U. S. Greeks Ask Mediation By America

Delegation Urges Britain to Cease 'Dictatorship Attempt'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Greek-American delegation yesterday asked the state department to mediate in the battle between British forces and Greek resistance groups.

The delegation also protested to the British embassy, calling upon London to "cease its bloody attempt to shackle the Greek people once more with dictatorship."

Stelos Pistolakis, former member of the Greek parliament, was spokesman for the group. Now president of the Greek-American committee for national unity, he said he was expelled from his country in 1939. He said he is a member of the liberal party there.

This stand is based on what official sources here called an informal agreement approved by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill that Greece and Yugoslavia would be entirely British zones of operation as far as plans of the British and American chiefs of staff were concerned. This agreement did not affect Russian operations, on which Churchill and Premier Stalin have conferred separately.

While American officials are hoping that the British will make peace with Greek resistance forces quickly, this government's attitude is that it has no military responsibility in that area.

This stand is based on an informal agreement approved by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill that Greece and Yugoslavia would be entirely British zones of operation.

The agreement was made before liberation of either nation was begun. Only 63 American officers went in with the invasion of Greece to do civilian relief work.

Greek Battle
In the Greek battle itself leaders of ELAS forces strategically massed inside Athens and nearby were reported yesterday to be ready to offer to withdraw from the capital and from the entire department of Attica in return for guarantees that they would not be prosecuted.

The leftist leaders were described by this source as "realizing now that they will eventually lose" in the armed conflict and "relenting in their demands upon the Papandreu government and in their decision to fight to the end."

The report came at the end of a day of bitter fighting in some sections, although much of the city was quiet. Both the ELAS and British forces in the city were reinforced, the ELAS infiltrating into the city during the night and the British troops pouring in by day.

The British obviously were preparing for a showdown fight with the estimated 25,000 armed ELAS entrenched in and about Athens.

Senate Defers Palestine Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heeding advice of the state department, the Senate Foreign Relations committee yesterday shelved by a 12 to 8 vote a resolution advocating unrestricted entry of Jews into Palestine.

Similar resolutions had been under committee consideration both in the House and Senate last year, but action was deferred then.

Recent publication of the War Refugee board's report quoting two eye-witness accounts of how large numbers of Jews had been murdered in Nazi prison camps resulted in renewed agitation among Jewish groups in this country that the United States seek to have Great Britain permit increased migration of Jews to Palestine.

Entry of the Jews to Palestine is now limited under a British agreement with the Arabs.

Hagenau Rid Of Germans

U. S. Armies Take Last Enemy Forts West of Roer River

PARIS (AP)—The Germans were driven from their French buffer cities of Hagenau and Sarreguemines yesterday and their last defenses west of the Roer river before Cologne were coming in as three United States armies redoubled blows at the Reich from west and south.

Indications mounted that the enemy was withdrawing at numerous sectors along the western front, before the First army at the approaches to Cologne's plain, and before the Third and Seventh from Sarreguemines to the Rhine.

Gain Three Miles

The First army drive on the Roer river positions added up to three miles in two days as four more towns in a 15-mile assault arc were captured, four or five more were entered and others were by-passed.

At last reports the first was closing hard upon Mariaweller, only a mile and a half from Duren, key to the Roer river line, and upon Hoven, within 500 yards of the west bank of the Roer to the north.

Biggest prize of the day fell to the Seventh army, whose capture of Hagenau left the Germans without a single large city to anchor a new defense line in northern Alsace.

Nazis Fall Back

Front reports said the Germans appeared to be falling back into the Maginot and Siegfried lines for a stand against the northward thrust of the Seventh against the industrial Palatinat, whose borders lie 15 miles north of Hagenau. Some Seventh army forces farther west were no more than four miles from the border.

The United States Third army, meeting its first stern test in the Siegfried line of the Saar basin, warded off at least three determined counterblows at Dillingen and extended its lines slightly there and around Saarlautern, three miles southeast.

The United States Seventh and the French First armies battled floods as well as Germans in their attempts to erase the last German pockets west of the Rhine.

Tokyo Radio Admits Death of Commander Of Dec. 7 Attack

By The Associated Press
Tokyo finally got around to admitting Monday that the Japanese admiral who directed the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor is dead.

Domei news agency, in announcing that Vice-Admiral Chuichi Nagumo, killed on Saipan last July 7, had been "commander in chief of the task force that led the attack on Pearl Harbor," confirmed Adm. Chester W. Nimitz's statement of July 13.

Domei previously had announced Nagumo's death in a final suicide attack on Saipan, but did not identify him at the time as leader of the Pearl Harbor assault which plunged the United States into World War II.

House Votes to Abolish Wyoming Monument

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house rebuked President Roosevelt yesterday and voted 178 to 107 to abolish the huge Jackson Hole national monument in Wyoming which he created last year by executive order.

Rep. Mott (R., Ore.) told the house the vote corrects "one of the greatest usurpations of legislative authority by the executive." The resolution to outlaw the project now goes to the senate.

President Roosevelt set aside 221,610 Wyoming acres by executive order March 15, 1943, and designated it the Jackson Hole national monument. The order specified that the huge tract be administered by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes.

Opponents of the Jackson Hole monuments contended it deprived Wyoming of thousands of acres of taxable property.

1,600 Planes Hit Frankfurt

Greatest Air Armada In History Blasts Nazi Rail Lines

LONDON (AP) — The greatest bomber fleet ever assembled—more than 1,600 American Fortresses and Liberators—pounded the German rail network in the Frankfurt area with 6,000 tons of explosives yesterday as part of a massive air assault by more than 3,200 United States warplanes.

The huge fleet of Eighth airforce heavies, forming a sky train 300 miles long, was escorted by more than 800 fighters. From the operation 12 bombers and two fighters were missing last night.

Losses Low

This loss from a force of 16,800 United States fliers—more men than in an entire combat division of infantry—was a record low for a raid of such magnitude.

The German airforce kept clear of the mighty United States armada and anti-aircraft fire was meager. But heavy, billowy clouds caused the bombers to drop their explosives by instruments and obscured the damage done at Frankfurt, Hanau 10 miles east, and Giessen 30 miles north.

In a simultaneous attack from the south, more than 500 U. S. bombers and 350 fighters struck into Austria from bases in Italy.

Putting Hitler's domain under two-directional assault, strong formations of Liberators, Fortresses and fighters of the 15th airforce hammered the Moosierbaum refinery 22 miles northwest of Vienna, freight yards and the south ordnance depot in Vienna, and rail targets at Graz in Austria.

Meet Flak Defense

The raiders met intense flak and a smoke screen at the refinery, believed to produce aviation gasoline.

Most of the fighter guardians of the 1,600 bombers, finding the air free of the Luftwaffe, dropped to telephone pole level to strafe Nazi trucks and trains making a dash from Frankfurt to the Saarbrücken battle zone 120 miles southwest.

Four V-2 rocket installations in Holland were smashed yesterday by RAF Spitfire "pin-pointers" which shrieked down through cloud layers and curtains of flak to deposit their bombs.

YOU SAID IT, SAY THE YANKS

MANY AN ALLIED soldier snickered as he passed this sign on his way to the fighting front near Holland. The group was large, the way, they hoped would be short, and the scenery... well, they hoped it would be beautifully landscaped with German soldiers.

