AFL Threatens Big Walkout in Louisiana

Demands Investigation Of Higgins' Shutdowns in New Orleans Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An AFL official said yesterday that a 24-hour "protest" work stoppage by all AFL unions in the New Orleans area might be called if union requests for a congressional investigation of the closing of three Higgins Industries plants there were not granted.

William L. Donnels, publicity chairman of the New Orleans Metal and Building Trades Council (AFL), said that possibly 75,000 to 100,000 AFL members would be affected if the 24-hour demonstration is called.

269,000 Idle

Elsewhere across the country, 269,000 workers were idle as a result of strikes, the majority over wage disputes. A strike of 4,000 AFL employes of six Greyhound Bus lines in 19 states threatened to mushroom into a nationwide walkout.

In New Orleans, the offer of boat builder Andrew J. Higgins Sr. to sell his three boat and trailer plants to the unions with which he was in dispute brought union allegations of "smoke screen" tactics and a demand for a congressional investigation.

Higgins closed the plants Thursday "for keeps" he said, after a work stoppage involving about 2,000 AFL members had crippled production since last Monday. The strikers said they wanted contract negotiations continued.

Donnels said the industrialist's action was "just a smoke screen to cover something we don't know about now," and added that if no investigation is made "we will raise such a protest that the senate and congress will have to do something."

'Couldn't Handle'

"He knows we couldn't handle the plants, that we don't have the money and wouldn't know what to do with them," Donnels declared. Higgins said Friday he had $40,000,000 worth of orders on hand and could have provided more jobs than in wartime.

Higgins explained he decided to close the plants permanently because he had been placed in an "impossible position" by the local AFL union leadership and by "conflicting policies of the war labor board and national labor relations board." Donnels retorted that Higgins "is trying to make a goat out of us and we refuse to be made the goat."

Meanwhile, in Tulsa, Okla., AFL leaders said a strike of drivers for southwestern Greyhound Bus lines in Oklahoma was set for midnight last night and predicted a general spread of the walkout which has crippled service in 19 states east of the Mississippi.

A spokesman for the Southwestern lines at Springfield, Mo., said if the Oklahoma subdivision goes on strike at midnight, the walkout might spread through the lines' entire southwest division.

In Cleveland, presidents of the strikebound Central Greyhound lines and Pennsylvania Greyhound lines declined a federal conciliation service request to meet with union representatives in Washington tomorrow to reopen wage negotiations.

Shun Meetings

Presidents R. W. Budd of Central Greyhound and S. R. Sundstrom of Pennsylvania Greyhound telegraphed Edgar L. Warren, director of the conciliation service, that "in the light of past conferences we do not believe the matter of settlement can be accomplished through further joint meetings at Washington." They expressed willingness to meet with the union in Cleveland "if it now feels that something can be accomplished."

At St. Louis, the Greyhound terminal was ringed by pickets representing Illinois and Pennsylvania division drivers, but buses of Greyhound's Dixie, southwest and capital divisions were running all schedules, although their drivers refused to cross the picket lines. The buses were being loaded and unloaded in the street and parked in public parking lots.

Service on the Capital Greyhound company lines, operating out of Washington to the west, continued uninterrupted, although union employes have voted to authorize a sympathy strike. A union official said no early walkout is contemplated despite the vote.

Quizzed in Slaying

WHILE authorities were faced with a second mysterious slaying, that of Mrs. Alberta Young, whose body was found in the Clinton river about 25 miles from the spot where Mrs. Lydia Thompson was slain Oct. 13, Andrew Shevchenko, 70, above, father of the slain Mrs. Thompson, was arrested in his Detroit rooming house. Shevchenko was taken to Pontiac, Mich., for further questioning. Mrs. Young, identified as the wife of an Army captain serving overseas had been missing for two days.

Yamashita Ordered Philippine Brutalities

Tortures Described By Two Witnesses At War Crime Trial

MANILA (AP) — Two witnesses testified yesterday that Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita had issued orders to "wipe out all Filipinos" and had commended his brutal Japanese gendarmes for their "fine work."

In a stormy session and over the vigorous protests of defense counsel the witnesses asserted the former Japanese commander in the Philippines knew and approved his troops' brutalities, thus for the first time in the week-long trial offering testimony linking him directly with the crimes.

One of them, Narciso Lapus, former secretary to the exiled political General Artemio Ricarte, told the military commission that in conversations with Ricarte, Yamashita affirmed his order to wipe out all Filipinos.

A Japanese, Fermin Miyasaki, former interpreter at Japanese military police headquarters here, said the general had officially commended his police for their "fine work" in handling civilians hostile to his regime.

The witness said he saw at least 400 civilian suspects "handled" by the police. Most of them were beaten, he asserted and many underwent the water torture or were suspended from the ceiling by their hands, which were tied behind their backs.

He said he daily and nightly heard the screams of men and women who were tortured and flung into small cells.

The court permitted Lapus to tell how Ricarte, who was sent by Premier Dictator Hideki Tojo to "win the friendship of the Filipinos" had pleaded repeatedly with Yamashita to spare the Philippines from mass torture and death.

Missing Monument Grid Fans Puzzled By Disappearance

What happened to Iowa's corn monument? That's the question many Homecoming fans returning from the Wisconsin-Iowa game asked themselves and others as they approached the corner of Iowa avenue and Clinton street. That spot was conspicuously empty. Although Iowa fans could not burn the structure in the traditional manner after a around to tear it down after the game.

Far away from the Homecoming excitement of downtown Iowa City, the corn monument lay quietly back of the engineering building. Workmen hauled it there during the game by the order of Prof. T. G. Caywood of the engineering college, and last night were busy dismantling it. The lumber and corn salvaged will be sold.

All Students to Vote On Naming Stadium

Student opinion on the issue of naming the Iowa stadium will be given a voice Thursday at a straw vote to be conducted by the Student Council from 7:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. in Iowa Union. Because there has been considerable agitation on the question of whether or not the 15-year-old stadium should be named and what that name should be, the Student Council decided to go on record as favoring its dedication in honor of the 14 Iowa athletes killed in World War II.

Five possibilities will be listed on the ballot. Students can vote in favor of (1) the stadium should not be named; (2) the stadium should be named Memorial stadium; (3) the stadium should be named Nile Kinnick stadium; (4) the stadium should be named Robert Jones Stadium, or (5) another name.

Those who believe the stadium should be dedicated in honor of the 14 Iowa athletes who died in World War II want to decide on the name. The Student Council is in favor of obtaining a bronze plaque inscribed with the names of 14 athletes whether or not a name is decided upon.

Because Nile Kinnick was a great athlete, leader and scholar, many feel it should be dedicated to him as a symbol of the others. Those opposed to this view dislike singling out any certain individual to receive the honor. A Nile Kinnick scholarship fund has already been established.

Robert Jones was the first major "I" winner to be killed in this war, and those who favor naming the stadium after him feel he would be representative of all the others.

The fifth choice will be in the form of a blank where the student may insert a name of his own choice.

