THE NAVY AIRCRAFT CARRIER U. S. S. SARATOGA fought through three years and three months without suffering an enemy bomb hit. But on Feb. 21, 1945, her luck ran out fast. Operating off the coast of Iwo Jima the veteran flatop sustained seven Jap hits but her crew battled the flames in spite of the havoc wreaked and resumed operation to bring the carrier back to Puget Sound navy pier at Bremerton, Wash., under her own power. She was pronounced the "most extensively damaged vessel" ever received at the yard. This is an official United States navy photo.

Big 3 to Meet In Berlin

Attlee First Reveals Conference Site In Letter to Churchill

LONDON (AP)—The Big Three victory meeting will be held in Berlin, ruined capital of the dead German Reich, an announcement from Prime Minister Churchill's official residence at No. 10 Downing street said last night.

A spokesman said a date had not been fixed for the meeting, but Brendan Bracken, first lord of the admiralty, said in a speech last night that the meeting would be held "at the very time votes are being counted" in Britain's general election.

That would place it between July 5, the date of the election, and July 26, when the results are to be announced.

The first revelation that Churchill, President Truman and Marshal Stalin would meet in Berlin came in an exchange of letters between Churchill and Britain's Labor party leader, Clement Attlee.

The White House in Washington later confirmed that the meeting would take place in the vicinity of Berlin. White House press secretary Charles G. Ross, who made the announcement, said he could not give out anything on the date of the meeting.

Attlee, in accepting Churchill's offer to attend the conference as a "friend and counselor," let out the secret of the parley site by using the phrase "prospective conference in Berlin" in his letter to the prime minister.

While the date of the meeting remained a secret, Churchill stated Thursday that it would be before July 26.

Attlee, former deputy prime minister in Churchill's coalition government and present leader of the Labor opposition, lifted the lid in a letter which was the result of a question raised as to his role in the Big Three discussions.

Harold Laski, Labor party chairman, said Thursday night that Attlee should attend only in the role of observer without binding the Labor party on any decisions taken.

Churchill, who previously had announced in parliament that he was inviting Attlee to accompany him to the meeting, in a letter to Attlee yesterday made plain that the government would "of course be responsible for all decisions."

Osaka in Flames From B-29 Assault

Le May Says Further Raids on Industrial City May Be Unnecessary

GUAM, Saturday (AP)—Osaka was in flames today from what may have been a knockout blow such as the commander of the Superforts says already has been dealt to two of Japan's five key cities.

After a near-record force of 520 Superfortresses unloaded 3,000 tons of incendiaries on Osaka Friday (Japanese date), Maj. Gen. Curtis Le May said further raids on this greatest of all Japan's industrial cities might be unnecessary.

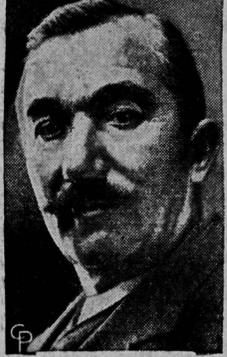

One of the big bombers failed to return, 210th airforce headquarters in Washington announced.

The chief of the 21st bomber command declared that his giant raiders already were well on their way toward the destruction of the five cities which Gen. H. H. Arnold on his visit here said yesterday would have to be razed to rob Japan of the power to resist.

Yokohama and Kobe are "gone" as far as industrial targets of interest to the bombardiers is concerned.

Nagoya has only a few more targets to be erased.

Invited to Moscow

REORGANIZATION of the provisional government of Poland and possible final settlement of the critical dispute may result from a meeting in Moscow, which opened yesterday. Allied Experts Question Von Ribbentrop After His Arrest in Hamburg Room

MONTGOMERY'S HEADQUARTERS, Germany (AP)—Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, a thousand high Nazi secrets hidden in his once-facile brain, was questioned last night by allied experts at General Eisenhower's headquarters at Frankfurt on the Main.

British military detectives who traced the fugitive diplomat to a rented room in Hamburg and arrested him as he lay sleeping nude Thursday morning, a phial of poison hidden on his body, sent him off by plane from Lueneberg yesterday for questioning.

The silver-haired former champagne salesman, whose capture resulted from a tip by the son of a Hamburg wine merchant who had refused to conceal von Ribbentrop, was sharing his hideaway with a 35-year-old brunette divorcee, allied officials disclosed.

Von Ribbentrop was quoted as telling his captors he was on a "mission from the dead fuhrer."

The son of the wine merchant, British investigators said, became suspicious about the mysterious stranger who visited his father's shop so often and told British military police he believed he was von Ribbentrop. The raid followed.

Von Ribbentrop was said to have adopted a stoical attitude after a hysterical scene early yesterday when his sister, also arrested by the British, identified him before British officers.

Arresting officers found and confiscated three letters addressed from the Nazi foreign minister to Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and "Wincent Churchill." Their contents were not disclosed.

Thorough Study Of Hartford's 1942 Tax Return Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of the house ways and means committee said yesterday he had ordered a thorough study of the 1942 income tax return of John Hartford, reported to have lost $196,000 loaned to Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt.

"I want to see whether the revenues of the government are being properly protected," Doughton said.

He told newspaper men he had directed Colin F. Stam, chief of the congressional staff of tax experts, to examine Hartford's 1942 return in which he is reported to have sought a tax reduction on $196,000 lost on a $200,000 loan to the late president's second son.

Knutson said Stam will report back to the ways and means committee on his study of Hartford's return, and the committee then will make up its mind whether any further investigation is needed.

War Department Backs Postwar Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The war department threw its full force into the congressional fight for compulsory peacetime military training yesterday.

Secretary Stimson stressed the view that quickly available force is its own insurance against the need to use force, and that it would represent American determination to make peace work.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower based arguments for peacetime training on the greater tactical effectiveness, and personal chances for survival, of troops who know their business of war.

Their testimony before the house postwar military policy committee was backed up by that of other high-ranking officers who saw both military and moral value in a year of training for every youth.

OPA Tightens Sugar Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The OPA clamped the lid on the sugar bowl even tighter yesterday with sharp reductions in the July-September allotments to industrial users.