Nazis Slow Russian Advance on Budapest

Hold Red Gains To Two Towns Northeast of Capital

LONDON (AP) — Moscow announced last night that the Red army had captured only two towns immediately northwest of Budapest yesterday, indicating the Germans were hurrying all their available manpower and armor into the defense of the flaming Hungarian capital.

The fierceness of the struggle was reflected in the Soviet communiqué's report that 35 enemy tanks were destroyed Sunday, bringing the total bag since Friday to 144 tanks knocked out and 75 planes destroyed.

The Paris and Algiers radio had carried reports that Red army vanguards had penetrated Budapest, but the broadcast Soviet communiqué listed only the capture of Szada and Vereseghaz, both 8 1/2 miles from the capital's northeastern suburbs.

On the central Slovak frontier the Russians extended their front reaching toward Bratislava and Vienna by capturing Hont, three miles west of the road and rail junction of Dregelypalank, taken Sunday.

This advance put the Russians within 85 miles of the Slovak capital and 116 miles from Vienna, Austrian capital.

On the south the Russians were within five miles of the capital, and on the southwest Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian army and Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army were attempting to complete the city's encirclement.

The sector north and northwest of Miskolc, rail junction 85 miles northeast of Budapest that fell to the Russians Dec. 3, claimed attention with the Russians reporting the capture of eight places north and northwest.

Snowstorm Hastens Christmas Spirit

Among the luckiest braggarts today it will be fair and a little warmer with diminishing winds. The Midwest, where 25 persons died in traffic accidents in the season's first snow-laden storm, is exporting its weather to the east where, the Chicago weather bureau said, rain will mix with the snow today.

The storm, produced by cold air from Canada mixing with moisture-laden air from the south, spread snow over the Midwest ranging up to 13 inches in depth.

The lowest temperature in the country was at Elko, Nev., where 22 below was recorded.

The snow, which ranged from 13 inches at Iowa City to only a trace in northern Wisconsin, was responsible for most of the deaths. Southern Wisconsin reported 12 inches of snow, and the Midwest average topped three inches.

Destroy Japs In Leyte Trap

77th, Seventh Divisions Split Enemy Forces To Capture Fort

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Tuesday (AP)—Annihilation of the entire defending garrison at Ormoc, Yank-captured port on Leyte island, and destruction of thousands of Japanese trapped in a pocket to the south were announced by Gen. Douglas MacArthur today.

MacArthur reported that the veteran 77th division which landed last week four miles below Ormoc had been joined by the Seventh division, closing the southern jaw of a nutcracker vise, and "enemy forces which were trapped between the two have been destroyed."

Seize Supplies

Great quantities of equipment and supplies were seized. Fierce fighting preceded final destruction of the Ormoc garrison. Fall of Ormoc, Japan's last big port of reinforcement for her troops to the north in the Ormoc corridor, was a sharp blow to the enemy. Its capture Sunday was announced yesterday.

"The fighting in Ormoc itself before its fall was of the most desperate character," MacArthur reported.

The general reported yesterday that "many thousands" of Japanese were in the narrowing pocket between the 77th and Seventh divisions coming together just below Ormoc.

A third Yank division, the 32nd, was pressing against the Japanese to the north despite almost impassable terrain.

Split Nip Forces

The surprise landing of the 77th south of Ormoc last week split the enemy forces. Capture of Ormoc Sunday (Philippine time) ended the possibility of reinforcement or supply and nipped any hope the two forces may have had of retreating into that battered port for a junction and final stand.

Maj. Gen. Andrew Bruce's 77th division seized Ormoc in a lightning move to the north from its easily won beachhead, capitalizing on the lack of enemy resistance. In four days it battled through to its objective, living and fighting on what it carried on its back.

REA Head Resigns Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry Slatery, who hitherto had resisted administration efforts to ease him out as Rural Electrification Administrator, resigned yesterday "to carry this fight to the public."

No reasons were assigned in the White House announcement that Slatery had submitted the resignation early last week and President Roosevelt had accepted it Dec. 8.

But Slatery issued a statement saying that Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's appointment of a deputy administrator with "co-ordinate" authority "bypassed and displaced me as actual administrator."

He named William J. Neal as the deputy with "coordinate" authority. Calling Wickard's action "illegal and contrary to the REA act," Slatery asserted:

"They also jeopardize the repayment of government loans and are dangerous to the welfare and permanent success of REA. I have protested, but to no avail. I decline further to be held even nominally responsible for these illegal acts."

Returned for Totals

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—For three days, completion of Missouri's official vote canvass has awaited receipt of amended returns from Worth county. First reports were lacking in three election races.

Yesterday Secretary of State Gregory Stockard received the amended returns. They listed the missing offices all right, gave the candidates' names—but the column for the total votes was blank.

Kirke Simpson Interprets War News—

Creation of a massive British "Pacific Fleet," to operate against Japan in that American zone of responsibility as "the strategic situation dictates" is bad news for Tokyo. The move is more than first formal implementation of British-American commitments exchanged at Quebec for joint action against Japan. It makes good Prime Minister Churchill's declaration to congress long ago that Japan ultimately would face the supreme challenge of seapower.

In itself of greater power in all fleet categories than Japan's now crippled navy, the British Pacific fleet's appearance in those waters will virtually double the already heavy sea odds against Nippon. While no over-all allied commander is created, the British fleet will operate under direction of Admiral Nimitz in the central Pacific or of General MacArthur in the Southwestern Pacific as occasion requires.

Coupled with American cracking of the Japanese defensive front in northwestern Leyte by capture of Ormoc, the British move marks the opening of a new phase of the war across the Pacific. Based in Australian waters, the British fleet will be available to complete the isolation of Japanese garrisons in the Dutch Indies and to drive into the southern end of the South China sea itself without prejudice to contemplated American naval operations farther north. Between them the British and American fleets in the Pacific could dominate simultaneously both the north and south approaches to the China sea. As MacArthur completes the conquest of Leyte and moves on westward, the passages through the center of the Philippine archipelago to that sea will be opened. Complete denial of the China sea to Japan for shuttling reinforcements and supplies to far-scattered conquest garrisons either in the islands that fringe the China sea or on the south continental coast can be foreseen.

The important part of the British announcement of its new Pacific fleet under Admiral Sir Bruce Frazier, is the recognition of the Pacific as "an American area of responsibility" in the war against Japan. That leaves the question of strategy in the Pacific in American hands and refutes any suggestion that the purpose of the British naval reorganization was aimed only at expediting recapture of Singapore or Hong Kong.

Total defeat of Japan is the objective. Linked with crushing blows dealt Japanese naval power by the United States in the battle of the Philippines, the overwhelming naval power now available on the allied side hints at impending new action there on a major scale.

Medical Big Shot—

WASHINGTON (AP)—"DDT," the war-developed insecticide which may revolutionize living in the world of tomorrow by controlling certain diseases, is now a medical big shot and is being sprayed from trucks and airplanes to protect our soldiers but—

It first proved its worth on a mass scale beneath the dirty, flowing robes of louse-ridden Arabs and under the drab garb of inmates of French prisons in Africa. French prisons in Africa.

North Africa with "its sweating millions and unsanitary conditions" was chosen, the army says, as the initial tough proving ground for DDT. It was developed as an insecticide in this country last year.

