Yank Troops 36 Miles From Belgian Border

Drive Through City of Reims

Americans Make First Thrust Into Nazi Rocket Bomb Coast

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Thursday (AP)—American armored columns rolled through the cathedral city of Reims and streaked on within 36 miles of the Belgian border yesterday in uncheckered pursuit of Germans falling back upon their homeland, while British forces, in a 23-mile breakthrough, made their first deep thrust toward the Nazis' rocket bomb coast.

Both the American First and third armies were disclosed to be taking part in the great drive northeast of Paris across First World war battlefields and through the Germans' old Hindenburg line.

The first army, under Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, gained 20 miles in a drive from captured Soissons northward to Laon, and early today was believed to have run through this town just 36 miles from Belgium. It also struck nine miles to the east and reached Montaiqui.

The third army under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., captured Reims, great siege city of the First World War, without firing a shot and rolled beyond. The city fell after the Americans had outflanked it and forced a German withdrawal during the night.

The British armored columns, after moving relatively slowly for days, struck north from the Seine and drove beyond the town of Beauvais in a smash of 23 miles from Etrepagny, which carried to a point only 25 miles south of the big communications center of Amiens on the Somme river. Beauvais is 40 miles north and slightly east of Paris.

The British also reached the town of Gournay, 16 miles west of Beauvais, driving in strength directly for the heart of the robot bomb coast from which the Germans have been attacking London and southern England in "reprisal" warfare.

At the same time Canadian forces outflanked the important Seine port of Rouen, a city of 123,000 which the Germans announced during the day they had evacuated. The Canadians advanced five miles northeast of the city, which lies near the mouth of the Seine.

It was disclosed today that it was Gen. Hodges' First army which had captured Chateaufort and Soissons yesterday, driving on today to Laon.

Here Patton's men were just 45 miles southwest of Sedan, historic city through which the Nazis invaded France in 1940. Hodges' men stood 50 miles from this invasion gateway to the Reich.

Supreme headquarters early this morning was without late news of the American forces east of Chalons, southeast of the Reims area, but the German radio put the Americans on the approaches to St. Dizier, which is only 83 miles from the German border.

Associated Press Correspondent Edward D. Ball, in a dispatch dated Reims, said that the city's famous Gothic cathedral was found undamaged.

The Germans said they demolished harbor works and other militarily valuable installations at Rouen before evacuating as the Canadians closed in.

Of the three large Seine river loops in this area, the largest one, nearest the sea, was cleaned out by allied forces at considerable cost, but there still was stiff opposition to allied troops driving northward into the other two.

Duchess of Windsor In New York Hospital For Appendectomy
NEW YORK (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor was scheduled to enter Roosevelt hospital late yesterday to undergo an appendectomy. A 10-room suite and six nurses have been engaged for her. An official announcement by a spokesman for the Duke said: "It is announced on behalf of the Duke of Windsor that the Duchess of Windsor is entering Roosevelt hospital for an appendectomy. The operation will take place shortly."

French Announce New Government

General de Gaulle Named President Of Council

PARIS (AP)—A provisional French government, headed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle as president of council, and including communists and some men whose real identity is still hidden by assumed war names, was announced yesterday by the French national committee of liberation.

Andre le Troquer, former socialist deputy, was named commissioner of liberated territories. Quartus Cerat, former Senator Henri Queuille and former Deputy Francois Billoux were named commissioners for territory still occupied by German forces.

Andre Phillip, a former deputy, was appointed liaison between provisional government and the temporary assembly, and Gen. Georges Catroux was made coordinator of Moslem questions.

Troquer, Cerat, Queuille, Billoux, Phillip and Catroux all bear the titles of commissioners of state. Cerat is the assumed name of a man who has been De Gaulle's minister at large, doing liaison work with the 40-odd underground groups. He is a former attorney general of the supreme courts.

Also announced were the names of 13 commissioners—a rank equivalent to that of cabinet minister. Ten of these held the same positions in the liberation committee set up in Algiers and one held a similar post under a different title.

Radio France of Algiers said last night that members of the French committee of national liberation and the consultative assembly had left Algiers for Paris, before the departure, Gen. Georges Catroux was named commissioner of state for French North Africa, it was announced.

The provisional government was received with varying degrees of enthusiasm by the newly revived Paris press.

Dewey Charts Intensive Campaign Drive Along Japanese-Conscious Pacific Coast

PAWLING, N. Y. (AP)—With from Pearl Harbor and the Aleutians has been described by the Republicans as a political speech. Dewey's September itinerary will carry him through several other borderline states before he starts concentrating on the industrial northeast in October.

The GOP standard bearer will start his cross country expedition from New York next Thursday "loaded for bear." No hint has leaked out from his guarded workroom as to what targets he has in mind, but indications have mounted that the topic for one of his Pacific coast speeches might well be the surprise Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and the administration's handling of relations with Japan prior to Dec. 7, 1941.

Reds Take Romanian Oil Center of Ploesti

Race Within 17 Miles of Bucharest In Lightning Drive

LONDON (AP)—The Red army captured the city of Ploesti and all its rich surrounding petroleum fields yesterday and raced on less than 17 miles from Bucharest in the lightning campaign to annihilate the Germans in Romania.

Fall of Ploesti, long the greatest single source of oil for the German armies, was hailed as the most significant day's victory of the entire invasion of Romania.

Take 200 Towns More than 200 other towns were taken around Ploesti and northeast of Bucharest, where the Romanians have announced they already have freed their capital of the Germans since shifting from the axis to the allied side a week ago.

The drive through Ploesti netted another big bag of German prisoners—15,000 taken Tuesday including Lieut. Gen. Weitzner and two other divisional commanders, the Soviet midnight communiqué disclosed.

The advance put Red troops in good positions to cut off any Germans escaping westward across southern Romania from Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army.

Ploesti Oil Output Current production of Ploesti oil is uncertain. Allied headquarters figures in London showed that the refineries there used to produce 10,000,000 tons of petroleum products annually and supplied the German war machine with a full third of its entire needs.

The refineries have been repeated targets of American bombers, with an intensive campaign since May which undoubtedly has reduced production. The wells, however, were deliberately avoided.

High in the eastern Carpathian mountains some 75 miles north of Ploesti, other forces of Malinovsky's army were developing a major offensive against Hungarian-held Transylvania.

Far northward in Poland, the Germans also admitted that the Russians had resumed a ferocious offensive north of Warsaw and had breached the German lines at a number of places, but did not give definite locations. The Germans also mentioned heavy fighting west of the Vistula some 130 miles below Warsaw.

