

Yanks Capture Clark Field, Ft. Stotsenburg

Push Southward Within 40 Miles Of Philippine Capital

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Friday (AP)—Clark Field, whose 13 airstrips constitute one of the richest prizes in the Pacific war, was captured Thursday by southward driving Yanks along with adjacent Ft. Stotsenburg while other columns pushed even deeper to within a scant 40 airline miles of Manila.

This climax of a campaign which has yet to run into any concentrated Japanese opposition during a push of more than 70 miles from Lingayen gulf avenged one of America's major setbacks of the Pacific war.

Clark field, where Japanese divebombers wiped out Gen. Douglas MacArthur's main air strength in the Philippines in early December, 1944, thus facilitating the Japanese conquest of the archipelago, gives the Americans a land air base to help blast open landing beaches on the coast of China.

Maj. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold's 14th army corps, moving so fast that the Japanese were unable to mass defenses in ridge areas where they had labored for months, shot motorized columns well beyond Clark field.

Moving for quick use of the air center, Griswold sent patrols into the nearby hills from which Japanese could impair the field's usability.

Today's communique supplied other details which made clear the drive toward Manila is on in earnest. While planes blasted Corregidor and Cavite naval base in the Manila area to soften up the Capital's defense zone, columns moving south on the left of Clark field flanked Mt. Arayat on the west. That mountain is the only good defense barrier for the enemy down the central Luzon plains on the shortest route to Manila.

The Americans have reached Angeles, five miles south of Clark field. To the northeast of Angeles, other columns have penetrated to Magalang, a highway junction on the direct route to Manila.

Gen. Joseph Stilwell Named Commander Of Ground Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a move weighted with meaning for Japan, the war department yesterday named Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell to command army ground forces.

Stilwell is the American general with the longest experience in Japanese military methods. He assumes command of the ground forces at a time when the task of reorganizing and training them for a major assault against Japan—either on Japanese or Chinese soil or both—appears to be pressing for attention.

The fact that both Lear and his predecessor, Gen. Leslie McNair, received important overseas assignments after heading the ground forces strengthens speculation here that Stilwell's next job is likely to be back in the field, leading American troops in the final crushing of Japan.

Last fall President Roosevelt announced Stilwell's recall from the CBI theater because of "personal differences" with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek of China.

Yank, Chinese Forces Trap 700 Japanese Along Burma Road

MYITKYINA, Burma (AP)—The American Mars task force road block on the Burma road began paying off yesterday as scores of some 700 trapped Japanese were being chopped down by rifle and artillery fire in a 30-square mile area between Namkham, Wanting and Namkappa.

Elements of four Chinese divisions were overtaking the fleeing Japanese seeking to escape through the jungle around the road block. In one enemy pocket alone Chinese troops killed more than 90. In another hiding place in a bamboo grove 10 more Japanese were slain by Chinese infantry.

A Japanese column attempting to sneak around the roadblock came under the fire of American artillery, which reported "good results."

Senate Extends Tax Forgiveness 3 Years

Defeats Compromise, Deals Blow to School Code Supporters

DES MOINES (AP)—Following a fiery day-long debate, the Iowa senate late yesterday dealt a blow to proponents of revision of the Iowa school code by voting 32 to 17 to extend for three years the 50 percent forgiveness of state income taxes.

A few minutes earlier, the chamber had defeated a compromise proposal by the school code forces which would have extended the forgiveness only one year. The vote was 30 to 19 against the amendment.

The forgiveness measure now goes to the house. If it passed there, it must be signed by Gov. Robert D. Blue. The governor's stand in the matter was discussed during the senate debate. Part of his inauguration speech was read to the chamber in an attempt to determine what his stand might be.

Defeat of the compromise move also was seen as a setback for the powerful Iowa farm bureau federation, one of the major organizations backing the school code, and followed implications on the floor of the senate that the federation had attempted to exert undue pressure.

Swiss Urged to Stop Exports to Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States applied economic pressure to Switzerland yesterday for its continued dealings with Nazi Germany.

The state department announced that President Roosevelt is sending one of his own administrative assistants, Lauchlin Currie, to resume negotiations with the Swiss in an effort "to shorten the war." Currie will seek two objectives mainly:

(1) To persuade the Swiss to close their railroads to shipments of coal and other goods from Germany to northern Italy.

(2) To cut off continuing exports of some machine tools and a few strategic metals and food supplies from Switzerland into Germany.

Currie's arguments, diplomatic officials said, will be reinforced by Germany's waning military fortunes, the growing power of the allies which promises immediate protection for Switzerland and the fact that allied domination of post-war Europe must now be taken into account as a vital factor in Swiss policy.

High of 38 Reached As Thaw Continues

The mercury yesterday rose to a high of 38, the second highest point reached this winter except for the record of 42 set a week ago. At 3:30 yesterday afternoon the temperature was 35; at 4:30 it had jumped up to 38, and an hour later was back to 35.

It was a long, hard fight for the mercury to climb to 38 from 7 above at 3 a. m. No such point will be reached today, for lower temperatures and increased cloudiness is expected. No violent change in weather is in sight yet.

Col. Elliott Roosevelt Nominated by FDR As Brigadier General

WASHINGTON (AP)—Col. Elliott Roosevelt was nominated by his dad yesterday to be a brigadier general and several senators said his dog's sky travels won't becloud the issue.

The nomination of the 34-year-old airforce officer went automatically to the senate military committee on a routine list of army promotions including 77 other colonels to one-star grade.

This is the committee which set up a subcommittee of three to inquire into army priority practices which permitted Blaze, young Roosevelt's big bull mastiff, to travel by transport to Hollywood after three servicemen were put off.

Chairman Stewart (D., Tenn.), in charge of the subcommittee, said the inquiry, relating only to priority practices, did not involve in any way the right of young Roosevelt to a promotion. Senators Bridges (R., N. H.) and Maybank (D., S. C.) agreed on that score.

Japanese Capture Chinese Rail Center

CHUNGKING (AP)—Japanese forces in a three-pronged drive to strengthen their corridor bisecting China have taken Yingtak and are being engaged 18 miles south of Kuoming, provisional capital of Kwangtung province, the Chinese high command announced last night.

Yingtak, a railway town 75 miles above Canton, was captured by enemy units driving from the south.

Japanese troops smashing from the west took Loehong, 150 miles north of Canton, while the enemy force striking southward from Leiyang, approximately 35 miles south of Hengyang, was being engaged between Leiyang and Hunching, about 30 miles farther south.

Maj. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of United States forces in China, announced that he had transferred his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Robert B. McClure, to Kunming to head a new combat command.

British Advance To Roer Continues As Enemy Falls Back

PARIS (AP)—The Germans opened up in northeastern France yesterday with what may be their last offensive in the west, but it was checked by savage United States Seventh army counterattacks after it had broken across the new American Moder river line at four points.

The attack rolled out at dawn along a 20-mile front, with three crack armored divisions piling at least three others in an assault which nowhere gained as much as two miles.

Offensive Checked All along the front, a late dispatch said, the Germans were checked or smashed back.

The threat to American positions at pivotal Haguenau, probably an initial German objective, was eased by doughboy counterattacks which shoved the enemy back across the Moder river east of this town, 159 miles north of Strasbourg.

Three German crossings of the Moder in considerable force from two to five miles west of Haguenau and 15 miles deep into Alsace, also were under attack and the enemy was being driven back across the river.

British Advance The British Second army, engulfing eight more towns as deep as 11 miles into Germany, was within a mile of the Roer river, barrier to the Cologne plain, and sending patrols stabbing toward the river.

The Germans were falling back to the Roer, from where they have speculated the next big allied drive will come.

In the shattered remnant of the Ardennes salient, the United States Third army was hounding the Germans back into the Siegfried line, not more than five and a half miles away in northern Luxembourg.