The cut gives the biggest segment of commercial users, such as ice cream and bottled beverage producers, bakeries and cereal manufacturers, 37 1/2 per cent less sugar than they received in the third quarter of 1944.

Coming in the wake of cuts in household, restaurant and home canning rations, the industrial reductions are necessary to bring sugar use in line with limited supplies, OPA said.

Commercial canners of fruit also are affected. They will receive an average of 20 per cent less sugar than a year ago.

Faring best were pharmaceutical firms, which take an eight per cent reduction from April-June.

Price Administrator Bowles said the curtailed allotments mean the end of extra heavy syrup for canned fruits. He added, however, that this will not mean less canned fruit, since lighter syrups can be used.

Des Moines Cafes Plan Meatless Days, Butter for Breakfast

DES MOINES (AP)—Institution of meatless Wednesdays and Fridays and elimination of butter at noon and evening meals were proposed yesterday by a group of Des Moines restaurant operators, meeting under the auspices of the Iowa Restaurant association, as recommendations to state restaurant groups.

The two resolutions were passed after "meatless July" and general closing of restaurants had been discussed. A resolution calling for taking sugar bowls off the tables was dropped.

Paul H. Martin, secretary of the Iowa Restaurant association, said that most of the restaurants in Iowa have had to resort to the black market, against their will. OPA admits that it is unable to control it, he asserted.

Yanks Overrun Plateau Area

Seventh Infantry Starts Closing Pincers On Escarpment

GUAM, Saturday (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner Jr. predicted today that the 77-day-old Okinawa campaign will be wound up by his advancing 10th army within a week.

He expressed the belief as his divisions, tearing to pieces the last stand line of the Japanese at the southern tip of Yaegu escarpment, overrun a fourth of its plateau area.

A fleet communication today reported that Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley's 96th division, which captured 500-foot-high Yaegu peak Thursday, overrun several hundred yards in the plateau's center yesterday. Tanks and flamethrowers led the way.

At the same time, Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold's Seventh Infantry division, curling in the eastern end of a pincers behind the escarpment, moved ahead 700 yards through Nipponese strong-points.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said the 10th army, "irresistibly tearing to pieces the enemy's last stand positions despite the rugged terrain, brought heavy pressure on the center and eastern flanks."

On the west, where the First marine division seized Kunishi ridge, Japanese opposition held up the leathernecks, who strengthened their positions under heavy fire from Yuza hill.

Winding up their victory on Oroku peninsula, the Sixth marine division devils took 145 Nipponese prisoners yesterday.

For the third straight day, Admiral Nimitz reported a complete absence of the enemy aircraft suicide attacks which had hitherto been so persistent.

Enemy suicides were increasing daily. Infantry charging over the hills and ravines strode across the bodies of scores of Japanese, many of whom had committed hara kiri.

Maj. Gen. Pedro A. Del Valle, commanding the First marine division, declared it was possible the end might come by Sunday "if we could hit their command post" from which orders apparently have gone to fight to the last.

Truman to Address Closing Session Of Conference June 23

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman hopes to address the United Nations conference closing session Saturday, June 23, the White House announced yesterday.

In a statement released simultaneously by the White House and the United States delegation at San Francisco it was said that the conference "is making a real effort to wind up its business by end of next week and it is hoped that President Truman will be able to address the conference on Saturday, June 23.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the president will fly to Olympia, Wash., next Tuesday or Wednesday, probably Tuesday, to be the guest of Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, and fly from Olympia to San Francisco the day before his speech.

He will return to Washington June 24, if the conference closes the day before, and remain here until June 27.

CALCUTTA (AP)—Japanese troops have thrown repeated attacks against British positions in the area east of Prome in southern Burma, and have been beaten off in each assault with heavy losses, a southeast Asia communique announced yesterday.

New York Harbor Bottled Up for 2 Days

Navy Reveals Nazi Submarine Activity During 1942-1943

WASHINGTON (AP)—German submarines ranging the United States east coast at the peak of the U-boat campaign in 1942 and 1943 planted mines so effectively that major ports, including New York City, were closed to ocean traffic for brief periods.

Revealing this yesterday, the navy said five mines were swept from the entrance to New York harbor between Nov. 13 and 31, 1942, and from Nov. 13 to 15 the port was completely bottled up, with no traffic moving in or out.

The entrance to Chesapeake bay, gateway to the ports of Norfolk and Newport News, Va., and Baltimore, Md., was twice closed to traffic, once from June 16 to 17, 1942, and again from Sept. 12 to 14, 1942. Before the Chesapeake bay area was closed the first time, four vessels had been damaged or sunk by what were believed to be submarine-placed mines.

Also closed at various times as a result of enemy planted mines were Jacksonville, Fla.; Charleston, S. C.; and Wilmington, Del. These were all closed for brief periods in the fall of 1942, and Charleston again was closed for two days in September, 1943.

Five enemy mines were swept by mine craft outside Chesapeake bay in June, 1942, and seven in September, 1942.

Four were swept outside Delaware bay in June, 1942, and a fifth was exploded in that vicinity by the large tugboat John R. Williams, which was so badly damaged it sank.

In addition, the navy disclosed, 10 enemy mines were swept at the entrance to the Panama canal in the vicinity of Colon, and four swept off Port Castries, Santa Lucia, British West Indies.

British, Indians To Meet June 25

LONDON, Saturday (AP)—The British government announced yesterday that a British-Indian conference has been set for June 25 at Simla to discuss Britain's offer of additional posts for Indians in the Indian government.

An Associated Press dispatch from Bombay said later that Mahomed Ali Jinnah, Moslem league president, pledging the Moham-medans' cooperation and good will, had asked that the conference be postponed for two weeks to permit fuller discussion of the situation by the league's executive committee.

In New Delhi, it was said the British government might agree to a different plan or even to a final solution of the constitutional problem if the Simla conferees unanimously agree on one.

18 Killed, 32 Injured In Collision

Australians Seize Timbalai Airstrip

MILTON, Pa. (AP)—Eighteen were killed and 32 injured in a nightmarish collision early today between the dominion express and a freight train thrown into its path by a broken journal.

