Crewmen Report Japs Sunk Malama in 1942

SAN FRANCISCO, — The Malama, Matson line ship which disappeared in the south Pacific early in the war, was sunk by bombs from a plane launched by a Japanese raider, returning crewmen revealed yesterday.

Chief Mate Gordon J. Pollard, of Vallejo, Calif., arriving here yesterday with a group of repatriates, said the unarmed ship was discovered by a plane from the Japanese raider and the crew warned by blinker signals to abandon ship. After the 33 crewmen and five army personnel climbed into lifeboats, the plane bombed and sank the Malama.

Later the raider came up and took the men aboard, and after six weeks landed them in Japan. They were transferred to Shanghai where they remained until the end of the war.

Pollard said 30 members of the American ship Vincent also were taken to Japan after their ship was sunk by a second raider in the area.

Senate Okays Tax Reduction; Suggests Further Cuts in Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate voted last night to reduce taxes $7,788,000 next year, accepting a last-minute change which added $155,000,000 to previously approved cuts.

The bill, approved by a voice vote after a single day's debate, goes back to the house, which in all probability will send it to a senate-house conference committee for adjustment of differences between the two chambers. The house bill, passed two weeks ago, Sigmund Alpha Epstein vs. Delta

Widkun Quisling Dies Before Firing Squad

OSLO (AP)—Widkun Quisling, with his wife's appeal rejected by the king, stumbled through murky rain to a traitor's death before a firing squad early yesterday in a dismal Execution Square of ancient, forbidding Akershus Fortress.

Then crack riflemen of the Norwegian military police—youths forced to flee from the Quisling regime and Nazi occupation of Norway—snuffed out the life of the chunky, pallid, 55-year-old puppet premier at 2:40 a. m. (7:40 p. m., CST, Tuesday).

Only hours before King Haakon had spurned an appeal from Quisling's wife for a reprieve. Quisling to the last protested he was innocent.

Only three other persons besides the execution squad witnessed the death of the man whose name had become a synonym for traitor—a dergyman, a prosecutor, and the officer who commanded: "Fire!"

There was no advance notice that the judgment of the country's highest court was to be carried out. Not even Quisling's family knew. They were told at 9 a. m. that he was dead.

A stiffly-phrased communique shortly before noon sketched the events immediately preceding the execution.

"Quisling sent a letter to the king declaring that he had been sentenced, though innocent," the communique said. "But he did not ask the king for a reprieve."

"This request was made by Mrs. Quisling on behalf of her husband. In council Tuesday the king decided that Quisling was not to be reprieved and that judgment was to be executed. It was executed through shooting at 2 a. m. yesterday. Relatives were informed at 9 a. m. yesterday morning."

It was not known whether the puppet leader made any last minute statement. During his three-week trial he hysterically called himself "The Savior of Scandinavia," the "Martyr of Norway" and in his final plea called himself "Quisling, the Patriot."

Security Council Becomes Reality As Russia, U. S. Sign

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations world security organization became a fact at 3:45 p. m. CST yesterday when Secretary of State Byrnes signed a protocol of deposit of ratifications.

Byrnes used two pens to sign the document, which was enclosed in a blue leather folder, with gold trimming and fastened with a red, white and blue ribbon.

The signing followed the deposit of ratification documents earlier in the day by Poland, the Ukrainian and White Russian republics, and finally by the Soviet Union.

These four ratification documents brought the total of nations completing action on the charter to the required 29.

In a short statement, Byrnes said:

Byrnes pledged that the United States "will do our utmost" in conjunction with the other United Nations to preserve world peace.

Among the witnesses at the signing were William Benton, assistant secretary of state for cultural and public relations, and Archibald MacLeish, who held that office until a few months ago.

The required number of charter signatures was reached shortly after 2 p. m., when Fedor Orekov, first secretary of the Soviet embassy, delivered the ratification instruments of Russia and the White Russian and Ukrainian at the state department.

Poland's document was delivered yesterday morning and it was announced that the Egyptian instruments had been deposited Monday.

Byrnes said after the signing that he would give one of the pens to Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, often called the father of the United Nations. He might give the other one to President Truman, he said, but added that he hoped to talk the chief executive into permitting him to keep it himself.

Crewmen Report Japs Sunk Malama in 1942

SAN FRANCISCO, — The Malama, Matson line ship which disappeared in the south Pacific early in the war, was sunk by bombs from a plane launched by a Japanese raider, returning crewmen revealed yesterday.

Disappearance of the Malama was one of the mysteries of the early days of the war. Bound for Wellington, New Zealand, the ship dropped from sight Jan. 1, 1942, while about 600 miles southwest of Tahiti.

Chief Mate Gordon J. Pollard, of Vallejo, Calif., arriving here yesterday with a group of repatriates, said the unarmed ship was discovered by a plane from the Japanese raider and the crew warned by blinker signals to abandon ship. Unsung Heroine

ONE OF the unsung heroines of the underground war against the Germans in Holland is Mrs. Patricia van Delden, above, American citizen and graduate of the University of Southern California.

Mrs. van Delden married a Dutch engineer in 1939 and went to Holland to live. She was in France when the Nazis invaded the Netherlands, and she entered the occupied country by concealing herself in a German munitions train. Thereafter she played a major role in the resistance movement. Her husband, betrayed to the Gestapo for his underground activities died in a Nazi concentration camp. Mrs. van Delden is now in the United States lecturing on behalf of American relief for Holland. (International)

Diplomatic Isolation Of Japan—MacArthur

TOKYO, Thursday (AP)—General MacArthur—acting "at the direction of the Allied powers"—isolated Japan diplomatically today in one of the most drastic directives yet issued by the supreme Allied commander.

(The action followed recent criticism from Soviet Russia that MacArthur's policy toward Japan was too soft. Russia accompanied the criticism by a recommendation that a four-power council government replace the present MacArthur-dominated set-up.)

General MacArthur ordered the Japanese government to transfer all its diplomatic and consular property and archives throughout the world to Allied powers and recall its diplomatic and consular representatives in neutral countries.

The supreme Allied commander ordered the cessation of all functions with foreign governments except for routine matters.

MacArthur took action at the direction of the Allied powers, headquarters said.

Food and a free press became primary problems of those running a hungry and ill-informed Japan.

GIVES REPORT ON ATOM BOMB

REP. CHET HOLIFIELD of California is shown as he displayed to the members of the House of Representatives plans of atomic bomb weapons projected and under study. Above he is demonstrating one type of bomb which would be propelled by jet from the tail section which would later drop off and the shell itself would go to the target. He told the members that a great deal of research would be carried on before any commission for atomic development would be put into effect. (International)

British, Dutch Asked To Remove Tags On Lend-Lease Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has asked the British and Dutch to take the American label off lend-lease arms they use to put down restive natives in Java and Indo-China, Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed yesterday.

