Dewey Says Yanks 'Pay in Blood' For New Deal Failure

Attributes European Chaos to FDR 'Secret Diplomacy'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declared last night that Americans are "paying in blood" on the battlefield of Germany for what he described as the Roosevelt administration's failure to have an "intelligent program for dealing with invaded Germany."

The Republican presidential nominee, addressing a non-political but applauding gathering at the New York Herald Tribune's annual forum of current events also attributed to President Roosevelt's "personal secret diplomacy" chaos in France and hunger and degradation in Italy.

Terrifies Germans

He declared: 1. That Nazi propaganda minister Goebbels has seized upon the absence of any official American plan for Germany to "terrify the Germans into fanatical resistance."

2. That President Roosevelt's refusal to recognize the French De Gaulle government "is contributing to the increasing chaos behind our lines at a critical period of the war."

3. That Roosevelt has failed to win Russian recognition of "those whom we consider to be the true government of Poland," despite his personal talks with Premier Stalin.

4. That a Soviet emissary signed last month's peace treaty with Rumania in behalf of the United States, before the state department had a chance to study it.

Duke, Duchess Present

Dewey spoke before a crowd that jammed the Waldorf-Astoria's plush ballroom. Among those who came to hear him were the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Declaring the German people have been told a program of destruction awaits them if they surrender, the New York governor said:

"They are fighting with the frenzy of despair. We are paying in blood for our failure to have ready an intelligent program for dealing with invaded Germany."

Dewey, emphasizing his stand that the building of an international peace organization should be a bi-partisan job, served notice on members of his own party as well as the Democrats that "We must not be diverted from our goal by the irreconcilables of either camp."

Cuban Hurricane Kills Seven; Alerts Prepare East Coast

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A tropical hurricane, whipping across western Cuba with winds in excess of 110 miles an hour, caused seven deaths and injuries to between 300 and 400 persons, President Grau San Martin announced last night.

Refugee camps were quickly opened at the University of Havana and Atrates fortress where the homeless were given food and clothing.

The Cuban capital was battered for more than five hours by the storm. Store fronts were smashed, and insecure buildings crushed, while automobiles on the streets were hit by falling trees and flying debris.

At 11 p. m., the United States weather bureau extended a hurricane alert along the Atlantic coast from Fernandina, Fla., to Cape Hatteras, N. C.

Meteorologists said the storm probably would ship across the Florida peninsula today, enter the Atlantic near Jacksonville and threaten the coast northward to Hatteras.

Winds of a 100-mile force still were reported near the center, and hurricane winds were blowing within a 30-mile radius of the center.

The indicated path would take the storm over Florida's citrus belt, where millions of dollars worth of oranges and grapefruit are ripening on the trees.

Private Post-War Plan

TOPEKA (AP)—Pfc. Bert Swanson, Arlington, Mass., stationed at the Topeka army airfield, has a post-war plan of his own.

"I'm going to fill my car with gasoline, stick airplane pictures all over it and when I get some place where people point at the pictures and ask—'what are those things with wings?'—that's where I'm going to settle."

FDR to Tour Four New York Boroughs

Trip to Cover Area Of Democratic Favor; Dewey 'Praises' Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—A day-time tour by President Roosevelt through four of New York City's five boroughs was in prospect yesterday as a prelude to his address Saturday night before the foreign policy association here.

Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan told a press conference that the president would be in New York City throughout the day and would in all probability tour Brooklyn, Queens, the Bronx and Manhattan.

The president's projected trip brought from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent for the presidency, this comment: "It is a good thing for the president to see the people even if only once in four years."

A tour of Manhattan, the Bronx and Kings (Brooklyn) would take the president through the heart of Democratic strength in New York City. And an excursion into Queens would take him into a district which in recent years had gone Republican and where Republicans are known to be hoping for an increased majority to offset Democratic leads in the other three counties.

Bette Davis to Visit President Roosevelt

ATLANTA (AP)—Film Star Bette Davis boarded a train here yesterday for Washington and "the greatest thrill of my life"—her first meeting with President Roosevelt.

The blonde academy award winner said she had only one regret—that she wasn't accompanied by her little dog, Tibby, so he could meet Fala, the president's scottie. The star said she did not anticipate campaigning for Roosevelt because of her limited time.

"However," she added, "I would do anything possible to help him win this election. I have the greatest confidence in his ability and integrity, and feel very strongly for him, particularly on his foreign policy."

British Drive Close To Cesena Junction

ROME (AP)—The British Eighth army's drive from the southeast corner of the Po river valley placed vanguards within two miles of the important road junction town of Cesena from both the east and south yesterday.

Capture of Cesena would put the Eighth army units in position both to continue their drive northward toward the ancient Via Aemilia toward Forli, 11 miles distant, and due north along another first class road toward Ravenna, 19 miles away.

A furious battle still raged south of Bologna, the main German supply and communication base in northern Italy, with reinforced German units holding the Fifth army's American spearhead to a virtual standstill nine miles south of the city.

Committee Drops Staller Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two weeks preliminary investigation convinced the senate campaign expenses committee yesterday that the widely publicized "bottle of the Staller" is none of its business.

The committee voted four to one to drop the inquiry into fistfights between two naval officers and teamsters union members in the Staller hotel here the night of Sept. 23 when President Roosevelt opened his fourth term campaign.

The officers said the melee started after they refused to say whether they would vote for President Roosevelt.

W. Earl Hall to Speak at 4 O'Clock Today

Just 21 days ago, W. Earl Hall, managing editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, returned from a tour of the British Isles and France as the guest of the British information service.

During Hall's seven-week view of the two nations at war, he gained a straight-from-the-battlefront knowledge of wartime situations and attitudes, which he will describe to the Information First audience this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. His subject will be "Twenty One Days From Europe."

Met Gordon Gammack

When Hall was in France, he ran into Gordon Gammack, the Register and Tribune war correspondent who opened the Information First series. The Iowa editor was one of the first two American civilians to see liberated Paris and one of the first American editors of small newspapers to visit Britain since the war.

One of a small group of American journalists invited to make the trip, Hall did not go as a war correspondent. His report concerns the attitudes of the English and French people toward the war and the peace.

