Superforts Raid Targets On Kyushu

Asiatic-Based Planes Hit Industrial Points On Japan Mainland

WASHINGTON, Saturday (AP)—Superfortresses of the Asiatic-based 20th bomber command hit at industrial targets on the island of Kyushu, part of the Japanese mainland, in a daylight raid today.

A communique issued by Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the 20th airforce, said details of the mission will be released as soon as they become available. There was no indication of the size of the striking force.

The raid was the first on Kyushu targets by the B-29's since Dec. 19 of last year. Kyushu is the southernmost island of Japan.

Hannover, Berlin Hit In Night Raids

RAF Follows Daylight Attacks by U. S. Bombers, Fighters

LONDON (AP)—Hannover and Berlin each was raided twice last night by British bombers as the RAF carried the allied air attack against Germany around the clock after more than 1,500 United States heavy bombers and fighters had pounded a score of road and rail junctions behind the front during the day.

Hannover, industrial city of 500,000 population which was the night's main target, was smashed first by a force of about 750 Halifax heavy bombers and later by smaller formations of Lancasters.

Both raids on Berlin, which was hit for the second consecutive night, were by mosquitoes dropping two-ton blockbusters.

The multiple night raids by well over 1,000 RAF bombers followed an emergency assault by more than 1,000 Flying Fortresses and Liberators with an escort of 500 Mustangs against virtually every major supply link in the vital 150-mile distribution zone supporting the German western front offensive.

The American fleet spread 3,000 tons of explosives on freight yards and highway junctions from Cologne south to Karlsruhe and from the Siegfried line east beyond Frankfurt.

Wheeler Asks U. S. To Abandon Surrender Demands

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) last night called on the American people to demand that the allies abandon "the brutal and costly slogan of unconditional surrender."

The Montanan, in an address prepared for an NBC broadcast, also asked:

1. Creation of a united nations political council "to see that the present series of disgraceful unilateral peace settlements now taking place in Europe stops." He said that "only in this way can the inevitable conflict arising out of the creation of two spheres of influence in Europe be averted."

2. Steps to create a United States of Europe as "the only basic cure for her ancient ills."

"America tonight," he asserted, "faces a grave crisis in this war and an impasse in international diplomacy."

In his speech last night, Wheeler declared that until the "unconditional surrender" slogan is withdrawn "we shall go on blowing Europe and our boys to bits without rhyme or reason, still ignorant of why we fight."

Russia Formally Recognizes—

Lublin Government for Poland

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia brought to a head one of the thorniest problems facing the impending "big three" parley yesterday by extending formal recognition to the Polish provisional government of Lublin and making a clean break with the exiled Polish regime in London, which is supported by the United States and Great Britain.

The Soviet move emphasized with finality the inability of Russia, the United States and Britain to agree on the Polish question and brought a definite split in big three unity.

United States, Britain Informed The United States and Britain had been informed officially of Russia's intention in advance of yesterday's announcement.

Both Britain and America followed the Russian statement with a reiteration of their announcements four days ago that they still were standing by the London Polish government.

Caught between this terrific diplomatic crossfire, the London Poles officially expressed "regret from the point of view of united nations unity," but said they were not surprised at the development.

Sever Relations in 1943 The Soviets severed relations with the London Polish government in April, 1943, in a dispute over the finding of the graves of thousands of Polish officers in the forests near Smolensk. Russia accused the Germans of having killed the officers, but the London Poles asked the International Red Cross to investigate a counter claim by the Nazis that the Russians had committed the atrocity.

Although the Russians plainly had favored the Lublin group since it was formed several months ago in Moscow, they had not given it formal recognition until yesterday.

V. Z. Lebedev was appointed ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to the Lublin regime.

Authoritative British quarters said Moscow's move came as no surprise and in no way affected Britain's recognition of the London Poles.

Washington Reaction (Official reaction in Washington was that "the worst has happened," and that there appeared to be no immediate way of breaking the deadlock.)

The London Poles were left only with the hope that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill would be able successfully to plead their cause when the "big three" meets some time after Jan. 20.

Montgomery Heads First, Ninth Armies, Northern Forces

Eisenhower Shifts Bradley to Command Of Southern Troops

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris (AP)—Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery has been commanding the United States First and Ninth armies and all forces north of the German bulge into Belgium for more than two weeks, with Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley commanding forces only on the southern flank, supreme headquarters disclosed yesterday.

The quick change of commands was ordered by General Eisenhower when the Nazi offensive threatened to split the allies in two.

The colorful, confident Montgomery personally took command in the north at midnight Dec. 20, and rushed direct to the front to direct American blows that halted the German plunge toward Liege, and now are hitting southward at the German salient, a field dispatch from AP correspondent Wes Gallagher said.

The British Second and Canadian First armies already were under his direction, so Montgomery now is leading four armies.

Bradley—whose 12th army group had comprised the American First, Ninth and Third armies—took the southern command, directing the Third army's assault northward against the German penetration. Bradley's new command also includes one division of the United States Seventh army.

Two American air groups also come under Montgomery's overall command by the shift.

At the same time it was disclosed Prime Minister Churchill had returned yesterday to London after conferring with Eisenhower and Montgomery on the continent.

While Gallagher said Montgomery took over on Dec. 20-21 during the most critical stage, Gen. George C. Marshall in Washington said the famed British leader assumed charge the second night of the German offensive, which was launched Dec. 16.

Important Burma Port Captured by British

Japanese Flee Akyab, Naval, Air Base In Western Burma

CALCUTTA (AP)—British and Indian forces in an elaborate water-borne swoop captured the important port of Akyab on the west coast of Burma without firing a shot. This was the last big Japanese naval and air base in western Burma and its capture virtually sealed the fate of Mandalay, 230 miles to the northeast.

The Japanese, who had made the city of 40,000 a chief base of operations since May, 1942, fled before three allied columns swarmed ashore on Akyab island—on which the city is situated—early Wednesday morning, allied headquarters announced yesterday. Landing forces encountered only mines and booby traps.

Capture of the port gives the allies an invaluable new forward base for future operations against the Japanese in lower Burma.

American and British airmen have blasted the port so relentlessly in the past year that it had become known here at headquarters of the allied land forces of southeast Asia as the "Burma bulge."

Actual occupation of the prized island was something of an anticlimax, as Capt. W. D. David of the RAF had boldly landed a small liaison plane on one of its airfields the previous day and discovered that the Japanese had withdrawn to the mainland New Year's day.

In withdrawing the Japanese tried to take laborers of the local population with them, but desisted when the Burmese threatened to fight them with guns buried by the British when they retreated in 1942.

U. S. Sends Carrier Planes Over China

Red Army Stops Nazi Counterattacks

ABOARD ADMIRAL MCCAIN'S FAST CARRIER FORCE FLAGSHIP OFF FORMOSA, Jan. 3 (East Longitude Time (AP)—The United States fleet spanned the Pacific today (Tuesday, United States time), sending carrier planes for the first time over the China coast while hundreds of other navy planes attacked Formosa and Japan's Okinawa island to the north.

It was the first time in more than three years of war that the American fleet actually reached the mainland of Asia. It drove straight through Japanese waters.

The attack on Formosa, in which navy planes were accompanied by dozens of marines flying Corsair fighters, also marked the first time marines ever operated in combat from carriers.

The Corsair fighter which also had its carrier combat initiation at the same time, is faster than even the navy Hellcat fighters, and returning pilots said gave a good account of itself.

Vice-Admiral John S. McCain sent his fliers in a wide fan-shaped sweep over Formosa, huge Japanese supply base for the Philippines, and northward over Okinawa.