This country objects to use of lend-lease munitions in situations having political connotations, he told a news conference.

This policy of objection applies everywhere, including South America, he asserted. Venezuelan revolutionists used lend-lease equipment in their recent, successful uprising.

The request for the removal of the United States emblem, Byrnes said, does not mean that countries using the arms in political situations will be asked to pay for them.

Other officials said that the guns, tanks and planes in the hands of various Allied armies over the world are beyond the control of the United States and virtually nothing can be done to prevent their employment in any way the leaders of those armies choose.

Byrnes was asked who actually owns this lend lease equipment. He said that was a question he could not very well answer at the moment because there were about three different master lend lease agreements with different countries which make different provisions for the ownership of military equipment supplied to foreign governments to fight the Axis.

The view of some top officials here was that whatever the legal technicalities involved the determining factor in the current revolutionary situations is physical possession of the arms.

British, Dutch Asked To Remove Tags On Lend-Lease Arms

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—President Soekarno of the "Indonesian Republic" declared yesterday that "no power on earth" can stop the independence movement in the Dutch East Indies, and said he would invite committees from the United States congress and British commons to visit Indonesia to see "the true situation."

He promised an "open door policy as far as foreign investors are concerned," adding:

"We don't want to throw the Dutch into the sea. They can maintain their financial holdings here. These things can be arranged by financial brains," he said. "We can and will employ the best possible financial advisers from abroad. Right now we are seeking the aid of American financiers to advise my financial minister."

(In London Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin disclosed that the British army was sending additional troops to Java because the general situation "continues to give rise to anxiety." A foreign office spokesman said the British in Java would comply with the United States request to remove American labels from lend-lease equipment user there.)

Congressmen Demand International Action On Palestine Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four congressmen demanded yesterday that the United States take "international action" in the issue of free Palestine immigration.

In a statement Senators Charles W. Tobey (R., N. H.) and Francis J. Myers (D., Pa.) and Representatives Andrew L. Somers (D., N. Y.) and Bertrand W. Gearhart (R., Calif.) declared that America "cannot afford to be a party to brutal, unilateral breaches of faith and violation of solemn obligations."

They are members of an unofficial delegation which plans to visit England shortly to present that attitude to the British prime minister.

"We must not forget," the statement said, "that because after the First World War the Hebrews were naive enough to build their future on mere promises, they paid with millions of needless casualties and endless suffering."

"As for the foreign Arab chieftains," they added, "we think it is humiliating to be subject to their pressure which has no parallel in international relations. These chieftains do not speak for the Arab and other Non-Jewish population in Palestine."

Nice Weather—For a While Today

We are going to have some beautiful weather this morning but it looks like the sky will start clouding over again by nightfall. And there may be rain in those clouds. Why is it that as soon as we do get some nice weather, somebody starts cooking up more misery for us? No matter what happens, there won't be much change in the temperature.

The mercury was rather sluggish yesterday; it reached a high of 53 from a low of 41. At 12:30 this morning it was 40.

DETROIT (AP)—First returns last night showed that General Motors corporation workers voted heavily in favor of a strike to support their demand for a 30 percent wage increase.

The nation-wide election, taken among the corporation's more than 300,000 workers, was conducted by the national labor relations board.

Marines Fight Merger Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fighting history of the marine corps was stacked up yesterday against congressional proposals for merger of the armed forces under a single cabinet head.

Gen. A. Vandegrift, commandant of the leathernecks, testified that consolidation of the war and navy departments would cost the marines their best qualities, "Esprit De Corps And Morale."

"The best that proponents can say for this measure is that it might eventually save money," the four-star general said. "The best that I can say is that these savings, if ever realized, will not seem great if we are forced to buy back our liberties with the flesh and blood of the next generation."

He said that as far back as 1921 the marines realized "we would inevitably engage in an oceanic war with Japan involving the seizure of heavily defended island bases."

"As a result the marines developed a special amphibious tractor, special landing boats, and drilled with the navy on storming fortified islands. Vandegrift said the army showed little interest in these operations."

He asked retention of the present war and navy cabinet places, permanent establishment of the wartime joint chiefs of staff, and legislation to correct any other weaknesses in national defense plans without junking the "war machine which has so recently gained for our nation the greatest victory in its history."

Green Orders Film Strikers Back to Work

AFL President William Green announced the federation's executive council had directed "all striking employes to return to work immediately." These have been estimated to number between 3,000 and 7,000.

Termination of the strike was ordered as Hollywood police arrested between 600 and 700 persons in mass roundups of pickets and strike sympathizers at the Paramount and RKO studios.

Jurisdictional Dispute

In calling off the movie strike which started as an AFL jurisdictional dispute on March 12, Green said the AFL executive council directed that for 30 days the international unions affected were to make "every attempt" to settle the questions.

Then a committee of three members from the internationals are to determine within another 30 days all jurisdictional questions still unsettled.

The strike was called off after a four-hour conference of AFL leaders and Eric Johnson, head of the motion picture producers association, and Donald M. Nelson, representing independent picture producers.

Violence has occurred along the mass picket lines at studio gates almost daily the last few weeks. Scores have been injured and hundreds arrested.

Although the strike was declared officially over, Herbert K. Sorrell, AFL leader in Hollywood, called a mass meeting of the conference of studio unions to decide, he said, whether mass picketing should be resumed today at Warner Brothers and General Service studios.

Although the strike was declared officially over, Herbert K. Sorrell, AFL leader in Hollywood, called a mass meeting of the conference of studio unions to decide, he said, whether mass picketing should be resumed today at Warner Brothers and General Service studios.

Pickets Withdrawn

Sorrell said pickets would be withdrawn from all studios except Warners and General Service. Picketing will continue at those studios, the union leader said, until their positions in the strike settlement are clarified. Neither studio belongs to the motion picture producers and distributors association.

The strike began with a controversy between the AFL conference of studio unions and the AFL international alliance of theatrical stage employes over which union had jurisdiction over 77 set decorators.

A national labor relations board election settled this issue in favor of the conference but the strike leaders refused to consider the dispute ended until all strikers had been rehired by the studios. The powerful AFL screen actors' and screen writers' guilds supported this position and demanded that all replacements hired during the strike be retained.

Shoe Rationing Nears End; Prospects Good For 1946 Tire Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official discussions of when to end shoe rationing narrowed tentatively yesterday to a choice of October 28—next Sunday—or November 1.

It was learned, too, that the OPA will announce today a four-point cut in the ration cost of butter. The new rate of eight points a pound will go into effect Sunday.

A government official who asked that his name not be used said that OPA and the war production board expect to pick the date by today for ending shoe rationing.

It was understood that the program might be terminated before the weekend if word that the end is imminent leaked out.

The Oct. 28 date is favored by those who want the program terminated over a weekend so that merchants can prepare for the unrestricted buying. Those urging Nov. 1 would like to have rationing end at the start of a calendar month.

