Soviets Announce New East Prussian Offensive

Trapped Nazi Forces Pushed Back by Reds

Slovakian Rail Junction Captured By Southern Units

LONDON (AP)—Russian troops in a new offensive in East Prussia rolled back trapped German troops on a 17-mile front in the narrow pocket southwest of Koenigsberg yesterday while other Soviet units in the south captured the Slovakian rail junction town of Zvolen, Moscow announced last night.

The Russians were attempting to knock out quickly German Baltic pockets to free powerful Red army formations for the swelling assault on Berlin.

Driving toward the Frisches Haff (lagoon) and the three East Prussian bastions of Braunsberg, Hellenbeil and Brandenburg, the Third White Russian army gained up to four miles, captured 14 localities and were within 4 1/2 miles of reaching the coast and halving the pocket.

The broadcast Moscow communique remained silent on the fighting on the central Oder river front before Berlin which the Germans have said has carried to within 33 miles east of the Reich capital.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's powerful First White Russian army was reported by Reuters to have cracked "one of the main German lines" in Berlin's outer defenses west of the Oder on the 16-mile front between the captured fortress city of Kuestrin and threatened Frankfurt.

The Germans reported that nine Soviet infantry divisions of perhaps 100,000 men and supporting armor were fighting to expand several bridgeheads on the west drive on Berlin.

Moscow has not yet borne out bank as a prelude to a full-scale enemy reports that the Red army has established bridgeheads in this key area across the last waterway before the Reich capital.

Nazi Sabotage Ring Broken by British Agents in Tehran

TEHRAN, Iran, Feb. 10 (Delayed AP)—A widespread Nazi sabotage ring with ambitious goals that threatened the lives of the "big three" was smashed before the Tehran conference in November-December 1943, it was disclosed today with the lifting of censorship.

Nazi underground workers, spies and saboteurs, flown and parachuted from Berlin, built up a master plot which might also have endangered Prime Minister Churchill as he passed through Iran in 1942 on his Moscow trip.

But when the big three met in late 1943, the ring had been broken and about 170 Persians—some later released—were under arrest as accomplices of the Germans. They had been jailed in August.

Disclosable detail of the plot included assistance to the Nazis by the Japanese legation, a tribal revolt incited by gun-running agents, sabotage against the Persian corridor lifeline to Russia, a sedulously planned "putsch" to depose the Shah, and plans to split Iran into two puppet states.

Deadline for Filing Income Tax Returns: Midnight Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The last-minute people, hundreds of thousands of them, are in a sweat and a rush to get their income tax returns filed by today's midnight deadline.

The internal revenue department figures that by midnight of March 15, 50 million people will have filed their returns on 1944 income. Returns have been flooding in for months.

All over the land last night people were struggling with their arithmetic or their tax forms. Others will be doing the same today.

24th Division Lands On Two Islands In Central Philippines

MANILA, Thursday (AP)—Major Gen. Frederick A. Irving's 24th infantry division made surprise night landings on Romblon and Simara islands in the central Philippines Tuesday at light cost to strengthen the American hold on the main shipping lane from the United States to Manila.

The Yank force "seized control" of the small islands, east of American-held Mindoro, after the nocturnal invasions "attained complete tactical surprise," Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in his communique today.

American losses were described as minor. The Japanese garrison on Romblon island was destroyed. These were the 22nd and 23rd invasions of Philippine islands since American troops first swarmed ashore on islets off Leyte last October.

On Luzon, the Sixth division fighting east of captured Antipolo, on the bitterly-contested Marikina watershed area east of Manila, repulsed a series of counterattacks, inflicting heavy losses on the Japanese.

The First division and elements of the 43rd continued to advance eastward from the strong Shimbu line.

General Eaker Honored

LONDON (AP)—Marshal Tito has pinned the Order of the Partisan, first class on Lieut. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, allied Mediterranean air force commander, and thanked him for his assistance against the Germans, the Yugoslav radio said yesterday.

Peter, Pipe-Cleaning Monkey, Won't Work

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Peter, widely heralded as a pipe cleaner, threw down her press agents yesterday by refusing to swab the airconditioning ducts at the county courthouse.

Not only that, she bit one of them. Bob and Steven Ely, the brothers who have the contract to swab the grease and soot coated pipes, had tickled the insect of courthouse habitues with stories of Simians which would scamper up the pipes, scouring the coated interior with rags and a vacuum cleaner.

After many postponements, Peter was brought to the scene yesterday to perform before the crowd.

But the terrified Peter refused to cooperate. She clung to her cage and bit Steve as he dragged her into the pipe, just for the photographers' benefit. The courthouse pipes are clean, however. Steven and Bob cleaned them.

Kirke L. Simpson Interprets War News Declares Japanese Invasion Jitters Rather Premature

Invasion jitters sweeping Japan home islands may be a bit premature. There is a much to do on the other side of the world before full power can be concentrated against the Japanese end of the disintegrating Nazi-Japanese axis; but that does not necessarily preclude early allied steps to secure footholds in continental Asia.

That is exactly what Tokyo fears. It explains Japanese discarding of the "protection" mask used in 1941 to cover seizure of French Indo-China. On Tokyo orders, Japanese troops are moving to disarm or destroy all French and native forces. It is for defense against expected Anglo-American incursions from across the South China sea into French Indo-China that could cut off the whole southern end of the collapsing Japanese "greater east Asia co-prosperity sphere" by land as well as sea.

It remains to be seen whether that is the purpose that underlies creation of the powerful British Pacific fleet, American occupation of Palawan islands in the west central Philippines, just over 600 miles from the eastern bulge of Indo-China and seizure of the Zamboanga peninsula of Mindanao dominating the Sulu sea gateway to the South China sea from the Pacific. Disclosure from Bombay that a French military mission has been in consultation with allied authorities for months and is now attached to Lord Louis Mountbatten's southeast Asia command will do nothing to ease Japanese apprehensions.

American naval task forces have recently operated close off the Indo-China coast. American air power has been steadily blasting at Japanese shipping in Indo-China and at the narrow gauge railroad that hugs the coast line all the way from Hanoi to Saigon, connecting central and eastern China and Burma and the Malay peninsula.

