Tenth Army Captures Three Hills on Okinawa

Enemy Shells Own Troops

Yuza, Highest Summit On Escarpment Line, Falls to 96th Infantry

GUAM, Sunday (AP)—The United States Tenth army captured the last three Japanese-held hills on southern Okinawa's high plateau Saturday with the unintentional help of enemy artillery, which mistakenly shelled its own forces on one of the peaks before the Americans took it.

The 96th infantry division seized the 548-foot summit of Yuza hill, highest on the escarpment line, which the Japanese had used effectively as an artillery position.

By nightfall the 96th was driving southwestward down the back slopes after a stiff fight against heavy mortar and machine-gun fire from the dwindling Japanese garrison. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today in a communique. The hill is designated 167 by the Americans because of its height in meters.

On the east side of the island, the Seventh infantry division took two hills, 115 and 153, which are respectively 379 and 502 feet high.

On hill 153 the erroneous Japanese artillery fire aided the assault by Seventh division elements.

When the Japanese realized their mistake and ceased fire, the Seventh's men charged to the top. The Japanese resumed fire, but too late to stop the Americans.

Tanks operating in very rough, brush-covered terrain supported the Seventh's 32nd regiment in taking Hill 115.

The capture of the three key heights put the Tenth army troops in positions looking directly down on the remnants of the Japanese garrison, numbering possibly 10,000 men compressed into less than eight square miles.

The three hills run in a line southwestward from Yuza on the northwest part of the plateau. Hill 153 rises from about the middle of the plateau area, while 115 is on the southeastern rim near the town of Nakaza.

Capture of the highest, Yuza, by the 383rd regiment of the 96th division, came in a drive from its neighboring peak, Yaeju, which the 381st regiment had cleaned up a day earlier.

Carrier, Land-Based Planes Strike Anami Group in Ryukyus

GUAM, Sunday (AP)—Heavy land-based and carrier strikes north of falling Okinawa at the Anami group of islands in the Ryukyus were reported today by fleet headquarters at Tokyo radio. Speculated American forces were massing for a new invasion move.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said army and marine fighters of the tactical airforce, based on Okinawa, and navy carrier aircraft, presumably of Admiral William F. Halsey's United States Third fleet, pounded airfields, barracks, radio stations and harbor facilities Saturday.

The Anami group is a little over 100 miles north of Okinawa and within 200 miles of the Japanese homeland island of Kyushu. An unconfirmed enemy broadcast had expressed concern over what it reported to be "suddenly increased" activity of cargo ships and landing craft around Okinawa. Fattening the toll of enemy shipping in Japanese home waters, search planes Friday and Saturday sank or damaged 24 vessels off Honshu, Korea and in the Yellow sea between Korea and the Asiatic mainland.

Point Increase for Lard

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another two-point increase in ration values for lard, shortening and salad and cooking oils was ordered last night, effective at 12:01 a. m. today.

OPA, noting a continuing dwindling of supplies, announced a new value of 12 points a pound up from 10, for the second boost in a month and the fifth since the start of the year.

FRANKIE AND CO. OFF FOR EUROPE

Ribbentrop Writes Confidential Letter To Churchill, Eden

FIELD MARSHAL MONTGOMERY'S HEADQUARTERS (AP)—Joachim von Ribbentrop has written a confidential letter to Prime Minister Churchill and Anthony Eden referring, he maintains, to "a message given to me by the fuhrer before his death."

The captured former Nazi foreign minister wrote to Field Marshal Montgomery asking him to deliver the letter intact. Written in ink in an elegant hand script while Ribbentrop was in hiding in the Hamburg apartment of a brunette divorcee, the note to Montgomery was merely a covering letter containing no sensational information.

'This Is My Son,' the Colonel Said

OKINAWA, Ryukyu Islands (Delayed)—
"Come on, Dad, strike 'im out!"
It was Shanghai, 1937. The pitcher was tall, rugged Maj. Francis I. Fenton, player-manager of the marine team, undefeated in China. He was celebrating his 45th birthday. The rooster was his 11-year-old son, Mike.
"You can do it, Dad, you can do it!"
The major did. He won, 9-2, winding up a baseball career that had started at Pearl Harbor in 1917. His teams won championships at Quantico, Va.; Pearl Harbor, Guam, China.
"You're the best pitcher in the world, Dad."
"Hello, son."
It was April, 1945. The Fentons—the colonel and the private first class—met on the bloody Okinawa battlefield. The colonel was First marine division engineer. Mike had turned down a commission,

Davis Approves Wage Increase for Miners

Hard Coal Costs For Consumers Raised $1 a Ton

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anthracite coal miners last night won a wage increase but home users of the hard coal must pay a $1 per ton more for the fuel.

A wage agreement was approved by Economic Stabilization Director William H. Davis.
The wage pact, approved previously by the war labor board, gives 68,000 United Mine Workers an increase of 13.37 1/2 cents daily and provides slightly lesser hikes for 4,000 others.

The anthracite price schedule, effective June 18, immediately provides for an increase of $1 a ton for domestic sizes and from 25 to 50 cents a ton for industrial sizes.

The major portion of the wage increase results from pay to miners under the travel time (portal-to-portal) clause of the new contract.

Other adjustments include a $75 vacation allowance, four and six cents hourly premiums for working second and third shifts, time and a half for work beyond the seven-hour day and 35-hour week.

The war labor board previously had held that these constituted "fringe" rather than basic wage increases and so were permissible.

wanted to fight on the lines with the men. He was scout-sniper in the Fifth regiment.
Two weeks later, on the eve of St. Michael's, his patron saint, the Japs counterattacked. Mike Fenton crouched behind a rock, tossed grenades at the enemy. Jap shells and machine gun bullets gave thunderous answer.
The jeep pulled up at the graves registrant tent. Men were stretched on the ground. Colonel Fenton walked among the bodies, stopped at one.
"This is my son," he said.
Mike, wrapped in an American flag, was buried in the ground he fought for. The Catholic chaplain intoned the final prayer. Then the colonel bowed in prayer among the other marines awaiting burial.
"The poor souls. They didn't have their fathers here," he said.
Back at his office, he wrote a letter, addressed it to Mrs. Mary E. Fenton, 326 Juniper street, San Diego, Calif. He pushed back a lock of grey hair, straightened his broad shoulders, pointed to map.
"We'd better double the guard around No. 5 bridge," he said. "Den, Nips may try to blow it up."

Big Powers Granted Right to Veto Future Amendments

Two-Thirds Vote Of League Members Needed for Ratification

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An agreement on big power veto over future amendment of a world charter last night gave the United Nations conference a big push toward adjournment—but Russia reopened an old, touchy problem.

Apparently under direct orders from Moscow, the Soviet delegation formally renewed a demand to restrict some of the powers of the general assembly of a new United Nations league.

And there was a possibility that this action might reopen the bitterest battle of the conference—a controversy over big power veto authority over nearly all the steps the world organization could take to maintain peace.

A conference committee voted 29 to 14 for a Belgian proposal that future charter amendments can become effective only on ratification by two-thirds of the members of the world organization, including all the Big Five permanent members of its security council.

The net result would be to preserve the Big Five veto over charter changes. Yet it also gives in practical effect, a small nation "veto" made possible by the fact that one-third of the member nations could band together and prevent adoption of any amendment they disliked.

This removed what had been a threatening situation, another instance of big vs. small power differences. There remained uncertainty about the effect of Russia's insistence on limiting the field of the general assembly.

Australia had promised to bring up again the hot issue of big nation veto rights if Russia insisted on going back over old ground and trying to whittle down the power a committee had approved for the every-nation general assembly to discuss and make recommendations on anything in the field of international affairs.

And in that committee yesterday, Chairman Victor Andrade of Bolivia said, Russia definitely reopened the question, and got some British and American support.

The Soviets put forward a proposal that the assembly retain the right to discuss anything within the sphere of international relations but that its recommendations, instead of being applicable to all such matters, be limited to matters affecting international peace and security.

There was no action on the proposal, only a brief flurry of debate.

SUI Selected As Depository For Slides

Selection of the University of Iowa as one of ten depositories in the nation for a set of 1,500 Kodachrome slides of Latin-America was announced yesterday by Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division.

The 33 sequences were assembled by the Kodachrome slide project of the American council on education in cooperation with the office of inter-American affairs in Washington, D. C. Announcement of the choice of the University of Iowa as depository for a duplicate set was received from George F. Zook, president of the American council on education.

Slides will be in charge of the bureau of visual instruction and will be available on a loan basis to educational agencies. Their acquisition is especially appropriate at this time because of the imminence of the university's third annual conference on inter-American affairs, June 21-23. At least some of the slides will be displayed during this conference.

"The university has become registrant in many quarters for its interest in and promotion of inter-American affairs. For example, 60 folks from the office of inter-American affairs were shown to some 200,000 persons in 600 showings during the past year. The Latin American slide project is another recognition of the institution's prominence in this field," Professor Mahan said.

The collection was given its premier showing June 11 under auspices of the Pan-American union in Washington, D. C. The University of Iowa is the only midwest depository for a set, among the other centers being Washington, D. C.; Austin, Tex.; Portland, Ore.; Boston, Mass.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Denver, Col.; Los Angeles, Calif.; and Chapel Hill, N. C.