Plans to end rationing were drawn when a survey showed that shoe production is now at the rate of about 28,000,000 pairs a month, only slightly less than before the war.

Meanwhile, there were prospects for an end of passenger tire rationing late in December. Government rubber officials said the program would end then if production meets schedules. They said truck tires might become ration free late next month.

Economists Foresee—High Factory Profits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government economists foresee higher factory profits in 1946 than in any war year, even if wage rates are increased to keep average hourly earnings at last April's wartime level.

The figures, which indicate 1946 profits of manufacturing corporations at $6,300,000,000 after payment of taxes, were submitted yesterday to the reconversion advisory board to assist its study of a national wage-price policy.

They were prepared by economists of John W. Snyder's office of war mobilization and reconversion.

Members of the advisory board conferred with President Truman, after debating the wage-price question in a special session in the White House.

OWMR officials later said no decisions were reached and no position taken by the board, which is composed of public representatives and spokesmen for labor, management and agriculture.

The wage and price statistics offered for consideration were not officially made public, but it was learned that they indicated:

(1) That the take-home pay of the average factory workers with one dependent in 1946 will have 10 percent less purchasing power,

J. P. Kennedy Jr. Dies In Flying Bomb Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The story of how two young lieutenants were killed in the explosion of a secret "flying bomb" over England last year was released today by the navy.

Victims of the accident were Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., son of the former ambassador to England, and Lt. Wilford J. Willy, whose widow and three children live in Fort Worth, Tex.

Both men volunteered for the mission and both have been awarded the Navy Cross Posthumously.

The accident occurred on Aug. 12, 1944, after the two pilots had taken aloft a four-engined PB4Y Liberator laden with 21,170 pounds of high explosives. The men were to have flown the ship until two accompanying "mother" planes had achieved complete radio control over it. Then they were to have bailed out while still over England. The "mother" ships were to have guided the pilotless "drone" to a V-2 rocket launching site in Normandy and crash-dived it on the target.

Editorials:

Fear of Failure, or Confidence in Success?

Ely Culbertson, who lectured here Tuesday night on world affairs, yesterday told the editor of The Daily Iowan that he differed somewhat with the tone of The Iowan's editorial "There's Good News in the Headlines, Too." And Mr. Culbertson's expression of opinion had a good deal of merit.

In its editorial, The Iowan pointed out that in the field of international affairs there have been some good, as well as bad, acts. We discussed the fact that bad news remains longer in the public eye because when a problem is solved it ceases to be of interest after a day or two and therefore is dropped from newspaper columns.

"But let's remember that all is not going awry with the world. We may be stumbling now and then, but we're making headway," he said.

Mr. Culbertson pointed out that putting ourselves on the back for solving some of the knotty situations we have faced does not clear up the present and future problems. "And though we may be making headway, we still haven't done a single thing for instance, about our greatest problem—the atomic bomb," he said.

Mr. Culbertson makes an indisputable point there. We can not sit back and look at what we have accomplished and expect the international front to untangle itself. But it should be noted, and properly, that we are not failing, that we have met with a certain measure of success.

It's an old saying that "a pat on the back is worth a dozen kicks in the pants." And encouragement by success is just as necessary to keeping public opinion alive and active as the constant pleading of statesmen, lecturers and professors to "get busy and do something."

Mr. Culbertson's concern about public opinion also is understandable. The public, often without proper facts, sometimes forms misleading ideas.

This probably can be traced back to the fact that the American people do too little of their own thinking these days. Instead, we let our thinking be done by newspaper columnists and radio commentators. We mull over their views, pick out one that strikes our fancy, and adopt someone else's opinion for our own.

Columnists and commentators should only stimulate thoughts on concerning our problems. They should not be the persons who form the opinion of the nation. Yet even in their function of stimulating thinking, they can not accomplish as much by constantly prodding as they can by occasionally slipping in a "pat on the back" along with the "kicks in the pants."

Besides being encouraging, the "good news" of newspapers also can give us confidence in being able to tackle and solve our present and future problems. We can not do our best if we are in constant fear that the consequences will not be successful. We must know that we can succeed.

Memorial Stadium

It was disappointing that the Student Council Tuesday night didn't discuss the advisability of renaming the football stadium in honor of the University of Iowa athletes who were killed in World War II—especially inasmuch as the dedication should take place this year, and the last appropriate date for the ceremony is Nov. 17, less than four weeks away.

E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, director of athletics, said, however, that he will introduce The Daily Iowan's suggestion at the next meeting of the university board of athletics, Nov. 13. Since the next meeting is only four days before Iowa's last home football game, it is imperative that a detailed plan be ready for submission to the board for action at a single stroke.

To delay dedication of the stadium to war heroes until next year would mean the loss of some of the significance of the gesture. The minds of the public will be most easily impressed by the idealism behind the gesture this year when memories of fallen men are still vivid.

All over the country universities and towns are acting now to erect living war memorials in remembrance of the sacrifices of the war. The memorials are in the form of camp sites, reservations, parks, playing fields, indoor sports centers, swimming pools, community centers and golf courses, instead of the usual monuments and statues.

Our football stadium could become one of those "living memorials." Thousands of people gather there on fall Saturday afternoons. And, as General MacArthur said, "on the fields of friendly strife are sown the seeds which, in other years on other fields, will bear the fruits of victory."

Already more than 2,000 communities from coast to coast have joined in the campaign to erect "living memorials." More than 5,300 different projects are being planned. And the number is increasing daily.

Iowa should not delay dedicating the stadium, especially since the dedication is such an obviously logical gesture. In the live, enjoyable memorial such as that, we will acknowledge our debt to the fighters of World War II, both living and dead.

Her Admirers Return

Her admirers—the men who left to enter service—are returning!

Three accelerated years of comparative loneliness are history. And "back home for keeps" is an actuality rather than an advertisement for silver. Feminine to the roots of her stately elms, the university campus is equal to the occasion.

Beauticians have arrived. The west wing of East hall is receiving a new hair-do of the latest asphalt-gravel mode.

The campus' fall bath has been extensive. With soap and water, maintenance men began in the elementary rooms of University high school, traversed Currier hall, and are now working in the zoology building.

Nature (in the form of tree roots) made it necessary for plumbers to perform the duty of "nature spelled backward" by installing two new drains on central campus.

Standby of the American Indian and womankind in general, paint came into its own on the campus this fall. Paint brushes

Effie—A Pig-Tailed Blond—Is Booster of Information First

By BUNNY JASTER

Information First has a new personality in its midst this year. Her name is Effie.

She isn't a scheduled speaker, and she doesn't attend the meetings, but she lets you know about them. Effie is the life-size, blond, pig-tailed dummy in front of Old Capitol or down by Iowa Union.

