Allies Mop Up Fallen German City of Aachen

Force Nazis From Burrows

Trap 1,000 Nazis, Inflict Rigid Code In Occupation

AACHEN, Germany (AP)—The German border city of Aachen reduced to wreckage by American shells and bombing planes and torn by days of savage street fighting, fell yesterday to American troops who drove the last of its desperately resisting Nazi garrison from their burrows in the city proper. Last night the victorious Yanks began mopping up the remnants of Nazis hopelessly trapped in pockets on the outskirts of this mass of wreckage. There were estimated to be between 500 and 1,000 Germans trapped in the vise, in addition to approximately 2,000 already captured.

(Frontline reports received in London last night said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's rigid code for occupied Germany was already being put into effect in the captured city.

(As troops, the Nazis' elite guard, which resisted the Americans desperately, had fortified their courage with wine and liquor seized in earlier pillaging tours.)

Troops under the command of Lieut. Col. Merrill Daniel of Geneva, N. Y., knocked out the last major German stronghold in the city at 3:30 p. m. (9:30 a. m. CWT) with direct fire from a 155 mm. rifle blasting at close range.

A Yank private sitting in a window several yards in front of the gun was blown from his perch by the muzzle blast and knocked all the way across the room.

Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First army troops have been attacking Aachen, medieval seat of Charlemagne's empire and important bastion of the Siegfried line, since Sept. 15. Oct. 10 the city's German garrison was ordered to surrender within 24 hours or be annihilated by American guns and planes. When the ultimatum was rejected the Yanks launched an all-out assault that quickly settled into house-to-house fighting with bayonets, bazookas and self-propelled guns.

Aachen's fall nails down the right flank of a solid 85-mile front anchored at Arnhem in Holland.

(Canadian armor and infantry opened a new offensive Friday north of Antwerp aimed at giving flanking insurance to other Canadian forces who had sealed the neck of the peninsula leading onto south Beveland and Walcheren islands in the Schelde estuary. The new drive gained more than five miles in the first few hours, a front dispatch said.)

Roosevelt Ready For Political Sortie

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt dusted off his old campaign hat and favorite navy cape last night and was all ready for a major political sortie today into vote-heavy New York City. It is not as president, not as commander-in-chief, but as Candidate Roosevelt that he is invading New York City for a full day's electioneering and an expanded foreign policy address.

Censorship restrictions which have cloaked all movements of the chief executive were lifted for the first time since the war began. And, as in pre-war days, the president took a full crew of reporters and photographers aboard his special train.

Pierre Laval, 61, Condemned to Die

PARIS (AP)—Pierre Laval, the executor of Hitler's order when France was under the German heel, has been condemned to death in absentia by a Marshall court for having "intelligently" with the enemy. Paris newspapers said yesterday. The whereabouts of the 61-year-old former Vichy chief of government was a matter for conjecture. A recent Stockholm dispatch said Laval was understood to be living in southern Germany with the aged Marshal Petain and other members of the fugitive Vichy government.

Dewey Renews Claim Of 'One-Man' Control

New Deal 'Bankrupt,' FDR Feels Defeat, Republican Asserts

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Losing a new barrage at what he calls "One-man Government," Thomas E. Dewey last night declared that President Roosevelt is trying to make political capital out of social gains which he said were initiated by Republican administrations.

The New York governor promised to expand and broaden these gains if elected. After declaring that Democrats resent "the kidnapping of their party by the Communists and the political action committee," the Republican presidential nominee said in a prepared broadcast: "It is time to face the fact that the New Deal is a bankrupt organization, living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people."

The New York governor, who came here from Albany for a one-speech appearance and planned to return to the New York capital immediately, earlier expressed belief that Mr. Roosevelt's decision to campaign actively in Philadelphia, New York and other cities indicated fear of defeat.

Court Marks 'Secret' Pearl Harbor Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal announced last night that he had received a report from the naval court which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster, but that the court had marked it secret. Representative Maas (R., Minn.) and others have charged that the report is being withheld from the public because of political reasons. Announcing that he was determined to force publication before the election, Maas has declared that high government officials knew of the forthcoming attack on Pearl Harbor six hours before it occurred but failed to notify Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, commanders on the scene.

Churchill, Stalin End Moscow Conference

Set Yugoslav Policy, Announce Progress In Polish Settlement

MOSCOW, SATURDAY (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin have ended their conference here after making important progress toward settlement of the Polish question and establishing a joint British-Russian policy toward Yugoslavia, it was announced today.

Britain and Russia agreed upon joint efforts to expel the Germans from Yugoslavia and to bring about a union of the royal Yugoslav government and Marshal Tito's national liberation movement, and both great powers agreed that the Yugoslav people have the inalienable right to settle their constitutional future after the war.