An announcement that a French military mission is attached to the allied southeast Asia command carries a suggestion that at some moment a combined squeeze might develop from east and west to split off Japanese garrisons in Malaya and the Dutch Indies for annihilation, with establishment of air and sea bases in French Indo-China as a necessary preliminary. Once air and sea control of the gulf of Thailand were secured, simultaneous blows from the Bay of Bengal and the South China sea to gain positions on the long, narrow upper end of the Malay peninsula would seem possible. That would isolate Singapore.

It seems obvious that General MacArthur's diversion of forces from the Luzon campaign to take Palawan and the Zamboanga peninsula is designed to establish fleet access to the South China sea through the Sulu sea gateway. Those two air bases also will put an end to Japanese use of the oil wells in north Borneo.

That nearby fuel source could be of special value to the ships of the British Pacific fleet, mostly built for short range operations in European waters.

Japs Trapped In Burma City

MANDALAY, Burma (AP)—British Indian artillery and infantrymen closed the last remaining south gate of Ft. Dufferin in this rubble-heaped city yesterday, trapping the Japanese garrison.

A barrage of shells set fire to the south gate moat bridge and installations, halting any enemy truck or tank movement in or out of the battered fort, and artillerymen had the north, east and west gates under point blank fire. A railway line leading out of the southern corner of the fort already had been cut by infantrymen.

Through the business and residential streets of Burma's second largest city the tank men and artillerymen moved crushingly forward, blasting to bits nests of Japanese snipers.

A heavy smoke pall hangs over Dufferin. There are no signs of activity within the compound from an observation post on 800-foot Pagoda hill.

Academy Awards To Be Made Tonight

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Regardless of the movie strike the motion picture academy awards function will be held tonight on schedule.

Plans proceeded yesterday for the annual announcement of awards and presentation of "Oscars" at the Chinese theater on Hollywood boulevard.

Infantry, Armor Expand East Rhine Bridgehead

Marines Gain In North Iwo

Yanks Raise Flag Formally on Island; 20,000 Japs Dead

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Thursday (AP)—United States marines, who have killed an estimated 20,000 Japanese in 24 days on Iwo Island, scored gains of 200 to 400 yards Wednesday in the northwestern section, the navy announced today.

The United States flag has been raised formally on Iwo. The navy communique made no mention of American casualties—a figure not brought up officially on Guam since that applied for the first three days. It was 5,732 including 644 killed. Later Navy Secretary Forrestal in Washington placed the marine dead at 2,050.

Today's communique disclosed that navy, army and marine planes are operating from captured bases on the island. Wednesday's gains were scored in the sector of Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey's Fifth marine division. At nightfall these leathernecks still were locked in a stiff battle.

The estimated enemy dead was regarded as conservative. It was reached by an approximate count of burials. Many more Japanese bodies are known to be sealed up in bomb-blasted caves.

In reporting the raising of the flag, usually designating a conquest, the communique specified "some resistance still continues."

Two-based army planes and army Liberators from more distant bases pounded Chichi in the Bonin islands, north of Iwo on successive days, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Army Liberators also hit southern Paramushiro in the Kuriles. In addition to the Japanese around Kitano point, a smaller pocket still is holding out against Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Fourth marine division at Tachiwai point on the east side.

Today's communique added 48 more Japanese dead and 13 prisoners to the more than 60,000 enemy casualties—the vast majority killed—in the Palau and Marianas islands.

Yank Patrols Work North of Vergato

ROME (AP)—Strong Fifth army patrols have worked their way north of Vergato, important German stronghold 14 miles southwest of Bologna, already threatened by allied forces on the south, east and west, allied headquarters said yesterday.

Southwest of Vergato, which is astride the main Pistoia-Bologna highway, other Fifth army troops have beaten off German counterattacks against newly-won positions on the 5,900-foot Monte Spigolo.

Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's embattled German forces were displaying increased aggressiveness on the main approaches to Bologna.

On the Eighth army front along the Adriatic patrols clashed in a brisk 45-minute battle along the Senio river and 27 Germans were killed.

All 18 to 20 Year Olds—Destined for Infantry

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the next three months, all inductees between 18 and 20, inclusive, with a few exceptions, will be earmarked for the army.

A joint statement by the army and navy said the arrangement was made "to satisfy the current needs of the army for young infantry replacements."

During the three months period covered by the agreement, the navy's calls upon selective service will be filled with men 21 to 38 years old.

The only exceptions in the 18-20 bracket will be inductees who qualify and are assigned to special navy programs such as radio technicians and combat aircrewmen.

The text of the statement: "As the result of an arrangement between the army and the navy, all inductees 18 to 20 years old inclusive will be acquired by the army for a period of three months beginning March 15, with the exception of inductees who qualify and are earmarked for special navy programs such as radio technicians and combat aircrewmen."

New 11-Ton Bombs Dropped on Germany

5,000 Allied Planes Raid Reich for 30th Consecutive Day

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—The earth-shaking debut of the world's biggest bombs, weighing 11 tons each, capped a merciless assault on the Reich yesterday by more than 5,000 allied planes which ripped and blasted Germany with everything from 50 caliber machinegun slugs to the new super-bomb tall as a two-story house.

A rail viaduct at Bielefeld, 38 miles east of Muenster, was the target for the RAF's newest "town buster," the world's biggest package of explosive, which was used for the first time by four-engined Lancasters specially adapted for the purpose.

Other vital German communications and industrial objectives were assaulted by British and American warplanes as the great allied air offensive rolled through its 30th consecutive day. Nearly 2,000 heavy bombers and fighters of the United States Eighth air force participated in the operations.

British bombers were in action again during the night. Heavies attacked Zweibruecken and Hombruecken in an effort to wipe out troops and military stores reported concentrated in the two towns, and Mosquitos pounded Berlin for the 23rd consecutive night.

Rainy Weather To Break Up Today

Showers and thunderstorms which arrived in Iowa City last night will continue this morning but along towards noon things should start breaking up. Although it may stop raining, it still will be cloudy most of the day. Temperatures not much changed. Is that definite enough?

Despite the overhanging clouds yesterday the mercury climbed to 62, just a degree under the year's high set Monday. The low yesterday morning was 39 but at 10:30 last night the mercury was still in the upper regions, 57.

Germans Claim Rail Bridge Destroyed

Yanks Pour Supplies, Reinforcements Into Cross-River Area

PARIS, Thursday, (AP)—Infantry and armor of the United States First army expanded the Remagen-Erpel bridgehead today to within a mile and a quarter of the Frankfurt-Cologne super-highway, and other American forces extended the fighting along the far-flung western front.