The Information First poster committee, headed by Geri Hoffman, A3 of St. Louis, Mo., brought this human-like creature into existence. Barbara Ellison, A2 of Webster Groves, Mo., and Donese Waterman, A2 of Chicago, Ill., helped design Effie.

Effie has blond hair and large, soulful blue eyes. She once had a much lovelier figure than she now possesses. The reason? When she was being constructed, the committee filled her with crisp autumn leaves, but since then the leaves have all withered, and Effie becomes thinner every day. Her costume is changed every week. If you catch a glimpse of her on campus, she may be wearing gloves, for it has been rather chilly lately.

When one woman student on campus was asked her opinion of Effie, she answered, "Why, I thought it was just another student. That's how human she looks."

At present, Effie is "up a tree" down by the Union. You'll run into her one of these days, and if you haven't been attending Information First, you will, thereafter. That's Effie's job to stimulate interest in the lecture series.

Margaret Browning Huey, J4 of Iowa City; Betty Lou Schmidt, A2 of Davenport, and Geri Hoffman, A3 of St. Louis, Mo. pose with Effie the Info Girl, a new arrival on campus.

A Uniformed 'Junior'? Congress to Decide On Military Training

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the congress accepts President Truman's recommendation for universal military training here is what Junior can expect when he reaches the manly age of 18.

Right now about 1,200,000 youths turn 18 each year. The president's recommendation is that a year's universal military training be given all except those totally disqualified physically. If Junior isn't as smart as his father or for some reason hasn't graduated from high school by the time he is 18, he can put off his training until he is 20.

Full details of the plan haven't been worked out. But perhaps Junior, on reaching age 18, will register by sending in a card to his post office. Perhaps there will be some form of selective service boards such as now exist.

But somehow Junior will become a trainee. As far as possible, the army says, he would be given a choice of what branch of service he would like—aviation, ground forces, service forces, sea forces.

Junior would go to one of the training centers located throughout the country. He would get a physical checkup. He would be a part of a civilian force separately from the army or navy. His instructors as far as possible would be reserve officers, or national guard officers—thus he would be a civilian trained by civilians.

Army officers said they would like to see Junior have his own "dress up" uniform different from that of a regular soldier, but for training he would wear regular army fatigues and use regular army equipment.

Junior would have to work, for his training would be intense. He would get about nine weeks basic training when he would learn the fundamentals of being a soldier and the difference between a rifle and a howitzer. He would get modern strategy and training with modern weapons.

Then would come about 13 weeks specialist training in which Junior could study radio, the mysteries of radar or start his pre-flight training. Next comes training and teamwork—learning how to live with other men: Do his part. Lastly, a month's field maneuvers.

Junior would have to learn how to make up beds to pass inspection. He might get introduced to the purpose of a broom in helping keep his barracks clean.

In his off duty hours he could take up educational courses, perhaps begin his college studies. It is possible that extension courses from nearby universities will be made available. He could toughen up in anticipation of making the college football team. There'd be emphasis on "moral training"—teamwork, good citizenship, good sportsmanship.

Representatives Claim American Freedoms Being Endangered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house heard a series of speakers assert yesterday that American freedom of speech, press and radio is in danger of being stifled.

Several members said an attempt is being made to "influence and intimidate" radio news analysts.

Reps. Celler (D.N.Y.), DeLacy (D. Wash.), Patterson (D. Cal.) and others criticized the house committee on Un-American activities, chiefly because it has requested scripts of several radio commentators "for study."

Reps. Biemiller (D.Wis.) and Coffee (D. Wash.) joined in condemnation of the committee, but also attacked the National Association of Manufacturers. They declared the name in "dominating the air waves" by buying a great deal of time for radio programs. They said it is having commentators express its views, although they are presented as "impartial" analysts.

Spirited debate developed for a few minutes when Rep. Rankin (D.Miss.) took issue with the speakers. Rankin, a member of the committee under attack, told the house: "We are not attempting to smear anyone. We are just trying to keep the flag flying over a free government. We had the right to ask for those scripts. You have the same right."

From All Around The State

WATERLOO (AP)—The Altstadt and Langlas Baking company contended in a reply Tuesday to a $20,000 libel suit filed by O. S. von Krog, former superintendent of the Eldora state training school for boys, that it was not responsible for remarks made or a radio program it sponsors. Von Krog sought damages from the company, radio station KXEL of Waterloo and H. R. Gross, news commentator for the station. The suit was based on Gross' reporting of charges filed against Von Krog as the result of an investigation of the training school.

DAVENPORT (AP)—All seven schools in Lincoln township north of here have been closed as a precaution against infantile paralysis, it was announced yesterday, although no new cases were reported, there have been two recent deaths in the area from polio and Mrs. Victor Koch was being treated for the disease at Iowa City.

DES MOINES (AP)—A. J. Loveland, state director of the production-marketing administration, said yesterday Iowa farmers may be in for serious losses on this year's corn crop unless they delay picking and cribbing until some means of drying has been arranged. There probably never has been a higher percentage of moisture in the corn at this time of year, he asserted, and added that the situation is serious.

CRESTON (AP)—Two escapees from the Eldora state training school for boys were ready to return yesterday, because Henry Berry, farmer near Lorimor, convinced them that they should. Their decision was made after they wrecked two cars and otherwise gave officers a merry chase for three days until Berry took them in his house and fed them. Sheriff J. R. Ewing said. He identified the boys as Bill Knight, 18, Des Moines, and Paul Gitchel, 17, Clarinda.

DES MOINES (AP)—The full employment bill, now pending in congress, "is a very bad bill," the Iowa Taxpayers association said yesterday in a prepared statement. If passed, the application of the bill in Iowa might cost as much as $115,200,000 a year in payments for the aged, the association said.

DES MOINES (AP)—Goal for Iowa in the final war bond drive the victory loan campaign opening next Monday, will be "first in the nation" on the percent of E bond quota attained, the Iowa war finance committee said yesterday. The slogan—"They finished their job, let's finish ours." The E bond quota for the state is $46,000,000, the over-all quota $135,000,000.

DES MOINES (AP)—Principal speaker on the program for the 49th annual convention of the Iowa Bankers association here next week is United States Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democratic majority leader of the senate. He will address the Tuesday night banquet.

Mrs. Sharp To Discuss Food Situation

"Shall We Feed Our Allies?" will be the topic discussed by Mrs. Waitstill Hastings Sharp, a representative of American Relief for Czechoslovakia, Inc., at 4:10 this afternoon in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. Mrs. Sharp is appearing as the second speaker of the year in the Information First series.

Mrs. Sharp returned six weeks ago from Czechoslovakia where she made a tour of the country as the guest of the Czech minister of foreign affairs. Her knowledge of the country dates back to 1939 when she and her husband, as representatives of the American committee for relief in Czechoslovakia and a Quaker-Unitarian commission, were engaged in aiding refugees driven out of the Sudetenland.