(Eight members of a section gang were killed by the New York Central Water Level limited a few hours later near Amsterdam, N. Y.)

The 14-car Washington-to-Buffalo express thundered at 55 miles an hour into the 34th car of the freight train.

No warning was possible as the locomotive ploughed into the freight car, knocking 20 other freight cars from the tracks and pulling seven cars behind it off the rails in grotesque pileups.

As the din of the crash subsided, the screams of passengers injured and trapped rose from the smashed coaches. Passengers aboard seven sleeping cars which remained on the tracks were shaken but joined rescue efforts.

Dewey to Confer June 25 With Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will confer with President Truman at the White House at 10 a. m., June 25, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross announced yesterday.

Ross' announcement followed a disclosure some weeks ago that the 1944 Republican presidential nominee and former Gov. Alf M. Landon, 1936 nominee, had been invited to call on the president any time they are in Washington.

Automatic Revision Plan Defeated—Large Powers Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Great powers squeezed out a victory yesterday when a United Nations conference committee rejected a plan for automatic revision of a new world charter within five to 10 years.

On a critical showdown on perhaps the toughest issue left in the conference, a big majority of nations favored a Canadian-Brazilian proposal for a conversation to overhaul the charter no sooner than five and no later than 10 years after it goes into effect. But they failed by a narrow margin to roll up the necessary two-thirds ballot.

Delegates reported the vote was 28 for the revision plan, 17 against.

The committee still had to act on a counter-proposal of big powers for a provision for reviewing the charter later, without specifying a time limit, and with the right reserved for them to approve or reject any changes.

Labuan Cleared; 37th Division Drives Into Cagayan Valley

MANILA, Saturday (AP)—The 37th Ohio division, in a spectacular smash out of the mountains of northern Luzon, rolled 72 miles deep into the broad Cagayan valley in a single day, while Australian troops pressing the invasion of Borneo cleared Labuan island and captured Timbalai airstrip.

General MacArthur's headquarters disclosed the sudden thrust of the Buckeyes on Luzon as the highlight of successes on all the active southwest Pacific fronts.

At last free of the gorge-like confines of highway No. 5, Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's division raced 22 miles between Wednesday afternoon and Thursday night and liberated the important valley towns of Santiago and Echague, as 1,200 Japanese dead were added to the casualty list on all Luzon fronts.

There are now no major obstacles ahead of the veteran mechanized infantrymen until they reach the Cagayan river crossing at Naguillian, 27 miles northeast of their present positions in the broad, 100-mile valley that runs north to the sea.

Simultaneously, elements of the United States Sixth division drove five miles north in the mountains along highway No. 4.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP)—General Eisenhower yesterday forecast continued harmony with Russia, and told a press conference there was nothing in his experience with Russians that led him to doubt the western allies could cooperate with them perfectly.

"The individual Russian," the supreme commander added, "is one of the friendliest persons in the world."

Eisenhower told correspondents: 1.—The allied control council will be a success as the over-all governing body of Germany, although peace problems are slow of solution;

2.—Adolf Hitler, "if not dead, must be undergoing the worst possible punishment . . . to be hunted in disguise and underground;"

Lower Tariffs, a Necessity—

Hopes for a postwar world in which there will be plenty of jobs and a high level of income suffered a sharp blow Thursday when a senate committee killed a proposal to allow the president to reduce tariffs another 50 percent in negotiating trade agreements with other countries.

Senator George, chairman of the finance committee, predicted however, that the tariff reduction provision would be restored to the Doughton bill when it reaches the floor. AND IF THE SENATE IS IN ERNEST ABOUT 60 MILLION JOBS AFTER THE WAR, THE PROVISION MUST BE RESTORED.

Sixty million jobs after the war is a big order. And it almost certainly is an order that can not be filled unless the United States enjoys a good foreign market. Tariff policies are an important field to consider in connection with our sports.

Just what is our foreign trade problem? We certainly will be able to offer a great opportunity of products. The demand for our goods should be greater than ever before because war-ravaged Europe and Asia will have almost endless needs to be filled. Their own damaged factories will be unable to meet these demands, so foreign nations will, of necessity, turn to the United States.

And in the early stages of the postwar era, we will easily be able to outstrip foreign competition. But after the postwar era, what then? In order to continue buying from us, other nations will have to sell us some of their goods. THEY CAN SELL TO US ONLY IF OUR TARIFFS ARE NOT EXORBITANT.

When an exporting nation like the United States creates a tariff such as the Hawley-Smoot act of 1930 set up, dislocations begin to occur. Other nations retaliate by raising high tariff walls against our goods.

Great Britain went even further. A system of preferential treatment for her empire was established. High foreign tariffs mean the United States exporter must either absorb the added charges at the risk of his profit or must raise his prices. The latter course puts him at a disadvantage in competition for the foreign market.

There are two ways by which the United States can regain foreign markets lost because of high tariffs. We can promote a world-wide reduction of tariffs by first cutting our own, or we can lead to foreign nations so that they will have money with which to buy from us.

We followed the latter course for several years after the Hawley-Smoot act. THE NET EFFECT WAS THAT WE GAVE AWAY OUR REAL WEALTH.

In order to alleviate this situation, Cordell Hull in 1934 sponsored the reciprocal trade agreements program to reverse the upward trend of our tariff policy. The act authorized the president to make trade agreements with other nations. He could reduce the 1930 duties by 50 percent, bind existing rates against increase and guarantee to keep duty free items on the free list.

The other nation made comparable reductions. One clause provided that concessions made by the United States to one country be extended to any other country which did not discriminate against our commerce.

Results of the reciprocal program have been good. Thirty-two agreements have been made with 28 countries. These agreements cover 43 percent of our international commerce.

The reciprocal trade agreement act expired Tuesday, however. A clause was added to the Doughton bill to extend the act for three years. The Doughton bill would authorize a 50 percent reduction on all tariffs in effect January 1, 1945.

