Reds Reach City Limits Of Vienna

Street Fighting Rages In City as Russians Cover 10-Mile Front

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—Russian shock troops drove up against the southern and south-eastern limits of Vienna last night on a 10-mile front and the Vienna radio reported just before midnight that violent street fighting was raging in the city proper.

As the Russians approached the city radio station—they were less than a mile away Thursday night—the Nazi-controlled transmitter interrupted a program of patriotic music to report Soviet assault teams wedging into the southern metropolitan districts to threaten the Austrian capital's gas and power supplies.

The roar of guns was heard in the background, but the Germans claimed the Red army tommy-guns had been thrown back.

Moscow's nightly war bulletin revealed that a mass of Russian armor from two armies had driven up to the city limits on a 10-mile front stretching from Rothensiedl, four and a half miles south of the city center, to the Danube river at Schwechat, industrial southeastern suburb five miles from famed St. Stephan's church.

Schwechat, site of a great aircraft plant, was seized by Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army. At the same time, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian group drove 14 miles along the south bank of the Danube and captured Fischamend-Markt and Fischamend-Dorf, both big war production suburbs.

Simultaneously, the free Yugoslav army announced that the Yugoslav army of liberation had stormed and captured Sarajevo, Bosnian capital which was the scene of the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria that touched off the First World War.

The German defenders of Vienna laid down curtains of mortar fire and fought stubbornly from street barricades, cellars and rooftops. Against them moved the pick assault teams of Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian army. Frequent hand-to-hand clashes occurred.

Any of United Nations May Seek to Amend Dumbarton Oaks Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States or any other member nation, great or small, may seek to amend the Dumbarton Oaks world organization plan during the San Francisco conference, Secretary of State Stettinius disclosed yesterday.

This wide open procedure evidently has been agreed upon by the big four sponsoring powers—this country, Russia, Britain and China—despite a recent suggestion in the Soviet press that the four countries, having jointly written the Dumbarton Oaks plan, were bound to defend it against change.

Shortly before Stettinius held his news conference yesterday, he was designated by President Roosevelt to be temporary chairman of the San Francisco conference which opens April 25. He is slated then to be elected permanent chairman, which would make him chief officer of the conference.

There is still a good chance that former Secretary of State Cordell Hull may attend the conference despite his 73 years and his long hospitalization from illness and exhaustion.

Wage Negotiations Break Down; Lewis Meets Mine Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soft coal wage negotiations virtually broke down yesterday and John L. Lewis summoned his 250-man policy committee to determine the United Mine Workers' future course.

While the mine leaders did not say for what specific purpose the committee was called in, it was understood that the various offers of the operators and the proposed contract advanced last week by Secretary of Labor Perkins will be placed before the group. Lewis had accepted the Perkins proposal but operators turned it down.

PRISONERS WORK IN LAB

NON-COMBATANTS captured on the German front, these Germans, a doctor of anatomy and biology, and his assistant, now are at work in the laboratory at Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island, N. Y. Both are "PP's" (protected personnel) and were either chaplains or medical corpsmen when seized.

Japs Claim Fighters Join Superfort Raid

Enemy Broadcast Reports Air Assault On Tokyo, Yokohama

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Approximately 100 B-29's, escorted by nearly 40 P-51 fighter planes, raided the Tokyo-Yokohama district at 9:30 a. m. Saturday morning, Japanese time: (8:30 p. m., Friday, eastern war time) Japanese Domei news agency said in a broadcast last night.

Unconfirmed by allied sources, it is the first report of land-based fighters attacking the Japanese homeland.

Domei said the P-51 Mustangs both bombed and strafed the western section of the Tokyo-Yokohama section while Superfortresses attacked military objectives. Other B-29's conducted scattered raids on Tokyo, Tokai and Chubu districts, said the broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission.

The Mustangs probably were from newly-conquered Iwo Jima island airfields, only 750 air miles from the Japanese capital.

Although carrier fighters have joined naval bomber and torpedo planes in attacking the Japanese homeland, never before have land-based fighters been reported over the heart of the Japanese empire.

Domei claimed Japanese interceptors had scored "good results" but declared the exact number of planes destroyed or damaged was being "checked up."

"In the skies over Tokyo," the broadcast said, "four or five enemy planes are reported to have been bagged."

B-29's Attack Tokyo, Nagoya

WASHINGTON (AP)—A very large force of B-29's attacked industrial targets in Tokyo and Nagoya yesterday (April 7, Japanese time) the war department announced last night.

Fighter planes of the Seventh Airforce participated in the mission, both in daylight.

Both Tokyo and Nagoya are located on the Japanese home island of Honshu.

At least 150 B-29's apparently participated in the attack. They flew from bases of Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay's bombing command in the Marianas islands.

Winds to Continue Strong Attack on City

"I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house in"—Shakespeare. That is what the wind told Iowa Citizens yesterday as it huffed and puffed at 35 miles an hour. However, no houses were blown in. Meanwhile the mercury hit 65, climbing from 35 in the morning.

Jap Premier Works to Form New Cabinet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Faced by the greatest crisis in Japan's history, Premier-Designate Kantaro Suzuki struggled yesterday to form a new cabinet and was reported by the Tokyo radio as making progress.

Indicative of the difficulties to be met in velding a unified government to succeed that of the Koiso regime which toppled Thursday was the Tokyo statement that some ministers might hold more than one portfolio.

"Indications are that all ministerial posts will not be filled," said a broadcast beamed to Latin America, "and that in certain cases the services of the present cabinet member will be asked."

This and other broadcasts, intercepted by the FCC, reflected the grave situation brought on by a rapid succession of military defeats and topped Thursday by Soviet Russia's denunciation of its neutrality pact with Japan.

All quarters called on Baron Suzuki to form a "strong war cabinet."

DNB Reports New Jap Cabinet Formed

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—The German agency DNB, quoting the Singapore radio, said today Premier Kantaro Suzuki had formed a new Japanese cabinet which included Gen. Hideki Tojo, premier at the time of Pearl Harbor.

The lineup, none of whom was a member of the cabinet of former Premier Kuniaki Koiso, included: Prince Fumitaka Konoye, premier just before Tojo.

Admiral Keisuke Okada, premier at the time of the bloody army revolt in 1936.

Gen. Koki Hirota, former premier and foreign minister at the time the Japanese began their current war on China.

Gen. Baron Kijichiro Hiranuma, long an advocate of a strong and militant Japan.

Gen. Baron Waratsube and Marquis Hiro, the latter former lord privy seal.

Major Flood Engulfs Central Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Levees crumbled and a general exodus of dwellers followed as a major flood spread out yesterday down the Red river basin in central Louisiana.

An estimated 500,000 acres of land was inundated.

The crest of the flood on Red river, a western tributary of the Mississippi, was centering yesterday in the Shreveport area. It was destined to move down about 300 miles of fertile basin to the Mississippi, where preparations were being hurried to divert surplus through the huge Morganza floodway to the gulf.

Japs Attack Invasion Fleet

Yanks Shoot Down 150 Planes in Battle Of Ryukyu Islands

GUAM, Saturday (AP)—Japanese planes belatedly attacked the American invasion fleet in the Ryukyus in force for the first time yesterday and by late afternoon an incomplete count showed 150 of the attackers shot down. There was every indication the raid was continuing.

A fleet communique today said some United States ships received minor damage but "all remained fully operational." An invasion armada of 1,400 ships was involved in the Okinawa island invasion last Sunday.

In the Okinawa ground fighting, marines on the north end of the American line scored advances up to 5,000 yards, still finding only "small, scattered groups of the enemy," while infantrymen pressing upon the capital city of Naha at the south fought deeper into fixed defense position, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

Nimitz reported 539 Japanese were killed and 166 captured in seizing the Kerama islands off the southwest coast of Okinawa prior to the main invasion.

The count of 150 enemy planes shot down attempting to attack the United States invasion fleet was still "preliminary and incomplete," the communique said.

The carrier task groups were commanded by Rear Adm. Frederick C. Sherman and Rear Adm. J. J. (Jock) Clark. Some American ships received minor damage, but all remained fully operational.

The enemy airforce already had lost 1,212 planes destroyed or damaged by American naval fliers since the start of the Okinawa operations March 17.

Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, commander of United States Carrier Task Force 58, reported to the navy in Washington his fliers destroyed or damaged 954 enemy planes in the air or on the ground, and supporting forces accounted for 258 more.

Mitscher also said that 244 enemy surface ships have been destroyed since his fliers hit southern Japan March 17 and then moved into the Ryukyus for the Okinawa invasion, 325 miles south of Nippon.

Senate to Consider Pension Bill Today

DES MOINES (AP)—Action on an administration-suggested measure to pension all Iowa public employees was deferred until today after it was called up in the senate yesterday afternoon in an apparent attempt to get the bill past that chamber before the house began consideration of it.

The bill has been made a special order of business for Monday morning in the house, where Representative G. T. Kuester (R., Griswold) Thursday attacked the proposal on the grounds of "un-sound financing." It provides a $50,000 annual appropriation for administration.

Calling for an "old age and survivor insurance system" covering all officials and employees of the state government and its subdivisions, the measure was introduced by a special committee at the request of Gov. Robert D. Blue.

UNRRA Study Shows Disease in Europe Increases Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reporting a startling wartime rise in European disease rates, UNRRA said yesterday that serious epidemics are threatened and backed the statement with statistics.

"In several ways the outlook is darker than in 1918," when post-World War I outbreaks were building toward the disastrous proportions they reached in the next few years, the report said. It pointed out that the war-end conditions of bad housing, destroyed sanitation facilities, and floating populations promise to be reported on a far greater scale.

War Leaders Give Nazi Choice—

Surrender or 'Rubble Heap'

By Edward H. Higgs Associated Press War Analyst
Germany is going to be pounded into a rubble heap unless Hitler surrenders soon or the military command and civilian populace seize control from him.

This was made plain by statements of two top war leaders, Secretary of War Stimson and General Eisenhower.

The secretary bluntly says that the only choice for Germany is unconditional surrender now or eventual surrender after the Reich has been destroyed city by city.

Stimson illustrated his point with the lesson of Aschaffenburg, where a die-hard Nazi major refused a surrender ultimatum, hanged two officers who favored giving up, and ordered a stand against a Seventh army siege.

The city was marked for death. American artillery hurled thousands of shells into its buildings and streets and tons of bombs rained from overhead.

General Eisenhower, in a letter to President Roosevelt predicted that German resistance will disintegrate into guerrilla warfare and indicated that he already has plans to deal with such a situation.

This means that allied columns will spear through Germany, chopping off and encircling areas in which guerrillas are holding out. Little or no consideration will be shown the resisting fanatics. With planes and artillery, everything in those areas will be obliterated.

General Eisenhower indicated the guerrilla fighting may go on long after organized opposition has been broken up and that large forces will be needed for the job. Support for this belief comes from these words of a young German officer recently captured on the Italian front:

"The allies may succeed in occupying all of Germany north of Wuerttemberg, Bavaria and Moravia. The Russians and the Anglo-Americans may join at the Elbe river. We shall then entrench ourselves in the mountains and forests of southern Germany and Austria and hold whatever can be held of Italy."

"But, whatever stretches of land you may occupy in Germany you will never conquer or defeat the German nation. As long as there is a German alive, he will fight you. No allied soldier will ever feel safe on German soil."

Eighth Airforce Hits Leipzig Rail Traffic

Other Planes Smash Southern Germany Ahead of Americans

LONDON (AP)—More than 1,250 United States airforce planes attacked rail traffic choke points yesterday at Leipzig and nearby Halle and Gera as hundreds of other allied craft likewise smashed at targets ahead on onrushing American armored spearheads in southern Germany.

At the same time it was disclosed that at least 21 warships and freighters, including the 6,000-ton cruiser Koeln and 11 submarines were sunk in last month's massive port-busting raids on Bremen, Wilhelmshaven and Hamburg.

Yesterday's attack on the three main Leipzig area railroad yards, the most important communication centers between the Americans near Erfurt and the Red army on the Neisse river, was made through clouds with no air opposition and little flak.

The Leipzig yards, together with those of Halle 20 miles to the northwest and Gera 35 miles southwest, are key hubs for the movement of German troops and equipment through southern Germany for what some military men believe may be a desperate last ditch stand around Adolf Hitler's Bavarian Alpine hide-out at Berchtesgaden.

West of the Leipzig area American Ninth airforce fighter bombers, limited by bad weather to some 200 sorties, pounded points immediately in front of the advancing United States columns.

Chaplin Jury Chosen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One man and 11 women were chosen yesterday to hear the retrial of Joan Barry's paternity suit against Charlie Chaplin.

Testimony will begin Monday and Dr. Russell Starr, who attended Miss Barry when her baby, Carol Ann, was born 18 months ago, will be the first witness.

Chinese Begin Drive Against Jap Troops In Honan Province

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chinese troops in southwestern Honan province launched a major counter-offensive Thursday against Japanese troops battling toward Shensi province, northern gateway to China's wartime capital, the high command disclosed yesterday.

An army spokesman said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces wiped out an enemy battalion and encircled a number of strong points west of Neisung on the Honan-Shensi highway, but lost contact with a garrison defending Nanyang, one of the primary objectives.

China's three-pronged drive, mounted against a double enemy attack, came after the Chinese annihilated more than 1,000 Japanese troops and destroyed nine enemy tanks about 31 miles from the Shensi border.

The army spokesman said intelligence reports indicated the Japanese were preparing three separate drives in central China, one directed at China's rice bowl and two at United States air bases.

Hong Kong Port Bombed by Liberators

Other Bombers Hit Formosa Airdrome, Pescadore Islands

MANILA, Saturday (AP)—Escorted four-engined Liberators spanned the China sea to bomb the vital port of Hong Kong for the third straight day Thursday, setting off tremendous waterfront fires and wrecking three merchant ships with direct hits.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today the heavy bombers scored direct hits on a 10,000-ton freighter and two smaller vessels. Oil storage tanks were set ablaze and fuel fires sent smoke up 6,000 feet. There was no interception.

Other Liberators dropped 72 tons of fragmentation bombs on Formosa's Toyohara airdrome, leaving many parked planes in flames, while Mitchell medium bombers sank or damaged three good-sized tankers and two small freighters in the Pescadore islands to the west.

Bombers patrolling the China Sea blockade destroyed a 10,000-ton freighter-transport with three direct hits east of Hong Kong and sent two smaller cargo ships to the bottom off the China coast.

Seventeen small Japanese cargo ships were sunk in waters to the south.

Officers for the coming year will be installed.

They are Gloria Kelly, president, University of Iowa; Helen Madsen, vice-president, Iowa State Teachers college, and Lois Bowles, secretary, Coe college.

Holland Nearly Sealed Off

Nazis Report Patton In Saxony 90 Miles South of Berlin

PARIS, Saturday (AP)—A relentless tide of allied tanks and troops—sometimes sweeping ahead 40 to 60 miles—broke the Weser river line 18 miles from Hannover yesterday, all but sealed off Holland and her greatest cities, and engulfed Hamm and Wuerzburg.

A wholly unconfirmed German broadcast said United States Third army forces, coursing far in the van of the western advance, had suddenly spurred 40 miles east into Martin Luther's birthplace of Eisleben, in Saxony 90 miles southwest of Berlin, striking with airborne tanks.

The Weser river line—only the Elbe now stands between the allies and Berlin—was ripped to shreds by multiple British Second and United States Ninth army crossings as the United States First army jumped into the swelling attack with a 22-mile push to the Weser 164 miles west of Berlin.

One of the British Second army's flying columns, some of which traveled 60 miles in 24 hours since breaking out on to the north German plain through the mountain passes, turned up abruptly in Diepholz, less than 35 miles south of the big German river port of Bremen.

Hamm, Germany's biggest railway center, fell with astonishing swiftness to the United States Ninth army, which with the powerful First army, began a broad-scale attack on 125,000 or more Germans trapped in the Ruhr.

Wuerzburg, 55 miles northwest of Nuernberg—where the Nazis in their heyday held their party rallies—was captured by the United States Seventh army. Wuerzburg had a normal population of 108,000.

The Canadian First army kept up the dazzling pace set by the United States First and Ninth and British Second armies, sending one steel-freighted column north to within 35 miles of the North sea and broke into the center of meat-girt stronghold of Zutphen, barring the last 20 miles to the Zuider Zee, in twin strokes designed to trap the enemy in Holland.

