Passenger Cars May Be in Production By This March

WASHINGTON—Look for new passenger automobiles to be built around next March if the war against Germany ends this year. That is the date tentatively agreed upon by the war production board and the auto industry.

All car production will be held up until Germany is defeated. But if that X-Day comes this year, the preliminary output schedule calls for a two million car quota in the early months of civilian production. That number will be a mere drop in the bucket beside the estimated 12 million automobiles which Americans will demand and need in the post-war period.

The Nipponese high command would give anything to know the whereabouts of America's No. 1 Jap killer—Admiral William F. Halsey.

Halsey, who earned his reputation beating numerically superior Jap forces two years ago in the Guadalcanal campaign, has a new fleet which has not yet been reported in action.

Significantly, the Jap high command probably is still pondering Halsey's remarks when he relinquished his south Pacific command. At that time, he told his former fighting men he would see them "further along the road to Tokyo."

Does this mean that Halsey will play an important part when American forces move into the Philippines? The Japs would like to know.

In spite of the fact that she has been all but knocked out by the Japanese, fighting China has just enacted a new law requiring compulsory education for all persons—children and illiterate adults alike.

The law climaxes a campaign against illiteracy that began in China 50 years ago. The new public school law provides that all children between the ages of six and 12 go to a free public school, and that every adult who cannot read or write attend school for at least a year.

The senate's vigilant watchdog—the Truman investigating committee—chalked up another victory for its part in the industrial reconversion agreement among warring government officials.

By indirectly forcing the war production board, the military services and other government agencies to come to terms on the resumption of partial civilian production, the committee has virtually played out its role.

The committee intends, however, to continue as the people's forum. Future hearings will probably be marked by complaints from businessmen denied applications for resumption of civilian production.

The United States army has won another fight. This one was on the toy front with baby dolls as the objective.

WPB intended to reject the request of a manufacturer for 14 tons of lead and some brass for eyes and voices for Christmas dolls.

It was found out that the boys at the front wanted "life-like" babies for Christmas presents for their kiddies. The army then fired a few blasts in support of the request when it learned that 5 percent of the dolls were to be set aside for request orders from service fathers and the objective was taken.

E Bonds Sold
DES MOINES (AP)—More than $1,000,000 a day in E bonds for the rest of the week is the average needed for Iowa to reach its goal, the state war finance committee said yesterday.

Iowa's total sales through last week in the Fifth war loan amounted to $65,900,000 worth of E bonds. The quota of that series is $74,000,000.

Sales for last Saturday were the lowest for a single day on record for the drive, with purchases of only $200,000, the committee reported.

Increase in Divorce Example of Paganism America Practices

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, professor of religion at Stanford university, declared last night the church now "must see America as part of the mission field."

"The alarming increase in divorce and the frank use of power politics are but two of the examples of the paganism America is practicing wholesale," Trueblood told some 150 ministers attending the opening session of the 13th annual pastors' institute and educational conference.

In a prepared address he said the country was close to a period similar to the one in which early Christians set out to spread Christianity in an alien environment, and asserted paganism had secured a foothold "in vast areas of the nation."

He said Christian faith "can

Los Angeles Divorce Rate Half as High As That of Reno

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A soaring divorce rate in Los Angeles may indicate a trend, in some sections of the nation at least, toward more divorces than marriages after the war, says Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the American institute of family relations.

Lecturing at the University of California at Los Angeles, Dr. Popenoe said Los Angeles now has a divorce rate half again as high as that of Reno, Nev., despite the California restriction of one year's wait between the interlocutory and final decrees.

"The divorce rate in Los Angeles last year was 74 percent," he pointed out. "There has been very slight improvement here this year. In 1945, if partial demobilization brings many service men back to face their hasty war marriages, there most likely will be more divorces than marriages here. Similar sensational increases are to be expected, of course, in other parts of the United States."

For the first six months of 1944, Reno had 6,712 marriages—3,040 divorces, for a divorce rate of 46 percent. Los Angeles county had, in the same period, 16,378 marriages, 11,797 divorce applications, or a divorce rate of 71 percent.

Veterans Future Mirrored by Record Cripples Set

CHICAGO (AP)—A 31-year-old chemist who lost his leg in an automobile accident will help the government solve the problem of rehabilitating disabled war veterans.

He is George Barr, owner of a cosmetic and pharmaceutical manufacturing company which may be a proving ground for employment of injured service men. Of his 152 employees, 127 are physically handicapped. And in June they won the army-navy "E" for outstanding war production.

The army is preparing a visual presentation on the plant's advantages—high morale, superior production and dependable employees—to show other employers. It will show both the possibilities and problems involved in hiring handicapped persons.

Twenty-five Barr workers are blind, 30 are deaf mutes, 10 have lost a leg, one has no legs, three have lost an arm, one is a spastic paraplegic, six are infantile paralysis victims, six have curvature of the spine, 10 are partial paralytics, six are total paralytics, and 29

The Contrast Between the Conventions—

The contrast between the Republican and Democratic national conventions of 1944 is exceptionally noticeable. The GOPers made harmony their keynote and squashed all opposition before it had a chance to materialize on the convention floor.

The Democrats on the other hand, made no pretense of complete harmony, knowing full well that it simply doesn't exist and the public realizes that it doesn't exist. Whereas the Republicans went through a rapid three day production in which no one once deviated from the prepared script, the Democrats put on a show that will long be remembered by those who enjoy rough and tumble, fight-to-the-finish battles, both on the floor and in the "smoke filled rooms."