Red Army Stops Nazi Counterattacks

Tito Forces Cross Austrian Frontier In Surprise Drive

LONDON (AP)—The Red army reported last night that it had smashed back powerful German counterattacks northeast of Budapest for the fourth straight day of a great tank, airplane and infantry battle. To the southwest the Soviets' Yugoslav allies announced they were fighting on the soil of Austria after crossing the Styrian frontier.

In a sudden extension of his Balkan fighting front, Tito announced that Yugoslav advance units had slashed a vital German rail supply line running northward from Maribor in Yugoslavia to Graz, 26 miles inside Austria, and had destroyed stretches of another line paralleling the border.

As the entire eastern front appeared to be stirring in preparation for great winter operations, Berlin reported new Russian stabs 120 miles below Warsaw which may herald an all-out Soviet offensive on that long-dormant front.

Inside flaming Budapest Russian storm troops seized another 233 blocks from bitter-end Nazi defenders to boost the total in their possession to more than 1,530, and they reported in their midnight communique from Moscow that they had captured another 2,400 German and Hungarian soldiers.

In the furious battle 30 miles northwest of the Hungarian capital, the Russians reported successfully repulsing "a number of heavy attacks" by both infantry and tanks.

Nazis Step Up V-2 Attacks On London

LONDON (AP)—The German high command, which tried and failed last summer to knock out London with the V-1 flying bomb, stepped up its V-2 rocket barrage yesterday.

The German radio, already busy with accounts of the German winter offensive in the west, announced that volleys of the ten-ton radio-controlled projectiles had been increased in the last 24 hours with all the destructive rockets aimed at the sprawling urban area of greater London.

Significantly, for the first time in weeks there was no mention in the German command's daily communique of long-range (V-2) fire against any place but London. Previously both Antwerp and Liege have been regularly-announced targets.

A possible refinement in V-2 construction was hinted in a dispatch from neutral Sweden which reported the destruction by patriot dynamiters of an important radio components factory in Denmark which it was asserted made "magic eye" apparatus for V-2's.

Ward's Files Answer To Government Case

CHICAGO (AP)—Montgomery Ward and company filed an answer to government proceedings in federal court yesterday, calling for a federal court order for the seizure of its properties in seven cities "unlawful" and asserting there was no constitutional power authorizing the president to seize a plant such as Ward's.

The answer and supporting affidavits by 21 company officials denied the labor dispute behind the seizure affects the prosecution of the war and contended the sole purpose of the government seizure action was to give war labor board directives effectiveness.

Rome (AP)—Enemy troops have unsuccessfully attempted to blunt the spearhead of the American Fifth Army position pointed at Bologna in the heart of the Po valley in a flurry of activity on this long quiet sector, allied headquarters announced yesterday.

The Germans staged a raid, supported by heavy artillery and mortar fire as well as small arms, on American positions a mile north of Livergnano and 10 miles due south of Bologna, but they were driven off by doughboys entrenched in snow-encrusted foxholes after a stiff battle lasting more than an hour.

Allied Troops Stall New Nazi Offensive In North France

British Second Joins U. S. First Against Breakthrough

PARIS (AP)—The second big German offensive in three weeks, stabbing 15 miles into northeastern France, bumped into firm resistance by the United States Seventh army yesterday as American and British troops to the north fought savagely to squeeze the Nazis out of their Belgian salient.

Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery—now disclosed as commanding the four allied armies north of the Belgian bulge—sent his British Second army into the battle alongside the American First in a concerted drive that had advanced up to 2 1/2 miles against the northern flank of the enemy's original breakthrough.

The Germans fought fiercely against this advance and on their southern flank forced the United States Third army to withdraw one to two miles under the pressure of at least 21 counterattacks in two days. The withdrawal was described as a line-shortening operation to give the Americans a better tactical position.

The new German drive south of the Maginot fortress of Bitché, where the Seventh army has been pounded back 15 miles in five days, finally was stunted at the point of the Nazis' deepest penetration when Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's doughboys threw out enemy troops who had infiltrated into the highway town of Wingen, 9 1/2 miles south of Bitché and 12 miles north of Saverne.

By nightfall all Germans except a few snipers had been cleared from Wingen. Associated Press Correspondent Robert Wilson said, preventing the Germans from enlarging their salient into the northern Vosges mountains. This success kept open the important Sarregue-Mines-Hagenau highway—main east-west route to the open plain.

Other islands which previously felt the tread of American soldiers are Leyte, Pananon, Dinagat and Homonhon.

The day of the landing also saw American planes hitting hard at Japanese airdromes throughout the Philippines and other southwest Pacific islands. Mitchells and Liberators heavily bombed Clark field's airdromes in daylight Thursday, destroying 30 parked planes. A single Japanese plane over Clark field was the first enemy attempt at interception since Jan. 1.

A force of Liberators and P-40 fighter planes hit Limbones island in Manila bay in daylight the previous day.

Air and naval units supported the Marinduque landing, the communique said.

It also was Wednesday that planes of a carrier task force, part of the United States Third fleet, opened their two-day attacks on Formosa and Okinawa island. Okinawa is in the Ryukyu chain which stretches southwest of Japan, and the island with Formosa make direct stepping stones for Nipponese aircraft flying from home bases to the Philippines.

BBC Reports ELAS Abandon Athens Fight

ATHENS (AP)—The British reported yesterday highly successful operations against the ELAS, who have been informed by the new Greek government of Gen. Nicholas Plastiras that fighting must cease before parleys on political differences can begin.

(The BBC correspondent in Athens reported that organized fighting ceased in Athens and Pireaus yesterday, and that the ELAS have apparently withdrawn from the Greek capital.)

U. S. Forces Unopposed

Seizure Establishes Direct Contact With Luzon Coast

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Philippines, Saturday, (AP)—The unopposed American landing on Marinduque island Wednesday (Philippine time) in a new liberation step toward Luzon, principle Philippine island, was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Marinduque, approximately 20 by 25 miles in size is only 12 miles from the Tayabas peninsula on Luzon. The communique said the seizure gave the Americans "control of the Sibuyan sea and established direct contact with the southern Luzon coast."

The landing was at Bnenavista on the southwest coast, approximately 20 miles east of Mindoro island, invaded by the Yanks Dec. 15, and 100 miles southeast of Manila.

A headquarters spokesman said the interior of the island is virtually impassable, but a highway runs 15 miles north and south along the beach shelf on the west coast.

Marinduque is the seventh island of the Philippines on which American forces have landed in the two and a half months' campaign to liberate the archipelago. It is the third within long range gun distance of Luzon. The nearest points on Mindoro and Samar are less than 15 miles from southern Luzon.

Other islands which previously felt the tread of American soldiers are Leyte, Pananon, Dinagat and Homonhon.

Ban on Conventions Effective Feb. 1 Proposed by Byrnes

WASHINGTON (AP)—James F. Byrnes proposed last night the cancellation of conventions scheduled after Feb. 1 unless they are in the war interest.

The voluntary ban proposed by the war mobilization director, with President Roosevelt's approval, would apply to conventions attended by more than 50 persons.

Byrnes said he was so certain his appeal "would receive immediate public support and general cooperation" that he has taken no measures to establish government enforcement procedures.

In addition, Byrnes asked the general public to defer non-essential travel.

He appointed a committee, headed by Director J. M. Johnson of the office of defense transportation, to receive and pass upon applications for meetings to be attended by more than 50 individuals. This agency, on which representatives of the war and navy departments, war production board and war manpower commission will sit, is to decide whether the conventions are "sufficiently in the war interest to warrant the tax on transportation and services."