Badge Sellers Break First Day Records

Alpha Chi Omega Leads With 3,072 Of 8,148 Total

First day sales of Homecoming badges have broken all records with 8,148 badges sold and Alpha Chi Omega sorority is leading the contest with sales of 3,072 buttons, according to Prof. Louis C. Zopf of the college of pharmacy, chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Following close behind are the Kappa Kappa Gamma with 3,013 badges sold; next the Delta Gammas with 1,211, and the Pi Beta Phis with 852 buttons sold, making a grand total sale of 8,148 buttons on the first day. Since 1938 the Alpha Delta Phis have held the record of 3,000 as the highest number sold on the initial day of the campaign.

Sales will continue until game time Saturday afternoon. Four campus sororities are in complete charge of the campaign for the four days.

Prisoner Captures Self

DETROIT (AP)—Kurt Reichel, escaped German prisoner of war, walked from a culvert into a field yesterday and found himself confronting the readied shotguns of half a dozen small game hunters. He raised his hands high.

The hunters, who confessed that their surprise at first had equalled that of the fugitive, were first to realize the situation and marched Reichel back to the prison camp near Lake Odessa, Mich., from which he had escaped.

Hope for Silk Stockings Appears

WASHINGTON (AP)—A glimmer of hope for small scale production of silk stockings appeared yesterday when the war production board announced the way had been cleared for importation of raw silk from China.

It said the combined raw materials board had agreed to recommendations that United States importers be allowed to purchase such silk. Heretofore the entire supply has gone to the government for military needs.

WPB made no estimate of the amount which may be obtained by private importers.

British Push Past Venray; U.S. Planes Sweep Luzon

Destroy 19 Jap Planes

Fleet Termed 'Defeated' by Japs Carry Out Raids

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
America's aerial invasion of the northern Philippines by carrier-based planes of the mighty Third fleet continued without let-up, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported Wednesday afternoon as he disclosed new sweeps across Luzon, major island of the archipelago.

The admiral's communique told of the destruction of 19 Japanese planes and the sinking or setting afire of seven ships Tuesday, United States time. He said "action is continuing."

The Japanese-controlled Manila radio, bearing out the Pacific fleet chief's statement, reported raids Tuesday night, United States time, by 80 carrier planes on the Manila area. It also announced new strikes against Clark field, big air depot 40 miles northwest of Manila, and Legaspi, important seaport on southeastern Luzon. The Japanese claimed their fighter planes and anti-aircraft guns knocked down 16 of the raiders.

The planes attacking the Philippines were definitely off Third fleet carriers—the fleet that the Japanese pictured several days ago as badly defeated and limping away after a battle with Nippon warships. Nimitz, previously listing two of his medium men-of-war as damaged, has said the Japanese fleet units, finding the fighting power of the Third fleet unimpaired, fled instead of challenging.

There were additional bad tidings for Tokyo in Navy Secretary Forrestal's Washington announcement of the sinking of 32 additional Japanese vessels, including seven warships, by American submarines.

Admiral Nimitz reported the outflanking of important Yap island in the western Pacific, United States forces took Ngulu atoll, western Caroline, Oct. 15. There was slight opposition. Ngulu is 80 miles south of Yap, chief weather station in that entire area. Yank forces also hold islands in the Palaus and Ulithi atoll. Thus Yap has been flanked on the northeast, the south and the southwest.

In China Japanese forces advanced westward six miles to within 18 miles of Hingan. This operation was one phase of Japanese attempts to outflank Kweilin, center of China's defense system in the south.

Allied headquarters, New Guinea, today reported 150 allied planes smashed installations, shipping and airdromes on Ceram and Boeroe islands, flank bases to the approaches to the Philippines.

Hitler Orders—

Total Nazi Defense

LONDON (AP)—Old men and boys—and "if need be women and girls"—were ordered to defend Germany with guns, swords, pitchforks, scythes and clubs as Adolf Hitler proclaimed last night the formation of an armed home guard for a last-ditch defense of the Reich.

With allied armies beating against the Reich from the west, east, southeast and south, Hitler established by decree the "Volks-sturm" (people's army) composed of every able-bodied German man and boy from 16 to 80 and proclaimed them part of the German army under international law.

Then Heinrich Himmler, commander in chief of the home front, addressing the nation from a Volksturm barracks in East Prussia, ordered the defense of Germany by "every village, every house, every farm, every ditch, every forest and every bush."

Himmler was followed by East Prussian Gauleiter Erich Koch, who fanatically pledged Hitler: "We in East Prussia will not retreat an inch."

The Nazi leaders asked for a "fanatical hatred" of Germany's "dirty Jewish international enemies resolved to totally destroy us."

Greek Government Returns to Athens

British Seize Scarpanto With No Opposition, Strafe Enemy Columns

ATHENS (AP)—The Greek government headed by Premier George Papandreou returned to newly liberated Athens yesterday amid the tumultuous cheering of citizens who had suffered grievously during their years of axis occupation.

Since the liberation of the city last Sunday a committee of three headed by Philip Manouillidis had governed the country pending the arrival of the premier.

Manouillidis, in reviewing hardships suffered by the Greeks during axis occupation, said more than 500,000 Greeks were slain or died of privation.

British warships have seized Scarpanto island, midway between Rhodes and Crete, in the name of the united nations with landing forces meeting no enemy opposition, the allied command announced yesterday.

The liberation of Greece continued evenly.

New Russian Salient Traps Nazi Troops

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—The Red army has plunged across the Carpathian mountains southward into Czechoslovakia on a 170-mile front, cutting clear across the eastern tip of the country and placing the Germans in a dangerous 100-mile deep salient from which they must flee quickly or be annihilated, Marshal Stalin disclosed last night.

Moscow remained absolutely silent concerning the reported Soviet offensive against East Prussia, which German broadcasts said was lashing against the province's eastern borders along a 30-mile stretch and had reached the frontier around the German town of Schirwindt. The Nazis portrayed it as the biggest of all the battles on the eastern front.

By a great new thrust Petrov's Fourth army evidently joined forces with Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Russian and Romanian troops which had driven northward through Transylvania to the Czechoslovak border.

Having won the towering passes of the Carpathians, Petrov's men had downhill routes before them to the Tisza river valley, and with Malinovsky's men formed three sides of a great 100-mile square enclosing a large but undisclosed number of German and Hungarian troops.

The American Seventh army held firm against German counterattacks at Embermen, east of the forest of Parroy, and the French beat off counterattacks north of Bruyeres and near Rochesson in this area of the approaches to southwestern Germany.