British, Polish Troops Smash at Outposts Of Gothic Line

ROME (AP)—British troops, transferred secretly from the interior, have joined the Polish corps in a smashing attack against German Gothic line outposts near the Adriatic coast and have captured a commanding ridge eight miles southwest of the port of Pesaro, allied headquarters announced last night.

The full-scale assault, apparently taking the enemy by surprise, dislodged the crack German first parachute division from strong positions and threatened to outflank Pesaro, from which Polish and British troops were only four miles distant after a two-mile thrust from Fano along the coast.

The attacking troops were within 18 miles of the rim of the great Po valley of northern Italy.

American Forces Hack At German Survivors In Valley of Rhone

Nazis Launch First Offensive Movement Since Latest Invasion

ROME (AP)—American forces hacked relentlessly at fleeing survivors of the German 19th army along a 20-mile stretch of the Rhone valley yesterday, while 90 miles to the east a strong Nazi armored force struck into France from the Italian frontier in an effort to relieve the pressure on Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz's shredded army.

Yank motorized infantry attacked the Germans retreating from southern France with particular ferocity at Loriol, 13 miles north of Montelimar, where the Nazis were attempting to get across the Drome river on hastily thrown pontoon bridges and resume their flight toward the fatherland.

One Column Lost One three-mile German column estimated to have contained nearly 300 vehicles, including numerous pieces of horsedrawn artillery, virtually was wiped out by American artillery and planes in the "Nazi-graveyard" between Montelimar and Valence, headquarters announced.

Advance American elements, skirting the maelstrom of battle at this point and driving to head off another segment of the enemy's disorganized forces, had reached the town of Chabeuil, 27 miles up the valley from Montelimar and only six miles east and slightly south of Valence.

The Germans were in such desperate straits that in the past two days they had abandoned 800 loaded trucks and two batteries of their famed dual-purpose 88-millimeter guns. For scores of miles the Rhone valley was littered with German equipment, tossed aside in the mad rush to get away.

Nazis Attack Presumably hoping to compel Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch to divert part of his forces from the methodical slaughter along the Rhone, the Nazis sent a striking column across the Alps from northwestern Italy to attack the American garrison at Briancon, eight miles inside France and about 50 miles southeast of Grenoble.

It was assumed that the attacking enemy column contained elements of the two armored divisions which last week were reported concentrated north of Turin in Italy, more than 50 airline miles east of Briancon. This was the first offensive gesture undertaken by the Nazis since the allied invasion of southern France began over two weeks ago.

(A German news broadcast said German forces retreating up the Rhone were being "hotly followed" by American troops, with French forces of the interior harassing them from the flanks.)

There yet was no allied confirmation that American troops had reached the Swiss frontier near Geneva, as the Germans reported Tuesday.

Capital Authorities Expect 11th Meeting Of Allied Heads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Signs multiplied last night that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are arranging another meeting soon to discuss the future of rapidly-weakening Germany, and plans to step up the war against Japan.

In Washington, the belief was general that the swift allied offensives in Europe have spurred plans for the meeting. Military and naval men take the view, it was learned, that while German resistance can conceivably be prolonged, it may collapse at any time.

The British broadcasting corporation said in a broadcast to Europe yesterday that political correspondents expected Roosevelt and Churchill to meet soon concerning German armistice terms and "how to hasten the downfall of Japan."

This followed President Roosevelt's news conference remark Tuesday that everyone knew another meeting with the prime minister was to take place. He added that the time and place were too intimate to reveal. It will be the 11th session between the two leaders.

Romanian Peace Group Arrives in Russian Capital

ARMY OFFICER TAKES 924 GERMANS

The Nazi major allowed Lieutenant Goggins to return to his lines and make arrangements for the mass surrender. United States signal corps radiophoto.

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—A Romanian government armistice delegation has arrived in Moscow to discuss peace terms with Russia, the Moscow radio announced yesterday.

The broadcast, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said the purpose of the delegation was "the carrying on of conversations and the conclusion of an armistice."

Romania announced last Thursday she was withdrawing from the war as a partner of the axis and would "fight against the enemy."

Russia Denies Armistice The U.S.S.R. replied that only by fighting alongside Russia could she obtain terms, denying that an armistice was in effect.

The Romanian delegation to Moscow was headed by Prince Barbu Stirbey, who has been active in peace maneuvers dating back to last spring.

Also included were Ministers of Justice Victor Patrascanu, a communist member of the Romanian government; Vice Minister of Interior Col. D. Damaceanu; Lieut. Col. Focsanianu and Constantin Visoianu, who was associated with Prince Stirbey in some of the earlier peace negotiations.

A new menace to the whole rear of the German defense structure in southeastern Europe flared up in Slovakia yesterday as Czechoslovak armed forces of the interior joined Slovak partisans in fighting the Germans in that puppet state next door to hapless Hungary.

Bulletin LONDON, Thursday (AP)—The Moscow radio sharply attacked the Bulgarian government's "proclaimed neutrality" today and asserted it was "in order to enable the Germans to hide in Bulgaria from prosecution by the allies."

The Czechoslovak government in exile in London requested quick allied aid for the resistance forces as the underground in the partitioned homeland issued its first communique announcing capture of one town and fierce fighting in four areas.

Bulgaria, Turkey Simultaneously Soviet Russia, driving deep through the turnabout kingdom of Romania and having cleared German naval power from the Black sea, put some heat on Bulgaria and Turkey in a bid to force the Germans entirely out of southeastern Europe.

Turkey, despite her recent break in relations with Germany, was accused in the Russian press of playing a double game with the Nazis.

Bulgaria has been trying to sneak out of the war quietly for some time, and as had been predicted, a Bulgarian armistice delegation arrived in Cairo last night. Armistice terms are to be presented by Lord Moyne, British resident minister in the middle east as soon as Lincoln MacVeagh, United States minister to the Yugoslav and Greek governments, returns to Cairo. Identity of the Bulgarians was not disclosed.

Russia, with whom she is not at war, made it plain to Bulgaria that a reversion to passive neutrality toward Britain and the United States was not enough.

House Republicans Pounce on Hillman

Call CIO Leader 'Communist', 'Dictator'; Democrats Object

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans yesterday pounced on Sidney Hillman as a "dictator" and "communist" who, they said, might get the job of administering postwar reconversion, and Democrats promptly charged the G.O.P. with making the subject a "political football."

Hillman's role as head of the CIO political action committee which is raising funds to further the Roosevelt-Truman campaign was injected into the final day's debate on measures to aid in reconversion of the nation's economy to a peacetime basis.

Before the subject was exhausted, both sides touched on the personalities of the campaign, the Democratic national convention, the Republican candidacy of Thomas E. Dewey for president now and for district attorney in 1937.

