Allies Rout Germans Near Belgian Border

Capture First World War Battlefields

Nazis in Headlong Flight Only 96 Miles From German Border

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Wednesday (AP)

The Germans in northern France were in headlong flight today before American armored columns that roared into Soissons, only 55 miles from Belgium and clattered past the vineyards of Champagne to Chalons, within 96 miles of the German border.

The United States Third army in a dash of more than 25 miles across hallowed American battlefields of the First World War, had captured Chateau-Thierry and Belleau Wood and was driving on northward along the historic invasion route toward the forest of Ardennes.

The Americans dislocated any German plans for a stand along the Aisne river and posed a potent threat to the entire German flank as well as to the most feasible route for withdrawal of the Nazi 15th army that guards the flying-bomb sites of the Pas de Calais coast.

The British Second army was thrusting to those secret weapon bases with the motto "one more kilometer, one less bomb." The westernmost British elements had driven to Entrappigny, 18 miles beyond their original Seine river bridgehead at Vernon.

Covering miles for each bloody yard their fathers won in 1918, the Americans under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., encountered only minor resistance, and Associated Press Correspondent Edward D. Ball reported from the front that the Germans were "in headlong flight" toward Belgium and their homeland.

East of the capital the allies were, by German account, fighting in the streets of Chalons, only 96 miles from the German frontier and a bare 50 miles from the battlefield east of Verdun on which the Germans and the allies were fighting when the First World War armistice was announced Nov. 11, 1918.

Supreme headquarters had no confirmation at midnight Tuesday of a report that either Chalons or Vitry to the south had been completely occupied, but General Patton's men were disclosed to have made further gains across the Marne just below Chalons.

As the allies neared Belgium patriots in that occupied country got a preliminary call to arms from the independence front. All able-bodied patriots were ordered to join the resistance army, to steal arms from the Germans and to prepare for an all-out battle for liberation.

The spectacular thrust northward toward the Ardennes forest and Sedan was putting in reverse invasion marches which the Germans made southward in 1870, in 1914, and finally in the present war when the blitzkrieg triumphed over the crumbling French in the spring of 1940.

West from Elbeuf, the Canadians, Dutch and Belgians penned the Germans remaining below the Seine into three deep loops of the river. Although the Berlin radio claimed that all Nazi troops now had been evacuated to the north bank, the latest reports at supreme headquarters said that there still was very hard fighting at each loop.

Mysterious Blast Rocks English Coast

FOLKESTONE, England, Wednesday (AP)—This southeast coast town shook and the earth rumbled for several seconds just before midnight, and speculation immediately ranged from a prosaic demolition of a munitions dump in France to the possibility that the Germans were testing their long-threatened "vengeance" weapon No. 2.

Various reports said the shock, whatever it was, shook the southeast coast and was the heaviest felt during the war.

People of Folkestone, who are used to such noises as air bombings, shellings and mine explosions at sea, said the sound in this case seemed different and appeared to originate a long distance away.

Recalled to U. S.?

CRITICISM of the British policy toward India by President Roosevelt's personal representative, Ambassador William Phillips, above, has led the British government to request his recall, according to Washington diplomatic circles.

Phillips has been attached to General Eisenhower's headquarters in London since his mission to India last year. The U. S. state department recently announced that he was returning next month "for urgent family reasons."

President Sets Date To Open Campaign

Will Speak to AFL Teamsters Union Meeting Sept. 23

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that he has chosen the same setting for formal opening of his re-election campaign that he did in 1940 and will address an AFL teamsters union meeting here Sept. 23.

He told a news conference it would be his first political speech of the campaign. Actually, he said, he did not believe the speech would be very political but that it would seem so and he might as well label it as such.

The president said the Democratic national committee would pay for radio time for his Sept. 23 speech.

The teamsters' union, headed by Daniel Tobin, has been called to meet here Sept. 23 to discuss various union problems. Union officials expect about 700 members of local unions all but about 100 of them from states east of the Mississippi.

Before his news conference, Mr. Roosevelt had his first meeting with Vice-President Henry A. Wallace since the Democratic national convention which showed Wallace aside in favor of Senator Harry S. Truman as a fourth term running mate.

Asked about this meeting, Mr. Roosevelt told reporters that he had a nice lunch but would not go into the intimate conversation they had. He smiled when he remarked that members of his family were present and hence the talk was perfectly decent and respectable.

Wallace told reporters there was very little political talk. The vice-president said he expected to make some speeches for the Democratic ticket. Asked about a future job for himself, Wallace told reporters he could not talk about that "until after Nov. 7, and that will depend on what happens Nov. 7."

Germans May Quit—Nazi Propagandist

LONDON (AP)—In a gloomy review of the Nazi war picture, Lieut. Gen. Kurt Dittmar implied last night that Germany would be willing to cease fighting if the allies would relax their war aims and substitute "an attitude of reason and better understanding." He addressed the German people by radio.

The high command propagandist acknowledged German reverses in France and deplored developments in Romania, but said that nevertheless Germany "has to continue as long as our enemies stick to their war aims," and "as long as reason and better understanding have not replaced this determination to destroy Germany."

"If this determination does not exist," he said, "if the world we face had been ready honestly to

Battle for Southern France Nears End

U. S. Tanks, Infantry Locked in Battle Near Sauzet

ROME (AP)—The battle for southern France and destruction of the German 19th army neared completion last night as uncounted thousands of Nazis trudged back to allied prison camps and disorganized enemy remnants fled up the Rhone valley, scattering their equipment behind them.

The greater part of the army to which Adolf Hitler entrusted the defense of southern France against allied invasion has been wiped out in a fortnight's whirlwind campaign by Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's American and French 7th army.