Since then Mrs. Sharp has served as director of the Unitarian service committee's work in Spain and Portugal, in charge of the refugee office in Lisbon. She also has worked with endangered children in Basse Pyrenees and has initiated work in internment camps.

As agent of the United States committee for the care of European children, she helped in transporting French children to homes in America.

When in Portugal Mrs. Sharp was decorated by that government in recognition of her services.

During the war, Mrs. Sharp served on the national boards of the Unitarian service committee and of American Relief for Czechoslovakia, Inc.

Mrs. Sharp, having seen first hand the devastation and destruction wrought by war in Czechoslovakia, will discuss relief work in devastated areas. She obtained material on relief problems and needs while conferring with Edward Benes, president of Czechoslovakia; Mrs. Benes, head of Czechoslovak Red Cross; the lord mayor of Prague; Dr. Joseph Lettrich, president of the national assembly in Slovakia; Lawrence Steinhardt, the American ambassador, and the Czech ministers of food and health.

Mrs. Sharp, a graduate of Pembroke college and Brown university, received an M.A. degree from Radcliffe college.

Louise Hillman, A4 of Bettendorf, student leader, will introduce Mrs. Sharp this afternoon.

'Y' Sponsors Area Council

Fourteen university students will attend the Y. W. C. A. - Y. M. C. A. area conference this weekend at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Boone. Bonnie Lansing, A4 of Iowa City, second vice-president of "Y", and Phil Gibbs, a student at Iowa State college at Ames, co-chairman of the area, will be in charge of the entire conference.

Miss Lansing and Marilyn Nesper, area councilor, are the only college students from Iowa who hold Y. W. C. A. area offices. Miss Nesper, G. A. of Toledo, Ohio, was president of the local "Y" last year.

The conference, sponsored by the National Intercollegiate Christian council, will organize its meeting around the basis of Christian faith and action.

University of Iowa representatives will be in charge of all worship services for the meetings with Carol Raymond, A4 of Cleveland heights, Ohio, chairman of the Worship Workshop, planning the services.

Y. W. C. A. cabinet members who are planning to attend the conference are: Margaret Walk, A4 of Grafton, president; Mary Osborne, A4 of Ottumwa, first vice-president; Miss Lansing; Jane Hertlein, A3 of Waverly, treasurer; Harriet Arnold, A3 of Valparaiso, Ind., freshman adviser; Jean Collier, A3 of Freeport, Ill., chairman of U. An address on "Social Responsibility" and reports on summer projects and plans for the year will make up the evening program. Sunday morning there will be a talk on "World Relatedness." All addresses will be followed by student discussion.

Chinese Missionary To Have Conferences

Conferences with Willie Pauline Harris, former missionary to China who will be on the university campus Saturday, Sunday and Monday, are scheduled in Iowa Union from 9 a. m. to 12 M. Saturday and Monday and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. Sunday. These meetings are sponsored by the Student Christian council.

Anyone interested in scheduling a conference should contact Patricia King, room 304, Westlawn, or leave his name at the Westlawn lobby. Conferences may also be arranged by contacting the Rev. Fred Putnam 5301, or other church pastors Friday.

Groups interested in speaking engagements Sunday afternoon should call Bob Camery at 3583.

Thomas can make arrangements by contacting Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion.

The consultation is sponsored by the American Council on Education, the National Council on Religion and Higher Education, and the Hazen Foundation.

Prof. Thomas is staying at the Jefferson hotel during his brief visit here and will next go to Denison university, Denison, Ohio.

Homecoming Planned To Welcome Alumni In Prewar Style

The university's first peacetime Homecoming since 1941 will be celebrated Nov. 2 and 3. This year's Homecoming is designed to welcome alumni, discharged servicemen, and former students who have been unable to return for four years because of gas rationing, according to Prof. Louis Zopf of the college of pharmacy, chairman of the central committee.

Homecoming events will open Friday, Nov. 2, at 7:30 p. m., when a mass pep rally will be staged in front of Old Capitol.

Jack Teagarden and his orchestra will play for the Homecoming day in Iowa Union after the pep rally. Receptions at the Triangle and University clubs are also scheduled for Friday night.

The Saturday morning program for Homecoming includes a hockey game between women's teams on campus and open house with deans and faculty members in their offices.

The Wisconsin-Iowa football game kickoff is slated for Saturday afternoon, Nov. 3, at 2 p. m. in the stadium. The Badgers, who opposed the Hawks at the first Iowa Homecoming in 1912, appeared here in 1942 and took a 6-2 beating which cost Wisconsin the conference title.

Open house at the Iowa Union will climax the game Saturday night.

The 1945 Homecoming observance will have all the color and fancy trimmings of former peacetime celebrations. Engineering students will erect a corn monument at the intersection of Iowa avenue and Clinton streets, and fraternity and sorority houses will compete for cash prizes for house decorations.

Weeks Post of VFW Plans History Record

Beginning a three-year project, the officers of the Leroy E. Weekes Post No. 3949 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, met at their club rooms last night to discuss the development of their plan to produce an historical record of all Johnson county veterans of World war II.

To continue this work and obtain correct data, the committee requests every Johnson county veteran to bring in his or her photo and service record to the club rooms at 209 1/2 College street. Hours are 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 11 p. m., beginning Monday.

Photographs will be retained until the publication of the history, when they will be returned to the veterans.

If possible, the veteran should also bring a picture of himself in uniform. Information on this service record should include: date of entry into service, places of service, medals or honors received and date of discharge, as well as the present address of the veteran.

Members of the committee working on this project estimate that it will take nearly three years to complete their survey. They are: Jack Kennedy, chairman; Francis Boyle; John Fielding; James Gwynne; Kite Knowling and Earl Weekes, for whose son the post is named.

After the first World War, the post compiled a similar book.

Secret of Peace Keep 'Eternal Vigilance' Says Navy Man

"Peace is only achieved by eternal vigilance," said Lt. Comdr. W. P. Mills of the Iowa pre-flight school in a talk on "Our Navy Today and Tomorrow" at a meeting of the Lions club yesterday noon.

Lieutenant Commander Mills has served previously at various posts in the United States. Prior to the war, he was an attorney for the B. F. Goodrich corporation. He is now serving as legal adviser and instructor in aircraft engines.

Lieutenant Commander Mills explained the significance of Navy day, which commemorates Oct. 27, 1775, the day when a bill was introduced into the continental congress for the establishment of an American fleet. This date is also the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, who is considered the father of our modern navy. Navy day was first celebrated in 1922, Commander Mills said.

Naval aviation played a large part in winning the war, he continued, adding that the navy had only 5,000 planes at the time of Pearl Harbor, and 37,000 on V-J day.

Americans must be prepared to pay the price of maintaining a navy of sufficient strength to maintain peace, concluded Commander Mills.