British Tommies after taking Venray, eight miles short of the German border, liberated Veulen three miles to the south and Overbrook two miles to the southwest, giving the allies a 45-square-mile bite into the German Meuse river salient since Oct. 12 and shortening the German front there from 15 miles to 12.

Firemen Were There But Fire Wasn't

"Where there's smoke there's fire" the old saying goes, but that isn't always true as the Iowa City fire department discovered last evening.

About 6:30 a man walking past Ben Whitebooks' grocery, 117 S. Dubuque, noticed a dense cloud of smoke in the building. He rushed to the nearest telephone and called the fire department. A hook-and-ladder was soon on the scene.

The fireladdies quickly discovered that the dense cloud was not caused by a fire but by an electric fly sprayer.

Senator Pepper Denounces Dewey

Army Political Argument Rocks Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—An army political argument broke out in the senate campaign expenditures investigating committee yesterday as testimony was heard that a committee agent who went out to interview former Secretary of War Harry E. Woodring did not serve a subpoena after Woodring threatened to "blast the New Deal from hell to breakfast."

Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) offered a motion that Woodring immediately be subpoenaed, but Chairman Green (D., R.I.) did not put the motion.

Berlin Admits Aachen's Loss

American Army Beats Off Nazi Counterattack

LONDON (AP)—British forces with American armor on the right flank and rocket-firing typhoons overhead pushed through the Dutch rail and road junction of Venray yesterday and captured two more towns beyond, cutting deep into the enemy's Meuse river salient with a steady advance toward the German border and the Ruhr valley.

The American First army beat off a small German counterattack at Aachen to the south and strengthened its encirclement of the great German border city, which Berlin radio commentators for the first time publicly wrote off as lost.

A great rain fell all along the western front from Holland to the Swiss border, turning the ground into mud and making allied advances difficult, but everywhere there was evidence of a build-up for a vast allied offensive which a British second army spokesman said yesterday may lead to one of the war's great decisive battles within the next few weeks. The Germans were said to have no strategic reserves left.

For the seventh consecutive day American heavy bombers attacked the great German city of Cologne. Elsewhere along the front Canadians squeezed the German pocket on the south bank of the Schelde estuary down by one-third, and the American Third army in eastern France drove to within four miles of Metz with a one-mile advance.

The American Seventh army held firm against German counterattacks at Embermen, east of the forest of Parroy, and the French beat off counterattacks north of Bruyeres and near Rochesson in this area of the approaches to southwestern Germany.

British Tommies after taking Venray, eight miles short of the German border, liberated Veulen three miles to the south and Overbrook two miles to the southwest, giving the allies a 45-square-mile bite into the German Meuse river salient since Oct. 12 and shortening the German front there from 15 miles to 12.

Kirke Simpson Interprets the War News—

There is more than a hint of Nazi desperation in the new Hitler total mobilization decree calling all male civilians from 16 to 60 years of age to arms for a home guard defense of the Reich. Its effect on German public morale is open to question for it offers in Hitler's own words little prospect of keeping converging Russian and allied armies off German soil.

There seems no doubt that Hitler and his hand-picked military advisers share the belief expressed day after day by Nazi commentators that the most crucial battles of the 1944 campaign in Europe are still to be fought and will be joined east and west alike before winter closes in. The blows are expected by the Nazis to fall simultaneously against the Dutch gateways to Germany in the west and down the Vistula corridor in the east. Those are the obvious allied and Russian "knockout" theaters of action Hitler had in mind.

The type of defensive force projected in the Nazi home guard mobilization could be of small use against seasoned allied troops in the field or even in manning fixed fortification belts like the Siegfried line. They could, however, hamper village by village and house by house the advance on Berlin, still 300 miles distant from the nearest allied or Russian spearhead. If Hitler's renewed plea for all able-bodied Germany to get ready to fight means anything at all, therefore, it must mean Nazi expectation of collapse of the Rhine and Vistula defense lines once either is struck full force.

Must Be Seen to Be Believed—

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN NORTHERN ITALY (AP)—The Fifth army's battle in northern Italy's ragged jumble of muddy mountains must be seen to be believed — and even then you wonder how battle-weary American soldiers have managed to inch their way along the narrow cliff-bordered roads and precipitous heights which bar the way to Bologna.

You have wondered at the apparent snail's pace of the army moving up the center of the Italian peninsula, but when you see the fog-shrouded mountains and narrow, twisting roads where they fight, you marvel that the campaign has been possible at all.

You make your way along a highway into which has been channeled all vehicular support for this fighting army, until you reach the headquarters of the American division which is spearheading the attack against an enemy who daily is making it clearer that he will not give up a yard of Italian soil without a stubborn, cunning fight.

At a division post you climb into a jeep driven by Max Hammond of Portis, Ky., and set out for a look at the battle area.

Mud slops and spews under your wheels as you travel the winding road which clings to the mountain side. Milky fog blots out the valley below. Although the peak of the Appennine ridge has been passed, every ragged ridge on the northern slopes offers the German defenders new positions.

Ambulance jeeps pass you, carrying back their cargoes of suffering. One is crowded with walking wounded, each uniformly

What Do You Think of the Dumbarton Oaks Program?

Jesse L. Richardson, state D.A.V. adjutant: "I think the Dumbarton Oaks conference on post-war planning is a very good thing. It is well to make a decision before the time comes when we are forced to make it. We made a mistake in World War I by waiting until after the war to make our post-war plans."

Mrs. Margaret Edleman, women's apparel shop owner: "I think the Dumbarton program as they have it lined up with the military and economic committees under the general group of allied chiefs will work out perfectly if they do not fail to enforce these plans when the war is over. It will be satisfactory only if they will not let down as did the League of Nations when Japan invaded Manchuria and when Italy marched into Ethiopia."

Mary Ellen Jones, A2, Iowa City: "It would be successful if they concentrated their efforts and worked on it harder than they've worked on anything so far in this war. I think one reason the League of Nations failed was because America wasn't a member nation. With America as an active member of the post-war world organization it ought to have a chance of being successful."

Gene Roush, A1, Des Moines: "The Dumbarton Oaks program will mean that all the nations will have a chance to get together before the war is over. This will strive for a happy medium. I think that all the plans for post-war are good, especially the committee appointed to hold down aggression after the present war."

Pyt. Harold A. Kam, ASTP premed, New York: "Most of it is a good thing but it won't work unless all countries will give up a portion of their sovereignty for the good of the world."

