks and shooting down 164 enemy planes in two days of fighting.

Full Meaning Obscure

The full meaning of the assault, which began Tuesday and broke a six-weeks lull on the main eastern front, remained obscure. Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore in a dispatch from Moscow said the Soviet press and radio had carried no stories from the front lines and gave no elaboration on the communique.

Gilmore said the Nazi thrusts appeared designed at upsetting Soviet concentrations in that sector rather than the beginning of a full-scale offensive, but added that it still was too early to say definitely.

Allies Block Railway To Jap's Burma Bases

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon (AP)—The railway feeding Japan's beleaguered north Burma bases is under intense aerial attack which may have blocked the flow of supplies over that vital route, it was announced authoritatively yesterday.

As the Japanese yielded slowly under heavy allied pressure on by-passed Kamaing, on Mogaung to the southeast, and on Myitkyna, a spokesman said it was inconceivable that the enemy could bring anything up the railroad from Mandalay for these three strongholds.

While there are roads and trails the Japanese use, the loss of this avenue would "most effectively" stem the northward movement of reinforcements, he said.

Chindit jungle fighters, who earlier in the week were driven from the block they had thrown across this rail line below Mogaung, again were ranging widely behind the enemy lines, harassing communications all along the front, it was announced.

They were working closely with Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill's Raiders attempting to drive the last Japanese from Myitkyna.

Voting Compulsory In Cuba's Election

HAVANA (AP)—President Batista urged the Cuban people yesterday to vote calmly in the national election today which will decide his successor. Police, army and navy forces were under orders to be ready for any emergency.

Retiring Oct. 10 after four years in office, Batista emphasized his neutrality in the contest for the presidency between Dr. Carlos Saladrigas, his close friend and former prime minister, and former President Ramon Grau San Martin, veteran opposition leader. For the first time in Cuba's history, voting is to be compulsory.

RAF Blasts French Coast With Heaviest Bombing

Japs Block Yanks on Biak

Fighting Subsides To Patrol Action; 679 Japanese Slain

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Thursday (AP)—The bitter fighting on Biak island has subsided to patrol action and artillery exchanges with the Yanks still blocked from the airdrome after battles in which 679 Japanese were slain, headquarters reported today.

Headquarters made its first report on enemy losses since the Americans went ashore Saturday on that main island in the Schoutens off the north Dutch New Guinea coast. The total covered action up to Tuesday.

Invaders Increase Losses Although still held two miles away from Mokmer airfield by enemy positions on ridges dominating a coastal road approach, the invaders added to the Japanese losses by cleaning out small parties north of captured Bosnek village.

Two hundred miles to the southeast, where another American invasion force occupies a small stretch of Dutch New Guinea coast at Maffin bay, Japanese raiding parties seeking to cut communication lines were driven off Tuesday.

Headquarters reported that bombers taking off from the Admiralty islands raided Truk, Satawan and Woleai in the Caroline islands Monday and Tuesday.

The communique, dealing briefly with the enflamed Biak situation, said that the Japanese opposition to the east of the Bosnek beachhead "has collapsed."

The hard fighting is to the west along the south coast where Mokmer and two other airfields are located.

Elsewhere allied planes dumped 60 tons of bombs on Japanese hennons in around Wewak, British New Guinea, and a similar weight on the daily raided Japanese garrison at Rabaul, New Britain.

The Caroline raids at Truk and Woleai were of a harassing nature by air patrols but at Satawan, an air base near Truk, 33 tons were dropped on bivouac and supply areas.

Navy Reveals U-Boat Halts Refugee Ship Off Bermuda Coast

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A fully-lit refugee ship carrying 385 passengers was halted off Bermuda by a German submarine last Friday, the navy disclosed yesterday, and the U-boat abandoned preparations to torpedo the ship only after wireless orders, from Berlin.

The Germans seized two American citizens, the navy said, and in the dead of night—set all other passengers adrift in lifeboats for 5 1/2 to 9 hours. Three persons, including a 16-month-old baby, lost their lives in the transfer to the boats.

The ship was the Portuguese Serpa Pinta, which docked here secretly Tuesday night.

The American citizens captured by the Germans were Manuel Pinto, 22, Waterbury, Conn., and Virgilio Magina, 22, New Bedford, Mass.

A British subject, Camilo Grande Perez, 24, native of Canada, also was taken aboard the submarine but was released. The incident occurred 600 miles east and slightly north of Bermuda, the navy said.

Invasion Weather

LONDON (AP)—The sea was smooth under a cool northeast breeze in Dover strait last night and visibility was fairly good.

The barometer dropped slightly following an afternoon thundershower.

High tides were due at Calais at 9:43 p. m. yesterday and 10:18 a. m. today (2:43 p. m. and 3:18 a. m. Central War time).

Coal Mines Returned To Private Owners

Ickes Says Mines Broke All Previous Production Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Ickes yesterday returned to private ownership coal mines producing 60 percent of the nation's bituminous coal.

He declared that management and labor "are now on trial to prove to the nation that they could fulfill wartime responsibilities under their own power."

New Wage Contract Yesterday's action left in the government's possession only the anthracite mines, the mines of the Southern Coal Producers' association and certain scattered operations on which word is awaited as to execution of the new wage contract recently approved by the War Labor board.

The turnback came 13 months after 3,000 mines were seized by the government because they were paralyzed by a strike.

The bituminous mines restored to their owners will put the new wage contract into effect immediately.

Release of the anthracite mines awaits ratification of a new contract by special convention to be called by the United Mine workers.

In refusing to restore the bituminous mines of the Southern Coal Producers' association, Ickes acted under a ruling by Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle that the government is not required to restore mines in the absence of an effective industry wage contract where there is a threat of disturbances interfering with production.

Southerners Refuse Contract The Southern Coal Producers' association has not accepted the new bituminous wage contract as a group.

Ickes said that during the 13 months of government possession all previous production records were broken, half a million miners attained the greatest per-man productivity of all time and bituminous coal production reached 1,500 tons per man, compared with 1,270 in 1942.

Detroit Woman Gets Dependent Allotments For Four Husbands

DETROIT (AP)—A 35-year-old dress designer is held here on a federal charge of fraudulent receiving servicemen's dependent allowances on account of four husbands, but FBI agents said yesterday her marital adventures were much more extensive than that.

In fact, if she used the names of all the husbands she remembers, her name would be: Mrs. Marian Labyatt Hopkins Coffey Sperrow Fitz Barker Stormans Neumann Patchett Zerich Wilhelm Osworth Horn Galvitz Stankowich.

That's 15 husbands since 1926, according to the FBI count.

Mass Shootings, Arrests—

New Wave of Terror

LONDON (AP)—The German Gestapo pressed a ferocious new wave of terror in France, Holland and Belgium yesterday with mass shootings and arrests of the patriots of whom Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has called to assist his coming liberation armies.