Midway in 1943 after louse-powders and mosquito-and-fly sprays had been developed, Col. William S. Stone, chief of the army's preventive medicine section in North Africa, obtained supplies of both and undertook the venture of trying them on a broad scale.

His plan was to send typhus-control teams or "louse killers" among the natives with louse powders, free of charge.

Supreme Court Movie Decision—

WASHINGTON (AP)—A supreme court decision yesterday bars seven southern movie exhibitors from buying theaters unless they first show it won't stifle competition.

It was a victory for the government which took a far-reaching view of its importance in relation to other pending Sherman anti-trust act cases in the motion picture field.

Asking the court for a directive, the government said that otherwise it would be "unable to secure the continued existence of independent theater competition." The problem cannot be solved by a court order after such competition is eliminated, it contended.

The supreme court thus broadened—while upholding—the decree of the federal district court of middle Tennessee which found that the seven exhibitors and three individual defendants had violated the anti-trust laws. The findings referred to an "unreasonable monopoly" by the exhibitors in theater

Wounded GI's Receive 30-Day Home Leaves

U. S. THIRD ARMY REPLACEMENT CENTER, France (AP)—The biggest Christmas present short of going home for good was dropped yesterday into the foxholes of picked Third army combat veterans who were given 30-day home leaves.

A number of GI's and a few officers, most of whom wear the Purple Heart and have won multiple citations, chosen for the unexpected reward, trooped into this replacement center last night straight from the front lines for haircuts, hot showers, a double issue of rations and a change of clothes preparatory to starting homeward.

These men were going home under what the army calls the "three R" program—rotation, recovery and rehabilitation—and are the first other than litter cases to go. Actually, they are going as a reward, since all have recovered completely from their battle wounds.

Paul Mallon Says—

Nothing Much Will Come of the Littell Charges

WASHINGTON—Nothing much will come of the Littell charge that Attorney General Biddle is under the influence of genial Tommy Corcoran. Now that Mr. Biddle's assistant, Norman Littell, has been fired for insubordinately making the accusation, he has taken the charge to congress for investigation. Not much more investigation is required. A congressional investigator who has seen the record of Biddle's calls (apparently all calls of even the highest are clocked here since the war started) says it shows frequent phoning back and forth between the Attorney General and Corcoran. Indeed Biddle does not deny Corcoran was his friend.

Behind the aired controversy, singularly, is the fact that Corcoran is practically No. 1 on the New Deal hate list. Harry Hopkins never liked the brash young Irishman who contested with him for inner power. Hopkins and David Niles, who are nearest the President now, would be glad enough to see anything happen to Tommy.

Indeed, I am told that if Corcoran called the White House today he could find no one who would talk to him, despite the tricky service (or disservice) he did the new deal by inspiring and inwardly conducting the repacking of the supreme court, his earlier work in development of the security exchange commission legislation (an excellent job) and some other legal gumshoeing.

But when Corcoran some years ago was calling congressman and saying, "This is the White House speaking—we expect you to jump," he managed to befriend a great many government men, clearing paths for their advancement in office, bringing young lawyers into powerful government jobs from their insignificant labors. One of those he helped was Biddle.

Then Corcoran quit government service (which was about to quit him because of his growing unpopularity) in order to cash in on his connections, in a way not unique among public men. His friends say he was disillusioned by his government experience, but he was not a man of many illusions. He played the game ruthlessly, in the government or out. He married, had a child, and his friends announced he intended to make a million dollars and enjoy life.

Fabulous stories are told of the money he has since acquired. Perhaps he has managed to sequester $100,000 a year after taxes, but he is far from a million, I suspect. His clients are not the best possible and he apparently is not extremely finicky about whom he acquires as clients. He has had some who were really second hand dealers trying to run the residue from a fire sale into a fortune in war contracts.

He never appears before congressional committees, but sometimes can be seen cornering congressmen.

But as I say nothing is likely to come of the Littell charge that Corcoran influenced his friend the Attorney General in the specific matter of a Georgia shipyards case, largely because congress is the only force likely to pursue the charge, and congress is not in the mood. The truth is the heart was taken out of it in the last election. It will pass such acts as the freezing of the social security tax against Mr. Roosevelt's wishes, because it had planned that and knows increase of the tax January 1 is not justifiable for any social security purposes (Mr. R. just wants to raise all the money he can for war purposes from every possible source.) but as for investigating the whitewashing of Kimmell and Short or whoever above them need whitewashing, or pursuing Tommy Corcoran, with its customary indignation, it lost both righteousness and indignation November 7.

The liberals have suddenly become righteous even though both Corcoran and Biddle are on their side. They are agitating against Biddle, and while they are not likely to get him out of his job this time, they may grease the skids for later, and certainly this case will prevent him from being kicked upstairs into the supreme court, where unwanted attorney generals usually rise.

My guess is that Hopkins and Niles will personally and privately see to it that Corcoran does not make much money—and that will be about all there will be to it.

Those 2nd Division Tankers

IN GERMANY, Dec. 2 (Delayed) (AP)—The boys had been promised turkey, and they got it. But, being veterans in this man's army, they weren't taking any chances about their post-Thanksgiving dinner.

Sergt. Rains Robins of Ben Hur, Va., the tank commander, first sighted the target and started barking preliminary firing orders. The gunner, Corp. Walter McGrail of Lowell, Mass., swung his machinegun around and started tracking the target. Corp. Frank Zyk of Lynn, Mass., and Corp. Elwood Pickell of Conshohocken, Pa., and Pvt. Sam Paperelli of Erie, Pa.—all alert at their posts—watched the action through their periscopes.

"Fire!" shouted Sergeant Robins. Corporal McGrail opened fire. "Target!" shouted Sergeant Robins, triumphantly. The rest of the crew cheered. Then they moved up and inspected their target.

It was a five-point deer—and venison is mighty good eating on the day after Thanksgiving, even in Germany.

off everything for them—including the radio antenna.

Crack the whip, armored style: T/Sergt. George M. Silvia of Plymouth, Mass., was driving a tank retriever. In the turret above him, his commanding officer was staring into the night's blackness in order to avoid the ditches.

The old General Grant climbed steeply until Silvia was practically chinning himself at the controls. Still there was no word to halt.

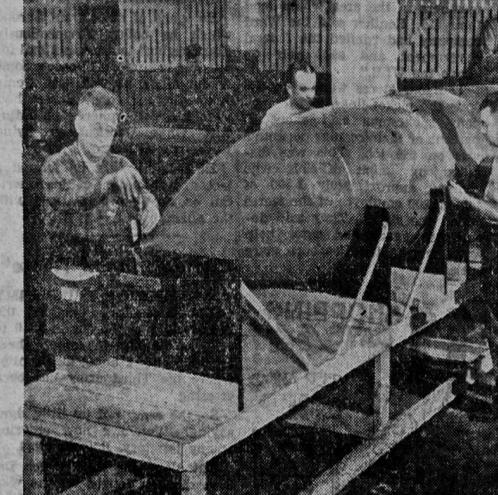

Suddenly, the tank topped the rise, lurched forward, skidded downward and jolted to a neck-snapping halt. There was a muffled thud out front so the sergeant investigated.

The commander had been flipped out of the turret head over heels to a safe but messy landing—in three feet of mud.

