Choose Extra-Curricular Activities Wisely

Students anxious to throw themselves into the extra-curricular activities which they know are part of their educational development should remember one thing—there are more pies than there are fingers.

Attempting to take part in too many activities might be worse than not taking part at all. Doing well in one or two activities is the practical operation. They must adjust themselves to personalities and situations. They learn in part, what will be expected of them after they graduate and become leaders of other kinds of projects.

Extra-curricular activities are the classrooms of experience, and it has often been repeated that "experience is the best teacher."

But each student must gauge his capabilities and determine how many jobs he can do. And he must keep in mind that whatever he does, he must do well.

It is far better for a student to do a commendable job in one activity, than a half-way job in several. If he isn't able to carry the full load of three activities, he will be disappointed with all three, no matter how great an effort he makes for each.

The benefits to students who can—and do—take a capable part in extra-curricular activities is almost immeasurable. They learn to work in a practical world, at the same time receiving the guidance and encouragement of experienced leaders.

Handling small, sometimes irksome, details of a project is a praiseworthy attribute that sometimes isn't easy to acquire. In the business world, it often means the difference between success and failure.

And the importance of details is imparted in a great measure to students who organize programs in extra-curricular activities. They are learning now what some students will have to learn after they are graduated.

Working on projects alongside a person whose personality is not always compatible to yours is another not-too-easily acquired attribute which can be learned in the university by taking part in extra-curricular activities. Not all the associates a student will have in the business world will be as easy to get along with as the voluntarily chosen companions of university days.

Without extra-curricular activities a university would be fulfilling only half its task. More is to be gained from a university than classroom knowledge—although knowledge is, of course, the principal goal students are working toward.

But extra-curricular activities must be chosen with discretion by the students who participate in them. Too much is as bad as too little.

Rushing at Minnesota

Once upon a time, near the Mississippi, there was a big pasture crowded with cattle. Now that in itself was not unusual. The cattle, however, were.

For one thing, they were mostly cows. For another, they were organized into groups. Every Monday evening each group would gather in a section of the pasture and have a end-chewing session. And on Saturday nights they would invite the boys over for a bull session.

During most of the year, group life was pleasant in that pasture. A Moo Moo Alpha would rattle her cow bell whenever she met a Tri Udder, and perhaps they would stroll down to the river to munch a few willow sprouts. And if they happened to meet one of the Untouchables (not a member of any group) they would politely avert their eyes and glance at each other with just a trace of complacent satisfaction.

But once a year things were different. Life became turbulent. In a well regulated fashion, that is, it was called heifer-rushing week. Heifer-rushing week was in the fall when new group members were selected from the ear-loads of seaming young cows which had been turned loose in the pasture to grow and mature.

It was the fondest hope of every healthy heifer to be selected by some group. Not to be selected—to be an Untouchable—was considered a fate worse than the stockyards.

Thus it was that one fall morning a cute little heifer named Josie arrived in the pasture eager to become a Moo Moo Alpha.

Now in spite of her desire, Josie simply could not meander over to the Moo Moos and say, "Here I am. What about joining?" That would be against the regulations of the Cattle-ene board of governors.

Accordingly, on Tuesday Josie trotted over to the Moo Moo afternoon grazing gatherings. Her hide was sleek and her flanks were trim. She had personality.

The Moo Moos invited her back on Thursday. Josie cleverly refused. "Do not be too eager"—Cattle-ene Regulation No. 5. They invited her again on Friday, and she accepted. This time the older cows really got down to cases.

"How many blue ribbons has your father won?" "None." "Oh."

"How much per pound did your grandmother bring?" "Nothing. She had anthrax." "Oh."

When she left that evening Josie had a lump in her throat that was not her end. It was all over, and she knew it.

On Sunday morning there was no exclusive dinner invitation for Josie. She watched the happy tail-swishing of the fortunate ones. They were in; they were prime cuts. And she was an Untouchable. A tear rolled down her bovine cheek, and she hung her head.

Then something brushed her nose lightly. She looked up. A golden butterfly was fluttering over the tall green grass. Josie thought she had never seen anything quite as beautiful.

And then she remembered that she had been too busy since her arrival to look around her.

Josie turned and gazed at the Moo Moo

Alpha group. They were all standing, heads together, busily chewing their cuds. Not one of them had seen the butterfly. And as she headed happily out into the pasture, she wondered if they ever would.

Covering The Capital

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—Congress recently voted $861,000 to study plans for modernizing the inside of the capitol, but members insist on keeping the cuspidors.

And if Arthur Gus Cook, supervising engineer, has anything to say about it, there'll be new rubber mats under 'em. The old ones were donated to the rubber drive at the beginning of the war.

Rep. Elliott (D., Calif.) also demands "cushioned seats in the chamber."