Jerry Eckhardt, A1, Davenport: "It is for keeping military powers under control. I believe suppressing any minor uprising will tend to keep large powers from building up enough force to be a potential danger. In that way the intentions of the conference are good, if they just follow them up now."

Jane Schmidt, A3, Fairfield: "I don't agree with the policies as they stand, because China and France were excluded at the time of the conference. Other Allied countries should have a voice in the plans too. Also Germany should help in the reconstruction of other countries beside Russia."

Virginia Howe, A3, Sioux City: "If all the nations would cooperate completely by sending delegates and heeding the decisions of the council, it would be a very good plan. However, to get full cooperation from all nations will be a big job. The militaristic part of the Dumbarton-Oaks plan should enable the leaders to exert force if necessary to uphold its decisions."

Rosemary Current, A1, Peoria, Ill.: "As a basis it is all right, but I don't think that it takes care of the fine points which will make for a continuing peace. They haven't said enough about the definite plans for the post-war economic situation, the monetary question, and the problem of free trade."

Paul Mallon Discusses—

Outcome of 1944 Election

WASHINGTON — Daring without judgment is required to predict the outcome of this election.

Even the polls seem to be giving it up. The eminent Dr. Gallup who has never been at a loss for an answer, has lost this one.

His October 15 forecast, with the day of reckoning three weeks off, warned that he always expected four percent of error and then allocated 19 states with almost half the electoral votes (252) into the "probable error" classification. In short, nearly half his states are doubtful.

Beyond this abnormal civilian doubt there are two other factors which make the election practically impossible to forecast. There are 8,000,000 men and women of voting eligibility away from home in the services, and at least 4,000,000 of these are expected to vote. It would be against the law for anyone to poll these votes.

From what I hear inside, they are being split fairly evenly between Roosevelt and Dewey, and not being cast in bulk for either side.

In both army and navy (particularly navy) where career men rely on political appointments for advancement, the votes are going to Mr. Roosevelt. A regular might ruin his chance for promotion if it became known among his superiors that he voted against their wishes.

Reserves from civilian life and a good number of the enlisted and drafted men, however, are voting for Dewey as fast as they can — and rather openly.

But this service vote is not only an unpollable influence for advance guessing, it may not permit the outcome of the election to be known for some weeks after election day. Eleven states have deferred the count of these ballots.

Most important is doubtful, vital Pennsylvania where the military count will not be begun until Nov. 22, two weeks after civilian voting. As more than 650,000 military ballots are to be counted in Pennsylvania, it is conceivable that the state could remain doubtful until they are totaled. (Roosevelt carried it by only 281,000 four years ago.)

California is to start counting the military vote Nov. 24; Colorado Nov. 22; Delaware and Missouri, Nov. 8; Florida, Nov. 7-17; Nebraska, Nov. 8-13 (but not make public the result until Dec. 5); Rhode Island, Dec. 5; Washington, Nov. 13-17; Utah, Nov. 12; North Dakota, Nov. 25-Dec. 3.

Under this arrangement, fixed by state laws, it is possible no one will know who is elected president Nov. 7 until nearly a month later, Dec. 5. The theory of these states, in delaying the soldier count, was that men at remote fronts should have plenty of time to get their votes in. Actually these and other states got their ballots out so early, the delay seems to have been unnecessary. Pennsylvania, for instance, sent her ballots out Aug. 15, allowing 100 days before return.

The second factor which makes the election extremely difficult to gauge is the continuous fluctuation of war populations. California and other west coast war centers have been losing many thousands a week for the last few months. These people are seeking permanent peacetime jobs, and may be going back home (largely mid-western and south).

Will they register? Will they vote? Will those remaining in war centers overthrow the normal partnership of those states (southerners, for instance, in Michigan?) How can anyone weigh these influences accurately?

If you average out all these enigmas and calculate reasonable exceptions, you will give a slight edge to Roosevelt, but a better chance — than — Wilkie — had to Dewey.

My election advice is this: Wait this year until the votes are counted.

Battlefield Magic With the AEF

By KENNETH DIXON

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, Oct. 12 (Delayed) (AP)—Footnotes from the western front:

Theoretically, atabrine tablets transform a potential malaria victim into a guy who laughs at mosquitoes. However, they also can transform technical sergeants into second lieutenants—as witness the cases of Roy E. Smith and Theodore Kridler, a couple of anti-tank platoon commanders and sidekicks hailing from Gonzalez, Tex.

When both received battlefield commissions, there were no gold bars available. So they dissolved atabrine tablets in water, cut strips of adhesive tape to the size of lieutenant's bars and dyed them with the yellow liquid. Then they pasted the strips on their O. D. shirts, combat jackets and caps. Presto—two brand new shave-tails.

Pvt. Howard Clayton of Wilmington, Ohio, used to be quite a high school trackman, but now he claims he has broken all existing records for the high hurdles.

Howard, who now is a line company rifleman, was going down a road the other day when he met some German panther tanks. Not being entered in the armored events that day, he promptly entered a cross-country race. But French farmers seem to devote half their time to building fences and Howard was just picking up speed when he reached the first of these barriers. When a tank shell hit right behind him, he dropped into his high hurdle kick and cleared the fence without a pause.

A second shell and a second fence arrived simultaneously and Howard cleared the fence without even touching the top bar. It was the same with the third fence he encountered.

"I think they fired one more round," Howard said later, "but I was out in open country by then and it never caught up."

The Germans are getting more and more thoughtful. This time it was musical instruments they abandoned when a bunch of third division doughboys—homesick for a jam session—chased them out of a house on the western front. "Well, well," grinned Lieut. Joseph H. Emberger of Eddyville, Ky., picking up a clarinet. The lieutenant used to be quite a likely lad with the licorice stick back in Bowling Green, Ky., State Teachers college. "Leave us pause and play a tune or two," he said.

Lieut. Col. Lloyd Ramsey, another Kentuckian from Somerset, was willing. He tested a trombone. "Not as good as an American, but it will play," he said.

Being only a private, Lewis Y. Sumner of 450 W. 49th street, New York City, didn't interrupt the officers' conversation, but bent over the German drums, fondling the sticks with a faraway look in his eyes.

A moment later, the six-bit customers sitting in the swastika section stared at each other in amazement as the sweet and hot strains of Yankee jive flowed out across no man's land.