THUS, IF THE DOUGHTON BILL PASSES, THE PRESIDENT COULD IN EFFECT MAKE TO REDUCTIONS — OF 50 PERCENT EACH — ON THE 1930 DUTIES WHICH WERE THE HIGHEST IN OUR HISTORY.

More than that, it would enable the United States to put into practice its oft-stated willingness to help improve international economic relations. It would be concrete proof that we are ready to abandon the disastrous tariffs which were largely responsible for stifling world trade.

Beyond even that, passage of the Doughton bill means a step toward creation of 60 million jobs. That goal almost certainly can not be achieved if industry must rely on a domestic market alone.

Expansion of our foreign market means expansion along many lines of our industry. And now is an opportune time for the United States to begin this expansion.

European industry is, at the moment, at nearly a total standstill. Even England, which was less weakened than any other of the larger powers, must spend much of its energy repairing its ravaged industries at home and in India.

Russia certainly will be unable to compete for the foreign markets. Even before the war she was sorely pressed to fill her own needs. Now she must double her efforts.

The time for seizing a desirable portion of the foreign market is ripe. It is time to think about 60 million jobs.

The presentation of the new reciprocal trade agreements act presents a test of our willingness to translate words into action. Better international economic relations and 60 million jobs can not be talked into existence.

It's Easier the Second Time—

It is easier to get a second wife (or husband, as the case may be) than it is to get the first one—assuming you'd want a second, of course.

Take a divorcee of 30 for instance. The chances of remarriage are no less than 94 in 100. (These women must realize what a good thing they get when they get a man.)

Brazil's 1944 Trade Reaches New Record

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's import-export trade in 1944 was the greatest in its history, says the council of foreign commerce in reporting a favorable balance for the year of about $143,068,400.

The 1944 exports, 76 per cent of which went to the United States and other American countries, totaled $536,325,450. Imports, 83 per cent of them American-supplied, totaled $393,257,050.

Paul Mallon

—Peacetime Draft

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—Great hopes are daily expressed for new San Francisco results to establish genuine peace.

The air is filled with fresh efforts and advice to design a living relationship with Russia.

The world is struggling toward peace across the front pages these days with problems of Poland, veto powers, world courts and small nations.

But the soundest commentary on how much has been accomplished—how far we have been able to go—lies behind a one-sentence report that Navy Secretary James Forrestal has been at the White House several times lately.

It can be said the navy is working up a new program for postwar defense power and the authorities from the top down (and I mean the White House as well as the navy department) already have decided there is not to be much economy in their naval planning.

Details well may come into the category of secrets and legitimately are subject to voluntary censorship. Yet it is no secret this nation will wind up this war with a navy much stronger than the combined fleets afloat in all other nations.

I published sometime back an estimate that our navy would be 5 to 1 over Britain by the end. Since then the British have gone into warship building, I understand. But the estimate still holds good, at least as a broad numerical picture of our relative prospective power on the high seas.

Ours will be even more than a two-ocean navy, and with its great acceleration in flying power, already is measured by some experts, as a three-ocean force. (You can name the third ocean.)

Two good naval bases in the Philippines also are being provided by naval authorities. Maryland's Senator Tydings, who has returned from a Pacific trip, says the Filipinos are anxious for us to have these and any others we want, in view of their disastrous experience from the Japanese invasion.

A good many senators also want to see us get the Jap island bases in the Pacific, and they have their eye especially on Truk (which we have not yet captured.)

This is in the trusteeship mill at San Francisco—the operation of which might well be observed from now on, in the light of the established prospect that our navy is to be larger than all others combined and must therefore weigh the responsibility of the seas on her prow.

The hearings of the special house committee on the youth draft proposals of the army also might be classified by some as a classic commentary on how far we have been able to go in the struggle toward peace—but this is an entirely different proposition.

In the first place, Mr. Truman has said nothing about it. Questions at press conferences as to whether he favored the army program to take every boy away from his home for a year in the army, have brought no commitment (Mr. Roosevelt favored the plan.)

In the second place, congress is paying but little attention to the Woodrum hearings. They are generally considered as an airing of pent-up steam on a high-running subject. No action is expected any time soon.

Some publicity impetus may have been furnished by Russia's decision to draft even boys down to 14 and 15 years for similar training, although few of the legislators are inclined to measure our needs against Russia's, or fall into the despairing anticipations of such a conflict.

I think there is a reasonable general official viewpoint here on that subject, which does not expect war, sincerely wants a living arrangement which will establish peace, but also wants American defense.

The Woodrum hearings thus far have developed only two sides to the youth draft question, the army's and the side of those who are against any military training. A third unheard side advocates the best possible military training under democratic methods, without a draft and without removing the boys from their homes.

It would build up the national guard into a real guard of the nation, give it tanks, planes and money; move military education into the schools, both high schools and colleges; give each section of the country an Annapolis and a West Point of its own, and otherwise promote the democratic methods of raising and maintaining whatever defense force is necessary.

ANOTHER WAR MACHINE THAT NEEDS DEMOBILIZING

Saves Marine Raiders— Daring Submarine

By MURLIN SPENCER

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—On the little Pacific island of Makin a marine in jungle green was praying and off shore the United States submarine Nautilus was firing on a range given by a son of the president of the United States.

The guns of the Nautilus, firing almost blindly, sank a Japanese transport and enabled Col. Evans F. Carlson and his marine raiders to complete their job and come home.

Much of the success of the now historic Makin island raid, one of the most daring of this war, was because of the American submarine with a brilliant career, a part of which now can be told.

Capt. (then commander) William H. Brockman of Groton, Conn., packed every available inch of space on the Nautilus with specially-trained marines and set out for Makin. A second submarine carried additional marine fighting men.

The plan was to put the marines ashore for a single day in a paralyzing, surprise attack designed to create as much havoc as possible, bring back information and possibly prisoners—there were no live Japanese left when the marines finally looked around for prisoners—and throw a scare into the Japanese army and navy.

"We had to herd them in pretty tight," recalled Brockman. "We got them up on deck in the mornings, afternoons and at night to exercise them and to let them practice on the dark deck of the submarine the maneuvers they would have to undergo when we reached our objective."

