American Carrier Planes Strike Luzon

FDR Promises Italy Freedom

Declares Americans Entered as Liberators, Not Conquerors

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt said last night that when the allies complete military operations in Italy the Italians "will be free to work out their own destiny, under a government of their own choosing."

In a radio address prepared for broadcast from the White House, Roosevelt said the American army entered Italy "not as conquerors, but as liberators. Their objective is military, not political."

The president's address was directed to the meeting of the Italian-American labor council in New York in acceptance of the council's four freedoms award granted to the chief executive.

"Of course, the people of Italy have suffered terribly and it will not be humanly possible to take wholly adequate measures to relieve all suffering until Germany has been finally defeated," Roosevelt said. "But the united nations are determined that every possible measure be taken to aid the Italian people directly, and to give them an opportunity to help themselves."

Presents Award
In New York, Attorney General Francis M. Biddle presented the four freedoms award with the declaration that President Roosevelt maintained "his faith in the Italian soul" even when Italy was under "captivity by the lackey Fascists" was brought into war against the United States.

"Long, long after Mussolini is only a half-forgotten nightmare," Biddle declared, "American and Italian scholars will be discussing the two great common heritages—the principles of Columbus-navigator; and of Roosevelt-liberator."

Second Address
Roosevelt's address was his second of the day in which he spoke in warm terms of Italy.

At 4 p. m. yesterday, he received chiefs of diplomatic missions from the other American republics on the occasion of Columbus day. Addressing them and an all-network radio audience, recalled the millions of Italians who have followed Columbus to the western world.

"This is one of the many reasons why the forces of liberation have been welcomed so cordially by the Italian people after 22 years of Fascism," he said.

'Bureaucratic System' Subject of Attack By Governor Bricker

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker declared last night that "we should not indict the so-called bureaucrats themselves," but rather "the bureaucratic system."

The Republican candidate for vice-president, concluding a five-speech day in Oregon, took this position in renewing his recommendation for a reorganization and streamlining of federal government functions.

"This," he said in a prepared text released by his campaign staff, "is another reason why this nation needs a change of leadership."

Neff Addresses Hospital Convention

OMAHA (AP)—Robert E. Neff, administrator of University hospitals at Iowa City, Iowa, told the Nebraska hospital assembly convention yesterday that hospitals must not allow union recognition to dominate their administrative policies even though they are not exempt from collective bargaining.

"The hospital needs to retain full right to choose its employees and to place them according to their ability and skill to maintain control over promotions; to exercise certain discriminations in adjustment of salary schedules, and to reject the closed shop policy which would hamstring the selection of employees," he said.

BEWARE! TODAY'S THE DAY

IT'S FRIDAY THE 13th, but Betty Henthorne, 44 of McGregor, smiles away her superstition as she walks beneath the painter's ladder at the postoffice.

Superstitious? Then beware of today. Best you stay home and take life easy, if you wish to avoid all manner of evil, for this is Friday—the 13th.

Friday has long been known as the unlucky day to begin any type of project. For example, superstition has it that it is unlucky to travel on Friday; a person should never begin a piece of work on that day. Seafaring men not sail on Friday.

Don't Cut Fingernails
It is bad luck to cut fingernails on that ill-fated day. Newly-weds should beware. In fact, housekeepers have been known to pay extra rent rather than to move into a house on Friday.

Where did all this propaganda about the sixth day of the week originate? Some say it began in ancient mythology, for Friday was regarded as the festival day of the goddess Freya, northern Venus. It was a sacred day and anyone not participating in her festive worship was a victim of ill fortune brought on by the wrath of the displeased goddess.

Crucifixion
Others contend that the legend has its beginning with the crucifixion of Christ on Friday, and that this version has been amplified by the fact that Friday is the Mohammedan Sabbath. Also, it is a day of fasting in the Roman Catholic church, and to some extent in the Anglican, Protestant and Episcopal churches.

One widely prevalent story states that a sea captain purposely built a ship in the sixth day of the week and set sail just to disprove the old superstition. The ship foundered on its first voyage. Disproving the myth, however, is the fact that Columbus set sail on a Friday, discovered America and reached Spain again—all on a Friday.

As for the number 13, a banquet in Valhalla, which resulted in death upon the entering of the 13th guest, is one foundation for that superstition.

Won't Leave Port
To this day Italians never use the number 13 in their lotteries. In Paris, no building bears that number. The superstition even goes so far as to have certain persons, called Quarzietes, who will make a 14th at a dinner party. Sailors strongly object to leaving port on the 13th of the month, and especially on a Friday. If such a voyage is attempted, it is done so with apprehension.

In northern Yugoslavia the Russians toppled Subotica, an eight-way road and rail junction connecting the axis front in Yugoslavia and Hungary. Subotica is 23 miles southwest of Szeged, Hungary's second city which fell to the Russians Wednesday.

Below the Danube river Red army troops and Marshal Tito's partisans seized Smederovo, only 23 miles southeast of Belgrade, Yugoslav capital which appeared to be on the verge of early liberation.

Dewey States Approval Of 'Reconstitution Of Palestine'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, here to register for the November election, reviewed 50,000 marchers in New York's annual Columbus day parade yesterday and later, after a conference with a Zionist leader, declared himself in favor of "the reconstitution of Palestine as a free and democratic state."

Dewey said in a statement issued after his conference with Dr. Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, chairman of the executive committee of the National Zionist Emergency council, that "in order to give refuge to millions of distressed Jews driven from their homes by tyranny" he favored "the opening of Palestine to their unlimited immigration and land ownership."

"As president," he said, "I would use my best offices to have our government working together with Great Britain to achieve this great objective for a people that have suffered so much and deserve so much at the hands of mankind."

The general reaffirmed his confidence in complete allied victory although it was pointed out there may be pauses in the allied advance because of the strength of German resistance, the advantage of prepared defenses and the allied supply problems.