This ruthless blood-letting, reported by the French press service in London, offered new evidence of possible jitters within the armed fortress of Europe and contrasted sharply with the calm confidence evidenced in this invasion base. The British press gave prominent headlines to the WPB report that the United States was producing a plane every five minutes and to Navy Secretary Forrestal's announcement that there now were enough landing craft to carry the entire invasion army over the waters to Hitler's Europe. Both articles were significantly noted by the public.

The French underground reported the "complete ravaging" of the Dordogne department when the Nazis surrounded the town of Riberaac and piled into trucks 100 Frenchmen from whom nothing more has been heard.

Chinese Order Aged, Children From City As Jap Drive Nears

CHUNGKING (AP)—The evacuation of children and the aged from Changsha was ordered by officials of that Hunan province capital as two Japanese prongs were driven into the city's outer defenses 40 miles to the north, Chinese officials reported last night.

An increasing number of troops from the crack Kwantung army of Manchuria have been drawn to the south and some already are in the thick of fighting, not only in Hunan but in Honan and Hupeh to the north.

P. H. Chang, councillor of the executive Yuan, told a press conference the situation was "indeed grave."

He said Japanese offensives in Honan and Hunan "and probably soon elsewhere" were calculated to split China east and west, secure the trunk railway to Canton, occupy or destroy newly built air bases and forestall any future American incursion along the south China coast.

His statement that China could hold her own provided she could control the air was regarded as an urgent plea to the United States to strengthen the Gen. Claire L. Chennault's air force.

The fall of Kunggan in western Hupeh province was conceded by the high command.

"All inhabitants found on the road leading to Riberac were shot on the spot," the report said, "and the Germans set fire to a forest where many people were gathering wood. They burned alive."

The same day, the account continued, 26 hostages were shot at Brantome and the bodies were left in the public square 24 hours. At St. Quentin 27 persons were slain in reprisal for shooting the collaborationist mayor. In Belgium 20 were slain for an attempt on the lives of two Walloon Quislings, the Belgium news agency reported.

The number of Dutch patriots executed by German authorities in occupied Holland in the last week reached a total of 18 yesterday with the reported execution of two more persons for "sabotage."

The pre-invasion traffic jam on England's narrow winding roads was reflected in a highway casualty report which showed a more than 10 percent increase of persons killed and injured in April over the same month in 1943.

Raids Batter West Wall

Mighty Attacks Follow Huge Daylight Assault On Hitler's Europe

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—Following up a tremendous daylight aerial assault on Hitler's Europe from the west and south by possibly 3,500 allied planes, RAF night raiders smashed at the French coast from Calais to Cape Gris Nez early today with its heaviest bombing of the war.

The mightiest blows yet struck at the Nazis' vaunted west wall reverberated across the channel like an earthquake, echoing through the night with great, repeated blasts.

German Long-Range Guns The targets appeared to be the German long-range guns which often have shelled the Dover district.

The moon and stars shone over the channel as the fleet of British bombers thundered across the little strip of water, seemingly flying lower than usual.

Flares were dropped soon after the planes had passed from sight and as the unnatural glare showed on the horizon, German ack-ack gun fire sounded.

The noise of this barrage seemed to die as the bombs dropped, touching off great blobs of fire one after another.

The attack, like the four which preceded it in the same region, was as short as it was sharp and a little more than 15 minutes after the blasting began the planes began streaming back to their bases.

In skies virtually clear of the enemy and at a cost of one bomber and four fighters, from 750 to 1,000 American heavyweights from Britain pounded crowded railway yards at Hamm, Osnabruck, Schwerte and Soest—transport centers just inside Germany which feed the coastal defense zones.

Fighters Find No Opposition For the fourth consecutive day more than 1,200 fighters flew escort but finding no opposition in the air they swooped down and shot up more than 35 locomotives and aircraft parked on airfields.

Late in the day Thunderbolt and Lightning fighter-bombers attacking two western German airbases struck the first sizeable fighter opposition, 30 FW-190's, and shot down five without loss to themselves.

Nazis Seize Newsmen On Tito Assignment

LONDON (AP)—The Germans have captured two news correspondents and two photographers who recently reached the headquarters of Marshal Tito to cover news of the Yugoslav army of liberation, it was announced last night.

One of the correspondents—Stoyan Pribichevich of Time and Life magazines—subsequently escaped. John Talbot of Reuters, British news agency, still is believed held along with two photographers whose names were not announced pending notification of their next of kin.

(Dispatches May 15 said photographers with the newsmen were Chief Petty Officer G. E. Fowler of the United States navy, formerly of Los Angeles, Calif., and Sergt. Max Slade of the British army film photographic unit.)

REA May Again Be Independent Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hearings were terminated in a senate sub-committee investigation of the Rural Electrification administration yesterday with a prediction from the acting chairman that the group will recommend restoration of REA to its former independent status.

A Joint Army, Navy Department—

Although agitation for a joint army and navy department has been temporarily shelved by the recent appointment of James Forrestal, the need has not been so easily abated. Cooperation of the two branches has been stretched to the breaking point and without a single master the ship of American military affairs will sail on troubled waters. The fact that allied co-operation abroad has proven so successful does not mean that individual departments at home can work equally as well. The Yanks, Britons, Russians and Chinese have perfected the art down to the finest point. They have learned (the hard way) that every detail must be exact if successful campaigns and battles are to be won. They realize that without it victory cannot be attained. But they also realize that the procedure is complicated and exacting. Plans must be made out weeks and months in advance, studied and developed, then brought into reality with clock-work precision.

Were these allied units under a single leader with complete knowledge of their potentialities and skills, much of the pre-invasion planning could be eliminated. Numerous conferences and much of the paperwork would be unnecessary. Likewise with the American military affairs. Were the departments of navy and army brought together under a single leader with common knowledge of both, operations would be much simpler. Between-department red-tape could be eliminated. There would no longer be the confusion of cross orders, the antagonism between services, nor misunderstandings about the workings of either branch. One man would head the ship by making American co-operation at home speak equally as plainly as does allied co-operation abroad. The standard crew of army and navy personnel would make up the board of consultants out of which would develop over-all plans, both broad in scope and successful in operation.

AP Interview Approved Tuesday For Publication

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press' interview with Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) which has been the subject of wide discussion because of the allied Mediterranean command refused it clearance for nearly three weeks was approved Tuesday for publication.

Written by AP War Correspondent Joseph Morton, then at Bari, Italy, the dispatch was submitted for censorship April 30. It was based on Tito's personally written replies to Morton's questions.

More forcefully than in any other statement or interview the Yugoslav partisan leader made these main points: His national committee of liberation wants recognition by the United States, Britain and Russia as the government of Yugoslavia although it has not yet formally demanded this. He appreciates aid already given his forces, especially by the allied air forces, but much more is needed, especially tanks, anti-tank guns, airplanes and food.