Among other alterations recommended are acoustical treatment so that members can be not only seen but heard, diffused lighting, perfected air-conditioning and art work on the walls.

In April, 1935, there was a resounding clash over a proposal to remodel the capitol. The object then was to put a new face on the eastern front of the structure.

Many argued that it would give the building a new dignity and be more in keeping with modern trends. Others said that to change the front would "throw out of balance the image which generations of school children have had implanted in their minds."

It was estimated that the job would cost $3,500,000. Among other changes suggested at the time were that portions of Potomac sandstone in the walls be replaced with marble and that the "bottle-neck" corridors be widened.

Before the war the capitol got a new coat of paint every four years. Every time congress was in recess it got a good cleaning.

This was quite a job. The capitol has a floor area of 14 acres, with 430 rooms besides the senate and house chambers. It has 14,518 feet of skylights, 679 windows, 500 doorways. The dome itself has 108 windows.

It took about 22 barrels of soap powder, weighing 300 pounds each, 120 gallons of cleaning paste and 15,000 yards of cheesecloth . . . all difficult to wangle in wartime.

A recent "miscellaneous survey on a few facts about WACs" conducted at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, and reported in WAC News reveals the following:

The average WAC wears a size 13 off-duty dress, a size 7 to 7½ shoe.

She prefers blue.

She is single and 24 years of age and goes to church once a week.

She "wants her man to be aggressive, yet remaining the strong, quiet type."

"He's got to be aggressive to get ahead, but he doesn't have to be loud doing it," one WAC is quoted as saying.

Senator Capper (R., Kan.) is passing around to senate wives specially bound copies of "Household Searchlight," a cook book compiled by the Capper Publication Household.

The book contains, 1,300 prize-winning recipes. Among them is one for potato donuts said to be favored by Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) and called by some wags "Vandenburgers."

The man at the next desk says he knows the unhappiest man in the world—he's a non-smoking vegetarian and the end of rationing has ended a lot of his fun at the expense of his friends.

From All Around The State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Applications for authority to operate three EM stations and four standard radio stations in Iowa have been filed with the federal communications commission, it announced yesterday. The applications for EM stations were from the Cowles Broadcasting company, Des Moines; Kingsley H. Murphy, Des Moines; and Lee Radio, Inc., Mason City. The applicants for standard stations were from the Gazette company, Cedar Rapids, the Radio Corporation of Cedar Rapids, the Davenport Broadcasting company and the Muscatine Broadcasting company.

WATERLOO (AP)—The Safety Treat Retreading company plant here was destroyed Friday night by a fire resulting from the explosion of two 50-gallon barrels of inflammable tire cement. The loss was estimated at $20,000.

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Billy Edward Watts of Bloomfield was taken to the men's reformatory at Anamosa yesterday after he was identified here by representatives of the reformatory as a parolee. Warden Foss Davis said Watts threatened a reformatory guard with a gun Thursday night while prowling on a reformatory farm. Watts later was arrested here.

SPENCER (AP)—The housing situation is so tight in Spencer that some residents have written a protest to seventh service command headquarters in Omaha against the headquarters of 14 army recruiters to Spencer. The note said the newcomers were reported willing to pay as much as $75 a month for apartments renting in the $35 class.

AMES (AP)—Unexpended funds totaling $828,773 were turned back by the state board of education yesterday to the state treasury. The sum, presented to Gov. Robert D. Blue at a board meeting here, was from a total appropriation of $4,660,000 annually to the University of Iowa and Iowa State college during the 1943-45 biennium for salaries, support and maintenance.

AMES (AP)—Prof. Thomas J. Maney, 47, an Iowa State college horticulturist 33 years and rated as an international authority on orchard stocks for propagation of fruit trees, died Friday in a Rochester, Minn., hospital. Funeral services will be held Tuesday.

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa may well set a new monthly traffic fatality record this month unless motorists slow down and stop driving after they have been drinking, and pedestrians place a higher value on their lives, Bert Woodcock, director of the state division of safety education, said yesterday.

In the first 12 days of October there were 25 traffic fatalities in Iowa. This is at a rate of more than two per day in the month which normally has more highway deaths than any other. The record monthly total is 62 in October of 1941. In October last year there were 35.

Woodcock said a study of the 25 accident deaths showed 11 were pedestrians, eight were drivers and six were passengers. Of the 11 pedestrians, eight were jay-walking and two had been drinking. Seven of the drivers involved in the 25 fatalities were driving at high speeds, five had been drinking, and three were recorded as poor drivers.

"No one section of the state is any better or any worse than any of the others," Woodcock said. "The 25 deaths were distributed all over the state and several of them were in cities. It is nothing short of alarming, the rate we have been having traffic fatalities this month."

