

THE DAILY IOWAN

Published every morning except Monday by Student Publications Incorporated at 126-130 Iowa avenue, Iowa City, Iowa.

Board of Trustees: Wilbur L. Schramm, A. Craig Baird, Kirk H. Porter, Paul E. Olson, Jack Moyers, Jeanne Franklin, Sarah Bailey, Donald Otille, Charles Swisher.

Fred M. Pownall, Publisher
Marilyn Carpenter, Adv. Mgr.
Dorothy Klein, Editor

Entered as second class mail matter at the postoffice at Iowa City, Iowa, under the act of congress of March 2, 1879.

Subscription rates—By mail $5 per year; by carrier, 15 cents weekly, $5 per year.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

TELEPHONES
Editorial Office4192
Society Office4193
Business Office4191

FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1944

The Post-War Planning Committees—

Now that the end of the European war appears to be rapidly approaching, post-war planning is proceeding in this country with even more vigor and vitality than in the dark days of the past.

Statesmen are working day and night so that the world of the future will be a better place to live in, from a political standpoint. Scientists are slaving away in their laboratories in order to provide us with comforts and conveniences beyond our wildest imagination. Indeed, almost everyone is able to find an angle is working on the post-war aspect of it.

So, we thought that since every club, association or individual is hard bent to do something worthwhile for this "brave new world of the future," maybe we ought to put in our oar and join the fun. As a matter of fact, there are several things we think could be done to increase the joy of living in the post-war era.

To begin with, we sincerely hope that some enterprising soul remembers to invent a device that will automatically shut the windows of our post-war homes when it begins to rain. Here indeed would be a real boon to mankind.

How many times have you departed from your domicile with clouds gathering fast in the skies. Again and again you were faced with that age-old problem of whether to leave the windows up or down. And, almost invariably if you left them up, the rain poured in like a flood, and if you shut them tight, then the clouds vanished. Certainly no post-war world can really be called complete without some device to solve this problem.

Probably the greatest boon for students of the future would be the creation of a "memory cap." What we have in mind is simply a small knit cap that could be worn by post war students on special occasions.

When worn, the student would be given the handy faculty of memorizing entire pages from text books. Of course, the facts and figures would not long remain in the possession of the student, but for, say 48 hours, long enough for him to rush down to an examination hall and spout forth richly for his professor.

Who can say that such a device would not go a long way to increase the pleasure of living in the post-war world?

Other things that appear to be more or less essential to happy existence in the future are (1) an automobile that stops automatically when it gets within two feet of a solid object, (2) an alarm clock that not only wakes of the sleeper but gets him out of bed and into a cold shower, and (3) a generous bonus for all post-war planners.

Dewey Discusses Plans—

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey assailed yesterday what he said is a recently-developed concept that the executive branch of the federal government is "above the people" and pledged his efforts to "bring the people closer to the practice of self-government."

"That we shall succeed in restoring government that is close to the people I have no doubt," the Republican presidential candidate declared in an address to the Empire State State, a government training conference held annually for New York's high school girls.

The speech topped off a busy day with state affairs for Dewey, in the course of which he declined to receive a large delegation which came to Albany to urge that he approve use of the federal war ballot in New York.

Paul E. Lockwood, the governor's secretary, informed the delegation by telegram, prior to its arrival, that state machinery for soldier voting is "functioning well" and "no purpose would be served" by the proposed conference.

Dewey told the 250 delegates to the Girls' State conference that one tendency in public life has worked recently to separate government from the people "has been the development in Washington of a concept that the executive department of the federal government is apart from and superior to the other branches of government and is above the people."

"One of the big tasks of the next few years," the presidential nominee continued, "will be to bring government closer to the people and to bring the people closer to the practice of self-government."

Dewey said the growth and complexity of all government, "especially the federal," is in part a natural outcome of the increased demands the people have been making on government.

"Now we cannot go backwards," he said. "Many of these comparatively new functions of government are highly important and are here to stay, but we must be on our guard to see to it that government does not become so big and so complicated that it is in danger of losing touch with the people."

The delegation seeking Dewey's approval of the federal ballot, claimed by its leaders to number more than 700 from throughout the state, was headed by Moss Hart, New York City playwright and chairman of the non-partisan committee for the servicemen's vote.

Under the federal war ballot law, the governor must certify the short-term federal ballot is usable in New York before it can be substituted by service voters for the state ballot which lists all national, state and local officers. The federal ballot permits voting only for presidential electors and members of congress.

Dewey indicated before enactment of the federal law that some of its provisions conflicted with the New York state constitution, particularly those for a curtailed ballot and its use by people not actually in the armed services. The state constitution, a Dewey aide explained yesterday, requires personal registration of Red Cross members, merchant seamen and others allowed to use the federal ballot.

Upon arrival in Albany, the delegation, wearing arm bands and carrying placards, held a demonstration meeting at a hotel near the capitol. Addressing the meeting, James P. Warburg, former overseas director for the OWI, cited Lockwood's phrase that a conference with Dewey would "serve no useful purpose" and commented:

"It reminds me of Herbert Hoover at the time of the bonus march."

1,329 Polio Cases Reported by July 8

By the Associated Press
Infantile Paralysis cases in the United States total about the same as last year at this time, but the locale of the principal outbreaks of the disease has changed, the United States public health service reported yesterday.

In 1943, the service said in Washington, 1329 cases had been reported through July 8, while through the same date this year, the Poliomyelitis cases totaled 1334.

But while the disease centered in the first half of 1943 in Texas, California and Oklahoma, it has predominated this year in the south and middle Atlantic and the east south central states, the health service said.

The best method of avoiding infection in areas where the disease is epidemic, the service added, is to avoid unnecessary contacts such as crowds; beware of too strenuous exercise and overheating.

North Carolina was the state hardest hit in the current outbreak with 281 cases reported by the state health board since the beginning of June. Emergency hospital centers have been set up, with more than 100 volunteer Red Cross nurses helping care for the victims.

Allies Lose 15 Ships In Invasion of France

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Of the several thousand ships that took part in the June 6 invasion of Normandy, 15 were lost, it was announced Thursday—seven American and eight British.

Vice-Presidency Row May Enliven Chicago Convention

WASHINGTON—The Democratic national convention will be really exciting. There's going to be a big row over the vice-presidential nominee.

You hear this said almost verbatim in every group that gathers in the capital nowadays to talk about the next big goings-on in Chicago.

"Of course, President Roosevelt will try to make the convention nominate Henry Wallace a second time. . . . But the southern Democrats are up in arms. . . . And Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones means to keep his administration enemy, Wallace, out of the candidacy come what may.

Commerce Chief Foe "Uncle Jesse is not going to the convention. He will stay behind in Washington surrounded by even more long distance phones than usual and tell the southern boys and girls how to keep Henry out! That vice-presidency row will be a swell show. . . ."

And so the talk goes. Yet another possibility of excitement is added to the convention forecasts.

Who have the Democrats got to do a Clare Luce for them? The Democrats will just naturally have to have SOMEBODY to rival the Lady from Connecticut. For whether you liked her speech or not Mrs. Luce did supply the drama of the Republican convention. She was the theater of the meeting.

Will Helen Gahagan, Congressional candidate from California, be put on the speaker's rostrum to sway the delegates, to make them weep or rage while she uses her gifts as an actress in the Luce manner? Possibly so. Miss Gahagan (or Mrs. Melvyn Douglas, if you prefer) may be asked to turn the tide for Mr. Wallace. Miss Gahagan will be completely Rooseveltian in her convention behavior.

Or the wife of the president may descend upon the stadium as she did once before. What a superb Mrs. Roosevelt did then! She calmed the delegates who didn't want Henry Wallace.

I have been critical sometimes of Mrs. Roosevelt's activities. Not because I thought she did not have the right to do what she pleases as a woman, but because I have never thought it would be to differentiate between Eleanor Roosevelt, the individual, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president of the United States. Yet I cannot forget how clever and effective the composite woman was at the last Democratic convention. She had those seething delegates smoothed down into submission a few minutes after she began, with "Mr. Chairman and members of the convention."

Looking Back
Looking back on the vice-presidents of yesterday, it appears that about all the vice-presidents can be anyhow is slightly humorous one way or another. Jack Garner was a popular vice-president. He gave the role a certain dash. But he is best remembered by his nickname of "Cactus Jack," the devotion of his wife, "Miss Ettie," the whang of his gavel and the sharpness of his poker game.

Woodrow Wilson's vice-president—Thomas Marshall—was also an able and honorable fellow. But those people who recall his name remember him best for his famous remark, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar." Being vice-president is a rocky tour of duty generally and dull and unrewarding.

It is desperately important, however, that earnest prayer and study be put upon the character of the man chosen to run second on a presidential ticket. Six times a vice-president has been called upon to fill a vacancy in the presidency left by the death of the president. The office of vice-president is therefore one of great potential importance. In selecting a vice-president we ought to be almost as careful as when we select a president.

It is so obvious it hardly seems worth while to say it—but it is worth while—a party convention when nominating a candidate for the vice-presidency should keep in mind the interests of the country as well as the interests of the party and refuse to name as candidate for the vice-presidency any man who would not be likely to acquit himself well in the presidential chair.

Yet the joker in this lovely plan is this—few presidential candidates want as a running mate any man who is likely to be a rival in brains, influence and showmanship. The chief wants to steal the show, always!

Dual-Control Warriors--

WITH THE AEF ON CORSICA, June 29 (Delayed) (AP)—One of the main jobs of a bomber copilot is to be ready to take over the controls if the pilot gets hit.

But what happens if the copilot also gets hit?
Sometimes, as the boys in this Corsica based B-25 outfit can testify, the two wounded men theoretically merge the uninjured parts of their bodies into one pilot and manage to fly back.

There's the now famous case of Lieutenants Charles D. (Gat) Ross and Otis Little. Gat was a Mitchell first pilot who hails from Montrose, Colo., and Otis is a copilot who comes from Mizo, Miss.

It was strictly a synchronization special.
They were just over the target south of Bologna the first of the war and the flak was thick

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

Only a Sliver North of Polotsk Remains In Enemy Hands Now

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press
The greatest salvo yet from the victory guns of Moscow is impending.

It will sound the retreat of the last German soldier from Russian soil proper from the Baltic to the Black sea except for Nazi dead left behind in their countless thousands and war prisoners in Russian hands. That Premier Stalin will signal fitting salute to that historic moment cannot be doubted.

Of all the vast territory in Russia over which the invader trampled to invest Leningrad, reach the gates of Moscow, enter but never take Stalingrad and lunge deep into the Caucasus, there remained in enemy hands only a sliver north of Polotsk and south of Pskov as this was written. It could be computed in square feet rather than square miles, and a new onset of the expanding Red army tidal wave may have purged it of the last Nazi sniper before this reaches print.

Nazi flight from that last foothold in pre-war Russia broadly confirms expectation of a line-shortening general German retreat in the east that may soon free also most of the Baltic states. There seems no other German escape from the plight into which the mighty Russian summer offensive north of the Pripiet marshes has thrown the tottering enemy. His failure to extricate his armies in Estonia, Latvia and northeastern Lithuania before it is too late could mean a crushing military disaster.

