Reds Invade Austria, Drive For Vienna

Two New Offensives Opened Along Danube; Danzig Captured

LONDON (AP)—Russian troops invaded Austria last night as two new Soviet offensive drives toward Vienna and Italy erupted in Hungary and southern Slovakia and Red army troops far to the north captured the big Baltic port of Danzig, hoisting the flag of the "Polish state" over the former free city.

Moscow's nightly communique announced that Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army had entered Austria—seven years after that country was annexed to Adolf Hitler's greater Reich—after crossing the frontier north of captured Koszeg, 52 miles south of Vienna.

Two New Offensives
Earlier, Marshal Stalin had announced that the Second and Third Ukrainian armies, on the north and south banks of the Danube, had opened two powerful new offensives.

On the Danube's north bank, Russian columns burst 31 miles across southern Slovakia, breaching Vienna's Nitra river defense line.

At the same time, Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's army opened a big drive south of Lake Balaton in southern Hungary in the 42-mile gap between the lake and the Drava river. This force advanced to within 12 miles east of the great oil center of Nagykanizsa after a 20-mile advance across territory previously won and then lost. They captured Boehony in their closest approach to Nagykanizsa.

Near Yugoslav Border
They also drove to within nine miles of the Yugoslav border by taking Nagyatad, 72 miles northeast of Zagreb, puppet Croat capital.

West of Lake Balaton other units of Tolbukhin's army veered southwestward and captured Keszthely, on the southern tip of Lake Balaton, and Zalegerszeg, 22 miles from Yugoslavia. The advance carried these forces within 138 miles of Italy for a possible junction with Anglo-American forces 268 miles away.

More than 10,000 German troops were captured and 39,000 killed in the collapse of German resistance in Danzig city, where the first shots of World War II were fired. Forty-five German U-boats and 151 other ships were taken in the great naval base, internationalized by the league of nations, Danzig was the first German prize of the present war. The raising of the Polish flag indicated Russia's intention of giving the European tin-dropper to the Poles.

Vienna, Graz Bombed Ahead of Russian Advances on Towns

ROME (AP)—Unescorted United States heavy bombers of the 15th airforce leaped the Alps yesterday and bombed rail yards and stations at Vienna and the Austrian mountain town of Graz which are imperilled by the Red army's advance.

The 12th airforce B-25's resumed their methodical pounding of the vital Brenner pass from Austria into northern Italy, attacking a rail bridge at San Ambrogio, 12 miles north of Verona. Thunderbolts destroyed 20 rail cars and attacked ammunition dumps and enemy positions in northern Italy.

Gen. Mark W. Clark has predicted a German withdrawal from Italy and an allied ground offensive sooner or later to link up with other allied forces in the north, and enemy escape lines leading through the key Brenner pass have been kept under heavy attack.

The day's operations boosted the total bombs dropped by Italy-based craft during March to more than 31,000 tons, surpassing the previous high mark of 30,373 tons dropped in May, 1944.

Attempt to Destroy Panama Canal Told By Chilean Paper

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The influential newspaper La Nacion declared yesterday that an attempt to destroy the Panama canal had been uncovered with the detention of a German saboteur named von Apen and linked the purported attempt with the destruction of several Chilean ships which the paper laid to sabotage.

VETERAN YANKS INVADE CEBU

WITH HEAVY aerial and naval bombardment preceding the invasion, Japanese defenders of the Philippine island of Cebu are now being subjected to fierce attack by veteran Yanks of the Eighth army's Americal division. Photo above shows some of the first United States troops to reach shore. Though the invasion caught the Nips off guard, opposition is described as "stiff." This is an official United States signal corps photo.

Pi Beta Phi Ousts Mrs. Glenn Frank

Article Criticizing Fraternity-Sorority System Causes Action

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Glenn Frank, widow of the former president of the University of Wisconsin, said yesterday she had been ousted from Pi Beta Phi sorority because of an article she wrote recently criticizing the American college sorority-fraternity system.

She said she received notice of her ouster in a letter from Amy Burnham Onken, Chapin, Ill., grand president of the sorority.

"If the article I wrote does any good at all, losing my membership in Pi Beta Phi is a small sacrifice," Mrs. Frank said.

Mrs. Frank's article, which appeared in the April issue of the Woman's Home Companion, criticized the system of sororities and fraternities in American schools. It urged abolition of "exclusive" school organizations and branded them as un-American, snobbish and undemocratic.

"The article I wrote was sincere and true," Mrs. Frank said. "I saw what sororities and fraternities can do to over-sensitive young persons at the University of Missouri, and later when I came to Wisconsin I saw these things repeated. There is too much sorrow, tragedy and heartbreak when a student outside of the exclusive club cannot enjoy its membership. If my article does any good at all I will not mind the sacrifice."

Mrs. Onken's letter, received by Mrs. Frank Wednesday, said the sorority's grand council had instituted dismissal proceedings on the basis of Mrs. Frank's "violation of initiation pledges and acts inimical to the best interests of Pi Beta Phi, both of which were involved in the publication of an article entitled 'Heartaches on the Campus' which appeared in Woman's Home Companion of April."

B-29's Strike At Nagoya

WASHINGTON (AP)—Superfortresses struck anew at Nagoya yesterday as B-29 crews returning from Thursday's raid at Singapore reported setting off huge fires among oil storage tanks near the naval base.

The attack on Nagoya, Japan's third largest city and important aircraft production center, was carried out by a small force of Superforts from the Marianas. No details were announced.

A fleet of 40 to 50 B-29's from India hit Bukum island, Singapore, leaving oil tanks crumbling and ablaze and the sea northwest of the island covered with burning oil.

Bandit Trio Arrested

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The FBI at Springfield reported the capture late yesterday of the third of a trio of bandits who robbed the First National bank at Greenville of more than $20,000 in a holdup early yesterday. FBI men said all of the loot had been recovered.

Operators See Coal Contract Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Extension of the expiring contract between soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers, making government seizure of the mines unnecessary, was expected last night by producers.

The operators previously had rejected requests of Solid Fuels Administrator Harold L. Ickes and Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins to continue the agreement for another 30 days and make any wage adjustments retroactive to April 1.

They seemed ready, however, to accept the retroactivity feature in any war labor board extension order.

The board will conduct a hearing this morning at which time it probably will direct that the contract, expiring Saturday at midnight, be extended another 30 days to permit hearings into the contract controversy.

Secretary Perkins certified the case to the board for settlement late Thursday night, after a fruitless attempt to get agreement on a contract proposed by her. John L. Lewis, UMW chief, accepted her terms at once, but the operators said it would cost $180,000,000 a year, a prohibitive figure in their opinion.

Secretary of State Confident of Success At San Francisco

WASHINGTON (AP)—Turning aside a barrage of questions, Secretary Stettinius insisted yesterday the hot "multiple vote" issue has not dimmed his confidence in the success of the San Francisco conference.

Reporters fired 48 questions at him, most of them dealing with a secret agreement made at Yalta and disclosed Thursday. Under this the United States will back Russia's demand for three votes in the assembly of the world organization to be set up at San Francisco, and in turn will seek three votes for itself. The British commonwealth will have six.

The questions centered on why the agreement was kept secret until it was smoked out by press reporters, and what is the status of the "sovereign equality" principle stressed in the Dumbarton Oaks preliminary plan for world organization, and the official speeches and explanations of the plan.

Meanwhile another high official who would not be named assured the press that no other secret agreements on Dumbarton Oaks were reached at the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting at Yalta.

Ray Millands Separate

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Film actor Ray Milland and his wife have decided on a trial separation "due to differences in temperament," Mrs. Milland announced yesterday.

The actor and his wife, the former Muriel Webber, were married in 1931. They has a son, Denny, five.

U. S. Tank Forces Smash 21 Miles on Road to Berlin

RAF Resumes Berlin Attacks

Follows Heaviest U. S. Aerial Assaults On U-Boat Yards

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—A strong force of RAF Mosquitos attacked Berlin again last night after the mightiest American aerial force sent aloft this year—more than 2,300 bombers and fighters—showered 4,000 tons of bombs in daylight attacks on five U-boat yards in Germany's largest North sea ports—Bremen, Hamburg and Wilhelmshaven.

German radio alarms logged bombers over most parts of northwestern Germany last night but the only definite target announced by the British air ministry was Berlin which was attacked for the 38th night in the last 39 nights.

Heaviest U. S. Attack
The greatest United States attack of the war on enemy naval installations yesterday strangled chances of the crumbling German army of getting seaborne supplies and reinforcements. It also dealt a massive blow against the Nazis' spring submarine plan.

Nine bombers and three fighters were reported missing from the attacks.

There was an indication—but no confirmation—that the attack by more than 1,400 Flying Fortresses and Liberators and a screening cloud of 900 fighters of the United States Eighth force was timed to catch large units of the German navy anchoring at Wilhelmshaven, last attacked by the Eighth Feb. 3, 1944.

The official target listed in the communique said only "naval vessels in the inner harbor."

Targets for Yanks
The armada aimed the explosives on the U-boat yards and other targets, including warships, and what was believed to be a flotilla of subs sheltering in Wilhelmshaven's inner harbor, near the government naval dockyard where the Nazi battleship Von Tirpitz was built.

Japs Infiltrate Into Laohokow

CHUNGKING (AP)—Japanese infantry and cavalry are infiltrating into Laohokow, Chinese army headquarters admitted yesterday, only four days after the United States 14th airforce evacuated its base there, 200 miles northwest of Hankow.