The Daily Iowan Salutes—

W. Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, will speak this afternoon at the Information First program at 4 o'clock. Mr. Hall, two weeks returned from a six-weeks tour of England and France, will describe his experiences and compare the attitude toward the war of Europeans with Americans.

A graduate of the university, he has spent many years in communicity, state and international affairs. Only through constant attention and vigilance to the course of current events by those of college age can a permanent and justified peace plan be carried out. Mr. Hall's talk, one of many Information First speeches scheduled for the campus, offers an excellent opportunity for students to become better acquainted with the state of the nation and the world.

In September, 1942, the Germans shipped her off to a concentration camp in the south of France. There she contrived a fake illness until the Germans released her to return to Paris for treatment.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Awarded Scholarship Cup

Kappa Alpha Theta Wins Second Place

Delta Gamma Ranks Third, Pi Beta Phi Fourth

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority received the Panhellenic scholarship cup at an informal meeting of all sorority women in Iowa Union last evening. Their grade point was 2.723. Second place went to Kappa Alpha Theta with an average of 2.700. Delta Gamma won third with a grade point average of 2.663 for the year 1943-44.

The announcement that the Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter had the highest grade point average of the past year was made by Mary Ann Mueller, A4 of Kansas City, Mo. Ann Mercer, A4 of Iowa City, scholarship chairman for Kappa Kappa Gamma, received the cup on behalf of her sorority. Miss Mueller stated that Kappa Kappa Gamma had made the greatest improvement of any sorority during the past year. The group also received the cup in 1936-37 and 1937-38.

The 12 sororities are listed in the order of their rank according to grade point: Kappa Kappa Gamma, 2.723; Kappa Alpha Theta, 2.700; Delta Gamma, 2.663; Pi Beta Phi, 2.630; Delta Delta Delta, 2.606; Sigma Delta Tau, 2.586; Alpha Delta Pi, 2.396; Alpha Xi Delta, 2.368; Gamma Phi Beta, 2.331; Chi Omega, 2.278; Alpha Chi Omega, 2.222; Zeta Tau Alpha, 2.204.

This cup was the one awarded by Pi Beta Phi sorority to take the place of the original scholarship cup presented to Panhellenic 12 years ago by Zeta Tau Alpha. The original trophy was won last year by Pi Beta Phi and is now in their permanent possession. Both cups have the same stipulation that the cup is to be passed around among the various houses until one house wins the cup for three consecutive years. At that time it would become the permanent possession of the sorority which had had the highest grade point average for three consecutive years.

In a brief statement before the presentation Miss Mueller expressed thanks to Prof. Earl Harper, director of Iowa Union, for the use of Iowa Union, to Mildred Buoy, A4 of Council Grove, Kan., and Jane Randolph, A3 of Marion, Ind., co-chairmen of evening's plans, and to the other sorority scholarship chairmen who served as hostesses at the meeting.

Refreshments were served to the sorority women and their special guests following presentation of the award.

Former Beta Dazed By Female Invasion

Don't be surprised if you should see a uniformed lad wandering about the campus a trifle confusedly, muttering, "Girls in the Beta house. Women in my room!"

It happened last week when a pre-war Beta Theta Pi member came back to the campus on furlough to visit his buddies in the Beta house. He walked up to the front door, and was amazed to hear the babble of female voices.

When the girls told him some fraternity houses have been converted to women's housing units, he took it in his stride as a wartime measure.

But the crowning blow came when, as an old Beta, he was escorted through his former habitat, and he found all those little pink things hanging in his old room!

Until that day comes, Western Electric's major job will be making huge quantities of radio and detection devices. Hawks Go Through Defensive Drill Against Purdue Plays

Statistics Show Bill Kersten Heads Attack

"That's been our trouble all year," said Coach Slip Madigan with a wry grin, at the conclusion of yesterday's preparations for this Saturday's version of Dante's Inferno, which, it would appear, is what his Iowa football team must face.

Slip was referring to the seeming inability of the Hawkeyes to answer the 64-dollar question once they get their hooks into the ball. To put it in basic English the squad just doesn't get the idea when it comes to assignments and plays.

But the situation which faces Madigan is very much akin to the hackneyed and trite Devil-Deep Blue Sea problem. More particularly, perhaps, than in other walks of life, those Chosen Few who profess to be close to the football scene are becoming more and more aware of a rather too-rapid passing of time these days. Before the fan even has a chance to mutter "Boy, that sure looked like a cinch" it's another Saturday night and he's shelling out on another loser.

At any rate, the Hawk coaching staff must decide on how to utilize the few valuable hours which it has. Shall it try to devise a defense to stop the battering Boiler-maker attack which will pound into Iowa stadium this week? Or should it put a further hypo into a Hawkeye offense which has already shown one or two signs of waking up? Last week, at least, said offense yawned and stretched a couple of times and, it will be recalled, even rolled over for a touchdown.

Evidently the decision has been reached to attempt to put up some kind of a flood gate against the deluge of fancy-stepping Purdue backs. Again, yesterday, the third team played the part of Dimancheff, Cody and company while the first and second stringers pondered through a stricker defensive scrimmage. The coach seemed pleased at the conclusion of the doings, however.

One item which has resulted from the practices of this week has been the rather large hint that Iowa will try to make an argumentative issue out of the fact that, the one time they have dug into pay dirt so far this season, the shovel has been the forward pass. What may prove to be a strong aerial weapon is being developed with Dick Woodard doing the firing and Johnny Stewart as the target.

This space is reserved for math majors and all others peruse it at their own risk. Anyway, here are a few statistics concerning Old Gold football. Proceed with caution:

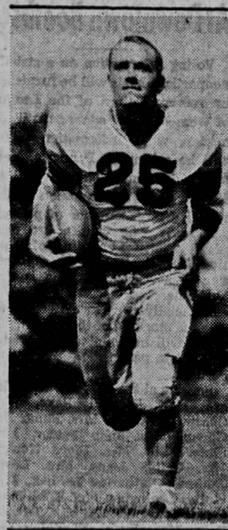

The Hawks have 18 first downs to their opponents' 20. This despite the strangling scores of the first two games. Twelve of these have been made by rushing, three by passing and three by penalties. The enemy has made 19 on the ground and one through the air.