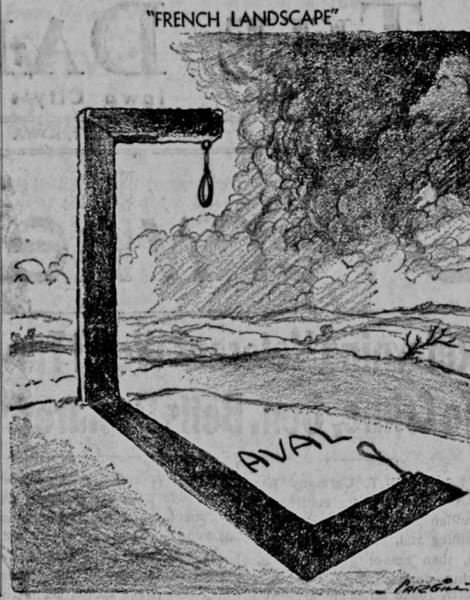

He said the speeders, the drinkers and the pedestrians were causing the most trouble. Two drivers involved in fatal accidents admitted, Woodcock said, that they were driving at the rate of 60 miles per hour. One car rolled over four or five times and another hurtled on about 200 feet even after it left the roadway.

"The situation this month might be partly due to release of wartime tension, considering both the speeding and the drinking," Woodcock said. "As to the pedestrians, it apparently is simply a disregard for the value of their own lives."

"As to the speeders, they seem to have gone wild since the release several weeks ago of the nationwide 35 miles an hour speed limit, and have given no regard to the weakened condition of their cars and tires."

DES MOINES (AP)—Ten bishops of the northwest province of the Episcopal church will meet here Wednesday and Thursday to discuss peacetime problems.

The Rt. Rev. Douglass H. Atwill, bishop of North Dakota, will preside.

Looking Ahead - Army Volunteers

By AP WASHINGTON STAFF WASHINGTON (AP)—How many men want to stay in the army? The war department "sample" survey among service men indicates that about 300,000 enlisted men would accept extended active duty, and about 168,000 officers.

That would mean an army made up of less than two enlisted men for every officer.

The checkup revealed that approximately 61 percent of the officers would accept reserve commissions, and that 24 percent of this group would also accept extended active duty.

Among enlisted men, somewhat less than three percent indicated a definite interest in enlisting in the regular army.

RUSSIA AND THE "VT". American-made "VT" fuses were supplied to the British and the French during the war, but not to the Russians. However, the Russians had an opportunity to get in on the deal if they wanted to—and here's the story of that.

When we were developing the fuse, we requested the Russians to supply us with certain information regarding their armaments—such as muzzle velocity of their guns and characteristics of their various explosive missiles.

Incidentally, well-informed military sources say the only low-down we got on details of Russian weapons during the war came from samples of Russian equipment we captured from the Germans after the Nazis first captured it from the Red army.

PEEVES: President Truman is piling up some peevishness among Democrats in congress. House members are still nettled that he chose Bennett Champ Clark for a district court robe after they endorsed Sam Hobbs of Alabama.

Also, they don't like the letter national Democratic chairman Hannegan sent them. The letter said in effect that henceforth they shouldn't bother him with details but should take them up with his assistant.

DDT AT THE FAIRS: Don't be surprised if you see DDT being sprayed freely at your county fair this fall—to shag insects from tents, exhibit booths and prize animals.

Anderson County, S. D., is going to use the insecticide at its fair. One official says "this is going to be a bugless, flyless and mosquito-free fair if the DDT we have is all it's cracked up to be."

DEMOLITION BLUES: Personnel and office changes at the Pentagon have been occurring so fast that this happened: A veteran tried to make a telephone call to the army section in charge of moving personnel from place to place.

tary-trained pilots are being certified each week by the civil aeronautics administration. They can be certified for civilian flight while still in service—and they don't have to take any special "road tests." They just take a written exam calculated to bring out their knowledge of civil air regulations.

HOOSIER HEAT: When Senator Capehart (R., Ind.) broke into a Bilbo filibuster in the senate to suggest that the United States capitol be moved to Indiana, he was only kidding.

But a constituent took Capehart's suggestion at face value. He wrote to the senator, informing him he'd wage a vigorous campaign to push the project through.

CLIMATE: That would be something like moving the capitol of the United States—if it were at Mobile, Ala., to its present site at Washington, D. C.

The same report was current in this country a couple of years ago. It came from sources close to Chiang Kai-Shek, who at that time was said to be convinced it would be a good thing to have a capital close to Manchuria when that important industrial base was recaptured.