Whatever battered remnants managed to slip through the allied noose and escaped to the north will have to be re-equipped and re-organized completely before they will again be of any real use.

American troops slashed relentlessly at the fleeing enemy above Montelimar in the Rhone valley, 100 miles north of Marseille, where a flying Yank column reached the eastern bank of the Rhone river in a surprise thrust last week. Montelimar itself was in American hands.

Valley roads were littered with abandoned German vehicles, guns and supplies. The few vehicles still in use by the shattered Nazi columns were able to use the roads only under almost constant attacks by allied warplanes, still favored by perfect flying weather.

Allied headquarters said American tanks and infantry were locked in a particularly bitter fight with enemy elements in the area of Sauzet, four miles up the Rhone valley from Montelimar. From Montelimar to the sea west of Marseille the great valley was declared virtually free of Nazis.

French troops, fanning out across the lower Rhone in drives toward the French-Spanish border, occupied Nimes, a city of 93,758 population, and reached the area of Uzès, west of Avignon.

Enthusiastic civilian volunteers joined American and French engineers in the big job of getting Toulon and Marseille harbors into shape to supply the Seventh army and to handle emergency food, medical and other supplies urgently needed by the population. Until the docks are in working order the bulk of shipping must still be unloaded on the Riviera beaches.

The great naval base at Toulon was found to have been virtually destroyed by allied bombing and subsequent Nazi demolitions. Both arsenals were shattered, as was the main power plant, while the wreckage of tracks, crane, fuel tanks, warehouses, locomotives and rail cars littered the docks. Scores of sunken warships and other vessels dotted the harbor.

At least 10 Nazi submarines were found sunk at anchor. There was almost a total lack of bread in Marseille, and flour had the No. 1 priority among emergency supplies being rushed into France's second city.

The allied command announced that American forces pushing eastward along the Riviera toward the Italian frontier had occupied the towns of Cannes, 10 miles northeast of Cannes, and Venice, five miles inland from Cannes. Nice was expected to fall shortly.

Turks Report Bulgarian Acceptance Of Peace Terms

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—It was believed in Ankara last night that Stoicho Moshanov, Bulgarian peace emissary, had informed the allies of Bulgaria's acceptance of armistice terms.

Although there was no confirmation, informed sources said an armistice with Bulgaria was imminent. Owing to military considerations, it was said, the document might be signed at Cairo.

Reds Take Romanian Seaport of Constanta

Seizure Places Soviet Troops Only 29 Miles From Bulgarian Border

LONDON (AP)—Russian forces in a daring combined land and sea operation yesterday captured Constanta, Romania's great Black sea port and for three years the main German naval base in those waters.

Seizure of the city of 60,000 represented an 85-mile advance by sea from the port of Sulina, taken Monday, and of 70 miles by land from Tulcea on the Danube, and it put Russian troops only 29 miles from the Bulgarian border.

Constanta, terminus of the oil pipeline from Ploesti, has at least 37 huge petroleum storage tanks and a special tanker basin. In announcing its fall, Premier Stalin credited fast-moving motorized and tank formations of Gen. Fedor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army and naval forces, under Admiral E. S. Oktyabrsky.

Twenty-nine miles farther south, the border established in September, 1940, when Romania ceded the southern Dobruja territory of 2,883 square miles below the Danube to Bulgaria under pressure from Bulgaria, Germany and Italy.

The Germans already had acknowledged during the day that Soviet troops had reached the Ploesti-Constanta pipeline. They also admitted withdrawing from Buzau, oil and railway town 40 miles northeast of Ploesti.

The Soviet midnight communiqué, confirming capture of Buzau, said more than 150 other towns were taken in the extending drive in that region less than 60 miles northeast of Bucharest. The communiqué also listed 50 towns taken in the southward sweep across the Danube to Constanta.

With Russian mountain troops invading Hungarian-held Transylvania at two points to the northwest, the shadow of a potential death trap fell over the Germans still standing to defend the vital Ploesti oil region.

Romanian troops already were hemming in the Ploesti garrison from the south, and the German radio declared last night "very bitter fighting is taking place between Romanian and German troops in Bucharest and Ploesti."

The Russian communiqué was silent about developments on the Polish fronts above and below Warsaw and those on the east Prussian border but reported continuing advances northeast and southeast of Valga, Estonian communications center, despite German counterattacks.

The Germans admitted a retreat of a short distance on the central Latvian front, said that "grim fighting" took place around the Vistula river bridgeheads 130 miles southeast of Warsaw, and asserted the Russian offensive toward east Prussia from the Warsaw-Bialystok highway had slackened.

The German radio described the battle southeast of Warsaw as "of great operational importance" and said "The Soviet high command had set its mind on rolling up the whole of the Vistula front and achieving a break through to the north."

Polish Troops Push Within Three Miles Of Gothic Line

ROME (AP)—Polish forces driving up the Adriatic coast of Italy have captured the village of Fano, six miles from Pesaro, and are pushing forward within three miles of the Germans' Gothic line outposts in that sector, allied headquarters announced yesterday.

The Nazis appeared to have withdrawn almost the last of their troops into the Gothic line and to be awaiting an assault by the allied Fifth and Eighth armies.

Pro-Nazi Government Of Hungary Collapses

Three Persons Killed, One Critically Injured In Highway Accident

Car Sideswipes Stock Trucks On Highway 218

Marcella Parizek Scrivener, Iowa City, Lela Stutzman, 17, rural route 1 and Elmer Brenne-man, also of Iowa City, were killed and Nick Edle was critically injured at 11:30 last night after the car in which they were riding smashed into a J. Speas truck half a mile south of the Iowa City airport.

Although the cab of the truck was demolished, the truck driver, J. Speas, received only cuts and bruises.