British Planes, Warships Bomb, Shell Truk Base

Aussies Drive Beyond Brunei

MacArthur Fails To Confirm Report Of Fleet at Balikpapan

MANILA, Sunday (AP)—Australian forces on Borneo have driven six miles southwest down the coast from Brunei toward the Sarawak oil center of Tuotung, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, but he left unconfirmed Tokyo radio reports that an allied fleet was menacing the refinery port of Balikpapan on the southeast coast of Dutch Borneo. MacArthur's planes bombed gun positions at Balikpapan.

The thrust toward Sarawak, British-protected state which extends for 450 miles along Borneo's northwestern coast, had been reported previously by the Melbourne radio, which said the Australians were within 18 miles of Tuotung.

Confirming this advance, the communique said also that the Australians were eliminating "scattered enemy parties" around Brunei bay, where the reinvasion of Borneo began one week ago.

Four Japanese night raiders were shot down in that area. Allied bombers and fighters supported the Australian ground forces and wrecked a Japanese freighter and four patrol boats along the western coast.

Keeping pace with the march southwestward, torpedo boats shot up enemy shore positions.

The Australian Ninth division "Rats of Tobruk" battled southward from their beachhead at Brunei bay after securing British north Borneo to the extent that martial law could be declared for the entire area.

Melbourne reported the Aussies were within 18 miles of the Tuotung oil refinery center in Sarawak, the British protected state which extends for 450 miles along the northwest coast of Borneo.

Balikpapan is some 500 miles across the island, on the east coast, and 300 miles south of Australian-occupied Tarakan island, whose oil fields are already being reconditioned. Tarakan was invaded May 1.

There was no confirmation of the Tokyo report that a fleet of more than 20 warships was near Balikpapan but Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Saturday communique announced Japanese gun positions and airdromes in that area had been blasted by 76 tons of aerial bombs.

Today's Forecast: Definitely No Rain

The forecast for today is no rain. Isn't that enough to cause wild rejoicing in the streets? Jubilant cheers? Throwing of hats into the air? To be positive, the clouds will be high and scattered or broken. Also it will be warmer. All in all, it looks like a beautiful day to be alive and in Iowa.

Yesterday the dark clouds started breaking up and the temperatures were a little lower than it has been for several days: the high was 69, the low 57 and at midnight last night it was 55.

Kaiser's Grandson as Messenger— Move to Save Peace

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Copyright, 1945, by The Associated Press

BAD KISSINGEN, Bavaria (AP)—Prince Louis Ferdinand Hohenzollern, grandson of the last kaiser, asserts that he served as messenger in a confidential move by the late President Roosevelt in 1938 to preserve peace.

He says that the president, by the early autumn of 1938, was so worried concerning the international situation and the possibility of a world war that he took measures to inform the German government of his willingness to meet Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and Neville Chamberlain, then Britain's prime minister, in the Azores for a conference.

The Hohenzollern prince, a one-time employe of the Ford company in Detroit, who knew Mr. Roosevelt from the time the latter was governor of New York, says the president chose him as his emissary on this occasion.

He first told of this mission in 1938; at that time I promised to keep it confidential. (Lockner was chief of the former AP bureau in Berlin up to the time of Pearl Harbor.) But with President Roosevelt dead, Hitler reported dead and his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, now in allied hands, Prince Louis Ferdinand has agreed that there is no longer any reason for withholding this interesting detail of recent history.

The president entrusted Louis Ferdinand, the prince said, with sounding out Ribbentrop on the possibility of a personal, heart to heart meeting of the four men.

Returning to Germany late in the autumn of 1938 the prince prepared a careful memorandum to Ribbentrop setting forth, without revealing details, that he was charged with communicating certain information from the American president unofficially to the German government.

Ribbentrop had not even the courtesy to acknowledge receipt. Weeks passed. Through various channels Louis Ferdinand pressed for an answer. There was stony silence.

U. S. Forces Gain In Cagayan Valley

Ipil Airfield Taken By Infantry; 3,000 Japs in Last Stand

MANILA, Sunday (AP)—Two United States armored spearheads drove five and six miles north today along the Cagayan valley where more than 30,000 Japanese troops are being compressed in their last major stronghold on northeastern Luzon, it was announced today.

One column of the 37th (Ohio) division seized the 4,500-foot Ipil airfield and pressed on five miles north along highway No. 5—main route through the valley—to the south bank of the Ganano river, tributary of the broad Cagayan river.

A second force to the west along the edge of the valley over a new highway and ground out a six-mile gain despite tough resistance, the first reported since Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced yesterday that his forces had burst out 22 miles into the valley.

In the rear of the spearheads, in the Orioung pass five miles from the entrance of the valley, a Japanese attempt to pinch off the advance with a road block was bloodily repulsed.

The Sixth division also was tightening the noose on the Cagayan positions with a mile and a half advance through the mountain west of the valley, and by the 33rd division, still farther west, operating in the Agno river gorge north of the summer capital of Baguio.

While the major drive was under way to clear the Cagayan valley, more than 500 Japanese dead were counted in central Luzon. Twenty-four Japanese and 301 Formosans were taken prisoner.

French Mob Attacks Train Of Spaniards

LONDON (AP)—A French mob, armed with iron rods and bottles, created yesterday an international incident by attacking a train filled with Spanish civilians, and reports said casualties ranged from 20 dead to 261 injured.

The French attackers apparently believed the train was filled with troops of the Spanish Blue division, which fought alongside the Germans on the Russian front.

Reports on the number and severity of casualties varied enormously. The French government, opening an official investigation, said only six persons had been injured. But other Paris reports said 20 persons had been stoned to death and in Switzerland, where the train arrived, after turning back from France, 61 persons were described as seriously injured, 300 were said to be slightly hurt and 23 were reported missing. In Madrid there were killed.

The Spanish foreign minister demanded an immediate explanation of the incident from the French government.

Ickes to Be Removed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harold L. Ickes will be removed as secretary of the interior within the next few weeks "despite his known desire to cling to the cabinet post he has held for 12 years," the Post-Dispatch said last night in a copy-right story from Edward A. Harris, Washington correspondent of the newspaper.

Jap Positions Undergo Raid

Airfields, Ships, Dock Facilities, Radio Stations Destroyed

GUAM, Sunday (AP)—Truk, Japanese naval fortress in the Caroline islands and center of a body of perhaps 100,000 by-passed enemy troops, was thoroughly bombed and shelled day and night Thursday and Friday by British Pacific fleet carrier planes and warships, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

Airfields, dock facilities, ships in harbor, defense batteries and radio stations were destroyed in the persistent British strike, a communique disclosed. Two Japanese aircraft were destroyed on the ground but none was sighted in the air.

The enemy replied with moderate anti-aircraft fire, which cost the British one Seafire fighter plane, and with shore battery fire officially described as "negligible."

(Tokyo broadcasts Saturday had said that 60 planes, presumed to be British, had attacked Truk on Thursday and that two cruisers and four destroyers shelled the base Friday in attacks that were continuing through the third day.)

The enemy stronghold in the Caroline long has been bypassed after having been heavily bombed previously by American fleet planes.

Big Three Meeting Brings Up Succession To Presidency Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The coming Big Three meeting whipped up congressional interest yesterday in legislation designed to clarify the line of succession to the presidency in any emergency.

The conference of American, Russian and British chiefs of state will take both President Truman and Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius out of the country.

The White House disclosed Friday that the meeting will be held in the vicinity of Berlin at an undisclosed date.

Under present law Stettinius is next in line for the presidency, in the absence of a vice-president.

A house subcommittee recently approved a bill by Representative Kefauver (D, Tenn.) which provides that, if neither a president nor vice-president can serve, the office will go to the secretary of state and then pass through the cabinet in this order:

Secretaries of the treasury, of war, the attorney general, the postmaster general, secretaries of navy, interior, agriculture, commerce, labor.

Jet Plane Plans Sent To Japan—Goering

TWELFTH ARMY GROUP HEADQUARTERS, Germany (AP)—American interrogation officers said yesterday Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering had told them that: Hitler gave the Japanese the German blueprints for a jet fighter, and these plans were taken to Japan by submarine;

Germany once planned to occupy Iceland and the Azores;

He himself had unsuccessfully urged Hitler to seize Gibraltar;

Allied air power assured the success of the invasion, and he was "stunned" by the performance of United States long-range fighters;

Hitler ordered the "perfect" German jet fighter converted into a bomber and "in your aerial warfare you had a great ally—in the fuhrer" because of Hitler's decisions.

Goering said the Germans failed to invade Britain after the fall of France because of the German navy's inadequate shipping space.

PRESIDENT GETS GOERING'S MARSHAL'S BATON

LIEUT. GEN. ALEXANDER M. Patch, commander of the United States Seventh army in Europe which took Field Marshal Herman Goering prisoner, on a visit to the White House presented to President Truman the ex-Luftwaffe chief's diamond and ruby studded gold and platinum marshal's baton. Accompanying General Patch (left) on his visit were Maj. Gen. James Gavin (right) commander of the 82nd airborne division and Lieut. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott who commanded the United States Fifth army.

Paul Mallon

—Truman's Leadership

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON—Mr. Hannegan is taking nothing for granted. The political pal of the president actually sent skilled scouts out into various sections of the country to ascertain how the new moves from the White House are regarded. He did not trust polls, even his own, but wished detailed reports.

From all sections the answer was about the same. In effect, they mounted to an enthusiastic go-ahead sign on the line Mr. Truman is heaving with his cabinet changes, legislative suggestions and foreign policy.