Forward elements of an enemy force estimated at 80,000 troops suffered heavy losses in their first attempts to enter the city, the Chinese said.

Loss of the airfield was announced by United States headquarters. A brief communique added that since the base was abandoned March 26 it has been bombed twice by 14th airforce planes. Loss of the city itself would put the Japanese, who began their current push March 21, in position to invade Shensi province and strike out from there either north toward Sian or south toward Chungking, 400 miles away.

North of Laohokow the Chinese claimed to have killed more than 1,000 Japanese in fighting around the former Chinese stronghold of Manyang, and several hundred men in attacks on enemy mechanized forces along the Honan-Shensi highway.

Easter Weekend To Be Fairly Nice

It looks like the Easter weekend should be fairly nice as far as weather goes. Today will be partly cloudy with the temperatures ranging about like they did today, perhaps somewhat warmer. The cloudiness seems to be decreasing and the temperature range rising so tomorrow should be even better.

Despite the generally cloudy conditions yesterday, the mercury reached 67 late in the afternoon after a low of 39 was set in the morning. Temperatures may be in the 70's today and tomorrow.

Destruction of Nazi Primary Objective— Allied Thrusts Fall Into Pattern

By Edward H. Higgs Associated Press War Analyst

Allied thrusts into Germany appear to be falling into a pattern. Underlying the whole strategy, of course, is this prime objective: destruction of the Nazi army in the west. For the time being, at least, geographical advances will be secondary to that goal.

The Germans east and north of the Rhine river apparently are concentrated in three areas—the Ruhr, Holland and in southwest Germany in the triangle formed roughly by Mannheim, Munich and the Swiss, French and German border.

Already, a giant trap is being forged around some six to ten German divisions in the Ruhr—probably between the Nazis forces in the west. The American Ninth army is driving along the northern flank to a junction with the First army swinging up from the south and behind the Ruhr.

This suggests, along with other indications, that similar traps will be closed around the other two big pockets of German resistance.

The British-Canadian forces on the left of the Ninth army appear to be slanting northeast, an indication that they may be fashioning a loop around the Germans in Holland. This envelopment may swing north along the Ems or the Weser rivers.

In the south, Lieut. Gen. Alexander Patch's Seventh army is probing southwest, apparently maneuvering into position to strike behind the Germans in the mountainous southwest triangle.

The allies are bagging German prisoners by the thousands daily but there is a significant note in the surrenders. As yet, there have been no mass capitulation of large units. When whole divisions, corps and armies begin to give up, total collapse of the German army in the west will be at hand.

Until that happens, it must be assumed that the Germans are still struggling to follow a general plan and to fall back to some new line. General Eisenhower and Secretary of War Stimson both have suggested that the Nazis may attempt another last futile stand west of Berlin.

An indication that the Nazi high command is still grabbing frantically for reinforcements to make that stand comes in hints from the Italian front that the Nazis there are preparing some move. The enemy has suddenly increased artillery fire, stepped up patrolling and generally assumed a more aggressive attitude. Obviously the Germans are not considering any general attack but apparently getting set to withdraw, possibly to the Alps.

Some 20 to 25 German divisions have been tied down in Italy and a retreat to the southern Alps would free possibly 10 or more divisions for use within the Reich.

40th Division Lands On Negros Island

Advances 14 Miles, Approaches Capital Of Philippine Island

MANILA, Saturday (AP)—The United States 40th division of the Eighth army landed Thursday on Negros island in the central Philippines, headquarters reported today. Brushing aside enemy resistance on the west coast near Bago, the Yanks raced 14 miles inland, captured Bacolod airstrip and approached the outskirts of the capital city of Bacolod.

The drive was northeastward. A second Yank column struck 11 miles, seized Ponte Vedra, pushed inland along the Babo river, secured Santa Ancieta and contacted guerrilla forces.

Also reporting fresh successes on invaded Cebu, just east of Negros, where contact also had been made with guerrillas, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said:

"Throughout the entire Visayan area, comprising the central portion of the Philippines, the enemy seems bewildered and his defense is rapidly collapsing.

"Preoccupied to the north in Luzon and fearful of his position to the south in (invaded) Mindanao, he has neglected his center and left it exposed to a series of divergent thrusts which are proving vital."

On Cebu, the Americal division, commanded by Maj. Gen. William H. Arnold, advanced northeast from captured Cebu city. Along the coast Mandaue and Mana were captured.

After joining the guerrillas, the Yanks "are rapidly securing all areas to the south," headquarters said.

Manpower Measure Appears Doomed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Enemies of the manpower control bill measured it for a legislative coffin yesterday in senate debate.

Its friends, however, still held a lingering hope of swinging a majority of the membership behind it when the deciding vote comes next week.

The compromise bill, which provides authority for a labor freeze, employment ceilings and hiring restrictions, is in a preliminary stage where it must be voted up or down without amendment.

If the senators "reject the conference report"—in other words, turn down the house approved bill as it stands—its advocates are prepared to ask the house for a new legislative conference.

Heavy Bombardment Continues in Ryukyus

New Counterattack Repelled by Fleet 400 Miles From Japan

GUAM, Saturday (AP)—Heavy warships of the United States Pacific fleet and carrier planes continued their bombardment of the Ryukyus Friday, carrying their assault into the eighth straight day.

A Japanese counterattack on Admiral Raymond A. Spruance's mighty fleet, lying off the Ryukyus within probably 400 miles of Japan itself, was repulsed by ships' guns and carrier planes. Seventeen enemy aircraft were downed and four torpedo boats were destroyed, Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced in today's communique.

Nimitz was silent on whether the attacking Nipponese damaged any of Spruance's ships, or any of Vice-Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's carriers, which have been within striking distance of the Japanese homeland two weeks and which have raided southern Honshu or other enemy islands to the south daily for 12 days.

Penicillin Seized

WASHINGTON (AP)—The treasury said yesterday customs agents seized 26,000,000 units of penicillin yesterday afternoon at Laredo, Tex., in what is believed the first attempt to export the valuable drug without a license.

Export control is administered by the foreign economic administration but is enforced by customs agents stationed at the ports and borders.

Cross Eder Unopposed

Five Allied Armies Take 60,000 Prisoners In Two-Day Drive

PARIS, Saturday (AP)—United States tanks thundered unopposed across the formidable Eder river 182 miles southwest of Berlin in a 21-mile sweep yesterday and American breakthrough forces to the north threatened at any hour to trap 40,000 crack German troops in the toppling Ruhr.

Five allied armies, powered by at least 18 armored divisions beyond the Rhine, drove almost at will through the broken German front, weakened to an almost fatal point by 60,000 captives swept up by General Eisenhower's forces in the last two days.

"There is not any organized line of defense between you and Berlin," a high-ranking German officer told his United States Third army captors. "There is not any organized system of government left in Germany. When you reach Berlin the whole situation will quickly dissolve."

High Road to Berlin

At least two United States First army tank divisions and three United States Third army armored divisions were on the high road to Berlin, brushing past the scant resistance in gains of 20 and 21 miles respectively.

The United States First army scored one of the biggest tactical victories of another sensational day by capturing the great Eder dam near Hemfurth. It was taken so swiftly it was not even prepared for the demolitions that would have flooded the route to Berlin.

Drive Through Paderborn

At the same time, the First army sent its northbound tank columns slashing through Paderborn, almost at the edge of the north German plain, 43 miles east of the eastern limits of the Ruhr.

The United States Ninth army, breaking German resistance in the northern Ruhr after a blazing tank battle, now was possibly 40 miles beyond the Rhine. It had forged across one big but unnamed river in the basin to within 60 miles or so of a junction with the First at Paderborn, which would sever the Ruhr from the rest of Germany.

Another relentless tide of men and armor was rolling over the Westphalian plains north of the Ninth army.

OPA May Suspend Beef Subsidies Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were indications yesterday the government may suspend a scheduled cut in beef subsidies as a result of a court decision ruling OPA price ceilings for non-processor packers invalid.

The subsidy reduction, due to go into effect Sunday, trims a special premium for these fresh-beef-only slaughterers from 80 cents a hundred pounds to 30 cents.

The OPA, it was understood, may ask Economic Stabilizer William H. Davis to suspend the cut in view of a finding by the emergency court of appeals Thursday that even the 80-cent subsidy does not allow the non-processors to break even financially.

The prevailing ceilings of processor packers—those who deal in cattle by-products as well as fresh beef—were held by the court to be generally fair and equitable.

Teacher Placement By State to End July 1

DES MOINES (AP)—The teachers placement bureau of the state employment security commission is to be discontinued, commission officials confirmed yesterday.

They said the bureau, which has about 3,500 teachers on its active job-seeking lists, will be "liquidated in an orderly manner" by July 1.

1945-46 Currier Hall Officers— Kay Keller Elected President

Kay Keller

Kay Keller, J3 of Sioux City, was chosen president of Currier hall at an election held yesterday. Charlotte Fuerst, A3 of Clarinda, will be the new vice-president. Secretary for the 1945-46 school year will be Bette Jo Phelan, A2 of Mason City, and Helen Klahn, J3 of Marshalltown, was elected treasurer.

The new officers will be installed at a council meeting next week and will preside until the end of the semester. They will appoint chairmen of the Currier committees for next year.

Mary Jane Neville, A4 of Emmetsburg, is retiring president of Currier hall, and Polly Mudge, A4 of Slippery Rock, Pa., is retiring vice-president. Other past officers are Joyce Duschl, A4 of Mapleton, secretary, and Kay Keller, J3 of Sioux City, treasurer.

