THE ROAD BACK—ITALIAN REFUGEE RETURN HOME

NOT FAR BEHIND the allied Fifth and Eighth armies which are driving the Germans out of Italy, come hundreds of refugee families, who are taking the road back to their homes—or what is left of them. This is a typical family. Lacking transportation, the family used its available man (also woman and child) power to haul its pitifully inadequate supply of worldly goods on a cart.

Reds Enter Key Town, Borisov; U.S., Finland Break Relations

Calls Finland 'Nazi Puppet'

Action Comes At End of 10-Day History-Making Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States snapped the frayed thread of its relations with Finland yesterday and branded the present government of that long-friendly country as a "puppet" used by Nazi Germany to help stem the advance of victorious allied armies in Europe.

The American action came at the end of a ten-day period which some day may be recognized as one of the most critical in the history of the twenty-five-year-old Finnish republic. In those ten days a planned pro-allied coup failed to come off at Helsinki, according to reliable reports here. A group of die-hards opposed to peace with Russia clinched their hold in the government, and under the guns of German warships Nazi land reinforcements poured ashore while planes of the Luftwaffe moved in large numbers onto key airfields.

Break Final Link It was a result of these developments, reflected in an official Finnish announcement of an alliance with Germany last Tuesday, that President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull decided late Thursday to break the final fragile link. They had preserved it for months in the hope that it might help Finland to make peace with Russia and get out of the war.

Opinion here is divided as to whether the Finns will stay in the war until smashed by the military power of Russia or throw their country into civil war in an effort to regain their independence. Declaration of War In the highest levels of the American government, there apparently is no thought, at least at this time, of following up the break with a declaration of war which would place this country in the same relationship to Finland that the Russians have had since June, 1941, and the British since December of that year.

The severance of diplomatic relations was accomplished about 10:00 a. m., central war time yesterday when Alexander Thesleff, the Finnish charge d'affaires, arrived at the office of George T. Summerlin in the state department. Summerlin, special assistant to Secretary Hull, handed Thesleff his passport and a letter from Hull announcing the break.

New Car Sales Cut; Inner Tubes Removed From Rationing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A deep new cut in the ration allowance of new passenger cars was ordered last night, following announcement of the complete removal of inner tubes from rationing and a slight increase in the number of tires for motorists. The office of price administration said it would release only 78 percent of the June quota. Only a three-day supply in normal times remains to meet all needs until the government can permit resumption of automobile production.

In a more welcome action, OPA ordered that motorists, effective tomorrow, may go directly to dealers when tubes are needed, without applying to local ration boards.

ODT Warns Public 'No Room on Trains'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, last night warned the public that "there is no room today on the country's trains or intercity bus lines for holiday travelers." Estimating that more than 20 percent of present-day railroad travel was non-essential, Colonel Johnson urged in a broadcast (NBC) that "only those on essential business have the right to travel in these crucial days."

Hengyang Imperiled By Jap Encirclement

'Use of Poison Gas By Enemy in City'—Chinese Spokesman

CHUNGKING (AP)—The vital rail junction of Hengyang is encircled by three Japanese divisions but still is in Chinese hands, a Chinese army spokesman said in a press conference yesterday, and he reiterated charges that the enemy was using poison gas against the defenders of the city, loss of which would remove the last major Chinese position along the entire length of the Canton-Hankow railway.

Strike Southwest Maj. Gen. C. C. Tseng admitted the probability that the Japanese, if they occupied Hengyang completely, probably would strike southwest toward Kweilin, provincial capital of Kwangsi province, and south toward the Canton area in Kwangtung province, to complete the conquest of the Canton-Hankow railway.

Praise Activities The spokesmen praised activities of the U. S. 14th air force in support of Chinese ground forces, saying it had inflicted "very great losses" on the Japanese.

General Tseng said the American invasion of Saipan island had neutralized the value of the Japanese drive in China, if that drive was aimed at forestalling American landings on the Chinese coast, since Japan itself now was exposed to the danger of direct assault.

Legislation Signed To Give Philippines Their Independence

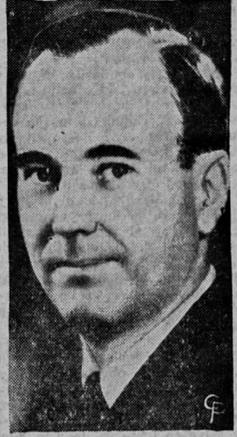

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation promising independence to the Philippines as soon as possible after United States forces rid the islands of Japanese invaders was signed by President Roosevelt yesterday.

The two congressional resolutions also authorize the establishment by the United States of land, sea and air bases in the islands for the mutual protection of both countries.

Before the war the Philippines were to have received their independence on July 4, 1946. Freedom can come to the islands, Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement, upon the accomplishment of "two tasks of great importance: those who have collaborated with the enemy must be removed from authority and influence over the political and economic life of the country; and the Democratic form of government guaranteed in the constitution of the Philippines must be restored for the benefit of the people of the islands."

Merchant Vessel Sunk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy announced yesterday that a small Panamanian merchant vessel was sunk in the Caribbean early this month as the result of two underwater explosions of undetermined origin.

AMERICAN LEGION Commander, Lynn U. Stambaugh, of Fargo, N. D., who based his campaign for the Republican nomination for United States senator on U. S. co-operation in world affairs, is, according to latest returns, apparently winner. Stambaugh ran as an independent against incumbent Gerald P. Nye of the GOP organizing committee.

F. D. R. Signs Bill Making Price Control, Stabilization Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials worked late last night preparing scores of changes directed in new price control and wage stabilization legislation effective today, with indications that not all the revisions can be made on time.

The deadline was emphasized as President Roosevelt signed into law the bill embracing the changes, which extends price control and wage stabilization one year, to July 1, 1945. Lauds Congress While he lauded congress for renewing the life of the Office of Price Administration and other government stabilization agencies, the president said he feared the changes made will "weaken and obstruct the effective enforcement of the law. If it should turn out that the enforcing officers encounter serious difficulties in bringing chiselers and black market operators to book, I shall ask congress to remove the difficulties."