Both Mrs. Scrivener and Brenne-man were instantly killed and Miss Stutzman and Edle were taken immediately to University hospital where Miss Stutzman died at 1:30 this morning.

At 2 o'clock this morning Edle was in a critical condition and although conscious may be suffering from a broken back. One of his arms is broken. Doctors said they would be able to tell more about his condition within 24 hours.

According to Speas, he was following another truck loaded with hogs enroute to Cedar Rapids. The 1934 Chevrolet was heading south toward Germany during the night and a few hours later the Nazi radio reported attacking planes over Berlin, Danzig, East and West Prussia and other parts of the Reich.

The size of the armada winging away from England and the German reports of the territory under attack indicated one of the biggest allied night air assaults in weeks was under way.

While the heavy force was hitting Prussian strongholds, the Germans said that nuisance raiders had appeared over northwestern Germany.

The night actions developed after the fourth day of sustained attacks on German transport in France and the lowlands by United States Eighth airforce fighters.

It was 1940 all over again above the French battle zones and beyond, except that this time the planes were American instead of German. There was virtually no opposition.

A recapitulation tonight showed that in three days of the attacks the fliers had destroyed 1,507 railroad cars and damaged 1,874, hit 1,223 motor vehicles, two oil trains, 42 oil tanks, 411 locomotives, 46 barges, three ammunition trains and 82 ammunition carriers.

Three allied fighters were missing from all of today's operations. A Thunderbolt group led by Lieut. Col. Ben Rimmerman of Omaha destroyed 20 enemy planes parked on a field northeast of Brussels.

Over Continent—Aerial Assault

LONDON, Wednesday (AP)—A mighty force of RAF heavy bombers roared across the channel toward Germany during the night and a few hours later the Nazi radio reported attacking planes over Berlin, Danzig, East and West Prussia and other parts of the Reich.

The size of the armada winging away from England and the German reports of the territory under attack indicated one of the biggest allied night air assaults in weeks was under way.

Allies, Axis Report German Withdrawal From Bulgaria

LONDON (AP)—The Hungarian government of pro-Nazi Doeme Sztotaj fell yesterday amid allied and axis reports that Nazi troops were withdrawing from Bulgaria to bolster the Hungarian frontier defenses against the approaching Red army.

The Hungarian regent, Admiral Nicholas Horthy, accepted the resignation of Sztotaj's government and appointed Col. Gen. Vitez Geza Lakatos as new premier, according to the German news agency, Transocean.

At the same time the Germans occupied Slovakia, pouring troops into that puppet country because of recent parachutist and guerrilla activity there.

Americans Strike Japs On 4,000 Mile Front

Naval Chiefs See New War Fury In Store for Japan

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The war fury in store for the Japanese homeland was pictured for Tokyo yesterday by American naval chiefs shortly after Nippon military overlord's urgently appealed to the empire for increased war production.

New American aerial strikes over a 4,000-mile Pacific front from the Kuriles southward to the Carolines and the Marshalls were reported by the navy.

The Yank bombers blasted airfields and other targets in the Volcano islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo, in the Marianas, the western Carolines, the Marshalls and the northern Kuriles.

Furious aerial assaults were continued by southwest Pacific fliers along the southern flank of the sealane leading toward the Philippines.

Bombers and fighters unloaded 188 tons of explosives on Ambon, Amboina island, west of Dutch New Guinea—a tonnage record for a single raid in the Moluccas or Spice islands. They left barracks, harbor works and a 3,000-ton ship in flames.

A Tokyo dispatch, broadcast by Berlin, said American forces landed near Cape Torokina, on Bougainville island, in the Solomons, Aug. 10 but were driven off in a Japanese counterattack nine days later. There was no United States confirmation of the report.

Radio Tokyo warned that hostilities "are steadily approaching the homeland," and added more plane production was needed to safeguard the empire's inner defenses.

Bad news for Nippon came from Marine Maj. Gen. Henry L. Larson, commander of Guam, who disclosed that strategic Marianas island is to become a miniature Pearl Harbor—a base from which to strike the winning blows against Nippon.

Fighting continued unabated on five fronts in embattled China. American planes roared into the battle of Chekiang province where the Japanese were driving for Lishui, potential air base for raids on Japan proper.

As the Red army entered the important Romanian Black sea port of Constanta, just 29 miles from the Bulgarian border, both German and Russian reports said Nazi soldiers were being evacuated from Bulgaria and massed against the Red army which already had crossed the Carpathian frontier of Hungarian Transylvania.

Reconnaissance pilots of the 15th airforce based in Italy reported that missions over Romania had not yet shown any signs of large scale evacuation of German troops from defeated Romania into Hungary and Yugoslavia.

Interpreting the War News—

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Caught within the expanding jaws of a vast new allied vise, broken and disorganized Nazi armies between the Seine and the Belgian border in France are threatened by the same fate that befell thousands of their comrades in Normandy. They are menaced on the flank, front and rear by converging Americans, British and Canadian forces that already have blasted German hopes of standing again behind the Marne, the Aisne, or even the Somme.
From Rouen to Paris the looping Seine has proved a sieve. It was punctured deeply and widely by the allies even before Paris fell. There are indications in the untiring of British and American Seine bridgeheads on a 30-mile front between Mantes and Vernon that a left flank power drive is impending, aimed at Gisors and Beauvais to match British-Canadian assaults on Rouen farther down the river.
Above Paris speedy American Third army columns have duplicated their Brittany breakthrough to fan out north, northeast and east in a mushrooming attack that holds a triple threat for the enemy. Pivoting on captured Paris, Patton's racing armor has stormed across the Marne, and Aisne at a pace that reveals critical weakness on that flank.
In the huge allied envelopment drive upon the Nazi robot bomb launching bases in the Pas de Calais area, another American spearhead was forming at LeBorget, the great French airfield on the northeastern outskirts of Paris. The foe was being forced to fight

President May Wear New Uniform Rumors Say Commander-in-Chief Fitted for France

By HELEN ESSARY
WASHINGTON — It's just a story I heard. I don't vouch for its truth. But it does tie in with that report by way of London that President Roosevelt is going to France.

