Pearl Harbor Up for Review Today

MacArthur Orders Arrest Of Hideki Tojo

Former Jap Premier Refuses to Admit Responsibility for War

TOKYO (AP)—The United States, as victor, can name the Japanese responsible for the war.

—BULLETIN—

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mutual broadcasting system said its Tokyo correspondent, Jack Mahon, reported last night that General MacArthur had ordered the arrest of former Japanese premier Hideki Tojo in a roundup of war criminal suspects.

Gen. Hideki Tojo said in an interview yesterday in which he dodged a direct question as to his own responsibility for the Pacific conflict.

Tojo, the war-making premier whose government engineered the Pearl Harbor attack, switched quickly to other subjects after giving this brief reply to the question of who was responsible for the war:

"You are the victors and you are able to name him now. But historians 500 or 1,000 years from now may judge differently."

Thus did the shaven-headed former premier, who ruled with an iron, almost dictatorial hand from Pearl Harbor until the fall of Saipan, dismiss any discussion of his own war guilt or that of others. He would brook no more talk of war responsibility in our conference at his country home. He changed the subject to a narrow escape from death last May 25 in a Superfortress incendiary raid that started fires all about his home.

At first disgruntled at our intrusion into his privacy, Tojo curiously refused to discuss the war. Then he seemed to decide that pleasant banter would be the best treatment for us. He chatted of his land, his house and other non-war subjects. He laughed heartily at times. He often lapsed into cold-eyed impassivity.

On war he commented only: "Real soldiers fight to the finish in the field. War ends when peace is declared. Each respects an enemy who fights hard and cleanly and so MacArthur has the respect of myself as well as the Japanese people."

He had nothing to say as to whether he expected to be tried as a war criminal, and what defense he was preparing, if any.

"I am a farmer now, and no more concerned with politics," Tojo told us. "I have no intention of returning to politics."

Two Iowans Freed

YOKOHAMA (AP)—Two Iowans, Pte. Bernard W. Cline of Cedar Rapids and Pvt. Lawrence J. Schafer of Sioux City, were among the American prisoners of war being released yesterday from Toyama camp, number seven, in the Nagoya district.

MacArthur Demonstrates Sternness—Jap Militarism Dealt Death Blow

TOKYO, Tuesday (AP)—General MacArthur dealt Japanese militarism its death blow today with an order summarily abolishing imperial general headquarters, which hatched the infamous strike at Pearl Harbor.

His order for the joint army-navy clique to dissolve by Thursday (Wednesday, United States time) went out simultaneously with a censorship decree that waved the threat of suspension over any Japanese newspaper or radio station caught stirring up unrest or publishing false reports.

RUSHING STARTS AT SUI

MARILYN DUFFY (left) of Omaha and Capi Flynn of Wellman who are participating in rushing activities at the university, study a Panhellenic handbook to find the next sorority they are to visit. The rushing program began yesterday morning with an assembly in Macbride auditorium. After the meeting they visited different sororities on the campus and today they will receive their bids at Iowa Union. (See story and pictures page 3.)

Allied Officers Clear Charges For Schmeling

HAMBURG (AP)—Max Schmeling, onetime world's heavyweight boxing champion and Nazi paratrooper, was acquitted yesterday of making improper statements to Allied military authorities about his plans for publishing books to reeducate German youth.

The 40-year-old Schmeling, arrested last week, listened soberly as Lt. Col. Donald Kaberry, president of the court, told him: "Having regarded all the evidence, there is such a measure of doubt that you should have the benefit of it."

German civilians in the courtroom applauded. Schmeling's troubles with the occupation authorities grew out of an interview he gave Vivian Batchelor, British war correspondent, about plans he had to help re-educate German youth through his publishing activities.

Specifically, Kaberry said, Schmeling was charged with stating, on August 20th that he had authority to publish books for that purpose.

"A few facts appear clear in this case," the officer said. "You were not given a job to re-educate German youth, nor have you been selected to publish books for their reading, nor are you a 'sleeping partner' in the Hammerich and Lesser publishing firm."

Schmeling resigned from the firm August 30th after the British control commission advised it would not be licensed to resume publication if the ex-champion was connected with it.

tion of the home islands, MacArthur acted to quiet unrest in nearby Korea. Koreans, who demonstrated in the capital of Seoul over the United States army decision to keep Japanese civilian authorities temporarily at their posts, were told by MacArthur that all their rights would be protected.

The supreme commander declared the Americans were occupying southern Korea only "to enforce the instrument of surrender" and warned that acts of violence against the occupying troops might be punished by death.

At the same time, the Japanese at home were made to feel the steel behind MacArthur's "gloved hand" policy of occupation.

Hero's Honors for Wainwright

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's capital heaped a conqueror's honors yesterday on a gaunt, gray general who lost a battle.

The tribute—which included the nation's highest for valor—was paid Jonathan M. Wainwright for the brilliant defense of doomed Corregidor fortress in Manila bay. It was that gallant stand which held back the enemy while the nation got its hands up to fight again after the knockdown of Pearl Harbor.

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright said he and other high ranking American officers suffered "indignities" at the hands of Japanese guards while held prisoner in Manchuria.

Wainwright spoke of his treatment at the hands of the Japanese at a war department news conference late yesterday.

"The conditions were far from pleasant," Wainwright said grimly. "Even the highest ranking officers were forced to perform manual labor like any Chinese coolie."

"And other indignities were heaped upon us. But I prefer not to go into that any more at the present time."

Wainwright made a statement reviewing his gallant defense of Bataan, his imprisonment later and his recent return to the United States.

Reporters were not allowed to ask questions. In introducing General Wainwright, Secretary of War Stimson said, "he symbolizes the loftiest spirit of Bataan and Corregidor. In him we are honoring the everlasting glory of that last battle."

Arriving by air from the Pacific where his sacrifice left him a Japanese prisoner for more than three years, General Wainwright whirled through a breathless schedule that included:

A tender welcome from the wife he had not seen in four years.

A triumphal parade to the capitol to the tumultuous cheers of half a million.

An appearance before each house of congress, as a specially invited and honored guest.

A visit to the White House where President Truman, in a ceremony of which the general had no warning, placed around his neck the ribbon of the Congressional Medal of Honor, reserved for the truly great among America's heroes.

No defeated general ever came back to such a demonstration; few winners ever have.

It was like a repetition of the wild celebration that greeted General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Victor of Europe, not so long ago.

There was the vast crowd at the airport, the throngs lining the motorcade route to the War department's Pentagon building, the even bigger throngs along Memorial highway, historic Constitution avenue, the Washington Memorial grounds, the route to the capitol, the return to the White House.

The general may have been tired from his long ordeal, he leaned on a cane. But he couldn't stop the grin that transformed his wrinkled stern visage and he refused to stop waving. He saw 150,000 people on the Washington Monument grounds, alone. The nearest police could get to guessing at the number along the route was a half million or more.

The general made three speeches, (See WAINWRIGHT, page 5)

Senate Okays Investigation Of Catastrophe

Ballot for Final Approval of Inquiry Before House Today

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL WASHINGTON (AP)—The first reconversion bill, to let a single boss get rid of leftover war supplies, sailed unopposed through the house yesterday.

But a final push for an inquiry into Pearl Harbor was put off for 24 hours. The house votes on that Tuesday.

The senate already has approved an investigation of the Pearl Harbor catastrophe. It still has to act on the measure to replace the present three-man surplus property board with a single administrator.