Mr. Hannegan was told by his selected agents the nation had warmed up to methods of the executive, although the leftwing crowd, embodying the stereotyped new dealers, was a little restless and inclined to indulge in a few carom shots. As a matter of observable fact the CIO, for a prime example, did not endorse the Schwellenbach appointment to labor, possibly because the new cabinet man is a northwest political associate of AFL boss Dave Beck. They did not like Mr. Bidle's invited exit as attorney general either. But Mr. Truman evened it up by presenting the unemployment pay maximum of $25 a week which the CIO devised and lost at the last session of congress, further by asking the dictatorial government reorganization powers Mr. Roosevelt wanted and failed to get, by having his Mr. Vinson go out for the new deal peace planning program, by pushing successfully in the house for the Bretton Woods agreement, which the CIO and Mr. Roosevelt have been promoting as if to put bankers in their place—and some other steps.

Indeed, there has been nothing for the radicals to complain about. Nothing upon which they could lay their restless fingers in accusation, although a target may be provided shortly when the wage increases fail to measure up to their demands. In bulk, however, Mr. Truman's program is the one they devised. Indeed, while Frankfurter and Mrs. Roosevelt have lost their appointive influence, Mr. Truman has insisted upon keeping their best friends, Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Judge Rosenman, domestically, while also holding on to Harry Hopkins and Mr. Stettinius, internationally.

Mr. Truman has simply been doing things in a different spirit, following the same line but in a different way and evening things up a little. You can see it in the reorganization proposal. While Mr. T. demanded the power Mr. R. wanted, he did not want to write the bill himself but would leave it to congress. He has spent up no prepared bills on any important subject, but is respecting the position of congress.

The carom shots have so far developed from the Russian problem. The country shows signs of breaking into two schools of thought on this. Most people seem to feel Moscow has treated us obscurely, if not badly, on practically every late issue of the war and peace, except Argentina, the one point we have won—and they do not like that either. Yet on the other hand I have seen a radical newspaper blindly denouncing the army censorship in our occupation zone as if we had blacked out the whole of Germany, not mentioning the much more extreme censorship of Russia over every type of news of any other kind from Russian occupied zones not only in Germany but throughout Europe. The radical journals in New York have generally become so one-sided that they defend every Russian interest and attack every American step, bitterly assailing the state department at every opportunity. This shows a rather thoughtless and purely political enthusiasm. Yet even on this problem, the president is being backed by a strong majority in the country as a whole.

Mr. Truman has thus managed to achieve popular unity, which the methods of the Roosevelt regime prevented. A heavy majority of people have been found willing to forget past differences and to close the ranks in order to maintain its prestige and smash the Japanese.

The anti-new deal democrats well know Mr. Truman is supporting Roosevelt policies and personages but are not criticizing him here or elsewhere, in their relief over the way he has been trying to even things up.

It is a remarkable job when you stop to think about the difficulties with which he was faced.

A becalmed New England fisherman attracted aid from shore by burning 12 $1 bills as a distress signal. These days even getting rescued runs into money.

It's been so rainy lately, says Grandpappy Jenkins, we floated into June before we knew it.

Now It Can Be Told—

How Russia Armed Herself

By DON WHITEHEAD
AP Newsfeatures

PARIS—The Red army, which battled its way thousands of blood-splattered miles to Berlin, is a fantastic, grand-scale mixture of the modern and the medieval, unlike any war machine ever assembled.

To those of us who traveled with the British and Americans through Africa, Sicily, Italy and France into Germany, it was almost unbelievable to see the Russians in action. They were geared for war on a basis undreamed of by the western allies, or by the Germans who coined the phrase "total war" to describe all-out effort.

In two days with the Russians south of Berlin I got an idea of why the soviet stopped the Germans at Moscow and Stalingrad and then swept west into Germany. It was a never-to-be-forgotten close-up.

The army was colorful and awesome in the way it moved. Masses of infantry were everywhere. Guns, tanks and American-made trucks rolled forward in columns mixed with horse-drawn carts, high-backed old carriages, surreys and wagons.

Anything Goes
The Russians used literally anything with wheels. Their convoys looked like something out of a Detroit truck advertisement mixed with a large dash of Tolstol descriptive.

There were columns of General Motors trucks and, behind them, horse-drawn vehicles piled with hay, ammunition and food. Soldiers rode forward on captured bicycles and motorcycles and a variety of motor cars obviously seized along the route of march.

To an American it looks at first like a disorganized horde. But after a time you realize there is severe discipline and organization in the movement of the men and those strange convoys.

There was a noticeably democratic attitude between the officers and men but here never was any doubt about discipline. The men jumped to obey orders given them.

They're Curious
Among all the Russians there was a great curiosity about Americans and their friendship at times was almost overpowering. Almost without exception officers were gracious and hospitable and they seemed to delight in talking about war, politics and the peace to come.

While a German mechanic worked on my automobile in Jueterbog, my interpreters—Corp. Ernest Stern, New York City, a liberated prisoner of war, and his Polish sweetheart, Maria—and I were guests of Capt. Dzikajew Tepsir at a luncheon of blood sausage, pickled pork, black bread, beer and champagne and raspberries.

Tepsir was a tank commander at Leningrad and at Stalingrad. He said casually he personally had killed 127 Germans and his tank unit 500. He wore the Order of Stalin.

What did the Captain think of American-made equipment?
"We appreciate American equipment because it is so technically perfect," Tepsir said. "But more than anything, the Russians appreciate the number of Germans captured and killed on the western front because then they couldn't move east to fight against us."

Want to Be Allies
Then the Captain said seriously: "Is it true that every officer in the American army, from lieutenant to general, has a private automobile?"

We assured him this was not true, although the American army did have great numbers of jeeps.

"I have never seen the American army," he said. "But I personally and the Russian people as a whole know that America is a great ally for Russia and we want to keep it that way. We hope to continue as a close ally after the war."
A few minutes later the mechanic had the automobile repaired and we drove north with those strange columns of modern fighting equipment mixed with wagons, carriages and horse-drawn artillery. Russian prisoners of war liberated from enemy camps had been handed rifles and tommyguns as they came out of stockades and again were marching into battle with their comrades.

We moved in and out of the columns until a Russian officer stopped us and explained no one could go further because there was fighting ahead. And then we saw American-made fighter-bombers with Red stars on their wings roaring down to bomb and strafe a woods. Only infantry, light artillery and ammunition carriers were permitted down the road.

Soon the wounded were coming back. There were no ambulances. They lay in haystacks. A Russian major said the Russians ahead were fighting parts of 15 German divisions and advised us to go back to Jueterbog for the night.

Take Short Cut
The next morning we drove back up the same road, but the fight was still in progress. We decided to take a short cut over to Dahme to look over the area. We were driving down a road through a forest when we suddenly noticed Russian infantry dug in along a ditch on the right-hand side, their tommyguns and machineguns trained into the forest on the other side.

Suddenly it began. We leaped for cover until there was a lull and we could tear out of that hot spot.

A few miles from the battle the Russians were pulling back, their horse-drawn supply trains while tanks rumbled forward and the infantry marched up toward the line. There was one funeral wagon loaded with ammunition and with troops sitting on top. The soldiers drove herds of cattle back from the danger zone.

White House Press Conferences Almost Too Filled With News

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Your capital in wartime:
Some of the same Washington news and radio men who complained that many of President Roosevelt's press conferences in the year or so before his death were filled with too little news are now complaining that President Truman's are filled with too much.

It may seem paradoxical that any newsman would ever complain about too much news, but the boys who cover the White House have a point.
When President Truman throws half a dozen good stories at them at once as he did in a recent conference, it's almost impossible to meet deadlines with an adequate handling of those stories. The White House correspondents can't be made in one day, there's no reason why reports on them should be bunched in one day.

The news and radio men aren't being very vociferous in their complaints, however. On the whole, the president's press conferences are a newsman's dream. He rifles the news across his desk with a directness that may leave some of us gasping for breath, but it never leaves any doubt as to what he means or how he stands on any question—a straight dealing rarely met with in Washington.

The news men might like it if the president would spread his big news out a little more, but if he took a vote on whether he would change his press conference methods a whit, it's a safe bet that the unanimous answer would be a ringing "No!"

Sen. Claude Pepper, of Florida, who is one of the experts in congress on matters pertaining to the nation's health, recently made the startling disclosure that in 1943 an estimated 1,917,000 man-years of productive working time and two billion dollars' of purchasing power were lost by American workers' being absent from work eight days or more due to illness.

Members of congress are getting so touchy about absenteeism in the senate and house that hardly a day goes by without some member's making a little speech berating the absentees or defending them. Several times lately a threatened lack of quorum has almost resulted in suspension of business for the day.

In the house the situation has the democratic leaders tearing their hair. For some reason, it is easier to turn out the full republican membership than the democratic. When the republicans vote solidly on any issue and pick up a few dissident democrats, they can come pretty close to upsetting any administration apple cart these days.

One reason for absenteeism in the democratic ranks is that several of that party's larger delegations come from adjoining or nearby states and are able to run home for a few days without making a wearisome cross-country trip.

Mass Air Power in Pacific—

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press News Analyst

Tokyo reports that American medium bombers from Europe are already reaching the Philippines in force for redeployment against Japan may be somewhat premature, but no more than that. They have been darkening Atlantic skies for weeks in homing flights seeking new records for mass air movements.

No official information as to their further progress westward on battle missions is available. Commands beyond the Pacific have already set up for their reception, however, the blueprint of an aerial picket line more than 1,500 miles long flanking the whole eastern coast of the Asiatic continent at close range from Shanghai to Singapore.