The United States First army attacked in near zero weather and pushed more than a mile east and south of St. Vith.

Henry Wallace Strikes Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry A. Wallace challenged congress yesterday to find out if Jesse Jones administered the government's giant lending agencies for the good of all. For himself Wallace said he would do the job for the common man and small business.

Without naming the man President Roosevelt wants him to succeed as secretary of commerce and head of the multi-billion dollar RFC, Wallace lashed back at Jones who Wednesday called him unqualified to preside over such big business matters.

Wallace did it this way—he proposed to the senate commerce committee that congress investigate the administration of the lending agencies to determine if they should be stripped from the commerce department.

The committee is considering such a divorce in a proposal by Senator George (D., Ga.). The day's proceedings wound up in an executive session after which Chairman Bailey (D., N. C.) announced the committee would vote this afternoon on the George bill.

Pendergast Very Ill

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Thomas J. Pendergast, 71-year-old former Democratic political leader in Missouri, "is a very sick man," his physician said last night. Pendergast was admitted to Menorah hospital Wednesday for treatment of an ailment, the nature of which was not disclosed. He became ill Tuesday.

Stiffening Nazi resistance on the Poznan sector, last defensive doubt on Polish soil in German hands, appeared to be slowing the Russian advance on Berlin along the shortest route but elsewhere on the eastern front there were ominous new developments for the foe.

All primary objectives of over-all Russian strategy that has guided the massive Red army sweep across the frozen Polish plains have been achieved.

In the light of this dark and incomplete picture of Germany's plight in the east, it is crystal clear that opportunity is knocking for the united nations allies. The chance that organized resistance

Stimson Reveals Troop Ship Sinking

36,456 New Army Casualties Reported By War Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—Along with a report of 36,456 new army casualties, Secretary Stimson revealed yesterday the recent sinking in European waters of a ship carrying American troops, with 765 dead and missing.

No detail was given in the loss of the troopship, beyond the fact that she was sunk by enemy action while carrying more than 2,200 soldiers, of whom more than 1,400 were saved. The casualties were divided: 248 dead and 517 missing.

The date of the sinking was not announced. Next of kin of casualties have been notified.

Announced loss of life has been heavy in the sinking of four other troop carrying vessels.

Casualties totaled 1,498 in the loss of two unnamed vessels in the Mediterranean last year. Approximately 300 army, navy and marine corps men and crew members were listed as missing or lost after a submarine sank the Henry R. Mallory while she was en route to Iceland early in 1943.

More than 4,500 officers and men were aboard the transport President Coolidge when she was sunk in the south Pacific Oct. 26, 1942, but only five were lost.

Des Moines Firm Robbed of $1,746 By Lone Gunman

DES MOINES (AP)—A lone gunman, posing as an applicant for a loan, held up the office staff of Thrift, Inc., a loan investment firm in the downtown business district, shortly before 5 o'clock last night and fled with $1,746.85 in cash.

Two women employes, two officers and a woman patron were herded into a conference room by the robber before he emptied the cash drawers, with the help of the cashier, whom he had covered with his gun.

Lay Siege To Breslau

Trap 200,000 Enemy Troops Behind Wedge To Baltic Sea

LONDON (AP)—The Red army shattered the German upper Oder river defense line on a 125-mile front yesterday, laid siege to the great Silesian capital of Breslau, and sealed off perhaps 200,000 enemy troops by driving a wedge to the Baltic behind beleaguered Konigsberg, East Prussian capital.

Surging on through swirling snowstorms the Russians were reported by the Soviet army newspaper Red Star to be within 125 miles of Berlin, presumably to the southeast.

Breaking into Elbing itself, 63 miles southwest of Konigsberg and 30 miles southeast of Danzig, the Russians cut the last railway serving the trapped and reeling German forces in East Prussia, which is an important food source for Berlin and northern Germany.

1,500 Towns Captured The midnight Soviet communique announced the capture of more than 1,500 towns and villages, including 700 in East Prussia and 150 on the German-Polish Silesian front.

Driving on Poznan, last big Polish stronghold before the German frontier due east of Berlin, other units took Potasz, seven miles on the north and Swardz, only five miles east of Poznan, and 142 miles from Berlin, the closest Red army penetration due east of the Reich capital yet announced by the Soviet command.

Oder River Crossings At the end of two weeks of lightning war the German high command announced that Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian army units had crossed the frozen Oder river at various points on both sides of Breslau between Steinau, 140 miles southeast of Berlin, and Cosel, 18 miles from the Moravian frontier of Czechoslovakia.

Moscow had not confirmed the crossing officially.

Racing around Gleiwitz toward Czechoslovakia and also striking into the German hinterland north of the Sudeten mountains, the Russians rapidly were encircling the entire corner of the rich Silesian basin with its huge coal, zinc, and iron mines and factories which make it the "Ruhr of the east."

The task force probably was composed of cruisers and destroyers. It inflicted "severe damage" on Iwo's defense installations, the communique said.

One Japanese cargo vessel was hit during the shelling and exploded. Two other vessels were left burning.

FDR Renominates Frank C. Walker

Customarily, that cabinet post has gone to the Democratic national chairman following a successful presidential campaign.

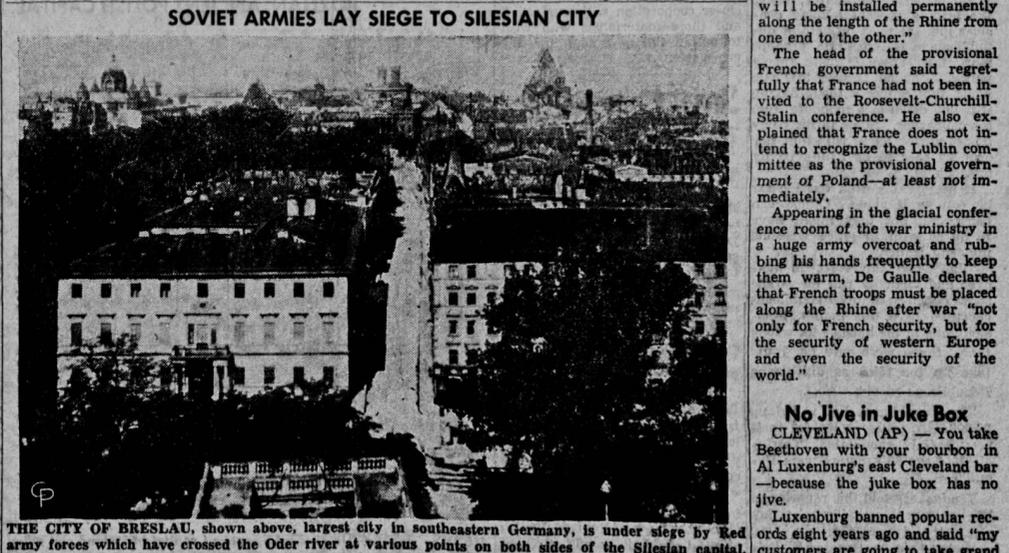

De Gaulle Demands Permanent French Army Along Rhine

PARIS (AP)—General De Gaulle told a press conference yesterday that "France does not intend to finish this war without the assurance that the French army will be installed permanently along the length of the Rhine from one end to the other."

The head of the provisional French government said regretfully that France had not been invited to the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin conference. He also explained that France does not intend to recognize the Lublin committee as the provisional government of Poland—at least not immediately.

Appearing in the glacial conference room of the war ministry in a huge army overcoat and rubbing his hands frequently to keep them warm, De Gaulle declared that French troops must be placed along the Rhine after war "not only for French security, but for the security of western Europe and even the security of the world."

Who'll Be Television Stars—

NEW YORK—Who will be the celebrities of television is anybody's guess. It's also anybody's guess where the television stars will come from: stage, motion pictures or radio.