An OPA spokesman said that only the amendment providing for adjustment of textile prices had named a specific deadline for the revision ordered. This amendment directs the adjustment of ceiling prices on "major" textile items to reflect parity for raw cotton. OPA officials were in the second day of a meeting with cotton industry executives to try to reach an agreement as to which are "major items," and what pricing formulas should be used.

They said they expected to issue a statement today listing cotton textile items on which immediate readjustment of ceiling prices will be made. The agency stressed however that any readjustments will apply only to contracts made after the effective date of the act.

Drone Over England— Vengeance Bombs

LONDON (AP)—Hitler's blind-ly-aimed vengeance bombs droned across southern England in deadly procession all day yesterday, killing a number of people, including babies in a rural nursery home.

The sinister flying bombs came over in increased numbers by daylight, leaving dreadful scenes of widely scattered places, but none so poignant as the demolished nursery, where begrimed rescue squads still toiled last night, seeking bodies.

Twenty-six babies less than two years old—orphans of bombed families and children of expectant mothers—had been billeted in the home with a staff of 12 nurses. Some of the children were found only slightly injured. Other tiny bodies were identified only by their ankle discs.

An official tabulation last night showed that five babies and five

British Drive On Toward Orne River

Germans Throw In Veteran Troops Recklessly

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Saturday, (AP)—A great armored battle raged south of Caen last night as the British drove on toward the Orne river and the Germans threw in veteran troops as fast as they reached the front in a reckless attempt to stop the allied advance.

A supreme headquarters communique said the allied drive pressing the Germans back toward the Orne had "compelled the enemy to throw in strong armored reserves." Front line dispatches said that these included every armored division the Germans have in Normandy, and that among the troops were veterans of the war in Russia.

"In spite of repeated counter-attacks by these formations," the communique declared, "our positions not only have been held but were improved."

As clouds lifted over the flaming battle front, allied war planes bombed and strafed enemy positions and communications and by mid-afternoon had made 1,000 individual flights. (German V broadcasts said a U. S. tank division had entered the battle southwest of Caen, that U. S. troops north of St. Lo—far to the west—had dented the German lines and that a "new large-scale American offensive is imminent.")

Japs Blasted on Yap In Sixth Recent Raid

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Saturday (AP)—Eight Japanese Zeroes were shot down and 63 tons of explosives were dropped in the sixth raid since June 22 on Yap in the western Carolines, headquarters reported today.

The Japanese continued to put up stiff aerial resistance over a base from which they are in position to support their beleaguered garrison on Saipan, 700 miles to the northeast.

In the latest reported raid, which was made Wednesday, 29 Zeroes battled with the New Guinea-based Liberators. The eight planes downed raised the total bag for six raids to more than 60 destroyed or damaged.

On invaded Biak in the Schouten islands, off north Dutch New Guinea, headquarters reported that 236 more Japanese have been killed, bringing the total enemy casualties to 2,876.

183,930 Nazis Lost in Week

Reds Capture Disna Inside Old Poland

LONDON (AP)—The Red armies' rout of German forces in White Russia mounted to historic proportions yesterday as Moscow announced that German losses in the first week of the Soviet summer offensive were 183,930 killed or captured, and the fighting carried all the way from inside the former border of Poland on the north to the center of Pripyat marches on the south.

Red troops broke into the key railway town of Borisov, on the direct route to Minsk; captured Disna, a frontier town just inside old Poland; took Slutsk, an important railroad far to the south; and more than 430 other populated places inside the sprawling 350-mile White Russian front, the broadcast Russian communique said.

In at least one sector Soviet troops were less than 30 miles from Minsk, pouring across the Berezina river north of Borisov in a thrust of 19 miles. Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press correspondent, said in a dispatch from Moscow that huge forces of Red infantry, tanks and cavalry were already converging on the outskirts of the White Russian capital.

Prepare for Storming Under continuous cover of Russian fighter and Stormovik planes, these troops were preparing for a mass storming of the outer approaches to the ancient city, Gilmore cabled.

The Russians penetrated into the very heart of the Pripyat marshes at the south, capturing Petrikov, a district center of the Polesye region.

The full extent of the German debacle was made known in a special announcement by Moscow, which said that the first Russian army fighting for Bobruisk had killed 50,000 and captured 23,680 and the second White Russian army which took Mogilev killed 30,000 and captured 3,250.

Coupled with figures announced Thursday for the third White Russian and the first Baltic armies, the dead alone in the week's operations amounted to 132,000.

John Evans, SUI Graduate, Killed

Mrs. R. L. Evans was notified Thursday by marine headquarters at Washington, D. C., that her son, Lieut. John H. Evans, 25, had been killed in action somewhere in the central Pacific. It is thought he was participating in action in the Marianas, possibly at Saipan. He had served in the Marshall Island invasion the first of the year.

Born in North English, Lieutenant Evans is survived by his mother and a brother, Pvt. David Evans of the army air corps, who is stationed at Richmond, Va. He was graduated in 1936 from North English high school where he was an outstanding student and athlete, and entered the University of Iowa in the fall of 1936. In 1938 he was editor of Hawkeye, and in his senior year at the university was a member of AFI, Interfraternity Court, Student Board of Publications and president of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He received his law degree in 1942 before entering the marine corps.

600-Pound Safe Carried From Omaha Ration Board Office

OMAHA (AP)—District OPA Director John G. Aldrich said last night ration coupons for 390,000 gallons of fuel oil, 179,840 gallons of gasoline and 12,350 pairs of shoes were taken early yesterday when a group of men carried a 600-pound safe from a south Omaha ration board office.

Key Nazi Targets Hit

Allied Air Activity In Western Europe Threatens Reserves

Italy-Based Allied Bombers Into Balkans On Follow-Up Raids

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—Allied heavy and medium bombers struck at German installations in a wide area around the Normandy battle zone throughout Friday, flying 3,000 sorties from dawn to dusk in which they dumped most of their explosives on targets whose destruction would halt the movement of Nazi reinforcements.