Blood drenched Okinawa on the southern doorstep of Japan's home islands is already spawning medium bomber raids on critical enemy targets ashore and at sea. Within a 500-mile sweep of its air strips lies the whole spread of the east China sea.

Southwestward medium range Okinawa based aircraft would overlap in spheres of action with General MacArthur's Luzon based planes. All Formosa and the whole southeastern sweep of the Chinese coast as well as Indo China are in reach of American junior bombers, in the Philippines. Southwestward their zone of action will overlap with planes from newly seized bases in northern Borneo, within 800 miles of Singapore.

In due course another stride southwestward on MacArthur's left flank to grip western Borneo could cause no surprise. Aircraft based there would be as close to Singapore as those on Okinawa are to southern Japan. It would complete the picture of total air control of eastern sea approaches to the Asiatic continent in preparation for forthcoming moves against virtually isolated Japanese garrisons south of China itself.

Redevelopment of American air power from Europe is only part of the allied program against Japan, however. Current reports from London indicate that while a substantial part of the British Royal Airforce will be retained to back up allied armies of occupation in Europe, up to 40 per cent of its personnel and equipment is to join in the campaign against the Japanese.

There is no clear pattern of British air deployment yet revealed. Presumably the RAF's main operations area will be in the south-eastern Asia command zone. That includes the Bay of Bengal and reaches from Burma to Sumatra, but it is only in southern Burma that recaptured Rangoon that continental advance bases for the campaign to destroy the foe in Indo China, Thailand and on the Malay peninsula have yet been established.

(Prior to British recapture of Rangoon there seemed some basis for the assumption that the Andaman Islands about midway between Rangoon and the northwestern tip of Sumatra would figure importantly in Admiral Mountbatten's plans. They lie some 600 coast and could be useful as advance air bases.

RAF USED SIX-TON U. S.-MADE BOMBS AGAINST NAZIS

Dean Redfield To Talk Here

To Appear Friday During Inter-American Affairs Conference

Dean Robert Redfield

Dean Robert Redfield of the University of Chicago's division of social sciences will appear as a speaker and as a panel discussion member during the university's conference on inter-American affairs Thursday through Saturday.

He will speak Friday morning at 11 o'clock on "Race and Class in Latin-America" and that afternoon will be a panel member in the symposium on "What Should Students Learn About Latin-America?"

Dean Redfield has become known as an anthropologist during the past 20 years. Since 1920, he also has been associated with the Carnegie Institute in Washington, D. C., in charge of ethnological and sociological field work and has done much research in Yucatan and Guatemala. He recently returned from a trip to those countries during which he revisited communities he had studied in earlier years.

The Chicago scientist was president of the American Anthropologist association in 1944 and is the author of three books and many articles.

Economic and cultural relations and education will be two of the main sections of the program of the inter-American affairs conference, according to Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division, conference chairman.

Eugene A. Gilmore Jr. of the division of River Plate affairs of the state department in Washington, D. C., will talk on "Postwar Economic Outlook for South America."

Participants in the Friday afternoon panel discussion, in addition to Dean Redfield and Gilmore, will be Rafael de Silva, Chilean pianist and journalist who opens the conference with a recital June 21, and university staff members including Prof. E. K. Mapes of the romance languages department; Prof. Harold McCarty and Prof. Paul Olson of the college of commerce; Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department; Prof. L. A. Van Dyke and Mabel Snedaker of the college of education, and Katherine Hunt, instructor in the university elementary school.

Speaker at the conference luncheon June 22 will be Professor Mapes, who will speak on "Indian Civilizations in the Valley of Mexico."

Prof. Otto Jelinek To Direct Music At Grinnell College

Prof. Otto Jelinek of the music department will leave the university of Iowa staff in September to become professor of music, head of the string department and conductor of the symphony orchestra at Grinnell college in Grinnell. He came to the university in 1938.

Soloist with the symphony orchestra here, Professor Jelinek has also been head of the viola section of the orchestra. He has been viola and violin soloist, high-lighting his performances here with Berlioz' "Harold in Italy" and d'Ambrosio's B minor violin concerto.

Professor Jelinek has made frequent appearances with the faculty string quartet and string sinfonietta while on the Iowa faculty.

The Grinnell orchestra which he will lead is to be the nucleus of a central Iowa symphony. The new orchestra will draw its personnel from the neighboring communities of Newton, Marshalltown, Oskaloosa, Pella and Des Moines.

Professor Jelinek will assume his new position Sept. 17.

Sentiments on June 17— Message to Dad

By JOY TRAMP Daily Iowan Staff Writer

This is my message to you, Dad, on your day. I'd like to picture you just relaxing in your big easy chair. But, somehow, it's easier to imagine you working in the garden now that you have a minute to spare for yourself.

Today I'd like to thank you. Not for the big things; you already know how I appreciate the home you have given us, along with all those other material things. I want to thank you for just being you. Thanks for that ready smile—even for that look of concern that needs no words to say, "What is this younger generation coming to?"

I guess we all think our Dads are a wee bit old-fashioned at times. But I'm glad for that now, too. We of the "younger generation" are grateful for a few stern remonstrances at the right time.

I won't soon forget your words of encouragement that only you can give me so well and make so meaningful. Those well put phrases have done a lot to keep me going.

I'm glad you're such a man's man, Dad. I'm proud of you for being a friend, not just to men but to the fellows as well. But how could they help but like you? Dad, you'll never grow old as long as your enthusiasm remains what it is at football games. Why, the cheering section couldn't get along without you! I'm convinced that you're as active in the stadium as the players are on the field—well, almost. The sun must be bleaching your hair a little; it can't be greying. Those aren't wrinkles in your face; they're smile lines and lines from deep concentration.

Thanks, Dad, for trying to understand the frivolities of our youth. And I do appreciate that hand of yours that's always ready to dig a little deeper into your pocket to scrape together enough to satisfy the whims of our youth when we don't realize that you may have to deprive yourself of something.

There is only one way that I can repay you for all you've done for me. If you'll accept all my love on Father's day, I can more than pay you. Thanks for that ready smile.

I have taxed you much, often without realizing it. I have made many demands upon you. Today I make more demands. Always stay the way you are and never grow old in spirit. Always be as free with your love; I couldn't live without it. If I make a success of this life, know that I realize your hand in my success. If I seem to fail—if I ever fall beneath your expectations, know that, with your kindly pat on the back and words of encouragement, I'll always stand up and try again. So thanks again for all you are. And I thank God for you.

Allied Soldiers Believe Non-Fraternization Plan in Reichland Never Has Worked

By KENNETH DIXON OCCUPIED GERMANY (AP)—

Soldiers of all ranks throughout this section of the Reichland are getting more and more pointed in their inquiries as to when the high command is going to admit it made a mistake and revoke the non-fraternization policy.

During the months since the allies entered Germany I have questioned thousands of soldiers—including perhaps a score of generals—on the non-fraternization policy. Their answer can be summed up in one sentence: "It is not working, never has worked and probably never will."

Since such statements would lay officers open to court martial, it is impossible to quote them by name, but they inevitably wax loquacious in their efforts to prove their point.

"Keeping the policy in force merely means I have to punish my men for being clumsy," a major general said. "You can't keep them from fraternizing—and I don't necessarily mean sexually either—so it becomes a question of some getting away with it and some not."

"I don't mind telling you that my MP's have been instructed to look the other way as much as possible except for flagrant cases or unsoldierly conduct. But the result still is that the men are not being punished for breaking the law but merely for getting caught at it. And I have to operate that way or I would have had my division in the guardhouse."

"It is supposed to make the Germans respect the American army, I am told," said a major in military government. "Instead it is making the whole army look ridiculous and cheap. Even at first, when there wasn't quite so much fraternizing, all it did was make the Germans resentful. Now they are laughing up their sleeves."

"It's making a cheater and a liar out of every doughboy who swaps a cake of soap to get his laundry done or vies a piece of candy," said one Pfc. "Besides, these kids are looking for leaders. I don't know much about propaganda but I'll bet a couple of GI's here and there teaching German kids American games and American fair play could do more good than all your propaganda campaigns."

Chow Line Hazards Mess Hall Men Use Philosophy

By KENNETH L. DIXON IN OCCUPIED GERMANY (AP)—

Nobody around these parts is sorry that the war is over but, generally speaking, life has become somewhat more unpleasant of late for the boys who hand out the chow.

The trouble is that now the GI's have both the time to taste and the inclination to gripe about what appears in their mess kit three times daily.

"Some guys always think you have a personal grudge and are taking it out on him with a small piece of meat," said Pvt. Ernest Conley, Detroit, Mich., who handles the most dangerous job in the chowline at the 84th division headquarters enlisted men's mess. He thinks soldiers themselves would be much happier if they were philosophic, too. His theory is that they shouldn't look at the mess kit in front or behind them.

Staff Sgt. Jowl E. Davis, Blytheville, Ark., mess sergeant, admitted that the meat job was strictly the sore spot in the serving line and called for tact in assigning a man to it.

Final Plans Made For Benefit Bridge To Be June 27

Final plans for a benefit bridge party to be held June 27 at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house were made at a meeting of the eastern group of St. Katherine's guild of the Trinity Episcopal church recently.

PREPARE FOR HOT DAYS AHEAD

ANY day now, the thermometer will probably be hitting the 100 mark. Be prepared. Get out your electric fan and give it a thorough checkup. A few precautions now will help keep it working until new ones become available.

