Yanks Take Six Towns

Third Army Clears Germans From Luxembourg

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF (AP)—Doughboys of the United States First Army cracked German defenses wide open along a six-mile front north of Aachen yesterday and swept up six German towns in a high-powered three-mile drive that encountered wilting resistance.

The Americans over-ran Begendorf, Merkstein, Basweiler, Herbach, Hofstadt and Alsdorf as they hammered to a point five to six miles inside Germany in the onrush that was described by an American staff officer as a definite breakthrough. The United States troops are meeting less artillery fire and weaker opposition, field dispatches reported last night.

Tanks, infantry, artillery and supplies poured into Germany through the gap torn by the Americans.

The whole 460-mile front stirred restlessly. The United States Third Army struck in the long-dormant Luxembourg sector, cleared Germans from virtually the entire duchy, and was nearing the frontier town of Wormeldang due east of the capital on the Moselle river facing the Reich.

The First Army was driving toward the industrial heart of Germany along the Rhine and Ruhr. The power drive, rolling over the bitterly-fought Ubach sector nine miles north of Aachen at Basweiler severed one of two main roads leading 30 miles northeast to Dusseldorf at the doorway to the rich Ruhr valley.

On the Third Army front, the Americans wrested the northwest and southwest corners of the great Ft. Driant from the German garrison, fought 100 yards down an underground passage leading to the main fortifications, but then found their way barred by steel and concrete bulkheads.

Washington Police Charge Marine in Snood Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 21-year-old marine, father of two children and veteran of the fighting on Guadalcanal, was accused last night of slaying Dorothy Berum, 18, war department clerk from Chippewa Falls, Wis., whose ravished, strangled body was found early Friday on Potomac park golf course.

Major Edward J. Kelly, superintendent of metropolitan police, announced a charge of murder had been filed against Pvt. Earl McFarland.

Kelly announced that a service belt, a lipstick-stained cigarette, and a push-button jackknife figured in the investigation which was climaxed by McFarland's arrest early yesterday morning in the marine guard barracks in downtown Washington where he has been stationed since September of last year.

Kelly said the service belt, found near Miss Berum's body corresponded with one which McFarland reported on Friday he had lost while he was visiting his sick child in Tennessee recently. On the same day, Kelly said, McFarland sent his uniform out to be cleaned.

The stained cigarette, also found near the body of the girl, was of the same brand that a taxicab driver said he gave to a couple he drove to the park late Thursday night.

The jackknife, Detective Chief Robert J. Barrett said, was found in the back of the taxicab and was identified by another marine as one he had lent to McFarland several months ago.

Barrett said McFarland admitted having left his barracks with two companions Thursday evening and having borrowed the jackknife. He did not admit, Barrett added, possession of the knife on the night of the killing, but did tell police he had met a girl for "a few minutes" on a downtown corner Thursday night.

Whether McFarland would be tried by military authorities or in the civil courts was to be determined at a conference between military and civil authorities.

Heart Attack Proves Fatal To Politician

NEW YORK (AP)—Wendell Willkie, 52, died this morning at 2:20 a. m. (EWT) in a New York hospital. His death resulted from coronary thrombosis.

The announcement was made by his secretary, Lem Jones.

Mr. Willkie had been in the hospital since Sept. 4. His wife, who has been ill with a sore throat, was rushed to the hospital and was at his bedside when he died.

His physician said streptococci infection had affected his heart muscles.

Wendell Lewis Willkie, who was born Feb. 18, 1892, was a paradox in American politics. A political unknown a few months before the Republican national convention in 1940, this one-time Deocrat won the presidential nomination of his adopted party that year as the galleries in Philadelphia's convention hall shouted "We want Willkie!"

In losing in the general election to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Willkie polled 22,333,801 votes, the largest popular vote ever given a Republican presidential candidate.

Willkie, the successful last-minute entrant of 1940, went out openly for the nomination early in 1944. He put his candidacy to a test in the Wisconsin primaries in April, but despite a strenuous state tour failed to win a single delegate and withdrew. "It is obvious that I cannot be nominated," he said.

In the four-year interval, Willkie was never out of the public eye. He supported the Roosevelt administration on policies he thought correct, criticized it vigorously on those he thought wrong.

In the latter part of 1942, Willkie made a 31,000-mile tour of the middle east, Russia and China as a special representative of President Roosevelt, from whom he carried letters to Marshal Joseph Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

He described his travels in a book, "One World," which sold 1,500,000 copies.

His independence was in line with the description he once gave of himself—"I wear my sovereignty under my own hat."

Dewey Hits 'Tired Administration'

Sees New Deal As Forerunner Of Corporate State

Cites Memorandum By Adolph Berle As Source for Belief

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, Charleston, W. Va. (AP)—Looking upon the New Deal's industrial program as forerunner of a "corporate state," Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said last night that in the "record" of the national administration can be found the answer to what Dewey said was the reason Communists consider President Roosevelt's election "essential" to their aims.

The Republican nominee for president also asserted that the administration works both sides of the street as he asked a cheering audience which more than filled this 5,000-seat auditorium.

"How can we trust our future to an administration which talks out of one side of its mouth about government ownership of our factories, while out of the other side of its mouth softly disavows its Communist supporters?"

"The aims of the New Dealers were stated May 23, 1939, declared Dewey, "by Adolph Berle (now assistant secretary of state) in a carefully written memorandum, submitted to the temporary national economic committee."

(Berle in Washington asserted that Dewey had misrepresented the sense of the 1939 memorandum which the Republican nominee mentioned).

The New York governor, renewing his assault on what he described as a "very tired administration" declared President Roosevelt "has no answer" to the specific proposals he said he had presented as the Republican presidential nominee.

Dewey, who came here for a single speech plus a round of conferences with coal miners and other groups was met by a standing ovation lasting a minute and a half.

Bricker Calls FDR Administration Government by Crisis

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker said last night that President Roosevelt had declared the existence of a "national emergency" 59 times as reason for government actions.

Truman Accuses GOP Standard Bearers Of Chicanery

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Senator Harry S. Truman, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, yesterday accused the Republican national standard bearers of "demagoguery and chicanery" in current campaign speeches, and said it would be serious and dangerous "to take a chance on creating distrust with our allies by placing an inexperienced leader" in the White House.