Guests at the luncheon were W. H. Brode of Des Moines, G. L. Kelso of Iowa City, Robert Lund of Iowa City, and C. W. Emmons of Bethesda, Md.

Columbia Professor Tells of Original Test With Atomic Power

Prof. John R. Dunning of Columbia university yesterday afternoon described his original experiment in measuring the atomic power released in smashing the uranium atom to the physics department staff and graduate students.

Professor Dunning's successful attempt to measure released atomic energy resulted from a discussion with Dr. Neils Bohr, Danish physicist, who had just returned from Europe. Dr. Bohr had brought back a report that a Dr. Otto Hahn had discovered barium and other elements in the debris of uranium disintegrated by neutron rays from radio-active material.

That night, Jan. 25, 1939, Dr. Dunning went to his laboratory and bombarded particles of uranium in his machine to measure atomic energy.

From his experiment he was able to compute that some 122 million volts of energy were released from the smashing of the uranium atom. (A single atom of carbon, disintegrated by combustion yields from one to five volts.)

This experiment, conducted in a basement laboratory at Columbia university, opened the path to the development of the atomic bomb.

Prof. J. Briggs Helps Compile Directory

Prof. John E. Briggs of the political science department is one of seven committeemen who compiled the first directory of the American Political Science association released this month.

Similar in subject matter to "Who's Who," the book contains biographical sketches of all members of the association in alphabetical order. Over 2,000 political scientists, practically every man of that field in the United States, are listed in the directory.

Professor Briggs has been chairman of the permanent committee on regional and functional societies for the American Political Science association since 1941. His qualification for the directory committee was based on his study of overlapping membership of the association with other associations such as the American Society of International Law, the American Society of Public Administration, the Southern Political Science association and other regional and functional organizations.

In connection with this committee work, he compiled the data in the section of the directory devoted to regional and functional political science societies.

Listed in the directory are these members of the political science department at the university: Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the department; Prof. F. E. Horack; Prof. George F. Robeson; Prof. J. Van der Zee; Prof. Herman H. Trachsel, Professor Briggs, Sudhindra Bose and Jack T. Johnson, on leave from the university with the navy in Washington, D. C.

The other men on the directory committee are professors of political science at major universities in the United States. Four are past presidents of the association.

GASSIN' with GUS

By GUS SCHRADER

IT'S A TOSS UP between Popsy Harrison and Harold (Mike) Howard as to which is the most enthused Iowa coach about the coming winter sports season. Now Mike doesn't have the bonanza of material that the Hawk basketball coach possess, but if you'd been as hard up for talent as the wrestling coach has been the last two years, you'd be tickled to see anybody with one head report for the team. Colorful old Mike, naturally a happy Dane anyway, is so hepped up about this year's prospects that you'd think it was his first instead of his 24th Iowa team. He's putting out no extravagant claims about titles this year, but it's hard for him to keep it secret that he plans to cause Big Ten mat foes a lot of trouble.

MIKE WAS HAPPY when Loy Julius, 136-pound Big Ten king in 1942, returned to school from the AAF. And his smile got broader when Art Johnson, another AAF vet, returned and said he expected to wrestle after the football season closed. But yesterday it stretched from ear to ear when Lynn Gray, navy flyer who was third in the conference meet in 1942, came up and announced he would be re-enrolled in school Nov. 5 and would wrestle if his dentistry studies wouldn't take too much of his time. Already on hand and working out nearly every night is Mike's 1944 Big Ten champ, Rummy Macias. The Iowa wrestling coach is proud of Rummy. He holds him up as an example of the athlete who works hard at his sport and then lives, talks and eats it when he's out of the fieldhouse. The 128-pound Davenport boy is already in fine shape and raring for another season.

MIKE HOWARD Plenty Trouble for Mat Foes

BUT THE ARRAY of likely prospects doesn't stop there. Four good boys already are nudging each other for the top 121-pound slot: John Nyberg of Omaha, Orville Fried of Council Bluffs, Bill Quinland of Clinton and Leonard Lybbert of Cresco. Macias and Julius have the 128 and 136 weights lashed up, and Dick Barker, a state tourney runner-up from Osage last season, is expected to hold down the 145-pound berth.

Mike hopes to get back two varsity men from last year—Virgil Council of Osage and Dean Jays of Ft. Dodge—to man his 155 and 165 pound classes again. Lynn Gray of Rockwell City should have little difficulty from Art Clark of Humboldt for the 175-pound berth but Art Johnson may have trouble with big Wayne Rife of Des Moines in the heavyweight division. Also expected back for the second semester are Don Boettcher of Davenport in the 145-pound class and Bill Nelson of Eagle Grove, another heavyweight. Mike won't start nightly drills until after Nov. 1, but he says an all-university mat tourney will be staged just before Christmas vacation to determine the top men.

RUMMY MACIAS Mike's Proud of Him

PASS THE HASH PAUL FAGERLIND, who aroused everybody's interest with his one-man invasion of the Indiana bench last week while knocked off the beam, surprised the devil out of a stadium policeman when they tried to corral him. "Lemme out of here," Paul told the cop, "what am I doing here during Christmas vacation?" AT LEAST SIX MEMBERS of the football team will report for Ott Vogel's baseball club when the moleskins are hung up. They are Paul Fagerlind, Jack Kelso, Clay Colbert, Wendell Weller, Jim Harding and Gus DiMarco. I KE SKELLEY, state sports editor of the AP, heard somebody say in the press box last Saturday that Michigan had beat Iowa, 107-0, back in 1902. "What the deuce was that?" he demanded, "a double header?"

IKE ALSO REVEALS that the folks up Marshalltown way are calling Coach Wally Schwank's version of the "T" formation the best in the state this year. TOO BAD Jack Spencer isn't going to be back for Iowa basketball this season. That would make three brother combinations—if Tommy Chapman ever catches a ship back from Burma. The brothers Wilkinson, Herb and Clay, will be king pins, of course. Dave Spencer, Jack's big brother, expects to be on hand and Tommy Chapman's little bud, Bob, is already working out.

Buck Lineup Dark Secret

COLUMBUS, Ohio (A) — Ohio State's Buckeyes concentrated on their offense in a 75-minute drill yesterday but Coach Carroll Widoes still kept his starting grid lineup against Minnesota Saturday as dark as a military secret.

Left halfback Jerry Drall, who alternated with Harold Daugherty in the first team backfield, worked with the number three outfit. Daugherty handled the No. 1 assignment throughout the drill. Left halfback Paul Sarringhaus, still nursing an injured shoulder, con-

4 Badgers Back; Prep Against Iowa

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Four University of Wisconsin football players were taken off the injured list yesterday and they limped into limited service in scrimmage preparing the Badgers for the game against Iowa a week from Saturday.