Check These Points:

- ★ When oiling fan, use special electric motor oil obtained from your hardware dealer. Don't use ordinary machine oil.
- ★ See that motor cord does not kink and oscillator cord does not rub against anything.
- ★ Repair frayed cords to avoid short circuits, blown fuses.
- ★ For reconditioning, take it to your appliance dealer.

SUI Women To Register For Double-V

Registration for women under the university's Double-V program of war service activities will take place Tuesday from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. in Iowa Union and Schaeffer hall. Both the University Women's association and the Young Women's Christian association will enroll students in activities for the second session of the summer term.

Carrying out the motto of "Victory in War and Victory in Peace," the campus program of wartime volunteer jobs will include co-aides and office workers under the U.W.A. division. Y.W.C.A. activities will include entertaining patients at the children's hospital and the convalescent home and work on the "Y" radio program, "Y" Glimpses.

Members of the two women's organizations will be at registration booths in the women's lounge of Iowa Union and at the north door of Schaeffer hall to explain details of the summer activities.

Office workers are needed in the university's alumni office to send out Iowa news bulletins to former SUI students now in the armed services. Each volunteer is asked to register for two hours' work each week.

Co-aides in the U.W.A. program work two hours or more a week in the wards at General hospital. This work is carried on by university women during the regular school year and the need for volunteers to feed patients, write letters for them and do other tasks in the wards is as great during the summer as during the rest of the year.

The "Y" hospital program will include recreation projects, university women entertaining children with games and stories at hours convenient with their summer schedules. There are even more patients in the children's hospital during the summer than during the rest of the school year, so many women are needed for this work.

Generals, Admirals Present Arguments For Peacetime Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—A galaxy of star-studded and gold-braided generals and admirals led by the civilian secretary of the navy presented to congress yesterday the armed services' arguments for peacetime draft legislation.

They were the final witnesses—except for congressmen to be heard next week—before the house post-war military policy committee which for two weeks had heard the pros and cons of universal peacetime training from more than 100 individuals and organizations.

Led by Navy Secretary James V. Forrestal, who urged full peacetime preparedness as a warning to "any frustrated paper-hanger anywhere who may be dreaming of world dominion," the witnesses included:

General of the Army George C. Marshall, who called upon opponents to offer a better preparedness plan and opposed a large peacetime standing army as "reputant to the American people."

MISS MOORHEAD ENGAGED

MR. AND MRS. H. L. Moorhead of West Branch announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Aviation Cadet Donald Frederick Schloesser, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Schloesser of Peru, Ill. Miss Moorhead is a graduate of West Branch high school and is now a senior in the University of Iowa school of journalism, where she is affiliated with Theta Sigma Phi, honorary fraternity for women in Journalism. Aviation Cadet Schloesser was graduated from LaSalle-Peru high school in La Salle, Ill., and has served in the navy for the past two years. He is now stationed at Corpus Christi, Tex., where he expects to receive his commission in the near future.

Single Ring Ceremony This Afternoon at 3 To Unite Verna S. Fox, Leslie E. Bigelow

In a single ring ceremony, Verna S. Fox, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Fox, 827 Rundell street, will become the bride of Leslie E. Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bigelow of Oxford, this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Methodist church. The Rev. Dr. L. L. Dunnington will read the vows of the service. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. E. W. Scheldrup will present nuptial organ selections.

Attending the bride as maid of honor will be her sister, Evelyn Fox, of Iowa City. Chester Reeve, also of Iowa City, will serve as best man.

To Be Given by Brother The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Loeut. (J. G.) George Warren Fox, U. S. Navy Yard, Charleston, S. C., and she will be attired in a floor-length gown of white marquisette, fashioned with a high round neckline and long gathered sleeves. Her fingertip veil will fall from a tiara and she will carry a bridal bouquet of pink gladioli.

The maid of honor will wear a floor-length gown of aqua marquisette, also designed with a high round neckline and elbow length sleeves. She will wear a short veil which will fall from a tiara of orange blossoms, and her flowers will be of pink and white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fox has selected a blue crepe dress, accented with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother will wear a light blue ensemble, with white accessories. Each mother will wear a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Reception in Fox Home After the ceremony, a reception will be held in the home of the bride's mother. A two-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature

Lightning Strikes Twice

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Firemen from No. 7 are through quoting that old saying about lightning.

During a thunderstorm they rushed out in response to an alarm and found it had been sounded by lightning striking a pole holding an alarm box.

Half an hour later the alarm rang again. It was the same pole on the same corner—struck by lightning again.

In the United States and in England a child under seven years of age is not criminally liable for any act.

Metropolitan Writers To Inspect Art Exhibit

Art writers of metropolitan newspapers and critics from the cities probably will inspect the University of Iowa's summer art exhibit which opens June 24, according to Prof. L. D. Longman, head of the art department.

The 127 paintings by contemporary American artists, most of which are for sale, were collected from more than 25 art galleries and museums in the east after a three-week tour by Professor Longman.

From a list of about 100 of the best American artists he tried to find good examples of the work of each and inspected hundreds of paintings before he made his final choices.

"It is no overstatement to say that his exhibit is the finest of its kind in the United States this summer. Because most of the galleries are closed during the summer, it was possible to gather these paintings for one exhibit and we expect it to attract considerable attention in the art world," Professor Longman declared.

A jury of three persons, including Henry Hope of Indiana university and Lucille Blanch of Woodstock, N. Y., selected the 12 best pictures. From this group, the university will purchase several for its permanent collection.

Prices of the pictures range from less than $100 to one work priced at $5,000. The exhibit includes about 10 paintings by advanced students at the University of Iowa which do not suffer by comparison with works of many recognized artists of national standing, Professor Longman said.

Clerk Issues Five Marriage Licenses

Five marriage licenses have been issued by the clerk of the district court since Friday.

Those issued licenses were Dean W. Darby, Des Moines, and Patricia Marie Shope, Iowa City; Albert Zeman and Margaret Pempeyer, both of Cedar Rapids; Robert William Connor and Norma Bernice Eggert, both of McHenry, Ill.; John W. Bradshaw, Iowa City, and Hollie Vollink, Pringhar, and Leslie Edward Bigelow and Verna Stanley Fox, both of Iowa City.

Barbara Smith to Wed Dr. Don O. Newland This Afternoon at 5:30 in Candlelight Service

In a candlelight ceremony, Barbara Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fred M. Smith, Ridge road, will become the bride of Dr. Don O. Newland, son of Dr. and Mrs. Don H. Newland of Belle Plaine, this afternoon at 5:30 at the Trinity Episcopal church. The Rev. Fred Putnam will read the vows of the single ring service before an altar decorated with palms, gladioli, daisies and lighted candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony, Dr. Richard Corton of Iowa City will sing "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" (Bach), and "O Perfect Love" (Barby). Mrs. R. T. Tidrick will present nuptial organ selections including "Ave Maria" (Schubert) and "Quartet From Midsummer Night's Dream."

Bridal Party Attending the bride as maid of honor will be Prudence Hamilton of Iowa City and her attendants will be Jean Newland of Belle Plaine and Mrs. John E. Weib of Iowa City. Robert Allen of Iowa City will serve as best man and ushers will be Dr. Bill Baird, Dr. Don Haigge and James Smith of Iowa City and Dr. Russ Conkling of Des Moines.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in a floor-length gown of white marquisette, fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline, bridal-point sleeves and a fitted bodice which extends into a bouffant skirt and a junior train. Her tulle veil will fall from a marquisette and lace cap and she will wear a single strand of pearls. Her bridal bouquet will be of stephanotis and gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Miss Hamilton has selected a floor-length gown of pale yellow dotted swiss, designed similarly to the bride's gown, with a yoke forming a square neckline and elbow-length sleeves. She will wear a yellow net picture hat and her bouquet will be of dark delphiniums and spring flowers.

The bridesmaids' gowns are designed identically to that of the maid of honor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith has chosen a street-length dress of pink crepe designed with small black and white figures. Black accessories will complement her ensemble. The bridegroom's mother will also wear a pink crepe dress with black accessories and each will wear a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Reception Afterwards

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception will take place in the home of the bride's parents. A wedding cake in the shape of a Maltese cross surrounded with white candles, gladioli and smilax, will center the serving table. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. T. McClintock, Mrs. Leigh Wallace, Mrs. Ben P. Wallace, Mrs. Robert E. Neff, Mrs. Robert Gibson, Mrs. E. D. Plass, Mrs. J. F. Sprout, Mrs. H. M. Korns and Mrs. Stanley Sayre.

Later the couple will leave on a wedding trip to Hartford, Conn., and for traveling the bride has selected a cardigan suit of light weight beige wool, with which she will wear black accessories and a white orchid.

University Graduates

The bride is a graduate of Iowa City high school, Stephens college at Columbia, Mo., and the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. Recently she has been employed as secretary at University hospital.

Dr. Newland, a graduate of Belle Plaine high school, received his B.A. from the University of Iowa and his M.D. from the university college of medicine. He is affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta and Nu Sigma Nu fraternities. He will serve his internship in Hartford hospital at Hartford, Conn., where the couple will reside after July 1.

TO WED JULY 7

MAJ. AND MRS. Clair E. Hamilton, 714 E. Burlington street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Prudence Claire, to Lieut. Richard Kay Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Smith of Clarion. The wedding will take place July 7 in the First Methodist church. Miss Hamilton was graduated from Winterset high school and the college of liberal arts of the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. Lieutenant Smith, a graduate of Clarion high school, was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1939 and received his doctor of laws degree in 1941. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He is now stationed at Newport, R. I.