The senate hauled out today legislation to lade out $500,000,000 to cities and states in the next five years to build and repair airports. Cities and states would foot half the bill. No vote yesterday—maybe today.

Hero Intervenes The day's big moment at the Capitol was reserved not for legislation but for a hero.

Senate and house interrupted sessions to take a hand in Washington's welcome to Corregidor's defender, Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright. Each heard a brief, rapturous address. Each shrieked its acclaim.

Otherwise congress had its collective mind mostly on military matters.

Chairmen of the senate and house naval committees plunked down bills for a peacetime fleet of 1,079 ships. The navy now has 1,308. Authorized pre-war strength, 272.

A senate subcommittee proposed that some lend-lease debtors pay off in bauxite—the aluminum ore. (Rep. Weichel (R., Ohio) complained that American paratroopers are dying as "circus" performers for European big-shots. He called for a halt on demonstrations, for rest and safety for airborne troops.)

House Will String Along The house was supposed to string along with the senate and okay a Pearl Harbor inquiry yesterday. It's still going to.

But Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) said, "Let's wait until tomorrow." So—the house decided to talk about it for an hour today, then tie into amendments, and the final vote.

Republicans are ready to let fly with one amendment—to put as many Republicans as Democrats on an investigating committee.

A bill which has hit rough going, even with President Truman's backing, may come to a vote Tuesday in the senate finance committee. It would chip in federal funds to let the states pay up to $25 a week for 26 weeks to the unemployed. The committee has dropped the original idea and now is reported studying a plan for help to states only if they say they want it.

Another presidential proposal, to raise the 40-cents-an-hour minimum wage now required of firms in interstate commerce, built up momentum. Hearings may get under way by Sept. 25 on a bill to boost the minimum to 65 cents.

Prepare Surrender Rites for China Japs

SINGAPORE (AP)—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten was en route to this key base yesterday to accept of Japan's southern armies in a ceremony designed to humble the conquered enemy and restore Britain's "face" throughout all Asia.

The Southeast Asia commander planned originally to receive the Samurai sword of Field Marshal Count Juichi Terauchi, supreme commander of the southern armies, and to reenact—with roles reversed—the drama of Britain's Singapore surrender early in 1942.

This program would have included a parade of Japanese generals through the city, carrying white flags. It was ruled out yesterday, however, by the highest level of authority in favor of a "more dignified ceremony," scheduled to take place tomorrow.

Foreign Ministers Will Open Discussions in London Today

Italian Situation Heads List of Major Problems Facing Allied Diplomats

LONDON (AP)—The foreign ministers of the world's greatest powers found new demands clamoring for their consideration last night as they prepared to open a historic session today aimed at designing a lasting peace.

Last to arrive for the conference was United States Secretary of State James Byrnes, who appeared in high spirits as he prepared to meet with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, French Minister Georges Bidault and Chinese Minister Wang Shih-Chieh.

Agenda Changes Forseen At Potsdam the Big Three agreed to put the framing of a peace with Italy at the top of the agenda for the foreign ministers, but since then new matters have been broached as needing consideration.

Each of the five ministers is believed to have his own set of priority projects—a situation which seems sure to alter the original plans to devote only 10 days to settle general principles, then leave details to deputies.

Byrnes' Plan Outlined The main points of Byrnes' program are expected to be:

An Italian peace which will strip the first axis partner of the war gains, but pave the way for an economically and socially stable Italy which can become a full-fledged member of a society of peace-loving nations. This would seem to mean removal of Italy's colonies but no other reparations.

Arrangements for the establishment of a more representative government in the Balkans. Byrnes is expected to follow the line taken by President Roosevelt at Yalta and President Truman at Potsdam in insisting that Moscow show more cooperation with the western allies in carrying out her relations with states on her western borders.

New Waterway Freedom Plans for internationalization of Europe's waterways to enable free commerce across the continent. Similar programs were anticipated for strategic and commercial gateway places such as the port of Trieste and the Dardanelles.

A general discussion of Pacific problems with emphasis on how responsibility will be worked out for future defense against possible resurgence of aggression in the Far East.

Low Temperatures, Clear Weather Today

The chief trouble which people on the streets of Iowa City encountered yesterday was the wind. While men clutched their hats and women their skirts, the aerometer at the airport registered up to 35 miles an hour.

Actually, the mercury dropped to 49 in the morning and rose to only 74. Today's temperatures will be about the same. The mercury probably dropped to 44 or 45 last night and won't rise above 75 today.

Food Dealers Predict Meat Rationing End In Very Near Future

Spokesman Declares Present Meat Supply Greater Than Demand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some officials reported yesterday that an end of meat rationing is "possible" by October 1, but OPA and the Agriculture department said no definite date could be predicted.

In New York, however, a food dealers' spokesman declared the meat supply had improved so much in recent weeks that the commodity "could be taken off rationing entirely."

E. F. Guckenberger, secretary of the New York Retail Food Merchants association, said many retailers in that area were sending meat back to wholesalers because consumers lacked enough red ration points to buy it.

Deny Disagreement The two government agencies issued a joint statement denying what they described as "rumors" of disagreement between them on the lifting of ration controls.

"The department and OPA are in agreement that meat rationing should be ended as soon as supplies are sufficiently adequate and distribution is sufficiently equitable to permit such action," said J. B. Hutson, acting secretary of agriculture.

Predictions Said Impossible "However they are also in agreement that the present supply situation is not sufficient to permit such action," (See RATIONING, page 5)

No Johnson County Tire Quota Increase Forseen, Says Kelley

New tires aren't getting any easier to acquire in Iowa City. Johnson county's quota of new tires for this month is the same as last month's quota, about 500, according to A. O. Kelley, chairman of the county OPA war price and rationing board.

With the withdrawal of gasoline restrictions, motorists have been doing more driving than previously and old tires are wearing out, Kelley said. Applications for new tire certificates are piling up in the local ration board office.

"This month's tire quota is no higher and there is no indication that our quota will be raised in the near future, although we are hoping that it will," Kelley explained.

Motorists fortunate enough to have certificates for new tires are finding it difficult to find tires. A survey made by Kelley last week showed that four of the largest tire dealers in the city did not have even one 16x800 tire on hand.

Quisling to Die For Betrayal

Traitor Will Request Reduction of Sentence From Higher Court

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Maj. Vidkun Abraham Lauritz Quisling was convicted yesterday of betraying his country to the Germans and was sentenced to die before a firing squad.

The 59-year-old former puppet ruler, whose name has become a synonym for traitor the world over, stood impassive in the courtroom as Presiding Judge Erik Solem read the verdict, which was broadcast to the people of Norway.

Quisling's jaw muscles tightened and his pallid face reddened. He did not speak until the judge informed him that while the treason conviction could not be appealed, he could ask the supreme court to reduce the sentence.

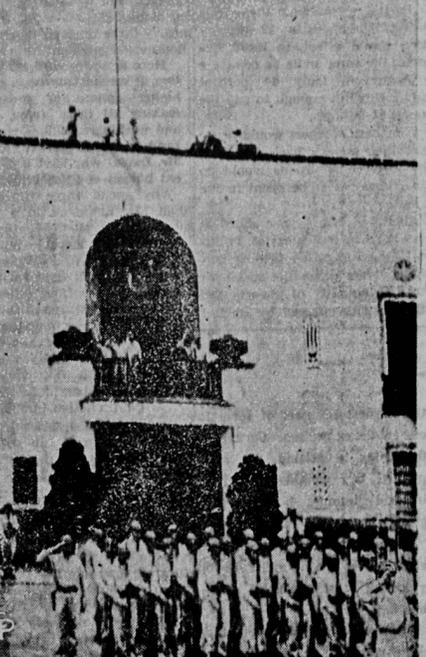

"Is it your intention to do this?" the judge asked.