For 200 miles southwest of the new Russian break-through front to within arms length of the old Russian-Latvian border line, other Red columns are dangerously close to cutting the last rail link southward to Germany for Nazi troops north of the Nemanas river, the Berlin-Instenberg-Kaunas-Riga line.

The Russians do not need to capture Kaunas to achieve that purpose. The line runs northeast from Kaunas to Jonava near the confluence of the Neris and the Sventoji where they join to flow southward into the Nemanas at Kaunas. The Jonava river crossings of the railroad are vital to its use as an escape route from the Baltic states, and by every sign they are already within sound of Russian guns.

Presumably it is that critical line as well as the interests of the party and refuse to name as candidate for the vice-presidency any man who would not be likely to acquit himself well in the presidential chair.

Yet the joker in this lovely plan is this—few presidential candidates want as a running mate any man who is likely to be a rival in brains, influence and showmanship. The chief wants to steal the show, always!

It is so obvious it hardly seems worth while to say it—but it is worth while—a party convention when nominating a candidate for the vice-presidency should keep in mind the interests of the country as well as the interests of the party and refuse to name as candidate for the vice-presidency any man who would not be likely to acquit himself well in the presidential chair.

Yet the joker in this lovely plan is this—few presidential candidates want as a running mate any man who is likely to be a rival in brains, influence and showmanship. The chief wants to steal the show, always!

It is so obvious it hardly seems worth while to say it—but it is worth while—a party convention when nominating a candidate for the vice-presidency should keep in mind the interests of the country as well as the interests of the party and refuse to name as candidate for the vice-presidency any man who would not be likely to acquit himself well in the presidential chair.

Yet the joker in this lovely plan is this—few presidential candidates want as a running mate any man who is likely to be a rival in brains, influence and showmanship. The chief wants to steal the show, always!

It is so obvious it hardly seems worth while to say it—but it is worth while—a party convention when nominating a candidate for the vice-presidency should keep in mind the interests of the country as well as the interests of the party and refuse to name as candidate for the vice-presidency any man who would not be likely to acquit himself well in the presidential chair.

Back at Desk

At 8 a. m., July 10, he was back at his desk reading an important message from General Montgomery during the night. Then he went to his personal caravan for bacon, eggs, toast, orange juice and coffee.

Dictating for an hour and a half after breakfast, he sent a reply to Montgomery and various memoranda to allied officers. Next he sent for his personal aide, Comdr. Harry Butcher, to ask information on specific parts of the Normandy action.

Four reporters stationed here as representatives of the Combined British and American press were received by Eisenhower at 11 a. m. He came out hatless to meet us, led us into his tent, and told us to grab chairs.

The general talked an hour and a half, leisurely and quietly discussing the present situation, future outlook and flying bombs.

He smoked most of the time and hitched himself about comfortably in his chair. His language is a mixture of Kansas and the army. He says "enaway" for "anyway." His "cusswords" are frequent, flumm and casual.

He asked us how we were getting along and if we had enough to do. The general listened with apparent interest to a long recitation of our problems and offered some suggestions.

Eisenhower's chief of staff, Lieut. Gen. W. B. Smith, arrived at 1 p. m., with the earl of Halifax, British ambassador at Washington, who was a luncheon guest.

After luncheon the supreme commander held a telephone conference with Air Chief Marshal Trafford Leigh-Mallory, allied air commander.

Reads Brief
Next the general read the briefs on a number of court martial cases, referred to him for final action. On these cases Eisenhower functions as a court of last resort.

During the afternoon more dispatches and some personal mail arrived. There was a letter from the general's brother, President Milton Eisenhower of Kansas college of agriculture and mechanical arts, and a note from the earl of Halifax thanking him for the aid American soldiers have rendered London victims of the flying bombs.

Another long dictation session began at 5 p. m. That finished, the general jumped into his long tan car and drove to naval headquarters.

Clothing Workers of America, announced the committee personnel and plans at a news conference at which he left little doubt that the committee's theme and target would be "Hooverism." He emphasized that "there is no question in our mind" that Governor Dewey, the Republican nominee, is "the spokesman for Hoover." He criticized the Republicans for not inviting Wendell Willkie to speak at the recent convention and said "They are not only going back on the 1940 platform but on the 1936 platform."

No Such Thing As 'Typical Day' For Eisenhower

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
Representing the Combined American Press

ALLIED ADVANCE COMMAND POST (AP)—There's no such thing as a "typical" day in the life of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the allied forces. He is likely to be in any one of a dozen different places—talking to G. I. Joe one day, Prime Minister Churchill the next.

He probably spends as much time at this post as anywhere. Let's follow General Eisenhower through a day spent here recently—July 10.

To get a running start, let's begin with the previous night. The general remained in his office until just before midnight, reading reports of the allied progress toward Caen. Finally, when word of the capture of the city came, he nodded satisfaction and went to bed.

At 8 a. m., July 10, he was back at his desk reading an important message from General Montgomery during the night. Then he went to his personal caravan for bacon, eggs, toast, orange juice and coffee.

Dictating for an hour and a half after breakfast, he sent a reply to Montgomery and various memoranda to allied officers. Next he sent for his personal aide, Comdr. Harry Butcher, to ask information on specific parts of the Normandy action.

Four reporters stationed here as representatives of the Combined British and American press were received by Eisenhower at 11 a. m. He came out hatless to meet us, led us into his tent, and told us to grab chairs.

The general talked an hour and a half, leisurely and quietly discussing the present situation, future outlook and flying bombs.

He smoked most of the time and hitched himself about comfortably in his chair. His language is a mixture of Kansas and the army. He says "enaway" for "anyway." His "cusswords" are frequent, flumm and casual.

He asked us how we were getting along and if we had enough to do. The general listened with apparent interest to a long recitation of our problems and offered some suggestions.

Eisenhower's chief of staff, Lieut. Gen. W. B. Smith, arrived at 1 p. m., with the earl of Halifax, British ambassador at Washington, who was a luncheon guest.

After luncheon the supreme commander held a telephone conference with Air Chief Marshal Trafford Leigh-Mallory, allied air commander.

Reads Brief
Next the general read the briefs on a number of court martial cases, referred to him for final action. On these cases Eisenhower functions as a court of last resort.

During the afternoon more dispatches and some personal mail arrived. There was a letter from the general's brother, President Milton Eisenhower of Kansas college of agriculture and mechanical arts, and a note from the earl of Halifax thanking him for the aid American soldiers have rendered London victims of the flying bombs.

Another long dictation session began at 5 p. m. That finished, the general jumped into his long tan car and drove to naval headquarters.

Clothing Workers of America, announced the committee personnel and plans at a news conference at which he left little doubt that the committee's theme and target would be "Hooverism." He emphasized that "there is no question in our mind" that Governor Dewey, the Republican nominee, is "the spokesman for Hoover." He criticized the Republicans for not inviting Wendell Willkie to speak at the recent convention and said "They are not only going back on the 1940 platform but on the 1936 platform."

By KENNETH DIXON

OFFICIAL DAILY BULLETIN

Items in the UNIVERSITY CALENDAR are scheduled in the President's Office, Old Capitol. Items for the GENERAL NOTICES are deposited with the campus editor of The Daily Iowan or may be placed in the box provided for their deposit in the office of The Daily Iowan. GENERAL NOTICES must be at The Daily Iowan by 4:30 p. m. the day preceding first publication; notices will NOT be accepted by telephone, and must be TYPED OR LEGIBLY WRITTEN and signed by a responsible person.

Vol. XXI, No. 1903
Friday, July 14, 1944

UNIVERSITY CALENDAR

Friday, July 14
9 a. m. Speech conference, senate chamber, Old Capitol
4 p. m. Conference on speech and hearing rehabilitation, senate chamber, Old Capitol
8 p. m. University play: "Pygmalion," University theater.
Tuesday, July 18
2 p. m. Bridge (partner), University club.
Wednesday, July 19
3 p. m. Panel forum: "Long-Time Planning in Physical Education," by August Pritzlaff, senate chamber, Old Capitol.
Friday, July 21
4 p. m. Conference on speech and hearing rehabilitation, senate chamber, Old Capitol.
Saturday, July 22
10 a. m. Conference on speech and hearing rehabilitation, senate chamber, Old Capitol.
7:30 p. m. Play night, Women's gymnasium.
7:30 p. m. Play night, Women's gymnasium.
8 p. m. University play: "Pygmalion," University theater.

(For information regarding dates beyond this schedule, see reservations in the office of the President, Old Capitol.)

GENERAL NOTICES

IOWA UNION
MUSIC ROOM SCHEDULE
Friday—11 to 3 and 4 to 8.
Saturday—11 to 3.
Sunday—11 to 6 and 7 to 8.

MOTION PICTURES
A series of sound motion pictures on the operation and maintenance of office machines will be shown each Tuesday during the summer session at 1 p. m. in studio C-1, East hall.
July 18 Machine Transcription—Machine Operation
Machine Transcription Technique
July 25 Simplifying Work in the Office (silent)
GEORGE M. HITTNER

SWIMMING POOL
The swimming pool at the fieldhouse will be open for civilian students from 6:30 until 9 p. m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. Students must present identification card to attendant in locker room for assignment of lockers any day before 5:30 p. m. This will give them a locker and towel and use of fieldhouse and swimming pool.
E. G. SCHROEDER

TERMI GRADES
Grades for courses which began April 24 and closed June 9 are available in the office of the registrar to students in the colleges of liberal arts, commerce, education and the graduate college upon presentation of their certificate of registration.
HARRY G. BARNES
Registrar

RECREATIONAL SWIMMING
Recreational swimming periods at the Women's gymnasium are Mondays through Fridays from 4 until 6 p. m. and Saturdays from 10 a. m. until 12 M. These times are open to all women students, faculty members, faculty wives, wives of graduate students and members of the administrative staff. Students present identification cards to the matron. All others pay the fee at the business office.
HARRY G. BARNES
Registrar

FINKBINE GOLF COURSE
Due to cooperation of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school executives, all of the first nine holes of Finkbine golf course will be available for play Saturdays and Sundays. Players are requested not to use holes 4, 5, 6 and 7 any other day of the week.
C. KENNETT
Golf Instructor

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES
All students who expect to receive a degree or certificate at the Aug. 4 Convocation should make formal application immediately in the office of the registrar, University hall.
HARRY G. BARNES
Registrar

IOWA MOUNTAINEERS
There will be a hike Sunday afternoon, July 16. Members meet at the interurban station on College street for the 4 p. m. interurban to Oakdale (fare 10 cents). The route of the hike will be above Clear creek. Bring lunch and wear old shoes suitable for wading. Leaders are Mary Tremaine and the Rev. Evans Worthley.
NORMAN C. MEIER

SUMMER SESSION LECTURE
Dr. Walter H. Judd of Minneapolis, United States Congressman, will be the fifth and concluding Friday evening lecturer and Saturday morning round table leader of the summer session. Friday, July 14, at 8:15 p. m. he will speak on the west approach to Old Capitol (in Macbride auditorium, if the weather is unfavorable), and Saturday, July 15, at 9 a. m. in Old Capitol he will conduct a round table. The university public is invited.
M. WILLARD LAMPE
Chairman, Summer Session Lectures

LIBRARY HOURS
All university libraries will close from 11 to 12 o'clock Friday, July 14, for the convocation in memory of the late President Emeritus Walter A. Jessup.
R. E. ELLSWORTH
Director of Libraries

Veteran Yank Troops
Ready to Go Again
LONDON (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson talked yesterday with a group of American troops who had undergone 30 days of bitter fighting in France, and they told him "We're ready to go again."