Offhand, the stage and screen would seem to be the logical reservoir because those actors are supposed to be able to act with something more than their tonsils and have stage presence besides.

That, however, is not the way things are going. Phyllis Creore, who has appeared on 40 television shows—and that's something of a record—says: "Stage people are used to projecting for a whole theater. They 'play it big' and that's not for television."

Radio training is better for the small, intimate medium of television. Miss Creore claims: "Radio actors are cautioned to underplay on account of the microphone in front of them—and that's just the right amount of projection for the 'boom' or microphone that hangs overhead in television."

Miss Creore comes across well. She's a good looking blue-eyed blonde who was Miss Television at the New York world's fair, and has been dabbling in radio, too, doing small parts in soap operas.

The most valuable quality an actor can have in television is quickness. "Even if you are quickly wrong" is the way she puts it.

Three Senators, One Job—

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Charles McNary of Oregon died a year ago his fellow Republican senators handed his responsibilities as minority leader to a temporary three-man leadership.

It was made up of these senators: 1. Vandenberg of Michigan, chairman of the Republican conference.

2. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP steering committee.

3. White of Maine, who holds the actual title of minority leader. The triumvirate worked out well enough that the Republicans have continued it in the 79th congress.

It is off to a flying start. Most notable has been its astonishing effort to grab the ball away from the Democrats in the field of world peace.

Vandenberg made the first spectacular lunge after the ball in the speech in which he demanded the United States immediately commit itself to join the allies in post-war disarmament of the axis.

That speech put Vandenberg in position to debate without the familiar cry "Obstructionists! Isolationists!" The counter-proposal by Democratic Chairman Connally of the foreign relations committee for a provisional united nations council to advise on world political questions until the war is won.

Here's how the "Triumvirate" works: Vandenberg, a rip-roarer, makes the leading speeches. Many consider him the most influential Republican in congress. He, perhaps more than anyone, plans party policy. But he is free to "lone wolf" that policy without having it nailed down as a mandate from his colleagues. Some in his party do not always agree with him, nor does he care to be hampered by their views.

If he gets his neck out too far he can go it alone. Others can backpedal, but they might have to do so with ill grace were he minority leader.

"Van" had the votes to take over and virtually run the whole show when senate Republicans caucused here this month. Decision hung in the balance for a long time. Some were sure he would take up the reins as did strong Republicans of old.

The Republicans had rolled up 22,000,000 popular votes for their presidential candidate. Thirty-eight of the 96 senators were Republican.

Vandenberg told this reporter as late as the congressional holiday recess that it was "too early" to say what he'd do. Senator White's office said Vandenberg was "boss"

That's how radio helps—where you've been used to establishing a character after an hour's rehearsal.

A serious drawback is that radio actors are not used to memorizing lines, a necessity in television. And Miss Creore reminds: "Movie actors are only in the habit of doing a few lines at a time." So the legitimate actors have the edge in this respect.

Picture people also are used to having every gesture decided by the director. The television actor "has to make up his own business." It seems that television directors divide their attention between the cameras, lights and performances.

"Television is just as transient as radio—one false move is recorded forever," the actress said, "it isn't like pictures where there are retakes, or like the stage where a mistake won't be repeated in the next night's performance."

From the artist's viewpoint television seems to offer more hindrances than radio, heretofore the least attractive to actors of all mediums (because of anonymity, no audiences or applause in many dramas.)

It has been Miss Creore's experience to spend a couple of days memorizing a part, a couple of hours rehearsing in the intense heat of the lights and find out after the show that only the back of her neck could be seen on the screen.

Soviet Ambassador To Mexico Killed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Constantine Oumansky, 42, Soviet ambassador to Mexico, was killed yesterday in the crash of a Mexican airplane 500 yards from the airport in a take-off.

His wife and seven others, three of them members of Oumansky's staff, also died in the crash.

Only two of the 11 aboard survived and both suffered injuries and burns.

The plane took off at 5:30 a. m., for Costa Rica, where Oumansky had been assigned as Russian minister to officiate in the opening of diplomatic relations between the countries.

The craft failed in its attempt to gain altitude and Dr. W. L. Garnett of the American-British hospital, said it caught fire, at least after the crash.

Opinion on and off the Campus—

Should Major League Baseball Be Continued?

Frank Nash, E1 of Iowa City: "I think that it should be continued as long as no deferrals are given for it and as long as it doesn't interfere with the war effort."

Crawford B. Thayer, G of Haverville, Mass.: "I have two reasons for believing that it should be continued. In the first place, it is representative of the American spirit, and it would be a pity to abolish it as an institution. In the second place, it would allow younger players to get good breaks. I don't think, however, that a man should be deferred to play baseball, because that would also be going against this American spirit."

Eric C. Wilson, University news service: "There are probably several reasons why baseball should be continued, but the chief one lies in the fact that all of the so-called authorities who have interviewed servicemen in this country and overseas report that the fellows are almost unanimously in favor of it."

Rosemary Current, A1 of Peoria, Ill.: "Yes, I think it should be continued. Baseball, and sports in general, are one of the biggest morale boosters we have. Also, most of the men who are now playing baseball are helping in some war industry."

Bernadine Mackorosz, A3 of Kewanee, Ill.: "No, I think that all non-essential activities should be discontinued so that everyone can get 100% behind the war effort."

Marjorie Butterfield, A3 of St. Louis: "I certainly do. St. Louis won it last year! People who attended the major league games last summer in St. Louis certainly proved that big league baseball helped keep up civilian morale."

Stuart Siegel, A2 of Davenport: "Certainly major league baseball should be continued. Men in the service want it, and it helps build the morale of the whole country."

Mary Sass, A4 of Streator, Ill.: "Yes. People have to have some relaxation, even in war. All the games are in big cities where most of the fans are, and I don't think fans who live at a distance load trains unnecessarily by trekking to the games."

Eleanor Gates, A4 of Kingsley: "Yes, I think it should be continued if they can find enough fellows to make it interesting but I don't think they should exempt fellows for it."

Leo Cortimiglia, A3 of Iowa City: "Yes, as far as entertainment. It is a cog in the wheel of living, a part of the American way of living and to deprive the American people of this sport during time of war would be defeating our purpose."

Charles Moerke, A2 of Burlington: "Sure, it should. I believe all of the servicemen want it to be continued. Besides, it furnishes enjoyment for a lot of other people."

Kent Casstevens, A3 of Mt. Vernon: "Yes, the sport is operated with men who are not eligible for military service due to the fact that they are either too young, 4-F, or overage. This national sport also provides entertainment for civilians and servicemen alike that is invaluable in keeping up morale."

Charles Daugherty, P4, Bloom-Charles Daugherty, P4 of Bloomington: "I think it should be continued as it is one of the nation's top sports. Horse racing was prohibited, but that was a gambling affair."

Margorie Knapp, A2 of Ft. Madison: "Yes, conventions and horse racing are being banned and certainly conventions are more important than a sports event. Then, too, baseball players could do something constructive towards the war effort."

Veterans 'Chief Hope' to Higher Education

CINCINNATI, Ohio (ACP)—With student rolls in institutions of higher learning this fall down nearly a third below 1939, the last normal peacetime year, the estimated flow to American campuses after the war of 650,000 veterans for federally-financed studies "represents the chief hope of American colleges and universities for rescue from the present dearth of men students."

This is today's generalization of Dr. Raymond Walters, University of Cincinnati president and authority on college-university attendance statistics, in his 25th annual survey for School and Society, education weekly.

As of Nov. 1, there were 608,750 full-time students and 925,084 grand total, including summer and part-time students, in 679 approved institutions. Despite good-sized freshman classes of 16 and 17-year-old boys, current men students are from 50 to 94 percent below the figures of five years ago.