Marian Johnson, Pfc. Harry Readinger To Wed in St. Paul's Lutheran Church

In a candlelight ceremony, Marian Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Johnson of Galva, Ill., will become the bride of Pfc. Harry Readinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Readinger of Guthrie Center, this afternoon at 4:30 in St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Rev. L. C. Wuerffel will read the vows of the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with spring flowers.

Preceding the ceremony, Pfc. Hoyt Allen will sing "The Lord's Prayer" and "Take My Life and Let It Be." He will be accompanied by Mrs. L. C. Wuerffel, who will also play the traditional wedding marches.

Mrs. Jessie Warford of Des Moines, sister of the bridegroom, will attend the bride as matron of honor and Pfc. Don Ottilie will be best man. Ushers will be Pfc. Roger Willey and Pfc. William Thompson, both of Iowa City.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will be attired in a floor-length gown of white taffeta and illusion net, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a bouffant skirt. The bodice is designed with a puffed bodice and buttons in the front. Her fingertip veil will fall from a tiara of orange blossoms and her only jewelry will be a locket, a gift of the bridegroom. She will carry a bridal bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

The matron of honor has selected a floor-length gown of pink marquisette, with which she will wear a short matching veil. Her flowers will be of pink carnations and blue delphiniums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson has chosen a sheer navy blue ensemble, complemented with navy accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception will be held in Hotel Jefferson. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, surrounded by flowers will serve as the centerpiece of the serving table. Hostesses will be Shyrlee Cole and Mrs. Carol Meardon. Later the couple will leave on a short wedding trip, and for traveling, the bride has selected an aqua crepe dress, accented with brown accessories and a corsage of roses.

The bride is a graduate of Glava high school and attended the University of Iowa for two years. She is now a senior in the university school of nursing, where she plans to continue her training.

Private Readinger was graduated from Guthrie Center high school and received his B.A. from the University of Iowa. He is now a senior in the college of medicine, where he is affiliated with Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternity.

The couple will reside at 604 S. Clinton street after June 25.

Food Experts Report Potato Shortage Of Short Duration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A potato shortage was reported yesterday in many areas but government food experts said it should not last long.

In fact, this year's early crop is the biggest on record. It is expected to be over 64,000,000 bushels compared with about 52,700,000 last year.

An agriculture department official said the trouble appeared to be that the 1944 late crop, none too big, was eaten up before this year's early crop came on the market. The result was a shortage which will end as more of the 1945 crop reach consumers.

Portland, Me., the largest city in the top potato growing state, was one of the cities reporting potatoes scarce in an associated press survey of the food situation in major communities.

In St. Louis there was an "acute shortage" attributed to a combination of bad weather and heavy government purchases.

Pittsburgh said the war food administration advised that a shortage there would be relieved by supplies "on track."

Beans also were short in supply.

In Boston, where baked beans are a tradition, commission merchants reported there was not a dried bean—pea or kidney—in the city and very few of the canned variety.

Otherwise, the food situation changed little last week. Meat, eggs and poultry continued scarce. Fresh vegetables were plentiful in most markets.

Looking to the future:
The OPA slashed sugar allotments for commercial users, such as bakeries, ice cream and bottled beverage producers, 37 1/2 per cent for the July-September period. The cut is by comparison with what they used in the third quarter of 1944.

This means, among other things, fewer bakery pies, cakes and pastry. Some bakeries already have been closing two or three days a week because of their limited supplies of shortening and sugar.

The war food administration made a slight increase in the butter allotment for civilians for July, August and September. It is 336,000,000 pounds, an increase of 7,000,000 over the April-June period but 37,000,000 pounds less than last year's July-September consumption.

To save corn for feeding to poultry and livestock, WFA in another order forbade its use in making beverage or industrial alcohol.

Nor there was little cheering in the food news from abroad.

by Shirlee DeForest, A4 of Eagle Grove. Shirlee is partial to a white starched, crocheted beanie. She wears white gloves and carries a large white, envelope pigskin purse. Completing her ensemble are low, wedge heeled, white sandals with broad straps over the instep and large perforations.

Eleanor Gates, J3 of Kingsley, has turned to something a little more tailored in her choice of accessories. She wears a novel matching lime-green, felt hat and purse set. The purse, initialed with black felt, is oval shaped with a fringed edge. It is complete with matching billfold and change purse of the same material. Her part Robinhood hat is also fringed. Eleanor wears short, black gloves and low, black fabric wedgies with open toe and heel.

Donna Conrad, A2 of Watertown, S. D., goes all out for summer whites with a white linen picture hat and an oblong bag, of the same material, trimmed with eyelet embroidery. Her white linen, spike-heeled sandals, also trimmed with eyelet embroidery, are designed with platform sole and open toe and heel. Short, white, fabric gloves that button at the wrist complete Donna's accessory set.

Heads turn automatically when Rosemary Wells, C3 of Keokuk, is seen in her contrasting black and white accessory set. Rosemary sports a white sailor straw hat, trimmed in black grosgrain ribbon that falls in short streamers. Her purse, large and oblong shaped, is of black patent leather, with which she wears short white fabric gloves. Her white, spike heeled fabric sandals have open toe and heels.

SMARTLY ATTIRED TO attend church are Kay Ita, A4 of Burlington, and Marjorie Voigt, A2 of Burlington. Kay has chosen for her accessories a white summer felt clochet, trimmed in black grosgrain ribbon. She wears long white gloves and carries a white pigskin bag with a drawstring. Her high-heeled pumps are of python skin with open toe and heel. Marjorie favors a white pique beret. She also wears long white gloves and carries a trapezoidal shaped, white pigskin purse. Her shoes are black and white spectator pumps.

University of Iowa coeds choose their accessories carefully and have mastered the art of making their choices with an eye to selecting hats, especially, to fit their personalities.

Val Stumpf, A4 of Eagle Grove, accentuates her femininity with a dusty rose, pillbox shaped hat, trimmed with small, matching flowers and a short, black veil. She wears elbow-length, dusty rose gloves and carries a large navy blue envelop shaped purse with a flower design imprinted in the leather. Her shoes, also navy, are low-vamped with open toe and have three inch heels.

For Distribution—

1946 Hawkeye

It's arrived! The book that Iowa students have been waiting for—the 1946 Hawkeye—will be distributed tomorrow at the south door, west wing of East hall after 11 a. m. A student identification card or Hawkeye receipt must be presented to get the book.

"Till you return . . ." is the theme of the 1946 Hawkeye, directed to those who have left the university campus since the beginning of the war to enter the service or to accept jobs in war industries.

This year's Hawkeye is not a book of memories, says Editor Margaret Browning, A3 of Iowa City; it looks ahead to the future. Double printing of pictures, with one superimposed on another, suggests the fact that we're seeing into the future, she added.

From the tan, brown and green cover—with a flying Hawk and an outlined "I"—to the last page, the 1946 Hawkeye pictures Iowa as it was this year, the campus, the students, the activities.

Anita Beattie, A3 of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, is business manager of this year's Hawkeye, last annual to be published by the junior class. Beginning next year, the Hawkeye will be a senior book.

County King's Daughters To Meet With President

Mrs. Elmer Brownlie of Des Moines, state president of the King's Daughters and Sons of Iowa, will meet with the Johnson county circles June 20, for a six o'clock dinner in the home of Mrs. J. E. Negus, 701 E. College street.

Mrs. Elmer Schmidt, Johnson county president, will introduce the speakers of the evening. Mrs. Brownlie will be the principal speaker.

A report of the work accomplished during the year will be given by circle presidents, including Mrs. W. E. Finch, Electa circle of Iowa City; Mrs. Thelma Sloerchinger, Ethelard Culver circle of Oxford, and Mrs. Lawrence Ware, Friendship circle of Iowa City.

James Lind, an 18th century physician, eliminated scurvy from the British navy by his insistence on cleanliness and proper food.

HARVEST YOUR USED FAT! It's Needed More Than Ever Now!

All over the world, food fats are scarce. There is a global shortage of industrial fats and oils essential to victory and peace.

American kitchens, according to War Food Administration, are the "most fertile source" from which to meet 1945 fats and oils requirements. While it takes lots of manpower, toil, sweat, time, gasoline and machinery to cultivate and harvest oilseed crops, it requires little effort to salvage fat in your kitchen.

If you scrape, scoop and skim one pound of used fat every month, your contribution will equal the oilseed yield from eight Victory garden plots planted exclusively to oil crops.

Save every single drop! Turn in your used kitchen grease for cash and extra ration points!

Lieut. Thomas Hearden To Coach Cadet Eleven

Plans to Use 'T' Formation

To Select Assistants By July 1; Practice Begins Soon After

Lieut. Thomas Francis Hearden will coach the 1945 Seahawk football team, Lieut. Comdr. Jack Meagher, athletic director of Iowa pre-flight school, announced here yesterday.

Hearden, who was an assistant Seahawk coach the last two seasons, is a former Notre Dame co-captain and compiled an outstanding record in 13 years of directing high school elevens prior to entering the service two years ago.

Coaching Mark

His over-all coaching mark consists of 85 games won against only 11 lost and 8 tied. During his seven-year regime at Green Bay, Wis., East high, his teams were beaten only three times and once compiled a state record of 36 straight victories.