It is expected, Byrnes said, that the committee will act not only on requests from the public, but also on those from civilian government agencies.

Kirke Simpson Interprets the War News—

Plagued by appalling winter weather, the battle of the Belgian bulge is building toward a climactic clash.

It seems clear that more than a routine emergency shift in command due to communication difficulties was involved. The fact that it took place within 48 hours after the foe struck and when the full scope and weight of his blow and the size and nature of the forces he had committed to the attack was becoming apparent is probably significant.

German and allied observers alike have heralded it as the most decisive action of the war in the west.

Out of all circumstances now revealed can be deduced the impression that a major policy decision was made by the highest allied military command even before the German drive had begun to slow down.

It goes far to confirm the view that the great allied pincer operation against the narrow and vulnerable waistline of the Nazi bulge into Belgium marks far more than an attempt to regain lost ground and restore the situation prior to the German breakthrough smash in mid-December.

There seems no longer question that all previous winter offensive plans were shelved by the allies as soon as the true nature of the German thrust was revealed.

The situation then developing in Belgium warranted the command shift. Deepening enemy penetration of American First Army lines near the left center of its previous wide front had made quick communications difficult.

Nazi commentators so interpret allied offensive moves. They say with good reason that the most titanic battle of attrition ever fought in western Europe is taking shape in that limited bulge area.

At the same time, his superior, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, wrote in an official publication that the war "can no longer be regarded as a young man's war."

There was immediate speculation whether Hershey is forecasting a change in the draft status of the older registrants now deferred.

'Work or Fight' Order for 4-F's Favored—

WASHINGTON (AP)—Draft officials made it doubly plain on Capitol Hill yesterday they want 4-F's drafted for either a uniform or a war job and threw out a hint also that the older men of the nation are not beyond call for duty.

Employment of physically handicapped people "up to their potential," said Representative Kelley (D., Pa.), might obviate the need for national service legislation.

At the same time, his superior, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, wrote in an official publication that the war "can no longer be regarded as a young man's war."

There was immediate speculation whether Hershey is forecasting a change in the draft status of the older registrants now deferred.

Meanwhile, some new legislative steps, aimed at utilizing 4-F's in the war effort, were being hammered out in congress to meet James F. Byrnes' manpower requests.

Just what shape they will take will depend on President Roosevelt's message to congress today. The president is expected to make definite manpower recommendations.

Pending receipt of the message, sentiment was swinging toward "work or fight" legislation.

Should the president make no definite recommendations, house military committee Chairman May (D., Ky.) added, "We will put in a work or fight bill of our own" to force 4-F's into war jobs or face induction into non-combat military units.

Senator Johnson (D., Col.), ranking majority member of the senate military committee, took the view however that the administration already has ample authority to draft 4-F's.

May said relaxation of "unreasonable physical requirements" of the armed forces "would help

Opinion On and Off the Campus—

Do You Like Registration System?

Eleanore Strawman, A4 of Anamosa: "I like this method better because of the personal element and the closer contact it affords. Also there is less confusion than seeing people at the Union."

Joanne Kadlac, A1 of Cedar Rapids: "I like it better and it takes less time. I had a personal conference with my advisor, and then an assistant went over the entire schedule with me."

David Trochtenberg, G of Anita: "I think it's a much better plan because when you get a large group similar to the crowds at registration in the Union, it makes it difficult to speak to advisors. This plan is good especially for freshmen."

Barbara Barnes, A4 of Chadron, Nebraska: "I think it's a good plan, because as a new student at Iowa I was unfamiliar with requirements to graduate. I needed personal conference to clear these things up."

Paul Mallon Discusses—

What Is the Country Coming to—Domestically, Internationally

WASHINGTON—An underlying apprehension of what this country is coming to, domestically and internationally, is evident in the run of the news the past two months since election.

Lately, a presidential adviser, Bernard Baruch, chose to defend capitalism as the best system in the world in a talk to the federation of Jewish philanthropies. In the political, defeated Representative Han Fish called for a third party. These are wisps of evidence of a general current of inner doubts and fears which need more candid airing.

To start it, look first at politics. The figures show 4,400,000 service men voted (round numbers). But there are more than 11,000,000 persons in service. About a third of them voted, but not half.

No one has estimated how many were not eligible because of age. Yet certainly the election was not of great interest to the army, navy and marine corps. Restrictions did not stop there.

In New York 600,000 ballots were sent out to eligibles and of these only 422,698 were cast. In short, one third of the New York servicemen who obtained ballots, did not vote.

From this must flow the natural conclusion that a surprising percentage of the flower of American manhood was not sufficiently interested in either Roosevelt or Dewey to go to the trouble of voting.

About 60 percent of the service votes cast went to Roosevelt, which would be 2,640,000. So the votes of 2,640,000 soldiers controlled the result among more than 11,000,000. The one fourth comprising the tail wagged the three-fourths of the dog.

Now this would not be of extraordinary importance were it not for the similar rise of active minorities domestically, showing what take as much time. You can think things out better and have your schedule arranged more satisfactorily before you start."

Barbara Coffman, A4, South English: "I like the old plan better because all the advisors and instructors are right there and you don't have to run around all over the campus to see them. It saves a lot more time."

Jean Trowbridge, A3, Stuart: "I think it is an improvement over the old plan. It gives the student more time to think over what courses he wants to take. Under the old system he is likely to register without giving much thought to it."

Mary Lamb, A2, Des Moines: "I like the new plan because I think it saves a lot of time. You can really work out your schedule beforehand and then take it around to the different professors."

To Toumanova—

Double Triumph

CHICAGO (AP)—Tamara Toumanova risked two careers by her unorthodox essay into acting. The result: A double triumph.

The stunning Russian-born ballerina, noted for her midnight black hair and smouldering dark eyes, followed her own determined design in venturing upon a second career.

"I wanted to open the door upon a new life in acting," says Toumanova, "but I wanted to continue my career in ballet."

"People predicted I would fail in motion pictures because I had no acting experience. They also said movies would ruin my dancing, that I would never be as good. It was a challenge to me."

She decided not to dance in her first picture, asked for a straight dramatic part and refused to undergo the usual Hollywood leg-art type of buildup.

"They wanted to take pictures of me in bathing suits. Why—a bathing suit means nothing! They wanted to give me 'oomph'—that means nothing. I think 'oomph' soon goes 'boomp!'" She wanted a change to prove her ability without synthetic glamour.

Eye to eye with this aim was Casey Robinson who wrote and produced "Days of Glory." Toumanova starred in that and won acclaim as a new actress. She later married her producer.

She felt her acting achievement, which came almost six months ago, was not complete until she could prove that though she had missed two seasons her ballet career was unimpaired.

On her return this season as guest artist with the ballet theater, critics welcomed her with infrequently used praise: "Brilliant," "imperious," "seductive style." They referred to her as "the great Toumanova."

She enhanced her ballet career in Chicago when Leonid Massine, one of the leading modern choreographers, chose her to dance the major part in his world premier of "Moonlight Sonata."

Toumanova was born in a railroad box car shared by soldiers, horses and only one other woman besides her mother, fleeing across Siberia in the 1920 revolution. They went to Paris where she began ballet lessons at the age of five, unusually young in that decade.

A year later, she was discovered by one of the greatest dancers, Anna Pavlova, who featured the baby ballerina in a new Parisian ballet.

Sol Hurok, the impresario, was present at her first performance. It was he who brought her to the United States in 1933 when he sponsored the first American tour of the ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Toumanova, her mother, a Georgian princess, and her father, a former colonel in the Russian imperial army, have become American citizens.