As of November, 1944, of the institutions which reported to Dr. Walters both this year and last, 648 had 593,271 full-time civilian and army and navy students, in contrast to 454,759 full-time civilian and approximately 363,000 in army and navy units in November, 1943. For 646 institutions reporting grand total figures for both years, there were 893,883 this fall and 1,099,043 in 1943. Slightly more than 60 percent of the current collegiate population are women.

California, with 16,201 full-time students continues as the country's largest university in this classification and New York university, with a grand total of 24,722, continues as largest in this group. Columbia university, with 12,039 fulltime and 21,978 grand total, is second largest in both classifications.

A large section of Dr. Walters' report is given over to comments, released here for the first time, as to prospects for returning veterans outlined by Omas W. Clark, assistant administrator of the veterans administration, Washington.

Based upon statistics as to age and educational qualifications of armed forces personnel and upon studies of post-war plans of a sample group of 10,000 servicemen, Clark predicts about 650,000 who will be "candidates for full-time education on the higher levels." Previous estimates hazarded by other sources and running as high as 2,000,000 veteran-students after the war thus seem far too optimistic.

The peak load for colleges and universities will probably come a year and a half after German's and Japan's defeats, Clark believes as he warns that veterans will not arrive on college campuses in a rush, but will be distributed over several years.

At the present, approximately 2,400 disabled veterans are now studying in colleges and universities. No figure was given for discharged non-disabled veterans taking advantage of the federal G. I. Bill of Rights provisions for higher education.

STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE

Paul Mallon Discusses—

Commerce Secretary

WASHINGTON—No spyglass is needed to see what lies behind the proposal of Mr. Roosevelt to supplant Jessie Jones with Henry Wallace as commerce secretary for the fourth term.

It is quite evidently a move by the leftwing forces, under whose influence Mr. Wallace operates, to capture control of what they always have claimed was the Jones financial hegemony.

These forces, which the public sees mainly expressed in the prominence of Sidney Hillman in the CIO, would gain the inside track in the government mortgage and loan business amounting to billions and reaching out into every bank and many a business. Mr. Jones has built up what amounts to a $40,000,000 mortgage empire for the administration.

The job of commerce secretary has meant little to the public. Until Jones took that chair it meant only management of government statistical bureaus relating to business, here and abroad, the bureau of standards, patent office, weather bureau and similarly unimportant (ideologically), etc.

But Jones brought into the big lending agencies, RFC, defense plant corporation, defense supplies, metals reserves, federal mortgage association, disaster loan corp and such which wielded a dominant financial influence out through the country.

The proposed transfer of all this to ultra leftwing influence is what shocked many senators into the comment which has been published.

Many other stories are being told, purporting to give the inside decision. Most of them relate to the personal feuds involved.

One of the great gunning games of the administration has long run between Wallace and Jones. Some say this is the reason why Wallace asked for the post, merely to oust a bitter antagonist who defeated him in their earlier row.

Bad feeling also has existed between the President and Jones since the Texan had been unable to quiet antagonism to the fourth term in his home state. The Leftists long have charged Jones with treachery, but never proved it, and I had personal experiences in the last campaign which proved to my satisfaction the Jones loyalty to the fourth term. His job which represents his life work was at stake, he thought.

All this is superficial and inconsequential no matter which side you are on. That the president would be guided by personal antagonism in such a matter would be difficult to be believed generally. The average inner feeling in the senate, as I judge it—or at any rate the common sense viewpoint on the issue—is this:

Mr. Wallace did as much public work as anyone for Mr. Roosevelt's reelection, although there are others, possibly including Mr. Jones who did great inside work. Certainly Mr. Wallace deserved a job and a job of his choice.

But that he would ask for the commerce secretaryship is somewhat strange in itself. He is about as well fitted for it as say Mrs. Roosevelt who also did good campaign work (in the average congressional opinion, and mine), she, too, was popular with the leftwing influence, no doubt equally dislikes Mr. Jones and has had about as much experience in the complex high finance involved in the New Deal's mortgage and bond business.

From the administration's own standpoint of keeping financial forces marshalled efficiently in the government interest, it would seem to me to be impossible for Mr. Wallace to do a good job.

The president unquestionably has placed a higher estimate than is average here on the man whom his campaign manager told him was not sufficiently popular in the country to be carried on the fourth term ticket in the recent elections.

What I cannot understand is why Mr. R. did not offer Mr. Wallace instead of Mr. Jones a choice of ambassadorships—a line of work in which he has had experience in Mexico and China.

Nebraska U. Students to Hold Miniature Peace Conference, Sponsored by YWCA

LINCOLN, Neb. (ACP)—University of Nebraska students will hold a miniature peace conference, sponsored by the YWCA cabinet in February, 1945, with every nation represented by an organized house or group on the campus.

This conference, which is to arouse student interest in international relations and the actual peace conference, will include all students on both ag and city campuses.

This planning committee will organize the conference and set up rules for the sessions. A faculty committee to be chosen from the economics, social science, political science and philosophy departments will assist the student planning committee and act as advisors to groups taking part in the conference.

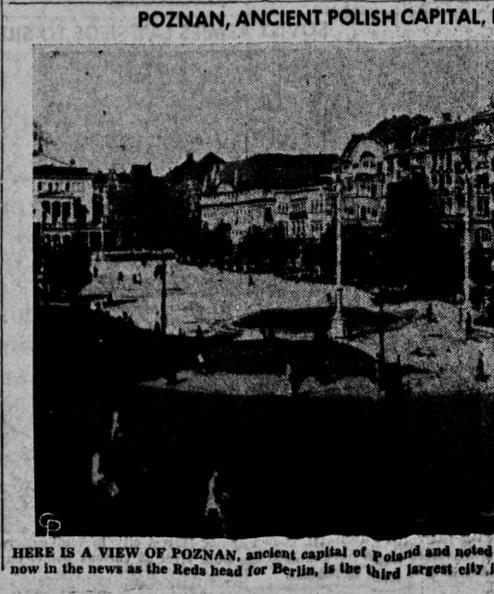

The plan outlined by the planning committee is as follows: The campus will be divided into organized houses, both affiliated and unaffiliated. A nation will be selected for each house to represent.

The conference will be an all-university project and the committee urges every student to participate in it. Lincoln unaffiliated students will be contacted through other barb organizations. Any 20 Lincoln unaffiliates who sign up, at a later date, will be given a country to study.

Ag campus students will be as active in this peace conference as those on the city campus.

Each organized house or group on the campus will study all peace proposals and plans set up by the country they will represent. Small groups of two or three students are to be selected in each house to study separate phases of peace planning such as re-armament, war criminals, boundaries and other topics to be announced by the committee. A house will represent its country in the conference as a delegation and will voice no opinion or make any suggestion of its own accord.

In February, the miniature peace conference will be held at the university. For a week pre-

Speaker Discusses British Problems

Graham Hutton Lists War, Post-War Issues At Information First

Finding homes for her 47 million people is one of the greatest domestic problems Great Britain will have to face after the war, according to Graham Hutton, director of the British information services in Chicago, who spoke yesterday for Information First.

Information First will not be held next Thursday because of the lecture to be given in the evening by Maurice Hindus, Russian author, at Iowa Union. Tickets for this university lecture may be obtained Feb. 1 at the information desk in Iowa Union.

One-third of Britain's dwelling places have been structurally damaged by German bombing, the speaker declared. At the present time, many of the homeless are living in the houses of the three million English soldiers overseas, but post-war demobilization will make the problem of housing increasingly important.

Britain must find means of re-igniting 5 1/2 million servicemen and women, returning from overseas to a country of 47 million people relying on imports for four-fifths of her raw materials. "Britain is not impoverished with reference to potential resources, but since 1914, two world wars have left their mark on British resources and power," Hutton declared.

Commenting further on the effect of wars on his country, the speaker said, "Thirty years doesn't make much difference in leadership, either, with two wars taking many of the young men who would have gone into politics."