The agreements were reached with the full approval and knowledge of the United States government.

The two allied chiefs were able to report that the Polish differences which had shaken the united nations structure have been notably narrowed as a result of the Moscow conferences, and that misconceptions have been dispelled.

Sitting in on these sessions were Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk and Foreign Minister Tadeusz Romer of the Polish government in London, President Boleslaw Berut, Polish national council chairman, and Edward Osuba-Morawski of the Polish committee of national liberation.

The Polish conversations are continuing, with harmony established between the Soviet union and both Polish camps.

The two statesmen also reached accord on the remaining points of the Bulgarian armistice in 11 days of conference here in the Soviet capital.

Stalin and the British prime minister also discussed military conclusions of the Roosevelt-Churchill Quebec conference regarding winning of the war in western Europe.

Oil Heiress Murder Remains Unsolved

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A coroner's jury which heard a sheriff's investigator testify that every suspect in the death Oct. 12 of Georgette Bauerdorf, 20-year-old Hollywood canteen hostess, had been eliminated yesterday found the oil heiress had been strangled by an unknown person. The officer, Ray T. Hopkinson, testified that he found her body lying in the bath tub, from which the water had been drawn. It was clad only in the top part of her pajamas, he added, and a piece of elastic bandage nine inches square had been thrust into her throat. An autopsy disclosed the girl had been raped, but the apartment showed no signs of a struggle. She had drawn $75 from a bank three days before, Hopkinson said, and this was missing from the apartment, but a quantity of valuable jewelry had not been taken, eliminating robbery as a motive. Her automobile, with the keys in the ignition switch and the gasoline tank empty, was found later 10 miles away.

Belgrade, Debrecen Captured by Russians

Berlin Also Admits Advance of Reds In Pre-War Germany

LONDON (AP)—Russian and allied troops captured the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade and conquered Hungary's third city of Debrecen on the road to Budapest yesterday as Berlin announced that other Soviet forces crashing through the smoking ruins of East Prussian villages had penetrated seven miles inside pre-war Germany.

A total of 17,147 Germans were killed or captured in a trap southeast of Belgrade, Moscow's daily bulletin announced. Waves of Red army warriors punched new holes in Nazi homeland defenses on a 25-mile front opposite Lithuania, reaching the area of Eibenrode (Stalluponen), a communications center seven miles inside the Junkers province, Berlin said.

Moscow was silent on the invasion of Germany, but Berlin broadcasts said the still-rolling offensive from the east was within 30 miles of the large junction of Insterburg on the Kaunas-Konigsberg highway and was accompanied by other heavy Soviet thrusts from northern Poland on the southern side of the Junker province.

A new Soviet crossing of the frontier south of Eberrode and Eydtkau, the latter a frontier village taken Thursday, resulted in Red army troops reaching the Romintenske Heide, Berlin said. This is a 135-square-mile area of heath and forest land four to seven miles inside East Prussia. Berlin announced that units of Heinrich Himmler's home army of males between 16 and 60 already had been hurled in as reserves.

The 2,000-year-old city of Belgrade on the Danube, captured by the Germans April 13, 1941, fell after almost a week of siege to Third Ukraine army units under Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin, conqueror of Bulgaria. Berlin acknowledged the fall of Belgrade.

Greek Guerrillas Aid In Pushing Germans Toward Yugoslavia

ROME (AP)—Greek guerrilla forces were credited by the allied high command yesterday with aiding in speeding the withdrawal of the Germans through northern Greece toward Yugoslavia, while British troops occupied Thebes, 32 miles northwest of Athens. A reliable Cairo source said the Germans were evacuating the large island of Lemnos in the northern Aegean sea, leaving probably the equivalent of two divisions spread out over western Crete, Rhodes, Coo, Leros and

Yanks on Leyte Move Inland; Casualties Light

LOSS OF HUNGARY, her last satellite ally—which appears imminent—will force Germany to continue the war alone. Italy, Romania, Finland and Bulgaria have already withdrawn from the axis. Japan, engaged in mortal combat in her own theater of war, is of no use whatever to the Nazis. The shaded area shows the territory in Europe still under control of the German army.

Jap Opposition Reported Light

Americans Fight Same Japanese As at Bataan

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Saturday (AP)—Yank ground forces have consolidated all beachheads on Leyte in the central Philippines and are moving inland, headquarters announced today in its second communique on the invasion. Ground casualties were reported comparatively light.

Food and supplies are pouring ashore as the invaders come to grips with the selfsame Japanese who tortured the Americans and Filipinos following the surrender at Bataan in 1942.