Field dispatches, reporting the Third army only 50 miles from the railway city of Plauen, whose seizure would cut Germany in half at the waist, placed the nearest armored columns 40 miles from Eisleben, just where they were the day before.

Surprise Fifth Army Attack Gains in Italy

ROME (AP)—The American Fifth army, outflanking 3,000-foot Monte Polgorito, has gained nearly two miles since Thursday in a surprise attack southeast of Massa on heights dominating the Ligurian coastal highway in western Italy, allied headquarters announced yesterday.

The smouldering Italian front flared into activity at both ends. In the west the Americans, attacking from Azzano, six miles inland, passed Monte Polgorito, which overlooks the coastal shelf. An accompanying push from Strettoia, two miles from the sea, made initial gains also, but collided later with a German counter-attack from Porta, a mile beyond.

No official indication was given as to whether the small-scale American attack might develop into a major action such as Gen. Mark W. Clark, 15th army group commander, recently said could be expected "sooner or later."

Allied Burials in Reich SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris (AP)—There are now three American cemeteries east of the Rhine in Germany.

Original plans called for no American burials on German soil. The swift eastward movement of American armies, however, made them temporarily necessary.

German Slave Workers Quit, Head for Home in Wake of Armies—

(This is the last of four stories by Godfrey H. P. Anderson, AP war correspondent released last week from more than three years of axis imprisonment.)

By Godfrey H. P. Anderson
PARIS (AP)—There is two-way traffic all along the United States First army's great thrust into the Reich. While tanks and guns and truckloads of infantry and supplies roll eastward, thousands of allied prisoners and foreign workers of many nationalities are hitting the trail to the west.

Most of them are tramping about, spurred by the urge to get home without awaiting transport. They march in small groups, in khaki uniforms of France or Poland, the green of Russia or in rags and tatters of once smart civilian clothes.

A few are well dressed with overcoats and homburg hats, but the vast majority still wear what they had on when they were transported inside Germany years ago. With packs on their backs they trudge at the roadside, splashed head to foot by mud thrown by the passing trucks.

Many of them are thirsty and hungry, but all have the smile of liberty on their faces.

In one village I met three Frenchmen strolling along a village street with hands in pockets and cigarettes dangling from their lips. "We are just enjoying our liberty," one explained. "We've worked like slaves for nearly five years in this village, but now it's the turn of the Boches to work for themselves."

This particular party had no intention of tramping back to France. "We've got an automobile," they chuckled, "and it's a French Citroen, too. That automobile is old and worn out working for the Boches, but it will just about get us home."

I predicted trouble ahead with the military police, but those boys just laughed. We parted over a celebration drink in the village cafe while the local Germans stood glumly around and wondered who would work the ploughs

Ex-Marine, Hawkeye Swimmer—

Wouldn't Take a Million for War Experience

By JOHNNY JOHNSTON
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

For Bill Boswell, 41 of Marshalltown, big good-looking six-foot Iowa swimmer, it's just "Boz" now, but two and a half years ago it was Corp. Bill Boswell, United States marine corps, a rugged leatherneck fighting on Guadalcanal.

"I wouldn't take a million dollars for those experiences," Bill declared, "but I wouldn't give the back of my geology book to go through them again."

Second Unit on Guadalcanal
Bill's outfit was the second to be dumped on Guadalcanal. Things were pretty hot for American troops, for the odds were against them at that time. "The area which we occupied was only a quarter of a mile back of the Jap lines. Jap snipers used to fire at our pilots as they took off, they were that close."

Fifteen minutes after Bill's bunch arrived, the Japs shelled the island, and one of Bill's best buddies was killed. He was one of the six who had made a pact together earlier in their training. They ripped a dollar bill in six pieces, each taking one and promising to meet the others sometime after the war and put the dollar together again. "Two of them have been killed," Bill said, "another is in Buffalo, I'm the fifth, and the sixth is still out there."

Regular Shellings
"The Japs shelled us as regular as clock work," he related, "and there wasn't anything we could do about it. That was back in '42 when we didn't have much there."

Auxiliary Gunner
Boz was an auxiliary gunner in the first marine air wing. His main job, however, was that of a metal smith in repairing planes. They were short of everything and had to make all of the materials count, he added.

"Before I had been on Guadalcanal two weeks I contracted malaria. Over 50 per cent of the fellows had it by then and a much larger percentage soon afterwards. There wasn't very much medical aid. They filled us full of quinine and put us to bed. But when an emergency came up, there was no horsing around—we got up and did our jobs unless we couldn't stand up."

Hair Changed Color
Either from the quinine, too much sun or shock, Bill's brown hair turned a yellowish blonde but resumed its original shade after he returned to this country.

"Sure, the whole affair was a grimy business, but there were lots of laughs, too. I'll never forget the time there was a big air raid and we didn't hear the gong warning, so that enemy planes were approaching. Everybody woke up when a shell hit not far away. We all made a mad dash for the door—all except Buzz, the guy who's now in Buffalo. Buzz got all tangled up in his mosquito netting and grappled with it while the rest of us were running out.

All Fell
"It was slippery just outside the door because of a rain earlier in the evening. We all slipped and fell. Just as we were getting up, Buzz, still fighting the net, ran into us and we all went down again. We were in the dugout for quite awhile before we realized that Buzz wasn't with us. We went back after the raid, and there he was lying right where we'd left him. He was so darn mad at that netting that he didn't even try to move during the whole raid."

Continuing with a broad grin, Bill said, "We got a lot of laughs out of our sergeant. He was a typical old marine sergeant, rough 'n tough. He'd drink canned heat and stay in his bunk all night, raid or no raid."

Liked Outfit
"I was really just about the outfit," he said seriously. "Course I beefed and griped like mad while I was in, but when I felt the boot coming, I didn't care for the idea at all."

Boz joined the marine corps in June of 1941, six months before the bombing of Pearl Harbor. For three months he was a "boot" in San Diego. The next eight months found him at the Chicago navy pier in aviation metal smith training. Back to San Diego, to Kearney field for three months of combat training and he left the states in August, 1942.

The first stop was American Samoa for a change in ships.

couple who took me out to their summer cabin and really treated me swell.

"One thing that struck me about the country was the lack of men. The New Zealand army was in the British Eighth, so the fellows had been gone for years even then. I think the way they have carried on through all of the crises is admirable. The women have taken over most of the jobs. There's none of this half-way stuff; they're all for speeding up the war. They had this employment business all worked out and it was well nigh impossible to get out away from your job."

"Most of the fellows in my outfit were from Brooklyn. I came out of the war with a screwy mixture of their lingo and the cockney spoken in New Zealand. Gee, after I got back I'd talk to people for five minutes before they'd even know what I was talking about. But even if they did me to saying 'dis' and 'dat' and 'dese' those Brooklyn guys were the best in the world, and for their money Brooklyn just couldn't be beat."

Discharged From Marines
In March, 1943, Boz was sent to the San Diego naval hospital and in October he was discharged from the marine corps because of severe shock.

A badly needed rest consumed the next 11-odd months. Then last fall under the G.I. bill of rights, Boz entered the University of Iowa as a freshman.

"Right now I'm majoring in physical education, but I want to get into physio-therapy," he asserted. "If that doesn't pan out I'll go into coaching."

Background for Coaching
If coaching does get the nod, Boz has the background to fit him for the job. In high school he lettered in basketball and broke 16 AAU swimming records in two years, mostly in backstroke and freestyle sprints. He broke two records while in the marines. One, the Pacific Coast 50-yard freestyle record, he still holds. The Marshalltown lead breezed through that event in 23.5 seconds. Now on the Iowa swimming team, he has won several individual firsts in meets and is on the medley relay team.

The ex-marine holds a Red Cross instructor's certificate which qualifies him to teach anything up to senior life-guarding. Last summer he life-guarded, taught classes and helped with the managing angle at the Marshalltown municipal pool.

Lessons From Tunney
"Say, I almost forgot. Gene Tunney gave us some boxing lessons for a couple of weeks at North Island which is right off San Diego. I was on the navy air boxing team and we flew all over to give exhibitions."