His regime already has asked that gold of the National Bank of Yugoslavia be blocked to keep it from the Yugoslav government in exile and that his committee be included in the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration (UNRRA).

He listed the Chetniks of Gen. Draja Mihailovic, war minister of the exiled government and his great rival, among his enemies, along with the Germans, Croat Ustachi and other Axis elements. Mihailovic, he asserted, has only 16,000 men. His own army of liberation numbered 250,000 last November and since then "some units, each consisting of some divisions" have been formed, Tito asserted.

Three days before clearance of the dispatch the AP was informed that a paragraph referring to Mihailovic constituted the chief point of objection. This may have been the passage mentioned above.

A message from the AP bureau at Algiers, where the story was given final clearance said Morton's dispatch was intact except for references to warship locations.

Doggy Staff Sergeant Gets Transfer Orders
CHICAGO (AP)—A three-legged fox terrier named Staff Sgt. Eager Beaver Isobar received his transfer orders yesterday and soon will be marching with members of the air forces weather wing at Asheville, N. C., just as he is fished for more than a year with 350 cadets at the University of Chicago.

Staff Sergeant Isobar has been assigned by Maj. William H. Starbuck, commanding officer of the army air forces meteorology station, to his new post, despite his handicap.

Isobar's right rear leg was amputated after the terrier was struck by an automobile last year. Far from making him unfit for military service, the defect gave the sergeant a marching gait. His handicap is noted in his army service number—00 3/4—which recognizes that he has only three quarters.

En route to Asheville Sergeant Isobar is to be granted a "a per diem of four meaty bones."

Iowa Draft Quota

Hiram Johnson Now Ready to Return To Senate Wars

WASHINGTON—Almost any day now Senator Hiram Johnson, 77, may be back at his desk, ready to return to the endless debates and legislation in which he has been a key figure for more than a quarter of a century.

Enfeebled by pneumonia and his advanced age, Senator Johnson went to Florida in January for a rest and some of his colleagues feared he might never resume his active duties.

But Johnson who last spoke in the Senate against the Connally post-war resolution last December, has kept in daily touch with his office.

Now he is said to be well enough to return to the battle.

But it will be a problem to keep the elderly Californian away from the Republican convention next month in Chicago.

Washington correspondents assigned to the war and navy departments finally have formed an association in an effort to expedite handling of news from those two sources.

It is known as the War and Navy Correspondents' association, and includes representatives of the major wire services, individual newspapers, magazines and radio.

One of the major objectives of the organizations at present is to have the war department assign a general officer to the bureau of public relations who could give valuable background material on military operations around the world.

Consensus of reporters returning from London is that the British have done a much better job along this line because they have made army and navy officers available with the sole duty of keeping newsmen informed on military events.

Prospects are dim that Representative Sol Bloom (D) of New York, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, will get anywhere with his crusade to have future international agreements approved by majority vote of the houses of congress, rather than ratified by a two-thirds vote of the senate.

Although the state department and some other administrative officials have indicated a strong leaning toward Bloom's viewpoint, the plain fact is that a great many senators are strongly opposed to surrendering their constitutional prerogative of treaty ratification.

Charles E. Wilson, WPB vice chairman, is the former president of General Electric company. But this did not prevent him from turning thumbs down on a proposal to award one of General Electric's big plants a contract for 800,000 electric irons.

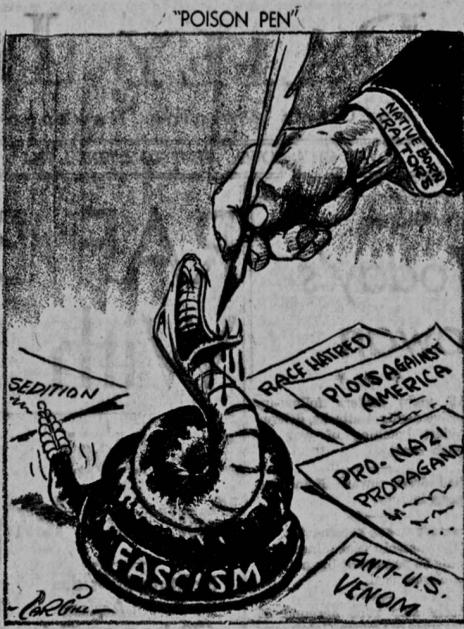

When the WPB program to make 2,000,000 in 1944 was broached last year, Wilson was asked to approve an order permitting the General Electric Hot-point plant at Ontario, Cal., to produce 800,000 of the quota.

The conscientious, bespectacled WPB official firmly declined, pointing out that Ontario is only 40 miles from the critical labor shortage area of Los Angeles where workers are needed for the war-vital aircraft industry.

Ironically, Wilson approved other electric iron contracts, including one for a G. E. rival, the Westinghouse company plant, at Mansfield, Ohio.

Propaganda in Films
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Eddie Robinson, in the midst of a discussion about whether propaganda is a legitimate part of film making, saw it this way:

"You can't make pictures without putting in propaganda, whether you intend to or not. A love scene is propaganda for love; a cute baby is propaganda for parenthood; if you show a pretty garden scene, you're selling stuff for the nursery around the corner. "Slums are natural propaganda for better living conditions. Naturalistic war films are propaganda for international relations that will prevent war."

Sac City Captain, Veteran of South Pacific Heavy Bomber Squadron, Downs 31 Zeros

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC AIR BASE (AP)—The oldest, toughest, hardest-hitting squadron of heavy bombers in the Pacific is working over Truk and Woleai islands in the Carolines, and the Schouten islands off New Guinea.

These Liberators have never had an easy target. They went right up the island staircase, when the going was tough—Balala, Kahili, Buin, Buika in the Solomons and on to Rabaul and Kavieng in the Bismarck archipelago. The air over every objective was crowded with Japanese fighters and thick with ack ack.

Most of the men who lived through the raids hoped for home leave after Rabaul was knocked out. But they were switched to the Schoutens and the Carolines, involving overwater flights of almost 1,000 miles to reach their targets.

Most of the men in this squadron, commanded by Capt. Leo Hunt of Elkview, W. Va., have flown on 30 or 40 missions and some have made 70. The squadron has lost a lot of men.

Usually the pilots make their bombing runs without fighter cover. Their gunners have shot down about 50 Zeros, including 25 confirmed over Rabaul and 17 in a recent raid on Woleai.

Veterans of the squadron include Capt. William Stuart Jr., Sac City, Iowa, with 31.

The squadron's planes have averaged about 35 missions.

About 60 percent of the squadron is married. Hunt says a married man is just as good an airman as a single—"the only difference is they want to go home sooner."