Peiping used to be called Peking, meaning northern capital. As such it was a symbol to Chinese of the Manchus who established their alien court there in 1644. After the Chinese revolution in 1911, Peking became also a symbol of decadent Chinese Republicanism regime which appeased Japanese aggression. So in 1927 the Nationalists under Chiang Kai-Shek took the capital to Nanking and renamed the Republic capital Peiping, or northern peace.

After the Japanese surrender this September, General Ho Ying-Chin, the southerner who is Chiang Kai-Shek's chief of staff, announced that Crina's government would return to Nanking from Chungking, its wartime refuge, by the end of this year.

Now Shanghai rumor revives the hardy report to the contrary that the capital is going back to the north. If it does, it will be because of high reasons of economic and political policy.

Nearly all of China's industry is in Manchuria and most of her strategic minerals, including iron and coal, are either there or in north China.

Chinese Communism is strongest in the north, and if the government were to move back there it would be a bold reassertion of authority which could gain it great and much-needed prestige.

Forensics Program Includes All Phases Of Speech Activities, Radio Broadcast Work

The forensics season at the university has opened with all the prospects for an active year, according to Bob Ray, G of Davenport, manager of the Forensics association. Ray stated that an organization of more than 100 new students is under way, and at present they are being classified into speech groups.

The University Forensics association, headed by Dorothy Kottemann, A3 of Burlington, is scheduled on its 1945-46 program activities that will cover all phases of student interest in speech and radio. Discussion and debate in the classroom and on the campus, student broadcasts over WSUI and the Student Speakers bureau are open to all interested students. Other speaking activities include intercollegiate oratory and extempore speaking, intercollegiate discussion congresses and conferences, and intercollegiate debate tournaments.

Membership Open
Students who make up the university discussion, debate and public speaking squad for 1945-46 are officially designated as members of the Forensic association. Membership is open to all students on campus.

Membership comprises three groups: associates, associate directors and directors. This membership group plan is under the auspices of the intercollegiate debate board, directed by Miss Kottemann.

All undergraduates who have not had special courses and experiences in discussion and debate will be enlisted in the associate division.

To Elect Directors
The discussion program, headed by Prof. A. Craig Baird, Forensics adviser, and Marilyn Nesper, G of Toledo, Ohio, will center on the main topic for the year, "What should be the post-war defense policy of the United States?"

Objectives of the discussion procedures are: to formulate a policy concerning the post-war defense program in the United States; to provide a channel for further research into the problem of America's national security; to provide students with speaking opportunities and with preparation for the November discussion tournament, and to increase the students' sense of responsibility concerning questions of national and international importance.

The University Student Forum will be continued over WSUI this year each Wednesday from 3 to 3:30 p. m. Included in these weekly discussions will be topics on the atomic bomb, draft continuation, peacetime military training and United States free enterprise.

Forum Leaders
Five speakers will be assigned to each topic, with different leaders for each group. The leaders include Miss Kottemann, Jean Collier, A2 of Freeport, Ill.; Warren Johnson, A2 of Clinton; Robert Krause, A4 of Staten Island, N. Y.; Owen Peterson, A3 of Parker, S. D.; Herman Robin, A3 of Water-

McKinley Ties Hawklets, 7-7; Olson Counts in Second Period

Sparked by Jimmy Sangster's 25-yard gallop, City high fought McKinley high of Cedar Rapids to a 7-7 deadlock before 1,200 fans yesterday afternoon. The Hawklets' lone touchdown came after two minutes of the second quarter when Sangster grabbed a Bear punt and raced down the east sideline to the 15, and four plays later Bill Olson plunged over from the two yard marker.

On the second play after the kickoff, McKinley intercepted one of Jimmy Sangster's passes on the Iowa City 40. Mead then carried the ball to the Little Hawk's 5 yard line where Fryar caught him from behind, and finally brought him down.

Here the Little Hawks held on, and took the offensive on their own six yard line. Bill Olson and Chug Wilson found holes in the Bear line and carried the ball to the Hawklet 21 yard line where an Iowa City fumble was recovered by McKinley's Athey.

After one running play on which the Bears lost 8 yards Delbridge passed wide to the right to Meskmer for a 28 yard touchdown pass. Mead passed to Sorenson in the end zone to count the extra point marker making the score 7-0.

To start the second period, Krall quick-kicked to the Bear 4 yard line after two tries at the line. McKinley then punted out to their own 40 where Jimmy Sangster made a driving run back to the Golden Bear 15. Chug Wilson, Bill Olson and Bob Krall, who returned from the injured list Friday, carried the ball to the 2 where Olson scored over right guard. Capt. Bob Devine's place kick was good and the score was 7-7.

Neither team threatened until late in the last period when the Hawklets drove from their own 40 to the Bear's 16 where the hosts bore down and Iowa City failed to make yardage.