Representative Celler (D., N.Y.) ignited the fiery exchange when he praised Hillman's views as given to the house campaign expenses committee. He said the detractors of Hillman call him a communist but it is "hardly likely" that the two union banks he heads would permit him to hold such high office if he were one.

Celler said Dewey "accepted" $5,000 from Hillman and the CIO for his district attorney campaign seven years ago and "it is altogether different when one is on the receiving end."

Representative Kautson (R., Minn.) replied that Dewey's managers then may have accepted the money but Dewey did not personally, adding that as it stands now Hillman "is the greatest single asset the Republican party has in this campaign."

Hillman's activities at the Democratic national convention were brought into the discussion by Representative Simpson (R., Pa.) who said the CIO leader dictated that the convention must nominate James F. Byrnes for the vice-presidency.

He said that what was done in Chicago "can be done in Washington and Justice Byrnes' position therefore is not permanent."

Should Hillman demand it, Simpson added, "Byrnes would follow Henry Wallace and Donald Nelson on a one-way trip to China."

He said further that either Hillman or Wallace, the retiring vice-president, might be appointed to head the reconversion office established in the legislation now pending "and then we would see a real cracking down on industry."

Secretary Hull Says Allies Will Stand Firm On War Terms of Unconditional Surrender

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American government, it was emphasized yesterday, is resolute on unconditional surrender as the only terms for Germany and it does not intend to let Hitler and his henchmen escape punishment by taking refuge in some neutral country.

Secretary of State Hull restated this policy in effect when asked at his news conference for comment on the broadcast of the ace Nazi military commentator, Lieut. Gen. Kurt Dittmar, admitting that the defeat of Germany is drawing closer.

Correspondent Reports Nazi Shipment Of Poison Gas

NEW YORK (AP)—Time Correspondent John Scott broadcast over the Blue network from Stockholm yesterday a report that Germans were sending poison gas cylinders to the English channel coast.

The correspondent said an allied plane had strafed a heavily-guarded train, en route from Germany through Holland to the coast, and that poison gas had escaped from cylinders it was carrying, killing several of the guards and throwing a nearby Dutch town into panic.

Victory Over Germany Not Far Off—

WASHINGTON (AP)—Complete and final victory over Germany is not far off, acting Secretary of War Patterson said last night in a report on his recent trip to the combat zones in Italy and France.

In a broadcast (CBS) description of the things he saw, Patterson said that among the troops engaged in the battle "the sense of success is unmistakable, in the bearings of the soldiers and in everything they do."

"Complete and final victory over the Germans is not far off, a victory that will be won not by our men alone, but by the combined power of the armies of the united nations," said Patterson.

"I cannot set the date for that victory. General Eisenhower cannot set the date, though he will bring it to pass by his great leadership, and he will, I am sure, make good the prediction he gave last winter that the war in Europe would be won before the end of 1944 if everybody does his part."

"The Germans have suffered a heavy defeat in France, a defeat from which they will never recover, but our soldiers will tell you that the Germans still put up a hard fight.

"Here at home we must keep up the flow of supplies, without stint and without limit, for that army in Europe and for our forces fighting in Asia and in the Pacific with equal courage and devotion, as well as for the allies that fight by their side. I assure you that there is no over-supply of what it takes to carry on a war on the scale of this war."

Patterson said it was difficult for anyone who had not seen it to realize the tremendous momentum of the armies in northern France. What once was a powerful Nazi army has been wrecked, he said, and "not many of those German soldiers will get back to Germany with arms in their hands."

The acting secretary praised the air forces, saying the great victories in France and Italy would have been impossible without them, and said the supply services were pouring equipment into France at a rate of thousands of tons a day, and moving it promptly forward by rail and truck.

"I saw thousands of trucks on the roads," he said. "The movement never stops."

Go Back to School—

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Features Writer

Go back to school! That's what the government wants—teen-age war workers to do.

The sharp drop in high school enrollment has spurred federal agencies to action. Although the number of youngsters of high school age is the largest in history, high school attendance is back to the 1934 level—nearly one million below the all-time high of 1940-41.

Each year of war has seen fewer students in high school. In 1941-42 the shrinkage was 300,000; an additional 300,000 dropped out the following year. In 1943-44 the rolls were down another 400,000.

Jobs, along with the feeling of independence which money gives and the urge to help win the war, have been the magnets pulling youth from school.

But Uncle Sam—through the children's bureau of the Department of Labor, the United States Office of Education, the Federal Security agency and the Office of War Information—argues that the war is not going to last forever, that a youth lacking proper education and training will find tough going in the post-war years.

Look To The Future
The National Go-Back-to-School drive has the endorsement of the War Manpower commission.

"A job looks big now," the federal agencies admit, "but how big will it look five years from now? . . . If you knew how to count better, write better, plan better, would you go ahead faster?"

"If you knew more about people, business, government, and how things are made and done by other people, would you go ahead faster? School is where you can learn these things. . . . If you don't want to stand still, go to school."

To those who still think that school is not worthwhile the government urges: "Ask some of the boys in service who didn't finish school and see what they say. You might ask yourself a question, too: Is it school, or you, that is at fault?"

"Have you honestly tried to get everything out of school you could get? Get more out of school by putting more into it."

Interpreting the War News—

The overtones of impending German defeat sounded by high placed Nazi military spokesmen, reflecting fast paced developments on the battle fronts, warrant speculation as to whether Hitler's own home front is ripe for early collapse.

His mouthpiece, General Dittmar, drew a dark and despairing picture of the plight in which German armies find themselves everywhere. He pleaded only for a bitter-end stand that might soften ultimate allied surrender terms, frankly admitting that the war was lost for Germany. There is at least an intimation that there are growing Nazi fears of internal revolt which would end this war as it ended World War I.

Dittmar's home front broadcast must have stunned his German listeners. It left little to their imagination; tended to destroy their faith in official Nazi announcements characterizing the retreat from Normandy and the Seine as a successful "detachment" of forces "according to plan."

The bulk of Nazi forces "detached" in France have been permanently detached. They are either dead or taken prisoner.

What is left of two shattered armies in the north is being swiftly huddled into a greater and more menacing trap than those in Normandy or west and south of the Seine. Berlin announcement of the evacuation of Rouen near the Seine mouth represents belated recognition by the Nazi command of the danger in which its armies stand in the developing allied stand what is left of the German armies in northeastern France and the whole sweep of the rocket-bomb coastal area.

On the basis of the pace in the last few days, General Patton's Third army armored spearheads are only hours from the Belgian border at recaptured Reims. They are not much farther from Germany's own frontiers below Luxembourg where the Saare-Moselle gap is a possible allied objective.