MacVicar remarked, "The cities and towns were left off this committee."

By their shares of state gasoline tax and automobile license receipts, the state and counties have money for matching federal funds, he said. Counties receive farm-to-market road allotments.

"The cities and towns are dependent on property tax," he continued.

Proposed federal legislation would require that 25 percent of funds allocated by the government to state highway commissions be spent in urban areas. A city or town receiving such benefits would have to bear 40 percent of the cost of improvements thus financed the first year and 50 percent the next two years.

Government allocation, long made to states, is a "federal subsidy of the highway commission," MacVicar asserted. From tax and license receipts, the state or a county can pay the percentage of cost required by the government he said.

Agriculture Directors, U. S. Officials Discuss War Prisoner Labor

OMAHA (AP)—State agriculture extension directors from the Seventh Service command area met yesterday to discuss with federal officials midwest labor needs this summer.

Lieut. Col. W. R. Buie, assistant chief of the War Food administration labor office, here to conduct the meeting, said it was solely to make sure everyone concerned understood the necessary steps in securing prisoner of war labor. He said he had no figures as to the number of prisoners available and no policy changes to announce.

Regional War Manpower commission directors from Minneapolis, Kansas City and Denver, together with security and intelligence officers from command headquarters were also to be in attendance.

The demand for prisoner of war labor is considerably larger than the supply now available. At Lincoln it was reported from the University of Nebraska that 437 workers, mostly prisoners of war, had been placed on Nebraska farms last week, but an estimated 1,695 workers are still needed.

Nevertheless, there are several obstacles in the way of securing this type of labor on midwest farms. No prisoner of war labor may be assigned without a certificate of need, that priorities must be granted by the War Manpower commission in the case of each request, and that it must be ascertained that no free labor is available before such priorities will be granted, army officials said.

After priorities are obtained, prisoner of war camps must determine the feasibility of supplying the requested labor, taking into consideration the kind of work offered, housing facilities and whether prisoner labor is suitable. Prevailing wages must be paid and all labor must be contracted through the army.

Iowa Cities to Form Own Post-War Group

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa cities and towns lacking representation on the state post-war planning committee named by Gov. B. B. Hickenlooper will create a committee of their own. Mayor John MacVicar said yesterday.

MacVicar accepted the chairmanship of the post-war planning committee of the League of Iowa Municipalities. The mayor said he would appoint other members of the committee.

The task of the committee representing the municipalities, he said, would be to determine their needs and learn whatever plans they have and draw a comprehensive plan for submission to the state committee, which was "created to make a report on state needs to the state legislature next year."

MacVicar remarked, "The cities and towns were left off this committee."

By their shares of state gasoline tax and automobile license receipts, the state and counties have money for matching federal funds, he said. Counties receive farm-to-market road allotments.

"The cities and towns are dependent on property tax," he continued.

Proposed federal legislation would require that 25 percent of funds allocated by the government to state highway commissions be spent in urban areas. A city or town receiving such benefits would have to bear 40 percent of the cost of improvements thus financed the first year and 50 percent the next two years.

Government allocation, long made to states, is a "federal subsidy of the highway commission," MacVicar asserted. From tax and license receipts, the state or a county can pay the percentage of cost required by the government he said.

The municipal committee's "whole problem is, what communities are financially able to assess property to make up the 40 percent the first year and 50 percent the second and third years?" MacVicar declared.

A reconnaissance platoon probing far ahead of the main line finally sent back word to the regimental G-2 section that they weren't sure just where they were.

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

Bitter Nazi Resistance Slowing Allied Advance on Rome
By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Bitter German resistance is slowing the allied advance on Rome along the 25-mile Valmontone-Tiber delta front in the north but to the south the Alexander "piston" technique gained ground to warrant General Clark's declaration day prediction that the Allies will soon enter the Eternal City.

Eighth army seizure of Arce permitted General Alexander to open a second "pistonhead" head drive up the Liri valley toward Avezzano, central communication hinge of the tottering Nazi transpeninsular front. His right flank forces were reported well into the mouth of the upper Liri valley toward Sorra along the Arce-Avezzano road.

Capture of Isola, cutting the Isola-Frosinone lateral connection, they split apart German armies in the Liri and Sacco valleys. They are separated by the massive Simbruini ridge that runs from northwest to southeast for 35 miles, with only foot trails crossing to link the two valleys.

Enemy forces guarding the Sorra entrance to the upper Liri are only 15 airline miles from those still clinging to Frosinone, key to the lower Sacco valley, but they are 80 or more miles apart by any adequate road connection. And in the Sacco valley the fate of Frosinone seems sealed. British and Canadian elements astride the Sacco river and French-American units of the Fifth army are closing in the ancient town.

The Sacco valley between Valmontone in the north and the menaced Frosinone road hub in the south could become a Nazi death trap within hours.

D-Day Sweepstakes—

ON THE ITALIAN FRONT (AP)—Despite the big offensive going on in this theatre the biggest other subject of conversation, and speculation still concerns the possible date of the English channel crossing.

Soldiers have put thousands of dollars in pools and each one is picking a particular date—either by individual choice or by lots. Additional thousands have been put up in personal bets as to whether the invasion will or won't come by a certain date (lots of these, incidentally, already have been paid off).

Rumors fly by the score and these have given birth to a new crop of jokes. In the middle of a conversation a soldier will look craftily about him, then ask if you know what they are going to do if they decide it's too great a risk to cross the channel in boats for the invasion. When you answer that you don't he replies: "Why, they are going to drain it, of course."

Not all reactions are funny, however. Recently Stars and Stripes printed a story saying the news of the Italian offensive was getting a big play in the newspapers back home.

A platoon sergeant just out of the lines read the story and when he finished said:

"So what? They still consider this a second hand theater—a sideshow campaign. They're just interested in us now because the big invasion hasn't come off yet. It's like when the crowd gets set in the stadium for a football game and the visiting team is late. So they send the school band out on the field to pacify them until they can get the game going. . . . That's what we are here," he concluded bitterly, "the school band. When the big show starts they'll forget all about us and I'll bet there's been enough soldiers sitting in England all winter to have shoved the Krauts all the way back to the Alps."

A reconnaissance platoon probing far ahead of the main line finally sent back word to the regimental G-2 section that they weren't sure just where they were.

Soldiers' vote note: In this bivouac area which contains several hundred soldiers not a single one has applied for the papers which must be filled out to permit him to vote this fall and the notice that they can be obtained has been posted for more than a month now. . . .

Prof. Marjorie Camp On Leave of Absence

Will Make Application For War Assignment To Last for Duration

In order to engage in some activity more directly concerned with the war effort, Prof. Marjorie Camp of the physical education department will be on leave of absence from the university for the duration of the war, beginning today.