Explaining the allied armies are entering Germany as conquerors, he reiterated, "In Germany there will be no fraternization. We go in as conquerors. We shall treat them justly in conformity with civilized standards as exemplified by our governments. We will have nothing else to do with them except in necessary official relationships."

Hurl Germans Across East Prussian Frontier in Lithuania

LONDON, Friday (AP)—Russian troops battled their way to within nine miles of the big German rail center of Tilsit yesterday, hurling the enemy back across the East Prussian frontier on a 110-mile front in western Lithuania as they prepared for their first crossing in strength into pre-war Germany.

Five Miles From Riga
A Moscow communique announced that other Soviet forces had driven to within five miles of Riga, Latvian capital and to within 15 miles of the west Latvian port of Liepaja, steadily hacking up the estimated 150,000 axis troops cut off by the Red army's salient which three days ago reached the Baltic coast north of imperilled Memel.

Although the Algiers radio reported that Russian troops had broken into Memel's streets, and Berlin said that a furious tank battle was underway just a few miles from the East Prussian port, the Moscow bulletin did not announce any further gains in the immediate Memel area.

Capture Oradea
In the south other Soviet forces captured the western Romanian rail hub of Oradea, main escape route for Nazi troops retreating in Transylvania and drove another spearhead to within 60 miles of imperilled Budapest as they widened their hold along the east bank of the Tisza river, last big water barrier before the Hungarian capital.

In northern Yugoslavia the Russians toppled Subotica, an eight-way road and rail junction connecting the axis front in Yugoslavia and Hungary. Subotica is 23 miles southwest of Szeged, Hungary's second city which fell to the Russians Wednesday.

Nazis Attempt Air Defense

Hurl Fighter Planes Against Bombers Of Aachen Fortress

LONDON, Friday (AP)—The German high command hurled 150 fighter planes into the defense of flaming Aachen last night as American infantry wrested a northeastern factory suburb from the stand-and-die garrison and massed for the final assault on this ancient invasion gateway to the Reich.

Eighty-five percent of Aachen—subjected to a greater ordeal by fire than any part of the Reich had undergone before—lay in smoking ruins, pilots reported after 500 tons of bombs were rained during the day on this historic city of German kings.

The swarm of Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulfes droned over, apparently bent on attacking the siege lines, just as the last American bombs were crashing down, and some United States fighter-bombers turned to attack with a ton of bombs still lashed to their wings.

Lose 12 Planes
In the aerial melee, 12 German planes were shot down, six were damaged and two other probable kills were registered, while four American fighters were shot from the sky.

Out of the smoking, rain-drench ruin that was Aachen straggled a few soldiers and civilians, unwilling to stand longer with the 1,500 of the garrison who since 1 p. m. yesterday have been plastered with hundreds of tons of shells and bombs from artillery massed near the outskirts and clouds of warplanes roaring over in endless procession.

Tank Defense
All day long a crack German division with 20 to 25 tanks beat without success against American lines north of Aachen, trying to relieve the doomed garrison through a mile-wide corridor between the siege positions.

The German radio, still pledging resistance to the death, described the Aachen action as "the greatest battle ever fought on the western front." Then enemy garrison, under Hitler's orders to stand and die, covered with 5,000 to 10,000 civilians in the ancient caves, basements and sewers of this city which Charlemagne made the seat of empire.

Churchill Sends Cable Expressing Sympathy To Mrs. Willkie

NEW YORK (AP)—A cable from Prime Minister Winston Churchill to Mrs. Wendell Willkie, in which the British prime minister said her husband's support of Great Britain "will always be remembered by those who had the privilege of meeting him," was made public yesterday by the British information services.

Sent to Willkie's widow through Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States the cable from Moscow, where Churchill is conferring with Marshal Stalin, read: "I am greatly grieved to hear of your husband's death and beg you to accept my deepest sympathy. His visit to our blitzed cities and the warmth of his support for Britain's resistance was a source of much comfort to us in this dark days, and will always be remembered by those who had the privilege of meeting him and by countless others. We salute a great American."

Unsafe Deposit

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—For three years, Mrs. Mary Janik, a widow, went every day to the unlocked woodshed behind her home to check on the safety of $800 she kept there in an unlocked trunk. Wednesday, it was gone. She told police she did not trust banks.

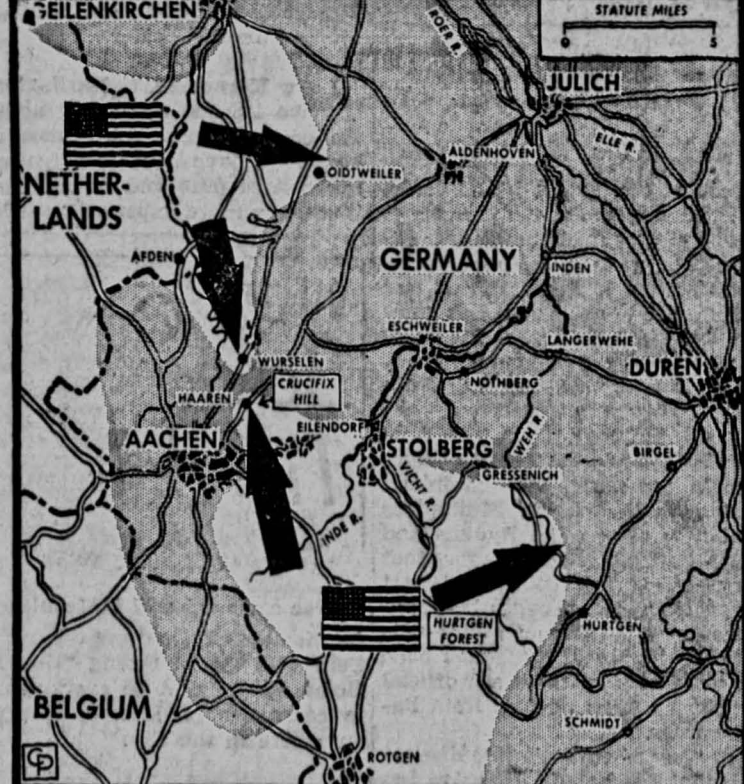

'Teen Agers Take Advantage of Holiday To Mob Sinatra's Theater Performance

NEW YORK (AP)—Snealing uniforms were ripped, the block shoving—yes, even fainting—youths, mostly of the bobby socks persuasion, threw a human wall around a Times square movie palace yesterday and penned in a slight, tanned young singer by the name of Frank Sinatra.