"Yes," replied Quisling, who ruled Norway for Adolf Hitler from Sept. 25, 1940, until his cabinet resigned in the general German collapse last spring.

Nips Choose Suicide

SINGAPORE (AP)—The new Singapore edition of the Southeast Asia command's official daily newspaper for empire troops reported yesterday, from "friendly Japanese" sources, that 300 Japanese officers committed suicide with hand grenades after a saki party to mourn Japan's surrender.

Is the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill Necessary?

As Debated By:

HON. ROBERT F. WAGNER
U. S. Senator from New York,
Co-author Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill

JOHN W. SCOVILLE
Industrial Economist, Author,
Lecturer

SEN. WAGNER OPENS: America's primary postwar goal is full employment in private enterprise of all our workers, farmers and ex-servicemen. To back up free enterprise in the difficult transition period, as well as in time of future prosperity or depression, we need an expanded national system of social security as provided in our bill, which establishes a nationwide system of public employment offices to help servicemen and war workers find jobs in private industry or on farms; provides national unemployment insurance up to 26, possibly 52, weeks.

The present old-age insurance system is expanded to increase the benefits and include 15,000,000 more persons. Factory, farm, white collar workers and their families, are protected against loss of wages due to sickness or total disability.

It assures adequate medical care to the insured and his family under a nationwide health and insurance plan. All ex-servicemen are given paid-up benefits rights for their period of service and full coverage for one year after discharge.

Increased social insurance contributions by employers-employees would finance the program for 10 to 15 years without government contribution except for servicemen. Such an increase—amounting to $5,000,000,000 in the first year—would have helped mop up surplus purchasing power in wartime, enabling workers to pay as they earned for postwar security.

MR. SCOVILLE CHALLENGES: Description of this bill is not proof it is necessary, which is what we are debating. The employment offices will be hiring halls dominated by A. P. of L. and C.I.O. and applicants without the right union cards will be out of luck.

The bill offers no security, for, unlike private companies, the government issues no policies, and sets up no adequate reserves to protect the insured.

To compel workers to buy insurance when they need the money for clothing, food and homes is despotism—not free enterprise. Congress might repeal the act; the insured would then lose what they had paid in.

SEN. WAGNER REPLIES: Public employment offices have been operated without bias or favoritism for many years with lasting national benefits to employers and employees.

As for social insurance, the security is and will continue to be the best in the world—United States government bonds backed by the resources of the nation.

Mr. Scoville evidently lacks faith in our country's future economic soundness and in the integrity of congress. Workers strongly favor the legislation because it affords full money's worth in social security; establishes a foundation for each family to build greater security and happiness in the postwar period.

That's good business and sound Americanism.

MR. SCOVILLE OPENS: This bill and the socialistic laws sponsored by Senator Wagner are patterned after the social security laws introduced into Germany 62 years ago by Bismarck to check the growth of socialism.

This appeasement of socialists did not prevent the Germans being drawn into the world wars and losing all liberty under the national socialist party.

In 150 years, without any of these social security measures, we became a rich and powerful nation, and our workers received much higher wages than were paid in Europe.

Is it necessary now to scrap the constitution framed by Washington, Jefferson and Madison, which gives Congress no power to pay our doctor bills and care for pregnant women, and adopt the principles of the German socialists, Max, Bebel and LaSalle?

This bill taxes the employee six percent of his wages and taxes the employer six percent. Most of the employer's contribution will be taken from workmen in reduced wages or higher prices for what they pay.

It also taxes every farmer, merchant, doctor and lawyer so that most workers would pay about $300 a year above present high taxes.

This bill is an insult to self-reliant Americans and assumes that we are incompetent children who can not be trusted to handle our own money.

SEN. WAGNER CHALLENGES: Is Mr. Scoville unaware that federal action to improve national health began with President Washington and has developed progressively?

The first compulsory health insurance system was established by congress, for merchant seamen, in 1793; federal appropriations in aid of maternity and child care began in 1921; were established under the social security act of 1935.

His viewpoint places him in opposition not only to federal health measures, but to every provision for social security, including unemployment and old-age insurance. In this utterly reactionary view, he departs from the overwhelming majority of Americans and their leaders in both parties.

MR. SCOVILLE REPLIES: Communism, which taxes wages 100 percent, destroys the incentive to work, makes citizens dependent on government so they cannot oust the dictator in control, regiments and enslaves the people and destroys freedom.

Partial communism under this bill which levies a 12 percent tax, would effect, in lesser degree, the same evils as complete communism. Only 44 percent favor this bill enough to pay the taxes it imposes.

Northern workers would never get their money back for some of their contributions would go to jobholders or be spent in the south.

This bill is a dagger aimed at the heart of free America. Political Pied Pipers are leading gullible voters down the socialistic trail to equality of poverty and the security enjoyed by slaves.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

WASHINGTON—Wonders never cease. The left-leaning New Dealer's program for postwar, submitted by President Truman, hit the conservatives as just about right. The stock market went gleefully up.

Indeed it went up about as much as left-wing prestige here. The millennium therefore definitely arrived—for a day or two at least.

The phenomena is not difficult to understand and explain, if you study the program and add it up.

Fundamentally the new president promised to provide all those rights Mr. Roosevelt used to talk about by encouraging private business to provide full employment at decent wages.

What Country Wants This is just what the country wants. And he offered his promise without a word of bitterness against anyone, or bestirring a single class hate.

But, conversely, he asked for an increased appropriation for everything, except war—more free (without taxes) unemployment compensation for civilians and soldiers, more public works, housing, farm-price stabilization, research science, veterans, health, social security, foreign relief, FEPC, even more salaries for congressmen.

For 18,000 words he continued enumerating necessities for increased government appropriations, but in 20 words he said there could be no cessation of wartime tax rates.

He said his spending budget for this fiscal year—involving less than two months of war activity—would run $66,000,000,000, which would continue about two-thirds of the war expenditures rate until next July 1.

Some Questions Anyone can see and understand these propositions, but economists may have difficulty reconciling them. If full employment is to be furnished through greatly expanded and encouraged private production, why does the government avoid the point of greatest encouragement to private initiative (tax reduction) and plan spending all that money—six times as much as Mr. Roosevelt ever spent?

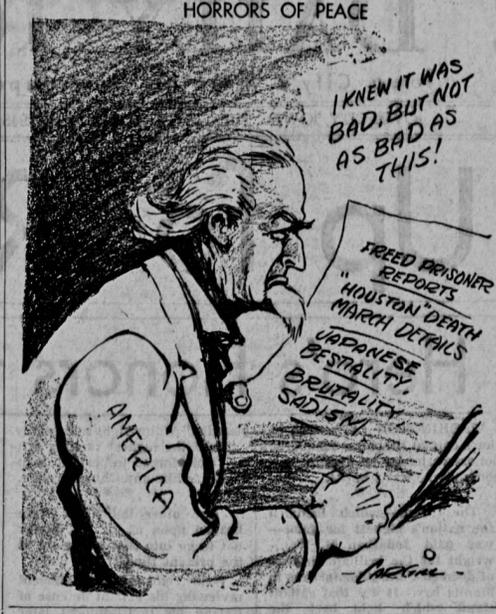

Where is the need for it in what is officially proclaimed a temporary unemployment condition in some industries? The contradiction does not stop there. Mr. Truman's own director of economic stabilization, William Davis, announced, just before the message, a great prosperity is ahead for the next few years, which would lift living standards for the people 50 percent without increasing prices.