She will spend July and August at the Joy camps, in Hazelhurst, Wis., a private camp for girls where she has been associated with Barbara Ellen Joy, owner and director of the camps, for fifteen seasons as program and waterfront director.

This fall, when enforced quotas and requirements may be ascertained for such groups as the Red Cross, the services, the land army and defense work, Professor Camp will be able to make definite application for a specific assignment.

Joined Faculty in 1927
Professor Camp joined the faculty of the university in 1927. She came here from the University of Chicago, where she had been an instructor in the physical education department. She has been associate professor in the physical education department at the university since 1935.

A graduate of the Boston School of Physical Education, Professor Camp received her B.A. and M.A. at Teacher's College, Columbia university.

Professor Camp is a member of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation; past president of the Iowa State Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation; and organizer of the Iowa section of the American Camping association. She was that organization's first president, in 1935 and 1936.

She is a past commissioner, deputy commissioner, and has had 12 years' service on the Iowa City Council of Girl Scouts; is a past treasurer of the University club and is president of the American Association of University Women. M. Amelion, grand regent. William A. Machovec presented a solo selection and Adelaide Bulgarelli a military tap dance. Guest speaker was the Rev. Charles D. Mannheim. The program closed with the group singing of "God Bless America." Aloise Pazder presided.

Director Issues Statement
Prof. Elizabeth Halsey, director of the physical education department stated, "Professor Camp's long years of service to this department and the university, her recognized authority in the field of aquatic and camping as well as her numerous community contributions will make her very much missed during her war service. The very qualities which have made her so valuable here will make her service to the war effort equally valuable. It is with both regret and pride that we wish her good luck and satisfaction in her new work."

Professor Camp will remain in Iowa City a few days before leaving for Wisconsin.

Democratic Voters To Hold Precinct Caucuses Tonight

Johnson county Democratic voters will hold their precinct caucuses at 7:30 this evening. Delegates will be recommended for each precinct at that time, to be elected at the primary election to sit in the Johnson county Democratic convention to be held June 30 at 10 a. m. in the court house. The caucuses in the precincts outside of Iowa City will be held in the usual polling places of the townships.

Air Mail Letter Forms Now Available

For improved mail service to American prisoners of war in Europe, air mail letter forms are now available in Johnson county, according to W. J. Barrows, postmaster.

The forms, which are distributed free by the postoffice, will clear through mail and censorship channels more easily, to reach Americans held by the Germans.

British letters on similar forms were cleared and delivered more rapidly than American mail in the past, according to reports from American prisoners of Germany, who suggested the adoption of the new air mail form here.

"The use of this form will also stop the complaints of German censorship authorities about patriotic slogans being stamped on envelopes," said the postmaster.

Regular six-cent airmail charges will apply to letters written on the new forms.

Persons desiring advice or aid in preparing letters or parcels for prisoners are invited to contact the local Red Cross office or the postoffice.

Anyone can write to prisoners of war, but parcels can be sent only by the next of kin, according to Mr. Barrows.

WILL LEAVE

PROF. MARJORIE CAMP of the women's physical education department, is on leave of absence from the university, beginning today. Professor Camp will apply for specific assignment in some phase of war work later this summer.

Iowa City Poppy Sales Total $752.44

Poppy sales in Iowa City last Saturday brought in a total of $752.44, with 7,000 poppies being sold by members of the junior and senior auxiliaries of the American Legion, according to Mrs. Earl Gifford, publicity chairman.

A net sum of $598.44 was left after $154 was deducted and sent to the Des Moines disabled veterans' office to cover the cost of the poppies. One-fourth of the net sum is sent to the state department and is appropriated to families of disabled veterans of both world wars. Three-fourths of the sum is used by the auxiliary here to aid in the rehabilitation of local veterans.

Sales began about 7:30 a. m. and continued until about 8:30 p. m. with headquarters in the lobby of Hotel Jefferson. Lunches were served in the auxiliary rooms of the Community building for all those selling poppies.

University to Offer— Education Workshop

To meet post-war problems in secondary education, the University of Iowa college of education is offering a new course, workshop on readjustment in secondary education, from July 3 to 21.

Realizing that demobilization and post-war adjustment will demand the combined efforts of the nation's best minds, the schools of the nation know they will be called upon to play a major role in this readjustment program.

The workshop is designed to provide time and facilities for teachers and administrators to work together on post-war problems and specific local problems.

Development along these lines will be discussed with specialists in various subject fields, and educators will become acquainted with new materials.

To Feature Conferences
Individual conferences and small committees will be features of the workshop.

Major emphasis will be placed on administrative and organizational readjustments, including such problems as the upward extension of the high school, credit for military experience, and war and postwar guidance.

Curriculum planning and organization will also be discussed, including the development of resource units, revising the program of studies and studying visual aids.

Demobilization, vocational training, job placement and other post-war youth problems will be under discussion, as will school and community relationships, planning recreational services and organizing adult education programs.

Among the most pressing of the problems to be examined in the workshop is the redirection of the curriculum in terms of post-war demands.

Work to Begin July 3
The workshop will begin July 3 and members may earn as many as three semester hours of graduate credit during the three-week session. The group will meet for two sessions each day, five days a week.

Special lectures in such fields as geography, visual instruction, Latin America, testing, federal relationships in education and physical education will be given.

Tuition for this course is $18.75, and a small special dormitory for men in attendance at the workshop will be available if there is sufficient demand for it.

Registration for the workshop will be Monday, July 3, at University high school at 9 a. m. The course number is 7-273.

The college of education is also presenting a series of courses designed to meet the demands of teachers, principals, supervisors, superintendents and other educators during the 1944 summer session.

A few of these are "The Reconstruction of Elementary Education," "Guidance and Counseling in the Secondary Schools," and "Remedial Reading in the High School." In connection with the latter, a reading clinic will be in operation with opportunities for group and individual participation.

Sun Worshippers Snatch at Chances To Acquire Tans

In spite of the deluge of rain which seems bent on proving to Iowa Citizens that "it can happen here," Iowa co-eds have been investing heavily in sun-suits and sunback dresses and as a result are secretly nursing peeled arms, legs and backs.

Many sun-worshippers have already learned the wisdom of the warning issued by the Iowa state health department: "If you try to absorb all the sun's blessings at one sitting, Old Sol will surely come through with a red hot blistering for your efforts."

Carrier authorities have decided that the best policy is to lock the door to the roof, although not because of concern regarding sun-burned backs and noses. Instead, the step was taken as a precaution against falls that might result in serious injury. Consequently, Carrier co-eds, and numerous other sunfan fans, have resorted to the river bank, the golf course, the

St. Louis Browns Drop Nats Again

Boston Braves Down St. Louis Cardinals

Two Homers Force Lanier to 5-1 Loss; Barrett Top Pitcher

BOSTON (AP)—Homers by Max Macon and Connie Ryan forced southpaw Max Lanier to accept his first setback in seven starts yesterday as the Boston Braves defeated the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals, 5-1, behind right-handed Red Barrett.