Touring marshalling areas in southern England, Stimson arrived at one port just as a battered landing ship commanded by Lieut. E. R. Buck Jr., nosed up to the dock with a load of soldiers. Stimson, driven aboard the craft in a jeep, told the men they certainly had a rest coming after their part in clearing the Cherbourg peninsula of Germans.

14, 1944
N
the Pres-TICES are or may be ces of the Iowan by in NOT be WRITTEN
14, 1944
Women's
y: "Pyg-
ster.
er), Uni-
19
"Long-Educacsenate
n speech
n, senate
2 n speech
n, senate
Women's (see
)
G
ding ex-
Friday,
a. m. in
ion not
July 26,
on bul-
not 307,
ment of guages
SS
Following the sym-
s' goma-ical Fitudies in
Prof. M.
ESHER
ES
ion will
Friday,
emory of alter A.
and ad-
close be-
GBEE
ations
e spon-
y's rec-
Saturday,
of Iowa,
m. The direction
l. Rufus and Mr.
time ace, piano
it-heeled
d for a Women's
open for
ONES
ERS
Sunday
ers meet on Col-
0 cents).
will be g lunch able for lbury Tre-
Worth-
MEIER
N Minne-ressman, cluding
and Sat-
le leader
Friday,
ill speak
ld Capi-rium, if le), and
a. m. in nduct a y public
AMPE
ession ctures
es will Friday,
ation in resident p.
ORTH
araries etary of esterday
n troops days of
and they o again.
areas in arrived attered
y Lieut.
s. Stimraft in ertain-er their

Peace Officers Stress Parent Responsibility

Urge Cooperation Of Public in Drive Against Delinquency

The real delinquency rests among parents when juvenile delinquency is discussed as "sweeping the country" was the consensus among the four peace officers participating in the juvenile delinquency panel yesterday morning in the second such forum under the leadership of W. W. Keenan, special FBI agent from Omaha.

"Catch the pulse of your own state," the chairman urged, "for delinquency has increased by localities." He suggested that in the panel the problems of different communities would tend to enlighten the delinquency problem in general.

Speaking in behalf of Dubuque was Chief Joe Strub who told of juvenile problems there. "There are no new problems," he said, "but the same old ones keep officers on the alert."

Following the chief's discussion Keenan urged that the public cooperate in the drive against juvenile delinquency which affects the entire community. "Law enforcement must be the spearhead in order to reduce delinquency throughout the country."

Speaking for his jurisdiction in Cedar Rapids, Captain Carsens told of the juvenile bureau set up there where all cases are tried in private. He stated that the number of delinquents has been reduced yearly since this bureau was inaugurated.

Captain Carsens pointed out that not the children but the parents have "fallen down on the job" and in rehabilitation programs it is the delinquent parent to whom the rehabilitation should be applied.

In the juvenile court system a confidential record is kept of each case and in the five year period of court activity only two boys have gone from Eldora to Anamosa, the logical follow-up for boys' cases. He urged that police use a form of therapy and encouraged that the youngsters be respected in order that they regain self-confidence which is all important in conquering the problems arising.

Cedar Rapids has a curfew law of 9 p. m. and upon violation of this law it is the parents who are punished, not the child.

The fourth panel member, County Attorney Stafford of Chariton spoke of the situation in his rural community and emphasized the inevitability of delinquency in poor environment.

"There is no such thing as a juvenile criminal," he declared. "We should attack in Iowa by looking to our own errors first."

Legion Auxiliary To Hold Special Meeting Today

A special meeting of the Legion auxiliary will take place in the club rooms of the Community building today from 10 until 4 o'clock. Members will sew carpet bags for the veterans' hospital at Knoxville and do mending for the local navy ward.

Eagle Ladies
Eagle Ladies will hold their regular business meeting Monday at 8 p. m. in the Eagle hall. The business meeting will be followed by a social hour in charge of Mrs. Larry Lechty.

Post Office Clerks' Auxiliary
Mrs. Jessie A. Seger, 310 N. Gilbert street, will entertain members of the Post Office Clerks' auxiliary at a breakfast Tuesday at 9:30 a. m., after which an installation of officers will take place.

Those to be instated are Mrs. Arthur Parizek, president; Mrs. Ellis Crawford, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Strub, secretary, and Mrs. George Yanda, treasurer. All members who are unable to attend are asked to call Mrs. Arthur Hotz (4690).

Women's Benefit Association
The Women's Benefit association will hold a meeting for members and their families at the home of Mrs. Mattie J. Armstrong, 310 N. Gilbert street, Tuesday at 6

Now She Shops "Cash and Carry"

Without Painful Backache
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. They give heavy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Jeanne Stepanek, Pfc. Thomas Pratt Wed In Methodist Ceremony in Cedar Rapids

Before an altar banked with three-branch candelabra and white flowers, Jeanne Stepanek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stepanek of Cedar Rapids, became the bride of Pfc. Thomas Stepanek Jr., brother of the bride, ushered.

White Crepe Frock
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white crepe street length-dress, designed with a high round neckline and short sleeves edged in narrow ruffling, and a white Juliet cap accented with rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a bracelet, gift of the bridegroom and she had an orchid corsage.

The maid of honor chose a yellow silk street length dress fashioned like that of the brides and wore yellow flowers in her hair. Miss Gerber selected a frock of similar design fashioned in pink silk and wore pink flowers in her hair. Each had a corsage of white carnations and corn flowers.

Both mothers were attired in blue ensembles with white accessories and gardenia corsages.

Reception at Church
After the ceremony a reception took place in the church parlors. Roses decorated the serving table, which was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. Later a dinner was served at the Roosevelt hotel for members of the bridal party.

The couple then left for a wedding trip to Clear Lake, and for her going-away costume the bride chose a powder blue dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Pratt, a graduate of Wilson high school in Cedar Rapids, attended Coe college in Cedar Rapids, where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority.

Private Pratt also attended Coe college and Yale University at New Haven, Conn. At present he is stationed in the college of medicine here under the A. S. T. P., where he is affiliated with Alpha Kappa Kappa, medical fraternity. The couple are residing in apartment 4A, Summit apartments, Summit street.

Second Round Table
A second round table will be held at 2:30 with Prof. Arnold S. Gillette of the speech and dramatic art departments leading. Harold Crain of the Syracuse university theater will discuss "The Organization of the Buffalo Little Theater;" Prof. Waunita Shaw of Drake university will discuss "Therapeutic Values of Dramatic Activities at St. Elizabeth hospital in Des Moines."

A lighting demonstration by Prof. Hunton D. Sellman of the dramatic art department will present a "Discussion and Demonstration of Homemade Lighting Equipment" and Elizabeth Mitchell of Western Canada high school at Calgary will use "Some Programs in Education Dramatics," as her topic for discussion.

Presiding at the 4 o'clock lecture today will be Prof. Charles R. Strother of the speech and psychology department who will introduce Prof. Raymond Carhart of Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill., speaking in Old Capitol on "Needs for Speech and Hearing Research as Indicated by War Experience."

Featured tonight in connection with the conference on speech and dramatic arts is the presentation of the George Bernard Shaw production, "Pygmalion," performed at 8 o'clock in the dramatic arts building.

Lecturer Sees Post-War Traffic Jam

"The American public has gone victory-wacky!" charged Paul Jones, director of public information of the Chicago National Safety council, addressing the Thursday evening session of the peace officers' short course in Iowa City.

"There were 9,400 traffic fatalities on our highways in the first five months of this year, a 1,000 death increase over last year's comparable period. The public, confident of certain victory, has 'teased up' on obeying traffic restrictions, and as a result will be faced with the worst post-war traffic jam ever seen."

Outlining the factors influencing this post-war traffic tie-up Jones cited as the major factors the large number of returning servicemen taught by battle to disregard danger.

"When you get a man used to driving a jeep, and cross him with a reckless tank driver, what could you expect to happen?" Jones demanded.

"Couple that with civilians forced by war to get along on a thimble-full of gas, civilians anxious to get out and do a little speeding, civilians who haven't been driving fast for years, and your traffic fatalities will boom."

As other causes contributing to the predicted post-war jam, Jones mentioned the nation's cars and tires, all in worn-out condition after years without repair and replacement, depleted police and enforcement staffs, lack of proper traffic engineering brought on by the war, and the neglected conditions of the highways.

Charging the officers present with their extreme responsibility in the matter, Jones made a plea for police forces to be reinforced as soon as possible with returning servicemen, many of whom served as peace officers before the war.

He cited as a possible solution a plan set forth by 40 national organizations for post-war traffic safety. The plan included increased enforcement staff, proper traffic engineering, better highways and a thorough program in safety education for the entire public.

A child a few minutes after birth will blink his eyelids when confronted with a light, but for more than week he is unable to control his eyes so as to follow a light moved before him.

118-124 South Clinton Street Phone 9607
STRUB-WAREHAM
Completely Air-Conditioned
JOYRIDE
by La Cross $1 plus tax
It's the fashion to make fingertips look pleasant, please! And this flower-strewn colorful chart will do the trick in a trice. Holds famous La Cross color-perfect nail polish (any shade), a double bottle of ever-so-gentle Glycerated polish remover, and cuticle sticks. And the round, flowered wheels of the cart really turn!
STRUB'S—First Floor
IOWA CITY'S DEPARTMENT STORE

Speech Panel Postponed

The regional conference on speech and dramatic arts opening today and lasting through tomorrow morning is held in cooperation with the conference series on speech and hearing rehabilitation for this afternoon's part of the program.

In order not to conflict with the convocation being held at 11 o'clock this morning the morning panel scheduled for 10:30 will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the house chamber of Old Capitol. Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department will preside with a round table discussion on the general speech curriculum. "Speech Education as Preparation for Work in National Service Organizations" will be considered by Dorothy Anderson of the American Red Cross.

Opens at 9:15
The program today will open at 9:15 in the senate chamber where Prof. Franklin H. Knower of the speech department will preside. Prof. James M. O'Neill of Brooklyn college will speak first, on "Speech in the Post-War Curriculum."

This afternoon at 1:30 B. Iden Payne, visiting lecturer in dramatic arts from the Shakespeare Stratford-on-Avon Memorial theater, will speak on "Contributions of the Study of Dramatic Art to a Liberal Education." Prof. E. C. Mable, head of the dramatic arts department, will preside.