Her next motion picture has been announced as "The Green Hussar" with her husband producing and directing for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Her new MGM contract calls for five pictures in three years but allows, at her insistence, time for an annual tour with the ballet company in at least New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

pledged to work with all its heart and soul to bring about a lasting peace through an international organization with adequate force to back it up. As the next United States senator from Indiana, I hope to have a part in helping carry out this program."

Two Men From Indiana—Gates, Capehart

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Stocky, bespectacled Ralph F. (for Fesler) Gates, who will be inaugurated Monday as Indiana's 15th Republican governor is the first state chairman of either major political party to go directly into the state-house, although several have tried.

Gates, a 51-year-old lawyer, has spent most of his life in his small home town of Columbus City in northern Indiana and has been active in Republican organization politics for nearly 25 years.

During the 30's when there was a monotonous turnover of GOP state chairmen, Gates led one of the factions which alternated in holding the whiphand. He became chairman as a "harmony move" in 1942 and held the post until he announced his candidacy for governor in the party convention. He was unopposed for the nomination.

Gates says he used to "fish and golf a little" but his hobby now is "politics and government."

As governor-elect, he has "no pet theories of government in particular" but believes that "the best government is the best politics."

"Ability comes first with me," Gates said in an interview as he prepared to take over the state administration after 12 years of Democratic control.

"I've got to adhere to the idea (on major appointments) that a man must be fitted for the position he seeks. I'm going to take office with a feeling of keen responsibility—with a feeling that the justification (for GOP election success) will depend on what this administration does."

political lieutenants: "Who was that preacher—that was as fine a sermon as I ever heard."

Home E. Capehart, Indian's new United States senator, says intimations that he is an "isolationist" or has an isolationist background are unfair to him personally and an "insult" to his state.

Mary Lewis Marries Sergt. Adolph Voigt In Single Ring Service

In a single ring ceremony, Mary Emily Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Lewis of Fayetteville, Ark., became the bride of Sergt. Adolph H. Voigt of the Spokane army air field, Spokane, Wash., son of Mrs. E. Voigt of Elmhurst, Ill., Dec. 21 at 11 a. m. in the chapel of the Central Methodist church at Spokane. The Rev. Charles MacCaughy officiated.

The bride was attired in a two-piece street-length dress of air force blue gabardine. Her corsage was of white carnations and roses, and she wore black and white accessories.

The bride was graduated from the Fayetteville high school and from the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, and is now a graduate student at the University of Iowa.

Sergeant Voigt is a graduate of Elmhurst academy at Elmhurst and attended Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. Before entering the service he was employed by the Western Electric Utilities company in Chicago.

More Cold Weather Predicted for City

Iowa Citizens still shivered, but temperatures have stayed above zero for the last 24 hours. Thursday night's low was 3 above according to the bureau located at the airport. Yesterday's low was 11 above and the high was 13 above at noon.

The forecast for the vicinity was snow or freezing rain and colder for Saturday night.

KURILE ISLANDS GET PREVIEW OF THINGS TO COME

THE OMINOUS SHADOW of an 11th airforce Mitchell bomber darts across Japanese installations on Torishima Retto, to picture coming events in the Kurile islands. The bombs were not dropped this time, being saved for more important targets. Torishima Retto is near Paramushiro.

Ceremony Unites Dorothy Schnoebelen, George Johnson Jr.

Miss Dorothy Schnoebelen, 308 S. Capitol street, daughter of Mrs. Mary Schnoebelen of Riverside, became the bride of George Johnson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Kalona in a single ring ceremony at 5 p. m., Thursday in the rectory of St. Patrick's church. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. J. O'Reilly officiated at the service.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her twin sister, Delores Schnoebelen of Iowa City. Joe Echrich of Kalona served as best man.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara, and her only jewelry was a gold cross. Her bouquet was of red roses and white sweetpeas.

The maid of honor was attired in a floor-length gown of blue with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and blue sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner took place at the Princess cafe.

The bride, a graduate of St. Mary's high school in Riverside, has been employed at the Princess cafe. The bridegroom attended Center high school and at present is engaged in farming.

Freshmen Students Deliver Examination Speeches Over WSUI

"Freshman Takes the Platform," a program of high ranking final examination speeches in communication skills was broadcast last night over WSUI at 8 o'clock.

Speeches were presented by Betty Drees, Carroll, "Western Civilization"; Shirley E. J. Man, Brooklyn, N. Y., "Political and Cultural Lag"; Bob Reemer, Schleswig, "The Law of Supply and Demand"; Mary Cavett, Charles City, "A New Trend in Education"; Joe Gamble, Des Moines, "World Federation"; Marilyn Guenther, Winterset, "Geopolitics."

On Display— Mexican Paintings

An exhibition of the work of three Mexican painters of today, Rivera, Orozco, and Siquieros, will be on display in the main gallery at the art building until Jan. 21.

The exhibition, which comes from the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, has explanatory notes which give brief summaries of the artists' lives and comments on each of the large paintings by these men.

This art, which belongs to the decade of the 20's, has made the most original and greatest Mexican contribution to the art of our time. Fired with the convictions of the whole country in violent social fervor, the painting still looks down on Mexican artists of the present who have gone back to the individualistic and private art of easel painting, and it is in part responsible for the rebirth of mural painting in the United States.

Among those to be honored in the memorial service is Ruth Hamblin, past president of the Rebecca assembly. The public is invited to attend.

There will be a practice installation tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Odd Fellow hall.

Mountaineers to Have Illustrated Lecture On 'Wildlife in Action'

"Wildlife in Action," will be the topic of an illustrated lecture by Dr. Olin Sewall Pettigill Jr., Jan. 11 for the Iowa Mountaineers club. Dr. Pettigill, a member of the faculty at Carleton college, Northfield, Minn., is an outstanding photographer and lecturer. His natural color movies show the weird courtship dances of the Prairie Chickens, the aquatic displays of western grete, wary wild turkeys in the pines of Georgia, tanagers, orioles, hummingbirds, and finches, the famous sidewinder rattlesnake in action and many other dramatic studies of American wild-life filmed in "slow-motion."

In 1931, Dr. Pettigill was photographer of the Carnegie Museum expedition to Hudson Bay, bringing back with him the first photographs of a number of birds inhabiting the north country. In 1944 he was commissioned to photograph the abundant wildlife of the National Audubon society sanctuaries in Texas.

Also a well-known ornithologist, Dr. Pettigill has published numerous articles in technical and popular magazines. His book, "Laboratory and Field Manual of Ornithology," is used in numerous colleges and universities.

A graduate of Bowdoin college, Brunswick, Me., Dr. Pettigill later received his Ph. D. degree in ornithology from Cornell university, New York, N. Y.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock in the chemistry auditorium. Any non-members who expect to attend should obtain their tickets in advance.

Sergt. Charles M. Wilson to Return Home After Serving With Fifth Army in Italy

Sergt. Charles M. Wilson of Iowa City, veteran of more than 32 months service overseas, is returning home on furlough from the Fifth army front in northern Italy.

Formerly with a medical regiment, he transferred to a battalion medical detachment of the veteran 135th regiment of the 34th infantry division shortly before the first assault on the German stronghold at Cassino, Italy. He continued with his unit at the Anzio beachhead, Rome, Leghorn, Pisa and the Gothic line.

Sergeant Wilson was attending the University of Iowa when he entered the army. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson live at 323 E. College street. Another son, Robert, is with the infantry in France.

Awarded the Bronze Star for his heroic actions on the road to Rome, Sergeant Wilson was wounded while fighting north of Barbarino and has been awarded the Purple Heart.