Twenty-five thousand of them, by the estimate of a distraught police detail, took advantage of the Columbus day school holiday to stage New York's greatest scene since the last time nylons went on sale.

CIRCLING YANKS CUT NAZI ESCAPE

AACHEN is shaking under an assault by American forces who have cut all main roads, narrowing the escape route to a shell-raked gap through which desperate Germans attempt flight. United States units are now declared but a matter of yards from the important part of the city. Meanwhile the great drive of the United States First army rolls on toward the heart of Hitler's war potential in the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

Rivals Fly to— Polish Conference

MOSCOW (AP)—Representatives of the Polish government in exile flew here yesterday by invitation to negotiate with the rival Soviet-sponsored Polish committee of national liberation, and there was general belief last night that the ticklish Polish question would be settled one way or another before Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin wind up their conference.

Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, with a political and military staff of the exiled London regime, flew to the Soviet capital in a four-engine plane placed at their disposal by Churchill. Members of the liberation committee had arrived earlier from Lublin. No time or place was set immediately for the first meeting between the rival Polish factions.

Allies Capture Sarande Nazis

ROME (AP)—More than 600 Germans and large stores of guns and material have been captured in the allied clean-up of the Sarande area of Albania the past two days, headquarters announced yesterday.

Albanian partisans, cooperating with British invasion troops, cleared the Nazis out of Gashdile, two miles inland from Sarande, after inflicting severe casualties on the enemy.

With the Sarande area firmly in allied hands, there appeared to be little home of escape for a German garrison isolated on the nearby island of Corfu. British destroyers were ranging the coast, bombarding enemy batteries and making it impossible for the Nazis to attempt a surface evacuation.

German Panic Increases as Assault On Austria Nears

LONDON (AP)—Signs of panic multiplied in Germany last night as the Red army's advanced units neared Budapest and the prospect of Hungarian collapse opened visions of a grand assault on Austria, the back door of the Reich.

Turkish sources said Berlin had launched a "last appeal" to the Hungarians to hold fast and not abandon Germany, but the Nazis themselves appeared to have little faith that Hungary would or could hold. They were busy urging Austrians to dig for their lives in frontier defense spade work near Vienna.

All able-bodied men and women in the Vienna region were at or on their way to the diggings after a mass call-up of the age groups between 16 and 65. Proclamations appealed to them to "follow the example of East Prussians and Rhinelanders."

The Nazis warned Austrians living away from the frontier against spreading rumors. One rumor specifically denounced and denied was to the effect that Archduke Otto of Hapsburg, pretender to the Austrian throne, had married Premier Stalin's daughter.

Troops Take 12th Island

Land on Arimaskuku With No Opposition From Japanese

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor (AP)—A large force of carrier-based planes struck Luzon, the main island in the Philippines, Tuesday afternoon, blasting airbases and military installations, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced last night in a communique.

The admiral maintained silence concerning Japanese reports of a powerful air smash at Formosa.

It was the third fleet action announced in three days—the other two were attacks on Marcus and the Ryukyu Sunday and Monday respectively—indicating the wide scope of American warships in the Pacific.

From Task Force
No details were given of damage caused at Luzon, on which Manila is located. The communique said the planes struck from "a task force of the Pacific fleet."

Last night's communique also announced American 81st infantry troops had landed on the 12th island in the Palau to come under American domination since Sept. 15. The soldiers went ashore Wednesday on Arimaskuku, four miles northwest of Peleliu, and found it unoccupied.

Third New Landing
This was the third new landing in the southern Palau in four days.

The Japanese have reported at length by radio an attack Wednesday on Formosa, saying it was made by 1,000 planes and lasted more than eight hours. Absence of word on this from Nimitz indicated radio silence pending further moves of the fleet.

The fact Arimaskuku island in the Palau was found devoid of Japanese was taken as a possible indication the Japanese are retreating north of their better protected islands.

On Angaur, southernmost island of the Palau, Japanese remnants were pinned into an area 150 yards square.

Negro Nurse Denies Abducting Baby

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Smith, 33-year-old Negro nursemaid held in connection with the kidnapping of four-month-old Bobby King, denied yesterday that she made what Prosecutor William E. Dowling said was a "full confession" and insisted that the baby belonged to her.

"I never said I took the King baby, and I didn't take him," she told reporters. "The baby they took away and gave to the Kings is my own son."

The blue-eyed infant, taken from the Clarence King home the night of Sept. 30 by a maid who gave her name as "Helen Rosman," has been identified by the Kings as their child. They also identified Mrs. Smith as the maid they had hired a week prior to the baby's disappearance.

The milking done, Holthe insisted that the stranger pour the milk into his pail. The intruder did, climbed through the fence and drove away.

Interpreting the War News—

By KIRKE SIMPSON

Japanese reports of a massive sweep of the Ryuku island chain, stretching from the southern tip of Japan proper to Formosa, was designed to accomplish, hope of locating the main Japanese fleet and bringing it to decisive action went far to inspire the move. Planes of the cooperating commands of Admiral Nimitz and General MacArthur obviously have been probing all the way from the Sulu archipelago and the waters of Borneo in the south, through inland waters in the central Philippines and now among the Ryukus and over Formosa harbors, for that purpose. If any substantial part of enemy naval strength has been distantly sighted or its hide-outs located, however, there has been no word of it in American official reports or press dispatches from Pacific areas.