Italy Not Sunny
"I'd like to meet the fellow who thought up the 'sunny Italy' slogan," Sergeant Griffith remarked. "It rained so much I thought my feet were getting webbed."

Fox holes which served as homes for so many months offered little protection from the downpours.

"Wherever we stopped we dug a hole and hoped it wouldn't rain. It usually did," he added.

He was a member of the first outfit to land in Sicily where he was greeted by a toothless old woman of 90 who threw her arms around the young American and kissed him.

But when he landed in Anzio he found no such warm response. Black shirted fascists who predominated among the residents did not consider the Yanks as conquering saviors.

"When they got hungry they changed their tune," he commented.

American Soldiers in Italy Forget Luxuries Of Home to Complete 'Unfinished Job'

By ALICE VAN GORDEN Daily Iowan Service Editor

There are 15 minutes in the life of Sergt. Harold Griffith he will never forget.

They are part of the day when American troops were crawling inch by inch over Sicilian soil battling the Nazis to gain possession of the island. An enemy tank was holding up the allied advance. Although mortar and machine gun fire poured on him from every direction, he stuck to his 105 mm. Howitzer, knocked out the tank and thereby added the silver star to his collection of campaign ribbons and combat medals.

Unfinished Job

Shrapnel wounds, jaundice and malaria, mud to his knees and sometimes to his waist—Sergeant Griffith endured all these until he left Anzio for the United States. They were just part of a job that is not yet finished.

He arrived in Africa 19 months ago as a platoon sergeant in the combat infantry in charge of two American tanks it's no fun bouncing over the rough ground never knowing whether your tank will hit a mine. In rapid advances engineers to clear the fields of booby traps.

He had to forget about inner-spring mattresses and even G. I. cots. Throughout the African, Sicilian and Italian campaigns he slept on the ground, with the exception of the few weeks he spent in an African hospital recuperating from malaria and yellow jaundice.

In Prison Camps
Even in prison camps the Ger-

Recent Bride Feted At Two Showers

In honor of Mrs. Frink Charles Lovell, recent bride, Mrs. LeRoy Mercer and daughter, Mrs. Stanley Sayre, will entertain at a desert bridge party this evening in their home at 709 S. Summit street. Twelve guests will be included in the courtesy, which will be a miscellaneous shower for the bride.

Also feting Mrs. Lovell was Mrs. William Maresch, 424 S. Summit street, who entertained at a bridge party and miscellaneous shower for 12 guests Wednesday evening.

mans maintain strict martial rule among themselves and enlisted men and officers are kept separate.

He believes that German troops will never surrender in Italy as they did in Africa because now the allied soldiers are fighting an entirely different army. In Africa it was the old German army; in Italy it is the army of young Nazis who will fight to the last man.

He expressed intense admiration for the British soldiers whom he described as the coolest fighters he has ever seen. At four every afternoon they will crawl 200 yards under a barrage of artillery fire for their tea.

He was equally admiring of General Eisenhower, who formerly commanded Sergeant Griffith's regiment.

Sergeant Griffith left this week for Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., after spending his furlough with his wife in Riverside and with relatives here.

Missouri's Truman Prefers Senate Post To Vice-Presidency
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Senator Truman (D. Mo.), in a statement to the press late yesterday declared he did "not want the vice-presidency," and said he sincerely hoped the Missouri delegation to the Democratic convention in Chicago next week would not endorse him for that office.

Senator Truman said he enjoyed his work in the senate and felt that the committee he heads in the senate investigating all war activity was making a real contribution to the war effort.

WAC Officer Here
Lieut. Marie Eichelburger, senior WAC recruiting officer for Iowa, was in Iowa City Thursday to confer with the local recruiting personnel and stress the importance and need for women in the various branches of the army.

Republican Group Commends Judge

James P. Gaffney, judge of the district court was commended to Iowa and Johnson counties Wednesday by the Republican convention which met in Marengo.

The convention resolved that it would commend all the candidates on the Republican ticket in the approaching election. It stated in part, "We are proud of all the candidates on the Republican ticket, national, state and county, headed by Thomas E. Dewey and John Bricker."

Missouri's Truman Prefers Senate Post To Vice-Presidency

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Senator Truman (D. Mo.), in a statement to the press late yesterday declared he did "not want the vice-presidency," and said he sincerely hoped the Missouri delegation to the Democratic convention in Chicago next week would not endorse him for that office.

Senator Truman said he enjoyed his work in the senate and felt that the committee he heads in the senate investigating all war activity was making a real contribution to the war effort.

WAC Officer Here
Lieut. Marie Eichelburger, senior WAC recruiting officer for Iowa, was in Iowa City Thursday to confer with the local recruiting personnel and stress the importance and need for women in the various branches of the army.

mans maintain strict martial rule among themselves and enlisted men and officers are kept separate.

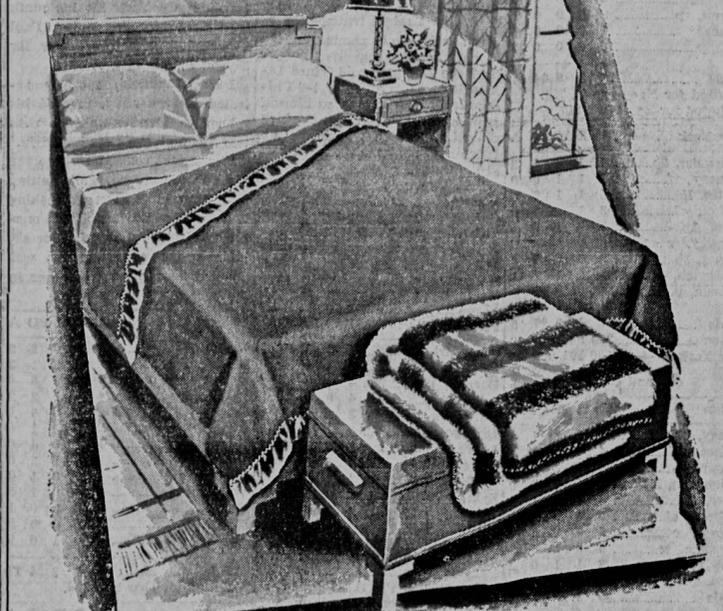

He believes that German troops will never surrender in Italy as they did in Africa because now the allied soldiers are fighting an entirely different army. In Africa it was the old German army; in Italy it is the army of young Nazis who will fight to the last man.

He expressed intense admiration for the British soldiers whom he described as the coolest fighters he has ever seen. At four every afternoon they will crawl 200 yards under a barrage of artillery fire for their tea.

He was equally admiring of General Eisenhower, who formerly commanded Sergeant Griffith's regiment.

Sergeant Griffith left this week for Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., after spending his furlough with his wife in Riverside and with relatives here.

Once Again... PENNEYS Blankets the Nation!

VALUE-PACKED COMFORT Warm All-Wool Blankets

All-Wool And Guaranteed Five Years Against Moth Damage
3 1/2 to 4 lbs. of warm, resilient wool! One of the finest blankets you can buy for this money! Luxuriously warm with the soft springy quality that you find only in the best blankets. Rayon satin binding adds to their beauty! 72 x 84. 9.90

Single Blankets You'll Treasure Now And For Years To Come
72 x 84 of magnificent warmth, beauty and softness—which makes for superb blanket value! Exceptionally fine 100% virgin wool, double woven for double warmth, with a lofty nap to retain body heat! Rayon satin binding. Guaranteed for five years against moth damage. 11.90

Colorful Contrasting Bands . . . Heavy And Exceptionally Warm
Extra heavy weight (5 3/5 lbs.) of 100% double woven wool with a long springy nap for softness and heat retaining qualities! Thick, warm and durable! Whipped ends for long wear! Scarlet with black border—or cream with multi-color bands. Guaranteed for five years against moth damage. 72 x 84 — double bed size. 13.90

PENNEYS
J. C. PENNEY CO., INC.

YETTER'S—Dependable Since 1888
PISTOL PACKIN' MAMA
by Coro
Lady that pistol down babe
Here she is, number one debutante of the year, and number one gadget for your lapel. She is colorfully dressed in hand-painted genuine lucite. $1
Costume Jewelry—Street Floor
Iowa City's Own Department Store

New York Yankees, Red Sox Split Doubleheader

Yanks Win Opener 4-2

Red Sox Cop Nightcap 8-4 In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox split their twin-bill yesterday, the Yankees winning the opener, 4-2, and the Red Sox copping the nightcap, 8-4.

Yank Terry held the Yankees to six hits in the second game giving up all the runs on two homers by Nick Etten and Johnny Lindell, to retain second place for the Red Sox. The victory was Terry's third straight, after having lost his first six starts.

A costly error by George Stirnweiss in the second inning paved the way for four Boston runs and the removal of Atley Donald, starting and losing pitcher. Hal Wagner ended the Red Sox scoring with a two-run homer in the ninth inning off Al Lyons, who had relieved Donald.

The Yankees spotted the Red Sox two runs in the first inning of the opener.

A two-run homer by Bud Metheny tied the score in the fourth, and the Yankees scored another on a long fly by Oscar Grimes with the bases full. The final score came in the sixth when Lindell tripled and scored on Etten's fly.

(First Game)

Boston	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Metkovich, cf	4	1	1	3	0
Bucher, 3b	4	1	1	1	0
Fox, rf	4	0	1	2	0
R. Johnson, lf	4	0	1	2	0
Doerr, 2b	4	0	0	5	3
Cronin, 1b	4	0	2	8	1
Partee, c	2	0	0	2	0
Newsome, ss	2	0	0	1	2
Bowman*	1	0	0	0	0
Lake, ss	0	0	0	0	0
Barrett, p	2	0	0	0	1
Finney	1	0	0	0	0
Ryba, p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	2	6	24	7

* Batted for Newsome in 7th.
 Batted for Barrett in 8th.

(Second Game)

Boston	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Finney, 1b	6	2	3	11	0
Bucher, 3b	4	0	1	1	3
Fox, rf	5	0	3	1	0
R. Johnson, lf	3	1	0	3	0
Doerr, 2b	3	2	1	1	1
McBride, cf	5	1	0	4	0
Wagner, c	1	2	5	0
Newsome, ss	5	0	1	1	3
Terry, p	3	1	1	0	2
Totals	39	8	12	27	9

* Batted for Lyons in 9th.
Boston .041 100 002-8
New York .000 300 010-4

(First Game)

New York	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Stirnweiss, 2b	4	1	3	1	2
Metheny, rf	3	1	1	0	0
Martin, lf	4	1	1	8	0
Lindell, cf	3	1	1	4	0
Etten, 1b	2	0	1	8	0
Hemsey, c	2	0	0	3	0
Grimes, 3b	3	0	0	1	2
Milosevich, ss	3	0	1	2	1
Bonham, p	3	0	0	0	0
Totals	27	4	8	27	5

* Batted for Newsome in 7th.
Boston .200 000 000-2
New York .000 301 00x-4

(Second Game)

New York	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Stirnweiss, 2b	4	0	1	6	4
Metheny, rf	3	1	0	3	0
Martin, lf	3	0	0	1	0
Lindell, cf	4	2	2	5	0
Etten, 1b	3	1	1	6	1
Garbark, c	3	0	1	3	1
Grimes, 3b	4	0	0	1	1
Milosevich, ss	4	0	0	2	3
Donald, p	0	0	0	0	0
Lyons, p	3	0	1	0	0
Derry*	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	4	6	27	10

* Batted for Lyons in 9th.
Boston .041 100 002-8
New York .000 300 010-4

'CLIPPER' SMITH VISITS PRE-FLIGHT SCHOOL

A VISITOR YESTERDAY to the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight athletic office was "Clipper" Smith, former coach at Villinova "V" and now a captain in the marines. Driving through Iowa City on his way to Cherry Point, N. C., the "Clipper" stopped off to see Lieut. Comdr. Harvey Harman and Lieut. Comdr. Jack Meagher.