Otto Jelinek to Be Featured in Concert Tonight

To Be Soloist For Concerts

Overture to Opera 'Ruslan and Ludmilla' To Open Program

The university symphony orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Phillip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department will present a concert this evening at 8 o'clock in Iowa Union.

The overture to the opera "Ruslan and Ludmilla" (Glinka) will open the program. Glinka is sometimes referred to as the "prophet-artist" of Russian music. This overture has become a favorite in the symphonic concert repertory.

Violin Concerto
The "Concerto in B minor for violin" (D'Ambrosio) occupies the second place on the program. Otto Jelinek of the music department will be soloist. This concerto is not well-known in the music world. As yet the music of D'Ambrosio has not reached a place of distinction. However, if all his music possesses the beauty of this concerto it deserves recognition.

Jelinek studied violin with Josef Vleland, Jacques Gordon, Mischa Mischakoff and viola with Robert Dolejsi. He attended De Paul university and Chicago Academy of Music where he received state prize in 1929 in violin solo competition. During the summer seasons from 1935 to 1937, he was concert-master of the Grant Park symphony orchestra.

Solo Violinist
In 1933 Otto Jelinek became solo violinist in the Kansas City philharmonic under Karl Krueger, resigning after years to become a member of the Chicago String Quartet and the National Chamber orchestra under Rudolph Ganz. He toured extensively with that organization for two seasons. Following that he became a member of the National Broadcasting company music staff and remained until his appointment to the music staff of the University of Iowa in 1939. During the present season he is concertmaster of the Tri-City Symphony orchestra.

Following intermission the orchestra will play "Fantastic Symphony" (Berlioz). This symphony is composed of episodes from the life of an artist. Berlioz and Glinka occupy similar positions among music lovers in their respective countries, France and Russia.

Tickets for this concert are available at the main desk in Iowa Union.

Allen Sigel to Present Clarinet Program

Allen Sigel, A3 of Ottumwa, will present a clarinet recital tomorrow afternoon at 4:10 in the north music hall. He will be assisted by Norma Cross of the music department, piano, and the chamber orchestra.

He will play "Concerto in A, K. V. 522" in three parts; allegro, and rondo-allegro (Mozart); "Sonata" in four parts; allegro moderato, lively, very slow and little rondo (Hindemith); "Rhapsody" (Joseph Wagner). This is the 12th recital in the 1944-45 student series.

Licensed to Wed

Henry M. Miller, 23, and Amy R. Otto, 25, both of Kalona, were issued a marriage license by the clerk of district court yesterday.

Hawkeyes Overcome South Dakota State, 87 to 37

Wier, Spencer Bag 18 Points

Swenson Paces State In Scoring Comeback During Second Half

By Bob Krause
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Displaying a brand of basketball which often left much to be desired, but which at times sparkled with individual brilliance, Iowa's Hawkeyes rolled to their second consecutive triumph of the year last night at the expense of a scrappy South Dakota State quintet. The score was 87 to 37. The Hawks held a half time edge of 41 to 8.

Advantage

Last evening's contest might have been a good deal closer had it not been for three sizable advantages held by the Old Gold. These were an edge in height which enabled Coach Pops Harrison's men to control both backboards at opportune moments, a group of "substitutes" which instilled the necessary spirit into the game and a fine exhibition of shooting by Murray "Rabbit" Wier, Jack Spencer and Dick Ives.

But South Dakota brought along a six foot three and a half inch center who matched the Iowa trio all the way. His name was Johnny Swenson and he gathered 18 points to tie Wier and Spencer at that total. Ives dropped in 15.

Surfs of Play

Despite momentary spurts of play which marked them as a potentially fine team the Hawkeyes showed a distressing amount of inept basketball. Again the earliness of the campaign may be the answer. Nevertheless, Iowa frequently set up plays badly, passed poorly and often exhibited a sort of "stumble ball."

It was the all-around play of Wier which kept the goal-hungry fans in an uproar. Little Murray was all over the court, a continual bee in the bonnet of the opposition. He always seemed to be at the spot at the right time, both on defense and the attack.

Dick Ives

Ives gave a performance which proved that he is rapidly rounding into form as one of the nation's best. As in days of yore Spencer and he teamed up in the famous long-passing, quick break attack. Of the starting trio it was probably Spencer who shined the brightest. The gangling guard set up what few good-looking plays there were and he tossed in nine spectacular one-handed shots with complete nonchalance.

As against Western Illinois the hustle of Harrison's reserves was a crowd pleaser. After the departure of the starters, which took place midway in both halves, the game speeded up considerably as such stalwarts as Bob Wischmeier, Bob Tesdesky, Dick Culbertson, Bob Schulz, Stan Straatsma and Jack Wishmier came on the scene. All of them also helped to team up in a defense which State sometimes found difficult to fathom.

Swenson Leads Attack

South Dakota, after it got over an attack of "crowditis," showed up very well. Led by Swenson, with the aid of Bob Bartling and Jerry Kohl, the team often had control of the ball and set up plays from the pivot very well. State showed plenty of tenacity but an inability to score consistently, even on simple tries, stopped the affair from being closer.

Sugar Bowl Sell-Out

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—President A. B. Nicholas of the New Orleans mid-winter sports association said yesterday that all indications point to a sell-out of tickets for the 11th annual Sugar bowl football game by Christmas. The stadium seats 72,000.

THE SUCCESS or failure of the season's Iowa basketball Hawkeyes may well rest with the court ability of the two men pictured above. They are, reading in the usual manner, Clay and Herb Wilkinson, brothers and transfers from the University of Utah. Herb, the younger, scored the basket which made Utah last season's national champions. Both played important parts as the Hawkeyes stopped South Dakota State last night, 87-37.

Dick Walterhouse Sets Record Under Stress

Centre's Red Weaver Holds Conversion Title When No Opposition

NEW YORK (AP)—A little clarification is needed concerning the impression that Dick Walterhouse of the Army set a new intercollegiate record for registering points after touchdowns in making good on 47 of 59 attempts this year.

It is a record as far as the so-called modern method of conversion is concerned, but far from a record when compared with some of the marks turned in before the attempts had to be made under scrimmage conditions.

Old System

The record under the old system in which the ball was brought out to the 15-yard line and the kicker had ample time to get away the boot undoubtedly is held by Red Weaver, the old Centre college star. Weaver kicked 49 straight in 1919 and followed it up with 50 straight in 1920, making a total of 99 without a miss.

Robert T. Caldwell of Ashland, Ky., has this to say concerning Weaver's exploits:

"In the opening game with DePauw in 1919 Red missed his first attempt, following which he had a run of 49 straight for the remainder of the season. In defeating Indiana university that year, 12-3, no attempt was made to convert, as the first touchdown was made with approximately one minute left to play and Bo McMillan waived the conversion in order to try for a second touchdown, which he made just before time was called."

Another Record

"It may be interesting also to note that this same Centre college team included a player who holds another collegiate kicking record. In the Centre-University of Louisville game in 1922 The Associated Press report of that game contains the following reference to Herbert Covington's setting a world record for field goal kicking. The following is quoted from the press dispatch:

"Herb Covington, who has shattered records galore this season through his ground gaining ability, established a world record today for field goals by dropkicks in a single game. Six times he booted the oval over the crossbar, three of them from the 30-yard mark and one from the 41-yard line. The others were from between the 30 and 40-yard marks. The record previously was held by B. W. Tafford, Harvard, and W. H. Ekersall, Chicago, jointly, with five each in a single game. Robertson of Purdue made seven goals in a game with Rose Poly in 1900, but they were all from placement."

