Berlin Falls to Soviet Forces

Nazi Forces in Italy, West Austria Surrender

Army of 1,000,000 Capturates Allies Near German "Redoubt"

Rome (AP) - The German and Austrian armies began the evacuation of their remaining forces in Northern Italy today, following 10 days of bitter fighting with Allied troops. German military leaders in Rome announced the withdrawal of the last remaining forces in the north, clearing the way for the advance of Soviet forces into Austria.

The German evacuation was announced by General Hans von Vietinghoff, who told President Truman that the German forces had been completely isolated and were in the process of surrendering. The Allied forces, led by General Eisenhower, have been advancing steadily into Northern Italy, capturing key cities and driving the Germans back towards the Austrian border.

The surrender of German forces in Italy is a major victory for the Allies, who have been putting pressure on the Axis powers from all sides. The fall of Austria, however, will likely lead to further resistance from German forces in the region.

Nazi Germany Surrender

The greatest city ever to fall in the hands of the Allies is Berlin, as the Soviet forces move closer to the German capital. The city has been subjected to relentless air raids, and the last remaining German troops are said to be in a state of panic.

Red Cross Composer

A Red Cross composer has been captured by the Allies and is being held for questioning. The composer, known only as "A," is said to be responsible for several works of music that have been played on the radio, encouraging resistance to the Allies.

Blackout in Berlin

Berlin has been plunged into darkness as the Soviet forces move closer to the city. The blackout has been caused by the destruction of power lines and the inability of the city to supply electricity.

East Germany Falls

East Germany has fallen to the Allies, who have been advancing steadily through the region. The fall of East Germany is a major victory for the Allies, who have been putting pressure on the Soviet Union from all sides.