Pirates Take 3-2 Victory Over Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank Colman's second pinch triple of the year against the Chicago Cubs gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3 to 2 victory in the opener of a five-games series yesterday. It was their fifth straight triumph.

Colman's blow, coming in the seventh inning, converted singles by Babe Dahlgren and Vince DiMaggio to erase an early 1-0 Chicago lead. He then scored himself on Frank Zak's single, which proved protection against a Cub tally on three hits in the home half of the frame.

Fritz Ostermueller who allowed seven hits, went the route for his sixth victory against two defeats and his fourth victory in five decisions since the Pirates secured him after his Brooklyn release. Hank Wyse, the Cub loser, gave up seven hits.

Pittsburgh	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Coscarart, 2b	4	0	1	1	3
Russell, lf	4	0	0	2	0
Barrett, rf	4	0	2	2	0
Elliott, 3b	4	0	0	2	0
Dahlgren, 1b	3	1	1	13	0
DiMaggio, cf	3	1	1	3	0
Lopez, c	2	0	1	2	0
Colman*	1	1	1	0	0
Davis, c	1	0	0	3	1
Zak, ss	3	0	1	1	7
Ostermueller, p	4	0	0	0	1
Totals	33	3	8	27	14

* Batted for Lopez in 7th.

Slip Madigan Plunges Into Grid Work

Coach "Slip" Madigan, enthusiastic as usual and impatient, too, to get under way, Thursday plunged into a mass of tasks connected with University of Iowa football for 1944.

He arrived Wednesday after a motor trip from San Francisco, Calif., just two days short of a month before he will meet young candidates for the squad at the opening drill Aug. 14.

"It will take me a little while

Detroit Tigers—Chisox Lose, 9-1

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers scored eight runs on seven hits off Orval Grove in the second inning last night to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 9 to 1, in a twilight game before 12,185 spectators. Rudy York hit his ninth homer to start the inning. Paul Trout pitched a three-hitter for Detroit for his 11th victory.

Dick Wakefield, recently released by the navy, marked his return to Detroit uniform with two hits and two runs batted in.

The Tigers sent 13 men to the plate in the second, York getting two hits and Joe Orenco making two outs. Joe Haynes pitched one-hit relief ball for the Sox for six innings. The only Sox run was doubled home by Tom Turner in the second.

Chicago	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Hack, 3b	4	1	1	1	2
Hughes, ss	4	0	1	6	5
Cavarretta, 1b	4	0	0	9	0
Novikoff, lf	4	0	1	0	0
Dallessandro, cf	3	0	0	2	0
Pafko, rf	4	1	2	1	0
Johnson, 2b	4	0	1	3	3
Williams, c	4	0	1	4	2
Wyse, p	2	0	0	0	2
Merullo*	0	0	0	0	0
Lynn, p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	2	7	27	14

* Batted for Wyse in 7th.
Chicago .010 000 000-1
Pittsburgh .080 100 00x-9 to get caught up on things, after being away for a couple of months. I'll have to get the lay of the land first and then I can begin drawing up definite plans for the practice season," Coach Madigan said.

The Hawkeye coach said he was glad to get back to Iowa and looked forward to an interesting eight-game season, although a lot of the prospective players now are unknown to him.

NOTICE!

Good Results
Something can be done for ARTHRIC and RHEUMATIC PAINS. Call or write for free information to—
HINSON INSTITUTE
Box 246, Richmond, Ind.
Phone 2988

IOWA
Last Times Tonight

Starts To-Day
Englert
IN TECHNICOLOR
GARY COOPER
with
Cecil B. DeMille's
"The Story of Dr. Wassell"
LARAINE DAY
DORIS MERRILL
SICNE HASSO
PAUL KELLY

Xtra!
It Happened On Mulberry Street
"Puppetoon" - in color -

Church Team
DES MOINES (AP)—Juvenile authorities yesterday were looking for some baseball players who were either mighty powerful hitters, or mighty poor catchers.

Harley Hunter, assistant custodian at Callaman Junior high school, told officers that a church baseball team which practices on the school grounds, had broken 29 windows in the school last Saturday.

Rupe Parker Dies
CLEVELAND (AP)—Rupe Parker, 66-year-old noted grand circuit harness racing driver, died yesterday at Cleveland Clinic hospital of a streptococcus infection. He had been ill three weeks, since the first day of the 1944 season at nearby North Randall track.

Parker, whose home during the off-season is at Aiken, S. C., came to North Randall as pilot of horses owned by Thomas Thomas of Cleveland.

Emphasis Placed—Knocking Base Hits
The emphasis placed on the Peoria La Tourneaus and at Galesburg's Mayo hospital Sunday.

With the departure this week of Jack Newell, along with reserve infielders Ray Halle and Jack Caewood, the Seahawks' original pitching party became completely dissolved. However, in its place has sprung an ever better representation in the starting duo of Keith Simon and Ed Weiland.

As a result, the Pre-Flights will carry a record into action this weekend which includes only five runs yielded in the last six games, with the final three rating as shutouts. Two of the white-washings were contributed by Simon, the 19-year-old former Oleian hurler in the Pony League, while another was the opening contribution of the ex-White Sox pitcher last Sunday against Camp Ellis.

Cedar Rapids' collection of All-Stars scored all three runs on Simon's three game record of striking out 25 while giving up 14 hits. Weiland, who already has been designated the Seahawks' Sunday pitcher and will face the Mayo nine as such, surrendered only six sufficiently scattered hits while displaying his fancy assortment of offerings to the talented army team.

Meanwhile, cadet coaches tied into the matter of replacing three departed players who have been in the opening lineup since the beginning. Dick Wakefield, Price Brookfield and Don Aires, who made their final appearances last weekend.

Ned Harris, Wakefield's former mate in the Detroit Tiger outfield who filled in for the ailing George Rutenbar last week will take over the vacated left field job while substitute George Yamar will be elevated to the right field spot.

However, the vacancy at first

Baseball's Big Six

(Based on 200 or more times at bat.)
(Three leaders in each league)

Player, club	G	A	B	R	H	Pct.
Musial, Cardinals	74	284	59	104	366
Walker, Dodgers	77	293	41	103	352
Fox, Red Sox	58	237	38	80	338
Doerr, Red Sox	80	301	59	101	336
Weintraub, Giants	64	209	30	70	335
Tucker, Dodgers	57	224	36	73	326

RUNS BATTED IN
American League
Stephens, Browns 55
Doerr, Red Sox 54
Spence, Senators 46

National League
Kurovski, Cardinals 51
Nicholson, Cubs 50
Walker, Dodgers 50
Ott, Giants 50

HOME RUNS
American League
Metheny, Yankees 10
Hayes, Athletics 10
Doerr, Red Sox 10
Cullenbine, Indians 10

National League
Ott, Giants 20
Nicholson, Cubs 15
Kurovski, Cardinals 11
Weintraub, Giants 11

YAMAR TAKES OVER

GEORGE YAMAR will be in the right field position, vacated by Price Brookfield, when the Seahawks meet the Peoria all stars Saturday on the Seahawk diamond. Official Navy photo.

NATIONAL LEAGUE WINS ANNUAL ALL-STAR BASEBALL CLASSIC
The National League won the annual All-Star baseball classic at Forbes field in Pittsburgh. About 37,000 fans saw the National league aggregation go on to defeat the American leaguers 7 to 1 in the annual baseball classic. The Nationals made 12 hits, and scored four runs in the fifth inning. Three errors marred the efforts of the Americans.

Reaches Semifinals
CHICAGO (AP)—The veteran Thane Halstead, of Wheaton, Ill., reached the semifinals of the River Forest open tennis tournament yesterday by a 5-7, 6-2, 6-1 defeat of Ken Black, of Peoria, Ill.

probably will entail two changes in the inner defenses. Carlos Raliff, who succeeded Russ Wendland as second baseman several weeks back, is scheduled to move to first with Don Yohe, the White Sox product, taking over at second.

The revised batting order, with averages, probably will read: Lou Rochelli, ss (.339); Rutenbar, cf (.361); Harris, lf (.000); Bill Baker, c (.200); Raliff, 1b (.258); Charlie Heck, 3b (.395); Yamar, rf (.333); Yohe, 2b (.000); Simon, p (.143); Weiland, p (.500).

Probable Pitchers
NEW YORK (AP)—Probable pitchers for today's games, with won and lost records in parentheses:
AMERICAN LEAGUE
Philadelphia at Washington (2) (twilight and night)—Newsom (7-7) and Harris (7-5) vs Nigeling (7-3) and Leonard (8-4).
Boston at New York—Hughson (13-3) vs Borowy (11-4).
Chicago at Detroit—Dietrich (10-6) vs Overmire (3-8).
St. Louis at Cleveland—Kramer (8-9) or Muncieff (8-4) vs Harder (6-5) or Poat (3-4).

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Pittsburgh at Chicago—Starr (3-1) vs Chipman (8-3).
Cincinnati at St. Louis—Walters (14-3) vs M. Cooper (10-3).
New York at Philadelphia (night)—Feldman (7-3) or Volselle (11-10) vs Schanz (7-9) or Raffensberger (8-10).

Slip Madigan Plunges Into Grid Work
Coach "Slip" Madigan, enthusiastic as usual and impatient, too, to get under way, Thursday plunged into a mass of tasks connected with University of Iowa football for 1944.

He arrived Wednesday after a motor trip from San Francisco, Calif., just two days short of a month before he will meet young candidates for the squad at the opening drill Aug. 14.

"It will take me a little while

Clearance
Sport Shirts
1/3 OFF

Broken Lots — All Sizes
Plaids — Checks — Plain Colors

BREMERS

Remember to have your waste paper ready and on the curb, Sunday, July 16.

Indians Divide Doubleheader With Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians divided a two-night doubleheader with the league-leading St. Louis Browns before 27,102 fans last night, the Browns winning the nocturnal contest, 1 to 1 in the 10th inning after the Tribe had taken the opener 6 to 5.

The Browns secured one unearned run and only four hits off Al Smith in the first nine innings of the nightcap, but produced a trio of tallies on four successive singles and a fly ball in the extra inning. Nelson Potter went all the way for St. Louis, granting seven hits.