Luke Majorki Breaks Tie as Bluejackets Beat Lincoln, 62-57

CHICAGO (AP)—Luke Majorki, fresh from South Side high school in Ft. Wayne, Ind., tossed in three baskets in a row when the score was tied at 55-all in the closing minutes to spark Great Lakes' Bluejackets to a 62-57 victory over the Lincoln, Neb., army air field here last night.

The loss was the first in six starts for the star-studded air force team.

Great Lakes held a 36-29 advantage at the half, but saw that dissipated when Goose Tatum, former Harlem Globe Trotters center, and Jake Ahearn, formerly of the Detroit Eagles, spurred to take a 55-53 lead. The sailors tied the count, to set the stage for young Majorki's game-winning rally.

The Great Lakes team, hitting its stride after dropping two straight games to the University of Illinois, couldn't shake off the Lincoln club, and it was only a last-minute spurt that gave them their seven point margin at half-time.

Ahearn scored 17 points to take scoring honors of the evening, and Tatum had 15. Joe McGuire, with 14, paced the Bluejackets.

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago university, back in sports again this year, won its fourth basketball game in eight starts here last night, beating Wheaton college 48-44. Forward Howard Brokken scored 18 points to pace the victors, who led 24-20 at the half. Center Jim Hill led Wheaton with 11 points.

St. Pat's to Battle Williamsburg Tonight

St. Marians Journey To Dubuque for Tilt Against St. Loras

With two defeats and only one victory, over Cosgrove's, to their credit this season, the Shamrocks of St. Patrick's will be battling it out with Williamsburg tonight at 8 o'clock on St. Patrick's floor in an attempt to even up their season's record. A preliminary game between the second teams of the two schools will begin at 7.

The Shamrocks, who did not show up to well in their 24-17 loss Friday night to West Branch, were put through a stiff workout last night by their coach, Cliff Kritt.

Kritt said last night that one forward position was undecided with either Belger or Sullivan slated to take over. Merle Hoyer will hold down the other forward spot. "Doc" Connell will start at the pivot post and "Red" Gatens and Gene Herdlika will be in at guards.

Determined to get back on the victory trail after being waylaid by St. Joseph's of Rock Island Friday, St. Mary's Ramblers will travel to Dubuque to meet a strong St. Loras team tonight at 8 o'clock.

Coach Francis Suplee sent his team through a light workout last night with special emphasis on passing in preparation for the Dubuque game. St. Loras is expected to give the Marians some tough competition as they are probably one of the strongest teams the Ramblers will meet this season.

In the lineup for St. Mary's tonight will be Tom Stahle and John O'Brien at the forward positions, Bill Hettrick at center and Jack Shrader and Bart Toohey in the guard spots.

Ternes and Tierney will take over the forward posts for St. Loras. Ellis will start at center and Fleckenstein and Nemmers will pair off in the guard positions.

Another Letter to Sergeant Smith— Randolph Field to Win

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Sergeant Joe Smith, Somewhere, U. S. Army,

Dear Joe: Well, Joe, I hope this finds you warm and happy and dry, although maybe that combination is too much to ask as you were dry and never dry when you were warm. You always needed a couple of snorts to be right comfortable.

I'm just kidding, Joe, like the time we were scuffling and you blacked my right eye. You were aiming for the left one. I really hope you are comfortable, although I know that comfort to you right now probably means a chance to doze on a rock pile for 10 minutes.

Army-Navy

I'll try to sketch a little of what's going on in sports lately. I suppose you know all about the Army-Navy football game by now. I had it doped wrong. I said Army would win 27-7 and it only won 23-7. I guess I added on the carrying charge when I figured mine, although Navy should have paid the carrying charge. The Middles rode around on Doc Blanchard's back all afternoon.

Anyway, I gave you the wrong line on the game. I gave you Navy's line as the best, and it didn't turn out that way. Between that Army line and Blanchard and Glenn Davis all Navy could do was wait for next year.

Bowl Game

We're having a Bowl game here at the Polo Grounds Dec. 16 between Randolph Field and the Second Airforce and it should be quite a contest. I suppose both teams will fly here. Polishing their

League Names Committee

End Old Agreement; Three Men to Rule Until New Plans Made

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball will be temporarily ruled by a three-man committee composed of President Ford Frick of the National league, President Will Harridge of the American league and Leslie M. O'Connor, secretary to the late K. M. Landis.

Termination

That was decided yesterday at a joint meeting of the steering committees of the two majors who also announced immediate termination of the major league agreement which set up the office of commissioner and provided for a two-league committee to draw up a new agreement on which at least a preliminary report must be ready for review at the February meetings, probably the first Tuesday in the month.

In any event a new commissioner eventually will be named.

Resolution

In an official release from both circuits, Frick read the resolution, which said in part: "All the powers and duties of the commissioner and the advisory as provided in the major league agreement of Jan. 12, 1921, are hereby continued and henceforth shall be exercised by a major league advisory council to consist of the president of the National league, the president of the American league and Leslie M. O'Connor. In case of a division of opinion within the council a decision of the majority shall be controlling, except that in case involving a player claim against the club or league, the two league presidents shall have no vote but such case shall be decided by the third member of the council."

"Such major league advisory council shall continue to exercise the powers and duties of the office of commissioner until a new major league agreement shall be entered into between each of the major leagues and each constituent club of each major league, which shall provide for a commissioner of baseball."

Memorial Awards

The two major leagues also took joint action to establish what will be known as the Landis memorial awards. They will go to the most valuable player selections in the two leagues, made by the committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The writers will be asked to name a committee to select a suitable and proper award for each league—the award to be standard from year to year.

Selection of Fenway park, Boston, as the site for the annual All-Star game to be played July 10 was announced. The classic was played in Pittsburgh this year. With the Boston park not equipped for lights, it will be the first day game since 1941 in Detroit.

Frick Re-elected

Frick was re-elected president of the National league for a four-year term and Sam Breadon, vice-president, for one year.

Serious and Funny— Grid Oddities

NEW YORK (AP)—"Gridiron Grins—or the Football Follies of '44."

That's the title of the year's collegiate pigskin "oddsity opera" in which the lads lugging the leather lemon enacted some entrancing antics.

Bit of Drama

Some serious sidelights popped up, too, adding a bit of drama.

In fact, one of the top oddsities wasn't at all humorous—but it did have a humerous angle. (Webster: humerus—the arm bone between the elbow and shoulder.)

That oddsity came about in the Army-Notre Dame game when Dr. Dave Reese of Dayton, Ohio, and Denison university, one of the country's top-flight officials, was caught between a couple of Irish tacklers and Army's All-America Doc Blanchard. Head-lineman Reese came up with a broken arm and was forced from the game.

The 59-0 score was an oddsity, too—the worst loss the Irish ever experienced.

Lowdown

The lowdown on a few high spots:

All-America Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A. & M. raced 45 yards against Texas Tech, came up to a white line, and dived over—but it was the 10-yard line, not the goal line. (A. & M. won anyway.)