He figured on doing it apparently by increasing wages only in places where these would not force price increases, which, in my opinion, would be a spectacular feat, if it could be done. The low wage industries are those like canning and farm help, and if the minimum wage can be jumped in those without increasing the price of food, I would like to see it done, before believing.

25 Billion Budget But Mr. Truman's treasury secretary, the New Dealer Mr. Vinson, says that the permanent budget beginning next July 1 (Mr. Truman did not mention this) would be at least $25,000,000,000 a year or nearly three times as much as Mr. Roosevelt ever spent in peacetime.

Here again is vital contradiction. If we are entering a greatly higher sphere of prosperity, making all those autos, radios and washing machines we need, (and the stock market confirms Mr. Davis) why have a permanent budget of $25,000,000,000?

Why spend three times more than Mr. Roosevelt in a coming prosperous period. Would it be simple prudence to hold back all these proposed government expenditures, until the pent-up demand wears off in a few years and an economic justification for them exists? Does not government spending now compete with private enterprise and add to inflation hazards, which the government economists all consider so dire?

Marines Bury General—Burial for Jap

(A Japanese lieutenant general was killed on Saipan. The following account of his burial by United States marines, held for more than a year by navy censorship for security reasons, has now been released.)

By REMBERT JAMES SAIPAN, July 13, 1944—(Deceased)—Lieut. Gen. Yoshige Saito, one of the Tokyo military careerists who dreamed of ruling half the world, was buried with full military honors today by United States marines.

It was a strange end for the undersized soldier of Nippon—in an oversized American coffin.

Four strong marines, of the branch of fighting men which Saito hated most, acted as pallbearers.

Bugler Blows Taps They carried the coffin, covered with a Japanese flag, to the grave side with as much ease as if it were filled only with cotton. A marine bugler blew taps. The pallbearers lowered the coffin into the grave. A marine rifle squad fired the traditional salute.

Saito, commander of Japanese-held islands from Tokyo southward to Guam, had ordered his 20,000 troops on Saipan to resist to the last and kill themselves when unable to fight longer. The marines believe he followed out that order himself.

His body was found in a cave on the northwestern side of the island. It was on a ledge at the back of the cave and efforts had been made to burn it.

Find Japs in Cave When the American party returned the day after the discovery, there were eight living Japanese in the cave.

The Americans and Japanese batted at the mouth of the cave for some time. Then, during a lull in the fighting, a Japanese woman walked out and surrendered.

Fighting was resumed until all armed Japanese were killed.

Saito's body was still on the ledge where new efforts had been made to cremate it by building a bonfire on top of it. But the fire had burned itself out.

The body was removed to the United States army's 27th division cemetery where, in a plot reserved for enemy officers, the burial ceremony was performed by the marines.

Picking Up the Ends From Your Capital In 'Postwar Time'

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Your Capital in postwar time:

It was up to John Hazard, a local resident, in a letter to the editor of the Washington Post, to say the last word in the controversy about whether the navy should be allowed to expand the Annapolis academy by taking over historic St. John's college.

In view of the atomic bomb and other scientific weapons developed by civilian imagination, inventiveness and skill, writes Mr. Hazard, it might be more fitting if St. John's should take over Annapolis.

Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace's idea of a good way to finish off one of these hot summer days after eight or ten hours work is to romp through about five fast sets of tennis—and he'll be 57 Oct. 7.

The other afternoon daughter Jean and two friends found themselves without a tooth for mixed doubles. Jean called on "Dad."

At the end of the fifth set, the youngsters (they were all in their early twenties) were exhausted, their tongues lolling. Father still was going strong.

The secretary doesn't load through any games either, whether it's the first or last. He's all over the court, rushes the net on his serves, and never fails to try for the hard ones.

His tennis playing (of a little different type) has earned him fame outside the United States too. In a hotel in Arequipa, Peru, (elevation 8,000 feet mind you), there is a bronze plaque on one of the tennis tables.

Its almost exact words are: Henry Wallace, vice president of the United States of America, played five games of tennis here immediately upon arrival, a feat never before accomplished at this altitude.

Would-be wits among the political observers here are going around asking each other: "What- ever became of Sidney Hillman?"

It is true that the name of the head of CIO's political action committee has been conspicuously absent from the calling list of President Truman, whose nomination as vice president was reportedly held up until it could be "cleared with Sidney."

Serious political observers frankly are puzzled, especially since there has been no other indication of a rift between the president and organized labor's most active political leader.

I pulled up in traffic in front of Blair house, where a small crowd was waiting to catch a glimpse of Gen. Charles DeGaulle as he crossed over to the White House.

"It's a funny world. Fourteen years ago in October, I was in a crowd right about here waiting to see another Frenchman. It was Marshall Henri Petain. You ought to have seen the turn-out they gave him. He was the hero of Verdun, you know."

"There was a big parade in New York and old Black Jack Pershing was his escort. There was more big things here and receptions with President Hoover and a big show at Annapolis. And now here's the man who had to be responsible for commuting Petain's death sentence."

"Yes sir, it's a funny world."

Filipino Ceremony—Native On Leave

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY LOAY, Borol Island, Philippines (AP)—The withered old Filipino in the white suit made a ceremony out of guiding the party from the United States destroyer through the long, palm-lined lane.

Children of the village trotted alongside, calling "hello Joe" to the big Americans and dodging around carabao carts to keep up with the procession.

Finally, the old man halted before a big native house built on stilts.

"This," he announced, "is the home of Cesar Severo—here he visits with his father, mother, sister and brothers."

And sure enough, there Cesar Severo stood framed in the doorway. His navy blues were in striking contrast to the scant clothing of the natives, who crowded around.

First Leave Home Cesar Severo, boatswain's mate 2/C, USN, was ending his first home leave—for this was his native village—in 16 years. And the party had come to escort him away in style.

It was distinctly Cesar Severo's day. He grinned down at Lieut. Cmdr. Francis W. Ingling of Long Beach, Calif., captain of the destroyer which had put Severo ashore a week earlier and had now returned to pick him up.

"My people," he said, indicating the throng, "can hardly understand how Americans can be like this—sending a warship just for one man."

Actually, on the orders of the late Vice Adm. John S. McCain, the destroyer had delivered and was now picking up three Filipino sailors who had not been home for years. The other two, already back aboard, were Zacarias Parilla, 35, chief cook, who had visited his family at Iloilo on Iloilo island, and Catalino Jorquia, 33, who had visited his Cebu island home village.

Planned Party But Cesar Severo's people were not ready to let the ship's party go away. The people had planned for this leave taking with much care.

Corn Crop Not Maturing—

Iowa farmers are faced with the prospects of a crop of poorly matured corn this year. Agriculture leaders foresee it as one of the worst from the standpoint of maturity in the state's history.

Normally at this time of year, the corn husks should be turning brown. The crop should be all but in the bag, with only harvest weather to worry about.

Hybrid producers are facing a ticklish problem in getting good seed corn for next year. They fear the corn won't be mature enough, and they are set to rush the picking and drying as much as possible.

the hardest hit part of Iowa is our southeast section. On top of the delay in getting the crop planted, dry weather developed in mid-summer, hindering growth to a great extent.

Farmers said that a hard freeze at or before the normal date for a killing frost could be disastrous.