Lieutenant Hearden, who is the father of two sons and a daughter said, "I feel this is an opportunity I have been working toward for a good many years. I expect to have my assistants selected by July 1, and we will start practice within a couple of weeks after that."

'T' Formation

"I've always used a Notre Dame box system in the past, but I plan to switch to a 'T' formation this year, although I probably will combine some of both. I worked under Don Faurot and Lieutenant Commander Meagher the last two seasons and I would like to blend the strong points of both systems into our attack."

The fourth Seahawk football coach started his playing career at Green Bay East high where he starred in football, basketball and track from 1919 to 1923. He went on to Notre Dame and won three letters in football and one award in boxing. The red-headed half-back was a member of the shock troops for the Four Horsemen in his sophomore season of 1924. As such, he started in place of Don Miller in the Rose Bowl game of 1925.

Co-Captain of Irish

In his final year under Knute Rockne in 1926, he was elected co-captain of the Irish eleven with Gene Edwards.

Following his graduation with an L.L.B. degree in law, which would have permitted him to practice law at that time by passing the bar examination, Hearden returned to his native Green Bay to play with the Packers of the professional National Football league for two seasons just prior to the team's three-year championship streak of 1929, 1930 and 1931.

Started Coaching at Racine

In 1930 he started coaching at St. Catherine's high school in Racine, Wis., and after four years moved to Washington Park high in the same city. At the start of the 1936 season he transferred back to his Green Bay East high alma mater where he added wrestling to his previous coaching duties in football, basketball and track. A member of the instructional

Prize List Announced For Cedar Rapids Golf Tourney, July 29

Special to The Daily Iowan CEDAR RAPIDS—Complete prize list for the third annual Cedar Rapids Open golf tournament, July 29, was announced Saturday by George Harless, tournament manager. The tourney will be played over 36 holes of medal play at the Cedar Rapids Country club, and is sponsored by the Cedar Rapids Junior Chamber of Commerce. The golfers will be shooting for $1,100 worth of war bond prizes. Harless announced a first prize of a $500 war bond for pros and a $100 war bond for amateurs. In addition to the $500 top prize, professionals in the tournament will be after the $200 war bond second prize, $100 war bond third prize, $50 war bond for fourth and the $25 war bond for fifth.

BROWNS WIN

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The league champion St. Louis Browns defeated the Cleveland Indians 4 to 3 in the 12th inning of their second game of a series last night.

With the bases loaded, Myron Hayworth bunted safely toward third for the squeeze play, George McQuinn scoring the winning run. Jeff Heath's homer with two on the first gave Cleveland a 3 to 0 lead.

Cardinals Hop On Five Pirate Hurlers, 13-10

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Hopping on five Pittsburgh pitchers for 18 hits, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the league leading Pirates 13-10 yesterday to even the series.

The Pirates knocked Harry Brecheen out of the box in the first inning with a five run splurge on five hits including a double by Bob Elliot.

The Cards came back with four runs in the second, including one of two home runs by Whitey Kurowski, added four more in the third and were never headed after that. Kurowski's second homer came in the eighth. Eldred Byerly finished the game for the Cards and received credit for the win.

Naturally, the athletic department heads aren't being too optimistic about the prospects—nor are they being pessimistic. They realize only too well that the success of Iowa's grid machine team depends not only on lots of hard work, but on the type of material that Coach Clem Crowe has to work with.

Who Knows? Naturally, the return of some veteran star of several seasons back is going to skyrocket the Hawkeye's title hopes considerably. And as Coach Crowe emphasized, the 17-year-olds aren't to be counted out. Who knows what surprises Crowe might spring from his freshmen crop of gridders?

And for that matter, who knows what Clem's new mode of attack (Crowe plans to use the "T" formation) will cause among the ranks of the Big Ten foes? It might have devastating results, and some seem to have that opinion firmly entrenched in their minds already. Maybe so—maybe not. Regardless, the Hawkeyes won't take a back seat to anybody next year—meaning that from now on, they won't be a soft pushover for any team in the country. They will be a team that will fight to the last—and well, apparently next fall holds plenty in store for the Iowa football fan.

Seahawks Play Here Today

The scheduled Iowa Seahawk-Davenport Red Sox contest was rained out yesterday at the River city. Pre-flight officials said last night that just one game would be played here today, and that yesterday's contest would go down in the record books as a cancellation.

Steve Stuka, ace of the navy mound corps, will probably get the starting assignment today, with Henry Kaiser on hand to help out. Coach Carlos Ratliff is most worried over his pitching department, and as a result, a shuffling of starting hurlers might occur today.

At present Luke Majorcki is leading the Cadet batsmen with a husky .333 average. Soard also has a .333 average, but has been at bat only 6 times compared to Majorcki's 30. Ed Kietzel, who replaced Bill Schoeberlein at second base is expected to add power to the Seahawk hitting today. Against Notre Dame, he banged out three safeties. Game time today is 2:30.

Hearden has some plans for the Cadets, plans that should make them a power throughout the nation again.

We don't know what the Seahawks will have next year. It's almost impossible to tell this early in the season, but we do know that they won't have Bus Mertes, one of the best plunging backs in the business. As a matter of fact, Mertes MIGHT be playing for Iowa.

Tigers Win 2 From Chisox CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, with their ace pitchers, Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser, in the winning roles, yesterday moved two and a half games in front of the American league pack as they won both ends of a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox by scores of 7-5 and 6-1, before 5,996 fans. Trout, in a relief role, won his sixth game and Newhouser won his ninth of the season with a six-hit performance.

Second Guess

General Opinion

New Cadet Grid Coach

By ROY LUCE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

YOUR SECOND GUESSER has just spent a busy week conferring with athletic department heads of both the university and the Iowa Pre-Flight school, as well as numerous sports writers scattered throughout the town.

Mere Opinions

The general consensus of opinion among them all seems to be that the Hawkeyes will definitely field a better football team next fall than last—but at the same time, they say it cautiously and in somewhat of a whisper. And we can easily see why.

Sure, Iowa expects to have a group of veterans back next year to bolster the team, but as yet, only three have made their appearance. Perhaps there will be more by fall—but that is a question that nobody can answer in any definite tone of voice.

Naturally, the athletic department heads aren't being too optimistic about the prospects—nor are they being pessimistic. They realize only too well that the success of Iowa's grid machine team depends not only on lots of hard work, but on the type of material that Coach Clem Crowe has to work with.

Who Knows?

Naturally, the return of some veteran star of several seasons back is going to skyrocket the Hawkeye's title hopes considerably. And as Coach Crowe emphasized, the 17-year-olds aren't to be counted out. Who knows what surprises Crowe might spring from his freshmen crop of gridders?

And for that matter, who knows what Clem's new mode of attack (Crowe plans to use the "T" formation) will cause among the ranks of the Big Ten foes? It might have devastating results, and some seem to have that opinion firmly entrenched in their minds already. Maybe so—maybe not. Regardless, the Hawkeyes won't take a back seat to anybody next year—meaning that from now on, they won't be a soft pushover for any team in the country. They will be a team that will fight to the last—and well, apparently next fall holds plenty in store for the Iowa football fan.

We must say that the appointment of Lieut. Tom Hearden as head football coach of the Seahawks next fall came as quite a surprise to us, and we imagine everybody.

This case will serve to remind us that in the future we should always take a "Second Guess" as we advocated at the start of our big adventure. We guessed—and we do mean guessed) that Lieut. Comdr. Cochrane, who arrived at the pre-flight base about four weeks ago, would be the new coach. We did say however, that we didn't approve of Cochrane as head football coach, and that we hoped somebody with football coaching experience would get the assignment.

Football Wise

Apparently our wish got there, for Hearden is football wise from way back in his high school days at Green Bay, Wis. Later he graduated to Notre Dame, where he led the Irish for three seasons, becoming co-captain in his final year.

After graduation, Hearden managed to squeeze in several years of pro ball with the Green Bay Packers before taking over the coaching reins at his old high school in Green Bay.

For the past two seasons, Hearden has been assistant grid coach of the Seahawks, a position he has filled very capably, as Lieut. Comdr. Jack Meagher, athletic director of the base, can testify.

Plans

Hearden has some plans for the Cadets, plans that should make them a power throughout the nation again.

We don't know what the Seahawks will have next year. It's almost impossible to tell this early in the season, but we do know that they won't have Bus Mertes, one of the best plunging backs in the business. As a matter of fact, Mertes MIGHT be playing for Iowa.

Chandler—Not Cheap Imitation

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—During the war regime of the late K. M. Landis the idea seemed to be to keep baseball out of Washington, but all that is changed now. The problem now is to get baseball out of Washington.

Baseball as personified by its commissioner, that is, Senator A. B. (Happy) Chandler shows little inclination to make undue haste in leaving the capital, where he is throwing his pounds around in behalf of the rights of the game in a manner which probably shocks the more timid diamond officials.

The game has done a complete about-face in its relations with the government, possibly due to the fact Chandler knows all the trap doors and secret panels in the political layout and knows just how far he can go in standing up for the game.

His request for an investigation of an alleged discrimination against 4-F athletes is an example of this. Landis would have maintained a reverberating silence if the discrimination was admitted, and abetted.

One thing we like about the new commissioner, Happy Chandler is being Happy Chandler and not setting himself up as a $1.98 copy of the original Landis. To have tried to be a second Old Man of the Mountain would have been the biggest mistake he could have made.