Late Missouri Drive Trips Cyclones, 13-7

Tigers Roar Threat To Sooners' Roost Atop Big Six League

AMES, Ia., (AP)—Missouri's Big Tigers, huffing and puffing for more than three quarters in unsuccessful attempts to offset a one-point disadvantage, broke loose with a 63-yard touchdown in the game to drop Iowa state, 13 to 7.

By their victory in their first Big Six conference football game the Tigers established themselves as a definite challenge to Oklahoma's defending champions, and likewise crushed Iowa state's title hopes.

Plagued by fumbles and unable to crack a stubborn Iowa State defense, the Tigers didn't bruise through to their victory until only 2 1/2 minutes were left. Then, they hit hard.

Iowa state, with fourth down and four to go on the Missouri 40, was a yard shy of a first down. Leonard Brown, Missouri quarterback, rambled to the Iowa state 17 on the first play and six plays later halfback Loyd Brinkman plunged over from the two yard line. Husky Jim Kekeris place-kicked the extra point for the win.

The late Missouri touchdown restored a lead the Tigers had lost earlier in the first period when Gene Phelps, Iowa state field director, intercepted a pass and sprinted 50 yards for a touchdown and Jim Marks added the extra point.

Columbia Tramples Yale Bulldogs, 27-13

NEW YORK (AP)—Unbeaten Columbia spotted Yale two touchdowns in the first half yesterday, then came back to defeat the Bulldogs 27-13 before an estimated 30,000 at Baker field. Gene Rossides tossed two touchdown passes and set up a third score for Columbia.

Pitt Downed Again, 12-7

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's hopes for a strong comeback on the gridiron this season were shattered yesterday by the underdog Michigan State eleven which took to the air to turn back the Panthers, 12 to 7, while a crowd of 12,000 looked on in the huge Pitt stadium.

Hoosiers Overpower Cornhuskers, 54-14 To Remain Unbeaten

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—A powerful Indiana eleven passed and ran almost as it pleased yesterday to defeat the Cornhuskers from Nebraska, 54 to 14 before a homecoming crowd of 20,000.

The highly-respected, unbeaten Hoosiers scored on long runs — one 95 yards — short runs, power plays and passes against a Nebraska team that was able to produce only two scoring punches.

The out-classed Huskers made a fight at the start, holding Indiana to a lone touchdown in the opening quarter after stopping the Hoosiers on the one-yard line once. Ben Raimondi returned a kick forty yards and sophomore Richard Deranek scored on the next play from Nebraska's five to start the parade.

Bob Miller, Hoosier sophomore from Chicago, put on the outstanding feat of the day on the opening play of the second half. He took Tegt's kick on his own 5 and started angling down the field. With blockers clearing the way, he ran all the way to the Nebraska goal line.

Nebraska's first flash of scoring power came in the second period from the passing combination of halfback Ed Gradoville to end Paul Kipper. Two passes netted 45 yards and put the ball on Indiana's 9, and before the Hoosiers could solve the combination, Kipper had taken a pass behind the goal line.

Gophers Beat Tough Service Team, 14-0

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota had to open up its bag of power plays and passes to take a 14-0 victory yesterday over a surprising team of Ft. Warren, Wyo., soldiers who were supposed to be pushovers for the Gophers, but who actually outplayed them most of the second half.

Hudson "Hockey" Mealey, fullback, and Tom Cates, who played both right and left half for the Gophers, sparked the drives that produced the two touchdowns. Merlin Kispert, quarterback, provided the place kicks that netted two points.

Mealey's touchdown early in the second period was set up when he plunged 12 yards to the Ft. Warren three-yard line. During the second and third periods, the teams fought the ball into each other's territory consistently but neither could find the scoring combination.

Midway in the fourth period Minnesota worked the ball down the field to the soldier five-yard line from where Cates plunged over.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's hopes for a strong comeback on the gridiron this season were shattered yesterday by the underdog Michigan State eleven which took to the air to turn back the Panthers, 12 to 7, while a crowd of 12,000 looked on in the huge Pitt stadium.

Wayne Spurbeck

BEATING BACK PURDUE'S Boiler-maker powerhouse yesterday were these two Hawkeye linemen. Spurbeck, who took over Paul Fagerlind's right guard spot, and Katz, filling in for right tackle Jack Hammond, played outstanding games.

to march and behind the attack of Lou Boda and Walter Thorpe lugged the ball down to Purdue's 30 yard line. Here the Boiler-makers held again and Paul Golden punted out of bounds on the Purdue 8 yard marker.

Canfield and Cody again took command for Purdue and carried the ball to the Iowa 32 at the quarter end. The score still stood at 21 to 0.