Here's my story: I met a woman yesterday who said she had been having a suit tailored in New York and that her tailor had a brother, also a tailor, who had just finished a commander-in-chief's suit for President Roosevelt to wear when he went to Paris!

I asked the woman who had the tailor who had the brother who sewed and pressed for Mr. Roosevelt, what kind of a suit a commander-in-chief's suit was anyhow? She said the tailor would not tell her. The tailor said there were some things the trade never gave out. And that one of them was the kind of a suit a commander-in-chief of the United States of America wore when he went to Paris.

Did she suppose it had buttons and gold braid and things on it? Oh, yes. She knew that much... And maybe a cocked hat? Yes. Maybe a cocked hat. Though she couldn't be sure about the cocked hat. What was the color? She didn't know that. But she rather thought it was blue. She understood it was a color that would look well in an open car under the Arc de Triomphe.

As strange as the story sounded, she said, she did believe it. Because the tailor—her tailor—told her about it the commander-in-chief's suit when she went to New York for a first fitting on her own suit. A week later when she went back for a second fitting, he told her "The commander-in-chief's suit my brother is making for Mr. Roosevelt is ready to be called for."

Of course, my story may be complete nonsense. Or like most of the Roosevelt stories that sound fantastic, it may be true. I haven't exactly had a chance to ask Mr. Roosevelt about this new, little traveling costume. He's been away lately.

Capital caterers are in a frenzy trying to supply enough food, maids and butlers for the over-eager hostesses of the town.

ANOTHER FELLOW WHO PICKED THE WRONG BOOKMAKER

News Behind the News—

WASHINGTON (AP) — The headlines say:
"Eggs lead upswing in cost of living."
The announcement is made by Mr. Roosevelt's labor secretary, Frances Perkins, who makes no comment.

Around town, the common interpretation is that the president is getting ready to grant another general wage increase before elections, and Miss Perkins is submitting figures in advance to justify it.

Simultaneously, coming to my desk, is a letter from Elmer Kennedy, of a Colorado typographical union, objecting to my conclusion that labor gets its wage advances from business profits, and, therefore, is wrong in advocating increasing business taxation which will limit its opportunity for future wage advances.

He says (and all labor looks at it this way, through the wrong end of the spyglass) wages paid by business are considered expense, the same as taxes, cost of materials, etc. and profits are what is left after the expenses are paid.

Behind these two events lies the whole story of the unwise, if not suicidal course of current labor and political leadership on wages, taxes and profits. I think this can be demonstrated plainly and simply so all who lend an attentive eye and half a thought can see it.

Every time a price goes up, all wages automatically decline to the same extent. Every cent more you pay for eggs, bread, fresh vegetables, fruit, etc., is a cent reduction in your pay.

But does Miss Perkins, the labor secretary, protest? Do labor leaders fight the increasing of prices? Not at all. Oppositely, they seek out price increases, adjust their statistics so as to stress price increase, in order to claim more wages.

They do not have the consumers' interest in this basic matter, although they are a great consumers. They strive always to get ahead of the game with demands for wage increases, but are always behind it.

Indeed, they do worse than that, from their own standpoint. They advocate wage increases which will directly cause price increases, and thus defeat themselves as consumers by their own leadership.

How is the worker better off with a 50 percent wage increase if prices go up 100 percent, or would not have been signed if the Founding Fathers had been gathered in a more agreeable environment than the floor above a large and violent livery stable. Hungry horse flies tempted by the patriotic legs protruding so frankly from the short colonial breeches, drove the signers into a sudden revolt against the Mother Country.

I've a feeling if the promoters of the post-war conference really want to get something done at this meeting, they'd better introduce some horse flies, or at least a few fleas into the symmetrical beauty of Dumbarton Oaks. Or how about a few yellow jackets? Or big, black, biting ants that used to go to pre-war picnics?

Admiral Discloses Naval Air Progress Tells of Nearly 100 Carriers Ready for Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON—The navy, reviewing the thumpings handed to both ends of the axis in the past 12 months, declared yesterday that "these blows were light compared with the blows we are now prepared to deliver."

Commenting on the progress of the navy's air arm, which marks its 31st anniversary today, Vice Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said in a statement:
"Task force 58, which scoured the Japs so effectively in the last eight months, was just a sweet, summer zephyr compared to the arrangements of ships, planes and other weapons — old and new — which are ready to lash out now."

He disclosed that the navy now has approximately 100 carriers "in or near action." Included are 14 of the mighty Essex type and nine of the fast and powerful Independence class, converted from cruisers. More than 70 carriers were commissioned during the year and work was started on two of the three projected 45,000-ton battleship-type carriers.

Naval aviators averaged more than four Japanese planes shot down for every American plane lost during the year, Fitch said. The actual score was more than 2,300 Japanese craft destroyed against 560 navy planes lost. He added that "A high percentage of our pilots was rescued."

"Long before another anniversary rolls around, naval aviation will be hurling at least two more new weapons against the foe—a twin-engine fighter and a scouting plane of unmatched speed and range," the Admiral said.

The twin-engine plane presumably is the Grumman-designed F7F. The Truman committee disclosed its existence last spring, but the navy has not given out any details on the fighter, the first multi-engine plane designed for carrier operations. Navy officials previously have mentioned a superb new scout plane without identifying it.