Ends Ray Mals, Hal Haberman and Jack Mead and quarterback George Fuchs were the four re-joining the squad.

The Buckeyes leave today for Minneapolis.

Dodger Boss Defends Signing of Robinson

By JACK HAND NEW YORK (AP)—Branch Rickey thinks Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to crash the portals of modern organized baseball is an "outstanding prospect" who should make the big league grade in Brooklyn after a period of "orientation" on the Montreal farm.

"I've never seen the boy play," admitted the Dodgers' president, "but the reports from my scouts indicate he should be able to play for Brooklyn after the proper schooling. He isn't ready right now and I don't think there is a Negro player anywhere who is ready.

"If I thought he was ripe for the major, I would have signed him to a Dodger contract. Does that answer your question as to whether I was hedging on sending him to minor leagues? He's no Babe Ruth but he's a good hitter. It's all up to him from now on."

For 24 hours after signing with Montreal, Robinson was tagged as the first Negro ever to enter organized ball. However, Fred Bendel, veteran baseball writer of the Newark News, and secretary Bill Manley of the international league recalled a Negro star hurler at Newark in 1887.

Bendel said he was George Stovve who pitched for the "Little Giants" and earned 35 victories, still the high water mark for the circuit.

Asked what would happen if Robinson, former U. C. L. A. grid ace, failed to make the grade in double A ball, Rickey observed: "We will make such adjustments as meet the requirements of the club and player. He told me he doesn't want to go any place he won't be welcome."

Robinson will train with Montreal at Daytona Beach, Fla., the executive said. "I hope he will not have to undergo undue pressure that might harm his future. As far as any trouble with his own teammates and hotel and travel problems I feel all have been over-stressed. If any cliques should develop in the club, we will take steps."

"In talking to this young gentleman I considered only the Negro himself and the Brooklyn baseball club," stated Rickey. "No pressure groups had anything to do with it; in fact, I signed him in spite of such groups rather than because of them.

"We scouted the so-called Negro league last year quite thoroughly with special emphasis on Robinson. In fact, we have several other Negroes in mind who will be signed to minor league contracts before the next season starts. I can not tell you who they are or how many but I do expect other clubs to follow suit.

"Eventually I hope the Negroes will have their own league under the administrative setup that governs all baseball. I hope to own a club in such a league."

The "day after" comment by baseball men and sports editors was largely favorable and Rep. Powell (D. N.Y.) hailed the signing as "a definite step toward winning the peace."

West Branch Contest Looms as Toughest On Season's Docket

"This is the one we want to win" seems to be the attitude prevailing over the University high football camp this week as the Blue Hawks prepare for their all-important clash with West Branch Friday night at West Branch.

Hard work has been the schedule imposed on the Rivermen by Coach Don Barnhart, who doesn't want to see his team defeated this year, and especially by West Branch, one of the oldest and toughest of Blue Hawk opponents. Last season the Bears upset the Rivermen in the U-high homecoming clash to put a damper on the locals' hopes for a fourth straight Eastern Iowa conference championship.

Rivermen Favored At present the Rivermen are favored over the Bears for the simple reason that they have won five straight contests while West Branch has lost two games this season. On top of that, the Blue Hawks have scored 128 points this year while holding all opponents to a total of 20.

A strong ground attack is being prepared for the opponents this Friday, with Barnhart also schooling his men in a passing game that has become more dangerous each week of the season.

New Threat A new passer—Gus Helm—has been found by the Rivermen, and with him and Steve Nusser, long-time regular signal-caller and running back, doing the throwing, the Bears will have another worry. Nusser, who also does the punting, has averaged approximately 30 yards a kick all season.

Then, too, Bill Greene, hard-driving fullback, and Craig Harper, fast and fancy-stepping halfback, will do their part to assure good gains Friday.

The line, which has done a superlative job all year both on defense and offense, is headed by Capt. Don Follett at tackle, Ralph Donavan at guard, and Joe Carlstrom at end.

Former Hawk Track Star, Olympic Champ, To Return to I. C.

Chan F. Coulter, former university Olympic athlete and winner of war decorations after 38 months overseas as an infantry lieutenant colonel, will enter business in Iowa City next month.

The former Hawk track star, who ran the 400-meter hurdles in the Paris Olympics in 1924 and took the Big Ten outdoor quarter mile title, earned the Purple Heart with cluster, the bronze star and the combat infantryman's badge. He served in Bougainville, the Philippines, Guadalcanal, New Hebrides, New Guinea and the Fijis.

Now fully recovered from an attack of jaundice and amoebic dysentery, he will soon be discharged from the army after five years service. He will move from his home at Cleveland, Ohio to Iowa City where he will open an insurance agency.

Tulsa Next for Indiana BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Aerial artistry was accentuated yesterday as Coach Bo McMillin sought to sharpen the Indiana squad's attack to meet Tulsa's golden hurricane here Saturday.

McMillin concentrated on the passing of sophomore Ben Raimondi. Raimondi has thrown for 8 touchdowns out of Indiana's season total of 20.

Freshmen to Start CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Coach Ray Eliot indicated yesterday that two freshmen would start for the University of Illinois football team Saturday when it meets Michigan before an anticipated 50,000 persons.

Purdue's Hughes Named Best Lineman in AP Weekly Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Hughes, 220-pound marine dischargee whose rugged play featured Purdue's surprising 35 to 13 victory over Ohio State last Saturday, has been named "lineman of the week" in an Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers.

The big tackle of the Boilermakers drew the votes of a half-dozen mid-West experts for his outstanding work in opening holes for the Purdue backs, as well as for kicking three extra points, recovering an Ohio State fumble and blocking a punt that gave Purdue a safety.

Pressing Hughes for honors were a pair of southeast conference centers, Hugh Bowers of Tulane and Vaughan Mancha of Alabama, and a Wisconsin tackle, Clarence Esser, who recovered four Illinois fumbles.

Hubert Bechtel, a 11-American end of the University of Texas, was voted the outstanding lineman of the week in the southwest conference, with Leonard Dickey, 27-year-old Texas Aggie tackle, a close second for his fine defensive play.

Other linemen who received one or more votes were: Ends: Bob Carley, Minnesota; Bob Skoglund, Notre Dame; Bob Ravensberg, Indiana; Bill McPeak, Pitt; Dick Duden and Leon Bramlett, both navy; Jim Dieckelman, Holy Cross; Neill Armstrong, Oklahoma Aggies.

Tackles: John Cooke, T.C.U.; Tom Dean, S.M.U.

Guards: Al Sparlis, U. C. L. A.; Jim Groh, Colgate; Howard Shofer, New London submarine base; Les Bingham, Illinois; George Hills, Georgia Tech; A. A. Macaluso, Rice.

Centers: Frank Sniaback, Columbia; Richard Johnson, Baylor; Laurie Mauss, Utah.