Truman, in a speech prepared for delivery before the American Legion fair here, said the Republican standard bearers had made garbled quotations from a speech delivered by President Roosevelt Oct. 5, 1937, had left words and sentences out of their proper context, and have deliberately misrepresented the facts.

"I consider this the lowest form of political chicanery and I am very sure that the American people cannot be fooled by any such form of dishonesty," Truman said.

Furthermore, he charged isolationism still lived in the Republican party and that in winning the peace, it was unsafe to entrust leaders' work to isolationists.

Delegates Complete—Master Peace Design

WASHINGTON (AP)—A world master design for world security was formally concluded at Dumbarton Oaks yesterday.

From the time it is made public Monday by the Americans, Russian, British and Chinese governments until it is finally acted on by each of the united nations months later it probably will be subjected to sharp world wide debate and criticism.

Nazis Remove War Materials From Italy

Fail to Stabilize Front as Americans Push Toward Bologna

ROME (AP)—The Germans, with eight divisions reported opposing the stubbornly advancing American Fifth Army, have again failed to stabilize their front in central Italy and apparently are trying to build a new defensive line farther north, allied headquarters said yesterday.

The Americans drove forward two miles past the captured town of Loiano to a point only 12 miles from Bologna, at the edge of the wide Po valley sweeping across the north of Italy.

The Germans were reported working frantically to ship war materials from northern Italy to Germany before their front collapsed. One report said the Nazis were ripping up railway lines and sending the rails to their beleaguered homeland. Another said the enemy was attempting to remove whole factories, including workers.

Another Fifth Army thrust north from the mountain village of Sassoleone carried to within 10 miles of Castel San Pietro, which lies on the all-important Bologna-Rimini highway and rail routes.

FBI Agents Arrest Trio in Charge Of Circus Burglary

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The federal bureau of investigation struck simultaneously yesterday in Michigan, Illinois and California and arrested three men in connection with a previously undisclosed $65,055 circus train burglary in Minnesota a year ago.

Announcement of the arrests was made last night by M. B. Rhodes, FBI agent in charge here, who said the trio was arrested on complaints issued in St. Paul charging them with burglary of the Rubin & Cherry show money car "between St. Paul and Gardsville, Minn." Sept. 8, 1943.

The theft included $28,189.75 in cash and $38,866.16 in drafts, Rhodes disclosed.

Thousands Pay Silent Tribute to Al Smith

NEW YORK (AP)—Alfred Emanuel Smith was buried yesterday beside his wife, Catherine, who aided and inspired him in a career which led from the sidewalks of New York to the gubernatorial mansion in Albany and the Democratic nomination for president of the United States.

Only members of the immediate family, relatives and close friends attended services at the grave in Calvary cemetery.

The city, the state and the nation paid tribute to "the happy warrior" of American politics, who was four times governor of New York, at a pontifical requiem mass yesterday morning in St. Patrick's cathedral.

Crowds estimated at 35,000 to 40,000 thronged Fifth Avenue and adjoining side streets before and during the mass, adding their silent tribute to the respect paid by more than 200,000 persons who filed by Smith's casket as he lay in state in the cathedral Friday.

Whole PAC Record Declares Hillman

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO political action committee, said yesterday that President Roosevelt's disavowal of Communist support had no application to the PAC because "the whole record of the PAC is anti-Communist."

"No one ever has taken in a serious manner the charge that the PAC is Communist, consequently the president's statement could have no application to the PAC," he said at a press conference when he was asked if the president's remarks Thursday night would apply to his organization.

Invading Allies Strafe Airfields in Athens

Occupy Peloponnesus; Prepare to Cross Isthmus of Corinth

ROME (AP)—British invasion forces have overrun most of the Peloponnesus, home of the ancient Spartans, it was announced yesterday, and allied strafing of Athens' airfields indicated that they would soon cross the Isthmus of Corinth to the Greek mainland, scene of their bitter 1941 retreat.

(A Reuters report from Cairo said that the Germans had abandoned Corinth and that allied occupation was imminent.)

Behind the liberating Tommies came a Greek government-in-exile representative who took over administration of the peninsula and told a crowd clamoring in the north port of Patrai for a peoples' rule that their exiled monarch, King George II, and his government would try "to satisfy our wishes."

Greek patriots at Patrai, where their ancestors in 1821 plotted the overthrow of Turkish overlords, said that the Germans had cleared out of the northern part of the peninsula, just as they had fled the southern ports and central regions earlier.

Communications on Greek operations have been far behind accomplishments, and it may be assumed that the second phase of the invasion, the drive to the Greek mainland, is well under way.

Behind them the Germans left a hungry population and Greek puppet "security battalions," which have been surrendering readily to the British.

Anderson Withdraws Statement Concerning Speech Franking

CHICAGO (AP)—Chairman Anderson (D, NM) of the house campaign expenditures committee said yesterday he had been granted permission by the group to withdraw "from the permanent record of the committee" a statement he made Oct. 3 asserting 13 Republicans in congress had franked 3,115,000 copies of a single speech at government expense.

In a statement he read into the record at a committee hearing here yesterday, Anderson declared a quorum was not present when he made the previous statement and the matter had not been brought to the attention of the committee previously.

"Under those circumstances," he asserted yesterday, "it must stand as my personal statement as a member of congress."

Pacific Planes Lash Jap Island Bases

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
As the Japanese boasted about the air power they now have "ready for action" against the United States, the two American commanders in the Pacific Saturday reported widespread aerial strikes against Japanese island bases ranging from the Kuriles in the far north to points south of the equator.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said southwest Pacific bombers lashed Celebes and the Moluccas with 152 tons of explosives; attacked small shipping at Zamboanga, southwestern Philippines, and bombed airbases, docks and shipping in waters west of Dutch New Guinea.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported three air raids in the northern Kuriles, during which they sank a cargo ship and fought off 15 to 20 interceptors probably destroying two and damaging two.

The Japanese air power boast came from radio Tokyo. It said Nippon aircraft now ready for action "far exceed the enemy's first line airforce."

Japanese determination to seal off the China coast against American landings in that vital area was heavily underscored Saturday as the Chinese high command reported a second Nippon landing in the Foochow sector.

Roosevelt to Speak In New York Oct. 21

Schedules First Speech of Campaign Outside Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, accepting an invitation to address a dinner of the Foreign Policy association in New York Oct. 21, yesterday scheduled his first speech outside Washington since he formally opened his fourth term campaign.