In view of authoritative disclosure that the Pacific offensive has outpaced most optimistic allied hopes by many weeks or months, it is doubtful that the far ranging operations in the east China sea imply any immediate move to follow through with landings. Distances are still too great for that. They seem more like diversions in force designed to pull Japanese air and sea power away from probable landing sites in the Philippines.

Among other objectives at which the roving sea-air attack in the east China theater might be aimed is the boost it could give Chinese civilian and army morale. A stiffening of Chinese resistance to the Japanese effort to slice China apart would warrant bold American ventures even if larger tactical or strategic conceptions are involved.

It is a fair deduction that whatever else the bombing of the whole

With the AEF in France—

By KENNETH DIXON

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, what time of day it is — which shows their mental condition. Oct. 6 (Delayed) (AP) — A battered three-months old magazine just showed up in this rifle company command post and the doughboys now are gazing at illustrations supposed to represent frontline fighting men.

It is a scene I have watched many times in Africa, Italy and France. By now, most combat line soldiers long since have given up hope that the folks at home ever will understand.

But still they have bitter remarks, and a few still hope that some day maybe the folks will know what it's like. So here is one more attempt:

Right now the commander of this company is dirty, bearded and bleary-eyed, coughing badly and probably running a high temperature. His tangled and twisted hair sticks up from his head at crazy angles. He doesn't look like the officer in the magazine.

There is nothing handsome or romantic about the sergeant who just came back from patrol. He literally stumbled down the steps to this basement under a shell-shattered house because he is punchdrunk with sleeplessness. His four-day old beard is flecked with mud and food and hairs from a wet and dirty blanket in which he wrapped himself for two hours of rest between patrols. His shaking hands spilled the coffee he tried to drink a few moments ago, drooling muddy rivers down his chin. He's a good soldier, but he looks more like a scared, cold and dirty invalid.

The private who came with him looks even worse. His body, whipped into stringy flesh, is crumpled slackerly into wet and shapeless clothes. One pant leg is tucked into a combat boot. The other trails on the ground, frayed and mudcaked.

Waiting, huddled against the wall he trembles constantly and almost uncontrollably. You can't tell whether it's from the cold or from the sound of the mortar shells that have been falling near the command post all morning.

He and the sergeant both are sick with fright and long since wrung out by fear. But in a few more minutes, they will leave the comparative safety of the command post to return to foxholes and perhaps go out on another patrol.

Despite their appearance, the guys here at the command post are pretty lucky—by comparison, that is. Most of them got a little sleep last night between wondering whether the next mortar was going to hit the building directly as one did day before yesterday. Also, they probably know what day of the week it is, what day of the month it is and approximately

India Free, Equal

DES MOINES (AP)—India will emerge as a "free and equal partner" in the British commonwealth of nations in a year to 18 months after the war, T. A. Raman predicted at a Des Moines public forum last night.

Raman is a native of India, formerly one of its leading journalists and now information officer in charge of the government of India information service at Washington, D. C.

Raman emphasized that Britain is pledged "finally and irrevocably" to a grant of full self-government to India immediately after the cessation of hostilities.

"That pledge," he said, is backed by the unanimous will of British public opinion and by British self-interest because Britain knows that only as an equal partner, economically as well as politically will India prove an advantage to her."

Raman said that it was his personal belief that India would retain dominion status, like that of Canada or Australia, for at least 10 years after it has set up its own independent government.

Mallon Discusses Al Smith's Death

WASHINGTON — There died only far above average intelligence, but a brilliant and superior governor who could handle intricate problems of finance in the budgets or taxation or legal legislation as expertly or better than anyone who has held that office before or since. This is attested by the fact he was elected four times generally in the face of Republican landslide.

Al Smith affected what he thought was the language of the common people. It was the tongue of the common people of New York City and no more important intelligence of the south.

With it and a gaily-waving brown derby he won continuously among the people who knew his real inner quality, but the country did not understand either his language or his derby, their hearts did not warm to Smith as the voters of all classes and creeds in New York had done.

His tactics indelibly stamped him to them as someone lacking taste. It was the tragedy of his career from which he fell into a catalogue of bitterness.

The lesson of his life and death for the people is that they should look beneath the surface of political character—contrivances in making their estimates of public men. They should strive to cut through the artifices of whitewash and criticism, not only to do greater justice to their leaders, but to do greater justice to themselves and their government.

University Veterans Adopt Constitution, To Elect Officers

A constitution providing for a permanent organization of World War II veterans to facilitate readjustment to civilian life and to aid in acquiring a more liberal education was unanimously adopted by the University Veterans association at their business meeting last Friday, preceding the smoker in the river room of the Iowa Union.

The association is designed to function in conjunction with other university organizations. In contrast with the usual practice of having one faculty adviser, the University Veterans association will have two, the director of veterans service and one other faculty member who is an executive man, to be appointed by the executive committee with the approval of the office of student affairs.

The real authority of the organization is vested in the executive committee," declared Prof. William F. Coder, director of veterans service. "Thus the power is decentralized rather than vested in one person."

The executive committee, consisting of five members elected at large from the association in addition to the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, manages the affairs of the association and handles all appropriations. These officers will be elected next Tuesday, Oct. 17, at the second regular business meeting of the association.

Any veteran of World War II enrolled in the University of Iowa, regardless of creed, color, sex or nationality, may become a member of the University Veterans association by recommendation of the committee on admissions, a committee of seven selected by the executive committee. Candidates for membership may be proposed to this committee by a member of the association, and will be admitted by vote of the association upon the committee's recommendation.

The official treasury is in the university business office, and all funds must be deposited and disbursed through this office.

There will be at least one regular meeting per month of the association, and special meetings may be called at any time by the executive committee or by the secretary upon the written request of twenty members of the association. The admission fee is $1, and annual dues, $2.