George Loh, Yale's quarterback, missed a game because of an attack of mumps, but Joe Anderson played center for Utah State with an artificial leg.

Long Punt

Paul Walker of Yale punted into the wind against North Carolina, and the ball wound up four yards back of the spot where he had booted it.

Arkansas tackle Carroll Jones and end Dan Mahews didn't get up in time to catch the train for the Texas Aggies game, so they hitch-hiked to College Station—sans equipment—and watched the game from the sidelines.

Linesman Offside

Headlinesman Mike Oberhelman was caught with his knickers down when the last play of the Kansas Kansas State game was called back.

The official, thinking the game was over, raced for the showers and was bathing when informed 15 seconds remained to play. He came back, his hair dripping and his knickers dangling about his ankles.

Navy to Meet Cyclones Here

Shooting of their fourth straight victory of the season, the Seahawk five will meet the Iowa State Cyclones here tomorrow night on the field house court.

Co-champions of the Big Six conference, which honor their shared with Oklahoma last season, this year's quintet appears to be a strong team, although they have only played one game thus far.

Comparative Scores

In view of comparative scores, the Seahawks would seem to have a slight edge over the Iowa State team, since Minnesota was vanquished by a score of 38-32 by the Pre-Flighters and 42-41 by the Cyclones.

Last year's Seahawk squad opened the season against the Cyclones only to come out on the short end of a 31-29 score, while later in the season the Seahawks atoned for the defeat by gaining a 33-27 decision over the Cyclones, thereby clinching a 15-game winning streak.

1944 Record

Coach of the Iowa State cagers for 17 years, Coach Louis Menze last year guided his team to nine conference victories against one defeat, while his quintet averaged 45.5 points per game. Strong on defense also, last year's Iowa State team held its opponents to an average of 30.6 points per game.

Leading scorer for the Seahawks against Minnesota Saturday was T. S. Ary who dumped in a total of 16 points to place him even with center Joe Holland in scoring. Because Holland garnered only six points against the Gophers, he and Ary stand tied with 38 points each.

Cancel Oil Bowl Game When Army Refuses Fliers Permission

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army yesterday turned thumbs down on the proposal for an "Oil Bowl" service football game on New Year's Day at Houston, Tex.

The war department had been requested to permit the Randolph Field team to play another service team in a post season game at the Texas city.

The department's announcement did not specifically mention this request but it made it clear the game would not be permitted.

HOUSTON, TEX. (AP)—There'll be no Oil Bowl football game this coming New Year's Day.

Holly Brock, chairman of the Oil Bowl committee, disclosed yesterday the game had been canceled as the result of a war department ruling that an airforce team would not be permitted to participate.

Undeclared Randolph Field had been counted on as the host team.

Without specifying either the Oil Bowl game or Randolph Field, the war department announcement said increasing urgency of the war effort necessitated closing the season for airforce football teams with the bond bowl game Saturday at New York.

Brock said that at this late date no outstanding team could be obtained to substitute for Randolph Field and "rather than depart from the high standard set by the committee decided to cancel the game for 1945."

More than 40,000 in tickets had been sold and Brock said the work of returning checks and money orders would start immediately.

Game Photographer To Give Illustrated Talk Thursday Night

Dr. Vernon D. E. Smith of Saint Paul, Minn., noted big game hunter and wildlife photographer, will present an illustrated talk on "Big Game Hunting in Canada and Alaska" Thursday at 8 p. m. in the chemistry auditorium.

Among the film sequences to be shown are big game hunting scenes in Alaska, British Columbia and Alberta, Canada; quail hunting in the southern part of Iowa with six of the finest dogs in the country; duck hunting in Minnesota and the Mississippi delta region, and skiing at Alta, Utah.

All of the movies were filmed in natural color using a four or six power telephoto lens and with action scenes in slow motion. His camera mounted on a gun stock permits exceptionally fine action shots. By this method it is possible to see the color of a duck's eye while it is flying at 50 miles an hour. Dr. Smith was one of the first camera men to use this method, which proved so successful that it is now being used by many outstanding wildlife photographers.

Dr. Smith first became interested in outdoor photography while taking post-graduate work at the University of Minnesota. It was during his work in surgery with photography that he started taking pictures of his hobby—the outdoors. Since then his nature and wildlife movies have highlighted university convocation programs and have been shown in various parts of the country to raise money for the Isaac Walton League, Ducks Unlimited and the Red Cross.

The program Thursday is sponsored by the Iowa Mountaineers and is open to the public. There will be an admission fee to non-members.

City High to Present 'Little Women' Scenes

Dramatized scenes from "Little Women" by Louisa May Alcott will be presented by members of Paint and Patches, City high school dramatic club in the high school auditorium tomorrow. There will be two performances, one at 8:15 a. m., the time of the weekly assembly, and a second one at 4:15 p. m.

There will be no charge for either performance. Parents, friends and members of other high, junior high and grade schools are invited to attend the afternoon performance.

The scenes, all of which take place in the living room of the March home, will be presented by the following cast:

Meg, Beth Wilson; Amy, Nancy Jones; Beth, Joyce Johnson; Jo, Marilyn Sidwell; Mrs. March, Betty Cough; Hannah, Janet Zuber; Aunt March, Dorothy Hubbard; Mr. Laurence, Tom Kreg; Johnnington, Laurie, Don Kreg; John Brooke, Chan Coulter; Mr. March, Duane Smith, and Frederick Boer, Frank Snider.

The play is under the general direction of Lola Hughes with Margaret Subut assisting. Stage construction is under the direction of Chester Miller and his assistants, Evan Tallman, Harold Hartvigsen, Kenneth Reeds, Jack Nelson and Bob Patsel. Kenneth Reeds will handle lighting with Harry Barnes assisting. Property chairman is Barbara Baldrige assisted by Audrey Ellis and Bonnie Wanamaker. Joy Ashton is in charge of costumes.

Roddy Farrell acts as narrator with musical interludes provided by Helen Gower, violinist, and Ruth Husa at the piano. Additional music will be provided by the high school orchestra under the direction of William Gower.

Bob Rasley Awarded Eagle Scout Rank

47 Boys Get Badges For Paper Collection Of 1,000 Pounds Each

More than 40 parents and friends of Iowa City Boy Scouts braved a near-blizzard Sunday afternoon to attend the Scout court of honor in the council chamber of City hall. During the candle-lighting ceremony, Bob Rasley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Rasley, 406 Magowan avenue, received the rank of Eagle Scout, highest achievement in scouting. Mrs. Rasley pinned the emblem of her son's rank on him.

Owen B. Thiel, Scout executive, presided over the program. He instructed each group of scouts in their new responsibilities and led them in their dedication to the Scout oath. As they came forward to receive awards, each group of Scouts lit the candle representing his new rank with a taper symbolizing the spirit of scouting.

A new Boy Scout award has been created which was presented to 47 boys Sunday. It is a pin given in connection with scrap paper salvage. To be eligible for the badge a Scout must have collected 1,000 pounds of paper or worked on the scrap drives.