The speech will take Roosevelt to New York state, biggest prize in the electoral college with 47 votes, just 17 days before the election.

Whether the address will be classed by the White House as political in nature was a question which went unanswered for the time being. Roosevelt's aids declined to amplify an announcement which consisted of making public the invitation from Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, president of the association, and the president's acceptance.

The speech will be broadcast, Democratic headquarters said. However, the foreign policy association always has emphasized its non-partisan nature. A private research organization, it was founded 26 years ago with the announced aim of fostering understanding and development of foreign policy.

In New York, General McCoy announced that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the president's Republican opponent, also had been invited to address the association "at any time that suits his convenience either in New York or at any of our 25 branches throughout the country."

TANKS HACK HOLE IN WEST WALL
WHILE ALLIED TANKS, held back for two days while Yanks hacked a hole in the Siegfried line north of Aachen (1), were sent charging through the breach to help clear the path of the First Army to the Rhine, Lieut. Red Troops Flank Szeged

LONDON (AP)—Russian tank troops racing 40 miles inside pre-war Hungary overran 300 localities yesterday, outflanking the country's second city of Szeged and striking within 83 miles of Budapest, imperiling Magyar capital, a Moscow communique announced last night.

Rolling through crushed German and Hungarian resistance, mobile Red army units had almost reached the Koros river, the first of two water barriers which are the main obstructions toward their goal of swiftly knocking Hungary out of the axis camp.

Emphasizing the grave danger to southern Germany, a Yugoslav broadcast said Marshal Tito's partisans had made contact with members of the "Austrian freedom front" on the Yugoslav-Austrian border.

To the south other Soviet forces moved swiftly through northern Yugoslavia, spearing to within 20 miles of Szeged, axis stronghold on the Tisza river.

National Newspaper Day—

Today is National Newspaper day throughout America. It is a reminder to millions of Americans of the functions and services which is the job of their newspaper. The newspaper is a vital part of the everyday life of American people. They depend on it to bring them reliable news of world, national and local affairs.

The newspaper is their own information desk to which they go to find out "what news." The observance of National Newspaper week has brought to light the many outstanding services of the American press, and its important role in the life of the American community. It functions just as any other plant upon which the economy of the community depends, and as no other community enterprise can hope to do. The newspaper is a loyal supporter of the home town. It mirrors and reflects the desirability of the community as a place in which to live and earn a livelihood.

There are a great variety of newspaper readers among the American people, and a wide field of reading interests. It has been found that business is the leading news interest in America. Secondly, American readers prefer baseball, racing and all types of sports news. Amusement, such as jokes and comics, is the third leading interest. Foreign news is ranked sixth in America,

From Somewhere in France—

Iowa Graduate Describes SUL Reunion Before "Take-Off Hour"

The following article was written from Somewhere in France by Lieut. Dick Spencer, Iowa graduate and former cheerleader. Lieutenant Spencer says, "The big wheels have been rolling rapidly for me. I jumped the 15th of August; became a father on the 17th; was hit in the face, hands, and legs with a Jerry mortar shell the 22nd; went back to the outfit to get mail and got in another big attack... hit with a Jerry concussion grenade the 9th of September. So since D-day I've been awarded a daughter, a purple heart, and an oak leaf cluster... that's about all a man can take for a while."

It was just a short time before take-off hour, and grotesque figures moved clumsily towards the light on the Red Cross truck. The paratroopers had just seen a real American movie... "Up in Mabel's Room"; and, despite the slight air of tenseness that clung over the crowd, they seemed happy enough... laughing in all the right places.

Now they were getting coffee and doughnuts; and as they filed past the truck lights, they added an eerie note to the atmosphere. Camouflaged jumpsuits, with big pockets bulging; sprayed netting stretched over steel helmets; and faces smeared with black, green, and yellow grease paint gave them the appearance of men from some other world... below. "Butchers With Big Pockets" was the name fearfully bestowed on these boys by the enemy.

Close friends hung around in little groups exchanging good wishes; and before the "move out" signal was given, we had our little S. U. I. reunion. I talked with Lieut. Ery Pinkston and Lieut.

At the University of Iowa— A LABORATORY FOR LIVING

(This is the third in a series of feature articles on various sections of the university where practical learning is stressed.)

Pills and tablets by the hundreds of thousands, medicinal ointments by the ton and liquid preparations by the thousands of gallons are manufactured annually in the manufacturing plant at the university college of pharmacy in the Pharmacy-Botany building.

One among many phases of practical study offered to students in pharmacy, the manufacturing plant turns out almost the entire amount of medicine required at the university hospitals. In a plant with various types of machinery similar to those used in professional large-scale production of medicine, junior and senior year pharmacy students gain practical knowledge by actually manufacturing medicinal products under supervision of instructors.

From the time freshman students enter the college of pharmacy until the completion of the four-year course, a course of study from the practical viewpoint is stressed for them. He not only works in the manufacturing plant actually producing pharmaceutical products, but he also spends part of his time cultivating drugs in the medicinal plant garden connected with the college of pharmacy.

In the medicinal plant garden on the west campus near the greenhouse, plants are grown largely for experimental purposes in pharmacy classes. However, wartime scarcities of belladonna, a plant used extensively in pharmacy, has made necessary the commercial growth of that plant for use in the university hospitals.

Senior Year
In the senior year of pharmacy, students work in the pharmacy on the main floor of the university general hospital. Under supervision of hospital pharmacists who are staff members of the college of pharmacy, all senior students help to prepare prescriptions and gain practical experience in drug dispensing to hospital, out-clinic and student patients. Over 110,000 prescriptions are dispensed annually from the hospital pharmacy.

Important research in the field of synthetic bismuth compounds has been made in the last decade here, according to Dean Rudolph A. Kuever, director of the college of pharmacy.

Synthesized Drugs
"The coming advancement in the field of pharmaceutical products is in the group of synthesized drugs," said Dean Kuever.

THE PHARMACY on the main floor of the University general hospital, recently redecorated, is one of the many phases of pharmaceutical study in the college of pharmacy where students may gain actual experience in pharmacy work. John Street, P4 of Wayne, Neb., is shown preparing a prescription in the hospital pharmacy. Charles Daugherty, P4 of Bloomfield, and Harry W. Austin, hospital pharmacist, aid in dispensing and compounding prescriptions at University hospital pharmacy.