The Japanese airforce dealt counterblows and succeeded in damaging one of the vessels of the 600-ship convoy, the communique said. Another was hit by shore-fire.

The communique made no reference to a report from the invasion scene that the 6,000-foot airfield at Tacloban on Leyte had been seized.

Enemy opposition to the continued landings was reported light.

Appeals to Filipinos MacArthur, who is backed by the greatest naval, air and troop masses ever assembled for an amphibious operation in the Pacific, issued his new communique after he had stood, rain-drenched, in a broken down signal truck and broadcast over a hand microphone an appeal to the Filipinos to strike the foe as their liberators advanced.

Front line dispatches from Associated Press war correspondents reported bitter beachhead opposition to yesterday's landings only at one point but there four landing craft and several small craft were lost.

Mammoth Convoy Murlin Spencer, Associated Press war correspondent with the invaders, said the mammoth convoy, exceeding that which took the allies to landings in North Africa, carried as many men as perhaps more than were put ashore on French Normandy on D-day. Prime Minister Churchill has disclosed that nearly 250,000 men were landed in Normandy on the first day.

Casualties since the Leyte landings started yesterday have been kept low by constant coverage of the airforces and ships' guns, including the 16-inchers of battleships.

A Pearl Harbor communique of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, detailing how carrier planes laid low the Japanese defenders on Leyte and nearby islands to help clear the way for landings, listed the destruction of 87 planes and the sinking of a large enemy cargo ship.

Cleveland Explosions Kills, Injures 200

CLEVELAND (AP)—A series of terrific liquid gas storage tank blasts and the resultant holocaust yesterday dealt flaming death to an undetermined number of persons, caused injuries to some 200 others and devastated sections of residential property over a 50-block area on Cleveland's east side.

While only three victims' bodies were received at the county morgue, estimates of fatalities ranged from 12 to possibly 40. Five of the hospitalized injured were reported in critical condition.

Officials of the East Ohio Gas company, owner of the $6,000,000 liquefying and storage properties, said an explosion in a nearby testing laboratory of the American Gas association apparently fired the liquid gas tanks. Cause of the laboratory explosion was not immediately established.

The number of homes within the area from which residents were evacuated was estimated at 800, with a sprinkling of small business places. Unofficial sources said the number of persons driven from their homes might exceed 1,500.

Alpha Chi Omega Leads Badge Sale

Nearing the goal of 15,000 Homecoming badges sold during the four day campaign, third day sales reached 13,465 buttons with Alpha Chi Omega sorority still leading the group by sales of 5,610 badges, Prof. Louis C. Zopf, chairman of the Homecoming committee, announced. Kappa Kappa Gamma still holds second place honors, while Pi Beta Phi has jumped to third place, followed by the Delta Gamma. Following are the standings of the four sororities as the final day of the campaign opens: Alpha Chi Omega .....5,160 Kappa Kappa Gamma .....4,565 Pi Beta Phi .....2,143 Delta Gamma .....1,597 Grand Total .....13,456

Roosevelt Agrees Philippine Invasion Only Start of Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt expressed the nation's grim satisfaction over the invasion of the Philippines yesterday but said nothing to lighten the sober view taken by military men here that the operation represents only a good beginning on a big job. The president, reading from a message from General Douglas MacArthur last night, told his news conference that operations were making "splendid progress" with landing losses "extremely light" and the enemy caught strategically off guard by the assault on Leyte island. The president said he was very happy that MacArthur had made good on his dream and statement that he would return to the islands. He said he discussed the plan of operations with the general when he visited Pearl Harbor last summer. In a message to President Sergio Osmena who went into the islands with MacArthur's forces, Roosevelt promised that when the Japanese have been ousted, "the Philippines will take their place as a free and independent member of the family of nations."

Der Fuhrer Fibbed

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP)—Mayor E. E. Kraus quoted a German prisoner of war working in the broom corn harvest near Clovis as saying: "Hitler said we'd march across the United States, but he didn't tell us about pulling cotton and broom corn on the way."

Republicans to Meet

The student Republican party Monday night will launch its campaign in preparation for the Nov. 6 campus straw vote, under the sponsorship of Gavel club. Monday's meeting, to be held in room 7, Schaeffer hall, at 8 p. m., will be an organizational meeting to select committees and plan Republican campaign strategy. Bob Ray, G of Iowa City, is Republican student party chairman.

