

Frankie Masters to Play for All-University Party

'Music by Masters' To Entertain Dancers In Union, Feb. 16

"Music by Masters", that famous tag line that has been heard on records, broadcasts and at leading hotels, theaters and ballrooms throughout the country, will issue from Iowa Union Feb. 16, when Frankie Masters and his orchestra play for the second all-university party this semester.

With Masters will be 20 top-flight musicians and entertainers, headed by Phyllis Myles, Eddie Williams and Marty, Kay, Pat, and Jo, Masters' quartet.

Return of Name Bands

The engagement of Frankie Masters' innovates the return of top-notch bands and orchestras to play for University of Iowa dances. Members of the newly organized central party committee in charge of the informal dance include Lenke Isacson, A2 of Omaha, Neb., chairman, Charlotte Fuest, A3 of Clarinda, Martha Burney, A2 of Iowa City and John Syverud, A3 of Bettendorf.

Composer of "Scatterbrain", "Say When", and other all-time hits, Masters first won recognition with the college band he organized at the University of Indiana, where he was affiliated with Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Featured Vocalists

Phyllis Myles, vocalist with Masters orchestra, has sung with Will Bradley and Teddy Powell, but her greatest success has been with the Frankie Masters' orchestra, featuring her own unusual arrangements of melodic and specialty numbers.

Beginning their careers at the home town radio station in Fargo, N. D., "Marty, Kay, Pat, and Jo", the girls' quartet, currently featured with Masters, joined the outfit a short time ago and have proved favorites with audiences in theaters, ballrooms and army camps throughout the country.

The newest addition to the "Music by Masters" organization is Eddie Williams, 16-year-old featured singer with the orchestra. Eddie made his initial appearance with the orchestra during his Eastern vacation from high school, and since then has scored hits at the Majestic in San Antonio and the Majestic in Dallas.

"Sweet" Music

Frankie Masters is a triple threat man, for not only does he lead his own band, but he does many of the vocals and writes music as well. He features a combination of sweet and swing, with emphasis on the melodies his audiences can both dance to and hum. However, he usually features sweet swing for dancing.

Tickets for the dance will be on sale at the Union desk starting Feb. 7.

Chic, Feminine—Indispensable Blouse

—Fashion Favorite

Feminine spirits soar up with the donning of the coeds' old standby—the blouse. Time brings ever-greater appreciation and ever-widening recognition to the sturdy classics and the soft new styles which can be worn to classes, for sportswear or to top off a plain formal skirt.

The shine for the apple green flannel dressmaker suit belonging to Audrey Ross, A2 of Des Moines, is provided by a ruffled silk crepe blouse of yellow gold. Styled with long full sleeves which fit tightly at the wrists, it has a round neckline and pearl button fastening down the back. A one-half inch Irish lace inset down the front, around the neck and on the wrist ruffle makes the blouse a decided success.

A crisp snow white pique blouse adds daintiness to the jumpers and skirts of Betty Schori, A3 of Elgin, as she goes to classes. Designed with short sleeves, the blouse is distinguished by a standup collar which extends into small lapels. A one-inch organdy eyelet ruffle adorns the sleeves, the collar, lapels and the front opening. Small white button fasten it down the front.

Great favorites with everyone this year the white round-neck blouses similar to the one owned by Marian Nelson, A3 of Pocahontas. Featuring a pleated front which extends from the straight one-inch band at the neckline, this white crepe creation has long full sleeves which fit tightly at the wrist, and buttons down the back. Marian wears it with almost everything including skirts, jumpers and suits.

Veryl Byers, A2 of Charles City, pairs her white silk jersey blouse of long torso style off with a plain navy blue silk crepe formal skirt. A flower design of colored sequins at the left shoulder adds sophistication to the ensemble. Other features of the blouse are a high round neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a white button fastening it in back.