The weather, which limited air activity over the fighting front all week, improved enough to permit stepping up the offensive, but it still was far below the daily average since D-Day. German fighters offered only spotty resistance.

American Liberators and Flying Fortresses, 250 strong, escorted by a like number of Mustang fighters, roared through clouds to smash 750 tons of bombs against three airfields in northern France and one in Belgium, in a continuation of the campaign to drive the German air force even farther away from the battle area, and not a single German fighter was met. All the planes returned safely.

The RAF in the forenoon sent Lancaster bombers to plaster the launching ramps for Nazi rocket-bombs, as the robot planes were hurled throughout the day at southern England, opening the third week of these attacks. None of the Lancasters was lost, but one escorting Spitfire failed to return.

In their second mission of the day the RAF turned to tactical support of ground units driving west of Caen, and then, late in the evening still another formation of British heavies attacked a large concentration of German armor in the Villers-Bocage area on the west flank of the Caen salient, A SHAEF spokesman said the target was of "immediate tactical importance."

The German radio reported that Italian-based allied planes had thundered again into the Balkans, bombing the vicinity of Vienna and striking at Zagreb, Yugoslavia. This indicated a quick follow-up of the blow delivered in the same region last night, when RAF Wellingtons, Halifaxes and Liberators from Italian bases hit an airfield at Feuersbrunn, 30 miles northwest of the Austrian capital.

(The Hungarian news agency claimed that "several hundred enemy aircraft" had bombed greater Budapest early this morning and raided the town of Kaposvar in Trans-Danubia.)

WPA Officially Dead After 8 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The WPA died officially at midnight last night. In its eight years of active life the depression agency spent $10,138,743,293 of federal funds employing the otherwise jobless—a sum which would last for about thirty-eight days of government spending for war.

Herbert Brownell— GOP Leader

CHICAGO (AP)—The team of Thomas E. Dewey and Herbert Brownell Jr. went into action officially last night in an attempt to enlarge its feat of winning the New York governorship into a presidential victory.

Harmony Prevails With a smoothness that sustained Governor Dewey's assertions that unusual harmony prevails in the party, the Republican national committee unanimously elected the 40-year-old Brownell, who managed Dewey's 1942 gubernatorial campaign, as its chairman.

Winding up two days of intensive conferences with party leaders, Dewey prepared to take a train last night for Albany. Accompanying him were Mrs. Dewey, Brownell, J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman; Edwin F. Jaekle, state chairman, and about 30 reporters and photographers.

Pledges Effort Appearing before the national committee, Dewey pledged "a gigantic effort in this campaign toward the saving of the republic and the winning of the war." He told members, who helped nominate him Wednesday, that they could expect "all the busy propaganda agencies of the national government to direct their efforts toward a division of our party."

Danes, Germans Fight in Copenhagen

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Travelers arriving in Sweden said yesterday Danes and Germans were fighting in the streets of Copenhagen with machine-guns and rifles and reported thousands of Danes were fleeing the city.

Labor Disputes— 16,000 Workers Idle

SIXTEEN thousand workers were idle yesterday in the eastern half of the nation as a result of labor disputes, but a threatened walk-out of 26,000 midwest truck drivers, scheduled for midnight, was postponed pending a war labor board hearing in Washington next week.

Announcement of the postponement was made in a telegram to the war labor board from Thomas E. Flynn, executive assistant to the president of the AFL international brotherhood of teamsters. Earlier Friday the WLB ordered the Midwest Operators association, representing 113 trucking companies in 12 midwest states, to show cause at the forthcoming hearing why they had not complied with a WLB directive granting the drivers a wage increase.

Dexter Lewis, director of the central states drivers council said employers in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and most of Wisconsin had complied with the

Allied War Machine Rolls on Vast Front

Battered Nazis Flee Gen. Mark Clark's American Left Wing

ROME (AP)—The allied war machine rolled forward last night on a 100-mile front from the Tyrrhenian sea to beyond Lake Trasimeno, with the battered Nazis in full flight before Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark's Americans on the extreme left wing.

Despairing of fighting even an effective delaying action, the Germans broke off contact along Highway 1 skirting the west coast and fled before the wall of Yank armor, which plunged on within less than 20 miles of Livorno (Leghorn) and within 27 miles of Pisa, anchor of the enemy's "Gothic" line defending the valley of the Po.

Fight Bitterly Nazi forces which for the past week had fought bitterly in the rough country inland also appeared to be breaking under the continued hammer blows of American, French and British troops.

The fall of Siena, 31 miles below Florence, was believed imminent. American armor and infantry punched to within seven miles of the city from the south and threw a tank column almost due west of its outskirts. Threatening to flank any Germans trying to make a house-to-house fight in Siena. French colonials were only 10 miles from the city on the southeast.

Plough Forward Farther inland the British Eighth army, again ploughing forward after a fortnight of yard-by-yard progress up the shores of Lake Trasimeno, swept through numerous villages and captured the picturesque town of Castiglione del Lago on the lake's west bank. British patrols thrust to the vicinity of Magione on the east bank and reached the Chiascio river above Perugia.

Speech Clinic Lecture Held

Dr. Harold Westlake Discusses Hearing Conservation Tests

Hearing conservation and education were discussed by Dr. Harold Westlake of the Pennsylvania state department of education in a lecture yesterday afternoon in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The lecture yesterday was the second in a series of conferences on speech and hearing rehabilitation which are being presented each week through July 22 by the departments of speech, psychology and otolaryngology.