There also are indications that there won't be much cash corn. More than half of it will be used for feed. Some of it will even be used for silage or fodder because it is so immature.

Contradiction in Plan Is there not a natural, fundamental, unconceivable contradiction in this program which needs resolving?

But contradictions do not end there, either. Within details of the program there are conflicts of purpose. The major manpower reconversion task is to induce the returning low salaried soldier and the high salaried war worker back into their old jobs.

Neither wants very much to go. The veteran has discharge pay and allowances enabling him to lay off for a rest, at least, and then seek a better job or unemployment compensation while the war worker naturally does not in full unambiguously want to do his old work on the farm or in consumer services.

ment allowances aid this transition or further accelerate natural individual inclinations? This, and continued high taxes on private initiative would seem to me to work to discourage the basic Truman policy.

My point about the program therefore is that the specific recommendations go contrary to the very popular and laudible basic purpose. While the aim is sound, the program is no more sound than when congress always rejected it, as proposed by Mr. Roosevelt and endorsed by CIO. Mr. Truman just makes it sound nice.

An informal atmosphere will prevail this afternoon at the Alpha Xi Delta house from 2:30 to 4 p. m. when they present the "Boogie Woogie Downbeat" and everyone will be dressed in sweaters and skirts. Tonight at 7:30 p. m. the atmosphere will change to that of a dressy dress in "Hawaiian Magic." "Dait-Bait" is the theme of a morning party to be given at the Chi Omega house at 10 o'clock. The rushee in her suit and heels will be introduced to the various types of dates she may expect to have on the campus. At the "Icicle Tea" to be given at 4 o'clock both actives and rushees will appear in afternoon dresses.

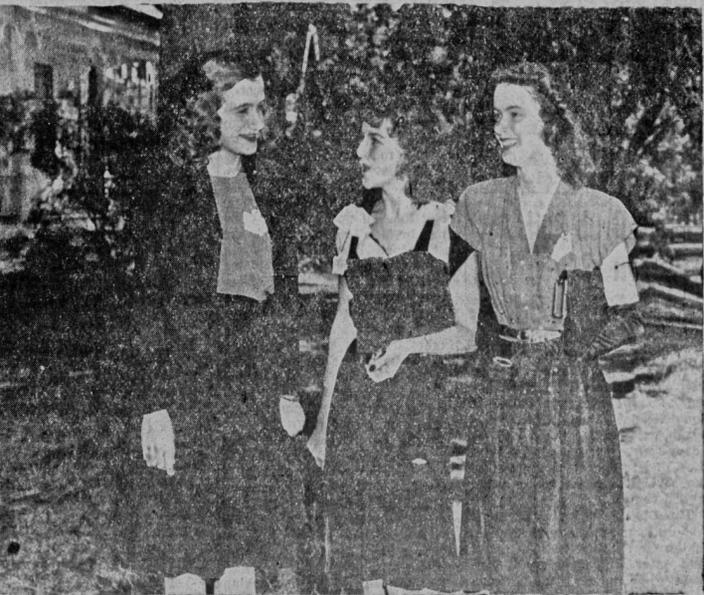

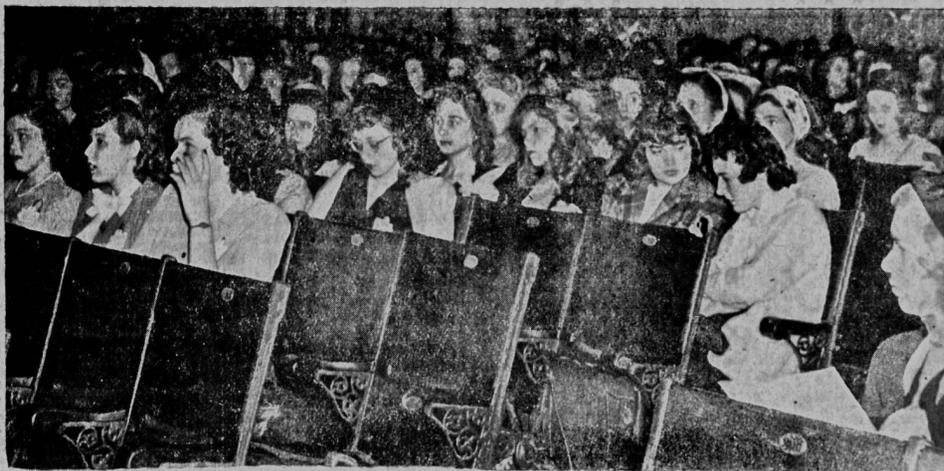

The Tri Deltas will open rush week with the "Hawkeye Huddle" party from 10 to 11:30 a. m. At this party sport clothes and flats will prevail. Afternoon dresses and heels should be worn to the "Pansy Tea" from 4 to 5:30 o'clock.

Again informal sport clothes will be worn to attend the Gamma Phi Beta "Carnival Party" from 10 to 11:30 a. m. but a quick change to an afternoon dress is necessary to spend "A Southern Afternoon" at the house.

At the Kappa Alpha Theta house this afternoon rushees will wear sports clothes to the "College Board" to be given from 1 to 2:30 p. m. but tonight an afternoon dress will be the thing to wear to a "Hawaiian Party" to be held from 7 to 9:30 o'clock. "Dude Ranch Party" will be presented at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house this morning from 10 to 11:30 and for this sweaters and skirts will be appropriate, but for the Kappa's "Pirate Party" this afternoon from 2:30 to 4 p. m. an afternoon dress or suit should be worn.

Skirts and sweaters should be worn at the Pi Beta Phi "Circus Party" from 10 to 11:30 this morning, but the scene and atmosphere will change and everyone will be wearing afternoon dresses to the "Gardenia Party" given at 7:30 p. m. tonight.

SAYS SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE:

Despite Victory Used-Fat Saving Must Go On!

Every woman in America should know that our country continues to face a serious fat shortage. And victory over Japan won't solve the problem immediately. We must keep on saving used fats in our kitchens!

If you have any thought that saving used fats is one of those wartime chores we can drop, now that Victory is here, please consider these facts and tell them to your neighbors.

America still needs salvaged fats. Not even at the peak of our war effort, when fats were required for mountains of shells and bombs and medicines, in addition to the ever-present need for soap, were our needs for salvaging fat greater than now. Our stocks have been drained by four long years of war, and there isn't enough on hand to meet all requirements.

Don't let "Victory psychology" blind you to this national need! If housewives stop saving fats now, the shortage will become even more critical.

Don't let a single drop of used fats go to waste! Little trimmings of fat left on plates, even the skimmings of soups and gravies are important. It is the consistent saving of these small amounts that counts.

Don't turn in fats that can be re-used! But some fats, such as those rendered from lamb and mutton, are not suitable for re-use. Put them immediately in the salvage can. And, with other fats, after you've got all cooking good out of them, there is always a little left. No matter how little it is, save it.

Your butcher will still give you 4c and 2 red points for every pound you turn in. Save consistently—save every drop you can—every day—until Uncle Sam says the job is done.

New Hawkeyes Greet Crowe as Season Opens

Former Gopher Among New Iowa Players

By WALLY STRINGHAM

Crisp, cool football weather and 43 gridiron candidates greeted Coach Clem Crowe yesterday as the 57th year of Hawkeye football got underway amidst the click of camera shutters at the east end of the Old Gold practice field.

Coach Crowe and his assistant Bud Boeringer joked with camera and newspaper men as the players leaped and ran for the crops of photographers.