A chic addition to the wardrobe of Joyce Tisher, A1 of Council Bluffs, is the ruffled white rayon blouse which she dons with skirts and suits. The deep V-neckline is set off with a ruffle and a corded bow. The three-quarter length sleeves are also edged in an inverted ruffle. A front button fastening and the two tucks over each shoulder complete the fashioning.

Demonstrating her blouse enthusiasm with a fresh cotton of grey, blue and white stripes is Joanne Clingen, A1 of Ames. Designed with short sleeves and a white button fastening down the front, Joanne's choice has a white one-half inch embroidered eyelet ruffle on the sleeves, around the neck and three-quarters of the way down the front to add to its daintiness. Small gathers at the shoulders provide fullness and a small corded bow sets off the neckline.

Just suited for her white skirt or her brown gabardine suit is the chartreuse and white striped corded rayon blouse owned by Phyllis Oltman, A1 of Oak Park, Ill. The long full sleeves extend into a small ruffle 'round the wrist. Softness is added by the gathers across both the front and back yoke. A beruffled trim three-quarters of the way down the front and ties at the neckline complete the design.

Mary Cavett, A1 of Charles City, is the proud possessor of an ivory satin blouse which, believe it or not, may be worn either frontwards or backwards. Fashioned with a high round neckline, it has a softly gathered front which falls from the straight round neckband, and has long full sleeves and small pearl buttons down the back. It is especially suitable for formal wear, but can also be worn nicely with her navy blue jumper.

The long loose sweater-blouse of gold-colored wool jersey is ideal for sportswear says Jerry DeSpiegelauer, A4 of Batavia. Fashioned with long sleeves and a V-neckline, she sets off the gold by a white T-shirt worn underneath. The blouse combined with her man-tailored brown slacks, makes Jerry a picture of style and comfort.

A trimly tailored classic blouse of chocolate brown with large white polka dots is the choice of Char Ferris, A3 of Syracuse, N. Y., when she dons her brown herringbone tweed suit. Designed with short sleeves, this shirtwaist blouse has one patch pocket, white buttons down the front and four small pleats in back which fall from the yoke.

These coeds demonstrate the blouse enthusiasm of the Iowa collegian, and because they're such great trouper and can be worn anytime, any place and with almost anything, they are indispensable to the college wardrobe.

Iowa Law Review Contains Foreword By SUI President

A symposium in federal legislation relating to education is featured in the January issue of the Iowa Law Review which has just been published.

President Virgil M. Hancher wrote the foreword to the symposium, which he concluded, "The accompanying symposium is designed to tell us what the law is. It is no more pretentious than that. But if it should also serve to throw light on the nature of the decisions before us by pointing out the way along which we have come and the place where we stand today, with respect to said legislation relating to education, the editors will be doubly gratified."

Board of editors for the magazine consists of Eugene F. Scoles, L4 of Iowa City, notes and legislation editor; James L. Martin, A4 of What Cheer; John E. Nagle, L3 of Davenport, and W. H. Van Duzer, L4 of Casey. Nagle and Van Duzer are newly elected members of the board.

Student contributors to this issue of the Law Review are David E. Burrows, L4 of Council Bluffs; M. H. Christie, L3 of Iowa City; Paul Davis, L3 of Stanhope; William D. Evans; James J. Johnston, L3 of Estherville; D. V. Lawrence; James L. Martin, L4 of What Cheer; Jane E. Moyer, L4 of Madison, Neb.; John E. Nagle, L3 of Davenport; Paul I. Namtvedt, L3 of Terril; Eugene F. Scoles, L4 of Iowa City, and W. H. Van Duzer, L4 of Casey.

One of the seven writers contributing to the symposium is Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the children's bureau of the United States department of commerce, who wrote on the national educational objectives in a post-war program for children and youth.

Miss Lenroot states "War especially has given new emphasis to the urgency of federal measures necessary to assure to every child and young person educational opportunity at least through the elementary and secondary school periods."