Fitch described the mid-June battle of the eastern Philippines when 402 Japanese planes went down in one day as "the biggest battle in the history of naval air warfare." Two Japanese carriers and two tankers were sunk and a dozen other ships were damaged.

Allied Leaders Fear Flight of Hitler

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military leaders here are becoming increasingly apprehensive over the possibility that Adolf Hitler and some of his henchmen may fly from their battered inner fortress in the next few weeks and seek refuge in a neutral country.

Concern has become such that a new appeal may be issued to the neutrals not to give sanctuary to the men who led the world into war and now appear bent upon a final drama of unparalleled bloodlust in Europe.

Such an appeal would be directed particularly to Spain and Argentina, because of their past or present links with the Nazi government of Germany and the strong suspicions current in diplomatic and treasury circles here that the German leaders have stored funds in both those countries.

American officials consider it a foregone conclusion that many of the Nazi hierarchy who are too well known to have any chance of concealment in Germany by going underground will try to save themselves from allied trial and punishment by dramatic airplane escapes.

What Hitler hopes to do remains the all-consuming speculation in Washington and the conviction of officials with whom the subject has been discussed is that if he is not killed at the last minute by some of his own henchmen he may very well kill himself. There always remains the chance, however, that he will quit the country.

FBI Seizes Nylons

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal agents seized yesterday 10,320 pairs of nylon hose, which they said were for black market distribution and were made from material intended for army parachutes and glider tow ropes.

FBI agents and United States deputy marshals found the stockings in a Manhattan warehouse and increased to 16,799 pairs the number of pairs of nylon hosiery uncovered in New York within the past two weeks.

Roosevelt Outlines Peace Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposed world peace agency designed to have more formidable teeth than the defunct league of nations was outlined yesterday by President Roosevelt, who also warned against what he termed carping discussion of its details.

He said at a news conference that to lose sight of the main objective through discussion of details would lead to misunderstanding.

The world security organization under discussion by the United States, Britain and Russia at Dumbarton Oaks will be different from the old league (which the United States refused to enter) because the league's council had no means to enforce peace in the world, he said.

Roosevelt outlined the steps through which disputes which threaten peace would be handled by the future organization just a few hours after chief delegates of the three countries announced their general agreement on its outlines.

First of all, he told a news conference, a dispute would go before the world court. If it cannot be settled there, there must be a meeting place where you can talk it over, he said. He added that you could call this an assembly.

The assembly would be composed of all nations large and small, the president declared, presenting the same general blueprint decided upon at Dumbarton Oaks.

If anyone kicks over the traces and violates a frontier, Mr. Roosevelt went on, you have got to have quick action. The council of the security organization, he indicated, will have force at its disposal to move immediately in such cases.

When someone starts bombing or invading, he said, you can't have a man send out word that there will be a meeting next month.

A reporter called the president's attention to the fact that the American-Russian-British declaration issued at Dumbarton Oaks closely paralleled his own draft of this government's ideas for a peace agency June 15.

He replied that he had had the idea as far back as two years ago, that many people have it, and that no one can take the credit for it or claim authorship.

Asked in what ways the proposed organization would be different from the league of nations, he said there were 50 points on which differences could be found, and enumerated organizations for food and international finance. He referred to the united nations food and agricultural organization, and the united nations stabilization fund, agreed upon at the Bretton Woods conference.

Russia thus far has taken the stand that the security organization

French Welcomers Too Glad--

SOUTHERN FRANCE, Aug. 19 (Delayed) (AP)—It's a wonderful experience being hailed as "liberators" of towns and villages of southern France, but also it has its hazards.

During one day's speedy advance through sectors leading inland from the Riviera beachhead the only casualties I saw in our motorized column were from over-enthusiastic welcomers.

Of course, there were a few temporary casualties here and there when the welcoming wine flowed freely, but those have long since come to be considered a part of any liberation—and are nothing a good night's sleep won't cure.

But this business of being beamed by fruit and bouquets is something else again. In order to understand it you must realize that delighted French patriots line the streets of all the towns and villages as the Yanks roll through.

At the same time, the towns may still contain a few snipers so that it is not good policy to loiter.

The life expectancy of any such sniper, once he fires into an American column, generally is less than ten minutes. French patriots take care of that. Nevertheless the speed of his subsequent demise doesn't help whoever he has hit, so the safest policy is to keep high-balling.

Balked at giving kisses first hand, the patriots started flinging them. Then somebody thought of flowers, so they started throwing them. Then somebody else thought maybe the dough boys were hungry, which of course is always true, so they started tossing fruit—and that's when the casualties began.

Hunched over the wheel of our jeep, Capt. Ralph Hotchkiss of Hartsdale, N. Y., and Washington, had the footpedal on the floorboards when the peach flattened his goggles and momentarily stunned him. Another guy grabbed the wheel until the captain recovered.

In a jeep behind us Lieut. Mitchell Tackley Maloney was busy eying the surrounding landscape, fowered with pulchritude, when a pear popped him. An hour later one eye was black, but Tack-ley still was looking with the other.

Pvt. Robert Farnham of Battle Creek, Mich., driving Tackley's jeep, suddenly found his vision blocked by what seemed to be "a whole flower garden."

Paris Commemorates New Freedom; Honors Unknown Soldier

PARIS (AP)—Past the Arc de Triomphe and down through the avenues where their fathers had walked a generation ago, the men of a great American infantry division marched yesterday.

This was Paris' first real commemoration of her new freedom. There were cheers and laughter, but it was a solemn moment when Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley and Lieut. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig laid a wreath on the tomb of France's unknown soldier of World War I.