The Legion of Merit recently was awarded to Maj. Dorothea A. Coleman, WAC, of Bloomington, Ill., at a review and presentation ceremony at the Mediterranean airforce headquarters in Italy.

Major Coleman, staff director for the WAC personnel assigned to the air forces in that theater, was cited for "exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services from March 18 to Aug. 10, 1944" Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commander in chief of the MAAF, made the presentation for the deputy supreme commander.

The Illinois officer, with about two and one-half years service in the woman's army corps, was formerly supervisor of physical education at Bloomington. She is a graduate of the University of Iowa and also studied at Bloomington Normal institution.

Major Coleman attended the command and general staff school at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., after receiving her commission with the first officer candidates class at Ft. Des Moines.

She served as director of training for the WAC in Washington, D. C., and also was commanding officer of the WAC detachment in Ft. Myer, Va. Overseas since Sept. 2, 1943, she is entitled to wear, in addition to the Legion of Merit, the theater ribbon and the WAAC ribbon, which denotes service in the corps before it was made a part of the army.

The Air medal has been awarded to former University of Iowa student, Lieut. James R. Narber, now with the 10th army airforce in Burma, for "meritorious achievement in aerial flight."

Son of Mrs. George E. Knapp of Vinton, Lieutenant Narber was chucked up 24 combat missions totaling 202 hours during his six months of service as a B-24 pilot for the famous Seventh bombing group, operating against the Japs throughout the India-Burma theater. He entered the armed forces two and one-half years ago.

Pvt. Calen R. Patterson, whose sister, Arlene Patterson, is a cadet nurse at the University of Iowa, is returning home on furlough from the Fifth army front in Italy after 34 months overseas service.

Son of C. A. Patterson of Wellman, the young private has been a member of the 34th "red bull" division, assigned to anti-tank service in Iowa's 133rd regiment. He left this country in February, 1942. After serving in Ireland and Scotland, he participated in the invasion of Algiers and towards the close of the Tunisian campaign was transferred to division headquarters as a staff orderly.

He has brother serving with the United States infantry overseas and a second brother has been discharged from the service.

Dorothy A. Whitmore, who received her B. A. and M. A. degrees at the University of Iowa, has arrived in England to serve the armed forces as a Red Cross hospital social worker.

Until her overseas assignment, Miss Whitmore served with the Red Cross in army hospitals within the United States, and previously was with the Family Welfare association, in Minneapolis, Minn.

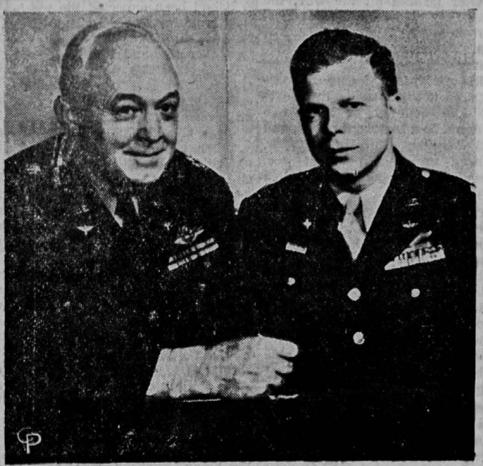

Auxiliary Elects Mrs. Wilber Phelps

Mrs. Wilbur J. Phelps was named president of Old Capitol auxiliary No. 29, Ladies auxiliary of Patriarchs Militants.

Other newly elected officers are Mrs. Estelle Gilbert, vice-president; Mrs. John Kadlec, secretary, and Mrs. Chris Rayner, treasurer.

How William Sidney Porter happened to choose O. Henry as a pseudonym is a mystery but it may derive from Orrin Henry, who was a guard at the Ohio State penitentiary, while the author was incarcerated there.

Gail Mosely Becomes Bride Dec. 28 In Double Ring Ceremony at Anamosa

Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and candles, Gail Mosely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Mosely of Anamosa, became the bride of Pfc. John R. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Russell of Anamosa, at 2 p. m., Dec. 27 in the Congregational church in Anamosa. The Rev. H. E. Dalrymple officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Wilma Russell, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, provided the nuptial music.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Claire Mosely of Iowa City. Larry Jessen of Anamosa, boatswain's mate second class, served as best man.

The maid of honor selected a two-piece crepe dress of navy blue, and wore a corsage of talisman roses.

Mrs. Mosely, mother of the bride, chose a black crepe dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother was also attired in black with black accessories. Each had a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the Mosely residence. A three-tiered wedding cake and holly and candles formed the table decorations.

The couple left on a short wedding trip after the reception. For traveling, the bride chose a biege gabardine suit with black accessories.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Ruth Roberts of Monticello and Rhodonda Miller of Oskaloosa.

The bride is a graduate of Anamosa high school and will graduate from the college of liberal arts at the University of Iowa at the April convocation.

Private Russell graduated from Anamosa high school and attended the University of Iowa and Coe college in Cedar Rapids before entering the army. He is now stationed at McCook, Neb.

Helpful Washer Tips

- ★ Do not overload your washer.
- ★ Rinse tub and remove soap and lint immediately after washing.
- ★ Release pressure on wringer rolls and wipe dry after washing.
- ★ Oil moving parts according to manufacturer's instructions.

Your Washer Is Not "Expendable"

THERE are no washer replacements these days. The one you have must stay on the "firing line" until Victory is won—and probably for some time thereafter. It will, too, provided you follow the simple use and care rules given above. Remember—better care means less repair and longer wear.

Hawkeyes to Play First Big Ten Game Tonight

Iowa Faces Minnesota

Golden Gopher Center May Provide Threat To Hawkeye Record

Probable Starting Lineups

Iowa	Pos.	Minnesota
Ives	F	Holmberg
Postels	F	Tomczyk
C. Wilkinson	C	Hermesen
Spencer	G	Lehrman
H. Wilkinson	G	Christesen

Time and place: Saturday, 8 p. m., Iowa fieldhouse.

Broadcast: WSUI, 910 kc.

The point happy Iowa Hawkeyes delve into their conference future tonight when they meet the fast improving Minnesota Gophers on the Iowa fieldhouse floor at 8 p. m.

In hitting the nets for 438 points against Western Illinois Teachers, South Dakota State, Nebraska, Denver, Notre Dame and Michigan State the Hawks have established themselves as one of the nation's outstanding teams for the young 1944-45 court season.

Prime Favorites

Although the Hawkeyes are rated as prime favorites by sports-writers throughout the country, Coach Pops Harrison is playing the role of the cautious mentor in stating that Iowa's 12-game conference schedule is a "rough road" to travel.

The many games that lie ahead for the Hawks are not all going to be "honey and roses" as the Big Ten conference teams have been peppering the hoops for an average of 51 points a game in the 60 contests played. Even the fact that Iowa has been rolling along at a 71.3 average per duel will not soften the quality of the competition to be faced.

1,500 Record

However, tonight's contest does find the Old Golders favored as the non-conference schedule of the Gophers ended in four wins and four losses, while the Hawks were maintaining an unbeaten record in six games played.

The Hawkeyes' balanced scoring machine which enabled four players to average from 14.8 to 9.1 per game will be pitted against a Gopher attack which has averaged only 44 points in their eight games.

The giant Minnesota center, center, "Kleggie" Hermesen, who towers to six foot, seven inches is expected to cause Iowa no end of trouble. Hermesen rides into the battle with a point average of 19.5 in the four games he has played since he became eligible late in December. But Coach Harrison is counting on center Clay Wilkinson to hold that average down considerably and contribute his usual number of points to the home cause.

Big Center

Hermesen will be the second Gargantuan center that Wilkinson has faced. Michigan State's Bob Krall fared rather badly against the expert defensive actions of Clay, although his height did help the Spartans cause greatly.