The morning of the attack was black and wet, but quietly and efficiently the marines lowered their rubber boats over the side and jumped in. They were anxious to go, so anxious they left Colonel Carlson aboard the sub and "we had a hell of a time getting a boat to come back and pick him up."

The attack went off exactly according to plan—until a transport was sighted in the lagoon. Brockman is modest about the point, but the transport is believed to have held enough Japanese to have made the situation critical for the comparative handful of marines.

Major James Roosevelt, son of the president, was ashore and in "walkie-talkie" communication with the submarine. He told of the hazard, and gave a range. Then the walkie-talkie faded out and never was heard again. A marine non-com saw the transport, too, and later told how he worried because "if the ship landed reinforcements we would have no chance. Then I heard the sub's guns."

Given a preliminary range, even though they could not see the transport, the submarine gunners swept the lagoon, being careful to keep from placing their shells among the marines.

And then on the shore the marine: "I gave a silent prayer of thanks for the destruction of this ship because without its destruction I am sure we could not have escaped."

A patrol craft also was sunk at the same time, and the marines carried out their campaign of destruction. Offshore the Nautilus and the second submarine waited to take them off.

They waited while the marines struggled to get their little boats through a pounding surf. Many of the boats capsized and then the Japanese planes came and the sub was forced to submerge. Back it came and the marines paddled away from shore, carrying their wounded. They could not bury their dead, but each dead marine was left with his face looking toward the sky and the natives were given money and told to bury them.

For 36 hours the Nautilus' doctor operated on the more seriously wounded marines, but they came home.

Radio Tokyo claims that B-29 bombings of the Japanese capital have given that city a "new and gallant figure." Just wait, Suzuki, old boy, until you see how we are going to really streamline the place.

Stimson Kills Marshall Retirement Rumor—

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press News Analyst

It hardly needed the squelching by Secretary Stimson of rumors of impending retirement of Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, to convince observers that he will fill that all important post for the duration of the war with Japan.

Marshall is too important a cog in the American war machine to be spared at the half-way mark even if he had a desire to step out, which is improbable. The admiration and respect in which President Roosevelt held him is fully shared by President Truman. His judgment and professional qualifications also greatly impressed Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin in their contacts with him when the high strategy of the war in Europe that has brought total victory over Germany was being shaped.

It is probable, too, that Marshall shares more or less the known views of so many of his fellow officers including General MacArthur that the Pacific is the ocean of destiny for the United States. Couple with that the bitter memories of all army, navy and air corps personnel of that black day at Pearl Harbor and it is hardly possible Marshall would like to quit before Japan has been brought to heel.

With all that said, however, the other phase of the rumor of his possible retirement—and its probable starting point—still stands. It was to the effect that General Eisenhower would succeed him as chief of staff when Marshall retired. That is a highly logical conclusion and there is precedent for it.

Eisenhower is young enough, 10 years Marshall's junior. Like General Pershing it is apt to fall to his lot to supervise the preparation of a report on army operations in Europe and include in it recommendations based on military lessons learned there for the future organization of the American military establishment. And like Pershing, he would be the logical man to head the army as chief of staff in the postwar period when it is being refashioned in the light of war experience and its continuing missions on both sides of the world or under the commitments to be involved in the world security pact taking shape in San Francisco.

Tom Clark, Lawyer With High Reputation, Good Cabinet Choice

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—When President Truman appointed lanky, young Texan Tom C. Clark attorney general, he was putting another fellow "on the spot."

It seems to be a game President Truman enjoys; perhaps because the tragic circumstances that elevated him to the presidency put him very much on the spot.

The reason, however, that Tom Clark is there is that he has a reputation for winning every case he takes. This, of course isn't true; but his record really is remarkable. As civil attorney for Dallas county, he scored practically 100 per cent.

Eight years ago, he came into the government as attorney for the department of justice. He has since held more jobs than you could throw a gavel at, including anti-criminal division, and such complicated matters as reallocating the Japanese living on the west coast after Pearl Harbor. His record is still 90-plus per cent and Clark is all modesty, not braggadocio, when he says simply: "Well, I never take a case unless I think I can win."

Tom Clark comes from a family of lawyers, both by birth and by marriage. His father, William H. Clark, came from Mississippi but made his mark at the bar and the bank in Dallas.

Young Tom finished high school in 1917 and his father sent him to Virginia Military Institute. A year later, he was in the national guard, and served a month as sergeant before the armistice.

(Note: One more army man that President—Captain Harry, of World War I—Truman has appointed to key government jobs.)

After that, Clark went to the University of Texas at Austin to pick up his law degree. It was there that he met Mary Ramsey, whose dad was Judge William F. Ramsey of Cleburne. They were married in 1924. There are two children.

Aside from his record as a winning lawyer, the thing you most often hear about Tom Clark in Washington is that "he's the friendliest guy in town."

The thing that lawyers harp on is that Tom Clark is a lawyer. This isn't really a complaint against his predecessor. The point they make is that Clark is a lawyer's lawyer. That's why he's on the spot. If the lawyers knock him down, he will have plenty tough sledding.

That doesn't worry Tom Clark much. It shouldn't. His idea is if it's worth taking, it can be won. That's why he's on the spot. If he comes even close to 90 per cent on department of justice cases, he will be far ahead of those who preceded him. Observers here are asking now: "What you want to bet he won't?"

I wouldn't bet. Tom Clark has the magic legal touch, but he also has one of the toughest assignments to date. As WMC Paul V. McNutt once told me, "Where else can you make more enemies than prosecuting in the department of justice?"

Dr. Robert Neff Tells Masonic Service Club Of New Plans for Organized Medicine

Dr. Robert E. Neff, administrator of the University Hospitals, told members of the Masonic Service club yesterday about the fast-developing phase of organized medicine.

"The Blue Cross plan for hospitalization has proved most successful," claimed Dr. Neff. "It is a plan whereby deductions are made on a person's payroll—much like prepaid insurance. Then when that person becomes ill all he has to do is to present his certificate, and his hospital bills are paid, that is, within a certain limit."