Hundreds of thousands of persons stood along the line of march along the Champs Elysees, the Place Vendome, at the Obelisk, the Place de la Concorde, in the Rue de Rivoli and all through these beloved avenues.

At the Obelisk Bradley, Gen. Charles De Gaulle, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, and Brig. Gen. Jacques le Clerc reviewed the great parade.

First came armored cars, four abreast and then long files of foot soldiers slogging along with the beat of the drums, just as other soldiers did here at an hour of victory 26 years ago.

It has been a grey day with rain and just enough breeze to faintly ruffle the American, French and British flags which hand in massed thousands in Paris.

There has been some reflective feeling about this grand march: some renewed awareness that while war is mud and mademoiselles, it is also destiny and death.

Along the line of march were mingled and mixed cries and shouts—everything from "God bless you" to "Any gum, Yanks?" But Paris is not in such a riotous mood as yesterday.

For this was not a march along Fifth avenue—as one day there will be one—by soldiers finished with battle. This division marched in battle array. It marched through Paris toward another rendezvous with action—out of this city and back into the line of attack.

It was a strange panorama, here a girl, with a curse, threw a pic-

Yesterday, the first day parents of servicemen could call at the county auditor's office to apply for soldier ballots, sixty such applications were received at the Johnson county office.

President Chides Senator Ferguson For WPB Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt took Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) to task yesterday for saying he had word from "reliable sources" that Donald M. Nelson would succeed James F. Byrnes as war mobilization director upon Nelson's return from China.

Asked about the Ferguson statement, the president said that if the senator would tell him where he got his information he would give him an answer.

He added he had some right to know where certain information comes from and chided those who try to hide identity of their informants by using such terms as high official sources. He said he sometimes wonders about the source and that he was going to try to find out where Ferguson got his information.

The president again refused to say whether Nelson would again head the war production board when he returns from his presidential mission to China. He said J. A. Krug is acting chairman of WPB, and added that the point is he is heading it. He refused to prognosticate.

During the day, Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) told the house that the "chief qualification up to now seems to be that he is the choice of the new deal backstairs cabal who have succeeded in getting rid of so many efficient men."

"Every yard we advance reduces the area from which he can launch his secret weapons," the general said in the message to his troops. "I realize that with this goal in front of us there is no need to urge you men onwards."

"We are now in the van of the allied armies, British, American and French, and we are about to start a deep drive into enemy-occupied France north of the Seine," the general announced.

"This is the country from which the Germans launch their flying bombs against England.

"Let us drive forward relentlessly—taking as our motto 'one more kilometer and one less bomb.'"

"If everyone gives of his utmost, of the last ounce, within a very short time our families will once more be able to sleep peacefully in their beds at night and our casualties since landing in Normandy will not have been suffered in vain."

Iowa Girls Don't Like Welcome Given GIs

DES MOINES (AP)—If a sample taken among women here yesterday is any indication, the women of Paris can stop kissing the conquering Yanks any time as far as most of the girls back home in Iowa are concerned.

A majority of a dozen girls interviewed here yesterday were not too well pleased with the ardent welcome the GI boys were receiving.

Referring to a newspaper picture of a helmeted Yank locked in fond embrace with a French girl high up on a war vehicle, Wilma Hawkins, 19, Kingsley, summed up the sentiment by declaring: "I don't like what goes on on top of tanks."

Sheriff Takes Two Parolees to Anamosa

Clarence Hull, Richard R. Sauer Sentenced by Judge

Sheriff Preston Koser took Clarence Hull and Richard Raymond Sauer to Anamosa yesterday afternoon after they were sentenced by Judge Harold D. Evans to a term not exceeding ten years in the men's reformatory there.

Both the young men were taken into custody here last week for breaking parole pledges made after they were charged with forgery.

Sauer, 20, was sentenced Aug. 10 to a 10-year term on a charge of forgery. Sentence was suspended, however, during good behavior and he was paroled to the sheriff.

Last Tuesday Sauer was taken into custody by Iowa City police on the charge of stealing and damaging a De Luxe taxicab owned by Vincent Lalla. Sauer drove the cab from the Brown garage on north Linn street, breaking out part of the building and smashing into an iron post a few blocks down the street.

The cab was damaged to the extent of $200. Representing Sauer was John Knox.

Judge Evans retraced sentence suspension for Hull, 24, yesterday after he was apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Albert Murphy at Dixon, Ill., last Thursday for going out of the state while on parole. Hull was charged with forgery during December, 1943, and was sentenced in January to ten years at the men's reformatory at Anamosa.

County Attorney Edward F. Rate submitted at a hearing yesterday checks Hull was charged with forging during May of this year, showing further violation of the law.

Chicago Bears to Face College All-Stars Tonight

50 Thousand Expected to Fill Dyche Stadium

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The doughty Chicago Bears, professional football champions, will battle the Collegiate All-Stars in the eleventh game of the charity series tonight determined to protect their record of three emerging victorious and once tied in four previous spectacular engagements.

The game, ripping open the 1944 gridiron season, will be played before a capacity crowd of 50,000 in Northwestern university's Dyche stadium. The contest, promoted by the Chicago Tribune, will establish two records. All seats were sold ten days in advance and the gross receipts will be the largest in the history of the series. Net proceeds will be donated to the Chicago service men's centers and the army air force society.

The game promises to produce a thrilling forward passing duel between Tulsa university's Glenn Dobbs, rated as one of the greatest collegiate passers in a decade, and Sid Luckman, Bears' quarterback, whose appearance tonight will be the last with the champions for the duration.

Dobbs revealed his superior skill in the air in last year's All-Star game, in which the collegians walked over the Washington Redskins, 27 to 7. He completed nine in 13 attempts, tossing one to Marlin "Pat" Harder of Wisconsin for a touchdown.