Members of the Student Council will speak to all campus housing units Monday and Tuesday nights. If a student opinion is decisively in favor of any one name there is a possibility the stadium will be dedicated at the Dad's day game.

Indonesians Use Jap Arms

BATAVIA (AP) — Indonesian troops up to 100,000 strong and bearing Japanese arms are marching and concentrating in central Java, British pilots said yesterday, while political tension heightened over the Dutch government's refusal to deal with President Soekarno of the Indonesian Republic.

The British fifth Indian division commanded by Maj. Gen. Eric Carden Mansergh began landing yesterday at Soerabaja, scene of bitter clashes between Indian troops and Indonesians seeking independence from Dutch colonial rule. Mansergh's is the second British division to land in Java.

Although no new fighting was reported, the British described the situation at Magelang as "turbulent" and at the Soerabaja naval base as "tense." Indonesians were building roadblocks in the Soerabaja area.

A British military intelligence report said an unidentified "major general" had appeared at Jogjakarta to "lead, discipline and reorganize Indonesian youths" estimated to number approximately 100,000. The youths were said to possess captured Japanese arms and equipment, including machine guns, tanks, mortars, and armored cars.

Aerial reconnaissance disclosed Indonesian troops marching in the areas of Jogjakarta, Magelang and Soerakarta, three principal cities in central Java. Large numbers of men were seen pouring into the area by motor transport and by train.

In Batavia a grave view was taken of the political situation following the Dutch home government's announcement that acting Lt. Governor-General Hubertus van Mook had acted contrary to instructions in meeting with Soekarno.

A British military intelligence report said an unidentified "major general" had appeared at Jogjakarta to "lead, discipline and reorganize Indonesian youths" estimated to number approximately 100,000. Strikes Cause Delay In Troop Movements

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The return of troops from overseas is being delayed because of the strike of AFL and CIO machinists' unions in the San Francisco Bay area, the war shipping administration said yesterday.

Lt. Comdr. W. C. Peet Jr., Pacific coast director of the WSA, said the strike had held up vital repair work on 12 troops ships with a carrying capacity of 22,290 men.

Demanding a 30 percent pay increase, approximately 10,000 machinists walked off their jobs Oct. 29. As a result, some 50,000 additional workers are idle.

Meanwhile officials of non-machinists unions, declining public statements, were said to be privately considering a formal protest to CIO and AFL machinist leaders against the walkout.

Seven Killed in Plane Forced Down at Sea

HONOLULU (AP) — At least seven persons were killed in the forced landing of an army transport plane bearing 27 passengers and crewmen 450 miles east of Hawaii yesterday, the army transport command announced last night.

Eight persons, including one of the two women passengers aboard the four-engine land plane, have been rescued by surface vessels. The remaining 12 were unaccounted for, but seven ships, including aircraft carriers, continued the search last night.

Police Suppress Riot Outburst in Cairo

Anti-Zionist Brawls Kill Nine, Injure 520 As Terror Subsides

CAIRO (AP) — Club-swinging police quickly suppressed a new outburst of anti-Zionist rioting yesterday when rampaging mobs for the second day stoned business establishments and smashed shop windows in downtown Cairo.

The riots, which killed nine persons and injured 520 in Cairo and Alexandria, were strongly denounced by Premier Nokrashi Pasha as inspired by "evil hands." He promised "justice will take its full course with the criminals."

Most of Cairo had returned to near-normal yesterday afternoon. The renewed demonstrations lasted less than an hour, but crowds surged through Soliman Pasha street, one of Cairo's most fashionable shopping centers, smashing numerous windows and stoning the Metro Cinema, operated by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

From Soliman Pasha street, the rioting spread to other main streets in the business district. Shopkeepers immediately started closing their establishments, lowering metal drop doors or wooden shutters over their windows.

College students continued demonstrations within college grounds, shouting "down with Zionism" but no disturbances were reported. Students at Fuad university sent a note to the British and American embassies protesting against the policies of the two countries on Palestine.

Reports from Alexandria said three more persons had died after Friday's rioting, bringing the total deaths there to nine. No deaths were reported in Cairo or Port Said, Zagazig and Mansura which were said to be quiet yesterday.

Strong police forces patrolled the business sections of Cairo and Alexandria in army trucks and mounted guard over damaged shops to prevent looting. Hundreds of demonstrators were arrested during the day, in addition to 310 persons which the premier said were arrested yesterday.

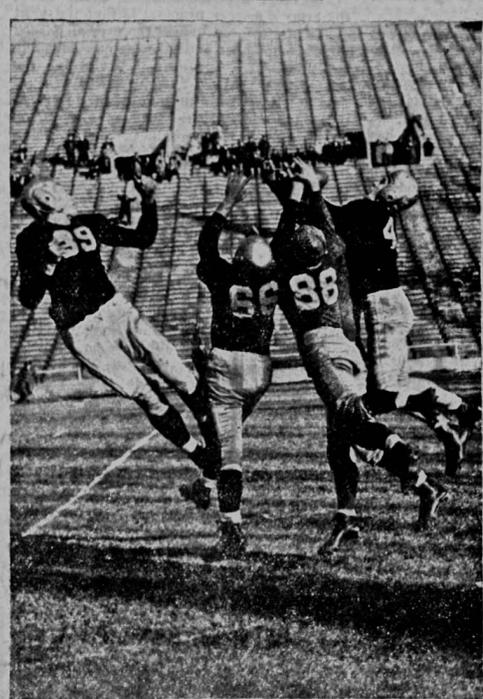

American and British troops were still restricted to their barracks.

Japs Intended to Bomb Panama Canal With Subs

YOKOSUKA, Japan, Sunday (AP) — Japan's two mammoth submarines, each equipped with three planes, were intended as carriers for the bombing of the Panama canal, the newspaper Mainichi said yesterday.

The only trouble with these "Jules Verne" war weapons was that they were impracticable, American and Japanese officers agreed.

The attempt on the Panama canal never was made. Both of the submarines, the world's largest and now temporarily part of the United States navy, are of 5,700 tons, 400 feet long, with a claimed cruising range of 50,000 miles.

IOWA'S REBOUNDED HAWKEYES almost made the score 14-14 at halftime yesterday with this play. Just as the final seconds ticked off on the Iowa stadium clock, Jerry Niles flipped a long pass to this collection of receivers and defenders, all of whom are jumping off the grasp of all five (yes, there's five—count the feet) of these adagio dancers and the pass was incomplete. Included are: Iowa's Meyer (39), Smith (66) and Loehlein (45) and the Badgers' Neddesheim (88). (Daily Iowan Photo by Jim Showers.)

Hawks Look Good In Homecoming Loss

By GUS SCHRADER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

It's time for Iowa City's weekly Sunday morning bromo to alleviate the football hangover of Iowa's Saturday afternoon before.

This time it isn't quite so hard to swallow. Although Wisconsin dampened the spirit of Iowa's 34th homecoming by winning, 27-7, Iowa's Hawkeyes regained the respect of 25,300 fans by showing commendable fight and scoring punch until the victory hungry Badgers cinched the issue with a two-touchdown blast in the fourth quarter.