"Among issues involved in making these policies effective are the scope of federal concern, the type of federal aid; the character of educational institutions eligible to receive aid; the channels for federal aid; conditions of federal aid; the relation of educational programs receiving federal aid to other educational programs and related services such as those concerned with placement, rehabilitation and apprenticeship."

By ROY LUCE

Daily Iowan Sports Writer
The 12-man squad of Iowa Hawkeyes arrived in Iowa City last night from Champaign, saddened somewhat by their one-point defeat, but looking ahead to the future and their date with Michigan next Saturday.

The Hawks, beaten only once this season in eleven games still are hard to be counted out of the Big Ten conference race. At present they are in a two-way tie with Ohio State for the lead which each team having one loss apiece.

Indiana Tought

Out of the remaining seven games left on the Old Gold schedule, only one appears to be considered as very tough. That is Iowa's return engagement with Indiana at Bloomington and, from the battle the Hoosiers gave the Hawks on their home court, it would seem logical to assume that they will be much tougher on their own floor.

The Harrison men also have a return date with the Illini here March 3 that will undoubtedly be a battle. But at the same time, it would be safe to say, according to Ned Postel, that the Hawks will probably run Kirk and company right out of Iowa fieldhouse. The Iowans were definitely cold at Champaign Friday night and the Illinoiis quintet were definitely hot, as the second half scoring rush proved.

Add this to the appalling knack for missing free throws and you have the "reasons why." Time and time again an Iowa player would toe the mark to shoot a charity toss, only to have it roll off the rim, while the Illini sank them with such regularity in the last half that the scorekeepers were crediting them with making the shot before it was ever taken.

All told, Iowa made 6 out of 15, while the Illini were hitting for 13 out of 21 charity tosses, most of them coming in the second half when the chips were down. Those one pointers which were flashed upon the score board looked mighty big.

Tightens Up

It was very noticeable that the Hawks had tightened up considerably after the rest period. Shots were missed which should have gone in easily and passes were flubbed which should have been completed. But, throughout it all, Iowa maintained its defense and forced the Illini to shoot from way out. The big difference on the free throw line was the margin between victory and defeat.

Only question mark left on the Iowa schedule is the two game series with Wisconsin Feb. 19 and 24. The Badgers are thought to be considerably weaker than usual, however, and are not expected to offer the Hawks much trouble.

Great Lakes Trims Western Michigan

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—Great Lakes basketball team walloped Western Michigan here last night 72-39, for its 12th victory in 24 games. Before some 1,500 navy personnel, the Bluejackets piled up a 38-14 lead at the half and then coasted home. Eleven Bluejackets took part in the scoring. Warren Ajax was tops with 14.

Nelson Paces Open
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, fashioned a five-under-par 66 yesterday to grab the lead at the halfway mark of the Texas Open Golf tournament with a total of 133.

He was one stroke ahead of Sam Byrd of Detroit, who shot a 65 for a total of 134.
Raymond Gafford of Ft. Worth, leader of the first round Friday with a 66, took a 70 yesterday and fell into a tie for fourth.

SYNDICATE BUYS YANKEES BASEBALL EMPIRE

Wolverines Halt Indiana Second Time

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP)—Michigan defeated Indiana last night for the second time during the current Big Ten basketball campaign. The score was 47 to 43.

The Wolverine victory came only after an uphill fight in both halves. The Hoosiers were in command most of the first half and led by five points late in the second period.

Forge Ahead
Indiana forged ahead at the outset on Gene Farris' field goal but Walter Kell tied it up and the advantage wavered through the first 15 minutes of the period. Then Charley Radcliffe found the range and boosted Indiana into a 24-20 halftime lead.

Bob Geahan and John Mullaney brought Michigan into a 29-29 tie early in the second half, and Keith Harder's basket sent the Wolverines out in front, 31 to 29. Farris and Radcliffe moved Indiana ahead again but Michigan came on in the latter stages to overcome the advantage and clinch the victory. Geahan and Harder led the rally.