In the Pacific coast championship matches at San Francisco, Bill was in the quarter-finals when he had to leave for his training in Chicago.

Drama Scholarship
If Bill had stayed in California there is a chance that you might be seeing him on the screen now. Interested in dramatics in high school, he took a few voice and diction lessons out on the coast and was offered a scholarship to the dramatic school at the Pasadena Playhouse. The school is located on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot and offers a first-rate opportunity for students to crash the movies.

"Fighting was rough, of course," Boz concluded, "but it wasn't any rougher than coming back to school after being out for three and a half years. Everyone here has been swell about helping me. The professors have gone more than half way, and the whole university has a wonderful attitude toward the returned veteran."

Hospitalization
"Auckland where the navy hospital was reminded me of my home town five or ten years ago. And were we glad to see it! We couldn't get over the idea that we could have as much ice cream and milk as we wanted. I drank two quarts of milk at my first meal."

"It was Christmas day when we were driven to the hospital by ambulance. We were feeling pretty lousy because we had to spend the holiday in a foreign country, but the people were so sincere and there were so many good-looking girls that we got over it. I was sort of adopted by an English

A Day With Students Any Rainy Tuesday

It was Tuesday and the rains had come to Iowa City. Rain or shine, each day still contains 24 hours for SUI men and women to do with them what they will. What they did is shown in a survey of the Tuesday activities of a representative group from the first peel of the alarm to the final tumble into bed.

One enterprising young lady rolled out at 6:55 a. m. and two had 7 o'clock ideas, but the weather triumphed. One glance out the window, and all retired for another two hours. Iowa men apparently possess the fortitude; the majority of them arose at 7 and once up, all remained in that position.

Dressing times proved a revelation, in that men took as long, if not longer, than women. However, the stalwarts preferred to shower in the morning. "Stalwart" is indicative of the men who shaved and showered in icy water, the result of a temperamental boiler.

One of every four students failed to eat breakfast, although one, a member of the S. P. C. A., dutifully fed her fish. Two breakfast-eaters took their profession seriously, devouring pancakes and bacon and eggs.

Since the University of Iowa is primarily an institution of learning, classes figured prominently in the rainy-day Tuesday schedule. Surprisingly enough, extra-curricular class activities accounted for even a greater number of hours. Of the entire group, only two classes were cut, and these in order to study for "the" big exam. One truthful soul confessed her intentions to cut a class as she put her car out for a bath, but the vehicle looked so dry and protective, her resistance lowered, she hopped in and drove to class.

Favorite reading time proved to be immediately before, after, or during meals. Daily newspapers

Purple Masque Elects Five

Five university graduates have been elected to membership in the Purple Masque, honorary dramatic society of the university theater, for their superior work in dramatic art and their outstanding scholastic record.

These five, initiated at the annual theater banquet held in Iowa Union last Tuesday, are: Arnon Bonney, graduate assistant in the speech department, Ava Smith Carmichael, also a graduate assistant in the department of speech, Andrea Hetzel, G of Newton, Kan., Betty Lord, research assistant in the speech department, and Mary Bob Knapp of Appleton, Wis., who graduated from the university last December.

City High to Sponsor Clinic Music Festival

A clinic music festival will be held in the auditorium of City high school Friday, April 13, and Saturday, April 14, for music students of the Iowa City public schools.

Gamma Delta to Have Picnic in City Park

Gamma Delta, the St. Paul's Lutheran student group, will have a picnic at City park tomorrow at 4 p. m. John Hacker is general chairman in charge of arrangements.

Just Boys--Taken by the Yanks

ALTHOUGH their ages are listed as 17, left, and 18, these young German soldiers, captured on the Rhine river front, appear much younger. They were young in the ways of warfare, too, for they had less than 12 weeks training before being sent to defend the Rhine. This is an official British photo.

Full Day's Program Planned--For University Art Conference

The University of Iowa Art conference begins this morning at 9 o'clock with registration of high school teachers and students in the art building. The conference, which is sponsored by the department of art, the school of fine arts, and the extension division, has planned a full-day program.

Country Fair Group To Meet Tomorrow For Degree Practice

The Country Fair committee will meet at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the Knights of Pythias hall. The degree staff will practice after the meeting.

The regular business session will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Ira A. Opstad, superintendent of schools, will speak to members of the P. T. A. council at a meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the board room of the public library.

The University club will entertain at bridge Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the University clubrooms of Iowa Union.

Included on the committee will be Mrs. M. Willard Lampe, Mrs. Roy Koza, Mrs. George L. Falk and Mrs. W. R. Whites.

Mrs. John Meintzer, 16 W. Burlington street, will be hostess to the West Lucas Women's club Tuesday at 2 p. m. Italy will be the theme for the meeting with roll call to be answered by naming Italian customs. The program about that nation will be presented by Mrs. Will Rowland.

Members are asked to bring old clothing for a drive to provide clothing for the people of the allied nations.

An informal fellowship hour will be held during the afternoon and evening. Darlene Ross is in charge of the food.

There will be no admission charge to any event, and the entire program will be open to the public. A program of events will be published in the near future.

The courses for training Red Cross instructors in first aid and water safety sponsored jointly by the Johnson county Red Cross chapter and the physical education department of the university have just been completed.

Prof. Paul Reisman, Violinist, to Appear in Symphony Concert

Paul Reisman, visiting professor of violin at the University of Iowa this year, will appear as soloist at the concert to be given Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union by the symphony orchestra.

Professor Reisman is a graduate of the Royal Hungarian Academy of Music, Budapest. He has played in the Budapest symphony orchestra under Weingartner, Walter, Montoux and Ormandy.

Since 1940, he has been professor of strings and director of orchestra at Simpson college, Indianola. During the summer of 1943 he served as a member of the Lerner string quartet.

Final Fling--Les Brown

What this country needs is more Les Brown—that seemed to be the general opinion of those who danced at "The Final Fling," all-university party last night in Iowa Union.

Featuring Jimmy Zito on the trumpet and Ted Nash on the tenor sax, the band hit a new high on such numbers as "Mexican Hat Dance." The group has been together for almost a year without any turnovers in the personnel, which may account for their adequate instrumentalizing.

"Bizet Has His Day" was another jive favorite, and the introduction of "tear me apart" Butch Stone, that "grand old man of song" was a highlight of the evening. Stone's rendition of "Duration Blues" and "Robin Hood" was terrific, and the climax came with "Rusty Dusty Blues." Stone's antics proved him to be one of the top novelty men in the business.

Taking a nice "Sentimental Journey" was Doris Day, who also stuck around long enough to do nicely with "Wish You Were Waitin' for Me" and "I'm Home for a Little While."

Mrs. Earl Weekes Installed as President of Weekes Auxiliary

Mrs. Earl Weekes was installed as president of LeRoy Weekes auxiliary No. 3949 last night in the Community building. Mrs. James Gwynne served as installing officer and Mrs. Fred Ruppert was conductress.

Badgers Beat Hawks, 4-3, in Opener

Winners Get Eleven Hits

Iowa Stages Two-Run Rally in Last Half of Ninth Inning

Their valiant ninth inning rally failing by a single run, the Hawkeye baseball team went down to a close 4-3 defeat at the hands of the University of Wisconsin Badgers yesterday afternoon in the opening game of their 1945 West-conference series.

It was the brilliant pitching of Gene Jaroch, whose low curve ball baffled the Hawks for almost seven innings, that gave the Badgers their victory. Going the route for his team, Jaroch fanned 13, while giving up but five hits to the Iowa nine.

Iowa Pitchers

Gene Hoffman handled the mound duties for the Hawks for seven innings, and was charged with the loss. He struck out two batters and yielded eight hits. Wilmer Hokanson pitched the last two frames, allowing three hits and one run.

Trailing 4-1 in the last half of the ninth, Iowa put on a scoring spurt as Max Smith connected with a timely single that sent two men across home plate, but the Hawk chances for tying the count faded when Smith and Spencer were in turn forced out at second and Greiwe went down swinging on the count of three.

Schulz Hits

The first two frames went scoreless as both teams settled down to tight defensive strategy. Bob Schulz got the only hit, Iowa's first, but under the expert fielding of both teams, all players were put out in quick succession.