"We build medicine here very much the same as an architect would build a house, according to pre-conceived designs and specifications."

When the synthesized drugs made here are completed, they are sent to the medical laboratories where they are extensively studied on animals. When positive results are achieved, and a sufficient margin of safety is found, the synthesized drugs are used in the hospital clinics here.

Languages Required
The majority of courses taken by pharmacy students are scientific and many are similar to those given to pre-medical and freshman medical students. However, foreign languages, English and social science courses are required for graduation.

Upon graduation from the college of pharmacy, the student goes through a year of practical experience in a drugstore where prescriptions are compounded, after which he takes licensing examinations and becomes a registered pharmacist.

throughout the training years which lead to a bachelor of science degree in pharmacy and into the indispensable position as registered pharmacist.

Infantile Paralysis Passes 1944 Peak
Des Moines (AP)—Infantile paralysis, which so far this year has attacked 136 Iowans, apparently has passed its peak for the year, Dr. C. L. Putnam, director of divisional local health services for the Iowa department of health, said yesterday.
"The peak usually is the latter part of August and September, and our reports show the trend is down now," Dr. Putnam explained. The department has no record showing the number of deaths from the disease this year.
Nine cases were reported in Iowa for the week through Friday. Two of them occurred in Boone county, while one each was reported in Polk, Linn, Clarke, Dubuque, Dallas, Jasper and Warren counties.
The peak week in Iowa was that ended Sept. 9, when 25 persons became ill from the disease. Thirteen cases were reported both in the weeks ended Sept. 16 and Sept. 23. A drop to nine cases was reported for the last week of September, leaving the total for the month the same as that for August at 60 cases.

tern. They all added up to a long line of terrified Jerry prisoners; a pile of smashed and burned enemy vehicles at each crossroads; no communication between any towns in the vicinity of the miles and miles of scattered parachutists; the little piles of bodies where Jerry patrols had been ambushed; with here and there the body of one of our boys... light casualties, but still a sad sight.
The prisoners were stiff with fear for these "men in the baggy pants"... and it always struck a humorous note to see some pint-sized paratrooper marching back a group of 30 or 35 prisoners with a carbine... containing 15 rounds of ammunition!
Typical Humor
Another sight I shall never forget, and typical of paratrooper humor. Two German prisoners had dug four very neat graves, and just finished dragging their four extinct supermen into their final resting place. The big guard, caressing a tommy-gun, threw them the shovels and signalled "Two more!" Slowly the two men looked about for two more bodies... then their eyes met. If only Adolf could have heard the terrified cries of his "Chosen Youth" then, and watched them grovelling on their knees at the feet of an American boy! But he probably wouldn't have understood his laughter, and certainly not his mercy in letting them live.
By the end of the first week, it seemed that everyone in France was wearing vari-colored scarfs... and American parachutes had furnished the material. Needless to say, the paratroopers would have made any Gypsy band look like the King's Guard. They marched down the road shoulder to shoulder with British and Scottish paratroopers who had become separated from their own units and fought with us. They had exchanged their helmets for British berets, British parachute helmets, bright pieces of silk, and an occasional French Gendarme's chapeau. In addition to their own equipment, they carried weapons taken from the enemy... Luigers, Berettas, P-38's, Belgian

University Orchestra To Play Schumann Symphony at Concert

The 1944-45 concert season will open Wednesday evening when the University symphony orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, makes its first appearance of the fall semester in Iowa Union at 8 p. m.

The orchestra will play four selections. Among these is the "Fourth Symphony" by Robert Schumann. This is probably the best known of Schumann's four symphonies.

Although this symphony was written immediately after his first one, it was not published until after the other three were well known. He kept it from the public in order to revise the original work.

It is romantic and imaginative in style. The usual four movements of a symphony are shortened and combined into one. A very favorite part with the public is a short romanza in the middle portion which replaces the usual slow movement. In this brief episode passages for a solo violin and a duet between cello and oboe are particularly melodious.

The other numbers on the program are Tchaikovsky's "Romeo and Juliet Overture", selection from act three of the "Maestro-singers" by Wagner and "Benvenuto Cellini" by Berlioz.

Cosmopolitan Club Seashores to Entertain At First Meeting

Cosmopolitan club will hold its first meeting of the school year today as a guest of Dean and Mrs. Carl E. Seashore, 815 N. Linn. This meeting, at which officers for the coming year will be elected, is under the direction of retiring president Leonidas Saavedra, E3 of Guarare, Panama.

Cosmopolitan club, established in 1908, has as its motto "Humanity above all nations." Last year students from one particular country acted as hosts at each meeting, preparing food by their recipes, and planning the program to give their guests some idea of the customs of their country.

Tradition has been that Cosmopolitan presidents are usually from a foreign country. All students from a foreign country are automatically members. Among the countries represented are Brazil, Mexico, Panama, Chile, Venezuela, Turkey, Cuba and China.

Junior Red Cross Projects Conducted In Schools

The most intriguing room in the Johnson county Red Cross headquarters is the room where supplies for the November Junior Red Cross enrollment campaign are stacked. Tables and filing cabinets are covered with label buttons, membership stickers, roll blanks and flamboyant posters.

The Junior Red Cross is the American Red Cross in the schools—public, private, parochial, elementary and secondary. Under the direction of Mrs. J. P. Cady, Iowa City and county schools will strive to top their last year's enrollment. Nationally, the junior chapters comprise a total membership of 18,000,000 boys and girls. That is 65 percent of America's pupils; this year their goal is 100 percent enrollment.

Participating in an active in-school program they learn community service through projects integrated in school curriculum. They develop competence by working in partnership with adults on projects of service and they enter in the humanitarian organized program of Red Cross locally, nationally and internationally.

Their largest activity at present is producing comfort and recreation articles for the armed forces. In manual arts, home economics and fine art classes, members are making games, ash trays, lamps, slippers, bathrobes, afghans, lamps, and their small articles for servicemen in hospitals and company dayrooms.

Junior Red Cross members are supporting the war effort by victory gardens, home canning, scrap drives, accident prevention programs and by participation in chapter activities.