Nominations for the new officers were made last week by senior representatives from each Currier unit in collaboration with senior members of the council.

Nine Congressional Medals of Honor—

By Sid Feder
ON THE ITALIAN FRONT (AP)— Since the 34th division has had more cracks at the Germans than any other outfit, it is only natural that its doughboys should have piled up more individual honors—including nine Congressional Medals of Honor.

Their story stretches from Fondouk in Africa to the mountains before Bologna and behind them is the history of the 34th's 500 days of combat and the entire Mediterranean campaign.

The first went to Pvt. Bob Booker of Calloway, Neb., at Fondouk, just a few weeks after half of the 168th regiment was killed or captured at Faid pass. His mother accepted it for him. The 34th went after important Fondouk gap between the Tunisian mountains in March. Ferocious fire pinned down the attackers for hours. Then the 133rd regiment lunged forward and cleared the hill barrier. Private Booker charged, dug out the enemy from a number of vital positions—and gave his life for the victory.

The 34th came of age at legendary Hill 609 where battalions under Lieut. Col. Bull Swoboda of near Jackson, Minn., and Lieut. Col. Garnet Hall of White Bear Lake, Minn., punched up the rocky goat trail in a six-day struggle. In September it was Salerno and the swift Volturno. Monte Pantano cost the 34th 400 men—and the enemy 1,200. The 168th's first battalion, commanded by Lieut. Col. William Langdon, Los Angeles, won the prized war department citation there. The 168th's second battalion won the same citation for taking Cervaro from the 15th panzer grenadiers in a house to house brawl.

The way to Cassino was open and in January, 1944, the 34th established a bridgehead. By Feb. 3, the 133rd stabbed at Cassino itself but the mountain doorway was solid fire. Pitching grenades, Pte. Leo Powers, Adler, Mont., knocked out four pillboxes, killed five Ger-

Promise of Long International Peace—

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—James M. Cox, who carried the banner for the league of nations in the presidential campaign of 1920, saw today a promise of "long continued and perhaps permanent international peace."

He sounded the cheerful note in one of his extremely rare interviews, granted to The Associated Press because today is his 75th birthday.

The former governor of Ohio will observe the anniversary at a time when United States participation in a postwar international organization is a live issue, just as it was in 1920 when he became the Democratic nominee for president and fought for the league envisioned by Woodrow Wilson.

"A new age opens before us," he declared. "That shouldn't be alarming. Every generation has a new world to face. We confront swifter change than in past time, but we have better means of adjusting ourselves. Man's life has been in age-long struggle to rise to larger stature. Some have succeeded in the adjustment and have gone forward progressively. Others have missed the mark and vanished from the race.

"A constant evolution has been going on. It has taken ages to develop our civilization and there are ages yet to go. All this tells us we must be patient, yet everlastingly at the present pressing task.

"We enter into the strange new day in the midst of widespread grief and desolation, yet with every prospect of new and better things ahead. There is promise of long continued and perhaps permanent international peace. The world has been punished and in a chastened spirit has come to its senses at last.

"We shall have the benefits of scientific achievements. The mysteries of nature are one by one being solved and the material way of life, if we manage well, will be easier and happier. We have won many battles against disease and shall win many more. Because of this we shall be a happier people for health brings happiness. A healthy body moreover promotes that wholesome state of

Creator of Comic Characters—

Ted Drake to Leave for Active Duty

By PAT MOORHEAD
Daily Iowan Staff Writer
The navy has been credited with many unusual accomplishments, but high on its list is the discovery of undeveloped talent in the person of Seaman First Class Ted Drake, who came to the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school three years ago as a storekeeper, and who is leaving this week for active duty as the well-known and much respected creator of the comic characters that sport about on the back page of the station's weekly paper, the Spindrift.

Ted was detached from this base yesterday at 5 o'clock, and is to report to Shoemaker, Calif., for assignment to sea duty.

Before entering the navy, Ted was strictly a "long-hair" artist, going in chiefly for oil paintings and portraiture. His art training consisted only in the usual high school courses—he took every course they had to offer—and some night instruction in fine arts under Prof. Francis Hanely at Notre Dame.

Arriving at the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight base in April, 1942, Storekeeper Drake was assigned to storekeeping. In those days, he explains, men were taken into the station as civilians and had to be completely outfitted the navy way. With a background of years in a clothing store in his home town, Ted was put in charge of clothing issue.

"We issued clothes to the first battalion that came here," he announced.

Always drawing and "doodling" in his spare time, Ted's work was noticed by some of his buddies as pre-flight, who declared, "Now if we only had a station paper, we'd have something to print them in."

"Well, why don't we have a station paper?" others asked, so they secured permission from the skipper and proceeded to inaugurate the Spindrift.

A four-page, mimeographed sheet, the Spindrift was first issued on April 29, 1942, with the announcement that it would be "published spasmodically." An immediate success, however, it became henceforth a weekly proposition, under the direction and guidance of the office of public relations.

Never before interested in cartooning, "long-hair" artist Drake found that cartoons were what was needed by the new paper, and he developed the well-known characters that are seen every week on the back page of the Spindrift.

Best known, of course, is Eddie Cadet, a stubby, bow-legged little fellow with big ears and an endless capacity for getting into trouble. Lately Ted has also been cartooning Little Joe and Blackbottom, the station's mascots, and Captain Washburn's dog Pete, with unanimous public approval.

A natural flair for humor and dexterity with the pen combine to make Seaman Ted Drake's cartoons outstanding. With his brush and quill he has taken Eddie Cadet through the most harrowing experiences to be found in pre-flight training, always with the inevitable hilarious happy ending.

Born in Elkhart, Ind., in 1907, Ted started work for the New York Central railroad as an apprentice iron molder, upon graduation from high school. After six years in that kind of work, he secured a position in a clothing store, where he was employed when he joined the navy in February, 1942. He received his crew training at Great Lakes before being assigned to the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school.

His novel signature, in the forms of a coy little drake, was suggested to him by the late Capt. D. C. Hanrahan, first skipper of the base.

"One day I was walking along when I met the captain," said Drake. "I never dreamed he knew me from Adam, until he boomed, 'Say, Drake!' I thought I must have murdered someone without knowing it, but he just wanted to tell me about having known a man in the navy named Broom, who was an artist. Broom, said the captain, always signed his work with a small sketch of a broom."

"The captain thought my name was perfect for something like that," continued Drake, "and suggested that I use a small sketch of a drake. It seemed kind of corny to me, so I didn't think too much about it until one day later when I was walking past his office and he called me in again.

"He took a pencil and paper and laboriously drew something, then held it up to me and demanded to know what it was. Not having any idea, I ventured, 'A flower?'"

"No," he thundered, "it's a broom!"

"Well, I decided if it meant that much to him I'd better give it a try. So the next time we published I did, and you know, that drake has attracted more attention than the rest of my drawings put together! I've used it ever since."

Always interested in art, Ted feels that the navy gave him a chance to get started in that kind of work. He plans on continuing his cartooning after the war, and it won't be too much of a surprise to those who have seen his work to find the name of Ted Drake in the ranks of such men as Rube Goldberg, Al Capp, and other famous cartoonists.

WORKING UP THE BACK PAGE for the Spindrift, official paper of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school, is Ted Drake, storekeeper first class and one of the originators of this outstanding station paper, way back in the days before the first battalion of navy cadets set its collective foot on the soil of Iowa University. Unschooled in cartooning before reporting to the Iowa pre-flight base, Storekeeper Drake stepped into position as artist for the new paper, and developed his unusual style of caricature which has characterized the paper since then.

to make Seaman Ted Drake's cartoons outstanding. With his brush and quill he has taken Eddie Cadet through the most harrowing experiences to be found in pre-flight training, always with the inevitable hilarious happy ending.

Price of Adhering to Hitler in 1935

SAARBRUECKEN (AP)—The Saarland, one of the richest industrial areas in Germany, is in the throes of what in the middle ages was known as Voelkerwanderung—a migration of peoples.

It's a striking commentary on Hitler's promises made to the Saarlanders ten years ago when he offered peace, jobs and prosperity if they would vote in the league of nations plebiscite to return to the fatherland.

Now one sees throughout the Saarland that same procession of aimless wandering men, women and children that I encountered in Holland, Belgium, France, Yugoslavia, and Greece while following the German army as an American correspondent in 1939, 1940 and 1941.

This time, however, it is defeated Germans who trudge along carrying on the backs, on pushcarts, bicycles or baby buggies what meager belongings they saved from the ruin of their once thriving homeland.

Submarines Sink 11 Enemy Ships In Pacific Waters

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States submarines have sunk 11 more enemy vessels, including a large aircraft carrier, 2 destroyers and 2 escort vessels, in Pacific waters, the navy announced yesterday.

Noncombatant vessels included in the latest toll were three medium cargo vessels, a large tanker, a medium cargo transport, and a small cargo vessel.

The announcement raised to 1,083 the total of Japanese vessels sunk by American submarines to date, including 122 combatant ships and 961 noncombatants.

The latest report brought to four the number of enemy aircraft carriers definitely sunk by submarines as well as two others reported probably sunk.

22 High Schools Vie in Finals for Top Forensic Honors

Luncheon to Climax Tournament Activities

Winners to Receive SUI Scholarships, To Broadcast Today

Excitement runs high in the final contests of the Iowa high school forensic league tournament as the last day opens with students representing 22 high schools vying for top honors in the final rounds of debate, radio speaking and interpretative reading contests being held today.