Radcliffe Returns
Radcliffe, who was transferred from the Bloomington campus to the Indiana dental school at Indianapolis recently, made his return to the Hoosier lineup auspicious by tossing in 13 points. He led the scoring for the losers.

Michigan played most of the game without Don Lund, veteran forward who suffered an ankle injury against Ohio State several days ago.

Harder Gets 11
Geahan more than made up for the loss, however, as he garnered six field goals and three free throws for 15 points and scoring honors for the evening. Harder, who replaced Lund, got 11.

The Wolverines downed the Hoosiers at Ann Arbor a fortnight ago 54 to 53.

The defeat was Indiana's third in five conference starts.

Slater Elected
Al Slater, A-4 of Ft. Madison, was elected captain of the 1945 Iowa track team yesterday, it was announced by Coach George Bresnahan. Slater specializes in the mile and two-mile events.

Wisconsin Nips Northwestern, 44-43

Smith's Last Minute Goal Wins Contest; Badgers Now Fourth

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers moved into fourth place in the wide open Western conference basketball chase last night when they came from behind in the last minute of play to defeat Northwestern, 44 to 43, in the second game of a Chicago stadium doubleheader.

The Badgers, trailing 39 to 31 with five minutes of play remaining, put on a scoring burst that caught up with Northwestern at 40-40, with a minute and a half left. They went ahead, 42-40, shot the Wildcats catch them and move ahead, 43-42 on a field goal and free throw by center Max Morris, and then forward Des Smith dumped in the winning field goal.

De Paul Wins
In the first game of the doubleheader, De Paul's fast moving quintet romped away from Marquette for a 28-11 lead in the first half and then toyed with the Hilltoppers in the second period to come out with a 59-32 victory.

Northwestern went into a lead early in the first period of their game and held a 22-19 margin at the half. Then, after the intermission, the Wildcats apparently took complete command of things until that final burst in the last five minutes.

Badgers Click
Once the Badgers began to click, the game moved so fast that most of the 8,114 fans in the stadium scarcely could follow the ball.

Morris, leading scorer of the conference, appeared to have handed Northwestern its third victory when he stepped up to the foul line after his heaving field goal and coolly tossed in the free throw that put the Wildcats ahead, 43-42. But it was then that Smith intercepted a Northwestern pass and dribbled more than half way down the floor with the winning goal.

Smith, a substitute center, scored but one field goal in the first half, but he came back in the last period to tally 11 more points to lead the Badgers, who earlier in the season dropped a 50-37 decision to Northwestern.

Morris topped the Wildcats at 14 points, and Frank Wright, a guard, had 12.

Boilermakers Stop Gophers By 54 to 45

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue thumped Minnesota, 54 to 45, in a Big Ten basketball game last night.

The Boilermakers gained revenge for a 49-to-44 setback at Minneapolis two weeks ago by turning on an irrefutable attack in the closing 24 minutes of the game.

Hermesen Leads
Minnesota, paced by its giant center, Clarence Hermesen, who led all scorers with 18 points, was out in front through most of the first half. With four minutes remaining in that period, however, the Boilermakers caught fire and tied the count at 23-to-23 just before the intermission.

Goswehr Gets 17
Goswehr paced the Purdue offensive with eight field goals and one free throw for 17 points.

The victory was conference triumph No. 3 for Purdue against four defeats. It kept clean its record of not having lost to a conference opponent on the home floor this season.

Desire Semi-Essential Rating for Baseball
WASHINGTON (AP)—Semi-essential classification for baseball to keep the game going in 1945 may be one of the possibilities that bigwigs of the sport will discuss in New York Friday.

Baseball people, reluctant all along to be quoted on wartime problems, nevertheless have indicated they feel a semi-essential rating could be justified on this basis.