In fact, when the first half ended, 14-7, and Iowa just short of scoring a second time, most folks said Wisconsin would be doggone lucky to win its first Big Ten game of the season. And the game's final gun frustrated a brave Hawkeye drive that would have added another score to take the sting out of defeat.

No Doubts

But there were few who doubted that Wisconsin fielded the better team yesterday afternoon. Sparked by a pair of speedy halfbacks, Jerry Thompson and Don Kindt, and a rugged freshman fullback, Ben Bendrick, the Badgers rolled up 222 rushing yards with a track meet of end runs and tackle slants.

However, Iowa's aerial show sparkled brighter than usual and Jerry Niles and Receivers, Inc., made good eight completions out of 29 attempts for 117 yards. Wendell Weller, subbing for Niles at quarter, also completed one pass. Wisconsin didn't complete a pass in four tries.

The defeat crowded the Hawks even deeper into the Big Ten's basement, and left them the only team beside Illinois, whom they meet next Saturday at Champaign, without a conference victory. It was Iowa's fifth defeat of the season, but the relatively low score seemed a relief after the Ohio State, Purdue, Indiana and Notre Dame astronomical margins.

Achieved Revenge

Wisconsin achieved revenge for the 6-0 surprise disaster that overtook the Badgers the last time they were guests at an Iowa homecoming in 1942.

The game yesterday started out in a fashion that has become customary in use against Iowa the past five weeks. Some of the spectators were still hunting for their seats six minutes after the game opened when the Badgers had their first touchdown.

They swept from the Iowa 45 with Kindt, Thompson and Bendrick alternating at finding holes in the Hawkeye line. Kindt collected a first down on the Iowa three, the Hawks dug in to stop him the next time, but on the next play he lunged over the double stripe. Tackle Martin Meyer place kicked the conversion to give the visitors a 7-0 lead as the teams changed sides at the quarter.

Chinese Reds Cold Shoulder Peace Offer

Provincial Capital, Rail Center Reported In Communists' Hands

CHUNGKING (AP) — A north China provincial capital and a railway city fell yesterday to attacking Chinese Communists, unofficial reports said, as Reds in Chungking received with skepticism a new four-point nationalist proposal to end the spreading civil warfare.

Unconfirmed reports said Kweitsui, capital of the partly-industrialized inner Mongolian province of Suiyuan, fell to the overwhelming force of Communists who opened the attack only Friday.

These same reports said the vital railway city of Tatung to the southwest also was overrun by the Communists.

Despite these reported successes, Communist sources here expressed fears that the government was about to strike with a heavy offensive to crush the Reds and declared 800,000 nationalist troops had been massed in northern and east-central China.

K. C. Wu, Chungking minister of information, announced the new peace plan earlier in the day and said a reply was being awaited from the Communist stronghold in Yenan.

He listed these four points: 1. Both sides should order their troops to "stay put" and halt all attacks.

2. The Communists should withdraw 10 kilometers (6.2 miles) from the railroads. The government then would agree not to send troops to points abandoned or exposed to Communist raids and would use railway police to guard the lines.

3. The government would consult Communists before moving any troops along the railroads. This conformed with a Communist request but skipped the question of moving government troops by sea and air.

4. The Peoples' political council should appoint a supervisory commission to investigate conditions along the railroads and report any violation by either side.

United States diplomatic officials were reported alarmed last night over the spreading civil strife in China.

They are fearful that American hopes for a strong China as an early stabilizing force in Asia may be upset.

They are also concerned that American marines and army forces there may become involved in the fighting between the Communists and government troops—without any intention on the part of the White House or state department that this should happen.

These authorities, who cannot be identified further than at top advisors on Chinese affairs, appear to have split with the line taken by the military officials—which is that there is no danger of involvement.

The diplomats argue that American involvement may result from drifting along with a policy which they say has been outdated by events.

Tri-Deltas Place First In Annual Badge Sale

Delta Delta Delta sorority took first place in the annual Homecoming badge sale with a total of 6,800 sold, Prof. Louis C. Zopf, chairman of the faculty Homecoming committee announced last night.

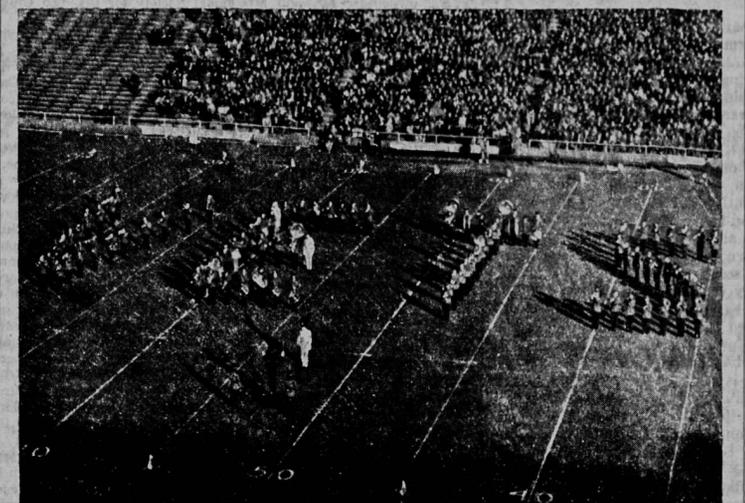

Sigma Delta Tau was second with 6,000; Gamma Phi Beta, third with 5,357; and Zeta Tau Alpha, fourth with 4,575.

The grand total of 22,732 badges sold in the three-day campaign was second largest in the history of the badge sales. Exactly 23,048 were sold in 1939, the highest total since the inauguration of the sales in 1924.

Editorials:

Military-Civilian Balance in the Cabinet

The army's plan for merging, or "integrating," as the generals call it, the armed forces has two features which we believe need to be more carefully considered before the program is adopted.

The first, and probably most important, is that the existence of only one military secretaryship in the cabinet may disrupt the none-too-steady balance between the "military" and "civilian" secretaries. The second feature is that it might be wiser, in a strictly military sense, to have the joint chiefs of staff responsible to a single, over-all commander of the armed forces, instead of to the civilian secretary and the president.

The question of the advisability of "unbalancing" the military and the civilian ratio of the cabinet has been advanced by Lt. Cmdr. Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota. Erwin D. Canham, Christian Science Monitor editor who lectured here, believes Commander Stassen's proposition has some merit.

At present the cabinet contains only two men to represent, and argue for, if need be, the wants and problems of the armed forces. And if the president hasn't more or less been indoctrinated with a sense of military responsibility, the armed forces are apt to be slighted.

Despite the fact that the president is legally the commander-in-chief of the services, too many of them have failed to evaluate the position of the armed forces wisely. Every president from Woodrow Wilson to Franklin Roosevelt made reductions in the army and navy manpower and appropriations.

Commander Stassen believes that there should be three cabinet representatives of the armed forces—one for the army, one for the navy and one for the air forces.