'Commander' Coder Leads 3,000 Students in Homecoming Rally

With orders and strategy called by "Commander" William Coder, 3,000 cheering students, faculty, alumni and team members of the University of Iowa met last night for pre-invasion plans on the east steps of Old Capitol with the corn monument, university band, cheerleaders and Highlanders providing unceasing spirit to Iowa's 33rd Homecoming. The band, directed by Prof. C. B. Righter, led Iowa songs and the Highlanders made their first official appearance. With the presentation of the colors, Stars and Stripes and Iowa's Old Gold, the crowd joined in the national anthem, preliminary tactics, to the military analogy of the rally. The first verbal assault was sounded by Coder who said, "We stand on the eve of a great invasion. This is D-day, minus one. H-hour is tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Before an invasion as important as this one, it is necessary to have a plan of operations. Tomorrow we must completely annihilate the well-defended enemy, the island of Purdue." He then introduced "Commander-in-Chief" Virgil M. Hancher who spoke of the war and today's game. "I greet you, men and women of Iowa," he began, "in the heart of the university. Beneath the dome of Old Capitol in November of 1940 I stood before this place for the first time at a Homecoming. I have seen boys go to the far corners of the earth during this war. Eight thousand of them, men and women of the university, are serving in armed service on every corner of the globe. Of them 100 have given their lives to serve. More than 25,000 now in the armed forces have had some part of their military training on this campus," he observed. "Many of them tonight have their thoughts turned to the peace and quiet of the days they were here. Thoughts of home and Slip and the team and the game tomorrow." "Commander" Coder carried on with "In this democracy we have the army, navy and marines and the homefront—represented by air raid warden, Bruce Hughes, A2 of Sioux City. "Carry on Old Gold to the four corners of the earth and give the team a sendoff for that invasion," declared Hughes.

"No invasion is complete without its supplies," decided tactful Coder, introducing the alumnae who "automatically becomes supply officer." "Alumni supply money to sons and daughters, endowments to the university and advice to the president for running the university." Commander of the service of supplies was Walter L. Stewart, president of the Alumni association. Just 20 years ago, he recalled, he had sat on the platform with the Iowa team, but in those days there was no Homecoming. "We had a crowd and spirit, but those too have grown," he said.

"When we come from the field, whether the score is for Iowa or not, you will be proud of the fact that you come from Iowa, win, lose or draw." John Wansik, E4 of Hartford, Conn., president of the Associated Students of Engineering, was the next general to announce battle results as he described the $150 corn monument and presented to Robert McMahon, A3 of Iowa City, the award for the winning design. Coder next presented V. F. W. representative Mike Hyland, president of the 1910 football team, the first Hawkeye team to beat Purdue. This No. 1 veteran expressed the desires of his colleague Stewart that the spirit of the Iowa fight be carried on despite a losing score.

Annex Swimming Pool Looks Pretty Good

"Just browsing around the annex gymnasium swimming pool," was marine ace, Capt. James Cupp, former University of Iowa Dolphin. After 15 months with the 213th marine squadron of Hell Hawks, in the Solomon Islands, it looked definitely tame to this reporter, but "Captain Jim" assured me it looked pretty good to him.

His total kill of Japanese planes is an even dozen. Knocking five out in three days, earned him his title of ace, and after that for an even more brilliant record, he chalked up five in one hop.

"We were taught fighting as a team," he said, "and that's the way our squadron functioned overseas too. Neither the flight leader or any of us believe in lone wolf glory."

It was while on a routine combat mission that Capt. Cupp was shot down off his Munda base into Japanese waters. His Corsair fighter destroyed, he managed to keep afloat for seven hours before he was picked up by an American PT boat. He was taken back to Munda for treatment of severe body burns. His legs burned into the tendons, a bad right arm and face and head burns, he was covered with paraffin wax. Later he was moved to Guadalcanal, the Caledonias and San Francisco for plastic surgery.

He remarked the Jap fighters were good, but our planes outmaneuvered them. Jap pilots never carry parachutes over enemy territory. It is part of their strange philosophy of life not to be captured, so if the plane is hit, they ride it down. One time, he recounted, a Zero came up under my plane and just let me shoot him down. The pilot must have been tired of the war, he mused. Often times, in combat over Jap airbases, pilots who bail out of flaming planes unbuckle their parachutes and fall to earth if an American plane swoops near. American pilots think the Jap fears strafing.

Questioned about the famed Aussie beauties he told me with a smile, "Australian girls want to marry American servicemen and their highest ambition is to appear on the American stage."

He is spending his convalescent two month leave with his wife, Daphney, at Fairfield. Afterwards, he'll report back to San Francisco for reassignment.

After much coaxing he predicted a two year longer war in the South Pacific theater, however, no amount of persuasion could get him to predict the Purdue-Iowa football game. Somehow, he'd escaped buying a homecoming button, so a hasty transaction from my lapel to his flying jacket fixed the ace so he could venture down city streets in apparent safety and be to the busy crowd, another fighting marine here for '44 homecoming.