The question naturally arises in the mind of everyone who attempts to peer into the immediate future, as to which kind of convention is most likely to aid in producing a winning candidate in November. It is an old question and one which will not be decided one way or another at any particular time.

But, it is interesting to note that as far as general interest goes—and certainly such interest is in itself of great importance to political organs which must have the support of the rank and file of this nation—the Donkey-standard bearers more or less stole the show this time.

People listened half heartedly and with obvious apathy to the presettled GOP convocation, that is if they listened at all. With one or two exceptions those who attended discovered that the big show had plenty of personalities but lacked completely an exciting plot.

But with the Demos, the situation was almost completely reversed. True, the vice-presidential race presented the only real contest, but at the same time, there were numerous sharp issues upon which real clashes developed, and these provided the "front line battling" which added so much spice to the convention.

Such burning issues as the racial question, the states rights question, the federal aid question, all served to bring out into the open the delegates representing varied points. Action on the floor was constant, and even the galleries bubbled over with pent up enthusiasm.

So, there can be little doubt, but that as far as interest goes, the Democrats had it all over their Republican rivals. However, many believe that such fights can do nothing but cause friction and hard feeling among the various elements of the party—the conservatives and liberals, the southerners and northerners etc.

There may be some truth in this statement, yet we are inclined to believe in the long run, it will hurt no one to air these festering sores of disagreement and give the rival factions a chance to publicly put forth their ideas. Sure, they had a big fight over various problems, sure, the vice-presidential race was a real old fashioned race with no compromises asked or given, but after all isn't that the kind of democracy we want to have here in America?

Doesn't it seem reasonable to assume that as long as you DO have battling in conventions and in politics in general that our democracy is alive and virulent? Only when things go too smoothly and no opposition at all develops must we begin to worry about the health of our government.

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

Russian Guns Mean Freedom For Enslaved Warsaw

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

The distant rumbling of Russian guns that mean freedom is already sounding in the ears of the Nazi enslaved population of Warsaw when the east wind blows.

Red columns are that close to the northeast, the east and the southeast, and there are Berlin as well as Moscow intimations of a German flight to the Wisla (Vistula) from their shattered Bug river defense front in central Poland of which only Brest Litovsk and Lwow, north and south anchorages, remain in Nazi hands.

If they follow their own well established strategy, however, Red forces will bypass Warsaw, not waste lives in frontal assaults. Most of the city lies west of the Wisla. It would be more difficult to take by storm than Stalingrad, highwater mark of the Nazi war on Russia but never Russian yielded.

German expectation of Russian bypassing drives on both sides of Warsaw is indicated in evacuation of Siedlec, last important town on the Warsaw-Moscow direct railroad east of Warsaw. At that point a Russian advance group is now less than 50 miles from the heart of the old Polish capital.

Southward at Lublin, the Russians have posed a graver threat by a wide-fronted break-through across the Bug to within 25 miles or less of the Wisla. It is thereby every sign, at the town of Putawy where the Lublin-Radom railroad crosses the Wisla that the fate of the last water defense line east of Germany's own frontiers is apt to be decided.

A Russian break-through at that point driven to any depth would outflank the Warsaw defenses. And farther south Ukrainian armies 65 miles west of bypassed Lwow are already in a position to turn the Wisla front before the demoralized foe reaches it for a stand.

Mussolini Fell From Power One Year Ago

One year ago today Benito Mussolini fell from power, victim of the rotting away of the Fascist structure he had built in Italy.

Since then Italy has capitulated, allied invasion armies have won two-thirds of the mainland, King Vittorio Emanuele has given up active exercise of his royal power. Mussolini heads a German-supported Fascist government, an ill man stripped of his totalitarian power. "rescued" by the Germans, he has exacted revenge on some of the men.

Battling Hawaiians--

WITH THE AEP IN ITALY, July 14 (Delayed) (AP)—Most of the men in the 100th battalion were born in Hawaii, but they learned English in school long ago—which is a good thing for a trio of Yank doughboys.

They did, and out walked the three Yanks, who had been captured a short time before, plus one German guard—who had already been convinced that he'd better sit the rest of this one out.

Lots of soldiers get shot at more than Lieut. Richard W. Walkup, Tampa, Tex., but few would care to change places with him. He heads a bomb disposal squad, which actually disposes of any kind of live explosive—from hand grenades to huge booby trapped ammunition piles. Right now it's clearing out sectors north of Rome which will be occupied by hospitals and various rear area officers as the army moves up.

Members of Walkup's crew are Tech. Sgt. Raymond Frech, Creedside, Pa., who the lieutenant calls "the best demolition man in the army"—Sergt. Gailard Krenz, Augusta, Wis., and four Corporals, William Ziegler, Cincinnati, Ohio, Michael Vlock, Leport, Edward Fox, Paris Texas, and William Morcherding, Baltimore, Maryland.

They all had a lot of training at Aberdeen ordnance grounds in Maryland before coming overseas, but "that doesn't keep you from sweating," grinned Walkup, who had carefully removed a hand grenade with pin pulled from an ammunition pile.

Dewey Aides Report Itinerary for Trip To Governors' Meet

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Agricultural and other problems of the midwest, where his backers look for strong support of his presidential candidacy, will occupy much of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's attention on his trip to and from the St. Louis conference of Republican governors.

Aides of the GOP presidential nominee, announcing the itinerary of next week's trip, said yesterday Dewey will confer at Springfield, Ill., with the state's Republican congressional delegation and labor, industry and agricultural leaders on problems of that area. Conferences will be held in St. Louis after the governors' session.