Nu Sig, AKK Take Easy Wins; Phi Rho Nips Psi O, 13 to 8

Power plus was the keyword in the intramural football schedule yesterday, as the professional fraternities started play. Three games were played, two of the contests being decided by lopsided scores.

Nu Sigma Nu ran over Phi Beta Pi by the score of 32 to 0, thereby establishing themselves as one of the powers of the league. Alpha Kappa Kappa, not to be outdone, scored at will against the inexperienced Phi Chi team, and came out on the long end of a 34 to 0 score.

In the most exciting game of the day, Phi Rho Sigma had a scare as they narrowly gained the decision over Psi Omega, 13 to 8.

The schedule for today includes the following contests: Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Gamma Delta (1) Phi Delta Theta vs. Theta Xi (2) Phi Epsilon Pi vs. Delta Chi (3) Sigma Nu vs. Alpha Tau Omega (4) Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi (5) Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Delta Upsilon (6) Gables vs. Byington (7) Delta Tau Delta vs. Pi Kappa Alpha (8)

Olson Named Captain For Hawklet-Franklin Grid Clash Tomorrow

Bill Olson, the Little Hawks' right halfback who was a major cog in City high's defeat of Marshalltown last week, will lead his team against the Franklin Thunderbolts on Shrader field tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The victory-hungry Thunderbolts will be out for their first win of the season, besides trying to break the Hawklets' four-year winning streak in the teams' series.

Always a tough opponent for the Red and White, the Bolts gave a championship Iowa City team a terrific battle here in 1941, only to lose in the last quarter, 27-25. Then, in 1942, City high copped a 13-6 verdict over their rivals in a driving rain in Cedar Rapids. The locals slipped by the Bolts, 7-6 in 1943, and last year won decisively.

Bob Dostal, Bolt quarterback, and Jim Phillips, left half, are the main Franklin threats with their blocking, passing and running ability. The Hawklets will be on guard for plenty of Phillips' aerials Friday.

Bob Hoff is another dangerous man with his left-handed tosses, besides being tough on defense. Also set for much action is Billy Cradima, shifty reserve quarterback.

Coach Wally Schwank held a light scrimmage Tuesday afternoon for part of the squad, and yesterday checked Hawklet offensive power. The team has concentrated on pass defense this week in preparation for a strong Franklin attack through the air.

of action with a shoulder injury since the season's opener, made a brief appearance in the lineup yesterday, leading to the hope that he may see at least limited action against the Northwestern Wildcats Saturday.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers, the undefeated, untied leaders of the Big Ten, held an intensive workout yesterday with the emphasis on blocking, particularly downfield, as coaches sought to improve the scoring chances of the "touchdown twins," Bill Canfield and Ed Cody.

Dave Shaw, promising freshman right halfback, who has been out

Iowa Ground Attack Bolstered; Starting Lineup Still Uncertain

Looking to the Notre Dame battle with renewed enthusiasm, Iowa's Hawkeyes raced through a signal drill yesterday which was followed by a lively 45-minute dummy scrimmage under the lights.

With the recovery of Art Johnson, hard-charging fullback, the Hawkeyes are in a position to throw a potentially strong ground game against the Irish Saturday. The condition of Nelson Smith and Ozzie Simons is questionable but it is expected that both will see plenty of action against Notre Dame.

In yesterday's drill, the backfield consisted of Jerry Niles at quarter, Nelson Smith and Ozzie Simons at halves and Art Johnson at fullback. Dan Sheehan again was holding down right end position as Coach Clem Crowe continued his experiments in the line. It is expected that Leon George and Ralph Katz will see action at the tackle positions Saturday.

With the performances of Wendell Weller, Walter Thorpe and Lou Boda in the Indiana game, the Hawkeyes appear to have more reserve strength in the backfield than at any time this season. If SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Bolstered yesterday by the return of Fred Early, who recently resigned from the Naval academy, the Notre Dame gridlers put a new pep into their preparations for the Iowa game Saturday.

Early, a halfback on the 1943 national championship Notre Dame squad, entered the Naval academy shortly after the end of the season and played with the Middles last year. He re-entered Notre Dame this week and is expected to be in uniform for the Iowa battle.

The Iowa eleven can effect a potent land attack combined with their accurate passing game, they are in a position to cause the Irish more trouble than is anticipated.

It is expected that Jack Kelso, who has been plagued all season with a bad hip, will be one of the Hawkeye backs who will worry the Irish.

The most encouraging note in the Old Gold camp is the presence of the early season spirit that has been almost nil since their thorough defeat by Purdue. The Hawkeye front wall, in particular, has shown increased interest in upsetting the vaunted Irish line. They proved last Saturday that they could cross the enemy goal line and still hold back their opponents' offensive charge.

A mutual exchange of press and radio information between Russia and the United States, as a means of promoting better Russo-American understanding, was recommended by H. V. Kaltenborn, on "America's Town Meeting" last Thursday. He urged that representatives of each nation be given equal access to facts in the other country. Commenting on Kaltenborn's statement, George V. Denny Jr., founder and moderator of the show, extended to the Russian government an invitation to participate in a Moscow-New York version of the radio forum. 1,100 People Attend Symphony Orchestra's Opening Fall Concert

By BARBARA WALTERS

A crowd of nearly eleven hundred persons heard the University Symphony orchestra present the opening concert of the 1945-46 season in the lounge of Iowa Union last night.

The first four notes of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, generally identified as a musical victory motto of the Allied nations, brought the concert to its dramatic opening. The symphony, typifying struggle and triumph was given first place on this victory program.

Under the baton of Prof. Philibert Greeley Clapp the stirring and vibrant "fate" symphony was played with dash and color. The third and fourth movements with their crashing climaxes seemed to suggest a reassuring conquest after the tonal implication of struggle of the second movement.

The ethereal Prelude to Lohengrin (Wagner) carried out the motive of peace. The "grail" theme, softly played by the strings was interrupted by the stirring notes of the "revelation" theme and resumed again as the orchestra took on a very effective choir-like quality.

Americanism, in connection with the victory idea, was brought out in the "Symphonic Sketches" (Chadwick). The first sketch, "Jubilee" contains lyrical themes suggestive of the popular character of modern music.

As an encore the orchestra played the Huldigungs March (Wagner).

Women Students Fete Dean McGrath at Tea

A student administration tea, sponsored by the University Women's association in honor of Dean Earl McGrath of the college of liberal arts and other new faculty members, will be given from 4 to 5:30 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 7, in the River room of Iowa Union.

Frances Marshall, A2 of Cedar Rapids, was named chairman of the tea committee at a meeting of the U.W.A. general council yesterday afternoon.

Application blanks for the editorship of "Code for Coeds," university orientation booklet, will be available from Monday, until Friday, Nov. 2, at the U.W.A. desk in the ground floor of Old Capitol. An editor-in-chief, art and activities editors will be chosen.