Mayor Teeters Assists

Assisting Thiel in the presentation of awards were Mayor Wilber Teeters, chairman of the Scout advancement committee; George Crum, member of the Scout commission; E. R. Williams, scoutmaster. New tenderfoot scouts are Howard Anderson, Bob Ballantyne, Billy Hedges, Jack Nunn, Jim Paulsen and Don Strub. Scouts promoted to second class rank were Lester Dyke, Wayne Higley, Lloyd Rogler and Chauncey Schmidt.

Those achieving first class ranking were C. A. Rundell and Carl Strub Jr. Scouts promoted to star rank were Dick Buxton, Tom Cady, Junior Ewalt, Robert Ojemann, Rox Shain and Arnold Swails.

Receiving the life rank were Don Fryauf and Dick Williams. Awarded Merit Badges Those who were awarded merit badges and the badges they received were: Dick Buxton, path-finding, safety and personal health; Tom Cady, life saving; James Cilek, handicraft, personal health and poultry keeping; Bob Crum, camping and wood carving.

Don Fryauf, bugling, first aid, public health, life saving, personal health, animal industry, physical development, scholarship, reptile study and rabbit keeping; Don Guthrie, firemanship, pioneering, public health, safety, cooking, personal health, and camping; Jim McDaniel, basketry; Bob Newburn, safety; Albert Newton, wood carving; Bob Rasley, painting; C. A. Rundell, first aid; Rox Shain, rocks and minerals, handicraft, firemanship, and dog care; Carl Strub Jr., swimming, personal health and poultry keeping, and Dick Williams, civics, mechanical drawing, stamp collecting, camping and wood turning.

City Considers New Salaries

Council to Name New Police Judge At Dec. 22 Meeting

Plans to increase salaries of city employes on an equalization basis among the departments was recommended to the city council at its meeting last night by H. S. Ivie, chairman of the finance committee.

At the council's next meeting Dec. 22 a resolution to that effect will be submitted to the council. Some of the salaries recommended to be raised under this program are those of the city physician, inspectors, treasurer, secretaries, janitors, firemen, policemen and laborers.

Clerk Lists Debts

A total debt of $440 to the city was reported by the city clerk to the council. The debts are on licenses and permits to establishments in Iowa City. At the last meeting of the council it was decided that City Attorney Kenneth Dunlop should notify the businesses of their delinquent payments. Those who owe the city for such licenses or permits will be given 30 days' notice by the attorney.

The resignation of Jack C. White, police judge, was accepted by council members. White's resignation will be effective Dec. 31. He will assume his duties as county attorney in January.

Knox Submits Application

The appointment of a new police judge will be made at the council meeting Dec. 22. Application for the office has been submitted by John Knox, who was graduated from the State University of Iowa college of law in 1933.

A proposed revision of the city milk ordinance was read to the council last night. If a resolution accepting the revised ordinance is approved by the council next week, milk dealers will be required to have permits on which there is no time limit. This would mean that the city milk inspector would have the right to revoke a permit at any time or when he deems it necessary.

A petition to place a lot at Washington and Johnson streets in the business district rather than in the residential district was referred to the zoning and planning commission. The petition was submitted by Ruth Adams. Ralph Adams is the owner.

A cigarette permit was surrendered and a beer permit was granted according to an agreement by councilmen. Herman J. Kadera, 210 E. Washington street, petitioned for the surrender of a cigarette permit issued to him July 17.

The Class "B" beer permit was granted to Stella Coan, 26 E. College street.

Reports Accidents

In the first six months of 1944, 86 accidents occurred in Iowa City at intersections, according to a report given by Police Chief Ollie White at the request of council members.

According to a city ordinance, shrubs or other obstructions at intersections must not be more than three and a half feet high. Personal and property damage caused by these accidents totaled $10,000. An acting program in accordance with that report will not be worked out until spring.

Explain Pension Plan

A pension plan discussed at a recent meeting of the League of Municipalities in Des Moines which will affect all city employes was explained by Mayor Wilber J. Teeters. Two bills concerned with municipal employes will be introduced to the legislature Jan. 8, 1945.

The AFL and CIO favor a bill which stipulates that 5 percent of each city employe's salary will be deducted in order to insure an income for his family after his death. Under this plan the widow would receive $1,250 yearly for life. The other plan calls for a three percent deduction.

Rudy Vallee's Wife Leaves Him Again

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mrs. Rudy Vallee went home to mother yesterday.

"I'm on my way out right now," she told a reporter who called the Vallee home.

Mrs. Vallee, the actress Betty-jane Greer, attributed this split with her musician husband to the same cause of all their other ones—clashes of temperament.

War Five Years Old

LONDON (AP)—History's bloodiest and costliest conflict edged past a milestone yesterday to become a year longer than the First World war and Germany, suffering but still strong, showed few signs of such an internal collapse as brought its defeat in 1918.

World War I ended in four years, 14 weeks and two days—six hours after the armistice terms were signed.

'Good Night Ladies' to Be in Cedar Rapids

Claimed by more than 100 newspaper and magazine commentators the loudest laughing show of a decade is "Good Night Ladies," which broke the all-time attendance records at the Blackstone theater with its two years' run. It will be shown at the Iowa theater in Cedar Rapids tonight at 8:15.

"Good Night Ladies" is a three act farce comedy, with snappy situations that will make the average playgoer "laugh his fool head off," as several critics put it.

Chicago went wild over it. The fact that the farce remained in one theater for more than 700 performances affording nearly two million people an evening of laughs is a guarantee of its standing in theatrical history.

Ohio Sociologist Addresses Students On Racial Prejudice

"It seems to me that the important question is whether science can tell us of any techniques which are most effective in overcoming racial tension," stated Milton J. Yinger, professor of sociology at Ohio Wesleyan university in his address to sociology students yesterday.

"The vicious circle" he described in this case as being a situation whereby "we start out by saying that a certain group is inferior. Then we limit its opportunity, thereby actually beginning to create the inferiority which we claimed."

"Race prejudice is not innate nor founded on a scientific basis of inequalities," he explained.

Causes of Conflict

There are three major causes of inter-racial conflict: learned ignorance, the need of every individual for a feeling of superiority and importance which may be expressed by a white American's sense of absolute superiority over 13 million fellow citizens, and economic factors which cannot be overlooked but which may sometimes be overemphasized.

There are two schools of thought among those concerned with solving the race problem in the United States. Yinger stated that those people believing in compromise and those favoring fighting on the spot must learn to adopt a happy medium in solving this problem, which "is perhaps the gravest threat to American democracy." He emphasized that "the right combination is by no means the same in every situation."

Way to Break Circle

He illustrated the way in which this vicious circle might be broken by telling of the work of college students who spent their summers at Flanner house, a Negro welfare agency in Indianapolis, located in a district of 50,000 Negroes. It was established by the Quakers. These students lived and worked among the Negroes, thus gaining an understanding of their problems and helping counteract their prejudices.

Economic problems are being dealt with in this district by the establishment of cooperative gardens, house-building agencies and canneries.

Junior Red Cross Adopts 12 Children For Christmas

The Junior Red Cross of Johnson county has adopted 12 Christmas children from the Davenport Veteran Soldiers' home, according to Mrs. J. P. Cady, director of the junior organization.

The Jester's club of University high school has taken one of the children and will send gifts. Other children have been adopted by East Lucas No. 4, Lincoln, Sabin and Kirkwood schools.

Gifts to be sent the children will be donated by Iowa City children.