The Cards nicked Barrett in the first for three of their seven hits to score their only run.

Macon put the Braves into the lead with his homer scoring Ryan in the last half of the opening frame. Ryan's circuit blow came in the sixth.

The Braves have hit the high-flying Red Birds six times to date and have drubbed them four times, one more than they were able to do in 22 tries last season.

Hawks Set Same Schedule for '45-'46

The same eight opponents for 1945 and 1946, to be played in the same order with exception of one transposition, mark these future University of Iowa football schedules.

Hawkeyes each season will meet six Big Ten foes, Notre Dame, and Nebraska, in what Director E. G. Schroeder calls two of the finest cards ever drawn for Iowa grid teams.

The first four games and the last two are on the same relative weekends each season, Director Schroeder pointed out, an unusual situation.

Resume Irish Rivalry

"We are glad to resume rivalry with Notre Dame and hope additional games can be set for other years. The universities have met only three times in the past—in 1921, 1939, and 1940—but the games were great ones and we look forward to others like them," Director Schroeder said.

Continuation of the series with Ohio State is another feature, Director Schroeder said. The 1944 game at Columbus next Oct. 7 is the first in ten seasons and the Hawkeyes will open in the Buckeye stadium on October's first Saturday in 1945 and 1946.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Browns jumped into a first place tie with the New York Yankees last night as they won their third straight game from the Washington Senators on an unearned run in the last half of the 11th inning. The score was 4 to 3.

The Browns staged a movie-thriller uprising in the last half of the ninth inning to score two runs and tie the game. Al Hollingsworth who took over the mound duties from Jack Jakucki in the ninth received credit for his first victory of the year.

Alex Carrasquel, Washington relief pitcher who replaced Roger Wolf in the 11th, was the loser.

Jakucki opened the game's scoring in the third with a home run into the left field bleachers. The Senators tied the game in the seventh; scored two more in the eighth to take a lead.

The tying run in the ninth was driven in by Gene Moore, traded during the spring by Washington to the Browns.

Giants Defeat Cubs For Third Win, 8-5

Nap Reyes Slams Two Round Trippers To Lead Hitting

NEW YORK (AP)—Led by Napoleon Reyes, who clouted two home runs and a single to drive in six runs, the New York Giants defeated Chicago 8-5 yesterday for their third in a row over the Cubs and their fifth straight triumph.

Danny Gardella of the Giants and Dom Dallessandro and Bill Nicholson of the Cubs also hit home runs. Dallessandro's circuit clout came in the first inning with two, to climax a four run rally.

The Giants reduced that lead to one in the fourth, by scoring thrice, aided by Reyes' first homer. They took the lead in the next frame when Reyes' singles Mel Ott and Gardella home. The Cuban third baseman's second round tripped tallied two of the three runs scored by the New Yorkers in the seventh and sewed up the game.

Indians Bop Bosox, 7 to 4

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Indians scored five times in the third inning on three hits and an error to trounce Boston 7 to 4 yesterday, registering their third consecutive victory over the Red Sox.

Although the Sox outhit the Tribe 9 to 7, Cleveland kept out front with tight defensive play, including four double plays.

Roy Cullenbine's double with two mates aboard scored Vernon Kennedy and started the third inning rally. Pat Seerey was purposely passed, filling the bases, then Oris Hockett singled to score Lou Boudreau and Cullenbine. Lamar Newsome bobbled Ken Keltner's grounder, allowing Seerey and Hockett to cross the plate.

McLish Hurls First Major League Game; Bums Tie for Fourth

BROOKLYN (AP)—Calvin McLish, 18-year-old graduate of Oklahoma City's American Legion nine, hurled his first major league victory last night by holding Pittsburgh to five hits as the Brooklyn Dodgers knocked out an 8-4 decision.

Dixie Walker boosted his league-leading batting average to .436 with three hits in the Dodgers' 15-blow barrage off Nick Strincevich. Augie Galan hammered out his second homer during a five-run Brooklyn uprising in the third frame and Jim Russell belted one for the Pirates in the fifth.

The victory sent the Dodgers into a fourth place tie with the New York Giants and was their fifth in six starts.

Trout, Newhouser Tiger One-Two Punch

DETROIT (AP)—When the Detroit Tigers throw their one-two punch, they deliver a hard left in southpaw Hal Newhouser and then come up from the floor with a right-hander in Paul (Dizzy) Trout.

In Trout and Newhouser, the Tigers have the most effective right-left pitching combination in the American league and one to be reckoned with in the currently tight pennant fight. The two hurled seven-hitters against the New York Yankees Memorial day, each gaining his second victory over the champions.

Newhouser's record is seven victories and three defeats, and Trout has won six and lost four. The only other big Detroit winner is Johnny Gorsica.

Both Trout and 23-year-old Newhouser are 4-F in the draft, and their major league careers are strikingly similar. In four seasons with Detroit, Trout was a notorious non-winner, but last season he became a 20-game winner with a fifth place club. Only Spud Chandler of the Yankees matched that total.

Newhouser's first four seasons in Detroit uniform likewise failed to show a winning record. Last summer he won eight and lost 17, going nearly two months without a victory after pitching in the all-star game.

Trout is short of a .500 lifetime mark with 59 victories and 60 defeats. Newhouser now has won 41 and lost 55.

IOWA TODAY THRU FRIDAY

Robert TAYLOR

Co-Hit James Craig Omaha Trail

From the Side Lines

By Yoke

Few of you know it but it seems to me that right here in Iowa City we have one of the smoothest runners that has been around these parts for a long time. Eric Wilson Jr. of U-high ran what is considered by as great an authority as Lieut. John Morris, Seahawk track coach, the most well-planned 440 he has seen.

There are, as we explained to you in a recent feature on this page, three factors contributing to the running of these races. Eric Wilson Sr., Olympic games star for the University of Iowa, Coach Carpenter of U-high, and the long background that these two have built up through their track experiences.

"Rickie" ran in line six of a seven man first section in Saturday's run, pulled to second in the first turn and forged ahead with a five yard lead coming out of the turn to go home with that much air behind him.

Another feature of this race was that the coach, Mr. Carpenter, had told him that he would have to run the first 220 in 24.8 to make any time under 53 seconds. Coach Morris had a watch on him and it was noted that he ran the first 220 in just exactly that time.

The senior Wilson has this to say about watching your son run in a race that you have run so many times in former years.

"There's sort of a double feeling to it. It's like you were in there running and yet there's nothing you can do about it but watch and hope."

"While he's running the race you feel twenty years younger and when it's over you feel forty years older."