Dewey will leave New York City Sunday night, after a weekend at his Pawling farm, and arrive in Pittsburgh, Monday, July 31, for similar discussion of several matters including the post-war reconversion of industry.

Story City Girl To Be Featured In Coming Concert

Shostakovich's "Concerto for Piano and Small Orchestra," the second number on the program for the anniversary concert Wednesday night in recognition of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp's 25 years at the University of Iowa, will feature Kathryn Rose, A4 of Story City, as piano soloist.

Miss Rose, following her high school graduation, studied at the Julliard school of music in New York and at Iowa State college in Ames before transferring in the fall of 1943 to the university, where she will graduate at the August Convocation. During the current academic year she has been accompanist of the University chorus and the summer session chorus and has appeared in solo and ensemble recitals. Many will remember her performance of the "Third Piano Concerto" (Beethoven) with the 1937 All-State high school orchestra.

Kathryn Rose

The Shostakovich concerto uses only strings and a single trumpet besides the solo piano. It is comparatively light and airy, much more so than the symphonies Shostakovich has composed, and is the first symphonic number by this composer to be performed by the University orchestra.

"Die Ideale" (Liszt) opens the University orchestra concert. It is a brilliant and romantic number based on Schiller's word poem by the same name. In it, man looks back on a life of disillusionments and unfulfilled ambitions, and yet realizes that life is good, nevertheless, for he has friends and there is still work to be done.

The conductor's "Symphony No. 5 in D Major" will receive its first performance anywhere since its composition in 1926. Many who have heard it in rehearsal declare it is one of Professor Clapp's best works, despite its relative shortness for this type of work.

A special program has been prepared for the anniversary concert, with a character line drawing of the conductor, done by Prof. Philip Guston of the art department, as the cover. Prof. E. E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, has written a biographical sketch which will also be included in the program along with the usual program notes by Professor Clapp on the music to be presented by the orchestra.

Truman Awaits Word Of Meeting With FDR

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The GI boys of Battery D of the old Missouri national guard who served under him in France in 1918 gathered around to congratulate Senator Truman (D., Mo.) yesterday while the Democratic vice-presidential nominee awaited word from President Roosevelt as to where and when they would meet to map campaign strategy.

"I haven't heard from the president since he sent me a telegram of congratulation on my nomination," Truman said amidst a busy round of receiving friends at his federal building office here, but speculation continued that an early meeting between the candidates would be in order.

The president's whereabouts have not been disclosed since he accepted the presidential nomination by radio from a west coast naval station July 20, 24 hours before the Chicago convention chose Truman as the Democratic running mate.

Wins Divorce Suit

Verla Loon won a suit for divorce in the district court yesterday from Dean Loon. Swisher and Swisher represented her as attorneys. There were no children to the union, and she asked no alimony, but received the right to resume her maiden name.

The two were married in Kirksville, Mo., Jan. 24, 1942, and separated in December, 1942.

"I'd rather be with them—than waiting for them"

I'LL ADMIT there's a funny lump in my throat . . . But here I am, loaded with my overseas pack, climbing up the side of the biggest boat I've ever seen—and glad of it. Glad I said "good-bye" to civilian life months ago—and went into the WAC. Glad I went through all the training and on to active duty. For, as a Wac, I'm really working for victory. Sharing the hard part of war. And the glory that will come. I'd rather be with them—in the Army . . . Than waiting back home—thinking up things to make the time go by—listening to the news—wondering when it'll all be over. Yes, I'm in the Army and on my way—and I'm glad to the bottom of my heart!

Iowa Seahawks Defeat Camp Ellis Team, 9 to 5

Capture 21st Straight Win

Carlos Ratliff Socks Home Run in Seventh For Final Marker

Taking advantage of every opportunity, the Iowa Seahawks defeated the Camp Ellis Cardinals 9 to 5 in a hotly contested game Sunday on the Iowa diamond. With this win the navy ran their victory string to 21 straight and also showed 22 wins out of 23 starts.

The Seahawks took an early 6 to 1 lead which soon melted away as the Cardinals put themselves back in the ball game by scoring a single tally in the second inning and a pair of runs in the fifth and sixth frames.

Insuring their victory the cadets brought in two more runs in the sixth and another in the seventh when Carlos Ratliff hit a long home run to right field.

Keith Simon, navy pitcher, allowed all five runs and was relieved by Ed Wieland in the top of the seventh. Wieland quelled the Cardinal uprising to save the victory.

Ned Harris, Bill Baker and Lou Rochelli provided the hitting punch, getting three hits apiece and scoring five runs.

Power at the plate for the Camp Ellis team came from the bats of Combs and Charter who accounted for five of Ellis' nine hits.

Heaviest blow of the day was Ratliff's long drive to the track in the right field for a home run. The Seahawks will be seeking to add to their victory streak when they meet the Peoria team and the Ottumwa All-Stars this week-end.

Giants Rally in Eighth To Top Cubs, 5 to 3

NEW YORK (AP)—Phil Weintraub's 400-foot double sparked the New York Giants to a four-run rally in the eighth inning last night as Mel Ott's men came from behind to top the Chicago Cubs, 5-3, and split their four-game series.

Claude Passeau had a two-run lead going into the eighth but the New Yorkers picked up four runs and the game on singles on Rookie Leon Treadway, Pinch-Hitter Bruce Sloan and Joe Medwick, Weintraub's double and a one-bag by Ernie Lombardi.