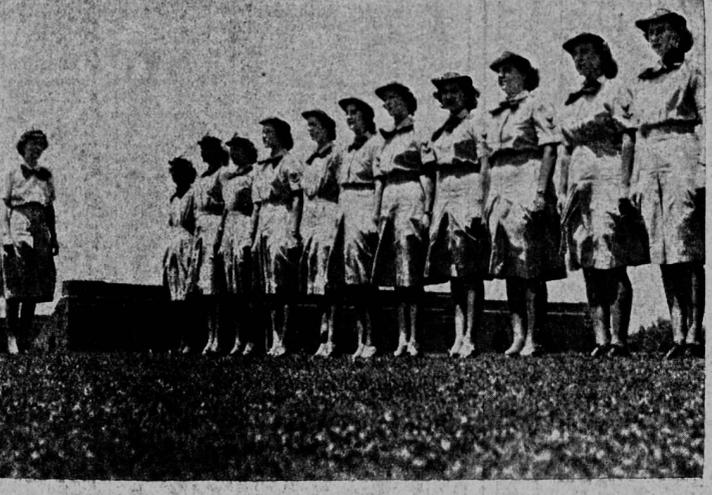

Westlake stated that a test of the total population must be made and that the tests should include children who have very slight defects. He said that most hearing afflictions could have been prevented if they had been brought to medical attention soon enough.

He stated that the problem of teaching a child who has a hearing loss is more like teaching a normal child than the teacher likes to admit. He added that the teacher should find out the child's reading ability, and that even if the teacher cannot give special instruction in lip-reading or speech, she can do him a great service by simply going about teaching him to read.

"The reading program," he said, "is probably the most important one for the hard of hearing child." Dr. Westlake explained the different devices used to test hearing, such as the discreet frequency audiometer, which is generally used for testing school children and the multiple audiometer, which enables the tester to test a large number of pupils in a shorter time.

Dr. Westlake is chairman of the committee on rehabilitation of the American Speech Correction association and in this capacity is in close contact with current developments in the military rehabilitation programs. He is also a member of the committee on conservation of hearing of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology.

PRE-FLIGHT WAVES OBSERVE SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF ORGANIZATION

JOINING FELLOW members throughout the navy in observing the second anniversary of Women Accepted for Volunteer Emergency Service yesterday were the 12 WAVES now assigned to the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school. Lieut. (j.g.) Ina C. Kerley, the first WAVE on the base, reported here April 12, 1943, as assistant disbursing officer. According to the true purpose of the WAVES, she freed an officer for fleet duty when she was advanced to the position of disbursing officer. Left to right are: Lieutenant Kerley; Lieut. (j.g.) Lee M. Elliott and Lieut. (j.g.) Josephine R. Garrison of the navigation department; Ens. Arlene C. Zimmerman, assistant disbursing officer; Rachel M. County Democrats Endorse Roosevelt

Name Committee Chairmen, Delegates To Three Conventions

Johnson county Democrats endorsed President Roosevelt for a fourth term and praised his conduct of the war at the county Democratic convention held at the courthouse yesterday. Dr. W. L. Bywater of Iowa City delivered the main address at the meeting where delegates were chosen for three future meetings.

Atty. W. J. Jackson was named as the chairman of the Democratic central committee for the coming year. Other officers named were Mrs. Alyce Husa, vice-chairman; Harry Shulman, treasurer; and Mrs. Chester Clark, secretary. Democratic candidates for office in Johnson county were also introduced. Brief speeches were given by Prof. Clara Daley, Atty. W. R. Hart, and Atty. Will J. Hayek.

The convention selected James A. Meade as the congressional district committeeman for this county and named Charles J. Chansky as a committeeman emeritus. Ingalls Swisher and Edward L. O'Connor, attorneys, were named to the district judicial committee for Johnson county.

Judicial Convention
For the district judicial convention at Marengo July 7, the following delegates were named: Ingalls Swisher, E. L. O'Connor, W. R. Hart, Frank Belger, Jack C. White, Frank Messer, Preston Koser, F. L. Stevens, George Ranshaw, W. J. Jackson, Pauline Kelley, W. F. Murphy, F. B. Olsen, Scott Swisher, Lou Shulman, E. P. Korab, A. O. Leff, and Will J. Hayek.

Thirty-five delegates were named to the Democratic state convention to be held in Des Moines July 29. They were: Leroy S. Mercer, J. J. Swamer, W. R. Hart, W. J. Jackson, Mrs. Bion Hunter, C. J. Shimom, Stanley Beranek, Harry Shulman, Mrs. George W. Martin, Mary Donovan, Frank J. Krall, Joseph Kasper, William W. Prybil, Edward L. O'Connor.

R. P. White, Charles Chansky, Mrs. C. L. Woodburn, Mrs. Russell Green of Lincoln, Neb.

Evelyn Green, instructor in speech correction at Madison, Wis., is also a guest in the Snider home while attending the special four weeks' speech and hearing course at the university.

Return to Cedar Rapids

Versatile Pete— Labrador Retriever

The door of a radio class in the engineering building opened yesterday afternoon to admit a large dog with a glossy black coat. In his mouth he carried a multi-colored purse.

The dog turned, once inside the room, and proffered the bag dutifully to his mistress, Barbara Strub of 221 Fairchild street.

This is Pete, who belongs to a noble canine family, the Labrador retrievers, who had their origin in the frozen north.

Besides retrieving ducks and squirrels for Barbara's father on hunting trips, Pete lives up to his tradition by toting things for Barbara when she goes to classes.

He is somewhat of an oddity in his species, for he has practically no tail. "It wasn't cut," explains Barbara, "it just never grew." Labradors usually have long tails.

In the class, Pete was perfectly impartial in his treatment of the students. He allowed each three wags of his tail and permitted a pat on the head, then settled down at Barbara's feet to listen to the lecture.

After class was over, Pete, seeing a crowd about him, proceeded to demonstrate his talents. He proffered his right paw for a handshake, sat up and begged, and lay down to play "dead dog," freezing into utter stillness.

However, when asked to repeat his tricks, Pete grew coy and sneezed, played dumb, and rolled his yellow-brown eyes pleadingly at his mistress.

Barbara explained that Pete has useful possibilities, telling that her brother, Bud, is trying to train the dog to deliver papers on his paper route.

"He does fine when it comes to putting the papers on doorsteps," she said, "but then he gets carried away with the idea and rushes up and removes them again."

Being a trained retriever, Pete has a "gentle mouth" and does not mark or dampen whatever he carries.