Ed Cody, who smacked Iowa's game line all afternoon with some fierce line plunging, scored Purdue's fourth touchdown at the outset of the last period, on an amazingly simple play that seemed to click on every attempt. He cracked left tackle, cut sharply back to his right and dived over the goal fetching the scoreboard tally up to Purdue 27, Iowa 0. Hughes again converted for the Boiler-makers.

At this point Coach Cecil Isbell sent in a freshman backfield that immediately went into action. In seven plays Norbert Adams punched over from the Iowa eight. Hughes missed the kick and the score stood at Purdue 34, Iowa 0 with six minutes left to play in the game.

Adams sparked the Boiler-makers' defense during his stay in the game with some bone-jarring tackles. The final blow came with only three minutes to play in the game. After Purdue intercepted an Iowa pass Ernie Dobrzykowski lateraled to Ray Gunkel on the Iowa 37 and swept down the sidelines to score the final touchdown. Hughes again muffed the extra point and the final score read Purdue 40, Iowa 0.

As the game ended Iowa was on the Purdue 12 yard line after marching three-fourths the length of the field behind the passing of Jerry Niles.

thwarted Purdue plays with some vigilant tackling. The loss of Paul Fagerlind was sharply felt in line play on many occasions.

Iowa ball carriers were dumped for embarrassing losses because there seemed to be four or five extra men in the Old Gold backfield. Bill Kay played a brilliant game at left tackle and game captain Ira Lund was impressive in backing up Iowa's line. Bob Gustafson, although bruised at two points in the game, was a standout at end. He streaked downfield on a punt, was knocked down by a perfect slice but still nailed the ball carrier with a determined tackle.

The Iowa squad arrived at Ross-Ade stadium 40 minutes behind schedule due to a train delay coming from Chicago. Two buses, running 50 miles an hour behind a siren-screaming police escort carried them through the Purdue campus to the stadium and the game's start was delayed only 10 minutes.

Fagerlind's loss left Iowa with only two right guards—Spurbeck, who started the game and John Drew who reported for practice only last week.

Iowa's coaching staff had few comments after the game. Coach Clem Crowe agreed with most observers that Purdue presented a ball team that performed much better than any of their three victories to date.

Injuries to the Hawks weren't serious. A post game check revealed Gustafson, Smith, Kelso and Thorpe had minor strains and bruises but are expected to be in shape for next week's game against Indiana at Iowa City.

Pennsylvania Drubs Tar Heel Eleven, 49-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania handed North Carolina one of the worst beatings ever suffered by a Carl Snavely coached team yesterday, scoring at will through the air and on the ground to overwhelm the Tar Heels, 49-0. The Quakers' third straight victory was racked up before 53,000 Franklin field enthusiasts.

Army Stars Davis, Blanchard Help Stifle Michigan by 28 to 7

NEW YORK (AP)—The speed and power of Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, plus perfect execution of the plays that shook them loose for long touchdown runs, carried Army to an 8 to 7 victory over Michigan's smart and speedy football team yesterday.

Blanchard ran 68 yards for one of the touchdowns that sent the Wolverines down to their second defeat in five games this season while Davis sprinted 70 yards for the final Army score.

A crowd of 70,000 at Yankee stadium saw the Cadets meet their first real test in three games this season, and they didn't meet it any too well.

Equipped with a set of plays that often had the big Army linemen charging into empty space, Walt Teninga, Bob Nussbaumer and Jack Wisenburger threatened at any minute to change the picture of the game.

The cadets' payoff punches both came on the first play after many had taken the ball. There wasn't a Michigan tackler on his feet when Blanchard burst through the line and set off downfield for the second Army tally midway through the second period. In the last quarter Davis swung around his right end, then outran the Wolverine secondaries to score.

Middies Defeat Penn State, 28-0

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Navy's midshipmen looked like raggedy dogs a good part of the way yesterday, but by hard battling against a rugged Penn state eleven managed to punch across four touchdowns and a safety for a 28 to 0 triumph over the Nittany Lions.

The Sailors as a unit never looked like a championship ball club, but Leon Bramlett, their great end, rose to defensive heights and inspired his team to win as 22,106 fans jammed every seat in the stadium to watch Navy's centennial celebration come to a close.

Bramlett speared through to block Floyd Lang's punt behind the Penn state goal in the first period, and Navy was ahead 2 to 0 as the ball bounced out to the end zone for a safety. Pettit's 35-yard punt returned led to a touchdown drive a moment later.

Bramlett's block of another Lang punt deep in state territory set the stage for Navy's next counter.

Card President Says No Basis to Rumors

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals, said last night there was no foundation to the rumors the Red Birds would sell shortstop Marty Marion and third baseman George Kurovski.