There are approximately 17,000,000 people who have taken advantage of this plan, and the number of members is increasing. "At first, there was suspicion felt by many persons, but since workers have been solicited in rural communities, the results have been successful," Dr. Neff said.

Dr. Neff explained that Iowa has a Blue Cross plan which is coordinated with the plans of other states and the benefits are uniform. "In Johnson county," said Dr. Neff, "workers have found that there has been successful reception of the plan."

Now, physicians are adopting similar plans which are built on the same fundamental principles, according to Dr. Neff. These plans guarantee the person the aid of a physician as well as hospitalization and the two schemes are developing hand in hand.

"Many people thought earlier that these plans were one more step toward government control of medicine. On the contrary, they are really a step away from it for the plans give the individual an opportunity to pay for his own medical care rather than having to accept aid from the federal government," Dr. Neff explained.

Dr. Neff went on to say that several attempts have been made by governmental committee to hit upon a plan of federal aid rather than government control. The Hill-Burton bill, he said, which proposed recently a large fund of $100,000,000 for grant aids to enlarge hospital facilities on a more satisfactory geographical distribution, did not prove successful.

"However," Dr. Neff said, "in the social security bill amendments of 1945 which appropriated funds for hospital facilities where there is a real need were more satisfactory. As a result, study commissions from each state have been appointed. These commissions go into communities and study their need for more and better facilities, and if a community can prove that its need is great enough, it is granted the facilities."

Governor Robert D. Blue of Iowa has appointed such a committee which is now at work. The facts collected are uniform with those of other states and the work is carried out under the auspices of the local people, according to Dr. Neff.

"I would like to commend the war production board and the ration board for their consideration of the hospitals and the stress they have put on the need for supplies," said Dr. Neff.

Dr. Robert Neff Tells Masonic Service Club Of New Plans for Organized Medicine

Dr. Robert E. Neff, administrator of the University Hospitals, told members of the Masonic Service club yesterday about the fast-developing phase of organized medicine.

"The Blue Cross plan for hospitalization has proved most successful," claimed Dr. Neff. "It is a plan whereby deductions are made on a person's payroll—much like prepaid insurance. Then when that person becomes ill all he has to do is to present his certificate, and his hospital bills are paid, that is, within a certain limit."

There are approximately 17,000,000 people who have taken advantage of this plan, and the number of members is increasing. "At first, there was suspicion felt by many persons, but since workers have been solicited in rural communities, the results have been successful," Dr. Neff said.

Dr. Neff explained that Iowa has a Blue Cross plan which is coordinated with the plans of other states and the benefits are uniform. "In Johnson county," said Dr. Neff, "workers have found that there has been successful reception of the plan."

Now, physicians are adopting similar plans which are built on the same fundamental principles, according to Dr. Neff. These plans guarantee the person the aid of a physician as well as hospitalization and the two schemes are developing hand in hand.

"Many people thought earlier that these plans were one more step toward government control of medicine. On the contrary, they are really a step away from it for the plans give the individual an opportunity to pay for his own medical care rather than having to accept aid from the federal government," Dr. Neff explained.

Dr. Neff went on to say that several attempts have been made by governmental committee to hit upon a plan of federal aid rather than government control. The Hill-Burton bill, he said, which proposed recently a large fund of $100,000,000 for grant aids to enlarge hospital facilities on a more satisfactory geographical distribution, did not prove successful.

"However," Dr. Neff said, "in the social security bill amendments of 1945 which appropriated funds for hospital facilities where there is a real need were more satisfactory. As a result, study commissions from each state have been appointed. These commissions go into communities and study their need for more and better facilities, and if a community can prove that its need is great enough, it is granted the facilities."

Governor Robert D. Blue of Iowa has appointed such a committee which is now at work. The facts collected are uniform with those of other states and the work is carried out under the auspices of the local people, according to Dr. Neff.

"I would like to commend the war production board and the ration board for their consideration of the hospitals and the stress they have put on the need for supplies," said Dr. Neff.

Seahawks Meet Red Sox Tonight at River City

Ratliff Worried About Hurling

Davenport to Play Here Sunday; Cadet Hitting Improving

The Iowa Seahawks will be gunning for their fifth victory tonight when they tangle with the Davenport Red Sox at the River City. The Red Sox will repay the visit Sunday when they meet the Seahawks on the Iowa field.

Coach Carlos Ratliff, whose main worries in the past have been centered on the hitting power of the Cadets, will shift his attentions today to the pitching department.

Collapse of Hurling
The Cadets pounded out 25 base hits in their last two games, but a complete collapse of hurling allowed Northwestern to come from behind in the seventh inning and score seven runs and tie the game up. The Wildcats went on to win the contest in the 10th frame, 8 to 7. Only the relief hurling of Herman Soard averted a similar disaster at Notre Dame when he choked the Irish off after scoring four runs in the ninth to salvage a 7 to 5 triumph.

So impressive had been Soard's three relief appearances last week that Ratliff had counted on starting him in one of the Davenport games. However, Soard's back injury this week will keep him out of the lineup for an indefinite period, possibly for the remainder of the season.

Further trouble among the hurlers cropped out when Johnny Crew, who earlier had pitched the Seahawks to a 9 to 5 victory over Wisconsin, dropped off the squad due to a shoulder injury.

Same Combination
As a result of these misfortunes, Ratliff will be forced to rely on the same starting combination of Henry Kaiser and Steve Stuka. Kaiser, whose lack of control has kept him from finishing in his last two starts, will be the choice on Saturday night with Stuka, ace of the navy mound corps, ready to go on Sunday.

With the pitching personnel reduced to four cadets, relief duties will fall to Bob Kifer, who also suffers decontrol trouble in his only appearance at Minnesota, and Nick Langenderfer, who has shown considerable improvement in recent drills.

Pirates Dump Cardinals, 5-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The league leading Pittsburgh Pirates held their half-game edge last night with a 5 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals before 24,315 fans. Bob Elliott's homer in the sixth put the game on ice for the Pirates.

Elliott's long drive over the left field fence on the first pitched ball broke a 2-2 deadlock. He also collected two singles.