In the opener the Tribe pounded three Brownie hurlers for 15 hits, including five doubles and Roy Cullenbine's inside-the-park home run, his 10th of the season. Allie Reynolds gained his 10th triumph but had to have help from Joe Heving in the seventh inning.

(First Game)

St. Louis	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Gutteridge, 2b	2	0	0	0	2
Baker, 2b	2	1	0	2	1
Byrnes, cf	5	1	1	3	1
McQuinn, 1b	4	1	3	8	2
Stephens, ss	3	0	2	3	2
Moore, rf	4	1	0	1	1
Laabs, lf	4	0	1	1	0
Christman, 3b	4	0	1	3	2
Hayworth, c	3	0	0	3	1
Kreevich*	1	0	0	0	0
Mancuso, c	0	0	0	0	0
Jakucki, p	2	1	1	0	2
Zarilla*	1	0	0	0	0
Zoldak, p	0	0	0	0	0
Chartak	1	0	0	0	0
Caster, p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	5	9	24	14

* Batted for Jakucki in 6th.
 Batted for Hayworth in 8th.
 Batted for Zoldak in 8th.

Cleveland	A	B	R	H	P	O	A
Rocco, 1b	5	0	1	6	7
O'Dea, lf	5	1	1	1

Mrs. Emma Wickham Dies at Home Here

Private funeral services for Mrs. Emma Wickham, 79, who died yesterday at her home at 936 E. Washington street, will be held at the Beckman funeral home.

Mrs. Wickham had been ill for several years. Born June 12, 1865, in Iowa City, she was married to Bernard W. Wickham July 13, 1893.

She is survived by three daughters, Florence and Ruth, at home, and Mrs. C. E. Hixon, Washington, D. C.; one grandson, Lieut. Robert C. Hixon, stationed at Camp Pickett, Va.; two brothers, Will and Ed Weber, both of Iowa City; one sister, Mrs. Katherine Mosier, of Eldorado, Kan. Mr. Wickham preceded her in death in 1935.

Manpower Director Says Workers Needed For Secret Project

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Several thousand workers are to be recruited in the next two months for "a vast secret project of highest priority demand," Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt revealed Thursday.

He did not disclose any details of the project, which he mentioned in a statement urging public cooperation in the drive to recruit workers for the most urgent industries. A total of 70,000 persons will be sought for such industries during the next two months, he said, including 21,878 for shipbuilding and 7,195 for aircraft production.

LONDON'S SCHOOL CHILDREN HEAD FOR SAFE AREAS

LONDON SCHOOL CHILDREN arrive at a railway station where they will board what they call the "Doodlebug Express" which will take them to safety zones. More than 55,000 youngsters have been evacuated from the English capital to southern England and other safer areas in an effort to protect them from the German robot bomb menace which already has taken a heavy toll. (International)

GOVERNOR DEWEY ENTERTAINS VERMONT POLITICOS

GOV. THOMAS E. DEWEY of New York, left, chats with Senator Warren R. Austin of Vermont, Senator George D. Aiken, former governor of that state, and Representative Charles Plumley, also of Vermont, all Republicans, at New York's executive mansion in Albany. (International)

Des Moines Mayor Labels Liquor Issue As 'Laughing Matter'

DES MOINES, (AP)—Mayor John MacVicar asserted yesterday that "the whole liquor situation in Iowa is a laughing matter" and added that the legislature through local option is the only body that can take it out of that class.

"There is nothing funnier that I can think of," the mayor declared, than the chartering of an athletic club for football and baseball on the second floor of a store building where the only exercise is dancing and there isn't even a ping pong table in sight.

He said he favored local option in Iowa.

"It is up to the state legislature to give the councils and county supervisor boards of the various Iowa towns the opportunity to assume the responsibility of liquor control," he said. Then and only then can councils do a job that is strictly according to the law."

Mayor MacVicar said he believed that the legislature would vote for local option if "everything in Des Moines was closed up dry the 100 days the legislators are here." "They act wet and vote dry," the mayor said.

Shooting Texan Awarded Medal of Honor

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A shooting Texan, Sgt. James M. Logan of Luling, has been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for helping secure the beachhead at Salerno, Italy, first foothold of American forces on the European mainland.

The 23-year-old sergeant, the war department said yesterday, received the highest military award for killing three Germans

Army Spokesman Reports B-17 Wreck Spotted in Maine

MANCHESTER, N. H., (AP)—The wreckage of a B-17 Flying Fortress was spotted late today on a hill "north of rangeley lakes in Maine," an army spokesman announced tonight.

The spokesman said the wreckage, seen from the air by an observation plane from Grenier field, made it seem "almost impossible that anybody survived the crash."

The plane, last heard from Tuesday morning, was believed to be headed for Dow Field at Bangor, Me., from Syracuse, N. Y.

The army listed the ten-man crew of the plane as "missing." Included in the list were: Engineer, S. Sgt. Wayne D. McGavran, Father, Charles E. McGavran, Seymour, Iowa.

with three shots and then killing a sniper after racing 200 yards across open terrain and breaking into a house.

Daily Iowan Want Ads

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATE CARD

CASH RATE

1 or 2 days—
10c per line per day
3 consecutive days—
7c per line per day
6 consecutive days—
5c per line per day
1 month—
4c per line per day
—Figure 5 words to line—
Minimum Ad—2 lines

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

50c col. inch
Or $5.00 per month

All Want Ads Cash in Advance
Payable at Daily Iowan Business office daily until 5 p.m.
Cancellations must be called in before 5 p.m.
Responsible for one incorrect insertion only.

DIAL 4191

FOR SALE

For Sale—Encyclopedia Britannica, mirror, trunk, and typewriter. Dial 3357.

Remington Standard typewriter. Good condition. Excellent care. Dial 2237.

WANTED

WANTED—Plumbing and heating. Law Co. Dial 9681.

FOR RENT

Popular Records and Public Address System. Rental by the Hour for Parties, Dances, All Indoor Events—Dial 2349—

FURNITURE MOVING

MAHER BROS. TRANSFER
For Efficient Furniture Moving Ask About Our WARDROBE SERVICE
DIAL — 9696 — DIAL

LOST

Lost—Jeweled music sorority pin, somewhere between University High and Union. Reward, Patricia Kent, 3136.

HELP WANTED

Dishwasher wanted. Approximately 5 1/2 hours a day. $25 a week. Apply Ford Hopkins Drug Store.

INSTRUCTION

DANCING LESSONS—ballroom, ballet tap. Dial 7248. Mimi Youde Wurli.

Brown's Commerce College
Iowa City's Accredited Business School
Established 1921
Day School Night School
"Open the Year 'Round"
Dial 4682

For a Foothold—
Enroll Now For Efficient Business Training at Iowa City Commercial College
203 1/2 E. Washington

WHERE TO BUY IT

For Your Summer Recreation Supplies
Toys and Games Cots Picnic Boxes Golf Archery Baseball Tennis
FIRESTONE STORE

Fine Baked Goods
Pies Cakes Bread Rolls Pastries
Special Orders
City Bakery
222 E. Washington Dial 6605

EDWARD S. ROSE says—
Save when we fill your Prescription—we are Vitamin Headquarters.
DRUG-SHOP

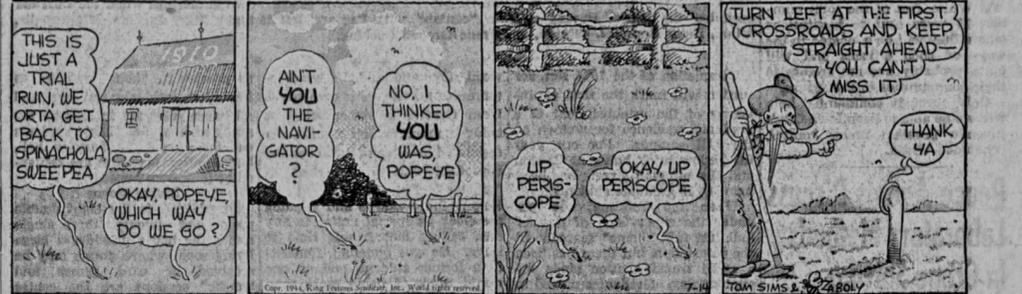

'Slip' Madigan to Be Interviewed

Coach "Slip" Madigan, returning to coach football at the University of Iowa this fall, will be interviewed over WSUI at 12:45 this afternoon. Coach Madigan and Dick Yoakam, who will conduct the interview, will discuss the team prospects on the gridiron this fall.

Music Broadcast
Louise Gibbons Sueppel will present a piano program devoted to the works of Edward MacDowell over WSUI at 7:45 this evening. Mrs. Sueppel will play the following selections: "Song From the Sea Pieces," "Improvisation," "Idylle Op. 39," "Nocturne Op. 46" and "Trauerliche," all by MacDowell.