Which of General Patton's eastward probing spearheads is the main attack the German high command does not know. It can have no doubt, though, that the north-eastward thrust up the Oise valley, beyond Laon is aimed at trapping all German troops west of the Somme or from the Belgian border to the coast.

With the fall of Rouen, the capture of Le Havre and the whole Seine estuary is in sight to give the allied left flank close up communications with Britain and expedite the advance from the Seine to the rocket launching area.

The chances of utter annihilation of German armies in the Somme theater look so bright that even Russian capture of the Ploesti area in Romania and the apparent launching of a full scale campaign to take Warsaw seem a subordinate factor in the European war picture. What happens in northeastern France in the next few days or weeks could go far to determine the duration of the war against Germany.

Protests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Protesting against the secrecy surrounding the Dumbarton Oaks post-war security conference, Senator Bridges (R, NH) declared last night that newspapers and radio reporters "are being treated as though they were enemy fifth columnists."

Aerial Horsepower

CENTRAL PACIFIC ARMY HEADQUARTERS (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Robert C. Richardson Jr., commanding general of the 30,000,000 square mile central Pacific theater—which includes Japan—has startled many a GI looking for a ride to town by stopping his "three star" car and giving him a lift.

That saves the GI's shoelather, and gives 61-year-old Richardson a chance to get soldier reaction first-hand.

He is interested in what a man thinks about while on guard duty and what he's going to do when the war's over.

Seven-League Boots

Commander of the biggest military theater in the world, Richardson is liable to turn up in almost any part of the Pacific area—one day visiting wounded, the next inspecting motor pools, the next in a forward area even before the last "Banzi" of frenzied Japanese is silenced.

"I know two things are uppermost in your minds: Promotion and furlough," he'll say. "Promotions are up to you. For furloughs, I am doing all I can to get every one of you home who has been overseas for two years. My difficulty is shipping space. Supplying our soldiers in forward areas comes first."

Richardson, whose command stretches from south of New Zealand to the Aleutians, and from Hawaii to China, spent most of his military career in the cavalry, but has exchanged his horse for a jeep.

He is proud of his son, "Young Bob"—Lieut. Col. Robert C. Richardson III—a P-38 fighter pilot.

Exponent of Air Power

And like his son, Richardson is air-minded. His command includes the Seventh army air force, and he believes that with heavy bombing "we can destroy the Japanese strongholds, and by destroying their food sources, we can break their morale with hunger."

Speaking of food, that's one item the lithe general watches carefully. He eats well, but checks his calories, and may startle a fellow diner by pointing out that that piece of Boston cream pie totals 360 calories. There are no overweight men on his staff. At quarters, he serves guests martinis and old fashioned before dinner, but reserves a glass of pineapple juice for himself.

In addition to being interested in horses, jeeps and planes, Richardson is a rifle expert. His marksmanship came in handy after the San Francisco earthquake, when he commanded a troop of cavalry at the city hall. A civilian demolition squad was attempting a dynamite, took position at 200 paces, and sighted his carbine. The second shot did the trick.

Worked With Pershing

In World War I, the general served as liaison officer under Gen. John J. Pershing between American and allied troops in France. For organizing and administering an advanced general headquarters at Ligny, he received a Distinguished Service medal.

In World War II, Richardson went to Australia as personal representative of Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, to confer with Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He succeeded Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons as commander of the Hawaiian department in June of last year, and served four and a half years in the Philippines. He rode horses and motorcycles over most of the trails in the islands until, he says, "I could almost find my way blindfolded along Luzon."

After the Gilbert islands campaign, he went to Tarawa with Admiral Nimitz and then to Kwajalein and Majuro in the Marshalls.

Married Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Fish (R, NY) suggested yesterday that married men 35 and older be released from the armed forces when the war with Germany ends.

That's Gratitude for You--

WITH THE AEF IN SOUTHERN FRANCE, Aug. 24 (Delayed) (AP)—Every day is full of new incidents showing the spirit of the French people toward their Liberators—something new to the tired doughboys who have been fighting in the Mediterranean theater since Casablanca.

Every town turns out the entire population. They wave, cheer, throw flowers and serve wine—even when the tide of soldiers sweeping through begins to be numbered in thousands. There is no doubting their tears of joy and gratitude.

The soldiers are accustomed to the begging from hungry citizens. These people are hungry, too—but among them begging is discouraged in what few instances it appears. The villagers, instead, offer you their last loaf of bread and smile happily if you accept anything to eat from them.

Without casting unjust aspersions on other lands it can be said

News Behind the News—

WASHINGTON — It is being reported generally now the new dealers have recaptured the war production board from business, but that is the least of the story.

True enough, the secondary business leadership remaining down inside WPB is not the dynamic type. New, thirty-six year old top man Krug has not had a career which would develop business contacts, except adversely (he was an engineer in the TVA and WPA).

Coming up in his outfit are men like Maury Maverick, New Deal politician and head of the smaller war plants division, who has been conducting a novel business-endearing campaign for months, taking every congressman as a major issue, writing nice letters to the business involved, to the congressmen and anyone who might be pleased thereby.

Behind Krug will be the similar New Deal men who try to persuade FDR into left-handed trails at every fork of the road.

But this aftermath of the fatal Nelson-Wilson feud is only a side phase of the greater evidence that the whole business reconversion program has become involved in fanfare up to its knees—the same glue which mired WPB.

Great sectors of the home front, upon which the immediate economic future of the country depends, have become leaderless or confused by conflicting leadership, which is worse. Harsh and overstrained as these words may sound, they spring from a mere scanning of surface events, and are beyond concealment.

Mr. Roosevelt appreciated reconversion was a dominating phase of the peace prospects and last winter designated his wise man, Bernard Baruch, to work out a policy.

Baruch did, and his man, James F. Byrnes, was appointed to carry it forward, but Baruch has been in either silent rage or despair (both seem justifiable by the disregard of his leadership) and has said not a word lately, while Byrnes has told congress he was quitting the demobilization directorship, and his friends fear he also will quit the government Jan. 1.

On the disposition of surplus property, Will Clayton, the official administrator, advocated one course before congress only to find himself blocked (not by Republicans) but New Dealers who protested his plan to turn land over to the RFC (Jones) instead of the department of agriculture (Wickard) or interior (Ickes). There is, therefore, no official policy on surplus property, and no leadership.

The CIO-New Deal element promoted the Murray-Kilgore bill on industrial unemployment, but their efforts to get the president out in front for them, had failed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Curled crews last yesterday were patrolling the meandering borders of a foothill fire which had swept some 8,000 acres of brushland edging the San Fernando valley, endangering at least 25 homes and endangering many more.