There have been widespread rumors that Marion would be sold to the Chicago Cubs and Kurovski to the Philadelphia Phillies. Asked to comment, Breadon said, "There's nothing to the rumors."

Marquette Blasts Kansas State, 55-13

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Starting with a 21-point blast in the first quarter and scoring with ease in each of the remaining stanzas, the Marquette university football team registered a 55 to 13 victory over Kansas State college last night.

A light rain fell throughout as 9,000 fans watched the Hilltops open their home season and hang up their first triumph in four starts.

Sarringhaus, Fisher Stage Air, Ground Attack on Badgers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State university's terrific teamwork—Paul Sarringhaus and Dick Fisher—collaborated yesterday to spark the Bucks to a 12 to 0 football victory over Wisconsin's iron-man Badgers before 69,235 customers.

Those two veterans of the gridiron now back home from military service, put on a show with Sarringhaus going to the right and Fisher to the left in a dazzling display of two-man offensive power.

Then to mix it up, they tossed passes alternately and one from Fisher was good for a touchdown.

The victory was Ohio State's third of the season and the 12th in a row over two years. It was against one triumph and one tie.

Although Ohio scored only two touchdowns, the Bucks spent most of the afternoon knocking at the goal line door but penalties cost them heavily.

In the first period they were inside the five-yard line twice on sorties by Sarringhaus, only to see both efforts nullified by penalties—one for holding and the other for illegal motion in the backfield.

They finally clicked in the second period, however, on a drive that covered 58 yards in five plays. A 40 yard pass from Fisher to Bud Kessler, another returned war veteran, helped move them to Wisconsin's 10 and from there Fisher flipped another pass to freshman Tom Watson for the touchdown.

The second touchdown was almost wholly a Fisher-Sarringhaus job. Racing around first the right end and then the left wing they battered all the way from their own 22 to a touchdown, with Sarringhaus getting the six-point on a smash over right tackle from the five-yard stripe.

Once again in the fourth period a penalty cost Ohio State what looked like a certain touchdown. Starting from the Ohio 20, Sarringhaus and Fisher did virtually all the work as the Bucks battered and passed their way to the Badger 19 from where Sarringhaus raced to the one.

Officials caught a Buck holding, however, and that ended that threat.

Wisconsin didn't make a serious scoring gesture until the closing minutes when Dan Orlich and Vern Kitzing passed the Badgers from their own 15 to Ohio's 18 where the Bucks finally held and took the ball on downs.

Ohio had an 18 to 7 margin in first downs, 280 to 63 yards advantage, rushing plays and 101 to 87 yards in passing.

UCLA Tramples California, 13-0; Cal Rossi Scores 2

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Led by their hard driving half back, Cal Rossi, who personally accounted for both touchdowns, the speedy U.C.L.A. Bruins yesterday tamed their big brothers from Berkeley, the California Bears, 13 to 0 before 40,000 fans.

Rossi, running up 101 yards from scrimmage—more than the entire California backfield—scored on a ten yard swing around left end in the second quarter, and duplicated on the identical play from the Cal 11 yard line in the third quarter.

The Bruins' first touchdown culminated a 40-yard march in six plays with Case's recovery of a wild Bear lateral, setting up the drive. Rossi's touchdown run was made possible by devastating blocking by halfback Skip Rowland and guard Al Sparlis.

Cornell Upset By Princeton, 14-6

ITHACA, N. Y., (AP)—The Princeton football Tiger which appeared kittenish in its season debut last week pounced upon Cornell yesterday afternoon and handed the thrice-victorious big red a stunning 14-6 setback.

Princeton broke through the Cornell forward wall in the second period, scoring on a 52-yard run by Ernest Ransome, and put the game on ice in the closing minutes of the contest when an intercepted pass was converted into a touchdown.

Irish Outclass Dartmouth; Win 34-0

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP)—Notre Dame's fighting Irish, using 50 players, easily won their third straight victory yesterday, crushing a completely outclassed Dartmouth eleven, 34-0.

Six West Point scouts, observing what the Army can expect from the Irish Nov. 10, got only a quick peek at Notre Dame's varsity, which rambled across two first period touchdowns on passes and the retired in favor of virtually the entire Irish squad.

Dartmouth's Big Green faded in an emerald on the game's very first play when sharp-shooting Frank Danciewicz wheeled a 60 yard touchdown pass to Phil Callala. Sub fullback Stan Krivik dropped the point and the procession of five Irish touchdowns, was on.

The Irish, who outgained Dartmouth, 334 yards in 90, also struck through the air for their second touchdown midway in the first period. Danciewicz tossed a 14 yard pass to Bob Skoglund, who snared the ball on Dartmouth's three and rambled across the goal line. Krivik failed to convert.