Athletic Director Dad Schroeder seems to be quite happy about the scheduling of Notre Dame on the 1945 and '46 lists.

Yes, it's nice to renew an old rivalry but it is also nice to be able to put a team on the field that can do something against such a worthy opponent.

This brings to mind a letter I received the other day from a certain Mr. Schmidt who is stationed on a naval vessel on the Pacific. Mr. Schmidt got into an argument with a bunk-mate of his, a fellow from Indiana, about whether or not Notre Dame had ever beaten Iowa.

Now this argument is one that has been quite recurrent in recent months. We've heard of requests for the same information coming from England, from north Africa and from some of the islands in the south Pacific.

So to clear the record for some of our home front readers who may be wondering too here is the dope:

The teams have played three times since 1921 and the games have all resulted in wins for the Hawkeyes in the following order:

1921—Iowa, 10; Notre Dame, 7
1939—Iowa, 7; Notre Dame, 6
1940—Iowa, 7; Notre Dame 0

There it is for all you fans, Mr. Schmidt included, to see. Opening this new series with the Irish throws a lot of responsibility on the shoulders of the coming grid-men to make good this boast.

Farm Bureau Head Reports on Conditions of British Farms

"British farmers are getting exceptionally high yields from land that has been farmed for hundreds of years," said Walter D. Kline, president of the Iowa Farm Bureau federation, at a meeting of Iowa City business men and farmers last night.

Kline has been in England for three months recently, as a guest of the British ministry of agriculture and the United States Office of War Information. Although he was not there for the sole purpose of studying agriculture, he did see a number of farmers, and talked to Iowa farmers could learn a lesson from British farmers in methods to curb water erosion. The secret of high yields in Britain is the absence of water erosion and the use of a great deal of commercial fertilizer, Kline said.

"Britain is well-fed, although the food hasn't the best taste in the world," he continued. Black bread, strong coffee, little meat and an abundance of potatoes is the fare of English people. Americans over there usually lose weight, said Kline, but their health is not impaired.

Kline made a propaganda broadcast from London to the continent while in England and underwent several air raids. He reports that the British people no longer deem it necessary to go to the shelters and as a result, a large number are killed. This would not occur if regular air raid precautions were taken, he added.

Kline said it was evident throughout England that most of the British look to the United States for leadership in the post-war world.

Staff Sgt. Thomas M. Sullivan, formerly a member of the local A. S. T. P. administrative department, visited here yesterday. He is now attached to headquarters company, 74th railway operating battalion at Camp Plauche, New Orleans, La. He was stationed in Iowa City from Aug. 23, 1943, to April 9, 1944.

ALLIES—

President Roosevelt says the American program still is subject to change and capable of vast improvement. Its five main provisions now are:

1. United Nations council to be created with membership of Russia, Britain, China and the United States, and three or four small nations to be elected by the assembly for fixed terms on a rotation basis.

2. United Nations assembly to be composed of all 35 United Nations and eventually to include all other countries also. In the assembly small nations would have equal voice and sovereignty with the large.

3. Police power consisting primarily of the military forces of the four big nations which would retain their separate identities but would be used only in accordance with United Nations assembly or council decisions. (The idea of a single international police force any time in the near future has been generally discarded.)

4. A world court organized to handle all legal questions among nations and to have the moral and military backing of the United Nations although it might be outside the framework of the council and assembly.

5. Mediation machinery to handle disputes outside the jurisdiction of the court because they do not involve questions of law. It is hoped that eventually the mediation procedures, functioning under the assembly, would build up a new body of international law so that more and more problems would pass into the jurisdiction of the court.

Boston Shipyard Fraud

BOSTON (AP)—More than 100 shipyard workers at the Bethlehem-Hingham plant, where vessels are being constructed for the navy, were arrested yesterday on charges of conspiring to defraud the government.

Federal Bureau of Investigation men termed it "the most extensive war fraud racket of its type uncovered by the FBI."

The arrested included counters, who, Boston FBI Chief E. A. Soucy said, agreed with piece work welders to record false credit while the latter kicked back a share of the wages received for work not done.

WPB Announces Plan For Paris Production With Brewster Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The War Production board announced last night that an agreement has been reached to continue production of aircraft parts at the Long Island City, N. Y., plant of Brewster Aeronautical corporation, provided the parts can be used by other companies making Corsair fighter planes.

Earlier, the navy had announced plans to take over the company's Johnsonville, Pa., properties and give jobs to about 2,500 of the Brewster employees there.

The decision regarding the Long Island City plant was announced by Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice-chairman. An expert will leave Washington at once, Wilson said, to determine whether the Goodyear company and Chance-Vought, the two other producers of the navy fighter.

Wilson's announcement followed an all-afternoon meeting of the production executive committee, which he heads, on the problem created by the navy's cancellation of its Brewster contract with resulting looming unemployment for 12,000 workers at the two Brewster plants.

John R. Hedges Heads War Loan Film Committee

John R. Hedges, acting director of the bureau of visual instruction of the extension division, has received word from Horace O. Jones, chairman of the national 16 mm. Fifth War Loan committee, that he has been appointed chairman of the state committee for film distribution in connection with the Fifth War Loan drive which starts June 12.

His committee includes Frank Pratt of Cedar Rapids, Harold Kooser of Iowa State college in Ames and Neil Gordon of Davenport. They will work directly with Herbert L. Horton and John S. Hollen, co-chairmen of the state Fifth War Loan finance committee.

Hedges said that three new films are available for use in the bond drive in addition to 15 that have been on hand. The new films are "Report From the Beachhead," "What Makes a Battle" and "Report From the AAF." The last film includes a report from Britain, showing the RAF and the Eighth air force in action over France.

Judge to Divorce Bench Due to Dislike For Divorce Court

CHICAGO (AP)—Circuit Judge Robert J. Dunne doesn't like the "nervous tension" of a divorce court.

So he's asking for assignment to another court. "I suppose you might say I am against divorce," Judge Dunne said yesterday. "There is nervous tension in a divorce court at all times because of the constant bickering and quarreling and the excitable character of the litigants. I'm against divorce when it leaves children with broken homes."

Judge Dunne, a son of former Illinois Governor Edward Dunne, said he would make a transfer application to the court's executive committee at its next meeting within two weeks.

California Court Reverses Conviction Of Band Leader Krupa

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A superior court conviction and prison sentence of Gene Krupa, dance band leader, was reversed yesterday by the state district court of appeals on grounds he had been placed in double jeopardy regarding charges involving marijuana cigarettes.

Krupa pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, his valet, by having him transport such cigarettes, and served a 90-day sentence.

Later, he was convicted on a felony count of possession.

18 Months in Nazi Camps—Internee Joins WACs

DES MOINES (AP)—A 20-year-old Iowa who only three days ago learned of the attack at Pearl Harbor yesterday began her training at Ft. Des Moines as a member of the Women's Army corps.