The fire, which started late Tuesday in the woodland hills section within the Los Angeles city limits, was regarded as definitely under control, but Fire Capt. John Newcomb said the foothill would be maintained until all possibility of a new flareup due to shifting winds had been averted.

In San Diego county favorable wind conditions were aiding hundreds of fighters in their effort to prevent a 40,000 acre brush fire from spreading through the Laguna mountain resort area.

British Plan

By TOM YARBROUGH
LONDON (AP)—The main thing Britain promises a returning soldier is his old job back.

Parliament passed a law to that effect back in 1939 but it proved to be too narrow, and now a much more comprehensive piece of job legislation has just replaced it on the books.

Besides the job he left behind, a soldier back from the wars can have training or schooling at government expense.

The whole scheme is full of complex problems. They were aired in detail in the house of commons debate brought on by the "Reinstatement in Civil Employment Bill," as it is called, and the final legislation falls far short of settling them in advance.

Here is an example of some things that had to be worked out. One job has been held by as many as six men, called into the army one after another as the war years passed. All have a claim on the job when they come back. The new law provides that it will go to the man who had it first.

Jobs or Training
That would leave the other five on a limb, but they will be entitled to training to prepare them for other jobs.

The greatest single class of new jobs will be in the building trades. Post-war housing is a lively topic and the government plans to build up a pool of building labor which in ten years after the war is expected to rise to 1,250,000 men.

A man or woman returning from the army, navy, airforce or full-time civil defense services must apply in writing for his or her old job within five weeks of discharge, and be ready to go to work not more than four weeks after making the application.

All are guaranteed employment in the old job for 26 weeks. If they held the old job for a year before leaving it they are guaranteed re-employment in the same spot for a full year.

An employer who refuses is subject to a fine not exceeding 100 pounds (about $400).

Administered by Bevin
The whole scheme is administered by the ministry of labor, headed by Ernest Bevin.

Bevin has announced plans to set up resettlement advice offices in about 400 cities and towns. Part of their work will be to protect war veterans from sharks waiting to steer their savings into fake enterprises or sell them "dud business firms. Thousands of British Tommies were defrauded that way after World War I.

Egyptians Want

Sudan for Egypt

CAIRO (AP)—During Egypt's holy month of Ramadan (which began around Aug. 20) in the year 1363 of the Hegira, all good Muslims must fast by day and spend much time in prayer and contemplation. Political discussion will decline.

But the month of Shaban, which preceded Ramadan, saw increasing reference in Egypt's government and opposition press to the much-voiced subject of the Sudan and the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

Nationalist politicians have always been in the forefront of the "Sudan for Egypt" or "Nile Valley" movement, but they now have been joined by Liberal Constitutionalists and others.

Officially, the Wafd party, at present in office under the premiership of Mustafa el-Nahas Pasha, has not committed itself, but a spokesman, recently declared that "in view of the part played by Egypt in aiding the allied war effort she might expect to realize her full aspirations and a fitting sovereignty in the concert of nations."

All of which boils down to amendment of the treaty—under which Britain has certain rights and privileges in Egypt, especially in the shape of military bases for the defense of the Suez canal, the Red sea and the eastern Mediterranean.

Rebirth of Distomo

NEW YORK (AP)—To perpetuate the memory of the Greek town of Distomo, wiped out by the Nazis last June, the committee for the rebirth of Distomo, headed by playwright Maxwell Anderson, was formed here yesterday to seek an American community willing to adopt the name.

Anderson said the adoption of the town's name would be a "fitting monument" to the 1,100 inhabitants reportedly put to death.

By KENNETH DIXON

you didn't dare leave so much as a field jacket unguarded in a jeep almost anywhere in Italy or north Africa. It just wouldn't be there when you returned.

But in several mountain villages far inland in France we were forced to leave a jeep loaded with hundreds of dollars worth of cameras and typewriters, food, clothes, gear and equipment—sometimes right in the middle of milling crowds, sometimes in deserted alleys for the night.

Not once was so much as a single cigarette stolen.

Once we asked a Maquis chieftain if our stuff would be safe left unguarded through the night. He quietly said yes. It was. But not until the next day did we find that just to be sure he had passed the word around that anybody caught tampering with our jeep would be shot.

French people, both the fighting Maquis and the unarmed civilians, take any risks to help the troops. They lead the way to gun positions. They draw fire so the Germans are forced to give away their locations. They carry out the wounded and bury the dead almost in the midst of the scraps. They have provided armed guards wherever needed.

And everybody is still talking about the story of the people of Pierrefeu and the lone doughboy who fell there—the victim of a sniper's bullet.

He was the only casualty in the hill village northeast of Toulon. The death of the American who had come all the way across the sea to help liberate them touched the people of Pierrefeu.

Pvt. Frederick Mangiapane of Detroit, Mich., told the story to Pvt. George Dorsey of Los Angeles, a Stars and Stripes scribe.

After the shot sounded and the doughboy fell, the sniper disappeared. Meanwhile, amid low exclamations of indignation the townspeople picked up the doughboy's body and gently carried it to a nearby house. The town undertaker went to his shop and picked out a sturdy pine casket from the tall trees which dot the mountainside.

"Then the people changed their ordinary clothes to black ones," Mangiapane said. "They picked pallbearers and brought out a big French flag. They took down the boy's serial number and gave it to army officials later."

A requiem mass was sung in the little Pierrefeu church over the casket bright with flowers and the French tricolor. Behind four blackclad men the townspeople walked in a long procession out to the ancient cemetery where Pierrefeu had buried its dead for generations.

Germans were shelling the town, but the funeral for the American "soldier of France" went on.

"There were a lot of people there—everyone in town must have gone to the funeral," said Mangiapane. "It really was nice—just like something you might see back home."

Crash Victim 'Doing Fair'

"At least a 50-50 chance of getting well", was given Nick Edle, 29, by University hospital doctors last night, who reported that he was "doing pretty fair."

Edle, the fourth passenger in a car which crashed into a stock truck Tuesday night, was the only survivor of an accident fatal to three: Elmer Breneman, 38, Mrs. Marcella Parizek Scrivner, 19 and Lela Vada Stutzman, 17.

Edle suffers a fractured back, internal injuries, abrasions and a head injury.

His wife, Mrs. Gladys Edle, is at her home, 619 Fourth avenue.

Over 1,000 Bombers Batter German Ports

Germans Step Up Flying Bomb Attacks On English Coast

LONDON (AP)—More than 1,000 United States heavy bombers, with an escort of approximately the same size, joined in assaults yesterday on the great German ports of Kiel and Bremen and flying bomb installations in the Pas de Calais area. All of the planes returned safely.