Dumbarton Oaks May Produce Document Assuring Permanent World Peace—Gillette

By MARY OSBORNE Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Senator Guy M. Gillette told an Information First audience yesterday afternoon that the Dumbarton Oaks conference may produce a document capable of assuring permanent world peace. The conference, representing the results of the most earnest thought that can be brought to bear on the international situation, can only anticipate the pitfalls of any plan for peace. Yet Senator Gillette, admitting his optimism, believes the results of the conference will be a document that would receive the constitutional sanction of the various nations, including our own.

Not waiting until the end of hostilities for world collaboration, the United States already has taken steps to prevent jealousies which might hinder cooperation among nations and the acceptance of an international organization, the senator declared.

The Atlantic Charter, signed by President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill in August, 1941, was the first step toward collaboration. A restatement of the principles Americans have always believed in, the charter represented only the opinions of the two men and was given to the world as such, having no legal substance as a treaty, Gillette reminded his audience.

The following February, the Iowa senator himself introduced into the senate a resolution designed to give substance to the Atlantic charter, requesting the president to take up with other nations the formulation of a treaty agreement.

A non-partisan subcommittee worked for months to formulate a statement that the senate would accept as the pronouncement of United States collaboration in world affairs. Result of the committee's work, the Connally resolution, passed the senate by a vote of 85-5.

Hull Goes to Russia. At that time, Senator Gillette added, the work of the committee was overshadowed by a desperate fear that Russia would not stay in the war. Secretary of State Cordell Hull went to Moscow to secure a positive declaration of Russia's stand.

Third step in the peace preparations was the resulting Moscow Declaration, signed by Russia, Great Britain and the United States and pledging the signers to navy pre-flight school will be held Sunday from 2:30 until 5 at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house.

prosecute the war to a successful conclusion against common enemies and to collaborate to insure peace.

Basis of the conversation at the Dumbarton Oaks conference, fourth step toward peace security, is a document prepared by a special senate committee to be presented to the nations participating in the discussions, according to Gillette.

Regulation Force Necessary. The Iowa senator said there must be some force to compel obedience to the findings of the conference, some organization to make regulations and enforce rulings against aggressor nations. The document presented to the Dumbarton Oaks conference calls for an international governing council of 11, permanent members to represent Great Britain, Russia, China, the United States and possibly France, with the remaining members from smaller nations to hold office for a shorter period of time. This council would determine the use of force by decision of a majority vote, requiring a favorable vote by each of the "big four."

Asserting that the future of the United States is involved in the action of the next few months, Gillette said, "I would have no belief in the future of humanity if I thought that every generation would be involved in war."

Ray Memler Charged With Selling Milk Without Health Permit. Ray Memler, Iowa City milk dealer, was charged yesterday by Police Judge Jack C. White of selling milk without a health permit in violation of a city ordinance prohibiting milk sale without a proper health permit.

The warrant issued states that Memler sold milk to F. W. Meardon and to Brady's grocery store without this city permit.

In January of this year, Memler was fined $100 in police court by Judge White when he pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling raw milk within the city limits of Iowa City from cows not tested for Bang's disease.

The fine was suspended on condition that Memler would follow the city ordinance.

Hearing is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 18 at 3 p. m. at the police station.

City High Plays McKinley Tonight for Homecoming

Hawks Hope For First Win

Neither Team Has Conference Victory For Entire Season

It's homecoming weekend out at City high school and the much defeated Little Hawks are praying that their battle with McKinley of Cedar Rapids doesn't end up on the wrong side of the ledger as have all the rest of their games.

They are doing more than praying, however, as indicated by the seriousness of the boys as they plow into their teammates with such savage determination that the spectators shake in their boots. Yes, the Hawklets are through playing Santa Claus by giving the games away.

In the Dubuque game they handed the Rams two touchdowns served up on a silver platter. Two pass interceptions and the Rams had two touchdowns and the game.

Coach Wally Schwank said, "We have not played the football that we are capable of playing. We are definitely ashamed of last Saturday's defeat; it was awful; we were terrible. We have made all the mistakes in the book at least once, but we don't intend to make them again. We are going to play hard, vicious ball with drive and snap and no loafing. There is no time left on this team for the man who can't play 'all-out' football."

The Golden Bears have five lettermen back for the nucleus of a fairly strong team, even though they have been beaten three times. Crawford, guard; Ryan, tackle; Carrithers, center; Abodeely, quarterback, and Ray Sorenson, end, are the returning veterans.

The Bears have been beaten by Grinnell, 19 to 0; Wilson, 12 to 0, and Roosevelt, 7 to 0. Their record is about as impressive as the Hawklets, which isn't saying much for the Bears. However, they have held their opponents to fairly small scores, while the Hawklets' opponents have scored at will with the exception of the Dubuque game. At the same time the Hawklets have played the top teams in the conference except for Dubuque, while McKinley has had rather easy going so far.

Any way you look at it, there will be plenty of noise tonight at Shrader field when the Bears and the Hawklets clash. Both teams are out to break losing streaks, with the Little Hawks especially anxious to put on a show for the expected homecoming crowd.

The Bears operate from a T formation, shifting into a box, which should be to the Hawklets liking as all the teams they have played this year have used the T. They should be catching on pretty soon and break up a lot of those touchdown plays that have spelled defeat for them in the past.

As the Bears are reported to be a passing team, once again the pigskins will be flying at Shrader field as the Hawklets will definitely be heaving some of their own. At the same time, however, the Little Hawks will be concentrating on their ground attack more than usual.

Bob Lee, regular left guard is expected to start against the Bears if the injury that has kept him on the bench for two weeks has healed sufficiently. Wayne Lacinia, husky Little Hawk fullback is laid up with a slightly sprained ankle, and whether or not he will be able to play tonight is doubtful. Leo Washburn, who has been showing up well in drills will probably get the nod at Lacinia's spot. Bill Oleson, by his play in the last two games has earned a promotion to the first team and will be in the right halfback slot come Friday.