Opinion On and Off the Campus—

What Do You Think of the Student Straw Vote Plan?

Ruth Koch, Rock Island, Ill.: "I think it is an excellent plan. Since all of us on campus will soon be voters, it is a good idea for us to form our opinions now. College students, who will soon be among those shaping the post-war world, should by now have interest in the coming election."

Jack Smith, Al, Clinton: "I like the idea of this straw vote. It will help create interest by students for the election."

Helen Oltman, A3, Oak Park, Ill.: "I think it's a good idea because it helps students to become politically minded and interested in politics. Even if the majority of students are too young to vote, they will soon be the people who will have to decide the national issues of the day. If the students take the straw vote seriously, it will be a help in making them better voters."

Harriet Silver, A2, Davenport: "It should be interesting to see the result of a student vote in light of the national election. National polls have shown that the younger voters of the country favor the Roosevelt-Truman ticket, and, with a straw vote at S. U. I. we will see if Iowa students follow that trend."

Dr. Hans von Hentig, research professor of the University of Puerto Rico: "I think the straw vote for students is a good idea."

Dolores Scheetman, A2, Greeley: "I think it is a good idea. It may not indicate the way the nation will vote in November but it will give us an idea of which candidate is favored by the students. The straw vote should be fairly representative of the young people throughout the country."

since there are students on the campus from nearly all 48 states who will be voting.

Polly Mix, A3, Cleveland, Ohio: "I think it's a good idea because it encourages students to keep up on current affairs. It also gives them a chance for some political activity."

Helen Harten, G, Albion, Mich.: "I think it's a fine idea because it makes the groups on campus conscious of national affairs when perhaps they wouldn't pay much attention to them otherwise. It creates a lot of sincere interest and also is lots of fun."

Maxine Forney, A1, Ida Grove: "It's a very good idea. We did it my freshman year in high school and it's a fine way to get the opinion of the younger as well as the older generation."

Kirke Simpson Interprets the War News

American hearts thrilled with pride as the war bulletins brought tidings of heavy new American blows against Germany and Japan alike, matching Russian victories and the steady, remorseless advance of allied comrades elsewhere.

A triumphant announcement from General MacArthur confirmed Japanese reports that American re-occupation of the Philippines is well under way. In Europe shell and bomb ridden Aachen, the first German community of size and tactical and strategic consequence to be taken fell to American arms, a desolate, war-wrecked symbol of the fate awaiting other German cities at allied and Russian hands.

There were notable developments on other fronts to match these. The Russian invasion of Germany proper via the breakthrough into East Prussia was in full motion by Berlin admission. An Hungarian Russian column closed swiftly on Budapest and intensified the growing threat to Vienna. A Nazi retreat from the last German held islands of the eastern Mediterranean and Aegean seas was clearly discernable.

It was westward across the Pacific that American eyes looked first, however, to appraise the total change in the war there. MacArthur's return at the head of a powerful army to the Philippines represented. His own bold words in announcing the successful descent upon Leyte to catch the Nipponese foe off guard left no doubt that American military genius had paved the way for American valor to come decisively to grips with a treacherous enemy ashore as well as afloat and in the air.

The striking aspect of that long amphibious jump, bypassing Mindanao to land on flat and productive Leyte above it and knife powerful Japanese armies in the Philippines apart at a single stroke, is that it closed in to its designated beach landings undetected. That again demonstrates the overwhelming American air and sea superiority built up the Pacific.

But for the fact that Japan has been blinded and rendered impotent in the air and her still powerful fleet been herded into remote hiding places, no commander would have dared take the risk of that long voyage.

There can be no question that General MacArthur will have not only the willing and effective help of Filipino forces he promptly and eloquently summoned to action from his beachhead command post, but that he was fully informed of enemy dispositions in advance of his attack.

The MacArthur estimate 500,000 Japanese troops potentially cut off in the southern part of the Nipponese South China conquest zone looks ahead, probably, to early seizure of other central islands and the opening of the Philippine inland sea to the passage into the Sulu archipelago and the lower China sea itself.

Since the outbreak of war in June, 1941, the need for clothing has been desperate.

Kind of clothing needed includes every usable, wearable article: suits, coats, overcoats, sweaters, caps, trousers, vests, jackets, dresses, skirts, blouses, underwear, shoes, socks, stockings, suspenders, belts, wool and felt hats for both winter and summer wear and for all age groups.

Blankets and beddings are desperately needed.

Clothing should be mended and in good repair so it can be worn at once. Clothing of all kinds should be packed in cartons or wrapped in bundles, marked RUSIAN WAR RELIEF.