Domestic problems of Great Britain are linked closely with the nation's foreign problems of exports and imports. In order to liquidate her debt, the nation must step up her exports by 50 per cent, yet she will be forced to import two-thirds of her food and four-fifths of her raw materials if the people are to be properly fed, clothed and housed. The problem is increased by the fact that Britain has no gold to exchange for goods.

No producer of primary products, Britain may be faced with the alternative of starvation or an intergovernmental cartel on wheat. International agreements concerning exchange of primary products for manufactured articles is the possible solution to the international post-war problem of exports and imports.

A nucleus of like-minded people, the British empire can be instrumental in keeping peace in the world, joining with the United States and smaller allied nations in some kind of international organization. Since it is necessary to preserve at all costs such an association of like-minded nations for peace and prosperity, differences between these countries require will and brains to establish the facts determining post-war policy and to agree on the implications of these facts.

Hawks Fight to Maintain Undefeated Slate Tonight

Iowa Ready For Big Contest

Close Contest Expected In Champaign Battle; Illini Slight Favorites

By ROY LUCE
Daily Iowan Sports Writer
Probable starting lineup

Iowa	Pos.	Illinois
Ives	F	Orr
Postels	F	Judson
C. Wilkinson	C	Delaney
Spencer	G	Kirk
H. Wilkinson	G	Burmester

The Iowa Hawkeyes arrive in Champaign today for their date tonight with the scrappy and unpredictable Illini quintet in a battle that may determine the outcome of the Big Ten conference race.

Outcome Questionable
The Old Golders, winners of ten straight games, will be meeting an Illinois five that has had its ups and downs in the young conference season. But the consensus of opinion, especially among Illinois sports writers and the University of Illinois publicity men, seems to be that the Illini will run the Hawks right out of the Huff Gym. According to them, the game is practically won, and Iowa might have as well have saved the travel fare.

The Hawks, of course, will have quite a bit to say about such views and, if the opinions of the Old Golders themselves are worth anything, the outcome of the battle is very much in doubt, as concerns an Illinois victory.

Ives OKAY
Contrary to the many different rumors circulating, Dick Ives is in perfect physical health and he hasn't cut his hand off, or broken his wrist or fingers. The rumors apparently were started at the St. Mary's-St. Pat's game Wednesday night, when Ives appeared with several other Hawks to witness the battle. At that time he had his four fingers of his right hand bandaged and in splints, but they were merely put on overnight to strengthen his fingers which were slightly bent backward in Wednesday's practice session.

For the fourth consecutive time, the Hawks will be meeting a dangerous first division ranking quintet. Purdue was tied for fourth when Iowa won, Michigan was fourth before its loss to the Hawks and Indiana was sharer of third before the Iowans booted them down the ladder of the conference standings.

Tallest Team
Illinois will present the tallest team that the Hawkeyes have faced all season, averaging just a scant inch per man less than the Iowans, but it is questionable as to just how height will effect the Hawks. Twice this season, Clayton Wilkinson has completely outplayed six foot, seven inch centers on opposing teams. But against centers way below his towering six foot, four and a half inches, he has fared rather badly. The same holds true for the rest of the team.

Iowa plays the way the opposition plays. If Illinois wants to play a fast breaking game, the Hawks are willing; and if they want to play a stalling game, the Hawks are well versed in that too. But, psychologically, all the advantages ride with the host school. Iowa is unbeaten, and, if they are to be set back this season, this is the spot for it. The encounter will be on the Illini's home court, and the Hawks' offensive power has dropped considerably since the opening of the season.

Hope To Hold Reputation
But Coach Harrison has as good team as any in Iowa history and he is not anxious to have the squad lose that reputation. "Lil' Dynamite" Murray Wier put it into words Wednesday night in an interview over WSUI, when he said, "They are plenty tough and are out to win, but we're pretty tough, too and want to win, too. We're all hoping for a victory."

Iowa is No. 1 in the league with four wins and the best defense. They are fourth-high offensively. Illinois is third in the standings with a 2-1 record, and with a rank of second on both offense and defense.

Broke Records
Although the Hawkeyes are not breaking any national scoring records, a few of the marks that have stood for some time have already fallen this season. Few people realized it, but the Iowans broke a record against Indiana by scoring 56 points. The previous high for the Indiana-Iowa series was 55 in 1942. It was the fifth Hawkeye record in a series to be broken this season, others being Nebraska, 61; Notre Dame, 36; Michigan State, 66, and Purdue, 61.

Hawk Mermen Face— Illinois Tech Here Tomorrow

The Hawkeye tank squad, developed by Coach David Armbruster, opens its schedule in the fieldhouse pool Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. against Illinois Tech of Chicago.

Armbruster will enter 13 men in the meet against the 10 from Tech, including Captain Bernie Walters; 60, 100 yard and breast stroke; Bill Boswell; 60, back stroke and relay; Lee Meis; 220 and 440, and Ralph Katz, sprints.

Hawks Lose Hallorsson
A blow to the Hawks, however, is the probable loss of Jonas Hallorsson, 30-year-old Icelander, who holds a dozen records in his own country and figures in the 220 and 440 for Iowa. Hallorsson has been in bed all week with the flu, and if he does swim Saturday, will enter only the shorter event.

Flu Hits Squad
The loss of Hallorsson is not the only threat against the Hawkeyes chances of victory, however. Armbruster reports that the whole squad has been weakened by a siege of colds and flu and that the tankmen will be definitely short of their best.

Although untried as yet, the Iowans look strongest in the sprints, backstroke, breaststroke and the relays, but they will be handicapped in the 220 and 440 by Hallorsson's absence.

Navy Men
This will be the first time the Hawks have faced Illinois Tech in any sport. The Tech tank squad is coached by Ed McGillivray, formerly of the University of Chicago, and is composed entirely of navy men, some of whom have seen active service with the fleet.

Tech Has Strong Team
According to reports, Illinois Tech is strong in the breast stroke, back stroke, 100-yard free style and diving, and although Iowa can hold her own in the first three events, she is notoriously short-handed in the latter.

Coach Armbruster said that the meet will be contested over the short course, the width of the fieldhouse pool.

Although the Hawks will not be at full strength for the meet, it will be good preparation for the later conference engagements, starting with Wisconsin, Feb. 3, and including Northwestern, Minnesota and the University of Illinois.

U-High Test— West Liberty
University high's Blue Hawks will attempt to get back on the victory trail tonight when they meet the West Liberty Comets on the local floor. The reserve teams of the two schools will clash at 7 o'clock, and the varsity squads will play at 8.

Undefeated in Conference
In tonight's contest the Rivermen will be shooting for their fourth straight Eastern Iowa conference win. They have lost no league games, although Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids and Anamosa have conquered the Blue Hawks in non-conference games.

The Comets will try to improve their standings in the league, as they have won only one game while losing three conference frays.

Blue Hawks' Offense
The Blue Hawks' offense, built around Center Jack Kennedy, and forwards, Steve Nusser and Red Morris, seemed to be clicking in fine shape in the practice sessions this week and should give the visitors no end of trouble.

Meanwhile, Jim Williams and John Miller, who are the mainstays of the Rivermen's defense, will try to stop the scoring of Kaalberg, who poured in 10 points in the first encounter between the two teams, which University high won, 37 to 21. Other West Liberty men to watch will be Owen, forward, and Wilson, the Comet center.

Usual Lineup
Coach Ross Wedemeyer is expected to start his usual lineup of Nusser and Morris at forwards, Kennedy at center, and Williams and Miller at the guards.

Probable starters for the Comets will be Owen and Kaalberg at forwards, Wilson at center, and Brooke and Probst at the guard posts.

Announce New Date For Gopher Mat Meet
The date for the wrestling match with Minnesota has been definitely set for Feb. 2, Coach "Mike" Howard announced yesterday.