In the bridgehead, now 10 1/2 miles long and 5 1/2 miles deep, Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' doughboys punched north, south and east for gains of up to a mile through the rugged hills that border the Rhine.

Reinforcements and supplies continued to pour into the American-held area east of the river over the great Ludendorff bridge and the pontoon structure erected by United States engineers.

Bridge Bombed The German radio claimed Nazi bombers destroyed the big double-tracked rail bridge during the day, but the latest information available tonight at both SHAEF and 12th army group headquarters was that the huge steel structure not only was standing, but was in better condition than when it was captured.

A German broadcast also said allied reconnaissance thrusts had been launched across the Rhine "north of Duisburg and north of Leverkusen." The enemy report said "all thrusts were unsuccessful."

There was no confirmation here of any allied activity north of the First army front, other than recent reports of the United States Ninth army shelling the Ruhr across the river, but such reconnaissance would be a normal procedure.

New U. S. Attack To the south, however, the American Seventh army opened a new attack against the last enemy-held salient west of the Rhine in Germany and gained four miles on a seven-mile front.

The drive west of Saarbruecken, following up a new attack begun yesterday by the Third army to the north, was intended at the outset as a line-straightening operation. But the Yanks found only light resistance and punched on to the Saar river.

The 70th division, spearheading the new thrust, penetrated more than a mile beyond the French-German frontier and reached the Saar in the vicinity of Volkingen, six miles west of Saarbruecken.

Five Towns Seized The towns of Schaffhausen, Clarenthal, Wehrden, Gieslautern and Schoeneck, all on or near the south bank of the Saar, were seized as the enemy's rearguard resistance was brushed aside.

By nightfall artillery and mortar fire was being exchanged across the river. The Third army wiped out the last remnants of resistance north of the Moselle river, overrunning a flying bomb launching site, and kept up pressure south of the Moselle, where a new attack opened Tuesday.

Jap Arsenal Probably Destroyed in Raid

21ST BOMBER HEADQUARTERS, Guam, Thursday (AP)—The Osaka arsenal, one of Japan's most important, probably was destroyed in yesterday's 300-Superfortress attack on that city.

That belief was expressed today by Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Le May, commander of the 21st bomber command, after 21st crews reported they were rocked violently by ground explosions.

Osaka arsenal covers 150 acres. One Superfortress was blown from an altitude of 7,000 up to 12,000 feet and turned completely over, Le May said. It went into a slow roll but the pilot recovered control at only 2,000 feet from the ground and flew back to Tinian, where it will be salvaged.

NAZI WIRE TORN DOWN BY REDS—WOMEN FREED

PEERING OUT FROM BEHIND BARBED WIRE, these women are American, British, French, Polish and Czech prisoners of war who were held in a German concentration camp in Brandenburg-on-the-Oder until Soviet forces entered the town and freed them. The Russians freed 860 women, but the Germans were able to move 600 other women prisoners further on.

Ambulances—and Footballs—

ON THE WESTERN FRONT (AP)—This is a story of ambulances and footballs.

It involves the American field service and took place in Alsace, Paris and London. C. B. Alexander of Baltimore, Md., needed 10 ambulances for his volunteer drivers attached to the First French Army.

Alexander and Mark Ethridge Jr. of Louisville, Ky., went to see Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny about getting those ambulances. The general had a shortage too—of footballs.

He needed 100 pigskins for his officer candidate school. "And so it is a deal," said the general. "I'll give you one new ambulance for every 10 footballs you give me."

It sounded like an easy deal and Melvin Braunstein, son of a Pittsburgh, Pa., sporting goods dealer, was assigned the task of getting the footballs.

Armed with letters from the general requesting the footballs, Braunstein flew to Paris. First he went to supreme allied headquarters. Then to French special services headquarters. Then to American supply officials and finally to the French commissariat of sports.

"Sorry, no footballs are kicking around here," was the story he got at each place.

Braunstein recalled that before the war a sporting goods firm in London had exported footballs to his father's firm.

So he hitch-hiked across the channel in an RAF plane, only to find the company tied up with army orders. But finally the American special services in London said they could take care of him.

The other day Braunstein returned to Tassigny's headquarters with 108 footballs, 24 pairs of football shoes and 12 football pumps.

The 10 ambulances will be turning up any day now.

Something for Veterans—When They Return

By ANN REED BURNS
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—If this town's World War II veterans have any truck with apples or pencils, the apples will be served on a platter, and the pencils will come free on a carved mahogany writing desk.

All because of an elegant, exclusive setup which its founders insist is the nation's first planned veterans' club. Already it has reached the plaster-and-lathe stage.

The Gen. George A. White Veterans club—a certificate of honorable discharge will get you inside—is an eight story building in downtown Portland with everything from a place for ex-VC's to lacquer their nails to a sound-proof music room.

It started with the determination of a tiny 82-year-old woman that no veteran ever would sleep on a Portland park bench or bum a dime for a sandwich.

Now it's expanded to the point where no veteran will have to go without writing paper, a fourth at bridge, billiards or the latest whodunit.

One floor, already operating, is the city's official clearing house for information to former GI's. Vets can find there everything they need to know about pensions, organizations, jobs, houses and the GI bill of rights.

That particular floor is the pet project of Manager Fred W. Roberts, former fire captain who developed bunions trying to unravel World War I's red tape. "They put us on a merry-go-round when we got back and we're still spinning," he said. "The boys here can get all the information they need at once and in one place."

Mrs. C. S. Jackson, widow of the founder of the Oregon Journal, got the idea for the club back in 1943.

"I made up my mind," said Mrs. Jackson, who's been through four wars, "that I'd never see another veteran selling shoestrings for a cup of coffee. I decided to do something for the men, not only while they are in uniform, but after they come back."

Veterans' organizations and city fathers liked the idea. Money from benefits and one $4,000 anonymous contribution purchased a $65,000 fireproof concrete building and left $61,000 for a backlog.

The club, expected to open late this month, will offer veterans about everything but a bride and a corporation vice-presidency. There'll even be a boudoir with professional hair driers where former service women can repair a collaring finger wave. There'll be about six paid employees and 25 volunteers.

With velvet draperies and custom-built furniture, it's going to be a rich man's club at poor man's rates. The backers plan dues of possibly 10 or 15 cents a month, so there'll be no tinge of charity.