In war and in peace, they learn the fundamentals of water safety, first aid, home nursing and nutrition and earn certificates in these courses.

Mayor Proclaims Fire Prevention Week

"Iowa City has been exceedingly fortunate in not having had a disastrous fire for a long period of time. Our efficient fire department and their 'check up' inspections have certainly contributed to this fine record."

"The causes of fires are well known and I am sure that the citizens of Iowa City will continue to cooperate in removing rubbish from attics, basements and also use extreme care in the use of gasoline or other inflammable liquids."

"Defective electric light cords, electric irons, gas and hot cinders require special care. Therefore, to join with the National Fire Safety week and that we may become fire safety conscious—I proclaim the week of Oct. 8 to 14 Fire Safety week for Iowa City and urge all citizens to cooperate, that property loss and loss of life by fire may be prevented."

Iowa City firemen are planning to make the yearly fire prevention week inspection of business establishments in Iowa City as well as staging fire drills at all local schools.

"We have completed the check-up of business houses in the outlying districts in Iowa City and expect to complete the inspection of the downtown district next week," Chief Clark said.

Posters stressing the importance of fire prevention have been distributed and local homeowners are urged to make an inspection of their own home for defective elec-

A Letter to the Voters of the First Congressional District

Discharged soldiers, others on furlough, more yet through letters—all join in the cry of plain, honest people: "We want a Congress made up of men with brains and grit and conscience. The country has such men. Discover them! Elect them!"

Congress is the central power-plant of our national government. Our national policies are there expressed in laws which the President and other executive agencies and the courts are to carry into effect. Popular fear of the assumption of despotic power fades from view when Congress has enacted clear laws in the fields of domestic and foreign affairs.

The decisions to be made by our next Congress will tax the brains of our wisest men. If the best statesmen of the past could be brought back to life and assembled with the strongest men of today to guide the United States through the coming ten years, their utmost powers would be called into play.

It is written across the sky: PUT YOUR BEST MEN INTO CONGRESS ON NOVEMBER 7, 1944.

We are united in the belief that Clair Williams is the man who will add more strength to congress than any other candidate in this district. Mr. Williams has helped to operate a 600-acre farm near Danville for many years. He has succeeded in his life-work. He has always been active in community enterprises and such farm organizations as the Grange, the Farmers Union, the Farm Bureau, and the Iowa Fruit Growers Association.

He observes, reads, thinks. Where he knows, he knows that he knows. Where he does not know, he uses a substantial equipment of brains to find the answer. We note in him a simplicity of character, quiet humor, lack of timidity, and tolerance of adverse opinion when honestly held—all kept in line by his loyalty to right.

In Mr. Williams' Republican competitor we recognize many fine qualities; but we discern in his long six-year congressional record so many pathetic mistakes (while the world was on fire) that we are forced to deny his further usefulness as our representative. So far as our opinion carries weight and with all the enthusiasm at our command, we recommend that Clair Williams, a Democrat, be elected to Congress on November 7.

Hawks Bow to Powerful Buckeye Eleven, 34-0

Ohio State Marches 67 Yards From Opening Kickoff to Score

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Playing in spurts, Ohio State's Buckeyes racked up their second straight football victory and their first of the Western conference season yesterday with a 34 to 0 conquest of Iowa's badly outmanned Hawkeyes.

There never was any doubt about the outcome after Ohio State marched 67 yards from the opening kickoff for a touchdown but the Hawks stalled Ohio State drives just when touchdown territory appeared in sight.

Ohio's drive at the start of the game made it two weeks in a row that the Bucks scored the first time they got the ball. Five different players figured in the march, with Les Horvath going over on a 9-yard off tackle smash.

The Bucks drove 74 yards toward their second touchdown. It came in the second period with Tom Keane dashing around end for 25 yards to score.

The Bucks scored again just as they got the ball, Dick Flanagan tossing a 13-yard pass to Cecil Souders. After that the Scarlet didn't score until the first play of the final period. They had driven from the 29-yard line to the 6 and Flanagan plowed the line for the payoff.

The last touchdown was one of the best plays of the game. Tiny Gene Janeco, reserve halfback, intercepted one of Dick Woodard's passes and galloped 44 yards through a broken field.

Iowa didn't get a first down until the third period and made only one serious scoring threat. That came in the third period when the Bucks lost the ball on downs at their 35. Runs of 19 and 25 yards by Bill Kersten sparked a drive which carried to the Ohio State 4 before the Bucks held for downs.

Iowa wound up with a net gain by rushing of only 69 yards compared with 326 for Ohio State. The Hawks, however, had a 29 to 22 yard advantage in passing.

Notre Dame Batters Tulane

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Hard-hitting Notre Dame crushed game but untested Tulane, 26-0, yesterday with a show of explosive power that left little doubt the Irish will make a rugged defense of their national collegiate title this season.

A home opener throng of 45,000 saw Ed McKeever's versatile eleven roll to its second straight shut-out victory by scoring in every period except the first and keeping the hard-trying Green Wave from piercing its 25-yard line.

The Irish uncovered a new running threat in fleet Achille (Chick) Maggioni, who scored two of Notre Dame's four touchdowns and averaged 8.5 yards a try in 10 ball carrying attempts.

Bob Kelly, star of the Pitt game, scored one touchdown. It came in the second period and started the Irish on their way. Kelly, who lugged the ball 13 times for 77 yards, speared a 28-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Frank Danciewicz on the first play of the second period.

Passes by Danciewicz, who completed 7 out of 13 and Gasparella, who missed only twice in seven attempts, set up all the Irish touchdowns.

Iowa State Romps Over Doane, 59-0

AMES (AP)—Iowa State college swamped the Doane college football team of Crete, Neb., 59 to 0 yesterday to remain unscathed upon in two games this season.

Doane didn't threaten until the final period when it tried 18 aerial plays, completing two.

Yesterday's Big Ten

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Purdue, out to defend its Western conference co-championship, yesterday jolted previously unbeaten Illinois' title hopes as the Boilermakers pushed the Illini back on their heels in the last period to score two touchdowns for a seemingly easy 35-19 victory.

Until the last period, though, the Illini were very much in the game, but the champion Boilermakers scooped up Illinois fumbles to halt scoring threats, and went ahead for a rout in the last ten minutes.