Police Judge Jack C. White has continued until called, the Memler Dairy case, which convened again yesterday afternoon. Raymond Memler is charged with selling milk in Iowa City without a city permit.

A decision on the case is pending an investigation of a milk permit issued Memler which is marked valid from Oct. 22, 1940, to Oct. 22, 1944. Clarence L. Ruppert, assistant health officer, testified yesterday that the permit issued by him was marked valid to Oct. 22, 1941.

A duplicate permit found in Ruppert's files reads that it was not valid after Oct. 22, 1941.

Memler testified that he had not changed the date and denied that he had authorized it to be changed.

City Attorney Kenneth O. Dunlop presented to the court a motion for continuance of the trial until both permits had been examined by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a complete report had been made. Judge White has not as yet acted on this motion. Attorney for the defense is William Hayek.

The court is permitting Memler to sell milk until the case is decided providing he complies with the city milk ordinance. Memler was convicted last January of selling raw milk from cows that had not been tested for Bang's disease. Judge White suspended a fine of $100 at that time.

Sam Campbell's 12-Piece Orchestra to Play For Homecoming Party in Iowa Union Tonight

The annual Homecoming party, an all-university dance, will be held tonight from 8 to 11 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union. Sam Campbell's 12-piece orchestra will play for the informal dance.

Campbell has played previously as a featured trumpet soloist with the dance bands of Ben Pollock and Roger Pryor. Since organizing his own band, he has played from coast to coast.

Special guests for the party include President and Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher, Prof. and Mrs. Louis C. Zopf, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Stewart of Des Moines, Prof. and Mrs. Earl E. Harper and Prof. and Mrs. Bruce E. Mahan.

Winifred Johnson, A3 of Chicago, chairman of the party committee, will wear a black dress with a faulle bodice and velvet skirt. The bodice is fashioned shirt waist style with a chesterfield collar and long fitted sleeves. The blouse is cut with a scalloped design where it fits onto the skirt. Miss Johnson will be attended by A-C William Richmond from the naval air base at Ottumwa.

Old Gold

OLD GOLD

O, Iowa, calm and secure on thy hill,
Looking down on the river below,
With a dignity born of the dominant will
Of the men that have lived long ago.
Oh, heir of the glory of pioneer days,
Let thy spirit be proud as of old,
For thou shalt find blessing, and honor, and praise
In the daughters and sons of Old Gold.

We shall sing and be glad with the days as they fly
In the time that we spend in thy halls,
And in sadness we'll part when thy days have gone by
And our paths turn away from thy walls.
Till the waters no more in thy river shall run,
Till the stars in the heavens grow cold,
We shall sing of the glory and fame thou hast won,
And the love that we bear for Old Gold.

This afternoon in Iowa stadium, before some 15,000 sun worshippers (a yearly hope), the 1944 version of the Old Gold will play the 33rd Homecoming game of a traditional series. This year, possibly as never before, there is absolutely no basis for any attempt at trying to guild an underdog team.

Yet, it is only logical that Hawk fans should look for a bright spot on the dull canvas. Such a ray of hope comes directly from Coach Madigan. Late yesterday, just after his Hawks had completed a quiet but determined drill in preparation for this afternoon's turmoil, Slip was in a musings mood. "You know," he said, "if we can just get by that first quarter, we should do okay for ourselves." The coach was referring to the last two contests in which Iowa has suffered early attacks of Pigs-kinitis.

Wildcats Prepare To Meet Indiana

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats, beaten in their last three starts, hope to break into the Western conference win column Saturday when they meet the Hoosiers of Indiana before an expected crowd of 30,000.

The Hoosiers, beaten by Northwestern six games in a row, are counting on a heavier team spearheaded by Bob Heerschemeyer to break into the win column in the series which dates back to 1889.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Thirty-five University of Nebraska football players left there for Kansas City and are expected to arrive in time for a short workout at Rockhurst field before proceeding to Lawrence and their conference opener against the University of Kansas.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The weatherman took a hand here yesterday as the University of Illinois came to town with one of the fastest backfields in years to meet the football Panthers of the University of Pittsburgh.

When he was asked what the outcome of the game would be, his retort was the classic: "Well, we're playing to find out the answer to that." But there are one or two other signs which at least try to point a bit of light. The Hawk-eyes will be playing before a majority of friendly faces, which may warm them to the task. Also, their offense has shown definite signs of life lately and the chances are Purdue might receive a shock at least in minor proportions.

But there is little use in trying to lower the class of the Boilermakers. In Ray Schultz, Babe Dimancheff, "Bump" Elliott and Ed Cody they have one of the strongest backfields in the nation. Nobody is fooled when he reads that Schultz has gained the gigantic total of MINUS 25 yards in rushing with the ball. These figures hide the number of forward yards he has gained on passes to 220-pound end Frank Bauman.