The Cardinals started the scoring in the first inning, bunting a double, triple and single for their two runs. The Pirates bounced back in their half of the second to tie the game, scoring twice on three singles, a double and a long fly.

Nick Strinevich held the Cards to four hits after their first inning outburst and was credited with his fifth win.

C. Barrett started on the mound for the Cards but was replaced in the seventh by George Dockins. The Pirates nipped him for three singles and a run in the seventh. Al Jurisich relieved Dockins in the eighth when the first man up singled. Another single, a walk and a long fly scored the final Pirate run.

Between terms of the dental college, Herbert Wilkinson, Iowa's all-American basketball guard, will visit his family in Salt Lake City, Utah. Herb couldn't get a train reservation for the westward trip so he landed a job driving a new truck to a Utah purchaser. He will be a sophomore in the dental college, July 2.

Giants Outslug Phillies, 7 to 5

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants welcomed the last-place Phillies like long lost cousins yesterday and snapped their six-game losing streak with a 7-5 decision in the opener of a four-game series.

Manager Mel Ott shook up his batting order, inserting Leon Treadway in the leadoff spot and the left fielder responded with three hits including a three-run homer in the second inning, drove in four runs and scored the tie-breaking tally in the sixth.

Bill Emmerich who replaced Hansen received credit for his second win and Karl, who succeeded Dick Mauney, was charged with his third setback.

Braves Release Two Pitchers to Minor League Farm Clubs

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Braves last night optioned two pitchers to minor league clubs and placed an ailing infielder on the voluntary retired list to get one under the 25-player limit that became effective at midnight.

Pitcher Charley Cozart, a left-hander with a 1-0 record, was sent to the Rochester International league club subject to 24-hour recall and Hal Schacker, who has no wins and one defeat, was dropped down to the Braves' Eastern league farm in Hartford, Conn.

Infielder Tommy Nelson, a $85,000 purchase from the Milwaukee American association club who has been of little service due to buristis, was placed on the retired list to undergo medical treatment here.

Fast Track Expected For Preakness Stakes At Pimlico Today

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The 55th and richest of all Preakness stakes will be run over Pimlico's mile and three-sixteenths distance today with Hoop Jr., winner of the Kentucky derby, the favorite to whip eight other three-year-olds and set the second jewel in the American turf's triple crown.

Headliner of a one-day program that will see renewal of five stakes and upwards of $165,000 distributed in purses, the Preakness will offer three horses that trailed Junior in the derby a chance to prove that the muddy going at Churchill Downs was not to their liking. The weather man has promised a lightning fast racing strip and mid-summer temperatures for today.

Chief Opposition
But the chief opposition to the hard-hitting bay from F. W. Hooper's Jacksonville, Fla., stable is expected to come from Walter Jeffords' Pavot—a colt that was all victorious as a two-year-old and bowed by a narrow margin in his only start this season. Pavot was not entered in the derby.

Hoop Jr. has worked well since arriving from Louisville early in the week but, by contrast, Pavot has been sensational in morning trials. The son of Case Ace out of a Man O'War mare turned the Preakness distance in 1:59 1/5—a time which, if repeated, would mean that the old Hilltop course is slated for a real horse race. The stake record of 1:57 was made by Lopat in 1942. The track record is 1:56 2/5.

They are expected to be favored by a record crowd of 50,000 at 8-5 and 2-1, respectively.

Arcaro Out of Race

George (Iceman) Woolf, only jockey in the race with a Preakness victory to his credit, will be up on Pavot and he knows the Jeffords' flyer like a book, having won six races with him as a juvenile. With Eddie Arcaro held in New York by his contract employer, Al Snider will pilot Hoop Jr.

The winner of the record purse of $87,670, will gross $68,170 if all nine face the starter at 3:12 p. m., central war time.

Although Hoop Jr. and Pavot figure to fight it out in the three-sixteenths of a mile home stretch, there was plenty of confidence yesterday among the barns of Mrs. W. G. Lewis' Darby Dieppe, Alexis' Christiana stable owned by Henry Lunger, C. S. Howard's Sea Swallow and Mrs. Widener's Polynesian.

Fast Track

Darby Dieppe was a fast charging third in the derby. Alexis battled for the early lead as Hoop Jr. scored a front running victory at the Downs and trainer Jack Healey definitely believes he'll be more favorable to a fast track. Sea Swallow, a son of Seabiscuit who

Barbering Session
Unfortunate Incident

By ROY LUCE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

What started out to be a guest column today developed into a three cornered barbering session yesterday afternoon in the office of the new Iowa Pre-Flight school athletic director, soft-spoken Lieut. Comdr. Jack Meagher.

Huddled around the letter strewn desk of Lieut. Comdr. Meagher, your Second Guesser and Ensign Mark Cox, the Pre-Flight PRO, sat back and watched the rain beat down on the sidewalk outside the door while the man behind the desk read our contribution of yesterday.

Schroeder Right
Then Mr. Meagher looked up, flashed that retiring smile of his. "Yes, Dad Schroeder is right," he said. "We're as much in favor of increased harmony between the university and Pre-Flight as he. Most of us thoroughly enjoy our affiliation with the university and we're happy for the opportunity of working with the gentlemen of the Hawkeye athletic department."

"We like to consider ourselves a part of the university while we're serving here under the school's roof, and we never miss a bet in trading off where one of us has something which might benefit the other."

Social Competition
"The rivalry between the students and cadets is something else. Frankly, we never thought it extended much beyond the bounds of a bit of competition on the social fields of the week-ends. True, some cadets have cheered for teams opposing Iowa in sports but these were quite sporadic and many of these same boys were from the same schools or states as the team playing."

"The only organized cheering I can ever recall against an Iowa team was limited to one basketball game immediately following an article which I understand appeared in a local paper deriding the cadets for their conduct at a previous game of no importance and small attendance. The writer went so far as to refer to them as 'students in uniform.'"

Unfortunate
"That was an unfortunate incident. I am sure that when you consider that many of these boys actually will be fighting and dying within a few weeks after they leave here, you can understand how they would resent this to the point of going out of their way to organize a cheering section for the opposition at the next game."