Maybe So

Rochelli's Back
NCAA Shift

By BOB KRAUSE
LOU ROCHELLI IS BACK in town. The same Lou Rochelli of Iowa Seahawk and Brooklyn Dodger baseball fame. No doubt you will recall Lou as a second baseman of no small talent who plied his wares in Iowa City last summer until he left the Pre-Flight base—for somewhat more lucrative fields.

Well, Lou was drafted last November, after a short sojourn with the Dodgers, and took his boot training at Great Lakes. Now he is back as a member of the transportation department at the base.

Back Home
According to Lou he is very glad to be back in Iowa City and he feels as though he were "getting back to his home town." Possibly there are other people who are glad that he has returned as it is probable that he will be available for baseball this spring and summer.

Incidentally—but not to Lou—he is looking for an apartment. So, if you should happen to hear of a vacancy why not let him know. Or is that too much wishful thinking?

WORD IS OUT that Pops Harrison is mildly perturbed over the fact that Iowa, at his request, has been shifted from District 5 to District 4 in the National Collegiate Athletic association's basketball tournament setup.

Pops, it would appear, may be a bit peeved over the fact that he had not been informed of the change himself but, instead, read of it in the paper as you did.

Divergent View
In addition the report is that Harrison expresses a "difference of opinion" with those who made the change. It would seem that Pops should at least have been informed of the move—if not consulted as to the shift, also.

There is good reason for the Iowa coach to wonder about the decision. The Hawkeyes are now in a district which is made up of the toughest teams in the Midwest. Among them are De Paul, Notre Dame and Valparaiso.

As the arrangement stands now one team is chosen from each district to play in the national tourney. The District 5 play-off is in Kansas City, while District 4 is decided in Madison Square Garden. Iowa's chances of getting to the Garden are now somewhat thinner—to say the least.

Notre Dame Beats Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Notre Dame's Fighting Irish delivered the last lick here last night to nudge the Kentucky Wildcats, 59-58, in an overtime basketball game in the Jefferson county armory.

A capacity crowd of 6,000 fans saw the lads from South Bend take an early lead, maintain its edge until less than four minutes of play remained and then rebound for the necessary punch in the extra period. Notre Dame's margin was 35-23 at the rest period, due mainly to the deadly firing of George Ratterman and Vince Boryla.

Irish Splurge
Frank Gihooey skated the Irish to a 3-0 lead at the start with a field goal and foul toss. Wilbur Schu's duplication tied the score but Notre Dame gradually pulled into the lead as the half wore on. Both teams were working in for "crip" shots, but Dee and Boryla led a scoring spurge which put the Notre Dame quintet into a 35-24 advantage at the half.

Big Dutch Campbell, who took over the center slot for Kentucky when Alex Groza was inducted into the army 10 days ago, and Tingle sparked a second half rally which tied the score with less than four minutes of the regulation game to play.

Campbell Ties
It was Campbell's two-pointer which knotted the count at 51-51. Dee put the Irish ahead with a field goal. Tingle sank a free throw and, with seconds to go, duplicated that effort to put the game into an overtime period.

Tingle's last free throw came as the result of a foul committed by Gihooey just before Tingle sank a field goal which was disallowed.

New Yankees—From Bronx Bombers to Bums?

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Now that Brooklyn, as personified by Larry MacPhail, has moved to the Bronx, the question arises as to just how much of the gaudy, bizarre Dodger atmosphere will move into staid old Yankee Stadium with him. That is, will the Bronx Bombers become the Bronx Bums.

The first break from the Yankee tradition of drab yet efficient procedure came with the official announcement of the sale of the club. It was made at one of the swankier bistros, a setting which MacPhail would deem only fitting for announcement of news of such financial magnitude. That would not be the Yankees' way of doing things.