Coach Schwank announced that Ruben Snider and Tom Hirt, the Hawklets' all-state tackles, will be co-captains for the homecoming tussle. The team plans on making it a fitting farewell to Rube and Tom who have played some mighty fine football for City high in the past. Both Snider and Hirt graduate next spring.

The probable starting lineups for the game follow:
McKinley Pos. Iowa City
Sorenson LE Wilson
Ryan LT Snider
Crawford LG Lee
Carrithers C Devine
Santas RG Voelckers
Harzer RT Hirt
Wall RE Eakes
Abodeely QB Sangster
Brewton LH Housel
Roy Sorenson RI Oleson
Cimburek FB Washburn

New Intramural Teams

Although the Independents have dropped out of the intramural football league, four medical fraternities have entered teams. The new teams will be placed in a separate division, league D, and will only play one game because of their late start. The teams in league D are: Alpha Kappa Kappa, Phi Beta Pi, Phi Rho Sigma and a No. 2 team from Nu Sigma Nu.

TWO LITTLE HAWK all-state tackles, Ruben Snider (top) and Tom Hirt, will be co-captains tonight when City high meets the Golden Bears from McKinley high of Cedar Rapids for the homecoming game on Shrader field at 8 o'clock.

Pre-Flighters Face Purdue Saturday

Meagher Depends On Seahawk Line To Stop Air Attack

Two of the nation's top teams will meet on the gridiron at Lafayette tomorrow when the rapidly improving Seahawks clash with the Boiler-makers of Purdue. Big Ten co-champions last year.

The Pre-Flighters will entrain for the home of the Boiler-makers early today and will arrive in time to hold a practice session in the afternoon.

The strong forward wall which so successfully stemmed the tide of the Second Airforce running and passing attack last weekend will be virtually unchanged in the starting lineup against Purdue.

Seahawk linemen Bob Phillips, Vic Scheich and Alex Kapter, who were so instrumental in stopping the deadly aerials of Glenn Dobbs of the Superbombers, will have the same problem tomorrow in the pitching arm of Ray Schult, Purdue's passing expert.

Lieut. Comdr. Jack Meagher is banking his hopes for victory on both the tough Seahawk line and the two new halfbacks who will start for the cadets tomorrow.

A strong, fast charging line will have the task of stopping Purdue's fancy ball carriers, Boris Dimancheff and Ed Cody. Minus the services of the highly experienced officers in this game, the cadets will have to bear the brunt of the attack.

Don Samuels and Bob Sullivan, who will start in the halfback slots are expected to give the backfield the speed and aggressiveness which may enable the Seahawks to ring up their fourth straight victory.

SAE, Nu Sig, Phi Chi Win Second Tilts

SAE, Nu Sigma Nu and Phi Chi won their second intramural football games yesterday. This makes it two wins and no losses for the SAE men, while Nu Sigma Nu and Phi Chi have each dropped one by forfeit.

SAE 24: Theta Xi 6. Boasting what looks like the top team in their division and a strong contender for the league championship, SAE displayed a powerful passing attack as they defeated Theta Xi yesterday. Bill Anderson, SAE back, took passing honors, hitting Jones once and Boswell twice for scores. Taking a lateral from Anderson, Boswell flipped a short one to Patterson in the end zone for the fourth touchdown.

Although they threatened several times, Theta Xi couldn't seem to get over, through or around the SAE goal line defense. Joe Zulfur made the only Theta Xi score on a pass from Porter in the end zone.

Nu Sigma Nu 26: ATO 0. Nu Sigma Nu, always a top outfit, showed power to spare as they trounced ATO in a rather one-sided game. Corton sparkled in the line for Nu Sigma Nu as Goenne spearheaded their offensive drives. Goenne passed to Ahman for two touchdowns and booted two conversions to take scoring honors. Gotsch scored for Nu Sig on a pass from Slater, and Ruvig made the other touchdown on an interception.

Phi Chi 9: DU 6. In a close battle that could have been anybody's ball game, Phi Chi forged ahead to hand DU their second defeat. Feldick led Phi Chi to victory, passing to Jongeward for the touchdown and then kicked the extra point. Phi Chi scored once more on a safety when Nelson caught a DU man behind the goal line. The Lewis to Tedeski combination, the main DU offensive threat, clicked just once for a score yesterday. Although DU threatened late in the game, a bad pass from center killed their chances.

Blue Hawks to Meet Monticello Tonight In Away Game

This afternoon the Blue Hawks will journey to Monticello to bring back a fourth victory for the season. University high is confident of victory over Monticello since Marion, defeated by U-High, earlier, swamped the Monticello outfit.

Tuesday the Blue Hawks were drilled thoroughly in offense and defense at scrimmage practice. Wednesday they had another tough scrimmage session in which they were drilled on plays and general offense positions. The team followed through on Thursday by having usual play practice in which they looked as if they were ready for the away games.

Coach Ross Wedemeyer has not so far made any changes in the starting lineup, although there may be a change before this afternoon.

Wildcats Leave EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Coach Lynn Waldorf yesterday named a squad of 34 football players to make the trip to Ann Arbor, Mich. for tomorrow's game with the Michigan Wolverines.

THE CHOPPING BLOCK

By the Sports Staff

(Editor's Note: Here goes nothing. With a not-so-bad week behind them, the sports staff sets out to improve their average this week. The percentages to date: Roy, Luce, service, 76; Bob Krause, east, 70; Bob Brooks, south, 80; Terry Tester, midwest, 63, and Mike Lorenzen, west, 63. The overall percentage is 71 percent.)

THE SERVICE

This week the Seahawks of Iowa will provide the game with the greatest thrills. Last week the Seahawks and the Superbombers put on a show which many think will be the outstanding service game of the season. All the powerhouse military and naval teams are in action this week with Great Lakes playing little Western Michigan; Randolph Field battling Southern Methodist; March Field against Alameda Coast Guard, and the Second Air Force against New Mexico.