A communicable last night reported intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered by the force of up to 750 Flying Fortresses which struck the Kiel and Bremen areas and that some ground fire had been met by the more than 300 Fortresses and Liberators in an earlier attack on the Flying bomb installations.

No enemy air opposition, however, was encountered in either operation.

The heavily fortified little island of Cezembre, where the Germans still are blocking the entrance to St. Malo harbor on the Breton coast, was bombed last night by two waves of Ninth airforce Mustangs which used the pathfinder technique to hit their targets through thick clouds.

The little island has forts armed with 150-millimeter guns and manned by a strong German garrison.

Continuing bad weather over the French battlefields curtailed fighter bomber operations during the day, but some attacks were made against ammunition and fuel dumps and enemy troop formations trapped in the lower Seine bends.

Apparently realizing they soon must lose the Pas de Calais area, the Germans meanwhile stepped up their flying-bomb attacks on Britain, sending the robots over periodically in waves throughout the day. Many were knocked down by the heavy British barrage.

Olathe Judge Sends Home-Town Letter

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—The Fat club could not meet in Olathe home-town "gang," separated by the ways of war, receives a letter periodically—all 175 of them—which brings them as close to home as the soda shop on Park street for a morning cup of coffee.

Judge G. A. Roberds established the letter as living memorial to his son, Ens. Don W. Roberds, 21-year-old navy flight instructor killed in an airplane accident at Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 7, 1942, the first Olathe boy killed in this war.

Eighty-odd photographs of boys and girls in the armed forces line the walls of Judge Roberds' chambers, where he pens such newsy observations as:

"Harley V-for-victory Haskin is better looking in his Uncle Sam-made clothes than any he ever bought for himself."

"During the flu flurry little 'Doc' Albaugh made 35 calls in one day."

"Last January it was so cold the regular members of the Chew-

BASIC DRESS—BOLERO SUIT

A VERSATILE ENSEMBLE is this semi-casual, semi-dressy pattern in pastel jersey or lightweight wool. The low square neckline is closed with a string tie which may be in a contrasting color to match the belt. Bracelet-length sleeves, fitted at the cuff, are new. The bolero-suit (left) is also an all-around costume for the late summer-into-fall wardrobe. Made of beige spun rayon, it changes its outlook on life with a tailored blouse one day, a frilly one the next.

Truman's Home Town Prepares for Speech Of Acceptance

LAMAR, Mo. (AP)—In rubber boots and overalls, Lamar's citizens yesterday dressed up the old town for the Truman notification ceremonies tonight.

Between showers that deposited an inch and a half of rain on the quiet little town where Truman was born and lived in infancy, the natives who do not know him hung bunting and hammered together a speakers platform at the west door of the Barton courthouse. There the Missouri senator today launches his campaign as Democratic vice-presidential candidate.

Senator Truman's short acceptance speech will be broadcast on all networks starting at 9:30 p. m. (CWT).

Truman, who was in Joplin yesterday for a round of pre-notification festivities, predicted that Missouri would "give a 100,000 majority to the national Democratic ticket."

He inspected Camp Crowder and met hundreds of early arrivals for the nomination ceremonies at an informal reception sponsored by the Joplin Democratic women.

The local populace frankly admitted that if there was any great excitement about today's show it was centered as much in the national press and radio attention accorded as in Truman's visit.

Three of the photographs in the judge's chambers bear gold stars. One is that of Byron Kern, a lieutenant (J.G.) from Des Moines, Iowa, official escort when the body of Ensign Roberds was brought home for burial. He died in a crash in the West Indies last Jan. 5.

Brownell Forecasts Republican Midwest Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Herbert Brownell Jr., Republican national chairman, remaked yesterday that "evidently the Republican trend is a little stronger than Mr. Roosevelt thought it was."

He made the statement at a press conference when a reporter asked if he had any comment on the chief executive's announcement that he would make what he termed his first political speech of the 1944 campaign Sept. 23.

Brownell told newsmen Republican prospects were bright in the area between the Alleghenies and the Rockies. He added:

"If Mr. Hannagan (Democratic national chairman) starts out from his home town in Missouri, he'll have to travel far before finding any electoral votes that will be in the new deal column election night."

The Republican chairman talked at western headquarters with Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois Gov. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa, and others.

Brownell said "all confirmed my own conclusion" that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Republican candidates for president and vice-president, "will sweep the midwest provided our Republican organizations continue with the unity and enthusiasm they've shown to date."

Brownell will confer with young Republican leaders today.

Brownell said he and Hickenlooper talked over plans for Governor Dewey's stop in Des Moines Sept. 11 on his cross-country tour.

'IKE' IN FRENCH CAPITAL

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF of all invasion forces, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is shown in this radiophoto in Paris where the American general's appearance touched off a frenzied demonstration. "Ike" had not planned to visit the French capital when he left his Normandy headquarters for a tour of the Falaise pocket. Accompanying "Ike" into Paris was Lieut. Gen. Omar Bradley, commander of United States forces in northern France.

Bradley to Be Given Parallel Status With Montgomery

WASHINGTON (AP)—A realignment of the allied command in France to give Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley parallel status with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery as an army group commander was reported here yesterday. This move, it was explained, will be made in recognition of the rapidly broadening scope of operations.

Anticipating a recurrence of protests voiced by some newspapers in Britain when a similar report—later denied—came from allied headquarters two weeks ago, informed persons said there was no criticism, real or implied, of General Montgomery.

A formal announcement of the change is expected shortly. Meanwhile it was said that since General Eisenhower moved his headquarters to France and took personal command of the operations, the need for a deputy commander for all allied ground forces no longer exists, and therefore the title held by Montgomery since the invasion has lost its meaning.

Tobacco Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Chaw tobacco" is going to cost more.

Beginning next Monday, the office of price administration announced, manufacturers may increase their price of "plain" chewing tobacco by about 20 percent, and the "sweetened" variety by 10 percent. It means the consumer will pay about 12 instead of 10 cents for a plain plug, and 11 instead of 10 cents for a sweetened plug.

OPA explained that it's costing more to make the stuff than in March, 1942, when prices were "frozen."

Massachusetts Gunman Easily Persuaded

FITCHBURG, Mass. (AP)—Harry Ferguson, who runs a main street tailor shop, reported to police that a gunman, handkerchief over face, entered his shop late yesterday, pointed a revolver and demanded money.

"Sorry," said Mr. Ferguson, "There's no money here."

"Oh," said the gunman, "Okay, then."