He would bring about unification by making the presidential chief of staff a statutory position, and handing to him the task of resolving the disagreements between the services.

Thus, Commander Stassen believes, the armed forces would have a more equitable representation in the cabinet, and adequate provision would be made for deciding disputes that arise in the joint chiefs of staff.

We are inclined to agree with Commander Stassen in that the military forces do need more voice in the president's council chambers. But with three such cabinet members, the problem of unification would not be as effectively solved as if there were only one military secretary because each of the three would be apt to be prejudiced in favor of his own branch, and the cabinet disputes would continue.

If the army, for instance, couldn't get what it wanted in the joint chiefs of staff, it would take its case to the army secretary who in turn would carry the dispute to the cabinet.

The other none-too-desirable point about the army's merger proposal is that the joint chiefs of staff can bypass the over-all armed forces commander and take their problems to the president. This seems unwise for the same reason that we thought Hitler was unwise in letting his intuition guide the German forces too much of the time.

The president, after all, usually is not a trained military man, and his decision in military disputes would likely be based on the position taken by the side that happened to be most persuasive in its arguments. Also, he can not devote his full time to military matters.

It seems logical that it would be the over-all commander who would decide the disagreements of the joint chiefs of staff. He has a better background for the job and could make more exhaustive studies than the president could. He also would have more time.

If that power were to be given the over-all commander, a system of selecting the over-all commander on a rotation basis so that each of the three branches could have a representative in the position for regular periods of time would have to be provided.

Of course, if the presidential chief of staff is made a statutory position, the problem could be taken care of by having him make suggestions to the president. Thus, in actual practice, a military man would be settling the differences.

These two problems—of cabinet representation and of the powers of the over-all commander—are not enough to detract from the merit of the army's merger plan. Merger would be beneficial, even if along lines now proposed. But it could be more beneficial if those alterations were made.

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP)—Nine persons were injured—two critically—in a head-on collision yesterday on highway six five miles east of Oakland, Council Bluffs hospital officials said last night.

In a critical condition, attendants at Jenny Edmundson hospital said, were Mrs. Virgil Wright, 2130 E. 25th street, Des Moines, and Mrs. John Pharrmarrow, 2016 E. 24th street, Des Moines.

The condition of three discharged servicemen in the accident was described as "serious but fair under the circumstances." They were identified as Dale Lowrey, 23, of 143 South Laun street, Kansas City, Mo.; William Clark, 25, of 2429 University avenue, Dubuque, and Stanley Alden, 20, of Shellsburg, all at Jenny Edmundson hospital.

A fourth serviceman in the collision, Joseph S. Westvold, 24, of Ankeny, was moved to Ft. Crook hospital, Omaha. He was suffering from a head injury.

Less seriously injured were Earl Hanke, 5828 Walnut Hill drive, Des Moines; Eleanor Such, 2120 Campbell avenue, Chicago, and Herbert Thomas, Des Moines.

Mrs. Wright was reported as unconscious and receiving plasma. She suffered a fractured left leg, several fractures on the left arm, and a skull fracture. The other critically injured patient, Mrs. Pharrmarrow, suffered a severe scalp wound, possible cerebral concussion, chest injuries, and multiple lacerations and contusions over her entire body.

The conditions of the former servicemen was described as follows: Lowrey—lacerated forehead, possible fractured skull, fractured right leg, and in a semi-conscious state.

Clark—basal skull fracture, unconscious. Alden—compound basal skull fracture, badly lacerated forehead, conscious.

Westvold—head injury. The injuries of those reported in "good" condition were:

Hanke—crushed left foot and ankle, minor cuts and bruises.

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa must step up its series E bond purchases if it makes the $46,000,000 quota and continues its top performance record for bond sales, Iowa war finance committee leaders said yesterday.

Sales have been running at about $600,000 a day for the first five days of the campaign, with total sales of E bonds as cleared by the federal reserve bank, amounting to approximately $3,000,000, headquarters said.

V. L. Clark, executive manager of the Iowa war finance committee, said there were about 50 good sales days for E bonds during the campaign which ends Dec. 31. On a daily average basis, this means that sales must run around $900,000 if the quota of $46,000,000 is to be reached.

AMES (AP)—Frances McFall of Cedar Rapids was elected president here yesterday of the Secretarial Association of Iowa Public Schools, at the first meeting of the organization since before the war. Forty-four members attended.

Agnes Hansen of Cedar Falls was chosen vice-president, Clair Jones of Ottumwa secretary and Wilda M. Johnson of Perry treasurer. The organization is composed of women who are secretaries of Iowa public school superintendents, principals and others connected with schools.

The association will hold its next meeting in Des Moines next February, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Iowa State Education association, formerly the Iowa State Teachers association.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Presidential unit citation for heroism in action against the German submarine U-505 off French West Africa; was awarded nine sailors, including three Iowans, yesterday at the personnel separation center at Lambert-St. Louis field naval air station.

Attached to the escort carrier Guadalcanal, the unit captured the submarine June 4 last year after it had been forced to the surface with depth charges. Aware the submarine might sink or blow up, the men boarded it and kept it afloat for the long tow across the Atlantic.

The men cited, all stationed here, included John W. Kubert, Baldwin; George D. Owen, Maquoketa, and Howard D. Sherer, Hampton.

U. S. Politics in Midstream

By D. HAROLD OLIVER WASHINGTON (AP)—The national political front as party chiefs meet in midwest between the 1944 and 1946 elections;

1. The Republicans are striving to agree on an affirmative "interim" platform on which congressional and gubernatorial candidates can stand next November.

They hope to complete it—at least in rough draft—in time for consideration at the special meeting of the party's national committee in Chicago Dec. 7-8.

2. The Democrats are bending every effort to see that the 21-point program offered by President Truman Sept. 6 does not bog down in congress.

Some high in the council of the party want a presidential administrative assistant named to act as liaison with Democrats in the senate and house. James M. Byrnes served Franklin D. Roosevelt in this capacity.

If such an aide is appointed he would help cabinet officers and reconversion chief John W. Snyder keep the Truman program rolling in congress.

Republicans have begun to talk about issues for 1946. All house members, one-third of the senate and 34 governors will be elected there. Issues they are discussing include Pearl Harbor, taxes, spending, foreign loans, reconversion, an "audit" of the new deal.

There is disagreement among Republicans whether to make Truman the individual, as well as his program, a talking point. Some assert he is no different from his predecessor and hence is very much an issue. Others say Truman is not a "candidate" next year, so why concentrate fire on him and force Democratic forces to line up behind him?

Democrats are saying they will welcome Pearl Harbor as an issue. They are challenging the opposition party to come out with other issues. Most Democrats feel the elections next year will hinge on domestic economy questions—how much unemployment there is when the voters go to the polls, how returning veterans are treated.

They recognize the job of retaining control of congress, especially the house, will be much easier if employment is high; that if many are jobless the tendency will be to kick the "ins" out.