Quigley Appointed K. U. Director of Athletics; Luster Says Sooner Team Stronger This Year

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—E. C. Quigley, whose cry of "You can't do that!" has roared over many sports fields in his long career as an arbiter, took a new job yesterday—rebuilding the athletic fortunes of Kansas University.

The former National league umpire was appointed director of athletics—and he promised an aggressive sports program for the Big Six school, his alma mater.

The 63-year-old Quigley—"But I'm only about 41 in how they get around"—said he would have full charge of the school's athletics. At his home in St. Mary's, Kan., where he raises fine hogs, Quigley said he had no contract but would "stay there as long as they want me." Neither he nor the school would reveal the salary.

He was with the National league for 32 years, 25 of them as an active umpire. He then became umpire-in-chief and for the past two years has been in charge of a personal relations department dealing with high school and other teams. He said Ford Frick, president of the National league, had approved his taking over directorship of Jayhawk athletics inasmuch as his baseball job is dormant because of the war.

Kansas has been in the lower brackets of the Big Six conference for many years and has been without a regular athletic director since Gwinn Henry resigned two years ago.

Quigley began his coaching career at Warrensburg (Mo.) Teachers and for 13 years was athletic director at St. Mary's (Kan.) college before he became a baseball umpire and college sports official.

Thread O'Gold Wins Vassar Purse Race

NEW YORK (AP)—William Woodward's Thread O'Gold, a 12 to 1 shot, was awarded first place in the featured six furlong Vassar purse at Jamaica race track yesterday after the King rancher's White Paper, the apparent winner by four lengths, was disqualified and placed last.

A crowd of 22,835 that wagered $1,898,088 on seven races, saw Jimmy Stout, riding Thread O'Gold, claim a foul when White Paper cut across the field while taking the lead at the start. Jockey Warren Mehrtens, up on White Paper, was suspended for 10 days, effective tomorrow.

Closing with a rush in the last eighth of a mile P. T. Catalano's Zacabrand, a 10 to 1 outsider, won the Bristol allowance purse, feature of the opening day card at Rockingham park. A crowd of 10,000 wagered $434,443, an opening day record for the Salem, N. H. track.

Howard Wells' Equifox won her fourth race in nine starts this year by coming from behind in the stretch to capture the $4,000 Vandepool handicap at Arlington. War Knight was second and ended third. The winner ran the mile in 1:36 and paid $4.60. There was no show wagering.

Corcoran's Idea—Dream Golf

NEW YORK (AP)—Not long ago our Fritz Howell penned a piece explaining Fred Corcoran's idea for a dream golf tournament, bringing together all available champions of major tournaments of the past.

Nobody can deny it is a fine idea, but even fine ideas are open to improvement and Earl Ruby of the Louisville Courier-Journal has a suggestion worthy of consideration.

His idea is that the golfers wait for the gallery to go by before continuing play.

See Every Hole
Corcoran's theory is that the fans would welcome the chance to see yesterday's links heroes perform, and Ruby's plan not only would allow the fans to see all the linksmen play one hole, or a couple play all the holes, but would allow them to see all the players play all the holes.

It would be arranged through something of a portable gallery idea, explained by Ruby in this way in a wire to Corcoran:

"This could be made really a dream meet for spectators dogging the divot-diggers by letting the gallery take positions along the first three holes before teeing off. Make the field stop at the end of three holes until the whole field has played through. Then let the gallery go out again on four, five and six and get comfortable before the players tee off on No. 4. There would be a rest at lunch time, and another rest again at the 12th and 15th holes for the gallery to move up again as on the first nine. Thus the gallery would move only five times, yet see all the players play virtually all the holes."

Spectators Work
Now anyone who has attended a big golf tournament knows how tough it is to try to see all the players without galloping over the course. Golf is one of the few sports where the spectators work harder than the performers.

But in golf it's up to your feet if you want to see anything, and Ruby's suggestion would result in a minimum of wear and tear on the dogs and yet provide more or less of a bay window view. It might not work in all tournaments, as it would be too tedious a process, but for this particular meet it would be a jim dandy. Some of those old-time golfers probably would welcome the idea, too, as it would give them a chance to rest frequently.

In the line, returning lettermen are Merle Dinkins and J. W. Wooten, 180-pound ends; Thurman Tigar and John Harley, 190, tackles; Don Tillman, 173, guard, and Bob Mayfield, 190, center.

Luster expects about a dozen top notch freshmen civilians to stick and earn letters. Among the promising newcomers is Gene Bradley, 220-pound all-state tackle from Henryetta, Okla. A bright V-12 candidate from the prep ranks at Birmingham, Ala., is Harley Smalley, 190-pound guard.

Twilight Tear Named Best Bet to Capture Horse of Year Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Twilight Tear is almost a cinch to win the horse of the year and three-year-old championship honors.

But after handing these accolades to the wine-colored filly from Warren Wright's Calumet farm, the selection of the other turf titholders become a real problem.

When Twilight Tear raced to her 11th straight victory in the Arlington classic last Saturday she not only added to her record as the top three-year-old filly of the year but established a good claim for championship honors of the three-year-old division.

For behind her for the third time was her stablemate, Pensive, winner of the Kentucky derby and Preakness.

Although her 1944 earnings of $128,790 don't match Pensive's $157,975, the Calumet filly is the only older horse that has done everything asked of her this season. If she is voted the horse of the year and the three-year-old championship it will be the first time that one of her sex ever has won such high honors.

The two-year-olds, however, are a different problem. There are many good juveniles and it may be that some of the best will not be shown until the Saratoga at Belmont park meeting opening next Monday.