High spot on today's schedule of events is the forensic luncheon for participants at 12:15 this noon in the Hotel Jefferson at which Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the speech and dramatic art department, will give the main talk. President Virgil M. Hancher will also say a few words to the group. Other special guests for today's luncheon are Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, and Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division at the university and member of the executive committee for the Iowa high school forensic league. Prof. A. Craig Baird, as director of this forensic tournament, will announce results of the various contests at the close of the luncheon.

The program of events for today is as follows:

- 8:00 a. m. Debate, round VII (section 1), house chamber.
- 8:00 a. m. Radio speaking, studio A, station WSUL.
- 8:15 a. m. Poetry reading, room 224 University high school.
- 9:15 a. m. Debate, round VII (section 2), house chamber.
- 10:00 a. m. Prose reading, room 224 University high school.
- 12:15 p. m. Forensic luncheon, Hotel Jefferson.
- 2:00 p. m. Broadcast of radio speakers, station WSUL, studio A.
- 2:00 p. m. Interpretative readings, room 224 University high school.

Finalists in yesterday's extemporaneous speaking contest, David Stanley of Muscatine, Arnold Baron of Central high school in Sioux City, Merle Wratlslaw of West Waterloo high, and Richard Podol, senior from Oskaloosa high school, presented their speeches over WSUL Friday night to determine the two top places. Winner of first place was Richard Podol. David Stanley took second.

High ranking radio speakers from today's contest will present a broadcast at 2 o'clock over WSUL from studio A. Participants receiving high ratings in interpretative reading will present a recital following the announcement of results by Prof. Gladys Lynch, director of interpretative reading contests, in room 224, University high school.

Four-year scholarships to SUI will be awarded to six of the speakers appearing in the championship debates and to the first place winners in extemporaneous speaking and original oratory at the close of the contest today. Lowering of the voting age to 18 years is the question being debated by high school leagues in all states and is the subject of argument for debaters in the final contests being held this weekend.

At the Friday morning conference for the executive council members of the forensic league and visiting coaches from the 22 represented high schools it was decided that Iowa Forensic League favors the proposed subject for the national high school forensic league question to be debated in 1946. The resolution was that every American should have one year's military training before arriving at the age of 24.

High Schools Observe Vocational Month

The month of March, recognized as vocational month by high schools in the United States, was marked by special displays, speeches and vocational conferences in St. Patrick's high school. Included in the schedule was a visit by the senior class members to the Iowa City Commercial college, where they were shown the background and training necessary for business careers. A visitor to the high school was the Johnson county public health nurse, who told about nursing as a career.

The Sodality sponsored an exhibit on the first floor of the high school, showing the pictures of various alumni, now successfully established in businesses and professions.

As a conclusion to the vocational month, the students conducted a retreat led by the Rev. Leahy of Davenport, who talked on vocations of religion and marriage.

Total damage in the San Francisco fire of 1906 amounted to approximately $500,000,000.

AS SEVENTH ARMY MOVES UP TO CROSS RHINE

CROSSING THE RHINE and solidifying a bridgehead north of the Mannheim area, the U. S. Seventh Army joins six other great Allied Armies in the push through the Reich's "heart" from the east bank of the great river. Infantrymen are shown at the top scrambling up the east bank from their assault boats with a smoke screen to partially obscure their maneuver. At the bottom, medics of Lt. Gen. Alexander Patch's Seventh, quickly follow the foot soldiers, while an engineer holds the boat. These are official United States Army Signal Corps radiophotos.

Dormitory—East Hall

BY ALLENE GLEASON Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Left to dust and desolation after the A. S. T. P. mass evacuation last spring, a section of East hall formerly occupied by the army is in use—as a temporary dormitory for some 15 to 20 high school boys taking part in the Iowa high school forensic meet which concludes today.

Interviewed Thursday just before part of the group left to participate in their first debate, the boys seemed cool and well-prepared for the coming contests. Several of them have been in Iowa City before; two from Burlington and one from Ottumwa took part in last year's tournament. A lively chat with them covered such significant topics as the view of East-lawn from their corridor window, the merits of Burlington (six of the students are from there), Bob Ray's magnetic personality, and the kind soul who Wednesday morning left the elevator which takes them to their fifth floor quarters on fourth floor with the door open, thus forcing them to gain entrance to their rooms via the fire escape.

Jean Molis Wins Tourney

Jean Molis, A3 of Muscatine is winner of the intramural bowling tournament which was completed this week. Charlotte Ferris, A3 of Syracuse, N. Y., placed second and Eleanor Kolar, A1 of Cedar Rapids, third.

Each entry in the tournament was entered in one of three leagues according to her practice scores. After each girl bowled at least six lines her scores were averaged and the top three in each league bowled in the finals.

In the finals, those in the lower league were given a handicap of 50 pins and those in the second league were given ten pins.

Each housing unit received five points for each contestant entered and 50 points were awarded the winner, 35 points for second place and 20 for third place.

The total points which each house received are: Alpha Chi Omega, 40; Alpha Delta Pi, 15; Chi Omega, 25; Delta Delta Delta, 105; Currier I, 50; Currier IV, 10; Commons, 20; Gamma Phi Beta, 85; McChesney, 10; Pi Beta Phi, 10; Delta Gamma, 35; Sigma Delta Tau, 10; Zeta Tau Alpha, 5, and Howard house, 5.

Seven SUI Graduates, Former Students Announce Recent Engagements, Marriages

Word has been received of the recent engagements and marriages of seven graduates and former students of the University of Iowa.

Ahlhirsch-Tone

In a single ring ceremony, Gretchen Ahlhirsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ahlhirsch of Decorah, became the bride of Lieut. Philip W. Tone, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tone of Park Ridge, Ill., March 10. The Rev. Alfred H. Bartter read the vows of the ceremony in the Congregational church in Decorah.

Mrs. Tone was graduated from the University of Iowa where she was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternities. Recently she had been employed as a private secretary for the Youngstown Steel company in Chicago.

Lieutenant Tone

Lieutenant Tone, a graduate of the University of Iowa, was a student in the college of law at the time of his induction into the army in May, 1943. He was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He recently returned from serving with the First Army in Germany and is now stationed at Schick General hospital in Clinton.

Upton-Doty

The First Presbyterian church in Jefferson was the setting for the wedding of Marjorie Upton of Washington, D. C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Upton of Jefferson, to Robert L. Doty, chief fire controlman of the navy in Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Doty of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of Missouri Valley. The Rev. E. L. Marousek officiated in the single ring service.

A graduate of Jefferson high school, the bride attended Iowa State college in Ames for three years before going to Washington to accept a position with the navy department.

The bridegroom attended high school in Missouri Valley and served in the navy for several years before attending the University of Iowa. At the beginning of the war, he again entered the navy, being assigned to the southwest Pacific. Recently he has been stationed in Washington where he is a navy instructor in fire control.

Lumbard-Thompson

In an informal ceremony March 20 in the Plymouth Congregational church in Des Moines, Frances Lumbard of Chicago became the bride of Ens. Alex W. Thompson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex W. Thompson of Des Moines. The Rev. Frederick M. Meek officiated at the single ring service.

The bride was graduated from Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., and the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. For the past two years she has been employed by Harris Trust and Savings bank in Chicago.

Ensign Thompson was graduated from Iowa State college in Ames, where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He has been serving with the navy for the past year and is now in amphibious training in Chicago, where the couple will reside.

Hayden-Barber

Announcement has been made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Frances Louise Hayden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milford W. Hayden of Grant Park, Ill., to Robert B. Barber of Chicago. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Hayden was graduated from Roosevelt high school in East Chicago, Ind., and attended Chicago Business college, University of Chicago and the Goodman theater school. She was graduated in June, 1944, from the Methodist hospital in Gary, Ind., and took additional training in pediatrics at the Children's hospital in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Barber is a graduate of Davenport high school and attended the University of Iowa. For the past three years he has been associated with the Marathon Electric Manufacturing corporation in St. Louis and Chicago.

Bergheim-Tow

In a double ring ceremony March 11, Sylvia Bergheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Bergheim of Howard, S. D., became the bride of Howard E. Tow, son of Mrs. Edgar Firkins of Fairfax. The Rev. J. W. Carlson officiated at the ceremony at Our Savior Lutheran church in Los Angeles.

The bride was graduated from Howard high school and attended Madison Normal college at Madison, S. D. She has been employed at the Puget Sound navy yard in Bremerton, Wash.

Mr. Tow, a graduate of Washington high school, attended the University of Iowa where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. Before entering the service he was employed by Wilson and company. After serving two years in the navy, he received a medical discharge. The couple will reside in Cedar Rapids.

Stevens-Esley

Before an altar decorated with bouquets of white flowers, Elizabeth Stevens, daughter of Mrs. John Edson Stevens of Muscatine, became the bride of Capt. Elbert Scobey Esley, army air corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert H. Esley of West Union. The Rev. Stanley M. Fullworth officiated at the ceremony in the Trinity Episcopal church in Muscatine March 13.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Iowa where she was affiliated with Delta Delta Delta

Coeds Feature—

Suits, Coats, Toppers

—In Easter Parade

Chic and colorful spring styles will be in abundant evidence tomorrow when Iowa's coeds don their smart new ensembles and join the Easter parade. Saucy little hats of felt and straw set off softly tailored suits, costume coats or short toppers, and the riotous selection of colors are enough to make any woman's heart sing.