Not that there's any charity about it. The board of directors, which includes finance-wise businessmen, is keeping the building's seventh, eighth and street floors rented as offices. The rent brings in $400 more than the estimated operating cost of $1,150 a month.

There's been no public solicitation and little publicity. Captain Roberts asked 134 women's organizations working with the service-men's center if they'd like to help. All 134 said yes.

Clubs and individuals volunteered to reconvert and furnish the rooms. Firms are supplying things like custom-made davenport at cost price.

The club's $61,000 backlog is almost intact. That, plus operating profits, will go into a fund for whatever type of veterans' aid proves most needed after the war.

The club is a little brother to the famed George A. White servicemen's center. Both are named for the late commander of the 41st division. Both have Roberts as manager and Mrs. Jackson as board chairman.

The veterans' clubs' brother center serves 2,500 cups of coffee a day and draws soldiers from all over the country.

Pontoon Bridge Over Rhine River—

WITH THE U. S. FIRST ARMY ON THE RHINE (AP)—American army engineers, working with the speed of circus stroubouts, took just 81 hours to throw across the Rhine near Remagen a pontoon bridge which they believe is the longest built in this war.

The 960-foot bridge required special engineering measures because of the speed of the river current.

"Now we've got everything up to light vehicles rolling across it," said Lieut. James A. Murphy Jr., New Britain, Conn.

The bridge was erected by the 51st combat engineer battalion under Lieut. Col. Harvey R. Fraser of Elizabeth, N. J.

"It was the sixth bridge we had built in two weeks—and the toughest," said Lieutenant Murphy.

It was found that the current on the east side of the Rhine ran faster than had been estimated, and available anchors would not hold the pontoon bridge in place.

"Nearly were some assault boats. By pushing against the current, these boats kept our pontoons from floating downstream and held the bridge in line until we could improvise another method to anchor the pontoons securely," said the lieutenant.

German planes attacked the bridge site almost continually from the time work began. The engineers labored to the accompaniment of anti-aircraft batteries and bombs and kept the construction going right through the raids.

"Our casualties have been light," said Murphy. "Fewer Americans have been killed than enemy planes brought down. All attempts to knock out the bridge have failed and traffic is flowing over it smoothly."

Anti-Jewish Campaign
STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Nazis have opened a new campaign against Jews still in Germany, a neutral traveler from Hamburg reported yesterday.

Jews married to Germans have been ordered to the Ghetto city at Theresienstadt (Terezin) in Czechoslovakia or to other designated concentration camps within five days, this informant said.

Russian Life Brightens As Soviet Cuts Food Prices Second Time

By Eddy Gilmore
MOSCOW (AP)—March, always the toughest month for city-dwelling Russians, promises this year to usher in the best spring and summer season of the war for Ivan Ivanovich—Russian for Joe Doakes.

Life isn't easy in Russia—but it's getting easier.

The best news in many months is a second reduction in prices in Russia's commercial food stores where you can buy in unrationed quantities everything from filet mignon to day-old eggs—if you have the money.

The finest cuts of beef have been reduced by 16 percent, pork 18 percent, mutton 16 1/2 percent and salt pork 14 percent. Bacon and chicken remain the same but turkey is down 11 percent and goose nine percent.

Butter has been reduced 25 percent, cheese is cheaper by about 10 percent and chocolate—which Russians love so well—is down 18 percent.

Commercial stores do not deal heavily in potatoes, and do not sell Russian bread which is purchased on a regular ration card very cheaply.

The commercial stores, located in every city in the Soviet Union, deal with the greatest mass of its factory and office workers and greatly affect the life of the average Russian.

True, he may not buy there more than once weekly but it is an accurate gauge to conditions in general. A reduction in these prices brings others with them but salaries remain the same.

The commercial stores have been functioning for nearly a year now and two price reductions, taken together, have brought prices down roughly 15 to 40 percent.

Probably more significant is that each time the commercial store prices drop, the farmers' market—where the collective farmer brings his extra produce to sell at retail at his own price—also is forced down.

The Soviet ruble of March, 1945, definitely is a sounder ruble than last year and the commercial store, under careful government supervision, definitely has made its contribution.

In this system, money is returning to something like it was before the war when the Russian could buy himself virtually anything he wanted to at the same or cheaper prices than in our countries.

This March many articles which make for a fine dinner table are available to the average man, although he can't splurge—or anything like it.

The commercial stores have worked out a system of discounts. Red army men, for instance, get as high as 50 percent off retail prices.

Workers who perform with special efficiency in war factories, get 30 to 50 percent off.

Numerous other classifications which include artists and writers call for reductions of 10 to 30 percent.

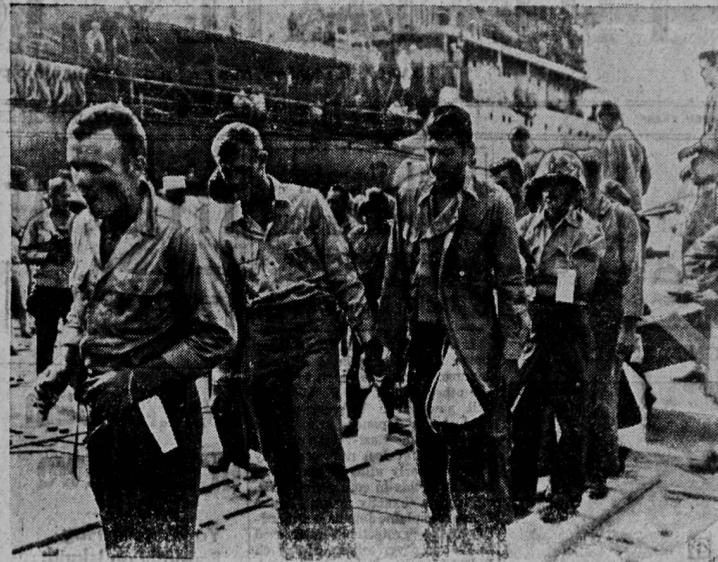

Incidentally, vodka—the national fire-water—now costs 40 percent less than a year ago.

Movie Price Ceilings
WASHINGTON (AP)—OPA's proposal for movie price ceilings gained admission to the senate banking committee yesterday and, like a summertime movie-goer, found it "20 degrees cooler inside."