Thomas Farrell, Dr. D. F. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Alyce Husa, Mrs. P. C. Jeans, Mrs. J. A. Stromsten, Mrs. Bessie Probst, Prof. Clara Daley, Mrs. O. E. Sikora, Matt Barry, Vern Nail, Prof. Maude McBroom, James A. Meade, Helen Focht, Dr. Bruce Mahan, Leo Kohl, Bert Campion, Mrs. Fred Wehling and Lumir Jansa.

Attend State Convention
Delegates chosen to the state judicial convention in Des Moines Aug. 5 are Frank Messer, Dr. N. G. Alcock, T. M. Fairchild, O. C. Irvin, James Flannery, Dr. W. L. Bywater, Prof. Paul Olson, Will J. Hayek, Pauline Kelley, Louis Shulman, F. B. Olsen, Lou Quinn.

Representative Martin Reports Convention

Republicans Re-Elect Central Committee; OK National Nominees

The Republican county convention was opened yesterday at the Community building with an address by Rep. Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City. Information direct from the national convention which Martin attended this week was brought to the local delegates.

The delegates endorsed the nominees of the recent national convention. Named as district congressional committeeman was Atty. Herb Ries of Iowa City.

Officer Re-Elected
All officers on the central Republican committee were re-elected. They are: Fred V. Johnson and Mrs. George Hunter, chairmen; Mrs. Edward Murphy, secretary; and Mayor Wilber J. Teeters, treasurer. Atty. Cliff Noan was convention chairman and Mrs. Ida Hunter acted as secretary.

Delegates chosen for the state judicial convention in Des Moines July 26 were: J. A. Swisher, Marion Means, Mrs. Cromwell Jones, Harold Vestermark, Horace Stuck, Fred V. Johnson, A. C. Cahill, Mrs. Rex Dane, C. R. McCall, Kirk Porter, C. R. Aurner, Don Mallett, Marguerite Evans, Mrs. Will Griffith, Charles Morganstern.

Mayor Issues Proclamation Of Holiday

Proclaiming July 3 a holiday in Iowa City, Mayor Wilber J. Teeters yesterday said such a plan would give a double holiday next week.

The proclamation signed by Mayor Teeters, is as follows: "In view of the opportunity for a double 'at home' holiday July 3 and July 4, with a minimum of interruption of business as usual, I hereby proclaim July 3 as a holiday in Iowa City. All city offices will be closed on that date and all city employees will be given the extra day of rest."

In addition to these plans for the approaching holiday, Police Chief Ollie A. White announced yesterday that a special enforcement campaign would be effective in Iowa City during that time.

He asks that every Iowa Citizen drive with courtesy and care this July 4. He emphasized that there have been no traffic fatalities for 1,033 days although, since January 1 of this year, there have been 20 personal injuries from traffic accidents. There have been 69 reports to the police station of property damages.

Missionary Declares World Today Suffers Analytic Paralysis

Education, Religion Should Have Closer Relationship, He Says

By IRIS WILKEN
Daily Iowa Staff Writer
"The world today is suffering from paralysis of analysis," Dr. E. Stanley Jones, world-wide missionary, told his audience during his lecture last night on the west front of Old Capitol.

"We pick the world to pieces and don't know how to put it together again," he said. "Modern man is in search of faith and the place it should be given to him is at the great universities. Education and religion have been separated by law, and they should be separated, but now they are too separate. Lack of religion breaks character, broken character breaks confidence and when confidence breaks, the country breaks."

"I believe we are predestined to be Christians because it is written in the nature of reality," said Dr. Jones. "If we try to get along on some basis other than God's basis, we won't get along at all and our relationships won't work."

Using as his topic, "Is the Christian Way the Way?", Dr. Jones pointed out that in every way there is stamped a way—a way which we don't produce, but discover. We can't be out of harmony with reality and not get hurt.

He stressed the point that religion is within ourselves—the kingdom of God is within our nerves, tissues and blood. Evil is a parasite on good. All evil destroys itself. "I challenge anyone to build a society on absolute evil—it will rot," he declared.

"Perhaps we don't have to pay for what we do wrong today or tomorrow. Neither does God get a paycheck every Saturday night, but everybody pays. The word 'live' is merely the word 'evil' spelled backwards."

From the field of psychology, Dr. Jones selected five factors that disrupt human personality—an empty universe, a self-centered person, an anger and hate, fear and worry and a sense of unresolved guilt—all of which are un-Christian situations.

'Summer Paradise,' Second Summer Party, To Feature 'Angelic' Summer Dresses

Tonight at the "Summer Paradise," second all-university summer party, Iowa coeds and their escorts will dance to the music of Count 11 in the cool air-conditioned lounge of Iowa Union.

Serving on the committee for the dance are Margaret Browning, A3 of Iowa City; Terry Tester, A4 of Iowa City; L. John Wansik, E3 of West Hartford, Conn., and Virginia Jackson, A4 of Marion.

Although the dance is informal, the coeds will be wearing their Saturday-best bracelet.

Charming in chartruse will be Miss Browning, who has selected a dress with a large black and white flower print contrasting with the yellow-green background. The fitted bodice is fashioned with a ruffled V-neckline which cuts diagonally across the front and three-quarter length sleeves. A black calfskin belt trims the waistline of the gathered skirt and she will add black and white accessories.

All-White Ensemble
Jan McTavish, A3 of Estherville, will be looking like an angel at the "Summer Paradise" when she dons her all-white ensemble this evening to go dancing with Lieut. Roger Kessler of Iowa City. Her frock is of white sharkskin with lace insets around the square neckline and short sleeves, and above the hemline of her full skirt. Two white flowers will contrast her black hair, and she will wear black and white spectator pumps.

Green and white is the cool combination chosen by Lucy Remley, A2 of Anamosa. The dress is cleverly trimmed with white embroidery and she adds a bunch of white daisies in her hair and white sandals to complete the effect. Lucy's escort will be navy Cadet Don Mazanc.