Joining the Easter paraders tomorrow in a two-piece grey wool gabardine outfit will be Ruth Healy, G of Muscatine. Classic in style because of its simple, perfect lines is the collarless, short sleeve dress. Designed with a button opening in the front, the dress boasts two slit pockets at the yoke-line, has a small matching belt which buckles in front, and the skirt derives its fullness from two kick pleats in front and in back. The distinctive feature of the ensemble is the three-quarter length belted coat. With only one button at the neckline, the coat is fashioned with two patch and two flap pockets and has a large pleat the entire length of the back. For her accessories, Ruth has chosen a grey pillbox hat decorated with black ribbon streamers, and black gloves, purse and shoes.

A superbly tailored dusky blue brushed wool suit is the Easter selection of Jean Reid, A2 of Newton. The smooth jacket with rounded lapels has two flap pockets and three blue ornamental buttons in the front. The plain skirt is designed with one kick pleat in front and back. With her suit, Jean will wear a white round-neck blouse and her accessories, which include a wide-brimmed felt hat with a veil, suede and alligator wedges, gloves and purse, are in navy blue.

A heavenly-to-wear suit, softly tailored in slate-blue wool is the Sunday-of-Sunday's choice of Donna Tjebben, C4 of Creston.

The straight tailored skirt has two slit pockets and one pleat in front. Trim and feminine lines are the distinguishing features of the three-quarter length top. A set-in belt which buckles in front provides for snug fitting at the waistline, and tiny gathers at the belt give the coat a slight fullness. Two illusion pockets adorn the yoke-line, but two real side pockets are added for convenience. The only button is at the neckline, while the cuffed sleeves and a pleat in the back are other features of the coat. With her suit, Donna adds a luscious melon pink sailor hat of felt trimmed with a melon pink studded black ribbon and black veil. Her only accessories are black.

Cocoa brown is the color preference of Helen Kokinaks, A1 of Boone, for her new spring suit of calvert cloth. The skirt is designed with one pleat in front and back while the jacket is fashioned with two imitation pockets at the yoke line and two flap pockets, all of which are decorated with brown covered buttons. A white round-neck blouse will be worn with the suit. For her accessories, Helen has selected a jaunty be-ribboned white straw sailor hat, white gloves and brown purse and shoes.

Leading the fashion parade tomorrow in a red wool gabardine suit topped with a grey gabardine box style coat will be Eleanor Mitter, A4 of Cedar Rapids. Softly tailored, the suit skirt is designed with box pleats in front and in back, and the outstanding features of the jacket are the four smooth slit pockets and four covered buttons in the front. Black saddle-stitching adorns the collar and lapels and extends down the front of the coat. Eleanor will add a grey Breton beret with a black veil, and black shoes, purse and gloves will complete her Easter ensemble.

Good Government—

Women Voters

With the arrival of national suffrage for women in 1920, came the organization of the local chapter of the League of Women Voters. Developing into what is now one of Iowa City's influential private organizations, the league was originally composed of nine members whose aim was to form a non-partisan organization to help secure and maintain good government in local, state, national and international spheres.

During its 26 years of organization, the League's membership has expanded from 10 to 124, and it plays a prominent role in nearly all political functions of the city. Especially notable have been its efforts to bring the candidates to the people, and the sponsorship of neighborhood meetings, open to members and non-members alike, for the purpose of discussing national current issues.

Of the 10 charter members, six are still active in league affairs. They are Mrs. F. A. Stromsten, Ruth Gallaher, Mrs. C. Van Epps, Mrs. Jacob Van der Zee, Mrs. Carl Seashore, and Clara Daley. Other charter members were Dr. Zelda White Stewart, Mrs. Stephen Swisher, Mrs. Mabel Volland and Mrs. Max Mayer.

Other phases of the league's work are related to the social welfare needs of Johnson county, including relief, housing, health, recreation, juvenile delinquency and social security measures. Radio broadcasts the fourth Thursday of each month are sponsored as well as "Get-Out-The-Vote" campaigns preceding each election.

A general meeting is held by the league the second Monday of the month and at this time a speaker presents various arguments on some issue of current interest. Officers for 1945-1946, who were nominated at the March meeting included Ethyl Martin, president; Mrs. R. H. Ojemann, first vice-president; Mrs. Chester Clark, second vice-president; Mrs. Jessie Gordon, third vice-president; Mrs. R. R. Sears, secretary, and Mrs. Forrest Allen, treasurer.

Issue Licenses to Wed

Donald L. Burnell, 25, and Mae Beitz, 19, both of Cedar Rapids, and David J. Cawley, 21, and Patricia M. Butler, 21, both of Battle Ground, Wash., were issued marriage licenses by the clerk of district court yesterday.

Since her graduation she has been employed as a secretary at the navy Pre-Flight school in Iowa City.

Captain Estey is a graduate of the college of law of the University of Iowa and was affiliated with Delta Epsilon social fraternity and Delta Theta Phi legal fraternity. For the past 25 months he has been stationed in the Aleutian islands with the army air corps.

Winkenwerder-Wickes

In a candlelight ceremony March 14, Mary Dale Winkenwerder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Winkenwerder of Asheville, N. C., became the bride of Staff Sgt. Robert Richmond Wickes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Wickes of Des Moines and Logan, Utah. The Rev. George F. Rogers officiated at the service in the Trinity Episcopal church in Asheville.

The bride is a graduate of Waycross high school in Waycross, Ga., and attended Stetson university in DeLand, Fla., where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Before her marriage she was employed with the army air force in Asheville.

Four to Get Service Keys At Concert

Between numbers of the spring concert program to be presented by the University band Wednesday, April 4, service awards will be presented to four members of that organization.

The Band Service award is in the form of a gold key featuring a design of the Old Capitol dome. The granting of these awards is made possible by the Alumni "I" club in recognition of the band's contribution to the athletic program.

Awards will be presented to the following members who will complete three years' service in the band at the conclusion of this semester: Dorothea Jane Becker, A4 of Sheridan, Wyo.; Royal H. Burkhardt, E2 of Montezuma; John L. Fatland, A3 of Colfax and Owen M. Peterson, A3 of Parker, S. Dak.

The concert program will feature works by Borodine, Debussy, Boccherini, Bach, Gounod, Delibes and Romberg.

Free tickets are available at the main desk in Iowa Union, Whetstone's and room 15, music studio building.

Iowa Law Review Discusses—

Legal Education

Featured in the March issue of the Iowa Law Review which has recently been published, is a symposium on legal education after the war which is introduced with a foreword by Arthur T. Vanderbilt, former president of the American Bar association and dean and professor of law at New York university since 1943.

A former teacher in the college of law at the University of Iowa, Jerre S. Williams contributed "Introducing the beginning student to the law." Williams, who is a first lieutenant in the air corps, and a staff assistant in the judge advocate's office since 1943, suggests that a well planned and well integrated pre-law course added to undergraduate curriculum would have as practical aims:

1. More adequate preparation for undergraduate pre-law students for the law school training which they face.
2. Discussion of students who are not fitted for law work.
3. Aiding those fitted for law work who are still hesitant about entering the field.
4. Teaching the social science student who is not planning to be a lawyer the vital part that our law plays as a social science in the lives of all of us.

"Experience of Other Countries for Our Use in Building Legal Education After the War" was the topic of Heinrich Kronstein who is a German refugee. He is a professor of law at Georgetown university and a special attorney for the United States department of justice.

Legal Education for the Needs of the Country After the War

was written by George K. Gardner, professor of law at Harvard university. He suggests that "this is not a time for trying to put the law in a strait-jacket. . . . It is a time for encouraging all . . ."

the intellectual energy that can be found."

Other articles which are included in the symposium are "The Dilemmas of Legal Teaching," by Max Radin, professor of law at the University of California; "A Course in Judicial Administration," by Maynard E. Pirsig, professor of law at the University of Minnesota; "Education for Legal Craftsmanship," by Max Rhein-stein, professor of comparative law at the University of Chicago, and "Toward a Liberal Legal Education," by Jerome Hall, professor of law at Indiana university.

Student contributors to the March issue are A. F. R. Lawrence, James L. Martin, L3 of What Cheer; John E. Nagle, L3 of Davenport; Eugene F. Scoles, L3 of Iowa City, and W. H. Van Duzer, L3 of Casey. Scoles is notes and legislation editor of the review, while the other three men compose the board of editors.

Of current interest is the article on guest and secondary liabilities in private aviation which composes the section on notes and legislation.

2 Charged With Illegal Possession of Liquor, Gambling Devices

Charges of illegal possession of intoxicating liquors and gambling devices have been filed against Frank Holland of North Liberty by County Attorney Jack C. White. Mrs. Anna Shannon, also of North Liberty, has been charged with illegal possession of gambling devices.

The charges were filed after raids on the Light House Inn and Shannon's tavern by state agents of the bureau of investigation, March 2.

Clem Crowe Arrives in Town To Start Practice Next Week

Coach to Stay This Summer

New Mentor Plans Immediate Activity; Seeks Material

By BOB KRAUSE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Amid a thin rain of rumors to the possible effect that next season may see quite an influx of football talent at the University of Iowa, Clem Crowe, the Hawkeye gridiron mentor for the 1945 campaign, arrived in Iowa City late yesterday afternoon on the Rocket from Chicago.

A small but interested welcoming group heard the former Notre Dame basketball and football line coach state that he knew nothing whatsoever about the possibilities or capabilities of any present or future players who may be in action next fall.

Makes Up
But Crowe made up for the lack of information with a statement which made the listener feel that next season's Hawkeyes would be worthy of the title "football team." The stockily-built, 41-year-old former Fighting Irish athlete spoke with emphasis: "We're going to start today on plans for next fall. We're definitely going to have a football team. I'm going to start right now on the business of seeing who will be my assistants."