Politicians are not looking for any 1946 indications in next Tuesday's scattered off-year municipal and county elections. There are two special congressional elections to fill vacancies in seats formerly held by Republicans. But there will be only one contest—in the New Jersey fourth district. Democrats are offering no candidate in the Illinois 24th.

Only one governor is being elected, and he is being chosen in the Democratic stronghold of Virginia.

Leaders of neither party, however, are pessimistic over their prospects for next year.

Republicans appear optimistic for two reasons: (1) the opposition usually picks up seats in non-presidential election years, (2) the party made considerable gains in congress and the state capitols during the war.

Republicans now have 39 senators against 28 on Dec. 7, 1941; 189 representatives as against 164, and 23 governors as against 20.

Democrats say they will easily keep control of the senate. The opposition will need to pick up an majority.

Both parties will concentrate in 1946 on the approximately 100 districts where elections were decided by close votes in 1944. In the contests the Democratic nominees won by 12,000 votes or less in 42 districts and carried three at-large races by less than 10 percent of the vote. Republicans won by 12,000 or less in 51 districts and two at-large places by less than 10 percent.

At the suggestion of Rep. Bender (R., Ohio) and others, national chairman Robert Brownell Jr. of the GOP national committee will hold further regional meetings with national committee members and state chairmen on how to regain industrial districts so long held by the Democrats.

The Democrats are making intensive studies of those 100 districts. They want to know how they can get out a big vote in them. One way of doing this, they believe, is to elect go-getting county chairmen.

SIDESHOW

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A tall blond young man entered police headquarters yesterday and approached William C. Gordon, captain in charge of night detectives, with this question:

"Could I buy or borrow a pair of strong, dependable handcuffs?" He explained he was getting married last night and that "there's rumor that some of my prankster friends are going to steal the bride after the ceremony."

Captain Gordon explained that all the department's handcuffs were in use and sympathetically suggested a second hand store.

CHUNGKING (AP)—Gen. Chou En-Lai, China's No. 2 Communist leader, told newsmen at a luncheon yesterday that his Communist armies now have an air force.

It consists, said the general, of one plane which the Reds captured from Chinese puppet airmen.

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Shirley Carter spotted a mouse in the bathtub drain and went after it with a slipper.

After a few moments of peeka-bo, Mrs. Carter conked the mouse and threw it out on her back porch. A half grown kitten spotted the creature and tossed it in the air a couple of times.

Revived, the rodent bit the cat in the neck, striking a big artery. The cat died, the mouse escaped, and Mrs. Carter is laying in a supply of mousetraps.

Speech Journal Tells Of SUI Program

Recent publications dealing with the speech pathology program at the university have appeared in the Journal of Speech Disorders and The Crippled Child. Both magazines are published respectively by the American Speech Correction association and the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Two members of the university faculty are authors of articles in the current issue of the Journal of Speech Disorders. Dean Carl E. Seashore of the graduate college summarized 1895 conditions of applied psychology and reviewed briefly the major developments up to the present time.

A report on the reliability of infant speech sound data by Orvic C. Irwin, research associate professor of psychology and child welfare, is presented in the same issue of the Journal. In his article, Professor Irwin compares reliabilities of two methods of analyzing speech sound data and discusses the size of sample needed in order to obtain reliable findings in studies of speech development.

In the October issue of the Crippled Child, Prof. Charles R. Strother of the speech and psychology departments, discussed the measurement of intelligence in children handicapped by cerebral palsy. He suggests caution in the use of standard intelligence tests and makes a number of positive recommendations as to how intelligence can be estimated in children who are handicapped in speech and in motor coordination.

Split in Korea

(Des Moines Register) The two-way split in the occupation of Korea is paralleled by a split among the Koreans themselves, Korean conservatives and democrats to the American zone.

For many years before the liberation, there was a self-appointed "government-in-exile" for Korea, with headquarters first at Shanghai and later at Chungking, and representatives in Washington and various other capitals. This group conducted a good deal of quasi-diplomatic activity, and spread atrocity stories and warnings about the Japanese—to which the world, unfortunately, paid little attention. With Chiang Kai-shek's encouragement, it raised an army of exiled Koreans to fight the Japanese in China. Its ideal was a liberal, capitalist democracy.

As liberation approached, an effort was made to bring the Communist and Communist-led groups of Koreans into the movement, and for a while the two did get together in Chungking. Then, as the Chungking atmosphere grew more and more anti-Communist, the Korean Reds and Pinks pulled out for Yanan and Siberia, where they managed to maintain shadowy contact with Communist movements far underground in Korea and Japan itself.

Now, both groups are back in Korea, competing with each other.

As it happens, the geography of Korea reinforces the split. Farm tenancy and peasant land hunger are worse in Russia's northern zone than in our southern zone. The capital, where the commercial and middle class Koreans clustered, and where absentee farm landlords came to live on their rents, is in the American zone; so are the bulk of the Japanese officials and hangers-on.

Here are the makings of serious friction between Russia and the United States unless both are very understanding, and unless they manage to get together on occupation policies for Korea.

If Russia puts one group in power and we put the other...

If Russia start confiscating estates of Japanese and Korean big landlords, and we defend rights of private property...

That wouldn't be helping the Koreans much.

WASHINGTON—Specialists in the United States agricultural research administration are putting it mildly when they say hybrid corn has been a spectacular success. If they dragged in those Hollywood superlatives like sensational and stupendous they would be coming closer to the truth.

Let's start with a few statistics. From a statement by Robert M. Salter, chief of the bureau of plant industry, soils and agricultural engineering: "During the two war years, 1942 and 1943, hybrid corn increased the national corn harvest 1,300,000,000 bushels.

"Even though 1943 was none too favorable a year, the crop was more than 3,000,000,000 bushels, second only to 1942 and slightly larger than that previous record crop of 3,071,000,000 bushels in 1920. But here is the difference—in 1943 we grew that slightly larger crop on 6,570,000 fewer acres than in 1920," said Mr. Salter.

He could have said a good deal more: that hybrid corn will make around 25 bushels more per acre than the old varieties; and that grand-pap and 16-year-old Joe can machine-shuck 1,000 bushels of hybrid corn a day, while an expert hand-shucker going like a robot can bring in only 100 bushels.

He could have said that less than a decade ago less than one-half of one percent of the corn grown in Illinois and Iowa was hybrid, but that now in the war years, it's close to 100 percent in those states.

Even for a city fellow, hybrid corn isn't hard to recognize in the fields. Look over the top of a stand and if it's all ragged and straggly, it's the kind that has been grown around here for 20,000 years or so. If the stalks are short and as even as a field of fine wheat, it's hybrid. You can go on calling Iowa "out where the tall corn grows" if you want to, but if you do the farmers in the corn belt will know you haven't been keeping up with things.

Closer comparison would show clusters of healthy, uniformly-sized ears around three or four feet up on the hybrid stalk; with ears of all sizes ranging from knee-high to out of reach on the old-style. Wind, rain and hail may have knocked down whole patches of the brittle stalks on the latter, but the chances are none would have made much impression on the thick stand of hybrids.