Black Sheer Crepe
Looking her smartest in a black sheer crepe ensemble will be Miss Jackson, whose escort is Howard Esterbrook of Arvida, Canada. "Ginny's" dress is designed with a plunging V-neckline and short sleeves. A patch-pocket adds trim to the hipline of her tailored skirt, and for accent she will wear rhinestone earrings, and a matching rhinestone shoulder clip and

Red Cross Administers Flood Relief to Six Johnson County Families

Betty Schmidt, case work supervisor on the national American Red Cross disaster staff was in Iowa City yesterday reviewing the final disaster report for Johnson county which will be submitted to the national office by Mrs. Lorna Mathes, executive secretary.

Thirteen families of flood sufferers in Johnson county registered with the local chapter. Six of the families stated they could recover without Red Cross assistance. Seven families received emergency assistance only.

Following is an account of the relief cost: rescue (rent of boats) $10.00; food, $2.79; household furnishings, $5.00; farm supplies (hay and feed), $47.10.

In addition to the money spent for relief, seeds were given to flood sufferers who were forced to replant their gardens.

This help was given, said Mrs. Mathes, as a part in the policy of the Red Cross to help disaster victims meet their needs when their resources are not sufficient. Disaster relief is based on the needs of the family and not on the extent of loss.

Coralville Board Considers Purchase Of School Property
Purchase of property for a new school is under the consideration of the Coralville district school board, it was announced yesterday. The board hopes to have completed negotiations for the land within a week, but has not yet revealed the prospective site or sites of the new building.

The project of a new school must still be considered a tentative plan, in the opinion of Harold Breece, Coralville mayor. In any event, he said, construction could not begin until after the war.

WAC Recruiter Describes Transport Command Work

WACs assigned to record files duty in the army's transport command have their hands on the very pulse of this gigantic air service which moves men and equipment over vast reaches of land and water according to Lieut. Carmichael of the Air WAC recruiting office. The records in an army transport command base file section are news accounts of the day-to-day progress of hundreds of flights.

The WACs of the army transport command are doing their work with the ability characteristic of American women, said Lieut. Carmichael, who is stationed in Iowa City recruiting for the Air-WACs.

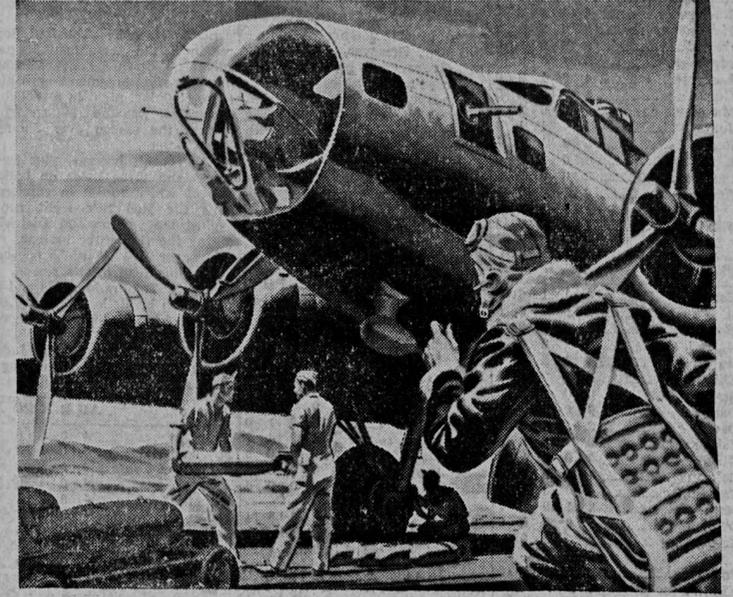

There is opportunity today for WAC enlistees to choose not only the job to which they wish to be assigned, but the branch of service.

HE'S OFF ON HIS FIFTY-FIFTH MISSION

There he goes again—out to pour destruction on the Axis—once more to face the death of enemy fighters and flak!

He won't hesitate to go out on his fifty-sixth or his hundred and fifty-sixth mission. He knows he might not come back, but he keeps on going—giving more and more until the Hitler and Tojo crews are ready to "call it quits."

This is only your fifth mission—and a mission which is mighty easy in comparison with the ones he makes every week. Stay in the fight by welcoming the Victory Volunteers—at least double your Bond purchases and then keep on. Your buying means "bombs away" for the Axis!

Pirates, Giants Divide Doubleheader

Giants Snag 16 Hits In Opener; Fischer Blasted in Nightcap

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants divided a doubleheader yesterday, the Giants winning the first game, 7-5 and the Pirates annexing the second game, 9-8.

Trailing by one run in the ninth inning of the nightcap, the Pirates knocked out Rube Fischer and continued hitting against Ace Adams to score two runs and earn an even split.

The Giants amassed 16 hits to win a free-swinging first game. Harry Feldman, though he needed help from Adams in the ninth, received credit for his seventh victory while Rip Sewell lost his fifth.

Nelson's 65 Sets Pace For Golf Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Tournament golf followed a familiar pattern yesterday as Byron Nelson—putting for birdies on 15 holes and eagles on three—scorched the compact Edgewater course in 32-33-64, six strokes under par, to take the first round lead for the Chicago victory national championship.

"I was hitting my shots just as good as I ever did in my life," said the Toledo pro who has cashed $14,341 in winnings this season.

Bunched at 67, two strokes behind Nelson, were amateur Steve Kovach, 27-year-old Pittsburgh, Pa., steelworker, with a 34-33; Jug McSpaden of Philadelphia, the season's top money earner with $15,100, 33-34, and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., the 1944 Texas open champion, 32-35.

Grouped at 68 were Sam Bernard, Chicago veteran with 34-34; amateur Chuck Kocsis of Detroit, former N. C. A. A. Allist for the University of Michigan, with 34-34; Sgt. E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, Wright Field, Ohio, 33-35, and Lieut. Ben Hogan, Ft. Worth, Tex., 34-34.

Cards Get 13 Hits Off Phils To Win, 8-4

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals batted from toe-holds yesterday, rapping two Philadelphia pitchers for seven doubles out of 13 hits and an 8 to 4 victory.