In fact, there was every indication that this time the "freeze" would be on OPA, although Price Administrator Chester Bowles was invited to appear next Tuesday and argue for his recommendation.

For those who have labor boards, little steel formulas and great po-

Opinion on and off the Campus—

What Do You Think of Iowa Liquor Regulations?

Bob McMahon, A4 of Iowa City: "I think that Iowa has a good plan of distribution, fair prices, and rigid control. I believe too, that the liquor stores are well-managed."

Lieut. Keith McNurlen of Iowa City: "I have been in several states, and I think that Iowa's system of selling liquor is fairer and more satisfactory than that of most states. With this system, everyone gets his fair share of liquor, and there are fewer long waiting lines in front of the store."

John Laxio, visitor of Morrison, Ill.: "It seems logical to me that, with the present liquor shortage, Iowa's system of rationing should be advantageous. By rationing it through state stores, more people have a chance to buy the liquor than is the case when it is sold over the bar."

Beverly McKinley, A3 of Iowa City: "I don't think Iowa's liquor laws are very good, because they only help to breed bootleggers. It seems silly to me to ration liquor so strictly in Iowa when it can be so easily obtained in nearby states."

Ellen Myers, A3 of Cedar Rapids: "I think Iowa's liquor regulations encourage bootlegging. I don't see much difference between selling mixed drinks over the counter or in spiking your own. Other states don't have such tight restrictions."

Torger Torgerson, E1 of Dakota City: "I think that it is a pretty good system because the prices are comparatively low and the customer can't buy too much of the liquor. One state I was in had local option. I don't believe that local option would be successful in Iowa, because if one town were allowed to sell liquor and a neighboring town were dry, there would obviously be much conflict."

James Morrison, U of Des Moines: "I think the age limit for liquor books should be lowered to 18. Around here everyone generally manages to get liquor anyway."

Chuck Mosey, A2 of Reinbeck: "I think that the state has done an admirable job in selling liquor through state stores. Many persons aren't satisfied with the present system of rationing liquor, but I believe that this is the fairest method of distributing the small quantity of liquor that is now on hand."

Benard Hanson, G of Williamsburg: "I approve of the Iowa liquor law regulations, but it makes no difference to me whether it's sold by the drink or by the bottle."

Eileen Doerres, A4 of Lone Tree: "I think the liquor regulations in Iowa are working out successfully. This way the government gets the profit instead of private enterprise, and the purchaser is assured of getting good liquor at no more than the ceiling price. The main thing is that liquor commodities are controlled properly as they should be."

Mrs. Betty Denzin, RFD 5, Iowa City: "With the advent of the curfew regulation I think there will be a lot of trouble and a lot of basements opened. The situation might easily revert to the days of speakeasies."

James Morrison, U of Des Moines: "I think the age limit for liquor books should be lowered to 18. Around here everyone generally manages to get liquor anyway."

Benard Hanson, G of Williamsburg: "I approve of the Iowa liquor law regulations, but it makes no difference to me whether it's sold by the drink or by the bottle."

Says Paul Mallon—

Biggest Industry, by Far, in U. S. Is Education

WASHINGTON—In plant, this nation has invested $14,223,489,985 (1940 figure from the United States office of education) compared with a paltry $2,750,000,000 in plant of the No. 1 commercial industry, motor vehicles, bodies and parts.

We have put five times more money into the value of education production buildings from kindergarten through college, than in our vast and fabulous motor production, yet front page readers rarely notice this leading industry, and people generally pay little attention to it, although they own the stock in it.

Annual operating cost of education is $3,203,547,586 (same source, covering 1941-42 which is more than half the total of wages paid in every other industrial area in 1939. Yet practically every day you notice strikes and arguments about industrial wages.

For those who have labor boards, little steel formulas and great political agitation and interest. In the nation's largest industry, into which the public actually annually pays $2,671,653,202 there is no comparable interest—and no comparable results.

There are other significant distinctions. The nation's largest industry is not run by business men. County and city officials operate the bulk of it (their taxpayers furnishing $1,826,937,572 for the public schools) while the states furnished $979,539,773; the federal government $83,338,030 and private, yet front page readers rarely notice this leading industry, and people generally pay little attention to it, although they own the stock in it.

Clem Crowe Hinted New Hawkeye Football Mentor

'Interested In Position'

Notre Dame Line Coach Visits Iowa Athletic Officials

Amid high flying rumors, both here and on the Notre Dame campus, Clem Crowe, Notre Dame basketball coach and head football line coach, arrived in Iowa City Tuesday, and as E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, director of athletics put it, "is interested in the football coaching position at the University of Iowa."

Although it has been presumed for some time that Head Football Coach "Slip" Madigan is not returning to Iowa next fall, there has been no official release from the university concerning Madigan's status.

Decision
Schroeder said yesterday afternoon that a decision would probably be made in a few days as to Iowa's coach for the coming year, but emphasized that nothing was definite as yet.

Crowe spent yesterday visiting with athletic department officials and looking over the university. He is the guest of Head Basketball Coach Pops Harrison.

Crowe was head football coach and director of athletics at Xavier university in Cincinnati before returning to the Notre Dame coaching staff as head line coach.

Swift Changes
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The football coaching staff at Notre Dame university underwent swift changes yesterday.

Adam Walsh, line coach, resigned to become head coach of the Cleveland Rams of the National Football league, while Gene Ronzani, for the past 12 years with the Chicago Bears, was appointed backfield coach.

The two changes yesterday came less than three weeks after Ed McKeever, head football coach for the past year, had resigned to take a similar position at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.

Current Rumors
Reports were current that Clem Crowe, line coach of the Ramblers, might resign to become head football coach at the University of Iowa, as a successor to Edward P. (Slip) Madigan, Hawkeye coach for the past two seasons.

Ronzani was captain of the 1932 Marquette university team, and one of the school's two nine-letter men. Two years ago he coached the Newark Bears, Chicago Bears' farm team, and then returned to the Bears last fall, where he played quarterback and passed the Chicago team to several victories before the return to action of Sid Luckman.

Walsh succeeds Aldo (Buff) Donelli, who coached the Rams last fall and who recently entered the United States navy.

Walsh was signed by his brother, Charles (Chilli) Walsh, general manager of the Cleveland club. Terms of the contract were not revealed.