Other Queries
Other questions suggested by the sale of the Bombers and all the little Bomb factories to MacPhail, Dan Topping and Del Webb include:

Does the sale at this time indicate it is a pretty safe bet that the major league will operate this year? MacPhail, as an army colonel stationed in Washington, has been pretty close to the power that be, and it is difficult to imagine him buying a club that might be idle, as the upkeep of an idle park is no small item. In other words, he wouldn't buy a dead horse for a race, unless it was a bargain he just couldn't pass up.

A Transformation
Does it mean Ed Barrow's sedate downtown office will be transformed into a replica of a Hollywood set, with luxurious divans, ankle-deep rugs, tropical fish tanks in softly-lighted glass tanks and other lavish trappings such as characterized MacPhail's Dodger office?

Does it mean that night baseball finally will rear its profitable head at Yankee Stadium, after the club stoutly has refused to install lights all these years? Night baseball is a MacPhail pet.

Does it mean that, after the war, the club will desert good old St. Petersburg as a training camp site and move to Cuba, or Bermuda, or the Canal Zone or some other supposedly romantic address?

Football Yankees
Does it mean the Brooklyn Tigers football team will become the New York Tigers, or Yankees? Probably does, considering Topping's connection.

Does it mean that Joe McCarthy will stay on indefinitely as manager, or eventually be supplanted by a Leo Durocher or a reasonable facsimile thereof whom MacPhail can fire and re-hire and exit change colorful language with periodically?

Does it mean that MacPhail will transform the Yankees into his idea of a colorful ball club, or that the Yankees will transform MacPhail into a sedate, unexplosive executive?

Time Will Tell
Time alone will answer most of these questions, but it will take a long time if the attitude of the new owners toward confirming the sale is any open. From the way they dodged the issue it might have been a black market transaction instead of a legitimate business deal. But, after all, it was their business, and if they wanted to keep it quiet that's also their business.

Maybe they figure the Bombers' bats will do all the talking necessary, if and when.

Hawkeye Mermen Win, 45-39

By BILL SHACKELFORD
Daily Iowan Sports Writer
Led by Captain Bernie Walters, who garnered nine points, the Hawkeye mermen took a fiercely contested match from the Illinois Tech Hawks, 45-39, yesterday afternoon in the fieldhouse pool.

Pearson of Illinois Tech led the scoring with 10 points, followed by Walters and Meis, of Iowa, with eight.

Lead Changes
The lead changed hands three times in a meet which was not decided until the final whistle blew. Tech got off to a three point lead, grabbing six in the first event, the 300-yard medley relay, against three for Iowa.

The Hawkeyes took the first two places in the 220-yard free style which followed, however, to snatch the lead, 11-7. Although they did not win the next event, the 60-yard free style, they took second and third to maintain their advantage, 15-12.

Walters Wins
Captain Walters kept Iowa out in front by winning the low board fancy diving in an exhibition of grace and coordination which drew many rounds of applause from the gallery. The two Tech entries took four points, but Walters' five made it 20-16.

In the 100-yard free style Tech gained a first to close the gap, 24-21, and forged ahead in the 150-yard back stroke to lead, 29-25. The Illinois men took still another first in the 200-yard breast stroke to increase their lead, 24-29.

Haldorson Tops Field
The 30-year-old Icelander, Jones Haldorson, lapped the field in the 440-yard free style, however, while Meis of Iowa finished second and the Hawkeyes led by a slender margin, 37-35.

The final event, the 400-yard free style relay, provided a spectacular climax to a thrilling meet as the anchor men, Meis and Pearson, finished neck-and-neck. Pearson apparently lacked the strength to raise his hand out of the water to touch the side, however, and the judges gave it to Iowa by a nose, clinching the meet for the Hawkeyes.

"Mighty Lucky"
"We were mighty lucky to win," commented the Iowa coach, David Armbruster; "we had so many casualties." Jonas Haldorson and Bill Boswell were slowed down by

Cadet Squad To Lose Ary

The Iowa Seahawks will have the services of their star forward, T. S. Ary, for only one more contest in the 1944-45 basketball campaign.