Against this array Iowa will send eight very young freshmen—plus an attack which might click. Dick Woodard, Bill Kersten and Jim Hansen will be in there giving. Good luck!

University High Keeps Unbeaten Record, Downs Mt. Vernon School Eleven, 14-7

By MIKE LORENZEN Daily Iowan Sports Writer

University high kept its unbeaten record intact yesterday when they defeated the Mt. Vernon eleven, 14-7, in a thrilling afternoon game.

In the opening quarter the two teams sparred, each feeling out the opponent's power and ability. The Mt. Vernon Maroons based most of their plays on end runs and attempted very few passes in the first quarter while the Blue Hawks sparked their attack on off-tackle slants and a few aerial plays. University high, after a few

Remember?—Iron Men 1939

Homecoming . . . '39. Remember it? Remember the way Nile Kinnick broke through the line to score the winning touchdown? Remember the way the packed stands shook when he streaked untouched through to score? Remember the perfection of the mellow autumn sun and the feeling of exhilaration in all homecomers?

That November in '39 hardly anyone had heard of Guadalcanal or Saipan or Peleliu. People weren't quite sure which part of France Normandy was in, and no one ever thought of it anyway. Homecomers were living in the spirit of the day—thinking only of the way Kinnick and the other Iron Men had played.

And now it's Homecoming, '44. Most homecomers won't be seeing the Hawk-eyes play today. A lot of them don't have the gas. But more of them are remembering their last Homecoming from a barracks somewhere or from the gunner's turret of a Superfort or from a hole dug in the steaming jungle of a south Pacific island. And a lot of Hawk-eyes that should be coming back this year won't ever see another Homecoming—like Nile Kinnick. Shot down or starved to death or stabbed in the back, these who rightfully should be here today won't get to see another football game . . . ever.

The Iowa gridsters are going to fight today as the Iron Men fought in the Notre Dame and Minnesota games in '39. They'll be trying to picture above to bring Iowa to victory. They'll be fighting for the Iowa undergrads cheering them from the stands. But above all, they'll be fighting for the memory of all the Iron Men that will never come back to Iowa City for another Homecoming . . .

Al Collins Plans Course for Hospital

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Collins dropped in to see us to tell how his pet project—a golf course for the Halloran general hospital—is progressing, and we are happy to report that come next year the recuperating service men there will have a nine-hole layout of their own to dig up with their shovels and No. 9 irons.

Al Collins is pro at the Sleepy Hollow club at Tarrytown, N. Y., and he makes no claim to originating the idea of the golfers, through the prodding of the P.G.A. members, providing funds to build courses to be turned over to the hospitals for the rehabilitation program. He is just carrying on the idea.

The idea took root in the fertile brain of Leo Diegel and through his efforts and the cooperation of the Philadelphia P.G.A. and golfers of the section a course is nearing completion on the grounds of the Valley Forge general hospital near Phoenixville, Pa., and already has been dedicated to the institution.

Ground for the Halloran course already has been broken, and Collins anticipates no difficulty in raising the estimated $20,000 needed to complete the job. The money will be raised by exhibitions, club tournaments, Calcutta pools and other activities of the clubs in the metropolitan section of the P.G.A.

and went to its 36. The Blue Hawks retaliated with another interception and went to their 44. On a short throw, with a double lateral Harper drove to the Mt. Vernon 24. In the closing seconds of the game Williams went over the goal on the same type of play. University converted making the score 14-7. As the game ended the Blue Hawks had intercepted a Maroon pass and had plunged into enemy territory.

Marshalltown Rolls Up 38-0 Win Over Outclassed City High

By ROY LUCE Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Scoring at will, the Marshalltown Bobcats rolled to a 38-0 victory last night over an impotent and badly outclassed City high eleven before a crowd of 2,000.

Leading the Cat's attack were Shaw and Batesole. It was Shaw who put on the one man show, however, as he pitched passes all over the field, plowed through center and kept going with two or three Little Hawks hanging on to him.

The Marshalltown aggregation scored two minutes after the opening kickoff with Shaw plunging over from the 4-yard line. The kick for the extra point was blocked.

Muff Scoring Chances The Little Hawks' only scoring chance was muffed as Krall over-shot Wilson streaking down the sidelines without a Bobcat around him. On the next play the Hawk-lets fumbled with Etter recovering for the Cats on the Red and White's 12-yard line. Shaw pitched a pass to McMahon in the end zone, but the officials ruled that he caught the pass on the 1 foot line and stepped out of bounds. On the next play, McKibbin hit center for the second Cat's touchdown. Meltvedt's kick was wide.