"Four Horsemen"
Walsh, who was captain and center of the famous Notre Dame "Four Horsemen" team of 1924, joined the Notre Dame coaching staff last June, on leave from Bowdoin college, Brunswick, Me., where he had been head coach the past eight years. Bowdoin suspended athletics for the duration of the war in 1943.

Walsh, who is known as an exponent of the "T" formation, previously had coached at Santa Clara (Calif.), Yale and Harvard. He had under consideration offers from three other colleges before accepting the post with the Rams.

Walsh is 43 years old, has one son in the armed service and another registered for induction.

Thirty Players Will Report for Pirates' First Drill Tomorrow

PITTSBURGH (AP)—More than 30 players are expected to be on hand for the opening spring training drills at Muncie, Ind., tomorrow morning, the Pittsburgh baseball club announced yesterday.

Outfielder Jim Russell, who led the Pirates in batting with a .312 mark last year, strolled into President William Benswanger's office today and signed a contract for 1945.

Pitcher Nick Strincevich notified the club from his Gary, Ind., home he had accepted terms and was reporting to the Muncie camp.

The club also announced Eddie Stewart, outfielder for the Bucs in 1941 and 1942 who was placed on the voluntarily retired list two years ago, had been rein-

WALTER KULTA, PICTURED above, will be the 165-pound representative of the Iowa Pre-Flight school, when the Wisconsin boxers meet the Seahawks here Friday night.

Hawkeyes Practice Outdoors Despite Slight Drizzle

Davis Says Team Needs More Hitting Power Than Showing

Soft winds and a ground-softening drizzle had little effect on the determination of Iowa's baseball team yesterday afternoon, for they held their third all-important outdoor practice despite the wet turf and overcast skies.

Apparently the Hawks are going to take advantage of every possible outing in the next four weeks before their opening conference game with Wisconsin, April 6. Yesterday they ignored the soft ground of the freshman diamond by playing two innings of ball, topped off with another stiff hitting workout. It looks as if nothing short of a downpour will chase those 30 determined diamond candidates inside.

Practices such as this week's are going to be the deciding factors in Coach Waddy Davis' final choice of a permanent lineup, for, according to the peppy little baseball mentor, the boys, although they have plenty of ability, need practice under actual game conditions to develop their hitting and playing strength.

"We have a better bunch of players, and more of them, than in last year's squad," he said, "but most of them are not yet hitting with wrist power, and they have a lot of developing to do before we are ready for our first conference game."

Many of the squad members will be playing their first year of conference baseball, and Davis hopes to add three or four non-conference contests to the schedule to condition his players mentally to the tougher competition the conference offers.

The Hawkeye nine will meet four Big Ten opponents this spring, playing eight conference games. The schedule is as follows:

- April 6-7, Wisconsin here
- April 13-14, Illinois there
- April 20-21, Northwestern here
- April 27-28, Minnesota there

Ability to hit will have a great influence upon the choice for first team positions. Davis is testing that important factor in each of the players by dividing the squad for several innings of actual competition each day.

Keen rivalry for the catching and pitching posts has been apparent in those synthetic games this week. Gene Hoffman, Wilmer Hokanson and Max Smith handled the hurling post in Tuesday's session, with Jack Spencer and Joe Zulfier behind the plate. In yesterday's game, Paul Fagerlund and Jack Wisniewski took the mound for the two-inning battle.

stated on his own application and optioned to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league, subject to 24-hour recall.

Cadets Drill For Purdue Track Meet

With no track competition booked for the week, the pre-flight coaches are taking a close check on the present talents of their shifting personnel for the Purdue relays on March 24.

The Seahawks continue to be listed among the favorites in the Purdue meet yet, even though they lost six key performers last week and finished in a tie with Marquette behind Drake at the Central Collegiate conference last week.

Previous Win
The cadet team had previously defeated Drake and the percentage would look dark for the future success of the navy thinclads. However the addition of new team members and the improvement of several cadets who had been on the mediocre side before, brightened the faces of the track staff this week.

Two of the new candidates, Bob Armstrong and Herb Schlotthauer, are turning in good time in the 440. The latter cadet had been used as a sprinter but due to the shortage of contestants in this classification has been switched to the new category.

New Foursome
This pair, along with Bobby Mickelson, a hurdler, and Bob Steward, now form a new mile relay foursome. Steward is the only remaining member of the Seahawk quartet that formed a new record at the pre-flight school.

Howard Sommer is helping out in the high jump group. He came to the track team from the basketball squad. Vic Schleich, undefeated in the shotput, has been joined by Jack Swamer to increase point making power in that department.

Latest addition to the squad is Bill Palmer who arrived last week after recording a 4:30 mile while traveling the cinders for Purdue. His presence will allow Leonard Weed to concentrate on the two-mile event.

At the Top
Now that we look back on it an interesting thought comes to mind. Crowe's Irish basketball squad was one of the best in the land. His five was very eligible for a shot at a spot in either the NCAA or National Invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York.

The fact that the South Benders did not enter either competition ought to prove something besides the fact that hotel rooms in Manhattan are expensive. We are led to suspect that Crowe let Irish officials know where he stood on matters some time ago. Better still, maybe he told them which way the Crowe is going to fly.

Well, Dad Schroeder has told us that he will know the answer to the coaching problem in a very short time. Let's hope things turn out that way so we can get down to some real old fashioned spring training. Old fashioned referring to the ancient days when you didn't wonder if you were going to have to go into a maternity ward after your athletes.

Five More Players
WASHINGTON (AP)—Five more players—Outfielder George Case and infielders Charles Beihl, Hillis Layne, George Myatt and Fred Vaughn—reported to the Washington Senators today, making 11 in camp.

For the first time, Manager Ossie Bluege held an infield drill with Joe Kuhel on first, Myatt at second, Beihl at short and Layne at third. All these were with the Senators last year except Beihl.

Letter Earners in Golf
Those who have already earned letters in golf are Bob Devine, Otto Froehel, Sonny Dean, and Jerry Cannon, while Tom Burney, Jim Weary, Clinton Thomas, and Corky Kelly are also out for the squad.

In the golf department the coaching will be handled by Superintendent Opstad, who will also have the able assistance of Charles Kennett, golf coach of the university.

Schwank Directs Tennis
Tennis will start about the same time as golf, under the direction of Schwank, who will have the dual task of being track and tennis coach.