Flutterballer Jim Tobin opened for the Braves but he was blasted off the mound in the fifth inning when the Cards collected four runs on three hits, including Hopp's one-on homer.

Ted Wilks limited the Tribesmen to five scattered hits and they escaped a whitewashing in the seventh when Butch Nieman drew a pass and, after being sacrificed scored from second base on Dee Phillips' single to left field.

It was the last game for the duration for Connie Ryan, the Braves' all-star game second baseman, who reports to the navy today.

Cards Defeat Braves 7-1

BOSTON (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, paced by Marty Marion and Johnny Hopp, blasted three Boston Braves' pitchers to gain a 7-1 victory in yesterday's series' windup. Marion, who collected three consecutive doubles, started scoring drives in the third, fifth and sixth innings.

Company C Wins A. S. T. P. Championship

Company C, the engineering unit of the Army Specialized Training program, last night won the final game in the series of softball play-offs to take the title, beating the dentists of Company B, 6 to 5.

The Engineers had previously put Company D (pre-professionals) out of the race in first round play-off, while Company B had won the first game of the series 2 to 1 on Opheim's home run smash after 12 innings of play.

Company C took the second game 5 to 2 on two hit pitching by Hokek and came through last night to win the series and the championship.

Both clubs showed efficient ball handling to highlight the series and the first game, with its overtime play and close scoring, provided the most excitement of the three.

High men of the series were Kraushaar for Company C, who gained five hits for 11 times at bat for a percentage of .454, and Ochs, whose 12 trips to the bat for the Dentists gave five hits for a percentage of .417.

WPB Hard Pressed To Obtain Steel For War Needs

CLEVELAND (AP)—Instead of being able to allot substantial steel tonnage to civilian production, the war production board is hard pressed to obtain sufficient steel for war needs, the magazine Steel said yesterday.

So that urgently needed materials may be obtained first, the publication asserted, the WPB is revising its apportionment. Shell container allocations are reported cut 60 percent, involving probably more than 100,000 tons of hot and cold-rolled sheets and affecting some allotments as much as 90 percent, Steel added.

The large shell program is getting under way, the periodical said, and in August about 160,000 tons of semifinished steel will be provided for this purpose. The quota will increase until October when more than 300,000 tons monthly will be provided.

"Sheet and plate deliveries are further extended and range from December to January, with some bookings beyond," said Steel. "Bar deliveries are falling behind, though not yet as badly as flat-rolled steel. Part of this is due to diversion of semifinished steel to the shell program."

National steel making operations last week rose a half point to 97 percent of capacity. Chicago advanced 2 1/2 points to 101 percent; Cleveland, 1 to 92, and New England, 1 to 90. Pittsburgh declined a half point to 90 percent; Youngstown 1 to 95; Detroit 2 to 83, and Wheeling, 2 to 100. Unchanged rates were Cincinnati, 86; Eastern Pennsylvania, 95; St. Louis, 79 1/2; Buffalo, 90 1/2, and Birmingham, 95.

Civil Service Plans Program for Orderly Reduction of Ranks

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Civil Service Commission, dead-set against arbitrary, wholesale dismissal of federal employees at war's end, soon will announce a program for an orderly reduction of the ranks of hundreds of thousands of wartime workers throughout the nation.

A commission spokesman said yesterday the reduction-in-force regulations, recognizing rights and efficiency ratings of individuals, already have been drawn up after months of conferences with all interested war agencies.

"War agencies cannot be reduced overnight, with a bang," the commission spokesman said,

"employees must be released in a certain order of preference."

Council Members Discuss Project

Architect Tells Mayor That Swimming Pool Blueprints Are Ready

Swimming pool blueprints will be examined next week; Iowa City policemen soon will have a new squad car and Iowa Citizens may pay only 56 cents more on assessed values of 1,000 dollars in taxes next year. These are plans discussed at a meeting of the city council last night.

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters told council members that the swimming pool architect from Cedar Rapids was in Iowa City yesterday. He asked that a letter be written to the WPB office for an application for release of critical materials to be used in the construction of the pool. The plans to be presented next week are preliminary and will be offered for criticism and examination.

A 1941 Pontiac coach automobile seized by the Iowa City police recently while being used illegally to transport liquor will be re-quisitioned to the police department in compliance with a resolution passed by city council members last night.

The car, owned by Karol Gard of Rock Island will be used in place of the black Pontiac squad car.

The old car will be sold to the Mann Auto Mart for $600. In a hearing set for August 14, according to a motion at last night's council meeting, taxpayers of Iowa City will be heard for or against the estimate of expenditures for the year beginning April 1, 1945. A detailed statement of receipts and disbursement both past and anticipated will be available at the hearing.

The budget allows the total amount to be raised through taxation as $265,244. This is $20.46 estimated taxes per $1,000 of assessed value. In view of the two new city activities, the swimming pool and recreation commission, city council members agreed last night that the increase of 56 cents a thousand dollars was slight.

Included in the budget are the following estimates and figures: Among the amount to be raised by taxation next year are:

Consolidated fund	$ 127,003
Community center	3,000
Airport	9,765
Playground	6,481
Park	8,100
Library	16,000
Swimming pool	9,722

The expenditures will be $364,676 while the tax total will be $265,244; the remainder of the costs to be paid through other sources.

Other business at the city council meeting included the granting of two beer permits; one Class C was approved and will be issued to Ira M. Glassman, 127 S. Clinton.