Illinois' scatbacks—notably 160-pound Claud Young—kept Purdue from making an earlier rout as they caught the Boilermakers flat-footed with off-tackle slashes. But the Illini could not stop a deadly aerial game and their costly fumbled stopped at least three scoring chances.

The Boilermakers started when Ed Cody slashed off guard for 34 yards and Ray Schultz fired a 45-yard pass to Chalmers Elliott for a touchdown. Four minutes later the Illini tied it on a forward lateral play—Don Greenwood to Louis Agase to Young, who scampered 24 yards for the touchdown.

But then Cody broke loose on the grounds and Purdue went out in front after Boris Dimancheff scored from the 3.

In the third period Illinois' Young was shaken loose twice, and Paul Patterson scored from the 38-yard line. Orville Hall's placement was wide. But minutes later Patterson fumbled on his 7-yard line and Kenneth Glaesner recovered for Purdue with Cody scoring two plays later.

Again Young broke loose, skirting left end for 21 yards, and then right end for 40 more for Illinois' last touchdown, but again Hall's placement was wide.

Stan Dubicki place-kicked all five Purdue points. Throughout the first half, the teams were surging up and down the field so rapidly that there were no punts, and Illinois did not punt throughout the entire game.

Michigan 28; Gophers 13
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Michigan powerhouse proved too much for Minnesota and the Wolverines trampled the Gophers, 28 to 13, yesterday to return the Little Brown Jug, traditional trophy, to Ann Arbor.

The Gophers tossed up three good scoring chances in the first half and pined the invaders on better than even terms but it was Michigan that scored to hold a 7-0 lead at the half.

The terrific line plunging of Bob Wiese, the Michigan fullback, was the difference between victory and defeat for the Gophers. Wiese personally accounted for three of the Michigan touchdowns after advancing the ball to scoring position.

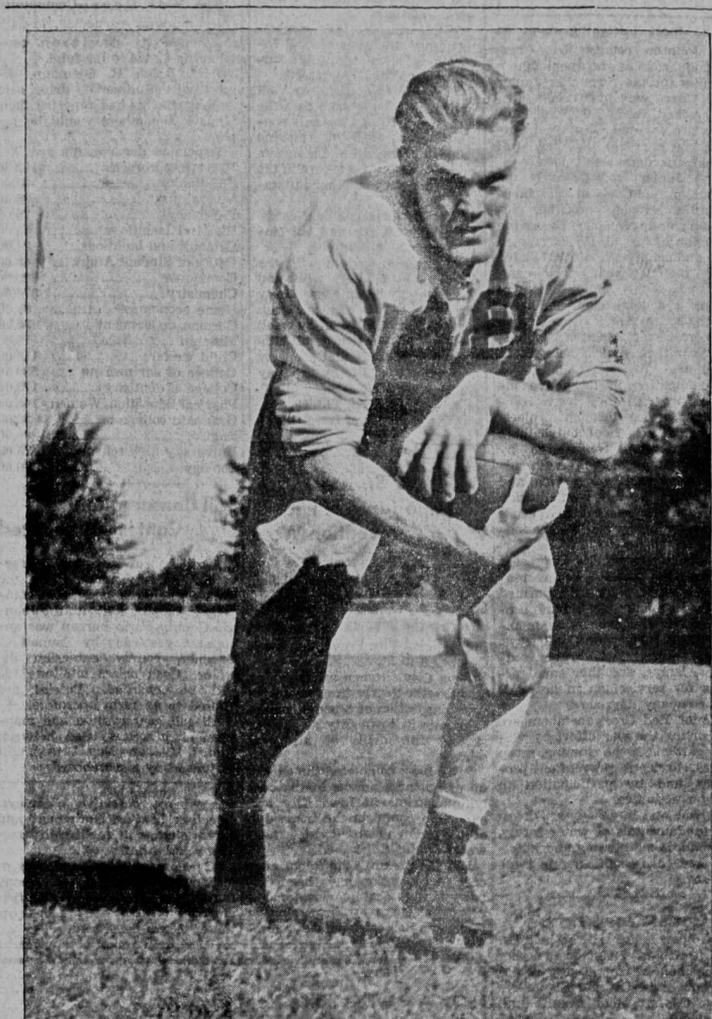

Minnesota's first break came in the third period when they were behind, 14 to 0. A pass, Mat Nolan made to Tom Wainright, made it first down on the Michigan four and Matt Sutton went over.

Sutton received a Michigan punt in the fourth period on the Michigan 34, passed to Red Williams who outdistanced the entire Michigan team to dash 66 yards for a counter.

This touched off the Michigan powder keg, however, and Michigan ripped the Gophers defense to shreds during the remainder of the game to score two more touchdowns.

Badgers 21; Marquette 2
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Earl (Jug) Girard, Wisconsin's 17-year-old freshman halfback, touched off a three-touchdown explosion yesterday to give the Badgers a 21 to 2 triumph over Marquette in the 20th game of their rivalry.

Marquette, battling a superior running and aerial attack, had protected a 2 to 0 lead on an automatic safety until the first play of the final quarter when Girard fired a 25-yard pass to Jack Mead for a touchdown. Previously the Hilltoppers kept the Badgers from scoring in four blasts from the 3 yard line and recovered a fumble by Girard on the Marquette 4. They appeared to have an upset victory in the making.

Girard started the second drive with a 41-yard pass to Roger Laubenheimer, and Jerry Thompson finished it with a five-yard smash through the line.

Ed Hecker intercepted a pass to give Wisconsin the ball on Marquette's 25, and with Girard and John Fee, ran the ball to the 5. Girard shot a short pass to Mead deep in the end zone.

Girard, whose point after touchdown was Wisconsin's margin in last week's 7 to 6 triumph over Northwestern, drilled over three straight place-kicks yesterday.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Great Lakes rolled over a younger and less experienced Northwestern team yesterday, 25 to 0, to remain in the undefeated although tied class.

The Wildcat line gave ground grudgingly once pressed deep into its own territory and twice checked Bluejacket drives within the 10 yard line, but when Great Lakes turned loose its fast backs on end sweeps or got its passing clicking, it was something else again.

Three straight forward passes by Jim Youel brought Great Lakes its first score, George Young crossing the goal line in the second period on a throw good for 18 yards. In the third period Youel lateraled to Chuck Avery who ran wide around left end for 24 yards and a score. Another lateral set up the third touchdown which came on Don Lesher's five-yard plunge. Jim Mello, former Notre Dame star, place-kicked the point after each touchdown.