Hybrid corn comes from seed grown in fields sufficiently isolated to be uncontaminated by wind-blown sperm from old-style stalks. There are, of course, many varieties and it has taken years to develop some of the best. Hybrid seed has to be bought or grown anew for every crop. You can't just chunk the seed corn ears out of the crop harvested the way it used to be done. But the recurrent seed cost pays off.

One of the best known pioneers in hybrid seed growing is now our secretary of commerce, Henry A. Wallace. The method itself is only about 40 years old, which is a brief time in the span of grain, fruit and vegetable up-breeding. In the department of agriculture and the 48-state cooperating agencies, experiment still is going on.

The idea now is to try to keep pace with the new uses for the nation's No. 1 crop. The number of important industries entirely dependent on corn or by-products is more than 30.

'BABY BUTCH' VISITS IOWA CITY

"Baby Butch," four and one-half ounces of Marmoset monkey, is the mascot of Lt. Richard B. Ravitts of Montzuma. The monkey, a female, came from the jungles along the Amazon river two years ago, and was given to Lieutenant Ravitts by a Brazilian friend while he was in South America with the "Fireball" First Foreign Transport group. Lieutenant Ravitts, a former student at the University of Iowa, said the mascot traveled with him on many missions and has more than 500 hours of flying time. "Baby Butch" eats the same food that humans do, including meat, potatoes and fruit juices. The pet, which can sit easily in the palm of a hand, also gets regular doses of concentrated vitamins to keep her healthy.

had to do it the hard way!

IN spite of the difficulties involved during the "Gay 90's", the good old American custom of the Saturday night bath was firmly established. Today bathing has become a healthful, heat-relieving daily habit—especially in the home where an automatic gas water heater provides an ever-ready, economical supply of hot water. When hot water is available without the stair climbing, teakettle toting and delays required in earlier days, dishwashing, laundering and cleaning as well as bathing are simplified. And that's a real contribution to wartime health, efficiency and morale.

Goal Line Decision Galls Hawks

Iowa Squad Contends They Scored Tally

By JACK SCHROEDER
"We were robbed," shouted the Hawkeyes as they climbed the steep steps leading to the Iowa dressing room after their bruising homecoming battle with Wisconsin yesterday afternoon.

And a heated discussion followed in which all the Iowa squad took part.

The Hawkeye gridders in general and Dan Sheehan and Jerry Niles in particular contended that they had scored a touchdown in the last few seconds of the game just before the final gun had sounded. Sheehan asserted that after he had taken the pass from Niles he had crossed the double stripe with one foot, and although his forward motion was stopped and he was thrown back, he had actually crossed the goal.

There was also some talk among the players that one referee had signalled a touchdown and the Hawks were confident they had scored their second counter against the Badgers.

Game captain Paul Fagerlind, who had a badly battered nose, could be heard saying, "It was really rough out there this afternoon, but I'll bet Wisconsin had a few bruises, too."

And Fagerlind was far from wrong. Two Wisconsin players were carried off the field, and several others left the game due to injuries.

Reserve end, Dick Meyer, explained the Badgers burst of power in the fourth quarter by surmising, "We were tackling high in an effort to get the ball, and this enabled Thompson to slip under us and get away."

Jack Hammond, huge right tackle, was wearing a bad gash over one eye, which he received just before the Old Gold eleven had notched their touchdown in the second quarter.

After the heated discussion had died down, a sort of heavy silence reigned for the duration of our stay in the Iowa locker.

We heard some Hawkeye player mutter that he had hoped he "didn't make a disgraceful showing, especially since this is homecoming."

The Iowa coaches were non-committal on the final fourth quarter plays but expressed respect for the Hawks' spirit.

Wisconsin's mentor, Harry Stuhldreher, was heard to comment, "We didn't know just what to expect after the first half, and we certainly weren't certain of the outcome."

Among visitors in the Iowa dressing room were Jim Keane, end on the Hawkeye 1942 eleven, and Herb Byers who was a member of last year's squad.

Army Wins Breather; Villanova Falls, 54-0

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Army warmed up for Notre Dame yesterday by making the domesticated Villanova Wildcats jump through the hoops of a top-sides 54-0 score to the delight of 12,000 fans including Secretary of War Robert Patterson and Margaret Truman.

Using the regular lineup for only one period, the Cadets poured over four touchdowns in the first quarter, added another pair in the second and one each in the third and fourth by the second and third stringers.

Andy Gustafson backfield coach who was in charge while head coach Earl Blaik and most of his staff scouted the Irish and Middles in Cleveland, let Doc Blanchard play only 11 minutes but he scored twice. Glenn Davis was around for 15 minutes, long enough to add two touchdowns to his record.

The statistics told the complete story as the army ran up 17 first downs to one for Villanova and picked up a total of 506 yards, along the ground and through the air to a paltry 25 for the "Cats."

In fact only once all afternoon were the visitors in Army territory and then only for one play. They recovered a fumble on the enemy 28 but lost the ball on a pass interception on the next snap.

Nebraska Notches Victory

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—In as wild a game as the Nebraska stadium has housed in many a year, Nebraska cashed in its first football victory of the season yesterday, beating a gallant Kansas university club, 27-13, before a Homecoming crowd.

NILES-SMITH COMPLETION SETS UP IOWA SCORE

NELSON SMITH, hauls down a Jerry Niles pass in the flat and goes to Wisconsin's 10-yard line in a play that set up Iowa's only score yesterday afternoon. A half-minute later, on 4th down, Niles hit Harry Loehlein in the end zone for the touchdown. Trailing Smith (with ball at left) is Iowa's Loehlein and Wisconsin's Klinzing. Michigan Surprises Gophers, 26-0, as 85,000 Fans Watch

By FRANK KENESSON
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—

Pouring across three touchdowns in the final period, Michigan's surprising Wolverines kicked Minnesota out of the Big Ten title race here yesterday by hammering the Gophers 26 to 0 before the second largest crowd ever to watch a football game in Michigan stadium—85,132. It was the largest in the nation this year.

The Wolverines, who staged a similar last period spree a week ago to whip Illinois 19 to 0, thus achieved their third conference victory against a single loss and stayed in the thick of the Big Ten fight. The loss was the second straight for a Minnesota eleven

Purdue Rout Panthers 28-0

LAFAYETTE (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers, thoroughly recovered from their surprise defeat by Northwestern last week, came up with a workmanlike performance yesterday as they plastered Pittsburgh's Panthers, 28 to 0.

The Boilermakers, playing before 15,000, sewed up their sixth victory in seven games early, scoring twice in the first period. They kept Pitt's tricky T formation offense well in check all the way. The Panthers never got closer to a score than the Purdue 27-yard line and crossed the midfield stripe on only three other occasions.

The first two Purdue touchdowns capped medium-length drives. The third, slightly on the fluke side, was counted on a 45-yard run with a fumbled pass by a reserve end, and the fourth tally was a brilliant 50-yard dash by halfback Bill Canfield.

Fullback Ed Cody powered the Boilermaker ground attack that rolled up a net gain of 212 yards, while Pitt was being held to 72.