Ary, the Cadets' leading scorer from their second up to the last game, has gone on leave and will not return in time to play in the Nebraska contest of next Tuesday. He will, however, see action against Drake on Feb. 5 and, on the following day, will leave for further training at the Norman, Okla., training station.

To date the speedy forward has garnered 173 points in 15 games for an average of 11.3 per contest. He had held the Seahawk point-getting honors from the second tilt of the year until last Monday night when big Joe Holland, Cadet center, bagged 23 points against Camp Ellis to take over the lead.

Kansas Defeats Iowa State, 50-35

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Kansas took over second place in the Big Six basketball race last night by soundly trouncing Iowa State, 50 to 35.

The Cyclones, playing without the services of forward Orlyn Feuerbach, who was ill, took an early lead on shots by Jim Myers, Bill Block and Bob Peterson. Some rapid fire scoring by Gordon Reynolds, the Jayhawks' leading point-maker, put Kansas in the lead midway of the first half and the Mt. Oreadites were never behind again. The score at the half was Kansas 23, Iowa State 18. Kansas now has won three and lost one in Big Six play.

Iowa One of States Without Option Vote

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa is one of only 11 states which cannot vote local option, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, Iowa president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, said yesterday.

Hindus to Tell 'What I Saw in Russia'

Russian Journalist To Give Inside Story Thursday Night at 8

"What I Saw in Russia" is the title of the lecture to be presented by Maurice Hindus, Russian journalist and author, when he appears on the university lecture series Feb. 1 at 8 o'clock in the Iowa Union.

Maurice Hindus' intimate knowledge of Russia well-qualifies this Russian-born American as an expert in his field. He came to this country in 1905 when he was only 14 years old and was educated in America. In 1917 Maurice Hindus began his career as a free lance writer following a year of graduate study at Harvard university, Cambridge, Mass.

Since the first visit to his native Russia in 1923 when he went under the auspices of the Century Magazine to investigate collective farms, Hindus has made annual visits sponsored by other publications.

With a total of 14 books to his credit, Maurice Hindus has that vitality which has made possible his prolific and invariably brilliant output. During the years 1938 to 1943 he has written one to two important books a year; books such as "Green Worlds" in 1938; "We Shall Live Again" in 1939; and "Sons and Fathers" in 1940. The following year he wrote two books, "To Sing With the Angels" and "Hitler Cannot Conquer Russia," and repeated the performance in 1942 with "Russia and Japan" and "Russia Fights On." His latest book is "Mother Russia" published in 1943.

Tickets for the Maurice Hindus lecture Feb. 1 at 8 o'clock in the Iowa Union on "What I Saw in Russia" will be available at the Iowa Union desk beginning Monday, Jan. 29. Students may present their identification cards to secure tickets and a limited number of reserve seats will be available for the public.

1945 Christmas Red Cross Begins Overseas Units

Johnson county's Junior Red Cross chapter, more than 5,300 strong, was on the production line last fall along with chapters all over the United States. The goal was to produce a Christmas unit or fraction of a unit which would go to American theaters of war and to hospital ships carrying American wounded.

A unit consists of 300 Christmas cards, made in such a way that they could serve as menu covers, 250 tray favors and 500 ice cream decorations, including small decorations such as Christmas trees, bells, holly, Santa Claus or angels attached to tooth picks.

Also included in the units are 50 items suitable for the bulletin board, 50 cut outs, a collapsible paper table centerpiece and a copy of "The Night Before Christmas."

Soldiers use such articles in playing games at holiday parties. The names of theaters of operations and the hospital ships which received units that Johnson county helped to make have been received by Junior Red Cross chairman, Mrs. J. P. Cady. They are:

Canada and Alaska, 15; middle East, 6; China-Burma-India, 32; southwest Pacific including New Guinea and the Philippines 153; Great Britain and France, 246; Italy, 39; Pacific ocean area, 76; Caribbean, including Ascension island, Panama canal zone, Azores and Ecuador, 13; South America, 7; and Newfoundland area, including Greenland and Iceland, 8.