- TODAY'S PROGRAMS
- 8:00 Morning Chapel
 - 8:15 Musical Miniatures
 - 8:30 News, The Daily Iowan
 - 8:45 Program Calendar
 - 8:55 Service Reports
 - 9:00 Good Morning, Ladies
 - 9:15 Music Magic
 - 9:30 Todd Grant
 - 9:45 Wacs in Review
 - 9:50 On the Home Front
 - 9:55 News, The Daily Iowan
 - 10:00 Week in the Magazines
 - 10:15 Yesterday's Musical Favorites
 - 10:30 The Bookshelf
 - 11:00 Memorial Service
 - 12:00 Rhythm Rambles
 - 12:30 News, The Daily Iowan
 - 12:45 Views and Interviews
 - 1:00 Musical Chats
 - 2:00 Victory Bulletin Board
 - 2:10 18th Century Music
 - 3:00 University Student Forum
 - 3:30 News, The Daily Iowan
 - 3:35 Afternoon Melodies
 - 4:00 Fighting Heroes of the U. S. Navy
 - 4:15 Camera News
 - 4:30 Tea Time Melodies
 - 5:00 Children's Hour
 - 5:30 Musical Moods
 - 5:45 News, The Daily Iowan
 - 6:00 Dinner Hour Music
 - 7:00 We Dedicate
 - 7:30 Sportstime
 - 7:45 Evening Musicale
 - 8:00 Problems of Peace
 - 8:30 Album of Artists
 - 8:45 News, The Daily Iowan
 - NETWORK HIGHLIGHTS
 - 6:00 I Love a Mystery (WMT)
 - Cliff and Helen (WHO)
 - Grain Belt Rangers (KXEL)
 - 6:15 Soldiers of the Press (WMT)
 - News of the World (WHO)
 - H. R. Gross (KXEL)
 - 6:30 Friday on Broadway (WMT)
 - M. L. Nelsen (WHO)
 - Did You Know? (KXEL)
 - 6:45 Friday on Broadway (WMT)
 - H. V. Kaltenborn (WHO)
 - Preferred Melodies (KXEL)
 - 7:00 Maxwell House Iced Coffee Time (WMT)
 - Frank Black's Orchestra (WHO)
 - Watch the World Go By (KXEL)
 - 7:15 Maxwell House Iced Coffee Time (WMT)
 - Frank Black's Orchestra (WHO)
 - The Thin Man (WHO)
 - Meet Your Navy (KXEL)
 - 7:45 Service to the Front (WMT)
 - The Thin Man (WHO)
 - Meet Your Navy (KXEL)
 - 8:00 It Pays to be Ignorant (WMT)
 - Waltz Time (WHO)
 - Gang Busters (KXEL)
 - 8:15 It Pays to be Ignorant (WMT)
 - Waltz Time (WHO)
 - Gang Busters (KXEL)
 - 8:30 That Brewster Boy (WMT)
 - People Are Funny (WHO)
 - Spotlight Bands (KXEL)
 - 8:45 Moore and Durante (WMT)
 - Boston Blackie (WHO)
 - Earl Godwin (KXEL)
 - 9:15 Moore and Durante (WMT)
 - Boston Blackie (WHO)
 - Ted Malone (KXEL)
 - 9:30 Stage Door Canteen (WMT)
 - Hollywood Theatre (WHO)
 - The Adventures of Nero Wolfe (KXEL)
 - 9:45 Stage Door Canteen (WMT)
 - Hollywood Theatre (WHO)
 - The Adventures of Nero Wolfe (KXEL)
 - 10:00 Doug Grant (WMT)
 - Mercer's Music Shop (WHO)
 - H. R. Gross (KXEL)
 - 10:15 Fulton Lewis (WMT)
 - M. L. Nelsen (WHO)
 - Sportlight Parade (KXEL)
 - 10:30 Boyd Raeburn's Band (WMT)
 - Can You Top This (WHO)
 - Melodies of the Masters (KXEL)
 - 10:45 Boyd Raeburn's Band (WMT)
 - Can You Top This (WHO)
 - Melodies of the Masters (KXEL)
 - 11:00 News (WMT)
 - Sports Newsreel (WHO)
 - Henry J. Taylor (KXEL)
 - 11:15 Bob Strong's Band (WMT)
 - Talks (WHO)
 - Rev. Pietsch's Hour (KXEL)
 - 11:30 Ray Pearl's Band (WMT)
 - Garry Lenhart (WHO)
 - Rev. Pietsch's Hour (KXEL)
 - 11:45 Ray Pearl's Band (WMT)
 - Music, News (WHO)
 - Les Brown (KXEL)
 - 12:00 Press News (WMT)
 - Thomas Peluso's Orchestra (WHO)
 - KXEL Birthday Party (KXEL)

POPEYE

BLONDIE

HENRY

ETTA KETT

ROOM AND BOARD

OLD HOME TOWN

Let The 'Want Ads' Solve YOUR Problem

10 Words—60c for One Week

BUY — Sell — Rent

Dial 4191 Business Office EAST HALL

Judge Sees Delinquency Decrease

Juvenile delinquency in Iowa City is on the downgrade, according to Jack C. White, police judge, who spoke at a Rotary luncheon meeting yesterday noon.

Records show a decrease of 12 cases between 1942 and 1943, said White, with the probability that still lower figures are in the offing.

With population figures taken into consideration, Iowa City has a much lower delinquency rate than neighboring towns, of which this city may well be proud, continued White.

Juvenile delinquency cases should be held in a private court, with the public not invited and first offenders should be given ample opportunity to right their wrongs, according to the police judge.

One reason for the lessening of delinquency in this city is due to the increased community cooperation in recreation for the children, he said.

In 1943 there were 86 delinquency cases handled, of which 67 were boys and 19 girls, and of the 86 cases there were only 56 individuals concerned, some children committing more than one offense, said White. Out of the total number, 17 were sent to institutions where they will be educated in the ways of good citizens and will quite probably become credits to their communities in the future.

Only through community help will we be able to keep Iowa City's juvenile problem under control, concluded White.

Peace Agents Discuss Laboratory Methods In Crime Solving

New laboratory techniques in solving crimes were discussed yesterday afternoon in the river room of Iowa Union, with Chief R. W. Nebergall of the criminal investigation division, Iowa department of public safety, Des Moines, as chairman of the panel, held in connection with the peace officer's short course.

Those participating in the discussion, "The Laboratory in Aid of Law Enforcement," were: Chief R. W. Nebergall, Charles Mazy, supervising agent, United States secret service, St. Paul; Allyn B. Crisler, district supervisor, federal bureau of narcotics, Minneapolis; Ray Waterman, technician, criminal investigation division, Iowa department of public safety, Des Moines; D. O. Bender, special agent of the same division; William J. Davis, assistant manager, automobile protective and information bureau, Chicago; and Mayor W. J. Teeters, dean emeritus of the college of pharmacy.

The laboratory as an aid to secret service, detection of counterfeit money, stolen cars and money was discussed. New laboratory techniques, such as the restoration of mutilated or destroyed serial numbers on automobiles by a heating process, and a new technique developed to restore numbers that have been cut off rubber tires were described.

Crisler spoke on various drugs, their results and usage. He said that cocaine is the most dangerous drug, and morphine the most commonly used, although it has a tendency to lower the drugged person's resistance.

The identifying of fraudulent checks, wills and documents, handwritten and typewritten, by laboratory techniques was discussed by Waterman.

Bender stated that the laboratory is relied on in almost every major crime. He said that photography should be used extensively as a record of the scene of the crime.

Adjustments of War Veterans Studied By SUI Committee

A committee of five members has been established on the university campus, who will help service veterans adjust themselves to further education. The group is now planning a future course of action with Prof. Walter H. Loehwing of the botany department as chairman, assisted by Dr. William D. Coder, administrative assistant in the liberal arts army program, who will act as secretary.

Other members are Prof. E. F. Lindquist of the college of education; Prof. Everett Hall of the philosophy department; Prof. Harry G. Barnes, registrar and Dean C. Woody Thompson of the office of student affairs.

In preparation for their plans Maj. Franklin O. Meister of the Schick army hospital in Clifton set up some task for the committee to follow.

Correct orientation continued over the entire period in college was the first thing suggested by Major Meister.

"The returning veteran more mature than the average pre-war

Old Currier Home Serves as Graduate Student Dormitory

FIREPLACE DISTINGUISHES 'BEST' ROOM IN HOUSE

VOTED THE PRIZE room in the graduate house is that of Peg Pintler, Urbana, Ohio, shown here at her typewriter. Special feature is the fireplace once the center of student gatherings when the Curriers occupied the house. Having a little "confab" with Peg are, left to right, Mary Iversen, Minneapolis, Minn., Betty Benedict, Clinton, and Irene Groom, Cushing.

Completion of the 1944 summer session will mark the first anniversary of the establishment of a graduate residence for women on the SUI campus. For one year the yellow brick house at Clinton and Bloomington streets has been home to 19 graduate students.

When the building was put under the supervision of Currier hall last fall, "home" scarcely fit the description, but there has been a rapid transformation since the opening day. Graduates moved in while fresh paint was yet drying on the floors and woodwork. Newly papered walls filled the rooms with the odor of wallpaper paste. A delay in filling the furniture order resulted in spending the first few nights on army cots, but today the house has taken on a "lived-in" atmosphere.

Lived-in Home And the "lived-in" atmosphere is traditionally a part of the house. Its history centers around university activity since the day Prof. and Mrs. Amos N. Currier established their home on the same site. Professor Currier, for whom Currier hall was named, served as dean of the liberal arts college and head of the classical language department. He was well-remembered as Latin instructor and his wife, the former Celia Moore, worked under him in the same department.

Their residence in today's graduate house was the center of many social engagements and both Professor and Mrs. Currier were popular with the student body. Mrs. Currier is said to have been particularly fond of having students in her home and offered rooms to two girls and meals to two men attending the university. But in the late 19th century living in the Currier home presented quite a different picture from today.

Individual Stoves Each room had its individual wood stove and students were required to furnish their own wood. Dean Currier is remembered as being a more or less unofficially appointed selector of wood for the household and also served as "proctor." Ten o'clock found him locking the windows and winding the clock as special notice to any men callers that it was time to leave. He was punctual, remarked a former student, and no one would think of being more than ten minutes late to breakfast.

Mrs. Currier, she added, usually just made it by a hair's breadth. Friends of Mrs. Currier proclaim her as a gracious hostess with a keen sense of humor and witty way of presenting a subject. Gatherings here were informal and simple, but the home became almost a Mecca to graduates who returned to visit the university. Scarcely a one failed to call on the Curriers, said a friend of Mrs. Currier.

Two Children The Curriers were the parents of two children, Albert, now residing in Cleveland, and Helen, now Mrs. Roy Cook of Independence. Upon the death of Professor Currier, the home was sold to the university. Mrs. Currier, who died several years ago, is reported to have expressed the wish that the home could be converted into a dormitory for women.

Last fall, when Eastlawn was no longer available for housing women students, the possibility of fulfilling this wish became a reality, and the rooms were assigned to graduate students who had formerly been housed on the first floor of Currier hall.

Mrs. Louise Miller, social director at Currier hall, explained that younger graduate students of approximately the same age are assigned rooms at the graduate house. One graduate is appointed as proctor or "house mother" as the other residents call her, and all house rules are formed by the group as a whole. These students eat their meals at Currier hall, but all other activities are centered at their own house.

Living Room In addition to the eight double rooms and twenty three single rooms the house provides a large living room where guests may be received or card games and "music" sessions are the center of attraction.

A large open porch across the front is an ideal spot for summer and adds a special home feature not found in the dormitory. A large lawn bordered by trees and shrubbery and enclosed by an old-fashioned wrought iron fence adds more to this "just-like-home" atmosphere and during the summer session the residents have found that the back yard is just the place to combine studying, knitting, manicuring and other odd tasks with basking in the sun. And it's a typical backyard, even to the clothesline and familiar back porch.

Inside, the house is now a maze of doors leading from one room to another. The high ceilings and long windows speak of another era, but a few college women, the usual spread remnants, coke bottles, books and typewriters leave no question as to its purpose today.

Prize Room Where students gathered around the fireplace for chats concerning university life in the last century, a modern graduate student now has what is acclaimed the "prize" room in the house. Similarly the guest room and library are now just someone's room, but the activity connected with university life is still present. The old house has not aged in that respect—it lives now more than ever.

TIME OUT FOR A MUSICAL MOMENT

MUSIC SESSIONS ARE frequent events in the living room at the graduate house. Everything from Goodman to Beethoven has its moment. Enjoying a few interludes before returning to their books, are, left to right, Annie Louise Butler, New Hope, Ala., Dorothy Watson, Birmingham, Ala., and Carolyn Wood, West Lafayette, Ind.

BACKYARD FEATURES BASKING IN THE SUN

STUDYING AND SUNBATHING are backyard features at the graduate house. Here Esther Kaplan, Waterloo, on the left, and Dorothy Jean Roddy, Birmingham, Ala., simply bask in the sun while Rosemary Wilkey, Kennett, Mo., sets up her portable and catches up with a few assignments at the same time.

HOUSE to HOUSE

ALPHA DELTA PI A guest of Dorothy Klein of Eagle Grove, is Mrs. Douglas Nelson of Goldfield.