We've seen these fellows, who tried to be someone they weren't and never could be too often. We've seen Notre Dame men who played under Knute Rockne or were exposed to him, developing a hero-worship which practically blighted their lives, as instead of going out on a coaching job and being themselves they adopted that mannerisms and speech inflections of their idol and only succeeded in making themselves ridiculous.

Chandler has been answering all the questions satisfactorily to date, although he did seem to succeed in slapping horse racing on the back and kicking it in the britches at the same time.

We imagine there are some American league club owners who are a little disturbed over his decision to make Cincinnati his headquarters, as that is a National league city only, but it is the club owners' own fault if they don't like it as when they pay a man $50,000 a year to work for them they should reserve the privilege of picking the home office. A man drawing down that kind of dough should be willing to make his home nearly anywhere that wasn't fenced in.

Anyway, we think he's off to a good start, although so far he hasn't had a nny worry-wrinkle problems. After a few of those he might begin to be like Landis in spite of himself, particularly as to the white hair.

Red Sox Upset Brooklyn Bums In Ninth, 6-5

BOSTON (AP)—Brooklyn's seven game winning streak was literally thrown away when veteran Curt Davis wild pitched home the run that gave Boston a 6-5 victory over the Dodgers in 12 innings yesterday.

Davis, the sixth Brooklyn pitcher, was put in a hole upon pitching to his first man when shortstop Eddie Basinski erred on Stu Hofferth's grounder. A balk followed by a walk to Phil Masi, and Davis' low throw to second on Frank Drew's bouncer filled the bases with none out. With Mike Ulinsey batting, Davis uncorked his wild pitch which allowed Wietelmann, running for Hofferth, to score the deciding run.

The Dodgers had fought an uphill battle to finally knot the count in the ninth. Trailing 5-1, they scored two in the seventh and two more in the ninth with Augie Galan and Dixie Walker driving in the final runs.

Hoop Jr. Comes In Bad Second

Winner Finishes Two And One Half Lengths Ahead of Derby King

By ORLO ROBERTSON

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Polynesian, a 12 to 1 shot, abruptly ended Hoop Jr.'s bid for the turf's prized triple crown yesterday by soundly whipping the Kentucky Derby winner in the 55th and richest Preakness at Pimlico.

Polynesian was off in first flight, forged to front in opening quarter, drew out, responded when placed to pressure leaving backstretch, withstood challenge of the Dodge and drew out under urging in stretch run. Hoop Jr. was steadied early when unable to get to front, went wide into backstretch, rallied when placed to hard drive and lugged in during final eighth and pulled up lame.

Derby Diempe was allowed to race on own courage early, obtained racing room on inside to better position sharply after half but was in crowded quarters between Hoop Jr. and rail during final 16th and Calvert was unable to do him justice. The Dodge was rated closest to pace of Polynesian early, rallied when placed to pressure to move almost abreast of Paememaker and then weakened gradually. Pavot was hard ridden early trying to get to Leader, raced evenly to stretch and then faltered. Sea Swallow failed to be prominent. Alexis had no excuses. Bobanet was well placed for half and tired.

Hoop Jr., carrying the silks of Fred Hooper, never was far off the pace but he didn't have the answer to Polynesian's stretch drive when Wayne Wright pointed Mrs. Widener's colt for home and pulled up lame at the finish. As it was he had difficulty saving second money from Mrs. W. G. Lewis' Darby Diempe, who came from far back on the rail to get into the money picture—the same place he earned in the Derby.

Close for Second Only a half length separated the Derby champ and Darby Diempe at the finish with The Dodge, a rank outsider from the Pentago stable in fourth place. Walter Jeffords' Pavot, co-choice of a crowd held to some 30,000 by the intense heat, finished fifth after running fourth from the break of the barrier.

Despite Polynesian's victory over Pavot in the Withers Mile, he was permitted to go postward at 12 to 1 as the perspiring fans rushed to get on the Hoop Jr. and Pavot band wagon. As the result he paid $26.00, $6.70 and $3.80 across the board. The Derby Winner returned $3.20 and $2.60 while a $2 show ticket on Darby Diempe was worth $4.30.

He entered coaching in Holy Cross prep school in New Orleans and after serving five years in that capacity was named backfield coach and head basketball tutor at the University of Mississippi. From there he entered the first instructor's class of the pre-flight program at Annapolis.

Senators Trip Boston, 4-0 WASHINGTON (AP)—Mickey Haefner starred both on the mound and at bat yesterday to help his Washington teammates trim the Boston Red Sox 4 to 0 before a crowd of 3,600.

Yank Terry, against whom Haefner pitched shutout ball, was charged with the loss. The Senators put the game on ice in the eighth when Haefner singled and scored on Torres' triple. Torres' throw to Eddie Lake. Joe Kuhel scored Vaughn with another triple.

Medical Editor To Be Speaker

Dr. Morris Fishbein To Address Graduates In Union at 1:45 P. M.

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Dr. Morris Fishbein of Chicago, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, will address 188 candidates for degrees in medicine, dentistry and nursing at Convocations this afternoon at 1:45 in Iowa Union lounge. Dr. Fishbein will speak on "Medicine in the Postwar World."

The noted medical editor and author will make his first appearance as a University of Iowa Commencement speaker. The entire program will be broadcast by station WSUL.

Dr. Fishbein is consulting editor of Scientific American, medical editor of Encyclopedia Britannica, writer for the Chicago Daily Times syndicate and contributor to Your Life in the Saturday Evening Post. He is the author of more than 15 books.

Under the normal university schedule, awards to graduates in medicine, dentistry and nursing are made at the spring Commencement, but under the accelerated plan of study the semesters in these units do not coincide with the terms of the other colleges.

Applicants include 81 in medicine, 43 in dentistry and 64 in nursing. Of this number, 132 are in uniform.

Lieut. Comdr. Edward F. McNabb Awarded Presidential Unit Citation for Squadron 34

Lieut. Comdr. Edward F. McNabb, USNR, of Chicago, university graduate in 1927, recently received the Presidential Unit Citation for activities' patrol squadron 34, in ceremonies at the Superior, Wis., naval air training base. He is now serving there as personnel officer of a training squadron at Bronson field naval auxiliary air station.

From June, 1942, until March, 1944, Commander McNabb was a ground and operations officer with patrol 34, which made fame as a "Black Cat" squadron in the Pacific. The squadron was cited for outstanding performance above the normal call of duty while engaged in search missions and anti-shipping attacks in the Japanese-controlled area of the Bismarck as from Sept. 15, 1943, to Feb. 1, 1944.

Patrol squadron 34 rendered pioneer service in changing the passive, defensive search into a powerful offensive and utilized the full potentialities of the PB-5 seaplane and its equipment. They located enemy task force units and struck by night in devastating glide-bombing attacks so effectively as to inflict substantial damage on hostile combat and other shipping, closing the sea route between New Ireland and New Britain islands and preventing the reinforcing of important Jap bases.

Commander McNabb's wife resides at Kokomo, Ind. He is the son of Andrew McNabb of Superior, Wis.

Farm Bureau Women Adopt Four Projects At Committee Meeting

Food preservation, planned kitchens, time saving meals, and living together in the family were the principal projects adopted by the Farm Bureau Women's committee at a meeting held in Iowa City Friday.

Meeting with Women's Committee Township officers at this meeting were Miss Dorothy Simmons, home economics field supervisor of Ames, and Emmett C. Gardner, Johnson County extension director. Mrs. Lee Douglass, West Branch, county women's home project chairman, presided at the meeting.

It is planned that the projects selected will be presented by extension specialists in July and during the fall and winter months. Open meetings will be held at several points throughout the county.

Case Dismissed

TONGANOXIE, Kan. (AP)—Alton Grems, Tonganoxie iceman, spied a carp isolated in the backwater of Stranger Creek, so he grabbed the only tool he had handy and went to the attack.

Just as he closed in on the carp with his ice pick a game warden appeared.

Justice of the Peace Perry Walters, dismissed the case with this ruling:

"Since backwater from a flood is neither a stream nor a lake... and since fish are trespassers on farmers' cornfields, the accused is innocent of violating and state law."

Three on Art Staff Resign, Take Leave

Two instructors in the art department have resigned and one instructor has been granted a leave of absence, according to an announcement made yesterday by Prof. L. D. Longman, head of the department.

Prof. Edna Patzig, head of art work in the university schools for several years, has resigned her position. She will leave Iowa City this month to be married to Cornelius Gouwens, associate professor of mathematics at Iowa State college in Ames. She is not teaching any courses during the summer session.

Alice Davis, instructor in design, has resigned to become head of the art department at Lindenwood college, a girls' school located out of St. Louis, Mo. Miss Davis, who is now teaching on the summer staff, will have on her staff at Lindenwood, Elizabeth Watts, a graduate assistant in art at the University of Iowa last year.

Philip Guston, noted painter on the SUI staff, has been granted a year's leave of absence. He will work in St. Louis, gathering city material for his paintings and teaching part time on the staff of Washington university.

Sergeant Loses Three Legs in Combat

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Master Sergt. Robert E. Scott of New Orleans, La., lost three legs in combat.

Scott hastens to explain that "only one of those legs was actually my own—the other two were artificial."

Scott, who joined the army in 1927, was top gunner on a B-17 patrolling Pacific waters when the action occurred which resulted in the loss of his leg.

During a bombing mission leg No. 2 (artificial) was lost, splintered by Zero machine gun bullets. Scott fastened on a spare. Another bombing flight and again the sergeant was hit—in the spare leg.

Scott was returned home again. "I had run out of legs," he said.