"I know for a fact that practically every one of the cadets personally liked and was all for every member of that Iowa team whom he knew. However, even the fuss this stirred up quickly subsided when it was allowed to rest, rather than be riled up in print."

"This has worked both ways in the past with some Iowa students going out of their way to give the Seahawks teams a verbal working over too. However, as paying customers that is their privilege if they so desire."

Happy Family
"Still, Dad Schroeder has the answer to all of this. We should all be one big happy family, so as to speak, and stand in each other's corners. There's always going to be some cadets, and Iowa students alike, who aren't going to look at it from this angle. But the majority can go a long way in offsetting this with a little sound judgment."

"For instance, the Iowa students are our guests at all Seahawk baseball games this summer. We're glad to have them and we hope they are glad to come."

Jim Williams, U-High Star to See Father At Great Lakes Camp

Lieut. Comdr. Rollie Williams, Iowa basketball coach on leave of absence, next Wednesday will greet his son, Jim, at Great Lakes naval training center. Rollie is athletic officer there while Jim enters boot training. The elder Williams once was a three-sport star at Wisconsin; his son, with many of his dad's athletic characteristics, was a standout in football, basketball, and track at University high at Iowa City.

Bob Liddy—'Grid Kids'
Bob Liddy, co-captain of Iowa's 1943 football team, is in charge of athletic gear at a naval station in the Philippines. The Monticello man rates the 1943 season as his most enjoyable, even though the all-civilian "grid kids" won only one game.

Four of Iowa's five football opponents in road games have set $3 as the ticket price, the same as that for the three conference games in Iowa stadium. They are Ohio State, Purdue, Notre Dame, and Illinois, Nebraska will charge $1.75 for the Lincoln game.

Gophers Seem Powerful In Big Ten Grid Scene

Bums Are 'Ferocious'

According to Rickey

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—We imagine the ferocious gentlemen are assured protection, we are a little worried about who is going to protect the umpires, particularly from the ferocious gentlemen.

Nobody ever rises to the defense of the umpires. They stand out there alone, little islands in a violent sea of action. They are supposed to be gentlemen, but not ferocious under any circumstances.

The fans in the stands can verbally take apart the boys in blue. The ferocious gentlemen can circle them like a pack of yapping terriers, and some of the things they call them aren't found in children's textbooks.

Anyway, it will be interesting to watch what happens at Ebbsfield from now on and learn just what constitutes unfair and vulgar abuse. Profane language is one thing, and the users should be run out of the park.

But calling a player or manager a dim wit or a king sized oaf isn't exactly profane, although it certainly could come under the heading of abuse. The ferocious gentlemen must be protected from such attacks.

Dodgers Spill Braves, 9 to 8

BOSTON (AP)—Brooklyn hammered out a 9-8 verdict over the Boston Braves for their seventh straight victory yesterday in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second tilt was rained out with the score tied at 3-3 and the Dodgers batting in the third frame.

Frenchy Bordagaray's pinch single with the bases loaded in the seventh scored two runs to tie up a see-saw game at 6-6 and the Brooks tallied three more in the eighth on a triple by Goody Rosen, a double by Dixie Walker and singles by Clyde King and Dixie Walker.

The Braves fell one run short of knocking the count when Chuck Workman slammed his eighth homer with Joe Mack on base in the eighth.

Greenberg to Rejoin Tigers Next Tuesday Ready to Play

DETROIT (AP)—Hank Greenberg, slugging first baseman-outfielder who belted 249 home runs and batted .325 over a nine-year stretch while pacing the Detroit Tigers to three American league pennants, is expected to rejoin the Tigers next Tuesday and may be in the lineup by July 1 General Manager Jack Zeller said yesterday.

The 34-year-old Greenberg, discharged from the army this week after four years in service during which he rose to the rank of captain, notified Zeller that he will reach Detroit early next week to start his baseball comeback.

"Although Hank has been out of baseball since early in 1941 I figure he will require only 10 days to two weeks to regain his timing at bat," Zeller declared. "I know for a fact he's in good physical condition."

Greenberg will come here from New York, where he is visiting his mother following his discharge at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Have 16 Lettermen Back to Form Nucleus; Buckeyes Also Strong

CHICAGO (AP)—The Western conference starts rolling up its sleeves for the 1945 football campaign next week when summer practice begins at the two schools that may square off for the league championship, defending titlist Ohio State and Minnesota.

The league manpower picture generally is brighter than last year with a larger number of returning lettermen, 80 in all, and a growing trickle of athletes back from war, but any size-up inevitably points to Minnesota.

The Gophers, who were 50-50 last season, not only have astute Bernie Bierman back at the helm after a sojourn in the marines, but also boast 16 lettermen, largest number in the conference.

Ohio State's Bigeyes, who like the Gophers skip summer drills next Monday, have a dozen letterwinners back, but must fill the shoes of all-America halfback Les Horvath. Two other schools have more returning lettermen than the champions—Indiana with 14 and Illinois with 13.

Purdue has nine lettermen back, Michigan eight and Wisconsin and Northwestern four each. Iowa, where Coach Clyde Crowe is making his debut as successor to Slip Madigan, again is uncertain over prospects.

Summer drills vary from four to seven weeks and will be held as follows: Ohio State, June 18-Aug. 10; Northwestern, June 28-Aug. 16; Indiana, June 25-Aug. 18; Michigan, July 2-Aug. 10; Illinois, July 2-Aug. 11; Purdue, July 9-Aug. 11; Wisconsin, July 9-Aug. 18; and Iowa, Aug. 6-Sept. 1.

Ohio State will greet with open arms Paul Sarringhaus, leading ground-gainer on the Buckeyes' 1942 national championship squad, who has returned from service. Illinois has back Mack Wenskus, star center in 1942 before he joined the marines. Iowa has welcomed three service veterans, center Jerry Niles, tackle Andy Novasod and end Bob Gustafson.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Outfielders Vince DiMaggio and Rene Monteagudo of the Phillies have been ordered to report for pre-induction examinations.