Luckman, who played for the All-Stars in 1939 before joining the Bears, has been largely instrumental in the success of the champions' T-formation strategy which resulted in three league breaking performances last year when he was voted the outstanding player in professional football.

Tonight Luckman will receive the Joe Carr Memorial trophy, emblematic of the honor, with Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National football league, making the presentation.

Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern university, head coach of the Collegians, has a squad of 68 to shoot into the game in a parade, if necessary, to combat the pros' small but experienced squad of 37.

The All-Star series now stands 5 to 3 in favor of the professionals, with two games tied. The Bears opened the rivalry in 1934 with a scoreless tie and then won 5-0 in 1935; 37-13 in 1941, and 21-0 in 1942. The New York Giants won 9-0 in 1939 and the Green Bay, Wis., Packers took the 1940 game 45-28.

Frank Bradford—

Southern Football

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—We have an idea that Marine Sgt. Frank Bradford had better enter his home town of Detroit walking backward when he returns so he will be facing in the right direction when the football fans there spot him and start throwing his own quotes right at him.

Sergeant Bradford is quoted in a Camp Lejeune publicity release as follows:

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C.—The south leads the nation in football, says Sgt. Frank Bradford, who played in the northeast and Midwest before starring in the University of Alabama backfield with his brother, Lieut. Victor Bradford, later of the New York baseball Giants and now of the navy.

"It's not because they have good coaches, like Frank Thomas of Alabama," the sergeant says, "but because they get the best players from all around."

"The southeastern conference is first in football progress. I believe it was the first to acknowledge that a man who plays college football rates a scholarship. And brother, he does."

Now this information possibly will be greeted with surprise, not to say indignation, in some quarters where they have brisk winters and don't grow cotton.

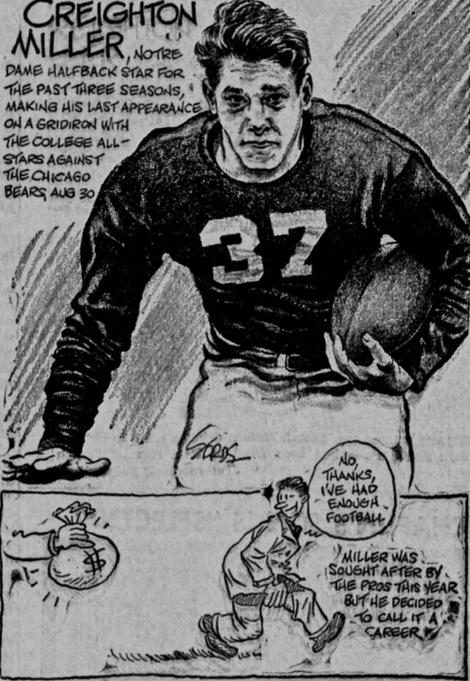

We can imagine the sputtering and harumphing of the followers of such schools as Michigan, and Minnesota, and Notre Dame, and Penn, and Boston college, and Nebraska, and Cornell, and Washington State, and Stanford and some other institutions which have been known to play some football on occasion.

We're strictly neutral when this sectional chest-beating gets under way.

German War Prisoner Captured in Colorado

OMAHA (AP)—Gerhard Vatter, 19, German prisoner of war who escaped from the prisoner of war camp at Greeley, Colo., Sunday night has been captured, FBI Agent Duane L. Traynor said yesterday.

Vatter was apprehended last night at La Salle, Colo., by the Colorado courtesy patrol, Traynor said.

Good Thing took the mile and sixteenth Chateaugay purse in 1:43 2-5 yesterday at Saratoga. Tex Martin was second and Tambo third. Good Thing paid $16.40.

Endy won the $2,000 Chestnut Hill purse by a length over Joan Beattie's White Hope at Narragansett. Amble Tint was third. Endy's time for the mile and a sixteenth was 1:47 1-5 and the price was $6.

Harford, a 9 to 10 choice, justified the confidence of his Garden state followers by taking the Forest Glen purse by three quarters of a length from Green Apples. Third money went to Bright Argosy.

Red Sox Split Doubleheader With Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookies Clem Dreisewerd of Boston and Floyd Bevens of New York bowed into the American league with victories yesterday as the two pennant contenders split a doubleheader, the Red Sox copping the opener, 3-1, but dropping the second 11-2.

Despite the even break, Boston slipped into third place as Detroit shut out Chicago to move into the runner-up spot by two percentage points.

Up from Sacramento of the Pacific coast league Dreisewerd shut out the 1943 champs for eight innings but the Yanks bunched three of their six hits in the ninth for their lone tally.

Joe McCarthy sent Bevens out after the nightcap and the right-hander from Salem, Ore., responded with an eight-hitter.

Two Homers Pave Way to Giant Victory

BOSTON (AP)—Mel Ott's 25th homer with a man on and Ernie Lombardi's eighth round tripper gave the New York Giants three runs in the sixth inning, paying the way for a 4-2 decision over the Boston Braves yesterday in the opener of a two-day series.

Bill Voiselle experienced little trouble after Tommy Holmes' two-run circuit clout in the first frame as he blanked the Braves the rest of the way to cap his 17th victory on a neat seven-hit effort. Starter Nate Andrews was the loser.

Ed Furgol Captures Amateur Crown

Earl Christiansen, Ken Heilemann Finish Second, Third in Race

CHICAGO (AP)—He needed nine days to do it, but Ed Furgol, 24-year-old public links player from Birmingham, Mich., yesterday won the All-American amateur championship at Tam O'Shanter's $42,500 golf show.