The slugging brought to an end 20 consecutive innings of play in which the Phillies had held the champions scoreless, and gave the Cardinals one game of their three-game series. It was the first series the Cards have lost in more than a month.

Cubs Sweep Dodger Series

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs made a clean sweep of the three game series with Brooklyn by defeating the Dodgers, 2-0 yesterday.

A home run by Andy Pafko with two out and Bill Nicholson on base in the ninth inning ended the game after Ed Head of Brooklyn and Bill Fleming of Chicago had battled through eight scoreless innings.

Fleming gave up but three hits to register his second triumph of the season. For Head, it was his first loss after four victories. He gave seven hits.

Browns Defeat Yankees 3-0 In Series Final

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Browns defeated the New York Yankees 3-0 in the final of a three game series, to end the Yankees winning streak at six straight, yesterday.

Al Hollingsworth limited the world champions to seven hits and was helped considerably by the Browns' infield, which executed five double plays.

The Browns made but five hits off rookie southpaw Joe Page, but one was a home run by Vern Stephens with one on, in the first inning. Stephens also made other hits, both singles. The home run was the Brownie shortstop's eighth of the season.

The league leaders scored their last run in the fourth, on singles by Stephens and Chet Laabs, an error by George Stirnweiss on Mark Christman's grounder and Mil Byrnes' double play grounder.

The victory, which increased St. Louis' lead over the second place Yankees to three and a half games, was Hollingsworth's fifth straight after two losses. For Page, it was his fifth loss against as many won.

County Buys 84 Percent Of Bond Quota

With a total of $1,738,333, Johnson county residents now have purchased 84 percent of the $2,054,000 Fifth war loan quota.

F. D. Williams, co-chairman of the Johnson county drive, said yesterday, "The percentage of our quota is ahead of most places; however, we have quite a ways to go."

The county increase during the past few days has been slower than usual, totaling only $119,801 since the last calculation. Although the campaign closes July 8 on some bonds it probably will be extended for certain others, according to Williams.

Community total sales in Johnson county are as follows:
Iowa City $1,477,590
Lone Tree 139,332
Solon 64,468
Swisher 51,656
Hills 43,213
Oxford 42,074

In the bond queen contest, Donna Mae Scheetz now is leading with a total of 42,775 votes. Next highest is Jeanne Skvor with 31,800 votes and Bernice Leeney rates third with 31,375.

Other queen contestants are Ann Seanon, Jayne Kupka, Mary Wilkinson, Opal Kennard, Okie Emmert, Helen Zeller, and Kathleen Amish.

Trinity Episcopal Red Cross Group To Work Tuesdays

The Red Cross Group of Trinity Episcopal church will meet in the American Legion building Tuesdays from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. for surgical dressing work. Their regular Tuesday meetings will take place on Thursdays during the summer, from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. in the parish house. Members will continue work on convalescent robes for servicemen, and the usual potluck luncheon will be held at noon.

COMMISSIONED

GEORGE B. GIBSON, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hulme, 529 N. Dubuque street, and husband of Mrs. Betty Gibson, 405 Jefferson avenue, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the army air forces June 27 at the air field in Altus, Okla.

USO Director Speaks At Masonic Luncheon

J. B. Martin, USO director, spoke at a Masonic luncheon yesterday noon on the function of the USO.

The USO is a combination of six organizations, Martin said, the Catholic Community service, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., the Travelers Aid, and the Jewish Welfare. These six were called together by the government in 1941 to form one organization to care for the recreation of all servicemen in this country. All the mistakes in recreation in the last war were remembered, said Martin, and they went to work and built what today we know as "the serviceman's home away from home."

There are 3,000 clubs in this country cared for by 10,000 professional workers with the able of 2,000,000 volunteer workers, stated Martin. Contrary to population opinion,

Post-War Plans To Be Considered At Summer Workshop

The summer workshop on post-war readjustment in secondary education which opens Monday will consider, among other problems, that of the redirection of the curriculum in terms of post-war demands.

Under the direction of Prof. L. A. Van Dyke of the college of education, school administrators and teachers from six states have so far registered for the workshop, which will last until July 21. States represented besides Iowa are Illinois, West Virginia, Missouri, Minnesota and South Dakota.

Participants will attempt to work out a balance between general and vocational education, the place of work experience in the school program, reorganization of social studies, and the place of mathematics, science, geography and physical education in the curriculum.

Other problems which will receive attention at the workshop are the upward extension of the high school, credit for military experience, school and community relationships, organizing a dual education program, post-war youth problems and job placement.

he continued, the USO is not a charity organization and the sooner people realize it the better. Some well-wishing individuals bring books and magazines to the club that are old, torn and dirty. "We can't use these," said Martin, "because all the men are used to up-to-date reading."

Another thing most people do not realize, said Martin, is that every year the men here spend $15,000 in Iowa City.

One thing Iowa City citizens can do to help military morale, concluded Martin, is to invite more of the servicemen to their homes for dinner. Many of these boys are dreadfully homesick most of the time and would appreciate a little Iowa hospitality.

At Pre-Flight School—

Lawyer, Editor Teach Navigation

By ALICE VAN GORDEN

Daily Iowan Service Editor "E.T.A.'s" and "G.P.I.'s" can't fool the petite ex-newspaper editor and the comely woman lawyer who are the first WAVE navigators to report "aboard" at the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school. They'll explain matter-of-factly that the navigation terms mean "established time of arrival" and "geographical point of interception."