After surviving 18 months in German concentration and internment camps, she was among 669 repatriates arriving in Jersey City, March 15, on the Swedish exchange liner Gripsholm.

Alberta Erdtsieck was only 18 Sept. 19, 1942, when a guard and a minister came to the boarding school she was attending in a small Dutch village to take her to prison. She later was sent to camps in Holland, Germany and France.

Her mother had died in December, 1941. Her brother, too young then to be interned, was living with relatives in another part of Holland.

Born in Davenport, Iowa, Alberta was interned largely because of her American citizenship, partly for a few injudicious remarks she had made about the German occupation.

She recently has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. J. Erdtsieck, of Keokuk, Iowa, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Marjune Erdtsieck, of Ft. Madison, Iowa.

"I first heard of the WACs on the Gripsholm," she said at army recruiting headquarters, "and I said I would join as soon as I landed. I tried within 24 hours, but I was persuaded to rest and get strong a little bit first."

difficult positions south of the Via Casilina. French troops sought past Cescano, five miles south of Frosinone, leaving armor to mop up the town, and Moroccan Goums, speeding across the Lepini hills far out in front of other allied forces, seized the town of Carpineto, 13 miles almost due west of Frosinone and seven and a half miles north of Sezze.

In the drive through the Liri valley the Eighth army occupied Fontana Arpino and Strangolagalli, all north of the Via Casilina, and bypassed Arnara, south of the highway. New Zealand troops pressed to within less than two miles of Sora and other Eighth army troops seized Alfedena, northeast of Isernia in almost the exact geographical center of the Italian peninsula. British Fifth army troops slugging toward Rome from what formerly was the western edge of the Anzio beachhead crossed the Moleta river all along their sector and took the villages of L'Americano, Lora, Reteno and Ardea. They reached a point about three miles northeast of Ardea and some two miles south of Pescarella Nuova, which is almost directly west of Campoleone.

Allied airmen took a continuing toll of enemy troops and transports withdrawing before the Eighth army. One RAF wing destroyed 97 vehicles and scored damages when it spotted a German traffic jam north of Frosinone. Marauder medium bombers made several attacks on bridges over the Tiber river near Rome. In all Tuesday's operations the Mediterranean air forces lost five heavy bombers and three other planes while destroying 15 enemy craft.

Mayor Endorses War Show

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters issued a proclamation yesterday urging the citizens of Iowa City to see the war show of German equipment to be shown in Iowa City June 5, 6, and 7. A Boy Scout exposition comprising about 30 booths will also be shown.

The mayor's proclamation is as follows: "The war show of German equipment is to be shown in Iowa City June 5, 6, and 7.

"Therefore, the people of Iowa City and surrounding territory will have an unusual opportunity to see this captured war material. This show ordinarily is put on only in the larger cities, but by rare good luck we have been able to secure it through an alert committee and the kindness of the seventh service command of Omaha.

"Therefore, by proclamation we ask the citizens of Iowa City to show their appreciation by urging all to see it and become acquainted with the implements of war being used against us by the enemy.

"This show is sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America, the war bond committee, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the retail merchants and is one of the greatest events ever attempted by Iowa City and we urge the cooperation of all to make this show a huge success."

Men to Occupy Currier

—During Summer Term

Don't be too surprised this summer if a business man on campus informs you that he lives at the girl's dormitory, Currier hall.

For the first time in its history, when a group of business men arrive to take the summer management course under Professor Ralph Barnes, beginning June 12, men will occupy Currier rooms.

The men, representing different business concerns from all areas of the United States and two from Canada, will be housed at Lambert house, Currier annex, and in the south wing, first floor, of Currier hall.

68 Registered

Sixty-eight men have registered for the course in summer management. They represent business concerns from Massachusetts to California, from South Carolina to Canada.

In Currier, the men will have their own separate entrance, and will eat lunches in the main dining hall. They will be treated as a separate unit at lunches, however, since the intensified course will include lunchtime roundtable discussions and speakers.

Last year, the group of business men taking the management course were housed in Eastlawn. This is the sixth summer management course in the series.

Three Weeks Term

The men will be here for three weeks, beginning June 12, and the intensified course they will take includes eight hours of work daily. The summer management course is designed for people in industry who are interested in production planning, motion and time study, plant layout, wage incentives and related subjects.

Its purposes are to show how production planning can be coordinated with the various activities of an organization in wartime, to provide full understanding of the fundamentals of motion and time study and to provide instruction in organizing and presenting ideas orally.

Demonstrations Included

It will also demonstrate ways of instituting training programs in factories and offices, present opportunities for counseled application of the principles of production planning and motion and time study to individual industrial problems in the industrial engineering laboratory and provide opportunity for discussion of problems common to various industries.

Training films will be shown, and there will be lectures by visiting men outstanding in the field of industrial engineering and management.

Laboratories equipped with individual projection booths and special motion-picture projectors for film analysis will also be available to those taking the course.

Handwoven Textiles To Be Displayed In Macbride Hall

Contemporary American handwoven textiles from the southern highlands will be on display in Macbride hall beginning Monday, from Kentucky and Georgia, coverlets of modern colors and materials, seamless materials, and vegetable dyed suiting will be shown.

The display will run for two weeks, starting Monday, and will be open to the public from 10 until 12 o'clock in the morning and 1 to 4 in the afternoon.

Some of the materials to be shown were woven at the Churchill weavers in Kentucky, outstanding for their colors and design. Drapery material shown was woven at Black Mountain college, N. C., and there are linen tray mats and luncheon mats woven in Georgia. Weaving from the Pi Beta Phi settlement school in Tennessee will also be shown.

A shawl woven by a girl who raises her own sheep, clips, cards, dyes and spins her own wool will be displayed. Cards on the exhibits indicate that due to shortage of wool yarn, many weavers must now do their own carding, dyeing and spinning, as well as weaving.

Plain and plaid suiting materials, some of them vegetable dyed, will be shown.

Indexed cards for the exhibit indicate the kind of weave, the thread used, the fiber and the name of the weaver.

After the exhibit, the article displayed will be on sale through the home economics department. Prices will range from two to $30 for bags, shawls, draperies and coverlets.

Have a "Coke" = Eto Zdorovo (HOW GRAND!)

...or making foreign flyers friends

To visiting Russian and British allies it's good news to see fighting planes pouring out of American plants. And it's good to see our flying friends respond to the everyday American invitation Have a "Coke"—a way of saying We're with you. Coca-Cola wins a welcome from those who come from Moscow or Manchester. And in your home, there's always a welcome for "Coke" out of your own refrigerator. Coca-Cola stands for the baise that refreshes,—has become a symbol of friendliness in many lands.

"Coke" = Coca-Cola It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".