4,000 See Hoosiers Overpower Cornell

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Indiana university's football powerhouse rolled up a 46 to 6 score against a light but fighting team from Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, yesterday.

Four thousand fans saw the Hoosiers score their sixth victory. It was Cornell's second defeat in six games.

The Hoosier regulars started the game and after sending Pete Pihos and George Talafero over for scores in the first period gave way to substitutes. Indiana counted five more times. Dick DeFaneck carrying the ball for three scores and William Buckner and Leroy Stovall for one each.

Cornell's lone score came in the closing two minutes of play when Pat Rega tossed three straight passes to Charles Jacot to score. The first took the ball from the Cornell 45 to the 28, the second to the 6, and last to the end zone.

Cornell threatened only one other time. When Vergil Smith fell on the ball on the Indiana 18 after Jack Adams had fumbled Ralph Erickson's kick.

Simpson Upsets Wartburg

INDIANOLA, Ia. (AP)—Simpson college kept the favored Wartburg eleven in check throughout their football game here yesterday, pushing over one touchdown in the second quarter, one in the third and two in the final period to walk off with a 25-to-0 victory.

that bowed to Ohio State last week.

Michigan counted its first touchdown in the last minute of the opening period, sending Quarterback Howard Yerges across from the one yard line on a sneak after Yerges had set up the score with a pair of passes one to Halfback Wally Teninga for 25 yards and the other to Henry Fonde for 16.

The Gophers pushed into Michigan territory twice in the second period, losing the ball once on downs at the 14 and again on an intercepted pass at the 35.

Michigan drove to the Minnesota 17 yard line early in the third but lost the ball on an intercepted pass and didn't get started rolling again until a minute before the final period opened.

Starting from their own 46, the Wolverines smashed 54 yards on five plays and a roughing penalty. Fullback Jack Weisenburger crashing through the middle to score from the 12 yard line after only 41 seconds of play had elapsed in the final stanza.

Bob Callahan, who booted the point after the first score, connected again and the Wolverines had a comfortable 14 to 0 lead.

100-Yard Runs Give Cyclones 40 to 13 Win

AMES, Ia. (AP)—Fleet halfback Dick Howard, streaking 96 yards and 100 yards for touchdowns in the third period, led a trailing Iowa State college eleven to a 40 to 13 Big Six conference victory over a surprisingly strong Kansas State team yesterday.

With Kansas State leading 13 to 12 at the half after Dick Harris, firing short passes down the middle, had brought the Wildcats two scores in the second period, Howard took the third quarter opening kick off on his four-yard line and galloped down the left side-lines to score.

About eight minutes later, Howard intercepted a Wildcat pass in his own end zone and scooted 106 yards through the surprised Kansas State eleven to score again.

The two long runs in the same period were believed to have set a Clyde Williams field record.

After that it was the Cyclones' ball game with John Pflum tossing touchdown passes to Robert Jensen and Jim Demarl for fourth quarter scores and Iowa State's second conference victory. The Wildcats are win-less in conference play.

Iowa State scored early in the first period when a bad punt gave the Cyclones the ball on Kansas State's 35. Five plays later, Pflum pushed over from the one. Kansas State moved 45 yards in the second period. With Harris shooting passes over the center of the line Brandy took the touchdown pass. Harris' placekick bounced over the bar to put the visitors in the lead, 7-6.

Rolls 300 Again

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Ned Day, former individual match game bowling champion, rolled the 23rd 300 game of his career and the second of the week yesterday while practicing for a forthcoming match with Tony Sperando in New York.

the second quarter. This time Kindt set up his second touchdown with a 34-yard burst to the Iowa four-yard line before Sheehan nailed him. On the second down Kindt again bucked over from two yards out, a dagain Meyer converted.

Paul Golden started Iowa's rally with a 30-yard kickoff return. Niles missed two short passes and the Hawks were preparing to kick when two improper substitutions by Wisconsin gave Iowa two five-yard penalties and a first down on the Badgers' 42.

Then Sheehan and Golden grabbed successive passes and had a first and ten on the 22. Niles' heave to Sheehan was batted down on the goal line, but the next one to Smith landed the ball on the 10. Harry Loehlein took a fourth down chuck all by himself in the end zone to give Iowa its only touchdown. Niles converted.

Stuhldreher opened with his first string in the second half but the Badgers didn't get warmed up for scoring activities until the fourth period when the counted T. D.'s numbers three and four. The third period was a punting duel between Iowa's Golden and John of the Badgers.

But in the fourth stanza, 158-pound Thompson shot 23 yards for the third Wisconsin score and Ben Bendrick gained the afternoon's last tally with a 13-yard buck.

Hopelessly behind but still pitching, Iowa struck again just before the game ended. Sheehan hauled down a bullet pass from Niles only two yards from the goal, but the officials ruled him down before he crossed over. Without taking time even for a respectable huddle, the Hawks sent Jerry Niles diving over center on a quarterback sneak. But again the referee's decision said he had fallen short by a foot and that ended the football part of Iowa's homecoming weekend.

HAWKEYE STAR

DANNY SHEEHAN, Iowa end, sparked in defeat yesterday as Iowa lost its homecoming battle, 27-7, to Wisconsin. Sheehan played a vigilant defensive game and was a constant offensive threat as a favorite target for Jerry Niles' passes.

Bucks Remain In Title Race, Tip Cats, 16-14

COLUMBUS (AP)—Rocked back on their heels by two Northwestern touchdowns in the first 10 minutes, Ohio State's Bucks exploded for 10 points in the last seven minutes to squeeze out a 16 to 14 victory over Northwestern yesterday to the frenzied screams of 74,079 fans.

It was "automatic" Max Schnittker who clinched the verdict, booting a perfect field goal from the 15-yard line with only a minute and 28 seconds to go and with his team trailing, 14 to 13.

The Bucks had battered their way from midfield to the Wildcat 15 only to be stopped there. It was fourth down and 12 yards to go for a first down when Schnittker galloped out on the field, took careful aim from a difficult angle and drove the ball high over the cross bar.

And then with 18 seconds to go the Bucks were within a whisker of another score when Harold Daugherty intercepted a last ditch Northwestern pass on his 35 and ran to the Wildcat 20 before he brought down.

Eight fumbles on which they lost the ball six times came within an ace of costing Ohio State the ball game. It was a fumble which set up Northwestern's first touchdown and it was a bad punt which led to the other.

Trailing, 14 to 6 going into the last period, Ohio blew one chance on a fumble and then blasted its way 55 yards to touchdown territory with Paul Sarringhaus and Ollie Cline carrying the mail. From the 10-yard line it took Cline four plays to batter through the stubborn Wildcat line.

Those two Northwestern touchdowns had the huge crowd stunned almost before the fans had settled in their seats. Cline's fumble on the third play of the game was recovered by Stanley Gorski on the Ohio 40. Dick Connors picked up four and then Don Whan breezed 36 yards around left end to score.