THE SOUTH

This week in the southlands the feature game will be between Duke's Blue Devils and the mighty Navy powerhouse. The contest will be played in Baltimore. Although they got off to a bad start this season, the Middies should not be stopped by the mediocre Duke team. The Blue Devils have been up and down all season and have not been able to hit a winning stride.

THE WEST

College of Pacific-California—Coach Stub Allison of the California team has shown plenty of go this season and is likely to continue doing so during the remainder of the season. This romping eleven is out to make a very good record and College of the Pacific will not mar it. California over College of Pacific.

THE MIDWEST

Tomorrow night when the football scores are read there will be one less unbeaten, untied team in the nation and the road to the Big Ten championship will be considerably straightened. The only two undefeated teams in the conference, Wisconsin and Ohio State, meet tomorrow in Madison, and if the 50 gallons of water which the Buckeyes are carrying along to allay the alleged handicap of polluted drinking water are any indication, the contest should be hard and close.

THE EAST

It's just about the same in relation to the eastern football scene this week. Army's powerful task force continues to strengthen its vice-like grip on the gridiron beachhead with regiments of powerful backs moving like flying jeeps, minus brakes. Yale and Columbia both surprised the Monday Morning Quarterbacks Inc., with victories of wide margin over Cornell and Syracuse, in that order. Penn, with the services of Tony Minis, best freshman back in the section, has a scoring wallop. There is little question that the Navy is not yet proven.

Army-Pitt—Just a breeze. True, it will be another T-party, but the Panthers will have to swallow a bitter brew before the long and painful day is closed. Much more power for Army over Pitt.

Dartmouth-Notre Dame—This one has staid old Boston by the ears, but won't make any difference in the outcome. The Big Green will fight with Clayton and Gingrich, but the Irish have too much "materiel"—of a naval nature. Notre Dame over Dartmouth.

Holy Cross-Villanova—For the last two weeks Crusader stock has taken a decided upward trend. Potentially they could rank with the leaders. The Wildcats have three wins, but the opposition has been of the punching bag variety. Holy Cross over Villanova.

Columbia-Yale—The "Walk with Care" signs are up on this puzzler. Columbia showed speed, finesse, and Otto Apel against Syracuse. Eli, however, beat a better team in Cornell and they have a fighting line with explosive Roger Barksdale behind it. Cautiously, Yale over Columbia.

Cornell-Colgate—This is shrouded with questioning blackness. The Big Red has some exceptional backs starring Al Dekdebrun, and Coach Carl Snaveley is no dummy. But the Red Raiders are taught by wily Andy Kerr. Still, they seem to lack talent. With some indecision, Cornell over Colgate.

INDIANA-NEBRASKA

Two years ago every sports writer in the country would be picking the Cornhuskers to beat an average Hoosier team. But this year the consensus is for Hunchy Hoernschemeyer and Co., the team that upset Michigan. Indiana over Nebraska.

WISCONSIN-OHIO STATE

As said before, this game should be a humdinger. The Badgers had a chance to show their goods in the game with Northwestern, while the Bucks haven't had the opportunity to open up against a team of their own class yet this year. Wisconsin has the home ground advantage, but it's Ohio State over Wisconsin.

NORTHWESTERN-MICHIGAN

The State had the stronger team, but there is always the Kansas upset of Missouri last fall. Iowa State over Kansas.

MISSOURI-MISSOURI

The sur-render of the Little Brown Jug last week did little to soothe the nerves of the ragged Gophers and they will be out for victory at all costs this weekend. The week Missouri Tigers will offer little resistance to that threat. Minnesota over Missouri.

IOWA STATE-KANSAS

The Cyclones will get their first chance at Big Six competition, and victory, this weekend when they meet the Jayhawkers. Pre-game handouts would indicate that Iowa U. C. L. A.-St. Mary's—the Uclans have come up out of the cellar by tying the mighty Southern California in the beginning of the season. Iowa State over St. Mary's.

COLORADO COLLEGE-DENVER

Colorado college, although they bowed to a strong Ft. Warren eleven, still has plenty of ability and power to beat Denver. The game will be close but it's Colorado college over Denver.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA-ST. MARY'S

These Trojans from U. S. C. are a hard team to beat this year but St. Mary's Pre-Flight

33 Hawkeyes Leave For Illinois Today

Madigan Puts Team Through Hard Drill For Last Workout

"These kids are having to learn the hard way," said Coach Slip Madigan at the conclusion of the Hawkeyes last workout yesterday before the team entrains this afternoon for Urbana and the Illinois struggle. The squad leaves at 3:33.

"There are a great many green freshmen on this team who have had too little experience," Madigan continued with a wry grin. "With our schedule arranged the way it is, with Ohio State, Illinois, Purdue and Indiana being the first four opponents, the boys have their four toughest games first. After these are past we should do better."

Any relation between tomorrow's contest and a foot race will be frowned upon by Iowa players. Nevertheless, they will face the 100-year dash national champion in the person of the Illini's Buddy Young, and the Old Gold is getting a mountainous task in the problem of curbing this frolicsome young man. If he gets loose he can't be stopped for speeding.

For their last workout the Hawks had an exhaustive signal drill in which Madigan covered every play in the repertoire. They may not be the favorite for tomorrow's contest but Iowa will know what to do after the ball is passed from center. Skill in the operations which follow that moment were sadly lacking in the Ohio State fray.

Those making the trip are ends Ken Rose, Russ McLaughlin, Jack Kello, Al Peters, Don Camery, Bob Wischmeier and Dean Selken; tackles Don Winslow, Bill Benskin, Clary Cross and Jim Lagomarcino; guards Paul Fagerlind, Bob Ireland, Ralph Katz, Bob Miller, Dexter Hake and Bud Flood; centers Forrest Masterson, Bob Snyder and Bob Carlson; backs Johnny Stewart, Herb Byers, Vince Owens, Al McCord, Bill Kersten, Dick Woodard, Bob Brown, Pat Callaghan, Jim Hansen, Bill Dallas, Wally Van Wyk, Blackie Schneider and either Nelson Smith or Bob Richards.