Madigan's men have made a total of 388 net yards on the attack, have attempted 23 forwards, completed six. They have fumbled 10 times and lost the leather on seven occasions. One hundred and fifteen yards have been lost on 15 penalties. The Ohio State-Illinois combine made 727 net yards, tossed 17 aeriels and connected on six. They bobbed on only three occasions and lost possession once. They acquired the wrath of the officials 20 times and lost 100 yards.

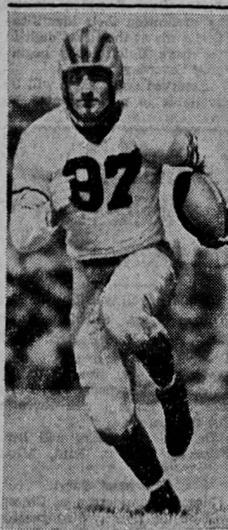

Bill Kersten is underwriting the Iowa attack with 207 yards in 20 shifts for an average of 5.3. Next in line are Jim Hansen with 21 attempts and 98 yards for a 4.6 cumulative and Dick Woodard with 18 carries, 71 yards and a 3.9 average. So far Johnny Stewart is the only man who has had the pleasure of exploring the enemy end zone in a scoring opportunity. Undoubtedly the most unpleasant part of this arithmetic lesson is the fact that the Buckeyes and the Illini scored 11 times, made good on 2 of 11 conversions for a total of 74 points. Ohio made 34 points with five touchdowns and four out of five extra points. The Orange and Blue crossed six times and converted on four of six for 40.

The Hawkeyes have completed six passes for 59 yards with Woodard heaving five for 43 and Stewart one for seven. Stewart has grabbed four for 30 yards and Russ McLaughlin two for 22. Woodard threw to Stewart for the score.

Unhappy conclusion: Statistics may be vital but they don't seem to change the results of football games.

Army Or Navy

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Right now the Army football team rates higher with the nation's experts than the Navy team rates, but we think this is due largely to circumstances as the two teams have been on an entirely different diet, speaking from an opposition standpoint, and has this circumstance been reversed the standing of the teams today might be reversed.

That is, the Army has been fattening its prestige on a soft diet while the middies have been gnawing on bones. This naturally makes the Cadets look very, very good at present while Navy is looked upon in some quarters as an over-rated squad that was great only until it played its first game.

We recall how we were sold on Army at this time a year ago as Red Blak's team had been running up some prosperity scores and seemed unstoppable. Later we discovered the reason it seemed unstoppable was that it hadn't met a line which was anything but cotton.

That's probably the case this year, and we think Coach Blak and his staff are well aware of it and look with some apprehension toward the day when the Cadets meet up with the likes of Duke, and Notre Dame, and Penn, and Navy.

While Army has been getting its experience in easy lessons, Navy started off the hard way, and although the Middies' current prestige has suffered, we have an idea they will collect their dividends later while the Army, having become accustomed to soft touches, might be collecting its lumps.

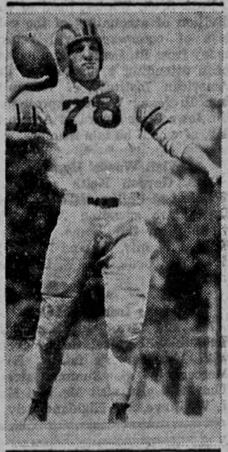

This, of course, is no reflection on the Army team or on the Army schedule. Under ordinary circumstances games with North Carolina and Pitt, two of the teams the Cadets found wanting this year, would be comparable to the Navy's games with North Carolina Pre-Flight and Duke.

It so happens that Duke and the Pre-Flight team are up this year while North Carolina and Pitt are down. Result: Army looks great; Navy not.

We think the Duke game next week will give the true line on Army's strength. Navy is known to have a good, stout line, yet it was played to a standstill by the Blue Devils. In fact, a gander at the practically negative statistics of the game leaves the impression the boys just said: "Never mind the ball; let's get on with the game," and pulled and hauled and tugged back and forth in midfield all afternoon.

Navy and Army have two more common tests, in addition to Duke, before they meet at Annapolis Dec. 2. They both meet Notre Dame and Penn, and what happens in those games largely will determine whether the Middies or the Cadets will be the favorites when they meet.

So right now you can't sell Navy short or go overboard on Army. The Cadets have been spoon fed while the Middies have had to forage for their points.

Cody Holds Lead In Yardage Honors Among Boilermakers

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—By virtue of his line blasting performance against the Iowa Seahawks, Ed Cody, explosive fullback, has taken a slight lead in the race for yardage honors among the members of Purdue's balanced backfield.

All three of the normal starting trio of ball carriers have been averaging better than four yards a crack on running plays from scrimmage to set the pace for a Boilermaker squad that has averaged 4.16 yards on 230 running plays against Great Lakes, Marquette, Illinois and the Iowa Seahawks in order.

Cody leads in the yardage column with 295 yards, but is closely pressed by Boris "Babe" Dimancheff, who has accumulated 273 yards in three less attempts, Chalmers "Bump" Elliott, speedy left halfback, has the highest average gain for the season of 4.91 yards as a result of picking up 221 yards in 45 attempts.

If possession is nine points of the law, the law has been on Purdue's side so far this football season.

The manner in which Purdue has controlled the ball is revealed by the figures on scrimmage plays in the four Boilermaker games to date, as follows:

Against Great Lakes, the Boilermakers ran 63 scrimmage plays and the Bluejackets 47.

Against Marquette, the Boilermakers ran 71 scrimmage plays and the Hilltoppers 46.

Against Illinois, the Boilermakers ran 74 scrimmage plays and the Illini 42.

Against Iowa Pre-Flight, the Boilermakers ran 59 scrimmage plays and the Seahawks 55.

Purdue's rambling backs are waging a merry battle for scoring honors. Currently, Boris "Babe" Dimancheff and Ed Cody are tied for the blue ribbon with four touchdowns each, while Chalmers "Bump" Elliott is close behind with three.

Rams Lead League But Not in Statistics

Cleveland Grid Pros Have Recovered Nine Of Ennemies' Fumbles

CHICAGO (AP)—Cold statistics usually are pretty dull reading, and evidently those amazing Cleveland Rams, a paradox in the National football league today, don't bother to peruse them at all.

Today the Rams are rambling along on the crest of a wave of three straight conference victories, but in the statistics department they don't measure up to their three opponents—the Card-Pitt combine, Chicago Bears, and Detroit Lions.