Eureka Lodge to Meet

Eureka lodge No. 24 will meet at the I.O.O.F. hall tonight at 7:30.

Pharmacists Assert Christmas Trees Need Not Shed

If you dislike the shedding needles from your Christmas tree, your annoyance can be remedied by a scientific hint from the college of pharmacy.

For preservation of the tree and prevention of falling needles they suggest that you ask a druggist to make up two packages. One should contain 15 grams of calcium carbonate and the other five grams of dry citric and six grams of dry malic acids.

Brace the base of the tree in a wide mouthed gallon jar, fill the jar with water, and drop in the powders. The tree will drink up the solution so more powders will have to be added.

The treatment will enable the tree to retain its freshness and fragrance even though you install it in the house well in advance of Christmas.

To the People of this Community

Billions of your War Bond dollars go into saving life. No armed force in the world's history has ever been given the amount and kind of medical care which goes along with our fighting Yanks to the combat zones. Thousands upon thousands of our wounded men have been flown to base hospitals. Every hospital plane represents a $125,000 expenditure. In the Pacific war thousands of these planes will be needed.

Bonds for mercy and bonds for survival are without question closer to you than bonds for any other reason. With victory, you want as many men from this community as humanly possible to come home safely. The extra Sixth War Loan $100 War Bond you buy today has healing powers along with fighting strength.

The GI Bill of Rights, which is your guarantee to our fighting men that their rehabilitation needs will not be neglected, is an empty gesture unless it is backed up by your War Bond dollars.

Fire Guts J. E. Pontow Residence

Fire gutted the home of James E. Pontow, 931 E. Market street, yesterday afternoon while the family was away from home. The fire apparently started above the furnace and had spread and was blazing when the firemen arrived.

Greatest damage was done in the living room of the two-story house. The floor joists under a large area of the living room and a corner of the dining room were burned away leaving the floor sagging. All the furniture on the ground floor was blistered and smoked. Little damage was done on the top floor except by smoke.

The stairway in the center of the house was badly burned as the fire spread upwards through the partitions. The walls and ceilings on the ground floor were blackened; even the windows were smoked a dull brown.

The house and furniture are completely covered by insurance. Frank S. Unrath, a neighbor and owner of the house, discovered the blaze and called the fire department at 3:20 p.m. He said that he smelled smoke when he was putting his car away two houses away from the fire.

The firemen said that when they arrived flames were licking out from the walls. They soon had the fire under control but it continued to smolder for some time in the partitions and furniture.

Dontow is a railroad man and works in Davenport. Mrs. Pontow was taking care of a sick woman when fire destroyed her home. Their daughter was in school.

Fire Chief J. J. Clark said that the cause of the fire could not be determined but that it had started above the furnace.

The firemen were called at 11:30 a.m. yesterday to put out a small chimney fire at the home of Prof. Edward F. Mason of the school of journalism, 818 N. Linn.

Iowa Citizens Urged To Cooperate in Fat Drive Saturday

An appeal is being made to Iowa City housewives to respond to the fat collection drive which will be conducted Saturday by the Girl Scouts. The Scouts have successfully sponsored drives regularly each month, but with the need for fat products becoming increasingly more urgent, the full cooperation of everyone is asked.

The fat drive will begin promptly at 9 a. m. Saturday and donors are asked to bring the fat to the collection centers that morning. If residents have any questions, they are requested to call the Girl Scout office.

Fat collection centers are at the homes of Mrs. G. H. Scanlon, 220 Lexington avenue; Mrs. William Holland, 325 Melrose court; Mrs. Virgil Fordyce, 222 Highland drive; Mrs. George Hall, 804 Hudson avenue; Mrs. Edna Red, 325 S. Capitol street; Mrs. T. F. Slager, 748 Rundell street; Mrs. Walter Murray, 927 E. College street; Mrs. Evans Worthley, 10 S. Gilbert street; Mrs. E. C. Roeder, 725 E. Walnut street; Mrs. Frank Burger, 629 E. Brown street; Mrs. W. J. Holub, 312 N. Linn street, and Mrs. V. W. Bales, 430 S. Dodge street.

'Live Wires' Publicize 'Y' Activities

Displaying the enthusiasm which is to be the keynote of the organization, the Live Wire group of the Y. W. C. A. had its first meeting yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. rooms of Iowa Union. The group is composed of one girl from each dormitory, sorority house and Currier unit.

'Live Wires' Organized by Women To Inform Housing Units of 'Y' Activities

Carrying the current "Y" happenings back to the girls in their respective housing units will be the task of the "Live Wires" who have been selected as Y. W. C. A. contact girls from the various dormitory units and sorority houses on the campus.

Yesterday afternoon the group had its first meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms of the Iowa Union. Louise Johnston, A3 of Marshalltown, who is chairman of public relations for the "Y" and in charge of the Live Wires, presented information to them about the Y. W. C. A. Christmas program which will be given Thursday afternoon.

The Live Wires will be called together whenever the "Y" is sponsoring an activity which they wish to call to the attention of every member in as short a time as possible. In addition to making announcements in house and unit meetings, the Live Wires will be responsible for posting the weekly "Y" bulletins in their respective units. These girls will serve during the second semester of this year.

From the sorority houses Live Wires are Lois McIntosh, A1 of Villisca, Alpha Chi Omega; Janice Pederson, A1 of Marshalltown, Alpha Delta Pi; Lois Jeanne Long, A2 of Cedar Rapids, Alpha Xi Delta; Marian Pollitz, A1 of Cedar Rapids, Chi Omega; Manetta Waldron, A1 of Peoria, Ill., Delta Delta Delta; Kay Barngrover, A3 of Cedar Rapids, Delta Gamma; Elizabeth Riordan, A1 of Miami Beach California, Gamma Phi Beta; Mary Lou Peterson, A1 of Chariton, Kappa Alpha Theta; Barbara Brunelle, A1 of Ft. ## OPA Registers 500 Landlords

More than 500 landlords registered yesterday for OPA rental officials in the basement of the Elks club.

Registration will continue today and tomorrow and all landlords in Iowa City are required to register. The office will be open until 7 o'clock tonight and until 5 o'clock tomorrow night.

T. J. Wilkinson, area director for the office of price administration division of rent control has estimated that 3,500 landlords and proprietors of hotels and boarding houses will register for rent control.

The permanent location for the rent examiner, an attorney and staff will be in the Iowa State Bank and Trust company building in rooms formerly occupied by the Johnson county war price and rationing board.

How to stretch a ton of coal!

CONSERVING coal is going to be a "must" for everybody this winter. This isn't because less coal is being mined.

It is estimated that 29 millions more tons of coal will be mined this year than last—with fewer men. Quite a feat by mine owners and miners alike! And there are adequate rail facilities for bringing the coal to your city.

But certain grades and sizes of coal are needed for war production. And, in addition, your local dealer is suffering from a shortage of manpower, trucks and tires. So be patient with him.

And conserve the coal he is able to deliver to you. You can make your coal supply go at least 10% further—and save that much on your fuel bill—by taking a number of simple precautions.

See that your heating system is clean and in good repair. Close off unused bedrooms. Pull your shades and drapes at night. If you can, insulate. For other suggestions see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C&O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem, and to know how essential coal is these days.