Hawkeye stock in the coming fall season took a definite upward swing as more than half a dozen new men reported for practice.

A freshman letter winner and starter of several games at a half-back spot at the University of Minnesota last year, Herb Braun, former V-12 student for Dubuque, got plenty of glances from the Iowa coach, along with Charles Henkle, stockily built back from Centerville who has been clocked at 10.4 in the 100. Henkle could be the answer to Crowe's search for a speedy back.

Other definite material which should spark the Iowa team includes all-star Leslie Jerome, also from Centerville, and a good pivot man, and Dick Thomas, a passing back from Kansas City, Mo.

Bill Cribbs, Negro back, and Joe Casey, Iowa City center, will be missed by Coach Crowe, but neither man was very heavily depended upon by Crowe to take over first string berths on the Iowa eleven.

Additional men who were not members of the summer squad were John Glesne, Elkader half-back; Verne Helgeson, Lake Mills half-back; Wayne Lacinia, Iowa City fullback, and Bob Strub, Iowa City end.

In addition to the men named above, these athletes were on hand: Louis Boda, South Bend, Ind.; Clayton Colbert, Iowa City; Derold Foster, West Branch; Louis Ginsberg, Cedar Rapids; Bruce Hamman, South Bend, Ind.; Jack Hammond, Davenport; James Harding, Clinton; Kenneth Harnack, Elkader; Bruce Hitchcock, Atlantic; Ralph Katz, Des Moines; Allen McCord, Davenport; Harold McNamara, Des Moines; Jerry Niles, East Moline, Ill.; Andy Novosad, Chicago, Ill.; John Ostendorf, Muscatine; Ray Palmer, Sioux City; James Ryan, Cedar Rapids; Nelson Smith, Sac City; Wayne Spurbuck, Charles City; Walter Thorpe, Rock Island, Ill.; William Voelckers, Iowa City; Wendell Weller, Minneapolis, Minn.; Ralph Woodard, Ft. Senators Split With Chicago

WASHINGTON (AP)—A half game hump into a virtual tie with Detroit for first place was too much of a climb for Washington's Senators last night and they split a twin bill with Chicago's White Sox.

Needing two victories over the White Sox to pull up almost even with the leading Tigers, the Senators won the first game, 10-4, but took a 9-4 licking in the second.

This left the Senators a full game behind the Tigers who divided a daylight double header with Boston.

Earl Caldwell kept the Senators from winning the game they wanted so badly as the veteran Sox right-hander scored his sixth win of the season, all in night games.

Caldwell was behind, 3-0, at the end of three innings, but the White Sox landed on little Marino Pieretti of the Senators for six runs in the fourth. After that, Caldwell had it easy.

Guy Curtright's single set off Chicago's explosive attack in which 12 men batted, getting seven solid hits and two bases on balls.

The first game also was won by one big inning. The Senators scored seven times in their initial turn at bat as Thornton Lee's defense collapsed. Mike Guerra struck the crowning blow, a triple with the bases loaded.

All 10 of Washington's runs in that contest were unearned as the White Sox made six errors.

Stephen's 21st Homer Gives Browns Split In Double Header

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Vernon "Junior" Stephens 21st home run of the season gave the St. Louis Browns a 3-2 victory in the first game and an even breaker for the Browns in their doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday when the Mackmen won the second, 5-3.

Stephens hit his circuit clout with the score tied 1-1 in the seventh inning, two out and one on base to bring Jack Kramer his 10th victory against 14 losses and tag the Athletics' hard luck pitcher Russ Christopher, with his 12th loss against 13 wins.

In the second game the Athletics knocked Tex Shirley from the mound with three runs in the third and clung to their margin although hard pressed in the closing innings. Luther Knerr was the winning pitcher.

NORTHWESTERN WORKS OUT
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Coach Lynn Waldorf, still trying to cull a first-string combination from a Northwestern football squad predominantly freshmen, yesterday sent his back and his linemen through separate workouts, and then held a short scrimmage.

Waldorf used a first string backfield in the scrimmage with Bill Travers, a converted guard, at fullback; freshman Don Laser at quarterback, and Dick Connors and Bruce Bairstow at the half-back posts.

Dodgers Beat Reds, 3-2, on Rosen's Hit; Rain Cuts Tilt Short

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mike Sandlock's seventh inning double followed by Goody Rosen's single gave Brooklyn a 3-2 verdict over Cincinnati yesterday in the abbreviated first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain ended the contest in the eighth inning and postponed the second tilt.

The brooks scored twice on Ed Hueser in the third on a single by Ed Stanky, a double by Rosen, Kernit Wahl's error and a single by Augie Galan.

Les Webber blanked the Reds except for the sixth frame when they put together three of their six hits for three scores. Hank Sauer scored both with a single to left.

Weakened Detroit Splits Doubleheader With Sox, 2-1, 2-9

BOSTON (AP)—With Hank Greenberg and Eddie Mayo on the sidelines with injuries, Detroit's weakened Tigers yesterday split a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox, first losing to Boo Ferriss by a 9-2 margin and then gaining by the nightcap, 2-1, by scoring in the ninth.

While making his third bid for his 21st pitching triumph, Ferriss hit the Tigers to eight scattered hits as his teammates collected 13 from two of their three rival flingers.

Ferriss inspired the sockers at the plate by banging out two doubles and a single to drive in two runs.

Rookie Ed Mierkovic, filling in for Greenberg, used his first major league hit, a double off the left field wall, to drive in Rudy York with Detroit's winning run. York had singled and been sacrificed by Roy Cullenbine.

Yankees Trim Cleveland, 5-1

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees returned to the winning side of the ledger yesterday with a 5-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians to snap a five-game losing streak and retain their hold on fourth place.

Charley Keller's sixth homer of the season, a grand slam wallop in the seventh inning off Lefty Al Smith, broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Yankees their first win over the Indians after Sunday's double setback.

The Yankees first run also was the result of a ground tripper, coming in the second when Nick Eiten slammed his 14th of the year. The Indians tied it up in the top of the seventh on Les Fleming's double and Jeff Heath's single.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Bad luck paid another call on Michigan's football squad yesterday. The Wolverines lost Jim Rehberger, West Allis, Wis., navy trainee and leading tackle candidate, for the Great Lakes game Saturday because of a twisted knee. Last week Michigan lost Ed Bahlow, promising end, because of a broken leg. He's out for the season. Both were hurt in scrimmage.

Wisconsin Cuts Squad
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Harry Stuhldreher, University of Wisconsin football coach, yesterday slashed his squad to 44 hopefuls and announced that heavy scrimmage would be on the program throughout the rest of the week.

Stuhldreher said it would be necessary to work at a fast pace to round out a varsity for the first game, scheduled for Sept. 22 against the Sailors at Great Lakes.

Jack Haese, Waukegan, Ill., a veteran center, temporarily dropped out of drills to study for examinations next week. He has to make up work to become eligible for football.

Willie Gilzenberg, Fiducia's manager, disclosed that on Thursday he had gone to the boxing commission with the story of the offer Fiducia said had been made. He told the story to Bruno and Christensen at that time, he related.

As the fight in which Scott outwitted Fiducia 207 to 190 pounds, came to an end—after the veteran had been on the floor seven times—the commission secretary, John Christensen, announced the investigation. A hearing will be held by the commission on Friday.