He pocketed his gun, shrugged his shoulders, and meekly walked out.

GRANDMOTHER'S BOND WITH THE FUTURE -WAR BONDS

.. for your grandchildren, the best in the world!

ORDINARILY, age brings certain privileges. One of the greatest of them perhaps, is that of watching, from the sidelines, the growth and progress of our children's families.

Certainly one of the rewards of being a mother is becoming a grandmother—able to enjoy our sons' and daughters' children to the full, while leaving the responsibility for them in other hands.

The war, which has changed so many things, has changed this too. When the war took our sons—when it broke up our children's homes—it gave back to America's grandmothers responsibilities which we had passed on long ago. The privilege of growing older quietly has been denied the women of our generation while this war lasts.

For today, our grandchildren need our help.

And it is in our power to give them greater help, perhaps, than any grandparents ever gave before.

We can give this help by buying War Bonds and Stamps—for our children's children. And no other single thing that we can do will help so much, or in so many different ways.

War Bonds can help to bring fighting fathers back to their families next year—the year after—as soon as possible. War Bonds can provide those families now with aid in case of illness or emergency. War Bonds can help assure an education for a boy whose father comes back crippled—or does not come back at all. War Bonds can help to guarantee a busy, prosperous America for our sons when they return—an America in which our grandsons can find all the opportunities they need to lead the fullest, happiest lives in all the world.

The Grandmothers' War Bond League is simply a way of recognizing and uniting the grandmothers who are today buying War Bonds and Stamps for their grandchildren. Every one who buys a Bond or Stamp in a grandchild's name automatically becomes a member.

Join the Grandmothers' War Bond League today!

The Grandmothers' League was founded by Mrs. George C. Marshall, wife of the Army Chief-of-Staff. It is not a formal club. It is simply a roll of honor which grandmothers automatically belong to when they buy bonds, or start stamp albums, for their grandchildren. Mrs. Marshall urges every grandmother in America to help the fighting men today...and their children tomorrow, by joining the Grandmothers War Bond League.

Dr. Alexis Carrel Placed Under Arrest By FFI in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Dr. Alexis Carrel, director of the Vichy-supported Carrel Institute and one-time scientific associate of Charles A. Lindbergh, has been arrested by the French forces of the interior, it was announced yesterday.

He has been "suspended from all his functions" seven days ago.

The FFI charged that Dr. Carrel, 71 years old, founded his institute with Vichy support for the purpose of supplanting the great French universities, and introducing Fascism and Marxism to the students.

Earlier he collaborated with Lindbergh in the invention of a mechanical heart.

The FFI asserted that the Petain regime donated funds freely, the initial gift amounting to 40,000,000 francs (roughly $800,000), with the intention of hiring away professors from the Sorbonne and other established universities.

When few of them accepted, Dr. Carrel then tried to close university laboratories so the professors would have to come to his institute to earn a living, the FFI further alleged. Finally the attempt was abandoned because of the wave of protests, it was added.

Fraud Charges Refined Against Burlington Army Colonel

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Charges against Col. Joseph J. Canella of conspiring to defraud the government have been submitted again to a federal grand jury for possible indictment, United States Attorney Charles H. Carr said yesterday.

Earlier indictments against Col. Canella, formerly of Burlington, Iowa, quartermaster at the Santa Ana army air base, were dismissed July 17 by Federal Judge Pierson M. Hall on the grounds that their language was so vague that they did not allege an offense.

Collegians Dazzle For Three Periods; Fail to Rally in Fourth

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—By the slender margin of three points, the Chicago Bears, champions of the National football league, conquered the College All-Stars, 24-21, last night to maintain their unbeaten record in five spectacular engagements in the eleven-game series.

It was a 13-yard field goal by Pete Gudauskas, a Kentucky Teachers college guard, that gave the Bears their margin of victory in the last period. The goal came after the Bears had marched 23 yards to the Stars' 6, where the Collegians stiffened. With Ens, Sid Luckman, playing his last game with the Bears for the duration, holding the ball, Gudauskas' try was from slightly to one side of the goal post. The ball, however, sailed through the uprights and the All-Stars were defeated.

Chicago White Sox Defeat Tigers, 8-3

Retire Three Hurlers To Gain-Even Break In Two-Game Series

DETROIT (AP)—Cuffing three Detroit pitchers for 15 hits, eight of them for extra bases, the Chicago White Sox hammered out an 8 to 3 victory yesterday to gain an even break in two games with the Tigers.

Ed Lopat, lefthander who went all the way for the Sox, gave 12 hits but had good fielding support, including three double plays. The victory was Lopat's eighth against nine losses.

Ohio State recovered on the Bears' 24. Dobbs passed to Yonaker on the Bear 12 but the All-Stars backfield was in motion. Luckman intercepted Dobbs' pass on the goal line to end the threat. The All-Stars made one more threat with Dobbs pitching them to the Bears' 38, but again Luckman intercepted a long pass by Dobbs seconds before the game ended. Final score—Bears 24, All-Stars 21.

Northwestern Expects 50 Gridmen to Report

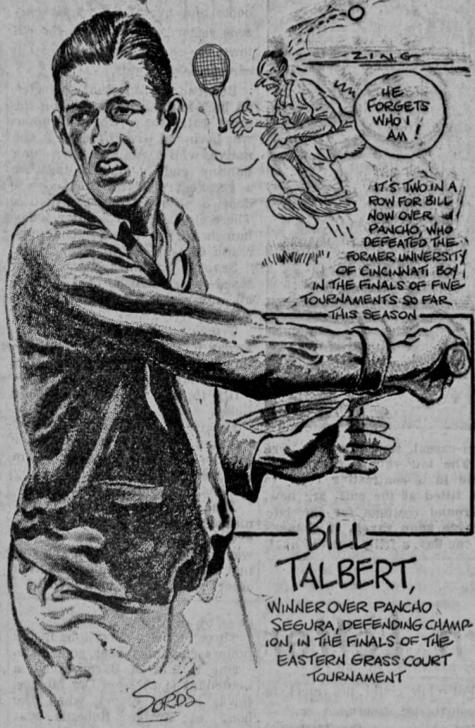

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A squad of 50 players is expected to report to Coach Lynn Waldorf when Northwestern university launches its 1944 football campaign with the opening of fall practice Saturday. Starting his tenth season with the Wildcats, Waldorf will build this year's team around nine lettermen, all of whom were sophomores last year.

Among the first year freshman civilians who will be counted upon to see action this season is Gene Justak, guard, of Whiting, Ind. Heading the group of navy V-12 candidates are Bill Roper, half-back, Napa, Calif.; William Brophy, fullback, of Duluth, Minn.; Norman Trout, center, of St. Paul, Minn.; Alan Wierman, end, of Waldo, Wis.