Hermesen, unlike Krall, has plenty of experience to match his great height, having played professional ball with the Sheboygan, Wis., quintet.

Height Edge

Iowa, however, will hold the height advantage as usual, for the Hawks average 6 foot 3 1/5 inches to the Gophers' 6 foot and 1/5 inches. All of the Iowans are experienced, whereas three of the Minnesota quintet are freshmen. The foe's second highest scorer, Arnold Lehrman, veteran guard, is also expected to be a bottleneck for the Hawks' offensive tactics, as well as worrying the Old Golders defense with his scoring maneuvers.

It has been four years since the Hawkeyes have won from the Gophers on the Iowa court, the last win coming in 1941. However, they trounced them twice last year at Minneapolis, evening up the court a trifle in the record of wins and losses in all games played. The northern lads have won four of the last five contests played on the Iowa floor.

Loras Wins

DUBUQUE (AP)—Wiping out Simpson college's early 12-1 lead, Loras college went on to defeat the Redmen here last night, 60-50.

The winners gained the lead shortly before the half and were out in front at intermission time, 29-26. They were never headed again.

Forward Wayne Knipschild led the Duhawkes with 21 centers while center David Wareham dropped in 19. Chuck Kuchen, Simpson center, was high for the losers with 19.

Hawk Wrestling—Work Starts

A near fall was scored on University of Iowa inter-collegiate wrestling by the war in 1944 but the sport now has fought back to its feet for the 1945 season and Coach Mike Howard, one-time Danish Olympic athlete, and winner of international wrestling titles, can enter his 24th year as Hawkeye tutor. His season opens against Wisconsin at Madison, Jan. 20.

Fair Team

"We might have a pretty fair team, with special strength in the 136, 155 and 175-pound classes. However, most of the wrestlers lack experience and will have to develop fast," Coach Howard said Friday.

Workouts for all first and second place winners in the all-university wrestling tournament will begin Monday at 4 p. m. in the fieldhouse, Coach Mike Howard has announced.

He pointed out that less than two weeks remain for the team candidates to round into shape for the final trials which will determine the eight men to wrestle Wisconsin at Madison, Jan. 20.

Coach Howard announced that a team captain for 1945 will be elected Tuesday at 4 p. m.

A year ago Coach Howard was aiding in the ASTP physical training program and had limited time to promote wrestling. He worked with only two men—one of them won the Big Ten title and the other was third. The "team" placed sixth in the championship meet.

Standout of the 1945 squad is Rometo Macias of Davenport, who last season was the only freshman ever to win a Big Ten title. He earned the 128-pound crown and probably will go after it again, but will wrestle at 136 pounds in the dual meets.

Prep Champion

Virgil Counsell of Osage, former state prep champion, is a good 155-pounder, and Jim Woltz of Burt has great possibilities in the 175-pound class, Coach Howard believes. A second semester newcomer, Gene Jeys of Ft. Dodge, is the probable 165-pound starter.

Other weight leaders are: 121—William Dalton, Moline, Ill., and Edwin Rein, Burlington; 128—Edward Lardner, Moline, and Kenneth Potter, Renwick; 145—Clinton Morphey, Mason City, and Lynn Frink, Tama, and heavy-weight—Jim Hansen, Omaha, Neb.; Jack Kelso, Atlantic, and Arthur Clark Jr., Humboldt.

Rivermen Set Back West Liberty

After leading all the way, the University high Blue Hawk courtmen topped West Liberty last night, 35-21, at West Liberty.

Steve Nusser, with 11 points to his credit, lead the locals' scoring, and every man on the starting five counted at least two markers. Red Morris, forward, and Jack Kennedy, Blue Hawk center, marked up eight points apiece. West Liberty's high man garnered 10 points.

The U-high cagers were never seriously threatened by their opponents. Although the game was slow in starting, the locals soon picked up a sizeable lead and held it throughout the contest. At the end of the first period, the count stood at 3-2 in favor of the Blue Hawks, and at halftime the Iowa Citizens were on top by a sizeable eight-point margin, 16 to 8.

The two teams almost matched points during the third quarter, and the count at the end of that frame was 28 to 17, but Coach Ross Wedemeyer's team raced on to come out on top, 35 to 21.

The Blue Hawk victory last night gives the team a record of four wins and one loss for the season.

Madigan Mentioned For UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Buck Shaw, formerly of Santa Clara, and Slip Madigan, formerly of St. Mary's and now of the University of Iowa, are among those being considered for the coaching job at UCLA, vacated yesterday by Edwin C. (Babe) Horrell.

William Ackerman, graduate manager of athletics at UCLA, has been asked to canvass the field and recommend a successor.

Others likely to be considered are Ray Richards, who acted as line coach for Horrell; Bronko Nagurski, who was backfield coach; Marcy Schwartz, Bernie Masterson and Jimmy Phelan, formerly of Washington and now of St. Mary's.

Plane Wreckage Spotted

Baseball Executives Confer in Chicago

Landis Successor To Be Chosen At A Later Date

CHICAGO (AP)—A 10-member committee representing the American and National leagues met here yesterday to draft a new major league agreement but ostensibly concurred only in setting a date for another huddle which will be held in New York Feb. 2.

Whatever sentiments were expressed by five officials from each league regarding a pact to replace the 24-year-old agreement under which the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis ruled baseball with an iron hand were not disclosed after a three-hour closed session.

"Discussed Generally"

Will Harridge, American league president, who with Ford Frick, National circuit head, sat in with the owners, released a statement which said the agreement was merely "discussed generally" yesterday and will be whipped into formal shape for presentation to the committee on Feb. 2.

At that meeting which comes three days before a joint meeting of the leagues also to be held in New York, the committee will decide upon its final recommendations, Harridge said.

Two Substitutes

"There will be no announcement made of the recommendations," his statement said, "until they have been considered by the leagues."

The committee which assembled shortly before noon at the Palmer House where the original agreement was drafted and Landis named commissioner on Jan. 12, 1921, had two substitute members.

Harry Grabner, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, replaced Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Indians, who is ill, and Eddie Collins, vice-president of the Boston Red Sox, sat in for his boss, Tom Yawkey, who was detained in Boston by business.

Committee Members

It had been expected the meeting would last two days and might produce informal discussion of a successor to Landis, who died at 78 as baseball's only commissioner. The committee had been authorized, however, only to draft an agreement.

General Manager

Other committee members included Warren Giles of the Cincinnati Reds; Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals; Horace Stoneham, president of the New York Giants; Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Jack Zellar, general manager of the Detroit Tigers; Donald Barnes, president of the St. Louis Browns and Joseph Hostetter, American league attorney.

Michigan Nips Indiana in Opener

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Freshman forward Ted Berce's only field goal of the game in the final minute of play brought Michigan a 54 to 53 basketball victory over Indiana university here last night. The lead changed hands 10 times and the game was tied on six occasions.

Indiana trailed almost all the way through the second half after Michigan had finished on top in a see-saw first period that ended with the Wolverines leading, 27 to 25. With the Michigan margin whittled to 50-47 with just four minutes to play Indiana's sophomore guard, Ray Brandenburg, connected for two straight field goals to put the Hoosiers in front 51 to 50 and forward Gene Farris cashed in on a rebound to give Indiana a 53 to 50 margin with two minutes to go.

Michigan's Bob Geahan counted his seventh basket from close in and Berce, Michigan substitute, looped in a one-hander with less than a minute to play to clinch the victory.

Geahan of the Wolverines, and Farris and center Al Kralovansky of the Hoosiers held a three-way duel for the game's top individual scoring honors, Farris hitting 16 points to 15 each for Geahan and Kralovansky.