Official statistics show the Rams have advanced but 569 yards against those three foes; both by rushing and passing while they have surrendered 759 yards—a difference of 184 yards. Yet, they still are unbeaten, and will hit their big test Sunday when they meet the league-leading Green Bay Packers at Green Bay.

But while the statistics show the Rams have given up 26 first downs to 25 of their own, an analysis does give a hint as to the reason they're still unbeaten. They have recovered nine of 12 fumbles by their three league opponents. And of their total of 569 yards gained, 333 were by passing.

Eight of the ten teams in the league lead the Rams in total yards gained, with the Packers, who have won four straight, far in the lead in all the ground-gaining departments. Even Cleveland's three league victims are ahead in ground-gaining.

Green Bay, with 65 first downs, has marked up 1,293 yards, 664 by rushing, 625 by passing and four on laterals. Other team totals are: Detroit, 25 first downs, 713 yards; Chicago Bears, 37 first downs, 841 yards; Washington, 29 first downs, 703 yards; Brooklyn, 39 and 670; Card-Pitt, 23 and 598; Philadelphia, 22 and 538; Boston 28 and 397; New York 12 and 350.

Cleveland, too, was second in average punt returns, 15.2 yards in 11 tries, and led in kickoff returns with a 25.6-yard average in 12 tries. Other team averages on punt returns were: punts returned, Philadelphia, average 15.6 yards in five returns; Washington, 13.5 in four; Brooklyn 13.3 in three; Detroit, 14.0 in eight; New York, 12.1 in eight; Boston, 11.4 in 15; Green Bay, 8.5 in 11; Card-Pitt, 7.6 in five, and Chicago Bears 3.8 in seven.

Philadelphia was ahead in punting with an average of 42.8 yards for 12 kicks. New York was second, with 41.7 in 17, and the Rams were third with a 40-yard average for 18 kicks.

Vic Kulbitski Rejoins Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Vic Kulbitski, Minnesota fullback in 1942 and last year with Notre Dame, rejoined the Gopher squad here yesterday at practice after receiving a medical discharge from the marines. Although reported not in top football condition, he is expected to be of some aid to the Gophers in their game with Ohio State Oct. 28.

Boilermaker Squad

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Twenty-one civilian members of Purdue's football team will leave here late today for Cedar Rapids, enroute to Iowa City, where the Boilermakers will play Iowa Saturday. Fifteen navy V-12 players will leave Friday afternoon.

Bob Derleth Unable To Play Sunday

Seahawk Tackle To Be Out of Play For Second Week

Lieut. Comdr. Jack Meagher's powerful forward wall which was so instrumental in the Seahawks' victories over the Second Airforce and Purdue, suffered another loss yesterday when it was learned that Bob Derleth, former tackle at Michigan, will not be in shape for the contest with Ft. Warren here Sunday.

To give reserve strength to the tackle spots James Blair, 19-year-old end from Oberlin, was shifted to a tackle yesterday. Other ends who were given serious consideration in practice yesterday were Richard Hamlow, a 195-pound former tackle at Wisconsin, and John Anderson, a 19-year-old who played football while in the V-5 program at Oberlin.

Derleth, who made his first appearance in the game with the Superbombers, was laid up last week with an infection and will still be out with that this week.

The Seahawks, who do not in the least regard this game as a breather on their schedule, went through a stiff workout yesterday and will start tapering off tomorrow.

Winner of four straight games, three of those involving the best in competition, the Seahawks are now being compared to Pre-Flight teams of the last two years.

Already better than the 1942 Seahawks, this year's edition is considered by some to be better than the 1943 team which rated No. 2 team in the nation, after losing only one game all season, that to Notre Dame, 14-13.

Minus the services of the officers except in service contests this year, the cadets, who on the whole are younger and less experienced than their mates of former years, have proved their worth against some of the toughest competition.

Johnny Roesch Compiles Mark To Shoot At

LOS ANGELES (AP)—He has only two more games before the navy transfers him from the UCLA Bruins, but Johnny Roesch, the campus' 160-pound halfback sensation from nearby Beverly Hills high school, has compiled a yard-gaining and scoring mark for everybody to shoot at.

Roesch has played only one-fourth of the time in UCLA's four games, but he has registered 631 yards to average 10 yards a minute. His other accomplishments include: Catching six passes for 135 yards. Scoring seven of UCLA's 10 touchdowns, two on passes, three on rushes, one on a punt return and the other on a pass interception.

Returning three punts for 122 yards. Returning two kickoffs for 47 yards. Running 56 yards for a touchdown with a lateral from quarterback Bob Waterfield after Waterfield had intercepted a pass.

Roesch has played but 59 1/2 minutes. He performs against St. Mary's Pre-Flight here Saturday and closes with the Alameda Coast Guard game the following week.

Hey, Jonesy, Diddy Hear About Dodgers

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Those fiendish Japs devised a special torture for Brooklyn soldiers—they broadcast reports at intervals that "Dem Bums" had lost another ball game.

The story is from Pfc. Manuel V. Lopez, recently returned from the China-Burma-India theater.

After a day of hard fighting against Jap marines, he said, the Brooklyn fans would crouch in their foxholes. Then a clear voice speaking perfect English would float through the night:

"Hey Jonesy, diddy hear the Giants blasted Dem Bums today 15 to 2?"

It took strictest orders, said Lopez, to keep the Brooklynites from coming out swinging.

Buckeye Workout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's badly crippled grid team went through a hard workout yesterday afternoon against plays and formations they expect Great Lakes to show Saturday.

Coach Carroll Widdoes used a new backfield combination of Les Horvath at quarter, Bob Brugge and Dick Flanagan at halves and Ollie Cline at fullback.

The use of coffee was forbidden shortly after its introduction in Cairo about 1500 because it was considered intoxicating.

Big Ten Grid Teams Prepare For Conference, Other Games

BADGERS' BEST

By Jack Sords

Change Squad Lineups

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Earl Heiss, who started for Illinois center in the Iowa game last Sunday yesterday withdrew from Coach Ray Eliot's squad because of a recurrence of an old injury that necessitated his medical discharge from the army.

Emil Tomanek will open at the pivot position when the Illini meet Pittsburgh Saturday. Eliot made his charges into scrimmage yesterday with the "B" team running some Pitt offensive plays. Purdue defense was also stressed.