Crowe said that he will be here all summer, but that his family will probably stay in South Bend, Ind., at least until the close of the current school semester. The family, besides Crowe's wife, includes nine children. One son is now in service. The new coach said with a smile that he didn't know where he was going to find a house large enough for all.

Pleasant Note
A pleasant note was injected into the conversation when the newly-signed mentor stated that he intended to start spring football practice as soon as possible, probably early next week.

"That's looks like an awfully tough schedule we have," remarked Crowe with a grin. "Maybe we ought to cancel about half of those games. If you happen to hear of a good passer or a plunging fullback you might let me know." The interviewers professed ignorance of such knowledge.

Crowe's new contract goes into effect tomorrow on a 12-month basis. The agreement, recently approved by the state board of education, runs for two years. Crowe replaces Edward (Slip) Madigan as Hawk grid mentor.

Ohio State Leads In NCAA Meet

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Ohio State university surged to a seven-point lead in the opening session of the 22nd National Collegiate Athletic association swimming meet last night with a total of 30 points at the end of six events.

The Buckeyes scored first in two events—with freshman Seymour Schlanger copping the 1500-meter race and Robert Billingsley winning one-meter diving—to round the half way mark ahead of Michigan's favored Wolverines, who piled up 23 points.

Cornell had 11 points for third, followed by Columbia whose Gene Rogers successfully defended his 220-yard free style title, with 10; Minnesota with nine; Princeton with six; Indiana, Michigan State and Northwestern with four apiece; Purdue with three; Canisius with two and Iowa with one.

Michigan's strong combination won the closing 300-yard medley relay race by a scant margin over Cornell's trio in 3:05.4.

As expected, Ohio State scored heavily in the diving as the Buckeyes picked up 12 points on Billingsley's first and a second by Ted Christakos and a fourth by Bob Stone. Billingsley copped the low meter event with a total of 853.4 points.

Mert Church of Michigan churned to an easy victory in the 50 free style.

The Wolverines picked up 10 points in the sprint event as Gordon Pulford finished third behind Rogers and Bill Breen was fifth behind Ray Grode of Ohio State. Church's time was 23.3 seconds, considerably slower than the meet record.

THAT FRIENDLY SMILE seen in the foreground above belongs to the University of Iowa's football coach for the coming season. ## This Afternoon— Valley Track

Iowa City's Little Hawk track team will compete in the 15th annual Mississippi Valley conference meet this afternoon in the field-house at 1:15.

With the eight conference schools competing, as well as East and West Waterloo, Clinton and Davenport have been named as favorites in the meet, while the Red and White representatives are expected to finish somewhere around the half way mark.

Not Enough
While the balance of the Hawklet team is not strong enough to hope for a first or second place in the title battle, the Little Hawks have special strength in the pole vault, the half mile race, and the mile medley event.

Chief point-getter for the Hawklets thus far in the season has been City high's leading trackman, Tug Wilson, who captured two firsts against Davenport and three in the team's victory over Wilson of Cedar Rapids earlier this week.

Good Vault
Tug's specialty is the pole vault while he is also outstanding in the 60-yard high hurdles and the high and broad jump divisions.

Also counted on for points is Tug's brother, Chug, who competes in the same events, while Harold Eakes and Tom Miller are other Hawklets who have done well in previous meets.

First, Second
Both against Davenport and Wilson, Eakes and Miller finished first and second respectively in the half-mile run and were strong in the mile relay competition.

Teams entered in the annual indoor meet are: Iowa City, Clinton, Davenport, Dubuque, Wilson, Franklin, Roosevelt, McKinley, (the last four of Cedar Rapids), West Waterloo, and East Waterloo.

Durocher Warned 'Be Good'

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y. (AP)—Leo Durocher must be a full time manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Dixie Walker, last year's National league batting champion, has signed a contract, President Branch Rickey said yesterday.

After a two-minute conference with Durocher, Rickey told reporters that "Leo's baseball job must come first. Other interests must be incidental or else..."

The ultimatum came after Durocher left camp Thursday night to rehearse a radio program, slated for the air tomorrow night. Rickey became irked when he called for the manager to participate

Rivermen Hosts Tonight For Meet

The University high Blue Hawk track team will play host tonight at the Iowa fieldhouse to five other members of the Eastern Iowa conference at the 12th annual conference track meet. The events will start at 7:30 p. m.

The defending champions, Mt. Vernon, will return to the scene of their victory last year with a squad which includes nine veterans, and should present a strong aggregation. But they will be strongly challenged by Dr. F. M. Carpenter's Blue Hawks, who will feature Eric Wilson Jr. The team placing third last year behind Mt. Vernon and U-high—West Branch—will also return tonight to try again.

18 Entered
Dr. Carpenter has entered 18 men in the 12 events to be run off, the maximum entry allowed each school in any one event being two men. Only one relay team from each squad may be entered in the two relay events.

Wilson will be the busiest man on the Blue Hawk team, since he will run the 50-yard dash, the 440-yard dash, the anchor leg of the mile relay, and will participate in the broad jump, in which he recently passed the 20-foot mark in practice.

Navy Officials
Officials for the meet will be representatives of the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight school.

The Rivermen's entries in the Eastern Iowa conference meet are as follows:
50-yard dash—Wilson and Hartsock.
440-yard dash—Wilson and Harper.
Half-mile run—Murray and Terrell.
Mile run—Harney and Helm.
60-yard high hurdles—Myers and Sayre.
60-yard low hurdles—Morris and Myers.
High jump—Yoder and Carlstrom.
Pole vault—Carlstrom and Martin.
Broad jump—Wilson and Hartsock.
Shot put—McDonald and Morris.

Half-mile relay—Follett, Spevacek, Hartsock and Easton.
Mile relay—Morris, Nusser, Harper and Wilson.

in what he termed an important conference.

"The whole thing is a tempest in a teapot," Durocher said, "I just happened to be away when Mr. Rickey wanted me."

Rickey said Durocher would be permitted to go through with his Sunday night broadcast but gave the inference that the manager would be periling his baseball future by future outside activities.

After Willie said "good-bye" to the navy he picked up where he left off as world's champion, boxing rings around the best featherweights promoters could dig up.

Whitney's Letter— Dear Joe

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Sergt. Joe Smith, Somewhere, U. S. Army, Dear Joe:

Well, Joe, at the rate you are going this will meet you on the way back, I guess, for you certainly seem intent on getting things over with in a hurry. Every time I read about General Patton's tanks I think of you. Because they have a punch to back up their noise, of course, in case you're thinking of that beer drinking contest you won. And not by default, either.

Anyway, things are perking up on the sports front back here. I suppose you heard about baseball players being given permission to leave other jobs and return to the game if baseball was their regular business. Don't know yet just how much it will help, but it's encouraging anyway.

Well Started
The major teams are well started on their spring training, and have had some pretty nice weather, although the Cardinal training field leaked a little. If they could have used it the fielders would have had to use sounding devices to detect anyone stealing bases. Anyway, the team has been dehydrated and shipped back to St. Louis.

Forty-four players took part in a Dodger-Montreal exhibition the other day, in case you're wondering about the manpower situation. I'm not saying how good they are; but the fact the service teams have been knocking off the major league clubs pretty regularly might give an idea. Anyway, it will be baseball.

Finally Wins
Gunder Haegg finally won a foot race the other night, in Cleveland. The time was around 4:16, but some who saw him think he's ready to go and is good for 4:10 or better now. He left immediately for his next meet in Buffalo, going by way of California, and I don't know what shape he'll be in as you can't very well get out and trot alongside an airplane to keep the knots out of your legs.

The basketball season is in its death throes, and the pro golfers are heading north, with Sammy Snead and Byron Nelson still pocketing the golden eggs. Each has won six tournaments now. I don't know what the other guys on the tour are living on. The birdies they shoot, maybe.

Packing Them In
Mike Jacobs still is packing them in for the Garden fights. Melio Bettina and Jimmy Bivins fought a draw and Tami Mauriello out-pointed Lee Oma, who had been doing pretty well in previous fights here with his nonchalant style. This week it's Lou Nova—remember him?—and Joe Baksi.

Well, Joe, that's about all now. I couldn't pick the winners of the major league races right now if they'd let me pick all the names out of a hat, and I don't believe anyone else could, either. I wouldn't even go out on a limb for the Cardinals. As for your Dodgers, Leo Durocher is playing second base, and they weren't so bad last year that he had to get out and play, and you know how they were last year.

Keep punching, Joe and I'll see you at the World Series.
Your Pal—Whitney.

Willie Pep Gets Discharge

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Skinny, spindle-shanked Willie Pep, who is in a class by himself as a featherweight boxer, yesterday entered a fairly exclusive class of World War II veterans.

Pep, who signs his checks "William Papaleo," received a medical discharge from the army, authorities at Fort Devens, Mass., announced yesterday. He left the navy the same way in February, 1944, after seven months of service.

Willie is the only big name sport figure, and one of a few individuals, who holds a discharge from two branches of the armed forces in the same war.

After Willie said "good-bye" to the navy he picked up where he left off as world's champion, boxing rings around the best featherweights promoters could dig up.

Fort Devens simply said Pep entered the hospital there March 20 and would be released to go home in a few days. Pep's manager, Lou Viscusi, said it was no surprise to him, however.

Pep has won 86 of his 87 fights—losing only to Sammy Angott.