WASHINGTON-WHITMAN

Washington does not seem to be getting the competition it really needs in regard to their strength. This game will be another warm-up. Washington over Whitman.

Veteran Information Center Opens at Employment Office

E. E. Kline Directs Rehabilitation Service

Five Civic Leaders Complete Referral Plan for Servicemen

Opening today at the United States Employment office in the community building is the Johnson county veteran information center.

Through this office discharged veterans and war workers will be referred to the proper source for an answer to problems, whether they concern insurance, education, vocation, rehabilitation, claims, housing or others.

Directed by E. E. Kline of the employment service, the center is open to all discharged servicemen and war workers whether they plan to stay permanently in Iowa City or whether they simply are traveling through town.

"We want to give them a place to come to find out where to get information on various problems they may have and we feel it will be one of the most worthwhile services for veterans of Johnson county," commented Kline.

He met last night with other members of the information center committee; the Rev. Evans A. Worthley, Charles Fieseler, selective service director of Iowa City, Kenneth Dunlop, chairman of the defense council and Prof. W. D. Coder, director of the university veterans service.

Information center posters soon will be displayed in public places including bus and railway stations for the convenience of servicemen and women. Letters explaining the purpose and function of the center are to be mailed to Iowa City civic organizations.

Any veteran asking for information, said Kline, should be directed to the center.

Transjordan's population is largely nomad.

$331 Stolen From 3 Houses

Stolen early yesterday morning from three medical fraternities, Nu Sigma Nu, Alpha Kappa Kappa and Phi Rho Sigma, was $331. The unknown burglar also entered the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house, but no money was reported stolen there.

Police believe the thief entered all the houses by the front door, starting with the Phi Rho Sigma house, at 117 Ferson street, where several rooms were searched and a total of $60 taken from three men.

In the Nu Sigma Nu house, the unidentified man searched three Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity, 114 E. Market street, last night reported the loss of $65 from the rooms of three men. The amounts missing were $15 from Joe Trocino, E4 of Oelwein; $15 from Howard Jubenville, A3 of Rochester, N. Y., and $35 from H. A. Aucter, G of Chicago.

rooms, taking $60 from Jim Slater and $9 elsewhere. One student, living on second floor, was awakened by the noise and encountered the thief in the hallway. The man said he has left a note in one of the other rooms for a student. By the time the lost money was discovered, the thief had fled.

Men in the Alpha Kappa Kappa house did not learn of the robbery until later yesterday morning. Eleven men lost a total of $202 there.

Police are sending out a statewide alarm for the man, described at "28 years old; 5 feet, six inches tall, with a round face and glasses." He was wearing a dark coat. Police in Ames will be on special look-out for fraternity house

Lieut. Howard Hensleigh Describes Drop Into France With 'Men From Mars'

"Well, buddy, you're in France," Lieut. Howard E. Hensleigh, paratrooper, told himself as he picked himself up from the rocky, mountainous terrain.

The heavy dark of the hours before dawn hung around him. It was early in August and strange, grotesque figures were dropping from the skies like summer naut-weird "Men from Mars" in bulky camouflaged jumpsuits. The Allies were coming in from the south to clamp the Germans in a great pincer movement.

Describes Landings
In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Hensleigh, 117 Richards street, Lieutenant Hensleigh described his part in the thefts there.

Men from which the money was stolen expressed the opinion that the thief was well acquainted with this campus and especially the arrangement of medical fraternities.

gigantic paratroop landings in southern France.

"Really it is hard to explain everything that happened," he wrote. "It was dark since we had jumped at 4 o'clock. It was 15 minutes before I joined anyone else, partly because they were scared to repeat our call. Before long I had assembled about 25 men and non-coms and started sending them out on patrols to find more men and equipment bundles, despite their objections and desires to take off in the direction we thought the jump field was in. All of them thought it was nearby."

Greeted by French
"Someone reported a house a few hundred yards away, so I took five men and went up to it,

I posted the men outside to cover me and let the big brass knocker fall heavily several times. A female voice answered and I said 'Americain parachutiste'. The house shook and in a few minutes I was greeted by kisses and later hand shakes by eight French men and women.

"I got out my map and French book we had been issued and found that we were 40 some kilometers from our field. It wasn't long afterward that we had three companies assembled from the patrols and we were moving off with a first lieutenant as battalion commander. I acted as S2 from there all the way to our area and many times was five miles out ahead of the outfit. Everything worked out very well."

Later Letter
In a later letter the young lieutenant wrote, "Things are still going O. K. for me, even tho there hasn't been enough time for me to write and tell you about it all the time.

"We had a beautiful attack the other day and took 62 Nazi prisoners, two officers and killed 10. Only six out of the whole company got away. We followed the artillery so closely that we caught them all in their pill boxes and fortified positions and worked up on their blind sides.

"The story doesn't stop here because they opened up on us with artillery after that and we soon had 15 casualties, one death. Another swell officer will never get back to see his wife and kid which is on the way."

Rooms for Rent During Homecoming Should Be Listed

Persons having rooms to rent during Homecoming weekend should list their rooms with Mrs. Imelda Murphy of the housing service before 5 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 17. Quite a large need is anticipated.

Mrs. Murphy stated that rooms will be needed for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 20, 21, 22. It is expected that persons will begin to arrive for the Homecoming festivities on Friday and remain, some of them, through Sunday night.

Mrs. Murphy can be contacted by telephone, extension 277, between 8 and 12 daily except Sunday, and between 1 and 5 with the exception of Saturday and Sunday.

Charles S. Galliher, business manager of athletics, reports that, although it is difficult to judge Homecoming attendance by advance sales, they are higher to date than last year at the same time.