Previously set for Feb. 3, other arrangements had to be made because of the swimming meet with Wisconsin and the basketball game with Michigan.

The first match will start at 2:30 p. m.

Hawklets Play Davenport Here Tonight
The two top teams in the Mississippi Valley conference will battle it out for sole possession of first place tonight when City high's Little Hawks clash with the Davenport Blue Devils in a game scheduled to begin at 8:15 on the Iowa City court.

A victory by the Hawklets tonight would give them a strong hold on the No. 1 spot as well as put them on the road to the conference title.

Stronger Quintet
Although the Red and White bowed before Davenport 39-32 in a meeting of the two teams earlier this season, the outstanding play of the Hawklets in the last two games has established the fact that the City high cagers will be a stronger quintet this time than they were in the previous tilt.

Shooting the works against Dubuque and Clinton the Little Hawks knocked both of these teams out of top ranking in the league, and now have only Davenport to boost out. A picture which saw Dubuque, Davenport and Clinton in a three way tie for first place has been changed so that Iowa City and the Blue Devils now share the league lead.

Home Court Advantage
Another advantage to the Little Hawks in their second meeting with Davenport will be that the Red and White will be playing on their own home court and will have the crowd behind them.

Even more important than this in the Hawklets' favor is the fact that the Blue Devils have now lost two key men, Hansen and Peterson, because of the eight semester ruling.

With all these factors combining against the Davenport team, the Iowa City men, who will certainly be gunning for this one, should make it pretty hot for the Blue Devil cagers.

Dick Drake Back
Although regular guard Dick Drake has now returned to the squad after missing the last two contests because of the mumps, it is unlikely that he will break into the lineup for more than a few minutes at the most.

Scheduled to start in the guard slots are Dick Kallous who has been City high's steady, cool-as-a-cucumber guard all season, and Russ Lackender, who has ably filled Drake's shoes.

Big Don Sehr seems destined to start in his role as pivot man for the Hawklets, while the forward positions are still more or less of a toss-up.

Van Deusen in Form
Slated for one of the opening forward berths in Jimmy Van Deusen, who played a whale of a game against Clinton and has been a veritable hot shot in practice this week.

The other forward court position will rest between Bob Freeman, the Hawklets' leading scorer, and Bob Krall, a fiery little player who has shown strong potentialities in his first season as a varsity member.

Bud Ruppert, alternate center, will probably see a good deal of action, too, since Sehr has a tendency to foul when covering his man.

Davenport Stars
Big guns in the Davenport attack are Paulsen and Burton, Blue Devil high scorers who capitalize on fast guard around plays, a type of offensive play which worked well for Davenport against the Little Hawks earlier this season.

Preceding the varsity contest the freshman-sophomore squads will play at 7 o'clock. Throughout the

St. Mary's to Face Irish of Cedar Rapids In Strong Test
With victory over their intracity rivals, St. Patrick's, still fresh in their minds, the Ramblers of St. Mary's will tackle a strong St. Patrick's five of Cedar Rapids tonight when they travel to the Parlor City to take on the Irish at 8 o'clock.

Rated on the Associated Press high school honor roll for the northeast district, the Cedar Rapids five had a close 39-38 victory over the local St. Patrick's as well as a narrow win over Immaculate Conception of Cedar Rapids. The Ramblers, who are rated on the honor roll for the southeast district in the same poll, also hold victories over both of the aforementioned teams, having marked up a 36-29 decision over St. Patrick's and a 42-32 win over the Greyhounds.

The Marians who are riding along on an offensive average of a little better than 43 points a game have also shown a terrific defense in holding all opponents to a 28 point average. In 14 games to date—11 wins and 3 losses—the Iowa City quintet has rung up a total of 607 points to their opposition's 393.

The two main cogs in the Ramblers offense this year have been Tom Stahle and John O'Brien, but credit for their excellent defensive average must go to all 10 boys on the squad who have been fighting it out all season for the starting berths.

A couple of hotshots by the name of Krumboltz and Driscoll, forward and center respectively for the Parlor City five, are expected to provide the biggest headache for the Suetpelpen tonight.

Coach John Kitch, St. Patrick's tutor, will probably start Spaight at the other forward position and Strouse and Naughton at the guard posts.

The probable starting lineup for St. Mary's will include Stahle and O'Brien in the forecourt, Bill Hetrick at center and Bart Toohy and Jack Shrader at the guards.

However, Coach Francis Suetpelp of the Ramblers said last night that there was a possibility that Stahle would be moved back into a guard position, as he was in Wednesday night's game, to make way for rapidly improving Andy Chukalas in the forecourt. With this arrangement, the Marians were immensely successful against St. Patrick's, and the team as a whole looked much stronger than it had all season.

Guards Bill Suetpelp and Jim Diehl and forwards Eddie Colbert and Don Seydel played bangup games in Wednesday night's encounter and all will undoubtedly see action tonight.

Women Play Three Intramural Games
Three games were played last night in the women's intramural basketball tournament with the following results:

Chi Omega defeated Clinton place, 33-9; Kappa Alpha Theta won over Tri Delt, 14-12 and Independent II lost to Currier annex, 10-25.

The percentages for the teams playing last night are: Clinton place, .000; Currier annex, 1.000; Kappa Alpha Theta, 1.000; Independent II, .000; Tri Delt, .500; Chi Omega, .500.

evening, the score of the Illinois-Iowa game, to be played in Champaign, will be posted so that those watching the City high contest may know how the Hawkeyes are making out.

Maybe So

A Few Notes
Fickle Fans

By BOB KRAUSE

LOTS OF JOTS: We certainly don't want to express any doubt about The Associated Press story to the effect that Jim Hansen has signed a contract with the Winston-Salem club of the St. Louis Cardinal chain. It's just that we've decided to throw away the stove. . . . It takes too much fuel to keep the rumor pot boiling. . . . But, again, our congratulations to Jim. . . .

The advance publicity concerning the Iowa-Illinois game tonight has now reached the stage of mass hysteria. . . . All the experts have been giving you the benefit of their predictions. . . . Well, we don't happen to be an expert, so we won't give you the questionable benefit of our guess as to the outcome of the thing. . . . To be frank, we don't know anything about Illinois, and we are beginning to wonder just how much anybody does know about them. . . .

All Tough
Ask anyone about the Orange and Blue and he will say, with a look of fear, that they are "Plenty tough." . . . This is about as vague as telling you that baseball is played with a ball. . . . As far as we know every team in the Big Ten is "plenty tough." . . .

The thing, to us, which makes the game interesting is the very fact that Illinois is surrounded by so much mystery. . . . That's all we know about it. . . . Dick Yoakum, who has gotten over a thousand letters this week complimenting him on his work, will be doing the contest over WSUI at 7:25. . . . It should be entertaining.

VIA THE MAILS We have received a yearly gripe from an Iowa basketball fan. But let us hasten to explain that the gripe is a legitimate gripe, and, as far as we are concerned, it will always be a legitimate gripe.

Our correspondent complains about what he terms the "unfair and unsportsman-like attitude" of some members of the crowds at recent Iowa basketball games. He refers to the booing and insults which are directed at the officials on close plays.

Sportsmanship
In closing, the letter asks this corner to insert a few words which might work toward influencing Iowa crowds to more sportsmanship.

We thank you, sir, for your letter, and the sportsman-like tone in which it is written. But we aren't going to do anything about it.

Not that we wouldn't appreciate it if some of the loud mouths in attendance at Hawkeye games should tone down a bit.

A Long Time
But we would have you remember that this kind of thing has been going on for years. There was a time when we used to get worked up at all the booing and jeering. But, in the long run, we think you will find that it all doesn't make a great deal of difference—just as long as nobody resorts to violence.