Maybe So

A PLEASANT FELLOW NAMED CROWE: . . . As far as we're concerned Clem Crowe's first interview with a very small group of Iowa City's fourth estate went off very well . . . travel being what it is at present the wrong time to ask a football coach what his plans are for the next year arrives when he gets off a train after a long trip . . . those present avoided such questions . . . a remarkable achievement in itself . . .

Mr. Crowe is a stocky, solid man who did his footballing for Notre Dame back in the middle 20's . . . the neutral observer is impressed with the fact that Mr. Crowe still appears perfectly capable of handling himself . . . he is possessed of a straightforward manner and a slow smile . . . he seems to exude a sort smooth-running stream of confidence . . . Mr. Crowe might easily cause one to remark: "Jeez, I'm glad he's on our side . . ."

The new mentor himself asked a goodly number of questions during the interview . . . he inquired as to whether or not the scribes knew where he could get ahold of a passer or a good fullback . . . none of the gentlemen of the press seemed to know where these quantities could be had . . . So, in true brotherly spirit, we proceeded to offer up each other as the grid star of the age; we would be glad to play for Iowa . . . Mr. Crowe accepted us, too . . . But he hadn't seen us with our shirts off . . . the draft boards had . . .

All in all the meeting was very satisfactory . . . Crowe announced with a degree of determination that he was all ready to begin planning for next fall . . . he will begin choosing his assistants shortly . . . The only thing worrying him seemed to be the problem of where he is going to find a house to hold ten people . . . Good luck, Mr. Crowe, and welcome . . .

Haegg in Last Mile Of American Tour Tonight at Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Gunder Haegg the speedy Swede, is scheduled to make his farewell appearance of his 1945 American track tour in Buffalo tonight, but sponsoring officials are wondering whether "Gunder the Wonder" will make it.

Haegg, who has been visiting his fiancée, Dorothy Norrier on the West Coast, climbed aboard an airliner in California late yesterday and is expected to arrive here at 4:52 p. m. today—just a few minutes more than five hours before his appearance on the track.

He was "bumped" from passenger lists Wednesday and Thursday by persons with higher priority.

Officials of the Niagara association AAU and the 74th regiment Armory A. A. agree that Gunder will certainly have to be swift to arrive in time for the invitational mile scheduled for 9 p. m. (CWT). Jimmy Rafferty of the New York Athletic club, thrice Gunder's conqueror will attempt to lower the 4:12 74th Armory mile mark set by Paavo Nurmi in 1920.

Haegg's best time in his four American appearances was recorded in Chicago when he was clocked in 4:14.5. Rafferty's fastest time this season is 4:13.1.

The special mile features a track and field carnival that includes the National Senior AAU Women's Indoor Championships, first held since 1941, and 70 and 100-yard invitational high hurdle races in which Haegg's countryman, Haakon Lidman, will compete.

Thirty-four girls have entered the eight-event women's championships.

WILLIE THE GREAT

Coast Loop Starts Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Battered by the recent War Manpower commission's ruling releasing players from essential jobs, the Pacific Coast league swings into action today in its 43rd season, its fourth under war time conditions, with the prospects of playing before the largest total attendance in its history.

No Competition
With no competition from horse racing, chief rival for the Saturday crowds, the coast Class AA baseball loop expects the fans to come trooping through the turnstiles throughout the season. Last year's tremendous overall turnout, 2,343,286—only the 1924 attendance exceeded it—surprised even the most optimistic directors of the league. With a government nod of approval this year to back them up, they look for bigger and better gate receipts.

Concededly not up to the peace time variety, the brand of ball to be dished up this season, nevertheless, should be not too far away from Double "A" class. Some of the big league clubs have fulfilled commitments by shipping out players from the International league and others will be on the way before long.

Two Weeks More
The league's schedule has been extended two weeks, opening a week earlier and closing a week later, September 17.

Los Angeles won the 1944 pennant, its second in a row, and figures to be in a race for the flag this season with the veteran-manned Seattle club.

Penna Leads Durham Open

Fires Par-Shattering 68 To Edge Dodson's 69; Snead, Nelson Get 71's

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Toney Penna, diminutive professional from Dayton, Ohio, took the lead in the first round of the $6,866 (war bond) Durham Open Golf tournament yesterday, firing a 68 over the sun-baked Hope Valley Country Club course.

The gay little man in the yellow beret recorded 34-34, one under par for each nine of the 6,670-yard layout. He had three birdies, with putts of six and 10 feet on No. 6 and 11, and by chipping close on the par-five 15th, and only one bogey, on No. 10, where he over-shot the green. He had a ball out of bounds on the third hole but still got his par four.

One shot back of the wisecracking Penna came another of golf's lesser-known shotmakers, Leonard Dodson of San Francisco. Dodson fired a 35-34.

Bracketed at even par 70 were defending champion Craig Wood, Sam Byrd of Detroit, wee Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, Va., and Gene Kunes of Hollywood, Fla.

Wood, the duration National Open champion, had steady nines of 35-35.

Hope Valley's par defied the rest of the field, including all the big name players.

Six players were deadlocked at 71, including the two pre-tournament favorites, Byron Nelson and Sammy Snead.

Others with 71's were Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., Mike Turnesa, of Elmford, N. Y., Ed Furgol, the ace amateur who now is registering from Utica, N. Y., and Joe Zarhardt, of Norristown, Pa.

Sergeant Lowe To Describe Nazi Prisons

"I'd do anything for the American Red Cross after seeing what they have done for prisoners of war in Germany," claims Staff Sgt. Winston Lowe, a 1942 graduate of the University of Iowa.

And he is doing just that. One of the many Red Cross jobs he has scheduled for his 30 day leave at home in Cedar Rapids is to tell Iowa Citizens of treatment of prisoners of war. He'll speak Tuesday, April 3, at 8 p. m. in the junior high school auditorium, 121 N. Johnson street.

Since his arrival home last week after two years of confinement in Germany, Sergeant Lowe has answered more than a thousand letters from families of prisoners of war in Germany.

The Cedar Rapids Gazette has loaned him two secretaries to assist in answering the many inquiries. Using a Lynn county Red Cross station wagon, Sergeant Lowe has been traveling throughout this area calling on parents of prisoners who have asked specifically for some small bit of information about the treatment of their sons.

Letters announcing his Tuesday night talk have been mailed by the Johnson county Red Cross to all of the 25 families of prisoners in this vicinity.

Busy fulfilling many errands and requests from men interned overseas Sergeant Lowe has declined to talk to service clubs and luncheon meetings unless they are held in the interests of the Red Cross. For this reason, his Tuesday night talk will be the only opportunity for interested persons to hear his story.

At their final regular meeting last night, the city council passed an ordinance raising the salary of councilmen to $180 a year. The present councilmen received $10 a month for their services to the city; the new council members who take office April 2 will be paid $15 a month.

Salary Raise Voted For City Councilmen

The council granted a request for a light in the dark alley north of St. Mary's school. The petition was presented by R. J. Phillips, superintendent of maintenance and operation of the physical plant of the university.

In his petition Phillips stated that complaints had been received from women students who had been molested by men who lurked in the dark alley.

Easter Brings—Bunnies, Cathedrals, Lilies

By Helen Klahn
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Bringing new hope and joy to everyone this Easter season are the greeting cards in familiar religious and floral designs and typical Easter bunny patterns.

This year the cards literally "blossomed out" in the store windows, for almost all were decorated with pastel colors of spring flowers. Because of the war department's reminder to get cards off to the men overseas before March 1, they appeared especially early this year.

The conveying of greetings, which dates back practically to the beginning of time, has found its expression in modern times in the cards now available for almost any occasion. The first Easter greetings, which were exchanged long before the arrival of Christianity, were not made of paper or parchment but rather were eggs dyed every color of the rainbow by boiling with herbs.

Sometimes the name of the person receiving the greeting was marked on the shell and sent to him during the springtime festival. This festival was in honor of the Anglo-Saxon pagan goddess of light or spring, Eostre, for whom Easter was named, and was celebrated in April.

In the far east thousands of years ago, the Persians exchanged eggs at their "New Year's" spring festival which by the old calendar coincided with the Easter festival. "To these people, the egg was the symbol of birth, resurrection or creation, perhaps the re-creation of spring."

In modern times, many of these old customs have been forgotten, but their symbols, the Easter lily, whiteness for purity, the bunny rabbit, and the colored Easter eggs remain and are used as designs for Easter cards.

Love, Hope
"Easter sentiments this year are a blending of love and hope sometimes expressed in a prayer and sometimes in a verse that recalls past Easters spent together and promises future Easters that will see families and friends reunited in peace."

The longest ecclesiastical word in the English vocabulary is Antidisestablishmentarianism.

POPE BLESSES ALLIED SOLDIERS

Two numbers from Handel's "Messiah" will be sung at the Methodist church. Jean McFadden, A4 of Oskaloosa, will sing, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and the choir will present, "The Hallelujah Chorus."

A choir composed of high school girls will sing "Regina Coeli" (selected) at the offertory of St. Patrick's church at six o'clock high mass. For the low mass at 8:30, school girls from the 6th, 7th and 8th grades will sing "Christ Is Risen," "Domini Non Sum Dignus," and "Regina Coeli."

Ruth Healy
At the Baptist church Ruth Healy, contralto, will sing "Blessed Is He Who Cometh" (Gounod), and Martha Kool, soprano, will sing, "The Cross" (Ware).

The junior and senior choirs of the Trinity Episcopal church will sing the Merbecke communion service at 8 o'clock. An anthem, "The Strife Is O'er" (Vullius), will be presented at the 10:45 worship service.