A class B beer permit will be issued to Charles E. James of 7 S. Dubuque street. A petition that a fire hydrant be placed at Friendship and Fifth street was referred to the Fire and water committee for investigation. The city engineer reminded council members that a factory and a home had burned in this vicinity.

The council adjourned until August 14.

The 'Dream'- One of the Finest Productions in SUI Theater

By JAN ALLEN

If William Shakespeare had been present at last night's performance of his "Midsummer Night's Dream," at the University theater, we think he would have stopped to shake the hand of its director, B. Iden Payne, and say, "well done."

Without waxing lush with superlatives, we must confine ourselves to saying it was one of the finest productions ever to be presented in the theater here.

Add to the richness of the author's lines and imagination a touch of whimsy and a large slice of slapstick, two impressive sets, skillful lighting, and exciting costumes, and top it all with a capable cast, and you have—"the Dream."

Although the opening scene was a trifle static, it began to roll with the entrance of Mary Bob Knapp as Hermia. She ran a skillful gamut of emotions throughout the play, from the disheartened Athenian maid about to lose her love to her true love, to the snarling wench defending herself against her rival, Helena.

And the sweet, if persistent Helena herself was ably portrayed by Dale Hankins. The part could so easily be pure namsy-pamsy, but a combination of good acting and fine directing made the Demetrius-pursuing maiden a delightful and sympathetic laughing-stock.

Robert Ray
Playing the part of Lysander under the handicap of a wrenched shoulder, Robert Ray was convincing and varied of mood, as the swain of Hermia, duped with Puck's magic philtre.

Demetrius, who also falls under the spell of the woodland sprite, is perhaps a trifle less polished, although it is difficult to draw comparisons in such a play. He came to the fore, however, in the scene in which he casts off the love-struck Helena.

But for pure and unadulterated slapstick, William Porter stole many a scene as Bottom, the churlish love of Titania, queen of the fairies. If slapstick can be subtle, his was that, and the audience reacted with near-hysteria.

Wyatte Thompson
Titania herself, as the beautiful and ethereal queen, played by Wyatte Thompson, was worthy of praise. Besides a light, sweet voice, she has natural grace, and uses her hands effectively in the part.

Hers was one of the few parts not pointed with humor, and she handled it with competence.

Bernice McMahon
Tiny Bernice McMahon was a delightful Puck. Her voice at times was a bit too high to be clearly understandable, but she was light and quick on her feet, portraying the impish woodsprite in every movement.

Black-clad Oberon, king of the fairies, and master of Puck, was ably done by Julien Benjamin, whose fine, rich voice made every word clear as a bell. His "I know a bank where the wild thyme grows" suited us to a "T."

In the smaller parts, we must admit Dick Baldrige was screamingly funny as Flute, but we deplore his scene-stealing. Effective as it was, his clowning detracted from the center of attention in several important scenes, while he did everything but stand on his hands to hold the spotlight.

Rex Kyker
Rex Kyker's Egeus, father of Hermia, was adequate, but a false beard swallowed up many of his words. We believe the audience would get more out of the part if he could project his voice a little farther.

As a unit, the clowns were unmatched. Here again, the fine perfectionist hand of Director Payne was obvious in the dumb-show plays between Snug, Bottom, Flute, Snout and Starveling.

This was Payne, not Shakespeare, and it was lovely. Lean and rickety Christopher Lane took the small part of Starveling and made it a thing of side-splitting humor. His attempt to climb onto the bench whereon he played "the moon" brought a burst of applause from the audience.

Hugo Sipple
Hugo Sipple and Charles Lown as Snout matched each other's performances, and kept the audience in tears of laughter.

Although hardly professional ballet dancers, the fairy dancing was satisfyingly smooth, with Joan Sedlar as an airy First Fairy. And the audience again gave spontaneous applause when Alice Walderson sang her bright little fairy lullabye.

Indeed this play "scapes the serpent's tongue" as Puck wished it. It was as smooth a blend of humor and fantasy as this reviewer has ever seen on an amateur stage, and indeed, it was difficult to believe that we were not sitting in at a first-rate Broadway production.

Oh yes—we have one gripe to register, and we feel sure that university audiences will agree with us. Plays like this deserve curtain calls, and would undoubtedly have gotten numerous summons were it not a custom here to dispense with them. Surely both the actors and the audiences would be happier if allowed to express appreciation through curtain calls. How about it?

'Cotton Ed' Smith Seeks Seventh Term In Senatorial Election

COLUMBIA, S. C., (AP)—Just a month before his 80th birthday, Ellison D. (Cotton Ed) Smith—whose nearly 36 years in office makes him dean of the senate—seeks a seventh consecutive term today as South Carolina Democrat nominee a United States senator.

Smith, strongly anti-administration, has four rivals: Two-time and present Gov. Olin D. Johnston, unsuccessful administration—supported candidate against Smith in the "purge" campaign six years ago; anti-administration Augustus S. Merrimon of Sumter; pro-New Deal Dr. Carl B. Epps, Sumter surgeon, and Atty. Gen. John M. Daniel.

Johnston has said that because of the war the administration should be backed but that he was not 100 percent in favor of all the administration's policies. While supporting much of the administration's activities, Daniel also said he did not go along all the way.

Film Star Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A little group of film players, who knew her in the days when making motion pictures was more of a gay and exciting adventure than a gigantic business, paid last honors yesterday to Mildred Harris, one of the foremost stars of the silent screen era.

Christian Science funeral services were conducted for Miss Harris, 41, who died last Thursday after an operation. Her body was entombed in the Hollywood cemetery mausoleum.