Michigan's victory was its first this season in the Big Ten. Last night's game was Indiana's first against conference opposition.

Michigan moves to Champaign today to meet Illinois.

City High Halts Franklin By 36 to 24

Freeman Leads Attack With 15-Point Total; Team Works Smoothly

By ROY LUCE
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

A revamped City high Little Hawk quintet reopened its conference schedule last night on the City high floor with a smashing 36 to 24 victory over the Franklin Thunderbolts of Cedar Rapids.

Led by forward Bob Freeman who poured in 15 counters, the Red and White looked like an entirely different team from that which lost to Davenport several weeks ago. A new star was born on the Hawklet basketball scene as sophomore Bob Krall, playing his first varsity game hit for seven points, and by his aggressive floor play led the Hawklets from a 9 to 8 first quarter disadvantage to a half-time lead of 19 to 10.

Start Fast

The Red and White started fast with Freeman and Dick Kallous hitting from the side, but the combination of Rod Rust and Bill Chadima soon cut the Hawklets' lead as they pushed the score to 9 to 4 before Kallous finally broke the Little Hawk drought.

The Little Hawks playing in spurts, roared into the second quarter with a barrage of baskets by Krall, Kallous, and towering Don Sehr, who entered the fray at the start of the period. The score had climbed to 16 to 9 in favor of the Hawklets before Phillips finally hit for the Thunderbolts on a free throw, the only point they collected during that stanza, as the Little Hawks went off the floor leading, 19 to 10.

Roar Back

The Thunderbolts, living up to their name, roared back at the start of the second half on baskets by Rust and Chadima to come within three points of the suddenly "cold" Hawklets before Freeman and Kallous. City high maintained their narrow margin, leading at the close of the third quarter 28 to 20.

With the giant Don Sehr controlling all the rebounds, and Freeman and Krall hitting from all angles, the Little Hawks steadily increased their lead as the fourth quarter ran out.

Big Difference

Sehr and Krall were undoubtedly the big difference between the Little Hawks of 1944 and the new 1945 version. Krall was the spark-plug that ignited the fighting spirit into the sluggish Hawklets' first quarter attack, and it was the all-around play of Sehr, both defensively and offensively, that kept the attack rolling.

Although the Red and White looked ragged and impotent in their scoring attempts the first quarter, their revitalized play the rest of the game had the fans on their feet continually.

Drake Outstanding

Freeman was outstanding on one-handed push shots from the center of the floor and on fast break-away plays. Dick Drake, for the first time this season, failed to break into the scoring column, but his usual outstanding floor play was the feature of the game.

The win was the second for the Hawklets in the Mississippi Valley conference as compared to one loss, and should push them up several rungs on the ladder of conference standings. The next scheduled conference game for the Red and White is next Friday with Dubuque high on the opposition floor.

In a preliminary game, the City high freshman-sophomore squad defeated the City high third team, 35 to 19. Beals, Dean and Sangster led the freshman-sophomore scoring attack, while Smith was high for the reserves.

The National Game—

Writers Made It Great

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The chimes get all the credit and nobody thinks of the poor guys down there heaving on the ropes, so it's probably only natural that the baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown contains the names of all the leading contributors to the game except a representative of those who made the sport the national institution it is today.

These singing but unsung banner bearers are the baseball writers themselves, whose invaluable contribution has been hidden by their own modesty and perhaps by a lack of realization of what they have meant to the game.

Selections Confined

The baseball writers' selections to the Hall of Fame are confined to outstanding players, with the choice of other nominees, such as men whose contribution largely was confined to non-playing activity, made by a special committee. But even if the scribes could nominate one of their own number it is doubtful if they would do it. They would consider such action as nothing but brass conceit.

However, the fact remains the names of some of the baseball writers down through the years are as closely associated with the growth of the game as are the names of the players they extolled.

Names such as Ring Lardner, Bill Slocum, Hugh Fullerton Sr., W. O. McGeehan and Charley Dryden, and the still very active Sid Mercer. They have become as legendary as the names of the stars whom they brightened so they would shine throughout the land instead of in one little circle.

Scribes Glamorized Game

It was the scribes who glamorized the game, surrounded it with an aura of romance, personalized and humanized the players, built reputations. In fact, their written words, often strung together into works of art, brought baseball and its heroes to every hamlet in the land. Much of the nomenclature of the game can be traced to their talented pens.

That a representative of this writing fraternity might be admitted to the Hall of Fame is doubtful, however. The scribes aren't in a position to do it if they so desired, and the committee men who make the other selections, to whom baseball writers are so commonplace, probably wouldn't think of it. They're too near the forest to see the trees, you might say.

Seahawk Grapplers Face Illinois

The Iowa Seahawk wrestling team will meet Big Ten competition for the first time this morning at 10:30 when the cadets meet the untested Illinois squad in a meet to be held in the Iowa fieldhouse.

Trying for victory No. 2, after their initial contest gave them a 21-9 decision over Illinois Tech, the Pre-Fighters will present a thoroughly juggled lineup from that which opened the season.

Chief among the changes will be the appearance of two new faces in the pairings. Scheduled to take over the 136-pound division is Marion Lusk, a low weight competitor who won the place over Pierce Hansen and Victor Ganske.

New Man

The other new man who will be in the listings for the first time is James Millman, a Council Bluffs cadet, who will wrestle in the 158-pound class.

In trying for the strongest possible arrangement, wrestling coach Lieut. Comdr. Archie Mathis has shifted several of his grapplers to different weight divisions.

Mathis, who was an unbeaten conference champion during his undergraduate days at Illinois, produced a .807 winning percentage in 17 years of coaching at Washington and Lee university.

Scored Fall

With Lusk in the 136-pound division, Walter Coupe, a former New York metropolitan champion, who scored a fall against his opponent in the opener, will drop down to the 128-pound class.

Because of Millman's entrance into the picture both John Petry and Alan Holcombe will be lowered a notch, with Petry wrestling at 145 and Holcombe at 151. Petry, an Indiana State Teachers' product, pinned his opponent in the first meet, while Holcombe, a former Michigan grappler, scored a decision at 158 in the Illinois Tech contest.

Top Weights Star

Remaining the same are the three top weights. At 185 will be Benedict Holdener, ex-St. Olaf and all-Minnesota college conference football guard, who pinned his man in 1:44 in the opening meet. A winner by decision, George Bettie will represent the heavyweights, with Delbert Beyer, the only loser to retain his spot, again wrestling at 175.

Coach Newt Law's Illinois team will be manned largely by inexperienced wrestlers, most of whom will be participating in their first intercollegiate meet. Law will have but two returning lettermen, George Voorhees of Urbana, and Ed Bower of Trumanburg, N. Y.

Paul Scheffel, a member of the 1944 squad, may get the call at 165 pounds but first must overcome the challenge of Hal Diehl, another returning squad member who, however, did not win a letter.

Seahawks Overcome Second Half Deficit

Pugsley Gets 12 Points; Cardinals Show Power Throughout Contest

By CHARLOTTE FERRIS
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Iowa's Seahawks got back in the win column last night as the Cadets went on a scoring spree in the last 15 minutes of the second half to send the Camp Ellis cadets to their first defeat of the season, 46-28.

In a game which saw the score knotted several times the Seahawks were hard pressed by the Cardinals almost all the way, as the first half saw only Charley Pugsley hitting the basket with any consistency. High man of the evening for the Pre-Fighters Pugsley tossed in five field goals and two free throws for a total of 12 points.