We would have you remember that the Big Ten is a rabid basketball circuit, and that Iowa City is a basketball-happy community. The people are inclined to take the game very seriously. Above all, they like to win. They regard the players on the various teams as personal property.

Therefore, since the fan pays his way to watch the proceedings, he is entitled to blow off quite a bit of what he considers to be righteous steam. And you can't tell him anything to the contrary.

Only Human
But we know how you feel. We look with some distaste on the fan who hollers at nothing, or who doesn't have the slightest knowledge of the rules. They don't realize the strain which officials labor under. Mistakes, we understand, are human.

Why don't you try this the next time you hear someone booing. When you see the guy on the street a couple of days later ask him what he was booing about. Chances are he will tell you his wife burned the supper that night.

Holland Leads New Attack

Cadets Hope to Repeat Early Season Victory; Weaver to Start

Olathe naval air station will face a rejuvenated Iowa Seahawk basketball attack this weekend when the Seahawks meet the Clippers Saturday night in the Iowa fieldhouse. The new cadet attack features the scoring threat of the navy pivot man, Joe Holland, who scored 23 points against the Camp Ellis team Monday night.

Return Engagement
This will be a return engagement as the two teams met earlier in the season at Olathe. However, since that first victorious (49-41) meeting, the Seahawks have been up and down. But last weekend they settled down to winning ways and have managed to put together a victory string that could reach five tomorrow night.

The Seahawks started their recent winning streak with a record breaking 74-38 margin over Missouri, followed it up with a 44-37 edge over Bunker Hill, added a 46-38 decision over Drake and capped it off with a 55-45 triumph over Camp Ellis to bring their season's record to 12 victories against three losses.

Holland Breaks Records
Instrumental in this recent surge has been the scoring of the six foot, four inch Holland, the cadet center. His scoring feats also began against the Tigers as he countered 21 points, added 9 against Bunker Hill, 17 against Drake, and wound up his spree with 23 at Camp Ellis to take over the individual scoring lead from T. S. Ary by a four point margin, 177-173.

Holland's new record consists of 11 field goals, to replace the former mark of 10, set by Al Shirley a year ago against Augustana, and the total of 23 was two better than his own mark of 21 which he had established earlier in the Missouri game.

Olathe will carry a record of 13 victories against four defeats into the contest. Some of their victims are St. Benedict's Winter hospital and Ft. Riley.

Although Bob Baggott returned to the starting lineup against Camp Ellis, Wayne Weaver, starting forward in the last two games, will be at that slot against the Clippers.

Hansen to Confer With Draft Board Before Signing

OMAHA (AP)—Jim Hansen, former Omaha all state American Legion catcher and North high school football player, has been offered a contract with the St. Louis Cardinals' farm club at Winston Salem, N. C., but will not sign until conferring with his draft board next month, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hansen of Omaha, said yesterday.

Friends said earlier they had been informed by scout Joe McDermott that Hansen had agreed to terms and decided to leave the University of Iowa.

"The Cardinals have sent Jim a contract, but he has told us no decision on continuing school or going back into baseball will be made until his draft situation is clarified," his mother said.

Hansen, who is 4-F, was signed by the Chicago Cubs late last winter, but was released after starting in class A-1 ball.

Earlier reports in Iowa City were that Hansen had quit school to work in a war plant on the west coast, but these rumors were squashed last week when he re-registered in the university after two weeks of school had passed.

Hansen is being counted on heavily by Coach Waddy Davis of the Hawk diamond nine to strengthen an already star-studded squad. Whether this means that he expects to stay in the university and play baseball with the Hawkeyes cannot be determined. He has been working out regularly with the squad since the latter part of last week, and is in line for the starting catching assignment.

Two More Swimming Records
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Alan Ford, Yale's swimming captain, continued his assault on American 20-yard pool swimming records yesterday, smashing both the 10-meter and the 110-yard records established by Johnny Weismuller in 1927 and 1928.

Ford lowered Weismuller's 100-meter record of 0:57 seconds to 0:55.7 and slashed the 110-yard record of 0:57 to 0:56.4.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Young Stationed At Great Lakes Camp; May Play Football

CHICAGO (AP)—Claude (Buddy) Young, University of Illinois football and track star, was inducted into the navy here yesterday and is to begin boot training at Great Lakes (Ill.) naval training center today.

Whether the national collegiate sprint champion and second team All-America halfback will be available to Bluejacket football Coach Paul Brown next fall, was conjectural.

His stay at the center may be long enough, however, for him to perform on the Bluejacket track team, providing the sport is renewed again at Great Lakes. A Bluejacket spokesman said it was not certain the center would have a track team although Great Lakes has bid for the outdoor central intercollegiate meet this season.

Despite his size, the 5-foot, 5-inch Negro athlete was an outstanding football performer as a freshman last fall, unrelenting several of the longest touchdown runs of the season.

Two Escaped Convicts Abandon Stolen Car In Greenburg, Ohio

COUNCIL BLUFFS, (AP)—Two Nebraska convicts sought in four states since their escape from the city jail here Jan. 13 "are driving east" and already have reached Greenville, Ohio, Sheriff Jack Tyler said yesterday.

The sheriff said two coveralls found in an abandoned automobile at Rankin, Ill., were identified as those worn by Edgar Cook, 31, and John Giles, 37, and that later an automobile they stole at Rankin was found abandoned at Greenville.

Charged with larceny here after fleeing the Nebraska penitentiary last November, the two fled the city jail using keys fashioned from toothbrush handles. Giles also is wanted in connection with the killing of Police Chief Martin G. Johnson of Ray, N. D., Sept. 4, 1930.

Advances in Medicine, Surgical Techniques Described by Dr. Dulin at Rotary Luncheon

Despite the large number of young doctors who have gone into the armed services and the increased load put on those at home, there still has been some progress made in medicine and surgical techniques, according to Dr. J. W. Dulin, associate professor of surgery of the college of medicine.

Dr. Dulin spoke at the weekly luncheon of Rotary club in Hotel Jefferson yesterday on the progress in surgery in recent years.

One of the most interesting new techniques in surgery is a glue-like substance which is used in gluing pieces of tissue together. Pieces of skin can now be glued together much like pieces of paper. Nerve tissue can also be fastened together with the adhesive.

Repairing torn tissues is often the first step in healing and by the use of this tissue glue the period required for healing is shortened.

Introduce New Anesthesia
Another new technique in surgery is the development of re-ignition anesthesia. Under this treatment, anesthesia is induced by lowering the temperature of the person about to be operated upon. This lessens considerably the danger of shock especially in cases where the person is weak or in poor general health.

The great results expected from the use of the new sulfa drugs and penicillin have not materialized as was originally hoped, Dr. Dulin explained. In many cases the use of these drugs has been found to be definitely harmful.

In the early part of the war there were more than 130 preparations used to treat burns. One by one these methods have been discarded in favor of sound, surgical treatment.

Discard Pre-Operation Methods
The elaborate systems of pre-operation techniques that were formerly used have also been discarded. Instead, whenever possible, persons are allowed to regain good general health before being operated upon.

Inward, toxic goiters are being cured in an amazing number of cases with a new drug called thyroxol, a sulfa derivative. The drug is administered for weeks or even months before operation and in most cases the operations are successful.

Dr. Dulin believes that the sulfa drugs have a place in modern treatment but that place is not as great as doctors and laymen first believed.

Although some medical progress has been made in recent years, little progress has been made in understanding or treating many major diseases, such as cancer or tuberculosis, Dr. Dulin concluded.

Mock Senate Group To Air Discussion On Foreign Policy

A series of programs will be broadcast over WSUI in connection with the student senate debate conference to be conducted on the University of Iowa campus March 16-17.