Among flowers banking the chapel was a large spray of orchids and roses from Charlie Chaplin whom she married in 1917 and divorced three years later. Among survivors is her third husband, William Fleckenstein, her business manager.

William Randolph Ohl, West Liberty, and Ada Ethel Chance, Centerville; William Fields, Linn county, and Rita Cerhan, Johnson county; Emil Zeithamel and Zaida Lucile Sweet, Linn county.

GOP Chairman Lists Factors Influencing Democrats' Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., declared yesterday that the Democrats proved a Republican contention last week when they passed over President Roosevelt's first choice for running mate, Henry A. Wallace.

The contention: "It's time to change horses."

Brownell Predictions
Brownell, making his first visit to Republican headquarters here since he was named last month to direct the party's national campaign, predicted the next few months will bring "considerable" talk about control of the Democratic party.

This control, he declared, rests with two elements—"the bosses of the corrupt big city machines and the radical left wingers who are closer to communism than to any other political philosophy." He mentioned no names.

No Comment on South
He did not answer specifically an inquiry about the possibility of Republican efforts to break in to the solid south. But he asserted that the "dissension, back-biting and confusion" among various factions at the Democratic convention was a "preview of what might be expected if the New Deal were to have another four years in Washington."

He laid special emphasis on a claim that the Republicans have a majority of strength in 26 states with Republican administrations, and declared:

'GOP Will Win'
"I have no hesitance in saying that there is more enthusiasm, cooperation and spirit of victory in the party than there has been in a generation. If that is carried right up to election night, the Dewey-Bricker ticket will win."

Asked whether his reference to a united party embraced Wendell Willkie, the 1940 Republican presidential candidate who objected to some of the foreign policy declaration in the Republican platform, Brownell said: "I think you'll find as the campaign progresses every Republican leader will be united for the Dewey-Bricker ticket."

The chairman said the national committee's research division and some other activities would be left in Washington but that the press, radio, promotion, women's, congressional and senatorial activities will center in New York.

A regional Republican committee office will be opened in Chicago next month, he added, and others might be set up elsewhere later on.

'Society of Goldbrick Paps'—

G. I. Advice by V-Mail

U. S. FIFTH AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, July 14 (Delayed)—(AP)—Soldier, you too now can rear your children by V-mail.

How? Simply by joining the "Society of Goldbrick Paps." You can get full particulars by writing to Brig. Gen. Warren B. Carter's troop carrier command at Fifth Airforce headquarters here.

Of course there are a few by-laws that must be observed. Members must be overseas and must never have seen their progeny. They must be experts on washing diapers, treating measles, silencing midnight howls and inducing baby to take his or her food.

Possession of such knowledge is essential. How otherwise is the little wife to realize fully the benefits and advantages of objective advice via V-mail?

Membership in the society rapidly is approaching a hundred, representing more than half the states. The members meet frequently, informally, to exchange suggestions on child-rearing problems and to admire snapshots of baby-in-the-bath.

As one charter member expressed it "This society is long on advice and short on work." Thus he explained the "Goldbrick" in the title.

Boosters of the society urge "Join now and help swell the growing roster of dads coolly contemplating the responsibilities of fatherhood—from a safe distance."

CIO, AFL Agree To Grant Veterans Job Seniority Rights

Labor, VFW State Views of Policy On Post-War Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO and the AFL have agreed with the veterans of Foreign Wars to grant job seniority rights to returning veterans on a basis of one month's seniority for each month spent in the armed forces after Sept. 1, 1940.

The agreement is embodied in a statement of general policy on post-war relations between labor and veterans announced last night by VFW's national commander, Carl J. Shoening of Detroit.

Policy Not Binding
High-ranking leaders of each union sat in on the conferences and while the declaration of policy is not necessarily binding on individual unions in the AFL and CIO, it will be recommended to them and labor and VFW representatives alike expressed confidence that it will be adopted fully.

In addition to the seniority formula, the agreement provides that qualified, skilled veterans will be entitled to union membership at pre-war initiation charges and at current dues rates; affirms labor's right to organize and bargain collectively; and declared that a disabled veteran, unable to hold his old job, should be given consideration for other work by his former employer.

Seniority Formula
The seniority formula, applicable in local unions where work assignments are based on an employer's length of service, covers men who never have held a job prior to entering service, and those who had worked but had not belonged to unions.

Thus, it would be possible for a youth who entered the navy or army and learned a trade, to enter a union job with full work credit for the period of his military service after Sept. 1, 1940.

The unions already have established a policy giving full seniority credit for military service to former members of the unions.

'Great Step Forward'
Omar B. Ketchum, legislative representative of the VFW, termed the overall agreement a "great step forward in sound relations between labor and veterans."

The American Legion, Ketchum said, was invited to participate in the conferences but reported it was unable to do so.

GI's Loved—'WACs In Khaki'

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, July 14 (Delayed) (AP)—The GI's loved it—the first WAC show in New Guinea.

"Pretty good," said Sergt. Sal Legittino of Chicago, Ill., in commenting on the show.

"Pretty good," echoed Corp. Mike Campanale of Bronx, N. Y. "It was all right," chimed in Corp. John Mikulkis of New York City.

There was no short measure in the spirit, energy and good humor with which the little company worked itself unstintingly to make "WACs in Khaki" a success. "I was a little surprised how well it turned out," said Rachel Birrer, red-haired private from Hamilton, Mont., who as "Miss Buttercup" was the show's ever active mistress of ceremonies.

"We had only one practice performance out at our camp," she added.