While there are four tennis men returning from last year, only one, Bruce Higley, a junior, is a letterman. Franklin Knowler, Dale Godbey, and Tom Cady are the other three who will probably be counted upon heavily this year.

Ken Keltner Quits War Plant Job to Join Cleveland Indians
LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Ken Keltner again has left a war plant job to play ball with the Cleveland Indians.

Although declining comment on his action, the perennial third baseman for the American League All-Star team repeated his move of last year, when he said: "baseball is my business. If the army wants me, it will find me working at it."

The infielder left a job in a Milwaukee war plant to report to training camp last year. He promptly was reclassified 1-A and was accepted for the navy after passing his physical examination.

He was not called, however, and after several months had passed he was given a 2-A classification. Presumably this was changed to 2-B when he returned to his factory job at the close of last year's campaign.

Wilson Leads Seniors
Coming out on top were the seniors who, led by Tug Wilson, amassed a total of 59½ points. In second place with 49½ points was the combined freshman-junior squad, while the sophomores finished third with 14 points.

Co-captain of this year's track team, Wilson was top man for the evening as he copped five first places—the pole vault, high and low hurdles, and high and broad jump.

Returning Lettermen
Returning lettermen on the track squad, which is coached by the Red and White's able basketball and football mentor, Wally Schwank, are: Co-captain Dean Housel, Bill Olson, Bob Freeman, Ted Gunderson, Harold Eakes, and Wilson.

About 50 boys have come out for track this year with the result that Schwank should have a lot of good material to work with and get into shape before the first meet here March 21.

Golf Started
Although golf meets will not start until towards the end of April, City high's club swingers have already been out on the links practicing their drives, pitch shots, and putts.

Maybe So

By BOB KRAUSE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

DEPENDING UPON HOW you look at it there is a dark horse or a black Crowe in our athletic midst this day. To be more specific a Clem Crowe is in town examining with a detective's eye the possibility of coaching the University of Iowa's 1945 football team.

As you probably know all the details of the visit thug far we don't go over them again. Dick Yoakam told the story to date last night over WSUI on Sportstime. Thank you sincerely, Mr. Yoakam. May your weekly fan mail increase from hundreds to thousands of letters, and may we express the hope that you will have the opportunity of continuing your fine descriptive announcing during the state high school basketball tournament at Des Moines.

In the Air
But to get back to Mr. Crowe. By reaching up into the air and grabbing little bits of winged information which have been flitting about we have come to the place where we can say with a degree of certainty, that he has a definite inside track for the job. We are sure of that as we are of the fact that you will have empty pockets as of midnight tonight.

The fiery Notre Dame basketball coach, who made two appearances in Iowa City with the Irish quintet this season, has leaped into the scene with three other competitors to give the whole affair the aspect of an Alfred Hitchcock movie thriller, the reference being that you never know until the last moment.

Three Others
Involved in the quadrangle with Mr. Crowe are "Biggie" Munn, Michigan line coach last fall; Wes Fry, Northwestern backfield mentor of last season, and Tad Wieman, who acted as an aide to Lou Little at Columbia in 1944.

There can be little doubt that Mr. Crowe has probably come to the parting of the ways with Notre Dame. He had been considered for the Iowa coaching spot some time ago, and this may have had something to do with the fact that he did not get the Notre Dame grid post. It has since been given to backfield instructor Hugh Devore. It hardly would be giving away a confidence to state that Crowe might be perturbed at not getting the job.

Now that we look back on it an interesting thought comes to mind. Crowe's Irish basketball squad was one of the best in the land. His five was very eligible for a shot at a spot in either the NCAA or National Invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York.

The fact that the South Benders did not enter either competition ought to prove something besides the fact that hotel rooms in Manhattan are expensive. We are led to suspect that Crowe let Irish officials know where he stood on matters some time ago. Better still, maybe he told them which way the Crowe is going to fly.

Well, Dad Schroeder has told us that he will know the answer to the coaching problem in a very short time. Let's hope things turn out that way so we can get down to some real old fashioned spring training. ## Shaughnessy—Kills Time

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Clark Shaughnessy wasn't looking forward with much enthusiasm to the long trip back from the west coast early last fall.

Not because he was going back to Pittsburgh and knew he wouldn't find much in the way of football material when he got there. He just didn't like long, lonesome train trips, that's all, so he decided to do what he could to kill the monotony.

Train Walking
He started at one end of the train and walked leisurely through the aisles of the various coaches, looking for a familiar face. He saw none, but there was one bright, alert, well-set-up looking kid seated in a day coach who somehow seemed to stand out. Closer inspection disclosed that across the chest of his sweater were the words: "West Point." Shaughnessy dropped into the seat beside the kid and started a conversation.

Bullseye
"Say, you're Clark Shaughnessy, aren't you," the boy asked abruptly. Shaughnessy admitted it was a bullseye.

"I imagine you're a football player," Shaughnessy said. "When you get back at West Point you're going to find a boy named Blanchard. Felix Blanchard. He's a great player. Ever heard the name?"

The kid from West Point admitted he hadn't.

"You'll see a lot of each other," Shaughnessy continued. "He's a fullback, and a big, strong, fast lad. His dad played for me at Tulane."

Fullback
"A fullback," the boy said with interest. "Gee, I'm glad to hear that. You know, they played me some at fullback last year, but I'm not a fullback. I'm too light, for one thing. I'm a halfback. A fullback, you say. Hmm."

The train rolled on, and the boy remarked he was getting hungry. He dug down into a box of provisions that looked like it might supply the Fifth army. He offered Shaughnessy his choice, then began to pass apples and oranges and sandwiches around to everyone in the car.

Proxy Meeting
And that was the first meeting, if only by proxy, of two football players on the same team who last fall were selected as All-American backs.

The kid riding the day coach across the country, cheerfully sharing his provisions with his traveling companions, was Glenn Davis, who even the year before had been a prime candidate for All-American honors because of his great running, even though, as he said: "I'm not a fullback."

Dubiel Arrives
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Arrival of pitcher Walter Dubiel, who had been detained in Hartford by the illness of his wife, brought the New York Yankee camp enrollment to 17 yesterday. Practice was again outdoors, the weather continuing sunny. Only 11 of the total Yankee roster of 32 players now are unsigned.