Two runs in the third inning gave the Badgers a lead they never lost. The action started when Dan Murphy walked and Gene Jaroch and Bob Sutton singled, with the bases loaded, Orvell Zimmerman swatted the ball to left field, scoring Murphy and Jaroch.

Iowa Scores

Iowa came back in the fourth with a single tally scored by Schulz when Bill Anderson hit a long fly to center field, but another run by Murphy in the fifth nullified that. Jaroch struck out three Iowa men in order in the inning, and not another Hawk got on base until the seventh.

Jim Ackeret collected Wisconsin's sixth hit early in the sixth frame and advanced to third on Walsler's error, sending Eric Kitzman to first. With two out, Murphy sent a hard pop fly over first, but it was the spectacular stop of Schulz that saved the day for the Old Golders.

Hawk Rally

Zimmerman got his third hit of the game in the seventh, but was shortly afterward put out on a brilliant play from Jack Spencer, Iowa catcher, to Leo Cabalka at second, retiring the side. From here on, the Hawkeyes took over in what appeared to be the important rally. Anderson hit, but was forced at second on a fielder's choice which put Dunfrund on first. Substituting for him, Bill Ochs stole second and advanced to third on Spencer's clean single.

With two out, Paul Eagerlind received a walk, loading the bases, but Griewe ended Iowa's hopes for a score by striking out.

Hokanson Pitches

Wilmer Hokanson relieved Hoffman in the eighth, and three Badgers flied out in rapid order. Jaroch retaliated in Iowa's half, getting his 12th strike out of the day when he fanned three Hawks in succession.

Wisconsin drove home its final run in the top of the ninth. George Wirtz started the inning with a hit, advancing to third where he was called out. Dick Carpenter got on first due to a fielder's choice, and then scored on Cabalka's error, which also put Murphy

Crosetti to Join Team

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 6 (AP)—Frankie Crosetti, hold-out shortstop of the New York Yankees has agreed to terms and will join the team in Washington on April 15, club officials said today.

on the bag. Jaroch and Sutton flied out, ending the scoring game for the Badgers.

Hitting Light
Hitting was light for the Hawkeyes, with no one getting more than one. Zimmerman was king of swat for the Badgers, collecting three, followed by Ackeret and Murphy with two apiece.

Iowa will meet the Badgers this afternoon at 2 p. m. in the second game of the series. WSU will carry the broadcast, with Dick Yoakam at the microphone at 1:55, assisted by Bob Brooks of the radio staff.

Navy, Tigers, Iowa State In Track Meet

The Iowa Seahawks will entertain Iowa State and Missouri here this afternoon in a triangular track meet which will see three of the nation's top weight men opposing each other in the shot put. The Tigers' Bill Bangert, Purdue Relays champion; Ed Quirk, of the Cyclones, Big Six conference title holder; and Vic Scheich, of the navy, who has been beaten but once this year, are the big trio.

The meet will be the only home-meet of the season for the cadets. That the competition should be close and tight right down to the last event is given further evidence by the fact that the mile and two-mile races appear to be evenly matched. The Pre-Flighters present two stars in George Batchelder and Len Weed. Iowa State will counter with Big Bill Arlen, Big Six champion, and Missouri will have George Quinn, who defeated Arlen earlier this year.

In the sprints the Seahawks will be handicapped by the loss of their ace, Herb Schlottauer, who is ill with scarlet fever. Bill Delastatious, Missouri grid ace, is the present favorite.

Iowa State will probably make things plenty tough in the 70-yard dash and the broad jump. The navy, however, is favored in these events.

Rogers First In AAU Swim

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Rogers, of Columbia, holder of the N. C. A. A. 220 and national 440 and 880 yard outdoor titles, sped to a hard-earned triumph in the 220-yard free style event last night in the National A. A. U. Men's senior indoor swimming championships.

Rogers barely outfinished Walter Ris, Bainbridge Naval, in 2:12.5. Keo Nakama of Ohio State, holder of the 400, 800 and 1,500 meter free style outdoor titles, barred from the N. C. A. A. meet last week because of being a post-graduate student, finished third in front of teammate Seymour Schlanger, N. C. A. A. 440 yard and 1,500 meters champion.

Pro Football—Only Hope

NEW YORK (AP)—With more hope than confidence, the National Football league set about replenishing its player rosters yesterday by means of the annual draft of college players, after devoting an entire morning to wrangling about questions of eligibility for selection.

Once the draft was begun, Charlie Trippi, former Georgia halfback who starred last fall for the Third Air Force team of Morris Field, Charlotte, N. C., was chosen as the No. 1 pro prospect. Trippi, now stationed at Miami, Fla., was chosen by the Chicago Cardinals, who won first choice by the flip of a coin.

Cards, Tigers Pick First
The Cardinals, the Pittsburgh Steelers with whom they were combined last fall, and the Brooklyn Tigers were tied for lowest rank in the league standings and thus eligible for first pick.

Pittsburgh, selecting second, picked the subject of most of the morning's controversy, Paul Duhart of Florida and the Green Bay Packers. Duhart, who decided to play pro football last fall after being discharged from the army, came under a special ruling. The league rule is that no player can be signed until his college class has been graduated. Since Florida had no football team last fall, the Packers were permitted to sign Duhart.

League Votes Exceptions
Yesterday the league voted that Duhart and a few other players in the same category, must go on the draft list since his normal college career would end this year. It was decided, however, to waive a rule that does not permit a club to trade its first or second choice men in the draft until the player has completed one season and to permit the trading of these players only to the clubs for which they had played. Thus the Steelers can send Duhart back to Green Bay in a trade but not to any other team.

The first choice of other clubs were: Brooklyn, Joe Renfro, Tulane; Boston, Ed Prokop, Georgia Tech; Cleveland, Elroy Hirsch, Wisconsin; Detroit, Frank Szymanski, Notre Dame; Chicago Bears, Don Lund, Michigan; Washington, Jim Hardy, Southern California; Philadelphia, John Yonakor, Notre Dame; New York, Elmer Barbour, Wake Forest, and Green Bay, Walter Schlinkman, Texas Tech. Except for Szymanski, a center, and Yonakor, an end, all the first choice players are backs.

Brooklyn-Boston Merger
The long process of drafting 30 players for each club took up the entire opening session of the annual meeting, resumed after a sudden postponement in Chicago last winter. By today the club owners hope to get around to such matters as the projected Brooklyn-Boston merger which will reduce the circuit to ten clubs for the 1945 season.

Dave Seibold of Jackson, Mich., representing the Saginaw Junior Board of Commerce, sprang an upset when he won the 220-yard breast stroke title by a touch over Bainbridge's defending champion.

Maybe So

By BOB KRAUSE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

SOME THOUGHTS ON A BALL GAME: . . . Iowa lost yesterday's baseball battle to the Wisconsin Badgers. . . the sting of defeat was somewhat eased by the fact that the contest was one of the best we've ever had the pleasure of looking at in a high wind. . . The affair was replete with smart, heads up baseball, plenty of fielding gems, and enough good pitching to make the hitters feel the same way they would if they'd forgot their pants. . .

Gene Jaroch was one of the better hurlers we've ever watched make a would-be batter look foolish. . . The Badger veteran had a low curve on the inside corner which had the Hawkeyes stepping into that bucket all afternoon. . . Added to that he tossed a change of pace which made the mixture sweet for Wisconsin, sour for Iowa. . .

Waddy Davis' infield contains enough talent to make the diamond shine at any time. . . Jerry Walsler, Hank Quinn, Leo Cabalka and Bob Schulz had the crowd on its feet often with sensational stops. . . Schulz saved Gene Hoffmann's life, or at least prolonged it, with a leaping, impossible grab of a sharp liner in the fourth to end that frame. . . We can see why Hank Quinn made that Esquire All-American team. . . At shortstop he has an arm which would make any big league scout drool. . . reach for a contract. . . and a fountain pen. . . maybe later. . . Quinn had to use that gun on more than one occasion, too. . . that infield was a bit slow and played plenty of tricks on ground balls. . .

Cabalka and Schulz worked a cute trick in the early innings. . . with Badgers on first and third they kept the man off first in enough of a pickle so that the runner on third didn't know which way to turn. . . then, a fast throw to Jack Spencer forced him to make up his mind. . . he was out at the plate, in the proverbial cloud of dust. . . If you want to see more of the same drop out to this afternoon's contest. . . or catch Dick Yoakam's fine broadcast. . . Either way you can't lose. . . that sun is nice, though.