Perhaps the outstandingly popular feature was a jitterbug exhibition in which Miss Birrer and Pfc. Fay Cox of Chicago, Ill., were joined in beating themselves into the ground by two signal corporals, Pvt. Tony Curraro, New York City, and Pvt. Caesar Restivo, New York City. "That number," Miss Buttercup confided afterwards, "was strictly impromptu."

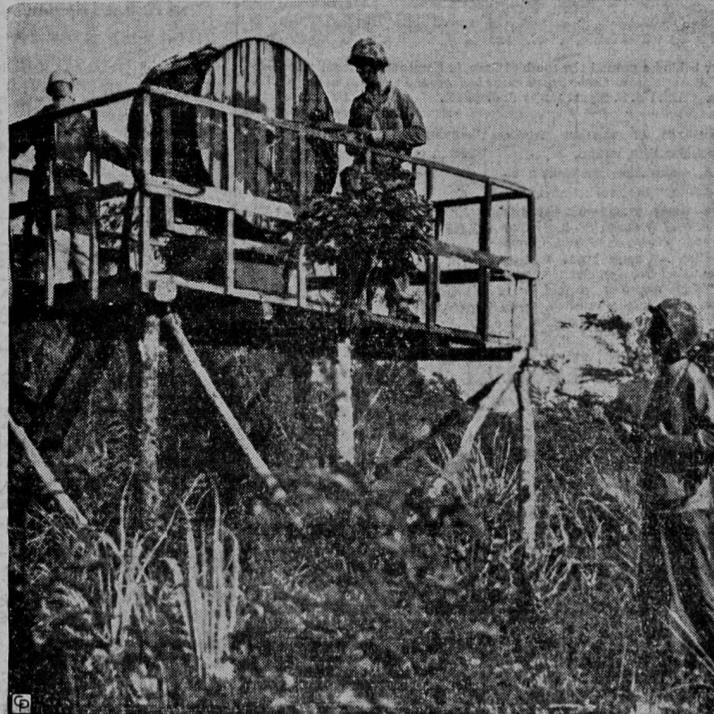

Three Army Planes Missing Off Coast Of North Carolina

POPE FIELD, N. C., (AP)—Three C-47 transport planes and 15 men comprising their crews yesterday were officially reported missing off the North Carolina coast by the commanding officer of this army air base at which the men and planes were stationed.

The planes were on an over-water training flight Friday night when last heard from. Since then continual and extensive search for the men and planes has been conducted by army, navy and coast guard installations, but was terminated last night, the announcement said, with exhaustion of all hope of finding them.

The missing men included Second Lieut. Donald W. Copeland, son of Fayne H. Copeland, 419 Damon street, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

DUMMY WAR TOOLS USED BY JAPS ON SAIPAN

Dime Store Heiress Sues Ex-Husband For Custody of Son

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barbara Hutton Grant, heiress to dime store millions, yesterday sued her ex-husband, the former Danish nobleman Court Haugwitz-Reventlow, for sole custody of their nine-year-old son, Lance. She alleged that his purpose in removing the child to Canada last month was to harass her in the hope of obtaining large sums of money for the boy's return.

Her complaint stated that Reventlow exercised an "almost hypnotic influence" over her, "and had the plaintiff under such domination that he believed he could later acquire her fortune, or a substantial part thereof."

Mrs. Grant, wife of Film Star Cary Grant, asserted Reventlow is not a fit custodian for the boy; "that the desire for money and the accumulation of wealth without work... is paramount" with him "to the exclusion of other ideas or sentiments."

Mrs. Grant alleged that Reventlow was given to violent fits of temper, disregarded the boy's welfare, and that he is of German birth and ancestry and indoctrinated for the "idea" of his own superiority.

After their marriage, she said she transferred to his bank account $1,477,697. As a price for his consent to a divorce, she said she established for him a trust fund for the same amount.

Under a separation agreement, Mrs. Grant and Reventlow were to share Lance's custody for alternate six-month periods. Mrs. Grant was to obtain possession of the boy July 1, but June 30 Reventlow's attorneys announced he had taken Lance to Canada.

Mrs. Grant's complaint alleged that July 12 she phoned Reventlow in Vancouver B. C., demanding Lance's return. Reventlow, she said, told her negotiations must be carried on with his lawyers.

Auxiliary to Meet

Spanish-American War Veterans auxiliary will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yavorsky, 1006 N. Summit street, tomorrow evening at 7:30. The business meeting will be followed by a social hour.

Des Moines Cadet Killed in Plane Crash

LA JUNTA, COL., (AP)—Cadet Jack W. Dalbey, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross M. Dalbey, Des Moines, was killed yesterday in the crash and explosion of a twin-engine training plane from La Junta army air field near the base.

Dalbey's brother, Cadet Ross, Jr., a student in the same class, was in the air at the time but didn't see the crackup. The two had flown together often.

NAZIS MADE USE OF THEIR TALENTS

"COMMAND PERFORMANCE" might be the title of this picture combination, for both of these youngsters were forced to put their talents to work for the Nazis. The young lady in the top photo is GINETTE, a pretty French dancing girl who, with her troupe, was brought from Paris to perform for German forces on the Cherbourg peninsula, and was left stranded when the beaten Nazis hurriedly evacuated the area. The lad in the lower photo is Ivan Jayulzon, a Russian who waited three days in a fox-hole for American forces to take him prisoner. Ivan served with the Red Army for two years before he was captured by the Germans and given his choice of joining the German Army or being shot. (International)