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's football coaches yesterday concentrated on the Badgers' passing game as they pointed for Saturday's meeting with Notre Dame at South Bend.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher decreed light workouts to avoid injury possibilities and five regulars, injured or ill earlier in the week, were onlookers. All will be ready to play Saturday.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Harry Jagade, Indiana fullback who has been out of action since the Michigan game, worked out with the Hoosiers yesterday and is expected to play against Northwestern Saturday. Coach Bo McMillin continued to drill the team on blocking and tackling. Timing of plays and passing offense also received attention.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan's football squad, dividing its time between semester exams and preparation for an Oct. 28 clash with Purdue, went through a light workout yesterday, polishing a ground game that gained 450 yards in last week's 10-0 romp over Northwestern. Halfback Bob Nussbaumer, marionettee from Oak Park, Ill., who scored two touchdowns against the Wildcats, will play his last collegiate game against the Boilermakers before being transferred to a marine base.

EVANSTON (AP)—Benny Schader, veteran sophomore quarterback, showed up yesterday at Northwestern university's football practice in full uniform after being out with injuries all season. Johnny Yungwirth, the team's outstanding back, also rejoined the squad after visiting his home in Fond Du Lac, Wis., Monday upon learning of the death of his brother, Bob, in France.

Two Horses Run Second Dead Heat For Remsen Handicap

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Great Power and the Maine Chance farm's War Jeep ran the second dead heat in the history of the $10,000 added Remsen handicap yesterday at Jamaica before 23,143 fans who bet $2,397,042 on the seven-race program.

G. D. Widener's Plebiscite was third, a half length off the leading pair at the end of a stirring six furlongs run in 1:12 2/5.

In the split payoff, each winner returned $2.70. The daily double combine of Blue Stride and Goldbart paid $997.40.

Adriot drove to a length and a half triumph in the $10,000 added W. P. Burch memorial handicap at Laurel to pay $8.90. The camera broke up a three-way photo for second money, giving the place to Big Push and the show to Salto.

No Wrinkles won the Eddie Hurley memorial handicap at Rockingham park. Dinner Party was second with Drudge third. No wrinkles paid $3.80.

Iowa State Stresses Speed on Offense

AMES (AP)—More speed on the offense was the goal of the Iowa State college football squad as it completed its heavy workouts last night with special emphasis on the passing attack.

Coach Mike Michalske said the 32-man squad he would take to Columbia for Saturday's Big Six conference game with Missouri was in top physical condition.

Working again with the first string backfield was reserve John McKee who sands only five foot six inches but is reportedly a good ballhandler.

St. Pat's Starts Basketball

With the football season just swinging into full gear, some thoughts have already turned to the basketball season just around the corner.

Twenty-one boys, including three seniors, five juniors and the rest sophomores and transfer students, reported for the initial basketball practice Monday at St. Patrick's. The three seniors back from last year's squad are Don "Red" Gatens and Bob Connell, all-city selections, and Gene Herdlika. Seeing considerable action also last year were Bob Brown, Merle and Tom Hoie, Sullivan and Belger, all of whom are expected to bolster this year's team.

Coach Cliff Krita will work the squad out daily from 4 to 6 p. m. in the St. Patrick's gym. The practices will consist only of conditional workouts until Nov. 1, after which heavier workouts will begin.

Madigan Talks To Scouts

Suggests Scouting To Replace Compulsory Military Training

Coach E. P. "Slip" Madigan told 800 persons attending the Scout-parent appreciation dinner last night that, "No matter what endeavor, it pays well to know the rules of the game, of scouting and of life and to apply those rules."

Comparing the merits of scouting and athletics, Madigan said that football and scouting teach ability to think for oneself, comradeship and sportsmanship.

Speaking directly to mothers and fathers at the banquet, he said, "I think training as a Boy Scout would do more than months and year of drill. Scouting could replace military training after this war."

In a court of honor ceremony, Dean Housel received the rank of Eagle Scout, highest Boy Scout award.

His brother, Wayne Housel, yeoman in the navy, was awarded the Eagle Scout rank in absentia. After receiving his award, Dean presented his mother with a badge. Dean's three brothers also have been Eagle Scouts.

In court of honor ceremonies, Scout groups receiving awards repeated the Scout oath during a candle-lighting ceremony. Candles represented the spirit of scouting. Scouts received their awards at the speaker's table which was flanked by the American and Boy Scout flags. A large portrait of a Boy Scout served as backdrop for the speaker's table.

The Rev. Elmer Dierks offered the invocation preceding the dinner. Owen B. Thiel, scout executive, and Mrs. E. E. Blythe led community singing following the dinner. Introductions were made by Jack C. White, council president, and the Rev. F. F. Putnam gave the response to appreciation by Patrol Leader Franklin Walters.

Scout ranks awarded under direction of Edward Lynn, chairman, were as follows:

Awarded the rank of second class scout were James Cilek, Albert Newton, Henry Rate and Charles Sindelar.

Those awarded first class rank were Jerry Anderson, Jim Barnes, Jack Cooper, Frank Copeland, Jim McDaniel and Bill Thomas.

'American Boys in England Feel This Their War,' Capt. H. Colton Minchin Tells Lions

"American boys in England feel that this is their war, and that they're taking a share in it. They are conscious of the quality of the people with whom they're living. They're aware of what it is all about and the dangers of the future."

Capt. H. Colton Minchin, attache of the British embassy in Washington, spoke to Lions club yesterday noon at Reich's cafe describing the England of today with the influx of American service men. Captain Colton Minchin commented that there is a great difference in the outlook of the men in comparison to 1943. While in England last August he noted that two questions were uppermost in their minds.

1. Do they know there's a war on at home?

2. Do they realize what it's all about?

Captain Colton Minchin, in discussing the attitude between Britishers and Americans, stated that General Eisenhower has done more to further victory by creating a real allied spirit than anybody would have thought possible.

The Yank gets more to spend than does the British Tommie, the speaker said. The British girl is attracted at first by the new American faces and their cheery manner. She has a better time with an American because he has more money to spend. "British girls are every bit as faithful and fickle as their American counterpart," he added.

In describing the robot bomb attacks of June and July, Captain Colton Minchin related that 17,000 houses were destroyed or damaged each day.

Captain Colton Minchin, who is a graduate of Eton and Sandhurst, served in World War I as an infantryman and pilot.

During the brief business meeting, Prof. Paul Olson, president of the club, presented Prof. H. W. Saunders with a past president's pin.