Catchers After Marks

CAMP LEE, Va. (AP)—Several major league catching records, defying time and receivers alike for many years, apparently are as near collapse as Germany's self-styled supermen.

Three veteran receivers who appear to have golden opportunities to write their names in big league record books are Al Lopez, Rick Ferrell, Washington Senators; and Frank Hayes, Philadelphia Athletics.

Lopez, the fiery Latin, is nearing the record for the number of major league contests caught. The present record of 1,790 was set by Leo (Gabby) Hartnett while catching for the Chicago Cubs and New York Giants from 1922 through 1941.

Appearing behind the plate in 1,155 games in 1944, Lopez pushed his total to 1,714 games, only 76 short of Hartnett's mark. Lopez also has a chance to tie the Bill Dickey's record of catching 100 or more games for 13 years. The past season was the Senor's 12th.

Ferrell, like Lopez in his 17th season in the big leagues, needs 104 games, having caught in 1,686 contests. Last year Rick was behind the bat in 96 games.

High School Track—

City Over U-High, West Liberty

Iowa City 77%
University high 64
West Liberty 27%

BY JERRY BLOOM
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

With Tug Wilson taking three firsts and a second place, the Iowa City high school track team overcame an early University high lead to win a triangular meet with the Blue Hawks and West Liberty on the City high track yesterday afternoon.

Eric Wilson Jr., Blue Hawk star, also captured three firsts, and in the mile relay overcame a long lead held by the Hawkslets on the final leg to give U-high another victory in a very close race.

Seven Firsts
Although they captured seven first places of the 16 events, the Hawkslets' victory was due mainly to the fact that reserve strength was stronger than that of the other two schools, since the City high men gathered in seconds, thirds and fourths rapidly to give them an advantage. The Blue Hawks also earned seven firsts, while West Liberty got the other two.

In the only event in which the Wilson of the City high and University high teams, Eric defeated Tug, of the Hawkslets, in the broad jump.

Fine Lineup
Coach Wally Schwank's thin-clads showed a fine lineup of weight and jump competitors, as well as being strongly represented in the hurdles and sprints. West Liberty was strongest in the weight events.

Summaries:
120-yard hurdles—T. Wilson (IC), Blair (WL), Myers (UH), Sayre (UH). Time—17.8.
Half mile relay—University high, West Liberty, Iowa City. Time—1:43.1.

Broad Jump—E. Wilson (UH), Tug Wilson (IC), Brooke (WL), Hartsock (UH). Distance—19 feet, 5 inches.

Gunder Haegg May Remain

NEW YORK (AP)—Haakan Lidman, Swedish hurdler now visiting the United States, will remain in this country until after an appearance at the Penn relays, and Gunder Haegg, his countryman and erstwhile world record holder in the mile, is seeking permission to do the same, it became known yesterday.

Jerry Roth, associate editor of the New York Swedish paper "North Star," said that Haegg had cabled his employer asking for the chance to compete in outdoor meets in this country and that an answer was expected before Monday.

Orville White, Winston-Salem, N. C., shot his second consistent 70 in a row to land in third place. Three players whose winnings on the winter circuit have been scanty were in a deadlock for the next spot with 141's. They were Joe Kinkwood, Philadelphia; Bobby Cruickshank, Richmond, Va.; and Joe Zarhardt, Morristown, Pa.

Slamming Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., and Jug McSpaden of Sanford, Me., runnersup to Nelson after the first round, fell behind yesterday. Sneed, after going out in a ragged 39, recovered with a 34 coming in which gave him a two-day total of 142. McSpaden's 75 landed him in the 144 bracket with several others.

Jimmy Hines of Amsterdam, N. Y., was tied with Sneed at 142. He got a 69 yesterday. Ed Furgol, Hinsdale, Ill., also had a 142 to lead the amateurs.

Nelson started out yesterday with a 33 on the first nine, gathering three birdies and one bogie.

Dodgers May Use Negro Ball Players

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y. (AP)—Pitcher Terris McDuffie and first baseman Dave Thomas, both members of the Negro National Baseball league, arrived in the Brooklyn Dodger camp yesterday but did not show their wares to Manager Leo Durocher because, said club secretary Harold Parrott, the day's program was filled.

Parrott also told the pair today's schedule was filled and that the Brooklyn club intended to inspect Negro baseball players during the summer months.

Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, conferred with the visitors and later said "that I will look at any ball players of any age, color or creed, even Eskimos or members of the cabinet, when I please."

"Does that include Negro players, he was asked.
"Certainly, it does," he replied.

Toronto Wins First Stanley Cup Game

DETROIT (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs, rocking the Detroit Red Wings back on their heels with a tight defense, beat Detroit 1 to 0 in the first game of the Stanley Cup playoff before 13,046 spectators last night.

Byron Nelson Leads Field in Atlanta Iron Lung Golf Tournament

ATLANTA (AP)—Byron Nelson, the Texan who migrated to Toledo, Ohio, took a six stroke lead over the field in the $10,000 Iron Lung golf tournament yesterday as he added a par 69 to Thursday's 64 for a 133 total at the halfway mark.

Sammy Byrd, of Detroit, the former New York Yankee outfielder, slipped into second place with the best round of the day, a four-under-par 65 which gave him 139.

Orville White, Winston-Salem, N. C., shot his second consistent 70 in a row to land in third place. Three players whose winnings on the winter circuit have been scanty were in a deadlock for the next spot with 141's. They were Joe Kinkwood, Philadelphia; Bobby Cruickshank, Richmond, Va.; and Joe Zarhardt, Morristown, Pa.

Slamming Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., and Jug McSpaden of Sanford, Me., runnersup to Nelson after the first round, fell behind yesterday. Sneed, after going out in a ragged 39, recovered with a 34 coming in which gave him a two-day total of 142. McSpaden's 75 landed him in the 144 bracket with several others.

Nelson started out yesterday with a 33 on the first nine, gathering three birdies and one bogie.

Illinois Nine Wins, 4-1

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The University of Illinois baseball team won its first game of the season yesterday, clubbing the Lockbourne air base of Columbus, Ohio, 4 to 1.

Howard (Moose) Judson, Illini pitcher who played right field, copped batting honors, getting a single, double and triple in three times up.

Art Ecklund, sophomore from Peoria, was the winning pitcher, holding the fliers to three hits before he was removed in the eighth inning for Mary Rotblatt, freshman from Von Steuben in Chicago. Corp. John Telford, who hurled the first seven innings for Lockbourne, was the losing pitcher. Both teams play here again today.

H. William Huffman Killed in Action In South Pacific

H. William Huffman, 23, pharmacist's mate second class, was killed in action, probably on Iwo Jima, according to word received here yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huffman, 1030 Muscatine avenue.

Pharmacist's Mate Huffman entered the service June 7, 1942, six months after Pearl Harbor, at Beverly Hills, Calif., and served on an aircraft carrier in the Atlantic in 1943.

Since January, 1944, he has been in the south Pacific, where he had been serving with the Fourth division of the marines in the Marshall islands. He received the Purple Heart award for being wounded on Saipan in July.

A graduate of Iowa City high school, he worked at the Iowa News agency before entering the service.

Besides his parents, Pharmacist's Mate Huffman is survived by four brothers all in the service. George M. is an ordnance machinist's mate second class, stationed in the Pacific. Sergt. Robert E. and Don, boatswain, U.S.N., are also in the Pacific. A fourth brother, Pvt. Kenneth, has been reported as missing in action in France. Mrs. Harold Nandell, a sister, lives in Iowa City.

Prof. Paul R. Olson To Address League Of Women Voters

Prof. Paul R. Olson of the college of commerce will be guest speaker at a meeting of the League of Women Voters Monday noon in the Fellowship room of the Congregational church.

Professor Olson has chosen as his topic "The Bretton Woods Proposals," and his subject will include a discussion of free trade and its relation to a lasting peace. He will also present the kind of monetary arrangement that will necessarily be made in order that the nations can have this free trade.

Election of officers will be held during this meeting, and officers named will be installed at the May meeting.