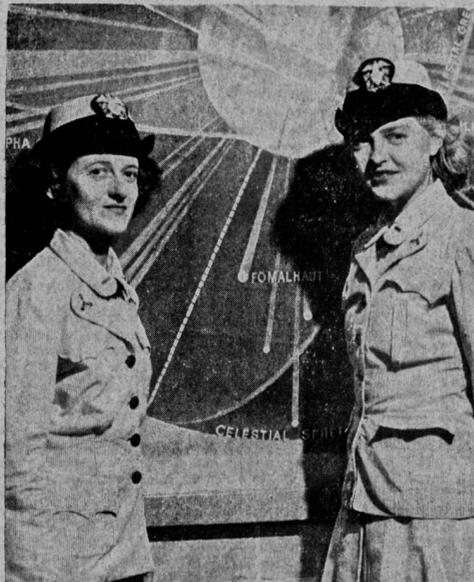

However, to both Lieut. (j.g.) Lee Elliott and Lieut. (j.g.) Josephine Garrison navigation is a new field. Before she entered the service seven months ago, Lieutenant Elliott was editor of three suburban newspapers in San Antonio, Tex. She majored in journalism at the University of Texas and received her master's degree from St. Mary's of Texas in San Antonio. When she was commissioned at Smith college she had no idea she would be assigned to navigation for she had expected public relations work.

First Permanent Duty "I'm enjoying my first permanent duty here at pre-flight now that the toughest part is over," she remarked.

Lieutenant Elliott referred to those months from February through May when the two instructors were attending the navy's navigation school at Hollywood, Fla.

"Actually it was a refresher course, but for us beginners it was something entirely new and different." The class included 11 WAVES, three members of the women's marine corps reserve and 50 men. The lieutenants state with pride that the women outshone the men, although the course is supposed to be the most difficult the navy has to offer.

Attended Classes Little argument can be offered on that score. For two weeks they attended classes from 0800 (8 a.m.) to 1200 (12 M.). The afternoon was devoted to studying with the exception of an air combat intelligence class. At 2230 (10:30 p.m.) they mustered and SOMETHING NEW has been added to the navigation department of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school. The first WAVES navigators to report "aboard" are Lieut. (j.g.) Lee Elliott and Lieut. (j.g.) Josephine R. Garrison. The new instructors will begin regular classroom schedules Monday. Lieutenant Elliott is a former newspaper editor and Lieutenant Garrison is a lawyer.

then drove to the airport where they took off in navy training planes. After four hours of celestial navigation, or "shooting the stars" they returned to the base, usually at 0530 (5:30 a.m.).

"Invariably on the nights we flew we were served wieners and sauerkraut for evening mess," Lieutenant Elliott said with a grimace.

The last five days at navigation school were devoted to examinations, each of which was of four hours duration. Problems, problems, problems—but after successfully working these problems they were qualified to teach what they had learned to future navy fliers. Navigation is an essential part of every pilot's equipment.

All the WAVES in the class were sent to pre-flight schools—the first group to be assigned such duty.

Law Graduate Strictly "4.0" is Lieutenant Garrison who finished law school at National university in Washington, D. C. and was admitted to the District of Columbia bar in November, 1942. The following month she enlisted in the WAVES and began her training at Mt. Holyoke, which is part of the indoctrination school at Smith college.

"Actually I wanted to join the WASP's instead of the WAVES," Lieutenant Garrison said, "however, at that time 200 air hours were required and I had only 55 hours."

So when she joined the WAVES she requested something as closely associated with flying as possible. That "something" is navigation.

Her assignment to pre-flight is not her first navy duty. After she was commissioned an ensign in February, 1943, she served in the bureau of supplies and accounts in the contract adjustment section in Washington, D. C. From a description of her duties, which dealt with the investigation and approval of navy contracts, it would seem her legal training stood her in good stead.

Received Transfer But flying remained her main interest. She was transferred to the planning division of the bureau of aeronautics where she dealt with pilot, aircraft and air station complement which involved the disposition of navy pilots and air bases as well as many other details that make the wheels go around in the navy air corps.

A native of Waltham, Mass., this is her first taste of the mid-west. "I find it very much to my liking," she added.

Since their arrival at pre-flight two weeks ago, the lieutenants have been auditing navigation classes. Monday they will begin a regular class schedule.

"In the dead of winter it will be just our luck to get classes that begin at 0655 (6:55 a.m.)," commented Lieutenant Elliott.

Star Classes In addition to the daytime instructional periods, they will teach "star" classes, the first of which they conducted Thursday evening.

A "star" class includes 30 minutes "briefing" and 15 minutes study of the position of stars, their relative positions and how they can be used in navigation.

Ever since they arrived at pre-flight, the WAVE officers have been busy working out "gouges"

Asks Divorce

Ruby Maresh yesterday filed a petition of divorce in the district court from Lloyd J. Maresh, charging cruel and inhuman treatment. Jack White is her attorney.

The two were married March 31, 1944 in Rock Island, Ill., and separated June 1.

which are the problems, quizzes and drills for cadets.

"It's almost like being a school teacher," Lieutenant Garrison commented.

As far as the navigators are concerned, their main purpose in joining the service has been fulfilled. As Lieutenant Elliott said, "Sure enough, we came here and released two men for fleet duty."

They Write Front Line History!

Associated Press war correspondents landed with the first waves of Allied troops invading France. By land, sea and air they are reporting the greatest news story of our times for this newspaper. The Associated Press invasion staff is the No. 1 corps of American-trained newsmen abroad. A few of them—on the job—are shown here.

John Maroso, cited for his heroism under fire, boards a ship in the invasion armada.

Robert Bunnello, chief of The AP's London bureau who directs a staff of nearly 150 persons.

Henry Jameson, first correspondent casualty of the invasion, coming aboard a cruiser after his injury.

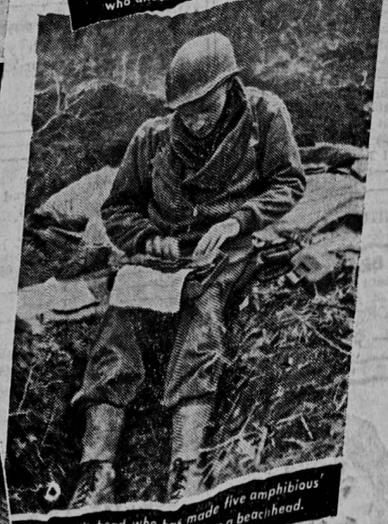

Columnist Hal Boyle goes to work on the invasion after reporting the war in Africa and Italy.

Dan Whitehead, who has made five amphibious landings in this war, writes on a beachhead.