Pirates Drub Phils, 9 to 5, on 13 Hits; 2nd Tilt Rained Out

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-5, last night in the opening game of the first two-night doubleheader scheduled in Pittsburgh, with 6,000 in the stands. A heavy rain stopped the game with the Corsairs at bat in the last of the seventh and washed out the second contest.

The Bugs tallied five runs off Isadore Leon and Rene Moteagudo in the first inning to take a 5-1 lead after Jimmy Wasdell had homered in the Phils' half. Leon was charged with the loss. Catcher Bill Salkeld paced Pittsburgh's nine-hit attack with three blows that drove in as many runs.

The Phils bunched seven of their 13 hits in the sixth and seventh off Nick Strincevich, with Wasdell adding a single and double.

As a result of the postponement of the second game, the teams will meet in a doubleheader today.

Boston Rookie, Silences Cubs Big Bats, 2-0

By JIMMIE JORDAN

CHICAGO (AP)—Ed Wright, a Boston Rookie silenced the bats of the Chicago Cubs yesterday to give the Braves a 2-0 victory over the league leaders.

Wright scattered seven Chicago hits over five innings, and worked his way out of two bad spots.

The runs were scored during a five-hit first frame that sent Bob Chipman, starting pitcher, to an early shower.

With that much behind him, Wright gave the crowd of 4,778, a pitching exhibition that would do credit to a veteran. For four innings, he didn't allow a Cub to get past second base. In the fifth Paul Erickson, who went into the game in the third inning after Vandenberg was lifted for a pinch hitter, doubled to right with one out. Stan Hack walked and Roy Hughes beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Wright then forced Bill Nicholson to fly out to short left field, and Phil Cavarretta hit a roller to the mound that forced Erickson at the plate.

In the last of the ninth, after Peanuts Lowrey had filed to right field, Wright struck out pinch-hitter Reggie Otero, but then gave singles to Lennie Merullo and pinch-hitter Paul Gillespie. He forced Stan Hack to lift a high fly to short right field to end the game.

Erickson turned in a pitching masterpiece himself the last seven innings, he held the Braves hitless his first five innings, and the only one to reach first was Wright, on an inconsequential error. In the eighth Holmes singled, but was caught in a double play. In the ninth Nelson singled, but was caught trying to steal second, and then Bill Ramsey doubled, but was left on base.

Allied Control Council Asks for Cooperation in Return of Germans

BERLIN (AP)—Neutral countries harboring "obnoxious" Germans will be asked by the Allied Control Council to return them to Germany, the council decided yesterday at its fifth meeting attended by General Eisenhower, Field Marshal Montgomery, Lieutenant General Koenig, Marshal Zhukov and their aides.

The governments of Afghanistan, Eire, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Tangiers and Vatican city will be asked to return the "obnoxious" Germans and their families. Included in the recall order will be all German nationals who were German government officials at the time of unconditional surrender, all German agents and all other Germans whose presence abroad "constitutes a danger in view of a possible future general German war effort."

The control council said it "looked to the neutral countries concerned for assistance in returning them."

Smith, 35-year-old wife of a Caistor township farmer, died yesterday afternoon in Norfolk county memorial hospital. Dr. E. L. The mother and three other infants were in "satisfactory" condition, the doctor said.

Strike Settlements Send 53,000 Workers Back to Former Jobs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Calling off of a strike of 12,000 "white collar" workers in Westinghouse Electric corporation plants in six eastern states Monday night lowered the national total of idle in labor disputes to 87,000 from the weekend's high mark of nearly 140,000. The walkout of office employees which began Sunday was ended when the federation of Westinghouse independent salaries unions announced it was calling off the strike in compliance with a national war labor board order. At a mass meeting earlier Sunday the workers rejected the WLB request. Last week the WLB denied the union's demands for a bonus or incentive pay equal to that paid hourly production and non-production workers. In other back-to-work movements Sunday 44,500 strikers in Detroit, Orange, Tex., and Pennsylvania returned to their jobs, but new walkouts threatened to offset the reduction.

RATIONING—

(Continued from page 1) rationing does not now make possible predictions of the time at which meat rationing can be ended. Earlier in the day a rationing official had stated that meat might be knocked from the ration list "if supplies look good by the end of the month," but said that a final decision remained to be made by the two agencies. The OPA action of Saturday removing quota limits on the amount of cattle which may be slaughtered was based on forecasts of heavy deliveries of livestock to the packing houses. It was accepted widely as indicating a possible early end to rationing. Price Administrator Chester Bowles has assured congress that most rationing will end this year, although he declared that it was "impossible to predict" how soon the rationing of sugar, fats and oils could be suspended. Shoe rationing may end before November, if desires of some members of the shoe trade are followed, but neither OPA nor the war production board has yet fixed a likely date.

Council Hits Snag in Dodge Street Plans

City Has Insufficient Funds for Stop Signs

Remodeling Plans For Joe's Tavern Explained by Owner

The city council's intentions of making Dodge street an arterial highway with stop signs at all intersections hit a snag last night when it was disclosed that the city did not have enough money to pay for the necessary stop signs.

Chief of Police Ollie White has recommended that Dodge street be made a through street because many accidents have occurred at various intersections along the street recently.

Several councilmen said that they felt that the street should be made a through street but that there is not enough money in the fund at present to buy the 17 stop signs required.

Ordinance Drafted

An ordinance had been drafted making Dodge street an arterial highway from Bowery street north to the city limits. Alderman Carl S. Kringel, fourth ward, chairman of the ordinance committee, said that he hesitated to introduce the proposal because the money for signs was not available and because there had been some opposition expressed toward the move.

The councilmen decided to have another ordinance drafted to place stop signs at the Washington and Davenport intersections with Dodge street.

Airliner Proprietor

Joseph J. Rinella, proprietor of the Airliner, 22 S. Clinton street, appeared before the council to explain why he had submitted a petition for a class B beer permit for 7 S. Dubuque street. This petition had been placed on file for investigation by the council at its last meeting.

Rinella said that he would have possession of 7 S. Dubuque street, now known as Joe's Place and operated by Charles E. James, on Dec. 15. James plans to move to another location.

The council voted to grant Rinella his permit effective Dec. 1. Rinella said that he plans to spend $8,000 on remodeling and new fixtures.

The councilmen also voted to put in a street light on Rider street between Woolf and Main street. A petition for such a light was presented by John C. Stephenson.

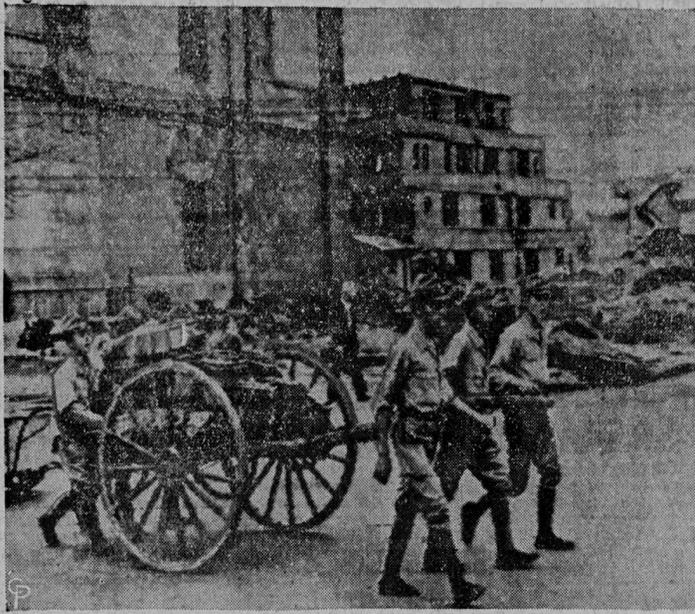

New Contract

Mayor Wilber J. Teeters was directed to sign a new contract for joint use of the city police radio transmitter by the county. The contract, drafted by County Attorney Jack C. White, states that the county board of supervisors will pay half of the costs of maintaining the transmitter up to $250 a year.