Dubuque Humbles Little Hawks, 13-0

City High Threatens In Second, Fourth; Rams Score in First

City high's favored Little Hawks went down to their fourth consecutive defeat last night when Dubuque's Rams broke away twice for quick scores and a 13 to 0 victory.

In the first quarter Dubuque kicked off to City high, and after exchange of kicks, Koehler intercepted Jimmy Sangster's pass and scurried 58 yards for a touchdown. Herzog's attempted conversion was blocked by Rube Snyder.

The Rams' kickoff was taken by Washburn, whose fumble was recovered by the opposition as the period ended.

In the second quarter, both teams threatened. The Hawks' Steffen intercepted an aerial and seemed safely away, but was caught from behind and was stopped on the Dubuque 19.

The Rams made their gestures when they moved to the Iowa City 29-yard line, but lost the ball on downs. Play was even for the remainder of the half.

City high kicked off at the opening of the third stanza. After several plays, Herzog went for 15 yards to the Little Hawk 35. Dubuque fumbled on the next play and Washburn recovered for Iowa City. After two tries at the line, Herzog intercepted Krall's pass and went 42 yards for the second tally. His conversion was good.

Iowa City made a final threat in the fourth quarter when Snyder plowed for three first downs to the Ram 5. Here Iowa City was penalized and lost the ball on downs.

Iowa City's vaunted passing attack did not materialize during any part of the game.

Coach Wally Schwanck kept eight men out of the lineup during the first quarter for disciplinary reasons. They included Captain Carl Voelckers, Tug Wilson, Bob Krall, Vaeke Lacinia, of the first team, and Freeman, Kenny Smith, Scannel and Washburn of the reserves.

Confident Cards Stage Mild Celebration

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mild-mannered Billy Southworth, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is confident of ultimate victory in the World Series now that his base-running daredevils have started hitting.

The Cards collected 12 hits today in their batting spree including a home run, a pair of doubles and a triple.

"The boys started hitting, for which I'm grateful," Southworth said, "particularly for those extra bases. For a ball club that led the league all season in extra-base hitting it's about time we started getting some. Today was the first time we have hit with men on bases."

The Cardinals staged a mild victory celebration in their dressing room. After Southworth congratulated Harry Brecheen for his pitching performance, Dr. Harrison Weaver, Cards' trainer, embraced the skinny hurler and planted a kiss on his cheeks.

Southworth was concerned over the ailing Marty Marion, who is suffering from a cold bordering on influenza. Southworth said he remained with Marion at his bedside until after midnight. At that time the sorethroat had a temperature of 102.

The Cardinal skipper, announcing his decision to start big Morton Cooper today, expressed confidence in his ability to conquer the Browns.

"That one's gone—let's talk about tomorrow," Manager Luke Sewell commented as the Browns glumly filed into the dressing room.

"Galehouse will be our pitcher and we'll take 'em," the Brownie manager assured his athletes.

Cardinals Gather Twelve Blows to Stop Browns, 5 to 1, to Even Series at Two All

By ORLO ROBERTSON SPORTSMAN'S PARK, ST. LOUIS (AP)—

The Cardinals finally showed their vaunted hitting power yesterday, riding to a 5 to 1 victory over the Browns on the strength of 12 blows to draw abreast of the American league champions at two games each in the first all-St. Louis World Series.

Throttled by the Browns' pitchers in the first three games, the National league champions launched an attack that sent Sig Jakucki, Browns' starting pitcher, to an early shower and continued at a lesser tempo against two relief hurlers.

The largest crowd of the series, 35,455, saw Stan Musial, Cardinal rightfielder, pace the offensive with three hits—a homer, double and single—a performance that drove in two of the winners' tallies.

Danny Litwhiler, Cardinal leftfielder, held hitless until yesterday, Johnny Hopp and Walker Cooper also connected with two blows each in the most potent hitting yet displayed in the series, heretofore dominated by the pitchers.

Harry Brecheen, slim southpaw from Broken Bow, Okla., making his first appearance in the series, pitched a steady game for the Cards, scattering nine Brownie hits over eight innings and leaving ten baserunners stranded. He was the first Cardinal pitcher to go the route since the series started.

The Cardinal victory set the stage for another clash today between the opening game starters, big Mort Cooper and Denny Galehouse. Galehouse won the first decision, 2 to 1, although Cooper and his reliever, Blix Donnelly, held the Browns to two hits.

Musial, his bat none too loud in the first three games, picked out one of Jakucki's fast pitches and parked the ball on the right field pavilion roof. The 32-year-old Brownie hurler, who has seen baseball action in such far away points as Hawaii and Japan, retired the next five men in order but ran into trouble again in the third when the Cardinals put together three hits and an error by Gutteridge for two more runs, one of them unearned.

Brecheen struck out to start the inning but Litwhiler came through with his first hit of the series—a single off Stephens' glove. After Hopp had become Jakucki's fourth and last strikeout victim, Musial and Cooper put together successive singles. Musial's blow moved Litwhiler to second and he romped home as the big Cardinal catcher lined the ball into left field. Ray Sanders drove the ball at Gutteridge but the Browns' second baseman allowed it to go between his legs for an error and Musial scored the unearned tally—the fifth yielded by the Browns in the four games.

Al Hollingsworth, veteran southpaw, took over the mound duties at the start of the fourth. He survived two innings before the Cardinals found the range for their final run.

This time Sanders opened up with a single and after Kurovski had gone down swinging, Sanders, Marion, weakened from a 102-degree fever Friday, lashed a double, his third of the series, between left and center fields, scoring the lanky first baseman.

But for some bold base running by Litwhiler in the seventh and Cooper in the ninth, the National leaguers might have made their margin of victory even greater. In the seventh, Litwhiler led off with a single, he tried to stretch it into a double but was caught at second, Kreevich to Gutteridge.

With one out in the ninth, Cooper connected with the longest hit of the day—a triple that bounced against the center field fence, 425 feet from the plate—but he was caught at home with yards to spare in a Kreevich-to-Stephens-to-Frank Mancuso relay. Mancuso had relieved starting catcher Hayworth in the seventh after Hayworth was injured by a foul tip.