But it does seem that the ability to assemble talent from such a wide territory would give the Superbombers such an edge on opponents it would dim the glory of victory.

Four Veterans Eliminated In Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The youth movement struck the national tennis championships yesterday when a quartet of players, familiar fixtures to the galleries for several seasons, were eliminated in the first round.

Sidney B. Wood Jr., of New York, winner of England's Wimbledon championship in 1931 and a top-flight player for more than a dozen years, was the principal upset victim, falling before young Charley Oliver of Perth Amboy, N. J., 6-3, 6-8, 6-1.

Wood was the only seeded player to go out, but Lieut. Gilbert A. Hunt of Washington, D. C., a noted upsetter of ranking stars, failed to turn the trick against sixth-seeded Air Cadet Bobby Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., in an all-army match and Mrs. Helen Pedersen Ribbany of New York and Katharine Winthrop of South Hamilton, Mass., ninth and tenth respectively in the women's national rankings, failed to survive their first-round matches.

Falkenburg, seeded sixth, pulled out his tussle with Hunt after losing the first set, 5-7, 6-2, 6-1. Eighth-seeded Shirley Fry, national girls' champion from Akron, Ohio, downed Mrs. Ribbany in a strenuous tussle, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5. Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of Hidden Valley, Calif., a former first-ten player who was out of competition last year, eliminated Miss Winthrop, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Francisco Segura of Ecuador, top-seeded trimmed Pfc. David S. Johnson of Washington, D. C., 6-2, 6-3, navy Lieut. Don McNeill, the 1940 national champion and second-ranking favorite, had to work a little harder against army Lieut. Billy Gillespie of Grand Island, Neb., but won 6-3, 10-8.

DES MOINES (AP)—The Tobin Packers of Ft. Dodge, defending champions of the men's division, advanced to the third round of the Iowa softball tourney last night with a first-round victory over Boone Y. M. C. A. and a second-round triumph over the Marshalltown manufacturing company.

The Boone Y. M. C. A. club fell before the Iowa Kings, 7 to 3, and the Marshalltown team went down 6 to 2.

The Texaco Dealers of Boone gained a second-round berth, dropping the Newton Redmen in the evening's curtain raiser, 7 to 0.

Ray Holzschuh, the Packers ace hurler, who pitched both games for the Ft. Dodge nine, allowed a total of five hits in the two contests.

He set Marshalltown down with two blows after pitching a three-hit game against the Boone team.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees yesterday moved into second place in American league standings, three and a half games behind the St. Louis Browns, when they outslug the Boston Red Sox 9-7.

The victory, coupled with Detroit's defeat by Chicago, gave the Yankees a half-game lead over the Tigers and the Red Sox, who are tied for third place.

Nick Etten paced the New York attack with four hits, including a double and triple. It was Pitcher Hank Borowy's 16th victory.

Illinois Legislator Attacks Recent Hawaii Trip of Roosevelt

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me. (AP)—Rep. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) said last night that President Roosevelt's recent visit to Hawaii constituted a campaign trip and that "This is the first time the United States navy has ever been used to win an election."

"Of course he did not call it a campaign trip," Dirksen told a Republican rally in a prepared address. "He called it an inspection. He did not speak of himself as a candidate. He spoke of himself as commander in chief."

Declaring a candidate must stand before the people in only one role—that of candidate, Dirksen said:

"No man should be allowed to seek the presidency of the United States under false pretenses."

"When a man seeks that high office—the highest office within the gift of any people—he stands before us in one role only. He does not stand before us as a diplomat—even though he calls Churchill 'Winnie' and Stalin 'Joe.' To seek the presidency that way is to seek it under false pretenses."

"He does not stand before us as commander in chief of the army and navy—even though he can command the United States navy to help him with his campaigning. To seek the presidency that way is to seek it under false pretenses."

OPA Authorizes New Oil Rations

Applications have been restricted to persons who received rations for the same addresses last year.

Veteran Legislator In Critical Condition

MCCOOK, Neb. (AP)—Former Senator George W. Norris' pulse has speeded up and the 83-year-old legislator "is still in quite critical condition," his physicians said last night.

The veteran independent, "father" of the TVA and author of the lame duck constitutional amendment, has not recovered complete consciousness since suffering a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday at his home here. The doctors said Norris does not respond to anything said to him but seems to recognize he is being spoken to.

"There has been no improvement in his condition," they said. His right side is partially paralyzed.

Indignation Sweeps Paris on Discovery Of Nazi Victims

PARIS (AP)—A wave of popular indignation swept Paris last night following the exhumation of bodies of 50 French policemen and members of the FFI which were listed as victims of Nazi terrorism in the metropolitan area.

French newspapers said they had been shot by German SS troops without trial in the week preceding the fall of Paris. Some had been ordered to dig their own graves and many had been tortured without being formally accused or told the reason for their arrest, it was declared.

Eight bodies were recovered three days ago from a common grave in the courtyard of the Caserne de la Republique, a German barracks in the heart of Paris. Eight more were found in Luxembourg gardens, in the university quarters, and 34 were exhumed from three pits in the woods at Vincennes, a suburb east of Paris.

Other pits were expected to yield more bodies.

Three Fraternity Houses Rented to House Women

Dormitories Accommodate Nearly 1,060

Applicants Being Interviewed to Fill Supervisory Positions

Rental of three fraternity houses at the University of Iowa for use as emergency dormitories for women was announced yesterday afternoon by President Virgil M. Hancher.

The houses are Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Nu. President Hancher expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the alumni officers of the three fraternities in making their empty houses available to meet the unusually heavy demand by university women for housing.

Dean Thompson is interviewing applicants for position of house supervisor for each of the three units, and if any mature woman graduate student is interested, she should call immediately at the office in Old Capitol.

These facilities provide rooming accommodations only and according to a report from the division of student housing in the office of student affairs, the three houses are already filled.

Faced with the problem of housing more university women than ever before, university-operated dormitories will accommodate nearly 1,060 women this fall, reports Mrs. Imelda C. Murphy, director of student housing. Currier hall will hold 529, Currier annexes 110; three cooperative dormitories, 195; three fraternity houses, 135; and 87 extra girls will be housed in Currier hall until Oct. 1 when Eastlawn dormitory is turned back to the university by the army.

"Both the girls and their parents are to be commended for the wholehearted way in which they have accepted these temporary facilities," said C. Woody Thompson, dean of students, yesterday. Social sororities for women on campus accommodate approximately 450 women in their houses and annexes.