With Shaw and Batesole alternating on line smashes the Cats had marched to the City high 24 as the quarter ended with the score 12-0.

As the second quarter opened, Shaw passed to McMahon for a first and ten on the Hawklets 4-yard line. On the next play, Shaw literally flew into the end zone for the third Cat touchdown. Meltvedt's kick for the extra point was good.

Incomplete Pass The Bobcats kicked to Lacia who was spilled on the Hawklet 35. Sangster's pass was incomplete. Krall trying to pass was spilled for a 15 yard loss. His kick was blocked with the Cats recovering on the 4 yard line. After Shaw had plowed to the 1-foot marker, Batesole shot through center for another Marshalltown touchdown. Meltvedt's kick for the extra point was blocked.

Marshalltown kicked to Housel on the 20 who plowed to the 40 before he was finally stopped. Krall passed to Sangster for a 20-yard gain to the Cats' 45. He passed to Wilson for another first down on the Marshalltown 35-yard line and another of his passes was intercepted by Batesole on the Cats' 5-yard line.

Shaw's Drive With Shaw driving hard around the ends, through center and passing to McMahon, the Cats drove 95 yards in 5 plays as he pitched one into the end zone in the waiting hands of McMahon for the fifth Cat touchdown. The kick was low as the half ended 31-0.

The third quarter found the Hawklets defense stiffened somewhat as the Bobcats could only push over one touchdown. The Marshalltown eleven kicked off to the Little Hawks who took over on the 35 yard line. Washburn punched to a first down on the 48. Gunderson, attempting to pass, fumbled with the Cats recovering on the City high 47-yard line. With Shaw leading the attack the Cats plowed the rest of the way to the goal with Batesole exploding through center from the 6-yard marker for another Marshalltown touchdown. Meltvedt's kick was good.

Rube Snider brought the loyal City high rooters to their feet shortly after he rammed through the line on an around-tackle play and was seemingly in the clear when he was brought down from behind. The Hawklets ability for fumbling again came into the limelight as the Cats recovered a City high fumble on their own 40. Batesole on an end run lateraled to Shaw who dashed to the City high 40-yard line before being spilled. Batesole hit center for 5 yards as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter The fourth quarter found both teams battling up and down the field without either one threatening. With Shaw absent from the lineup the Cats' fury seemed to

Seahawks to Face Broncos Tomorrow

Officers in Lineup As Pre-Flighters Meet Strong Army Eleven

While the Iowa Hawk-eyes will have the spotlight today, the Seahawks are expected to add another mile to their march of victories when they meet the army eleven of Ft. Warren here tomorrow afternoon.

Rated as a team which has done plenty of scoring thus far this season, the Ft. Warren team, nevertheless, has not tackled such stiff opposition as the Seahawks have met. Chief point in favor of the army eleven is their 21-20 triumph over the professional Brooklyn Tigers.

The Seahawks, who are riding the crest of a four game winning streak, will start essentially the same team that pounded out a 13-6 victory over Purdue's Big Ten co-champions of 1943.

The Pre-Flighters will be further strengthened by the use of the officers, who showed plenty of power in the Seahawk's conquest of Olathe earlier in the season.

Led by such stars of the gridiron as Lieut. (j.g.) Art Guepe, Ens. Perry Schwartz and Lieut. (j.g.) Bernard McGarry, the officers should prove too much for the Broncos of Ft. Warren.

Facing the Seahawks tomorrow will be two former University of Iowa stars, Roger Stephens, leading grid breaker for the army, and Dick Breunier, defensive bulwark of the Ft. Warren eleven. Both will be in the starting lineup.

Lieut. Comdr. Jack Meagher warned against over-optimism on the part of the Seahawks, saying, "That Ft. Warren team can and does score."

Iowa State Cylones Leave for Columbia

AMES (AP)—A fast, high-spirited Iowa State college football squad left Ames last night for its first road contest this season. Today Coach Mike Michalski's men meet Missouri at Columbia and hope to hold their present conference lead.

SOUTH BEND Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's unbeaten Ramblers, with an aggregate score of 148 to 0 for the season, meets Wisconsin's Badgers here today, the 13th meeting between the two rivals.

Coach Ed McKeever's powerful line, operating ahead of the Kelly-Danczewicz-Gasparella running and passing combine, is figured to stop the Badgers to keep the Ramblers on top as the nation's leading college football team. The Badgers will counter with Earl (Jug) Girard, running and passing ace who has played every minute of Wisconsin's three games.

Let's Draw Lots PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Shopping for a vacant lot, a policeman discovered yesterday a contractor had erected a residence on the wrong lot. Owners of the house solved the mixup by purchasing the adjoining property.