After that, the Irish reserve took complete charge and scored a touchdown in each period. Halfback Bill Zehler streaked 24 yards around end for a touchdown to cap an 89 yard march at the start of the second period.

Pro Gridders Battle Today

CHICAGO (AP)—First place in the eastern and western divisions of the National football league will be at stake today when five undefeated contestants battle to keep their 1945 slates unblemished.

Green Bay's world champion packers and the Cleveland Rams last of the western division's unbeaten elevens will collide at Green Bay, with both teams boasting 2-0 records. At Yankee stadium, the Boston Yanks, two game winners, clash with the New York Giants, who opened the league season last week with a 34-6 triumph over Pittsburgh.

PHIL SPITALNY and his Hour of Charm all-girl orchestra will conduct their regular Sunday broadcast from star-studded Miami tonight. Phil and his girls are in Florida for a well-earned vacation, but no matter where they are, you can count on fine entertainment that comes to us at 9 p. m. via WMT.

Charlie McCarthy's new girl friend and singing discovery, Anita Gordon, is 15 years old and a sophomore at Hollywood High. Eleven years ago, she won a screen contest and went to Hollywood with her family to sign the contract. But the whole thing had been a hoax, and the studio had never heard of the four-year-old. The Gordons stayed in Hollywood, however, and won out. She is now a member of Bergen - McCarthy Inc. and appears on their nationwide hookup at 7 p. m. each Sunday.

When Nora is kidnapped by Poison Puss Pete, and Nick has a chat with a talkative corpse, they're off to a hectic half hour in today's episode of "The Adventures of the Thin Man," in "The Case of the Left-Handed Corpse." Nick and Nora Charles are played by Claudia Morgan and Les Tremayne and it's our guess that you'll enjoy the rebroadcast at midnight more so than at 6 p. m. Sharp differences of opinion are expected when three experts consider Russia's attitude at the recently adjourned conference of the Big Five foreign ministers on the Northwestern University "Reviewing Stand" broadcast discussion of "Russia and the Peace Settlements" today at 10:30 a. m. over Mutual. Distinguished guest speakers on hand to consider this topic include William Henry Chamberlin author of "Soviet Russia" and other books, and for 12 years foreign correspondent in Russia, France, Japan and Germany; William Card, executive director of the Chicago Council of American-Soviet Friendship; Franklin D. Scott of the Department of Modern History at Northwestern University, and William S. Stokes of the department of Political science at that institution.

Iowa City Council Considers Purchase Of USO Equipment
 H. S. Ivie, chairman of the city recreation commission, said yesterday that Jay McNamara Sr., manager of the McNamara furniture store, will appraise the U. S. O. equipment proposed for purchase by the city council.
 The U. S. O. organization, soon to be non-existent, has property worth an estimated $2,000. If the price of the equipment is reasonable and if the money is available, the city council will purchase the U. S. O. material. The equipment is to be used for recreational purposes.
 "We may not want to take over all the equipment," explained Ivie, "and purchases may be made by other sources. It is quite possible that the Red Cross will buy some of the material."
 Appraisal of the equipment is hoped to be completed by next week.

Dean McGrath gave this as the last of three reasons why the liberal arts college will become increasingly important in the future instead of yielding to specialized technological training. "We will be drawn closer and closer to other peoples," he stated in explaining the uses atomic energy will have.

The increased leisure time of future generations will also become the responsibility of liberal

Got that middle-of-the-afternoon let-down after classes? Well just come right across campus to the Airliner, fellas and gals. You can really relax in their smooth leather booths while eating some grilled sandwiches and drinking that ever-popular beverage. Certainly is "the pause that refreshes" so how about making it the Airliner tomorrow?

Maybe you're one of those clever individuals who can sew a fine seam, or perhaps you'd rather let McNamara's make them for you. At any rate, the results will be equally delightful if the materials are chosen from their fascinating fabrics, varying from sophisticated rayons to gay, cheerful cottons and sturdy sailcloth.

Incidentally, it's a sharp-looking room that has a slip-covered chair to match the bedspread and drapes. Whatever the style of your room, whatever its color scheme, McNamara's have lovely fabrics to complement its beauty.

All the Alpha Xi's are saving their box tops upon the advice of Lt. Jim Becker, Peg Harn's recent dinner guest. Thanks goes out to Jim, former ATO on campus for his lovely tribute.

"The swell things you say about Doc 'n Betty's are right but you don't say enough!" That's what a fellow student told us the other day and then he continued, "For instance you haven't mentioned their breakfasts—the best you ever tasted. Why, that hot buttered toast just melts in your mouth, and their fried eggs—well, you just have to try them to see how wonderful they are! It's the Two Mile Inn for me from now on!" That's what the man said, kids, so you'd better check up on this place—Doc 'n Betty's Two Mile Inn.