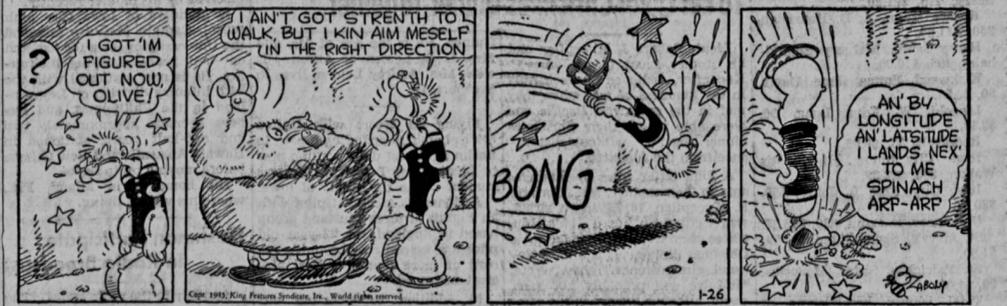

Participants in the student senate foreign policy committees are to appear on the radio discussing some of the foreign policy questions. Today's topic to be presented at 3 o'clock is "What should be the policy of the United States concerning the post war control of Germany? Resolved, that the United States should immediately enact legislation providing for the draft of men and women between the ages of 18 and 60 for war production in industry and agriculture."

Brothers Meet on Board Ship in Pacific To Eat Quiet Christmas Dinner Together

Lieut. Robert J. Knoepfler and his brother, Lieut. (j.g.) James C. Knoepfler, believed more firmly in the kindness of fate when they met in the southwest Pacific and were able to eat their Christmas dinner together without disturbance from the Japanese.

A joint letter from the lieutenants to their mother, Mrs. Corinne R. Knoepfler, 1617 Wilson street, was written on board Jim's ship, where they were waiting for their Christmas dinner. "It is a most unusual circumstance," they wrote, "and we will probably not meet again, although we are in the same theater of war. We just hope the Japs will leave us alone long enough to eat our dinner together."

Evidently the Japs did, because an official picture is being sent to Mrs. Knoepfler of the two at the dinner table.

Robert, who received his LL. D. degree from the University of Iowa in 1941, went immediately into service. He is now on a cruiser and has been home once, a year and a half ago. He has been in combat service since that time.

Jim, a graduate of Dartmouth college, N. H., is a supply and disbursement officer on a destroyer. At sea about a year and a half, he saw his brother for a few hours in December, 1944, but neither believed it could happen again.

The Silver Star has been awarded Iowa alumnus Capt. Albert L. Lemen of Akron for gallantry in action against the Japanese last June in the Maffin bay area of New Guinea.

Captain Lemen, liaison officer on the staff of the division commanding general, won the award for organizing and directing carrying parties which took supplies and ammunition to isolated units through heavy enemy mortar and sniper fire.

Receiving his B. A. and M. A. degrees at the University of Iowa in 1940 and 1941 respectively, Lemen went into the army directly from college with a reserve commission. He served at various posts in the States and during the period from April to August, 1942, was motor officer of a battalion of motorized infantry which helped set up Lieut. Gen. George Patton's desert training center.

It was at this training center that infantry, tank and artillery units worked out, by experiment, the desert warfare tactics which proved so successful against the Nazis in north Africa.

Lemen went overseas 17 months ago and was stationed in the Hawaiian islands before going to New Guinea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lemen of Akron. His wife, Mrs. Audrey Lemen, lives in Freeport, Ill.

Flying an escort with United States bombers pounding a path to Berlin is almost daily routine now to Lieut. John T. Marron, former student at the University of Iowa. Assigned as a combat pilot with an Eighth airforce Mustang group based in England, the 22-year-old pilot has helped set the unit's record of more than 265 Nazi aircraft destroyed.

In addition to escorting our bombers over their strategic targets, Lieutenant Marron has also participated in scores of low-level strafing and dive-bombing attacks on enemy installations ahead of the allied armies invading Germany. He is the son of Mrs. Carolyn W. Marron, Crawfordsville, Ind.

Visiting on the campus this week was Lieut. Bernie Bracher, a former WSUI announcer. Lieutenant Bracher was a sophomore majoring in speech and radio when he entered the service in 1943. Since then he has studied with A. S. T. P. and O. C. S. units. He is graduated Jan. 16 from the infantry school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Cleldon F. Ruppert, route 7, a Seventh army airforce weather squadron officer at the Pacific headquarters, has been promoted to first lieutenant. Lieutenant Ruppert has served in the central Pacific since March, 1944.

He received his B. A. degree from the University of Iowa in 1938 and was employed by the Prudential Insurance company at Newark, N. J., before entering life service.

His mother, Mrs. Katherine M. Ruppert, lives in Iowa City. His wife, the former Betty C. Boudier, lives at Ann Arbor, Mich. Two brothers are also in the service overseas, Richard, a sergeant in the Pacific, and Ralph, a private in the European theater.

Lieut. Charles D. McGuire, son of Mrs. Mayme McGuire, 420 E. Market street, was promoted to captain Dec. 27, according to word received by his mother recently.

A graduate of Iowa City high school, Captain McGuire attended the University of Iowa for two and one-half years, studying hydraulics. He is now stationed with the 24th infantry division on Leyte island in the Philippines, and has been overseas approximately two and one-half years, stationed in Hawaii, Australia and New Guinea before moving up to Leyte.

His home is in Miami, Fla., where his wife is living.

Another in the radio series, "The Freshman Takes the Platform," was presented over WSUI last night at 8 o'clock. Thomas R. Lewis, instructor in the speech department, directed the half hour program on the subject of compulsory military training.

Freshmen who participated were: Barbara Hope Brown of Des Moines (chairman), Roger Grupp of Mason City, Robert Sprott of Ft. Madison, Carol Kacker of Waverly, Edythe Rosenthal of New York, N. Y., Sally Hollcraft of Omaha, Nebr. and Jay Andrews of Cedar Rapids.

Hospital Tower 'Brownout' To Start Feb. 1

The lights on the tower of university hospital will be turned off Thursday, Feb. 1, and a familiar nocturnal landmark of Iowa City will disappear. According to Robert J. Neff, administrator of the university hospitals, the tower lights and all other unnecessary lights at the hospital will be turned off in accordance with the "brownout" order.

When the Iowa City city council meets Monday night, one of the chief matters which will be discussed will be how bright the city streets should be. The recent War Production Board order after Feb. 1 prohibits all outdoor electric lighting, window displays, signs and theater marquees, except the lights which local authorities think are necessary for public safety.

The order was issued to cut the consumption of coal and other fuel as much as possible. The nation's stockpiles of coal are dwindling and a shortage of fuel for essential uses is feared.

One Iowa City department store jumped the gun on the WPB order by cutting its window display lighting 50 percent after Christmas.

In Mexico—'Blondie' Supreme

Favorite United States comics are enjoyed by our neighbors in Mexico whether published daily, weekly, in book form, in newspapers or in separate magazines.

The Bumstead family are as popular in Mexico as they are here, and according to Luis Castano, G of Mexico City, they have a universal appeal. Blondie is called Pepita—little Josepha—in Spanish, while Dagwood is Dagrujo, or dumbbell.

Very high on the list of favorite funnies are Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse, who appear also in book form for children. Donald is known to Latin Americans as Pato Pascual.

Maggie and Jiggs in Mexico are Ramona and Pancho (a nickname for Frank), while we would identify Cuquita as Tillie the Toiler.

Superman, Dick Tracy, Little Orphan Annie, the Katzenjammer Kids, Mutt and Jeff, Tarzan, Popeye, the Phantom, Mandrake the Magician, Smilin' Jack, and Terry and the Pirates is an incomplete list of American comic strips which are translated into Spanish.

Eight daily magazines are published in Mexico which contain nothing but Spanish and English comic strips. One newspaper carries a daily page of the funnies, while other papers print them only on Sunday. Spanish versions of the American stories appear at the same time as those in North America.