R. M. Taylor will sing the tenor solo in the anthem, "As It Began to Dawn" (Martin), at the Congregational church. The brass ensemble assisting the choir will be composed of Dorothy Jane Becker, Arline Balster, Marion Ferguson, Joan Mumpka, Ruth Ostrander, Mary Jane McCrea and Robert Hutchinson.

The Christian church choir will sing three Easter anthems—"Benedictus" (Gounod), "They Have Taken Away My Lord" (Stainer) and "As It Began to Dawn" (Foster).

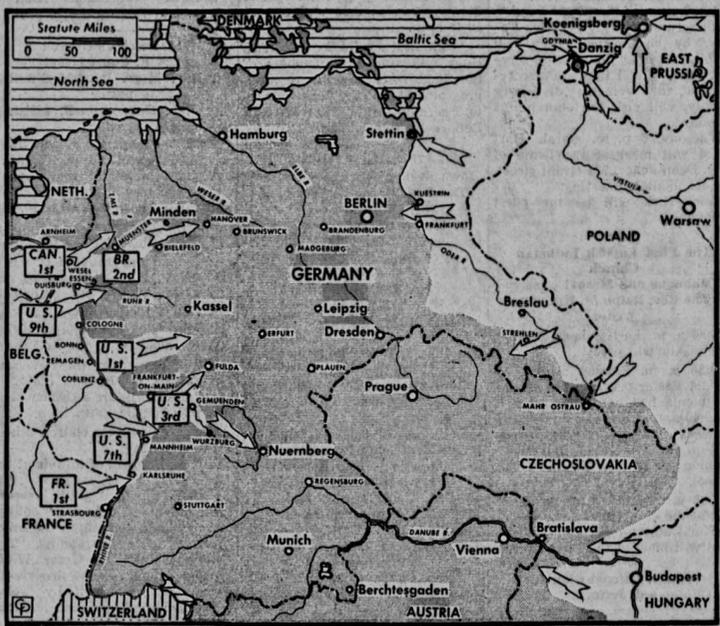

At St. Wenceslaus church, "Mass of the Holy Angels" (Marsh), will be sung at the 6:30 solemn high mass. The offertory anthem will be the traditional Easter hymn, "Regina Coeli" (Wiegand), and the recessional will be "Haec Dies" (Wiegand).

Melba Sands
The offertory solo at the Zion Lutheran church will be "In My Father's House Are Many Mansions" (Ward-Stephens), sung by Melba Sands.

Patricia Miller, A4 of Iowa City, will sing "Hosanna" (Granler) at the Presbyterian church. Among the choir's anthems is "O Savior of the World" (Goss).

At St. Mary's church the girls' choir will sing at 9:15 low mass, and the boys' choir will sing at the 10:15 low mass. Included in the music for the solemn high mass at 7:30 are "Alleluia" (Marsh), the processional, and the recessional, "Regina Coeli" (Wiegand).

custom, the idea has served as the basis for Easter card illustrations for many years.

Cross, Lily
The cherished cross and the graceful Easter lily, conveying the truly religious meaning of Easter, constitute the most impressive and meaningful cards. The cross symbolizes the significance of Christianity as well as the solemnity of the crucifixion and the joy of the resurrection. Historians say that the lily was the yardstick by which the date of Easter was determined by the Council of Nice in 325 A. D., because the Easter lily blooms in Egypt during the period of the spring equinox which was the time of the resurrection.

The Easter card along with the greeting cards of all other special occasions has come down through the ages as the modern way to send greetings of happiness and best wishes to friends and loved ones.

Local Marine Colonel, Ralph L. Houser, Awarded Navy Cross for Heroism at Guam

LIEUT. COL. RALPH L. HOUSER, USMC, of 430 Iowa Ave., shakes hands with his division commander, Major Gen. Graves B. Erskine, after receiving the Navy Cross in recent ceremonies.

In a recent ceremony somewhere in the south Pacific, Lieut. Col. Ralph L. Houser, USMC, of 430 Iowa avenue, received the Navy Cross. The Cross, presented by his division commander, Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine, was awarded for "extraordinary heroism" in personally leading elements of his command in the storming of Chonito Cliff and Adelup Point in the battle for Guam.

The young officer was wounded on D-day, July 21, but continued at his post until a Jap rifleman hit him in the shoulder from point-blank range. Colonel Houser killed the Jap before being evacuated for six weeks.

First Lieut. Charles G. Ives, 22, of 517 South Governor street, has been promoted recently from second lieutenant.

Son of Mrs. Ethel S. Ives, Lieutenant Ives has been in the army since June, 1943. He came overseas in November, 1944, and is a machine gun platoon leader in the 289th infantry regiment.

According to announcement, the promotion resulted from the demonstration of abilities and qualities in field of combat.

Wounded during the campaign for Guam, Marine First Lieut. Willard M. Thomson of Webster City recently was awarded the Purple Heart.

He was struck in the back by a mortar shell fragment as he directed an unloading detail on a beach on the second day of the battle. Treated at a beach aid station, he returned to action the next day.

Lieutenant Thompson received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Iowa in 1938 and a master of arts degree in 1941, both in economics. He taught at Worthington Junior college for two years before entering the marine corps in September, 1942.

A former faculty member at the University of Iowa, Otto Alvin Loeb Dieter of Oelwein, has been promoted to major while serving with a transportation corps organization in Scotland.

Chaplain Dieter instructed at Wartburg college from 1929 to 1936 when he transferred to the faculty of the University of Iowa. Leaving there in 1938, he joined the department of English at the University of Illinois and remained until recalled to active duty in September, 1940.

Chaplain Dieter held a commission in the chaplain's reserve and had been assigned to the Fifth and Seventh divisions before his present overseas assignment in Scotland.

A philatelist by hobby and a member of the National Association of Teachers of Speech, he holds several degrees, including master of arts and doctor of philosophy from the University of Iowa, and bachelor of arts from the Bradley Polytechnical institute.

His wife, Mrs. Marie Wilhelmina Dieter, and their daughters live in Oelwein.

Lieut. Albert K. Mathre, a former student at the University of Iowa is a member of the famed Rainbow division of the Seventh army. Overseas since December, 1944, he has received the Presidential Unit Citation and the Combat Infantryman medal for exemplary performance of duty in ground combat against the enemy.

The lieutenant was a member of the R.O.T.C. while on campus and later returned to the university under the A.S.T.P. program. His wife, Mrs. Marie Mathre, is a senior student at the university.

'L'Atelier' Publishes Notices of Praise

The second issue of L'Atelier, bulletin of the French workshop of the Romance languages department, appeared on the campus yesterday. Published by the students of Dr. Henri Barzun's workshop course, the bulletin is an experiment in living French. A third issue will be published in April.

A print of the medical tower at the University of Iowa appears on the first page of L'Atelier. The picture was done by the French artist Georges Plasse.

An editorial, also on page one, reviews the congratulatory letters and press notices which members of the workshop received after publication of the first issue of the bulletin. The editorial quotes items from "Pour La Victoire," a French paper published in New York, and from a copy of the Sunday New York Times concerning L'Atelier.

The bulletin includes articles on fashion, French influence in the middle-west, art exhibits on the campus, concerts and the theater. A crossword puzzle is featured on page four. Book reviews, an original poem in French by Wanda Dawson, A3 of Knoxville, and news of former students in the Romance languages department are other items which appear in the paper.

A story on page three reviews the second soiree held by members of the workshop group. Two soirees are on the L'Atelier activity schedule this year to supplement the bulletin as experience in practical spoken and written French.

Editor of the paper is Ruth York, A4 of Melrose, Mass. Mary Osborne, A3 of Ottumwa, and Delores Rosenbloom, A4 of Kansas City, Mo., are associate editors. Beverly Jones, A4 of Rock Island, Ill., is art editor and Miss Dawson acts as business manager.

University Club To Present Style Show, Easter Parade

"From Morn 'Til Eve" will be the theme of the University club's Easter parade and style show, which will be presented during a tea Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. in the University clubrooms of Iowa Union.

Brunch coats, house dresses, spring suits, afternoon dresses and spring and summer formals as well as hats for various occasions are among the items scheduled for modeling.

Participating in the style show will be Mrs. Eric Wilson, Mrs. J. J. Hinman Jr., Mrs. Velma Harlow, Mrs. Henry Puenfeld, Mary Love, Elizabeth Organbright, Mrs. F. G. Higbee, Mrs. E. M. MacEwen, Mrs. Franklin Knower, Mrs. Everett Hall, Patricia Hanson, Mary Organbright, Mrs. Don Mallett, Mrs. Chester Phillips, Mrs. John Fetzer, Mrs. Gustav Bergmann, Mrs. R. H. Volland and Dell Hauser. Several of the models represent personnel from Iowa City clothing shops, and others are students and University club members.

Mrs. Jacob Van der Zee will be in charge of the musical program. Presiding at the tea will be Mrs. C. Van Epps and Mrs. C. H. McCloy. Included in the decorations will be potted plants, spring flowers and pussy willows.

Mrs. C. E. Seashore is chairman for the April meeting, and Mrs. Winifred T. Root is chairman of the committee in charge of the Easter tea. She will be assisted by Mrs. Phillips, Dr. Martha Spence Van Deusen, Mrs. Paul Packer, Mrs. Van Epps and Mrs. McCloy.

Members and guests are requested to leave their wraps in the cloak room just off the lobby on the main floor.

Several Iowa City clothing shops are furnishing apparel for the style show.