Ens. R. D. Clark, U. S. N. R., will be the weekend guest of Roberta Wheeler, A4 of Washington.

Delores Reiley, former sports editor of The Daily Iowan will visit Doris Campbell, A4 of Cedar Rapids, this weekend. Miss Reiley is now employed at the Rock Island Argus at Rock Island, Ill.

Margaret Walljager, G of West Point, will have as her guests Lorena Dalton of Ft. Madison, who received her M.A. degree from the university, and Martha Bell of Mt. Pleasant, who formerly attended the university.

CURRIER Betty Munson of Boone, former student, will be the guest of Mary Jane Vande Voort, P4 of Pella; Dorothy Metzger, A3 of South Bend, Ind.; Phyllis Peterson, A4 of Williamsburg, and Dorothy Keller, A3 of Davenport.

Visiting Marian Isebrands, A2 of Webster City this weekend will be Delores Albright, also of Webster City.

Marcia Chinitz of Atlantic will be the guest of Virginia Peterson, A1 of Red Oak.

Nancy Scofield of Morris, Ill., former student, and Fannie Cummins of Ft. Madison will be the guests of Lucille Curtis, A2 of Ft. Madison and Joyce Duschl A3 of Mapleton.

A guest of Frankie Kvasnicka, A3 of Oelwein, this weekend will be Shirley Theobald, also of Oelwein.

Ruth Ellis of Oskaloosa will visit Martha Marberry, A3 of Carbondale, Ill., tomorrow and Sunday.

Elva Varkier Wald of Pella will be the weekend guest of Blanche Van Donselaar, A3 of Sully.

Edith Gillespie of Washington, former student, spent Wednesday with Eleanor Gates, A2 of Kingsley, on her way to Kingsley to visit Pat Dorn, also a former student.

Spending the weekend at home will be Catherine Neumann, A3 of St. Louis; Hazel Abernathy Hamm, C4 of Cedar Rapids; Helen Pitz, A2 of Amama, and Marion Ellingen, A3 of Mendota, Ill.

GAMMA PHI BETA Jean Baker, A4-of Milwaukie, Wis., and Mary Smith Leonard, A4 of Algona, will spend the weekend in Burlington as the guest of Mrs. William Schiewe, former university student.

Visiting friends in Chicago this weekend will be Helen Barnett, A4 of Springfield, Ill.

A guest of Pat Kent, G of Cherokee, this weekend will be Ens. Bob Ferrin of Annapolis, Md.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA Spending the weekend at home will be Alberta Joslyn, A4 of Clear Lake.

Lieut. Ned Willis will visit Jean Hardie, A4 of Perry. Lieutenant Willis, who has been stationed with the army air corps in Columbia, S. C., attended the University of Iowa, where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

RUSSELL HOUSE Loretta Gurdis of Monticello is the weekend guest of Norma Ems, P2 of Savageton, Wyo.

Jane Mason, U of Cedar Rapids, will entertain her mother, Mrs. Helen D. Mason, and her brother, Tom, and Mrs. Roland Knecht, all of Cedar Rapids, this weekend.

Spending the weekend at home will be Charlotte Pollock, A2 of Bennett.

Mrs. Charles Fromm of Mason City will spend the weekend with her daughter, Marilyn, A4.

Col. Theodore Wrenn To Lead Grand March At Regimental Dance

Maurie Bruckmann's orchestra will provide the music for the first regimental dance of the army specialized training unit tonight from 8:30 until midnight in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Guests will be received by Col. Theodore Wrenn, President and Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher, Col. and Mrs. Douglas W. McEbery, Lieut. E. F. McDevitt, U. S. N. R., Lieut. George R. Cole, U. S. N. R., and Mrs. Cole, Capt. Herbert Garrett, Lieut. and Mrs. John D. Bradley,

Rep. Walter H. Judd To Give Final Lecture Of Series Tonight

Will Conduct Saturday Morning Round Table On Current Issues

In the final lecture of the summer session series, and his fourth on this campus, Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minneapolis, Minn., will speak tonight at 8 o'clock on the west approach to Old Capitol. Although no subject has been announced, it is expected that Dr. Judd's talk will be on the outstanding political issues of the day.

Dr. Judd last week was re-elected from his Minneapolis district after one term in congress, where he represents a group crusading for the organization of the world on a more cooperative and friendly basis.

Representative Judd served as a medical missionary and superintendent of hospitals in China from 1925 to 1931 and from 1934 to 1938. During this time he lectured to student gatherings. One of these addresses, "A Philosophy of Life That Works," has had world-wide circulation.

Dr. Judd spent two years after his return to the United States in 1938 lecturing throughout the country in an attempt to arouse the people to the menace of Japan's military expansion, advocating an embargo on the sale and shipment of war materials to Japan.

He was elected to congress two years ago after a short time in private medical practice in Minneapolis.

Representative Judd will conduct a round table discussion of current issues at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in the house chamber of Old Capitol. The public as well as university students and faculty is invited to the lecture and round table discussion. No tickets are required.

If the weather is unfavorable for the outdoor lecture, tonight it will be presented in Macbride auditorium.

Former Associates Of Late President To Speak at Ceremony

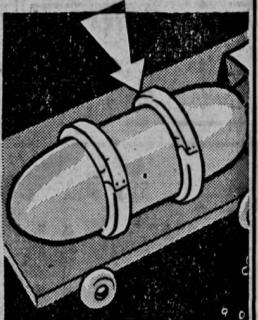

All university classes will be dismissed and administrative offices will close this morning at 11 o'clock for the Convocation to be held in Iowa Union in memory of the late President Emeritus Walter A. Jessup. Faculty, students and townspeople will attend the ceremony, the first of its kind in the university.

Five former associates of Dr. Jessup will speak at the Convocation, at which President Virgil M. Hancher will preside. William R. Boyd of Cedar Rapids, chairman of the finance committee of the state board of education, will speak on his association with Dr. Jessup over the 18-year period in which he was president of the university. Other speakers will be W. Earl Hall, managing editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette and a member of the state board of education; Prof. Forest C. Ensign of the college of education, a personal friend of the late President Emeritus Jessup, and Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, who was brought here by Dr. Jessup in 1927 and made director of the first school of religion established in a state university.

Dr. Jessup, president of the university from 1916 to 1934, was president of the Carnegie corporation and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. He died last week of a heart attack in his New York City apartment.

SAVE WASTE PAPER

for
BOMB BANDS

SAVE A BUNDLE A WEEK

U. S. VICTORY WASTE PAPER CAMPAIGN

Col. Theodore Wrenn To Lead Grand March At Regimental Dance

Maurie Bruckmann's orchestra will provide the music for the first regimental dance of the army specialized training unit tonight from 8:30 until midnight in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Guests will be received by Col. Theodore Wrenn, President and Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher, Col. and Mrs. Douglas W. McEbery, Lieut. E. F. McDevitt, U. S. N. R., Lieut. George R. Cole, U. S. N. R., and Mrs. Cole, Capt. Herbert Garrett, Lieut. and Mrs. John D. Bradley,

Iowa City Housewives!

Have Your Waste Paper On the Curb This Sunday

The Daily Iowan

High School Debate, Discussion Groups To Meet Tomorrow

A conference on high school discussion and debate, held under the auspices of the speech department and directed by Prof. A. Craig Baird, chairman of the Iowa High School Forensic league, will be held in the house chamber of Old Capitol tomorrow afternoon, starting at 1:15.

There will be a debate on the national high school debate question for 1944-45, "Resolved: That the legal voting age should be reduced to 18 years." Robert Ray, G of Davenport, will be chairman, with Gordon Christensen, A3 of Iowa City, debating the affirmative and Bruce Hughes, A2 of Sioux City, negative. Each speaker will have 15 minutes for his presentation.

Panel Discussion A panel discussion following the debate will consider the questions of the how the proposition should be discussed and debated by high school students, what the issues are, the sources of information and the leading arguments.

Members of the panel include Dorothy Keller, A3 of Davenport; Joan Ronk of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Bonnie White, A2 of Riverside; Velma Martin, A3 of Laurstudent will have unusual adjustment problems," he said.

"It may be necessary to push the men sometimes," he declared, "but this can be done intelligently. They must learn to meet civilian competition and develop initiative which they may have lost in service."

Marshall O'Harra Installed as Head Of Eureka Lodge

Marshall O'Harra was installed as noble grand of Eureka lodge No. 44, L.P.P.F., Tuesday night in the Odd Fellow hall and Wilbur Phelps took office as vice grand.

Others taking office were Robert O'Harra Sr., right support to noble grand; Robert Carson, right support to vice grand; Benjamin Kimmel, left support to vice grand; Lou Messner, chaplain; Roy Gurwell, warden; Glenn Wentzel, conductor; William Potter, inside guardian; Boyd Brack, outside guardian, and Ed Carter, right scene supporter.

Roy Engleman conducted the ceremony, serving as district deputy grand master. Included in his staff were Allan Rarick, grand warden; S. A. Fitzgarrald, chaplain; Boyd Brack, grand marshal; Orr Patterson, inside guardian and Harrison Orr, outside guardian.

ens; Jean Bowsly, A4 of Waterloo; Emma Sue Phelps, G of Bluefield, W. Va.; Marcella Oberle, G of Geneseo, Ill.; and Rex Kyker, G of Abilene, Tex., all members of Professor Baird's debate class.

Program Adjustments Another panel discussion will be held at 2:15 on the adjustments interscholastic high school speaking and debating leagues may make in their program in order to accomplish the educational aims and objectives of high school curricular and extra-curricular competitive speaking activities.

Discussion leaders will be Professor Baird, Prof. Karl Robinson, head of the University high school speech department, and C. W. Edley, G of Iowa City.

The session is open to all those interested in high school or college speaking activities.

Commerce Group Holds Panel, Picnic

Prof. F. G. Nichols of the school of education at Harvard university at Cambridge, Mass., presented a panel on "Possible Developments of Regional Vocational Schools" at 7:30 last night in Old Capitol.

The discussion was held after a picnic in City park yesterday evening for all students and faculty of the college of commerce. Pi Omega Pi, fraternity for business teachers, sponsored the event. In charge of the picnic were Margaret Walljager, G of West Point, and Inez Gieseking, G of Altamont, Ill. Lucas Sterne, G of Brunswick, Mo., was chairman of the panel.

Guests of honor included Professor Nichols, Dr. Godfrey Dewey of New York City, author of the Script shorthand system and authority on shorthand; Edith Bisbee of New York City, representative of the Prentice Hall publishing company and demonstrator of the Thomas shorthand system, and Mary Williamson of Des Moines, supervisor of distributive education in Iowa.

Newhampton Man Dies in Plane Crash

NEWHAMPTON, Iowa (AP)—Leroy W. Zipz, 27, tavern operator here, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when his Taylor Cub airplane crashed five miles east of here and burned.

Virgil Schwickerath, farmer who was haying nearby, said Zipz's plane was flying low and struck a fence. Dr. Paul E. Gardner, coroner, said no inquest would be held.