Great Lakes Rip Illini, 12-6

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—A bruising, hard-hitting great Naval training center football team, spear-headed by 210 pound Marion Motley, ripped the University of Illinois defense to pieces for one quarter yesterday and then stopped all but one scoring thrust by the Illini as they won their third straight game, 12-6.

Illinois was hardly in the game as Motley, giant colored star at the University of Nevada before he entered the navy, and Frank Aschenbrenner, former Marquette griddler, ripped through big holes in the Illinois line in the first quarter. But after that the Illini snapped back, with Stan Stasica and Gene Kwasienski giving the partisan crowd of 14,569 its first real thrill when they pushed across for a touchdown soon after the final period opened.

Motley, started the first-period touchdown parade with the opening kickoff. He took it seven yards behind his own goal line and sped through the entire Illinois team before he finally was run out of bounds on the Illinois 27-yard line. Seven plays later, after Motley had put the ball on the two-yard line, Aschenbrenner went across for a touchdown.

Seven minutes later, Motley and Aschenbrenner combined with Groer Kemmer to roll a second touchdown for the Bluejackets.

Notre Dame Badly Outplays Middies During Entire Contest

By GAYLE TALBOT

CLEVELAND (AP)—For the second time in as many Saturdays, Navy's big but inept football machine came back from the shadow of defeat yesterday to gain a 6-6 tie with Notre Dame on a 60-yard pass interception in the final period and remain shakily in the ranks of the undefeated.

The game ended on a high note of confusion, after the Irish in two plunges from the one-yard line had failed to score what would have been the winning touchdown. The great crowd of 82,000 did not know for several minutes after the contest ended whether it was a tie score or a Notre Dame victory. They didn't know until the Irish players, their shoulders drooping, quit arguing with the referee and started walking slowly from the field.

The final period was a thriller. With the Irish holding stubbornly to a 6-0 lead gained on a seven-yard plunge by their stocky fullback, Frank Ruggerio, in the opening quarter, time appeared to be running out on the Middies.

Then, with seven minutes left, Frank Danciewicz tried a pass to Bob Skoglund, Rumber end. Skoglund just touched the ball and knocked it squarely into the arms of Clyde Scott, Navy halfback from Smackover, Ark., who raced 60 yards untouched for the tying score. Jack Currence's attempted placement for extra point went wide and the crowd settled back to see a deadlock.

The Irish, however, had different ideas, and with only one minute remaining they put on a sensational 78-yard drive that all but sank the future admirals. George Ratterman whipped a long pass to Bill Leonard, who raced a total of 61 yards before he was pulled down from behind on Navy's 17-yard line by John Welsh.

A five-yard penalty against the Middies for excessive timeouts took it to the 12, and then Danciewicz pegged a pass to Phil Colella, who was forced out of bounds on the one-yard line. Less than 30 seconds of play remained, and a second Danciewicz took the ball from center and tried to bang across on a quarterback sneak. Both times the Navy line rose up and slammed him to the turf. Time ran out just as the Irish Surrender Terms Reproduction Displayed At Iowa Union An exact reproduction of the surrender document, which was signed Sept. 2 at Tokyo bay by allied and Japanese officials now is on display in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

The copy, one of 100 reproduced by the government, was sent to the university by courtesy of Lt. Col. B. B. Russell, A. G. D., who received a B. A. degree from the university in 1938.

The "instrument of surrender" has been signed by command and in behalf of the emperor of Japan and the Japanese government and by command and in behalf of the Japanese imperial general headquarters. Other signatures include those of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme commander of the Allied powers, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz as the United States representative, and the representatives of the other Allied powers.

A proclamation of surrender, signed by Hirohito and the 14 Japanese ministers and bearing the seal of the emperor, is reproduced both in English and Japanese. SUI 'Cake of Ice' Mystery Now Solved

That cake of ice. The one in front of the old dental building. Have you ever wondered why it's there?

At last the mystery is solved. It is not dry ice; it's just plain ordinary ice. The water fountains in the old dental building are of the old-fashioned type. Consequently, ice is delivered to the building daily. The janitor breaks up the ice to fit the bowl below the water jug, and what is left is thrown out the door near Jefferson street. It's just as simple as that. There's not even an iceman angle to it.

of Lake View and Donald G. Mullan of Odebolt. Granted the University of Iowa Grand Commander degree were Max A. Conrad of Burlington, Alden L. Doud of Douds, Harry C. Langland of Nevada, Arlo W. Palmer of New Sharon, Frederick C. Schadt of Williamsburg and William W. Simmons of Fairfield. The customary ritual in conferring the degrees was dispensed with this year. The university will send the men certificates for their degrees.

Happy Homecoming all you returning SUIowans. DOC 'N BETTY'S welcome you to the campus once again and invite you out to Two Mile Inn for the same tantalizing treats that you remember them for--yes, the hamburgers and chili are still as good, and of course you haven't forgotten Betty's delicious pastries. Make it a point to drop in at DOC 'N BETTY'S this weekend and renew old acquaintances. The crowd will be congregating at Two Mile Inn.

Tri Delt, Betty Ford, has found via Chuck Lamb, ATO, that a young man's fancy is equally affected by fall.

Everyone has their pet peeves, but one which bothers most people is a scarcity of electric outlets. Perhaps you've found a more practical way to arrange the furniture, but what happens? ... there's nowhere to connect the radio! Or maybe you've bought a lovely new lamp ... Curses! You're foiled again with no plug-in nearby! At this point it's time to phone the MULFORD ELECTRICAL SERVICE and let one of their electricians come to your aid. In a short time he'll install them wherever you need them. MULFORD will also repair your household appliances, so bring them into the shop at 122 S. Clinton street for prompt service.

If you hear any wild stories circulating about SUI in the next few weeks, here's a good example of how they might have started: What would you think if you were in the drawing room of a certain sorority house on campus last week, quietly visiting with the house-mother when suddenly a gay young couple came bounding in wearing, of all things, pajamas! The story loses a bit of interest when we add that they'd been to a masquerade party.

Norma Stempel, Zeta president, is the proud owner of a beautiful diamond, making her romance with Bob Hodges, Phi Beta, the real thing!

Something new in sweatshirts has been added to BREMERS supply of sport togs. The colors were what took my eye and when you see those perfect shades of blue, yellow, and beige I'm sure you'll look no further 'cause for $2.25 they can't be beat. You'll find a size to fit in either small, medium or large.

From here on the days are bound to get colder and the wind a bit bolder but don't let the weather bluff you for you can laugh right in its face if you're wearing one of these warm as toast sweat shirts. BREMERS shirts will laugh at dirt and won't decline the tub.

Just take your clothes in one day, and in three days they're back and chic as ever. How about that ... so try DAVIS tomorrow.

George Crum gets acquainted with a new couple on campus, Phyllis Bridge, Theta, and Jim Glynn, Phi Psi. George is an old friend to students at SUI and he's been welcoming them back at Whetstone's for the past 32 years. George came to Whet's with the class of '13 and through the years he's made Whet's fountain a favorite gathering place for the campus crowd.