The pay-as-you-play star, handicapped by a rigid elbow and an undeveloped left arm six inches shorter than his right, fired a 73, one over par, to defeat Earl Christiansen, 34-year-old detective from Miami, Fla., and Ken Heilemann, 28-year-old chemist from St. Louis, in a playoff after the trio had deadlocked at 295 in the 72-hole medal play test completed Monday.

Christiansen had a 76 today, after leading through the first seven holes, while Heilemann, bothered by an erratic putter, skidded to a 79.

Christiansen, who got the playoff on the 72nd hole when his second shot rebounded from a tree to within two feet of the cup for the birdie he needed for his 295, blew his chance yesterday when, while holding a one-stroke lead, he lost three strokes to par, and to Furgol, on the last two holes of the front nine.

Furgol, going one up at the turn, made it two with a birdie on the tenth, added another with a par on the 17th, and then coasted in.

For the deadlock, and the order of finish, Furgol received $100 in war stamps, Christiansen $90, and Heilemann $80. Furgol succeeds Dale Morey of Indianapolis as champion. Morey, his scores soaring, withdrew after the third round this year.

Cards Blank Reds, 3 to 0

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ted Wilks, the National league's leading pitcher, won his 11th consecutive game and his 14th of the year last night as the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Cincinnati Reds 3 to 0.

Wilks pitched no-hit ball for seven full innings. Frank McCormick, first up in the eighth, cracked a clean single to break the spell and Eric Tipton followed shortly with another single, but Wilks snuffed out the rally and prevented a run.

Johnny Hopp doubled in the Cardinals' first run in the third and fired a home run in the fifth for the second.

NBC Head Sees Post-War Foreign Radio

CHICAGO (AP)—After the war radio must carry more regular programs direct from foreign capitals "and a hundred other exciting places in the world," Clarence L. Menses of New York told the National Association of Broadcasters yesterday.

Menses, vice-president of the National Broadcasting company, said that, with the return of millions of men and women who are expertly trained and widely traveled, "The post-war audience may not be so easy to interest."

"The war has brought to the attention of all peoples customs and ways of life in the far reaches of the earth which were little known and therefore held little interest," he said in his prepared speech.

"With the further perfection of shortwave broadcast facilities, radio must lift its horizon to bring its audience the colorful events of London, Moscow, Paris, Sydney, Shanghai, and a hundred other exciting places in the world."

President Refuses To Discuss Details Of Churchill Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, asked at a news conference yesterday whether the time and place had been selected for his next talk with Prime Minister Churchill, said they were too intimate to reveal.

As an illustration, he said he would relate an intimate fact that he had a bath this morning. In other words, he said, it is an intimate fact that everyone knew he was going to meet Churchill but the time and place could not be disclosed.

Flying Bomb Attacks Resumed

LONDON (AP)—The roar of flying bombs filled southern England's countryside again yesterday, causing new deaths and destruction after two successive nights of respite.

The attacks were brief, but they upheld the government's warning that the end of the robot menace was not in sight.

It was revealed that flying bombs which recently damaged the old Shoreditch church in a crowded eastern London borough also hit industrial premises, killing several persons, setting a factory fire and damaging nearby shops and standing buses.

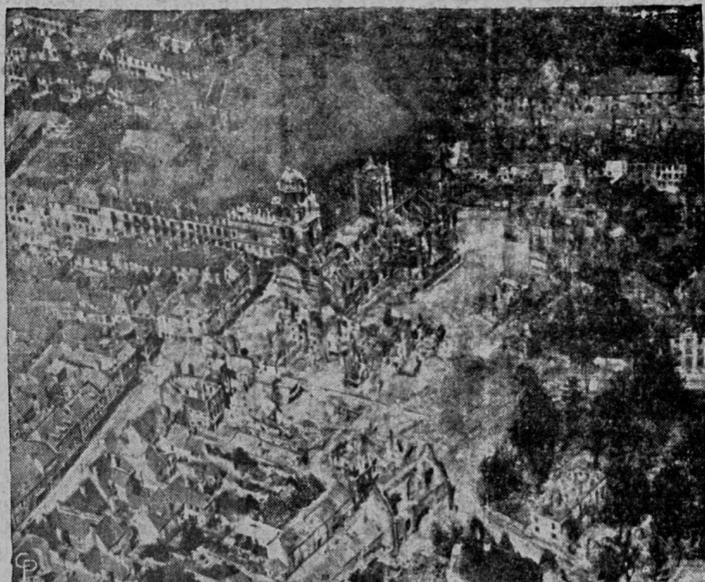

40 Yank Soldiers To Be Exchanged

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Two hundred and forty American soldiers are among more than 1,000 allied prisoners of war and civilian internees who are to be exchanged at Goteborg, Sweden, about Sept. 1, an authoritative source said tonight.

In addition, possibly 100 American civilians who have been held by the Germans are slated for inclusion in the exchange.

The American soldiers are understood to be chiefly sick and wounded airforce personnel.

Adoption Requests Granted; Couple Acquires Two Babies

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—City Councilman and Mrs. Lloyd McKee acquired two babies yesterday—both by adoption.

It started two and a half years ago when they applied at a Council Bluffs hospital for a baby for adoption. Nothing happened. So they made a similar application at a Kansas City hospital.

Last week both hospitals reported they had babies ready for adoption.

"We had no thought of adopting two, but when both hospitals told us that babies were available we felt we couldn't choose between the two fine boys so we took them both," Mrs. McKee said.

"It's a good thing we didn't apply at three hospitals," McKee said. "We might have triplets now."

Allies Hit Shanghai

NEW YORK, Wednesday (AP)—The Tokyo radio said yesterday that allied planes had bombed the Shanghai area late Tuesday night but quoted a Japanese communique as saying the raid caused "absolutely no damage."

The communique did not, however, report any raiding planes were downed.

The broadcast was recorded by the federal communications commission.