The previous contract for joint use of the transmitter had been terminated by the board of supervisors. The new contract is to be terminated Dec. 31, 1946.

Class B beer permits were issued to George W. Kanak, 312 E. Market street, and Guy S. Singleton, 15 E. Washington street. Class C beer permits were issued to William J. Jones, 701 Davenport

Three Motorists Fined For Reckless Driving

Three motorists paid fines in police court yesterday for reckless driving. B. A. Pazour and A. M. Kallel, both of Cedar Rapids, were fined $25 each plus $3 costs and had their driving licenses suspended for 90 days on reckless driving charges by Police Judge John Knox. They were arrested Sunday afternoon by a highway patrolman.

G. Lathridge of Iowa City also was fined $50 by Police Judge Knox on the same charge.

Four drivers paid $1 fines for street storage. L. L. Foraker of West Branch, Stanley Roberts of Osage, Harlan Sobier of Elkader and James Swope of Iowa City. D. W. Buxton, 1708 E. College street, was fined $1 for overtime parking.

Myers retains ownership of the building.

V. F. W. Commander Favors Freezing Jobs for Veterans

DES MOINES (AP)—Jean A. Brunner, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said in an interview here yesterday "every industry should freeze at least 50 percent of its available jobs for the war veterans."

Brunner, a native of France and now a resident of New York City, came to Des Moines for a two-day schedule of appearances at V. F. W. posts and the Veterans hospital. He said he felt that one of the main goals of the public today should be "a job for every veteran."

"The jobs can be supplied if industry can convert properly and quickly," he asserted. "If they don't have the funds for reconversion the government should advance it to them on easy credit."

He said also "there should be no economy in the hospital treatment for disabled veterans." Brunner was accompanied by the V. F. W. chief of state, Ray H. Brannaman.

Break Into School In Scott Township

Sometime over the weekend, probably Sunday night, the Carthage school, Scott township district number two, was broken into. Deputy Sheriff Albert C. Murphy said yesterday that eight or 10 windows were broken, the door had been forced open, phonograph records were broken but apparently nothing was stolen.

SUI Program To Increase Dorm Space

Provisions for large increases in dormitory space have been made in the proposed long range building program, in view of the increasing importance of the dormitory system at the University of Iowa.

Looking ahead to the time when the institution must be able to provide dormitory facilities for every student who desires them, President Virgil M. Hancher pointed out the tremendous shift of interest in the past 25 years. Before 1920 the south half of Currier hall was the only dormitory and there was not much indication of the great growth in interest in such housing.

"The change is caused by the fact that students now are not living in private homes. In fact, the number of homes in which rooms are for rent is declining. This is due to the size of the houses now being built; people do not have available rooms in smaller houses and are not interested in renting them if they did have them," President Hancher said.

Housing projects include a Currier hall addition which would house 150 women, making that structure's total 700. An addition to Hillcrest, now projected, would make space for 390 additional men, bringing the total capacity of that dormitory to 810 students.

Other housing projects include women's residence halls, and men's dormitories in connection with the present navy administration building.

The United States civil service commission in St. Paul, Minn., has announced that it is seeking 1,000 applicants for positions as hospital and mess attendants at veterans' hospitals throughout the eighth civil service region, comprising Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Hospitals are located at Minneapolis and St. Cloud in Minnesota; Des Moines and Knoxville in Iowa; Lincoln, Neb.; Ft. Meade and Hot Springs in South Dakota, and Fargo, N. D.

Applicants for these positions need not be veterans or former federal employes as the positions, in need immediate placements in many cases, have been opened to the general public. Veterans are given preference, however.

The hospital jobs pay $27.70 and $30.23 for a 40-hour week and time and one-half for time in excess of 40 hours.

Past experience as an attendant is not necessary. Hospital staffs will train inexperienced applicants. Meals at 25 cents are provided.

Interested persons are urged to obtain application blanks at any first or second class post office and file completed forms with the secretary of the board of the United States civil service examiners at any of the hospitals listed.

Iowa School Teachers Ineligible for Coverage Under Both Local, State Pension Plan

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa school teachers who already are covered by local pension plans cannot also join the new state public employees pension plan while continuing under their own plan and thus draw a "double pension," Attorney General John Rankin's office ruled yesterday.

The opinion by R. G. Yoder, first assistant, declared school boards cannot levy a double tax to cover their contributions to the local pension plans and the state plan for the same teachers.

Under most local teachers pension plans already in effect, such as at Des Moines, the teacher contributes a percent of her salary to her retirement or pension fund and the school board matches the total contributions by such teachers with an equal amount of school board tax funds.

Plan Calls for Contributions

The new state public employees pension plan which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1946, also calls for contributions by the teacher or other employe and contributions by his employing unit.

Seis Aside Ruling

The opinion, written at the request of C. Fred Porter, state comptroller, set aside a former informal ruling of the state employment security commission which had held informally last May that both plans could be continued.

Armed with the attorney general's new opinion Comptroller Porter Monday reduced the request of the Cedar Rapids school district for an additional tax levy of approximately $9,000 to cover that district's contributions to the new public employes pension system while at the same time keeping up its contributions to the Cedar Rapids local system.

Tomorrow the state budget appeal board will go to Sioux City to hear protests of 160 taxpayers against the effort of the school district there to levy $5,535 taxes for contributions to the new system and $16,000 for continuing contributions to its own system.

V. F. W. Commander Favors Freezing Jobs for Veterans

DES MOINES (AP)—Jean A. Brunner, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said in an interview here yesterday "every industry should freeze at least 50 percent of its available jobs for the war veterans."

Brunner, a native of France and now a resident of New York City, came to Des Moines for a two-day schedule of appearances at V. F. W. posts and the Veterans hospital. He said he felt that one of the main goals of the public today should be "a job for every veteran."

He said also "there should be no economy in the hospital treatment for disabled veterans." Brunner was accompanied by the V. F. W. chief of state, Ray H. Brannaman.

Defendants to Ask Judge for Dismissal Of Old Indictment

DES MOINES (AP)—Six defendants in the Johnnie Critelli liquor conspiracy case today will ask the state supreme court to rule whether their year-old indictments can be dismissed.

They lost in their contention yesterday in arguments before District Judge Loy Ladd but will seek a writ of certiorari in the higher court.

Charles Howard, attorney for the group, said the high court, by granting the writ, would provide further delay in the scheduled trials of Lester W. Snell, Mrs. Carmella Critelli, Grace Porter, William Weathers, Don Madero and Frank Fatimo, co-defendants with the convicted Johnnie Critelli.

Howard argued to Judge Ladd that the six persons had not been brought to trial in the November, January, March or May terms of district court on the charge that they, with Critelli and six others, conspired to violate state liquor control laws.

He contended that a 1933 ruling of the high court allowed dismissals of indictments against 10 persons charged in an embezzlement case after three terms of court had elapsed.

In denying Howard's motion, Judge Ladd declared that the demands for separate trials by the 13

Critelli, after standing trial in November, March and May, finally was convicted and sentenced by Judge Ladd to a penitentiary term of not to exceed three years. He appealed the verdict to the supreme court.