Seahawks Reshuffle Weights For Wisconsin Match Friday

High spot in local sports activity this week will be the boxing match between the local pre-flight team and the powerful squad from Wisconsin Friday.

A record boxing attendance here expected to be in the vicinity of 5,000 will be present to watch the Wisconsin team, which has been defeated only once in the history of the sport for the school, meet its only superior.

The affair will take place at the Iowa fieldhouse Friday night at 7:30. John O'Donnell of St. Ambrose will be the referee.

Third Victory
The Seahawk team downed the Badgers at Madison two weeks ago 4½ to 3½. Both teams will be after their third victory of the season.

The visitors hold twin triumphs over Penn State and a pair of draws to Bunker Hill. The cadet squad has a draw with the Bunker Hill team, a loss to the same aggregation, and a win over Minneapolis NAS as well as the win over the Badgers.

Weight Shuffling
Because of the addition of two powerful contenders and a general shuffling of weights, Coach Dominick Napolitano expects the Wisconsin ringmen to be more potent in their attack.

The pre-flight staff has done a little weight juggling also and the cadets should be at top form Friday for the final home appearance.

Robert Fuller, 120-pound cadet will try to make up for the previous loss to Jerome Pittman of the Badgers. James Woody will make his first appearance for the Seahawks in the 127-pound division against Akio Konoshima.

Improved
Don McLaughlin will be competing in the 135-pound classification Friday against Lloyd Sweetman. Sweetman scored a T. K. O. over McLaughlin in their last meeting but the pre-flight cadet defeated his opponent in the match with Minneapolis last week so his work is expected to be of improved quality.

Bob Wilson, normally a 135-pound contestant, will represent the local squad at 145 pounds against Harold Sullivan. Wilson is the only undefeated member of the navy team and has an earlier victory over Sullivan.

Donald Turner will be the Seahawk boxer against Dave Dahl of Wisconsin. Walter Kulta, who has been fighting in the 165-pound weight for the last several meets, has advanced to the 165-pound class where he will meet Ted Chmura.

Blaine Heaton, 175-pound pre-flightist who defeated a semi-finalist of the Minneapolis Golden Gloves here last week, will enter the ring against Bill Neary. Melvin Levy, the navy heavy, will face Carl Kulawinski.

GUNDER HAEGG
BOSTON (AP)—Don't sell Gunder Haegg short.

That's the pointed advice of another great runner, Parson Gil Dodds, holder of the 4:06.4 indoor mile track record.

"What Haegg has done on the indoor boards to date is just about what one should expect after 23 days on a boat," said the flying preacher in an interview during a brief visit to the scene of his championship-moulding training grounds.

"I haven't seen Haegg run since he's been here, but I would say he showed improvement in his latest meet over the showing he made in his first start. He seems to be getting acquainted with the boards now."

Resigns War Job
ATLANTA (AP)—Jim Bagby Jr., pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, has resigned his war job at the Bell bomber plant and plans to leave tomorrow for the Indians' training camp at Lafayette, Ind.

Legislation Progresses to Provide—

Retirement Pensions For Public Employes

Legislation to provide retirement pensions and benefits for the families of public employes is making favorable progress in the Iowa legislature, according to John C. Stephenson, president of the University hospitals employes' union, local number 197.

Stephenson has been in Des Moines several times this year to confer with legislators on social security measures. Yesterday he reported that from talks with legislators last week he believes that some sort of social security for public employes will be enacted by this session of the legislature.

A bill patterned after the federal social security system is being prepared by a joint committee of the legislature. Senator LeRoy S. Mercer, Democrat of Iowa City, is a member of this committee.

Additional Benefits
In addition to providing pension benefits for public employes when they retire at age 65, the proposed bill also provides protection for the families of public employes both before and after they reach the retirement age.

All state, county and municipal employes would come under the provisions of the bill. Its provisions are compulsory for all public employes in Iowa including teachers except elected officials and policemen and firemen who already have a pension system.

If the federal social security system should be expanded to include employes of states, counties and municipalities, the employes under the proposed Iowa system would become members of the federal system immediately, Stephenson explained.

Sent for Approval
The proposed bill has been sent to Washington to be examined by federal social security officials to be sure that it conforms to the federal system. As soon as the bill is returned, the committee will hold a public hearing to continue discussions.

Gold Star Mother Mistakes Alarm For Peace Whistle

It was 9 a. m. yesterday. The alarm went off as usual with a dull, awakening buzz.

Naturally it was on the other side of the room.

So continued the insistent rumble.

Suddenly there was a great commotion in the hall outside the door.

"What is that?" excitedly questioned the lady who had been cleaning the next room.

"The alarm clock," came a sleepy answer.

"Oh," she sighed and the thrill went out of her voice.

"I thought it was peace."

Then she smiled and said, "That's what I get for being hard of hearing."

In her window at home are three service stars; one of them is gold.

Vital Need— Drive For Fats

"A vital volunteer war service that only a woman can perform"—this is how the government describes the saving of used kitchen fats. Iowa City Girls Scouts will collect these used fats, urgently needed for war production, Saturday from 9 to 12 a. m.

Imports of fats and oils have been cut in half by the war and even if American farmers realize top production estimates of oilseed and cattle, the increasing industry and war needs leave a serious deficit of fats and oils. This shortage can be overcome only by the continued co-operation of housewives who save every drop of used fats.

Girl Scouts will canvass every neighborhood Saturday and housewives may also take their kitchen fats to collection centers. If any women are not contacted by noon, they may call the Girl Scout office and a Scout will collect the fats.

Collection centers are Mrs. G. H. Scanlon, 220 Lexington avenue; Mrs. William Holland, 325 Melrose court; Mrs. George Hall, 804 Hudson; Mrs. Edna Red, 325 S. Capital street; Mrs. T. F. ## This tiny dot in the Pacific...

SAIPAN has more communications equipment than a city of 190,000 people! The little island of Saipan today has communications facilities greater than those of Hartford, Connecticut. Without this vast array of telephone, teletype and radio apparatus—much of it made by Western Electric—Saipan could not play its key part as an army, navy and air base in the great drive our fighting forces are making toward Tokyo.

When you realize that Saipan is only one small island—and that many more bases must be taken and similarly developed—you get some idea of the job still ahead. Today the manpower and manufacturing facilities of Western Electric are devoted to meeting our fighters' increased needs. That's why there is not enough telephone equipment for all civilian requirements.