Chairman of the session will be Mrs. Lyman White. Any woman voter, regardless of whether she is affiliated with the League, is invited to attend. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Everett Hall by this evening.

Local OPA Office Asks for Volunteer Student Workers

A call for volunteer workers to do typing, filing and mailing at the Iowa City office of price administration was made yesterday by L. C. Vanderham of Des Moines, board supervisor of the district office.

"The office could use part-time volunteers who would work an hour or more as often during the week as possible," Vanderham said. "I consider this work as important as Red Cross or war bond drives."

"In some parts of the United States, namely South Dakota, Montana and Albany, N. Y., local offices have received help from university students. This work is advantageous in that one has an opportunity to learn our wartime economy."

Mrs. Edith Jones, chief clerk of the local office, will accept applications of volunteer workers.

Plans Music for Old, Young—

Navy Bandmaster Aims to Please

"BREAKING OUT" their instruments after shipping them from Washington, D. C., are three members of the new navy band, which arrived here last Monday. Taking check is bandmaster William Meyer, Chief Musician in charge of the band. Replacing the old Seahawk band which was detached from this station this week, the new band comprises 45 members, all of whom are returned to this country after varying amounts of sea duty. Pictured above are: Chief Meyer, standing at left; Joseph Lecce, musician first class; Anthony Mazzara, musician first class, and W. S. Macceri, musician second class.

By PAT MOORHEAD Daily Iowan Staff Writer

"We want to be as good as Courtney was," said Chief Bandmaster William Meyer yesterday afternoon with a twinkle in his eye, as he outlined his plans for his 45-piece navy band, which arrived this week to replace the former Seahawk band.

Whipping 45 men just returned from sea duty into an efficient, smoothly performing military band is no small assignment, and Chief Meyer admits that it may take a couple of weeks, but he has complete confidence in the men's ability to do the job, and is already making plans for concerts for his band.

"We not only aim to please the younger generation with 'Beat Me Daddy, Eight to the Bar,'" smiled the genial, graying chief. "We want to play concerts. We will try to satisfy everyone's musical tastes."

Evidence of the "Beat Me, Daddy, Eight to the Bar" type of rhythm that the new band can provide will be the 14-piece dance band which plays tonight for the first time at the junior hostess dance at the USO. On the other side of the musical slate, Chief Meyer would like to play outdoor concerts in the park this summer.

"I've been a musician all my life," Chief Meyer describes himself. He studied in Berlin for four years, and played with the orchestra in the Berlin opera house during that time. His main instrument, flute, he studied under the solo flutist of that orchestra.

The chief was solo flutist with the navy band in Washington, D. C., for eight years. He has been a chief musician since 1930.

He organized the fleet school of music in San Pedro in 1936, on board the USS Oregon. This school was transferred to San Diego in 1940, and Chief Meyer was bandmaster in charge until 1945 when the school was abolished and all navy musical activity taken over by the Washington school of music, under the direction of Lieut. James Thurman. At present about 900 navy musicians are being taken care of by this school.

The Washington school of music is outstanding for its musical library, asserts the chief. "You can be sure to find every book you would like to find up there," he said. "Their musical recording library is alleged to be even more complete than that of the national broadcasting company."

Every member of the new band has seen active sea duty, and wears varying numbers of service ribbons and battle stars. "Everyone can really tell sea stories," remarks Chief Meyer.

Members of the new band are: Coy D. Lowder, John B. Krugh, George S. Page, James R. Young, Ralph W. Gorman, Raymond G. Hodson, Morris D. Evans, James B. Porter, Fred A. Smith, Ralph M. Brevik. Eldon D'Orio, William R. Burns, Anthony Mazzara, Joseph P. Lecce, all musicians first class.

Jose D. Ledesma, Joseph R. Eshelman, Elston, N. Hall, George T. Brown, and George G. Ryan, all musicians third class.

Louis F. Mueller, Shoe Dealer, Dies

Louis F. Mueller, 62, local shoe dealer, died Thursday night at a local hospital after a heart attack. He had been in poor health for several years. He resided at 420 E. Jefferson street.

Mr. Mueller was born in Iowa City Aug. 26, 1882. He was the son of Adam H. and Justina B. Mueller. He attended the Iowa City schools and received a B.A. degree in chemistry from the university. In his senior year he was awarded a prize of Greek scholarship.

After his graduation Mr. Mueller entered the shoe business here.

Surviving are two sisters, Mary and Margaret Mueller, both of Iowa City; one brother, Dr. O. H. Mueller of Los Angeles and Burbank, Calif.; an aunt, Margaret Buttner of Iowa City; four nieces, four nephews and three grandnieces. He was preceded in death by his parents and three brothers, Dr. John G. Mueller, Dr. A. J. Mueller and William T. Mueller.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The rosary will be recited at the home Sunday evening at 7:30.

Episcopalians to Give Barn Party Tonight

Canterbury club, the Episcopal student group, will meet at the Parish house at 5 p. m. today, and from there go to the Lierle's barn for supper and a social evening.

The committee in charge of planning the party includes Ann Gilman, Lynn Kendall and the Rev. Fred W. Putnam.

Children's Emblem Day

Today is emblem day in Iowa City, the annual occasion on which funds are solicited under the sponsorship of the Iowa Children's Home society to help finance work of the society. The group finds homes for normal, dependent children as well as caring for maladjusted children and aiding others through supervision in their own homes. Under the direction of Gladys Briggs and Esther Reinking, a group of boys and girls will sell the emblems.

While the society is private by support, it cooperates closely with county supervisors, child welfare workers, juvenile court judges and individuals throughout the state. Its emblem sale has the approval of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce.

Paper Drive Begins Today

The fourth paper salvage campaign sponsored by the physical education major students will begin this morning.

At 9 o'clock all the physical education majors will meet at the women's gymnasium and will organize into teams according to their classification. These teams will collect waste paper from all campus buildings, which are not regularly serviced.

Waste paper of all kinds is still vitally needed for the war effort. Newspapers, periodicals, old examinations and themes are especially desirable.

The women will start collecting at 9 a. m. and it will facilitate their work if the paper from each department can be ready for them in some central location such as the department office. If any department needs help call the Women's gymnasium and some women will be sent to help.

Due to the splendid cooperation received in the last drive, 5,610 pounds of paper was collected. In the three previous drives the total was 9,400 pounds. It is hoped that with cooperation the total after this drive will be 12,000 pounds.

Dr. J. B. Macelwane Addresses Sigma Xi Initiates at Ceremony

Speaking at the annual initiation ceremony of Sigma Xi, national science fraternity, honoring 62 initiates last night, Dr. James B. Macelwane, S. J., director of the Institute of Geophysical Technology, St. Louis university, addressed the group on "The Interior of the Earth."

Seismologists, using earthquake waves as their 'feelers,' are able to take up where geologists are compelled to leave off, and obtain information about the deeper structures of the earth that will never be visible under the light of day, Dr. Macelwane told the Iowa chapter of the society of Sigma Xi at Hotel Jefferson last night.

"Pure" seismology obtains a sweeping picture of the earth's general structure from surface to center by mathematical studies of earthquake waves. Beneath the relatively thin crust of the earth there is first a 600-mile deep layer of denser material, in which the velocity of earthquake waves increases rapidly with depth. Then comes a layer about 1,100 miles deep, in which speed does not increase so rapidly with depth. Then, after a thin transitional zone, comes the dense inner core of the earth, comprising slightly more than half its diameter, which focuses earthquake waves like a great spherical lens.

"The science of seismology has thrown great light on the buried depths of our planet," Dr. Macelwane explained. "Exploration seismology or seismic prospecting, with its reflection and refraction methods, is capable under favorable circumstances of outlining buried surfaces to a surprisingly high degree of precision down to depths of several miles. Earthquake seismology carried the investigation through the deeper crust into the outer and inner mantle and eventually into the central core of the earth."

Dr. Macelwane described to the group the deep recesses of the earth beneath the outer crust which the study of earthquakes has unveiled. Just under the crustal layers is an outer mantle some 600 miles thick, and under it lies an intermediate shell or inner mantle

Dr. Preston Bradley to Speak at Vespers Sunday Evening in Macbride Auditorium

Dr. Preston Bradley

Coming to Iowa City from his church in Chicago for the last Vespers services of the season, Dr. Preston Bradley will speak on "A Religion for Today" at 8 o'clock, Sunday evening in Macbride auditorium.