Rogers Stars

Leading point-getter and star for the Camp Ellis quintet was the sure shot Bob Rogers, who poured in baskets in an easy but not spectacular manner. Rogers hit the basket for seven field goals while tallying one free throw to give him a total of 15 points.

T. S. Ary, leading scorer for the Seahawks thus far this season had very few shots at the basket in the first half, but came back strong in the latter part of the second half to score 10 points.

Also coming to life in the last half was pivot man Joe Holland, who was held scoreless in the first half, but garnered a total of 11 points in the last half.

This final spree by the Cardinals was to be the last of the evening, however, since the army men were held to only two points for the remaining 15 minutes of the game.

Defense Works

Not only did the defensive machinery of the Seahawks begin to click, but it was at this point that the Pre-Fighters began to pile up the score with a total of 24 points in 15 minutes.

Ary, Holland and Jim Klein set the pace, while the Navy substitutes kept up the pace as they went in during the final minutes.

Officials to Meet To Explain Proposed School Legislation

Four meetings for the purpose of explaining and discussing the new proposed school legislation are to be held next week by County Superintendent of Schools F. J. Snider. All school officials and others interested in the schools may attend.

The meetings are to be held Monday, Jan. 8, at Solon high school; Tuesday, Jan. 9, at the Masonic hall in Sharon; Wednesday, Jan. 10, at the Oxford high school, and Friday, Jan. 12, at the court house in Iowa City. All meetings are to begin at 7:30 p. m.

The new legislation which is to be explained by Snider is composed of twenty bills and will be submitted to the Fifty-First General assembly, which convenes January 8.

Fire Smokes Out Tenants

A fire in the Clinton apartments, owned by N. F. Schmitt, yesterday morning burned a large hole in the floor of apartment 107 and "smoked out" the other tenants of the building.

The fire was discovered shortly before 10 o'clock by Schmitt after a tenant complained of smelling smoke.

Two WAVES, personnel of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school, Mary Lou Boland and Marie Loughry, occupy the apartment where the fire started. Cause of the blaze is unknown since both of them were gone at the time.

The smoke from the fire drove other tenants of the building out of their apartments. Some of the apartment occupants removed part of their belongings when threatened by excessive smoke.

USO Dance Tonight; Union to Entertain Servicemen Sunday

Maureen Farrell, chairman of group one of the central committee of USO junior hostesses, will be in charge of the junior hostess dance at the USO tonight from 7:30 to 10:30 with music provided by the public address system.

Central committee hostesses for this week's dance include Doris Bird, Ruth Carpenter, Barbara Clinton, Dixie Davis, Kathy Eggers, Martha Kane, Helen Klahn, Dorothy Mielke, Jerry Palmer, Charlotte Penningroth, Ruth Schultz, Darlene Ross, Lucille Thompson, Janet Van Alstine, Barbara Walters, Iris Wilken and Mary Lou Yenter.

A tea dance from 2:30 to 4:30 will be the feature of the Sunday afternoon program. A special floor show will take place during the intermission and the public address system will provide music for dancing.

Leo Cortimiglia will be at the piano in the lounge during the afternoon, and Mrs. Franc Kiburz will make three minute sketches of servicemen. A movie will be shown in the lounge during the afternoon.

Mrs. Harriet Walsh will continue dancing instructions for servicemen in the gymnasium of the USO building this afternoon from 5:15 to 6:15.

Snack bar hostess for the weekend will be women of St. Paul's Lutheran church with Mrs. L. C. Wuerffel as chairman. Assisting

Under G. I. Bill of Rights—

Wave Veterans Enroll at SUI

Army, navy and marine veterans are arriving daily from battlefields and training camps to enroll in the university, and this semester women veterans have also enrolled for the first time under the G. I. bill of rights.

Three former WAVES will receive necessary allotments for tuition, books, equipment and supplies in addition to a monthly subsistence. Mrs. Howard Brammer, Alice Hallcroft and Bobette Merrick, all of Iowa, have been stationed on opposite sides of the continent, but have returned to Iowa to complete their education.

Mrs. Brammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin, 405 S. Dodge street, is beginning her freshman year at the university while her husband is in the Philippines. Before resigning from the WAVES she was stationed in Seattle, Wash., in the admiral's headquarters.

Mrs. Brammer was employed at the Denver Public Service company in Denver, Col., before she enlisted with the WAVES in January, 1943. After indoctrination at Hunter college in New York she received yeoman training at Stillwater, Okla.

Alice Hallcroft, who entered the navy in January, 1944, was stationed at the Sampson naval training school in New York when she received her medical discharge. Now she hopes to receive training in psychology in order to work in a rehabilitation center after the war. She is living with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Cushing Lay.

Bobette Merrick of Des Moines received her indoctrination at Cedar Falls and after yeoman training at Norman, Okla., was stationed at the Corpus Christi naval school. She was working in the safety education offices at the state house in Des Moines when she enlisted in the WAVES.

While attending the university, she plans to spend as much time as possible with radio and art work, having previously attended the Cummings art school in Des Moines.

House Committee Considers Measure Restricting Dealers

DES MOINES (AP)—A measure to prevent automobile dealers from operating "off the curbstone" was among 25 bills submitted yesterday to the pre-session house legislative committee holding its last meeting before opening of the legislature Monday.

The bill, presented by the state motor vehicle department, provides that a licensed automobile dealer must have a place of business with a roof, increases the license fee from $5 to $12.50 and provides for the employment of two men to enforce it.

It and the other bills received her on the committee will be Mrs. Carl Larsen, Mrs. John Bertram, Mrs. G. C. Knowlton, Mrs. Wilbert Brender, Mrs. Lewis Bradley and Melvin Walters. Aiding that committee will be Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Sleichter, Mrs. Howard Rankin, Mrs. Howard Brammer and Mrs. George Dane.

Women of the 19th Century club will provide cookies for the cookie jars at the USO this week.

Youngest Christian Fellowship Group Plans Coming Meet

Plans for the January meetings of SUI's youngest student organization, Inter-Varsity Christian fellowship are now in progress it was revealed yesterday.

A member of the national organization of the same name, the local chapter is an outgrowth of a movement which started in Cambridge university, England, over 30 years ago. It spread to Oxford, then throughout the world, coming to the United States in the early thirties.

Within four years 150 chapters, inter-denominational and evangelical in character, were established in universities and colleges throughout the country. Some of the more active groups are at Iowa State, Ames; University of Illinois, Ohio State university and the State University of Minnesota.

National headquarters are in Chicago under the direction of Stacy Woods, general secretary. Kenneth Taylor is editor of "His", the official monthly magazine of the society.

Faculty advisor of the local chapter is S. R. Harding, supervisor of the manufacturer laboratory in mechanical engineering, and Dawn Dennison, A3 of Gary, Ind., is president. Other officers are: Joan Remy, A3 of Webster City, vice-president in charge of membership; Marjorie Allen, A4 of Hopkinton, secretary-treasurer; John Montgomery, A1 of Corydon, in charge of music; Ruth Norman, N1 of Iowa City and Gwen Gardner, A3 of Lorain, Ohio, are in charge of the social and program committee respectively.

Meetings are held on Friday evenings at 8 o'clock and are devoted to discussion and symposiums arising from the study of the book of the Bible, special speakers, and other features.

Plans for short daily noon prayer meetings are under way. All Inter-Varsity meetings are open and everyone is invited to attend. More than 25 students have shown an interest in the organization and last semester the meetings had an average attendance of 15.

Plans for the January meetings include a dinner meeting at which Capt. James Whittaker, who was rescued from a life raft in the Pacific ocean along with Capt. Eddie Rickenbacher, will be guest speaker.