United States army and navy hospital ships, "Refuge," "Wisteria," "E. H. M. Weber," "Charles A. Stafford," "Shamrock," "Seminole," "St. Olaf," "St. Mihiel," "John J. Meany," "Marigold," "Larkspur," "Jarriet Huddleston," "Ernest Hinds," "Dogwood," "Comfort," "John L. Clem," "Cha-teau Thierry," "Blanch Sigman," "Algonquin," "Acadia," "Mercy," "Mactsuyster," "Hope," and "This-tle," each received a Christmas unit.

Already the 5,300 junior workers are beginning on the 1945 units which will bring an American Christmas to the scattered military forces.

Bottles were used for the first time in England during the eighteenth century for the purpose of maturing wine.

When she's not at the Tri Delta house or attending meetings, you might find her pursuing a psychology major. Jean tells us she hasn't a hobby; she's just interested in people and what could be more interesting?

It's the same old story—a furlough, a pin changing hands, and a stary-eyed little coed. This time it's Betty Schori, Currier, wearing Johnny Grant's Phi Psi pin.

You probably think you're taking a beating what with January snows and thaws. But have you looked at your school shoes lately? They're not doing so well either. How about letting STRUB'S shoe department help you out? They've got slick new loafers in red and brown smoothly cut to fit snugly. And there are those brown moccasins you've always liked. Stop in at STRUB'S tomorrow while there's still a wide selection.

Annie Rowe did flip-flops up and down the halls of the Pi Phi house when Sid Craiger, former Phi Psi at Iowa, called to tell her he had that two-day pass. They are spending the weekend in Ottumwa at Ann's home.

That steady twosome of last semester Janet Fisher, KKG, and Phi Psi Pat McPartland have finally decided to make it steady for a long time to come. Janet's Phi Psi pin is all of a week old today.

We bet you're looking for a spot where you can get a well-served, good lunch or dinner. And we've found the place for you. It's the MAD HATTER. You'll like its delicious food and pleasant atmosphere. You'll want to eat there often.

It looks to us as if Dave Danner has finally found his rainbow in the person of Joan Sayers, Theta, who could brighten any fellow's rainy day.

We're thinking you're probably mighty tired of the same clothes you've been wearing since way back last September. We don't blame you but we think there's something you can do about it. For both men and women, Bremer's have a selection of sweaters in mouth-watering colors. There's light blue, bright yellow, warm beige and springy green. They're cut V-necked with wide ribbing and will give any winter wardrobe a strong lift.

You're probably a member of at least one group that needs a good place to eat and meet. You be the one to tell them about the IOWA UNION CAFETERIA. Tell them it's just what they want. Be sure to say the CAFETERIA will reserve a table for your group. And don't forget that you may have a special room in the Union foyer in which to meet after your meal. We promise you next year's presidency hands down.

Last year's couple-about-campus made it official with an emerald-cut diamond for Teddy Bare, Currier, when Pvt. Derek Vooght's furlough brought him SUWARD last weekend.

George Thompson from Funafuti island is visiting Elaine Hess, Gamma Phi, this weekend. "help us, it's the truth."

It's only a remote possibility but studying might be enjoyable. At least give it a chance. We don't blame you for being unhappy in a dimly lit room where you can't see the book, much less the words on the page. But try studying with a good study lamp that's bright but not glaring and a long extension cord so that you can curl up in any far corner. The MULFORD ELECTRIC SHOP can supply you with whatever you need in electric supplies. Give yourself a break and study right. You may even like it.

It's an old custom but gee, it's fun. Those pins move faster than a freshman on the way to an 8 o'clock. Now it's Ruthanne LeSuer, Chi O and Jim Thomas, Theta Xi. And Bob Kruse's Delt pin found a new home on the east coast. Those daily letters must mean it's in good hands.