The Browns' first good opportunity to score came in the second when, with one out, George McQuinn and Mark Christian hit successive singles. A fast Kurovski-Emil Verban-Sanders double play on Red Hayworth's grounder erased this threat.

Finally in the eighth their constant pecking brought results. Moore, who had started three of the Browns' four scoring rallies in the first three games, did it again with a walk. He moved around to third on Stephens' single and scored as Laabs hit into a double play.

Kreevich made the outstanding play for the Browns, his catch of Kurovski's 400-foot fly with the bases loaded shutting off the Cards' seventh inning rally.

Seahawks Take Bombers, 12-6

Mertes Scores Winning Tally In Third

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The famed passing game of the Second Army Airforce Superbombers, spearheaded by Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa, was smothered here yesterday by a rampaging Iowa Navy Seahawks line that started former pro Perry Schwartz and Jim Poole and tackle Vic Schleich, as the navy club won a 12 to 6 victory.

The Seahawks presented a line that from end to end outplayed the Superbombers forward wall and ripped a wide hole through which Bernard Mertes, former Iowa ace, drove into the open in the third period, cut back to pick up his kickers and went 33 yards for the winning score.

In the first period the Superbombers gained the lead when Dobbs expertly faked passing the ball to John Strzykalski, spun and skipped past Poole, coming in fast for a 25 yard touchdown.

Two and a half minutes later the Seahawks tied it, traveling 65 yards in a ground drive that ended with Don Samuels cutting through for seven yards and the score.

Best example of the way the navy linemen handled Dobbs was in the fourth period when, with the ball on the navy 28, Schleich dumped the feared passer back on the navy 45 and again a few minutes later when Poole rushed Dobbs into futile throws after a navy fumble on the navy 22. The Seahawks drive to the winning third period touchdown had to be done twice.

After the kickoff, Mertes picked up seven and then ran 65 yards for a touchdown on the identical play getting the best of blocking. But the play was called back and the Seahawks drew a five yard penalty for backs in motion.

The navy club came sailing right back, Sullivan and Bob Smith picking up a first down on the Bombers 48, Art Guepe racing for ten and Sullivan picking up a few yards before Mertes again traveled over the last stripe.

This was the second game that the Seahawks had been privileged to play their officers and it meant the difference, officers Poole and Schwartz made life miserable for Dobbs and Billy Sewell.

Iowa Social Welfare Directors Discuss Veterans' Rehabilitation

135 Attend Conference

Professor Saunders Speaks at Banquet On 'Impact of War'

"Rehabilitation of the returning veteran" was the theme of an all-day meeting of the south-eastern Iowa chapter of the Iowa Association for Social Welfare held in Iowa City yesterday. Principal speakers at the meeting were Prof. Harold W. Saunders, adviser for the college of commerce at the University of Iowa, Capt. Walter B. Leino of Schick General Hospital at Clinton, and John J. Miller, area veterans' employment representative of the United States employment service, Ottumwa.

Discussion groups, speeches by Captain Leino and Miller and a business meeting filled the afternoon session held in Old Capitol. A banquet at Hotel Jefferson and an address by Professor Saunders completed the evening sessions.

In welcoming the 135 social workers to Iowa City, Mayor Wilber J. Teeters told them that the rigid enforcement of existing laws by local and state officers was a great factor in easing the task of the social worker.

Captain Leino Speaks

"The Problems of the Returning Veteran" was the subject of a speech by Captain Leino. "The ultimate adjustment of the returning soldier depends on the community," he declared. "The army will do all it can in advising the soldier about to be discharged. It will try to show him what his abilities and training qualify him for."

The critical point in the veteran's readjustment to civilian life is when he enters the community," asserted Captain Leino.

A counseling center, established by an organization of all local social and service organizations, should be set up to aid the returning veteran, he declared. All these organizations would pool their resources and personnel in a common effort. Much more good can be accomplished by such cooperation than by each individual and service group working separately and selfishly, he stated.

"Each veteran should be given individual attention by a group of talented, well trained local social workers. All factors of his experience before he entered the service and during his military career should be considered. A profile should be drawn showing just what he is and what he is capable of doing. Vocational advisers familiar with the local situation and labor market would help him fit into suitable work."

"We must show respect and patience in dealing with these men, particularly those who are disabled," Captain Leino said. "We must accept them and expect them to fit into normal existence again. They want jobs and responsibilities, not charity and indifference."

Banquet at Hotel

The Rev. Fred Putnam, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church of Iowa City, acted as toastmaster at the banquet at Hotel Jefferson which began at 6:15. Professor Saunders spoke on "The Impact of the War Upon the Field and Problems of Social Work."

"Wars and depressions do not revolutionize social trends; they only accelerate, slow down or redirect slightly trends which were going on before the catastrophe struck," stressed Professor Saunders. "Wars and depressions do point out the common destiny we share with all other nations."

Some of the recent social trends are the fact that our national economy has become more closely knit, that the mobility of our population has greatly increased and that the average age of our people is increasing, he said.

This war has forced all parts of the country to work together more closely and has made each section more than ever dependent on all other sections, he continued. The shift of the population to the urban areas has greatly increased until now only 17 percent of our people are engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Internal migration in the United States is now the greatest it has ever been, according to Professor Saunders. The movement of many divergent elements of the population into defense industries has created many problems for social workers in the communities involved. More problems will be raised when these industries shut down and the workers must seek employment elsewhere, he stated.

Social Problems

If present trends continue the population of the nation will become stable about 1980 at about 150 million. As the average age of the people increases the emphasis will be placed upon raising the quality of the population. The problems of education and old age welfare will be great, he declared.

One of the greatest trends as emphasized by Professor Saunders has been the increase in the scope

Score stands 2-2 in the Gamma Phi ball and chain game. Fanning out in the 5th inning was Mary Glick who let the pin ball of Dick Haroff, Sigma Chi, sail back into the open field yesterday afternoon. Mit man Hope Hea offered little support when she failed to connect with the sparkling gem tossed out by an Ensign in Chicago last week. It took Millie Buoy's homer to brighten the game. She hit far out into the Pacific to Bill Rose who missed and passed the ring presentation honors onto his father. Rounding the sacks ahead of Millie, Joan Chance slid in safe at home with Wendell Johnson's AKK pin.