Besides being the most popular preacher in Chicago and an author of many books Dr. Bradley is a news commentator, speaking every day for 15 minutes over the Mutual network. He also conducts services over the air every Sunday morning.

The University of Iowa has tried to get Dr. Bradley to come here a number of times, but because he holds Wednesday and Sunday evening services and speaks many other places, it has been unable to get him. After Easter he adjourns his evening services until November.

The topic for Dr. Bradley's talk was chosen out of eight submitted by him to Prof. Marcus Bach's class in "Little Known Religious Groups."

Ordinarily six speakers are brought to the campus each year, but due to war conditions only three were scheduled.

The constant aim of Vespers has been to bring to the Iowa campus

Clerk Issues Four Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses have been issued by the clerk of district court to Russell B. Hobson, 26, of Great Notch, N. J., and Laura M. Sherrill, 32, of Orange, N. J.; Fred M. Brehm, 41, and Roberta E. Duneck, 28, both of Cedar Rapids; Melvin L. Leasher, 21, of Clarion, and Lois M. Buchwalter, 20, of Iowa City, and to Robert S. Fuller, 22, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Alene M. Grinnell, 28, of Iowa City.

Chopped fruits and vegetables should be prepared just before serving, to save all the vitamins.

at least 1,100 miles thick. Following a thin indefinite boundary area is a core with a diameter roughly approximating six-elevenths that of the earth—a core "whose internal structure is still obscure, but which acts, in general, like a special lens focusing the seismic rays that pass directly through it into a bright spot surrounded by a dark band on the opposite face of the earth."

the most outstanding and popular religious speakers in America, clergymen or laymen, at times when they are available.

Vespers has been a regular feature here since the turn of the century. The first long-time chairman was Prof. George W. T. Patrick, former head of the department of philosophy. He retired in 1927. Prof. C. E. Cousins of the romance language department replaced him until 1930. Since that time Prof. M. Willard Lamp, head of the school of religion, has held that position.

Local Boy Delivers— Winning Oration

Ted Gunderson

By CHARLOTTE SLIFE Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Ted Gunderson, City high junior, doesn't look or act like the traditional picture of an orator. He doesn't pound the table or stand on a soapbox.

Nevertheless, the 16-year-old speaker so impressed judges in the state high school forensic tournament with his original oration last week that he came away with first place in that division and a four-year scholarship to the University of Iowa.

Ted's oration was entitled "Begin Here" and concerned racial discrimination. He admits that he didn't try to solve any monumental problems. He just expressed his views on the subject simply and sincerely.

Ted, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gunderson, won't be able to take advantage of that scholarship for awhile yet. He has another year of high school to complete. After that his draft board will probably take care of his future.

Before joining the armed forces Ted would like to get in at least one year of college and eventually major in law or speech. Radio announcing especially appeals to him, and he muses, "I wonder if 10 years from now I'll be doing commercials on 'Life Can Be Beautiful' or 'John's Other Wife.'"

When that inevitable greeting

Newman Club Dinner To Be Held Sunday At Hotel Jefferson

Reservations for 125 dinners are being made for the members of the Newman club, who will hold their annual spring banquet in the Rose room of Hotel Jefferson Sunday at 6 p. m. Students attending the dinner will elect the officers for the coming year.

Mary Jane Zech, A3 of Omaha, Neb., social chairman for the event, has made arrangements for the priests of Iowa City to be special guests. The guest list includes: Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. J. O'Reilly, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Carl Meinberg, Father Edward W. Neuzil, Father Leonard J. Brugman, Father J. Walter McEneaney, Father J. Ryan Beiser and Father Sebastian Menke.

Votes will be cast from the candidates previously chosen by the executive council and subcommittee. Before the voting begins, however, nominations will also be received from the floor. Votes will be cast for president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

Tickets are available until late Sunday afternoon. Those in charge of tickets sales are Maureen McGovern, A1 of Marengo, and Virginia Kelly, A2 of Iowa City.

Leo Cortimiglia, C3 of Iowa City, will play piano music during the dinner hour. Speakers will include Father Beiser, associate professor of religion at the university, and Newman club officers of the past year.

Joe Phelan, D1 of Colfax, is general chairman for the banquet. Bernadette Lyon, A3 of Cedar Falls, is in charge of publicity, and Mary Modesta Monnig of the planning committee.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Dance Fetes Seniors

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity will have its annual spring formal this evening from 9 to 12 in the chapter house. The dance will be dedicated to the members of the graduating class.

Bob Horn and his Avalon orchestra will provide the music. Donald N. Kreymer, A1 of Niota, Ill., is chairman, and Patrick F. Brown, E2 of Waterloo, Hugh S. Ames, A1 of Muscatine, and Robert D. Keppeler, A2 of Dubuque, are on the committee.

Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Coder, Dr. and Mrs. Wendell Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David Ambruster, and Mrs. Hazel B. Miller. William Hindman, grand secretary of Sigma Phi Epsilon, is visiting at the chapter house this week.

The alumni board and Dean C. Woolly Thompson and daughter were guests at the chapter house Wednesday night for dinner and Dr. Walter Daykin of the college of commerce was a dinner guest Tuesday night.

from the president arrives, Ted thinks he'd like to be in the air corps. His brother, Jerry, joined this branch of the service after a semester in college. An aerial gunner, Jerry has been listed as missing in action over Germany since August.

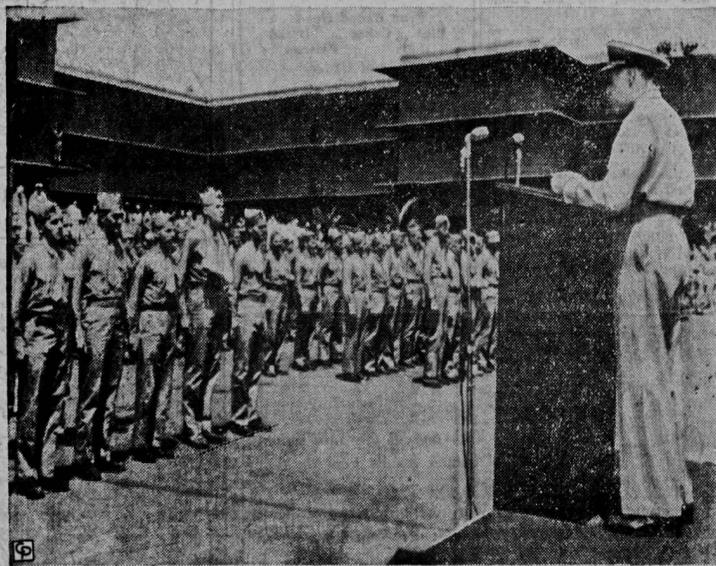

Asked for his expert opinion on the military situation right now, Ted believes that the war with Germany will be over before school is out, but that Japan will keep us busy for months or years.

Congenial, sincere, Ted is a very busy and well-liked fellow at City high. His interest in speaking as more than just jaw exercise began in his freshman year when he moved here from Omaha. Ted's development in forensics since then has been guided by Miss Lola Hughes, dramatics coach at City high. Characteristically, Ted gives her most of the credit for his success.

As for his preference in speech work, Ted doesn't like extemporaneous speaking. He likes to give a subject plenty of thought and then get up and talk "straight to people."

Besides belonging to G.O.G., forensic group, and Paint and Patches at City high, Ted goes out for both track and football.

HONOR MARINES WHO FOUGHT FOR IWO JIMA

MEMBERS OF THE THIRD, FOURTH AND FIFTH Marine divisions, who were wounded at Iwo Jima, are pictured above at the U. S. Naval hospital at Aiea Heights, near Honolulu, where they received Purple Heart awards. Nearly 1,600 Marines received awards at the impressive ceremony. About 900 of the wounded men were unable to be present for the outdoor ceremony because of the seriousness of their wounds, so high-ranking officers visited the wards to make the presentations. Presentation address was made by deputy commander in chief of the Pacific fleet and Pacific ocean areas, Vice Adm. John H. Towers, shown above at right. U. S. Navy photograph.
